

BIBLIOTHE
CACACA ELIOTÆ
Eliotis Librarie.

THIS DICTIONARIE NOVW NEVV.
ly imprinted, Anno Domini. M. D. XLVIII. is augmented and enriched with above. xxxij. thousande wor-des and phrases, very nede full for the knowlage of the latine tongue: besyde the descriu-ing of the true significacions of wordes, whiche were greatly amisse
by ouer muche folowing of Calepine.

Cum privilegio.

per priuilegium

Aban I haue attributed my labours (such as they be) in compiling and augmenting this dictionary in time well considered by Sir Thomas Eliote, and dedicated to the most excellent prince our beare and Iohyng father: A longe doubtles with my selfe thus gracious soueraigne lord, together with my noble maner, mighte, to bold, as to exhibite the same in myne all matches. The hope of and bafe correction a longe tyme, and to beate me, and greatly abate me. For in the beginning of my writinge verie busily, and with great presumption in me to simple a person, to let abate the castigation of such a prince under the name, title and protection of so noble and great a prince: yet, considering, and weighing in my mynde, the beaigne clemencie, that to bright shyneth in your most gracious countenance, and the excellent goodness of beate god, and fervent desyre of good learning, that already appeareth in your highnesse, I was wonderfully encouraged, and conceived a great boldnesse hardly to admitte the same. And this also did comforte and put me forth greatly, that your highnesse (as all noble princes are wont) not onely in the gettes and sciences, but also in other woorkes and enterpryses of your faithfull subiectes, doeth vndoubtedly more weighe and consider the here, true meaning, and honest endeuor, than the power or worthinesse of the person: the benefite and profite that may grow thereby to your realmes and dominions, than any other cause or qualitee, that can be imagined to commend and sette forth the thyng. So that now (by consideration of these thynges) I am thoroughly perswaded, that I can not accomplishe the duety of a kynde and louyng subiecte, vntill I haue with this simple token or poore garnish peaine geue due testimonye of my good here toward your maiestie, and glad mind for the wonderfull gracie and towaerdnesse that doeth so abundantly shewe and declare it selfe in your highnesse in infancy and childehode. For what subiecte indued with common sense and reason, doeth not euen now in these your tender yeeres clerely perceiue your godly inclination, disposed so to rule and gouerne us in vertue and true religion, that of all nations we maye iudge our selves to be moste happye and fortunate? For this thyng, wherely we are bounde daily on our knees with lawfull prayer, to geue most humble thanks to god, who pitiyng our estate, of a singular fashion and merite hath ordeined this realme of Englande, sent you to reigne ouer us. Secondly we oughte to thank and honourably fauour in our heres your moste noble and beare vntill now prince of Somersset, who, beyonde the protection of all your realmes and louyng subiects, is to our only full and full to preserve your realme free from all manner perilles and troubles, but also that you be in such wise and so godly ruled up in all kindes of precious doctrine, as you maye be most worthy and able to haue the governance of this most noble realme and dominions. And for this cause were your goodly person for your highnesse, such a most excellent and precious, as hardly the like in vertue and learning maye in any other prince counte. Wherby only instructions and virtuous counsailes, maye effectuall be to the good of your. These maiesties word, it doeth right well appeare to all, that are able to upon your toall person, by the sage and godly talke that proceedeth from your most gracious mouth. We here abode, and by your most godly proceedynges suddenly perceiue, how your grace willett, that your deare uncle and other most honourable counsaillours and ministers, shoulde endeouir and applie theim selves, first, to set vp true religion to gods honour and glorie, to ablish idolatrie and superstition; and then consequently to procede forth to the aduancement of the common weale, that is, truly to minister iustice, to restrainge extortion and oppression: to set vp tillage and good husbandrie, whereby the people might encrease and be maintained: your godly heret wolde not haue wilde beastes encrease and men decal: grounde so enclosed vp, that your people shoulde lacke foode and sustenance: one man by cutting in of fieldes and pastures, to be made, and an hundred thereby to be destroyed. A godly heret, O prince most woorthie to reigne, not ouer two or thre realmes, but to rule the whole worlde. Suche talke hath seldome been heard of princes of full age, perfite discretion, and longe reigne. Wherefore the vnestimable comfozte and ioye that all your louyng subiectes do take at this your wise & discrete beuising and communiyng and many other liuely speeches and certeine tokens of vertue and Christian regiment, can not be sufficiently exprest: Yea undoubtedly many englishe herets haue conceiued an vnseigned hope, that your maiestee, shewing your selfe so sage, so gentle, so prudent, in your tender youth, shoulde as vertie Salomon by wisdom bringe the worlde from tumultie and ruffling, to restfull quietnesse: from warre, to peace: from hatred and discorde, to loue and amitie: from contentious sectes and opinions, to one Christian vnitie and true religion. Surely I saie many are fully persuaded, that the eternall wisdom and secreete counsaile of God, hath ordeined your highnesse this to doe, to his great honour, your immortall praise, and the weale and profite of all your louyng subiectes. Some perchance will meruaile why I speake not of your high magnificence, of your great and large gettes of fortune, realmes, dominions, palaces most richly adorned, treasure, precious stones and iewels: for whiche thynges are wounte to be highly magnified and praised. Those (most benigne and gracious soueraigne) wille not so bright, ne are so beautifull in mine eyes, nor yet to be so greatly esteemed of any Christian heret, as are the diuine gettes, with the which your moste copall breast is indued: The precious Margarite Sapience, whom you so louyngly embrace, which shall make your kyngdome stronge for euer: Sapience of gods worde most gracious, that you so cruelly fauour, which shall cause you euer to loue and drede hym, and knowe still whose minister ye be: Loue so great to god and your commons, that shall alwaie kepe and surely defende you: Justice, so vprightly weighing as well the cause of the poore as the riche, which shall alwaie fortifie and establishe your most noble kyngdomes. These thynges do most aduource the maiestee of great monarches, and rulers of the worlde, these thynges (most gracious prince) dooe more magnifie and sette forth your copall name a thousand folde, than all the riches of the worlde and gettes of fortune. whiche, notwithstanding, your highnesse hath in great abundance: wherto, our continuall praise is, that the almighty lord will vouchesafte to graunt, yet still more and more encrease of all grace, long life, wealth and condisigne felicitee, and finally make perfite in you that excellent image of a Christian gouernour, that his wisdom and gracious hand hath already wonderfully framed and begunne, to our great comfozte. Amen. The profite and commoditie of these my labours, and the maner of the whole worke, that I haue so boldly enterprised to publishe in your maiesties name, is sufficiently described and sette forth in a latine epistole here following, for that onely purpose, made and entituled to the indifferent reader: whiche I thought not convenient here to repeat.

God save your maiestee.

To the most roiall and puissant prince, and his moste redoubted soueraigne lord kyng HENRY the eighth, kyng of Englande, Fraunce, and Irelande, defender of the faith, and of the church of Englande and also of Irelande, in earthe the supreme head: his humble seruant, Thomas Elyot knight, deserveth perpetuall felicitie.

The honorable philosopher Plutarchus, moste woorthie maister to Traiane the emperour, dooeth define in a similitude most apte and propre, what is signified by the dignitie and name of a kyng, sayng: That whiche god is in heauen, and the sonne in the firmament, the same in earthe is a kyng to those, whom he gouerneth. In almighty god nothing is greater than Justice: whereby he rewardeth good men, aboue theyr merites, and punisheth ill men vnder their deservynges. The power of the Sonne is declared, when he surmountyng the rigorous stormes of sturdie winter, and beyng in his most dilectable progresse of lustre springe tyme, sheweth to the worlde his celestiaall visage discovered: than herbes, graynes, and fruites, bothe hollesome and dilectable be founde in abundance, the pleasant verdure of trees dooeth delite the beholders, the birdes in theyr harmonie dooe declare, how muche they reioyce at the benigne aspect of that noble planet. Likewise that kyng, whiche gouerneth for the weale of his countrey, beholdyng benignely them that be studious, or occupied about thynges that be vertuous, he not onely dooeth animate or geue life to their courages, but also redyeth to theyr wittes a more sharpenesse, with a prompte dexteritee, armed with hardinesse. It is therfore no meruaile, that great knynges haue in their counsailes moste witty persones, syng that the making of great wittes is in their puissance, althoughe vertue proceedeth immediately from God, and sapience likewise. And yet sapience is often tymes hyd in those persones, whom either malicious wittes hateth, or enuie pursueth, or fortune contemmeth. Of the saied power annexed (as it were) vnto a kynges maiestee, moste noble prince, moste gracious soueraigne lord, I amonge diuers other haue had good experience. For where about two yerres passed, farre aboue mine expectation, I receiued by wordes proceeding from the mouthe of your highnesse, comfozt incredible to the setting forth of my Dictionarie, whiche at that tyme I had lately begun, and that very sengly, and with littel studie: I all inflamed with the saied comfozt, did afterwarde procede therein muche more exactly, and did amplifie the worke about that that I purposed: so that your maiestee (as I was informed) and diuers other commended my diligence, notwithstanding, the saied comfozt of wordes of your highnesse, continually resoptyng vnto my remembrance, ceased not to prouoke me to read ouer eftsoones, and reuolue my saied worke, fearing (as god shall iudge me) lest by my negligence, either some wordes lackyng, or some interpretacion beyng misconceiued, my labours shulde be not onely vnprofitable vnto the readers, but also vnwoorthy the moste benigne and fauorable report of your excellent maiestee. Therefore moste seruenly stirred by your graces comfort, in perusing my saied Dictionarie, haue proceeded to the correction and amplification therof, in suche fourme, as hereafter foloweth. First sequestering my selfe from all other businesse (that onely except, wherein I was bounden to serue your highnes) I assembled all suche authours as I thought shulde be necessarie for the achieving of that, whiche I toke in enterpryse, whose names do immediatly folowe this proHEME, and laiping them befoze me, I not onely dyd seriously and diligently trie and examyne euery woorde, which either in significacion or fourme of speaking, called a phrase, mought make any doubt to them that shuld read it, and by the same authours dyd as truly correct it, as my learning wolde serue me: but also with a new spirite of hardnesse, receiued by the often remembrance of your gracious saied comfort, I folowing the example of Suidas the greke, aduentured to make a general collection by the orde of letters of all notable countreys, ciities, mountaines, and riuers, with their true descriptions, boundes, and commoditees: the names and natures of sundry beastes, foules, serpenes, and fishes: the declaracion of a great numbre of herbes, trees, frutes, gummes, precious stones and mettalles, whiche befoze me were neuer of any man (that I can here of) declared and set forth in englishe: the true definitions of all sickeneses and kyndes of maladies, whiche commonly dooe happen to men, with the cause, wherof they procede: the names of moste notable personages, who from the firste man Adam vntil thre hundred yeres after the incarnation of Christ, dyd any thing woorthy a speciall remembrance, expedient and necessarie to the moderation of our actes and procedynges, with the histories or liues of the saied persones compendiously gathered. I haue not omitted fables and inuencions of painfims, for the moze easie vnderstandyng of poetes. I also thought it necessarie to enterlace the detestable heretikes, with their sundry heresies, concernyng the substance of our catholyke feyth, iustly condemned by the hole consent of all true christen men, to the intent that those heresies, beyng in this wise diuulgate, maie be the sooner espyed and abhorred in suche bookes, where they be craftily enterlaced with hollome doctrine. As the knowlage of them as heresies maie indamage any man in his conscience (as some men haue supposed) moze than the common knowlage and ofte recitacion of treasons, fornicacion, or felonies contriued or practised in sundry facions, for as much as these thynges doe require lesse studie, than the mainteynyng of erroneous and diuellshe opinions: wherfore the knowlage thereof is muche moze dangerous: And yet the knowlage both of the one and the other is right expedient, sens in euery thing it is as necessarie to aforesce what shal bringe damage vnto vs, as contrarie wise what mought be

founden

founden good and commodious. As well in this parte as in the histories and fables, I haue sette out the computation of tyme called Chronographie, wherein it appereth, how longe the persons were either befoze the incarnation of Christ, or how longe after. Also I haue declared the ancient copnes, weightes, and measures, conferring them with those, whiche be currant and vsuall among vs. I haue planted in proverbs, called Adagia, such as be founden in latine authours, with their expositions. Also the propre termes belongyng to physike and surgerie, and other diuers and sundry artes and sciences. Wherouer I haue declared diuers greke wordes, whiche be vsurped of latine authours. In this fourme I haue finished this worke, to the gloze of almyghty god, and the no littell profite (I trust) of all englishmen, whiche are and shal be desirous of doctrine, whiche I shulde neuer haue enterprised, nor haue brought to conclusion, had I not ben inflamed by the comfort receiued of your roiall maiestee. By this it appereth, that the benignitee of principall gouernours, extended to them whiche be of honest exercise, dooth steepe vp in them a moze greater spirite, wherby their wittes and courages doe appere moze abundant. Witnesse therof be the great numbres of wonderfull learned men, and most valiant and politike capitaines, whiche were in the tymes of great Alexander, Octavian, Titus, Traiane, Hadriane, bothe Antonines, and Alexander Seuerus, most noble emperours, of whom diuers by thein were aduanced to dignities, many enriched, none vnrewarded. And truly in this your graces realme there is a great numbre studiously inclined to learning, prouoked as well by your graces most noble example, whiche haue owed your selfe not onely studious in holy scripture, but also to be notably lerned, and to haue an excellent iudgement in all kindes of doctrine, as also your bishops and chaplaines of honour, men famous in learning. And by suche wordes as your highnesse hath openly spoken in comfortyng and also commaundyng ponge gentlemen to embrace good letters, and to be occupied in readyng good authours: there be not a few ponge men of the state of the tempozalettee, by an honest emulation dooe endeavour them to be founden in learning woorthy to receiue like frutes of your graces benignitee, as the state of the clergie hath dooen hitherto, wherof diuers haue ben right woorthy to haue it. But whan bothe your tempozalettee and clergie dooe flourish in doctrine, as (your highnesse procedyng to the setting vp of good lectures with libcrall salaries) it is likely to happen right shortly: than this realme of Englands, like as it maie compare with any realme christened in temperate ayre, and abundance of all thynges, whiche the necessitee of mans nature requirith: so in all partes of honor and suretee shal it surmount all other countreys, your Maiestee gouernyng, whom almighty God hath abundantly endued with the principall gesses of grace, natur, and fortune, finally maie it like your most roiall Maiestee to receiue this my simple labour and studie, which I haue estfoones dedicated vnto your highnesse, with like benignitie as you receiued my first ediction, whiche neither in diligence, nor sincere exposition, nor in copie of wordes, nor in abundance of matter and sentence, is in any wise to be hereto compared. And if I maye perceiue your highnesse to be pleased with this fourme of exercise, God geuing me helthe, and by your graces assistance and fauour, liuing in quietnesse and out of necessitie, I entende to employ the rest of my time in suche studie, as your Maiestee shall haue cause to take no lesse thankfully, than if I serued your highnes in other affaires, where in shoulde be muche more trauaile of body: Suche trust and assured iudgement I haue in your graces moste excellent wisdom, whiche is the onely botteur of my welthe and comfort, like as it is to all England the principall bulwarke. I heartily beseeche God to alignment your highnesse in all partes of felicitie.

I iii

and

THO. COOPERVS CAN-DIDO LECTORI SA-

LVTEM.

ELIOTA, VIR SVI ORDINIS INprimis studiosus, et de patria multis nominibus optimè meritus, quum primum Bibliothecam suam aggredieretur, maleuolorum calumnias et reprehensiones se plurimum vereri, et hanc operam Criticorum dentibus valde obnoxiam aiebat. Solent enim huiusmodi homines in alieni laboribus non laude digna obseruare, sed imprudentia aut casu præcipiti, summo studio notare et carpere, adeoque singulos literarum ar-tices, et omnes distinctionum punctus conuellere, ut siquid paululum modo rectorum fuerit, id suo more conuitiis exagitent. Proptereaque non non potuisse putauit, ut calumniatorum morsus, in opere præfertim tam prolixo et vario, effugeret. Cui quàm uera animus præfagie-bat, euentus ipse postea luculentissime docuit. Postquam enim Dictionarium latinoanglicum omnium usui publicum fecerat: principio quidem, mirum, quanto studiosorum omnium applausu exciperetur.
Verum ubi aliquot sunt in eo errata deprehensa ita cœpit obtrectatorum maledictis lacerari, acsi nullam omnino sua industria laudem esset meritus, nec ex tero opere quicquam publi Anglicæ profuisset. Idem ergo hoc nobis quoque in huiusce operis castigatione euenturum, sine dubio opinor. Itaque cogitatio animum mihi iam aggressuro, diu per-plexum atque suspensum tenuit, et à proposito penitus deterruisset, nisi si Bertheleus (uir singulari in bonas literas amore præditus) cuius con-

consilio et sub hoc primum in me susceperam, haud mediocriter etiam animum aduersus huiusmodi Sycophantias confirmasset: sequi tam quod alterum Theſeum in his laboribus exantlandis adiunxisset. Huius tamen sententiæ, diu ego (ultra etiam quàm mihi per officium licebat) restiti, et operam meam hac in re constanter denegabam. Tum, quod istam prouinciã ita uti dignum erat exornare, longè supra uires esse credebam, uidereturque res ipsa in linguis multo exercitatiores, et per omnia eruditiores poscere: tum, quod ætas hæc nostra plurima habeat ingenia egregiè ad res agendas nata, a quibus hoc sperandum atque expectandum fore putauit. Obiciebam etiam non mediocriter tantum doctorum iudicium nobis metuendum, cui fortasse diligentia nostra et industria satisfieri possit, sed peritorum etiam et doctissimorum quorundam, quibus nihil fere nisi quod ipsi faciunt, placere solet, et quibus nihil satis doctum, maturum, expensum, elegans, exornatum, sublime denique et omnibus numeris absolutum uidetur. Quibus omnibus sic breuiter ab illo responsum est: Neminem unum omnia posse, nemini concessa esse omnia, neque expectandum cuiquam absolutum reddatur artifex: donis presentibus ad aliorum utilita-tem et commodum reip. utendum. Esse onus hoc magnum for-tasse, et nobis propter inuidorum malevolentiam periculosum, dig-num tamen in quo omnes neruos ætatis et industriæ nostræ contenderemus. Adhæc, florere quidem hodie multa ingenia, etque præstan-tissima, quæ si uellent hæc in re atque in aliis plurimum præstare pos-sent: sed in tanta peritissimorum hominũ multitudinem, et studiorum uarietate, alios quidem aliis rebus intentos, adeo ut uix sperandum sit eorum quenquam (nisi insigni aliquo proposito præmio) munus hoc suscepturum, in quo uoluptatis et delectationis minimum, laboris autem, studii, et difficultatis plurimum existat. Denique doctos, qui malignè carpunt aliorum pie susceptos labores, non plus metuendos quàm indoctos non intellecti operis contemptores: quum utroque constet affectibus non sana duci ratione. studiosos forsitan et recte animatos hoc opere excitari posse, ut et ipsi ingenii sui faciant periculum, et hoc quod Eliota feliciter incœpit, nos studiose promouimus, illi denique absoluant et summam operi manum imponant. His ego persuasus delegatam mihi ab homine amantissimo prouinciã amplius recusare uisum non est. Eisdem etiam rationibus causam nostram studiosis omnibus et æquis lectoribus satis probari magno opere confido. Quibus si nobis satisfacere contigerit, magnorum nostrorum laborum multarumque uigiliarum fructum nos suscepturos amplissimum puta-bimus. Illis enim scripsimus, illis solummodo placere studuimus.

A iiii

Alios

and studie, which I haue bestowed dedicated vnto your highnesse, with like benigntie as you receiued my first edicion, whiche neither in diligence, nor sincere exposition, nor in copie of woordes, nor in abundance of matter and sentence, is in any wise to be hereto compared. And if I maye perceiue your highnesse to be pleased with this fourme of exercise, God giuing me helthe, and by your graces assistance and fauour, liuing in quietesse and out of necessitee, I entende to employ the rest of my time in suche studie, as your Maiestee shall haue cause to take no lesse thankfully, than if I serued your highnes in other affaires, where in shoulde be muche more trauaile of body: Suche trust and assured iudgement I haue in your graces moste excellent wisdom, whiche is the onely bottem of my welthe and comfort, like as it is to all England the principall bulwarke. I hertily beseeche God to augment your highnesse in all partes of felicitie.

THO. COOPERVS CAN-
DIDO LECTORI SA=

L V T E M.

ELIOTA, VIR SVI ORDINIS IN-
primis studiosus, et de patria multis nominibus optime meritus, quum primum Bibliothecam suam aggrederetur, maleuolorum calumnias et reprehensiones se
plurimum vereri, et hanc operam Criticorum dentibus
vix valde obnoxiam aiebat. Solent enim huiusmodi homines in alieni laboribus non laude digna obseruare, sed imprudentia aut casu præ-cipue, summo studio notare et carpere, adeoque singulos literarum articipes, et omnes distinctionum punctus conuellere, ut siquid paululum modo retortum fuerit, id suo more conuitiis exagitent. Proptereaque fieri non potuisse putauit, ut calumniatorum morsus, in opere præferrim tam prolixo et vario, effugeret. Cui quam uera animus præfagebat, euentus ipse postea luculentissime docuit. Postquam enim Dictionarium latinoanglicum omnium usui publicum fecerat: principio quidem, mirum, quanto studioforum omnium applausu exciperetur.
Verum ubi aliquot sunt in eo errata deprehensa, ita cepit obrectato-
rum maledictis lacerari, ac si nullam omnino sua industria laudem esset meritus, nec cætero opere quicquam publi Anglicæ profuisset. Idem ergo hoc nobis quoque in huiusce operis castigatione. euenturum, sine dubio opinor. Itaque cogitatio animum mihi iam aggressuro, diu per-plexum atque suspensum tenuit, et à proposito penitus deterruisset, nisi Bertheletus (uir singulari in bonas literas amore præditus) cuius

con-

consilio et suau hoc primum in me suscepam, haud mediocriter et animum aduersus huiusmodi Sycophantias confirmasset: sequi tanquam alterum Theseum in his laboribus exantlandis adiunxisset. Huius tamen sententia, diu ego (ultra etiam quam mihi per officium licebat) restiti, et operam meam hac in re constanter denegabam. Tum, quod istam prouinciam ita uti dignum erat exornare, longè supra vires esse credebam, uidereturque res ipsa in linguis multo exercitiorum, et per omnia eruditiorum poscere: tum, quod ætas hæc nostra plurima habet ingenia egregie ad res agendas nata, a quibus hoc sperandum atque expectandum fore putavi. Obiciebam etiam non mediocriter
tantum doctorum iudicium nobis metuendum, cui fortasse diligentia nostra et industria satisfieri possit, sed peritorum etiam et doctissimiorum quorundam, quibus nihil fere nisi quod ipsi faciunt, placere solet, et quibus nihil satis doctum, maturum, expensum, elegans, exornatum, sublime denique et omnibus numeris absolutum uidetur. Quibus omnibus sic breuiter ab illo responsum est: Neminem unum
omnia posse, nemini concessa esse omnia, neque expectandum cuiquam absolutum reddatur artifex: donis presentibus ad aliorum utilita-
tem et commodum reip. utendum. Esse onus hoc magnum for-tasse, et nobis propter inuidorum malevolentiam periculosum, dig-num tamen in quo omnes neruos ætatis et industriæ nostræ contenderemus. Adhuc, florere quidem hodie multa ingenia, etque præstan-tissima, quæ si uellent hæc in re atque in aliis plurimum præstare pos-sent: sed in tanta peritissimorum hominum multitudine, et studiorum uarietate, alios quidem aliis rebus intentos, adeo ut uix sperandum sit eorum quenquam (nisi insigni aliquo proposito præmio) munus hoc suscepturum, in quo uoluptatis et delectationis minimum, laboris au-
tem, studii, et difficultatis plurimum existat. Denique doctos, qui malignè carpunt aliorum pie susceptos labores, non plus metuendos quam indoctos non intellecti operis contemptores: quum utrosque constet affectibus non sano duci ratione. studiosos forsitan et recte animatos hoc opere excitari posse, ut et ipsi ingenii sui faciant periculum, et hoc quod Eliota feliciter incepit, nos studiose promouimus, illi denique
absoluant et summam operi manum imponant. His ego persuasus delegatam mihi ab homine amantissimo prouinciam amplius recusare uisum non est. Eisdem etiam rationibus causam nostram studiosis omnibus et aquis lectoribus satis probari magno opere confido. Quibus si nobis satisfacere contigerit, magnorum nostrorum laborum
multarumque uigiliarum fructum nos suscepturos amplissimum puta-
bimus. Illis enim scripsimus, illis solummodo placere studuimus.

A iiii

Alios

Alios autem qui hoc genus exercitationis in uniuersum improbant, adeoque confici uocabularia cum latinæ linguæ idiomatum interpretatione grauiter et moleste ferunt, nec ipsi magnifacimus, nec a studiosis audiendos indicamus. Hi tamen, si qui sunt, (sunt autem plurimi, temerè in his suggeri iuuenibus calumniantes, quæ alioqui cum magno cognitionis fructu ex bonorum authorum lectione discere oportuisset) hoc sibi responsum auferant: Varronis, F. Pompei, Perotti, Am. Calepini, et nostra etiam ætate, Nizolii, Riccii, Bas. Zanchi, Step. Doleti, Roberti Stephani, aliorumque doctissimorum hominū industriam nos imitari, qui cum magna laude immortalique nominis memoria in hoc scripti genere ante nos laborarūt: Quorum autoritas et exemplum tantum apud nos ualeat, ut cum illis decipi et errare honestius multo, et laudabilius fore putemus, quàm istis magistris erudiri et instrui. Quid enim habent, cur non illos eodem condemnent crimine, si modo nos in hoc reprehendere uoluerint? uerè enim si existimabunt, sic constituent: in simili omnino causa uersari nos, atque eandem nobis cum illis rationem esse: Nisi eos fortasse laudant, quod obscura et difficilia (ut erant doctissimi) summa diligentia enucliarunt: nos autem ideo non probant, quod ista rectius quàm illi præstare non potuimus. Quum in re potius optimo laudi nobis tribui oporteret, quod cum summis libonius atque nigiliis eorum opera peruoluentes, sententias et interpretationes conferentes, hic cum uernacula interpretatione congestis, quicquid fere ex his omnibus utilitatis studiosa inuentus ex hunc poterit. Neque hic uelim quisquam labores nostros eleuet, et hanc primum nostramque deinde industriam derideat, nimis fastidiosè uisitans: Vni duntaxat nationi scripsisse nos: nimis breuiter omnia tradidisse: tyrunculis atque adeo puellis nosmet solum accommodasse: facilem ac nullius negotii operam præstitisse, quum ea modo in patrum sermonem transfudimus, quæ alii latinè nobis copiosius exposuerunt. Anglis solum scripsisse nos fateamur certe libenter, atque id in primis gloriamur, uel ex hoc satis perspicuum esse, nos singulari quodam in patriam amore, non externa aliqua gloriolæ fama adductos, hanc suscepisse prouinciam. Breuiter omnia tradere, nec integris authorum exemplis phrasas ubique illustrare, et operis commoditas fuisset, et necessitas impulit, ne in immensum excresceret uolumen: quod unum incommodum aureum illud opus Thesauri habet. Tyrunculis certe nosmet submisimus, sed ita ut etiam exercitissimi hic reperiant, quo sua studia iuuare possent. Nullius autem difficultatis esse, quod ex aliorum lucubrationibus, quæ ad nostrum usum essent transfudimus, cur dicant nihil uideo. Nam et illi ipsi, quorum subsubsidio nostra industria maxime leuata est, ab aliis qui ante eos in eodem stadio defudarunt, se non nihil adiutos ubique fatentur: nec tamen ideo nihil eos fecisse credendum est, quum ab omnibus in cælum iustissimis et uerissimis laudibus efferuntur. Denique quod ad uernaculam interpretationem attinet, quid alii sentiant nescio: nos certe, qui iam experti sumus quanti laboris studiique sit, per sancte uobis confirmare audemus, longe hoc difficilius nobis fuisse, quàm si idem latinè præstandum foret. Huius rei quæ fidem uobis faciant, ut alia multa omittam: sexcenta nobis occurrebant uocabula ex Columella, Catone, Varro, ne, Plinio et aliis, usu peregrina et rara, aut arti alicui propria, nec ulla omnino aut ipsius authoris aut alterius interpretatione illustrata: quæ transire facile potuissimus, si aliorum exemplo licuisset, integra ex autore subscripta sententia, uerbi significationem lectoris iudicio relinquere. Verum nos suscepti operis ratio cogebat, uel propriam rei cuiusque appellationem addere, uel paucis uernaculè ita describere, ut etiam pueri quid sit possent intelligere. Sed altius paulo et penitus huius operis difficultates introspeciamus. Vocabulorum quæ in Dictionaria plerumque conferuntur, quædam communia sunt et familiaria omnibus, quædam certis artibus et scientiis peculiaria. Familiarium certe uerborum interpretationes aliquot uernaculè reddere, haud magni fortasse operis fuerit, quum omnibus nota sint, et quotidiano sermone protrita, obuia, et ubique occurrentia. Ago, fero, facio, duco, quid significant nemo non nouit: uerum istorum et similium uarium apud authores usum obseruare, et pro immensa hac uarietate diuersas, aptas tamen et conuenientes significationes apponere, aut quum usus uocabuli uerbo unico satis indicari non potest, breuiter ex probato autore phrasim et modum locutionis ita cum uernacula interpretatione subnectere, ut interim seruetur utriusque linguæ idiotismus et gratia, hoc opus, hic labor est, hæ sunt de quibus tantopere quarimur difficultates. Hoc autem quanti sit, et quantum nos hac in parte studii et laboris posuimus, aliorumque industriam adiuuimus, illi denique scient, qui, uel infinitas Romani sermonis diuitias et elegantias (quas Cicero ne Grecorum opibus cedere existimabat) cum nostræ linguæ penuria tenuique suppellectili conferre: uel ex Cicerone, Lilio, Tacito, Casare, alioue scriptore classico quicquam Anglico usui tradere uoluerint. Et ut sint fortasse nonnulli, qui hoc totum nullius momenti fecerint, quod illis uix ullum operæ pretium uideatur esse, si quis latina apte in maternum uertere sermonem calleat: Quando tamen M. Tullius, sine controuersia totius eloquentiæ fons et pater, nonnuquam gloriatur se latine interpretando philosophiam patriæ familiamiliarem reddidisse: et quædam ex græcis tam poetis quam oratoribus in suum usum transferendo egregiam se nauasse operam credebat. Quando Terentius plus sibi laudis statuit in uertendis Græcorum antiquis fabulis, quam inueniendis suis nouis, nec minoris ingenti argumentum arbitrabatur, ex bonis Græcis bona latina facere, quam si ipse de suo noua excogitasset, quæ posteris legenda traderet: Qui minus et nostra latidetur industria, qui summo studio, summaque diligentia sic latina ubique Anglicè interpretati sumus, ut uel pueri quoque latine uernaculè, aut è contrario uernacula latine, nullo fere negotio et cum aliqua ratione et gratia, nec ineptis et absurdis, sed appositis et accommodatis uerbis reddere addiscant: Et illorum simul labor utilis iudicetur, qui nostro exemplo et præsidio, in patriæ utilitatem aliorum opera uernacula fecerint. Sed iam ad eorum uerborum contemplationem ueniamus, quæ artibus quibusdam et scientiis propria diximus: Quorum tanta uarietas est, adeoque difficilis cognitio, ut nemini unquam uni quantumuis πολυμαθεi, et multifaria rerum experientia doctissimo, eorum omnium uernaculam cognouisse nomenclaturam contigisse arbitretur. Huius generis sunt omnia instrumenta mechanica, ut fabrilia, tonforia, rustica, nautica, textoria, bellica, &c. quæ propria sua habent uocabula, uix illis nota, quorum manibus quotidie teruntur. Idem etiam sentiendum de singulis operum partibus, quæ eisdem artificibus subiciuntur. Quot res in ædificio sunt, quibus si à fabris sua nomina reddi possas, mutos reperies? Præterea hic præcipuos illos loquendi modos, quos singuli opifices in sua arte sibi peculiare habent. In uerna nautica, quanta rerum uarietas? quot locutionum formulæ? quot instrumenta nautarum usui accommodata? quot naui ipsius partes? quot nauigiorum genera? adeo ut quæ ad hoc unum spectent negotium exactè didicisse, non minimi laboris esse uideatur. His ergo qui lexicon ex omni parte perfectum, et in quo nihil desideretur, sibi conficiendum proponunt: omnes simul artifices in consilium adhibere oportet, ut ab illis rerum nomina discant, quibus singuli artificia sua tuentur. Quemadmodum et nos frequenter ad materiarios fabros, ad olitores, ad textores, ad agricolas, ad rusticam turbam de nomenclaturis retulimus, et ab illis sumpsimus etiam, quæ propositæ rei congruerent. Iam uero herbis sua uocabula, quibus uulgo nuncupentur subscribere, quam sit arduum, medicorum inconstancia, (qui in hac sola re multorum annorum studium posuere) satis probat. Apud illos enim hodie in plerisque doctissimi uiri argumentum habetur, non herbam digito demonstrare, nomine indicare, aut quæ sit breuiter definire: sed authorum qui de ea scripserunt pugnantem sententiam numerare.

Siquidem et Theophrastus, et cunctis sine herbarum prælati Dioscorides, neque non apud latinos Plinius, tam diuersi plerumque abeunt, ut in gratiam nulla orationis persuasione reuocari queant, et nonnunquam in herbula cuiusdam facie representanda, notas varie deliniant, ut quidam potius quam stirpem ipsam demonstrarent, aut certe eandem multiplici prorsus et uariè effigie. Huc etiam quod unaquæque regio suas habeat stirpes, sibi peculiare, qui nec aliquam alibi reperiuntur, nec Anglica nomenclatione reddi possunt: quoniam nulla unquam usu apud nostrates fuerint. Quid hic tempus tererem in recensendis innumeris piscium, uolatilium, serpentum, insectorum, gemmarum generibus, quorum omnium naturam perscrutanda, et nomina ediscenda eis sunt, qui nihil in Dictionario uernaculo deesse cupiunt. Quum ergo tanta difficultatis, tantiq; studii res existat, quo quidque certo et proprio uocabulo appelletur pernoscere: ne mox terra calum misceant nimium seueri alienorum operum censores, si quod forte uerbum, parum apte materno sermone redditum inueniant. Sciant in opere tam spisso et uario facilem esse lapsum: Imo non sibi difficillimum, et per omnia omnium opinionem satisfacere, nemini unquam concessum. Simul etiam memores sint, satis esse homines imprudentia lapsos non erigere: urgere uero iacentes et non potius in pedes rursus statuere, nimis esse inhumanum. Sed merces iam uobis coram sine fraude exponam: ut intelligatis quid a nobis in hoc opere præstitum expectari debeat. Digestimus ordine alphabetico, quam fieri potuit commodissime ac diligentissime, latinas dictiones omnes, et peregrinas duntaxat eas, quæ a latinis usurpatæ sunt authoribus. Multas uero, quæ nullo latinorum usu probari poterant, ideoque meram sapere barbariem uiderentur, reiecit. Vocabula nonnulla, et plurimas locutionum formulas, quæ sapissime sine ullo ordine, cum maximo lectorum incommodo, temere spargebantur: ut in suas sedes fideliter restituerentur, studiose laborauimus. Annotauimus præterea in nominibus genus et inflectionem. Verborum etiam præterita, quæ priori editione corruptissime legebantur, hic castigatiora reperies. Accentuum etiam ratio, non ubique a nobis prætermissa. Adhæc, Vocabulorum aliquot millia adiecimus, itemque uerborum significationes innumeras, quæ non modo scriptoribus latinæ lingue probatissimis, sed quotidiano etiam sermone usum habeant amplissimum et egregium. Vnicuique dictioni uernacula uocabula accommodata et conuenientia, quasi uno acerno congesta, tanta uarietate subrexiimus, ut hic noster labor non tam ad expeditam Romanæ sermonis notitiam, quam ad nostræ lingue ornatum, et elegantiam pluri plurimum conferat. Phrases etiam et formulas locutionum istius herborum aptissime demonstrantes, ex Cicerone et aliis laus loqui principibus, ubiq; subscripsimus: quibus interpretandis, non uerbis pro uerbo anxie reddere, ut syllabas numerare uideremur, sed uerbis uerbis subiectam pro uiribus exprimentes, utriusq; lingua gratia et elegantiam seruire, præcipua cura fuit: Præterea, propria nomina rerum, uirorum, regionum, fluminum, oppidorum, quæ prius præsertim ex parte neglecta erant, item adiectiua et patronymica, ad potius lectionem maxime necessaria, tum ex Stephano, tum ex aliis scriptoribus descripterunt, in hanc editionem transfulimus. Deniq; uix credas quam uaria et corrupta ubiq; esset, tum propriorum nominum, tum etiam uocabulorum latinorum orthographia, aliis aliter scribentibus, adeo ut eadem dictiones diuersis sepe locis repeterentur. huic uero uitio nostra diligentia succurrimus: et ubi probari possit uaria uerbi alicuius scriptio, lectorem ex uno loco in alium mittimus, ne frustra eadem repetere cogeremur. Postremo, errata, non in propriis nominibus, sed etiam in latinis innumera, castigauimus: quæ Eliota uel imprudens, uel errore deceptus, aliis falso ascriptis, uel imprudentia aut nimia festinatione lapsus, ipse designauit. In re herbaria (ubi plurima, nec inamerito, nostri temporis medici desyderant) multa restituiimus, aliquando adieciuius: Quum tamen principio animus esset, nihil, quod ad herbas et frutices attineret, attingere: ne committeremus, ut audaçter uerius quam prudenter ea res a nobis traderetur, in qua nunquam singulare aliquod et præcipuum studium posuerimus: præsertim quum medici quidam, quos initio consulimus, tam fastidiose uota nostra reiecerint. Optauimus ergo magis, ut tam inconstans et uaria fruticum et stirpium nomenclatura, a perito aliquo et exercitato uiro describeretur: qui bonam et satis suæ partem, in disquirendis atq; inuestigandis herbarum naturis, insumperit. Pollicitus hoc est Turnerus, uir sane doctus et pius, cuius industriam omnes artis medicæ studiosi, audivissime expectant. Habes ita (lector humanissime) bona fide tibi exposita, quæ nos postrema hac editione præstitimus. Quæ non ideo uelim hic a me adscripta putes, ut uel Eliotæ uiro studiosissimo (quemq; ego propter singulare in bonis literis promouendis studium, semper amaui plurimum) tantquam negligenti atq; oscitanti insultare, uel meritis eius laudes imminuere uidear: sed potius ut tibi, amice lector, hoc pacto labores nostros utcumq; ob oculos proponerem, atq; apud te aliquod nostræ industriæ specimen ederem. Nunc ergo si studia tua quicq; a nobis iuuari putabis, sudoribus nostris et uigiliis frui non ingratus: et Vdallo uiro doctissimo, cuius eruditissimis annotationibus multis locis leuati sumus, dignas laudes gratiasq; tribue.

YALE.

A. ANTE B.
AB, and Abs, be of eneslification on with A, and are used as well before woordes that begin with vowels, as consonant tes, as the rough and unpleasant founde of the woord be a letter therunto: as,
 Ab hoc tunc, after sighte of the clocke.
 Ab illa tibi solvam, I wille canse hym to paie the.
 Ab interesto, intereste of a thinge or sament.
 Ab infamia, a contemptible, an ineuall state,
 from the infamie of ribbidge.
 Ab re, out of the matter, or twise the ques tion, to be aske, to be commented.
 Ab re orare, to praye out of hymn in verna cle.
 Ab re tu, aske thyne owne profit, of from thyne owne benefite.
 Non ab re, not without a cause.
 Abs quibus homine, of enery man, what to enenche be.
 Abs re, to stande without the, or thert
 in the. But these are strange nouns, Ab
 non ab re, aske thyne owne.
 Abs re, to stande without the, or thert
 in the. But these are strange nouns, Ab
 non ab re, aske thyne owne.
 Abs re, to stande without the, or thert
 in the. But these are strange nouns, Ab
 non ab re, aske thyne owne.

[illegible]

in order.
 Abania, is interpreted the father, unto god acceptable, or gratifying unto god.
 Abantes, a people of Iones, amonge the Achians.
 Abantias, or abantis, an yle in the sea called Medierraneum.
 Abaoth, a people abode the ruler of Jndus.
 Abaphus, a, um, dyed, or uncoloured.
 Abaptistus, a, um, that whiche cannot be dyed, as coyle.
 Abaptistum, i, an instrumente, whiche surgeons vse.
 Abarco, or aberco, ui, ere, to prophete, or put of from a thing.
 Abarimon, a countrey in Tartary, where men haue feete turned backward, and be wonderfull swift and wyde.
 Abaris, ris, the proper name of a man. It is also he that dwelleth onely in the magne lands.
 Abas, anis, the sonne of Lyceus and Hippocleia, the xii. kyng of Argiues, the father of Peretus and Acrisius, and graundfather unto Hercules. of hym the kynges of Argiues were called Abantiades. There was one other Abas, a noble Troiane, and companion to Hecuba.
 Abas, a desert countreie of Egypte.
 Abater, or abattus, one of the hoyses of Plutus to hyng of hell.
 Abaton, that whiche a man can not come vnto: wherupon the place at Rhodes, whiche was made for to defende the image of Artemisia, is called by that name.
 Abas, i, re-ge, an yle of Egypt, in the mappe of Abemphio.
 Abaucas, the proper name of a man.
 Abauia, x, my great grandames mother.
 Abauus, i, my great grandfathers father.
 Abauunculus, i, my great grandfathers brother.
 Abax, acis, a cupboorde or dysser.
 Abazca, oram, ceraine ordinaunces of lawes made by Dionysius a kyng of Asia.
 Abba, a woorde of the language of Siria, and signifieth father.
 Abbreuio, ui, are, to abbreviate or make short.
 Abdéra, s, or, abdera, orum, a citee in Spayne, now called Almeria. It is also an yle, nigh vnto Samothrace, and a citee of Thrace, builded by Abdra, sister to Diomedes: or as some wryte, by Hercules. In the remembrance of his mynion Abdertus, who was there eaten by the hoyses of Diomedes. In this citee were boye Democritus the greates philosopher, and Pythagoras the famous theorician. This citee was afterwards called Clazomene.

Abderita, or abderites, x, masc. gen. a ceterum of Abdra.
 Abderitanus, or Abderiticus, a, um, apperteynyng vnto that citee.
 Abderitica mens, a madde blockyshe wytte.
 Abdias, one of the xii. prophetes, and is interpreted the seruant of the lord.
 Abdico, ui, are, to reiecte, to refuse, to forsake, to expelle, or put out of fauour, or to resigne an office.
 Abdicaui filium, he refused hym for his sonne.
 Abdicaui se magistratu, he hath resigned his office of dignitee.
 Abdicare cibum aliquem, to prohibite the vse of any meate.
 Abdicare legem, to forgoe a lawe.
 Abdicatio, a resignation, or the acte of a father, when he excludeth his sonne and heire from the inheritance of his possessions.
 Additamentum, contrary to additamentum, a diminution.
 Abdicatus, a, um, forsaken, or reiected.
 Abdico, dixi, ere, to denye, or forsake, to forsake.
 Abdit, secretely.
 Abditus, a, um, hydde secretely.
 Abditum, a secret place.
 Abdo, di, ere, to hyde, or kepe close.
 Abdere se ex conspectu heri, to kepe hym awate, that his myghter see hym not.
 Abdere se litteris, to lye vnkownen in continuall study.
 Abdidit se rus, he hydde hym selfe in the countreie.
 Abdidit se domum, he hydde hym selfe at home.
 Abdomen, minis, that whiche is vnder the mouth of the stomache, where it appereth outwarde vnder the grille of the best bone. This is also called Hypochondria, it is some tyme taken for the fatte aboute the lynes. Also for the pappes of a sowe with hir milk, cutte of from hir bealy the date after she hath farowed.
 Abdomen insaturabile, an insatiable gutte, spoken of one that is neuer satisfied in eating and dymnyng.
 Abdomini indulgere, abdomini inferuire, abdomini operam dare, to geue hym selfe to bealy cheere.
 Abduco, xi, ere, to leade awate, or leade out, to pull awate, or take with.
 Abduce, for abduc, leade, or haue awate.
 Abducere a fide, to cause a man to bycasse his promise.
 Abduxi clauem, I toke out the keye.
 Animum a cogitationibus abducere, to withdawe the mynde from meditation.
 Abducere gradum, to steppe backe.

Ab.

Abducere animum a sollicitudine, to withdawe the mynde from vniuersall carelesnesse.
 Abeca, a towne of the Westensians, and one of the vii. citees that Homere sayneth Agamemnon to promise vnto Achilles.
 Abeacus, a kyng of Thebes.
 Abeaze, a people of Beala.
 Abecedarium, the order of the letters, or the crosse towe.
 Abecedarius, he that setteth any thyng in order by letter, or he that teacheth chylderne the crosse towe, or he that learneth his crosse towe.
 Abedados, a citee in Egypte, wherin was the palatse of Memnon, and the temple of Osiris.
 Abedo, dis, or abedo, abes, abedi, to consume by eat v.
 Abel, the seconde sonne of Adam, and is interpreted by breathe, vapour, or vanities. He was borne together with his sister Delboia. xv. yeres after Cain. He is reputed to be the first martyr, being slayne by his sayed brother of thur, for as muche as God accepted his offering, and reiected Cains, when the fated Abel was. 100. yeres olde. he was from his childhood of greete vertue and faith. He was slayne before the incarnation of Christ yeres.
 Abemo, emi, ere, to take away.
 Abella, or Auella, a towne of Campania in Itale.
 Abellina, x, or auellana, x, sylberdes of that towne.
 Abellinates, a people of Itale called before tyme Protropi.
 Abellinum, a towne in Itale nowe called Trope.
 Abco, iul, vel, ij, ire, to departe, or go away.
 Abithora, the tyme is passed.
 Abijt sol, the sonne is downe.
 Abijt opidum in villas, the towne is turned into fermes, as many bee in Englande, I praye god amende it.
 Abijt in vulnus, he fell downe on the syde, wherupon he was wounded.
 Abijt e medio, he banished awate, he was neuer more seen.
 Abijt incepto, he left of his enterpryse.
 Abijt in salem, it was returned into Italie.
 Abijt in malam rem, go hence with a mischance.
 Abijt in fane superior, syt thou higher, go vpper.
 Abire pessum, to renne hebyng, to come to a mischance, to deale, or go to nought.
 Abire a iure, to dooe wronge.
 Abire, to cease, to vanysh, or to be appeared, to slype awate.
 Mirabar hoc si abire, I marvelled if this matter should so passe.

 Quid ad istam ineptiam abire? What mended thou with these fantasies?
 Aberco, to forgoe.
 Eam abercer domo, he forgoedeth his house.
 Aberro, ui, are, to erre, or to wander awate, to departe farre of, or vnder.
 Aberrare a proposito, to leaue, or go from the matter in communication.
 Aberratio, a wandyring, or a recreation that withdawe the mynde from heynesse.
 Aberuncasso, fere, to tourne vp.
 Aberunco, ui, are, toke in aberrunco.
 Aberuncare iram deorum, to withdawe the vengeance of god.
 Abella, the name of a iudge of Israel.
 Abelamis, a towne in Syria, builded by Semitamis.
 Abeste, a towne nigh to the river Hermandus.
 Abeton, a stone of the colour of yon, founde in Arabia, whiche hath growng about it, a chynge lyke vnto wull, and that is called the towne of Salamander. This stone beynge ones made hote, can neuer be cooled.
 Abfore, to be awate.
 Abgrego, ui, are, to seure, or to take out of the flocke, or to dawe shepe.
 Abhinc, before this tyme. Abhinc triennium, the yeres teno.
 Abhorreo, ui, ere, to abhorre, to hate, to dispise, to flee fro, to be vnlike, or to discorde.
 Abhorreo ab urbe relinquenda, I haue no mynde to forsake the citee.
 Abhorret a fide, it is incredible.
 Abhorret ab illo mea sententia, myne opinion is contrary to his, or repugnant agaynst his.
 Abhorret a suspitione, it is contrary to my supposell.
 Abhorret a charitate vulgi, he tendeth not to passeth nothing on the poore people.
 Non abhorret a uero, it is not vnlike to be trewe.
 Abhorresco, to feare to beholde.
 Abiectio, vltima, lowe estate.
 Abiectus, a vile person.
 Abiectus, a, um, naught set by, vexed with abynesse, cast of fazed offe, prostrate.
 Abies, ris, a tree called a fyre. It is sometime used for thy booydes.
 Abietarius, a carpenter.
 Abietarius, a, um, et abiegnus, a, um, of fyre.
 Abiga, an herbe called puer, take Gamaphis.
 Abigeus, us, felonye, or the steale in thylage of cattell.
 Abigena bos, was amonge the thynnyng, and in figures, the one, whiche was so fauerished, aboute whom the other beastes were sette in order.
 Abigenus, a dealer of cattell.

A

ABIG.

Abigo, egi, ere, to dyue awate any thyng that is euill or noysome, as fites from our face, or bydes from fruite. Also to dyue awate catell by thefte, or decepte.
Abigere ex aribus, to dyue out of the hous.
Abigunt nubes uenti, the wyndes dyue as waite the cloudes.
Abigere lasitudinem, to dyue awate weepnesse.
Abigere partum, when a woman foireth hys selfe to traualle before hys tyme.
Abi, a greater ruere in Englande, called Hamber.
Abij, a people of Scythia.
Abicio, ieci, ere, to cast awate, to renounce, to dispise, to poure out. Commetyme to geue awate.
Abicere se, to set herselfe by hym selfe.
Abicere spem, to dispatee.
Abiectio animi, a desperation.
Abiectio animo homo, a man of a desperate or fayne courage.
Abiecti, desperately, fapnly.
Abia, a towne in Decapoliom. It is also an hill in Aethiopia, loke Abila.
Abiani, men of the citee of Abila.
Abin, or abis, a woide of the language of Syria, signifyinge frowarde, ouerthwaite.
Abis, argue that renneth into the ruere Danubius.
Abiit, otherwyse Abiari, a cuntrey of Indie.
Abiuites, a people of the Alpes.
Abima, and Abilama, a citee of Arabia.
Abiit, a departure or goyng awate, olde wyse men tooke it for deathe, as we maie calle it the deccesse of one.
Abiuitus, a departing, or a waite to passe by.
Abiudico, iudi, ere, to take awate by iudgement from one, and geue to another by the same sentence.
Id ab eo contra ius acquitatem abiudicauit, he tooke that away from hym by iudgement agaynst all lawe and reason. Abiudico, is also to caste awate by iudgement.
Abiudicare a uita, to put to deathe.
Abiudicabit nunquam a suo tribulum, he will neuer iudge from his seruante the worth of thyse halfe pene.
Abiudicatum, geuen by iudgement from one to another.
Abigo, iudi, ere, to vnpoke, discharge, or putte a funder.
Abiungo, xi, ere, to seuer or put a funder.
Abiuratio, a fofswearynge, an abirraction.
Abiuratus, a, um, withholde wpongesfully, or by vntrithe.
Abiuro, iudi, ere, to denye by an othe, or to kepe a thyng wongfully.
Abiuratio, idem.
Ablaeto, a, ui, ere, to weane.

Ablacus, a ruere rennyng into Danubius.
Ablaqueo, aui, ere, to rydde the earthe from trees and bynes, and cutte awate the vyngerootes.
Ablaqueatio, the dooyng therof.
Ablaqueatus, a, um, rydde or purged after that maner.
Ablecti, aedes, houses well garnished to byge men to bye thym.
Ablegatio, a sendyng awate.
Ablegmina, partes of the itreaples, whyche in olde tyme were offered to the goddis.
Ablego, aui, ere, to sende awate one that we be werte of, or whom we wolde not haue in our companie.
Ablegare pecora, to remoue cattal from one pasture to another further of.
Hic a fratris aduentu me ablegauit, he sente me forth, that I shulde not be present at my brothers compaign.
Ablepsia, a, blyndenesse of mynde, vnadagefenesse.
Ableni, a people subject to the Aethiops.
Abligurio, iui, ere, to consume gooddes in banquetynge and sayng delicately.
Abloco, aui, ere, to set or let to another: to take from one and let to another.
Abludo, si, ere, signifierly contrary to alludo. Hac a tenon mulum ablutit imago, this example is not muche vnlike thy condicions.
Abluo, ui, ere, to washe of.
Abluere se, to poure or purifie theim selfe, as the pagans dyd.
Ablutio, a washyng.
Ablutus, washed away.
Abluuium, for Diluium, an vntersall fludde, wherewith a countreie is drownded.
Abmatrera, my greatte grandames mothers sister.
Abmitto, si, ere, to sende awate.
Abnato, aui, ere, to swimme awate.
Abneco, ui, ere, to flea or lyll.
Abnego, aui, ere, to deny or refuse.
Abnepos, otis, a sonne in the fourthe degree in liniall descent.
Abneptis, a daughter in the same degree.
Abnoba, a, a mountayne in Germany, oute of the whiche springeth the ruere Danubius.
Abnocto, aui, ere, to be from home at the nyght.
Abnodo, aui, ere, to prune or cut awate knottes from trees.
Abnormis, out of rule.
Abnuo, nui, ere, to deny or refuse, propriety with countenance or becke, to becke awate, to fofbydde.
Abnuere impetium, to refuse to be vnder a mans dominion.
Abnuere iussa ducis, to disobey the capitaines commaundement.
Abnuendus, a, um, to be refused.

Abi

Abnuto, aui, ere, significheth to becke awate of a ten tymes.
Abobrica, a famous towne in Spayne.
Abocis, a towne of Ethiopia.
Abolani, a people of Latium.
Aboleo, eui, ere, to put out, to cast out, to annul, to vndoore for euer.
Abolere concieniam generis humani, to make men forget. or to put out of the remembrance of men.
Abolere vndis, to washe or poure with water.
Abolito, ui, ere, to be brought to nought, or to be abolished.
Abolito, onis, a destroyng or puttinge oute of Amemoie.
Abolitus, a, um, cast out, put out of remembrance, destroyed or abolished.
Abolla, a Venetians habite, or a fouldounes cloke, of such a garment as philosophers vfed in olde tyme.
Aboloco, olde wyters vfed for, ab illis.
Abolus, a hoise that hath not loste thofte, wherby his age maie be discerned.
Abominor, atus sum ari, to hate a thyng as a token of yll lucke, or to haue in detestation, or to desire the contrary.
Abominandus, a, um, woorthy to be detested, hated, or abhorred.
Abominatio, onis, a detestation.
Abominatus, a, um, detested, execrated, or communicated.
Aboricis, a towne in Aethiopia, belongynge to the citifens of Rome.
Aborigines, or Aborigenes, people whyche fyrst helde the countreie aboute Rome, and lured abode, haupng no house. They maie also be taken for any other people, whose begynnyng is not knowen.
Aborior, aboritur sum, aboriri, to be bozne before the naturall tyme.
Aborras, a ruere in Aethiopia, whiche renneth by the citee Aethiopia.
Aborius, an vntymely byrthe, nyght vnto the conception, whiche maie be called aborition.
Aborrio, onis, et aborrium, the byrth that is destroyed by some hurte, or other misaduenture of medicine.
Aborto, aui, ere, or Abortio, iui, ere, to byngge forth a chyld ere it be perfect.
Abortiuus, a, um, that thyng that is brought forth before the tyme, or that whiche procureth the said vntymely byrthe, to be brought forth.
Abortus, or abortium, an vntymely byrth, nyght to the full tyme of deliuerance, wherby the chyld dyeth.
Abpatruus, my fathers great vnckle.
Abra, a, a littell gyle or handmayde, that neuer goth from hyr maistresse.

Abraces, one of Alexander the Greates Capytaynes.
Abradatas, a kynge of the people called Ciriens, who accompanied Cyrus, when he foughte agaynst the Egypciens.
Abrado, si, ere, to passe or scape, to cutte or maue awate.
Abradere aliquid, by a metaphore, is to take awate a thyng by force or violence, to wast awate by crafte and gyle.
Abraham, an holy patriarche, and was sonne to Thare, borne in Caldei, and is interpreted the father of many nations, or of people sayng. This man, as willia. heric and percyus sayge, was a fundy and mysticall doctryne, was moste excellent. He taughte the Egypciens astronomie, and geometry. He dyed before the incarnation of Christe 1838. yeres.
Abrafas, a, um, pared, cutte, or maue awaye.
Abatana, a parte of Aethiopia.
Abrenuncio, aui, ere, to renounce or forsake.
Abreptus, a, um, taken frome one by violence.
Abretini, people of Mysia.
Abriticui, people of the countreie of Lyons, in Fraunce.
Abripio, pui, ere, to take fro, or to take by force.
Abripuit repente se, he wente awaye suddenly.
Abripere ad questionem, uel in cruciarum, to drawe forth to punishment, or examination by tourmentes.
Abripi a parentis similitudine, to bee made vnlike his father in manere.
Abrocomas, one of Alexander the Greates Capytaynes.
Abrodiaxon, a delicate or deprent lyfe.
Abrodiaxus, a delicate person, a mynion.
Abrodo, si, ere, to gnawe or bite of.
Abrogo, aui, ere, by a publike consent, to disannul, to forgoe, to take awaye, or to make of none effecte.
Marcum Lepidum priuatus Italia abrogauit, he begyn a priuate person, expelled Marcus Lepidus out of Italy.
Abrogare fidem, to byngge out of credence.
Abrogare legem, to dissolue or expelle a lawe.
Fidem homini abrogare, to belente a man no more, to haue one out of credence.
Vires beneficiis abrogare, to effeme the benefite of no value.
Abrogari, they, whiche begyn as libertes, submite theim selues to another mannes rule by their owne consent.
Abrogatio, the resoluynge or repellinge of a lawe.
Abroon, onis, the name of a manne, whose sensualityte and delicate lyfe is growen to a pynnerde.

A 111

Abro

Abronis vita, a sumptuous and delicate life.
 Abroni mania, a cecce of Galatia.
 Abrotionum, or Abrotionum, the name of a woman.
 Abrotionum, a towne of Affricke. It is also the name of an herbe, which, as some say, was Themiſtocles mother.
 Abrotionum, an herbe called Southernwood.
 Abrumpo, rupi, ere, to breake of, to cutte of, or plucke vp.
 Abrumpere rem inceptam, to breake vp of leaue of an enterpriſe.
 Abrumpere patientiam, to breake patience, or waite anger.
 Abrumpere lucem uel uitam, to dye.
 Abrumpere ſonnum, to awake from ſleepe.
 Abruptio, a breaking of breaking.
 Abrupta loca, rocks and hills here and there broken or dygged, so that one maye vnderſtand go or creepe vp on them.
 Abrupte, out of frame, not agreeing with the beginning.
 Abruptum, that which hath ſuche a falke of dependance downe, that no man maye paſſe by it, but onely fall downe.
 Abruptus, a, um, broken here and there, as rocks here and great hills.
 Abruptus ſermo, a tale that hangeth not together.
 Abrupta contramacia, a forward ſtubburneſſe.
 Abrupta ingenium, a ſavage braine that hangeth all thynges on head.
 Abruptus, a, um, a ruler of Affrica, whiche in cloſeth the ſelle of Eritrea.
 Abscedo, cedi, ere, to go away from.
 Abscedere incepto, he hath leſſe of his enterpriſe.
 Abscedere in altitudinem, to aſcende of good ſpawarde.
 Abscedus, & Abſceſſio, a departing ſeo.
 Abscedus, is of phyſicians taken for an impoſtume or botche, or for a couſe of euill humours to ſome part of the bodie, wherby matter putrefied is ingendred.
 Abscedo, or, abſcedo, di, ſcindere, to cut of.
 Absceſſus, or, abſceſſus, is the ſame that Fixe, ſtem ſp, determinatly.
 Absciſſus, a, um, broken, ſharpe, or cut of.
 Absciſſor iuſtitia, ſharpe iuſtice.
 Absciſſus locus, a place troublous, rough, and harde to come to.
 Quamquam abſciſſa res erat, although there was no hope to bring the matter to effect.
 Abſciſſa caſtigatio, an hard, reſjoule, and ſharpe correption.
 Abſciſſus, i, i, ere, to go out of remembrance.
 Abſcondite, covertly, ſecretly, darkly.
 Abſconditus, a, um, hydden.
 Abſcondo, di, ere, to hyde.
 Abſcondere fugam furto, to flee of ſteale as waſte piſtall.

 Abſconſio, an hydding.
 Abſens, entis, abſent of awaie.
 Abſentaneus, a, um, that whiche is doone in abſence.
 Abſentia, abſence.
 Abſentio, ſi, ere, to thynke contrary.
 Abſento, ui, are, to ſende awaie, or cauſe to be abſent.
 Abſilae, certayne people.
 Abſimilis, muche vnlike.
 Abſis, or, apſis, idos, the ſtrake of a caſt whele, wherin the ſpoke be ſette.
 Abſiſto, abſiſti, ere, to depart from a place, or to be ſarre of, contrary to Aſiſtere, ſometimes it ſignifieth to abſterge or leaue of.
 Abſiſtere incepto, to breake of leaue of his purpoſe.
 Abſiſtere bello, to ceaſe from warre.
 Si ſuore abſiſtere uellent, yf they woulde leaue thei madneſſe.
 Abſolco, ui, ere, to be out of uſe.
 Abſolens locus, a place vnoccupied or neglected, after Calypſo, without auctoriſſe.
 Abſoluo, ui, ere, to leaſe that whiche was bounden, alſo to perſourme or make perfect, to accompliſhe, to ſpare, to forgoe, to pardone, to diſpatche, to abſolve, or diſpence one out of all daunger of iudgement.
 Abſoluere, to diſpatche of buſyneſſe.
 Abſoluere creditorem, to paye that he oweth.
 Abſoluere penſum, to woſhe out his taſke.
 Abſoluere ſuſpicionem, to diſcharge or purſe out of all ſuſpicion.
 Abſoluere uno uerbo, to make an end ſhortly, to tell at one woſhe.
 Abſoluere reum, to diſcharge of ſet at libertye one that is accuſed.
 Abſolutarium, ri, that whiche deliuereth of diſchargeth a man.
 Abſolutarius, a, um, that whiche doeth apperceptne vnto the diſcharging of diſpatchynge of any man.
 Abſolute, perfectly, abſolutely.
 Abſolutio, a diſcharge, or diſpatchynge, alſo a perfection.
 Abſolutus, a, um, dyſcharged, dyſpatched, alſo perfect, abſolute, or without faulte.
 Abſono, ui, are, to diſcoyde or ſounde euill.
 Abſonus, a, um, that whiche ſoundeth not welle, or diſcoyde, or that maye ſcarcelly be heard, or by a metaphoſe, dyſagreeing.
 Abſonum fidei, not creditible.
 Abſonus uoce, he that hath an vntuneable voyce.
 Abſorbeo, ui, uel, pſi, ere, to ſwalowe or ſuppe vp.
 Abſorus, an iſle in the ſea Adriaticum, or after Herodian, a ciſſe in Illiria.

Abſy

Abſy, without. Nam abſy eo eſſet, ſo (if he had not been.
 Abſtemius, he that dynteth no wyne.
 Abſtemium prandium, a dyner without wyne.
 Abſtentus, accuſed out of the church.
 Abſtergeo, and Abſtergo, ſi, gere, ere, to wpe awaie.
 Abſtergere dolorem, to put awaie ſorrowe.
 Abſterreo, ui, ere, to prohibite, to lette of put ſed, to ſcare awaie, or dygne awaie with feare.
 Abſtergere auctum, to lette the increaſe of a thyng.
 Abſterres te adſi, thou makeſt men aſtrayde to come to the.
 Abſterius, a, um, ſeared awaie.
 Abſtinentia, abſtinenſe, a vertue in ſoybearynge to take an other mans goodes.
 Abſtiner, with abſtinenſe.
 Abſtineo, ui, ere, to abſteyne, to ſoybeare of tempeſ. ſometimes to ſoybe of let, and alſo to excommunicate.
 Non abſtines, manum maſtigia? Wilt thou not holde of thy handes, biſlayn knave?
 Abſtinere ignem ab arde, they dyd not ſet fire on the temple.
 Abſtinere manum in iudicio, to refrain from giving dytes to iudges.
 Abſtinere alieno, not to meddle with other mens goodes.
 Abſtineas a me manum, take heed that thou ſtrike me not.
 Abſtinuit diu publico, it was long of he came abode.
 Abſtinens alieni, he that medleth not with other mens goodes.
 Abſtinendus, a, um, to be letted or kept from.
 Primo die abſtinendus a cibo, the fyrſt daye he muſt be kept from meate.
 Abſto, ſiti, are, to ſtande ſarre of.
 Abſtorqueo, ſi, ere, to gette of wyſt awaie by force of tormentes.
 Abſtrahio, axi, ere, to take by force of by craft, or to withdraue.
 Abſtrahere ſe a ſolitudine, to withdraue his mynde from care.
 Abſtraxi me illinc, I gotte me thence.
 Abſtractus, a, um, dyuene awaie by force.
 Abſtringo, ſtrinx, ere, to leaſe that, whiche was bounden.
 Abſtrudo, ſi, ere, to hyde.
 Abſtrudere triſtitiā, to put awaie ſadneſſe or heyneneſſe of mynde.
 Abſtruſus, a, um, hydde of ſhutte vp.
 Abſtruſus homo, a cloſe ſeawe that will not open his mynde.
 Abſtruſior diſputatio, a ſubill or darke diſputation.
 Abſum, fui, eſſe, to be awaie of ſarre of, to ſat

a man in time of neede, to be diſtant of abſent, to lacke of want.
 Abſtinentia, he deliſeth not in debate ſtriſe of contention.
 Abſtinentia culpa, he is not faulty.
 Abſtinentia animus, I haue no courage.
 Abſtinentia nobis, while I was awaie.
 Abſit, god ſoybe.
 Abſtinerio inuidia, a ſoyne of ſpeking, when one wolde not be ſuſpected of arrogancy in ſome thyng that he wyl ſpeake.
 Abſumo, pſi, ere, to ſpende, to conſume of waſte awaie.
 Abſumere animam letho, to ſlay of kyll.
 Abſumdo, inis, diſſipate, waſte of money of other lyke thyng.
 Abſumptio, a waſtynge, or waſte.
 Abſumptiſſimus, we are vndoone.
 Abſurde, without purpoſe of reaſone, to no purpoſe.
 Abſurdus, da, dum, inconuenient, fooliſhe, dyſcrepange, dyſconſe, adyſcrepange, or adyſe.
 Abus, looks abis.
 Abſynthires, x, wyne, wherſin woynewood hath ben infused of ſooden.
 Abſynthium, is commonly called woynewood: howe beſe there be therof thre kyndes: Scariophium, whiche ſeemeth to be our woynewood: Santonicum, wherof cometh wayne ſeeds: Ponticum, or Romanum, whiche hath a leſſe leaſe than our woynewood, and hath a ſweeter odour.
 Abſyrtides, be Ilandes in the Aeneſ an ſea.
 Abſyrtus, the brother of Medea, whome ſhe dyde ſutte in peeres, and caſt in to the ſea, when ſhe fledde frome his father with Jaſon.
 Abuerto, ti, ere, to toune awaie of frome a place.
 Abdiacum, a towne in Germany.
 Abundans, a, um, a ſpeche man.
 Abundanter, abundantly.
 Abundantia, abundaunce of plenty of any thyng.
 Abundatio, onis, an ouerflowing.
 Abunde, abundantly, plentifully enough.
 Abunde eſt, it is enough.
 Abundo, ui, are, to abounde, to haue aboundaunce and plenty of any thyng, what ſo euer it be, alſo to be reche.
 Abundare ingenio, to haue a good ſwiftny.
 Abundare opibus ſandi, to haue a good ſwiftny.
 Abundare audacia, to be ſwiftny.
 Abundans corporis, a good body.
 Abulo, ui, are, to ſwiftny.
 Abupus, a ſpue in Englande called a ſpue.

A. iii

Abus

Abusue, (impropely, against nature or custom.
Abusue mane ad uespera, to morrow to night.
Abusum, toorne out.
Abusus, us, & abusio, abuse, euill vse.
Abuter, sus sum, abuti, to abuse, to vse a thyng dishonestly, vncomely, contrary that it serueth for, out of order, or in vayne, also to weare out.
Abut et licetis abuti, to imploye his tyme and learning euill.
Abuti legibus ad questu, to abuse the lawes to his owne profite and gayne.
Operam abutitur, he abuseth his labour.
Abudena, testles, thynges of small estimation, wanton toyes, vncomely for men to vse.
Abudena, a people in Asia, which haueing their cite distressed with a long siege fell into a fury of madnesse, and slue all their wiues, their children, and gretewarde them selues.
Abudenas, a, um, of Abudus.
Abudeus, a man boyne in the ple of Abudus.
Abudochoma, thei that bolle their vntreuths or falschode.
Abudus, was a cite in Asia, vpon the sea side called Propontis, whiche diuided Europa from Asia, where the passage ouer erredeth not much the way, fustionges, called Istadia, Quen acorne that standeth an other towne, called Sclius.
Abus, an hill in the ocean sea agaynst Spayne whiche is called vnto Hercules pillars.
Abusue, was a hope of meate made of lee-les, testles, garlike, the beens of pomegranates, mustard seeds, and suche other lyke.
Abusus, is a depence without bottoms.

A ANTE C.

AC. is a conjunction copulatiue, and staguffeth sometyme, and : as, Doctus ac mitis es, Thou art counnyng and milde. Sometime it is taken for than: as, Ilud fecus ac iuli facit, Thei doo none other worse than thei be commanded. Sometime it signifieth as : as, Superbis perinde ac li-rex es, Thou art aggraued as if thou were a tyng. sometyme and that, and truly : as,
Aliquid boni, tibi pro istac re faciam, ac lu-dens, I will dooe the some good tourne for this thyng, and that with all myn herte.
Ac potius, pra rather.

Ac, the name of a cite in Phenicia, afterward called Bitholomais.

Acabene, a mountayne in Egypte.

Acabis, a village of Lybia.

Acabo, a beate in the desert of Beabie.

Acacalis, the seeds of an herbe growyng in Egypte, whiche toke that name of the nymph Acacalis, who beyng deflowred of Apollo, was deliuered of two chyldren, named Bithi-larides and Bithlandus.

Acacelum, a cite of Arcadie, so called of Acac- cus, the sonne of Lycaron.
Acacia, a, a hynde of thorne, the seeds wherof is lyke vnto chittes. It is also the iuice of the same fruite.
Acacia, the tyece of a fruite in Egypte, but in Jude therof, men doo now take the tyece of flos, whiche lyke to the other, dooe refrigerate hynde and strike heate backwarde.
Acacia, a, innocencie, simplicitie, sinceritee.
Acacus, a, a simple and plaine person, without gyfte of fraude.
Academia, a, an vniuersitee, whiche took that name of a place myge vnto Athenas, where Plato (the great philosopher) taught philosophy. It may also be vied for any great or notable schoole.
Academici, were a sect of philosophers, whiche followed & taught the doctrine of Plato.
Acadmus, a well in Sicilia, wherein (as Aristo- tle saith) tables, conteynyng the othe of one that hath sworne truly will saym: but if the othe be false, thei will synke.
Acadra, a towne of Arabia.
Acada, a, a gode, also a rodde of x. foote long,
 wherewith men vpd vse to measure landes.
Acallis, Idis, the daughter of Adonis, and mother of Dares.
Acamantium, a towne in Phytigia, buidied by Acamantis, to whom Theseus after the bas-taye of Troie, gaue that place, because he arbed hym agaynst the people called Solines.
Acamarchis, a nymphe, the daughter of De- ceanus.
Acamas, an elbows of lande in the ple of Eg- ypce, towards the east, it was also one of the princes of Thrace, whiche came to aide the Troians. There was also one other of the same name, who was sonne to Antenor.
Acandria cicada, a prouerbe spoken of vnto and rude persons, of suche as be ignorant in musike.
Acanthide, the olde name of the yle of Egypte.
Acanthinus, a, um, of Acanthus, of lyke to it.
Acanthis, of Acalanthis, and Acanthis, Idis, a hynd that fedeth on thistles, and maketh his nest with clafe, and is called in englyshe (as I suppose) a thimble.
Acanthion, of acanthium, is a bush, lyke vnto to a white thorne, with lesse leaues, mosy and pyching.
Acanthus, of Acanthes, as Dioscorides saith, is an herbe that groweth in stony and moyst groundes, and hath leaues longer and byden than testles, in forme lyke to rocket, somewhat blacke, and in buytynge soft and fatter, hauing a stalk of it, subtyles high, of the thiknesse of a mans fpynger, garnished vnder the toppe with litle longe leaues, and pyching, wheron groweth a white flower. It is supposed

posed to be that herbe, whiche is commonly called Branca vrsina, in englyshe bearsfoote, as some doo suppose.
Acanthus, a boie, whiche as poetes do seigne,
 was transformed into a flower of his name.
 It is also (as Serulus saith) a tree growing in Egypte, haueing alwayes greene leaues.
Acacia a cite in Egypte, myge vnto Memphis.
 another of Macchonia, and of Aetholia.
Acapis, a pyper in Asia.
Acapna, hye wood that smytheth not.
Acapna thysia, sacrifices without smoke, spoken of a simple feast, wher in is neither bake, rolle nor foddre.
Acar, & acarus, a litle woyme that byedeth in waxe, and is the least of all vermyne, a myte.
Acarja a towne in the myddle of Hungary.
Acarnan, of Acarnas, anis, a stony hille in the countrey of Athens.
Acarnania, a part of the realme of Greece, named Epirus. It is also a litle countrey in Egypte, also a cite by Syracusa in the coa-stes of Sicilie.
Acarnanes, the people of that countrey.
Acarnanias, of Acarnanicus, a, um, of Ac- arnania.
Acarne, nes, a fyssh of the sea. also a towne of Adagnesia.
Acaron, a wilde myrtle tree.
Acarpia, lacke of fruite.
Acarpus, a, um, vnfructfull, vnproffitable.
Acasta, a nymphe or maiden of the fawne.
Acatus, a hyng of Adagnesia, of whom Peleus was pourged, when he had murdered his brother.
Acatalecticus versus, a verse that hath nothig so much, or to litle. Contrarywise Catalec- ticus, wanteth a syllable.
Acatalepton, that can not be comprehended.
Acatium, the greatest sayl in a ship, also a boie.
Acaulus, a, um, not bourned.
Accalaurantia, the name of hie that nourysshed Romulus and Remus, the first builders of Rome.
Accanto, aul, are, to syng by.
Accaron, a cite of Palestine.
Accedo, cessi, ere, to come or go to, to appoch to assent or agree, to be increased, augmented, or added to a thyng. sometyme it signifi-eth a likeness to be in a thyng: as, Eorum po- tes proxime ad deum immortalium accedit, Their power is mooste lyke vnto the immortal goddis.
Accede adiutare, come helps me.
Accedere ad amicitiam alicuius, to sty hym selfe with one.
Accedere alicui, to graunt or agree to, another: or to bee of an other mans opinion.
Accedere ad causam, to take on hym to plete
 a matiere.

Accedere ad rem publicam, to sty hym selfe to beare office in the common weale, or to bee occupied in a common affayre.
Accedere ad ad aurem, to com and whisper one in the eare.
Accedere obuiam, to mete with.
Accedere periculum, to puste hym selfe in daunger.
Accedit huc, moxouer than that.
Accedit precio, the price increaseth.
Huc accedit summus timor, moxouer than that, the feare is wonderfull great.
Accessit illi animus, his courage is increased.
Accessit operi manus extrema, the woork is perfectly finished.
Accessit, he came to.
Accessit illi aetas, he is become olde.
Robur illi accessit, his strength is increased.
Accessit eares in cumulum, that thyng moxe ouer was ther vnto added.
Accelero, aui, are, to hasten of speede, actiuelly and neutrally.
Accelerare gradum, to go apace.
Accelerare viam, to dispatche your iourneys quickly.
Acceleratio, haste of speedynesse.
Accendo, di, ere, to kende, inflame, prouoke, or geue boldnesse, also to encourage.
Accendere offensiones, to increas malice, or hatreds.
Accendere stim, to increpse thyng.
Accendere mentes in pigra, to encourage mena heres to battail.
Accenit, were souldiours appoynted to bee as about great officers for defence of their peoples. festus saith, that it were they, that after the deatly of souldiours were put in their places. Barro affirmeth, that they were my-nistres alwayes ready at the commandement of principall officers.
Accenit, were also called Decuriones, and Ce- curiones, accordyng to the nombre of souldyours, whiche they gouerned: they were also of ficers lyke vnto our cyers.
Accensus, a, um, seer on fyre, hendled, or inflamed. Accensus in iram, inflamed with anger.
Accensus, an accent of tyme, wherby a syllable is pronounced.
Acceptio, in Jude of accepterim, I haue taken.
Acceptabulum, loke Acetabulum.
Acceptilatio, a questre of an obligacion made by mouth, when the bestor demandeth of the creditor, whether he be content of that whiche he hath promysed hym: and the creditor answereth, yea: as though he saied, I doo accept it as if it were paid.
Acceptio, a recepyng.
Acceptio, aui, are, to recepye.
Acceptare iugum, to submyt hym selfe as a subiect of bondman.

Acceptum, thankfull, pleasant, allowable, also any thing that a man hath received.
Acceptum facere pecuniam, to make a quit-tance for monie received.
Acceptum ferro, I knowlage that I have received a thing by an other mans means.
Acceptum habere, to allowe of accomptes thanke worship.
Acceptum in vulgus, acceptable to the common people.
Acceptum referre, to keepe a reckninge of that whiche is received, contrarie, Expensum ferre, to register what a mā hath layd out.
Accepti et expensi ratio, an accompt of receites and expences.
Accepto ferre, to acquite one of his promise.
Acceptus, x, she that best to receive any thinge.
Acceptus, receptus, entertained.
Acceptus, x, um, accepted, acceptable.
Acceptus, iure, idem quod accessus, Accessus, called for, or sent for.
Accessus, x, us, a calling or sending for.
Accessio, here, Accessio coniuga, to call footthe, to send for, to go to call or fetch, to accuse, and to be ware to adde of byng to a thinge that whiche it hath not.
Accessus in filium, commaunde thy daughter to be sent for, or called for.
Accessio erationis splendorem, to make the one on moys eloquence, pleasaunt, or beautifull.
Accessio uel accessio capitis, to accuse one of a heauy offence.
Accessus domo hac sum, I was sent for from home to come hyther.
Accessus ad aliquid negotium, to be called to doo some busynesse.
Quandous accessio me, whan ye will, send for me.
Accessio mercede, to hye for money.
Accessio aucta ex aliquo, to send for aide out of some place.
Accessum dictum, an oracion to muche affectate, or as ye saye, to farre sette.
Accessio descriptio, a straunge or vnmeete description, not agreeing with the nature of the thinge.
Accessio facta, strange kyndes of religion, that began in an other countreie.
Accessio, onis, he that gothe to call or fetch an other.
Accessio, an augmentation, also a goping or coming.
Accessionem adiungere aedibus, to make an house larger.
Accessio febris, the course of the feuer.
Accessio morbi, the begynnyng of a spleene.
Accessus maris, the flowynge of the sea.
Acci, a crite in Spayne, sometime called Acci

notus Guadix.
Accidens, to an accident, whiche male bee or not be, without the corruption of that wher-in it male bee.
Accidentia, thinges that chaunce or happen to a man, and ppropely misfortunes.
Accidentia, x, chaunce.
Accidit, there hapned, it is chaunced.
Accidere, in the thyde persone, to to happen or chaunce to, and ppropely of euill thinges.
Vbi ad aures accidit regis, whan it came to the kynges eares.
Si quid illi accidat, If he chaunce to by, or if it happen to hym other wise than well.
Fama accidit, a byre of rumour was spred.
Hoc mihi voluntatis accidit, I am of this mynde.
Accidit ad animum tuum, it hath chaunced as ye would haue it.
Idud verbum verē in te accidit, this woode agreeth right well vnto the: or it male bee right well spoken of the.
Timeo quorūm accidat, I feare to what ende it will come.
Accidit diuinus, it was the hande of god.
Accido, didi, idere, to extenuate or make feble, to afflicte or to destitute.
Accidi crines, heares cleane cut of.
Accidit dapes, meate cleane consumed or eaten vp.
Accidit res, whan the strengthe or power of any part is afflicte, broken, and greatly appapied by misfortune and aduersitee.
Accido, di, ere, to fall down in doynge reuerence.
Accidere ad genua, accidere ad pedes, to walp & reuerently to fall downe at a mans feete.
Quos accidam, to whome shoulde I make humble intercession?
Accidendus, a, um, to be called or sent for.
Accio, iui, ire, idem quod Accio, iui, ire.
Accio, ere, to syng to an instrument, or to syng a parte, as a treble to a tenore, or a descant to a playne songe.
Accingo, xi, ere, to gyde, to prepare, to make ready to doo some thinge.
Accingere se alicui rei, to make hym self ready to an enterpryse.
In hoc discrimen accingere, prepare the to this perillous enterpryse.
Accingi armis, to be armed.
Accingi ad spem maiorem, to loke for high er auancement.
Accingi ira, to be wood angry.
Accio, iui, ire, to call to, to send for one to come.
Ni voluptatem acciret, except it byd byng a pleasure with it.
Accipenser, looke acipenser.
Accipio, cepi, ere, to take, to heare, to suppose, to knowe, to vnderstande, to admytte, to receiue, to intreate, or intertayne.
Acci

Accipere auribus, to heare.
Accipere ad uerbum, to take a thing as it is spoken.
Accipere auditionem, to heare by repute.
Accipere aliorum, to take it other wise than it was spoken.
Accipere causam, or, excusationem, to holde excused.
Accipere cladem, to lose the battaile, or to haue the ouerthrow, or to be discomfited.
Accipere conditionem, to take the offer.
Accipere corde, to perceiue well.
Polusid satis meo corde accipi uas quare las, Th good faith I do not well perceiue the cause of thy greif, a possibill phrase.
Accipere a quis auribus, to heare indifferently, or patiently.
Accipere durius, to take it displeasantly.
Accipere dictis, aut verbis, to chide.
Accipere dolore, to take thought, to be heauy.
Accipere fiduciam, to be insoffed.
Accipere grauitate, to take it heauily.
Accipere in ciuitatem, to make one a citizen.
Allo, to open the towne gates against one that bellegeth it, to pelde it vp.
Accipere moderatē, to take it patiently.
Accipere mandata, to take charge by commissiō.
Accipere rationes, to take accompte.
Accipere oculis et animo, to see and remembre.
Accipere potestatem, to haue leaue.
Accipere uerbis, to beate one.
Accipere uulnus, to be wounded.
Accipe ad omnia, take this answere for all.
Ego a maioribus memoriam accipi, I remembre that I herde myne elders to repute.
Accipit fidem fabula, the tale was beleued.
Accipere frenum, to pelde hym selfe subiect.
Accipere imperium, to obete.
Accipere meum, to feare.
Accipere praecepta, to be taught.
Rem publicam accipere, to take the gouernance of a publike weale.
Accipere societatem, to make alliance.
Accipere sententiam, to ratiffie a sentence.
Sit tempus debitum accipiat, if it male be done in due tyme.
Vitam deorum accipere, to be made a god.
Accipere aliquid in muneribus, to take bythes.
Accipere, male be oftentymes resoluēd by this woide Assicior, as, Accipit leticiam, he was gladd, or affected with gladnesse.
Accipere iniuriam, to take wronge.
Accipere plagam, seu uulnus, by a metaphorse, to haue a great hurte or damage, whiche we call a roysse to the heere.
Accipies a Polione, he that knowe it of Pollio.
Sit aequo animo ferre accipiet, if he shall pperceiue, that ye take it well in woyle.
Parum accipere, not to vnderstande.
Accipere in maius, to suppose a thinge to bee more than it is.

Accipere ampliter, to intreate, or entertaine noblye.
Quo te modo accepissem, nisi iratus essem? Howe wolde I haue handled the, if I had not been angry?
Regie accipius, entertained lyke a kyng.
Accipiter, tris, an hauke.
Accipiter humipeta, a sparhauke.
Accipiter hierax, an hauke, called a saker.
Accipiter pecuniarum, a poller of the people or an extortor.
Accipitrarius, a faulconer.
Accipitro, are, to sarche, to wondere of bfe.
Accipitro, aui, are, to call, or sende for oftentymes to come.
Accius, a, um, called for, called to come.
Accius, us, a calling or sending for.
Accius Piraensis, a famousse orator.
Accius Neuius, the Augurian or footthesayer, whiche (at the commaundment of Tarquinus) did cutte a whetstone in it peces with a rasoure.
Accius, the name of a poete, a wyfiter of tragedies, who (as Licero saith) had a harde and crabbed stile.
Acclamio, aui, are, to crye with reioysing, and sometime contrarie, to crye against a thinge.
Acclamatio, a howte.
Acclamito, aui, are, to crye to ofte tymes.
Acclino, aui, are, to encline or bende to, and by a metaphor, to fauour, to consent or agree to.
Acclinatus, a, u, leaning or bending to a thinge.
Accliue, steepe wise, bending wise.
Accliuis, fine acclius, ryfingge vpwarde to a small toppre.
Accliuis arbori, leaning to a tree.
Accliuis falsis animus, a mynde prone to lewennesse.
Accliuias, a ryfingge vp of an hyl.
Accludo, si, ere, to shut to.
Acco, cus, a woman, whiche was so foolishe, that she wolde speake and talke to hir owne image in a glasse, wherof cometh Accissare, to plate the idiothe: and for the foolles bee called Acci. This woman also wolde refuse earnestly that the most desired, wherfor such feigned refusal, is called Accismus.
Accola, the next inhabitant, called a boyderer.
Allo he that cometh out of one countrey, and dwelleth in an other countrey or towne.
Accola capi, he that dwelleth next the field.
Accolo, ui, ere, to dwell by or nigh, specially hilles, waters, or wooddes.
Accoli propinquos nostris aedibus, he dwelleth nigh to our house.
Accommodari, are, to accommodate, to approprie, to apply, make apt, fit, thus, agreeing to an other thing, to set in order, to geue order, to lende.
Accom

Accommodare ensem lateri, to geide a swoyd about one.

Accommodare curam auribus, to heare diligently.

Accommodare se ad rem publicam, to geue him selfe to the publike affaires.

Accommodare animum literis, to applie his minde to learning.

Illud si scissem, ad id meas literas accommodassem, If I had known that, I wold haue written my letters thereafter.

Testes ad crimen accommodare, to bypnye forth witness accordeing to the accusation.

Accommodare se ad nuntium alicuius, to make him selfe to ones becke.

Accommodatio, an applpyng.

Accommodus, a, um, apte, mete, conuenient.

Accommodare, aptely, conueniently, to the purpose, handsomely.

Accommodatus, a, um, applied to a thyng, be- seeming, couchable, inclined, or disposed.

Accommodatus ad flagitium, disposed to mis- chiefe.

Accredo, or adcredo, didi, ere, to geue crea- dence, to assent. a worde selde used.

Accreduo, is, in, uere, idem quod, accredo.

Accredo, cui, ere, to growe, to encrease, to be augmented.

Accreditat fides, that it maie be the moze beleeued.

Flumen subito accreuit, the riuer rose so- dainly.

Accreuo, & accrementum, an increasynge, the encrease.

Accubatio, onis, a sittynge at the table, also the lying in of a woman with child, some tyme the sittynge abyode of byrde and foules.

Accubatores, thei that sitte at the table.

Accubatum, a bed or cowche to lye on by daye tyme, as it was the maner of the olde Roma- nes, to cate lyeing on their beddes.

Accubitus, us, the lyeing in the said maner.

Accubo, ui, are, to lye by, to sit, or lye downe to cate. and by a metaphoe, to butte vpon.

Accubat mecum, he lseth with me.

Accubare alicui in conuiuio, to sit by one at a feast.

Theatrum Tarpeio monti accubat, the The- atre butteth vpon the hill Tarpei.

Accudo, di, ere, to beate a thyng on an anuile, to forge, to hammer, or to coyne moze to that whiche is alreadye coyned.

Accedere tres minas, by a metaphoe, is to make thise to adde. iiii. poundes moze to a summe.

Accumbo, ui, ere, to lye downe, to lye by, to lye or sit downe at feastes or banquettes.

Accumbere mensam, to sit at one table.

Accumbere alicui, to sit by one at the table.

Accumbere superior, to sitte in the higher place.

Accumulo, aui, are, to accumulate, to gather on heapes, to encrease.

Accumulare aliquem donis, to geue gyftes plentifully vnto one.

Accumulare arborem, contrarie to Ablas- queare, to heape perthe about the rootes of trees, to kepe them from the parchynge heate of the sonne.

Accumulare, plentifully, liberally, bountifullly.

Accumulatio, onis, an heappynge vp.

Accuro, aui, are, to take good hede, or to care for. Also to do a thyng diligently.

Accurare prandium, to ppynde and make readye the digne.

Accurare hospites, to enterteine guests.

Accurate, diligent, curiously, exacte, studi- ously, earnestly.

Accuratio, onis, earnest diligence.

Accuratus, a, um, wherein is muche diligence, curouse, exacte, well handled, doons studi- ously.

Accurata malicia, malice prepened.

Accuratum habere, to prepenie, or forcast a thyng curiously.

Accurata commendatio, an earnest commen- dation.

Accuro, ri, ere, to renne to, to speede thither.

Accurro, ut sciam quid uelit, I ren to know what he wold haue.

Accurritur ab uniuersis, euey man renneth thither.

Accursus, us, an assemblyng or hasty gathering of people to a place.

Accusabilis, le, worthy to be blamed.

Accusatio, onis, an accusation or blamyng.

Accusator, oris, an accusour, or rebuker.

Accusatorius, a, um, pertainyng to an accusa- tion.

Accusatorius liber, a booke of complainte.

Accusatrix, icis, a woman accuser or rebuker.

Accuso, aui, are, to accuse, blame or reprehende.

Accusare crimine, to accuse, or charge one with an offence.

Accusare uitium, culpam, aut crimen, to re- buke a mans faulte or vice.

Accusare, and Excusare, are contrary.

Accusas id me, ye blame me for this thyng.

Ace, aces, a cittle of Phoenicia.

Acedaria, corruptly bled for acetaria, salettea of meates lyghtly prepared.

Acedia, a, falsely called accidia, slouth, pen- siveness, heauynesse of herte, idle werynesse, carelessse negligence.

Acedior, atus sum, to be wepy, or waxe slouthy full.

Accellum, a towne in Lombardie.

Accentra, & accentra, thynges wherof the cen- ter or pycke in the mddes is not known.

Acceo, cui, ere, to be eger, tart, or sharpe.

Accephali,

Accephali, or accephalix, were herethes, whiche denied, to be two natures in Christ, as- sumyng the nature diuine to be in him onely. This heresie was condemned in the cognatall of Chalcedonensis.

Accephali uersus, verses begynnynge with a thoye syllable.

Accephala fabula, a tale withoute heade or taylor.

Acer, aceris, neu. gen. a tree, the wood wher- of is mooste gentle to worke in, it seemeth by the description therof, to be that, whiche is called maple. Also bowes be made therof.

Acer, aceris, chaffe of millstede.

Acer, era, cru, & acer, acris, acre, eger, sharpe, and sower, as vineger, sometime it beco- meth strong, soze. Also diligent, sterke or earnest.

Acre acetum, stronge or sharpe vineger.

Acer amator, a seuerer louer.

Amor acer, ardent loue.

Acer animus, a great or lusty courage.

Acer equus, a couragious or swift horse.

Flagitator acer, an importunate suitour.

Ace iurgium, bitter chiding.

Acer morbus, a greuouse sicknesse.

Acer armis, sterke in armes.

In rebus gerendis acer, earnest and diligente in his affaires.

Aduersarius acer, a cruell and deadly ad- uersarpe.

Animaduersor acer, a seuerer or rigorous punisher.

Homo acer, a diligent person.

Acres cibi, tart, sharpe, or h'tyng meates.

Dolor acer, greuouse sorowe.

Cedes acris, cruell slaughter.

Heymper acris, a sharpe winter.

Ingenium acre, a sharpe quicke witte.

Odor acer, a stronge sauoure.

Vitus acer, a quicke sight.

Aceratum, ti, mortar, or claye mixte with hys of strawe, wherewith walles be daubed.

Acerbe, bitterly, vntoely, cruelly, vehemently.

Acerbitas, aitis, bitternesse of taste, sharpnesse of tyme, crueltie of man, heauynesse, grefe, pefne, aduersitee, vexation, affliction.

Acerbitatibus lacerari, to bee tourmented with afflictions.

Acebo, aui, are, to trouble, to make bitter, abhominable, moze cruell, or rygurous.

Acerbare crimen, to augment a faulte, and make it moze greuouse.

Acerbus, a, um, vntoely, sower, displeasante, difficulte, harde, solepne, austere, and pain- full: as, Robustorum iuuenum acerba mors: the deathe of yonge men is painfull: as who saith, thei be with great difficulte.

Acerba uita, a painfull lyfe.

Homo acerbus, a sower felowe.

Acerba fors, a sorrowfull or heauy condiction.

Acerba facies, bypnyng taunte.

Acerbus dies, a heauie date.

Acerba, for acerbe.

Acerbum spectaculum, a cruell sight, boz- eble to beholde.

Acerbum, bi, sorrowfulness, greuouous, paines- fulnesse.

Aceruus, a, um, of the tree called Acer.

Aceru, aui, are, to mixe with thynge.

Acerosum frumentum, vntoely wheate, wheate not well withynowed or fannd.

Acerosus pabula, bydme heade not eanged.

Acerria, a, a thpye, wherein frankensente is put, some do name it an antioke, whiche was set befoze a dead corpe, wheron inferne was burned. Some call it a cuppe, wherein thei did facillite wine.

Acerria, a citee by Naples.

Acerriani, people of that citee.

Acerime, excedyng sharp, or stilly, egerly, or rygourously.

Acerima uxor, a vntoely shrewd wife.

Acerimissimi, moztall enemies.

Acerimi testes, witnesses, whiche do stilly abyde by the matter.

Acerile comes, he that neuer cutteth his heere.

Aceruam, on heapes, without ordie, in a mengle.

Aceruam dicere, to shewe, or speake confu- sely without ordie.

Acerualis, le, a kynde of agument, called So- rites, whiche procedeth by diuers probacti- ons, and in the end, as it were after a heape of argumentes, is concluded of the spyt and the laste.

Aceruatio, onis, a heappynge or gathering to- gether.

Aceruo, aui, are, to gether into heapes.

Aceruus, ui, a heape of getherynge togeth- er, and specially of grain, or other smal thynges.

Aceso, sci, ere, to waxe sower, eger, or tart, specially in licoure.

Acesel & Heliconis opera, a prouerbe spo- ke of such thynges as be runnyngly wynght.

Acesias, a foolish and an vnlearned phis- cion, of whom ysith this prouerbe.

Acesias medicatus est, spoken of a thyng that wroth moze and moze, and the moze it is tended, the woyle it is.

Acesinus, a greatter ryuer in Persia, whiche runneth into the ryuer Indus, wherein dooe growe canes of suche greynesse, that they do make therof, betwene cury knot or fornye, bores to row in.

Acesis, an herbe whiche is yelowe in colour.

Acesia luna, a prouerbe spoken of such a byssie for the matters from date to date.

Acesita, a citee in Sicily.

Acesis, a, the founte of the ryuer Crimnis- sus, and the wolane lady Segesta, whiche re- ceiueth telusd Aeneas and Anchises, when they sat-led towards Italp.

Acetides, greene soyances of yron, wherein brasse is made.

Acetia, m. f. g. the name of Minotus daughter.

Acetis, a great eyer in India.

Acetabulum, li, a measure containing in it of wine, it ounces and an halfe. It is also a little vessel, as a sawer, or other like. It is also a boze of goblet, wherein jugglers do make theyr conueyance. It is also a partition in the legge of a sphe called Polipus, which is lyke vnto a litle cuppe of goblet. It is also the holownesse, wherein the huckle bone turns itself: and euery other thyng lyke thereto, and appte to receiue any thyng.

Acetate, to moue of sphe, an olde woide.

Acetaria, more minced and eaten lyke salet-tes with vineger.

Acetatum, ri, a salette of herbes. it is also a gardeine, where salet herbes do growe.

Acetosis, auis, egerneffe, tartnes, sowpnes.

Acetosis, a, um, eger, sowpe, tart.

Acetum, ti, vineger.

Acetum in pectoris.

Nunc expenat, sine acetum tibi cor acre in pectore. Rome will. Hypocrite, if thou haue any thyng, that dothe pteke the in the stomach.

Aceto quempiam perfundere, to taunt one with pteyng.

Acetia, a cite in Lotchis, on the banke of the ryuer called Jphasia.

Achai, people in Grece, sometye they be taken for Grekes generally.

Achamenes, was the first kynge of the Persians, or Parthians, of whome dyuer ap-ges of the Parthians, were called Achame-nes, and the people Achamenii.

Achamenia, a countrey in Persia.

Achamenides, one of Iulius companions.

Achiron, or Achirons, rontis, and Achir-uns, rontis: so of poetes taken for the ryuer of hell. in dede it is a ryuer in a parte of Jerath, whereof the people be called Brutii, it is so mured with liffes, that the son cometh not to it, but onely in the middes of the daie.
It is likewise a ryuer of Lucania, of Epire, and also of Pontus, nigh to Iheraclia.

Achaia, a parte of Grece, conteynyng these countreies, Attica, Beotia, Megaris, Betholia, and Ithoria: It hath on the weste, Egypte, on the east, the sea called Aegeum, on the northe Macedonia, on the south the sea called Ieritum. There is another Achaia, in the parte of Grece called Peloponesus, nowe called Achorea, where was the cite of Patras, in whiche saint Andrew the apostle was martyred.

Achais, idis, & idos, of Grece.

Achane, nes, scem. gen. a coyne measure amonge the Iherussians.

Achania, a cite, whiche some men do suppose to be the Jherusalem.

Achar, a cite in Syria, nowe called Alstibis.

Achateon, the maine saille of a shyppe.

Achates, a precious stone, wherein are represented diuerse figures. for some haue had in them the images of the .ix. muses, some of Venus, some haue the coloure of Ioyall, some are dyghe as Crisall. It was one of the .xii. stones that god commaunded to be put on the vestimentes of Aaron: It was supposed, that magicians, by burninge of that stone, and the smoke thereof commyng did put awaie tempestes and stormes. Also of that name is a ryuer in Syria. It was also the name of the companion of Aeneas the Trotans.

Achedorus, a ryuer of Macedonia, whiche discheth Elytonia, and Theriaonica.

Acheloides, or acheloides, the mere maidens, and daughters of Achelous.

Achelous, a, um, of that ryuer: sometye it is put for aqueus.

Achelous, a famous ryuer in Grece, whiche renneth out of Indus, wherein is found the stone Galactides, whiche to blake, but beyng broken, it yeldeth the ioure as white as milke, haupng also the taste thereof.

Achelous, was the sonne of Oceanus and Te-this, of whom the foresaid ryuer (after the poetes) was named Achelous, in olde tyme it bred agistie all manner water.

Achelus, a mans name.

Acherois, idis, & idos, an epithet of the whyte poplar tree, whiche the poetes seigne to grow on the bankes of Acharon, the ryuer of hell.

Acherontia, a cite of Boeie, topnyng to Lu-cantia.

Acherontini, people, so called of the riuer Achiron.

Acherontinus, & acheronticus, a, um, of the ryuer Achiron.

Acherusia, a fenne in the royaume of Naples.
It is also a poole of mere of Thesprotia in Egypte, oute of whiche issueth the ryuer Achiron, whiche renneth into the sea called Zimbractum.

Acherusia, is also an hole of caue, whiche the poetes byd suppose to bee a waie into hell.
out of this hole dyd Hercules drawe Cerber-us, the dogge of hell. And the painins be-lieued, that all soules went that waie into the fenes of mere called Stygia paludes, where Charon receiued them into his boze.

Acherusis, idis, & idos, scem. gen. idem quod Acherusia.

Acherusius, a, um, of hell.

Acheta, grasshoppers, whiche chyrpe lowde
and

and pleasauntly.

Achilles, an herbe called parrot.

Achilleas, idos, or Achilles, leidos, a kynde of barry, peradventure that whiche is val-ted beere coine.

Achilleides, mal. gen. the sonne of Achilles.

Achilleon, or achilleos, some do suppose to be mistopile.

Achilleon, a towne of Troie, builded by the tombe of Achilles.

Achilleum, a sponge, whiche is beate stiffe, and hath small holes.

Achilleus, lei: or, Achilles, lis, and, li, one of the moste valiaunt captyues of the Grekes against Troie. He was son vnto Peleus, In his childehode he was instructed of Chi-ron in dedes of armes and furgery. After, he flew the noble Hector, and Troilus his byo-ther: the one fodenly, the other cruelly, where foze afterwarde, he by the sleghthe of quene Hecuba, mother vnto Hector, was brought into the loue of Polyxena, his farge daughter, and vnder the coloure of maryage was slayne by Paris, brother vnto Hector. He was in heighthe, (as Lycophron wytteth) seuen cubites.

Achilleus, a, um, of Achilles.

Achilleus curus, a countrey nere to Bosphorus, thither Achilles pursued Iphigenia, whom Dana had taken awate, and lefte an harte in hie fleede.

Achilus, without lippes, without margente of bym. It is also a stone that hath no salt.

Achimenis, idis, scem. gen. an herbe, whiche (as inchauntes teache) is of suche foze, that if in tyme of battaille it be caide into an arme: it will cause the souldiours to be in a great feare, and redy to flee.

Achismari, a people of Ithike.

Achna, the name of an Ilande.

Achne, nes, scem. gen. chaffe. also the some of the sea: of Sophocles it is taken for dewe.
It may be bled for the smallest and resule of euery thyng.

Achne ignis, smoke.

Achola, a cite of Ithike.

Acholiis, the name of an authour.

Acholis, without galle.

Achores, rennyng sores in the head, whiche be ingendyed in the skin, and bryake out in smal holes, a common disease among childeyn.

Achras, a wilde pear.

Achrestia, a, vnyhyssesse, vnypossiableness.

Achrestus, vnyapre, vnyonest, vnypossiabill.

Achriogelos, a foole that laugheth without cause.

Achrua, a cite in Arabia.

Achyron, ri, n. g. chaffe.

Achris, ris, scem. g. a hatchet of byasse, whiche amonge the painins was used in sacrifice.

Achle, or Achle, herbe tech.

Acibi, orum, a people of Basmatis, in Europe.

Acicula, a, a pte.

Acicula, the surname of Venus, of a fountaine in the cite of Beroia called Dycomena.

Acidulus, a well in Dycomenum, dedicated vnto Venus, and the Cyrces.

Acidula, pearces that belowe. also an herbe called Syrell de boye.

Acidula aqua, water that maketh men drynke like wine.

Acidulus, a, um, some sayt eger, or taste.

Acidus, a, um, eger, sowpe, or sharp.

Acidylus, a knotte in the gyble of Venus.

Acientes, a people in Italye nere to the Tisbanos.

Acies, ei, betokeneth the edge of a knyfe, or of ther weapon or toole. Also the front of an holle at the topnyng of battaille. Joyeouer that part of the eye, whiche is called the sight.

Acis animi, uel ingenii, the sharpnesse of capacities of the witte, whiche some calle the spitete.

Acium trahere, to sette an edge, or to make sharp.

Dirigere aciem oculoru in aliquem, to loke vpon one.

Efugere aciem, to go out of syght.

Excitare aciem oculorum, to quicken the eye syghte.

Stricta ferri acies, a naked swoyde, a swoyde diuene.

Hastis acies, the speare point.

Acila, a, a marie towne, from whens men saille into India.

Acilius Bura, a gentle man of Rome, whiche dyd ypotrouly consume all his gooddes.

Acimbro, or Acinipo, a cite of Spayne.

Acina, a, a towne in Arabia.

Vinum acinacium, smalle houtholde wyne, made at the seconde pteyng.

Acinaceus, a, um, of heruelles of graues.

Acinacis, is. male. ge. a croked swoyde that the Persians vse.

Acinus, ni, m. g. & Acinum, ni. neu. g. litle heruelles, whiche be in grapes, reifons, pomgranates, and other bearies.

Acinosus, a, um, full of heruelles.

Acinos, or Acinus, scem. ge. smalle haill.

Acipenser, or Aquipenser. m. g. a kynde of fische, whiche hath the scales turned towards the heade, and swimmeth agaynst the water.

Acintani, a people in Spaine, that worshipped the image of Ihera.

Aciris, a ryuer in Italye.

Acis, a ryuer in Syria, whiche renneth from the mountains of Libanus, as swift as an a-row out of a bowe. Acis is also a fayne childe the sonne of Panus, and of the daughter of Smythys. He is moze ouer one of the Iherusallim.

called Cyclades.
 Actaouones, a people of the Alpes.
 Acithius, a ruuer in Sicilie, called also Acts, and Actius.
 Actia, an islande, called also Melos and Stiphus, in the sea by Candie.
 Acton, an islande new to Candie.
 Aclanes, he that neuer crieth.
 Aclasis, a garment borrowes from the shoulders.
 Actei, vnbyd, or vnalled.
 Actis, idis, form. ge. a kinde of weapon, vsed in olde tyme, as it wer an hurlebatte.
 Acte, mes, a womans name, it is taken for florishing pouthe, or lusty age.
 Actodes, an islande in the Bytayne sea.
 Acton, moius, an anulle.
 Acomonites, a people, so called of Armonia, a cite of Thracia.
 Acomonides, one of the Cyclops.
 Acomotheton, thei, neu. ge. the stocke that the anulle standeth on.
 Acotes, the name of a poore man.
 Acatus, one that hath no bedde to lye in.
 Acolatus, a prodigall, vnreul, and riotous persone.
 Acolatus homo, a verale vnthysse.
 Acoluthus, thi, a wateryng fountaine.
 Acolytus, he that canne with no terroure bee payen, for his purpose.
 Acon, onis, a sphe, whiche after the description of Paulus Jovius, I suppose to bee that, whiche at London is called a Madde.
 Aconar, rough rockes.
 Aconites, form. ge. a port of Bythnia, whiche hath such plenty of naughtie seedes, that all hurtfull herbes be called Aconita.
 Aconin, a pource, vsed whan a thyng is easily opened without swate or labour.
 Aconium, ti, an herbe exceeding venomouse, it hath leaues like a cucumbe, but somewhat lesse and rough: the stalk one hande bredth hygh, the roote lyke the tayle of a scorpion, and is white as Alabastrer. there is also an other kinde therof, whiche hath leaues like a plane tree, but the diuisions are thepker, the leafe longer, and more blacke. and hath a stalk like a ferne, one cubite in heyghe, the seede being in a longe cobbe, the rootes are blacke, and lyke to the heares, or hoynes of a Mympce.
 Aconius, the name of a famous hunter.
 Acontia, x, a certaine imppression lyke to a spere dart, whiche seemeth to lye in the eye.
 Acontia, to also a serpent of the bygnesse of .iii. cubites, great in the foye parte, and decreasynge small backwarde toward the tayle, of colour grene.
 Acontius, a mountaine of Boeotia.

Acopa, neutr. gen. medicines to remedy weariness of labour.
 Acopis, f. g. a prierous stone lyke a glasse, with small golden dyes, wherewith people bee heared, and the body therewith appointed: it dissolue all weariness.
 Acopos, or Acopus, f. g. an herbe, called also Anagris, full of byaunches, and hath flowers lyke to clewwoyes, and hath an emulsiuoure, the seeds of it is in long cobbes, hard, and in facion lyke unto hyspys.
 Acor, tis, a tactesselle, lyke unto the water of pomegranades, elgerneselle.
 Acorua, x, a kinde of chiffele.
 Acorum, or Acorus, an herbe with long leaues lyke the blade of a swoorde. Aconitum and Antonius Musa do suppose it to be the lyncgale, and not that whiche is called Gladiolus, in englyshe, gladen. This roote is hot and drye in the thyrde degree.
 Acolmia, x, a disorderd heape of thynges, diswoshypp, dishonour, and also an inordinate confusion of matters in a common weale.
 Acolmus, one that is vndecked of vnreulmed, a souden.
 Acquiesco, cul, ere, to be at rest or quite. also to recreate, despyte, or to take pleasure in a thyng, or persone, also to leane the heade of armes vpon any thyng. It signifyeth also to assent to other mens saynges.
 Lectis tuis literis aliquantulum acquiesci, Whan I had read your letters, my sorowe was somewhat asswaged.
 Habemus aliud nihil, in quo acquiescamus, we haue none other thyng to delite our mynd with, or wherein we may take pleasure.
 Acquiro, siui, ere, to gette, or obtayne a thinge that is sought for.
 Acquirere amicos, to winne frendes.
 Acquirere beneuolentiam, to get the good will or fauour of men.
 Acquirere dignitatem, to obtayne honour, or dignitee.
 Acraipygia, an elbowe of lande in Italy.
 Acradina, the cite of Stracusia.
 Acracia, the surname of Juno and fortune.
 Acragas, a cite of Sicilie, called also Agri-gentum.
 Acragas mons, tooke Acragas.
 Acragantinus, a, um, of Acragas.
 Acraismus, i, mas, ge. & Acraisma, tis, neu. ge. a bycrafast.
 Acraton, pure wine without a lape, or vnmitte.
 Acratophoron, ti, a littell water pitchar.
 Acre, swift, fowye, cruell, valiant, vehement, diligent, circumspere.
 Acre ingenium, a quick witte.
 Acres oculi, clere eyes.
 Acredo, inis, acritudo, acritas, sharpnesse of sowpnesse, that is in fruites, whiche be not ripe.

Acredula

Acredula, x, the wood lark.
 Actementum, ti, idem quod acredo.
 Actibodixon, xi, the elbowe of the lawe.
 Acridophagi, the blacke woodes uppe vnto the desertes of Aethiopo.
 Actisolum, lyke Lotos.
 Actimonia, x, carenesse, whiche byteth the tongue, and percereth the heade, as in the tail of ganyte, onyons, and other lyke thynges.
 Actignatiss, a kinde of sharpnesse in speeche, or mynde, sometyme in queliuene, and quicknesse of witte.
 Actio, onis, a philosopher of Pythagoras sect.
 Actis, a ruuer in Italy.
 Actisius, a kyng of Aegles, the father of Danaos, on whome Jupiter begate Perseus.
 Actisoneis, eidis, fe. ge. Danae, the daughter of Actisius.
 Actisoneus, a, um, of Actisius.
 Actitas, an elbowe of lande in Peloponessus, nere vnto Males and Ctenarum.
 Actitas, sowpnesse, cruellie, diligence, behest, mencye.
 Actiter, sharpely, fowely, stiffely, swifely, cruellly, vehemently, diligently.
 Actiter animum intendere, to sette all his intent or study.
 Actiter iudicare, to iudge with a great deliberacion, and as nigh the truth as he can.
 Actitudo, inis, elgerneselle.
 Actioama, atis, neu. gen. a subtill sentence or lesson, requyryng muche study and serche. It is also taken for all thynges rehered or doon, to delite the audience and also the persons that reciteth them.
 Actioamata, were certeyn lectures of Aristotile, whiche he redde to his scholers, wherein was the moste counnyng and subtill parte of philosophie.
 Actioamaticus, a, um, prestyng to those lectures.
 Actioathon, a towne in Thracia.
 Actioaraunia, a mountaine of wonderfull height, betwene Armenia, and Iberia, and also in Epyre and other places.
 Actiochordon, onis, fe. gen. a kinde of waistes, so small as the cooses, that they seeme to hang by a sinewe.
 Actioconia, certayne Thracians, haupng theye heare ouer their fotheades womanlyke.
 Actioconus, one haupng long heares.
 Actiocorinthus, an hygh mountayn in Idoyes, betwene the two seas Egeum and Pontum.
 Actioeria, he all fruiter, whiche haue an hard synne of state, as pomegranades, nuttes, cherries, pistaces, and other lyke.
 Actiolichias, a mountayn in Egypte, lyng into the sea.
 Acton, onis, a kyng of the Sentientes, whom Bolulus the hand to hande. There was also in Aegideus a phisition of the same name, and a grammarian, whiche made commentaries vpon Isidore.

 Acropolis, a castell set on an hill in Athens.
 Acrostolia, oram, neu. ge. a creature harpyng of thynges, bothe before and behynde, whiche maye easily be taken awaye.
 Acrotteria, oram, neu. ge. the brayne partes of a mans body, the fingers andes also pinnacles, or hairynettes, and images sette in braynes concerninge the bullynges. It is wherby the braynes becomynge by garnynges of thynges.
 Acrothorax, one half dyante.
 Acta, water banks or frondes, whereon the water floweth. It is also thag which we call actes, concerninge mens lyues, or pynate busynes put in wyppynge. Also such dedes as haue happened out of iudgement, and actitara be those thynges, whiche haue hapned in iudgement, properly they that be in doyng.
 Acta circumducere, to cancell a sentence or neo determined.
 Acta, x, or Actes, the cuntry about Athens.
 Actacon, the name of a manne, whome Diana courned into an harre, because he saw his naked: and thereby he was toyne and slayne of his owne boundes.
 Actarus, the first kyng of Athens.
 Actasta, the daughter of Oceanus & Cethus.
 Actes, res, fe. ge. an elder tree.
 Actea, x, called also Chamacten, and Ebaslum, an herbe called wallowye.
 Acteus, a, um, one of Athens.
 Actia, oram, plates made ones in. v. peres.
 Actias, tiadis, one of Athens.
 Actio, onis, betokeneth sometyme pronounciasion, sometyme an oracion written, sometyme an action in the lawe, sometyme an hystoie, sometyme a defence, otherwhyle a recompence in wordes for a benefite receiued: as, Gratiarum actio, for thankes generally it is taken for the actual debte in euery thyng.
 Actio, the beate of an elder.
 Actiosus, busy.
 Actisanes, a kyng of Egypt, who expelled Nymasie, and reigned there with great iustice.
 Actitatio, onis, a debating of a case in the law, a pleabyng.
 Actitatus, determined by iudgement.
 Actio, aui, are, to practise, specially in ciuile matters, to doo often, to pleade a matter.
 Actium, a towne in Epyre, and an elbowe of lande, lyng into the sea, where Augustus overcame Antonius and Cleopatra.
 Actius, looke acclius.
 Actius, actius.
 Actior, onis, the worst of the dedes, also in the lawe the plainest, complainant, or demandant, also a player of entelures, and a man of

B facious

Ad pileum uocare, to styre meane to sedpeld on, upon trust of libertie or other comodities.
Ad quindecim talenta, about .xv. talantes.
Ad rauium poscere, to aske tyll one be hoarse.
Ad rem facis, it maketh for the matter, or its contentment, or its fruit for the purpose.
Ad rem pertinet, it belongeth to the purpose.
Ad rem suam sapere, to see wyle for his owne profytte.
Ad reuerentes redire, the thyng is in dispopape. Whiche prouerbe came of them that sped hangen theim selues, because they had not so good fortune as they looked for, or that thyng as happened not accordyng vnto theyr expectation.
Ad summum, at the mooste, or at the bestermooste.
Ad sapientiam huius nimis rugarator fuit, in regarde of this mans wysdomme, he was but a verate testlar.
Ad tempus, in season. Sometyme accordyng to the tyme, also for a tyme.
Ad uerbum, woode for woode.
Ad uinum rescare, to touche it to the quicke. A prouerbe taken of parpage of nates, untill the bloude doorth appere. Whiche signifieth to touche a thyng neuer than nede requereth.
Ad uicem, exactly, absolutely, perfectly.
A lunum, not one left, at ones, vnto the laste, succession.
Ad unum idem sentiunt, they be all of one opinion.
Ad uicendas grauas, signifieth truer. for in this tyme the Grekes had no calendes.
Ad horam, at tyme appoynted.
Ad ultimam rem, for Ad ultimam remtem.
Ad uicem, moreover.
Ad uicem, furthermore.
Ad liquidum, clerely, evidently, plainly.
Ad manus, at hande, ready.
Ad modum, as it were.
Ad primus, chiefe of all.
Ad uicem, to be in the este.
Ad eum respice, looke towardes hym.
Ad memoriam aliquid notare, to note a thyng that it may be remembred.
Ad perpendicularum exigere, to trye a thyng
by the plumb rule.
Ad meum sensum, to my iudgement.
Ad cinerem ambabus, burned to ashes.
Ad omnia inutile, profitable for nothyng.
Ad bonitatem proficere, to waxe better and better.
Ad digitos uenire, to be compted on the fyngers.
Ad hunc affirmare, to asseme certaintie.
Ad Apollinis, ad Moneræ, ad Saturni, ad Iustonis, at Apollon temple, &c.
Ad lapidis iactum peruenire, to come with in a stones castle.

Ad id, to that tyme.
Ad irritum cadit spes, our hope cometh to nought, or we be disappointed of that we looked for.
Ad proportionem, accordyng to the proportion of the remnant.
Ad tertias decoquere, to seethe a thyng to the thyrde parte.
Ad uotum, euen as we woulde wishe.
Studet ad lucernam, he studyeth by candle lyght.
Ad tua uerba reuixi, your woordes reuicued me, or, with your woordes I was reuicued.
Ada, x, the daughter of Herodotus, wyfe of Caria, who being dyuen out of hir hynde dome by hir brother Herodotus, was rescued by great Alexander.
Adad, or Adadus, the great god of the As-srians, whom they receyue to be the sunn, the woode signifieth one of onely.
Adactio, onis, compulsion, or constraint.
Adactus, a, um, compelled, put forth, forced,
dyuen in.
Ada, arum, a este of Asia.
Adzi, Arabians nere to Egypt.
Adaque, semblably, so muche, as muche.
Adaque miser, so muche or euen as muche
a wyetche.
Adaque, aui, are, to make playne or lyke, to aduance it selfe, that it may be lyke or equall to another.
Adaque urbem solo, to raise a citee to
the earth.
Adaque cum uirtute fortunam, he was euen as fortunate as vertuous.
Adaque aliquem sibi, to make one equall to hym selfe.
Adaro, aui, are, to praple or value.
Adgino, aui, are, to ouerflowe or boyle ouer.
Adaggero, aui, are, to gather, hyape, or laye
together.
Adagia, x, an olde wyse, whiche had a chyld
but late.
Adagium, a prouerbe, or as I mought saye, an olde sated sawe.
Adaligo, aui, are, to bynde to.
Adam, the fyrste man that was created, and dooth signifye man, or rebbe earth, or a dweller. He lyued .930. yeres. In the Bible is mention made but of thye sonnes and one daughter, that he begat, Cayn, Abel, Seth, and Delboia: whom Dyllo calleth Roaba.
And the same Dyllo, reherbeth .xii. sonnes,
and .vi. daughters boyn after Seth.
Adamantius, or Adamantinus, a, um, of or percepyng to a diamonde: and by a metaphore, invincible.
Adamantis, idis, form. gen. an herbe that the inchanters doo vse.
Ada:

Adamantius, the surname of Dylmus, the grammarian, whiche was afterwarde affected vnto Degen.
Adamas, anis, male. gen. a diamonde, wher-of be diuerse kyndes: one is founde in India, and is litell, byght, heuy, and so hard, that nothyng can break it, excepte the bloud of a gore. Another is founde in Arabia, whiche is lesse than the other, and of colour more pale. Some be founde in Macedonia, and they haue more the colour of yron made bryght. Other be founde in Ethiopia, and they be most darke in colour. And some be found in Egypte, and their colour draweth toward the colour of apye, but they are softe. The vertues of this stone are these, to resist payson and wythchecraft, it putteth away feare, it causeth hym that weareth it, to vanquish in contention, it helpeth them that be luna-ticke or phreneticke. I haue proued, that a di-amonde layd by a nedell, the lode stone might not drawe it by to hym.
Adamastor, a gygant, whiche was of incredible greatnesse.
Adami, or Adamiani, were heretikes, whiche toke theyr begynnyng of a Dyarde, who came into the lande of Bohemia, and sayde, that he was the sonne of god, and named hym selfe Adam. And he commaunded all mynne and women to goe naked. And that who so cure despyd to companie carnally with any woman, shoulde take hye by the hande, and byngs hye to hym, and saye, that he feruent-ly despyd hye company. And than woulde he saye: Goe together, and increase and multiply. This heresy was begonne the yere of our lorde .1412. in the tyme of Sigis-mundus the emperoure. And men suppose, that it induceth yet, not onely in Boemia,
but in other places also.
Adamo, aui, are, to loue verate welle, to despise feruently, and sometyme to loue wantonly.
Adani, two cities in Arabia.
Adaperio, ui, ire, to set open a thyng.
Adaperilis, le, for apertum, open, or easy to be opened.
Adapro, aui, are, to topru to, to make fytte or euen with.
Adaquatio, onis, wateryng of cattall.
Adaquo, aui, are, to water horse or cattall. also to water herbes or trees.
Adarca, called also adarcha, adarches, adarcion, adarcos, and Calomochinus, a salte some, whiche cometh of the ryndes of eanes or reedes, growyng in fennes.
Adareo, ui, ere, to be dye. A woode seldome used.
Adasia, an olde wyse, whiche hath lately peued or had a lombe.

Adassa, olde wyse used for Adago, to compell.
Adaucto, aui, are, to increase or augment.
Adauctus, a, um, augmented or increased.
Adancius, us, the increase or augmenta-cion.
Adaugeo, xi, ere, idem quod adaucto.
Adaugeo, aui, ere, to increase, to growe bigger or greater.
Adaxint, for adagerint, lette them compelle or constraine.
Adbibo, ibi, ere, to dyynke. Sometyme to dyynke much: And by a metaphore, for imbibere, to receyue into the mynde, pceptes or countailes.
Adcensi, for accensi.
Adcorporo, aui, are, to myngle or topru to.
Adcredo, di, ere, idem quod Credo.
Adcreco, eui, ere, to be added to.
Addax, acis, a beaste in Asike, whiche hath crooked boynes.
Addecet, for Decet, it becometh.
Addecimo, aui, are, to take tenthes.
Addenso, ui, ere, to make thyng, or close to gether, as whanne many be assembled in a smalleroume.
Addenso, aui, are, idem quod addensio, also to make thyng, as lphour is made thyng.
Addico, ixi, ere, to selle, or to appoynt good-des to be solde openly, to alienate a thyng from ones selfe, or from any other manne:
and permytte, graunte, and appoynte the same to somme other persone, to sale, to a-uowe, geue, or addice hym selfe to any thyng or persone, to appoynt, iudge, or depute. Also Addicere quempiam pro debito, is to depayre the debtoure to his credytours, to do with hym what they luste.
Addicere ad iusiurandum, to force one to swear.
Addicere aues, was amonge the Augurans, to appoynt or allowe a thyng to be doen.
Addicere sanguinem alicuius, or Addicere mortem, to appoynt oneto dye, or to be put to deathe.
Addicere bona in publicum, to confiscate
gooddes, or lease them as forsaite.
Addicere precio habere fidem, to haue his credyte and truthe ready to be solde for monye.
Addicere corpus turpissimæ cupiditatis, to geue or abandone his body to moste fly-thy luste.
Addicere in seruitutem, to iudge one to be bonde.
Addictus faxis et altibus, layd to be denou-red of wyde beastes and foules.
Addicere animum, to geue or appoynt his mynde.
B ij Addi-

A ANTE D.

Additus, he that is iudged, appointed, deputed, or bounden.
 Addictus, a, um, openly solde.
 Addisco, didici, ere, to learne, to learne well, to adde to in learning.
 Additamentum, a thynge added to, an augmentation.
 Additio, onis, an addition.
 Additus, a, um, added or put to.
 Additus, is also used for an enemy.
 Nec Teucris addita Iuno usq; aberit, Nepe-ther Iuno, eninge to the Troians, shall lacke or be awafe.
 Addo, edi, are, to geue or on.
 Addo, adi, ere, to topne, or put to.
 Addebat hoc, he fared mozeouer.
 Addere animum, to geue courage.
 Addere gradum, to make hym go faster.
 Huc adde, or adde quod, mozeouer then this, furethermore.
 Addere calcem alicui, to styre or pyche one forward.
 Addere aliquem astris, to make one a god.
 Addere in nares, to put into the nose.
 Addere facta politici, to doo or accompysshe that whiche is promysed.
 Addere idem, to confirme.
 Addere finem, to make an ende.
 Addere operam, doo thy diligence.
 Adhuc multum reipublice, he prospected muche the publike weale.
 Addito tempore, in processe of tyme.
 Addere alacritatem scribendi, to geue one a pleasure of comforte to wyte.
 Adduco, cui, ere, to teache muche.
 Adhuc, i, iure, to sleepe.
 Adhuc, i, iure, idem.
 Adhuc, a, i, ere, to poure into the poole or mare called Larius.
 Adducam, for Dubium, a wooyde oute of use.
 Addubitans, a, um, doubted of.
 Addubito, aui, are, to poubte, or to be some-what in doubte.
 Adduco, xi, ere, to bynng to, or bynng sooth, sometyme to dwawe or plucke together, to brnde, or dwawe up, as a bowe, a slynge, or any other inggn. also to moue or perswade.
 Adducere alicui ante oculos, to bynng be-fore ones eyes.
 Adduxit me in suam opinionem, he hath perswaded me to agree to his mynde.
 Adducere in cognitionem, to geue knowlage, or make to knowe.
 Adducere ad concordiam, to bynng to a greement.
 Adducere ad consuetudinem, to bynng to a custome.
 Adducere in dubitationem, to bynng one in doubte.

A ANTE D.

Adducere in expectationem, to bynng one in hope, or cause hym to looke for a thynge.
 Adducere ad mucrones, to bynng a matter in case to be tryed by bent of swoyde.
 Adducere in metum, to bynng one in feare.
 Adduxi me in eam necessitatem, Thou haste brought me into suche a treate.
 Adducere in negligentiam, to make one negligent.
 Adducere in inuidiam, to make one enuyed or hated.
 Adducere ad prandium, to byd to dyner.
 Adduci non possum ut credam, I can not be perswaded to beleue it.
 Adducere radium alicuius rei, to make a man weep of any thynge.
 Adducere uulnum ad tristitiam, to loke sadly.
 Adduci, to be meured, or perswaded.
 Adductus, a, um, brought, drawn together, myounite.
 Adducta frons, a frowning forehead.
 Adducto constitit arcu, he stood with his bowe bent.
 Adduc, pro addideris, a wooyd out of use.
 Adduplico, aui, are, to doubte any thynge.
 Adedo, es, or edis, edi, adesse, or adedere, to deuoure or consume.
 Adchastus, ti, a sincere persone, that nepther for merde nor dyde wyll dooe agaynst iustice.
 Adelpii, byetherne. It is also the name of a comedie in Terence.
 Adelus, a, um, vncertaine, vnknowen.
 Ademptio ciuitatis, banishment.
 Ademptus, a, um, taken awate.
 Lubrico itinerum adempta equorum pernici-itas est, the horsemen coude make no speede for the slippernesse of the wate.
 Virilitatis adempta homo, a gelded man.
 Adenes, is, a disease in the throte and mouth, lyke litlell hernelles.
 Adeo, so muche, mozeouer, surely, withoute doubt. sometyme it signifieth even, as.
 Tute adeo iam eius verba audies, Eue thou pour self, that here him speke by and by. Sometyne it is used for Eiam, and addeth a behemencie: as, Intra menia, atq; adeo in tena tu uidetis, You see hym in the citee, and that moze is, in the senate. Sometyne for Certe, as, Nihil hercle, aut si adeo bidui est aut tridui hac sollicitudo, Nothyng in good fapthe, or trewely yf he bee: the sowwe is but for two or thre dayes. Sometyne for Valde, or multum: as, Is adeo dissimili studio est, he is of farr vnlike disposition. Sometyne for Eiam, withoute behemencie: as, Atque adeo longum est nos illum expectare, And moze ouer, it woulde be verate longe for vs to tarpe and looke for hym. Sometyne Adeo non, for tantum abest: as, Vt ne filum quidem desuper gen-

A ANTE D.

Adficere oculum hereditari. Plane addebat adiectum esse oculum hereditari. They saw plainly, that he was desyous to obteyne the inheritance.
 Adiecit animum nouo consilio, he began to cast or imagine in his mynde, a new deuise or counsaile.
 Adiecit celeritati sic, by this meanes it will be dooen the sooner.
 Adiecere auctoritatem, to adde auctoritee to a thynge, or to make it moze esteemed.
 Ter centum adieciunt, thre hundred agreed.
 Adiecere expectationem, to make one looke moze for a thynge.
 Si modus adieceretur, if moderacion of measure were kepte.
 Adiecere oculos in aliquem, to loke vpon one.
 Adiecere oculorum imprudentiam, to looke on a thynge vnbware, or by chaunce.
 Adiecere vires, to make stronger.
 Adiecere aliquid porioni, to suffre one to dypke a litlell moze.
 Adiecere ius, to cast or poure in.
 Adimantius, the brother of Plato.
 Adimo, emi, ere, to take awate or dymynshe.
 Adimere animam alicui, to slea one.
 Adimere ius, to prohibyte.
 Adimere suum alteri, to take an other mans goodes from hym.
 Adimere uestem, to pull of his garment.
 Adimere ciuitatem, to banyshe or expoulse one out of the citee.
 Adimere curam alicui, to put one out of care.
 Adimere aliquem lato, to despyre one from death, or to saue ones lyfe.
 Adimere nomen virginum, to deflowre a vbrgin of mayden.
 Adimere uocem alicui, to make one that he canne not speake, or to take ones speche from hym.
 Adimere metum, to put out of feare.
 Adimere lumen, to put out ones etc.
 Adimpleo, cui, ere, to supply.
 Adimplere oculorum uicem, to bee in stede of eyes.
 Adindo, didi, ere, to put in.
 Adineo, iui, ire, as Catepne sateth, is to put in or nere to, but the place that he citheth of Columella hath nothyng so.
 Adinast, like to.
 Adinuenio, eni, ire, to fount a thynge subestly.
 Adinuenium, ti, an inuencion.
 Adipales, looke adiciales.
 Adipalis, le, fatte: and by a metaphoze, grosse, barbarous, or rude.
 Adiparum, ti, neu. gen. fatte meate.
 Adiparus, a, um, larded, basted.
 Adipiscor, pius sum, sci, to geue or obteyn, topned with a persone, it signifieth to ouertake.
 Adipisci senectutem, to come to age.

A ANTE D.

Adipisci gloriam, diuitias, laudem, sapientiam to atchieue or geue glorie, rychesse, papyr, wysedome.
 Adipisci palmam, to obteyne or geue the victorie.
 Medio itinere cum adeptus sum, I out-toke hym in the myddes of his iourney.
 Adiposus, ryche.
 Adipsateon, a kynd of thorne, called also Erys siceptrum, Dipsacon, and Diacheron.
 Adiplos, called commonly Rigolicia, a sweete roote called licorelle. also a certain date tree growyng in Egypt: the fruite wherof hath no stone. Plinius calleth it Myrobalanum.
 Adiculus, li, a litlell enrie.
 Aditio, onis, an access or repaire.
 Quid tibi hanc aditio est? why comest thou to this woman?
 Adico, aui, are, to go to.
 Aditus, a, um, gone to.
 Adius, us, access, comyng to, or entrese, a way to passe or go in.
 Adium litoris illi ademerunt, they ppyht-bred or litted hym to lande.
 Adius ei preclusus est, the way of passage is stoppe or closed agaynst hym.
 Dare alicui aditum ad caelum, to bynng one to heauen.
 Adius omnes firmare, to foytifie all places where enemies may enter.
 Adium habere, to haue access or entrance.
 Aditulum prohibet, he will not lette hym come in.
 Adium sibi reperire, to find a way to enter.
 Rumpere aditum, to bryake in.
 Tentare aditum, to assaye to enter.
 Adius ad honorem, by a metaphoze, a wate or meane to attayne to honour.
 Adius obstructus est, the wate is stopped.
 Adium facere ad aliquid, to begyn to make awate or meane to a thynge.
 Adiudico, aui, are, to iudge, and by a metaphoze, to attribute any thynge to a man.
 Adiudicare in seruutem, to iudge one to bondage, or to be a seruant.
 Adiudicauit mihi salutem orbis terrarum, he attributed to me the sauegarde of the worlde.
 Adiugo, aui, are, to yoke or topne to.
 Adiugare uitem, to faste the vine to the rails.
 Adiuumentum, ti, helpe.
 Adlungo, xi, ere, to topn to, to adde or geue to, to take to, to applye, to faste or obteyne, to knitte, couple, or assortate in frendshipp or otherwyse. Errat longe, mea quidem sententia, qui imperium credat grauius esse aut stabilius, ui quod sit, quid id quod amicitia adiungitur, he is foute deceined, in myne opinion, that thinketh, that rule to be moze fpyme and stable, whiche is gotten by violence, than that which is obtained by friendship.

 Hic dies me ualde Crasso adiunxit, This day hath reconciled me to Crassus, and made me his verie frende.
 Adiungere se ad aliquem, to enter familiaritie with a man.
 A diungere animum ad aliquid, to apply his minde to any thyng.
 A diungere tibi auxilium, to geette hym ayde or succour.
 Adiungere tibi aliquem beneficio, to make one his frende by some good tourne.
 Adiungere tibi beneuolentiam hominum, to wyne or obteyne the fauour of men.
 Adiungere se ad causam alicuius, to take parte with a man, or fauour his cause.
 A diungere fide alicui rei, to betraue a thyng.
 A diungere dignitatem aliquam in societatem,
 to make aliance with a citie.
 Meas eius rationes adiungo, I take his counsaile and aduise in all that he doce.
 A diungere tibi socium, to take to hym a co-partner, or to associate hym with one.
 diunctio, ois, a ioyninge to, or addectiō, a knyttinge or coupling together in frendshipp.
 diunctio, ois, one that addeth or ioyntly to.
 diunctus, a, um, ioynd, or added.
 diuersi, confederate or aliied together by othe.
 diuatio, ois, a, conueryng.
 diuargio, debate, variance.
 diuergo, diuare, to rebulke.
 diuulgare, to sweare earnestly, to denye with an othe, to censure, to require or intorce an other man to sweare.
 diuulgare, to helpe.
 diuulgare, deponere idem quod adiuto.
 diutor, the payntee.
 diutor, ois, an helper, adiutor, adiutorium, i, helpe.
 diutus, a, um, helphen.
 diutius, ius, helpe.
 diutius, ius, to helpe, to asse, to succour, to fauour, to further, to dooe good to.
 A diutare facultates alicuius, to augment a mans substance, or make hym richer.
 Fortes fortuna adiutor, fortune fauoureth
 bolde aduenturers.
 A diutare regnum, to amende the state, and make it bournie.
 A diutare cauitatem ad cibos, to make one haue a stomacke to his meate.
 A diutare formam curia, to set forth fauour with curious trimmynge.
 Adiutoriū alicui uenire, to come to helpe one.
 Ius honoris semper adiutor fuit, he dyd al-waye further his honour.
 A diutorem se profectur ad eam rem, he promysed his helpe in that matter.
 Adiutorem esse alicui, to helpe one.
 dilaboro, aui, are, to labour diligently.

Adlino, ui, ere, to annoynt oꝝ rubbe with any thyng liquide.
Adlubesco, ul, scere, to please oꝝ content one.
Adlucco, xi, ere, looke Alluceo.
Admando, aui, are, to sende to, to deliuer any thyng to one to hyng to another.
Admete, tes, Oceanus & Ethio daughter.
Admeti naenia, a prouerbe, whiche signifi-eth an heuy oꝝ sorrowfull songe, oꝝ a lamentable complaint.
Admetior, ensus sum, iri, to measure.
Admetus, was hyng of a people called Phes-rel, vnto whom Apollo, beyng exiled out of heauen by Iupiter, came for relesse, and kept his cattelle, and by his craftre caused euery cows to hyng foyle .ii. calues, wherby thyng Admetus thankesfully takynge, entertained hym honourably. That beyng well confyde-red of Apollo, he obtayned of the deities, called Parca, that whan the date of the death of Admetus should be wounde vpon thep spynndels, if he coulde fynde any other, that would wyllyngefly dye for hym, he hym selfe shoulde escape death at that tyme. Whan the date was come, thar Admetus should finishe his lyfe, all men and women, yea father and mother, refused to dye: only Alcide his wife preferred the lyfe of hir husbande before hir owne, who beyng dead, there was in the pa-latace of Admetus, continuall waylynge and heurnesse, vntyll Proserpina, moued with compassion, sent Alcide agayn oute of heile vnto hir husbande. Of this tale came the prouerbe, Admeti naenia.
Admiculatus, a, um, Moxyd, staled, undersef, oꝝ propped vp.
Admiculo, aui, are, et Admiculor, to aide oꝝ succour.
Admicula uix, at thynges necessary to the lyfe of man.
Admiculi, li, n. g. proppyle is a thors, a prop,
oꝝ other lyke, wherewith ruynous houses,
trece, oꝝ other thynges bee Moxyd, undersef, and heide vp, and by a metaphorse, ayde, oꝝ
supportation.
Admitter, stri, a seruant, a minister, a truicke man oꝝ interpreter, a steward of household.
Admittrato, onis, the exploitynge oꝝ doynge of a thyng, seruace.
Admittratus, a, um, of oꝝ peccetyngs to the administration oꝝ exploitynge of matters.
Admitrator, oris, he that ministereth oꝝ exploireth.
Admitrator belli, a fowereayne captayne of warres.
Admistro, aui, are, to doo seruice, to exploite, to fowernge, to geue, to minister to, to rule,
to gouerne.
Admistrare rem publicam, to gouerne the common weale.

pendentis aranea rumpere, adeo fugere, as quent, That he couide not so muche as bryke
the thebde of the spyder, hanging ouer him, muche lesse fleye awaie. Sometime for Eo, as, Adeo res redit, The matter caine to this poynte. Sometime it hath no ppropie signification, but doth either fullfil of adoyne a sentence.

Adeo, sui, ire, to go oꝝ come to, to demaunde, to attempte, to make assaies, to set vpon oꝝ encounter.

Adihuc, come hither.

Adire aliquem, si quid uelit, to go to a man, and enquire, whether he will haue anye
thyng.

Adire contra, to go to mete.

Adi actutum ad fores, goo quicklys to the doore.

Adire in ius de re aliqua, to go before a iudge for any matter.

Nunc prior aditu tu : Howe do thou set vpon hym firste.

Adire omnia fortuna, to pious and ad-uerture all chaunce, good oꝝ euill.

Adire rem publicam, to take in hande the gouernance of the publike weale.

Adire aliquem blandis uerbis, to talke gentlylly with a man.

Adire heri de filia, I cam yesterday to talke with the, concerning the daughter.

Adire discrimen, to put hym selfe in perill.

Adire hereditatem, to enter into his inheritaunce.

Adire inimicitias, to enter into displeasure,
oꝝ enmittee.

Adire ad pacationem, To come to a poynte concerning the bargeine.

Adire periculum, to take a daungerous thyng in hande.

Adeor, the passure of Adeo.

Adeousq, built that.

Adeps, ipis, mas. & form. gen. the fatte of all
thyng.

Adipes tennare, to make leane.

Adepio, onis, obteinyng oꝝ getting.

Adepius, a, um, obtained, gotten, oꝝ founde.

Rerum adepius est, he hath obtained the dominion.

Adequito, aui, are, to ryde by oꝝ nere to.

Ader, a plate by Bethleem, where aungelles hpd syng at the byrthe of Chryste, and Jacob kepte there his shepe.

Adesium, come hither.

Adeposus, one that is subiect to noman, oꝝ a boke that beareth no mans name oꝝ title.

Adespora fama, a rumoure spreade without any certeine authoure.

Adespora, gooddes taken to the kynges vse, because no man claymeth theim.

Adescurio, sui, ire, to be verese hungere.

Accus, a, um, denounced, oꝝ by a metaphoꝝ,
 contumel and wadded.
Accusa pecunia, money spent in vntolous bankruptte.
Accusabrum, well thought.
Accusare, ui, ere, to georne oꝝ murmur at a thyng, as men doo, whan they heare the displeaseth theim.
Accusatio, egi, ere, to breake as ones dooth a
 pot. oꝝ other thyng agaynst a stone oꝝ walle.
Accusatio, ui, ere, to walle oꝝ lament.
Accusare, aui, are, toke Aggrego.
Accretus, for Aggressus.
Accretus fari, aboute to speake.
Adhabito, aui, are, to dwelle by.
Adharere, si, rere, to cleaue faste, to speke to,
 to sitte sure, to togne to, to holde oꝝ to take to
 any thyng.
Adharere lateri, to bee next to a man either in goyng oꝝ spyng.
Adhareit mihi ad infimum ventrem fames,
 I was mardellouslie anhungred.
Adharefco, si, cere, idem quod Adhareo.
Adharefco iustitie & honestati, He wille cleaue oꝝ sticke vnto iustice and honestie.
Adhare. Neq; adharc locutus est, he mumbled not, but spake out.
Adhassio, adhaerentia, adhassus, us, a sticking,
 cleauyng, oꝝ fastning to a thyng.
Adhassus, a, um, cleaued to.
Adhalo, aui, are, to blowe oꝝ breathe vpon a
 thyng.
Adhamo, aui, are, to bynde to, to tie oꝝ graspe to, rather (by the wyordes of Scitico) Ad hamare honores, shoulde signifie, to as spire to honoures, by a metaphoꝝ taken of angling.
Adhibeo, ui, ere, to moue oꝝ put to, to applye, to admiere oꝝ calle to, to take to, to togne oꝝ adde to, to call vpon: and oftentimes it is ex pouded by this wyorde Vtor, to vse oꝝ exercise Adhibere animum, to take heede what is spoken.
Adhibere aures, to harken diligentlie, to geue an eare.
Adhibere in consilium aliquem, to consult oꝝ take counsaile with one.
Adhibere parsimoniam, to spare.
Adhibere testes, to take witness in a mat ter.
Adhibereuim, to dooe a thyng by violence,
 to inforce.
Celeritatem adhibere, to make hasty, oꝝ to vse diligence.
Cenare aliquem adhibere, to bid one to sup per, whyche is inferiour to him. 1608 Delectum adhibere, to put a difference, to differens betweene thynges, whyche is the better.
Religionem adhibere, to make conscience of a thynge.

Adhiberi capta est ad ornamentum etiam corporis, it began to be applyed also to the feshly apparayll of the body.

Adhibere deliberationes principes ciuitatis, to call of admittre to his consultations, the chiefe men of the citie.

Ad partus adhibetur luno Lucina, in tyme of womens trauaile Juno Lucina is called vpon.

Arbitrium adhibere, to calle of take one for an arbitreour.

Adhibere artem, to vse arte of counnyng.

Adhibere auctoritatem ad aliquid agendum, to haue of byng with hym auctoritee of maters to the dooing of a thynge.

Calcaria equo adhibere, to thynste the spures to the hofse; and by a metaphor, to spee of pish forwarde. Adhibere frenos, to holde backe of vntreigne, is contrary.

Adhibere cautionem, to bee ware and take good hede, to be pious and circumspecte.

Adhibere deum, to calle to god for helpe.

Adhibere doctrinam, to adde lernyng of knowlage to a thynge of persone.

Tantum adhibe in te diligentia, so muche diligence imploye vpon your selfe.

Ne quis dolus adhibeatur, that no discepte bee vled.

Adhibere fidem alicui, to beleue of geue credence to one.

Adhibere fidem in amicorum periculis, to thewe hym selfe faithfully and truly, whan his frende is in danger.

Adhibere lumen rebus, to make matters playne and easy to vnderstande.

Ut omnes adhibeam machinas, that I maye vse all the meanes that maye be.

Adhibere misericordiam, to shewe mercy.

Adhibere rem consilium, vse thyng owne counsel.

Adhibere necessitatem, to constraigne.

Adhibere preces deo, to praye to god.

Adhibere remedium vulneri, to lay a plaister to a wounde.

Adhibenda est quidam reuerentia aduersus homines, There muste be a certayne reuerence vled towarde men.

Sic se adhibere, to behaue hym selfe after such the fofte.

Adhibere manus, to put his hand to a thynge.

Adhibere solatium, to comforte.

Adhibere studium ad aliquid, to imploye his study vpon a thynge.

Adhibere supplicium, to punyssh.

Adhibere deum testem, to take god to witnes.

Huc adhibe vultus, tourne thy face to me, loke vpon me.

Adhuc, iui, ire, to note as an hofse dooth after a mare. Cicero, by a metaphor, made here to signifie, to reioyce, of wantonlye desyre.

Adhoreco, ui, e. e. to frere greatly.

Adhortator, oris, he that exhorteth of counsaileth.

Adhortatio, oris, an exhortacion.

Adhortor, atus sum, ari, to exhort of counsaile, to spee, to prouoke, of perswade to the dooing of a thynge.

Adhuc, yet, hitherto.

Adhuc locorum, for adhuc.

Ego pro te, sicut adhuc feci, supplicabo, I will make supplication for the, as I haue done hitherto.

Est adhuc alia in respondendo figura, there is furthermoze an other figure in answering. Adhuc tranquilla res est, yet the matter is in good quiete.

Adiabari, a people of Ethiopia.

Adiabene, a countrey beyond Armenia.

Adiaceo, ui, ere, to lye by of nere to.

Adianoera, orum, misteries, thynge secret, and hid in wordes.

Adiantum, ti, an herbe growyng about springes of water, hauyng small leaues like a Lortander. Some do now take it for madcheare.

Adiaphoria, e, indifference, wherein is no preferment of one thynge before an other.

Adiaphoron, indifference.

Adides, thoyte battes of a cubite and a halfe longe, haupyng pikes of iron in theim, and were tyed to a lyne, that whanne they were throwne, he that did cast them, might plucke them agayne to hym: hurlebatres.

Adiectio, oris, and Adiectus, us, an addyng of castyng to.

Adiectus, a, um, added of cast to.

Adigo, egi, ere, to procure of spee, to bynde by othe of promise, to bynge of byrue to, to fasten of soyme to, sometime to compell of byrue one to do a thynge, to byrue in, as a wedge of pinne, of nayle, of other like thynge.

Sin arborem clauus ferreus adigatur: If the iron pinne be byrue into the tree.

Adigere ensem in pectus, to thruste a sword to ones herte.

Adiges me ad insaniam, thou wilt make me madde.

Adigere ad arbitrium, to constraigne a ma to come and pleade before the arbitour.

Adigere sacramento, iureiurando, or ad iusiurandum, to force one to sweare after a prescripte and appointed facion.

Adigere pecus, to byrue cattell.

Adijciales, or Adipales cornu, the feathers of the pagane pytelles in olde tyme.

Adicio, ieci, ere, to cast to, to adde of put to, to increase.

Adicere album calculum, to approue a thynge.

Adicere animum, to sette his mynde of lous on one, to caste fauour to one.

Adicea

Administare prouincia, to rule a prouince.

Administare negotia, to explaite a matter.

Administare pocula, to attend vpon a mannes cuppe.

Admirabilis, asis, idem quod Admiratio.

Admirabilis, le, Admirandus, a, um, meruallous, to be wondred at.

Admirabiliter, wonderfully, meruallously, excellently, passyngly well, honourably.

Nos Asia accepit admirabiliter, The countrey of Asia receiued vs honourably.

Admirabundus, a, um, he that dothe wonder, of meruall at a thynge.

Admiratio, oris, a wonderyng, of meruallng.

Admirator, oris, a merualler, of one that doth greatly esteeme a thynge, of persone.

Admiror, aus sum, ari, to wonder, to meruall at, to honour of reuerence, to esteeme greatly, to be in loue with.

Admiratus sum de illo, I had greates meruall of hym.

Admirari aliquem ex ore alterius, to esteeme one greatly, for the commendacion and repute of an other man.

Admiracione affici, to bee merualled at of honoured.

Admiraciones efficere in aliquibus, to make men wondred at.

Admiracionem habere, to haue any thynge in it, that maye be wondred at.

Admisceo, scui, ere, to mingle, of mixte one thynge with an other.

Admiscere se alicui negotio, to entremedye in a matter.

Admissarius, i, a nowne of the participle, admissus: as, admissarius equus, a Gallop hofse.

It is also a man outrageously geuen to the luste of the body.

Admissio, oris, nighnesse about a pynce, as admitted to bee of his pryue counsaile, of pryue chambrye.

It also signifieth, the acte of puttynge the male to the female, of contrarepse.

Admissionales, vthers of the chambrye.

Admissum, si, signifieth a thynge committed of doone.

Admissura, ra, the acte of tyme whan beastes do they kynde in generation, seasonyng of a cowe, and coueryng of a mare.

Admiste, an aduerbe signifiyng one mixt with an other.

Admissio, oris, a minglyng, of mixture.

Admissura, ra, idem.

Admissus, a, um, put vnto a thynge, of mingled with it.

Admitro, si, ere, to admitte, to put to, to byng in, to suffer, to susteine, to let into a place.

Admitro, us, offendere.

Quid tandem admisit in te? what haue I offended the?

Admittere diem, to open the window that the light maye come in.

Admittere equum, to put the spures to the hofse, and let hym rane.

Cum se deuoueret, & equo admisso in messa aciem Latinorum inuebat, whan he had made his bowe, heooke his hofse with the spures, and rushyd to the into the middes of the hoste of the latines.

Confidius equo admisso ad eum accursit,

Confidius, thrustyng the spures to his hofse rans agaynst hym.

Admittere mare in feminam, to put the male to the female.

Admittere noxam, to do an offence.

Admittere sumptum, to doo greates cosse.

Salutatum veniebat, admissus est nemo,

Thet came to salute hym, but none was let in.

Admitti per regulas, to be let in by the rule of the hofse.

Per que admittimur in animum iudicis,

Wherby we be in fauour with the iudge, of haue hym fauourable towarde vs.

Admittere aliquem arcanis, to make one pryue to our secretes.

Admittere consilium auribus, to heare aduise of counsaile.

Sed in quod cauere possis, stultum est admittere, but it were veray foolishnes to suffer that to be doone, whiche thou mayest let.

Admittere aues, amonge the augurs, was to approue a thynge.

Admittere fidem, to beleue.

Admittere iocos, to take bourdyng.

Admittere solem, to let the sonne shyne vpon a thynge.

Admitto, is sometyme vled to graffe.

Admodulor, aus sum, ari, idem quod modulator.

Admodum, verate muche, somewhat, reasonably, sometyme it is vled for Etiam, yea.

Admodum nihil, nothyng at all.

Admoneo, iui, ire, to bessege.

Admoli, ius sum, iui, to put of moue to.

Admoneo, ui, ere, to warne, to exhort, to moue the of put one in remembrance.

Admonere aliquem ad arem, to admonish one in his care.

Admonere flagello, to whip of byrue forth.

Locus ipse me admonet, the place it selfe putte me in remembrance thereof.

Illud te admonitum uolo, This thynge I woulde well you shoulde knowe.

Admonitor, oris, one that counsaileth of prayeth in bynde,

Admonitum, ti, aduertissement, a counsaile, or aduysment, an instruction.

Admonitus, a, um, warned, admonished.

Admonitus, us, admonitio, oris, a warnyng of admonicion.

Admonitio morbi, the growyng of a disease.

ease of synchneſſe that is paſſe, whiche is commonly called, Reliquix morbi.

Admordco, admordi, dere, to byte foze, to gnawe, and by a metaphoꝝe, to endamage oꝝ hurte a man, to wyſſe ſomewhat from him.

Admorſus, a, um, bitten, gnawen.

Admouco, ui, ere, to mꝝue, oꝝ putte to, to ſette oꝝ byng to.

Admibem admouere exercitum, to leade, oꝝ byng an armie to the citie.

Admouere aures, to harken.

Admouere blandicias, to flatter, oꝝ ſpeake ſayte.

Admouere calcar equo, to ſpurre the hoſte: and by a metaphoꝝe to prouoke oꝝ ſtyꝛe foꝝ warde.

Admouere ſtimulos, idem.

Admouere occaſionem, to geue an occaſiõ.

Admouere fabricas, to aſſaye by craftye meanes.

Admouere faces doloris, to kindle greates occaſion of ſowꝛe.

Admouere terrorem, to put in feare.

Admouere manum nocentibus, to puniſhe wicked perſones.

Admotus, a, um, moued, oꝝ put to.

Admotus, us, and, Admotio, onis, a mouing, oꝝ putting to.

Admugio, ui, ere, to loowe oꝝ belloowe to.

Admurmuratio, onis, a ſotte noyſe of a compaigne of men, Newſage a conſente to a thyng ſpoken oꝝ doene.

Admurmuro, ui, are, is propꝛely, where men at that thyng, whiche is done oꝝ ſpoken, do murmure, blaſpꝛe, oꝝ reprouing the thing. ſometimes ſignificth in the good parte, to aſcꝛe ſecrecatip.

Admuntio, ui, ere, to torment oꝝ beate beraye to.

Adnascor, atus ſum, ari, to growe ſuperfluyſly, as quenne dothe on trees.

Adnato, ui, are, to twynne to a place.

Adnauigo, ui, are, toſe Annauiço.

Adneco, to, xi, ere, to litta a thyng.

Adneco, onis, a littaing, oꝝ ſaſynge to of a thyng.

Adneco, nixi, niſere, to winche on one.

Adnitor, nixus ſum, niri, to leane to a thyng, to endeuoure, to geue diligence, and ſometime to helpe.

Adniti omni opera, to endeuoure with all diligence.

Adnixus, uel, Adnixus, a, um, leannge, clea= uing, oꝝ fornyng faſte to a thyng.

Adno, ui, are, to twynne to.

Adnotatio, onis, a ſetlyng, oꝝ ſhoꝛte noꝛpꝛge of that we reade, oꝝ heare.

Adnoto, ui, are, toſe, Annoto.

Adnubilo, ui, are, to make cloudie.

Adnumero, ui, are, to adde to, to numbe to.

Adnutrio, iul, ire, to nourishe by or nyshe to an other thyng.
Adoluo, ui, ere, to couer with yeaerthe or of thet thyng.
Adolabilis, le, without greffe or sorowe.
Adoleo, ui, ere, aduultum, to begynne to growe,
to dooe sacrifice with infence of other fumes,
to burne, to burne sweete thynges.
Adolefcens, tis, a younge man, whyche is yet growing vnto . xxi. yeres.
Adolefcencia, a, is the age betwene chyldehode and mans age, which is betwene . 14. and . 21.
Adolefcencior, aus lum, ari, to be warron of full of pouth, to playe the yonger.
Adolefcenculus, li, a ladde.
Adolefcencio, iui, ire, to playe the hope.
Adolefcio, a, babilr, a charter, a folpe talker.
Adolefcio, leui, ere, to growe, to increase in age, propelye spoken of men, but applied alfo to beastes, trees, herbes, and all other thynges.
Adolefcere in tria cubita triennio, to growe to the height of, iii. cubites in thre yeres.
Adolefcit ratio, reafon wasch etpe.
Adolefcunt opes, ryches increafe.
Adolefcibar lex, the lawe begynne to bre of more force.
Adolefcere in facrificijs, to burne.
Adolefcens moribus, lighy and vnconftant of behauiour.
Adonai, the name of god amonge the Jewes, whyche fignifieth, oure lorde.
Adonia, feftiual dayes, whyche were kepte in the honour of Adonis, the deying of Venus.
Adonis, the name of a childe, whyche was fon of Cyrene hynde of Epyres, whome Venus had for hyr deelyng, whyche was flayne with a boze . whome the poetes feigned, that Ven us turned into a purple floure : fome fay in to a roffe.
+ Adonidis horti, gardens for a littell tyme pleafant, whyche Moyfe decate . A prouerbe spoken of thynges that flourifhe but a lit tle while.
Adonifmus, mi. m. g. the lameting of Adonis.
Adopio, ui, ire, to couer of hyde.
Adopinor, aus lum, idem quod opinor,
Adoptiuifimus, verne glabie defired.
Adoptarius, the fon of one that is adopted, or the perfon selfe that is adopted, or taken in ftead of a fonne.
Adoptarius, he whom a man bydfeth to be his heppe, and take the vnto hyu in ftead of his fonne.
Adoptatus, a, um, chofen, adopted.
Adoptio, and Adoptio, omis, an election of an hypp out of the courfe of inheritaunce, as by will, or gyfte. Adoptio is fometyme ta ken for grafping.
Adoptiuus filius, a fonne by adoption.
Adopto, aui, are, to chofe, or take to, to calle for,

for, to electe or appointe an helpe.
Ego quæ pōrūs adoptem aut innocem, quam illum, who defendeare. vincere; didict? Whom shulde I rather chose for helpe advocate, or calle vpon, than hym, who defending my cause, I learned to vauquiste?
Adoptare in diuitias, to chose one to possesse his riches.
Adoptare sibi nomen, to chose, or take vpon him an other mans name.
In adoptionem dare filium, to geue hys son to be adopted.
Ador, & Adorem, a kynde of pure wheate, called also Far, whiche in old tyme was bidden in sacrifices.
Adoratio, onis, is an expresse motion, or acte of reuerence, done with the bodie inclined,
woyshipping, sometime praying.
+ Adoratori fedecant, a piouserbe signifying, that men in tyme of prayer shulde haue thete minded attent and fixed onely vpon that, and perseuer continually therein.
Adorea, & Adoreola, were in olde tyme taken for laude, prayse, and renoume. Also a cake of fine wheate, whiche thei used in sacrifice.
Adoreus, a, um, of pure wheate.
Adorior, ortus sum, iri, to assaulte, to inuade, or set vpon by treason, or other wyle, to endeuoure or go aboute a thyng.
Si conuellere adoriamur ea, quæ non possum conuincere, If we shulde go about to plucke and steele those thynges, whiche can with no strength be meued.
Adoriri iurgio, to chide.
Ocasio idonea ad rem adorandā, A meete occasion to go about the matter.
A tergo hostes adoriri iubet, He bad theim to set on thei enemies at thei backs.
Adorno, aui, are, to appareile, o prepare, to praise, to auance, to honour, to adorne, to furnishe, to go aboute.
Adornare beneficia verbis, to augmente and set forth benefices with wordes.
Tragulam in te inncere adornat, He gothe aboute to deceiue the,
Adornare bellum, to prepare for warre.
Adoro, aui, are, to honour with inclinacion of the bodie, to beseeche, to woyshippe and re-uerence.
Adortus, a, tum, inuaded, set vpon.
Adoxia, æ, ignominie, shlaunder.
Adoxius, a, um, infamouse, without renoume and glorie, absurde.
Adpeto, in, ere, loke Appeto.
Adposco, fci, ere, idem quod posco,
Adprecor, idem quod precor.
Adprobo, and adprobos, loke Approbo.
Adpromissor, loke Appromissor.
Adpropetro, loke appropero.

Adpropinquo, loke, appropinquo.
 Adpugno, aui, are, to aduance, to fight against.
 Adpulsio, onis, and Adpulsus, us, the dytce of Queepe to the water.
 Adquiro, loke Acquiro.
 Adquo, for, quousq, vntill, and for Quantum.
 Adra, x, a citee in Arabia perrea, also a towne of Surie, and a towne of Liburnia.
 Adrado, idem quod, Rado.
 Adramelech, an Jdolt of Siria, whom the Pamaritans honoured.
 Adramitum, iiij, a towne of Eolis.
 Adramitis, an Vlande in Ilcia.
 Adrana, x, a ruuer in Germanie.
 Adrapa, orum, neu, ge. a citee of Bactria.
 Adraucus, a, um, of Adrausus.
 Adrausia, x, a countrey not far frome Trophe.
 Also the name of a citee there. It was also called a goddess, which toke from man both memoire and wytt.
 Adrausus, a kynge of Argues, whose daughter Argia, was wedded to Polinices, the second son of Medipus: And his other daughter called Niphris, was wedded to Tides-us, son to the kynge of Etholia. This Adrasus killed all the Grekes against the citee of Thebes, for to rekepe againe his son in lawe Polinices, to the kynge dome. But after that Polinices and Ericoteles, (being brothers) had slaine one the other, after many confli-ces, the Thebans slewe towne right the Argues, and did puerce to slaight Adrausus, and slewe his people. After that the Argues had neuer victorie in any battaile, wherof came
 this prouerbe,
 ♣ Adrausia nemesis, the cullittike of Adrasus, whiche may be vied where proude men be beaten, and as we saie in englishe, Pride will haue a fall.
 Adrepo, pti, ere, to creepe to.
 Adrepere in amicitiam alicuius, to creepe into ones friendship by litle and litle.
 Adria, x. mal. ge. vntice sea. Adria is also the name of two citees in Italy, of whom thas sea was named.
 Adrianus, a noble emperoure of Rome, aboute the pere of our Ioyde. 119. He was Traia-nus officers sonne, a man of excellent witte, and dyuers in maners, mercifullste intearnynge, specially in Mathematicallcs. Also in musike, herpynge, and graying. In des-des of armes counnyng and valpante: A greatte fauourer of learned men, and liberall towards them: He was so grente a traueller, that there were fewe countreys
 but that he went through them: He liued.
 62. yeres, and reigned. 20. And died with tourment of the bowelles.
 Adriaticum, Adriacum, and Adrianum mare,
 the sea that diuideth Italy from Dalmatia, wher

[illegible]

Adeo litic, tarye here.
Adiūm, is vsed ſometimes for Accedo: as, Huc ades, come hither. ſometimes for Aduenio: as, Hic ex Africa adiuuū videntur, It ſeemeth, they will come hither out of Africa.
Adierat promiſſa dies, the date appointed was come. ſometimes for Paratum eſſe: as, Ad defendendam cauſam adeſt, he is ready to defende the matter.
Adeſſe alicui, to ſauioure or helpe one. Aiſto to defende, as the aduocate defendeth his client.
Adiut pugnantiſus ſexima, The women helpe the ſouldiours.
Adirex, ui, ere, to ſorpe or adde to, and as it were to waite to a thyng.
Adibernalis, is a dweller in a little cottage made of boubres, or luche like thyng, where many of them beſetuate to gether, as it were bouthes in a ſaype.
Adrondeo, di, ere, ſolke Tondeo.
Adualis, aris, a mountain, frome whiche the greake ruuer called Rene, renneth northward.
Aduarii, people of the countrey of Fraunce called Voſteduc.
Adubanus, the ſamouſe ruuer, called alſo Danubius, and Wiſter.
Aduechio, onis, and Aduectus, us, a cartiage ouer to a place.
Aduecto, aui, are, to carie often to a place.
Adueho, xi, ere, to byrge or carie to, in a ſhip, warne, or other like thyng.
Aduehit autem imbres, The ſowthe wynde byrgeyth ſlowers.
Aduehi aliquem, to be caried to one.
Aduehere equo, to carie on horſebacke.
Aduelatio, onis, xi mutuell reprochyng, ſom teneion in wordes byauling, or chydng.
Aduelo, aui, are, idem quod velo.
Aduena, re, A ſtraunger.
Aduenerari, to worſhipp, with great reuerence.
Aduenio, ni, ire, to come, to come to, to appoyche, to chaunce to.
Aduenit ſeneſcius, olde age haweth nere.
Per me quanta aduenit calamitas hodie ad hunc lenonem? Howe greate miſſere Mall chaunce this daie to that baude though my meane?
Per tempus aduenit, He came in ſeaſon.
Aduentitius, a, um, that cometh by chaunce.
Aduentitium auxilium querere, to ſeke aide of ſorreners.
Aduentitia doſ, A dowrite geuen by an other ſenſde, and not by the parentes.
Aduentitia bona, gooddes that dooe come vnloked for.
Aduentitius morbus, ſycheſſe that cometh without our deſante, and of ſome men is called an vncom.
Ad

Aduentium donum, A gyfte geuen to a pyrre at his fyrste entree into a citee.
Aduentio, ad, are, to come often.
Aduento, au, are, to come nighs.
Aduentores, common cofesters, or hunters to a place.
Aduentorius, a, um, that is pyofered or geuen
to a man at his comyng.
Aduentus, us, A comyng to.
Aduerbero, au, are, to beate foys.
Aduerbialiter, like an aduerbe.
Aduersaria, orum, neu. ge. A recknyng boke of expenfe, wrytten afoye the boke of ac-counpte be made.
Aduersarius, rijs, An aduersarie.
Aduerfator, oris, idem.
Aduersarius, a, um, againt or contrarie.
Aduerfio, onis, of this woorde psethe duety phrases: as, In aduerfione emere, In aduerfione venire, Per aduerfionem vendere, is whan the perill of lopyng of the thyng bought is turned from the seller to the byer.
Aduerfitas, atis, contrarietee, repugnancie, ad-uerfitee.
Aduerfor, oris, A feruant that seketh for his mafter, or that both ferche hym home after diner and fupper.
Aduerso, au, are, is of olde wryters bled for Aduerso, aus sum, to repugne, to be contrary, or to refuse.
Infenfe aduerfari alicui, to be extreemly as gainst a man.
Aduerfari rem aliquā, to be againt a mattee Aduefante natura quicquam facere, to doo a thyng againt nature all inclination.
Aduerfum, fi, Aduerfitee.
Aduerfum, and Aduerfus, prepoftitions fignif-fing againt, towards, face to face, fomestyme bled for the Aduerbes Contra & obuiā.
Quis eit hic, qui aduerfum mihi fit? who is he that cometh againt me, or marcheth the to-warde me?
Aduerfus, a, um, that wherof the foze part only is fene: as Auersus, that wherof onely the hinder part is fene. fometyme Aduerfus is euill, vnfortunate, alfo foze epyth againt.
Aduerfa arumna, Aduerfitee, domage.
Aduerfa ualeitudo, fickenefse.
Aduerfo flumine, againt the ftreame.
Aduerfis vulneribus, with woundes in the foze parte, ouerthwarte the breaſte or face.
Aduerfarium fe intendere, to be againt one in his pcedyngs.
Aduerfus gratia homo, A rude or feawards
felowe.
Aduerfus clium, ftreight vp againt the hill.
Aduerfo animo, againt the wyll, my wyll,
his wyll, againt his bette.
Aduerfi dentes, the foze teethe.
Aduerfum folem intrare nequifis, vs can not to be against the same.

Aduersa via, a contrary way.
Aduersis austru apertum ducere, to lead our life in great aduersities and wretchedness.
Aduersus homo, an enemy.
Aduerso humore esse, to be contrarily spoken of.
Aduerto, uere, to perceive, to turne to, to as-sendo; observe, and take heed, to consider, to puny me.
Aduerteratur, it was noted.
Aduertere animum, to take heed, or hearken.
Aduertere oculos, to perceive, to see, to be-holde, to consider.
Aduertere ubi agmen, to turne or bende the
 hoste against the citie.
Vi multos aduerto credisse, as ¶ perceive that many haue beleued.
Aduertere aurem, to hearken diligently.
Aduertere aliquid grauius, to mark or note
 othynge displeasantly or with griefe of mind.
Aduertere in aliquem, to punish the one.
Aduertere durius parimoniam, to plate the nsgarde.
Res insigniores hominem aduertunt, ¶ him
 ges that be notable make one attentive.
Aduersperalcis, it waxeth late, or it is night, the euenynge, or euentide is come.
Aduigilo, auil, are, to watche, or take good heede.
Aduilo, xi, ere, to lue, a woorde berate sola dome bled.
Adulas, antis, an hill called salnete Gotherde, enteryn into Zumberge.
Adulatio, onis, prospice is the fauynge of a dogge, and by a metaphoꝝe flatterge. Some a tyme a flatterynge tale.
Adulator, oris, a flatterer.
Adulatorius, a, um, of, or perteynyng to flatterge, or like to it.
Adulatrix, icis, a woman that flattereth.
Adulo, auil, are, of olde wyters was vied for Adulor, to flatter.
Adulor, atus sum, ari, is to whan a man either with voyce or gesture of hope, endeuoureth him selfe, feruently to winne mans sauoure, to flatter.
Adulari alicui, and Adulari aliquem, to flatter one.
Adulter, adultera, a man or woman aduoutter: it is also applyed to beastes.
Adulter fororis, one that hath committed aduoutery with his sister.
Adulterinus, a, um, and Adulteratus, a, um, counterfeited, forged, raptured, and some-tyme that is begotten in aduoutery.
Adulterinum signum, a counterfalte seale.
Adulterinus nummus, a counterfalte coine.
Adulterinae clauis, counterfalte keys.
Adulterata mulier, a woman abused in aduoutery.

Adulcerium, aduouerte.

Adulteria arborum, grafting of trees.

Adulteria naturæ, suche thynges as nature dothe alter or mingle.

Adulteria mercis, the altering and counterfaying of wares.

Adultero, au, are, to counterfayt or forge, also to corrupt, and to committe aduouerty with one.

Adulterare iudicium, to corrupt iudgement.

Adulteror, a deponente, and Adulteror, a passue.

Adultus, a, um, full growen, sometime burned.

Adulta vrbs, a citee, which in pprocess of time is warden stronge and puissant.

Adulta pectus, a great mischance that hath by longe continuance taken roote.

Adultum ver, the midle part of springe tyme, likewise a falsa ætas, adulta hyemps, adultus autumnus.

Adulta auctoritas, auctorities by continuance growen to estimation.

Adumbratum, somewhat obscurely, not plain.

Adumbratio, onis, a shadowing, also an imitation or explication of an other thyng, some what to the kinde and nature of the same.

Adumbratus, a, um, shadowed, done covertly.

Adumbrata læcia, counterfayt, or feigned gladnesse.

Adumbrata opinio, a false opinion.

Adumbratio, au, are, to make or geue shadowe, to represent or expresse, as painters do, that shadowe images in playne tables, to make them shewe imbored or rounde. Some suppose, that it signifieth to scribble a thyng, or to drawe it grossely, as painters doo at the beginning. It signifieth also to feigne, or dissemble a thyng. Also to simulate or folowe.

Adumbratus in coram sermone adumbrare conati, that same we haue endeuoured to simulate and expresse in theyr talping.

Adumbratus, au, are, crookednesse, hookednesse.

Adumco, au, are, to make crooked or hooked.

Adumco, a, um, crooked or hooked.

Adumco passus suspendere, a proverbe signifying with priuie mockes to scorne and deslude a man.

Adumco, au, are, to gather or heape to gether, a word beate seldom in vse.

Aduocatio, onis, a pleading, also assistance.

And sometime consultation of men assembled to gether.

Aduocatus, an aduocate, he that defendeth an other mans cause: or one that for frendshipp assisteth a man in a matter.

Aduocito, au, are, to call for one often.

Aduoco, au, are, to call to, to call to helpe, to chose for an aduocate or patron, to entice or allure.

Aduocare sacramentum in alicuius nomē, to take an othe hym selfe, and cause other also to sweare to be obedient to a man.

Aduolatus, us, a sleeping to.

Adulo, au, are, to sleepe, or to nigh a place: to go or come quickly.

Aduola obsecro, come quickly I praye the.

Aduolare in auxilium, to make speede to helpe one.

Aduoluo, ui, ere, to wryppe rounde together, to tumble or rolle.

Aduolatus genibus, fallen downe at his knees.

Aduorsum, for Aduersum: and Aduortor, for Aduortor.

Adurgeo, for Virgeo.

Aduro, si, ere, to roste, or burne.

Adustio, onis, burning, or roasting.

Adustus, a, um, roasted or burned.

Adusy, vntill, euen to.

Adynamum vinum, small wyne.

Adyculum, a diminutiu of, Adytum.

Adytum, the chauncell, or other secrete place of the temple, where none came but priests, or persons sanctified.

A ANTE. E.

A Ea, the name of a maiden, whiche (as the poetes feigne) sleping from the ruler Falio, was turned into an Island of the same name. It is also a citee of Colchis, another of Thessalia.

Acacides, the sonne of newwe of Acacus.

Acacideus, a, um, of Acacus.

Acacus, the son of Jupiter and Europa, or Aegina, whom painins bid suppose to be of suche stature, that he was appointed by Idus to god of hell, to bee one of the iudges there with Minos and Rhadamanthus, to discuss the transgressions of deade men: and to assigne to the punishment accordyng to theyr merites.

Acere, es, or Acera, æ, an Island, in whiche Ulisses arryued, when he returned fro hell.

Acus, a, um, of that Island.

Acanum, a citee of Macedonia.

Acanium, a towne in the promontorie of hill of Troie called Sigee. It is also a promontorie of Magnesia, and a towne of Macedonia.

Acas, anis, a ruuer of a countrey called Epyrus, whiche runneth out of Macedonia, and falleth into the sea Ionium.

Acca, æ, a citee of Italye, wherof the people be called Accani.

Aedepol, an othe amonge the gentiles, signifying, by Pollax house.

Aedepsum, a towne in Locris.

Aedes, or ædis, dis, an house, as if therinto be ioyned the name of god, or of a sainte, testifieth a church of a temple: as, Aedes saluatoris, saintes saviours church. It is also a chamber a chamber, sometime a sepulchre, sometime a bee hyue.

Aedícula, læ, an oratorie or place, where images were kept. also a littell chamber in an house, or a case of counterpane, wherein pictures doo stande.

Aedícula, arum, a littell house.

Aedificatio, onis, a building.

Aedificator, oris, a builder.

Aedificium, cñ, all the wholle building of an house.

Aedifico, au, are, to build, propriety houses: but it is applied to all other thynges: as, Aedificare carcerem, casam, muros, porticum, & cetera.

Aedificare classem, to make a nauy of ships.

Aedificare rempublicam, to ground and establish a common weale with honest manners, lawes, and ordinances.

Aedificare hortos, to make gardenes, garnished with fayre and beautifull buildings.

Aedificauit deus mundum, God made the world.

Aediles, officers, whose charge was to see the keeping up and maintaining of the temples and priuate houses, and to make prouision for solemne plates. Of theim some were called Aediles curules, of a chaire with crooked feete, wherein they dyd sitte.

Aedilitas, and Aedilatus, the office of the Aediles.

Aedilitatem gerit sine populi suffragio, A proverbe, whiche meane bee sayed vnto hym that meddeth in other mennes matters, or commandeth in an other mans house or office.

Aedilius, he that had bene ones in that office or auctorities.

Aedilius, a, um, pertaining to Aediles.

Aedilius, idem quod Aedilius.

Aedilius iudex, a iudge or arbitratour chosen of the one parte.

Aedimor, and Aedimor, aus sum, ari, to rule ouer the temple or house.

Aedius, a, um, high and stronge.

Aedius, the prelate of the temple or church: and maye be nowe called the persone, the parson, or sexton.

Aedientes, for Aediu.

Aedo, edidi, ere, to sette forth, or publish.

Also it signifieth to bypne forth by generation, loke Edo, with single E.

Aedere scriptum, to shewe forth the writing.

Aedere spiritum, to yeue up the goste.

Aedere facinus, to dooe an euill dede.

Aedere stragem, to make a slaughter of menue.

Aedere nomina, to telle the names to bee written.

Aedere praelium, to make a battaile.

Aedon, a nyghtyngale, also an hill of Thrace.

Aedonis, idis, form. gen. a woman of Thrace.

Aedonus, and Aedonius, a, um, one of Thrace.

Aeceta, æ, or Aetes, ior, a king of Egipt, whiche the bagatte Medea and Calcopis bypon Thya.

Aecteus, or Aectius, æi, pertaining to Aeceta.

Aectias, and Aectis, Medea, the daughter of Aeceta.

Aega, æ, or Ex, ægos, an hyll of Colis, leaping into the sea Egeum.

Aega, arum, a citee in Cilicia, also a towne in Macedonia, in Colis, and Eboza.

Aegæa, æ, a citee of Emathia.

Aegæon, a grant, whome the poetes feigne to be the sonne of Cæsum and Terra, and to haue an hundred armes and handes.

Aegaleos, an hyll, vnder whiche stode Pylos, a citee of Hellas.

Aegates, idem quod Aega.

Aegemon, a certayne poete.

Aeger, a, um, speche, sorrowfull, penitence or heuy.

Aeger amore, loue speche.

Aeger consili, penitence, and halfe desperate.

Aeger delicti, sorrowfull for his fault or offence.

Aeger pedes, and pedibus, distressed in the feete.

Comperit, cuius morbi æger esset, he perceived wherof he was sicke.

Aegram ponere animam, to dye.

Aegra res publica, a feble common weale, a common weale in a decaile euill estate.

Aegia, a nymphe of goddesse, with whome Roma Pompeius, the seconde kyng of the Romaynes, feigned, that he hadde familiar company and communication, concerning religion and woorthyping of the goddes: to the intente he mought thereby withdrawe the people from the appetite of warres, whiche with they were inflamed.

Aegestami, a people of Sicile, of some called Segestami.

Aegeum mare, the sea, whiche is from the mouth of the Egeus sea, by in Syria, and Arabia, wherewith bee many Islands, besides Aegæa, nowe called Canby, Rhodes, and Cyprus.

Aegeum scaphula transmittere, A proverbe spoken of them that attempte a dangerous enterpryse, with small labour and diligence.

Aegeum nauigat, he saileth the Egyptian sea. A proverbe applied to them that refuse no perils for muchelure or profitte, for as muche as the said sea is full of daungers.

Aegæus, kyng of Athens, sonne of Neptune, and father to Theseus.

Aegiale, the wife of Diomedes, kynge of Aegolia, it was also a citie in olde tyme builded by Aegialeus.

Aegialeus, the sonne of Abastus, he was slain in the second warre, that the Argiues made against the Thebanes. There was an other of the same name, the brother of Apsis, and sonne of the first Iupiter.

Aegilia, an island nere to Aegolia.

Aegialos, was a comytie called also Achaia in Grece.

Aegialus, the brother of Theseus, also an hill in Athens, and a promontory of Paphlagonia.

Aegialez, a towne of Aethia.

Aegides, of Aegreus patronimicum.

Aegina, an islande. xv. miles from Cephrea.

Aeginaeus, a Gouffe of Laconia.

Aegiphus, Iphis, a citie of Egypte, nere to Hieracia.

Aegilops, pis, a kinde of trees that beareth barley, also wilde rice, and a roote, which is rounde like garlick and onions.

Aegilops, and aegilopage, is the disease in the chest called a trachea.

Aegionis, an island called also Capraria.

Aegionus, the name of a woman that lived, it is the same as before.

Aegionus, an isle betwene Sicilie and Africke ere, comes from Carthage.

Aegionus, a fine daughter of Alopus kynge of Sicilie, was a woman Iuppiter in the thirthe of her began Aeneas, and Hadamantus. There is also one of the quete Ales called Cynobates, which he contended with the Athenians, who should be chiefe, when the Idessians married Grece.

Aegionus, amonge new gen, great packes wheeles in the best handes of wares.

Aegionus, people of Aegina.

Aegionus, aum, people of the citie of Aegina.

Aegionus, and Aegineus, aum, of Aegina.

Aegionus, a towne of Rhacodone.

Aegionus, they say sicke dyuers wares in great portes.

Aegionus, a name of Iupiter.

Aegionus, a tree betwene the Erolane, and the Thracopentico.

Aegionus, beastes lyke unto men, haupngs like like unto gotes.

Aegionus, an island, also a towne in Acaia.

Aegionus, in new gen. an onnement made of the beakes of poplars.

Aegionus, the blacke poplar tree.

Aegionus, is of fine is called a garment made of shokes thannes, used in Aprill. Also the raginge waves of the sea, or an hurlyng tempest of wynde. It is also the regate of Iupiter andallas. It is more ouer an habergeon, wherwith the godds oner

Ip were peynned.
Aegithalos, the name of a byrde.
Aegithus, loke Aegylinus.
Aegithus, a lyttell byrde, whyche feareth the alle so muche, that whan she heareth hys byrde, she casteth hys egges out of the nest, and the younge falle to the grounde for feare.
Aegium, a towne in Deloponeso, now called Moya, where they feyned, that suppres was nourished with a goate.
Aegle, gles, a nymphe.
Aegles, the name of a wrestler, who haunges wounge at a common game, spake soberly, not withstanding he had been dunbe all his tyme before.
Aegloga, looke Ecloga.
Aegoccephalus, a byrde, whyche is withoute a tylene.
Aegoceras, fenegreece.
Aegoceros, rotis, maic. gen. idem quod Ca- pricornus.
Aegon, a stable for goates: it is also vsed for the sea Elegum.
Aegonensis, a gate in Rome, called also Quirinalis.
Aegonomus, a gotheherde, or keeper of goates.
Aegonycon, an herbe called also Lichopersa- mon, and some call it Eumeniconum, but moste commonly Milium loke.
Aegophagos, the surname of Juno amonge
 the Lacedaemontans.
Aegophthalmos, a precious stone, so named after a goates eye.
Aegos, a ruer in Thrace.
Aegothentenses, a people of Greece.
Aegre, with great payn or difficultee, greuou-ly, heauily, alle hardly, agaynst his wille.
Aegre fero, I am forp.
Aegre est, for Molestum est, as,
 Quid tibi aegre est? what thyng greueth the?
Aegre nimis risum continui, I had verie muche adoore to forbear laughyng.
Aegre alicui facere, to dooe a thyng that shall bee dyspleasaut and greuouse unto a man.
Aegre id risui concessit, he graunted it to me verie hardly, and almoste agaynste his wylle.
Aegresco, scere, to bee speke, or take a matter greuouly, to waue moze speke, and to referred poppely to the mynde.
Aegrimonia, spleenesse, great heuynesse.
Aegritudo, inis, griefe of mynde or sorowe,
 somtyme spleenesse of the body.
Aegritudine leuare, to saue or helpe the splee-nesse or heuynesse.
Aegrius, moze sorrowfullge, moze displea-sauntly.

Aegrotatio, onis, sickness of bodie, and some tyme of mynde.

Aegron, aul, are, to bee speke, to saie, or bee feshle of courage.

Aegrotat fama, his good name becauseth.

Aegrotus, is sometime applied to fruites.

Aegrotus, a, um, speche, feshle of courage.

Aegrum, idem quod agritudo, sorrow, displesure, sickness of the mynde, feeblesse.

Aegula, a kinde of byrmstone, where with in some places they doo perfume wolles, to make it whiter.

Aegylops, loke Aegilops.

Aegyptios, a citee on the ryuer syde called Niler.

Aegyptii, people of Egypte, not those vagabunde magicians, whiche do nowe renne into all countreies, calling them selves Egyptians, where they bee of an yle farre frome Egypte. Heade the commentaries of Strabo terranus.

Aegyptini, people of Ethiops, marchynge on Egypte.

Aegyptius, and Aegyptiacus, a, um, of oþper terpynge to Egypt.

Aegyptus, ii, a countreie called Egypte: on the weste it is bounded with Lybia, and the countreie called Cyrenaica: on the north with the sea Mediterraneum, and parte of Iudæa:
on the east with Arabia, and the Arabian sea: on the south with Ethiopia. This countreie, although it rayne there but seldome or neuer, yet by the ouerflowynge of the ryuer of Nilus, it is made so fertile, that it hath a bundance of all thynges sauynge vines, and bynggeth forth the straunge beastes. Of the greate citees and other meruailous thynges in it, shall be remembered, where their names shall bee reherfed. This countreie tooke his name of Egyptus, sonne to Belus kyng of Babylon.

✚ Aegypti nuptia, a proverbe, spoken by vnlucky mariage, because the fyste sonnes of Egyptus, maried to the fyste daughters of his byther Zanais, were the fyste night, all sauynge one, slayne of thei wyues, by the counsaile of their father.

Aegyptus, the sonne of Thyestes, by his daughter Pelopia.

Aelana, orum, neut. gen. a cite of Arabia.

Aelia, a countreie of Asia, also a towne of Calabie.

Aelius, the propre name of a Romain.

Aello, Aellus, one of the the monsters and ra-uinous byrdes called Harpys.

Aelurus, a catte.

Aemathia, a countreie in Greece, after called Macedonia: The people wherof, were fyste called Belasgi. Heade moze hereof in Macedonia.

Aemathius, a, um, one of Thacedaule.
Aemicum, swollen.
Aemilia, a countreie in Italie called also Flaminia et Romandiola.
Aemillus, mas. ge. the ppoppe name of a Romanne.
Aemilius, of Aemilianus, a, um, pertaining to the familie of Emillia.
Aeminium, a towne in Spayne.
Aeminus, a, um, a ryuer in Spayne.
Aemochares, the surname of Mars.
Aemon, a man that for the vnlausfull loue toward his daughter, was turned in to an hyll.
Aemonia, a countreie called also Thessaly.
Aemonides, the ppoppe name of a man.
Aemonius, a, um, of Thessaly.
Aemulatio, onis, enuy, emulation, iusttacton with desyre to excell.
Aemulator, oris, he that dooeth enuy, or imitate any persone.
Aemulatus, us, idem quod aemulatio.
Aemulor, atus sum, ari, with a certayne enuy and ambition, to endeavour, to passe or excell an other man, to folowe or studie to be like an other.
Aemulari aliquem, alicui, cum aliquo.
Aemulari, absolutely, to contend.
Aemulus, he that foloweth, or enuyeth an other onely for desyre of gloire, a louer, or follower of the same thyng, or person, and som tyme an enemye.
Aemulus alicuius de re aliqua, One that contendeth with an other for any thyng.
Labra aemula rosis, lippes in maner as rubys as roses.
Ficus quædam pyris magnitudine aemula, fygges in greatnesse lyke vnto pearces.
Aemus, or Hæmus, a hynde of Thace, whome for his pyde Iupiter tounred in to an hyll. it is also a grette mountayne in Thace, in heighe. vi. myles.
Aenaria, an Isle in the goulfe called Dux teolannus.
Aenarius, a wodde dedicate to Iupiter.
Aenea, a citee called after Iulianulum. It is to an other neere to Thessalonica, buylded by Aeneas.
Aeneades, people of that citee.
Aeneade, Arianas, sometyme Romapnos, takyng the beginning of Aeneas.
Aeneas, a noble man of Troie, and sonne to Anchises and Venus.
Aeneasius, a, um, of that citee.
Aeneatores, blowers in trumpettes.
Aneldes, da, patronimicum.
Aeneidomastix, a booke wyttten agaynst Wergle.
Aeneobarbus, the name of a Romanne, so called because he hadde a beards as rebbs as hylls.

Aeneas, a, um, b, isen.

Aenigma, tis, a darke question, hard to be vnderstande, or assailed, a spado.

Aenigmastites, he that propooseth the harde questions.

Aena, or Enna, a citie in the myddes of Sicilia.

Aenos, a towne of Thracia.

Aenus, a caudion. it is also a river in Germany.

Aenus, a, um, idem quod areus.

Aeolia, is a region of the grecians in Asia, betwene Thonia and Troade. It is also a region contempnyng. vii. ples, betwene Italye and Sicile.

Aeolicus, a, um, of Colia.

Aeolides, the surname of Ulysses.

Aeolus, is the daughter of nereus of Colus. also a countie in the north of Spaine, called sometimes Aethia.

Aeolum mare, the sea lying to the north of Asia.

Aeolus, a, um, of Sicile.

Aeolus, is the lying of the wyndes.

Aequabilis, is, equal: also iustice, indifferente, moderate, constant, and alway lyke to itself, exceeding in no degree.

Aequalem te pibere, to shewe hym selfe moderate, constant, and not waueryng.

Aequiliter, thus, on honeste moderation of mynde, wherein is no varietie of trouble.

Aequiliter, equally, moderately, unvariably, in euen partes.

Aequus, of one age.

Aequus, is, equal, playne, of lyke age or continuance of tyme.

Aequales calculi, euen iudgements, A pro- uerbe applied vnto them, whiche lacked but litell that they were not condemned. For as muche as in olde tyme the Judges gaue not sentence openly, but byng in dyuers opynions, they dyd put into a potte litell stones of diuers colours, and the most in numbres pres- uailed: and if they were equal in numbres, he that was accused was acquitted. Wherbye they shewd with good reason, as Aristotle sheweth in his problemes.

Aequale urbi sacrificium, a sacrifice that hath continued as long as the citie.

Aequalis aequali delectat, lyke wyte to lyke.

Aequalitas, atis, equalitee, lykenesse.

Ad aequalitatem redigere, to make equal.

Aequaliter, lyke wyse, equally.

Aequamentum, ti, indifferencie.

Aequamentum capillorum, the toppe of the heade, where the heares doo decaye, the Medde of the heare.

Aequanimis, me, and aequanimus, a, um, of a quiete, indifferente, and gentle mynde: he that is neither exulted in prosperitee, nor dis- comforted in aduersitee.

Aequanimitas, tatis, a quiete moderation of mynde, taking all thynges in good part, also fauour and good will.

Aequanimitas populi, the fauour and good will of the people.

Aequanimitas, moderately, patiently, coldly.

Aequano, onis, the equal diuision of a thyng, or where one thyng is made equal to another.

Aequator, oris, a lyne that diuideth the hea- ven in the middell, called also the Equinoctial: all tyme, into which the sunne cometh, the daies and nyghtes be of one lengthe.

Aequae, iustitiae, as well, euen as well, sometimes willingly, so, equally, lyke.

Aequae ambo pares, all of one greatnesse.

Aequae pauci, euen as fewe.

Aequae utriusque necessitas, as much friends to the one as to the other.

Nihil est aequae quod faciam lubens, There is nothing that I woulde doo so gladly.

Aequae ac, aequae atque, aequae quam, euen as, as muche as, lyke as, or euen as well.

Aequae acti, euen as though.

Aequae studium est, they haue lyke endeavour.

Aequae inier atque ego, euen in as mysera- ble state as I.

Luxta tecum aequae scio, I knowe it in a man- ner as well as thou.

Aequae noctibus quam die cernit, he seeth as well in the nyght as in the daie.

Non aequae omnes egent, all haue not lyke neede.

Aequilici, a people of Spayne.

Aequi, a people of Italy.

Aequilani, a people of Italy.

Aequidiale, the tyme when the daies and the nyghtes be of one lengthe, the tyme of the pere.

Aequidies, ei, the equal lengthe of the daies and nyghte.

Aequidium, idem quod equinoctium.

Aequilanium, the halfe beate of the whole.

Aequilario, onis, euen largenesse.

Aequilibris, bre, of the same weight.

Aequilibritas, tatis, equalitee of lykenesse of weyghte.

Aequilibrium, brij, euen weight of people.

Aequimanus, he that vseth the one hands as well as the other.

Aequimelum, a place in Rome, where the house of Sp. Mestus was overthrowen.

Aequimentum, or equimentum, the hye of an hoxe or other beaste.

Aequinoctialis, etialis, the adiectiue of Aequinoctium.

Aequinoctium, ti, the tyme of the pere, when the daies is as long as the nyghte, wher- bye the tyme in the pere. In spryng tyme aboute the eighte Calendes of Aprill. And in Autumne, aboute the eighte Calendes of of October.

Aequiparabilis, is, makinge to be equalled, and equalled.

Aequiparatio, onis, lykenesse, and equalitee.

Aequiparatus, ut, are, to compare, to make equal, sometimes to be lyke.

Aequipollentia, equalitee, in estimation of valowe.

Aequipolles, ut, are, to haue lyke valowe, or to be of lyke estimation.

Aequipondium, equalitee, or lykenesse of weyghte.

Aequitas, atis, equitee, iustitiae, or euenesse, lykenesse of faction.

Aequitas animi, an honeste, quiete, and indif- ferent affection of the mynde, without indi- gnation or grudge, in which the signification of equitas is ofte vset alone.

Quam aequitatem habet? What right is it?

Aequiter, iustly.

Aequivalentia, equal value.

Aequiualeo, ut, are, to be equiuallente, or of lyke valowe.

Aequiuocatio, onis, dyuers significationes to one woode.

Aequiuoce, dyuersely signifying in one woode or terme.

Aequiuocum, one woode hauinge dyuers sig- nificationes.

Aequo, au, are, to make euen or playne, equal, or lyke.

Aequare solo, to beate downe to the grounde.

Aequare solo dictaturam, by a metaphore, to disanull and abrogate the dictaturam.

Aequat nomen virtutibus, he is euen as vertuous, as highly renowned.

Aequare quempiam in re aliqua, to shewe ones selfe equal to another in any thyng.

Aequare aliquem alicui, to compare one man to another.

Aequor, oris, the sea. sometimes other waters and ryuers. sometimes land, felde, and the hy- premoste playnnesse of any thyng.

Aequore aperto, in playne felde.

Aequor maris, the vppermoste, or euen part of the sea.

Aequora Actoa, the Scythian sea.

Aequor Athlanticum, the ocean sea.

Aequor paulum, the playne felde.

Aequorem, a, um, of the tith.

Aequum Tuticum, a towne of Thell.

Aequum, i, idem quod equitas.

Aequi bonis facinus, we take it welde in woorth, or we be not displeased with it.

Nunc quicquam aequi bonae imperauit, he dyd neuer obteyne any part of his right.

Aequi bonis facio, I take it in good part, I recke not, I care not.

Aequus, qui, a iuste and indifferente person, or that helpeth and maketh one to be

Aequus, a, um, euen of valowe equal. sometimes good and fauourable.

Aequus, a, um, a moderate, quiet, and pa- tient man, not wounding nor greeuinge as any thyng, also gentle, not frowarde.

Aequo animo ferre, to take it in woorth, or patiently.

Ex aequo loco dicere, to when the speaker is of equal state with the hearer.

Aequum est, it is iust reason.

Aequum esse alicui, to be content with one.

Aequum et bonum, is a direction of mo- deration of right without egour or egres- sion of the laws, conscionable or reasona- ble dealing.

Aequum certamen, where one hath no mo- aduantage than another.

Aequi te mihi praebere debes, Thou ought- est to shewe thy selfe fauourable vnto me.

Aequus animus est, I passe not, I care not.

Aequilance, a prouerbe signifyinge in- differencie, without fauour or respecte of person.

Aer, ris, the ayre, sometimes wynd, blast, breath or sounde.

Aera, re, monenumbered. sometimes ymages of metall: also darnell, whiche groweth as monge come.

Aera, was also a citie of Macedonia, an other of Thonia, and also of Hispanie.

Aeramentum, ti, any thyng made of coppe or brasse.

Aeranthemis, or after som Anthemis, an herbe called Camomill.

Aerarium, ri, a treasury, where a common trea- sure of a citie or countie is kept. And some tyme the treasury it selfe.

Aerarij milites, soldiours wages.

Aerarij praefectus, high treasurer.

Aerarij tribuni, were treasurers, whiche paid wages to the soldiours. And may be vset nowe for generall receiueurs.

Aerarij quaestores, maye be taken nowe for the collectors of fines and amercia- ments.

Aerarius scriba, a clerke that writeth, and is accomptant for such thynges as are re- ceived and laid out.

Aerarius, ri, he that was putte from his free- dome of a citise, and payed tribute as a stranger.

Ex arario eripere, to helpe one from that tribune and punishment.

Aerarius, ri, he that is putte in brasse.

Aerarius lapis, the ste, wherof brasse is made.

Aeratus, a, um, mydded or covered with brasse.

Aeratus homo, a man indebted. It is used of Plautus cleane contrary, for a ryche manne well moneyd.
Aercolium, uel Chalcus, the. xxxvi. parte of Diagma, by estimation, the weight of two barley cornes.
Aereus, a, um, of brasse or copper, and by a metaphor, strunge.
Aeria, na, a cite in fraunce.
Aeria, ca, a ryche p[er]son that deuoureth fleshe and spaueth thysse a pere.
Acides, a kynde of precious stones.
Acidulum, the crasse to wooche any thyng in brasse or copper.
Acmeus, a, um, of barnell.
Acipes, with brasse teete.
Acipes, that is as swifte as the wynde.
Acus, a, um, of the ap[er], or lyke the ap[er].
Acuta, a taper stone lyke to the alee.
Aera, au, are, to brasse, myngle, or counterfette with copper or brasse.
Aeromantia, divination or conjecture of thynges to come by the ap[er].
Aerope, the wyfe of Atreus, with whome Theseus committed adoultre.
Aerous, a, um, that wherin is brasse or copper, or wherof it is made.
Aerugo, nis, fem. gen. rust or canker in metall, specially in copper or syluer. It is taken in Horace and Iuuenale for monete. also for scelerator, missepoit, spitefull enuy.
Aeruginosus, a, um, rusty or cankered.
Aerugmosa segites, coyn corrupted with myt dew, as it were blasted.
Aeterna, na, p[er]petuall labour, care of mynde with heuynesse, infelicitee.
Aeterna omnes te praemur, all miseries doe ouerwhelme the.
Aeternabilis, le, full of miserie and payne.
Aeternalis, le, wherein is greatte payne and labour.
Aeternatus, a, um, brought to misery.
Aeternofus, a, um, miserable, full of payne or trouble.
Aeternale, arum, bytill croked stanes, wherewith men doo carpe fardelles and trusses on theyr backes.
Aerulor, oris, one that scratcheth together monete by all vnauisfullmeanes.
Aerulo, au, are, to gette money by falschode, or vayne promyses.
Aes, cris, is properly copper or brasse. It is oftentimes taken for monete. Sometime for trumpettes, sometime also for yron, sometimes tyme for an helmette. Also for the summe of a thryppe. and for any thyng that is made of brasse, namely among poetes.
Aere alieno exire, to come out of dette.
Aere alieno obrui, to bee ouercharged with dettes.

Aere alieno obstringere, to cause an other man to be bounde or indebted for hym.
Aere alieno premi, to be geuouly indebted.
Aere disuri milites, souldpours, whiche for some deserte were putte out of wages; and mate bee applyed to spottous p[er]sones, that haue spent all await.
Aere meo, Multi. a. anni sum, cum ille in aere meo est, It is longe tyme passed, that I accompted hym in the numbre of my frendes, or for one of myne.
In aere meo est, he is in my debt or daunger.
Aes caldarium, copper.
Aes coronarium, latyne mettall.
Aes circumforaneum, monye borrowed of theim whiche are named bankers, and doos lende monye by exchange.
Aes confiare, to caste metall.
Aes ducere, to mette metall.
Aes alienum, monye that is borrowed. also dette.
Aes ductile, metall that will be sone molten.
Aes alienum afferre, to be indebted.
Aes alienum habere, idem.
Aes alienum cogere, confiare, contrahere, to bee indebted.
Aes alienum dissoluere, exire, to paye dettes and be quitte.
Aes alienum exonerare, to discharge the det.
Aes alienum facere, to borrowe monye.
Aes nostrum, monye that other men doos owe vnto vs.
Aes suum, monye that other men doos owe vnto hym that we speake of.
Aes meum alienum, debt that I owe.
Deuouere se pro aere alieno, to make ones selfe bonde by reason of dette.
Aes alienum alicuius suscipere, to take on one to discharge an other mans debt.
Aere meo me lacesis, thou geuest me scotte for scotte: or as we saie, thou payest me home.
Aes militare, monye appoynted to paye souldpours.
Aera lupinis quid distat, non ignorat, He knoweth good from badde.
Ex aere aliquem ducere, to caste the wyage of a man in brasse.
Aefacus, ci, the son of Hyamus by the nymphe Alprothoe. He was by Theseus touened into a byde called a didoper. It was also a ruler by Crote.
Aefalon, a little bypde, whiche breaketh the crows egges.
Aefapus, pi, a ryche in Crote.
Aefarius, ri, a ryche in Sicilie.
Aefernia, x, a cite in Italy.
Aeschilus Gnidius, Aeteros master.
Aeschylus, li, a tragick poete of Athens.
Aeschines, is, an oytour enemy to Demosthenes, Diogenes Laertius reheriseth, vii. other nota.

notable p[er]sones of the same name.
Aesculapius deus, a god that hadde power to make men ryche.
Aesculapius, pi, the sonne of Apollo and Escorides, and was called the god of phyche, and honoured in the forme of a serpent.
Aesculapium, li, the place where the tree called Cereus groweth.
Aesculeus, a, um, of that tree.
Aesculus, li, a tree that beareth masse greater than any other nexte the chesten, and the leafe bydes than the chesten.
Aesis, a ryche of Umbria, in Italy.
Aessium, a cite of Umbria.
Aeson, was the father of the valiant Jason.
Aesonides, Jason the sonne of Aeson.
Aesonius, a, um, of Aeson.
Aescopus, pi, an ancient wyter of fables, also the name of a famous player in tragedies.
Aestas, oris, sommer.
Aestas adulta, the myddle part of sommer.
Aestas noua, begynnyng of sommer.
Aestas p[er]cepta, sommer toward the ende.
Aestimabilis, le, that mate be valued.
Aestimatio, onis, a p[er]p[er]te sette, a valuation, consideration, or weying of a matter.
Aestimato, oris, he that valureth or sette the price on a thyng, a p[er]p[er]our, or one that pondereth a matter.
Aestimo, au, are, to esteeme, to value, to p[er]p[er]te.
Alto to regard or set by, to ponder, wey, and consider.
Aestimare licem, to take the damages, costes, and charges, that a man suffereth by suite in the law.
Aestimare pecunia, to p[er]p[er]te.
Aestimare haum rerum omnium precia, consider you, of what value of importaunce all these thynges be.
Aestimare bene de aliquo, to haue a good opinion of one.
Magni, or magno aestimare, to sette musche by.
Flocci aestimare, to sette lyght by.
Aestimare tanti, quanti, tantidem, pluris, minoris.
Aestimare hanc, arcy expendite, Consider you these thynges, and weye them well.
Aestimauit tribus denariis, he valued it at iii. pence.
Aestifer, ri, that byngeth or suffereth heate.
Aestua, orum, places to bee in for shadowe in the sommer tyme, wherewnto as welles menne as beastes doos withdrawe them selves for heate.
Aestuat, onis, a dwelling or being in a place in sommer tyme.
Aestuo, au, are, to dwelle or bee in a place during the sommer tyme.
Aestiuus, a, um, p[er]tynnyng to sommer.

Aestua, orum, places, wherewnto the sea floweth and ebbeth, or merser fylled with water. Also the name of gappes of the earth, or pittes made with manyr handes, wherby vapours issue out.
Aestuat, onis, a vehement motion, an vnguestetness of mynde.
Aestuo, au, are, to be heate, to burne, to flowe lyke the sea, to be in angurthe or trouble of mynde, also to caste out hotte vapours, as a poete dooth when it seetheth.
Aestuarie desiderio, to bee vbraie despyouse of a thyng.
Aestuat dubitatione, he was in doubte, and wist not what to dooe.
Aestuarie inuidia, to be vbraie angry, or great by displeased.
Aestuofus, a, um, hotte or feruent, stompy.
Aestuofusmi dies, feruent hotte daies.
Aestus, us, ui, heate of the wether, or bouerynge of the sunne. Also the troublous motion or violence of the sea. Sometime doubtfulness of sittynge of the mynde, a scruple, a vehement motion of the mynde. Also solue.
Aestus belli, the troubles of warre.
Aestus ulceris, the smartynge payne of a soyr, or byle.
Erat hic quod aestus ante oculos, I had also this scruple or doubt in my mynde.
Aesyrinus, a cite of Thrace.
Aeta, a kyng of Colcis, the father of Medea and Absyrus.
Aeta, an hille in Thessalie.
Aetalia, an yle in the sea of Greece.
Aetas, aris, age, otherwhyle tyme, also the space of a hundred yeres, a mans lyfe tyme. Some whyles one pere. It is applyed also to wyne and fruite, wherof cometh Aetatem ferre, spoken of frutes that wille contynue longe.
Aetas aeta est mihi, my tyme is passed.
Aetas bona, the flour of yowthe.
Aetas grandis, auncientes, or olde age.
Aetas decrepita, age, wherein a man loseth the use of his members.
Aetas ingrauescens, age increasynge.
Aetas matura, tyme age.
Aetas prima, yowthe.
Aetate adulta, of full age.
Aetate affecta, of olde age, auncient.
Aetate confectus, vbraie aged, in extreme age.
Aetate exacta, idem.
Aetate integra, in the flour of yowthe.
Aetate procreta, wherof great age, vbraie auncient.
Aetate antea, to be older.
Flexus, aris, the decaye or inclination of age.

Extremum ætatis tempus, the bittermost point of a mans lyfe.
Nostrum tempus ætatis, our lyfe tyme,
Conflans ætas, mpyble age.
Accedit illi plus ætatis, he waxed elder.
Ætatem desidioso agere, to lye idelly.
Ætatem fabulam peragere, to passe the lyfe course of the lyfe. 6
Ætatem in aliquo contereere et consumere, to spende all ones tyme in a thyng.
Ætatem cū aliquo degere, to lye with one.
Excessit mihi ætas ex magisterio tuo, I am no more bnder thy gouernance, I am past thy correction.
Ætas firmata, mans state, perfect age.
Ætate proceſsit usq ad adoleſcentiam meam,
he lyued till I was a yonge man.
Ætatem quæ me vidua esse maulum, quæ stare flagitia tua parit, quæ tu facis, I hadde lesſer be a wpdowe all my lyfe, than to in duce this trouble that I haue with thee.
Ætatem uelim seruire, Litanum modo ne conueniam, I would do seruitee all the days of my lyfe, on the condition I mought mete with Litanus.
Ætatis progressus, the course of age.
Ætatis satis habere, to be olde enough.
Ætatem, an aduerbe, signifying long tyme.
Iam dudum ætatem lites sunt inter eos, they hath been variance betweene them long tyme.
Ætatalis, he, thydehode.
Æternitatis, ætis, æterlastynesse, tyme with out ende.
Ex omni æternitate, haupnge neuer any be gynnyng.
In omni æternitate, for euer, continually.
Æterno, and æternum, euerlastynge, for e uer, alwaies.
Æterno, ai, are, to make perpetuall.
Æternus, a, um, euerlastyng.
Nullum æternus lignum, no wodde endu rati longer.
Æthalia, an plande nere to Cosica and Sar dinha, and another in the sea of Ceans.
Æthalis, or Æthalides, Preco, the sonne of Ætherus.
Æther, eris, the firmament, of som it is taken for the element of fyre, and for the aye. also for suppter, some tyme for lyght and higher nesse, some tyme for the goodis.
Æthera, or æthra, æ, the aye.
Æthercus, a, um, of the firmament.
Æthercea aera uesci, to lye.
Æthercea, the countreys of Ethiops.
Æthices, a people of Macedonia.
Æthici, a people of Theſſaly.
Æthiops, an plande of the ocean sea, called before Macaria.
Æthiopia, a great countreie in Aſrike, con
sequente manye regions: wherein be founde people, beastes, and serpentes, of innumerable forme. It hath on the west, the mountain called Athlantes on the east, it extendeth to the marches of Egypt: on the south it hath the sea ocean: and on the north parts it is enclosed with the river Nilus.

Aethiopicus, a, um, of Ethiopie.

Aethiopiſſa, a woman of Ethiopie.

Aethiopsis, pidis, fern. ge. an herbe that increaseth his life, by force whereof yuues be reed vp, and lockes opened.

Aethiops, the son of Vulcanus, of whome Aethiopia was named.

Aethiops, pis, and, Aethiolicus, ci, and Aethiopus, pi, a Mooyen.

✚ Aethiopoem laus, Thou wastest a Mooyen, Aethio, o Mooye: a prouerbe applied to hym that praeth a thing that is naught, or teacheth a foole wisdom. This prouerbe groweth of one that bought a Mooyen, and thinking that the blackenesse of his skynne happened by the negligence of his spyn matter: he cast ed not to walke the Mooyen continually with suche chynge as he thought would make him white. By whiche labour and wa-myng he so vexed the poore slaue, that he broughte him into a great sickenesse, his skyn remaining still as blacke as it was before.

Aethlius, the sonne of Iupiter, and father of Endimion.

Aethon, one of the hoxes of Iphibus.

Aethra, æ, the daughter of Pittheus, and mother of Theseus.

Aethraea, æ, the ſe nowe called Rhodes.

Aethria, æ, an ſe in the ſea Aegeum. Also a cites, called after Aethra.

Aethruſci, the olde inhabitants of the coun-trei in Italy, called nowe Tuscan.

Aethusa, an ſe in the ſea of Sicillie, of ſome called Aegufa.

Aetologia, a reherſing of the cauſe.

Aetires, a precious ſtone, founde in an Egles neſte, whiche hath with in it an other ſtone, as it were with younge, whiche maketh a ſounde, if the ſtone be taken. If the beale of a woman with childe do falle downe lowe, this ſtone, being hanged about the left arme, reteineth the childe. But if the womans time be come to trauall: than being taken awaie, and bounde to his thigh: the ſlaue forthwith deliuered without any paine. Also, if a piece of this ſtone be put into breade, or into a pyn-nyng, and geuen vnto one: if he be a thefe, it ſhall neuer go thynge he him: likewise the brother, wherein it is lodden, if a thefe, or theif that be of counſaile with hym, do take it: he noo they make not ſwalow ſe. Prepared with war and oyle of Egypte, it helpeth againſt the falling ſpokenſſe. In Corolario Hermolaus Barbarus ſaythe, that excepte this stone

Achilles taken out of his shield made a hard no victory to medicine.
Achius, was the name of one of Alexander's, whiche was borne a great victory, and a noble physician. Also of an invincible victor af-flewed, that nothing were it more to knowe.
Might he seemed to hym whatched forth. He survived immortallitie after Jesus, the year after the incarnation of Christe, 378.
Achia, is a marvellous hill in Sicilie; at the foote whereof is a little towne of the same name, and also woodes and trees of hures kynnes planted. On the topp thereof is a baraine ground, mist with ashest; and in the wynter tyme covered with snowe, and conteyneth in circuit, 20. furlonges; and is encompassed with a walke of stones of the height of a wall. In the middle is also a rounde hill of the same colour and matter, wherein bee
two greates holes, farreough like unto cypres, whiche be called Carrières. Out of these doo crysle sometimes surgyng greates flames of fyre.
sometime horrible smoke, somtymes are blowne out burning stones in infinite numbers. more over, before that the sated fyre appeareth, there is heard within the grounde, terrible noise and cogging. And also (whiche is most merveille) when the smoke and fyre is most abundant, and cleuent, yet sounde about the toppe of the said hill, are alwaies heard noise and hoie frodes. Byling without both the fyre appeareth alwaie at nyghte. This hill is now called Gibello monte.
✚ Achia againe, a myracle spoken of a thyng verraie painfull and venomous.
Acinax, a, um, of Acyas.
Acinus deus, Hylarite.
Acinel frater, the Cyclops.
Acinus pastor, Agrippemus.
Acinza tellus, Sicillie.
Aetolia, a region in Grece between Scarnante, and Iphocis.
Aetolus, or Aetolius, a man of Aetolia.
Aetolicus, a, um, of Aetolia.
Acutas, acutentes, age.
Aequum, longe, or eucliding tymes, also tymes,
age; sometime lyfe.
Arvo nostris acidit, is changed in our time.
Vive memor & si mal brevis, live haueing in mynde howe short thy life is here.
In æuum, for ever.
A condito xmo, from the begynnyng of the worlde.
Aequum securum agere, to lye without care
Aleurinum, that is made eternall.
Aelianus, the sonne of Capitane.
Aex, eggs, o rocks, wherof the sea Blegens was named.
Aexiones, a people of Aethica, notable for their ragyng and foule language.

Affere, a man borne in affliction.
Affabilis, i.e., a man easy to be spoken vnto.
Affabile, i.e., gracious in words, courteous and sweet in language.
Affabilitas, arie, gentleness in hearing, courtesy in speaking.
Affabiler, courteously, gently.
Affabre, cunningly, craftily, workmanly.
Affabrum, cunningly or craftily wrought.
Affanix, tedious, thynges of small estimation.
Affanum, abundant, euen to the full.
Tibi diuiniatur affanum est, Thou hast abundance of riches.
Affatus, spoken vnto.
Affatus, us, a talking or speaking to.
Affatus aliquid petere, to desyre to speake with one.
Affectare, curiously, with much diligence.
Affectatio, onis, curiositie, affectation.
Affectator, oris, one that dooeth affectate or counterfeite a thyng to curiositie.
Affectatus, a, um, affectate or to curiouse.
Affectata oratio, a curiouse fowme of speaking.
Affectio, onis, affection, sometyme trouble of mynde.
Firma corporis affectio, a good and strong disposition of the body.
Affecto, aui, are, to seke effectually, to desyre or couete a thyng earnestly.
Affectare regnum, to aspyre to a kyngdome by ambition.
Affector, aus sum, ari, idem quod affecto.
Affectus, us, affection of naturall motion, as gladnesse, desyre, and suche lyke. Sometyme synchensse.
Affectus, a, um, troubled or vexed, afflicted, disposed, affectioned, mused, also feable and sorrowfull.
Affectus pena, punished.
Affectus premio, rewarded.
Affecta, thynges almost finished or nigh at a point.
Affecta fides, credence almost loste.
Affecta aetas, somer wel nigh passed.
Affectum bellum, waeres nigh at a point.
Affectus morbo, fered with synchensse.
Affectus virginis, beaten with rebbes.
Cum sita sit animo affectus, sayng that ye be to mynde, or transfected to your mynde.
Cum satis a nobis beneficiis affectus sim, sayng that I haue had of greete benefites as yett hande.
Affectus desperationis, discouraged.
Affectum corpus, a bodye fered or vexed, sometyme out of temper.
Affectus populi, thes almost spent or wasted.
Affectus affectus, troublous inward.

Afficio, 'ers, attuli, ferre, to bring id, to profit by conture, to shewe of bypnce tybnyges, to allege of bypnce forthe a reason, authoritie, by such lyke.
Affero ad te salutem, I come to salute the.
Afferre auxilium, to helpe, to aide.
Afferre dentes, to byre.
Afferre manus, to set violent handes on one.
Afferre moleham, to do displeasure to one.
Afferre morbum, to make sicke.
Afferre pedem, to come.
Abite unde malum pedem attulisti, goe
hence, from whence with a mischief ye came.
Afferre vim alicui, to make assaute on one.
Attulit hunc, for Adduxi, I have brought this man.
Etus iustu huc me affero, at his commaund-ment I come hither.
Afferam vnum antiquitatis exemplum, I will bring forth one example of antiquitee.
Afferre in medium, to communicate with other.
Afferre accessionem, to augment a thing.
Quam causam afferam? what cause of excuse shall I allege?
Quidam compertum attulit, one brought certayne tybnyges.
Afferre delectationem, to delite.
Afferre idum alicui, to make one worse.
Afferre fidem alicui rei, to make a thyng to be belied.
Florem afferunt arbores, the trees bypnce forth blossoms.
Afferre meriam, to make negligent of sluggish.
Afferre manus sibi, to sita ones selfe.
Afferre memoriam, to put in remembrance.
Afferre odium alicui, to bypnce one in hate or displeasure.
Opinionem populo afferunt, they bypnce
the people in this opinion.
Afferre questionem, to moue a question.
Tibi nullam religionem attulit, he neuer pte-ned thy conscience.
Repulsam attulit hac res, this thyng was cause of his deniall.
Afferre sumptum alicui, to put one to coste.
Afferre vim virgini, to cause a maiden.
Afferitur, tybnyges is brought.
Afficio, eci, ere, to moue affection or disposition, either to good or euill, so muche that reason is therewith troubled and disquieted.
Afficere bonis nuntis, to bypnce good tybny-
ges. Vitibonis vos, vestrosq omnes, nuncis is me afficere vultis, as ye will, that I bring to you and yours good tybnyges.
Afficere cura, to bypnce in care.
Afficere lucro, to make one wyne of gaine.
Afficere stipendio, to paye wages.
Affictum letali vulnere, he gaue hym his deathes wounde.

Afficit me dolore, he maketh me fofte.
Afficit me gaudio, he maketh me glauie.
Affici, to be moued with affection.
Afficere corpus, to bypnce the bodye lowe, to make it feble or weak.
Afficere desiderio, to make desirous.
Affici exilio, to be banished.
Morte affici, to be flayne.
Regis nomine afficere, to calle one by the name of a hygne.
Afficere sepultura, to burie.
Affici admiratione, to be maruailed at.
Affici honore, to be had in great honore.
Afficere ignominia, to shaunder.
Affici iniuria, to be wronged.
Afficere incommodo, to endamage, or hurt.
Affici difficultatibus, to be in great perplexi-
tee or daunger.
Afficere errore mentis, to bypnce one into an erreure.
Affigo, xi, ere, to napte to, to fasten.
Affigere licras pueris, to make chylderne
hunne by herse, or hepe in memoie.
Affigere cruci, to crucifie.
Affigere terræ radicem, to take roots.
Affigi nostris animis, to be rooted in oure
myndes.
Affixus, a, um, fastned.
Affixus alicui tanquam magistro, cleauyng to one as to a master.
Quibus in rebus me sibi affixum habebit, in whiche matters I will not fail to stiche to hym, or be his companion.
Affictus, a, um, made, feigned, counterfeited.
Affictius, a, um, idem.
Affingo, finxi, gere, to make, to fowme, to seigne, or in seignyng to adde or applye to a thyng. sometyne to inuene a lye. sometyne to counterfalte.
Affingere mores hominum, to counterfalte
mens maners.
Affingere aliquid alicui, to lye, or make a lye on one, or speake of hym that is not true.
Affinis, ne, in fieldes betokeneth adioynnge,
in men it betokeneth aliaunce by marriage.
And by a metaphore, he that is parte taker
of any thyng, pteise to an officer, or accessory.
Affinis negotis publicis, he that meddeth with the affaires of a commonalte.
Affinis rei capitalis, gyltie of a greates ofafence, whiche deserueth death.
Affinis sceleris, gyltie of the trespass.
Affines esse eorum rerum, quas fert adolescentia, to be parte taker of those thynges, that youth despyeth or desisteth in.
Affinitas, atis, affinites, aliaunce.
Affinitate attingere, to be of aliaunce to one.
Affinitates iungere, to make aliaunces by marriage.

Affinitas

Afflicto, disrimere, to breake aydunces.
Affirmare, with affirmance.
Affirmatio, onis, affirmance.
Affirmatio, si, affirmans, sometyne confirmed.
Affirmo, aui, are, to affirme, sometyne to con-firme, or stabillise.
Affirmare se animo, to take a good courage.
Certum affirmare, to affirme for a suretie.
Affirmare asseueratione, to affirme certainly.
Afflatus, tus, a blaste.
Afflatus spiritus, diuine inspiratione.
Affleo, eui, ere, to wepe and lament feignedly.
Afflictio, onis, punishment of the bodie with stickenesse.
Afflictio, onis, and Afflictus, tus, affliction, trouble, aduersities.
Afflicto, aui, are, to torment ones selfe continually, to trouble, to vex of greue, to tolle and tumble, to byue to gerber: as Naves tempestas afflictabat, the tempest tolled a byoue
the shippes together.
De quibus acerbissime afflictor, for whiche thynges I am verate soye troubled and disquieted.
Afflicari morbo, to be greuously sicke.
Afflictor, oris, one that afflicteth or troubleth.
Afflictus, a, um, troubled, vexed, greued, afflicted, oppressed, and as it were cast to the grounde with aduersities.
Afflicta fides, credence decayd a almost lost.
Afflicta fortuna, aduersities, trouble.
Afflicta & prostrata virtus, vertue neglected and cast vnder foot.
Afflictis rebus, in aduersities.
Affligo, xi, ere, to throwe or beate downe to the grounde, to punish, to afflict, to vex, to trouble, to torment, to greue.
Affligam te ad terræ scelus, si me uno digi-tulo atigeris, I will beate the downe to the ground wythe, if thou touche me with one finger.
Affligere et debilitare animos meos, to trouble and discourage mens myndes with feare.
Affligit corpus senectus, olde age greueth and weakneth the bodie.
Affligere hominum mores, to impaire or corrupte the maners of men.
Affligere opes alterius, to spende and waste
an other mans goodes.
Affligere rem aliquam viuperando, by dispasse to make a thyng worse than it is.
Affligere se, to vex of torment ones selfe.
Affligi frigoribus, to be greued with colde.
Afflo, aui, are, to blowe to, to blowe wynde.
sometyne to spyl with wynde.
Afflari sydere, to be blasted, as floures of trees and coynes sometyne bene.
Afflauerat nescio quid rumoris, supple me,
a certayne byute of rumo, came to mine care.

Afflare alicui, to reuenge.
Sperat sibi auram posse aliquam afflari in hoc crimine, he trusteth that by the fauours of some person, he maye bee tolpen in this crime, that he is charged with all.
Afflari fulmine, to be stricken with lightening.
Afflari diuino spiritu, to be inspired of god.
Affluens, tis, abundans.
Affluentibus vndis barbaris, when the barbarous people came in great numbres on a nerye fede.
Bonitate affluens homo, a man of muche
honestie and good behauiour.
Affluens studij locus, a place where is mu-che exercise of learning.
Affluenter, abundantly.
Affluentia, æ, abundance.
Affluo, xi, ere, to slowe to, to ouerflowe, to abunde.
Affluit amor, loue creepeth, or slideth into a mann.
Nihil literarum ex istis locis affluxit, there came no letters frome those partes.
Affluere diuitijs, to abonde in rychesse.
Affodco, di, ere, to digge, or dige more ground to that we haue.
Affor, atus sum, ari, to speake to, to talke to,
to desire of treatate, to geue thankes: seldom or neuer used in the fyfte persons.
Affore, to be here or present.
Hanc affore biduo, that she be here withyn
these ii. daies.
Afforis, frome without, som saie it is no latin.
Afformido, aui, are, to be feare afraied.
Affrango, egi, ere, to breake by or nere to.
Affranus, a poste.
Affrica, æ, the thirde part of the worlde, where in is Carthage, Numbidie, and all the coun-treys now called Barbarie: and also the greates countrey called Ethiopia.
Affrica semper aliquid noui apportat, a pro-uerbe, applied to inconstant and wauerpyge persones, neuer contents with one state, but alwaies desirous of noueltees.
Affricans, alone, is taken for Danthers.
Affricans gallin, shude seeme to be the same,
whiche we calle Turkey cockes.
Affricanus, a man of Africke. Also the mooste noble capitaine of egipto was called Affricanus, because he subdued that countrey to the Romaines.
Affrico, ui, are, to rubbe against a thyng.
Affricus, tus, a rubbing against a thyng.
Affricus, is, tum, rubbed against a thyng.
Affricus, and, Affre, a, um, of Africke or of the southern wynde.
Affra aui, a byde of Africke. A prophecie spoken of them, whiche be notable for they drauing apparill, or els be verate fearefull and of faine courage.

Afflic

Affricus, cl, called also Lepus, the wynde south west and by west.

Affrio, au, are, to grate, of by cake smalle one thringe with an other.

Affulco, si, ere, to shyne againe a thynge.

Affo to happen with gladnesse.

Sardinia recipienda repentina spes refusa sit, a foddin hope for gylt hapned, that Sardinia shoulde be recovered.

Affando, di, ere, to shodde, of spynelle bycoure on a thynge, to shewe of renne by a place, as a quene nere to a towne. Sometime for Infancia, to powere in.

Affalus, a, um, prostrate, linge flatte on the earth, powred in, flowng by, shodde of spynelle byon.

Affalus remulo, linge prostrate bypon the grounde by the graue.

Alexander plurimis affusus opidis, Means der that reuenneth by many townes.

A fronte & a tergo, before and behynde. Sometime it is taken for a pouverbe applied to them, whiche do beholde thynge passed, with those thynge whiche maie happen. As to the tyme passed with the tyme to come.

A ANTE G.

AGa, an hill, out of whiche issueth the riuers Iarax and Euphrates.

Agabus, an hebrue name, whiche significeth in latine, ocusa, a tipe that destruction cometh. Also Festinus parus, the pleasant merche of the father. Of this name was a prophete in the tyme of the apostles, whiche propheted of an vnuerfall famine to come, and that satane shoulde be bounden and put in chaine.

Agap, a worde of hebrue, and maye be interpreted a solar in the uppermost part of the house. Of that name was a kynge of Amalech, the tallest of all men, whom Saul kynge of Jewes, roke in battaile and slewe him not, for whiche cause god was greuously displeased with him.

Agatocum, mentioned by Diodorides, freemeth by the description thereof to be the soote wodde, called nowe Lignum aloes.

Agamantes, people aboute Meotis.

Agamemnon, sonne of Atreus kynge of Mycenae, in the preparaciō of the Grekes against the Trojanes, for his wisdom and magnanimitee, was by the consent of all the Grekes, chosen to be their general capitaine. And accordyng to their expectation, he mozte nobly gouerned hym selfe, and that mozte puissant armpy, during the sieg of Troie, by the space of tenne yerres. But byng returned to his owne roynalte, and haupng with hym Cassandra, daughter to Priamus, kynge of Troie: his wyfe Clytemnestra, conspyng with Egisthus, with whome he had killed the aduoutre, caused her fated noble husbande to put on a garment, whiche had no luse one for his head: than Egisthus prepared for that purpose, while he was struggling therewith, strake him throughte with his swerde, and so slewe him. And thus that noble prince was shamefully murdered. He was afore the incarnation about. 1194. yerres.

Agamemnonis hostia, the sacrifice of Agamemnon, a pouverbe applied to them that be hardely perswaded to a thynge, of els forced by violence.

Agamere, es, a towne of the Ile Lesbos.

Agamemnor, a kynge of Athenes.

Agamus, mi, one that was neuer maried, a single man, a bachelor.

Agamuzia, a towne of Mece.

Aganippe, es, a fontaine in the countrey of Grece, called Monia, whiche was dedicate vnto the muses, wherof they be called Aganippides.

Agape, es, from gen. charitee, mutuall loue.

Agapenor, the gouernoure of Agamemnonis nauie.

Agapis, is a stone of the coloure of saffron, the vertu wherof is to cure the syngng of scorpions and serpentes, if it be leyd to the wound.

Agapius, a phisicion of Alexandria, and a philosopher of Athenes.

Agar, the maiden of Sara, on whome Abraham begatte Hinael.

Agareni, a people whiche were all destroyed by Saul kynge of Jewes. Also a people of Aethiopia nowe called Barasens.

Agaricum, a promontorie, nere to Meotis. It is also a kynde of myshyones growng on trees about Bosphorus.

Agarus, a ryuer of Sarmatia. Also a promontorie, and a citee of the same countrey.

Agasticles, a kynge of Lacedemon.

Agaso, omis, an hostler of mulestour.

Agasus, an haue in Duell.

Agasyrtus, the surname of Pittacus the philosopher.

Agatha, a citee in Prouince, belongng sometime to the Massilitenes.

Agathaneus, father to faire Idolymus.

Agatharchides, the name of an historiographer, and of a philosopher.

Agathirnum, a towne of Sicillie.

Agatho, the name of one of the sonnes of Idylamus. Also a bope whome Plato loued. Also a philosopher of Idyragoras Grece.

Agathocles, a kynge of Sicillie, whiche was the son of a potter, and by subtille witte and boldnesse of courage, grew by sundry dignities, at the last to be kynge. And than became such a tyrannus, that he slewe all the nobles, the the countessours, a learned man of Sicillie, and disposed at the spech men. Finally, byng attached in all the partes of his body, with incredible tormentes, and a pestilential humour, trempng all his newes: he continuagge longe tyme in such peines, at the last died.

Agathocles, is also the name of a Greke capitaine, the sonne of Epistarchus.

Agathopolis, a citee in France called Montpelier.

Agathusa, an isle.

Agathyrsum, a towne in Sicillie.

Agathyrus, one of the sonnes of Hercules, whiche dwelled in a part of Scythia, and called the people after his name Agathyrus, whiche in such wise painted their selues, that the coloure might not by any meanes be washed or putte awaye. And therfore they were called Picti Agathyrus. And some men suppose, that the ancient inhabitants of the southe partes of Scotlande, tokyng to the marches of Englands, whiche were called Picti, were of the fated people, called Agathyrus.

Agave, es, the daughter of Cadmus, whiche slewe hir son Pentheus, because he contempned the drunken feast called Bacchanalia.

Agauri, a people of the nothe partes of the world.

Agauus, one of the sonnes of Idylamus.

Agbatana, the citee commonly called Egbatana, or, Ecbatana.

Agathis, the Grekes feigned to be a diuell, comen of the seeds of Jupiter, whiche felle from hym when he slept, who had the members bothe of man and woman: of whom other diuels bepage afearde, did cutte of the mans instrument, and thus it awate, wherof did spryng an aluonde tree, and brought forth almondes whan time serued. It is also an hill, at the foote wherof standeth the citee Idessinus.

Age, go to, take hede.

Age age, well well.

Age age, vrluber, well go to, as pe list.

Age dicar, lette hym speake on, lette hym speake hardly.

Age, & agite, go forth, soothly on, or tell on.

Age sis, go to hardly.

Agedum, go to per.

Age porro, wel go to: well, suppose it be so.

Age iam, age nunc, go to now.

Age sane inquam, well, I am content.

Agite dum, idem quod agite.

Agea, a wate in a Myse.

Agecidamus, a familliar wylle.

Agedidum, otherwys called Agendium, the citee of Sens in France.

Agelastus, he that dothe neuer laughe, also sad, soleine, watwarde.

Agallus, a little speide.

Agema, a compaignie of soldiers.

Agema, oris, a kynde of Phoenicia, counte of Belus, and father of Europa (whom Jupiter rauished) and of Cadmus, who builded the citee of Thebes. Also the son of Antenor.

Agenorides, a, um, of Ageno.

Agenorides, Cadmus the son of Ageno.

Ager, gri, a speide. Sometime it significeth a territory, belonging to a towne, wherin are included, fieldes, meadowes, woodes, and waters, sometime a manour with the dze means. Sometime the arable fildes onely.

Agri cultio, and cultura, the tillage of the earth.

Agros alienos irrigas, tuis srientibus, A pouverbe spoken of them that be diligente in other mens matters, and let thei owne slepe. It is applied also to aduocaters.

Ageraton, an herbe like to organie. It handleth high: the sauerie wherof, whan it is byosed, poureth brine.

Agerochus, the counte of Belus.

Agerona, the goddess of Industre & diligence, Agelias Cyrenaisius, a philosopher, who to: lomeus forbadde to teache in any schole, because that in peefwadyng the immortalitye of the soule, he caused man to fira thei selues.

Agelias, kynge of Lacedemonie, from his childehode was of excellent vertues, as in trouthe, iustice, temperance, noble courage liberalitee, and continence. wherfore he was so muche honoured, and prospered so well: that he subdued to the Lacedemonians, innumerable citees and countreys in Asia, and Grece. whan one demanded a thynge of him, whiche was vnusall, sayng, that he had promised it: he answered: If it were iuste, I promised it: but if it were vnusall: I spake it, but I promised it not. Whan the Lacedemonians had giuen vnto him the treasure of Agis, whiche was kynge before him: he incontinent byd distribute it to them, whom he knewe poorest. Whan it was demanded, why he laye no rycher than a private person, he answered: a prince ought to excell other men in temperance, and moderate lyeuyng, and not in helthete. He spake with no woman, excepte his wyfe, but eithre in the temple, or elles afore all men, thynnyng those. It places to be worde of suspicion: the one for holynesse, the other for wisdom.

Agelinares, a people of Aquitaine.

Agellipolis, a capitayne of Lacedemonie.

Aggemio, ul, ere, loks Adgemo.

Agger, kris, a heape of stones or courtse, also a bulwoke, or a countermure to a fortresse or campe in batayle. Sometime it significeth a caultry. Also bankes to kepe in the water of epners. sometime a dicke.

Aggero, aui, are, to heape up, and by a metaphor, to augment and aggrauate a matter.
Aggero, si, ere, to lap on an heape, also to bring to one. sometime to beare of care.
Namq; acaitor, amor & melle & felle est succundissimus, gustu dat dulce, amarum vsq; ad facietatem aggerit: For in good faisth, loue hath aboundance bothe of home and galle, in taste it is pleasant, but it bringeth with it bitterness, so much, that it becometh toshome.

Aggestus, an heape.

Aggeus, a worde of hebrue, in englishe merye, solempne, or compassing. It was the name of a prophete, one of the xii. that prophesied in the tyme of Zorobabell, hpng of the iewes. about .550. yeres before the incarnation of Christ.

Agglomeratio, aui, are, to make by on an heape, by adding to. sometime, to please and gather thicke to gether, as soundbours dooe in theyr rate in battaile.

Agglutino, aui, are, to solne together, to glue, also to feulder.

Aggrauatio, onis, a grese of burden.

Aggrauatio, scire, to waye more greuous of heauie.

Aggrauo, aui, are, to be burdalous, or chargeable, also to aggrauate, or make a thing more greuous.

Aggredi, sus, sum, edi, to go to, to come to, to invade, to assaile, to begynne or enter into a matter, to attempte or set in hande with any thyng, to geue assaile.

Aggredi aliquem de re aliqua, to go to talke with one for any matter.

Aggredi aliquem, to sette on one with purpose to begyle him: as, latine agitis mecum? thus adute aggreddimmi, doos ye handle me after this sorte? ye assaile me craftily enough in dedde.

Aggrego, aui, are, to gather to gether.

Aggressio, an assaile.

Aggressus, idem quod aggressus.

Agilus, a ritte.

Agilis, non doctus lous.

Agilis, le, nimble, light, lieger.

Agilitas, ans, nimbleness, dexteritee.

Agiliter, nimble, lightly quick, quickely, nescit.

Agilla, or Agylla, an olde towne in Thuscane.

Agma, that wher in the beame of a peyre of bal lance is hanged.

Aginator, onis, he that is meued with a litle game.

Agnor, aus sum, ari, to marchaundise velle thyngs of small value.

Aginum, the towne of Angouleme in France.

Aglographa, bohes of holy scripture.

Agis, the sonne of Euristhenes, and kynge of Lacedemonians: whom they slewe because he woulde haue redressed agayn the lawes of Eurergus.

Agitabilis, le, that maye be easily meued, stirred, or shaken.

Agitatio, meuyng, or stirring, also exercise.

Agitator, oris, a disturber of a rest, or of beasts.

Agitatus, a, um, meued, seared, tossed, exercised, troubled, disquieted, vexed.

Agito, aui, are, to moue, to make, to tolke, to gouerne or guide, to dwelle or liue in a place, to reuolue, imagine, or cast in ones mynde, to intreate well, to go, to do often, to pynche, to compell, to trouble, to persecute, to vex, to consider, to sollicite.

Iam calcari quadrupedem agitato aduersum clium, Rowe with I with the spurre make my horse renne by the hilt.

Agitare conuiuium, to banquet or make good chere.

Age igitur, hoc agitemus conuiuium, uino & sermone suau. Therfore go to, lette vs banquet, drinke, talke, and make good chere.

Agitare custodiam, to take good heede in keeping of one.

Agitare cum animo, to reuolue in the mynde.

Agitare diem, to passe forth the daie.

Agitare feras, to course wylde beasts.

Agitare imperium, to gouerne.

In pace vero beneficijs magis quam metu, imperiū agitabant, In the tyme of peace they gouerned more by gentleness, than by feare.

Agitare iustitiam, to exercise iustice.

Agitare laticiam, to make tope.

Agitare mente, to conceiue in the mynde, to thynke.

Agitare presidium, to be in garison.

Agitare vigilias, to kepe watche.

Agitare vitam, to liue.

Agitare xuum, to liue.

Agitare cæus noctu, to make vniuersall assemblies in the night.

Agitare consilia, to consulte.

Agitari diuersum, to be so troubled, that he is now in one mynde, and now in an other.

Agitare fugam, to flee.

Agitare ingenium, to exercise the witte.

Agitare moras, to dyspasse forth the tyme.

Agitare rem aliquam sermonibus, to debate or talke of a matter.

Agla, a towne in Boetugale.

Aglaia, one of the three graces, whiche is interpreted, brightnesse, cleerensse, beaurie, pleasure, or macthesse.

Aglaia, idis, the daughter of Megacles, notable for her glouetous.

Aglaonice, a woman verie cunning in astro nomie.

Aglaope, one of the three mermaidens.

Aglaos

Aglaophon, a famous pefecter.

Aglaophion, an herbe whiche for the beautiful colour thereof was so called.

Aglaipis, the name of a legion of soundbours amonge the Romanes.

Aglauros, was daughter to Erechtheus, kynge of Athenes, whome Quibus feigneth to be turned (by Mercury) into a stone.

Aglaus Plophidius, a man, whiche by the oracle of Apollo, was iudged more happye than the grete kynge Erges.

Aglithes, clowes of garliche.

Agmen, inis, an hoste of men, sometime a violence, a course of water, sometime mouyng, also a multitude.

Agminalis, le, pertaining to an hoste.

Agnaſcentia, & agnata membra, members, whiche are superfluous: as where one hath three legges, or, vi. fingers on one hand, and other lyke.

Agnaſtor, aus sum, ſci, to bee boyne after his fathers testament is made.

Agnaſtor, hynſon of the fathers lyde.

Ad agnatos & gentiles deducti, to bee committed to his kinſfolke, as made men were by the lawe of iſta: wherof was made a pſouerbe, applied to them, that doo all thynges madly and without circumspection.

Ad agnatos, & gentiles deducantur.

Agnaſtor, onis, hynſed by the fathers lyde.

Agnaſtor, a, um, that whiche is in by the more than the common course of nature vſeth to bypasse forth.

Agnellus, a ponge lambe.

Agni cornu, a pmonitory nere to the mouthes of Nilus, called Wolbiticum.

Agnicis, a riuier rennyng into Egitus.

Agnes, the surname of Aſculapius.

Agnitio, onis, knowlage.

Agnitus, a, um, known.

Aguo, one of Jupiters nurres.

Aguomen, the surname that one obteyneth for any acte, or by other means.

Agnoſco, noui, ſcere, to knowe, to recogniſſe, or knowlage.

Agnoſcere debitū, to acknowledge and take vpon hym the charge of an other mans duſtie.

Agnoſcere nomina, idem.

Agnoſco ex me, I gather by my ſelfe.

Agnos, is a tree, whiche is a kynde of willow, and is commonly called Agnus castus, in engliſhe parthe leaues: it hath leaues like to willows, but that they be alwaies greene, and hath not ſo ſmall a ſmell: and floures ſyſt purple, and ſometimes white, and a ſeede like pepper.

There is another kynnd thereof, whiche hath more braynches, and leaues whiter, and ſome what moſt, and the floure purple.

Bothe of them do growe about riuers.

It is called Agnos, whiche is an engliſhe

thaſt, for it is ſayed, if a man or woman haue it about theyr, or vnder theyr beddes, it ſhall kepe theym chaſte.

Agnus, a lambe.

Agog, egi, ere, to do, to accuſe, to heare of geue care, to dyspasse, to expell, or pynche out, to goe uene, to moue or wagge, to ſpenke, to vex and diſquiet, to force or purſue, to thraſte or caſt downe by violence, to pynche or ſtre, to repreſent, to ſpene a byode, to pynche, to goe or reuene, to treat of a thyng, to ende uoure of labour, to be attendant or diſigent, or wholly bent or fixed to a thyng: as, Hoc age, take heede and ſette thy mynde on this thyng, or be wholly bent or fixed to it.

Alias res agle, his mynde is on other matters.

Vnde agis te nunc Dorpale? from whence comest thou now Dorpalus?

Agere atatem, to liue.

Agere ad preſcriptum, to do as he was appointed.

Agere ambages, to go aboute the buſhe, or to tell a longer tale than nebeth.

Agere aliquid, to purſue one.

Agere amicum, to do lyke a frende, or playe the parte of a frende. lyke wyſe, Agere patrem, fratrem, ciuem, iudicem, regem, conſulem. &c.

Agere apologum, to telle a fable.

Agere animam, to be at the poynt of death.

Agere cauſam, to plead.

Agere cauſam, to wagge the taile.

Agere conuentus, to holde a parliament.

Agere cuniculos, to vndermine.

Agere cum aliquo, to treat or ſpeake with one

Cum mecum ſape ageres, vt de amicitia ſcriberem, where oftentimes thou diſt intreat, that I ſhoulde wiſe of frendeſhippe.

Illo preſente mecum agito, ſiquid voles, If thou wilt any thyng with me: ſpeake it in the preſence of this man.

Agere diris malis, to curſe.

Agere de pace, to treat of peace.

Agere deſectum, to choſe men, as in muſters for the warre.

Agere equum, to ſpurre the horſe.

Agere inſidias, to do a thyng by treaſone or marſhall policie.

Agere ex ſponſo velle ſponſu, to bypasse an action of couenant.

Agere ex ſyngrapha, to bypasse an action of dette vpon an obligation.

Agere fabulam, to playe in a comedie, tragedie, or enterlude.

Agere frondem, to put out leaues: ſpoken of a tree.

Agere furri, to appeale one of felonie.

Agere gemmas, to bougen.

Agere inter homines, to liue.

Agere inſularum, to ſue one for treſpasse or wronge in longes done.

Agere lege, to sue, to procede by the order of the lawe.

Agere mensuras fideliter, to measure thynges truly.

Agere morem, to vse for a custome.

Agere nugas, to mocke, to trifle.

Agere orationem, to pronounce an oracion.

Agere penam ab aliquo, to punishe one.

Agere primas partes, to be the chiefe persons.

Agere radicem, to take roote.

Agere rem, to sue one in the lawe.

Agere summum iure, to procede with rigour.

Agere suo iure, to execute his auctoritee.

Agere vineas, to appoche to the wallies of a towne, defended with the ordinaunce of war, by a similitude, called vines.

Agere viginti annu, he is .20. yerres olde. Pectus meum nunc agit cubito, he hitteth me on the breast with his elbowe.

Quo hinc te agis? whether wylte thou?

Agunt adolescentia, they be in theyr yowthe.

Agis rem adiam, thou leasest thy laboure, the thyng is done to thy hande.

Agit rem suam, he goth about his owne busynesse of profite.

Agit hic perpetuum diem sol, the sonne shyneth here all the daye longe.

Agitur de capite, aut de fama, he is in daunger of his lyfe or of his credence.

Bene mecum agitur, I am well at ease, or I am in good conditio, or I am well delite with all.

Agitur res capitis, the question of the matter in debate concerneth lyfe and deathe.

Hec me agis an non? dost thou herken, or geue care to me, or no?

Enne plus de quo agebam? is this he that I spake of?

Ad omne scelus mentes illorum agit, hee dothe facie and stee theyr myndes to all mischies and naughtynesse.

Aggi omnes illos adolescentes, I represented all those yonge men.

Agere pecora, to dresse cattell.

Agere bellum, to make warre.

Bene agere cum aliquo, to handle or treat a man honestly.

Agere circum, to turne rounde.

Agere contagia late, to sprede the infectio on farre abjode.

Nihil ago tecum, I haue nothyng to doo with the.

Agere hortatione, to exhort.

Agere precibus, to praye or intreate.

Agere seuerè, graunter, remisse, leniter, vrbane, secure, &c.

Agere curam, to care for.

Agid delictis alicuius rei, to be vexed with the delict of any thyng.

Agere diem festum, to kepe holy daye.

Agere forum, to dectise matters.

Agere gradus iactos, to go softly.

Dies agi in terra, in the date tyme he is on the lande.

Agere in cruce, to crucifie or hange vp.

Agere in exilium, to banyshe.

Agit mecum fortuna, fortune fauoreth me.

Agitur mensis septimus, this is the seuenth monthe.

Non multum egerit, he shall not muche profite.

Agere secretum, to be alone.

Agere spumas ore, to frothe at the monthes.

Agere silentium, to kepe silence.

Agitur gloria populi Romani. Agitur salus socioru. Aguntur certissima vestigia, hoc est, Agitur de gloria, de salute, de vestigiis.

libus, The questioun, controuersie, or contention is of or concerning these thynges.

Agoge, ces, the name of a citie.

Agoge, pites, or dykes where into water voydeth.

Agolum, a stalle to byue cattell with.

Agon, agonis, a contention in fouere of battails, or a waydyng. Also the place where it was exercised. Also the name of a man.

Agonalia, or Agonales dies, certayne festiuales daies kepte amonge the Romanes.

Agonax, the master of Sordaster.

Agonensis porta, a gate at Rome called also Colina.

Agones, were sometyme called hilles.

Agones, among the Romanes were they that killed the beastes to be sacrificed. and made be applyed piously to them which longe consule, and yet enterpryse nothyng.

Agonia, a, feare and heauynesse, or vexation of mynde. Also sacrifice done on hilles.

Agonis, idis, a woman of Lilybæa.

Agonisma, the rewarde of victorie.

Agonista, a champion.

Agonius, was named a god, whiche had pishemence ouer thynges to be done.

Agonizo, auis, are, to contende, to fyght valiantly.

Agonotheta, a, or Agonothete, tes, mas, ge, he that maketh a common game, and payeth the rewarde to them that do winne it.

Agoracrit, a famous caruer, or image maker.

Agoræus, a market man, an haunter of markets or faires.

Agoræus, was an image of Mercury, whiche was in Phariæ of Achaia: set in the middle of the market place, out of whiche the buyers haue answers in foure fotowpnyng.

Before the feere of the idole was an altar of stone, wherinto were bounden with leade certain lambs of byasse, by the same same same same same same same same

same same for an answer, haunred frankincense on the altar, and made his prayers, and after poynted vpon the lampre, and dydde put into the holles hande a stee of money of that countre, whiche was of byasse, and than secretly whyspered in the priestes eare, what to eue he woulde demaunde, and forth with coppyng his owne eares, went out of the market place, and than opened his eares.

And what voyce so eue he herde spake, he toke it for a sure counsaile in all thynges that he woulde dooe.

Agoræus panis, breade solde in markettes.

Agoranomis, he that setteth the pryce of victayle, a rather, or a clerke of the market.

Agradatus, a kynge of Persia, called after Cyrus.

Agæa, a place withoute the citie of Athens, dedicate to Ceres, also a kynd of soulesoure, and a towne of Arcadie.

Agagas, an hyl in Sicilie compassed with a wall, in the toppe wherof, standeth a towne called also Agigentum.

Agagantinus, a, um, of Agagas.

Agani, a great citie of Mesopotamia, destroyed by the Persians.

Agaria lex, a lawe made for the common distribution of landes, as oure statutes bee of iurisdiction and decaying of husbandry, but amonge the Romanes they were suche lawes as dyd appoynt howe muche land a senatorie shoulde haue, and not excede, and how much shoulde be deuised amonge the people.

Agarius, a, a landed man. Also he that fauoreth suche lawes as be made for the ordering of possessions.

Agarius, a, um, pertypynge to landes of possessions.

Agrestis, te, wylde, growen without culture. Also he that is rude and beastly without gentle maners.

Agria, a, a kynde of scabbes, whiche of course breaketh out euery yere, and is verie harde to be healed, also a soye whiche cannot be cured by any surgerie.

Agriantia, a, a wylde thoyne.

Agicola, a, an husbände man.

Agriolator, oris, the same.

Agriolatio, onis, tillage, or husbandry.

Agrikultor, oris, an husbände man.

Agrikultura, husbandy.

Agrigentinus, a, um, of the towne of Agisgentine.

Agrigentum, a, um, in Sicilie, whiche the Grekes doo call Agrikem, and the countreye Acragen. The people there buyded sumptuously, and fedde delicately. And therefore Plato sayed of them in booke: The Agrigentines dydde buyde as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare, and dyd eate as they shoulde alway

spare. Of this citie the prince is habite, the moste gentle and mercifull of whome shall be spoken in the next booke.

Agri, a people called also Dymolgi.

Agrimonia, a, an herbe called commonly in englyshe Agrimony, and is the right Eupatorium, as it appereth as well by the description of Dioscorides, as by the affirmance of Parnadius, Antonius Musa, and other most excellent physicians of this tyme. The decoction of this herbe, or the poultre thereof dyed, is an excellent remedy agaynst the opplacions of the lyuer by reason of flegme.

It is hotte in the fyfte degree, and drye in the seconde.

Agriocardium, an herbe.

Agriodor, one of Acteons houndes.

Agrionia, orum, the fountes of Dionysius, celebrat amonge the Grecians.

Agriophagi, a people in the west part of Ethiopia, whiche true only by the fleshe of panthers and lyons.

Agripalma, a, an herbe called also Calceopsis, in englyshe Archangel.

Agripentes, a people of Bithynia.

Agripeta, a, he that doeth after his porcion in division of landes.

Agrippa, a, was the name of sundry kynges, of whome one was moste excellent, the sonne of Aristobolus, whiche was by Tiberius, the emperor called in pylon, and afterwarde deliuered by Caligula, who made hym kyng of Jewes, settinge a crowne of golde on his head, and for his chayne of yron, gaue hym a chayne of golde of the same weight.

And beynge retourned in to his countreye, at the fyfte he lyued honourably, and dydde many good deedes. But at the laste, beynge eleuate in pryde, and sufferinge hym selfe to be honoured and wondered at as a god, he was suddenlye stricken by an angel, and in the presence of an infinite number of people, he was with his bodye spelled, and woundes pyned out thereof, with intolerable pynnes and horrible stench.

In the whiche toumentes he looked vpon his flatterynge counsaillours and seruantes, and sayed: Lo, I whome you called a god, am nowe in the pynnes of deathe. And in this wyse he dyed, whan he was of age. lxxx. yerres.

Agrippa, they whiche bee boine with theyr feete forwarde.

Agrippias, adis, a citie, called befoze Antiochia.

Agrippina, the daughter of the noble Germanicus, wyfe to Caligula, by whome she was abused. She was first married to Domitius, by whome she had Nero. After the deathe of Domitius, she was married to Agrippinus, whom whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whom

whome, with his sonne Dittamius, he possessed, to the intent to make his sonne Nero emperor. But his falsehood, abominacion, and crueltie, was not lesse unpunished, for soone after, his owne sonne Nero, not withstanding that he toygned his with hym in equal auctoritie, and as some men supposed, abused his carnally, haunged him in most mortall hate, caused him to bee moste cruelly slain.

Agrippina, mother to the said Agrippina, was daughter of M. Agrippa, and wife to Germanicus, whom Tiberius: by the commandement of Octavian, hadde declared to bee his heire apparant to the empire. And not withstanding, was after poisoned by consent of Tiberius, for whose deathe the said Agrippina tooke such heaupnesse, that she determined to dye, by absteyning from meate. And not withstanding, that the Emperours caused meate to be putte into his throte: she would not receyue it, but in that voluntarie abstynence finally dyed.

Agrippina Colonia, the citee of Colegne in Germany.

Agrius, a verat pleasaunt and holisome herbe used much amonge the Egyptians.

Agnus, the nephew of Mars. Also the sonne of Ulisses by Circe.

Agon, a kynge of Elisiria. also a famous physician of Athens.

Aguntii, people of Aguntum.

Aguntum, a towne in Sicilie.

Aguntum, looke Agyrini.

Agueus, the surname of Apollo.

Agyla, a towne of Chalcians, called after Cate.

Agylleus, a mysslar, exceedynge greatte of bebrt.

Agyni, or Agyrinenfes, people of the citee in Sicilie, called Agurum, or Agyrum.

A ANTE H.

AH, a voyce of lamentynge or sorrowynge, but it is sometyne applied to other affectione.

Ahenum, a pot to heate dyneke in. also a great vatte, wherin purple is dyed.

Ahenus, a vesselle of whyte glasse or copper, whiche is bypghte bothe within and withoute.

Ahera, a citee of Hetruria.

Aheneus, or Ahenus, a, um, is of poetes taken for Aeneas, byasen, or of byasse: And by a metaphoze stronge, harde.

Ahu, an Interfection of one that is troubled.

A ANTE I.

AIX, the sonne of Chelamone by Hecabe, daughter of Leomedon king of Troie, was the strongest man of all the Grekes next to Achilles: but after Achilles was slayne, Aiax contendynge with Ulisses for the armour of Achilles, and Ulisses by force of eloquence, obtayning (of the judges) sentence on his parte, became madde. And in his fury slawe many beastes, supposynge them to be Ulisses and his company. There was also another Aiax, sonne of Oileus, and kynge of Locrenes in Grece, who was wonderfull wyse and experte in handling a speare. This man whan Troie was sacked, dyd violate the noble virgin Cassandra, in the Temple of Pallas. Wherefore, as he returned homewards, on the sea, he and his Myppes were bourned with lightenyng. He was before the incarnation. 1190. yeres.

Aigleues, wyne that is alwaie muste.

Ailoth, was a citee in Judea, builded by Ozias, kynge of Jewes.

Ain for aine: is it as thou sayest?

Ain vero eadem.

Aio, ais, ait, I saye, thou sayest, he sayth, aiune, they saye.

Aioth, the seconde Judge of the Hebrewes. A man of great strengthe, and valiant of courage, and had equal strengthe and aptnesse in bothe handes. He slawe Eglon kynge of Moabites by this meanes. whan Eglon had longe warred on the Jewes, and taken frome them dyvers citees, and kepte them in muche myserie: this Aioth came to hym to Hierico, bypynge vnto hym certayn pyntes, whiche lyked hym well, and desired to speake with hym pryvily, whiche was graunted. And all other beyng commaundered to auoyde: Aioth strake Eglon to the herte twyse. The laste yme with such puissance, that the knyfe with the pylles remayned in the wounde. And so leaung hym deade, departed withoute suspicon, and came vnto his people, declareynge what he hadde dooen. who beyng gladde, armed them, and fell vpon the Moabites, and slawe of them tenne thousande, and byaun all the resydewe oute of theyr countre. And so the Jewes, beyng deliuered by the wysdome and vertue of Aioth, after made hym theyr Judge or prynce, who gouerned them fower score yeres prayly, and dyed a verat olde manne, in muche honoure, before the Incarnation of Christ. About a thousande, thye hundred, nynty and nyne yeres.

Aia-

Aluga, or rather Abiga, idem quod Chalmepatis.

Aluaminij, for aduocate.

Aius, was supposed amonge the Romaynes to be god.

Aizoon, an herbe called also Semper vnum, Barba iouis, & Sedum, in englyshe singreene or housejerke. There bee thereof three kyndes, the greater, factoned lyke to a roundeounge, growynge theke together (the leaues theke and fulle of wyche) on howles or walles. The lesse (called in latyne Vermicularis, or Muris cauda) hath littell rounde leaues and theke: And is called in englyshe pylche madame. The thyrde is called Portulaca sylvestris, wyche pourcelane: Cuspeche of them bee colde in the thyrde degree.

A ANTE L.

Ala, la, a wyng of a byrde, and a wyng of a battayle, whiche is propre of hoysmen.

Sometyne a sayle of a Myppe. also that part of the eare that is open. Whoeuere Ala bee the noseyll.

Ala, is the pynton of the Mulder of a beest: It is also the arme pytte. And in herbes the holownesse betwene the bottome of the leafe and the stalk.

Ala sagitta, the fethers of an arrowe.

Ala hirsuta, heary arme pyttes.

Alas alicui addere, a prouerbe signifying to encourage a man with wordes, or to put hym in hope of a thyng.

Alaba, ba, a citee of Spayne.

Alabanda, da, a citee in Grece, in the countre of Jonia.

Alabandes, and Alabandici, people of Alabanda.

Alabandicus, and Alabandiacus, a, um, of the citee Alabanda.

Alabandina, na, a redde stone myxt with blue, it prouoketh bledynge.

Alabandus, the god that the people of Alabanda wooshipped.

Alabarches, he that hath the rule ouer salt, and amonge the Egyptians it was a noble man.

Alabastr, and Alabastrus, stri, masc. gen. a vessell made of alabastr, to kepe swete oymentes in.

Alabastrus, is also vsed for the greene leaues that couer the rose budde. It is also a kynde of Colte.

Alabastrum, a citee in Egypte.

Alabastrum, or Alabastrites, alabastr.

Alabastrites, is also a piousse stone of diuers colours, myngled with whyte.

Alabenfes, or Alabonenses, people of the citee of Alaba.

Alabern, sythe that hied in the ryuer Aslus.

Alabon, idem quod Alaba.

Alabys, one of the chiefest riuers of Sicilie.

Alacer, alacris, ere, quick of spyrtes, or of wit, full of courage, myrr, and he that lyueth in hope, whiche that is in a meane betwene gladd and wyse. Sometyne it betokeneth a man, ready or willing. Therof cometh Alacris, redynesse or promptnesse of will, also frequentnes of myrre.

Alacer animo sum, I am despyous.

Alachroa, a people called also Lorophagi.

Alaci, a towne of Sicilie.

Alacre, promptly, courageously, gladly.

Alacritas, atis, cherefulness, courage.

Alaciter, idem quod alacre.

Ala, arum, a citee in Sicilia.

Alala, a towne of Sicilie.

Alalcomenium, a towne of Brottia.

Alalia, a citee of the plande of Cyprus.

Alaniticus, a goulfe of the redde sea.

Alana, a citee of Ethiopia.

Alani, people of Scythia, nygh to the ryuer

After of Danubius.

Alania, a region of Scythia in Europe, whiche stretcheth to the great fenues of Moosis.

Alante, a citee of Archadie, an other of Macedonia.

Alanus, the ryuer of Scythia, wherof the people called Alani, toke their name.

Alapa, pa, a blowe or stroke with the hande.

Alapathus, thi, an herbe called also Lapathum, and Rumex, foyell.

Alapeni, a people of Beahie.

Alaricus, kynge of Gothes, besteged Rome, and bourned it, in the yere of our Ioyde. 408.

In whiche siege suche famine was in the citee, that the mothers were constrained with hunger to eate theyr owne chyldrene. There was also an other Alaricus, which was banquished by Clodoues, kynge of Fraunce, the yere of oure Ioyde. 238. In whose tyme the parte of Fraunce, called Gallia Narbonensis, and all Spayne, were in the possession of the Gothes.

Alaris, re, and Alarius, a, um, of or pertaining to the wyng.

Alarij equites, hoysmen, whiche are in the wynges of a battayle.

Alastor, one of the hoyses of Pluto. Also the name of a companion of Sarpodon, kynge of Lycia, whome Ulisses slawe at the siege of Troie.

Alata, ta, a citee of Beahie.

Alaternus, ni, form. gen. a tree that moue beareth fruite or seeds.

Alatium, a towne of Syracusa, called also Clatium.

Alatium, a citee of Campanie.

Alatrinates, a people of Campanie.

Alatus, a, um, wynged.

Alata castra, a citee in Scotlande, called Edinburgh, or the castell of maydene.

Alauda, dr, a lark. It was also the name of one of the legions of the Romans.
 Alaudium, di, a name of appealing.
 Alaura, a towne in Bysayne.
 Alauri, two epuers in Bysayne.
 Alauri, a people in Bysayne.
 Alauri, people of the bettermoste parte of the north.

Alazon, onis, a eyre that disueth Albania from Iberia, and renneth into the river Cyru.
 Alazonia, f, arrogancy, pride.

Alba, ba, a cite nigh to Rome, whyche was builded by Ascanius, sonne of Aeneas. There was an other cite in Lumbardy called Alba. In Spayne an other called Argao. Alba is also a eyre in Spayne.

Alba Aemilius, a mans name.

Alba Heluorum, a city of Rarion in France.
 Albana, a cite in Trebie.

Albanenses, were certayne heretikes, in the pere of our lordz. 1120. This secte helde sundry heresies. One was, that the soule of man after his death, was putte into an other bodye. Another, that baptisme was of none efficacy. The thyrde, that there were two goddis, one good, and an other euill. And that of the good god pceded good thynges, and of the euill god, euill thynges. The fourth, that in hell were none other paynes than bee in this worlde. The fyfte, that the generall iudgement is passe, and that there is none to come. The sixte, that it is not lesse full for any man to sweare. The seventh, that man hath no freewill, called in latine Librum arbitrium. The eight, that the matter wherof the worlde was made, was not made of god, but is coeternal with god. The ninth, that there is no originall synne, and that chylde be not boyn in originall synne. Also that synne cometh not of freewill: but of the dyuell. The tenth, they denied, that the bodye shoulde estioones ayle at the day of iudgement. The leuente they abieted all the olde testament as a vayne thyng, and of none auctoritee.

Albani, people of Alba in Italy.

Albania, is a countrey in Asia, haupnge on the east the sea Caspium: on the weste Iberia, on the north the hylls Caucasus. The people there were first poore and simple, and lrued as shepherdes, not haupng knowlage of moneye, nor of any numbys aboute one hundred, but lruynge by exchange, not knowynge weyghte, measure, nor husbandrye, and yet ready in warres. And honoured for goddis the sonne and the moone, haupng amonge them (as Strabo wyrteth. xxi. languages. Of these people are supposed to come the Albanos, that dwell in Mozen, sometime called Peloponnesus, whyche bee nowe vnder the Turkes.

Albanus, a Ryuer not farre from the cite of Rome. also the name of wyne. cilles, one in Macedonia, the other in Armenia.

Albanus, a, um, of Albane in Italy.

Albani patres, the senators of Alba.

Alba Pompeia, a cite in Italy.

Albarium, ri, the parget of a walle.

Alba spina. Serapio supposeth to bee that, whyche the Arabians calle Bedeguar. Some thynke the contrary, and that it is a bymble, growynge in hedges and dykes, haupnge flowers whyte, and of good sauour. Some suppose it to be a kynd of thysle, square and full of pyches.

Albatenus, a lerned man, that translated Celsus into the Arabian tongue.

Albatus, a, um, whyted, or apparayled in whyte.

Albedo, albedo, albor, whitenesse.

Albegmina, a parte of the Inwardes of beares, whyche was offered to Dis, called god of helle.

Albenes, people of Alba in Lumbardy.

Albeo, ui, ere, to bee whyte.

Albesco, ui, scere, to be whyte, or waxe whyte.

Albeus, and Albeolus, a chesse board, after Catepine: but he seemeth to bee deceyued, for the places that he citheth, haue Alusum, and Alucolum.

Albi montes, a place in the yle of Landis, where it neuer rayneth.

Albia, a eyre that passeth throughe the costales of Boemia.

Albicera, a kynde of olyue tree.

Albicera ficus, hyde synges with a small stalk.

Albici, a people nere to Massilia.

Albico, au, are, to bee whyte.

Albidus, a, um, somewhat whyte.

Albigenes, were heretikes, whyche beganne by Coloute in Fraunce, the pere of our lordz, a hundred & xx. whyche helde the heresies of the Albanenses, touchynge the soule, Baptisme, God, and the generall Resurrection. Moys ouer, that it was not lesse full for Christian menne to catechize.

Albiminium, a cite of Liguria, called nowe Minima.

Albinga, a towne in Liguria, called in olde tyme Albiganum.

Albinus, the name of an Emperour. also the surname of diuers Romans.

Albion, was the moeste auncient name of this yle, whyche containeth Englands and Scotlands: of the begynnyng of the whyche name haue been sundry opinions: One late feigned by hym, whyche first pynted the Englyshe chynge, wherin is neither similitude of trouthe, reasons, nor honestie: I meane the fable of the fift daughters of one Maris, than henge of Albion, where nature and other heresies make the mention of a kynde of Albion, so named: and also that name is Greek, and no parte of the language of Syria. Moys ouer the comynge of theis from Syria in a whyte or bore without any marke, thowghe the sea called Mediterraneum, in to the ocean, and to finally to synne this yle, and to inhabyte it, and haue generation by dyuelles, is bothe impossible, and muche repoyche for this noble Royaltie, to ascribe his name and habitation, to such inuentours. An other opinion there is, whyche hath a moze honeste similitude, that it was named Albion, ab albis rupibus, of whyte rocks, because that vnto them, that come by sea, from the east or south, the banks and rocks of this yle do appere whyte. Of this opinion haue I most meruayle, because it is wyrtten of grete leaue and menne. First for that Albion is no latine woode, nor hath the analogie, that is to say, the proportion of similitude of latine. For who hath founde this syllable, on, at the ende of a latine woode. And if it shoulde haue been so called for the white colour of the rocks, men woulde haue called it Alba, or Albus, or Albi. And yet in Italy were towne called Alba, and in Asia a countrey called Albania, and neyther of them tooketh the begynnyng of whyte rocks or walles, as ye maye reade in booke of Geography, nor the water of the eyre called Albi, semeth any whiter than any other water. But where auncient remembrance of the begynnyng of thynges lacketh, if it maye bee lesse full for men to vsethe conjectures, than maye myne bee as well accepteth, as the coniecture of Albion (although he incomparably excelled me in wysdome and doctrine) specially if it maye appere, that my coniecture shall appoche moze nere to the similitude of trouthe. Wherefore I wylle also sette forth the myne oppynon, onely to the intent to excluder fables, lackynge eyther honestie or reasonable similitudes. When the Grekes beganne to prosper, and their ctyes became populous, and waxed puffed up, they whiche marched on the sea, and also the Isles whyche were in the seas, called Hellespontus, Aegeum, and Creteum. After that they coulde practyse perfectly the course of saylynge, and hadde founden thereby profyte, they by spyrell and lyrell attempted to serche and fynde oute the comodities of outward sayntreys, and lyke as Spanyardes and Portugales haue late doon, they experyenced to seke out countreies beyfor vnkownen, and at the last passynge the Streites of Abyroche, they entered into the great ocean sea, where they found to fawourynge them, they founde dyuers and many Isles, whiche they perceyving this yle to bee not onely the greatest in ctytes, but also moze plentiful of euery thyng necessary to man, the apye moze holson and temperate, the earth apte to bynge forth all thynges that maye susteyne a temperate apye, the fleshe of beestes and muttons most sweete and delicate, the wull most fyne, and lackynge any bynde of metall, haupng an abundance of woodde and tymer to buyde with, also grene and saye eyres, with great lakes of meeres of frethe water, and as well in them, as in the sea, wherewith the countrey is enuyoned, was grete plenty of fythes, of dyuers sortes most apte to bee eaten: they wonderynge and reioysynge at they good and fortunat arriuayle, named this yle in greke, Olbion, whyche in englyshe signifeth happy. In latine Felix, lyke as parte of Arabia, whyche is moze fertile, is called Arabia felix. But in pcesse of tyme, by reioys of sundry people, haupnge dyuers languages, no meruayle though one letter were chaunged, and the first letter, O, tourned into A. And so for Olbion, it was at the last called Albion. whiche woode hath no manner of signification. This chaungeynge of letters is not vnlykely, sene at this present tyme the northern men of this realme dooe vte A, in woodde, where southerne men vte O, as a bane, a stane, a hare, a bande: for a bong, a ston, a boye, a bande. And amonge the Grekes were lyke alterations of letters. And it maye be moze easily susteyned, that one bowell maye be chaunged in a woode, and specially A, into O, whyche in somme mannes mouth, soundeth often tymes lyke, than that a syllable impertinente to the proportion of latine, shoulde bee vnaptly added to. Not withstanding Pomponius Mela maketh mention of a graunt called Albion, whome Hercules slewe in Gallia, whyche was sonne of Reptunus, who mought with moze reason bee named the first eyre of his name to this yle, than that the other surmytes shoulde bee lykely. If any man can fynde matter moze certayne, as concernynge the originall begynnyng of this yle, I will not bee offended, but congnatulate with hym his good fortune and diligence.

Albis, a eyre in Boemia, whyche cometh to the cite of Prag.

Albido, inis, whitenesse.

Albium, a towne of Lumbardy.

Albus Tibullus, a poet.

Albo, au, are, to make whyte.

Albocilla, a woman's name.

Albogalerus, an harte, whyche the greatest ptyer of Jupiter, called Flaminia diala, had.

Albonenses, a people of Sicilia.

Albor, toke Albedo.
Alboscuta, tergettes of whithes of the lastest force.

Albus, ci, some dooe suppose to bee the herbe, whiche is called Asphodelus: some write, that it is onely the stalk of Asphodelus, and that the whole herbe is called Hafula regia, toke after in Asphodelus.

Albus, a kinde of grapes.
Albuginis, a whithes spotte in the eye.
Albula, the olde name of the eyner Eider, also a water in the felds Tiburtinus, whiche was medicinable for sores eyes.

Album, a table openly sette by, wherein they set the names of officers, or some publick doctres is written. It is also a promontorie of Sicily, and another of Affrike.

Albumen, is, the white of an egge.
Albuga, a woode and fontayne by the eyner called Aniene, in Itall. It is also the name of the tenth Satill.

Albuminum, the fild that is in some tree.
Albumus, a mountayne in Lucania. also the name of a fild.

Albus, a um, whith. sometyme pale, and by a metaphore, fearefull, anxious.

Albus fluius, a ryuer called Humber, in the north partes of Englande.
Album plumbum, ynnie.

Albi calculi, whith stones, wherewith the people of Creta dyddenote or marke the dates, wherein they had good fortune, lyke as they marked euill dates with blacke stones, called Nigri calculi.

Albus an iter sis nescio, I knowe not whether than bee whith or blacke. A proverbe spoken of them, whose maners be to be vni known.

Alba anis, a whith byrde, a proverbe spoken of a thynge fortunate or lucke, or elles that chaunceth seldom.

Album calculum addere, to allowe or approue a thynge. A proverbe taken of the ancient foyme of iudgements.

Alba gallina filius, A proverbe spoken of one, whose fortune fauoureth in all his dooings.

Alburius, the name of dyuers men.
Alcra, the taylor of a Lyon. or of any other beaste, that vseth the taylor for a helpe to defende the body.

Alceus, was a famous poete, of theym, whiche are called Lirici, because they made songes to the harpe. He was before the incarnation of Christe. 646. yeres. There was in Athens an other poete of the same name.

Alceus, was also the name of Alcmena sonne, called after Hercules. Also the father of Amphitricio, and furthermoze the sonne of Omphales and Hercules.

Alcamenes, a famous harner, or pynge maker.

Alcander, one of the companions of Hannibal kynge of Lycia, slayne by Muses at the siege of Troop.

Alcanna, an herbe called of the Latines Ligustrum, in the east part of Egypte. of the frumchemen Troena.

Alcanor, a mane name.

Alcaquengi, or Alcacangi, toke Alkakengi.

Alcarnes, the wooyne, wherof crymolyn soe four is made.

Alcathoe, the ciste called also Megara.

Alcathous, the sonne of Pelops, who beyng suspected of the myrth of his byother, fled to Megara.

Alce, ces, or Alces, cis, a wyde beaste in the woodes of Germanie, in facion and shape lyke to a goat, but greater, and hath no topes in his legges: and therefore he dooth neuer lye, but leane to a tree when he dooth rest hym. The hunters knowynge this, doo sawe the tree, that they use to leane to, halfe in sunder, wherby they fall downe, and bee taken. Alce, is also the name of a citee in Spayne: of an harlotte, and of one of the boundes of Aetion.

Alcea, is one kinde of malowe, but he hath leaues dyrted lyke Agerum, and a flower lyke a Rose, longe rootes. v. of. w. whith and byrde. Also Jo. Agriola saith, that it is called of the Apothecaries Herba Simeonis.

Alcedo, dinis, or, Halcyo, onis, a byrde of the sea, whiche dooth hatche yonge chylde kens on the lande, and dooth lape his egges on the landes in the myddes of wynter. And when the sea is most troublous, if she do lay, it becometh so depnely caulme, and the stormes and wyndes doo cese, vntill the byrde haue al hatched, and brought vp his chylde, and made them able to flee, whiche is in the space of. xliii. dayes. This byrde is lytell moze than a sparowe, his feathers bee purple of colour mixte with whith, and hath a long necke and a smalle, his bill somewhat greene, longe and slender, and this byrde is sene verie seldom.

Alcenor, a man of Argus.

Alces, a bea in France lyke a mule, but he hath his vpper lippe so long, that when he fedeth, he goeth backward, so that he can not bite of the grasse and herbes whiche he shoulde eat. The hostehynd of them haue homes on their vpper byowes. Such a bea was late brought into England, and sene in the hynges park at Westminster. Alces, is also a ruer in Bithinia.

Alceste, seu Alceitis, toke before in Aemetus.

Alceas, the sonne of Charpyus.

Alcees, the son of Aemeta, and kynge of Cyren, whiche for his tyrannye was slayne, with all Alchabitius, is the name of a booke, whiche is an introduction to the subtilties of Astronomie.

Alchech, in the Arabian tongue, is the whiche is called Linx, a begotten of a lion, and a lphard.

Alchidas, one of Rhodes, whiche was renowned on the picture of Cupido, that was made by Apollonius.

Alchione, an hill of Thracie.

Alchippe, a towne of the Macedonians.

Alciades, toke Alcibiades.

Alciadion, is an herbe, whiche Dioscorides calleth Edithon. Crisius Cordus (a famous physician of this tyme) supposeth it to bee a kinde of our boyage, the flowers beyng some what lyke, but that they bee deeper in, and do not lyke to boyde, and bee of a moze purple colour. The seeds thereof is lyke the heads of an adder: in so much that there doo seme to bee cten therein. Some doo suppose it to bee wyde boyage. other write, that it is a kinde of the herbe called Anchusa, haupng the name of Alcibiades, whiche vied it to paynt his face.

Alcibion, an herbe.

Alcida, was a terrible monster, whiche was slayne by Pallas.

Alcidas, a famous wyser, also a philosopher, whiche wyse of mufpe.

Alcidamus, an ancient orator of the grekes.

Alcidas, idem quod Hercules.

Alcimachus, a famous pernetter.

Alcimedea, the daughter of Phylarchus. also the wyfe of Aeson, and mother of Jason.

Alcimedea, a tragical poete of Megaris.

Alcimedon, a counnyng grauer.

Alcimus, a famous orator of Beere. also a kynge of Lydia, for his mekenesse and iustice greatly renowned.

Alcinooi apologus, A proverbe, applyed to longe scalye tales, woosty no select of credence.

Alcinous, a kynge of a people called Phaeacians, excellent in iustice, whiche had a faire and a magnifike palace, with orchardes that bare most plentifully frutes twise in the yere.

Alcion, a physician.

Alcifron, a philosopher.

Alcippe, the daughter of Thars. also an other woman that brought forth an oliphant.

Alcippus, a noble man of Sparta, whiche though enny of lewde persons was banished the cite.

Alcisthene, a woman verie cunning in payntinge.

Alcisthene, a woman of Thebes, whiche for contempnyng the seales of Bacchus, with Alcisthene and other maydens, was tormented by the gods.

Alcman, a famous poete.

Alcmanes, a counnyng grauer, or a maker of images.

Alcmena, the daughter of Electrio, and wyfe to Amphitricio, on whome Iupiter begatte Hercules.

Alcmeon, a philosopher, scholar to Pythagoras, that spide wyse of the nature of thynge. Also the sonne of Amphitricio, and Alcisthene, whiche slew his mother, and was therfore vexed with furies.

Alcon, was a good archer of Creta, whiche beholdinge a dyagon ready to deuoure his sonne, vnto thoo to craftily, that as the dyagon was subyacing the childe, the arrowe passed in to his heart, and hurte not the childe, in that the dyagon immediately died. It was also the name of a goldefinche.

Alcoranum, a booke of Mahumet, wherof in are myste moste shamefull lyes and abhominacions, with somme parte of scripture, and necessary lawes, though these be fewest. For he geth libertie to men to haue greates number of wyues, and concubynes without number. He imagineth angells to bee in loue, and to comyette aduourte with mortall women. He saunteth, that he hym self went vp to God to receiue lawes, and that he was boyned thither by an asse, that Iesus lence hym: that he founde God besyng of an angell, betweene whole bowes was the space of a iournie of many hundred yeres. And such lyes in great number bee there segned, not withstandinge, in the same booke he dooth prohibyte aduourte, and commaundeth greyghe kepyng of pietytie, and other thynges, not to bee dispensed.

Alcybiades, was the name of a noble manne of Athens, common of the bloude of Alexander Thelamonius. This manne in beautie, goodly personage, actiue, piouesse, eloquence, and warrenesse of witte, excelled all men of his tyme. In so much, that in to what countrey so euer he came, he so adaped hym selfe to the maners thereof, that he was euer where wonderfully loued and honoured. Specially of the wyse man Socrates, who moste encredy loued hym. But with those moste excellent qualities were lighted dunnyng byres: That is to saye, vntemperate and distolute lyuynge in lechery and yote, heuere, and inconstancy: in so much that all men meynagled, that in one man myghte bee such dyuers nature. He achieued many greates enterpryses as well for his countrey, as agaynst it. Finally, he was banished by the meane of of Lysander kynge of Lacedemonia. Had beyng in Thyras, the house wherein he lay was of pouerpoise on fyre, whiche he escaped and beyng halfe naked, ballantly defendyng hym selfe against his enemies, at the last was slayne, and his head brought to Pharnabazus, capitayne of the Persians. This man flourished before the incarnation of Christe, 428. yeres.

Alyonx, the name of two ladies, the one was wyfe to Aetis, who sayng the bodie of her husbande cast on lande: thyswe hie selfe into the sea. whome the poetes feigne to bee couned into a byrd of that name. The other was daughter to Eueue, called also Harpessa.

Alyoneus, the name of a ggyant.

Alyonium, the sprime of some of the sea in-durate.

Alduadubis, a countrey in Fraunce called Leobour.

Alea, a dyce, playng at dyce, somtyme it signifieth chance. Alea, is also a cite of Arcadia.
Aleam emere, to bye a thyng that we know not, or bee uncertayne of.

Aleam omnem iacere, to sette all at stea
and leuen.

Alea fortunæ, the chaunce of fortune, some-tyme perill.

Aleator, oris, a dyce.

Aleatorium, oris, dice playng, or a dyceing hous.
Suetonius calleth it Aleatorium forum.

Aleatorius, a, um, belongng to dice.

Alebas, a kynge of Laetia, in Chesalte, whiche for his tyranny was slayne of the people.

Alebecerij, people of Arabons in Fraunce.

Alebria, thynges whiche doo nouryshe welle, but after some, thynges that doo sauour well.

Alec, ophalec, a fyre called an hearpyng.

Alecto, one of the furies of hell.

Alector, oris, the sonne of Anaxagoas.

Alectoria, a stone founde in the cockes gyssar or mawe, of the greatnesse of a beane, and colour of chistfall.

Alectorolophes, an herbe called of the latines
Crista, because the leaues bee lyke a cockes combe. The Italicke call it, the seebe blacke in rodde. French men call this herbe fetuen.

Alecula, a spotte, or a littell hearpyng.

Alegenor, one of the four sonnes of Boethus.

Alele, a cite of the Phazarians.

Alemanni, people of Germany, called Alimatus Alemannia, the countrey of Alimatus.

Alemannus, i, a ryuer in Germany.

Alemusi, people of Aetia.

Aleo, onis, a dyce, or dyce playe.

Aleon, a ryuer.

Aleopetra, a ple in Theotie.

Alephanginæ species, is a barbarous woode beside of the woodes, whereby they doe signi-fie powder of loote spices, as gynger, pepper, clouse, maces, nutmegges, synamome, and other lyke.

Ales, lida, a dyce. Somtyme it signifieth wythe in slayng or rennyng, as, Aleo planta, spryng of loote. Ales is somtyme used for Alitub, that hath wynges.

Alitubis secundis, prosperously with good fortune.

Alesco, ui, scere, to growe or waxe fat.

Alesium, a towne in Moyses, builded by Alesius. It is also a feld in Egypte, and a cit, a ryuer, a promontorie.

Alesius, an hill of Arcadie.

Alethes, the name of a Cretane.

Aletini, the Salantines.

Aletrinate, a people of Italy.

Alerudo, inis, fatnesse of the body.

Aletum, ti, a towne of the Salantines in Italy.

Alecuron, i, male, gen. male of wheat.

Aleus, the sonne of Aphidas, whiche builded the temple of Minerua at Tegen in Arcadie.

Aleus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Alex, a kynde of salt lycoure made of spyes, verie holme for many thynges. It is also a ryuer that diuideth the countrey wherof from Locrus.

Alexamenus, the fieur of Nabis the tyrant of Lacedemonia.

Alexander, the name of many noble pynces, but amonge other one was most excellent, the sonne of Philispy kynge of Macedonie, who in his childehode was brought by by Aristotle in learnyng, wherin he profited wonderfully, and was of such courage, that after the deith of Philispy his father, beyng but xx. yeres old, he enterprised to conquire all the world. And first gate Illiria, now called Slavonia. And after subuerbed the cite of Thebes, brought in subjection all Grece, entered into Asia, and vanquished the great and puissant Darius, kynge of Persia, & had his mother, his wyfe,
and daughter pyncers, and neuer woude compane with any of them, nor withstan-dyng they were exceding faire and beautifull.

Finally he conquered India, and all the east parte of the world. And all this dyd he in littell more then xlii. yeres. But when he had pacified the world from all rebellions: he fell into suche crueltie and pryde (slayng his most truiste counsellors in his surp, & commandyng hym self to be called a god) that he became odious to his own people, who despyng his destruction: at the last when he was in his most gloie at the cite of Babylon (where he abode the ambassadours from all realmes) at supper with one of his physicians, was poisoned by drynkyng out of a cuppe, whiche was laye posed to be made of an hoyses house, and was thought to be dooen by the drinke of Aristotele, somtyme his master, and Antipater his fellow.

Antipater, a philosopher, whiche lived in the same tyme as Aristotle. He was a Macedonian, and a disciple of Aristotle. He was a great philosopher, and a great statesman.
He was a great friend of Aristotle, and he was a great enemy of the Macedonians.
He was a great friend of the Athenians, and he was a great enemy of the Macedonians.
He was a great friend of the Romans, and
he was a great enemy of the Macedonians.
He was a great friend of the Greeks, and
he was a great enemy of the Macedonians.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

Alexander Severus, was emperour of Rome,
the yere of our lorde 224. This man from
his childehode was of wonderfull granitie
and pynence. For where the cite of Rome
was beseged by the gothys, he by his coun-
saile, and by his valour, saved the citie.

mountayne.

Algificus, a, um, that maketh one chyl for cold.

Algor, griefe, sometyne it signifieth cold.

Algofus, a, um, full of such weeds, as be in the sea, and called Alga.

Alguacen, an herbe lyke unto a lily.

Algus, i, and Algus, us, item quod Algor.

Alia, uel Allia, a ruere not farre from Rome, where the hoste of the Romans was bitterly destroyed by Syennus, who (we saye) was a Sypton, sonne to Polimetus, kyng of this royaume.

Alias, an aduerbe, signifieth oyle, els where, an other tyme, sometyne.

Aliis aliud de eisdem rebus iudicabunt, at an other tyme they will geue a contrary sentence vpon the same matter.

Alia, ples in the sea of Ethiopia.

Alia, um, a towne of Beroia.

Alibi, els where, sometyne in an other thyng.

Alibi, le, that nouerth.

Alia, is a thyng made of wheate in this wise.

They take wheate and stepe it in water, and afterwarde beate it: than they dype it in the sunne, and beate it grosse, so that euery corne be broken in foure or fve pieces. Some do put into it chaille, some creame of milke sodden, so make it seeme veray white.

Alia saccharata, frumentis.

Alia, meretrices, common harlots.

Alia, ther that dog make of sell Alicam.

Alia, trum, the fourth sort of the wheate called Far.

Alia, bi, somewhere.

Alia, unde, frome some place, or of some other persone or thyng.

Alia, a, a towne called also Alindra.

Alienatio, onis, an alienation or alteringe, or the withdrauing of the mynd from the frend shipp or fauour of any man.

Alienatio mentis, such a comotion, or troubling of reason, that a man is almost destitute hym selfe.

Alienator, onis, he that altereth a thyng.

Alienatus, ta, tum, put awaie, altered, estranged, alienate.

Alienatus ad libidinem animus, a mynde fallen from vertue to fleshy pleasure.

Alienatus a sensu animus, a mynde clean with out all reason or consideration.

Alienigena, a, a stranger, an alpen.

Alienigenus, a, um, that whiche cometh out of an other countre.

Alieno, ui, are, to alienate, to put awaie, or put of, to attene or alter possession.

Alienare quempiam a se, to put one out of his frendshipp or fauour.

Alienus, a, um, dyuers, vnlike, not agreeable, out of acquaintance or fauour, an other mans none of ours, he that is not of our kynrede, famille, or countre. Sometyne absurde, vniuersite, not conuenient. also vnholloine, hurtfull, noysome.

Alia, consilij domus, an house vniuersite for the purpose.

Alieno more viuendum est mihi, I muste lyue after an other mans facion, or as other men will haue me.

Alieno animo esse, to be displeased with one Alienos agimus, we become strangers vnto hym.

Alienissimum reipublice tempus, the worst tyme that maye bee for the weale publike. Alienum suis rationibus, vnproposable for his purpose.

Alienus animus. Iam primum illum alieno a nobis animo esse, res ipsa indicat. The thyng it selfe declareth, that euen now he hath no fauour towards vs.

Alia facis, thou castest nothyng to the purpose. A pproverbe taken of dyuers, when they geue chauce vnlike, and not as we wolde haue them.

Aliena loqui, to raue as men doo in extreme sykenesse.

Alienus locus, an vnmeet place.

Alienum tempus, an vnconuenient tyme.

Alienum fortis vultum gerere, to loken otherwise than the present state of ones lyfe requyeth.

Alienus a literis, rude, ignorant, barbarous.

Alienior hares, an herbe that is no hyne to hym, whome he succedeth.

Alia, a citie of the Damascenes.

Alia, looke Aliphe.

Alia, & aliger, any thyng that hath wynges.

Aligmon, a ruere.

Alimentarius, a, um, pertaining to lyuing or sustenance.

Alimentum, sustenance, foode, or lyuing.

Alimodi, idem quod aliusmodi, of an other facion or maner.

Alimon, an herbe that wyll not suffer thym that take it to be hungrye. It is called also Alera, Albuclum, and Alimos.

Alimonia, a, and Alimonium, i, idem quod Alimentum.

Alinda, a citie of Caria.

Alio, to an other place, sometyne to an other thyng, to an other purpose.

Alio responsonem suam deriuauit, he answered not to that he was demaunded.

Alio sermonem transferre, to talke of an other matter.

Quo alio, to any other place.

Alioqui, or aliquin, otherwyle, moresoer, or els, excepte that.

Aliorsum, towards, to some other place, otherwyle.

Aliorsum atq; ego feci, accepit, he take it of Alouerum, for Alouerum.

Alipana, plantis that haue no fater inges.

Alipes, swift of foote.

Alipede equi, swift carrying hoises.

Aliphan, or Alifani, people of Aliphe.

Aliphe, es, a citie of Campania, and also of Acerra, whiche the ciuer Clanius ofte endomageth.

Alipheci, people of Arcadie.

Alipherium, a plate in bathes, wherein men were anointed.

Alipres, he that anoynteth wrestlers in common games, and was called the maister of the wrestlers.

Aliphe, by some place, by some meanes.

Aliphe, multi, for Aliquot, some.

Aliquandiu, any while.

Aliquando, sometyne, nowe and than, at length, ones to tyme past.

Aliquando tandem, ones at lengthe.

Aliquantillum, a diminutiu of aliquantum.

Aliquantisper, a little while.

Aliquanto, somewhat, by a little.

Aliquanto ante, a little before.

Aliquanto post, a little after.

Aliquantulum, somewhat.

Aliquantum, idem.

Aliquantus, a, um, somewhat, netheer muche netheer little.

Aliquantum ad rem est audior, he is somewhat couetous.

Aliquantus, in some parte, by some season, or mane.

Aliquid, some thyng.

Aliquis, aliqua, aliquod, some.

Aliquis est, he is a man of no smal reputation.

Aliquispiam, quapiam, quodpiam, idem quod aliquis, a rare woide.

Aliquo, to some place.

In angulum aliquod abeam, I will go into some corner.

Aliquorsum, towards some place.

Aliquot, some, not many, not fewe.

Aliquotfariam, for aliquot modis.

Aliquoties, at sometymes.

Alirei, plantis vnto for alia rei.

Alisma, called of some Damascenon, of other Lyon, of late wyters Fisula pastoralis, in englyshe water plantayne.

Alista, a citie of the lande Corsica, called at this date, Amasia.

Aliti, an herbe called of the lastnes flos paradyssi, the flour of paradys, of the frenchemen, Oculus dei.

Aliter, or els, contrary wise, otherwyle.

Aliter ac, aliter atq; aliter quam, otherwyle than.

Aliter, atq; aliter, dyuers waies.

Aliter de ea re audio, atq; vt ad te scripsi nam, I haue heard otherwyle of that matter, than I haue heard you.

Alia, great dyuers, whiche are ferde.

Alia, noneyng.

Alia, els where. Alia, bi, for alia, bi, somewhere.

Alia, atq; alia, bi, melius, better in some place than in other.

Alia, unde, from an other place.

Alia, a, ud, in the gentillie case alia, sometyne is founde Alij, and alia, other, or an other, diuers, contrary, or of an other sort.

Alia alium prapont, one preferreth the one another the other.

Alia alium percontamur, one of vs demaundeth of an other.

Alia fallacia aliam trudit, one deceyfe bynageth in an other.

Alia alium ingenio prastat, some haue better wittes than other.

Alia alio dissipat, he cast one thyng into one place, an other into an other.

Alia alio stans alio sedens, one thyng stans byng an other spetrag, spoken of very vnconstant and waueryng persons.

Alia alio sit iudicium, let other men iudge.

Alia alio tempore. Alia alio modo. Alia atq; alia religiones, many and sundry religions.

Alia es multo quam soles, Thou art farre another felowe than thou were wonte to bee.

Longe alia mihi mens est, my mynd is greatly altered: or I am now of an other opinion.

Alia alios delectant, diuers men be delited with diuers thynges.

Alia sum ab illo quem putas, I am not the man that ye take me for, or, I am an other maner of man than ye thynke for.

Alia ac, for alia quam.

Alia mihi respondes, a rogo, Thou answerest me not to that I aske the.

Alia sunt legati partes atq; imperatoris, the office of a legat, and of an emperor be dyuers, or be not all one.

Alia ex alio malum, one myschance in an other nethe.

Quorum alia sunt candida, alia pallida, of egges some be white, some pale.

Eadem alia, aliter euadunt, the selfe same thynges chauce diuersly to diuers persons.

Alia for alia, and Alia for alia, was used of olde wyters.

Aliusmodi, in an other maner, of an other facion.

Alia, olde wyters used for Aliter.

Alkakengi, is an herbe, called also Halicacabus, and yescaria, and is greke Physalides.

out of whiche groweth a Walthe, haungyng on the toppes thereof a round thyng like to a bladder, of coloure betwene red and yelow, when it is a rube beate less than a cherie, which in de

In duces wates to wonderfull medicinable agaynst the strangurie, or stopping of veyne, bestides other good vertues.

Allabor, sus sum, abi, to slowe by, to syde by,
or to rowe by.

Allaboro, aui, are, to labour, to labour earnestly.

Allaborare alicui rei, by labour to adde to a
thyng.

Allaudo, aui, are, to lighen, to make lycht.

Allambo, bi, ere, idem, quod lambo.

Allante, tes, or Allas, lantis, a towne of Macedonie and of Arcadie, called also Allanti-um, and Allanteum, and the people Allantenses.

Allapfus, us, a flowyng by or to, a sllyng to.

Allipfus, a, um, the participle.

Allapfus gembus, falling down at hys knees.

Allatro, aui, are, to bark at, and by a metaphor, enuouste to rale or speche agaynst one.

Allantare alicuius dignitatem, To rale or speake agaynst a mans honoure.

Allarrant maria, the seas roys.

Allatus, a, um, brought.

Allaudo, aui, are, used of poetes for laudo.

Allectatio, onis, an alluring or snipng.

Allecto, aui, are, to allure or drawe to by saye meanes.

Allector, oris, one that allureth.

Allectus, a, um, allured.

Allecti, chosen, ascribed, appoynted.

Allegatio, onis, a sollicitation or intreaty made by frendes or messengers.

Allego, aui, are, to allege, or byng forthe, to name, to depute, or geue auctorytie, to sende one as a messenger, sollicitour or intreater in some weightie matter.

Illum ad me hodie allegauit, He sente that man to me to daie.

Allego, egi, ere, to ascribe, to choose to a company, to assigne.

Allegere in ordinem, to ascribe to some order, or admytte into a company.

Allegere in praetores, to ascribe amonge the pretors.

Allegoria, a figure called inuersion, where it is one in wordes, and an other in sentence and meaning.

Alleluya, is an herbe, called of the apothecaries Trifolium acetosum, and Panis cuculi, of Iohn and other learned men, it is named Oxy.

Alleluya, prayse ye the lord.

Alleuamenium, ti, a swagng or dimynshyng of sorowe, an easing of payne.

Alleuatio, onis, idem.

Alleuo, aui, are, to lyfte by, to heaue aloft, and by a metaphore, to helpe or succour, to ease
one of sorowe or griefe.

Alluare onus, to lighen ones burdeyn.

Alluare afflictum, to helpe and comfort one that is in miserie.

Alluatum corpus, a body eased or amended of his sickness.

Allex, icis, an adiectiue, that allureth or attraceth.

Allia, idem quod alla.

Alliaus, a, um, that senteth of garlike.

Allisfacio, feci, ere, to allure or drawe to.

Allicio, xi, ere, to allure.

Allicere alicuius beneuolentiam, to allure
the fauour of good will of a man.

Allicere somnos, to prouoke slepe.

Allido, si, dere, to squate or throwe any thyng agaynst the ground or walles, and by a metaphor, to hurle.

Allidi in re aliqua, to be hurt, or take harme in any thyng, to be damaged.

Alligatio, onis, a byndyng to of a thyng.

Alligator, oris, he that byndeth.

Alligatura, re, a bonde.

Alligatus, a, um, bounden to.

Alligata ciuitas foedere, a citie bonde by some conuention or agreement.

Alligo, aui, are, to bynde to, to stoppe or lette,
to accuse or appeache.

Alligare uulnus, to wrape or bynde up a wounde.

Alligari & impediri in re aliqua, to be lette or intangled in a matter.

Alligari beneficio, to bee bounden to one for any benefite.

Alligare noua lege, to charge with the ob-seruance of a newe lawe.

Alligare aliquem furto, to appeache one of felony.

Alligare se furti, to charge hym selfe with felony, or to shewe hym selfe guilty of felony.

Allino, cui, ere, to annoynt.

Allinere uita sua alteri, to infecte an other with his vice.

Allium, in, garlyke.

Nec alij quidem caput, he gaue not so mu-che as a garlyke heade. A prouerbe spoken of a ygarde, and one that wille departe with nothyng.

Allobroges, people of Manoy, & Dauphynie.

Allobrogicus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Allocutio, onis, a speakyng to one.

Allocutum ire, to speake with one.

Allophylus, a stranger, an alpen.

Alloquium, qui, communication, speche.

Alloquor, tus sum, qui, to speake to.

Alloriges, a people of Spayne.

Allubescio, ui, scere, an olde woode, signifyng to please.

Allucinatio, onis, a byndnesse of mynde, an errour or deception of opinion.

Allucinar, atus sum, ari, to be deceived in opinion, to erre.

Allu

Alludo, si, ere, to speake that which hath some resemblance to an other thyng, to speake merily, to leaue at a thyng playfully and meryly, to smile vpon, to make gesture of contenance of mythe to a thyng or persone, to saunoure.

Alludere ad historiam, to speake or do some thyng agreeable, or lyke to some hystorye befoye written.

Alludit tibi huius vite prosperitas, fortune
smileth on the, or the worlde goeth with the.

Alluo, ui, ere, to slowe nyghte to, to walke as the water doeth the grounde.

Allus, the greates toe, whan he lyeth ouer the nexte toe.

Alluues, is whan abundance of water, mixt with clafe, couereth the grounde, a flood.

Alluuiio, onis, idem.

Alma, a mayden, hyd, or secreete.

Almedessos, a towne of Thace.

Almo, onis, mas, ge, a nyght nere to Rome,
where the pyelles of Cybele, vied to walke
theym, whan they had doone theyr bloudy sacrifice. It is also the name of a man, and of a towne in Chelyaly.

Almopia, parte of Macedonia.

Almops, opis, a geyant, the sonne of Neptune and Admantis: of whome the countrey of Almopia was named.

Almus, mi, the sonne of Sisyphus.

Almus, a, um, all thynges that northe be, pro-pely the earthe is so called Alma tellus, because we haue therof our sustenance. Some-tyme it signifyeth saye, beautifull: as, Almus dies, a saye clere daie.

Alnus, an elde tree, sometime it signifyeth a type or boote.

Alui, ere, to feede, to nourishe, to fynde one all thynges necessary, as meate, drynke, and clothe. It is applyed to thynges not corporall, and signifyeth to increase, to augmente, to maynteyne.

Alere bellum, to mainteyne warre.

Alit honos artes, honour and abancement maketh learnyng to flourishe.

Alere audaciam, to make bolde.

Aloe, es, is a tipes of an herbe congeled lyke a gumme, wherof be two sortes: one is named Succorina, which is lyke a liuer, red, bright, and bryble: the other is called Caballina, and is sandy and grosse. The fyrste cleareth and confirmeth the stomache of a man, and therfore is mixt with purgatiue medicines, because they shall not annoy or hurt the stomache the laste is occupied aboute hoyses and other beastes. After Iohnie Aloe is an herbe, that hath a meynation bitter taste, wherof yslyth
this prouerbe,

Plus aloes quam mellis habet, It is more sowre than swete, more bitter than pleasant.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the or-
der of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the order of letters.

Aloagium, or Logium Aloes, is a sweete of Medicines, whiche beinge receyued in medicines comforteth the stomache, and all the inferiour partes of man, and maketh sweete breathe.

Aloous, was the name of a gyaunt, sonne of Citan, on whose wyfe Neptune begate two sonnes Detus and Ephialtes, whiche were called also Aloids, and were great gyautes.

Alogia, unreasonable and beastly feeding, and ingurgitation of meate and drynke.

Alogiani, were heretikes, whiche denied, that the sonne of god was Logos, whiche some dooe interpretate into latine Verbum, some Sermo And therfore they rejected the gos-pell of saynt John, and his apocalypse, say-yng that they were not his wykes.

Alonx, a citie of Spayne, called commonly Alicante.

Alone, an plande.

Aloneus, the name of a citie and of an plande.

A longe, farrs of.

Aloni, a people of Asia, nere to whom the reuer Zerbis, renneth into Tigris.

Alontigiceli, a people of Spayne.

Alontium, or Aluntium, a towne of Sicillie.

Alope, the daughter of Lection, after whome
a citie in Chelyaly was so called.

Alopece, an plande in Pontus Euxinus.

Alopicia, is a disease in the heade of beaste, which causeth the heares to fall by the roo-
tes. It is also the name of an plande.

Alopecidae, dogges gotten betwene a wolfe and a bytche.

Alopecis, a grape facioned lyke a foxes taste.

Alopeconeus, a citie of Asia, and after some,
an plande, and a citie of Belesponte.

Alopecurus, an herb lyke a foxes taste.

Alopecus, he that hath a pyble pate, that is to saye, the heares falling with scurfe.

Alopes marina, called also Vulpes marina, is a fische of the sea, whiche perceyvyng the hooke to bee fastened in his bealy, byteth of the lyne aboute the eaklyng, and so escapeth.

Aloros, a citie of Macedonia.

Alota, a fische called of the Spantardes, Sauas-lus, of the Venetians Clupea, of Brittonie, and other grekes Chysia, which Gaza translated Alota. This fische, for a feruent desire that he hath to a vyne in the Cunes sa-wes; killeth hym.

Alotigi, a people of Spayne.

Alpes, the mountayns, whiche departs Italy and France.

Alpeta, a towne in Spayne.

Alpha, the first letter of the grekes, and is by sed for the first or principall.

Alphabecarij, they that doo learne first the or-
der of letters.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphabetum, ti, the order of letters, as, A B C.

Alphenus, a colliars name in Bojace.
 Alpheus, a river in Achata, by the cities of Pisa, also the name of a mountayne.
 Alpheus, a, um, of that river.
 Alphon, a lake of mere in Iberia.
 Alphonix, the temple of Diana, and a wodde at the mouth of the river Alpheus.
 Alphon, meals of phistione, it is also taken for barley meals sryed.
 Alphas, a morphew of staynyng of the shynne.
 Alpinus, a, um, of the mountayns Alpes.
 Alpum, for album, vied of olde wyters.
 Alpus, a, um, pale, carefull or studious.
 Alfa, a riuer rennyng by Aquileia in Italy.
 Alinc, an herbe called of some Myosota, in Italy it is named Muris auricula, in englyshe moufere, because the leafe thereof is lyke a moufere. It groweth muche in places shadowed with trees, And chiefly on gardenes walles.
 Allium, a cittle of Tuscan, commonly called saint Seuerus.
 Allisus, a, um, cold of nature, also that thyng whiche is soone hurt or annoyed with colde.
 Altanus, a certayne wynde that ryseth oute of the earth.
 Altare, an aultare.
 Alre, on hygh, depe, with poetes sometyme longe, continually, also farre of.
 Alre terram fodere, to digge depe in the ground.
 Ferrum haud alte in corpus descendit, The swerde perced not farre into his body.
 Altius perspicere, to see farther, or perceyue more in a matter.
 Alte petrum, farre fette.
 Altius repetere, to recite a thyng with all circumstance, almost from the begynnyng.
 Altellus, the surname of Romulus, the fyrste founder of Rome.
 Alter, alterius, teri, an other, the other, proppeth one of the two, the second, but it is often vied for alius. And of olde wyters alterax, is vied in the battue case.
 Alter & vicissimus, one and twente.
 Alter quisquam, any other.
 Quid altero obloquitur, seipsum cotueri oportet, he that speaketh of an other, ought to consider his owne fautes.
 Vnus et alter dies intercesserat, twoo daies were passe.
 Ita fiat vt neuter alteri officiat, soo it shall come to passe, that neither shall hurt other.
 Cum vterq; alteri obiciat, palam est vtrumq; fecisse, When eche of theim latheth it to otherto charge, it is manifeste, that bothe of theim dyd it.
 Vnus et item alter, one of two, significyng an vncertayne number.
 Alter ab undecimo, id est secundus, the thirtenth.

 Cum alter alterum videremus, when eche of vs sawe other. Likewise alter alterum doceat.
 Altero die q; soluit a Brundisio, The second daie after he departed from Brundisio.
 Alter ab illo, nexte after hym.
 Alter ego, alter idem, alter Cicero.
 Alter, eris, or Haler, eris, posses of leade, made to lyfte by in bothe handes, to exercep men, whiche make not otherwyle labour. wherof there be many now in Englande, specially in students chambers.
 Alteras, olde wyters vied for alias.
 Altercatio, onis, a contention in wordes, where one man purporeth, and an other replyeth, also a chydnyng.
 Altercator, oris, one that contendeth by replication, a wangler, a chyder.
 Altercor, aris sum, ari, to contende with woordes one with an other on sidyng partes, to chide.
 Altercun, siue altercagenum, an herbe called also Fabia porcina.
 Alternatim, by tourne, one at one tyme, an otherto at an other tyme.
 Alterne, idem.
 Alternare, to doo thynges by tourne, now one, and than an other: And being referred to the mynde, it significeth to wauer, to be vnconstant, to bee in druckes tales.
 Alternatio, onis, succession by tourne.
 Alternus, a, um, that is dooen by course.
 Alternis diebus, sundy daies, where one day is betwene.
 Alternis annis, euery seconde yere.
 Alternis peno verbis, almost at euery seconde woorde.
 Alternis annis sunt mares, alternis formis nax, They bee sometyme males, and sometyme females.
 Alterplex, icis, olde wyters vied for Duplex.
 Altero, aui, are, to alter or chaunge.
 Alterta, idem quod alterura.
 Alteruter, the one of the other.
 Alterutrimq; an aduerbe, on either parte.
 Altha, the greates matowes of holy hocke. It is also the daughter of Thestius, and wyfe to Demus, kyng of Calpdonia, whiche repenyng the slaughter of her sonne Meleager, slew her selfe.
 Altilia, a towne in Lumbardy, called at this daie Altetola.
 Altilis, le, the thyng that is franked to be made fatte, be it beest, fysh, or foule.
 Altilis gallina, an henne franked or fobde.
 Altimetor, oris, an instrument, wherewith high thynges are mette.
 Altinates, people of Altinum.
 Altinum, an olde citty by the riuage of Venetia, called now Corfello.

Alid

Alisonus, a, um, that maketh noyse to be above.
 Alisouans, he that chynnyeth, wherby the name the paynys gaue to there sonne Alisou.
 Alitudo, inis, height or deepnesse.
 Alitudo animi, noble courage, hautenesse of mynde.
 Alitrolans, all thyng that flyeth bygh.
 Alitrolus, a, um, that flyeth bygh.
 Altor, oris, he that noursyeth or byngeth by one.
 Altrinfecus, on the one parte.
 Altrix, icis, he that noursyeth.
 Altrouerium, on the other parte, or on the otherto side.
 Altus, a, um, bygh, depe, proppeth in the sea. It significeth also excellent, glorious, auncient, noble, great, haute, lusty, ferere, bydde.
 Altum otium, longe rest, great leisure.
 Aedius in altum, sette alofte.
 Altor spiritus, an haute and lusty courage.
 Alea mente predictus homo, a man of greates and excellent wysedome.
 Altus somnus, deaba sleape.
 Alta quies, great rest.
 Altus dolor, sorowe hepte close, that lyeth twetpyn in the stomache.
 Altiores literæ, profounde learnyng.
 Altum, alone, significeth sometyme the deepest parte of the sea, and fardest frome lande, the maine sea. Sometyme heauen.
 Ex alto in portum, out of the magne sea into the haum.
 Demisit ab alto, he sent doune from heauen.
 Alta et exaggerata oratio, an bygh and pleneyfull stile.
 Altus, a, um, noursyeth.
 Aluear, aluearium, and aluiare, a place where hyues of bees be set, also a stocke of the same hyues. Sometyme the hyue it selfe.
 Alueatus, a, um, made holowe lyke to the place where a ryuer renneth.
 Alueolatus, a, um, holowe.
 Alueolus, li, maff. ge. a baskette of maunde, a chesse bounde of tables to plate on. It is also an holow vessel made of wodde.
 Alueus, ei, an hyue for bees, a vessel to washe in, the bealy of any thyng that lacketh lyfe. Sometyme it significeth a shyppe, and the place betwene bothe banks, where the ryuer renneth.
 Alum, an herbe called also Symphytum peraxum, Consolida, Buglam, in frenche Bugle, in englyshe Comferis, or Camfrey. It groweth abode in sonny places, and being sodde maketh bydes that ease of it so amased, that they maye be easly taken.
 Aluinus, a, um, that whiche is diseased with fretting of the bealy, with continual fyre.
 Alumen, alume, wherof bee thre sortes, one is called Scissilax or plumax, whiche naturally groweth lyke a stone, and not withstandinge it maketh bydes, there be longe strakes of it. In other sortes is boyled in a cauldon, and therfore is called Alumen Catinæ, and is made more pure by an herbe (lyke to herbe pur) bouyed into ashe, and lye made there with. An other sort is called Alumen Zacharinum, whiche is made with alume resented, rose water, and whites of egges, in to the facion of a sugar lose, wherewith hartottes dooe vs to paynt theyr byfages to deceyue men.

 Aluminatus, and Aluminosus, a, um, infected or myngled with alume.
 Alumna, he that is noursyeth or brought by.
 Alumnari, to nourse or byng by.
 Alumnatus, a, um, noursyeth.
 Alumnus, a sonne of scholar, that is brought by of a man, as of his owne father, epthe with sustenance, maners, or learnyng. Sometyme (vnproppeth) that whiche noursyeth or byngeth by.
 Alura, lether, proppeth tawed, sometyme it is put for a bagge or a purse.
 Aluræ, people of Molauone.
 Alutamen, or alutamentum, any thyng made of lether.
 Alutarius, a whiffe tawyer.
 Aluratio, onis, the sekynng out of gold mynes.
 Aluria, golde oye.
 Aluis, ui, form. gen. a bealy. also an hyue, a panche, the wombe of a woman. Sometyme it is taken for the excrementes.
 Aluum bonam facere, to make solable.
 Aluum ciere, mollire, uel elicere, to make the bealy soue of solable.
 Aluum deicere, ducere, euacuare, exinanis re, to purge the bealy.
 Aluum sistere, firmare, compescere, to stop or bynde the bealy.
 Aluum gestare, to be great with thyde.
 Alui resolutio, the lousyng of the bealy.
 Alui profluuium, the lath.
 Alutracenses, a people of Thracia.
 Alyacmon, a ryuer of Macedonie.
 Alyattes, the father of kyng Crelus.
 Alyba, a countrey not farre frome Myssia, where (as Homerus doeth wyte) were mynes of spier.
 Alypia, idem quod Alypon.
 Alypon, in Diocetides, is of some supposed to be that, whiche is commonly called Sena, wherewith melancoly is purged. After Plinius it is a stalk haung a softe coppe, not vnlyke to beetes, tarte, and egge in taste, wherewith bynyng, and inflame.
 Alysius, the name of Bacchus.
 Alysson, an herbe that differeth frome Rubia, onely in that it hath small leaues & panythes.
 Alysonij, a people of Myssia.

Aly,

Alyssos, or Alysius, a welle of Decadie, the water whereof healeth theym that bee bitten with mad dogges.
 Alyxothor, the daughter of Ormas.
 Alyzia, a citee of Epirania. xv. furlonges from the sea.

A ANTE M.

AM, a preposicion used onely in composition, and signifieth about.

Amabilis, le, amiable, woothy to be loved, lously.
 Amabilitas, atis, amtablenesse, lousynesse.
 Amabiliter, amptly, lousngly.
 Amabo, of fellowship, of good fellowship.
 Amator, a familiar word used among frendes.
 Amundus, he that is a greatesse lover, or amorous.
 Amadoca, a citee of Sarmatia in Europe.
 Amadoci, certayne hylls. also people of the same countreie.
 Amadryades, tooke Hamadryades.
 Amasanius, an yll interpreter of wordes.
 Amalchum, a parte of the ocean sea towards the north.
 Amalec, a woode of hebrue, whiche may be interpreted, a people lykyng or strepyng. He was the name of a kynge of Siria, which resisted the people of Israel, when they came out of Egypt, and slew many of them. wherefore he was afterwarde slayne by the commandment of god. It is sometime taken for the countreie, whereof Amalec was kynge.
 Amalech, the people of Amalec, whome god commaunded Saule, to destitute utterly. And because he dyd not, he was resect of god.
 Amalthea, a woman, whiche with hie spere called Melissa, nourished Jupiter with the mylk of a goate, it is also the name of a prophete.
 Amalthæ cornu, A plover signifyinge great plente, and aboundance of thynges.
 Amare, to help, helpe me.
 Aman, a name of hebrue, whiche signifieth troubling or murmuring. Of that name was one, which came of the house of Zigag, whom Euerus kynge of Persia, and Media, created about at his lordes and counsaillours, and willed all thynges to be doone as he wolde commaund it. Of whose pite, and what punishment fell on hym for it, ye maye read in the booke of Ester.
 Amara, a citee of Media.
 Amardano, onis, a sendyng awate, a banysment.
 Amardus, a, um, sente awate.
 Amardo, au, are, to countremunde awate, to sende awate.

Amardus, a place in India.
 Amanica pila, the Britains, or entiles of the mountayns Amanus.
 Amnoides, a promontorie in Cilicia.
 Amans, he of the that loveth as well himself as unhonestly.
 Amantes doloris, pynfull men.
 Amantur, lousngly.
 Amapies, a people of Hungarie.
 Amanthes, after Calepine, but more betwixt Hammanienles, people of Aphrike, in the furthest parte of Aethiops, who have such plenty of precious stones and salt, that therof they make great houses among them to founde the Carbunkle.
 Amantia, a citee of Macedonia.
 Amanuensis, a clerke or secretarie attwale attending.
 Amanum, an haven in the lyther Spayne.
 Amanus, a mans name. also one of the Persians goddes, and a parte of the mountayns Taurus, nere to Cilicia.
 Amara, a citee in Arabia felix.
 Amaracium, an oyle made of matozom.
 Amaracius, a, um, that is made of matozom.
 Amaracus, an herbe called loose matozom, or matozom gentle. It is also called Sampichus. But Coleneareth, that Amaracus is that herbe, whiche the apothecaries calle Matricaria.
 Amaracus, was also the name of a pong man, (whiche as poetes feigne, was touned into that herbe.
 Amaramis, the father of Moyses.
 Amaranthi, people of the countreie of Colchos, wherein was a shepe that bare the golden fleece.
 Amaranthos, & Helicryfos, is all one herbe, and is supposed to be that which is commonly called Stoeas or Silcados citrina. There is therof two kyndes, the floure of the one is yelow, and hath a soote savour. The other hath a purple floure, whiche hath no savour. The yelow is layde amonge clothes to kepe them from mothes, and therfore of some it is called Tincaria. The other is called Flos amoris, the floure of love. Some suppose it to be the glysser gentile, or flower gentle.
 Amaranthus, an herbe whiche groweth a fote in height, and hath leaues lyke basyle, and hath a floure facioned lyke an eare of wheate of colour crimson, and never dieth. In frencche it is called Passeclure. Some suppose it to be called in englyshe Bardane.
 Amari, people in the oceanica by Drythia.
 Amardi, people of Epirania.
 Amardus, a ruere of Media.
 Amare, bitterly.
 Amareco, u, scere, to waxe bitter, or to be bitter.

Ama

Amarace, a people in the oceanica.
 Amarice, a little Mynde of the oceanica.
 Amice, Tamarice, Myrice, Briar.
 Amario, au, are, to make bitter, to make angry.
 Amarillis, idos, a womans name.
 Amariscus, an herbe called Spathe, or dogge fenelle.
 Amaripus, a ruere.
 Amaritudo, inis, and Amaricles, ei, bitternesse.
 Amatri, people nere to the Hyrcans.
 Amaror, idem quod amaritudo.
 Amarulentus, a, um, vexed with malice, very bitter, spitefull, envious.
 Amarus, a, um, bitter and by a metaphore very angry, cruell, pynfull, hurefull, spitefull, frowarde, unpleasant.
 Amara mulier, a cruell queene.
 Sales amaræ, bytyng scoffes.
 Amariorem me facit senectus, age maketh me more austere, frowarde, unpleasant.
 Amara mors, deathe pynfull, heauy, unpleasant.
 Amarus hostis, a cruell enemy.
 Amarus rumor, a spitefull rumour.
 Amarusia, the name of Diana amonge the Atheniens.
 Amarynus, a ruere that boundeth upon Ercadie, also a towne in Euboea.
 Amasia, a name of hebrue, signifieth the people that spareth, or bytyng by the people. It was the name of a noble man, sonne of Abigail, sister to David. also of a Capitayne, whome Joab slewe, in bytyng and saluting hym, under the colour of frendshipp.
 Amasenus, a ruere in Italy, an other in Sicilia.
 Amasia, a city in Germany, called Warburg also a ruere betweene Rhine and Elbe.
 Amasias, a name of hebrue signifieth the strength of the lorde. Of that name was one kynge of Judea, sonne of Joas. 853. yeres before the incarnation of Christ, he reigned. xix. yeres. a man verie eloquent, and at the begynnyng of his reigne, of muche humilitie towards all men, and observed competently the commaundementes of god. But yet he dyd not utterly take awaye ydolatrie. He was longe tyme fortunat, and waxed ryche, but at the last he forgate god, and became proude, and not contented with his estate, he wote unto Joas, kynge of the Israelites; commaunding hym and his people to be under his subjection. But Joas after bestaunce, gathered an army, and went agaynst Amasias, amonge whose men fell such a sobeyne feare, that all seemblyng they fledde: or else they came to strokes. Amasias was taken and brought to Joas, who threatened to kill hym, except he caused the gates of Jerusalem to be opened agaynst hym, whiche was doone. And with standing he caused 400. cubites of the walle to be breken downe, and shewd into the cite that wote to a chariot, leadinge Amasias with hym as a prisoner, and took all the treasures of the temple, and of the houses, and caused it to be brought into Samaria. Afterward, beinge disquayed, his owne people slewe hym.

Amasis, a noble kynge of Egypte. he made a lawe, that every yere eche man should make a reckenyng to the hiepriests of his estate, howe and by what occupation he livyd, and he that dydde not so, shoulde be putte to deathe.

Amasius, ei Amasia, he of the that loveth, or is in love.

Amasius, or amisin, the ruere in Germany commonly called Elbe.

Amasi, people about Amasius.

Amasso, idem quod amauero.

Amatris, the principall citee of Paphlagonia, also an other in Bithynia, called coinmente Sopyasto.

Amata, the wyfe of a kynge of Latines, and sister of the goddesse Minerva. also the name of a virgine Geste, when they were spide admitted.

Amata, people of India.

Amatai, people of Arabia.

Amath, the sonne of Chanaan.

Amathunus, and Amathunus, a, um, of a perpetuall to the citee Amathus.

Amathus, unis, a citee in Cyprus, dedicate to Venus, of the whiche that place was called Amathusia.

Amathus, thi, a ruere rennyng by the citee Pyllos, where Nestor was borne. It is also the father of Arias, whiche buylded the temple of Venus in Cyprus.

Amathusia, the yle of Cyprus.

Amatio, onis, a lousyng, a wanton lousyng.

Amator, oris, a lover, or he that is amorous.

Amatorculus, a small of symple lousyng.

Amatoris, lyke a lover.

Amatorius, a, um, that perpetuall to Idus.

Amatorium poculum, a bynke charmed to make a man a lover.

Amatrix, a woman lover.

Amatrix, the bynne of the esen.

Amatrix, in latine Plantum, a waine, loke Hamaxa.

Amatrix, a citee of Cilicia.

Amatrix, a citee of Media.

Amatrix, a citee of Media.

Amatrix, people of Sarmatia, so called of Amatrix, which they used in the of bones.

Amatrix, women of Sarmatia, whiche were a great part of Asia. They had all the men childless, and kept the women children, of whom they bought the crythe payre, because it

Quide

Should not lette them to thowes theye James lyne, or to thowes. Amazones, be sometyme taken for poore people that lyue barely.

Amazonicus, a, um, pertaininge to the Amazones.

Amazonicus, ci, a countrey called after Cesa-
ris. It is also the name of the mountayne Caurus.

Amazonides, idem quod amazones.

Amazonius, a, um, idem quod Amazonicus.
Amazonius, ni, an hill in Cappadocia, wher-by renneth the river Thermodoon.

Ambactus, a, servant.

Ambages, fer, ge, a circuit of woodes, or a calle drawn in lengthe.

Ambagiosus, a, um, that aboundeth in such foyme of speaking.

Ambatæ, people of Asia.

Ambar, or Ambarum, looke Ambra.

Ambarri, people of the countrey of Lyons in france.

Ambarialis hostia, was a sacrifice made for the fieldes, with a fowle great with farrowe.

Ambatæ, a people of Asia.

Ambatium, a river in Asia.

Ambe, es, a citee in Arabe.

Ambedo, edi, ere, to cate of gnawe aboute
a thynge.

Ambegni, were an oxe and a ramme, whan on euer syde of them lambes were brought to be sacrificed.

Ambest, idem quod circum est.

Ambesius, a, um, eaten vp, or gnawen rounde
aboute.

Ambiani, seu Ambienfes, people in france about Languedoc called Ambosse, som suppose it to be Amiens.

Ambidentes, Mepe of two tethes, of some called hogges, and of some theaues.

Ambidexter, he that useth bothe handes lyke well. And by a metaphore, he that taketh morte of bothe the parties.

Ambigatus, a kyng of the Galles, which sente his two newwes, Bellouesus and Sigouesus to seke adventures in strange countreies.

Ambigo, egi, ere, to compasse or dyue about,
to dout, to be at controuersie or variance.

Vicini nostri hic ambigunt de finibus, oure neighbours hereby are at controuersie for the boundes of their landes.

Ambigitur, menne doute, of the controuersie
it is.

Ambigitur ius aliquod inter peritos, That lawe is in controuersie betwene learned men.

Ambigue, doubtfully.

Ambiguitas, ais, doubtfulness, vncertayne,

Ambiguum, gai, a doute.

Ambiguus, a, um, doubtfull, vncertayne.

Ambiguus futuri, vncertayne what shall chaunce hereafter.

Ambiguus imperandi, vncertayne whether he myghte gouerne lyke an emperoure or no.

Fidei ambigua uir, a man of slipper credite,
a man of small fidelitee.

Ambiguum non habeo, I doubt not.

Ambilares, people in thele Bytayne, called Darenchia.

Ambio, iui, ire, to compasse, to go aboute, to like for promotion, to desyre, to praye, to increase, to make suite of labour.

Ambitio, onis, inordinate desyre of honoure or authoritee. Also the seking for the fauour of men, earnest suite of labour in a matter. Some eyne obsequie, and wyllynge readynesse to doe any thyng.

Ambitiose, pyowdely, curiously, with greue laboure.

Ambitiose tristis, one that dooeth affectate or uermuche grauitie.

Ambitiosus, a, um, that hath a great compasse of circuite, that couereth ouermuche to haue the fauour of men. Mercurious earnestly and studiously doone, superfluous, nothyng to the purpose.

Ambitiosus amnis, a river that keepeth a large compasse.

Ambitiose amicitia, feigned amitie, wher-in be many gage woodes, and small frende shyppe.

Ambitiosa decreta, ordynances published by the suite, fauour, and frendshipp of men.

Ambitiosa diligentia, to curious diligence.

Ambitiosus index, a iudge desirous of the fauour of men, lothe to displease.

Ambitiosa ornamenta, superfluous orna-mentes.

Ambitiose sententia, sentences pronounced for fauour of frendshipp, and not of a right conscience.

Ambitiose preces, affectuall desyres.

Ambitiosus, si, he that immoderately desyeth honour.

Ambitus, tus, a circuite, inclosure. Also the offence of ambition made by the lawes, the inordinate suite to obtayne the fauours of men,
by byshping or other meanes.

Ambitus verborum, a full or taste perforce.

Ambitus, a, um, enuyroned or compassed, increased or fured vnto with many desyres and prayers.

Ambo, bothe.

Ambra, a verate sweete thyng, which is founde on the sea by a countrey called Zingi, in the east part of the world, and (so for) his gray colour) commonly called (of the apothecaries) Ambra grisa. Hereof are made verate precious and cordiall medicines. It is hot in the second degree, and drye in the first.

Ambrasia, a citee in Egypte, in a countrey, wher-of the people be called Theoproti. This citee

ettee was by the called Ambrasia, and was in. Of this citee was named a countrey some called Sinus ambrasiensis, whiche is, as well by nature as by arte, made wondrously stronge, hauing a double walles, and inclosed on bothe sydes with fannes, hauing none entree, but one narrow waye.

Ambrasienses, and Ambrasiotæ, people of Ambrasia.

Ambratius, a, um, of Ambrasia.

Ambrices, tyles whiche belapde ouerthwart betwene other tyles.

Ambrones, people of France.

Ambrosia, called of the paynims the meate of the goddis, after som, is an herbe of the kynd of Mugwort. It is properly sayd, whiche is used to be seped with egges at Easter. This name Ambrosia, wandred, as Irling sayeth, in diuers thynges. For were it meate, or drink, or herbes, whiche for the delicatenesse ther-of, was offered to the goddis in sacrifice, they called it by that name.

Ambrosia, is also the feast of Bacchus, used to be kept in the month of January.

Ambrosia alendus, a pious signifyinge that one is woorthy to be a god.

Ambrosica, æ, a kynde of grapes.

Ambrosius, and Ambrosiacus, a, um, of or per-taininge to Ambrosia, also sweete, pleasant, delectable.

Ambrosius, fil, the name of a man, of the which one most excellent, was byshop of Milan, in the yere of our lord, 373. who was a woman borne of a noble and ancient house, and had been consull there. As this man, beinge sente by Valentinianns the pious to Ambrosius, to pacifie a sedition, perswaded the people to concorde: suddenly the voyce of an infant was heard of all men, whiche cryed: Ambrosius is woorthy to be byshop: whiche voyce so fer-uently cryed the people, that they all condescended to make hym the byshop, not with-standinge he was not yet baptised, but newlye instructed in the faith. And so, he instantly refusinge, that compelled hym to take it vpon hym. And shortly after all the people of Aum-barde agreed in one opinion of the faith.

He was of such holynesse, such gentynesse, such excellent wysdome and learninge, that not onely in his lyfe, but also after his death, he was thynghout the world, had in honour and reuerence. His case forme of election, and as a rare thyng it is to fynde a by-shop or pious of Ambrosius qualitee, although he were halfe a paynime, and a tem-porall man whan he was chosen byshop, wher-at that time hee was chosen, that hee christened in his infancy, and by the yere of more yeres he was byshop, and yet some not woorthy to occupy that reuerende office.

Ambrum, a name of some of Rome.

Ambryus, the name of two cities, the one in thorpe, the other in Sicilia.

Amburici, a people of a parte of Bababie,

Ambubala, drunken drabbes that wandre about the strettes.

Ambubela, or ambugla, the common cypre, with the long leafe, and blew floure, whiche will close at the goinge downe of the sunne, and open at the risinge.

Ambulacrum, cri, a piate place to walke in,
a galee, an alep in a garden.

Ambulatio, onis, walkinge, or a walkinge place.

Ambulatio, oris, a walker, or syrer.

Ambulatorius, a, um, and ambulailis, le, that goeth on wheels, or maye be remoued from place to place, as Turris ambulatoria, a tower in waers, that may be brought to a sho.

Ambulatri, a people of Cusan in france.

Ambulatrix, icis, a woman that walketh.

Ambulo, aui, are, to walke or stye about, to go.

Ambulare in ius, to come before a iudge.

Ambulat hoc caput per omnes leges, This clause is often repeated in the lawes.

Amburbale, or amburbium, a sacrifice, whan
the heast that is sacrificed goth about the city.

Amburo, usi, ere, to bourn all aboute.

Ambustio, onis, a bournyng.

Ambustus, a, um, bourned vp.

Ambustus ad cinerem, bourned to ashes.

Amecus, et ameca, olde whetters used for amica cus et amica.

Amelas, a towne of Syria.

Amellus, a phyllosopher, the disciple of Plotinus and master to Iodaphyrus.

Amello, an herbe, whiche groweth muche about the ryuer Rhodanus in france.

Amemelides, a kynde of medlars, whereth be stee stones.

Amen, a word of hebyne, whiche after the interpretation of Aquila, signifyeth fideliter, after the 7. C. interpretours, it signifyeth si-at, be it.

Amenis, agere, ragyns, without all counsell or without.

Amenis, a, um, the participle of amencio.

Amenis, foli, madnesse.

Amenio, aui, are, to fasten a littell thynge, or a lyke thyng on a dart or sautyn.

Amentum, ti, a thynge, or that whiche is bounden to the middes of a dart or sautyn, wherwith it is thynghen. It is also the oke appyll, or a good thyng that groweth on an oken tree.

Amentis, idem quod ammi.

America, an olde citee in Italy.

America, a countrey late founde in the west part of the world by Americus Vesputius, the yere of our lord, 1477.

Americum, an herbe called Aizoon males.

Amerinus, a, um, of Amerina.
Ameriola, a, cille in Itali.
Ames, eris, mal, ge, a perche, a little fish, where on nettes beeste in hauyng or hauyngs.
Amestratin, people of Sicilie.
Amethyslinatus, one apparaild in colour lyke to the amethyst.
Amethysinus, a, um, of an amethyst, coloured lyke an amethyst, violetete.
Amethystus, called also Anterites, is a precious stone, called an amethyste, whiche is of a purple colour, but the more it is mixte with rose colour, the better it is. Amethystus, is also a kynde of grapes. also an herbe in colour lyke wyne.
Ametor, oris, he that is without mother.
Amin, a, fpe the lyke to a tunc, but he hath no seas-les, but a playne flayne, whiche syneth lyke to siluer mixt with blew. And his tale is in fashion lyke the newe moone.
Amianthon, is of Ericius Cordus, supposed to be a stone, wherof bee made matches lyke to chydres, whiche beynge ones on fyre, are neuer extincte or put out.
Amica, a woman that is loued, also a concubine
Amicabilis, le, frendly.
Amice, lyke a frende.
Amicor, for amicior, I wil be clothed, araisd or apparaild.
Amicinium, a canne or pot : but after Spoyman
 it is the hingt of a bottell.
Amicio, cui, ere, to clothe, to put on a garment.
Amicior, ictus sum, iri, to bee cladde.
Amiciter, frendly.
Amicitia, x, amicee, or frendshipp.
Amicitiai, in the genetiue case, for amicitia.
Amicitias, ei, for amicitia.
Aserbere aliquem ad amicitiam, Accipere in amicitiam, to admytte one to be his frend.
Amicitia claudicare videtur, he seemeth not to be a sure and truly frend : he seemeth to bee a feynt frende.
Amicitiam conglutinare, coniungere, con-iugare, connectere, constituere, to foynne or knytte in frendshipp.
Amicitiam dirumpere, dissoluere, discindere, diffuere, dissociare, euertere, extinguere, tollere, violare, to bryake frendshipp.
Amicitia mihi est cum eo, Ipe & I be frendes Amicitiam conseruare, confirmare, colere, continere, tueri, to maynteyn frendshipp.
Amicitiam alicuius dimittere, deserere, exue-re, renuntiare, repudiare, to forsake a mans frendshipp.
Amicitiam gignere, conciliare, comparare, acquirere, parere, contrahere, to get or wyne
 frendshipp.
Amisicorium, rij, a tynnen vasse that women do
 vse to weare.
Amictus, a, um, cladde, or elles the araying of Amictus, us, a garment of apparaple.

Amicula, e, a diminutive of amica.
Amiculus, he that wearerh a mozt cloke.
Amiculum, li, a mozt cloke.
Amiculus, li, a diminutive of amicus.
Amicus, & amica, a friend, a lover, he of Me.
Amicus, a, um, frendly, pleasant, acceptable, and togged to a thyng that lackerh lyfe, it signifieth profitable of holsonge.
Amilcar, the name of two noble capitaines of Carthage, one in great Alexanders tyme, the other Annibals father.
Aminum, called also Salernum, a towne of Campanyn in Italy.
Aminus, a, um, of that towne ofountrete.
Aminga vites, vines growng by Salerno in the colofms of Naples.
Amipias, a comical poete of Athens.
Amilius, loke amalius.
Amisio, onis, the losse of a thyng.
Amisus, a, um, losse.
Amisus, a towne of Galatia.
Amira, x, my fathers sydee, myns aunt. also a towne not farr from Bundeis.
Amiternini, the Sabines.
Amiternum, ni, a towne in Campanya, wher Salust was boyn, nowe called Aquila.
Amiternus, a, um, of that towne.
Amithaon, the father of Melampus.
Amithocura, a courtesie in Arabia.
Amittenfes, a people of Italy.
Amitini, consens germanys by wyther a sister.
Amitto, si, ere, to suffer, to departe, to lose, to sende, to lette passe, to take fro, to call away.
Amittere iusiurandum, to bryake an othe, to lose credence.
Quod si non dederit, atq; hic dies praxeris rit: ego argentum, ille iusiurandum amises rit, If he doo not paie it, and this daye dooe passe, I shall lose my money, but he shall lose his credence.
Amittere libidinem, I am non possum, amitt omnem libidinem, I make dooe no moze, I am past all pleasure.
Amittere rem de manibus, to rydde ones handes of a matter.
Amittere hominem de manibus, to let a ma go that was taken.
Amittere ciuitatem, to lose the libertie of franchise of a citee.
Amitit colorem, he hath loste his colour.
Ammanethus, an glande of Arabia.
Amni, or ammium, a little white seeds, it hath the taste of Oliganum, and is hoote and drye in the third degree. It groweth most common ly in Ethiopia. The apothecaries (sayth Jod. Agricola) haue not the verate true Amni, but in steede thereof, they sel the fede of cherulle Ammochrylus, a pretiouse stone, in colour like golde.

golde mixt with green.
Ammodites, a woument muche like an adder, a cabler longe, in colour like grauell with blacke spots, and hath a herat hard sayle.
 It is of some called Cenchrias.
Ammon, an hebrus name, significth the sonne of my people. The sonne of Loe (whom he be gate on his younge daughter, whan he was dyunte) was so called. Of this Ammon callis the people in Egypt, Ammonites, whom Jo- sephus dooeth call Ammanites. by this name was Jupiter also worshipped in Egypt.
Ammono, loke admoned.
Ammoniacum, called also Gutta ammoniaca, is a soote gumme, wherby the apothegaries call Benisewyne. It issueth out of a caane, or (after Plinys) out of a tree, called Myrcopis, which groweth specially in Ephra, where the temple of Jupiter Hammon stood.
Ammonitrum, a bunche of white glasse.
Ammonius, the name of a philosopher, who was master to Pythene.
Ammoueo, ul, ere, for amoueo.
Amnetia, forgetfulness of thynges passed.
Amnicola, lx, one that dwelleth by a brooke.
Amnicus, a, um, of the brooke.
Amnis, a ryuer or brooke.
Amnus, a ryuer in the land Dolcia in Heaby.
Amo, ui, are, to loue heartly, eo loue wantonly.
Amare certatim, to loue who can loue best.
Amare in matrimonium, to loue one to the intent to marry hie.
Amare, (absolutely) to be intangled in wana conloue.
Amare ex animo, to loue with hert & mynde Amare se in aliquo, to please ones selfe in a ny thyng.
Amas quod, for Gaudes quod.
Amare ex, or de hac re, I loue you, or I see muche by you, or I thank you for this thyng.
Amat, for Soler, it is wote, or the facton to so.
Amodo, from henceforth, hereafter.
Amabrum carmen, verses songe by course, whan one answereth to the other, with equal numbre of verses, and speaketh either a con trarie, or a farre greater thyng, like to Esop
 gilles thirde eclogie.
Amena, a substantiue, pleasant and delecta
 ble places, goodly to beholde.
Amoenitas, asis, pleasure, delectableness, myth.
Amoeniter, uerely, pleasantly.
Ameno, ul, are, to make mery or glad.
Amoenus, a, um, pleasant or delectable.
Amorum ingenium, a pleasant wittes.
Locus amoenus, a delectable place.
Amollor, I remove or put awaie with great pynne, somer tyme to comforte.
Amollimini, hinc, sette you hent.
Amollit, particul, to put away pyn or digne
Amomum, id, an herb like to Ammonum.

Amomum, is a little badge wrapped round together like a cluster of grapes, and hath a little flower like a white violet, the leaves like white wine, of white bitter leaves. The best commeth out of Armenia, wher it is yelow as golde, the wood is white and very soft in cleaving. It is decreitied (Cato in Ruellius & Agricola) that take it for the rots of Hierusalem, called also our ladies rots.

Amor, oris, loue, sometime lecherous lust. Some tyme it is taken for Cupido, the god.

Amoramarus, unpleasant or hurtfull loue.

Amor inflammare animam, to set ones heart on fire with loue.

Amorabundus, a, um, that is amorous.

Amores, wanton pastimes or pleasures, when in we delite. Sometime a person whom we loue.

Amorgis, such a kind of line, wherof is made earres of Lypes.

Amorgos, an islande.

Amorrhæi, a word of hebrue signifieth cruel rebeldes or great babies. Of that name was a people, whiche were neighbours to the Jewes, and of sicimias subdued by them, and as the last hyng Salomon made them tributaries to hym.

Amos, father of the prophet Esai, signifieth stronge or puissant.

Amos, one of the xii. prophetes, signifieth but deined or charged. The first hath in the begynnyng the letter Aleph. The other hath the letter Ahn. This man (borne in the town called Thome) was a shepherde, and sent by god in to Samaria. And when he had thre prophesies against x. tribus, and somewhat spake of the other two, Amassas caused hym often tymes to be beaten: but when he could not resist the holy goss, Echolias, sonne of king Amassas, caused a great napie to bee thurst into his temples: And being half dead, was caried in to his owne countrey, where he soone after dyed.

Amosio, for annuo.

Amoueo, onis, a removing or putting away.

Amoueo, uere, to remove, to put from a place or a chynge, to putte awaie, to lape asyde, to take awaie.

Amouere crapulam, to parryke whan ones is drunken.

Amouere signifiem, to cast a wasteflourthe.

Amouere aliquem ab officio, to put one out of his office. A se culpam amouer, he putteth the fault from hym selfe.

Amouere metum, to put awaie feare.

Amouer in istulam, to be banished or cast away into an islande.

Per fallacia amouit, he toke it awaie by deceite.

Amplius, a kind of rougher sactie, like the tyme called Blumen.

Angelodesmon, an herbe, wherewith they make make bombes to the vines.

Ampelociba, a towne nere to Smyrna.

Ampelos, a citie of Candie, and a towne of Macedonia. also a child whom Bacchus loved, and after his death turned into a sterre, also a wilde vine.

Ampelos agria, called Labrusca, a wild vyne.

Ampeloleucis, a white vine called also Ophiostaphilos, Melothros, commonly Bryonia. It groweth in hedges and bushes, in englyshe Wyponie.

Ampelomelana, of some is also named Bryonia, and Chironia, of the latines Vuaraminia, and Vitis nigra.

Ampelus, an island, or a promontory in Samos.

Ampelusia, an isle called nowe Cinge. Also a promontory of Africke.

Ampendices, old wyters used for appendices.

Amphi, in latine Circum, about.

Amphiarus, son of Apollon, an Argive boye, was a soothsaier, whom Adrastus, kynge of Argiours, wold have taken with hym, whan he made warre agaynst the Thebans, but knowing that he shoulde not retourne, he lye hym selfe. At the laste, beinge discomfited by his wyfe, he was compelled to go with the boye. And the first date that he came to Thebes, the erthe opened, and swallowed hym.

Amphibia, byrdes of beastes that doo lyue as well on the water as on the lande.

Amphibolia, amphibologia, or amphibolon, a forme in speakinge, where a sentence may be taken two sundry of contrary waies.

Amphibracus, a foote of meter begyn of thre syllables, the first and last short, and the middle syllable longe, as Cupido.

Amphicarpa, that beare on bothe sydes double fruite.

Amphictiones, a noble counsel in Grece, assembled at a place called Thermopylae, wherein were the xiiij. sundry people of Grece, Iones, Dorcs, Perthebi, Boethi, Magnes, Achii, Phthiotcs, Melientes, Dolopes, Aenianes, Delphi, and Phocenses. Of this counsaile wyte, Suidas, Strabo, lib. 9. Dionysius, 14.

Amphicyrtos, is the state of the moone, whan it is not come to the diameter of iust middle.

Amphigenia, a citie.

Amphiloclus, a phitosopher.

Amphimacrus, a foote in meter, the first syllable and laste longe, the middle short.

Amphimalla, clothe of garmentes tryed on bothe sydes.

Amphimedon, one of the Centaures.

Amphimerion, a fever cotidian, whiche cometh of fleume.

Amphinome, a nymphe.

Amphion, a manne whiche with naturall eloquence, brought rude and wilde people to a civile forme of luyng. And (as some suppose) founded first harmonie.

Amphionius, a, um, of Amphion.

Amphipolis, a citie nigh to Macedonia.

Amphippi, called of Idine Desultores, some doo say that used to leape fro one horse to another.

Amphiroe, a nymphe of mardyn of the epures.

Amphisa, a river in Phocis, a citie of Grece.

Amphibana, a serpent having two heades, wherof the one is before, the other behynde, where his tale shoulde be.

Amphissa, a citie of Locris in Grece.

Amphistratus, a certain grauer of image makee.

Amphitana, a precious stone, the bypume of edge wherof shyneth like golde.

Amphitapa, pa, a garment that is rough on bothe sydes.

Amphitalami, a kynde of chambres.

Amphiterum, a cuppe whiche well stande on euery syde, and hath dyuers bottomes. Also a great suggle of dyshynge porre.

Ex amphitro bibisti, A proverbe spoken of one that hath drunken vnicuersally.

Amphitheatralis, le, and Amphitheatricus, a, um, of or pertaining to a theatre.

Amphitheatrum, a rounde place made with seates of scaffoldes, where men beheld plays.

Amphitheatrales ludi, playes exercised in those places.

Amphitoe, a nymphe of mardyn.

Amphitrio, onis, the husbnde of Alcmena, mother of Hercules.

Amphytrionides, he that cometh of the lyne of Amphytrio.

Amphitryte, was daughter to Poseidon, and wyfe to Neptuneus, god of the sea. and sometime it is taken for the sea.

Amphitus, lasto, and Pollex charret man.

Amphora, called also Quadrantal, an old measure of Rome. It is a tote square euery waie, and conteyneth 4.8. of the old measures called Sextarii, of our englyshe measure: v. gals.

In weight it conteyneth 80. pound of wyne. 72. of oyle, of hony, 120.

Amphoralis, le, that conteyneth the measure of Amphora.

Amphorarius, he that beareth the porre, a car hard bearer.

Amphrysus, a river in Thessaly, by which Adpollo kept the shepe of Admetus. also a citie.

Ampruo, au, are, is properly where in daunce, lyke meynyng of countenance that one maketh, he vnto whom it is made, shall dooe the semblable. It was firste used of the pylasnes called Salij.

Amplant, olde wyters used for amplificant, they enlarge.

Ample, amply, largely.

Amplecto, used of old wyters for amplector.

Amplector, xus sum, ti, to embrace, to compass, to loue heartly, to receiue gladly, or geetly, to holde, sometime to comprehend or conuey.

also to conceiue in ones mynde, or vnderstand. Amplecti artem aliquam, to applye ones mynde earnestly to a facultie of science. Amplecti ius ciuile, to studye the ciuile lawe earnestly.

Quod ego pluribus verbis amplecterer, for complecterer, whiche thyng I woulde declare of sette forth to you in two wordes.

Ut totum genus ludicorum amplectamini, That you make perceiue and vnderstand the hole course of accusacions.

Amplecti amore, to loue.

Amplecti aliquid virtutem, to bee in loue with ones vertue or honestie.

Amplector libenter talem animum, I receiue gladly and fauour such a mynde.

Amplexari, for amplecti.

Amplexo, used of olde wyters for amplexor.

Amplexor, aus sum, ti, to embrace or loue well to fauour or haue in estimation.

Amplexus, imbracings.

Amplatio, onis, a deferring of iudgement, as concerning mans lyfe.

Amplius, a man repysed, whose iudgement is deferred vpon som difficultie or consideration.

Amplificatio, onis, an augmentation.

Amplificatus, a, um, augmented.

Amplific, noble, magnificently.

Amplifico, au, are, to augment, to make better, sometime to extolle, to magnifie.

Amplio, au, are, to make more, to drawe to, to desire of detat a thyng in iugement, to repy.

Ampliter, largely, abundantly, magnificently.

Ampliter occupatus, let with much busynesse.

Ampliter testis, witness of all the hole matter.

Ampliter mentiri, to lye shamefully.

Ampliter receptus, sumptuously receiued.

Amplius, inis, greatness of power or maiestie, sometime it significeth largenesse.

Amplius, inis, largenesse of the countrey.

Amplius, inis, largenesse of the bodye, in proportion to the length. Sometime the height or length.

Amplius, inis, maiestee, noblenesse of mynde, haute courage.

Amplius, inis, muche wandyrng.

Amplius, inis, more largely, sometime used for Plus.

Amplius horas quatuor fortissime pugnauerunt, They fought valiantly more than four howres.

Ceperunt amplius tria millia hominum, They took prisoners, 3000. men and aboue.

Haud nummo amplius, not a peny more.

Amplius morando, by longer tarryng.

Hoc amplius, for Etiam, vltra, preterea, forther more, moreouer.

Amplius, a, um, large, wyde, great, abundant, noble, honorable, of great authoritie or powere.

Amicitia ampla, honorable or great frendship.

Amplissimus ordo, was used for the best course of some.

Amplissimus magistratus, the highest officer.

Amplissimum magnitudine, of passage great by gressse.

Funus amplum, a sumptuous and honorable buriall.

Occasio ampla, a verie good occasion.

Fortunas amplissimas amittere, to lose meete uastous great treasure and substance.

Amplissima familia natus, descended of a noble house or kynage.

Amplustre, neut. gen. & plur. Amplustra, or amplustria, like aplustre.

Ampron, a coide of chapy fastened to the pokes, wherby beastes doo drawe a wayne.

Ampulla, le, an oyle pot, most commonly of glasse.

also a bottell of flagon. Sometime it significeth a thyng that is blowne or puffd.

Butentus, weth that wooide for a dyshynge glasse. It maye be called a bole.

Ampullæ, pious and statly wooides.

Ampullaceus, a, um, of ampulla.

Ampullacea mulier, Pliantus semeth to be for a woman goyngoutly appaialed.

Ampullarius, a bottell maker, a glasse maker, of such lyke.

Ampullarius, a, um, idem quod ampullaceus.

Ampullor, to swell for pride, also to be pious or haue wooides in speaking or wytyng.

Amputatio, onis, a cutting of or away.

Amputo, au, are, to cut of, to cut round about.

Amputare quicquid est pestiferum in republica, to cut of cleane take away the occasion of any great mischief in the comon weale.

Ampycides, le, Amphius, the son of Amphius.

Amianthus, a well in Italy, whiche after some stuteth out of hell.

Amisgeres, they whose landes lye by the hygh waies syde.

Amula, a pot, wherein for religion they carryed water: it maye be used for an hole water pot.

Amuletum, any thyng that is ordeined agaynst poisoning. It is also taken for euery thyng, whiche is hanged about ones necke or arme, to preuent any inconuenience or synnesse.

Amulus, kyng of the latines, sonne of Proca, great vncle of Romulus and Remus.

Amurca, the mother of some of all oyles.

Amurcaria dolla, vessels to put that some in.

Amusium, an instrument to fynd out wyndes.

Amusim, by rule or lyne.

Amusis, le, form. ge. a measure of a carpenters rule or lyne.

Numerus ad amusim, the iuste and euen measure, neither more nor lesse.

Alba amusi, a proverbe significyng to dooe a thyng without choyse.

Amusianus, a, um, made by lyne, well proportioned, perfect, absolute.

Amusus, he that knoweth no learninge, an ignorant doote.

Amycla, one of Nobes daughters.

Amycla, a citee in Lacedemonia, where Lacedaemon and Pollux were borne, an other in Italy.

Amyclus, a, um, of that citee.

Amycus, the sonne of Neptune, that was flaine of Pollux.

Amydon, a citee of Beonia.

Amygdala, a, form. gen. an almonde tree, somerime the almonde.

Amygdalinus, a, um, of almondes.

Amygdalites, an herbe, the leaf wherof is like to an almonde.

Amygdalum, li. neut. gen. an almonde.

Amylum, is a thyng made of wheate the monethes olde, whiche is laid in water till it wake softer, the water beinge chaunged v. tymes in the date, and as often in the nyght: and when it wareth tender, the water is poured oute fayne and soft. After when it is as soft as mate be, than the water beinge softly poured out, it is troden with mens feete, effoones the water is poured out and troden agayne. Finally the bianne, whiche swymmeth on the water, is taken awate with a spue, and that whiche remaineth, beinge streped, is layde on newe siepes, and sette in the hot sunne untill it be thorough dreyed. This is verely medicinale agaynst distillacions into the eyes, and ymplexes of the eyes. Agaynst speckling of bloude, and mixt with milke, it causeth one to be fatte.

Amymone, the daughter of kyng Danaus, on whom Neptune begatte Rauplus. Also a well in Argos, which hath the name of that woman.

Amynias, a shepherdes name in Virgil.

Amynias, was the xv. kyng of Macedonie.

Amynior, a gouernoure of the people called Malopes.

Amyus, a tree that hath a verely pleasant saour, but it byrgeth for the no fruite.

Amyson, a citee in the realme of Pontus.

Amytis, a certayne drinke, which the Chierians used to drinke vp at one draughte, wrynging. Of some it is taken for the pectious stone called Amithysus.

Amythaon, the father of Melampus.

A ANTE N.

AN, an aduerbe of asking, as, obsecro, an is est? I praye you, is it he: some tyme of doubting, as, Haud scio an illam amat, I cannot tell whether he loue hie or no. It is used for Aut, as Meum contumacia? For feare of so subburnesse Anne, for An, both interrogatiuely and doubtingly. An, is used for circum, of olde wyters.

Ana, a ruier in Spayne, whiche discludeth the realme of Granato, from Portugal. It springeth in the hithermoste parte of Spayne called Amitaus ager. And sometime springeth it selfe into greatte ponde of meeres. Sometime scante apperyng in littell brookes, or elles hidden vnder the grounde. At the last it falleth into the Spanysh sea.

Anabaptista, a sect of heretikes, whiche beganne in Germany, aboute the yere of our lord. 1524. whereof the fyrste author was Balthasar, whiche taughte, that baptisme dyd nothing profyte childer, but that they oughte esteemes to be baptised, when they come to yeres of discrecion. wherefore they be called Anabaptista, whiche dooeth signifie rebaptisme.

Anabasis, an herbe called also Equisetum, of the grekes Hippuris, in englyshe (after some) horse tale.

Anabasis, he that riseth by poste hoyses.

Anabathrum, thri, a pulpit or other lyke place, whiche standeth on hygh, wherevnto a man must go vp by a ladder or gretes.

Anabula, a, a beast in Ethiopia, haung an hed lyke a camel, a necke lyke an hysse, and legges lyke an oxe, and is of colour a byght red, full of whipe spotes. Also an herbe called Lactoris, or Lactaria.

Anacabea, a tree called also Lotus.

Anacamferoris, an herbe, whiche by the touching therof, restoreth lous betwene men, after moste deadly hate.

Anacardium, a, a tree unknowne to the old grekes: it groweth in India, also in Sicilia, in the mountaynes, out of the whiche fyre cometh: The fruite thereof is lyke the herte of a littell byde, and hath a redde sapre lyke to bloude. The vulgare people of Sicilie and Naples call it periculum elephantis, an elephantis louse. Ther is contayned in the fruite honny, whiche dooth exulcerate, and burneth the bloude and other humours, it rooteth vp wertes, and is holme for the synewes, whiche be hurt with colde, by it selfe taken it is venym, but there is therof a confection made by Rasie agaynst all colde diseases.

Anacephaleosis, a shorte capitulation or red petition of thynges before reheerd.

Anacharis, a philosopher of great wysedom, all be it he was borne in the barbarous countre of Syethia, he (as Plinie supposeth) founde first the potters wheels. And being in the tyme that Solon made lawes to the Athenienses, said, the lawes were lyke to copwebbes, whiche tyed fast littell flies, and the great byake, and wente cleane thoroughe theim. In likewise the poore and meane men are faste wounden in the penalties and dangers of lawes, but lordes and men in greatte authorites daryng byake theim, and are not corrected.

Anachites, that is holme agaynst potters, and dyeth awate mad fantasies, and paynfeare out of mens myndes.

Anachoretis, wilderness, a solitary place.

Anachoreta, an hermite, he that lyueth a part, and out of company.

Anacinterium, a mattress to lye vpon.

Anaculthos, a vice in wytyng of speakyng, when the wordes amf were not the one to the other.

Anacreon, an olde poete, whiche songe to the harpe. he was borne in the towne of Bonta, called Teum. This man beinge aged, was strangled with the kernelle of a celsyn, and so dyed.

Anacreontius, a, um, of Anacreon.

Anadendromache, a plaster made of the leasnes of holly hocks.

Anadiplosis, is a doubling of a worde, as wha the laste woordes of the first verse, is the first woordes of the seconde, as,

Certent vrygnis vlyg, sic Tityrus Orpheus in syluis inter Delphinus Orion.

Anadyomene, a name of Venus.

Anza, a citee in Caria, also one of the Amazones, after whom it was named.

Anaxis, idis, a goddess that was worshipped in Lydia, and of the Armenians.

Anagallida aquatica, called also Sion & Lauer an herbe, whiche groweth in water, with a freight upright stalk, whiche is fatte, and hath byde leaues lyke Alysaunde: but they be lesse, and haue a good saoure. Surgions doo vse it in healing of woundes.

Anagallis, an herbe, called vulgarly Morfus gallina, in englyshe as I suppose chikwede. This herbe hath both kyndes: the male beareth a redde flower, the female a blue.

Anaglyphia, & anaglypta, vesselle or plate of gold or syluer chaled, as cuppes or bolles beate with the hammer, and not ingraued.

Anaglyptes, he that wyrteth such vessell.

Anaglyptic, ces, the craft to chare or imbore plate.

Anagnia, a citee, wherein Antony caused monie to be coyned.

Anagnostes, a, mal. gen. he that readeth to other men, as a bible clerke, or any other that readeth whyle another wyrteth.

Anagoge, es, form. gen. the hygh and subtyll understanding of the scripture, or other thyng.

Anagyris, a verely spynnyng herbe.

Anaitis, the inhabitants of Anaitis.

Anaitis, a countre of Armentis.

Analecia, orum, neut. gen. fragmentes of meate that fall vnder the table, and bee after warde sweped awate.

Analestes, a, he that sweepeth or gathereth vp byckettes or fragmentes.

Analestia, a fourme of blase to honnyr the hys that is late crowned or richesse.

Analestia, is a symbole of the heade, whiche taketh awaye sensiblenesse frome the whyle partes of the heade, and cometh of the weaknesse of the stomake, or of to muche meate, or of to muche lecherie, or bynnyng muche colde water, or to muche drye, or of indigestion.

Analogia, a, aduentente, or proportion, whose propriete is to confesse that whiche is vnto full, with that whiche is lyke to it, whiche is more certayne, to make it more playne.

Analogos, proportionable.

Analysis, a resolution.

Analyticum, that whiche resoluth.

Ananchitis, a pectious stone, whiche magicians used.

Anandatus, one of the Persians goddis.

Ananestides, thynges made of cotton, or such lyke, as it were littell pillowes that women vse to sette on their shoulde, the better to facion their bodies.

Ananias, the cloude of diuination of the loyde. It was the name of one of the thre hebreu children, whiche by the commaundment of Nabugodonosor, were put in the founnys of fyre, and came forth without damage, also it was the name of one of the capitaynes of kyng Drias, also of one of the disciples of the apostles, which with Sapphira his wife solde his lande, and bought a porcion therof to the apostles, and kepte backe the resydue. Wherefore being rebuked of saynte Peter, they both fell downe dead, for that they wold haue deceyved the holy goste. Of that name was an other disciple of Christ, whiche baptised saynte Paul. Also a byshop that commaunded saynte Paul to bee stricken on the mouth, when he preached.

Anapæstum, ti, neut. gen. of Anapæstus, ti, m. ge, a kynde of verse.

Anantopodoton, a figure in wytyng, where some littell clause is lefte out, either in the beginning, mynde, or ende.

Anapæstus, a figure in meter of thre syllables, haung the two first feete more, and the last longer.

Anaphe, an plante.

Anaphora, or Epanaphora, a figure called reuelacion, or repetition, when one woordes is reheerd in dyuers clauses, as, Verres adesse iubebat, Verres cognoscebat, Verres iudicabat.

Anaphora, bee astracions of the planets from the fast parts by the daily course of the firmament.

Anaplas, a mans name.

Anapis, a ryuer in Sicilie ten furlonges from the citee of Syracusa.

A ANTE N.

Anarchus, without a pynce, or without a begynnyng.

Anas, aus, form. gen. a ducke.

Anatomos, form. ge. of phisicians is taken for the opening of the veynes.

Anatrophe, es, for. ge. a turning out of a common order: as Italia contra, for Contra Italiam.

Anatarius, a, u, of a duck, or that hepeyth ducks.

Anatarius, in, a keeper of ducks.

Anathemata, were men accused and abandoned to the diuill, as the Latines vse sacrum sometyms to the euill parte.

Anathema, in holy scripture betokeneth separation, els where it signifyeth a thyng offered or sette vp in a temple or church, as images of warre, spuer, or any other metall.

Anathematizo, au, are, to curse or geue to the diuill.

Anatiborum, pounce in Fraunce.

Anaticula, la, a littell ducke.

Anatinus, a, um, lyke a ducke.

Anatocismus, recepyng of vsuer perely.

Anatolius, was byshop of Naodicea, the pere of our lord. 27 S. a veray holy man, and of great leaue.

Anatomia, or Anatome, anatomie, or cutting of men by phisicians, to consider the inward partes and members.

Anatros, a spuer in Thessalia.

Anautis, one of Medeaes woones, and the father of Aetes.

Anax, the sonne of Celum and Terra.

Anaxagoras, a famous philosopher, noble of bloude, but more noble in verue and wyse dome. whiche abandoning at his possessions gaue hym wholly to the study of naturall philosophy. And whan one asked to hym: Haste thou no care for thy countrey? he answered, verily, I haue exceeding care for my countrey, populating by his synger to heauen. Also whan he had ben long out of his countrey, and was esloones returned, and behelde his possessions destroyed, he said: I had not ben safe, except these thynges had been losse.

Anaxarchus, a philosopher, falling in the indignation of a tyran, called Nicocreon kyng of Cyprius, was by hym apprehended, and put into a greates myter of stone, where he was beaten or pounde with yron pestilles: whiche torment taking patiently, he donated these woordes worthy of remembrance, Beate on, beate on Anaxarchus wynd bag: for Anaxarchus thou beatest not, accceptyng his body but a bagge full of wynde.

Anaxilaus, kyng of the Rhegines, which builded the cite of Messana in Sicilia.

Anaximander, a philosopher, which fyrst found the description of the compasse of the sea and lande, and made fyrst the sphere.

Anaximenes, a philosopher, disciple of Anaxi-

A ANTE N.

mander, who said, that the begynnyng of all thynges was the ayre. And that the ayres dyd moue infinitely, not ouer the earth, but aboute it.

Anaxylides, a philosopher, whiche said, that Plato mother conceived only by a vision of Apollo, without carnall copulation.

Anazaba, a towne in Cilicia, where Dioclesides the noble phisician was borne.

Ancaea, grauen vessel.

Ancaus, a mans name.

Anceps, itis, doubtful, vncertaine, sometyms it signifyeth double. also cutting on bothe sides, or that hath an handel at bothe endes, or two heades or faces.

Ancipiti mucrone, with a two edged sword.

Ancipites bestie, bestes that lyue bothe on water and lande.

Anceps fortuna belli, doubtful fortune of warre.

Anceps ius, a lawe that is in contronery.

Ancipitia vocabula, wordes that make be sef bothe to the good and euill parte.

Anchaces, the name of a captayne in the host of Persia agaynst his brother Aexen kyng of Colchis.

Anchemolus, the sonne of Rheus kyng of the Maracubians.

Anchesmus, an hill in the countrey of Athens, wheron stode an image of Jupiter.

Anchiale, a cite in Cilicia, builded by Saradanapalus, where also was his sepulchre.

Anchilops, is superfluous fleshe in the greates corner of the eye, wherunto humours gather.

Anchiseus, a, um, of Anchises.

Anchises, the father of Eneas.

Anchisiades, patronymicum.

Ancholia, a blew vgolette.

Anchora, an ankoze. also the gable wherby the ankoze is tyed.

Anchora, the bondes wherewith the sayle pard is fastened to the mast.

Anchoralis, le, idem quod Anchorarius.

Anchorarius, a, um, pertaining to an anker.

Anchurus, the sonne of Midas, kyng of Phrygia, whiche willingly caste hym selfe into a gapping of the earth, for the safegarde of his countrey, as Lucius dyd afterwards amonge the Romayns.

Anchusa, an herbe, called in Fraunce Orcha nera. women vse it to set a ruddynesse in their chekes. Of the wyce therof is dyed sanguine colour.

Anchyle, is an incision or cutting of the cordes of the necke or of the tayles, wherby the vis of the member is lette.

Ancile, is, a Mele without corners, suche one in the tyme of Roma kyng of Rome, was seen faile out of the skye.

Ancilla, a mayden seruant, it was properly taken

A ANTE N.

hen for a bonde woman.

Ancillariolus, a vyle fellow, that getteth hym the loue of wenches.

Ancillaris, re, that pertaineth to a woman seruant.

Ancillor, aus sum, ari, to serue humbly or dista gently, or to serue lyke a slaue.

Ancillula, a littell or poore wench seruant.

Anclabria, vesselles, whiche plectes vied in sacrifice.

Anclabris, a table vied in sacrifice.

Anclor, au, are, lyke Antio, au, are.

Ancon, properly an elbowe. also a parte of the spuer of Atlas. also a noble cite and haven in Italy, in the countrey Idicenum, whiche standeth vpon the sea Adriaticum: and was so called, because the sea bankes there, dooe bend in fourme lyke to an arme with the elbows. It was fyrst builded by people of Scitacensis, afore the incarnation of Christ. 179. pears. And the haven was augmented by the noble Crasianus emperour of Rome, after it was destroyed by Saracens, and esloones builded and inhabited, and is now a famous cite.

Ancones, the copnes or corners of a wall. also amonge Geometricians, it is the bownges that maketh the corner, called angulus rectus

Ancular, olde wyters vied for ministrate.

Anculi, et ancule, goddis and goddesses offering women.

Ancus, he that hath a crooked arme.

Ancus Marcius, the fourth kyng of Rome, son to the daughter of Roma Romplius, and succeeded Tullius Hostilius, afore the incarnation of Christ. 642. pears. He as well in civile policie, as martiall prowesse, was equal to any before hym. also he enlarged the cite, and made a byldge ouer Tiberis. also a pylon in the midde of the cite, to the remembrance of offendors, whiche dyd than daily increase.

Ancyra, the name of two cites, the one in Phrygia, the other in Galatia.

Ancyrus, a, um, of Ancyra.

Andabate, menne that fought with swoordes wythynnyng, or rather a kynde of plate.

Andegau, the people of Angew.

Andegavia, a countrey in France called Angew.

Andes, the fable people of Antio in Fraunce.

It was also a village by Mantua in Italy, where Virgill the poete was borne. Wherfore he is sometyms called Andinus vates.

Andianum vinum, wyne of Antio.

Andrachne agria, an herbe, whiche the Italians call Illecebra.

Andrachne, in greke is in latine Portulaca, in englyshe purslane.

Andrago, a woman haupng a mans herte.

Andreas, one of the .xii. apostles, brother to

A ANTE N.

Peter, preaching at a cite called Bithria, in the countrey of Bithia, was imprisoned, beaten, and at last hanged on a crosse, wher on he preached two daies, and then dyed.

Andricus, an hill in Sicilia.

Androdamas, a pretious stone, hard and ponderous, bryght like spuer, and in foume of diuers littell squares. It is founde in the sand of the read sea, it putteth awaie the surge of yre, and the rage of lecher.

Androdus, the man that the yron saue, for plucking the stubbe out of his foote.

Androgeoneus, a, um, of Androgeneus.

Androgeus, the sonne of Minos, kyng of Crete, whiche by enny was slayne by the Athenienses. For the whiche many pears after the sonnes of the Athenienses were sente to Crete, to be deliuered to the monster Minotaurus, whiche was afterwarde destroyed by Theseus. It was also the name of a noble Briton whan Julius Cesar cam into this realme of Britayne.

Androgynæ, people in Britte, begyn of bothe kyndes in one person, man and woman.

Androgynus, a man haupng both members of a man and also of a woman.

Andromache, chies, the wyfe of the valpant Hector.

Andromede, the wyfe of Perceus, whome he saue from a monster of the sea, and was after (by Minus) tourmed into a sterre.

Andromon, he that builded the cite Colopho.

Andron, otos, mas, ge. a chamber, wherinto men onely do come. also a space betweene two bondes, wherinto rapie faller.

Andronæ, feastes, wherunto onely men come.

Andronitis, itidis, form. ge. idem.

Andronium, a medicine for the disease in the roots of the tongue called Vm.

Andros, an yle betweene Grece and Asia, diste cty agaynst the cite Ephesum. also a towne.

Androsace, Andros and some other suppose it to be that which is called Cuscuta, in englysh wyllywende, whiche wyndeth about yn and hempe. Andrus and Andriardus thynke the contrary: helens whome he left. Dioscorides describeth it in this wyse: Androsaces, is a bitter herbe, growinge aboue small stalkes lyke rushes, without leaues, haupng littell rodde on the toppes, wherin be seedes, it groweth on the sea coasts of Syria.

Androsaxon, an herbe called samete Jobus wood, it beareth a yelowe flower.

Andruare, olde wyters vied for recurrere, to come agayn.

Anellus, lyke Anellus.

Anemone, an herbe lyke to rocke, the leaues are ful of holes, the flower neuer openeth, but whan the wynde bloweth. In greche it is called Loquon, or Loties.

Anethum

A ANTE N.

Anechum, an herbe called dyll.
Aneurisma, the cutting slender of the sinewe, which contayneth the receptoyle of bloudd, or taking awaie the matter, wherein the spirit is be conteyned.
Anfractus, us, mal, ge. wyndpynges and couerpynges, specially in grounde. Sometime a streete of compasse.
Anfractus iudiciorum, the perplexites and harde doubtfulnesse of iudgements.
Anfractus littorum, the crooked wyndpynges of water bankes.
Anfractus, a, um, that is broken rounde about.
Angaria, a constraint of compulsion, seruage.
Angaria, arum, some doo expounde it a prouision of postes in sundry places, for speedynesse of messages.
Angarij, postes or carroues, whiche go in messages.
Angario, aui, are, to consigne one to dooe a thyng.
Angelica, is taken of Agynardus, for that whiche is called Alexander. John Cantlerius, a well learned man at this tyme, supposeth that whiche Dioscorides calleth Morinda, to be our Angelica.
Angellus, a little corner.
Angelus, an angell. In greke it properly signifieth a messenger.
Anger, a certayn serpent, after whose stingyng hapneth intollerable payne.
Angerona, or Angeronia, the goddess of silence, the mouth of her ymage was stopped and sealed.
Angile, people of Affrike, of whom the women, the first nyght they be married, dooe accompany with all men that come to the wedding, but euer after they be chaste.
Angina, of the grekes called Synanche, is an inflammation of the muscle of the inner gargill. Of this disease bee thre kyndes. The first is Synanche, wherein appereth neither swelling nor rednesse, but the body waxeth leane, the members are leued, and the breath is stopped. The second is called Vitrynachie, there appereth rednesse and swellinge, and lette of speche with veryng. The thyrd is called Parasynanche, wherein only the chekes do swell, the other tokens doo not folowe.
Angiologia, is a poynt of surgery in the beynges of the temples hnd, beinge disabled frome temple to temple in depende.
Angiportus, a great hole in the earthe with many cournynges, of that whiche hathen no way out, or a lane in a towne, whiche leadech the nexte waye to a streete, or that whiche lyeth on an haucn, whereby marchandise is caried from the water or recaried.
Angleria, is now a castell in Lumbardy, whiche sometime was a wylde forye nyghte frome

A ANTE N.

Anglaine, see on a beaich high mountayns.
Anglia, the isollane of Englande, parte of the yle called Britannia, the people are called Angli, of a people of Saxons, whiche were at that tyme most of reputation, and therefore they name longest continued, as well in the people as in the countreie, reade more hereof in Britannia.
Ango, anxi, ere, signifieth properly to throtte or strangle, and by a metaphoye, to trouble, vex, or trouble with care.
Angie, animum illa cura, that care troubleth my mynde.
Angor, properly stranglyng, angustie of body or mynde.
Angor nos afficit, angustie of grete of mind tourmenteth vs.
Angorem capere, to take sorowe.
Angoribus & molestis implicatus, wryaped in angustie and payne.
Anguilla, an eele, whiche, as the beste authoys affirme, cometh without generation or spawne, neither there is of that kynde male or female, but is engendred of the bowels of the earthe, whiche is of claye mixt with most earth: and that appereth by standyng pooles, where after the earth hath been thysen wete cleane, after dyuers houres of rayne, eyles haue been founde. For in dyt was they increase not, though it be in a spuer. And they that syndyng littell thynge lyke heartes or eyles toynd with them, sale, that they are yong eyles are deuoted. In the clene of Ganges in India, haue been founde eyles. xxx. fette in length.
Anguilla est, elabitur, he is an eele, he slippeth awaye.
Anguiculus, a littell snake.
Anguifer, a keeper.
Anguimanus, an vlyphant.
Anguinum, a kinotte of snakes rolled together lyke a bottome of threde.
Anguinus, and anguineus, a, um, of a serpent, or wyndyng and crepyng lyke a serpent.
Anguipedes, certayne gygantes, whiche had crooked fette.
Anguis, a snake.
Anguitenens, idem quod Anguifer.
Angitia, the daughter of Aeeta, and syster of Atres and Medea, she inuented comedies agaynst poppon.
Angularis, re, or angulus, a, um, cornerde.
Angulatum, cornerde wyse.
Angulus, a, um, full of corners.
Angulus, a corner or narrow place.
Angustatus, a, um, made streight.
Anguste, an aduerbe, signifyinge straitly, narrowly, paynfully.
Anguste ut re frumentaria, to spare vnto the Anguste scriptum, simply, and selde written

A ANTE N.

written, without copie or eloquence.
Anguste & presse rem desinare, to desine a thyng hysely and in fewe wordes.
Angustius pabulari, to haue great scarcitee of forrage.
Angustissime continere, to holde one very close, to kepe one in great danger.
Angustia, or, or rather angustia, arum, greetes and narrowe places, that make scantely be passed by. Sometime perplexitee and trouble of mynde.
Angustia rarior, scarcitee of money in the common treasury.
Rei familiaris angustia, small substance.
Angustia temporum, aduersities, or the troublesome tyme of any tyme.
Angustitas, atis, a streete, or streete place.
Angusto, aui, are, to make streete or narrow.
Angustus, a, um, greetes or narrowe.
Angusti animi & parui est amare diuitias, it is a poynt of a wretched herte, or base courage to loue rychesse.
Angustae disputationes, disputacions with shorte argumentes.
Angusta viarum, narrowe wayes, or streete passages.
In angustum venire, to bee in some necessitee to haue great lacke of helpe.
Anhelatio, onis, an harde or difficulte fetchyng of breathe after vehement labour.
Anhelator, he that fetcheth his wynde often, or bloweth muche, called a puffie man.
Anhelatus, a, um, breathed out.
Anhelitus, breathe of wynde of a man.
Recipere anhelitum, to take breathe.
Mouere anhelitus, to make one to blowe or breathe hardly.
Anhelitus vini, bechynge after once muche drynkynge of wyne.
Anhelo, aui, are, to fetch the wynde, to dyuue breathe, to breathe out.
Anhelare scelus, with all endeuour to aspyce to naughtynesse and mischiesse.
Anhelus, he that dyuue his breath paynfully.
Anhelus, a, um, that breatheth.
Ania, a Romayne woman, whych beinge saue and younge, after his husbande was deade, was counsaile to take an other, but she wold not consent thereto, forye (saied she) I wold hadde to haue as good as I haue had, I wold not be in feare to lose hym: yf I wold haue an euill husband, what shall I haue after a good man to suffre a shewe?
Anicetum, or anylum, or anidum, an herbe light to sell, wherof cometh anyle seeds.
Aniciana pira, a kynd of excellent good peares.
Anicola, or, one that dwelleth by the sea.
Anicula, a littell olde woman.
Anien, enis, or Anio, a ryuer in Italye, in the felde called Tiburinum.

A ANTE N.

Anienus, a, um, of Anio.
Anigrus, a ryuer in Thessaly, wherein the Centaurs washed theym, when Hercules hadde wounded them.
Anilis, le, of an olde woman.
Aniles supersticiones, folyshe and vayne supersticion.
Aniles fabulae, olde wyues tales, that haue neither truthe nor credence.
Anilitas, atis, form, ge. olde age.
Aniliter, lyke an olde foolle.
Anima, is a substance created, immortall, most like vnto the immortall god, hauyng none ymage or figure, but onely of his creature: it is called in englyshe the soule. Sometime it is taken for lyfe. also it signifieth the breathe. otherwhyle the wynde, sometime the water. Sometime the ayre.
Animam adimere, vel extinguere, to kyll.
Animam debere, he oweth more than he is worthy. he oweth so muche, that he hath not his lyfe but in lone.
Dicamabo, an forer anima vxoris tuae: tell me of good felowshyppe, dooeth thy wyues breathe spynke?
Animam comprime, holde thy breathe.
Ego illi puro, si ocepso, animam omnem intertraxero, If I ones begyn, I wold draw all the water out of that well.
Animam agere, effundere, mittere, edere, efflare, exhalar, expirare, exuere, relinquer, to dye.
Claudere animam laqueo, to hang ones self.
Concedere animam alicui, to pardons one his lyfe.
Obiectare animam periculis, to putte ones lyfe in danger.
Animas ademptas reddere, to restore to lyfe.
Interclusio animae, the stoppyng of the breath.
Animae mex pars, animae mex dimidium, spoken of one, whome we loue exceedingly.
Animae follis, the wynde of the bellowe.
Animaduersi, they whiche bee punnyshed or corrected.
Animaduerso, onis, iugement, consideracion, punnyshment, somer tyme Rudy, sometime condemnation or forsaite.
Animaduorsor, he that punnysheth, one that correcteth, wepeth, and taketh good heed of any thyng.
Animaduorsus, a, um, then known, pertynged, conspyred, punnyshed.
Animaduero, i, ere, to conspyde, to take heed, to pertyng, to regard, to sette mynde on a thyng, to beholde, to synke, to punnysh.
Exasperata nutrit animaduersi dormitena tem circumplexum serpentis amplexu, the wynde awaked, and pertynged the childe, being on slape, wrapped all aboute in the wyndyng of a serpent.
Dae

Date operam, et cum silentio animaduertite, take heede, and with silence attend or mark well what I will say to you.
Ea sunt animaduertenda peccata maxime, quæ difficillime præcauentur, Those offences ought to be moste sharply punished, whiche moste hardly are prevented.
Hæc re animaduerta, Cæsar iubet signa conuerſi, That thyngs beynge perceived, Cæsar commanded to aduance the standerbe.
Animaduertere in aliquem, to punishe one.
Animaduertere re aliquam, to haue respecte or regards to a matter.
Animaduertere iniuriam, facinus, peccatū,
to punishe an offence or naughtie acte.
O facinus animaduertendum, O shamefull deede, worthy to be punished.

Animus quies, a, um, patient or suffering.

Animal, for animæ.

Animal, lis, all thyng that hath lyfe, and is sensible, commonly it is taken for a beaste.

Animalis, le, and animabilis, le, truely, that hath lyfe, or that pertayneth to lyfe.

Animans, idem quod animal, sayng that it is more large, for it maketh signification of thynges that haue spright of lyfe.

Animatio, onis, fce. ge. and animatus, us, maf.
ge. the guping of the soule of lyfe.

Animatus, a, um, that hath soule of lyfe. also hauynge a fantasie or fauour to a thyng, or to bee disposed.

Ita animatus fui, atq; nunc sum, vt ea te pastera donem, I had such a fantasie, and haue yet, that I woulde geue that cup to you.

Animabo, ti quid animatus est facere, fac iam vt faciam, I'll be disposed or mynded to doo any thyng, let me knowe it, I praye the.

Male animatus erga aliquem, angry, wroth, or owynge small fauour to any person.

Bene animatus, contrary.

Animi, for cogitationes or thoughtes.

Animus, from the beate soule of lyfe.

Animus, aul, are, to geue courage or boldnesse, to quicken.

Animari, to quicken or take lyfe, as the child
dooth in the mothers wombe.

Animose, courageously, lustily.

Animositas, atis, boldnesse, lusty courage.

Animosus, a, um, bolde, stout, courageous.

Animus, mi, the mynde, the will. Sometyme it is put for the soule, sometyme for affection or delectation, sometyme for wynde or blast. Sometyme for wythe. Sometyme for a towne.

Animos addere, to make one bolde, or to pyche hym forward to doo a thyng.

Animos comprimere, to abate ones courage.

Animos retardare, idem.

Animos efferre, to loke high, or to be proude.

Animos lactare, to draw mens hertes with sappy promysse, to make fooles fayne, to byng men in a fooles parabolle.

Animi pendere, to be in doubt what to doo.

Animi causa, for pleasure. Cur eam emit? T. animi causa, Wherfore dyd he bye hys? C. for hys pleasure.

Animo male est, it groweth me at the very herte.

Animo præſenti, with a bold sperte of courage.

Animo bono sis, bee of good cheere, take a good herte.

Animo iniquo pari, to suffer vnpaciently.

Animo obsequi, to take pleasure, to folow appetite or will.

Animo morem gerere, idem.

Animum adicere ad virginem, to set hys lone on a mayden.

Animum adiungere, to apply or set ones mynd on a thyng.

Animum aduertere, to take heede.

Animum appellere, to dispose or apply hym to doo a thyng.

Animum eicere ab aliquo, to pull affection or lone from one.

Animum recipere, to take herte or courage, ab-
so to fetche breathe.

Animum sumere, to take a good herte.

Animi amplius, great courage.

Acer & præſens animus, a quicke and ready wyte, a lyeuety mynde or courage.

Aequo animo ferre, to take paciently.

Animo altiore esse, to haue a lofty and hygh
mynde.

Animus angustus, demissus, simplex, humilis, iacens, minimus, infirmus, exiguus, paruus, pus-sillus, a bite and base courage.

Animus amplius, excelsus, altus, fortis, ingens magnus, a stout stomache, a greate or lusty courage.

Animus auerſissimus, a beate froward mynd.

Animo faciliore abuti, to abuse a genyly mynd,
or ones genylnesse.

Hoc animo sum, I am of this mynde.

Animus inflatus, a proude stomache.

Animo quidem meo, after my iudgement or opinion, as I thynde.

Animis mutuis amare, to lone eche other.

Animo abhorre, to hate or be ageynst.

Animo abiecto homo, a desperate person, a man folyne.

Animus accessit nobis, our courage is increased

Animum adhibere, or aduertere, to attende or harken.

Animo agitare, to thynde, or cast in ones mynd.

Animo concidit, hys herte falleth hym.

Pluribus ad fugam animus fuit, whan wee in mynde to flee.

Animus est in hortis, I thynde, or my mynd is on my gardenes.

Animum inducere, to persuade.

Pascere animum, to delite the mynds.

Amare ex animo, to loue hertely,

Ex

Ex animo tuo colligere potes, you maye gether by your owne mynde.

Mihi est in animo, or in animo habeo facere,
I purpose, or I am in mynde to doo so.

Animus erga te idem ac fuit, myne affection or good wille, is towardes you, as it was went to bee.

Animum alicuius recolligere alteri, to reconcile one man to another, to byng one in fa-uour agayne.

Nouit ego amantium animos, I knowe the affections and fantasies of louers.

Animus impotens, an vnpacient courage, a proude or dogged herte, an vneuly mynde.

Animus tibi pendet, thou standest in doubt what thou mayest doo.

Anime mi, my deere herte.

Animule, idem.

Anio, looke Anien.

Anisum, looke anicetum.

Anius, a kynge of Delos.

Anna, a name of hebrus, which signifieth grastouse, pitefull, resting or geuynge. Of this name haue been many noble women. One was a Jewe, wyfe to Elicana, whiche beynge a longe tyme barayne, by continuall prayse, at last obtained of god to be fruitful, & broughte forth by her husbande, the good and holy pro-phete Samuell, who afterwarde was the chefe piety and byshop of Israel. Another was an olde wydowe and propheteſse in Hieru-salem, at the tyme whan Chyſte was presented in the temple. This woman serued god bale and nyght in prayse and fastyng: and be-holdyng Chyſte, declared all that was prophered of hym. Another Anna, was daughter to Blachar, of the tribe of Leui, or as Damascene saith, of the tribe of Iuda, and was marryed to Joachim of the same tribe, whiche beynge long barayne, at last broughte forth the blessed virgin Mary. And after the death of Joachim, he was marryed to Histophas, and after hys death, to Solome.

Anna, also the name of a goddesse, the daughter of Belus, and sister of Dido, queene of Carthage.

Annalis, in the singular numbre, and annales in the plurall, are most commonly vsed for hy-stories of actes perely dooen.

Annalis, le, that whiche is dooen perely.

Annarius, a, um, aged, or that whiche is dooen perely.

Annaria lex, was a lawe in the xii. tables of the Romans, whiche was appointed, at what age, and during what tyme, gerat of fines in the publike weale shoulde be taken and lepte.

Annas, was byshop among the Jewes, whan
Chyſte began to preache.

Annalcor, to graue, or bee boyned in a place or man.

Annato, aul, are, toke Adnato.

Annugo, aul, are, to faste to.

Annecto, ui, ere, to knyt, fasten, tye, or loyn to.

Annellus, a little ringe.

Annexus, a, um, knyt, or tye to.

Annibal, looke Hannibal.

Anniculus, a, um, that whiche is of one yeres age or growth.

Annifer, that continueth all the yere.

Annus, a, um, and annuus, a, um, the particu-
ple of annitor.

Summa ope annixi sunt, They beate they mynds to it, & endeuoured with all diligence.

Annitor, xus, sum, ti, to resist, or to helpe, to set to my mynde, loke adnitor.

Anniuersarius, a, um, that euery yere returneth at one tyme.

Anno, aul, are, looke Adno.

Annominationis, a figure, wherby is allusion of wordes, that sounde lyke, as Venit a te ante Romam venit.

Annona, vitæ, sustinere, or byng, coyn, sometyme it signifieth byng in meat, dyntie, & apparell. It is vsed also for a monethes, or a yeres stypende or wages.

Difficultas et grauitas annonæ, scarcitie, and dearth of vitaille.

Vilius annona, plente and good cheape of vitailles.

Inferre caritatem annona, and Incendere annonam, to make scarcitie or dearth of vitailles.

Ingrauescit annona, vitaille waxeth deere.

Annona haud multum laxauerat, coyn waxeth eth lyttell better cheape, coyn was styll at an hygh pryce.

Prodesse annona, leuare annonam, to make coyns or vitaille better cheape, or at a low wee pryce.

Conualeſcit annona, there begynneth to bee
more plente of vitaille.

Graui annona consistat, to bee greued with great scarcitie and lacke of vitaille.

Facta durior annona, coyn made deere.

Annunarius, a, um, pertaynyng or belongyng to vitaille.

Annunariæ expensæ, expensies in vitaille.

Annosus, a, um, aged, of many yeres growthe or continuance.

Annotatio, onis, a notyng or marking of thynges for a speciall remembrance.

Annotator, one that marketh or obserieth.

Annotinus, a, um, of Annus, that is one yere olde.

Annotinus, a, um, of Annona, that pertyneth to vitaille.

Annotina naues, shippes that carry coyns or vitailles.

Annoto, aul, are, to note, to saile, to make or put a thyng in wytyng for remembrance, to appoint one.

Anno

Annotari, sometimes to be made notable.
 Annotatum est, it was observed.
 Annotare cursum, to mention a thing by the way, to touch a thing by the way.
 Ex noxijs laniandos annouit, if they that were hurtfull, he appointed which should be killed.
 Annouare eos absentes, when the judges or deeply persons, that were accused in their absence, to be sought for.
 Annuatim, yearly.
 Annularis, re, pertaining to a ring.
 Annularius, rij, one that maketh or selleth rings.
 Annularis, ringed, or having the fingers full of rings.
 Annulus, a ring.
 Annulus signatorius, a ring with a seal.
 Annumero, ui, are, to number to, to add to in number. sometimes only to number, also to account, tell, or pale money.
 Annuntio, are, to declare a message, to shewe.
 Annuntiare salutem, to give of salute in an other mans name.
 Annus, ui, ere, properly to nodde with the head. Also to asseme or promise, to assent or graunt, with nodding to demaunde a question, or will one to do a thing, to signifie or appoint, to fauour.
 Ego autem venturum annuo, I asseme or promise, that I will come.
 Annuit capitis deus, god fauoureth that we go about.
 Hoc mihi significasse & annuisse visus est, he seemed to me, to signifie and make semblance as though he would say thus.
 Si deus annuerit, if god boucheface it. If god say Amen.
 Annus, is commonly called a peere, not withstanding Annus, is diuided into thye significationes. Annus lunaris, whiche is. xxx. daies: Annus solstitialis. xii. monethes: Annus magnus, called also Annus vertens. 1255+. peeres: in whiche space of tyme the planets and sterres returne to the same state, that they were in at the tyme, frome whense we doo accompte. Josephus calleth the space of. 1000. peeres Annus magnus.
 Anni extremo, anni exitu, sine anni, in the end of the peere.
 Cedere annis, spoken of wyne that will not abyde. Ferre annos, the contrary.
 Annutrio, ui, ire, tooke adnutrio.
 Annuum, a pension or annuall.
 Annuus, a, um, that dureth one peere, or that is doone euery peere.
 Annuum munus, an office for one peere.
 Annua vices, course of succession yearly.
 Annua febris, an yearly feuer.
 Anodina, thynges whiche by pynnyng slepe, doe put a wale peynes of greafe.

 Anomalia, x, inequality, unlikenes, contrariety to Analogia.
 Anomalum, vnequall, byuers, rough.
 Anonium, an herbe called beede nettle, or anchus.
 Anonymos, without name: there is an herbe so called.
 Anophrys, spongen or growen upon a thyng.
 Anormis, without rule.
 Anguina, the cold, wherewith the saple is bound to the masse.
 Anquiro, sui, ire, to seeke, to make inquisition of information.
 Anquirere capitis, or capite, to proceede against one in a great offence.
 Pecunia anquirere, to pursue one to condemnation, to haue amende.
 Ansa, the eare or handle of a pottle or cuppe, and sometimes it signifyeth occasion. sometimes a latchette.
 Dare aniam, to geue an occasion.
 Anclius, on euery syde help.
 Anclius, a, um, hauping an handell.
 Anclius homo, a man that goeth with his armes on henbowe.
 Ancler, feris, a goose. They treade to singendes in the water. They set on their egges in cold countreys. xxx. daies: In warme countreys or wether. xxb. daies, as Columella saith. They were muche made of by the Romans, forasmuche as when the frenchemen besieged the capitol of Rome, they within beyng on slepe, the capitol had been wonne, if a certayne numbre of geese, perceyving the enemies, had not cried: wherewith the Romans awaked, and by the valiant prowesse of M. Marius, slew and dyane out the frenche men, wherfore geese were had in great reputation: and prouision was made, that they shoulde neuer lacke meate.
 Ancler, also the name of a poete.
 Anclerulus, li, a little goose, or a gosling.
 Anclerinus, a, um, lyke or pertaining to a goose.
 Anclula, la, a littell handle or latchet.
 Antaei, as Strabo wytteth, he sayeth in the quier Hypothenes, lyke to dolophyns without finnes, and be vreate delicate and pleasant to eat.
 Antachates, a pious stone, that fauoureth lyke myre.
 Antacles, a ryuer in the syde of Asia, nere to the towne Epyambis.
 Antae, arum, sambes, also postes on euery syde of a doore.
 Anteci, people that dwelle in the contrary to Antichones.
 Antex, tooke Antheus.
 Antalcides, a Lacedemonian,

Antanactis, a figure, when there be thre or more contrary or unlike significacions of one word, as, Amare iucundum, si curetur, ne quid in sit amarum.
 Antandros, a citee in Whysgia.
 Antapochia, the counterpane of a dede in wyse thyng.
 Antarcicus, the southe pole.
 Antarium bellu, barapt before a citee or towne.
 Ante, before, a preposition signified to an actus lastue case of tyme, place, or persons.
 Ante lucem, before daye.
 Ante diem tertium, id est nudius tertius, before the thirde daye after was finished.
 Ante diem octauum idus Nouembris, before the viii. daye of the idus of Nouembrye was finished.
 Ante oculos, before our eyes, in our presence.
 Ante pedes, before us, piouser saye.
 Ante me illum amo, I loue hym more than my selfe.
 Ante omnia, chesely, specially, before all thynges.
 In ante diem quartum distulit, he deferred it until it was before the fourth daye.
 Ex ante diem quintum, seno before the fifth daye.
 Ante alios, aboute other, before other, more than other, or besyde other.
 Antea, ante, aduerbes, before.
 Antecellus, a, um, done or past before this tyme.
 Antea vita, the lyfe that we haue led before.
 Antecambulo, onis, a lachap or other seruant that goeth afore his master.
 Antecanis, a sterre.
 Antecapio, cepi, capere, to present, to take up before.
 Antecaptus, and after some antecceptus, taken up before hande.
 Antecedo, celsi, cedere, to go before, to excell, to passe.
 Antecedit me xrate, he is elder than I.
 Antecedere precio, to be more costly, or of hygher price.
 Antecedens annus, the yere before.
 Antecello, lu, ere, to excel, to haue preeminence.
 Antecellio, onis, a goyng before, an excellency, or passing.
 Antecessor, oris, a fore goer, an antecessor.
 Antecessus, us, mal. gen. seemeth to be used for Anticipatio.
 In antecessum dabo, I will geue or pale thee money before hande.
 Antecanium, a colation or dynnyng betwene dyner and supper, a boouce.
 Antecursor, oris, a fore ryder, a scurrer.
 Antedico, xi, ere, to shewe or say before.
 Anteco, ui, ire, to precede or excell, or to go before.
 Anteceteris virtute, to excell other in vertue.

Antesce xrate, to be elder.
 Anteri ab alijs, to be passed or excelled of other.
 Antecpectum, an aduerbe, sobryly, before it was looked for.
 Antefacium, a dede doone before.
 Antefero, fers, uili, ferri, to put before, or sette more by.
 Antefixa, thynges cast in moules, and set or uer doores, under the cause of pynnyng.
 Antegenitalis, ie, an adiective of Ante and genius.
 Antegredior, to go before.
 Antehabeo, ui, ere, to pretere.
 Antehac, before this tyme, or before that tyme.
 Antelapides, stones sette at vorthy sydes of a doore for strengthe.
 Antelatus, a, um, preferred, sette before.
 Anteloculium, the first toorne in speaking.
 Antelucanus, a, um, that whiche is before daye lyght.
 Antelucanæ cenæ, suppers that contynue from the euentide to the sonne setting.
 Antelucani venti, wyndes that dooe blowe from the water, or from some crenne.
 Anteludo, an aduerbe, before daye.
 Anteludo, ui, are, to wake before daye.
 Anteluculo, before daye lyght, or an howre as fore the sonne setting.
 Antemalorum, of ruffles or myfforunes that be pale.
 Antemeridianus, a, um, that is, or that is done before noone.
 Antemia, na, the crosse pteer, wherunto the saple is fastned, the saple garde.
 Antenne, a citee in Italy.
 Antenor, was of aliance to Priamus, and after the destruction of Troye, he remayned there with the Trojanes, whiche were left on lyue: and beyng dyuen thence by the sonnes of Hector, fledde with. 2000. Trojans, into the countreie called Venetia, where he builded the noble citee Patanius, called commonly Padua, & ther reigned during his lyfe.
 Antecupatio, onis, a pynnyng of one in the possession of a thyng.
 Antecuppo, ui, are, to pynnyng one in the possession of a thyng.
 Antepaguentia, looke antipaguentia.
 Antepono, ui, ere, to sette before, to pretere.
 Antequam, before, ere.
 Antequam de republica dicam, ere I speake of the weale publike.
 Anterior, and hoc anterior, that is somewhat before, for more.
 Antermini, the inhabitants of the marches or frontiers of a countreie.
 Anteros, oris, the sonne of Amos and Mare.
 Anterotes, the west wynde of Amasie, which hath a purple colour towards a red all.

Antes, rium, plur. mal. ge. outwarde pylles of poyses, whereby the house or frame is susteyned.

Antesignani, they that bee nexte the standerde, appointed to defende it.

Anticito, fletu, arc, to excell of stonde before.

Robore alios antea, he excelleth other in strength of the body.

Antecitor, aris, an olde wooyde vsed among the Romayns, whan one byd arrest his aduersarye, to make him appere in iudgement, whiche he coule not dooe, excepte he tooke one that was present for a wytnesse.

Antecum, antecui, antecelle, to excell an other in
any thyng.

Anteuenio, ueni, nire, to psequente, to excell of passe.

Anteuerto, ti, ere, to psequente, to ouer ryde of ouer goone, semetyme to dooe one thyng be-foze an other, to do or speake befoze an other.
Maiores mihi anteuertunt gaudijs, my sorowes come vpon me befoze my ioyes.

Anteuolo, aui, are, to slee befoze, to psequente in sleepinge.

Anteuoria, a goddess of the Romayns, whys
the foursaue thynges to come.

Anteuobanus, a, um, nigh to the citie: as Anteurbanum pradium, a manour nigh to the citie.

Antiedon, onis, form. ge. a kynde of medlar, whiche hath leaues lyke an almonde tree, the fruite lesse than the common medlar, but musche pleasanter, and will be longer kept.

Anthemion, a Troiane, the father of An-themius.

Anthemis, an herbe called Camomill.

Anthemodorus, a philosophy of the secte of theism that were called Stoici, he flourished
xv. yeres befoze the incarnation of Christe.
of whome this wysse sentence pceded: Thou mayest thinke thou arte free from all couenouse, whan thou arte come to that poynt that thou wilt despye nothyng of god, but that thou maist openly craue.

Anther, a certayne saluie, whiche hath a floure spyring and open coloure: reade Cozm. Celsus. Att bee it Ioannes Mainardus sayeth, that physicians doo call Antheras, compounded medicines for diseases in the mouth, where in roses bee myngled, but he thowdeth Cas-sane de compo. medica. Shall synde Antheras, withouth the floures of roses.

Anthericon, idem quod Asphodelus.

Antheus, the sonne of Neptuneus and Terra, was a man in Mauritania, of meruaylous strength, befoze the Incarnation of Christe, 1588. yeres, with whom Hercules wrestled:
who perceyving, that as often as he throwe hym to the earth, he esloones recouered his strength: he at the laste tooke hym in his armes, and pressed hym aboue grounde, and so held hym, till the soule went out of his body.

Habellicus wyrteth, that Herodotus founde the sepulchre of Antheus, in a citee called Te-gena, in Barbary, whiche was in length. xl.
cubits.

Anthias, a fywe, a greates deuourer of marmes flewe, haung teethe lyke to a combe. yet not withstandyng, in the partes where this fywe bryedeth, is no monsther of the sea, and there-foze he is called Sacer piscis, the holpe fywe, he is also called Callionymus.

Anthinus, a, um, that flourissheth, that is full of floures, or made of floures.

Anthirrhinos, an herbe lyke to ignis, haung
no roote. it hath a purple floure, and groweth commonly among coyne. The feede is lyke to a calues head with the nosethylles open.

Anthos, eos, mal. gen. is commonly name for the floures of rosemary. Att bee it, it is the generall name of euery flower. One of Platoes sonnes was so called.

Anthraceus, a colpar.

Anthrax, acis, a cole. also a soze called a Cane buncle.

Anthracides, a stone, wherein semeth to bee as it were sparkes of fyre.

Anthracinus, a, um, blacke as it were a cole.

Anthropographus, the surname of Dionysius, whiche peincted nothyng but men.

Anthropophagi, people whiche eate of dea-uoure men.

Anthropos, a man.

Anthus, a byrde that countrefaitheth the noygh-yng of hoyses. also a floure.

Anthylla, a citee of Egypte.

Anthyllis, is called commonly hebe pur.

Antia, the daughter of Amphianasia, a wyfe of Perus, kyng of Argies.

Antiz, the beace of a woman that is laide ouer hys foyleade, gentylwomen byd lately calle theim the colles.

Antiaes, people of Antium.

Antibacchius, a foote in meter, haung the two syllables long, & the last short, as, Audite.

Antica, the foyleparte, wherevnto politica, is contrary.

Anticanis, looke Antecanis.

Anticategoria, a pleadyng, whan one accuseth
an other.

Anticipatio, an anticipacion, or takyng befoze,
also a figure called Prolepsis.

Anticipo, aui, are, to psequente, to take befoze, to anticipate.

Anticlus, one of the Grekes, whiche were enclosed in the hyasen hoise, whereby the citee of Theop was betrayed. And whan the sayre Helene, mystryng that engyne, came vnto so it, and (sleynng the doores of the hyasen of Grece) byd speake as euery of theym had had spoken to ebery husbande, none of them, whiche were in the hyasen hoise, regarded hys oney Anticlus, thehyng he herde the voyce of hys wyfe Landonia, woulde haue answered, had not Anticlus with his hande stopped his mouthe, vntill Helen, commaunded by Hallas, was departed: by occasion whereof Anticlus was strangled.

Anticithones, people dwelling in the bettermost
partes of the wynde directly agaynst vs.

Anticyra, an yle in Asia, where the herbe Cle-rebus groweth, whiche purgeth melancoly:
there it maie bee taken without any danger.
whereof grewe this prouerbe, spoken to men
in their melancoly:

* Nauiga ad Anticyras, So sayle to Anticyes, as who sayeth, purge your melancoly.

Anticyra, is also a citee of Phocis.

Antidimaritis, a secte of heretikes, whiche affirmed, that the blessed virgin Mary (after she had brought forth Christe) was carnatly knowen of Joseph, and had other chyldren by hym. The authours of this hereise was Melitidius, about the yere of our ioyde. 406.

Antidor, ri, neut. gen. remuneration, gyfte for gyfte, one for an other.

Antidotarius, a booke of medicines.

Antidotum, ti, neut. ge. Antidotus, ti, sc. ge.
a medicine to expelle poison.

Antigenides, a mynstrell of Thebes, the scholar of Orphocleus.

Antigero, olde wyrters vsed for valde.

Antigone, es, the daughter of Laomedon and Phiamus syster, who beeyng proude of hys beautie, was of Juno turned in to a roke.
also a daughter of Deipus kyng of Thebes.

Antigonus, kyng of Macedone, and brothere to greates Alexander. Also a kyng of Asia, an other of Turpe.

Antigraphareus, a controller.

Antigraphus, idem.

Antigraphum, an example wyrtten out of pesis-ted by an other exam ple.

Antileua, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

Antileuio, a petrell.

befoze the company of Christe. he called it the name of his father Antiochia. Though this citee semeth the cytye of Antiochia, yet this citee was faine in the apoclie vithop, vii.
peres. And after hym (saith Luke the spua-list) other vii. peres. There was the first countesse celebrat, where the name of Antio-chia men fynde began. This citee was in the handes of christen menne. 1000. peres. And there hath been in succession. 153. byshops. It had within it. 366. churches. Antiochia is also a part of Syria, and an yle in the sea Mes-diterraneum.

Antiochus, was the name of the kynges of Syria, of whiche the fourth of that name was called the great Antiochus, afoze the coming of Christe. 212. peres. He was also called Haterax (whiche signifieth a faulton) for the raueny he vsed in takyng from euery man his possessions and goodes. So this kyng came Antibal, duke of Larchage, after Larchage was distressed: to whome Antiochus shewed his armie gathered agaynst the Romaynes, meruaylous rychely armed with gold and siluer. And he (retorcyng therein) demanded of Antibal, if he thought it not enough for the Romaynes, meaning the puissance of the assipe. Antibal, little esteemyng the rychesse, answered in scoyne: yea although the Roma-nes of all other were most courteous. Finally, the Romaynes vanquished bothe Antiochus and Antibal, who fledde to Babilas kyng of Bithenia. Antiochus was constrained to despye peace, to relinqyue the the Romaynes all hys interest in Europa and Asia, to leaue his sonne Antiochus in hostage, he hym selfe to departe to the hyl Taurus, and to be content with the countre therabout. At last, beyng esloones stricken with a courous mynde, to haue a greates treasure, supposed to bee in Peride, the chief citee of Persia, in the temple Nanea or Fortuna, he was deceyved by the pylles of the temple, and cut in small pieces, and caste out to be deuoured of byrdes.
This was the ende of that rauenous and co-uetous pynce, whan he had moke gloriously reigned. xxxvi. peres.

Antiochus illustis, the noble Antiochus, sonne to greates Antiochus (whiche was lesse in hastage to Rome by his father) gaue hys daughter in marriage to Ptolemius kyng of Egypte that by piece of familiaritee, he might take the realme of Egypte from hym, which he did.
for comyng vnto hym vnder the colour of allegiance: he slewe Ptolemius (syringe at supper,
he also subdued the Jewes in Hierusalem, and robbed the Temple and citee, and bydde slee by hys, and with sundry tourmentes compelled the Jewes to breake the lawes of god, and commette pblaty. But he escaped not unpunished. For when he had resigned a leuen perss, he fell into an horrible sickness and tourmente, so that wourmes issued abundantly out of his bodye, whiche so corrupted his flesh, that no man about him might susteyne the sauer thereof. At last he returning to the kingdom of god, dyed verie conuetic. Others other haue ben of that name, some kynge, and some philosophers.

Antipagmetia, garnishings of poches or doores, wrought in stone or timber, or in pincted.

Antipater, was the name of dyuers kynge, as well of Macedonia, as of Judea. Also a noble capitayne, whome the greake kynge Alexander made his lieutenant of Macedonia, whiche he was in his conquest, who dyd many valiant actes in the absence of Alexander, and kept the royaltes and dominions of his master in good state throught his wisdom and piety. But being at discension with queene Dymptias, mother to Alexander, who wrote many great complaints to his sonne agaynst hym, finally dyed by the traictee, as well of Alexander as of his mother. It is supposed, that he consented to the poisoning of his master.

Antipater, was a philosopher boine in the cite of Cyprus, of the Stoikes secte, whiche from the tyme of his birth, vntill his death, had alway a fetter, and yet he lived till he was olde. There was a famous poete, dyuers philosophers, and a sophister of this name.

Antipater, is also an herbe, whiche hath an harde steame, and leaues like rosemary, but they are broader, and not so longe. The properties thereof is, that the flowers, whiche growe late, doo springe vpon highest: therefore Pandecta callet it, Filius ante patrem, the sonne afore the father.

Antipathia, a repugnance, or contrarietie of naturall qualities or affections.

Antipathia, a mutuall thankfulness, remuneration, one good tourne for an other.

Antipathia, a lette, restreynce, or repulsiue on euery parte, whereby where heate cometh colde is expelled: where colde is, heate is expelled. By this is welle water warme in wynter tyme, because the hygh partes of the apie (beinge colde) the heate draweth to the lowest partes. Likewise in the bodye of manne, the spirite is kept in more feruente, by the outwarde colde, by the toyn confort and tolleracion of al the partes of the bodye.

Antiphatas, the laste sonne of Asarpedon.

Antiphon, an ancient poete of Attic.

Antiphona, bee interpreted antemnes, songen after psalmes. These were songes ordeined to be songe in the Church by sayntes Ignatius, the disciple of sayntes John the angelus, Archbysop of Antioche, the pater of our lorde. 109.

Antiphonus, and Antiphus, the sonnes of Isidamus by Heruba.

Antiphrasis, from gen. a woode haupinge a contrarie meaning, as Parca, the myrtales of deathe, so called, because they spare no man. Also a figure in an oracion, whan we touche that, whiche we late we will not speake of: as, Non tango, quod avarus homo cit.

Antipilani, an order of souldiours in the Roman army.

Antipodes, a people the whiche dooe inhabyte the parte of the world, in respecte of the roundnesse thereof vnderneath, so that there faete seeme to be agaynst oure.

Antipolis, a cite of Marbon in Fraunce, called commonly Ragui.

Antipophora, a figure, whanne we recite the saynges and objections of our aduersaries, to the intent to answer or confute them.

Antipodis, idis, from gen. a figure, whiche one case is put for an other.

Antipyrus, a cite of Marmarica, called commonly Lucio.

Antiquarius, ri, mask. gen. he that searcheth for antiquities, or readeth olde woordes, or useth to speake or write woordes of ancient tyme, whiche haue been longe out of custome.

Antiquatio, an abollition, or abrogacion.

Antique, anciently.

Antiquitas, as, ancienttee. It is sometyme used for a louyng affection towards a thyng or persone.

Antiquitas generis, ancienttee of bloude.

Antiquus, of ancient and olde tyme.

Antiquo, aut, quare, to make voyde, to reduce to the fynde state, to repelle, to abrogate, to abolyshe, or to put out of memory.

Antiquare legem, to abolyshe a lawe.

Antiquus, a, um, ancient or olde. Sometyme it signiflieth great, noble, or woorthfull, also it signiflieth muche sette by.

Nihil antiquus, nothyng more set by or fauoured.

Antiqua ratio, the maner of tyme past.

Antiqua terra, a noble countrey.

Terra antiqua, potens armis, & vbera gleba, A noble countrey paynted in armes, and of a fertile soyle.

Antiqui homines, menne of the olde facton, men ancient in maner and behauour.

Antiquum obriues, thou hepest thy old wone of facton.

Antiquus hospes, myn hoste of longe tyme.

Antiqui mores, honest maners.

Antiquus amicus, an olde frende.

Antimus, mi, merge (saying) of scolding without out anger.

Antipasis, a plucking the contrary wise.

Antissa, a towne in Lesbos.

Antistes, itis, a pstat of a pstat: and by a metaphor, he that excellith, or is chiefe in any science.

Antisthenes, was a famous philosopher in Athenes, afore the coming of Christ. 384. years: who to heare Socrates, went euery daye on his feet from Hyppus to Athenes, whiche was his ryle. He first began the sect called Clinici. but he supposed the chiefe goodnesse to be in veritas.

Antistia, an abbess of pyrothe, a woman pstat Antistitum, pstat of pstat.

Antistitor, he that hath pstatence ouer other, or that standeth before them that worke, and controllith them, A controller, or an overseer of workemen.

Antisto, still, are, used of olde wyters for antes, to excite.

Antistichon, or antistichon, neut. ge. a trope, whan one letter is put for an other: as, Sella for Seda.

Antistrophe, es, from gen. a figure, whan one word is repeated in the ende of diuers clauses.

Antistis, a plucking backe.

Antitaurus, an hill for right agaynst the mountayne Taurus.

Antithesis, is, for ge. a figure, whan one letter is set for an other, as Olli, for illi.

Antitheton, ti, neu. gen. a figure, whereby one contrarie is assigned with an other: as, Frigida pugnabant callidis, humentia siccis. Molliia cū duris, sine pondere habentia pondus. Colde thynges contended with them that were hotte, myste thynges with drye, harde thynges with soft, light thynges with heauy kept not one note.

Antitacum, a promontorie in Cornwell, called sainte Barten.

Antium, a cite in the part of Italy called Latium, by the sea syde.

Antianes, ymages of antiquities ouer doores in the corners of an haunce.

Antlia, a pumpe, or lyke thyng to drawe vp water.

Antio, ai, are, to drawe vp.

Antonius, the name of an ancient family in Rome, of whiche was Augustus the diuine, and Antonius Triumvir, whiche caused Cicero to be slayne. Of this name were dyuerse Emperours, and one specially, called Antonius Pius, whiche succeeded Hadrian, the yere of oure lorde. 144. and reigned xlii. yeres, and chise manerly with Marcus Aurelius, and Lucius. His progenitors were Spaniards, as Capitolinus lateth. He was a moste good man, for he gouerned wth such moderation and gentleness, that he was therfore called Isidus, the father of the countie. He was neuer troubled for any pynne of common cause. He was often this saying: We haue more than one laboure, than better a ryght and entenelle. For his beuour luyng, gentleness of maner, mercy, iustice, and temperance, he was compared to Iunio. wherfore many kynge and prince of diuers nations, luyng more apart, by his commandment, committed all theyr contentions vnto his iudgement, and helde them therewith contented. For whan he not so desirous of glory or wealth, that he would attayne therunto by other meane damage. He died at the age of 70. yeres.

Antonius Musa, physician to Octavian the Emperour, deliuered hym of a dangerous sickness, and therfore the Emperour caused an image made of byss to be sette up by the pynde of Esculapio. There is now luyng a physician of that name in Ferace, who is right likely to sette forth a wonderfull knowledge in physike, of ambition or auarice lette hym not, as it dooth other men of greater learning.

Antonomalia, a figure, whan the spiche count is used for the proper name: as Sauturna for Iuno.

Antor, one of the Centaures.

Antrax, arum, the spaces betwene trees.

Antrax, acis, quicke spere earth.

Antropomorphice, a secte of heretikes, who affirmed, that god had a body and memberes as a man had. This secte beganne in Egypt, about the yere of our lorde. 380.

Antrum, tri, a denne or caue vnder the earth. Sometyme holownesse.

Cicum antrum, a darke denne.

Antus, looke Anthus.

Anubis, was a God of the Egyptians, whom they honoured for Hercurus, in figure of a dogge.

Anuicallia, and Anuifera, certayne herbes, as Ysops, Achyropall, Dozell, fenell, and byerle other, whose stalkes are in wynter drye, and seme dead; but towards Sommer, they springe with greene leaues and blesse out of the roots.

Anularius, looke Annularius.

Anulus, looke Annulus.

Anulus, a part of Annularia.

Anus, is, from ge. an olde wyse.

Anus, ti, mas. gen. an arse.

Anus, a figure ouer the tree.

Anus, curuatus, inwardly, with great paine and heauynesse.

Anus, acis, care, heauynesse, angustie, sorrow.

Anus, idis, idem.

Anus, he that causeth sorrow.

III

Anus

Anxius, a, um, carefull of heauy.
 Anxia oratio, an oration made wistly to musche diligence.
 Anxio animo esse, to haue an heuy and care-full mynde.
 Anxia ægritudines, pynfull synneshes.
 Anxur, tam mas, y neu. gen. a cite called also Tarraſina, and a well in Campaine.
 Anxurus, the surname of Iupiter, because he was neuer Maen.
 Anygrus, looke Anigrus.
 Anylis, a kynge of Egypt.
 Anytus, one of Athens, enemye to Socrates.

A ANTE O.

A On, the sonne of Neptune.
 Aonia, a part of the cuntrey of Boetia.
 Aonius, a, um, of that countreie.
 Aornos, a place wherunto no byrde maie come.
 also a cite of Egypt.
 Aorin, people of Asia.
 Aoria, one of the principall beynes of the body.

A ANTE P.

A Pari, people of Ethiopie.
 Apage, sp, fr.
 Apage, laud nos debeat fugitios &
 mitari, fr, fr, it will not beſeme vs to playe
 the mychers. also ramoue, put awaye, byue awaie. It hath also a ſignification of a moie beheweney: as, Apage hanc caniculam, Awaie with this byrche: or hence awaie with this byrche.
 Apage a me, haue awaie from me.
 Apage te, gette the hence.
 Apage ſis, let bee, gette the hence, awaie.
 Apagina, is a cutting of the bone of, in the os uter part apperyng, deſcendp downe in the pores fornyng to the rupture: or it is, when the ende of a bone is broken, where he is toy-ned with an other bone.
 Apalæſtris, he that can neither waſte nor doo any other myſtey.
 Apamea, an yle in the ryuer Tigris. also a towne in Aſſyria.
 Apamia, was a citee in the leſſe Aſſia, throughe
 the myddell wherof ranne the ryuer Parſis.
 It was also the name of a citee in Parthia,
 an other in Syria.
 Aparine, an herbe, whiche ſome men ſuppoſe to bee burres: ſome ſay herbe, whiche is called Rubra tinctorum, in engliſhe the madder.
 Apathes, philoſophers, whiche of a frowarde and ſtubborne nature, helde opynion, that a wiſe man had none affections or paſſions.
 Apaurtenc, a countreie of Syria, wherein is che pounte of Hircania.
 Apeda, x, a byrd, whoſe ſete be ſo liſte that he ſemeth to haue none. I ſuppoſe it be a martlet.
 Apella, x, mas. ge. was a name, whereby the Jewes were called in deſiſion, as it were. ſine pelle, because the ſkyn of theſe yarb was cut of, when theſe were circumciſed.

 Apelles, was an heretike in Grece, the pore of our loyde. 174. whoſe heretie was, that he knew not the god, whiche he woozhypped, and that Chriſte was not god in verite dede,
 but a fantaſy apperyng to men as a man.
 Apelles, an excellent painter in the tyme of great Alexander, boyme in the yle of Cos, of whome onely Alexander would bee pyncted.
 When he dyed he leſt an ymage of Venus by-performed, whiche no man after hym durſte enterpriſe to ſynpſe, for the incomparable beautee thereof.
 Apeliotes, x, mas. ge. the eaſt wynde.
 Apelleus, a, um, of Appelles.
 Apeneſte, a cite of Idue, communely called Manſrebonia.
 Apenninus, looke Apenninus.
 Apeptia, id est crudus, cruditee, or lacke of good digeſtion.
 Aper, pri, mas. gen. a boye. It is also a ſylſhe, whiche hath a voyce.
 Aperio, ui, ire, to open or vncover, to ſhewe or diſcloſe, to expounde or declare.
 Totam rem aperiam: I wil declare the helle matter.
 Neceſſario ſe aperiant, theſe muſt nedes ſhew
 what they be.
 Fontes ſcleratiſſimorum conſiliorum aperuit, he diſcloſed the fountaynes and begynninges of theſe moſt vngacious purpoſes.
 Aperire dubia, to expound doubtful thynges.
 Aperit caput, vncover your head.
 Fuit aperire caput, to byrke ones head with
 a cudgell.
 Aperire iter ferro, to make wate with the ſwerde.
 Aperire locum ſuſpitioni, to make one ſuſpected, to geue occaſion of ſuſpicion.
 Aperire occaſionem, to geue occaſion.
 Aperire fores amicitie, to begyn frendſhip.
 Aperit ſtorem arbor, the tree ſpreadeth his bloſſomes.
 Aperire ludum docendi, to ſet by a ſchoole.
 Aperte, openly, playnly, euidently, without coloure or diſſimulation.
 Aperte falſum, playne falſe.
 Aperte odiſſe, to hate without diſſemblyng.
 Apertiſſime inſanit, euery man maie iudge that he is ſo ſharke madde, or doctly agaynſt all wytte and reaſon.
 Apertio, onis, an openyng.
 Apertura, a lyttell hole, left open in buydynges for ſome uſe or purpoſe.
 Apertus, a, um, open, playne, euident, diſcon-ſeſed, without colour or cloke.
 Aperta pericula, manifeſt perilles.
 Apertus aer, cleere weyther.

Aper

Aperta æguora, biode fieldes.
 Apertus dolor, ſorrow that is not hidde.
 Aperti & ſimplices homines, playn and ſim-ple perſons, that knowe not to diſſemble with the woylde.
 Apertum (absolutely) open, playne.
 In apertum proſeque, to byrde byrde.
 Apes, uel apis, is, form. ge. a bee.
 Bombus apum, the humming of bees.
 Examen apum, a ſnaeme of bees.
 Apelus, onis, a mountayne in Grece.
 Apex, itis, mas. ge. is properly a lyttell wollen chape in the crowne of a cappe, the creſte of tuſſet on the head of a peacocke of other byrde, the note that is ſeene ouer letters for the accent. also the crowne of the heade, the topp of euery thyng, ſometyme a myre. ſometyme
 the highest perfection of honoure or dignitee.
 Apex falcis, the point of an hooke, or ſickle.
 Apexabo, onis, a puddying called a bludding.
 Aphareus, the father of Lynceus.
 Aphareſis, a figure, where a letter or ſyllable is taken from the begynnyng of a woyle, as Pone metum, for Depone.
 Aphæſas, idem quod Apelus.
 Aphedontes, people of Egypt.
 Aphidæ, ari, a place in the cuntreie of Athens.
 Aphilos, he that hath no frende.
 Aphractum, i, neu. ge. of apiractus, cl, mas.
 ge. a bynde of myttes, whiche the Aſſyrians
 vied: A byrgantine, or a backe.
 Aphrica maior, the theſe parte of the woyle, whiche is ſeuered from Aſſia, on the eaſte by the ryuer Nilus: On the weſt from Europe, by the pillars of Hercules. The hither parte is now called Barbarye, the people Moores.
 The inner parte is called Libya, a Ethiopia.
 Aphrica minor, is in this wiſe bounded, on the weſt it hath Numidia: on the eaſte Cy-naica: on the north the ſea called Mediter-raneum. In this countreie was the noble ci-tie of Carthage.
 Aphricanus, a name given to two noble Ro-maynes, called Scipianes, becauſe the one vanquyiſhed Anniball, and ſubdued Carthage:
 the other afterwards viceroy ſubuerred and deſtroyed it.
 Aphrodiſia, daies of ſacrifices, dedicate to Venus, or beneſſall paſſimes.
 Aphrodiſium, an ymage of Venus, also a pyramonte of Caria, an other of Sparyn, called Labo de cruz, and a citee of Aſſyria.
 Aphrodiſius, a piſſate, the diſſile of Cyprus Peter.
 Aphrodice, es, the ſurname of Venus.
 Aphronitum, the ſome of Caly Peter, called be the Arabians Baurach.
 Aphtha, is an excuſeration of breaking out in the mouthes of children, whiche doo ſuche Aphthonius, a ſophiſt, whiche wyte theſe

ſea for children.
 Aplya, a bynde of itell ſet in broken, whiche che are ſuppoſed to haue none other beyn nung but of abundance of rayne: for they are founde all tymes of the yere, and the more the water is troubled, the better they are. Iſtate calleth this ſylſhe Aplya: Theophrastus nameth hym Aplya, I ſuppoſe they be dales.
 Aplya, is also of Cicero vied for the byle and
 baſe ſort of the people.
 Apianus, a, um, that wherin bees doo beſette.
 Apianæ vux, a bynde of grapes, whiche beſe chiefly deſyre.
 Apiarium, the place where bees be ſette.
 Apiarius, he that nouerſeth bees.
 Apiaſtra, a byrde that dooeth deuour bees.
 Apiaſtrum, ſtri, neu. ge. called also Meliſſophyl-lon, Meliſſhyllon, and Melinon, an herbe, wherin bees greatly deſſe, the frenche men
 call it Meliſſe.
 Apianus, a, um, rayed or ſpied with bees.
 Apica, x, a ſhepe that hath no woull on his beale.
 Apicula, x, a ponge bee.
 Apicalus, a diminutiue of apex.
 Apidanus, a ryuer in Chetia.
 Apitius, a Romayne, whiche deſſed in deſſate myſtes, ſo muche that he profeſſed cookery, and infected Rome with gluttony, whiche be-ſore was the myſte of temperaunce. And when he had conſumed in gourmandiſe, Mil-lies ſeſterium, whiche amounteth (after the computation of Seneca) to two myllions, and 400000. crownes: whiche is after one rate, 53505. li. when he grew in debt, and made his ſeekenyng, there was left but Cen-ties ſeſterium, whiche amounteth to this rate in our moneth. 59505. li. bill. Myllinges, ſea-ryng in that ſubſtance to lye in penury: he wiſſyngly dyd his poſſon, and dyed.
 Apina, x, of Apinæ, arum, a citee of Idue,
 the name wherof is vied as a prouerbe.
 * Apinæ, reſayng thynges.
 Apinæ, ſuites wiche beſe then ſales.
 Apinus, a tree, wherof cometh pitch.
 Apionia mala, rounde apples, whiche I take to be pome royall.
 Apion, a byrde.
 Apria, inſiſtenteſſe, where there is none ende.
 Apria, or, is, called also Serapis & Oſyris, a byrde, whome the Egyptians honoured for chey conſtancy. Also an oke, whome they woozhypped, and a towne of Aſſyria, and a bynde of Aſſyria, whiche was ſet to Juſtice and iudgement.
 Aplicor, whiche ſum, apicel, an olde woyle vied for to byrde out.
 Apionis, whiche, i, fr. gen. a pyſſous ſtone, whiche beſe ones byrde, conſiſteth of ſome ſales.

Apli

Apium, called also Sclmon, properly due comes mon per seip.

Apus, the name of a familie of Rome.

Aplanes, that mouerth not, that wandreth not.

Apluda, wheaten barme.

Aplustre, tris, neu. ge. plura. Aplustria, o3 aplustia by sinuacion, the encheing of a ship.

Apnoa, the vice of a short breathe.

Apocalypsis, sios, form. ge. a reuelacion.

Apocha, x, fac. gen. a quittaunce for moneye that is payde.

Apocleti, counsaillours of the priuy counsaile.

Apocope, es, fac. ge. a figure, by whiche a letter or a syllable is taken awate from the ende of a woord: as, Peculi, for peculij.

Apocopi, men being gelded.

Apocroti, men that bee harde and miserable in iuyng, frowarde, austere.

Apocryphus, a, um, hypode, not knownen.

Apocryphi libri, bookes, the autho3s where of bee vnkownen, o3 rather not to bee vsed openly in the church.

Apocynon, i, neu. ge. a littell bone in the left side of a scogge, wherewith (it is supposed) thynges maye be dooen, whiche were not expedient to bee openly knownen.

Apodes, dum, plu. loke apus.

Apodixis, is, fac. ge. an euident probacion, a demonstration.

Apodocis, cis, fac. ge. a figure, whan there is a certayne correspondencie of woordes in a sentence.

Apodyterium, the place by a bapn, where they whiche be bapned, doo put of their clothes.

Apornicola, is, a dweller on the hyl Aporninus.

Aporninigena, x, idem.

Aporninus, an hyl that diuideth all Italy into two partes.

Apogae, windes that do arise out of the ground.

Apographum, an exauple wrytten o3 pegned out.

Apolastrizo, aui, are, to stryke wth the heeles, also to despyse o3 sette at nought.

Apolectus, ti, a chosen man, a pyked felowe, also a syme of the hynde of Tunie.

Apolis, idis, m. g. a stranger.

Apollinaris, re, of Apollo.

Apollinares ludi, playes made in the honoure of Apollo.

Apollinaris, an herbe called Penbayne.

Apollinaris, the name of dyuers men, one was bishop of Hierapolis, a citee in Asia, the pere of our loyde. 1045. a grete learned man. he wrote a booke of the faith of Christe: an o3ther wrote against the gentiles, dedicate vnto Antonius the emperour. also agens the heretikes called Caraphrige. An o3ther of the same name was bishop of Laodicea, whiche also was a noble learned man, and wrote xxx. booke for our faith agens the poophetys. not withstandynge he fell into heresy, saying, that Christe receiued not flesh of the virgin Mary, but that in the acte of his incarnation, some parte of the woide was conueried into flesh. He saide, that Christe soule was not of that part, whiche was rationall, but ony of that parte, whiche kept the body iuyng. And therfore in his incarnation, he toke ony the body, and not the soule.

Apollinea, a citee in Lumbarby, nowe called Vercellae.

Apollineus, a, um, of Apollo.

Apollo, ius, called also Liber pater, the gentiles honoured for god, referreng to hym the inuencion of musike, poetrie, and of phisike. It is sometime taken for the sunne.

Apollonia, a blessed virgin, boyn in Alexandria, who for confessing the faith of Christe, the pere of our loyde. 265. had all hir teeth pulled out of hir heade. And after, whan the tyran menaced hir, excepte she woulde blaspheme Christe, she should be bourned in a grete fyre therfore prepared: after she had aduised hir selfe, she brake from the ministers, and wrytyngly lepte into the fyre.

Apollonia, is also the name of a citee in Egypte, nowe called Alonisa, an o3ther in Treca, an o3ther in Byssa, also a towne in Thracia.

Apolloniata, people of Apollonia.

Apolloniensis, se, of Apollonia.

Apollonius, the name of dyuers learned men, one boyn in Greece, aboute the pere of oure loyde. 90. in his infancy to profited in lea3nyng, that being but a chyld, he was a grete philosopher, and folowed the secte of Sophagoras, goynge alwaie in lynnen, and neuer wearyng any thyng that had lefe. And not withstandinge he was excellently learned in the mysticall knowlage of philosophy and naturall magike: yet to haue mo3e knowlage, he went into Egypte, Perfia, Ethiops, and India, to learne of the Magmanes, and Gymnosophistes, and returned into Greece and Rome, where he was had in great admiration, for the meruailes that he shewed. And at laste, beinge aboute the age of. 80. yeres, in a greate assembly of people, was suddenly conueighed awate: No man knoweth howe nor whether, as Philostratus, who wryteth his lyfe, saith. Also saynte Jerome maketh abundantly mention of hym in his prologue to the olde testament. There were of this name the grete phisicians: One called Apollonius Demophilus, the disciple of Crassistratus; he spak of any phisicion whate of the partes of mans bodye. The o3ther two were of Antioche, the father and the sonne.

Apologatio, onis, the bying of fables.

Apologia, x, a defence o3 answere to a rebuke.

Apologo, aui, are, to taune, froffe, o3 rebuke.

Apo

Apologus, a fable, wherein beastes by wordes doo speake.

Apomeli, vel apomeli, a dypric made with honey combed thowen in honey, vntill the waxe be cleane consumed awate, and then soled, and put in a fagge earthen pott.

Aponus, a place in Italy, nere to Padua, where be hot bathes, holloins for many diseases.

Apophasis, is, fac. ge. a denyng of a thyng, as to an inuentio3e.

Apophlegmatismus, a medicine, whiche causeth one to vomite by fume.

Apophorea, orum, neu. ge. presenters o3 gyftes like to our newe yeres gyftes.

Apophthegma, aris, a short and quick sentence.

Apoplexia, uel apoplecticus morbus, is a sicknesse ingendred of abundance of grete humours, whiche dooe spyl those recepyto3es o3 vessels of the head, from whence the feelinge and mouyng of the body cometh. And therfore they that haue this disease, bee depriued of feelinge, speche, and mouyng.

Apoplecticus, he which hath the said sicknesse.

Aporeta, castettes, o3 coffers, wherein wer put secreete thynges.

Aporia, doubt, necessity, perplexitee, despayracion.

Aporior, aris, to doubt, to bee vncertaine, to be in a perplexitee, to be brought into a straits. Sometime to lacke.

Apopsopsis, sis, fac. ge. a figure, where somethat is lefte out, specially in speakinge, and left to the coniecture of them that he heares.

Apostasia, rebellion, o3 forsakinge of a mannes profession o3 allegiance.

Apostata, x, mal. ge. a rebell o3 renegate. It is nowe used for hym that forsaketh the religion of Christe.

Apostato, aui, are, to flee from o3 forsake hym, whom we profess to folowe.

Apostema, an impostume, wherein corrupted humours haue recourse in any part of the bodye, properly it signifyeth space.

Aposternimus, is a cuttyng awate of the bone with the wounde.

Apostolus, an apostle. It properly signifyeth a messenger or legate.

Apostrophe, es, fac. ge. a conuersion in speakinge from one to an o3ther.

Apostrophus, i, mal. ge. a note, like an halfe circle, set at the laste ende of a woide, and signifieth part of it to be taken awate.

Apostrepha, a pronunciation of declaration of the signification of wordes as a many natu3rales, o3 the beginninge of any thyng, wherewithal happeneth.

Apothea, x, fac. ge. a wyne cellar o3 wyner, wherein thynges be feruente.

Apotheosis, onis, fac. ge. a translation of conuersion, properly of men into goddes.

Apomienos, he whiche wyppeth awaye speche from any bodye.

Aporema, a decoction of water with herbes o3 viales, whiche the grekes used in dede of ouer synners.

Appareat, cleant, blyssomly, gayly, iustomly, galantly.

Apparatio, onis, idem quod apparatus.

Apparatus, us, preparation, apparaplyng, o3 deckyng.

Apparatus belli, preparation for warres, artillearye.

Apparatus, a, um, prepared, made ready, decked, tymmed.

Apparatus sum ut videtis, I am ready as ye see.

Appareo, ut, ere, to appere, to be seene, to be manifest o3 euident, to be present o3 gyue attendance, to summon o3 make one appere before an officer.

Res apparet, the thyng is euident.

Fac sis promissa nunc apparent, See that thou stike to thy promises, o3 se that thy promises make shew them selfe.

Quid restum sit apparet, quid expediat obsecrum est, what is honest, to apparet: but what is most profitable, is vncertaine.

Ex quo facile apparet, whereby it made easye to appere.

Appareat in aliquo loco, to be seene in any place.

Appareat questioni, to serue proccesse, as sergantes and balliues doo.

Apparatio, onis, an apperance, attendaunce, whan a man is redy to doo his duetie.

Apparitores, officers of iustice, attendinge on the greate mynistres: to summon o3 attache whom they will commaunde, sergantes.

Apparitura, the office of a sergant o3 balliue, in summonyng o3 attaching men.

Apparo, aui, are, to apparail o3 trimme, to be redy to doo a thyng, to prepare o3 ordeyne, to make redy.

Apparare prandium, to make redy dyner.

Hanc fabrica apparo, I go aboute this wile of discreete.

Appellatio, onis, a namyng, callinge, o3 appealing to an higher iudge.

Appellatio literarum, the pronounciation of letters.

Appellatio ignominiosa, a reprochful name.

Appellator, one that appeleth to a higher iudge.

Appello, aui, are, a frequentative of appello.

Appello, aui, are, to name o3 call, to call vpon, to call by name, to call vpon a man for duetie, to summon o3 talke with one, to comence an action agens one in the lawe, also to call the grete lawyer, with whom it is thought, to wote a man to haue the righte.

Some

Sometyme it signifyeth to arrive, Sometime to appeale to an higher iudge.

Appellare blandē, to talke pleasantly, or to saye woordes to one.

Appellare Caesarem, to appeale to the Emperour.

Appellare literas, to pronounce letters.

Appellare nuntii et significatione, with countenance and tokens to declare whom he meaneth, when a man dare not name hym.

Non appellatur hæc in lege, the lawe spekyth not of these thynges: or they be not mentioned in the lawe.

Vis ut appellem hunc gallicū? wilt you that I shoulde common with this man in frenche?

Virum appellat, he calleth upon his husband Comiter vnumquemq; appellabat, he spake to euery one gently.

Appellare de re aliqua, to common with one of a matter.

Appellare literis aliquē, to send letters to one.

Appellare aliquem, to conuince an action agaynst one.

Appellare aliquem de pecunia, to call vpon a man for monie that he oweth.

Quos appellem? To whome shoulde I call for helpe?

Appellare deum, to take god to wytnesse.

Eum victorem appellat, he pronounceth hym to be victour.

Appello, poli, ere, pulsum, to arryue. Sometime to apply of sette the mynde, to direct. also to appoche.

Appellere animum ad aliquid, to sette the mynde to somwhat.

Appellere nauem ad locum aliquem, to arrive with his shyppe at any place.

Cum nauis appelleretur, when the shyppe was arryued.

Haud auspicato huc me appuli, I came hither vnluckily.

Appellere ad scopulos, by a metaphore, to put in daunger.

Appellere animalia ad aquam, to byrue cattell to water.

Animum ad uxorem appulit, he gaue his mynde to marriage.

Me ad mortem appulit, it had almost vndone me, or caste me awate.

Appendicula, a diminutiuus of appendix.

Appendix, icis, fæ. ge. that whiche hangeth at an other thyng, it is also a shed or penthouse, an addition, or that whiche pertaineth to a thyng, as a parte thereof.

Appendico, di, ere, to hange by or mygh, to hang out, to pesse or weigh in a balance or beame.

Appendeo pecuniam, I weygh the counte out monie.

Appendere mutuo, to lende.

Appendere verba, to ponder or weygh ones

woordes.

Appenninus, the parte of the mountaynes of Alpes, whiche begyn at Beane, and diside Italy, and extendeth vnto the sea betwene Naples and Sicile.

Appensus, a, um, hanged at a thyng, weighed, pondered.

Appetens, verate desirous of a thyng.

Appetentia, appetite, desyre of meate, inordinate desyre of other thynges.

Appetentiam ciborum prauit, It maketh one haue a stomake to his meate.

Appetito, onis, appetite, desyre, endeuour to catche holde on a thyng with ones handes.

Appetitus, us, appetite, inordinate desyre, sensualite, and in the plurall numbre, the affectiōs of passions of the mynde.

Appeto, ti, ere, to desyre muche, to go to, some come to inuade, with desyre to hurt one, to desyre a mans harme, to appoche, drawe nere, or to be at hande. Sometime to intreate.

Dies appetebat, the daye was come, or at hande.

Leuans se alis, os, oculosq; hostis, rostro & vnguibus appetit, cpyng vp with his wynges, with his talons and bill, he assailed the face and eyes of hym that faught on the other parte.

Nox appetit, the nyght draweth nere.

Appetit vitam hominis, he goeth aboute, or he endeuoureth to wocke that mans death, or ridde hym out of lyfe.

Appetere ferro, to assaile one with a wea-pon, to sette on one with a sword drawn.

Appetere lapidibus, to hurle stones at one.

Appetere dextram osculis, to kysse ones right hande in metyng.

Appetere aliquid manibus, to endeuour to take holde on a thyng with his handes.

Appiades, were among the paynims these goddes, Venus, Pallas, Pax, Concordia, Vestita. Of these doo make mencion Ouidius de arte amandi, 2. & de remedio amoris, Et Tullius 3. fami. epistolarum.

Appia via, the name of an hygh waye of carres, from Rome to Campayne.

Appiana mala, a kynde of apples, as greete as quinces, hauing as great a sauour as they, and of colour rebbe.

Appianum, ni, neu. ge. a kynde of perynginge coloure.

Appianus, a noble hystorian, boine in Alexandria, who wrote most excellent warres of the Romayns civile warres, whiche bookes I counsaile all them that bee studious in Tullies warres, to reade diligently, whereby they shall vnderstande many thynges, that els can not well be vnderstanded.

Appingo, egi, oxi, ere, to pectre or wyth more to a thyng.

Appo, a famous geamarian boine in Egypt, agaynst whome Joseph wrote his warres De antiquitate ludæorum.

Applius Claudius Cæcus, an orator of Rome.

Applaudo, di, ere, to moue handes or feete for tope of fauour that we beare to a thyng, or to beate any thyng to the grounde.

Applausor, one that reioiceth on that maner.

Applausus, us, the clapping of handes for tope. Sometime an open gratulation, or appoyning of a thyng.

Applicatio, onis, an applynge or bendyng of the mynde, a resoytyng or repayryng to any persone. &c.

Applicatus, a, um, arryued, applyed, lated to, bent or steeled.

Applicare aures, eares playne and close to the heade.

Applicus, the other participle, toyned to, &c.

Applico, aui, oxi, are, to toigne, to put or adde to, to late or sette to, or to apply, or bende to, sometime to actiue, to leane to.

Applicar primum ad Chrysidis patrem se, he first made repaie to Chrysis father.

Applicare naues terræ, or ad terram, to arreyue or byng the shippes to lande.

Applicare aures, to herken, to geue eare.

Applicare se ad arborem, to leane to a tree.

Applicare scalas, to sette vp ladders to scale the walles.

Applicare se ad aliquem, to accompany hym selfe with one.

Applicare aliquod, to resoyt to a place.

Ut ad honestatem applicetur, that it maye be applied to honestie.

Applicare se ad aliquod studium, to set his mynde on any kynde of study.

Applicare se ad conuiuia, to haunt feastes.

Applicare animum ad frugem, to waite thyrstie.

Applicare oscula, to kysse.

Applodo, oxi, ere, looke Applaudo.

Apploro, aui, are, to wepe or waille to or by one, to make moone to one with wepyng.

Appluda, looke Apluda.

Appluere, to rapne, to rapne by.

Applumbo, aui, are, to souler.

Appono, sui, ere, to put or adde to, to sette to, or appoynt.

Apponere notam alicui rei, to set a marke on any thyng.

Apponere mensam, to make ready the table.

Apponere cibis aliquid, to myxe somethyng with meates.

Apponere cibum alicui, to set meate before a manne.

Argentum illi purum apposuit, he serued hym onely with siluer vessel.

Custodem alicui apponere, to appoynt a keeper or ruler over one.

Calumniatores apponere, to subioyne or

App

Apponere accusatorem alicui, to cause one to accuse a man.

Apporrigo, to dresche ouer by a place.

Apporto, aui, are, to byng to, to carie to, to weie or byng thynges.

Apportare ab aliquo, to carie awaye frome a manne.

Apportare vehiculo, to carie to a place in a waggyn.

Quidnam apportas? what thynges byngest thou?

Apportare nuncium, to byng a message.

Apportare damnum, to byng harme, or be the occasion of damage.

Anni tempora morbos apportant, The seasons of the yere byng sicknesses.

Apposco, poposci, ere, to after more.

Apposito, apiti, conueniently.

Appositio, onis, a meuyng, addyng, or puttynge to a thyng.

Appositus, us, idem.

Appositus, a, um, put to, or set to, toigne to, set or put by, subioyned or sent pynally. Sometime it signifyeth conuenient, or to the purpose, ap-pyte, sometime lated vp.

Appositus erat ab isto vt emeret, he was sent or caused pynally of hym to byt it.

Homo appositus, a man fiers for the purpose.

Appositum & propinquum nobis, harde by nere to vs.

Apposui, well wette with bynke, well waf-
shed or twilled with bynke, almost bynke.

Apprehendo, di, ere, to take, to attache, to late handes on a thyng, to gette.

Apprehendere palmam, to get the victorie.

Apprehendere morsu, to byt.

Apprehendere manum alicuius, to take one by the hande.

Apprehendere regionem, to obteyn the gouernance of a countreie.

Apprime, chiesly, pynically.

Apprime doctus homo, a man excellently well learned.

Id apprime rectissime dicitur, that is excellently well spoken.

Apprimo, sai, ere, to ptesse to, to put harde to.

Apprimus, pynically, chiesly.

Approbatio, onis, the allowyng of a thyng, sometime a probation.

Approbator, one that alloweth.

Approbo, meritaously well, verate honestly.

Approbo, aui, are, to approue, or allowe, to weie or pteue, that a thyng is worthy to be allowed, to make good a cause, to confyrme and pteue with reasons.

Approbare opus, to pteue or shewe euidently, that the worke is perfect and good.

Approbus, verate honest.

Appromissor, one that dooth confyrme and shewe

Apponere accusatorem alicui, to cause one to accuse a man.

Apporrigo, to dresche ouer by a place.

Apporto, aui, are, to byng to, to carie to, to weie or byng thynges.

Apportare ab aliquo, to carie awaye frome a manne.

Apportare vehiculo, to carie to a place in a waggyn.

Quidnam apportas? what thynges byngest thou?

Apportare nuncium, to byng a message.

Apportare damnum, to byng harme, or be the occasion of damage.

Anni tempora morbos apportant, The seasons of the yere byng sicknesses.

Apposco, poposci, ere, to after more.

Apposito, apiti, conueniently.

Appositio, onis, a meuyng, addyng, or puttynge to a thyng.

Appositus, us, idem.

Appositus, a, um, put to, or set to, toigne to, set or put by, subioyned or sent pynally. Sometime it signifyeth conuenient, or to the purpose, ap-pyte, sometime lated vp.

Appositus erat ab isto vt emeret, he was sent or caused pynally of hym to byt it.

Homo appositus, a man fiers for the purpose.

Appositum & propinquum nobis, harde by nere to vs.

Apposui, well wette with bynke, well waf-
shed or twilled with bynke, almost bynke.

Apprehendo, di, ere, to take, to attache, to late handes on a thyng, to gette.

Apprehendere palmam, to get the victorie.

Apprehendere morsu, to byt.

Apprehendere manum alicuius, to take one by the hande.

Apprehendere regionem, to obteyn the gouernance of a countreie.

Apprime, chiesly, pynically.

Apprime doctus homo, a man excellently well learned.

Id apprime rectissime dicitur, that is excellently well spoken.

Apprimo, sai, ere, to ptesse to, to put harde to.

Apprimus, pynically, chiesly.

Approbatio, onis, the allowyng of a thyng, sometime a probation.

Approbator, one that alloweth.

Approbo, meritaously well, verate honestly.

Approbo, aui, are, to approue, or allowe, to weie or pteue, that a thyng is worthy to be allowed, to make good a cause, to confyrme and pteue with reasons.

Approbare opus, to pteue or shewe euidently, that the worke is perfect and good.

Approbus, verate honest.

Appromissor, one that dooth confyrme and shewe

ther mans promise, as it were a suretee.
Appromitto, si, ere, to confirme that an other man hath promised, to bynde hym selfe for an other mans promise.
Appropero, aui, are, to make haste of speede, to come.
Appropere gradum, hie you apace.
Appoperare mortem, to haue ones death.
Appoperatum opis, a speeche woorth, a woorthie hast forwarde.
Appropinquatio, an appoehing of drawing to.
Appropinquo, aui, are, to appoeh, to drawe nigh to.
Appropinquat tempus, the tyme draweth nigh.
Appropinquante definita die, when the day appointed was at hande.
Appropinquare alicui dignitati, to bee nere to some honour of preferment.
Appulia, looke Apulia.
Appulus, us, drawing of beastes to watering.
Appulus, us, arriuall, appoehing, or coming to of nere.
Appulus solis, the appoehing of the sonne.
Appulus, a, um, arriued, come to.
Appulus, looke Apulus.
Apricatio, onis, a beatehinge of walhinge in the sonne.
Apricator, aris, ari, to sitte of go abode in the aye, or in the sunne, to sette a sunning.
Apricitas, aris, the warmenesse of the sunne in wynter, a saye clere wether.
Si diei admittit apricitas, If the date be fatre and cleere.
Apricus, a, um, sunny, warme by reason of the sonne, open vpon the sonne.
Apricus dies, a sunny date.
Apricus locus, a place that standeth open vpon the sonne, a sunny place.
In apricum proferre, to bynge abode.
Apricus homo, one desirous to be in the son.
Aprilis, is, mas. ge. the moneth of Aprille.
Aprilis, is, of Aprille, somtyme the moneth is selfe.
Aprinus, a, um, of a boie.
Apronia, an herbe called also Vitis nigra, a blacke vyne, whiche renneth by and wyndeth about trees and stalkes of herbes, and hath a leafe like to ruse, but greater, and beareth beertes in clusters, whiche at the begynning are greene and blacke, when they be ripe: the roote is blacke with in, and yelowe withoute lyke boie.
Aprono in genua, I kneele on my knees.
Aproxis, an herbe, the roote wherof kendlith fyre farre of.
Aprugna, the bynson of a wyld boie.
Aprugnus, a, um, of a boie.
Aprugnum callum, the byaune of a boie.
Aprutium, a parte of Italy, the people wherof were somtyme called Samaites, agaynst whome the auncient Romaynes, had warred longe tyme, in it be these cities, Aquila, Adria, Sulmo, Ortona, Arpilius, Aquilum, and other.

Apis, the name of a carte wheele, also the cles in Arres, also the bowing in arched houses.
Apforus, an yle in the Athenian sea, and a citee in Monte, nowe called Archant.
Apicius, a, um, made fitte of agreeable, somtyme myngled with a thyng.
Apie, fctip, conueniently, well to the purpose, somtyme togncly.
Aptera, orum, a citee in the countre of Lycia, and a towne in Crete.
Aptitudo, dinis, aptnesse.
Apto, aui, are, to fornye, to agree two thynges together, to make fitte of apply one thyng to an other, to settle, addresse, or make redy ones selfe to any thyng, to place a thyng fctip.
Aptare se pugnare, he maketh him redy to fyghte.
Aptare consilium, to prepare or make ready a feate.
Aptidum, ti, vndeclined, without cases.
Aptus, a, um, apte, agreeable, mete, necessary, properly conuenient. Somtyme tognced of compacte.
Apta & connexa inter se, compacte and tognced fctip one with an other.
Apta inter se, agreeable one to the other.
Qui est totus aptus ex se, whiche hath all thynges necessary in hym selfe.
Nam cui viro ex seipso apta sunt omnia, For that man, whiche hath all thynges requiste in hym selfe.
Aptum ex illis tribus, compacte of those three thynges.
Aptum aliquo vinculo, tyed of fastned fctip with some bande.
Apta & accommodata naturæ, thynges conuenient and agreeable to nature.
Aptum & consentaneum tempori, & personæ, mete and agreeing to the tyme & person.
Curationi aptus æger, a sicke person mete to bee cured.
Cibus stomacho aptus, meate agreeing with the stomache.
Aptius uber, more fruitefull or fertile.
Aptum ad omne anni tempus palli, a garment mete for all tymes of the yere.
Apta compositio membrorum, a good proportion of the members.
Aptus verbis, one that vseth propre and fead wordes, mete for the matter.
Aptus mihi homo, a man mete for my purpose, a man after my fantasie.
Aptus sum, somtyme, I haue gotten.
Apua, a fcthe ingendred of the rayne, looke Ephra.
Apuaui, people of Liguria.
Apuchii, a temple in the countre Cyrenica.
Apua,

Apud, at, nere to or by, somtyme amongstwhan it is toignd with a person, it significth with.
Apud eum Sulpicius sedebat, Sulpicius was by hym.
Apud se ruri, at his owne house in the countrey.
Tecum apud te ambulabo, I will walke at home with the in thyne owne house, likewise Secum apud se.
Sum apud te primus, thou settest most by me of all men: or, I make dooe as muche with thee as any man.
Apud iuuentutem, amonge yonge men.
Apud maiores facitara, dooen often of our forefathers.
Apud matrem recte est, All thyng is well at my mothers: or, my mother is in good helth.
Apud me minimum valet, It doeth nothyng auayle with me: or, I sette littell store by it.
Cum apud te aliquem laudo, when I praise any man to you.
Apud eum est primus, he is his princypall mynion.
Apud me priores partes habet, he make doo more with me.
Facio te apud illum deum, I make hym take the for a god.
Per eam te obsecramus ambæ, si ius, si fas est, vti aduersa eius per te recta, racitay as pout omnes sint, We bothe desyre you on hie behalfe, if it maye be by any meanes possible, that by your goodte hie myffortune maye bee keuered, and from all men kepte secreete.
Apud aliquem mentiri, to make a lye to one.
Apud nos imperium tuum est, we remembre your commaundement.
Apud animum meum statuo, I determyne in my mynde.
Apud forum, in or at the market.
Apud ædes, in the house.
Apud orcum, in helte.
Apud quem, in whose presence.
Apud maiores nostros, in the tyme of oure forefathers.
Apud se non est, he is out of his witte: or, he is not in his right mynde.
Vix iam apud me, ita animus commotus est meus, spe, gaudio, mirando hoc tanto, tam repentino bono, I am well nigh out of my witte, my mynde is so vexed with feare, hope, and ioy, with this good chaunce, whiche is so wonderful, so great, & so sodenly hapned.
Apud te sis, see that thy wittes be thine own, thyne what thou haile to dooe, remembre thy selfe.
Apud ignem, by the fyre.
Apud aquam, by the water.
Apud quem, by whome.
Apud eum, by hym.
Apud te exemplum experiendi habes, non eges foris, ye haue the experyence at home, ye neede not to seeke for it abode.

Apuleius, a philosopher borne in Africa, now resident in Athens, and wrote in latine dyuers styles, as de vita et moribus Platonis, & de deo Socratis, in a right eloquent and temperate style. In his booke called Floridorum, ex de alio auro, he wrote to affectately and flowerlyngly, that he is more to bee moched than praised. He made also a right commendable booke of the names and vertues of herbes, he was about the yere of our lord, 300.
Apulia, Duell, a parte of Italy, bordering on the sea Adriaticum, a countreie populous, and hath in many towne and castles, as abundance of corne, wine, oyle, and good roue fers for the warre. The chiefe citee therof is Bundulium, there is also the mount of Saine Adriaticum, called Gargarium. This countrey is called by other names, as, Lapegia, Mellapia, Calabria, and Salentina. The people are called Apuli.
Apulus, a, um, of that countrey.
Apus, odis, fæ, ge. a byrde lyke a swalowe, with larger wynges, and is most commonly about the sea costes, where alwaies the fctip of househ in the aye, and breedeth in a cock.
Apyrina mala, sweete pomegranades.
Apyron, lue alumé.
Apyrotos, ti, fæ, ge. a stone that no fyre maye damage or deface. It is called also Carbunculus, a Carbuncle.

Aqua, water.
Aqua pura, cleare water.
Aqua pluuia, or celestis, rayne water.
Aqua fluuialis, rennyng water.
Leithis aquis dari, to bee forgotten.
Aqua limosa, signy of muddy water.
Aqua Augustæ, a towne in Gascoyne, called Batona.
Aquæ calidæ, a citee in England called Bath.
Aqueductus, tus, mas. ge. a cundyte.
Aqualicium, rayne water used in medicine.
Aquæ Sextæ, a towne in Pouance, nowe called Tiquenlis.
Aquagium, a cundyte.
Aqual, genitiuo, for Aquæ.
Aqualiter, water whiche renneth betwene the thyn and the fcthe: the byopie.
Aqualiculus, a little troughe, also a parte of the bray, where the oxen doo rest, the panche.
Aqualis, lis, mas. ge. an swer, or other lyke thyng, to bynge water to the table.
Aquicola, a place, where water is calte.
Aquarium, a washing place, a little place to abode water, as in barbour shoppes and houses of offyce. Also a place of a ryuer, where where cattell is watered.

Aquariolus, h. mal. ge. a common harlottes house.

Aquarium, rj, idem quod aquariolum.

Aquarius, one of the xii. signes.

Aquarius, a. um, pertaining to water: as,

Aquarius fulcus, a fowle, by whiche water is diurned.

Aquaticus, a. um, that whiche haunterh the water: as, lily, the lily, or groweth in water or marish ground.

Aquatis, le, the same.

Aquatio, onis, a watering, a carrying of fets thing of water.

Aquatus, a. um, that wherinto water is putte, waterpfe.

Vinum aquatum, alased wyne.

Aqueus, a. um, waterpfe.

Aquifolium, or Aquifolia, x, a wyde tree, has uppe tharpe pyckynge leaues, and beares without luyce.

Aquila, an eagle. It is also a fythe of the kynde of cheim that haue gristles.

Aquila, was also the name of one boyne in the countrey of Bonte, of a Gentile becomen a Jewe, whiche translated the olde testaments the seconde tyme out of hebrew into greke.

Aquila, the stander of the Romaynes, also a citee of the Bytians, buylded by the Luniardes.

Aquila senectus, a prouerbe, spoken of an olde man, whiche bynether more than he eateth.

Aquilegium, a gourd of water, whiche cometh of rayne, or a conueryng of rayn water to one place.

Aquileia, uel Aquilegia, an auncient citee in the parte of Italy called Forum Iulij, This citee was some tyme of such estimation, that therein was kepte the great marte of all Europe. And the emperours Octauiane delisted principally to repaire thyshe often. Afterwarde it was destroyed by the Hunnes, & the inhabitants fled thence, & were the first that began to builde the citee of Venice. but now it is so simple, that none dwelle there but ffishermen, and a fewe shepherdes.

Aquilex, he that fetcheth for water, or conuertyth it.

Aquilifer, the stander bearer of the Romans.

Aquilinus, a. um, of or lyke an eagle.

Aquilinus uasus, an hooked nose.

Aquilo, the northeast wynde: sometyme taken for colde weather and tempest of wynde.

Aquilonaris, re, towards the north.

Aquilonius, a. um, where that north wynde bloweth.

Aquilus color, russet.

Aquimarius, rj, a cup to bynke in, or a water pottle.

Aquum, ni, a towne in Italy.

Aquifer, looke Acipenser.

Aquilgratum, a towne in Germanie, called Aquilgrane, or Aix.

Aquifolia, Bupar, a countrey accounted to be the hynde parte of Fraunce, bath on the west the ocean sea, on the north the eyre of Loys, or (as Cesar wytteth) the riuier of Garonne: On the east the parte of Fraunce called Lugdunensis: on the south the mountaynes Pyrenet, whiche bynde Fraunce from Spayne. All be it a parte thereof conterneth Gascoigne, Foix, Bigor, and a fewe countreies mo.

Aquitanus, or Aquitanicus, a. um, of Guyan.

Aquites, the name of a pylee.

Aquo, au, are, to fetch of beare water.

Aquor, aris, aus sum, ari, to fetch of pnynde water, to water cattell.

Aquosus, a. um, full of water.

Aquila, a little water. Also a town of Beteuria.

A ANTE R.

ARa, an aulcar. Ara is also a planet.

Ara adolere, to burne sacrificer.

In aram confugere, to flee to lapnes euarps.

Vigil ad aras esse amicum, to doo all the pleasure that a man can for his frende, sayng his consience.

Arabarches, a lorde of Arabie.

Arabia, in hebrew Saba, is a countrey in Asia, diuided into thre regions, Petrea, Deserta, and Felix. Petrea, signifieth stone. It maicheth on Egypt, and Judea. Plinie calleth it Nabathica: the chiefe citee thereof is Petra, now called Arach. In holie scripture it is called Petra deserti. By this countrey the chyldren of Israel passed out of Egypt. It is (as Strabo wytteth) playne, enuyronned with rockes of a great heighth, wherein be many springes of frethe water. without that ceteruite, towards Judea, the moze parte of the countrey is desert without water. There is the great mountayn Sina, called of Ptholome Melanes, where the olde lawe was giuen to Moyses, and where the body of the holie virgin sainte Catharine is buryed. Also an other mountayne called Calvus, where the great Pompeius is buried. Arabia deserti, of Strabo called Sanctis, bath on the south, the mountayns of Arabia felix. On the north Mesopotamia, on the west Petrea. The people of this countrey haue no certayn habitation, but dwell in tentes. Arabia felix, on the southe lieth betwene the two seas Arabicum, and Persicum, whiche is so plentifull, that it byngeth forth coyne and frutes twyfe in the pere. They haue plenty of all fruite and cattell, excepte hysse, mules, and swyne: Of all foules, excepte geese, cockes, and hennes, also there there groweth all kyndes of spices and sweete gummes. The townes are unwalled, because the people doo lyue alwaies in peace.

Arabicis olere, to smelle of sweete sauours.

Arabicus, and Arabius, a. um, of Arabie.

Arabilis, le, rareable.

Arabis, or Arbis, a ryuer.

Arabrica, a towne in Portugall.

Arabs, bis, one that dwelleth in Araby.

Arabus, bi, a stone lyke to pnynd, whych bynng broken to powder, is holisome to rub the teeth.

Arachne, the name of a woman, whiche fythe inuented spinning of linnen, and making of nettes. It is also taken for linnen yarne, or the wouffe of clothe.

Arachneus, a lytell beaste, whych goeth a foote pace.

Arachnion, fyne threde.

Arachosia, a countrey in Asia.

Arachilus, a greete ryuer in the bittermost borders of Egypt.

Aracizicus, fygges hynde and whyte, whiche doo growe on a lytell stalk.

Aracynthus, a mountayne in Berothia in grece, or, after other, in Athens, in Arabie, or Hiericant: where Minerua was specially honoured.

Araduca, a citee in Spayne, called commonly Araya.

Aradus, a citee in the yle Tripolis, toward Syreia, where as Possidonius wytteth, was sene a serpent lye dead in lengthe. 125. paces, and of such greatnesse, that he mought deuoure a man on horsebacke, and euery scale of his skynne was greater than any shilde.

Arx, certayn rockes in the sea betwene Assehe and Sardinia, where the Africanes and the Romanys made a league.

Arx flauia, a ryuer in Germany, called Roysa lingen.

Aragus, a ryuer nere to the Massagetes.

Aram, was byother to Abraham.

Aramxi, the Sepethians.

Aranea, a copwebbe, sometyme a spyder.

Araneolus, or araneola, a yonge of lytell spyder or copwebbe.

Araneolus, a. um, full of spyders, copwebbes, or thynge lyke to copwebbes.

Araneolus vomitus, whan in the vomitynge thynge are sene lyke copwebbes.

Araneum, nn, neut. ge. a faulte in bynes and luyes, whan the frute is wypped as it were in a copwebbe, and so destroyed.

Araneus, a spyder. It is also a fythe of the great nesse of a gougeon, in colour dyuers, haung on his backe ngyth to his head. iii. pythles.

Araneus mus, a beaste in Italy, whose bynng is venomous.

Arar, or Araris, a ryuer in Fraunce, called now Sagona, whiche is so quicke, that bynng it made be percipued, whiche waste it renteth. Not farre from Lyons, it fallerh into the ryuer Rhone.ouer this ryuer Julius Cesar made a bydgo in one bafe.

Ararus, a ryuer in Bepthia, which renneth throughe the colaim of Bementis.

Arath, a countrey in Bementis wonderful fertile.

Aratio, onis, epilage of the earth.

Aratiuncula, a diminutue.

Arator, oris, a plough man. sometyme a plough ore. also a poetes name.

Aratro, au, are, to plough effisoonne lande that is towen to make it fatte.

Aratrum, tri, a plough.

Aratus, a poete in Asia, befoze the incarnation 246. yeres, amonge dyuers other warres, wyate certayne verses of astrologie, whych were translated by Tullie, and also by Germanicus, the sonne adoptiue of Tiberius the emperour.

Araurius, a ryuer of Fraunce called also Rauraris.

Arausio, a citee called commonly Aurenge.

Araxes, a ryuer in Armenia, ouer whiche greas Alexander made a bydgo, and lphewyse dydde Augustus the emperour.

Arba, a citee and an plande of Jndia.

Arba, a citee in Judea, where Adam and other thre patriarches were buryed.

Arbela, a countrey in Persia, where great Alexander vanquished Darius kyng of Persia.

Arbies, a people of Jndie.

Arbilla, the farnesse of the body.

Arbiter, tri, an arbitratour, a man indifferent ly chosen, to be iudge betwene two partes.

Arbitrum sumere, eligere, accipere, to take or choose an arbitour.

Dicere & statuere arbitrum, to appoynte an arbitour.

Sine arbitris aliquid facere, to doo a thyng alone secretly.

Ab arbitris remotus locus, or locus ab arbitris liber, A place secreete or lytell hauned, or where is no resorte of men to trouble one.

Arbiter initiationis, a godfather.

Arbitramentum, of some is vied for the sentence or iudgement of the arbiter.

Arbitrarie, after his owne mynd, or accordyng to the warde that was made.

Arbitrario, vncertainly, vndeterminately.

Arbitrarium, rj, neut. ge. that is not yet decreed, arbitreable.

Arbitrarius, a. um, that is not yet awarded, determined, or iudged.

Arbitratus, us, mal. gen. arbitrement, or iudgement. looke Arbitrium.

Arbitratu in eo, in my iudgement. sometyme it signifieth as my pleasure.

Viri boni arbitratu, after the iudgement and aduise of an honest man.

Tuo arbitratu id fiat, As that be dooen after your fantasie, or so pe will deuise it.
 Arbitri, they whiche are present, somtyme wisse.
 Arbitris remotis mecum loquebatur, They, whiche were present, commaunded auaile, he talked with me.

Arbitrium, tri, arbitrium, ent, auaile, iudgement, aduise, optio, will, pleasure, fleshy, or appetite, somtyme the authoritie, given to the arbitre.
 Omnia pro arbitrio suo facit, he dooeth all thynges after his owne mynde, or as pleaseth hym selfe.

Ad arbitrium sui scribere, to wryte of a matter after his owne fantasie and opinion.
 Viuere ad aliorum arbitrium non ad suum, to lyue after the mynde and appetites of other men, and not as he will hym selfe.
 Ad arbitrium alterius se fingere, to falselye sette after an other mans wille, appetites, or commaundement.

Arbitrium tuum sit, be it as pe will.
 Non uelut arbitrium erit, it will not bee in your power.
 Arbitrium liberum, free wille.
 Arbitrio suo carere, not to haue his owne wille, or to be vnder an other.

Arbitrium recipere, to take vpon one to bee indifferent iudge betwene two parties.

Arbitror, aus sum, ari, to geue sentence as an arbitre dooeth, to trowe, to thynke, to suppose, to iudge, to auaile, to obserue and marke what a man dooth or saith, to deuise or appoint after what facion a thyng shoulde be dooen.

Secede hinc, ne arbitri dicta nostra arbitrari queant, Come hither asyde, that they whiche be present, make not herken what we saie.

Arbor, arboris, a tree, sommetyme it is vsed for the masse of a shyppe. sometyme an oxe.
 Arbor inanis, a holowe tree.

Arborious, an oke.
 Desingere ex arbore plantas, to gather grasse of a tree.

Serere arbores, to plant or graffe trees.
 Arborarius, a, um, that haunteth or maketh nestes in trees.

Arborator, a lopper of trees, a woodman.
 Arboreo, scis, scere, to waxe to a tree.
 Arboretum, ti, idem quod arbutum.
 Arboreus, a, um, of a tree, or lyke a tree.
 Arborius, a, um, pertaining to trees.
 Arboles, olde wryters vsed for arbor.
 Arbustula, la, a little tree. also the proper name of a woman.

Arbutinus, a, um, foliaged or sette in order by trees: pertaining to a place sette with trees.
 Arbutina vites, vynes sette or planted in order by trees.

Arbutinus locus, a place beset with trees.
 Arbusto, aui, are, to sette a feld with trees.
 Arbustum, a place where trees be sette, properely elmes, withy, or salowe. It may be taken for an orcharde, a hop yerde, or a vineyard, where vines doo growe vpon trees. It is also a vyne that creneth vpon the heghes, or by a pole.

Arbutus, a, um, of a wyldyng tree.
 Arbutum, an appyll called a wyldyng.
 Arbutus, a wyldyng tree.
 Arca, a citee in Syria.
 Arca, ca, a coffer or chest. also a coffyn or chest, in whiche corpes be caried to church or buried in. It is also a secreete place in a prison, called litle case.

Arca Noe, a greates vessel, whiche com commaunded Noe to make, that he, his wife, his thre sonnes and their wyfes, mought be preserued from the vniuersall floude, the yere of the world. 1651. And before the incarnation on. 2310. yeres. This vessel conteyned in length. 300. cubites of geometre: whiche after the exposition of sainte Augustine were 300. perches, euery cubite of geometre being vi. common cubites. In breadthe it was 50. perches. In deapth from the hatches to the bottome. 30. perches, from the hatch vpon wards, one perch. Noe at the synnyng of this arke was of the age of. 600. yeres. Be colus wryteth, that after the floude, this arke remained on a mountayne in Armenia, called Cordici, where he in his tyme sawe partes thereof.

Arca testamenti, called also Arca federis, a coffer or chest made by Moyses, in the desert (five cubites in lengthe and. iii. in breadth) wherein were put the table of the olde lawe, the rodde of Moyses, and parts of Manna. It was made of stronge woodes, and soate, and leuered, as wall within as without, with syne golde. And on the toppe were two images of angels Cherubim.

Arcadia, a countrey in Grece, set in the myddle of Peloponnesus, or Moesia, so called of Arcas, the sonne of Iupiter, who reigned there. He was also called Pelasgia, Parthasia, and Lycaonia. There was the baggye first inuened. Also the great fenne Lerna, where there culdes liue the monster Hydra, is there, with the founteyne Erymanthus, and a mountayne of the same name. There is also found the founte Abellon, whiche being ones hott, may neuer be quenched, and is of the colour of yron.

Arcane, secreetly.
 Arcano, alone, in a priuate place.
 Arcanum proderet, to disclose ones counsaile.
 Arcanus, a, um, secreet, hyd, close, priuate, vntknown.
 Arcanus homo, a close felow, that will kepe coun

counsaile.
 Arcanus sensus alius proderet, to counsaile secreet counsaile to a man.
 Arcana tabella, bookes wherein secreet matters be wrytten.
 Arcanum, i, neut. gen. a thyng secreet, hyd, or known of fewe.

Archadius, or Archadius, a, um, of Arcadia.
 Archas, adis, or chiados, one of Arcadia.
 Archas, the sonne of Iupiter and Callisthona, daughter of Lycan, the first kynge of Arcadia, before the incarnation. 1470. yeres. he hearing that his mother (being a virgine consecrate) was deflowred by Iupiter, when he was begotten, and therefore expelled of the other virgins, woulde haue slayne hie. who beinge aske of hym, shewed into wyldernesse and hyde hie selfe, till he and his sonne were reconciled by Iupiter. Afterward, the both beinge deade, the painys reigned, that they were translated amonge the Scyres, set nigh to the pole arctike, and the mother called Vrsula minor, and the sonne Vrsula maior.

Arcatus, a, um, bent lyke a bove.
 Arcella, la, a diminutiu of arca, or after some of Arcera, an hoyle letter.

Arcellae vites, vynes sette or ordered after the facion of an hoyle letter: or chariotte.

Arceo, cui, ere, itum, to strengne or tye hard, to put of, to dyue awaile, to keepe in secreet, to hyde, to kepe of.

Artere adiu, to kepe of, or lette one that he make not enter.

Arcere homines improbitate, to keepe men from lewdnesse.

Arcere frigora, to keepe or defende awaile the colde.

Arcere solem, to shadow or kepe of the heat of the sunne.

Arcera, an hoyle letter of chariotte.

Arcillas, a philosopher, the scholast of Polasmon. There was also of that name a cunning heruer of images, specially the image of Diana.

Arcilaus, one of the v. capitaynes of Boeotia, that came to Crete. Also a philosopher of the secte of the Academicke, and scholar to Crantor.

Arcessius, a, um, the participle of arcesso.

Arcessum dictum, a mode of speaking to muche affectate.

Arcesso, iui, ere, itum, to call, to call for, to go to call, to purchase or get a thyng, to accuse, to call vpon, as men doo spytter.

Arcessere ab aratro, to call from the plough.

Arcessere ventos, to easse vpon the wyndes.

Arcessere manes, to call or easse vpon spyttes.

Arcessere a capite, to seiche a thyng from the beginning.

Arcessere capitis, to accuse one of a heade by offence.

Arcessam ad societatem laboris, I will call for hym to be partaker of my labour, or to helpe me.

Arcessere sibi causam mortis, to be the cause of his owne death.

Archaismos, for g. a figure, signifying a thyng to be spoken after the ancient fash.

Archander, Dionysius fathers.

Archarius, a treasorer, or a collector.

Archidicus, a counteill poete.

Archelaus, the name of dyuers famous men. One a philosopher, the discipule of Anaxagoras, borne at Assium, master to Socrates, he sayde brought naturall philosophie out of Thonia to Athens. Of this name were diuers kinges: One of Macedonia (whom Plato calleth a tyrann) slayn by one Cratena his minion. whiche hym the famous printer Zenos to peince his palace: Socrates fasted mensly, he dyd it to prouoke men to faste vnto hym: though they wold not come for his sake, yet at least they shoulde gladly come to beholde his faile house. Also when he had with hym at supper dyuers learned men, a poete there despyed of hym a summe of money, which he caused to bee brought to hym, and forthwith gaue it to Euripides, who dyd not aske it, sayng, thou art worthy to take it, and he to despye it.

Archemorus, some of Lyncus kynge of Armenia, was slayne by an adder, as his newes lated hym in the grasse by a ryuers syde. For whose sake were made certayne plates called Nemeli. he was also called Opheltes.

Archeota, a chiefe officer, as it were the mapster of the rolles.

Archepholomus, was charyotte man to Hector of Troie.

Archetypus, pi, mascul. gen. the first example or pattern.

Archetypamici, by a metaphore, trewe and faithful frendes.

Archezotes, a white hyne, iohs Ampelolence Archilas, called also H. Licinius, a poete of Antioche, muche fauoured and honoured of the noble men of Rome, specially of Lucullus and Cnute, who defended hym in a noble occasion, when he spaketh muche to the commendation of poeetrie. It was also the name of hym that buydded Hyacinthe.

Archiatrus, tri, mascul. gen. a chiefe physician.

Archibius, a grammarian of Alexandria.

Archidamus, a noble man of Sparta, who beinge demanded, howe muche money woulde serue to the waret of Peloponnesus, answered, that waretought for no certayne price.

Archigenes, the name of a famous physician. It is he also that woulde be taken for the byson of his hyne.

Archigeronates, the chiefe in authoritie amonge ancient men.

Archigrammaticus, a chauncellour of chiefe secretarie.

Archilochus, a poete of Lacedemona, whiche wrote in the lynde of verses, Iambici, whereas he was so vehement, that where Alcibiades, his wyues father, took from hym his wyfe, and married he to an other man, he so rated hym with verses, that he compelled hym for sorowe and indignation, to hange hym selfe. He was befoze the Incarnacion 690. yeres.

Archimagirus, ri, maf. gen. a chiefe cooke of mastee cooke.

Archimandrita, an abbot of ruler of hermites.

Archimedes, a famous geometriician of Syracusa, in Sicilie, who by his arte dyde longe tyme resiste the Grecians, capitayne of the Romaynes, that besieged the cite. But finally the cite being won, and he sent for by the Grecians, was founde drawing figures of geometrie in the ground, whereunto he was so attentive, that whan he was bode come to the Grecians, he answered, that whan he had finished the figure, which he was to making, he wold come. At which answer the messager disdaining, slew hym, for which beede the Grecians was exceeding soke. Som suppose that he firste invented the makinge of waterfall spheres and globes. He made a dome of wood, whiche hadde in it suche squall poppe, that it woulde hange in the ayre by a longe space. He made also an hypoge, wherein myght be seen the true course of the heuens and spheres. He was afore the Incarnacion. 192. yeres.

Archimimus, mi, ma. gen. the master of chiefe of the placers.

Archipirata, a, maf. ge. an archepirate, a master of thetheues, of a chiefe robber.

Archippocamus, mi, ma. gen. the master of the horses.

Architas, a noble philosopher of Tarentine, the disciple of Pythagoras, and capitayne of the invincible army of the Tarentines. He was master to Plato in geometrie, whom he also delivred from Dionysius the tyrant of Sicilie. he was afore the Incarnacion of Christ about. 370. yeres.

Architecton, onis, m. g. idē quod architectus. Architectonicus, es, f. ge. idem quod architectura.

Architectonicus, a, um, pretyppng to the master carpenter, of chiefe maister of the workes.

Architector, oris, maf. gen. idem quod architectus.

Architector, aris, ari, to make craftly, or to builde buildinge cunningly.

Architectari voluptates, to inuente wayes of means of pleasure.

Architectura, the cunning of building of build-dyng, the science of masons or carpenters. Sometime the building itselfe.

Architectus, ti, maf. gen. a chiefe maister of buildinge, or maister of the workes, or he that goeth aboute anye gyle or decepte. Also a principall author, workman, or maister of any thing.

Architectus legis, the maister of maker of a lawe.

Architectus et princeps sceleris, the chiefe and principall worker of this mischief.

Omnium machinator & architectus est, he is the worker and maister of all these matters.

Architectus verborum, the inuenter of maister of wordes.

Architectus beate vite, the first inuenter of maister of happy or blessed lyfe.

Architectus, ni, maf. ge. maister of the house, or chiefe ruler of the feoff.

Archium, the treasury of muniments, and evidences belonging to a kyng or cite, a prince palace, a great officers house, as the lorde chauncellours, or the colleges.

Archon, onis, was the chiefe dignitie in Athens. A great officer lyke to the pates in Rome in olde tyme, and the lorde chiefe Justice with vs.

Archontici, ceetayne heretikes, whiche affirmed, that the vniuersall state of thynges was not made by god, but by prince. And they also denied the resurrection of the body.

Archos, a prince of chiefe ruler.

Archima, a littell faine, a whele barowe.

Archio, ciui, litum, to put in, to set to, to graffe.

Architenens, entis, the surname of Apollo, whiche is alwaie pynched with a bow in his hand, also the signe called Sagittarius.

Arconicum, a minojall, called Arconthe.

Arcte, strictly, narrowly.

Arcte accubare, to lye of lye nere together.

Arcte diligere, to loue earnestly.

Arcte tenere & defendere aliquid, to holde and defende a thyng earnestly, or strictly.

Arctius complecti, to embrace one hard.

Arcte dormire, to scape soundly.

Arctius, a, um, towards the north.

Arctius polus, the north pole.

Arctium, the great burr.

Arctophilax, acis, m. g. a sterre that foloweth Charles wayne, called also Arctum and Bootes.

Arcto, aui, are, to designe, to bynde strictly, to make narrowe or strictly.

Arctos, f. ge. in englyshe a beare, it is a figure of sterres, of whiche there be twayne, Vrsa maior, called also Helice, and Vrsa minor, called Cynosura.

Arctous, a, um, of the north.

Arctus, a, um, strictly, narrowly.

Arctum animum soluere, to sette a foppe a full fall or pensyue herte at libertie, to caste as wate care.

Arctior somnus, sounde slepe.

Arcta iura, stricte lawes.

Arctiores, aduersite, danger, perill, trouble.

Arctis in rebus opem ferre, to healepe one in aduersite.

Arcturus, a sterre, that is at the tayle of that, whiche is called Vrsa maior.

Arctum, bent lyke a bowe.

Arctum, a, um, fashioned lyke a bowe, also strictly of the faunders.

Arctulista, a crosse bowe.

Arctib, the watchmen in a foytresse or towne.

Arcula, a littell coffe or casket. also a byde amonge the augurians, whiche distowed a thyng to bee dooen.

Arcularia, cicles made with byan, whiche were used in sacrifice.

Arculum, a roll that women do weare on thier heades, to beare water or milk easily, a wale.

Arcuo, aui, are, to make bent lyke a bowe, or to make a vaulte.

Arcus, us, maf. ge. a bow, or the banke of a rose Arcum intendere, or adducere, to bende a bowe.

Arcu tela dirigere, to shoote.

Porrigere arcum, idem quod dare manus, to geve.

Arcus remissus, a bowe vnbent.

Arcum retendere, to vnbende a bowe.

Arcas, us, & arcus, ci, the rayne bowe.

Ardea, a byde called an hearon. It is also the name of a cite in Latie, being from Rome about. xviii. myles. In it was the palace of Cennus, whome Cneas vanquished, and the people there were called Rutuli.

Ardeas, aris, and Ardeatinus, a, um, of the cite Ardea.

Ardelio, onis, one that can neuer stande stille, but is alwaie full of gesture, a busy man, medtyng in many thynges, and can sayll of now thyng. A smatterer in euery mans matter.

Ardens, entis, hasty in booyng, quicke witted, burning, ardent, burning.

Ardentes equi, swift horses.

Ardentes papule, the sores called carbuncles.

Ardenter, feruently.

Ardeo, si, dēre, to burne, to bee on fyre, to loue ardently, or exceedingly, to make haste, to bee consumed, to desyre, also to fyre, to be moze hote of eadest in a matter, to rage for anger.

Tyrios ardebat murice lina, his mantell dyd fyre of fine purple of Tyre.

Ardere cupiditate, to coue ardently.

Ardere iracundia, to be inflamed with anger.

Ardere maximo flagitio, to haue dooen, or to be defamed of a mischouous dede.

Ardeo te videre, I desyre earnestly to see you.

Ex quo ardere, to loue eche other feruently.

Ardere in virgine, to be consumed with the love of a mayde.

Ardet ad vltimum animus, I am veratly despyous to be reuenged.

Ardet omnia bello, the watre rageth euery where.

Ardere dolore, to be soze greued.

Arder inuidia, he is greatly enuyed.

Ardere studio veri repentiendi, to bee beate despyous to fynde out the truthe.

Ardeola, an hearnew. It is also a byde, wheres of be thye kyndes: One is called Pella, whiche ingendeth with muche difficultes, and likewise stuteth: In the tyme of treadyng, the bloude stuteth out of his eyes. The other is called Alba, or in greke Leuce, the thye is called Stellaris, or piger.

Ardesco, arsi, scere, to be hasty of fierse. looks Ardeo.

Ardesit facile, it is done set on fyre.

Ardis, the sonne of Byges kyng of Lybia.

Ardisco, a ryuer of Arphidia.

Ardor, oris, maf. ge. vehement heate, burning, feruencie, earnest desyre, exceeding loue.

Ardor animi confectio, the feruent desyre of the mynde is alated.

Ardor edendi, great hunger.

Arduenna, a greete wodde in Gallia Belgica, whiche was in length. 500. myles, compys from the ryuer of Rhene, thynge the lande of Lube, vnto the cite of Courney.

Arditas, aris, f. ge. the byghnesse of an hyll, harde to clyme or gette vp on.

Ardus, olde wyters dyd for aridus.

Ardus, a, um, hard, paynfull, hygh, difficulte, steepe downe, Sometime feruente, courageous.

Campo arduus infert, he rusheth into the filds with a lusty courage.

Cedrus ardua, a veratly hygh cedre tree.

Res ardua & difficilis, harde and difficulte matters. Sometime aduersite, daungier, trouble.

Cilius arduus, a clyffe of an hille, hygh and steepe downe.

Ardua, et ardua terrarum, high places, hilles hard to passe by.

Area, a large place in a cite, kept ever cleane, where merchautes doo assemble. Also it is euery place that is mached ouer to byde of sette an house in. Also a stoope, where coyne is thysmed. It is mozeouer a place in a gardyne, dyged and tyrmied ready to bee taken of sette. It maye bee dyd for a byde in a garbyne, a parde of courte within an house, a foyn in the heade, whiche caueth the heare to falle.

Areator, a thyeat, after Calpene.

Areomichi, people of Parbone in Fraunce.

Arefacio, feci, ere, to make drye.

Arca

Arelate, a citee in Fraunce, called Mileance, an other in Roica, called Lynce.
Aremorica, the countreys of Aquitanie in Fraunce.
Arena, a citee in Deloponessus.
Arena, sande. sometyme dyre grounde lyke to sande, also a theatre.
Arenas in litus fudgere, a proverbe, signifying to doo a thyng that nedeth not.
 In arena mea, I thinke viceroy, in mea fuma cione, in my office of jurisdiction.
Arenaceus, a, um, sandy.
Arenaria, arum, pities where sande is digged.
Arenarius, a, um, perteynyng to a fygthynge place.
Arenatum, ti, neut. gen. moister.
Arenatus, a, um, pergetted with lyne and sand.
Arenosus, a, um, sandy, or full of sande.
Arenula, fyne sande.
Areo, ui, ere, to bea dy, or to be made dy.
Aere siti, to be dy for thyrst.
Arcola, a bed in a garden, or a littell parde.
Arcopagitæ, Iudges, whiche sette in a place by Athens, to iudge causes of murder, and weyghty thynges concernynge the commune weale. It is vied sometyme for other seuer and incorrupted iudges.
Arcopagus, the village of Mars, where the fated iudges dyd sit in iudgement.
Arcopolis, a citee in Arabe, called also Alaab.
Arcopolitæ, the inhabitants of Arcopolis.
Arculo, ui, scere, to waite dyre, or to be made dyre.
Arcitum, ti, neut. gen. a decre or ordinance.
Areta, the daughter of Aristippus, the phylow sophy, whiche succeded hym in his schoole. She taught, that the pleasure, whiche mooste delicteth the body, was the chiefe goodnesse.
Aretalogus, li, maf. gen. a braggar, or a vaunter of his owne vertues. sometyme a forger of lyes to make men mery.
Arête, in latine Virtus, in englyshe vertue. It was also the name of the wyfe of Alicinus, kynge of Pharacia, of whome Homer wytteth in Odyssa.
Arethusa, the compaignon of Diana. It is also the name of a fountayne in Sicillie, and of another in Aradia, also a towne in Grece, a citee in Cubera, and an other in Syria.
Arethusus, the name of the citee Syraculis, nere to the fountayne Arethusa.
Arethysia, & Arethusa, a ryuer in the greates Arenasia.
Aretinus, a, um, of the citee Aretium.
Aretium, a citee in Thuscian, called Arezo, 50. myles from Ieruse.
Aretus, the sonne of Restor and Curidices.
Arteria, a, wne and water offered to the small goddis, or rather dyuelles.

Arganthonius, an heu nyghe to Wichynia, by the citee of Byzillas, nyghe therunto is a well where Illas the companion of Hercules was fodeintly taken awate by the Symphes, whan he was at that well to fetch water.
Argantonius, a kynge of a citee in Scotia, an other in Spayne, whiche luyed. 120. yeres, or after some. 300. yeres.
Argatilis, a kynde of fowle that breedeth in water bankes, makynge her neste with lyne men threede in fourme of a halle, so close, that the entreng into it can nor bee founde.
Argema, a, for. ge. or Argema, atis, neu. ge. a soie in the eyes, whiche beynge in the blacke of the eye, is white, and in the whyte of the eye, it is redde.
Argemone, es, or Argemon, an herbe, whiche hath leaues lyke wyde poppy, ragged, also a purple flower, the coppe is a corbe longer than the head of a poppy, and hode aboute, a rounde roote, the tynge of it is of the colour of saffron and carde.
Argemon, a pectious stone of the kynde of Basper.
Argentaria, a banke of exchange, & bankers table or shoppe, the office of bankers.
Argentariam facit, he maketh or occupieth a banke for exchange.
Argentarius, a, um, of or perteynyng to syluer or monete.
Argentaria fodina, a syluer myne.
Argentaria taberna, a bankers shoppe.
Argentaria cura, care for monete.
Argentaria inopia, lacke of monete.
Argentaria illecebra, thynges gettyng monete.
Argentarius cōmeatus, prouision of money.
Argentarius, ri, a banker, with whom men do make the exchange of monete.
Argentagina, a, the syluer speynesse.
Argentatus, a, um, couered with syluer.
Argenteus, a, um, of syluer.
Argentina, a fayne citee in Germanye, on the west syde of the ryuer Reyne, called Strauf bygh. It was also called Argentoratum.
Argentofus, a, um, mixte with syluer.
Argentum, ti, syluer. sometyme it signifieth plate or monete.
Argentii fodina, a syluer myne.
Argentum pustulatum, pure syluer wel tried.
Argentum viuum, quicke syluer.
Argæa, places in Rome, where certayn auncient geetes were buryed.
Argæi, images made of bull rushes, which the virgins Vestales vied to cast yere by into Tyber.
Argæus, a verate high hill, on the top wherof is alwaie snowe.
Argestes, the wynde that bloweth out of the southe weste.
Argæus, a, um, of the citee of Argos.

Argi.

Argi, a citee of Italy buyghed by Diomedes, called after, Argiripa.
Argia, a countreie in Deloponessus, or Bojea, also the daughter of Adriatus, kynge of Argives.
Argia plu. a citee in Laconia.
Argifontes, the name of Mercurius, because he stole Hercus.
Argileum, the sepulchre of Argus. Also a place, where potters clat is digged. It is also a strete in Rome, where boke sellers dwelled.
Argilentræ, boke sellers dwelling in the lath strete called Argiletum.
Argilla, potters clat.
Argillaceus, a, um, lyke to potters clape.
Argillosus, a, um, full of that clat.
Argilus, a citee of Emathia, nere to the mouth of the ryuer Steymon.
Arginulæ, the littell ples in Asia, by the ples of Attale and Lesbus.
Argiripa, looke Argi.
Argis, at the citee of Argos.
Argissa, a citee of Thessaly, nere to Pencum.
Argius, a Grecian.
Argo, for. ge. the shippe wherin Jason and his compaignes layed into Colchos, to wyne the flete of golde.
Argolicus, a, um, of Argos.
Argolis, idis, a woman of Argos.
Argonauis, a signe, whiche repleth the date before the dous of Marche.
Argonautæ, were the compaignons of Jason whiche layed with hym vnto Colchos, as Castor, Pollux, Hercules, Thelamon, Diaphus, Zetus, Calais, and many other noble men, as well of bloudde, as in prowesse. This voyage was befoze the Incarnation 1254. yeres.
Argos, a countrey and citee in Thessaly, where Inachus reigned. In this countreie bee the famous mountaynes of Olympus and Ossa. also Argos was a citee not far from Athens, an other in Achaia. It was also the name of Alces dogge.
Argulus, the sonne of Ampeias.
Argumentatio, onis, the declaration of an argument.
Argumentor, atus sum, ari, to argue, reasons, or dispute.
Argumentosus, a, um, that whiche is dooen with great reason, or that hath much matter.
Argumentum, ti, is a reason makynge a prooffe, wherby one thyng is gathered by another, to confirme that whiche is doubtfull. sometyme it signifieth a matter to speake of wyse of, or the summe of any matter that is wyitten, somtyme coniecture. sometyme a wyse exposition of that whiche foloweth. otherwhyles a sentence. also a signe or token.
Argumentum pictura, the drafte of a thyng portrayed.

Argumentum scripturæ, the matter that is wyitten of. Argumentis colligere, to gather by reasons and argumentes.

Argumentum frigidum, a simple argument of no force.

Satis est argumeni, it is a sufficient prooffe.

Arguo, ui, ere, to reprove, to reprehende or blame, to impute, to accuse, to shewe, to deter or declare. sometyme to lette or prohibite.

Arguere aliquem pecuniæ, to accuse ones of falsynge of money.

Non ex audito arguo, I gather it not by here case. Arguitur virtus malis, vertue is declared in aduersities.

Illum neq arguo, neq purgo, I do nepthee late it to his charge, nor acquite hym of it. I neither accuse, nor excuse hym.

Quoniam verbo arguit, verbo satis est negare, Because he wyngeth proffes onely by wordes: it is sufficient to deny it with wordes.

Arguere reum, to shew and proue by reason, that the person is gyltie.

Arguere aliquo crimine, to accuse or appeche a man of any crime.

Arguitur patrem occidisse, he is accused, or it is lated to his charge, that he hath murdered his father. Arguor immerito, I am accused or blamed without cause, vnworthily.

Argutum iri, for In discrimen vocari.

Argus, the sonne of Aleios, the v. kynge of Aegues, whiche made the shippe, wherin Jason and other layed to Colchos, the pottes feigned, that he had an hundred eyes, signifying therby his wysehood and circumspection.

Argo, the sonne of Argus, whiche was transformed into a cowe. But Mercurius, being sente by Jupiter, with his sweete harmonie brought Argus on slepe, stole hym, toke Io frome hym, and broughte her into Egypte. Chan Junoooke Argus eyes, & set thein in the perches talle, wherfoze the perche is called Auis lunonia.

Argutatio, reasonyng, debatynge, a crankynge of myll noyle.

Argutator, a subtilt reasoner or disputer.

Argut, an aduerbe, signifying wyttily, subtilly.

Argutæ, sharpes or shewde wordes, harde and wyttysaynges, subtilties.

Argutæ digitorum, the meynynge of gesturnge of the fyngers.

Argutæ vultus, often chaungynge of countenance.

Argutia, a pyttie taunte or quippte.

Arguto, ani, are, to obiect, impute, or reproche.

Argutor, atus sum, ari, to speake sharply, shewde, or to chaate party.

Argutari pedibus, to leape or make gesturne with the feete, as men doo in dauncynge.

Argutulus, a, um, somewhat perle, quicke in answerynge, somewhat subtilt.

Aristocles, the name of dyuers philosophers.
Aristocles, a epynne of Democriton. also a famous pyncter.

Aristocrata, the forme of gouernance of a weate publike, where many doo rule, that are of mosse vertue and power.

Aristodemus, the name of sundry learned men: of whiche one instructed Pompeys childzen.

Aristogenes, a phisicist of Thace. also another of the same science, seruante to Hippocratus, the philosopher.

Antigiton, an orator of Athens, whiche for his lewde behauiour was called dogge, also one of the clerics of Aristotilus.

Aristolaus, a certayne pyncter, scholar to Pausias.

Aristolochia, an herbe, wherof be thye kyndes, One is called rounde, whiche hath leaues in facion lyke pur, but somewhat rounder, wherein is a sharpe and delicate odour, the floure white lyke a litlett bonet vpon a redde knoppe. The rootes are rounde and many. Another (called longe Aristolochia) hath long leaues, small branches, a purple floure and spynketh. whan it spyngeth, it is of the facion of a pear. The roote is longe, of the greatnesse of a mans spnger. Bothe of them dooe beare beeries lyke to capers, withyn of bore colour, bitter, and spynkyng. The third is longe, and hath small branches full of leaues somewhat rounde, lyke to the lesse spynge grene, and hath floures lyke unto rewe. The roote longe and small with a thyeke rynde, and soote in fauour.

Antomache, es, the wyfe of Dionysius the tyran, also the wyfe of Dion.

Antomachus, a man that was at his lyfe tyme in loue with bees. An other of that name was of the making of wyne.

Antomenes, a man of Mellene, whych he was called Inuicimus: whan he was dead, he was founde to haue his herte all heape. There was also of that name, a comickall poete of Athens.

Ariston, onis, a certayne grauer of ymages. also a famous lawyer.

Aristonicus, a grammarian of Alexandria, and an enemy of Ptolomeus, whiche was a vaipant capitayne.

Aristonimus, a comickall poete, ouerscore of Phyladelphus libaric.

Aristophilus, a poete mosse eloquente in the tongue of the Athens, although he was boyn at the Rhodes, he wyate. 54. comedies, where in he spared not them, whiche than lyued. he was in displeasure with Socrates, and therefore he reprehendeth hym in his comedie called the Cloudes. It was also a grammarian of Hyzance.

Aristophon, a pyncters name.

Aristophorum, a dythe wherein meate is boyned to dyner.

Aristorides, Megus the sonne of Aristos.

Aristoteles, sonne of Nicomachus the phisicist, on boyned in Stragera in Grece, consumed his yowthe riotously. He was after scholar to the noble Plato. xx. yeres continually. he excelled all men in sharpnesse of witte and knowlage in dyuers sciences: wherfore hym Hippocrate of Thacebonte sent hym his sonne Alexander to teache, sayng, he thanked god that he had a sonne boyned in his tyme. This man began a secte, the folowers wherof were called Peripatetici, he taught after Platons death. xlii. yeres. he was banished out of Athenes because it was supposed, he deemed not well of their goddis. It is wysiten, that he dyed by this occasion. As he went by the sea syde, he perceived spymmen spynng and dooing of somewhat. And whan he asked what they dyd, they tolde hym a cypdell, whych he whan by longe study, he could not aslope: for same and sojowe he dyed. Of hym Quintilian wyte thus. What saie you by Aristotele, whom I wote not whether I maye iudge moxe excellent in knowlage of thynges, in abundance of wytyng, in sweetnesse of eloquence, in sharpnesse of wit, or els in discreete of wythes. He was litlett of personage, crooked backed, pl Chapman, and stutpyn. he was. 34. yeres before Christis incarnation.

Aristotelicus, a Aristotelius, a. u. of Aristotele. Aristoxenus, a famous philosopher and phisicist, whiche was the scholar of Aristotele and dyuers other learned men. Another of that name was in Cyrena, so curiously in gardenyng, that euery nyght he vsed to calle muske on his lute, to make theim fauoure moxe pleasantly.

Arithmetica, a. u. of Arithmetice, es, the science of numbyng. Of whome it was fyrst founde it is vncertayn. Albeit Abraham taughte it fyrst to the Egyptians. Long tyme after Pythagoras declared it to the Greeces. Plato wyteyth that before all other thynges the numbynges be taughte to the childzen, without the which nothyng epher pssuade of common can be well ordered.

Arithmos, numbyng.

Aruido, dythe, of dyuynesse.

Arius, a ryuer of Arta, nere to Bactra.

Arma, orum, harneys and weapons. Also the instruments of all maner of craftes. Also standes and banes, sometyms battelles, warres of martiall affayres. sometyms strengthe of pssuance. sometyms a sword.

Ad arma vocare, to commaunde men to be in harneys ready.

Arma rusticorum, arma coquinaria, arma nautarum, arma pistorum, arma studiosorum, rum, arma conforia, The tooles and instruments of all these faculties.

Arma vulcania, for fortitudine.

Armorum arbiter, of Mars.

Armis aptari, to be armed.

Arma facere, to make harneys.

Arma perdere, to be vanquished.

In arma mouere aliquem, to incense one to warre.

Venire ad arma propter res alienum, to fight for desire that one oweth because he wyll not pale it.

Armamenta, tooles, instrumentes, all soze for warres of hyppes, armour, takelyng.

Armamentarium, an armory of storehouse for hyppes of ordynance.

Armariolum, a diminutiu of armarium.

Armarium, where booke or lappe or other stuffe of household. Also an iugyn of woode shod with yron.

Armati, armed men.

Armator, an armourer.

Armatura, armour. Sometyms it is taken for men armed.

Armatura leuis, lycht harneys.

Leuis armatura oratio, a hynde of speaking vsed in a digression, in the begynnyng to byng in any matter that shall folowe.

Armatus, a. um, armed, fensed.

Armata dolis mens, a hynde ready instrumented with gyle and deceyte.

Armatus animo, a man of a stoute courage.

Vires armata muris, a citie fensed with walles.

Armatus, us, idem quod armatura.

Armenia, of that name be. ii. regions, Armenia maior, and Armenia minor. Minor, hath on the north and weste part Cappadocia, on the east, the noble ryuer Euphrates, and Armenia maior: On the south the mountayne Taurus. Armenia maior, hath on the north Colchis, Iberia, and Albanis: On the weste parte Cappadocia, on the east the sea Myrcanum: on the south the mountayne Taurus and Mesopotamia.

Armeni, people of Armenia, which were chyrtened of late peeres, but now they be subiectes to the Turkes. They in foume thynges erred from the churche of the Latines and Greeces. They haue one greace byshoppe whom they call Catholicum. They celebrate muche lyke vnto our facion. They kepe holy neyther the natyuite of Christ nor his daye, sayng: He neded not to be pouged or clenfed of synne. Also they take some all sacramentes the vertue to conferre grace. They effectones baptise those that come fro the churche of the latines to theim, sayng, that we be not of the catholike faith but thei. They say that no man maye be chrystend, onlesse he receyue the sacrament of the altare: and that infantes neded not to be baptised, affirming, that in theim is no originall synne. That the holy goste proceedeth of the father and not of the sonne. That the sacrament of breade cleage withoute leauen. Also in the consecration they put no water to the wyne. Moreover they say, that the receyving of the sacrament profiteth onely to the body. That whan Christ descended into hell, he ledde with hym all the soules that were there. That matrimonye is no sacrament, and maye be dissolved at the wyl of the man or woman. That Christe dyd clye the father after good friday. All these and other heresies, are condemned by sundry generall countsaies and the consent of all chrystendome. Armeniaca malus, a tree, whych beareth a certayn kynde of peaches.

Armeniacum malum, is a fruite accounted among the kynde of peaches. The Italianes doo call theim Armellini, The frenche men, Lex abricotes.

Armenius, or Armeniacus, a. um, of Armenia. Armentalis, le, of opesteynyng to an herde of beastes.

Armentarius, a herde of cattall, sometyms an esquier de esquier, also a cowe herde.

Armentinus, a. um, idem quod armentalis.

Armentosus, a. um, there as is muche neate or cattell.

Armentum, soze of hayes or neate. Sometyms it signifieth castell, an heard of beastes.

Armiger, ri, ppyetely an esquier for the body, or he that alwaies attendyng about a knyght, beareth his heade piece, his speare, and his shield.

Armiger, ra, um, that beareth armour.

Armigera louis, an Egic.

Armiger equus, a barbed hoyle.

Armille, rynges that gentylwomenne vsed to weare aboute theyr armes, and at this daye some men and women dooe vse, called brace-letters. Also certayn ornamente of gold that capitaynes vsed in olde tyme, to geue to theyr souldyours.

Armillatus, a. um, that weareth braceletters, or suche lyke ornamente.

Armillari cursores, postes.

Armille, new. ge. an instrumente of faithhoods or caues.

Armillum, a vessel, wherein they vsed in theyr sacrifice, to put wyne, vsed to be caried on mens shouldeers.

Armilistrum, was a festiual daye, wherein the Romaynes dyd sacrifice armed, and trumpettes dyd blowe bluddy foundres, also the place, wherein suche sacrifice was made.

Armipotens, pssuuant in armes.

Armionus, a. um, the epitheton of Dallas.

Armo, ui, are, to arme, to harnege, sometyms to into infuse of here to armour, to make puissant of great power.

Armare naues, to equippe of arme footthe shippes to the sea.

Armare aliquem in rempublicam, to reple up one, and make hym puissant agaynst the common weale.

Armare se eloquentia, to garny the ones selfe with eloquence.

Armoge, es, of Harmoge, es, the propoition of colours in painting.

Armon, a ryuer that cometh from the hylls of Arable, and dismeth Moabitude, from Amo nitide, after Calepine.

Armon, a wyde radwe.

Armoracia, and Armoracium, idem.

Armoria, the ancient name of Britayne in France.

Armus, m, m, gen. the shoulder of a beast, of the pynion of a fowle. Sometime a mannes shoulder.

Armates, a people of Italy.

Arne, a citie nere to the goulf called Malicum.

Arnobius, a noble rhetorician of Afrike, may ster to Lantianus. he wrote against the gen tiles, the pere of our lord. 305. whose expo sition we haue vpon the psalter.

Arnoglossa, an herbe called Plantain, whiche is cold and dry in the second degre, the supre wherof incurrenge of scurue tertiane, and in stoppyng of bloude, of souveraigne vertue, lyke as the fede and the water thereof is a gaynt the stone, if it be drunke.

Arnus, a wyffe ryuer in Italye, whiche ren neth by the citie of florence, called vulgar ly Arno.

Aratus, a, um, eared.

Ar, au, are, to care of plowe lande, sometime to delue of dygge. sometime to take fruite of that whiche is sowne.

Aratur, the impersonall, a the personal passiu
Arare aquor, of aquas, poetically, is to saile.

Arare litus, a prouerbe signifying to labour in bayne.

Aroma, the name of a citie.

Aromata, in plurali, the frutes of certayn her bes, mercurious pleasant in sauour and taste, spices, as gynger, pepper, sugar, &c.

Aromaticus, a, u, sweete of sauour, odoriferous.

Aromatites, e, m, ge. a precious stone whiche hath the sauour of myrr. Also a made wyne, myngled with cinnamon and gynger.

Aromatorius, et aromatopola, he that selleth cheynges hauyng sweete sauoure.

Aron, of Aros, an herbe called wake Robyn. is of som called Serpentina minor, because it hath leaues lyke to Diagon, but boder, and hauyng blacke spotted. it groweth aboute hedgis. This herbe, after Plinie, is of that soys, whiche be called Bulbi, and hath leaues lyke soyrell, a stalk of. it. cuttes hyrbe, and a softe roote, whiche may be eaten rawe.

Arpandes, lieutenant of Egypt vnder Cabyres

Arphas, a, is, a man of woman of Arpinum.

Arpinum, an ancient towne in Italy famous and noble by the birth of Plautus, Zallius, and Marius.

Arquatus, a, um, lyke a bowe.

Arquatus morbus, the sykenesse called the jaundys.

Arquites, olde wyttres used for an archer.

Arquus, qui, the rapne bowe.

Arrectarius, a, um, a thyng that is erected vp.

Arrectary parietes, walles made with tym ber & parget, to distre chambers, partitions

Arrectus, a, um, erected, lifted vp, streight vp.

Arrectæ comæ, staryng heare that standeth vpreight.

In digitis arrectus, standyng on tye toe.

Arrectus ad bellum animus, the mynde en couraged agayne to warre.

Arrepto, looke Adrepto.

Arreptus, he that is obsessed with an euyl spytte.

Arrepto, au, are, a frequentative of arrepto.

Arria, and Arriabo, earnest moners. Sometime one that lyeth in hostage. also a pledge.

Arriamus, a poete in the tyme of Tiberius: and an historiographer, whiche wrote the gestes of Alexander the great.

Arredo, si, ere, to make pleasant of fauoure able countenance on a thyng, to lymple at a thyng. sometime to lyke of content, to please.

Aedes mihi ardebant, the house pleased me wille.

Arriigo, xi, ere, to announce, to lyfte of sette vp,
to witen.

Arrexit animos, it annuenced the courage.

Arriige aures, late to thynne cares, of gree an eare to that is spoken.

Arminensis synodus, a general counsaill kept at Arminium in Italy, the pere of our lord 360. the 22. pere of the reigne of the empe rour Constantius, wher the greekes assayed by the subtil wittes to condemne the noble counsaill of Nicene: but by the wisdom of the latines, that disputacion was deferred, and at a general counsaill at Rome, the op inions of the Arians were condemned.

Arripio, pui, ere, to take quickly, to take by olence, to snatch of plucke.

Arripere condicionem, to take the offer.

Arripere maledictum. Quare cū ista sis au thoritate, non debes Marce Cato, arripere maledictum ex trilio, aut ex scurrarum ali quo conuicio, wherfore, forasmuch as ye are in this authority, of of this estimation, Mar cus Cato, you ought not to vse such a worde of reproche, or vile taunte, as is commonly spoken of euery railing knave.

Arrio

Arripere sermonem, to take hym at his word.

Arripere se foras, to sette hym oute of the dooes quickly.

Arripere velis, to inuade of get vpon.

Arripere ad vel in quationem, to take and examine one by toymentes.

Arripere occasionem, to take an occasion
quickly.

Arripere auxilium, take helpe of ayde.

Arripere verba de foro, to take wordes that bee used of oratours in the common place.

Arripere similitudinem alicuius, to endeavour to resemble of be lyke one.

Arripere literas auid, to learne greedily.

Arripere aliquid ad reprehendum, to take a thyng capiously.

Arripere admonitionem, to take quickly that one dooeth put vs in mynde of.

Arrius, an hereticke, a pistle in the church of Alexandria, the pere of our lord. 320. he was a sage personage, had a verie sharpe wyt, and was greatly esteemed. But fallenge into pyde and ambition of honoure, he purposed and helde this heresye, That the sonne was not equal to the father in deite, nor of the same substance, but was a mere creature. vnto this error he induced a great part of the wyldes than christened, as well noble clerkes as other. For the which was called the great counsaill of Nicene, the emperor Constan tinus magnus being present, with. 318. bys shops: wher it was (after long disputacion) determined, that the sonne is equal, and of one substance with the father, as touchyng the diuinity. whiche decree was approued by the emperor, and Arius, with. vi. byshops whiche obstinately persecuted in the party, were banished. Afterward Arius synned his lyfe with an horrible dech. For as he was disputyng, being prouoked to the scole, in exoneratyn nature, he poured out all his bo welles, and so dyed.

Arrius, of rather Arrianus, an hyndian boie in Nicomedia: among other warke he wrote in greke the lyfe of greates Alexander. This man for his learyng and byrre obtayned great honours at Rome of the emperours Ma rian and Antonine: in so much that he was ones consull. There was one Arius a philo sopher in Alexandria, in the tyme of Augu stus, and an other herie familiar with Cicero

Arrodo, si, ere, to gnawe.

Arrodere rempublicam, by a metaphore, to pille and poile, of robbe the common weale.

Arrogans, arrogant of presumptuous.

Arrogans mundus, presumptuous of ponde toward his inferiours.

Arroganter, presumptuously, proudly.

Arrogantia, arrogancy, presumption.

Arrogantia opinionis, laborare, to be suspect

ted of arrogancy.

Arrogo, au, are, to claime of attribute to mine the to ones selfe, to presume. also to adopt of take one to be his heire.

Arrogare filium, to make one his heire by adoption.

Arrogare pretium, to inhaunce of sette vp the price.

Arrogare & Derogare, bee contrary.
Sumere & arrogare libi.

Arrostema, a, is, sykenesse, feblenesse.

Arrugia, a myne of golde.

Ars, artis, a craft, subtilties, clyngng, decess, gyle.

Ars parasitica, the feast of flattery.

Plus artis adicere, to make more cunning.

Artem instituire, efficere, of Ad artem redu cere, to byngne any knowlage to the foyme of an arte of sciences.

Artaces, was the generall name of the kynges of Parthia.

Artacia, the name of a cite of Mede.

Artanca, a cite of Germains, called Cleppern.

Arsenaria, a cite of Mauritania, called Arze

Arsenicum, a yelowe colour, called in lat. Au ripigmentum, in englysh the Dypine.

Arsenogonon, an herbe, hauyng beartes like the floures of Alues, but more pale, the fede whiche lyke poppe. This herbe being drunke, causeth to ingender menchildern.

Arsenotheca, a beast, whiche is bothe male and female, as some late that an hare is, one pere male, and an other pere female.

Artuerie, in the Chusane tongue, significth awake with the tyro.

Artichina, a cite in Germany, nowe called Wiom.

Artichoras, a kyng of Sardin in tyme of Au gustall.

Artinoe, the wyfe of Lydimachus, kyng of Macedonie, and a cite in Lyene, called com monly Trochaea.

Artis, is, ge. elenacton.

Artionu, a cite of Germany called Hyntineta.

Artaba, a measure of the Egyptians, consei nyng. 72. Roman measures called Sextarij.

Artabanus, kyng of Parthia, the last of the stocke Arnesses, whome Artaxerxes slew, and restored the kyngdome to the Persians. 338.
yeres after Darius was subdued by Alex ander.

Artabazus, of Artabazdes, kyng of Armentie, sonne of Artabazus, a man excellently learned.

Artabicia, one of the ples of Mesopotamia.

Artabri, a people by the promontory called Artrabrum.

Artrabrum, a promontorie in Spayne.

Artax, a cite of the Massians in Asia, and a towne of Bithynia, called Caepi.

Artaxena, a countreie of Syria.

Artacha, an hyll full of trees, in the ple of the Africans.

Arxcentens.

Artachas, a captayne in the army of Xerxes.

Artanes, a kynge of Armente, surnamed Sophocles, also a ryuer running into the Euxine.

Artaphernes, one of Darius captayne, vanquished the Grekes nere to Marathon.

Artaxanum, a citee of Germany, called Herbitopolis, witzbourge.

Artaxa, a kynge of Armente, of whome Tigranes descended.

Artaxatiorum, neu. gen. the chief citee of Armenia the great, at the ryuer of Arax.

Artaxerxes, a name, whereby many kynges of Persia were called: Of whom one is named in the bible Ahasuerus. In other, whiche was his sonne by Hester, called also Mehus. Another called Longimanus, because his armes and handes were so longe, that standing by the pyght, he mought touche his knees with his handes. He was benigne & loued peace, and therefore was he well beloued of all his people. He was before the incarnation. 485. yeres, and had to surname Mithemon.

Artaxiasata, a citee of Armenia.

Artaxer, people of Persia.

Artembares, a noble man of the Medes.

Artemidorus, a learned man, wrote familiar with Brutus, whiche deliuered a booke to Cesar, of the conspiracie agaynst hym, the same date that he was slayne, wyllynge hym to reade it forthwith: but he neglected it, to his owne confusion.

Artemis, idis, is a name of Diana.

Artemisia, the name of a noble princeesse, wyfe to Mausolus, kynge of Caria, of a notable chaster, and excelled in in loue towards her husband: that whan he was deade, she caused his hert to be dyed in a vessell of gold in copulder, and by title a little she dyant her up, saying: if hee two hertes shuld neuer depart asunder, & that she thought there might be no worthful pcutche made for it, but his own body. For withstanding she made for his body such a sepulchre, that for the excellent workmanship, beautee, and collynesse: it was taken for one of the meruayles of the world, and for the notable fame thereof, all sumptuous and great sepulchres, were afterwards called Mausolia. She founde also the herbe Artemisia, called in latine Damaconium, in englyshe mugwort of motherwort, of great vertue in womens diseases. Of this herbe be three kyndes, Latifolia, Tenuifolia, and Moscodonos.

Artemisium, a promontory of Euboea, and an image of Diana.

Artemisius, the moneth of March amonge the Macedonians. Also an hill in Arcadia.

Artemita, a famous citee, 500. furlonges from Seleucia.

Artemius, a mountayne of Beata in Argo.

Artemon, onis, mas. ge. a trouble of poultice, wherein ropes doe renne. It maye also be taken for an instrument that hath troubles, as a crane. It is also one of the chiefest saples in a shippe. Artemon is also a proper name of diuers men.

Artemon, an heretike, whiche affirmed, that Christ was but pure man, taking his beginning in our lady. This heretike, beinge ones condemned, was afterwards rentured by Paulus Samosatenus.

Arteria, a, a synew lyke to a vyne, wherein the spirite of lyfe doeth walke, mixte with bloud.

Arteria, of Lucretius is used in the plural number and neuter gender.

Arthabanus, looke Artabanus.

Arthabatis, people lyving wylde lyke beasts.

Arthanes, looke Arrianes.

Arthetica passio, called also Morbus articularis, the topnte sicknesse, is thus diuided, into Corondia, called Sciatica, which is in the huche bone, Podagra, the goute of the legges and fette, and Chiragra, the goute of the fyggers.

Arthritica, some suppose to bee the herbe and floure, whiche is called psimerole.

Arthriticus, one diseased with the goute.

Arthriticus, idem quod arthetica passio.

Arthurus, a kynge of England, whā it was called Britannia, a man of excellent prowesse, who in xv. great battayles agaynst the Saxons, vanquished them, and finallye dyane the most parte of them out of this roialme. He subdued Scotlande and Irelande, at that tyme being well inhabited, and in culture. And after kept an honourable house of valiant and noble personages, wherein was such a magnificence, that it gaue occasion to Frenchmen and Spaniards, to exercise their wittes in auayling of Arthurs maiestee with incredible fables. whiche is no more to be meruayled at, than the semblable inuencions and fantasies of the Grekes. All be it this Arthurus was a veray noble and famous prince, yet of them, whiche wrote histories aboute his tyme, he was vnmembred. He flourished about the yere of our lorde. 510.

Articularius, he that hath the goute.

Articularius, a, um, of Articularis, re, pertaining to the iointes.

Articularius, of Articularis morbus, the goute Articulate, articulare, as whan one dooth expresse euery syllable.

Articularium, from ioint to ioint, topnt meale, also treatable, foundyng euery syllable.

Articulatio, onis, the spynnyng of shooting out of twygges of trees from ioint to ioint.

Articulo, aui, are, to iointe one iointe to another.

Artis

Articulosus, a, um, in trees knytes of full of iointes: In stile of indurping, whan there be many iointe members in a sentence.

Articulus, a iointe, also a moment of parcell of tyme, also a colour of the topnte, also a knotte of iointe in twygges of trees, in stalkes of corne, and other lyke. Amonge grammarians it is the article.

Articuli montium, hylockes that bee in a great hill, whereby men may go by moys castles in ipso temporis articulo, in meruaylous good season, at the veray poynt.

Habere dolores articularum, to be sycke of the goute.

Artifex, a craftes man, or one that is counnyng in anye feat.

Artifex mundi deus, God the maker of the world.

Artifex, and Insolus, bee contrary.

Scenici artifices, stage platers.

Morbi artificis, a phisicion.

Artifex sceleris, the auctour of diuiser of any mischeuous acte.

Artifex, an adiectiue, counnyngly and workmanly doon.

Artifex temperamentum, a counnyng moderation in dooing any thyng.

Artificialis, le, idem quod artificiosus.

Artificialiter, idem quod artificiose.

Artificiose, workmanly, counnyngly, craftily, artificially.

Artificiosus, one that dooth a thyng by art or counnyng.

Artificiosus, a, um, that counnyng is shewed in, artificial, crafty.

Artificium, the practyse of a craft, counnyng, workmanly, sometye gyle or decept. sometye a thyng cunningly wrought.

Artificio simulationis crudus, counnyng, or well instructed in falschode of feignyng of matters.

Artificium coquorum, cookery.

Quorum artificis effectum est, by whose craft conceyuaunce it was brought to passe.

Artigis, a citee in Spayne called also Alhama.

Artio, tui, ire, used of olde wytes for Arto, aui, are.

Artitus, well instructed in sciences.

Arto, aui, are, to strep, to thurst together, to wyng. looke Arcto.

Artocopus, pi, a baker.

Artocreas, aui, neu. gen. male bee called a pay of ppe, with fleshe of fyne laken.

Artolaganus, ni, mas. gen. fyne cake breade.

Artemici, people of a countrey in France called Arminae.

Artopta, a bakynge panne, wherein they bake cakes, or other thynges made of fyne pash, somtyme a bake, wherewith bread is wrought in dowe. Of some it is used for a woman baker, or a restayne vessel, wherein bread is baked or todde.

Artopritus panis, bread baked in such a vessel.

Artoyritae, people, whiche vnder offer to theyr god, breade and cheefe.

Arto, aui, are, to curre in sunder, or in pieces, after Calypine.

Artas, aui, plu. nu. mas. ge. members of the body betweene the iointes, taking the bones, fleshe, and synewes.

Artuum dolor, for Morbus articularis.

Artales fratres, were supposed to bee the follo betherne of Romulus, to whom he gaue the dignities of priesthoode, to make sacrifice for growyng and increase of corne, and preseruacion of the corne fieldes.

Arucni, people of Fraunce nere to the ryuer of Leire.

Arutina, talowes.

Arutium, an hill on the sea coasts of the ple called Chium, where growe the wyne called Arutia vina, now Marulisa vina, maluesey.

Arutia vina, now Marulisa vina, maluesey.

Arutia, a towne in Italy.

Arutia, i, mas. gen. the beards of a gote.

Arundinaceus, a, um, lyke a reede.

Arundinaceus, a, um, of a reede or cane.

Arundinaceus, a, um, a place wherein is great plenty of reedes.

Arundifer, that beareth or bringeth forth reedes.

Arundinetum, a place where reedes doo grow.

Arundo, a reede or cane. Sometye it is used for an arrowe, because arrowes were made of reedes. Sometye for a pype. Sometye for a little sticke that children ppe vpon.

Aruo, aui, are, to late or sette onyons, leekes or other herbes in rainges, halfe vnder the erth, or moys, to make them lesse tart or sigre.

Arupenum, a towne in Fraunce.

Arupinum, a citee in Dannonia.

Aruspex, he that telleth of thynges to come, by looking in beastes bowelles.

Aruspicium, that kynde of sothe sayng.

Arum, ni, neu. gen. of Arus, i, mas. ge. a lowe filde.

Culus aruorum, the bar standyng or tpyng of the grounde.

Arx, ardis, for ge. a fortress or castell, specially standyng hegh.

Condere, contruere, erigere arces, to build stronge holdes or castelles.

Manire arcem, to fortifie or strength a castell.

Euertere, subtrahere arces, to overthrow or beate downe stronge holdes or fortresses.

Tradere arcem, to yeld up a castell or fortress.

Arxata, a citee of Armenia.

A S, a lib, a pounce weight. In old tyme in the partition of lande, or other lyke thyng inheritable, they called the hold

A S,

As, and the partes divided, ounces. As, is also a small coppe of brasse, somewhat lesse than our halfe penny. x. of them made a Romaine penny, called Denarius, which was in value our sterling groat.

Assem negat se daturum, he saith he will not geue one farthing.

Ad assem omnia perdidit, he hath lost euery farthing.

Ad assem impendium reddes, Thou shalt pay me againe euery farthing: or thou shalt recompence me to the vttermost farthing.

In assem, in all the whole summe together.

Harres ex asse, he that is herpe of all.

Asa, in the language of Syria, signifieth a physician, or a healer of spindles. Of that name was the v. kyng of Iuda, the sonne of Abia, who reigned .41. yeres. He honoured god, destroyed ydolles, and was fortunate in battle, so that he is compared to kyng Dauid, for his personage and vertuous qualities. He slew the kyng of Ethiopie, with an infinite number of his people. Finally he dyed well and graciously in a disease of his feete. He was afore the incarnation. 973. yeres.

Aschir, a people in the mountaynes of Ethiopia. v. darts tounes from the sea: who were only by hunting of elephants.

Aschilus, a ruet in Macedonia, rennyng by Deractia, at the foote of the mountayn Meta.

Ase, a people of Metoponensis.

Asea, a certayne hill.

Asaus, a greke that was slayne of Hercules.

Asaph, an hebreu woide, signifying gathering or synnysing. Of this name was a synngge man in the house of god, to whom kyng Dauid assigned certayne psalms of his psalmes.

Aaron, looke Aharon.

Aaronim, a new gen. paupnge tple, with prectures ended, whiche maye not be swept with a besome, but with a wyng, or other softe thinge.

Astrum, an herbe, whose leaues are lyke unto pur, but they be lesse and rounder. It hath a good sauour. The flower is purple, and saoureth sweetely, and groweth betwene the leaues by the roote. The stalle is edged, and somewhat rough. The rootes be small, crooked, and lyke a grasse full of knottes. It is also called Bacchar, the frenchemen calle it Las Berch, the Germans Haelthwoit. Some call it in englyshe wyld spinenarde.

Asbetix, a people of Libya, where was an oracle of Ammon.

Asbestinum, a kynde of lyne, whiche can not be burned: and the clothe therof made is poured clancie with fyre, than with water.

Asbestos, a precious stone of yon colour, growyng in the mountaynes of Arabia.

Asbolus, the name of an hounde in Duit.

Asbotus, a citee of Thessaly.

Asca, a citee in Sicilie, builded by Elymus, a ysaie of Crote.

Ascalaphus, the sonne of Mars and Atrocles, also the sonne of Acheron, and the nymphe Diphnes, whiche was touned in to an oule.

Ascalonium, the citee of Hildreth.

Ascalon, an hebreu woide, signifieth a poppyng or a balance, or fyre of infamy. Also a citee in the hygher Judea, frome Iherusalem. 90. myles, as Egeippus saith. The people of this citee were called Ascalonitae.

Ascalonia, a kynde of onfons called scalpons.

Ascalus, the brother of Cantalus, and sonne of Hymenaeus.

Ascanalis, the citee of Swetz in Germany.

Afcania, one of the yles called Cyclades. Also a countre in Asia, and a citee, and a merre or marthe in Troas.

Afcanius, the sonne of Aeneas the Troian and Creusa his wife, daughter to kyng Priamus of Troi: who comyng into Italy with his father, assigned sundry labours: And finally after his father reigned ouer the Latins, with Syntius Posthumus, his brother in lawe, and builded the citee of Alba Longa. he was also called Iulus, he reigned xviij. yeres. Of this name was a ryuer in Byggia, of the whiche Afcanius was named.

Afcarides, litle rounde wooyms, whiche doo byde in the longe gutte of a man, but speially of children.

Afcendo, di, ere, to clyme, to ascende, to go by. It is applyed also to the voyce, whan it mounteth or exsisteth.

Afcendere equum, to leape or mount on hors backe. Afcendere nanem, to take shippyng.

Afcendere in concionem, or, in rostra, to make an oracion to the people.

Afcendere altiore gradum, Afcendere ad honores, to ryse to honour and dignitee.

Afcendere gradibus magistratum, to arise, or be aduanced to honour from office to office.

Afcensus, us, an ascendyng, mountyng, or clymyng by. also aduancement or exsistyng to honoyr.

Prohibere ascensu, to kepe one downe.

Afceteria, monasteries, where men were exercised in contemplacion.

Afcia, x. ge. a chyp axe.

Afcburgiu, the citee of Emertch in Germany.

Afcio, au, are, to chyp with an axe.

Afcisco, iui, scere, to admyt, to choose or to gyue to be any thyng or persone, to presume or take vpon vs, sometyme for appeter, to desyre.

Afciscere, and Segregare, bee contrary.

Afciscere sibi laudem, to attribute laude and praisse to ones selfe.

Afciscere sibi nomen regium, to take vpon one to surpe the name of a kyng.

Afciscere sibi socios, to choose hym companions,

one, or to associate other with hym.

Afciscere sibi illud opidum commercio &c. societate, They haue assigned that towne to them by entercourse of marchandise, and by mutual conuersion.

Ad hoc sceleris foras multos afciscunt, They haue associate or made pryue to this mischeuous conspiracie, a greaite number of men.

Afciscere consuetudinem, leges, ritus, to bypne in vs any custome, lawes, or ceremonies.

Afciscere generum, to choose or take a sonne in lawe.

Afcisci in ciuitatem, to bee made free, or admytted to the libertees of a citee.

Afcix, Arabians.

Afcitus, a, um, chosen, admytted, or taken to, associated, sometyme draunge, farre sette, not in the thyng selfe.

Afcitus, and Narius bee contrary.

Afclepiades, a famous physician. Also a philosopher, whiche beeryng bynde, was demeaned in scole, what his byndnesse pposed hym: he answered, that he hadde the more company by one boie that ledde hym. It is also the name of an historiographer of Egipt, and diuers other men.

Afclepias, is called of the herbalistes Hirundinaria, because the cobbe resembleth a swallow, of the apothecaries Vincetoxicum, because it is of great force agaynst poyson, in englyshe (as some suppose) it is called grounde pur.

Afclepiodorus, a pyneter in the tyme of Apelles, also one of Alexandria, whiche was excellent in the mathematicalles, and knowledge of herbes and cones.

Aconius Pedianus, the excellent expostour of the oracions of Cullis, whan he was .73. yeres olde, became bynde, and lyeued afterwarde xij. yeres in great estimation and honour. He flourished aboute the tyme of Nero the emperour.

Afcopera, a bagge, a purse, or sachel of lether.

Afcra, a towne in Thracia, by the mountayne Helicon. In this towne was boie Hesiodus the famous poete: and therefore he is sometyme called Afcraus.

Afcro, si, ere, to adde to in wytyng, to attribute, to impute.

Me quoq; ascribe fratris sententiae, couple or togyue me to my brothers opinion.

Afcibi in legibus, to bee added or mentioned in the lawes.

Afcibi in ciuitatem, in ciuitate, ciuitati, to be enfranchysed, to bee made free, or admytted to the libertees of a citee.

Afcibe me ad, or in amicitiam, take, admytte, accompt, or accept me as one of your frendes, Afcibere in numerum, to accompt as one of the number.

Afcibi nummibus, to be compassed, or made a satiate.

Afcibere penam fcederi, to appoynt or set a penne vpon hym that breaketh the alliance.

Afcibe me socium tuis laudibus hominum opinio, The common praisse maketh me partaker of your laude and praisse, or attributeth part therof to me.

Afcibere aliquem tutorem liberia, to appoynt by testamēt, who shall haue the tuteison and gouernance of his chyliden.

Afcibere saluam alicui, to send commendacions to one by letters.

Ne ascribas mihi negligentiam, impute not to me any negligence: or accompt me not negligent herein.

Afcripti, were they that were appoynted to inhabit townes or ciities made by the Romans called Coloniae.

Afcriptio, an addiccion, enrolling, or regestryng Afcripti milites, soldidours, whose names are entred or regestred with other.

Afcriptus, he that is added to the number of other, whose name is regestred or enrolled, or one of them that hath submitted him selfe to be vnder another mans dominion or gouernance, or he that is admytted or taken into a companie aboute the common number.

Afcriptus, idem.

Afcriptor, oris, he that foloweth the examplis of another man, or he that wytyeth many copies of others examples. Also a broker in the lawe, a fauour, mapntepner, or one that fauoureth a mans cause.

Afcriptus, a, um, wytyen to, intitled, regestred, enrolled.

Afcruum, called Afcruum, a citee of Liburnia.

Afculum, a citee of Idell in Italy, where Lucius and Fabius discomfited Spyrhus.

Afcytes, one of the kyndes of dyspey, the cause wherof is a lacke of good digestion, whereby is ingendred in all the members a saie and a pelous humours, whiche at the last fallith into the bealy, and is conuened into water, and therein is melted, as it were in a great vessel, whan the body meureth, the bealy byyng swollen, and great.

Afcubal, a name of diuers noble men of Carthage, of whiche one married the wyfe of Anibal: he ruled the citee of Carthage, and there exercised hym in continall labours. At the last in the myddell of his frendes and seruantes, he was slayn by a dyuine clause, whose name he had slayne a litle before.

This clause feared death to sterre, that whan he was put vnto most horrible tormentes, he byyng in them, shewed alwaye a laughing countenance.

countenance.

Acella, or acella, looke axilla.

Acelli, two sterres in the signe called Cancer.

Acellus Sempronius, an historiographer in the tyme of Septimo Aemilianus.

Acellus, a diminutive of asinus, also a spfme, which the grekes do call Onon, & Oniskon, and is of a dun color like an asse, and hath in his head, ii. bones like myll stones. In the canicular daies he can not bee founde (as Athenens writeth) Oppianus saileth, he hath the his name of slownesse: many suppose it is the spfme, that we calle an haddocke. Other chynke it is the codde spfme. Of the dyuers hyndes of them Mahe witen in their places.

Acella, or acell, ge. is the thyrd part of the world, diuided frome Europa by the sea called Bosphorus Tharicus, and the great riuier of Tanais: And from Africke by the famous ryuer Nilus: and is in quantitee supposed to be as great as bothe Europa and Africke. Asia minor, is a parte of the other Asia, whiche is nowe called Turkey, and contygneeth in it these rotalmes, Pontus, Bithynia, Phrygia, Caria, Lycia, Lidya, et Lycania. Asia is also a meere fenne of manye nere to the riuer Euphrates.

Asiacus, Asiacus, Asianus, and Asius, a um, of or pertynyng to Asia.

Athanicus, a surname geuen to one of the Delians, because he subdued the isle Asia.

Athius, li, mas. gen. a great fyre, whiche biteth beastes, and is called an hoyle fly, or byse. It is also a worme that is founde in fyres.

Asinarius, an asseherde.

Asinarius, a um, of or pertynyng to an asse.

Asine, or Asina, a cite of Deloponnes, nere to Ascella. Asine, is also one of the ples callid Sporades, in the sea Asiaticum.

Asininus, a um, idem quod asinarius, a um.

Asinius Pollio, a noble senatour and oratour Romayne, whome the Emperoure Octauian and specially fauoured: he was verie eloquente, but noted of to muche affectacion, whiche toke awaie the grace of his oracions, he was in iudgement verie exquisite, and vsed to repproue other muche better leered than hym selfe, as Cicillio, Cesar, Salust, and Aleuic. he made the spfme common libyale, where in he set the ymage of Maero, and had victorie ouer the people of Dalmatia. To his honoure, the poet Virgile made one of his Egloges. He lived. 80. yeres.

Asinius Gallus, sonne to Pollio, a man of great learning, he wrote a booke, wherein he compared a preferred his father to Cicillio. This boke was afterwarde answered by Claudius the emperour. Cicillio the emperour commaunded hym to be slayne, for what cause is doothe not appere.

Asinus, an asse.

Asini homines, block headed, dolous, depe asses. Asinum ronder, thou wearest an asse. Aspi is a spfme spoken of one that attempteth a vayne, foolyshe, and vnprofitable enterprise.

Asinus ad hram, an asse at an harpe. Aspi uerbe applyed vnto them, whiche haue no iudgement in wysdome and learning.

Asinus auriculas mouet, The asse waggeth his eares. Aspi uerbe applyed to them, whiche although they lacke learninge, yet will they babble and make a countenance, as if they knewe somewhat.

Asinus inter simias, an asse among apes. Aspi uerbe, where a good fely bodie cometh among thewde wylde felowes, and byngs sloped of them, dooeth not perceyue it.

Asion, an owle, whiche hath feathers on euery syde of his head, like vnto eares.

Asiorum, a kynde of spiders, with whyte streakes, of whome yf one bee stonge, his knees shall bowe, and waxe faynt.

Asis, a mountayne in Umbria.

Asis terra, is vied for Asia.

Asisum, a towne whereof the people be called Asinates.

Asius, the sonne of Dymas. Also a ryuer in Italy called Asino.

Asimodus, the name of a deuyll, and signifieth a bestroter of abundance of synne, or meane ryng fyre.

Asomatos, withoute a bodie, vnspalable, of that can not be felte.

Asopis, a counterte in the prouince of Becha.

Asopis, idis, the daughter of Asopus.

Asopus, a ryuer in Sicilia, that runneth out of Idrygia. An other in Deloponnes nere to Colinth.

Asoria, epote.

Asotos, vnclenly, prodigally, wantonly, reottousely.

Asotus, ii, a riotous, prodigall, wanton, or continent person.

Aspalathus, after Calestine, is a thorn growyng in the east partes of the worlde, the rynde wherof is somewhat redde, and within, the wodde is of a sadde purple, and smelleth de rase swete, and is therfore vied in perfumes.

Asparagus, gi, mas. gen. an herbe called of common Aspitharties, Sparagus, in englyshe Asperage.

Aspasia, a woman of Miletum in Greece, notably leered in rhetoricke, she taught & taught the eloquent Pericles duke of Athenes. wherfore, not withstanding she was a captiue, he toke her to his wyfe. It is writen, that she was one of the concubines of Cirus kyng of Perlia, after whome deeth Pericles toke her. And afterwarde by his procurement, for his pleasure that she bare to the Deloponnes.

he was the cause that the Atheniensis made warre agaynst that.

Aspasius, the name of dyuers learned men.

Aspectabilis, le, woorthye to bee beholde of looked on.

Aspecto, au, are, to beholde stedfastly, to regard or looke vpon.

Aspectare iussa principis, to haue regard to the princis commandement.

Aspectare aliquid, to be ouer agaynst a place or thyng.

Aspectus, us, mas. ge. syght, beholdinge, regard. Sometime a beautesfull countenance.

Aspectu horridus, lothefome, or horryble to beholde.

Primo aspectu, at the first syght.

Oculi quod uolunt, aspectum contorquent, or conuertunt, The eyes turne the syght whiche waye they list.

Fugere aspectum, to auoyde, or eschewe to come in ones syght.

In aspectum lucem, or proferre, to byngs as byode that euery man maye see.

Referre aspectum aliquo, to looke or haue an eye to a place. And it is referred to the mynde.

Aspello, pull, ere, to put backe, or bygne away from one.

Aspendius, a certayne harper.

Aspendus, a cite of Samphilia.

Asper, a um, rough, sharpe, vnpleasante, as well to the sight as to other senses. Also hard, or greuous, cruell, disdignefull, churlysh, rude, seuer, rigorous.

Asperum vinum, a rough wyne.

Asper nummus, money newe coyned.

Aspera maris, the rough stormes of the sea.

Asperimo hyemis, in the sharpest season of wynter.

Asper natura, & omnibus iniquis, cruell of nature, and woorthynge inturte to euery man.

Asperior et durior doctrina, a seuer, hard, and rigorous kynde of learninge, as the Socras the was.

Homo asper et durus, a rigorous, seuer, or rough person, a Socras.

Aspera et horrida oratio, a rough or vnpleasante stile.

Monitoribus asper, bydisignefull in them that aduertyse hym of any thyng.

Aspera tempora, troublous and dangerous seasons.

Aspera loca, rough places, full of bones, bushes and bylles.

Asper victus, austere and hard learninge.

Asper animus, a seuer, stubborn, or vntractable mynde.

Asperam & lenem, contrarie. The will Asper is leuys to euery.

Asper, hard, sharpe, rigorous, seuerely.

roughly, vntractably, vnpleasante.

Nimis asper tractatus aliquem, to inturte a man to sharpe, or to rigorously.

Asperiter, idem quod asper, an asse word.

Aspergillus, an hole water flyche, or spfme.

Aspergo, gis, for a spynnyng of licour.

Aspergines parietis, swagging of some wallen by a metaphore, to mixe of cast water. And by a metaphore, to mixe of semple fealty with other thynges.

Aspergere comitatem seueritatem, to mixe familiarity and grauttee togither.

Aspergere aliquid in epistolis, to touche a thyng quickly in a letter.

Aspergere maculis vitam alicuius, to make pill report of a man.

Aspergit hoc mihi molestia hanc epistola, this letter hath brought me into this trouble.

Asperisti aquam, Thou hast put me out of feare, thou hast released me, or quickned my spirites, pouerbially spoken.

Mendaciunculis aspergere, to myngle lyes here and there with true matters.

Aspergere lingua, to backbite or spake p a uell of one.

Aspergere salem carnibus, to poudre fleshe.

Aspergi suspitione, vel infamia, to be in suspicion or miste report.

Asperitas, asis, sharpnesse, rudenes of maners, roughnesse, vnpleasante.

Aspernabilis, he that is woorthye to bee despised or refused.

Aspernatio, onis, contempte.

Aspernatus, a um, contened, despised, relected.

Aspernor, aris, ar, to despise, contemne, or se light by, to refuse or abhorre, to refuse of case of.

Aspernari et contemnere, Aspernari ac resoluere, vel renecere.

Aspernari dolorem, et appetere voluptatem, contrarie.

Aspernari alicuius sententiam, to refuse a mans opinion or iudgement in a matter.

Aspero, au, are, to make rough, sharp, or hard.

Asperare crimen, to make an offence more detestable.

Asperare alicuius iram, to make ones angre more fierce.

Asperare pugionem saxo, to whette a dagger, or make it sharpe with a stone.

Aspetio, onis, a spynnyng of castyng of water.

Aspetillus, is, idem.

Aspetus, a um, spynnyng of wet with any tye.

Aspetus infamia, steeped with dishonour.

Asphodelus, li, mas. ge. an herbe called Asphodelus, a lake of Asia, called Mare morum, therein is bellyng mire with bym stones, called Asphodelus, wherin no thing can growe. Som suppose, that pines growe the cyrcle of Sodoma and Gomorrah.

Asphodelus, li, mas. ge. an herbe called Asphodelus, a lake of Asia, called Mare morum, therein is bellyng mire with bym stones, called Asphodelus, wherin no thing can growe. Som suppose, that pines growe the cyrcle of Sodoma and Gomorrah.

bill. Of this herbe bee. ii. kyndes, the male called Albucus, and the female named Hastula regia, the Apothecaries call it corruptis Aphrodilorum.

Aspicio, xi, ere, to beholde or looke on a thyng, to see. Sometime to fauour or helpe.

Meluc aspice, looke this waye vpon me.

Aspicere longe, to beholde afarre of.

Aspicere et conuerti, vel contemplari, cernere et aspicere.

Aspiciunt inter se, They regarde eche other, they looke or beholde one another.

Aspicere lucem, to be boyne or brought forth into the world.

Aspicere aliquem, to regarde or beholde a persone.

Aspici, for considerari, to be considered or regarded.

Aspiciunt nos deus, god fauoreth or helpeth vs.

Aspidica, a littell tergate or shield.

Aspilares, a stone lyke to spuer.

Aspiratio, onis, a recepyng of breathe, contrary to Expiratio. Also influence or exhalation.

Aspiratio terræ, vapour of the earth.

Aspiratio stellæ, the influence of a sterre.

Aspiro, aut, are, to aspyre, to loke to come to a thyng, to attayne to, to blowe, to fauour, to geue ayde, to geue all study and witte to attayne a thyng, to touche, to come to, to haue access to a man.

Aspirat fortuna labori, Fortune fauoureth one labour.

Aspirat felicitas alicui, he is fortunate, or fortune smileth vpon hym.

Aspirare nemo potest ad illum, No man can haue access to hym.

Aspirare ad rem aliquam, to aspyre or endeuour with all study to attayne to a thyng.

Aspirare non possunt ad illam laudem, they can not attayne to that laude and praise.

Deus aspirat mentem, ingenium, gratiam, for inspirat, impetrit.

Aspis, is a lyttell serpent, whiche breedeth in Aspie, whose spynge is so venemouse, that nothing maye cure it, except a stone taken of the sepulchre of an auncient kyng, whiche being washed in water, and the water drunke with wyne, the inhabytauntes aspyre, that it onely cureth the stroke. Whiche faileth, the male and female goe alwaie together, and if one of them be slayne, the other doeth continually folowe the sterre, till he haue stryken hym, all though he be in a greatte assembly of people, except he passe ouer a ryuer. This name Aspis, is so generall, that it conteineth byuers other kyndes, of whiche shall be written hereafter.

Asplendon, a citty of Shorth.

Asplenium, ni, or Asplenium, and Splenium called also Scolopendra, or Scolopendron, an herbe, which groweth commonly among stones, on olde walles, it hath many leaues, growing out of one roote, lyke to the woman called a palmer, that hath many feete. It is somewhat lyke to ferns, and hath neither flower, stalk, nor seede, and is commonly called of the Apothecaries Cetrac or Cetrac. It is called Asplenium, because it minyssheth or consumeth the spleen that eateth of vyne (it).

Asprenus, an hill in Asia nere to Bergamus.

Asportatio, onis, the carpage or bearyng away from a place.

Asportatus, a, um, caried, boyne, or conuertyed from a place.

Asporro, aui, are, to cary awaie.

Asportare aliquem secum, to cary one away with hym.

Aspredo, and Aspruendo, roughnesse, sharpnes.

Aspretum, i, neu. ge. a rough place full of stones and rocks.

Asia voce cantare, to syng onely with mannes voyce, without any other voyces of sowes.

Asiacani, a countrey of India, wherein is the citty Magosa.

Assamenta, orum, neu. ge. sawed booydes.

Assaracus, the son of Crois kyng of Troiane.

Assaratum, of old wyters was vsed for a dyke templed with bloude and wyne.

Assarius, a, am, colled, an olds wooyde.

Assarum, looke Asarum.

Assatura, colled meate.

Assella, x, mas. ge. a page, and he that foloweth in all thyngs the will of another man.

A waiting seruant alwaie ready at his masters commandement.

Assectatio, a suite ordinarie, a folowynge, companyng, or attendynge on a man.

Assectatio cæli, for obseruatio astrorum.

Assectator, a compagno. Also a folower, or one that dooth imitate an other mans behauiour or eloquence.

Assessor, aris, ari, to keepe company, to endeuour to gette ones fauour, or wyne his frendshipp.

Assensor, oris, he that assenteth or agreeth to an other mans opinion.

Assensus, as, assent, consent, agreement.

Assentatio, onis, flattery.

Blanditiis et assentationibus beneuolentiam colligere, to gette a mans good wille with fawne wooydes and flatteryng tales.

Assentatiuncula, a flatteryng tale.

Assentator, a flatterer, that prayleth a man or uermuche, and holdeth by his pen and nap in euery thyng.

Assentatorie, flatteryng, or lyke a flatterer.

Assentio, si, tire, & Assenior, tiris, iri, depono, to consente, to assente or agree to. Also to perseuere. Sed assentio aperiri foras, que absorbent, quicquid venit intra pessilos,

But the doores are opened, whiche the deuill cometh within the bolles.

Cui Assensum, to whom they agreed.

Ego illud assensum tibi, That thyng I grante to you.

De Bruto accersendo tibi assensum, As concerninge the standynge for Brutus I agree to you.

Assensum est Bibulo, they consented or agreed to the opinion of Bibulus.

Assentio, onis, idem quod assensus.

Assensor, aris, ari, to flatter, or immoderately (and for the most parte) falsely, to please a man, to the intent to wyne fauour or ppyssite therby.

Assesor, eris, qui, to folowe, to gette, to obteyne, to attayne to, to ouertake, sometime to render as much to one as he hath deservyd.

Nullam partem uidetur tuorum meritorum assensum, I could not seeme to haue satisfied any parte of yours deservynge, or to haue dooen the 100. parte so muche as you haue dooen for me.

Ita cito, iam ego uos assessor, So you on a pace, I will ouertake you by and by.

Insequi, and asssequi, to folowe and ouertake.

Nihil aliud asssequeris, nisi, &c. you shall wyne nothing elles therby, but &c.

Asssequutus est quod sperabat, He hath gotten or obteyned, that he hoped or looked for.

Mauritatem asssequi, to bee rype.

Ingenium alterius asssequi, to attayne to the lyke or equal to an other man in witte.

Asssequi coniectura, to attayne to the knowledge of a thyng by coniecture.

Asssequi literis, to sette forth, or make playne any thyng in writynge. Phewise verbis et dictis asssequi.

Suspitione concilium asssequi non potui, I coulde not suspect of diuine, what his aduise or counsaile was.

Cogitationem alterius asssequi, to gette or knowe what an other man thynketh.

Asssequi nomen, to get a name.

Asser, eris, or assis, is, ma. ge. a shingle, a shouen booyde, a planke, a puncheon or topke of. x. or xii. foote longe.

Assercula, Cato vsed in the plurall numbre and neutre gender.

Asserculi, et Assiculi, diminutives of asser, lyall booydes or lathes.

Assero, serui, to claime, to asseme or appoyne, to manumite or make free, to deliuer.

Asserere aliquem manu, to set one at libertie or to manumite a bonde man.

Asserere in seruilitatem, to byng into bondage or seruitude.

Asserere ab iniuria, to defende frome wronge or iniurie.

Asserere se studiis, to leane all other busynesse to apply studie.

Asserere se, to make hym selfe free, to sette hym selfe at libertie.

Alexander loue sibi patrem assersit, Alexander claiumeth Iupiter to be his father.

Asserere sibi maiestatem diuinam, to vendycate or take vpon hym a diuine maiesty.

Asserere sibi cognomen, to attribute or take vpon hym a name of honour.

Asserere aliquem celo, to canonise or make one a saint.

Asserere se ab iniuria obliuionis, to doo some thyngs that shall redounde to his immortall fame.

Assero, scui, ere, to sowe or plant by.

Assertio, onis, an affirmance, or after Brutus, a demonstration, or documente, a vouchynge. Also a ppyeuynge of ones lybertie.

Assertor, oris, he that setteth one at libertie, or defendeth hym frome bondage. Also he that claiumeth any persone to be bonde.

Accommodare se assertorem veritatis, to appoyse hym selfe to bee a maynteyner and defender of the truth.

Asseruo, iul, ire, ium, idem quod Seruio.

Asseruo, aui, are, to keepe diligently, to take heed of one, to observe or watche.

Asseruare aliquem in carcerem, to commaunde and keepe one in ward, or in prysons.

Asseruare carnes sale, or in sale, to hepe meat in powder, or to hepe meate sauerce by saltyng.

Hic tibi asseruandusest, re muste take good heed of this felowe, or you muste watche hym.

Asseruabo quid rerum gerat, I will take heed, or watche what he dooeth, or what he goeth aboute.

Assessio, onis, sytynge at a thyng.

Assessor, oris, associate to a man in office or auetoysee, especially in iudgemente, or consularions.

Assessrix.

Asseruarer, with affirmance.

Assuerare, idem.

Assueratio, onis, affirmance or vouchynge.

Assueratione affirmare, to auowe for a certayne.

Assuero, aui, are, to asseme.

Assuerare de re aliqua, to asseme anye thyng.

Assuerare gratiam, to shewe or ppyende great graces.

Assueror, the pastide.

Assuco, aui, are, to byp, to byp diligently.

Assucio, to waite or to be made byp.

Assiculus, loke Assiculi.

A ANTE S.

Afsidela, a byshopps seate of charye wherein he sitteth when he ministrereth.
Afsideo, sedere, to sitte with or by an other, or to be associate, to bee contynually at a thyng.
Huic afsident, they labour contynually about this.
Afsider dies totos apud portum, he sitteth of greatly attendance at the haven oftentimes whole daies together.
Afsidere in carcere dies noctesq, he sitteth in prison daie and nyght.
Afsidere gubernaculis, to sitte contynually at the sterne.
Afsidere literis, to bee in contynual studie of letters.
Afsideri, for obsideri, to be besieged.
Afsedit Adherbalem dextra, he satte of placed hym self on the right hand of Adherball.
Afsido, dis, ere, to resse, to sitte downe, to spe by, especially to helpe or doo service, as by a speke man or great officer.
Afsidue, et Afsiduo, aduerben, whiche doo signifie continually. sometime often.
Afsiduitas, asis, continuance in a thyng, diligence. also the continually accompanying of a a manne.
Afsiduitate quotidiana, by daily continuance.
Afsiduitas bellorum, the contynuaunce of warre.
Eandem afsiduitatem tibi prebuit postredie, he kepte you the companye the nexte daie following.
Afsiduisime mecum fuit Dionysius, Who was with me continually, or almost we neuer awate from me.
Afsiduos, a, um, continuall or sufficient, etche or well at ease, diligent or laborious.
Afsidui tidentiores, sufficient sweeters.
Afsiduos scriptor, an author appoyed, whose sentence to holden for certain and true.
Afsiduos bella gerit, he maketh warre contynually.
Afsidua febricula, a continually feuer.
Afsiduos dominus, a good husbände, a diligent ouersee of his householde.
Afsignatio, onis, a distribution, assignacion, appoyment.
Afsignatus, a, um, ordeyned or deputed.
Afsignatum tempus, the tyme prefixed.
Afsigno, aui, are, to geue, distribute, assigne, or appoynte, to depute or ordeyne, to impute, to late the fault or blame on a thyng or person.
Assignare agros colonis, to assigne or appoyne a portion of lande to them that be sent to inhabit a countreie.
Assignare sortem, to appoynte or distribute by lotte.
Natura ambus celum assignauit, Nature hath appoynted the ayre for soules.

A ANTE S.

Afsignare locum alicui rei, to apoynt a place for any thyng.
Afsignare ciuitatiuius amentiam, to impute or late the fault of one mans madnesse to the whole citee.
Afsignare culpam fortunæ, to blame or late the fault on fortune.
Afsilio, lui, liui, or liq, sultum, lire, to leape forth, to encountre or assaile hastily. also to leape as a horse doth a mare, and a bull a cowe.
Afsilire ad aliud orationis genus, to leape from one maner of stile to an other.
Afsilientia æquora, the tumblinge waues of surges of the sea.
Afsimilis, le, semblable, or muche lyke.
Afsimiliter, all semblable, or verate lyke.
Afsimilo, aui, are, to dooe a thyng lyke to an other man, to imitate or folowe one, to compare. also to resemble, to represent the similitude of an other thyng.
Grandia si paruis afsimilare licet, If a man may compare great thynges with small.
Os porcum afsimilat, his mouth resemblerh or is lyke an hogges snout.
Italia folio querno afsimilata est, Italy is in facton lyke an oken leafe.
Afsimulatio, onis, a dissembled countenance.
Afsimulatus, a, um, counterfacted, feigned, forged, compared, likened.
Afsimulata virtus, counterfacted, or feigned honestie.
Afsimulo, aui, are, to feigne a thyng that is not, or to dooe a thyng that he dooeth not. Also to compare, to make hym selfe lyke an other, to counterfakte or lyken, to drawe out, or represente any thyng in peincting or portraiture.
Afsimulare oportet quasi ames, you must feigne or make a countenance as though you byd loue hym.
Afsimula quasi ægrotus sis, make semblance as though ye were sycke.
Afsimulauit anum, he made hym selfe lyke an olde woman.
Afsimulare literas, to forge or counterfakte letters.
Pictor facile afsimulabit quicquid acceperit, A peincter will easely portraite or drawe out what so euer he taketh in hande.
Afsimulari, the passure.
Afsipondium, di, a pounce weight.
Afsis, is, mascu. gener. idem quod Affer. toke As.
Afsia, one of the names of Pallas or Minerva.
Afsisto, stiti, tere, to assiste, to stande by, to bee present, to healte to defende a mannes cause.
Hic propter hunc afsiste, Doo thou stande here by hym.

Afsia

A ANTE S.

Afsistit rectus, he standeth by right.
Contra omnes hostium copias in ponte astis, he stood upon the byrge agaynst all the power of his enemies.
Afsistis, a, um, sown or planted by.
Asto, aui, are, to late booydes, or board floures. also to roste.
Astotio, aui, are, to associate or make ones selfe companion with an other. sometime to forgoe or set to an other thyng.
Astoler, onely in the thynde persone: and moste commonly used impersonally. It was wont, of the custome and vse was.
Astono, ui, are, to sowne or make a sown agayn lyke to an Ecco.
Astufacio, eci, ere, to accustome, to enure, by vse or continuance to byng one to a thyng.
Astufacere alicui rei, to accustome one to a ny thyng.
Astufacio, onis, a byngnyng of one in custome.
Astufactus, a, um, taught by vse & continuance Astuerus, signifieth prince or head, he was kyng of Iberians, who is also called Xetaxerxes and Memnon.
Astufco, eui, ere, to vse of a custome, to practise by long custome to doo a thyng.
A tenero astufcar non reformidare homines, let hym practise euen from his chylde odoe not to be abashed of the company of men.
Astufcere bella animis, to practise theyr myndes in warre.
In hoc astufcar, let him enure hym selfe to this thyng: or let hym accustome hym selfe to this.
Astufcitur, the impersonall.
Astufior, the comparatiue of astufctus.
Astufudo, inis, wont of custome, long vse.
Astufctus, a, um, accustomed, enured, practised, or exercised by long continuance.
Astufctus labori asiduo, exercised in contynual labour.
Astula, a chyppe.
Astulam, et astulose, in facton of thyngle of clares. Also pierce meale in chippes.
Astulto, aui, are, to ren or leape upon one with great force or violence, to assaile one fiercely.
Astultum, leapingly, tumppngly.
Astultus, us, leaping on a thyng, assailling or setting on with hasty violence.
Astium, looks adium.
Astumo, pli, ere, to take, to receyue to, properlye it signifieth to take to muche on one, sometime to care.
Assumere aliquem in consilium, to consult or take counsaile with one, or to take a man to be his counsaillour.
Assumere in societatem, to take one to hym as a companion, to associate an other with hym, to make a panyng.
In exemplum operis aliquem sibi assumere, to choke or take one whome he will imitate in his woorkes.

A ANTE S.

Assumere, amonge orators, is whan they byng any thyng to declare the fynte propolition: whereby the minor in a syllogisme, is called assumptio.
Assumere sibi, to take to much upon hym, to attribute to muche to ones selfe.
Id onus inuinit assumpti, I toke that charge upon me agaynst my will.
Assumere semel die epulas, to make but one meale in a daie.
Assumere cibum et potionem, to receyue meate and drynke.
Assumptio, onis, a taking. Also the second preposition in a syllogisme.
Est in his aliquid dignum assumptione, there is in them some thyng worthy the taking.
Assumptus, a, um, that taketh any thyng to it.
Assumptus, a, um, taken.
Astuo, ul, ere, to sowe to, or pierce.
Astur, a ctee in Judea, buylded by hyng Salomon.
Asturgo, xi, ere, to ryle by, to ryle to an other better than ones selfe, to geue place, to grow upwarde.
Asturgere ex morbo, to wate whole, to recouere health, to fyrry by or walke whan one begynneth to amende.
An quisquam in curiam venienti asturrexit, Doo any man asple by or make reuerence to you, whan you came into the senate or counsaile house.
Asturgere in arborem, to grow to the heighe and greatnesse of a tree.
Asturgit vertex montis quinquaginta milibus passuum, The mountayne is from the foote to the toppes fifty myles.
Asturgit in septem vinas, it is risen in hergh the vii. aunes, or it is. vii. aunes hygh.
Tumor asturgit, the swelling aspleth.
Asturgit animus, the mynde of courage in a creature.
Asturgere dicitur orator, qui sublimiter loquitur.
Asturgi, the passue, or the impersonall.
Asturgit elementer et molliter collis, The hyl is not verye steepe, but easy to get by on.
Asturrectum est, and asturgitur, the impersonall.
Vi maioribus natu asturgatur, that men shuld ryle by and doo reuerence to theyr elders.
Astus, a, um, toled or rosted.
Astus sol, the burning and hote sonne.
Asta vox, looke asta.
Astria, a region in Asia, called nowe Syria, in englishe the Surry, whiche marcheth on the east upon Tyne, on the west vpon the north epier of Egipte, on the southe it hath the countreie Arabia, on the north the hylle Caucasus.

311

Astya

Assyrius, a, um, of Assyria.
Ait, but, sometimes than of truel.
Astra, a town in Spayne. also an olde towne in Arguria.
Astaboras, a ruere in Egypte.
Astaces, a ruere rennyng into Ponte.
Astaceni, people of India.
Astacus, a citee of Asia named of Astacus, the sonne of Neptunus and Olbia. Also a towne of Megaris, and a citee in Acarnania.
Astacus, a topstar of the sea, whiche in some thynges dooth vary from the cruaulle Locustas, for his eight hinder legges be greater and byder: he hath two teethe as a cruaulle, but the hoynes about them, be moxter and smelter. he hath also, fift other hoynes, lyke the other two, but they be moxter and lesse, ouce thein be his eien, whiche are very litle. The forhead ouer the eyes, Marp and rough, the bysse byder than of the cruaulle: All the body with in haupng moxe substance, and moxter. fower of his feet be forchd, and fower be clofe.
Asiapas, a ruere of Asia, by whiche the people Rhizophagi dwellen.
Ataphis, pludis, fcm. ge. a raiſon.
Ataphis agria, an herbe called of the Latins Herba pedicularis, and Pituitaria, of the apothecaries Staphis agria.
Astaroth, a name of hebeue, whiche signifieth epheſſe of ſtockes. Also makynge ſerche, of the mouth of the lawe. It was the name of an ydole, whiche the Jewes honoured. Also the name of a citee in Syria, whiche was geuen to the chyldren of Jerſon, of the typpred of Amalec. Also of a countreie, wherof mention is made Genesis. 14.
Astura, a goddeſſe of the Allypians, whiche after Licero, was the fourth Menus, that was married to Idonis, to whome Salomon, to please his concubine, raiſed an aulnar.
Astutur, an olde woide for Stauterunt.
Astutius, lre. ge. signifieth urbanitee, cluſſiſſe, it to a trope amonge grammarians of the lynde of Tromia.
Aster, a ſterre, also Platos ſervant.
Asteraticus, an herbe called also Bubonium, of Plinius lingualis, hath a ſtick ſhalke, on the toppe a flower purple of blew, diuided lyke to the floures of wylde camomyl, in faſcion lyke a ſterre. The leaues be longe and rough.
Astria, the name of the yles of Delos & Rhodes. also a pious ſtone, whiche hath in it a byghneſſe lyke the ball of the eye.
Asteriace, ces, for. ge. a certayne medicine.
Asturias, a lynde of hearens. I ſuppoſe it to be Agret.
Astericum, an herbe called also Helxine, Peradicum, Vrciolaris, Muralium, of Muralis, of the Apothecaries Parietaria, of Parataria, in engliſhe Wellſtoffe.

Astrie, was daughter to Ceus, and ſpouſe to Latona, on whome Jupiter in likeneſſe of an Egle, begate Hercules: He was touned into a quaple, and after into a ſtone.
Astrieon, a citee of Chetſalle, another of Suey. also a ruere of Aras, rennyng into the wood Nemra. It was also the ſonne of Comera, that folowed Jaſon into Colchos.
Astria, of Astria, an yle betwene Damus and Ythaca. It is also a citee in Spayne, and the name of Titans daughter, the ſpouſe of Latona.
Astrieus, a lytle mark in wyſtynge lyke a ſterre.
Astrieo, au, arc, to ſpreade, thowe downe, or ypoſtrate by any thyng.
Astria, an hill in the ſouth parte of Certe.
Astima, aris, a ſyckneſſe whan one can not ſeiche his wynde, but with muche diſſicultee, with weyng of the byſt, whiche hapneth by ſtreteſneſſe of the pyppes ſtopped with tough ſteame, or of ſome impoſtume growen in the pyppes.
Asthmaticus, he that dyaweth his wynde thow.
Astice, a countreie of Thace.
Astula, idem quod Aſtupalra.
Astigi, a citee of Spayne.
Astiochia, the mother of Cleptemus.
Astipulatio, onis, aſſent, ſometyne aſſurance, or auouchyng of any thyng.
Astipulator, onis, he that is of one accorde, or conſent with another.
Astipulatorus, us, idem quod aſtipulatio.
Astipulor, to leane to, to fauoure, to aſſente, or agree to.
Astuo, ui, ere, to place any thyng.
Asto, ſiti, arc, to ſtande by, to be preſent.
Astare amabo, Reſte you, or ſtande ſittz I praye you.
Asto aduocatus cuidam amico, I am aſſiſtent in a matter to a certayne friend of myne.
Astare mensis domini, to waite of geue attendance on his maſters table.
Astare contra alicui, to reſiſte, or withſtande a man. Astare in genua, to kneele.
Astomi, people of Indie, haupng no monthes, whiche lyue by ayre and the ſmelle of ſweete thynges.
Astrea, the daughter of Astrens and Aurora, or after ſome of Jupiter and Chemis, is taken for iuſtice, as the woide doothe ſignific. She deſcendynge the naught and vniuit liupng of men, flew to heauen, and was touned into the ſigne called Libra.
Astreaus, one of the ggyantes that rebilled agaynſt the goddis.
Astragali, partes of the bases of pillers.
Astragalizo, au, arc, to playe at dyce, or tables, cheſſe, or ſuche lyke game.
Astragalizontes, open dyces.

Astra

Astragalus, l, maſ. ge. the plate at dyce, tables, cheſſe, or ſuche lyke games.
Astragalus, called of ſomyn apothecaries Cicer montanum, an herbe with an hard ſhalke, bypyn in the leafe and byanche lyke unto Cicer, and hath a lital purple floure, a roote lyke to raddiſhe, and certayne thynges growyn to it, harde lyke to hoynes wounde together. It is commonly ſounde in ſompe groundes, where cometh abundance of wyndes.
Astrepo, u, ere, to make dinne of noyle.
Astrie, cloſe, ſtreitly.
Astrieo, onis, the noune verball, a Marpe diſcernenſe of taſte. also byndynge. Astrieupng.
Astrieorius, a, um, that is apte to aſſigne, or bynde, or to make ſtipithe.
Astrieus, a, um, bounde, or faſtned to.
Astrie voluptarius, bent of wholly gyuen to the maipnentance of pleaſure.
Astrie frons, a frownyng countenance.
Astrieus gultus, a rough, or Marpe ſalt, that ſtreigneth the tongue.
Astrie & contracta eloquentia,
Astrieus & deinctus, bounden & obliged.
Astrie, that beareth a ſterre.
Astringo, xi, ere, to ſorgne, or bynde together, to bynde, or oblige by couenant, or promiſſe.
Astringere & relaxare, contraria.
Astringere ſidem, to promiſſe faithfully.
Astringere ſe ſurti, to confeſſe that he hath doon felony.
Astringere lunc ad columnam fortiter, bynd this ſelowe faſt to the pillar, or poſte.
Aluum of ventrem astringere, to bynde the bealy, or make coſtue.
Astringi neceſſitate, to be conſtrained of neceſſitee.
Astringere homines beneficijs, to bynde men to vs with friendly pleaſures.
Astringere orationem numeris, to bynde, or proportionate a mans ſyle in ſpeakynge and wyſtynge, and reduce it to certayne meaſures.
Astringi ad temperanciam, to be bounde to a certayne temperance & moderation of liupng.
Astringere frontem, to bynde the browes, to frowne.
Astringere linguam mercede, to corrupt one with bypbes, to ſtoppe ones mouth with moneye.
Astringere aliquem conditione, to bynde one upon a certayne penaltie, or ſoyſature.
Astringi frigore, to be chylled, or ſtyffe of colde.
Astrios, onis, for. ge. a pious ſtone that groweth in India.
Astrites, re, for. ge. a ſtone lyke to a ſpithes etc.
Astrolabium, an aſtrolabe, or inſtrument of aſtronomie.
Astrologia, the ſpeculation of reaſonynge, as concernynge the celeſtiall, or heauenly motions.

Astrolagus, an aſtrolagen, he that ſubſecth the ſpeculation of aſtronomie.
Aſtronomia, the parte of aſtronomie that concerneth ſubſtallies and piaritie.
Aſtronomus, an aſtronomer.
Aſtrophe, one of the ſtarrs called Pleiades.
Aſtrum, a celeſtiall bodye, compaſſe of many ſterres, as a ſigne.
Aſtrum dominus, the ſunne.
Aſtra Lycania, the ſterre of ſigne called Vra ſa maior and Arctophylax.
Aſtruo, xi, ere, to builde, to ſorgne one houſe to another, to ſoyſiſſe, to aſſigne, to adde moxe to a thyng.
Aſtruere dignitati alterius, to augmente an other mans dignitee, or honour.
Aſtruitur ijs, to putte for moxeouer, or ſurethermoxe.
Quidam ex ijs quæ diſta non ſunt, ſibi ipſe aſtruit, he addeth to ſomewhat of his owne inuencion, that was not ſpoken.
Aſtruere auditis, to increaſe that one hath heard, to adde moxe to it.
Aſtu, underſtand, a citee in the countreie of Ethiops. also crafty, ſubtyll, with deceptie.
Aſtuo, ui, ere, to be aſſonſed, or amated at a thyng.
Aſtur, uris, a noune poſſeſſiue and ſignifieth of Aſtura: as, Aſtur homo, a man of Aſtura.
Aſtur equus, a Spaniſh horſe, called a genit.
Aſtura, a towne and ruere in Italy.
Aſturco, conis, a geldynge, or genet of Spayne.
Aſturia, a countreie in Spayne betwene Galicia and Portugal, whiche ſomtyme was famous for mynes of golde, and amblyng hares kept called Aſturcones.
Aſturica Augusta, a citee in Spayne called Aſtorga.
Aſturius, a, um, of Aſtura.
Aſtus, us, maſ. ge. craſte, or ſubſtitee.
Aſtus belli, poſſite of warre.
Aſtute, crafty, ſubtyll, wryple.
Aſtutia, craſte.
Aſtutia, ſubſtitee.
Aſtutus, a, um, ſubtyll, or craſte.
Aſtyages, the laſt kynge of Medes, father to Spandana, the mother of noble kynge Cyrus, who was 597. yeres befoze the inſtarnation, reigned. 35. yeres. a ſtallie was deposed by Cyrus. Another Aſtyages was by the Goy ſons heads of Perſus touned in to a marde ſtone.
Aſyalus, a Troiane ſlayne by Neoptolemus.
Aſyanax, actis, was ſonne of Phetoz, by Andio mache, whom after the wyppynge of Trois, the Greekes cruelly threwe downe from a toure, ſo that his bypbes cleaue to the walles.
Aſyrcia, the daughter of Colus.
Aſydamas, the name of two tragical poetes of Athens, the father and ſonne.
Aſya

A ANTE S.

Astynous, a Troiane slayne by Diomedes.
Astyochia, the daughter of Astor, which was rauyed by Mars.
Astypalea, an yle in the sea Regem. It is also a mountayne in Crete, an other by Athens.
Astypaleus, a um, of that yle.
Asuetinum, linnen thybe, whych male not be burned, toke Asuetinum.
Afydis, a kyng of Egypte.
Afyla, an herbe called also of the Latines, Ferus oculus.
Afyllas, the name of a soothesayer.
Afylli, sanctuarie men, they be also those sacred perfonce, on whome to late violens handes, was accounted a great offence.
Afyllia, the priuilege of sanctuarie.
Afylum, a sanctuarie.
Afyllus, an ymage, wherunto men were wonte to ranne for succour, as to a sanctuarie.
Afymbolus, he that cometh to a bankette with out appoyntment, an vnbounde gesse. also he that goeth free, and passeth nothing.
Afyndeton, or Afyncheron, a figure in spea-king of wytyng, whan wordes be not knytte and coupled together with coniunctions.

A ANTE T.

AT, a voyce, which signifieth in the wordes that folowe, wyth or indignation.
At eiam rogat: why dost thou aske? sometyme it signifieth yet.
Si non propinquatis, at xrtis sux, si non hominis, at humanitatis rationem haberet, although he had no consideration of hincd, yet woulde he haue had regards to his aegs.
And though he cared not for the persone, yet wuld he haue had respect to good humanitie.
Sometyme it signifieth Sed. Also At sometyme is put for Saltem, at the least waie.
Si non eodem die, at postredie, If not the same date, at the least was the next folowyn.
At ar, an interfection of todapn dyead, feare, or admiration.
At ar, nouiam ludum, Ah ha, I perceyue nowe the game.
At ar, eadem adest propinque, Oh, lo, she is here at hande.
Atubulus, a feruent wynde, which whan it bloweth in the colde of Naples, pntience in sueth immediately.
Atabyria, the ancient name of the Rhodes.
Atabyris, a verate hygh mountayn in Rhodes.
Ataceni, people of Arabia.
Atacini, people of Barbone in France.
Atagen, idem quod atagen.
Atalanta, a mard, daughter to Jasius a prince of Arcadia, who with dyuers noble men of Grece cam into Etolia, to sea the great boie, which destroyed that countre, the same boie

A ANTE T.

dyd she (with his owne hand) spyt Arphe and wound. But afterward he was slayn by the leger, sonne of the kyng of Etolia, who loued Atalanta, and toke hys to his wyfe, and hadde by hys sonne called Arthonoprus, whiche was slayn at the battayle of Thebes.
An other Atalanta, daughter of Ceneus, kyng of the yle called Pepus, contended in rennyng with them that came to wowe hys. And whan she had vanquished and put many to death (for that was the wager, or elles to haue hys) at last a noble yong man named Hippomane (whyles they were rennyng) thwys at sundry tymes thys appyll of golde from hym, in taking by wherof, she was taryed, and so ouer counne, Oubtus wyseth, that as they two medled together in the temple of Cybele, the goddesse haung thereat indignacion, transfourmed theym bothe into Lyons.

Atalancrus, a um, of Atalanta.
Atargata, called also Atergatus, a goddesse of the Syrians.
Atarna, a cite of Mytia in Asia.
Atarnes, the byother of kyng Darius.
Atar, looke at.
Ataus, i, maf. gen. my greatte grandfatheres grandfather.
Atax, a famouurter in Barbone. also one that inhabiteth about that ryuer.
Atechna, thynges vncunningly handled.
Atechnia, thyngsaunce, vnkyfulnesse, lacke of cunning.
Ategia, a boothe or place made by with trees or boughes.
Atella, looke Atella.
Ater, a um, black or darke, and by a metaphoye dyedfull, horrible. also deadly, forowfull, heuy.
Ater panis, byowne byade.
Atra bilis, melancoly.
Atra dies, a dismall date, a sojournfull or hea up date.
Atra nubes, darke cloudes.
Ater odor, a verate pte and naughty sauour.
Atra Tigris, a cruell tyger.
Atergatis, a goddesse of the Hydontens, called also Athara, Derceto, and Wagon.
Aternus, a ryuer in Italy.
Atefis, idem quod Athefis.
Atefte, a cite in the countre of Venecy.
Athacus, a byrd with foure legges, haung the longest behynde.
Athalia, daughter of the cursed quene Ysabel, and mother to kyng Arab. This woman be- yng also mischeuous, whan she herde that hys sonne Jehozias was slayn, and Joiam (with all his household) destroyed: she being inflamed with desyre to reigne, layng apart all womanly pte, determined to delecte vntill, all the posterite of Dauid. but thorough the goodnesse of god, Joas, the sonne of Jehozias, an infant, was bywaies to hys consorted awaie by Josabeb, his anne, and hys in the house of Josabeb the byshop, a there hepte. vi. yeres. And after that this cursed woman Athalia had reigned ouer Iherusalem. vii. yeres, Joas, whiche was supposed to be slayne, was by Josabeb made hyng, wherof she beeyng aduertised, and cryng to the people to sea Joas, was taken of the menne of warre, and shamefully byawen vnto the gate of the citee called Mularia, and there slayne. She was before the incarnation 900. yeres.

A ANTE T.

Athamas, antis, the sonne of Aeolus, father of Hyppus, and Helles, also a mountayne in Bythoria.

Athamanteus, a um, of Athamas.
Athamantis, idos, for. ge. Jno, or Leucothea.
Athanasius, was byshoppe of Alexandria, the pece of our lorde. 348. A man of a holy lyfe and great learning, who susteyned many and great persecutions of the Arians. For whi (in the countesse holden at Laodicea) he had confounded them with mozte puiuant argumentes: he stered almost all the world agaynst hym. wherfoze he fled. And. vi. yeres continually he abode hys in a dyecellere, where he neuer sawe the sonne nyne. Chan was he discouered by a mayden, and fled effones by the heale of god, and wandred aboute the world, not withstanding pynels, the people and hostes dyd continually persecute hym, so that he mought scarse fynde any place to abyde in. Also a common harlot was brought agaynst hym, which affirmed, that he had accompanied with hys. But he alwaye susteyning all thynges with a wonderfull patience, at last dyed, the yere of our lorde. 379.

Athanasios, i, com. ge. immoyall.
Athanasus, a man of meruacions strength and greatnesse of body.

Athara, looke Atergatis.
Athara, a certayne medicine, verate holsome for chyldern.

Athens, arum, the citee of Athens.
Athenxon, a famous peynter that learned of Glaucion of Corinth.
Atheneum, a place at Rome, where all sciens ces were redde.

Athenus, a learned philosopher in the tyme of Augustus, boyn at Seleucia in Cilicia. An other was a grammarian vnder M. Antonius, whiche wyte a boke de Dipsnosophia.
Athenodorus, a philosopher, whiche left with Octavian the emperour this lesson, whan he toke his leaue of hym. Noble pynce, whan you be worthe, neither lase nor do any thyng, vntill you haue perused the. xliiii. greke letters, and remembred the othe of thyre plas-

A ANTE T.

tes, where they stande, that the pallion of yre, by withstanding your mynde to an other thyng, male languidie and vayne the waie.
Athenopolis, a towne of the Passians.
Atheos, thei, maf. ge. he that belieueth there is no god, a miscreant, an infidell.
Atheroma, a littell poultice in the necke, or vnder the aemes.

Athefinus, a ryuer rennyng out of the lake Apenninum, and falling into Jher.
Athefis, a ryuer in the countre of Venecia, rennyng by the citee of Trent, and thowough Verona, and so passeth into the sea Adriatick.
Athleta, x, maf. ge. a great wrestlar, or a great conner at common games.

Athletica, x, for. ge. the craftes of wrestlyng or rennyng.

Athletice, strongly, lustyly, in good pte.

Athleticus, a um, pteyng to a wrestlar.
Athleticus vicus, stronge feeding.

Athlochari, people of Sephia in Asia.

Athlothea, x, maf. ge. the iudge in games of wrestlyng or rennyng, the master of the game that geueth the rewardes to the wyppers.

Athos, or Athon, an hyl in Thjace, of a wonderfull height.

Athraciars, the arte of magike.

Athrax, the father of Hippodamia, also a ryuer of Etolia, and a citee in Thessalia.

Atina, a town of the Lucans in Italy, the people wherof be called Atinates.

Atinia, x, a hynde of elme tree.

Auxoes, a precious stone shynyn like the floure. iii. fengens bygges, in forme like a chytte, and hath a pleasant sauour.

Atlantes, Jhoones dwellynge aboute the hylle Atlas.

Atlanteus, and Atlanticus, a um, of Atlas.

Atlantides, the. vii. daughters of Atlas. also certayne sterres.

Atlantis, an ylande. v. dales caplyn from the hyl Atlas, after whiche it is named.

Atlas, amis, of this name were thye. One kyng of Italy, and father of Electra. An other of Arcadia, father of Maf. The chyld of Manritania, called the greatest, the byother of Prometheus, who as the grekes suppose, dyd spyt fynde out the code of the sterres, by an excellent imagination. wherfoze the poetes feigned, that he susteyned the firmament with his shoulders. It is supposed he was aboute 1599. yeres afore the incarnation. It is also the name of an hyl in Barbaria, hygh & small, whiche perceeth the clowdes. Atlas is also a great ryuer in the noythe parts of the world, rennyng into Jher.

Atlantis nepos, Mercurius.

Atlaniades, idem.

Atlius, a knot or a topete of the backe bone.

Amepos, pois, maf. ge. the fifth of limall be-cent

A ANTE T.

scant from me, o myp newewes newew.

Amepus, ris, se. ge. myp nece nece.

Atocion, vel atocum, n. g. a medicine, wherby the conception and birth of chylderne is presented and leited.

Atocius, a certayne spyder, whiche is heapy.

Atomus, mi. f. g. a thyng so smalle, that it can not bee divided or made smaller, also Atomus, be motes in the sonne.

Atossa, the daughter of kyng Xerxes.

Atq, and, and also, and yet, and that, but, as, such as, as it were, as though, than, some tyme for Statim.

Locus est atq; oprobam, the place is such as I wyll shew.

Illisunt alio ingenio, atq; tu, They bee of another maner of wyse than thou arte.

Non Apollinis magis verum atq; hoc responsum est, Apollonius answer was neuer truce than this is.

Atq; eecum, but so where he is.

Atq; audin? but herest thou?

Atque vides? doest thou not see?

Alter atq; Secus atq; otherwyse than.

Mihi quidem hercle non sit verisimile, atq; ipse commentum plicet, In good soothe it seemeth not to me to be true, and yet the diuise is feigned tale pleasech them well.

Atq; adeo, and that, and also, and furthermore, and moreover, and that more is.

Efano hercle, atq; adeo nunchaud parum si no, I am hunger, and that more is, I am a thyng not a littell.

Atq; to used in the begynnynge of sentenres, as Atq; ut onatium Gratiam.

Atq; ego quite confirmo, ipse me non possum, but which do comfort and strengthen you.

Atq; for isq; idemq;.

In vnum atq; augustum locū, into one place, and that same being stricte and narrowe.

Atq; hoc confiteor iure mihi obligat, And certes I graunt, it hath woorthily chaunced vnto me.

Negotium magnum est navigare, atque id meum Quintili, It is a great busines to take the sea, and especially in the month of Iuly.

Atq; aliquis dicat, but some man wyll saye to me.

Atq; edepol, and in very dede.

Atq; ita, and so, some tyme, and on that consideration, and for that intent.

Atq; vero, but.

Pro eo atque si nullo iure factum esset, As though, or such as though it had been doon by no right or lawe.

Ad eandem modum atque, curaw, or after the same facton as.

Contra atque ante, contrary wyse to that it was before.

A ANTE T.

Similiter atque, lyke as.

Aequae atque, euen alphe, euen as muche as, Item atque, Pariter atque, Iuxta atque, lyke as, as well as.

Talis atque, sache as.

Atque atque, doubled, addeth a vehemency.

Atqui, a conjunction discretive, but, but yet, pea but, certes, all be it, surely.

Atqui illi tergerit digito vno, oculi illico effodiuntur, Surely yt he touche her with one fpynger, his eyes shalbe by and by plucked out of his head. Some tyme for Imo.

Atque eares multo maxime disunxit flum ab illa, pea but that thyng most of all plucked his mynde from hir.

Atqui, some tyme aboundeth.

Atropa, a measure of the Bitches, conteynynge v. modios Romanos, of englyshe measure, a bushell, a portell, a pynte, and. iiii. ounces.

Atromaticke, blache garments.

Attractus, a, um, the adiective of atrax.

Attractio, arte magice.

Attractilis, lidas, an herbe called also Cnicus sylvestris. Of it be two kyndes: the one very rough and full of pyches, whiche the apothecaries calle Carduus benedictus. The other not so rough nor pyched: and is named also Cartamus sylvestris, Fulus agrestis, and Colus rustica, because women used to make spynndles of the stemmes therof: in englyshe (after some) wyde fastion.

Atramentarium, an pntichorne.

Atramentum, pntic, blache that shoemakers doore occupp.

Atramentum, people of Arabia felix.

Atrani, people of Italy, mentioned of Plato.

Atrax, a, um, blacked or smudged, also a woman that goeth in blacke.

Atrax, acis, a ruler of Ethiopia, wherof a certain people are called Atraces.

Atrebares, a people of a countrey in France, called Artops.

Atreus, the sonne of Pelops and Hippodamia, kyng of Mycene, founde by the eclipse of the sunne: And because his brother Cheltes had spen with his wyfe, he slew his sayd brothers chylderne: and being rolled, made his brother eate theiur, who knowynge it, and asking therfoze vengeance, had answer made by the god Apollo, that yf he dydde carnally knowe his owne daughter Pelopia, he shuld on hir get a sonne, which shuld reuenge hym.

So begate he Egisthus, who afterward slue his vnkle Atreus, and in the tyme his eldest sonne Agamemnon, after he returned from the battayle of Troie. This was before the incarnation. 1258. yeres.

Atreus, a, um, the adiective of Atreus.

Atria, a town in the countrey of Venetie, wher of the sea Adriaticum was named.

Atrias

A ANTE T.

Attrarius, a, um, that belongeth to the porche of halle.

Attricapilla, a byde with blacke fethers on the crowne of his head.

Attricus, ci, mal. ge. a poster that kepeth a gate, of an hushher of the halle.

Attrix, in the plural numb; Agamemnon and Menelaus.

Attrides, x, patronymicum, of Atreus.

Attrienis, is, m. g. a chiefe seruant, a poster, of an hushher of the halle.

Attrifer, a rugge that beareth a blache seede.

Attrium, a diminutive of atrium.

Attriplex, an herbe called of the grekes Attrasxis, and Chrisolachanon: Of the frenche-men Arrhoches: of the Germaines Molten, in englyshe Wyche of arage. Of it be two kyndes, one wyde, an other of the garbeyne.

Attriplexum, i, n. g. idem.

Attritas, is, f. g. blackenesse.

Atrium, a porch or postal before a house, where in olde tyme men used to dine and suppe. And therfoze it is some tyme taken for an hall. Some tyme for an inner court.

Atrocitas, crueltie, fiercenesse, outrageousnesse.

Atrociter, cruelly, fierly, outrageously.

Atropatus, a capitayne of the Medes, after whome a parte of that countrey was called Atropatia.

Atrophia, thynges that are not nourished with the foode that they take.

Atrophia, x, an affecte of discaisse, wherin the body can not be nourished with any thynges that it receiveth, but consumeth with leannes.

Atrophus, i, mal. g. he that hath that affect.

Atropos, one of the fatal lappes, whiche is feigned to breake the threde of lyfe. It is some tyme put for necessitee of deathe.

Atrox, oris, mal. g. blackenesse.

Atrox, ocis, com. ge. cruel, fier, outrageous, without pitye, sower in countenance, terrible.

Atrox iniuria, a cruel or mercurious displeasur full displeasure.

Atrox et vehemens orationis genus: Cui lenes et mansuetum opponitur.

Atroces literæ, terrible letters.

Atrox tempus, a cruelous and an pwell season, whan muche crueltie is practised.

Atrocia exa, rawe bowelles, horrible to behold.

Atrox animus, a stoute stomache, that feareth no perill or daunger.

Atrox tempestas, a mercurious great storme.

Atta, a porte, also a citee in Arabia felice.

Attaceo, uere, to holde ones peace, or kepe silence with other.

Attactus, a, um, touched softly.

Attactus, us, an easy softe touchynge.

Attacum, a towne of Spayne.

Attax, be they, whiche thyngh some desente in

A ANTE T.

theyr legges or feete, seeme rather to drawe theyr feete softly touchynge the grounde, than to walke.

Attagen, enis, m. g. and Attagena, x, for ge. a byde, whiche is founde in Thonia, and is verate delicate, and hath fethers of sundrye coloures, and beinge at large, is alwaie spynnyng and chattering, but beinge ones taken, he maketh no noise, nor seemeth to haue any voyce. They are deceyved that take hym for a woodcocke.

Attalia, a citee of Pamphilia.

Attalus, a tyng in the lesse Asia, mercuriouslye, of whom all magnifike and rarely thynges are called Attalica.

Attalica vestis, a garment of clothe of golde.

Attamen, o, Attamen, but yet.

Attamino, aui, are, to soule or desple.

Attex, arum, the herbes cotages.

Attigrare, bled of olde wyters for integrare, or augere.

Atticus philologus, a learned man, verate famous for tyll with Salust, & after with Pollio.

Attelabus, bi, the smallest sorte of the flies, called Locustæ, and haue no wynges.

Attella, or Atella, a towne in Italy, where was a great and famous theatre.

Attellanus, a, um, and Attellianus, of Attella, some tyme mocking and mery.

Attellana fabula, were comedies or enterludes, whiche were onely in festes, and merye scoffes and bourdynge.

Attēperate, in season, agreeably with the thyng, temperately.

Attēperato, aui, are, to make feete or agreeable.

Attēdo, di, ere, to take hede, to consider, to intend, to bee attentiu, to geue good care to a thyng.

Attēdere aliquem, or aliquid, to bee attentiu to a thyng or person.

Attēdit iuri, he gaue his studye, or applicd hym to the lawe.

Attēdere rei alicui, to apply any thyng.

Attēdit eximium, marke ye well, or consider ye the ende.

Attēdo te studiose, I harten to you diligently, or I take good hede what you saye.

Attēdere animum, to take hede, to geue care, to marke, to consider.

Attēdere xquo animo, to harken patiently and with an indifferēt mynde.

Attēte, intently, with a fixed mynde.

Attēno, onis, attentuenesse, of xpyng of the mynde.

Attēto, aui, are, to assaie, to ppose, to assaie, or sit vpon by discrege, or otherwyse.

Attētare classē, to geue the onferte, to assaie a nauy of shippes.

Attētare yrbem, to assaie by pollicie of forces howe to wyng a towne.

Attens

A ANTE T.

Attentare pudicitiam puellae, to endeavour to seduce a mayden to naughtynesse, or to castice or prouoke a mayden to lewdnesse.
Attentare fidem alicuius, to go about to corrupte a mans fidelitee, or to make a manne doo vntrewly.
Attentare aliquem bello, to make warre vpon one.
Precibus attentare aliquem, to intreat a mā.
Attentus, a, um, attentius, diligent, he that is fixed on a thyng, somtyme a couetous person.
Attentus ad rem, careful to gette goodes.
Attenta vita, a diligent and scrutable lyfe.
Attenuare, sceleris, subtilly, synely.
Attenuatio, ois, a dimynishyng.
Attenuatus, a, um, appropinquatus, weakened, diminished, also slender, thynne.
Attenuatus victus, a sobye dyete.
Attenuatum dicendi genus, a slender, plain, or easy style, that floweth not in eloquence.
Attenuo, auis, are, to dimynish or make lesse, slenderer of thyng, to appaie or make weaker.
Attenuare curas, to dimynish the care of pensynesse.
Attenuare opes, to consume of wast treasure.
Attento, mat, ere, to rubbe agaynst a thyng, to wrate, to wast or consume, to bycate in pecces.
Attetere famam, Post vbi eorum tamam atque pudorem attriuerat, maiora alia impetrabat, latter that he had made them consume their good name and honestie, he see theym in hande with other greater attemptares.
Attetere gladium cori, to make sharpe a sword with a whetstone.
Attetere aures alieni, by a metaphore, is to anore one with babbling.
Attetians, anis, one that witnesseth.
Attetatus, a, um, witness, proued by witness.
Attetor, tus, sum, ari, to call to witness, some tyme for Tessor, to witness.
Attexo, ui, ere, to adde to, to toygne to, and as it were to weare to a thyng.
Atthis, was daughter of Eraneus, whome (some suppose) to geue the first name to the countrey called Attica.
Atica, a countrey in Grece, wherein stood the famous citie of Athens, the noyce of al scicces.
Attice, an aduerbe signifiying, in the eloquence of spech of Athens.
Attilus, a felle in the ryuer Do, whiche by his sluggishnesse groweth so great, that he poyseth 1000. ponde weight.
Atting, a woode spoken to auient men for recuerence, As we saie father.
Attingo, auis, are, to speake curiously lyke a mā of Athens.
Atticus, a, um, of Athens.
Attingo, idem quod attingo.
Attinguis, by or ngyh toygnyng to.

A ANTE T.

Atilla, looke Atilla.
Attilius Regulus, a noble consull of Rome, in the first warres of Carthage, vanquished the enemyes the Carthaginenses. At last he was taken by a sleight, and being bounden was sente to Rome, that for hym they myght exchange a great number of prisoners of the people. But at his comyng, he spoyled the Romaynes, that they shoulde not make such exchange, considering his age and debilitye. And so with a gladde will he retourned to his countrey, knowing that he shoulde be cruelly put to deathe. So much he loved he his countrey, wherfore at his retoune, the Carthaginenses caused his eyppodes to be cutte off, that he myght neuer sleepe, and than to be put in an holow tree being stiched full of nailes, the poyntes inwarde, where he continued tyll he died.
Attingo, ui, ere, somtyme idem quod teneo, to holde. somtyme for Retineo, to hold backe.
Ni proximi prelium dextram attinuerunt, I had not they whiche were nexte hym taken and holden his hande.
Ni Stertinius accurrens attinisset, If Stertinius runnyng to hym, had not holden backe or lered hym.
Attineri publica custodia, to be kepte in the gaole of comon prison.
Attinet, it belongeth, it is conuenient, it apperteyneth, it belongeth, it concerneth.
Quid attinet ad nos scire, what perteyneth it to vs to knowe it; or what haue we to doo to knowe it?
Attinet ad vitum colendam, it belongeth to the husbanding of vines.
Nihil ad me attinet, it perteyneth nothyng to me, or I passe not, I care not.
Iam ne vis me dicere quoad te attinet, now write thou that I speake that whiche is to thy profit, or that concerneth or toucheth the.
Comperiba nihil ad Pamphilum quicquam attinere, I perceyued nothyng at all that Pamphilus had there to doo.
Attinet hoc ad me, this thyng toucheth me.
Quid ituc ad me attinet, what haue I to doo with that.
Quod ad me attinet, nec arguo, as for my parte, or as for me, I doo not accuse nor excuse theim.
Quod ad argentum attinet, as concernyng the money.
Quid attinet, what annoyeth it?
Attingo, uigi, ere, to touche almost, to touche softly, to mention or handle a matter by itself, to meddle a littell with a thyng.
Attingit me sanguine, he is of my blood.
Attingere senectam, to come to age.
Attingere partes naturae, to come to the knowledge of naturall causes.

Attilio

A ANTE T.

Attingere studia, to sauours of letters.
Nihil ad rem attingit, it belongeth nothyng to the matter, or it maketh nothyng to the purpose.
Attingit hoc res, this matter toucheth the.
Inquisitio veri maxime humanam naturam attingit, searchyng of the truthe moost of all perteyneth or belongeth to mans nature, or cometh nearest to it.
Legis nomen nihil attingit, they be nothyng worthy the name of lawes: or nothyng mete to be called lawes.
Attingere aliquem summa necessitudine, to be of great familiaritee with one.
Ne suspicione quidem attingere possum, I can not coniecte, disuine, or suspecte what it shoulde be.
Attingere aliquem suspicione, to make one suspected.
Attingere aliquem infamia, to defame a mā.
Perpauci erant, quos ea infamia attingerat, There were veray fewe, whom that infamy toucheth, or that were so misreposed of.
In transitu attingere, to touche or mention a thyng by itselfe in other communication.
Attingere res gestas veribus, to wyte an history in verses.
Attingere oram aliquam, siue regionem, to voyde vpon or forgoe nere to an othre countrey.
Hora circiter diei quarta Britanniam attingit, the arreyued in Englands aboute fower of the clocke.
Si qua te attingit cura, if you bee any thyng careful.
Nostri principes digito se caelum putant attingere, Our prynces thynke theym selues to be euen as it wer goddes, prouerbially spoke.
Attingere aliquem, to name one, to make mention of any persone.
Attingere aliquod genus vitæ extremis digitis, to haue assayed or tasted a lytell any kynde of lyfe.
Primoribus labris aliquid attingere, to haue a smacke or lictell vnderstandyng of any thyng.
Attingi dolore, to bee attached with sorowe or heauynesse.
Attingi inuidia, to be hated or envied.
Attis, looke Atthis. It is somtyme taken for a ngyhtyngale.
Attollo, tolli, ere, to auance, to lyfte vp, to take awate.
Attollere signa, to displate ensignes, banderdes and banners in the fildes.
Attollere parum, to nouryssh or byng by a chylde, from his byrthe.
Attollere oculos, to looke vp, to raise vpp the eyes.
Attollere quempiam in caeli, or in sydera, to magnifie or praysse a man excedyngly.
Attollere se a graui casu, to ryste vp after a great fall.

A ANTE T.

Attollunt se uenae, the beynes swell and wast greates.
Attolluntur colles alti, the hilles be of a great heighe, or the hilles rse into a great heighe.
Attollitur Arcadia in montes septuaginta sex, Arcadia hath 76. high mountaynes.
Arcem attollere testis, a poeticall phrase, to wynde, Attollere humeris, to beare vpon ones shouldeys.
Attolle pallium, take vp thy mantell or cloke.
Attondeo, di, ere, to clyp or share a thyng nigh, to shewde.
Attondere arbores, to shewde trees.
Attondere auro, to ryde one of his money, to take all awate from hym.
Attornire, bawshfully.
Antonius, a, um, astoned, amased, or abashed.
Antonitis oculis videre aliquid, to stande staring on a thyng as one astoned.
Antonitus nouitate rei, astonished or abashed with the nouelte of the thyng.
Attorno, ui, are, to make astonished, amased, or abashed, a woide seldom used.
Attonusus, a, um, thyns of clypped, polled, shewde.
Attosca laus, laude or praisse diminished.
Attosum caput, a polled heade.
Attractio, ois, a drawyng or pullyng to.
Attractus, a, um, drawen or pulled to.
Attractylis, looke Attractylis.
Attraho, xi, ere, to draw or pull to, to byng to.
Attrahere et Allicere.
Attrahere aliquem ad aliquod negotium, to induce or byng a man to doo a thyng.
Attrahere et reddere animam, to byath, to byath in and out.
Attrahere et accersere malum, to seke and be occasion of ones owne myschefe.
Attrahere in se ferrum, magnes lapis dicitur Attrahere ad se aliquem, to make one come to hym.
Attrebates, looke Attrebates.
Attrectatus, us, a feelyng of touchyng.
Attrecto, ui, are, to feele, to handell or touche often.
Attrectare uxorem alterius, to meple with an othre mans wyfe.
Attremo, ui, ere, to tremble or shake.
Attribuo, bui, ere, to attribute, to impute, to put vpon one by blaming or accusyng, to assigne, to committe, somtyme to geue.
Attribuere causam calamitatis alicui, to impute or laye the blame of his calamities or mysferte vpon any man.
Attribuere & ascribere.
Timor quem mihi natura pudorq; meus attribuit, The feare which my nature and bashfulness hath geuen me.
Attribuere crimen aut culpam.
Attribuere alicui equum, to geue or bestow an horse to a man.

Video

A ANTE T.

Video cui Apulia sit attributa, I se to whom the countrey of Puell is assigned or appointed. Attribueretur tunc locum alicui in re aliqua, in the commendation of men for any sente, to geue one the thysde pryse, or to pryse one shydely. Attribueretur negotium alteri, to committe the charge of a matter to any man. Attributio, onis, the assignacion of deliuerance of money. Attributus, a, um, attributed, deliuered or assigned. Attributa pecunia, money deliuered to be geuen to an other man. At deliuered to any officer, to bestowe in the common assizes, as was to the gouernours of prouinces amonge the Romanes. Attributa atq; descripta, assigned and appointed out. Attributus, ius, rubbing of wearpng, washing of fraying together. Attributus calciamenorum, the wearpng of shoes with muche goyng. Attributus, a, um, rubbed, woyn, washed, consumed. Attributa vestis, a garment woyn out. Attributa anis, an handell wanted with muche handling. Attributa bellis Aethiopia, Ethiope wanted and well nere destroyed with warres. Attributa, parte of the countrey of Media. Attributa, the pterperfect tense of Afero. Attributa, of some called Athyla, a valiant prince, whiche came out of Septhia: And after he had subdued Pannonia, he entred into Italy, and destroyed the citee Aquila, and came towards Rome. wherof the emperour Valentinianus being afeard, sent vnto hym Leo the byshop of Rome, with the consules and certayne senators, who submited them selues vnto hym. And when his hoste supposed, that he woulde haue had them in contempt, and haue continued his tourneye to destroye Rome: he pardoning thei, departed: wher at all men were ailed. But he, beinge demanded, why he had so doone, answered, that whyles the byshop and senators spake vnto hym, he behelde standing on epyer hande of hym, a man of armes of excellent personage, euer of them holding a naked swerde ouer hym, manacynge to slea hym, if he spake any further wordes, or did make any further attempte. wherfore he discharged the Romanes with gentill language, perswadinge his hoste to holde them contente. Afterwarde he entred into Germani, washinge the countrey, and in his retourne towards Hungary, he married a wyfe. In whiche marriage he so excellently fylled hym selfe with meates and wyne, that thereby he fell into a geare bledynge, and so dyed. He was after the incarna-

A ANTE V.

cion, 4. or. peres. And at the begynnyng called hym selfe, the scourge of god: Atacut, the towne of Antwerp in Brabant. Atura, a towne of Aquitaine. Aturius, a ryuer in Fraunce, called vulgarly, le Don. Atypus, pi, one that is to tongue tyed. Atys, a chyld of wonderfull beantes, beloved of Cybele, the mother of goddes, and was touned into a pyne tree. It was also a kyng of Lydia, descendng lyneally from Hercules, and Diophane. Also a ryuer of Sicilie. A ANTE V. A V, an intersection, vied of women beinge soe abused or abused. And after Akinere, an intersection of syllables. Auanti, a people of Fraunce. Auare, couetously, nably, nably. Auare et acerbe imperare, to rule with craction and tyranny. Auaricum, Elitron in Berrey in the royaume of Fraunce. Auariter, idem quod Auare. Auaritia, x, and Auarities, cf. sc. g. auarite, couetousnesse, inordinate desyre of money. Ardere auaritia, to be creabyng couetous. Auaritia gloria, immoderate desyre of honoyr and dignitee. Auarus, a, um, couetous, auaricious, desirous, greedy of money. Auare adulationes, for Auarorum adulationes, the flatterynge of epye men. Cedis auarus miles, a cruell souldiour, desirous of myrth. Intruis auarus, the insatiate desyre to be holde a thynge. Auarus laudis, desirous of pryse. Auiceps, cupis, com. ge. a fouler of byrde. Auiceps syllabarum, he that watcheth at euery syllable to take a man in a trippie, a capacious felowe. Ne quis nostro auiceps sermoni fiet, Lette there be any that watche what we saie. Auceta, vied of olde wyters for Saue auceta. Aucetarium, looke Aucetarium. Aucificus, a, um, that maketh or increaseth. Auctio, onis, an increase, or an open sale of puate goodes. Auctio regia, sale of the kynges goodes. Auctionem facere, and auctionem proponere, to sette his goodes to sale. Auctionem vendere, the offyce of the ryper in suche common sales. Auctio hact. post sale of the goodes of men, that be accinted of treasons or felonys. But more pproply of men and goodes taken in warre, and solde by the chiefe captaynes. Auctionarius, a, um, of or ptepyng to porte sale sale, of the sales man. Auctionarie tabula, sauemotes, wherewith the goodes to be solde are written. Auctionor, atus sum, ari, to sell household stuffe by post sale. Auctor, ius, g. auctor. Auctio, auctare, the frequentatiue of aucto. Auctiare pecunias fauore, to increase money by usury. Aucto, auctare, to gayne, to wyne, to augment or multiply. Auctolycus, a theefe that transfourmed hym selfe into byures shappes. Auctonus, the sonne of Apollo and Cyrene. Auctor, oris, or auctrix, he of she that augmenteth or increaseth. Auctoratus, i, a seruant that is solde open. Auctuarium, ouer measure of weight, surplage in numbre. Auctus, a, um, increased, auanced. Auctus leticia, more topfull of gladdes. Auctus pecunia, made rycher. Auctor aggritudo, more pynfull syknesse. Auctus filio, he is rycher than he was, for he hath a sonne boyne. Auctus damno, he hath yet more harme. Auctus honoribus, he is auanced to honoyr and dignitee. Auctus praeda, he is made ryche with robberyng and pyllyng. Auctus re fortunisy, he is verate substaunce all and ryche. Auctus, ius, increase, augmentation. Auctus dierum, the increase of the daies. Acula, a towne in Thyrane, called Aquapendens. Aucupatio, onis, f. g. bypyng: and after Budeus, in his booke de arte, cometyne gaigne, aduantage. Aucupator, ius, bypyng. Aucupatorius, a, um, ptepyng to byrde. Aucupia, bypdes taken of the fouler. Aucupium, i, n. g. bypyng of fouling. Aucupium sagittarum, shootyng at byrdes. Aucupium delectationis, desyre of delectatid. Aucupium auribus facere, to harken what is tolde. Aucupo, atus sum, pari, and aucupo, to go a bypyng, fouling, or hauyng. Also is signifieth to searche by crafty meanes, and to watche by. Aucupare sermonem alicuius, to harken or take heede what one saith. Aucupari tempus, to shy a tyme. Aucupari sibi famam obreclationis alienae sciendae, to endeuyr to get a name by the displaying of an other mans countreyng. Gratiam alicuius aucupari assentatione, to endeuyr to gette ones fauour by a flatterynge tale.

A ANTE T.

A ANTE T.

Aucupari rumusculos imperitorum hominum, to go aboute to get pryse of idlers or vnlearned persons. Aucupari tranquillitatem, to watche or spy for a calm thetether, or till the wynd beate. Aucupari verba, quum vim verborum, to search the pproperties of wordes, or what they signify. Aucupari vilitatem, to hunt for profite. Audacter, et audacter, boldly, aduenturously. Audacter et libere loqui, to speake boldly without feare. Audaculus, hardye, spoken in derision of contempte. Audacia, foolhardynesse, courage, trude, confidence in ones selfe. Expertus audacie homo, a man that is tried to be bolde and hardie. Titubans audacia, halfe full boldnesse. Audax, acis, bolde and hardy, or trustyng well in hym selfe, a raffe felowe. Audax facinus, a bolde enterpryse. Audens, hardye. Audentia, hardynesse. Audeo, sus sum, ere, to presume rashly. Audere longius, to aduenture further. Capitalia auli pleriq; the more part of them haue not beene asfayde to commit most deadly offences, or shamefull crimes. Maiora viribus audere, to aduenture more than one is able to achyue. Pugnam auli sunt, They hadde not to fight with them, or to encountre with them in battayle. Audientia, x, audience, reposte. Audientiam facere, to commaunde and make silence, as they dooe, whiche are cretes in places of iustice. Audio, iui, ire, to here, to consyder, to pecture, to graunte that whiche is afked, to dooe the thynge that is commaunded: also to agree, to obey, but moste commonly with a negation. Audire bene, to be well repoyted of, to haue a good name. Audire male, to be ill repoyted of, to haue an ill name. Audiri tu? Hact thou nor? Audire Platonem, to be Platos dysciple. Audias, pro audire poteris, thou mayst here. Audientis dicto, rebo to doo that he is commaunded, at commaundement, obedient. Audiri, to be belened. Audiri, for vbi audieris. Audite breuiter, audite paucis, here is few wordes. Quid ex longinquo in malis audiebantur, whiche a farr off seemed to speake that theyd them, to be a greater myrth. Audiri laudem, to be heard farther. Audiri dicere, I herde one reposte. Audire aliquid de re aliqua, to geue audien-

A ANTE T.

Video cui Apulia sit attributa, I se to whom the countrey of Puell is assigned or appointed. Attribueretur locum alicui in re aliqua, in the commendacion of men for any feate, to geue one the thyde pryse, or to pryse one thyde.

Attribuere negotium alicui, to committe the charge of a matter to any man.

Attributio, onis, the assignacion of deliuerance of money.

Attributus, a, um, attributed, deliuered or assigned.

Attributa pecunia, money deliuered to be geuen to an other man. Attributus, a, um, deliuered to any officer, to bestowe in the common assayes, as was to the gouernours of prouinces amonge the Romaynes.

Attributa ardy descripta, assigned and appointed out.

Attitus, tus, rubbing of wearyng, wasping or treating together.

Attitus calciamen orum, the wearyng of shoes with muche goyng.

Attitus, a, um, rubbed, woyn, wasted, consumed.

Attita vestis, a garment woyn out.

Attita ania, an handell wasted with muche handling.

Attita bellis Aethiopia, Ethiopia wasted and well nere destroyed with warres.

Attropaula, parte of the countrey of Media.

Attuli, the preterperfect tense of Attiro.

Atyia, of some called Athyla, a valiant pynce, wherhe came out of Serphia: And after he had subdued Pannonia, he entred into Italy, and destroyed the citie Aquileia, and came towards Rome. wherof the emperour Valentinianus heyrng aserde, sent vnto hym Leo the byshop of Rome, with the consules and certayne senators, who submitted them selues vnto hym. And whan his hostes supposed, that he woulde haue had them in contempt, and haue continued his iourneys to destroy Rome: he pardonyng them, departed: wher at all men meruailed. But he, beyng demanded, why he had so doone, answered, that whyles the byshop and senators spake vnto hym, he behelde standing on epyther hande of hym, a man of armes of excellent personage, euery of them holding a naked sword ouer hym, manacynge to slea hym, if he spake any wylfyrng word, or did make any further attemptate. wherfore he discharged the Romaynes with gentill language, perswadyng his hostes to holde them contente. Afterwarde he entred into Germany, waspinge the countrey, and in his retourne towards Hungary, he married a wyfe. In whiche marriage he to exceedingly spyled hym selfe with meates and wyne, that thereby he fell into a geare blesyng, and so dyed. He was after the incarnat-

A ANTE V.

tion. 4. or peeres. And at the begynnyng called hym selfe, the scourge of god.

Atuacut, the towne of Anaweris in Babylonia.

Atura, a towne of Aquitaine.

Aturius, a ryuer in Fraunce, called vulgarly, Le Don.

Atypus, pi, one that is to tongue tryed.

Ayys, a thyde of wonderfull beantes, beloued of Cybele, the mother of goddes, and was couered into a pyne tree. It was also a thyng of Lydia, descendyng lyneally from Hercules, and Amphalar. Also a ryuer of Sicillie.

A ANTE V.

AV, an intersection, vsed of women beynge soe abashed or amased. And after Avacore, an intersection of spleene.

Auantici, a people of fraunce.

Auare, couetously, nashly, niggardly.

Auare et acerbe imperare, to rule with crueltie and tyranny.

Auaricum, Viceroy in Berry in the royaume of Fraunce.

Auariter, idem quod Auare.

Auaritia, a, and Auarities, cf. g. auarice, couetousnesse, inordinate desyre of money.

Ardere auaritia, to be exceeding couetous.

Auaritia glorie, immoderate desyre of honoyr and dignitee.

Auarus, a, um, couetous, auaricious, desirous, greedy of monie.

Auara adulationes, for Auarorum adulationes, the flatterynge of epye men.

Cædis auarus miles, a cruell fouldour, desirous of murder.

Intuitus auarus, the vnfaciate desyre to be holde a thyng.

Auarus laudis, desirous of pryse.

Auceps, cupis, com. ge. a fouler or byrder.

Auceps syllabarum, he that watcheth at euery syllable to take a man in a tripple, a capacious felowe.

Ne quis nostro auceps sermoni fiet, Lette there be any that watche what we saie.

Aucera, vsed of olde wyters for Saçe aucta.

Auctarium, looke Auctuarium.

Auctificus, a, um, that maketh or increaseth.

Auctio, onis, an increase, or an open sale of pryuate goodes.

Auctio regia, sale of the kynges goodes.

Auctionem facere, and auctionem proponere, to sette his goodes to sale.

Auctionem vendere, the office of the cryer in suche common sales.

Auctio hactæ, post sale of the goodes of men, that be atteined of treason or felonye.

But more propriety of men and goodes taken in warre, and solde by the chiefe captaynes.

Auctionarius, a, um, of or ptepyng to porte sale

A ANTE T.

sale, or the sales man.

Auctionaria tabular, auentouses, whereth the goodes to be solde are wystred.

Auctionor, atus sum, ari, to sell household stuffe by post sale.

Auctior, tius, greater.

Auctior, auiare, the frequentatiue of auctio.

Auctitare pecunias facere, to increase monie by vsury.

Aucto, auiare, to gayne, to wyne, to augment or multiplie.

Auctolycus, a theefe that transoumed hym selfe into dyuers happes.

Auctonus, the sonne of Epso and Cyrene.

Auctor, oris, or auctrix, he or she that augmenteth or increaseth.

Auctoratus, ti, a seruant that is solde openly.

Auctuarium, ouer measure of weight, surplage in numbre.

Auctus, a, um, increased, augmented.

Auctus læticia, moze topfull of gladdes.

Auctus pecunia, made ryche.

Auctor ægritudo, moze pynfull synnesse.

Auctus filio, he is ryche than he was, for he hath a sonne boyne.

Auctus damno, he hath yet moze harme.

Auctus honoribus, he is auanced to honoyr and dignitee.

Auctus præda, he is made ryche with robberyng and pyllyng.

Auctus refortunisq, he is verie substantie all and epeche.

Auctus, us, increase, augmentation.

Auctus dierum, the increase of the daies.

Aucula, a towne in Thuscane, called Aquapendens.

Aucupatio, onis, f. g. bypyng: and aser deus, in his booke de alle, comestyme gayne, aduantage.

Aucupator, ipse twynges.

Aucupatorius, a, um, ptepyng to bydyng.

Aucupia, bypdes taken of the fouler.

Aucupium, ti, n. g. bypyng or foulyng.

Aucupium sagittarum, moopyng at bypdes.

Aucupium delectationis, doctre of delectaciō.

Aucupium auribus facere, to hearken what is tolde.

Aucupor, atus sum, pari, and aucupo, to go a bypyng, foulyng, or haukyng. Also is signified to seache by crafty meanes, and to watche toye.

Aucupare sermonem alicuius, to hearken of saies hee what one saith.

Aucupari tempus, to stye a tyme.

Aucupari sibi famam obreclatione alienæ sciencie, to endeavour to get a name by the distylling of an other mans counsayng.

Gratiam alicuius aucupari assentationcula, to endeavour to gette ones fauour by a flatterynge tale.

A ANTE T.

Aucupari rumosculos imperitorum hominum, to go aboute to get pryse of thoses, or vnusurres psones.

Aucupari tranquillitatem, to watche or tarye for a calme weather, or still the wynd betide.

Aucupari verba, aut vim verborum, to seche the proprietes of wordes, or what they signifye.

Aucupari vilitatem, to hunt for pryse.

Audacter, et audaciter, boldly, aduenturously.

Audacter et libere loqui, to speake bolde without feare.

Audaculus, hardye, spoken in derision of contempt.

Audacia, foolhardynesse, courage, crasse confidence in ones selfe.

Expertæ audaciæ homo, a man that is tried to be bolde and hardie.

Titubans audacia, bashfull boldnesse.

Audax, acis, bolde and hardy, or trustyng well in hym selfe, a rather felowe.

Audax facinus, a bolde enterprise.

Audens, hardye.

Audentia, hardynesse.

Audeo, sus sum, etc, to ptesame easily.

Audere longius, to aduenture further.

Capitalia ausi pleriq, the moze part of them haue not beene asfayde to commit most deadly offences, or shameful crimes.

Maiores viribus audere, to aduenture moze than one is able to attaine.

Pugnam ausi sunt, They dydde not to fight with them, or to encountre with them in battayle.

Audentia, a, audience, reposte.

Audentiam facere, to commaunde and make silence, as they dooe, whiche ar cryers in places of iustice.

Audio, iure, to here, to consyder, to percerue, to graunte that whiche is asked, to dooe the thyng that is commaunded, also to agree, to obeye, but moze commonly with a negation.

Audire bene, to be well reposted of, to haue a good name.

Audire male, to be ill reposted of, to haue an ill name.

Audin tu? Hæret thou not?

Audire Platonem, to be Platons discipyle.

Audias, pro audire poteris, thou mayst here.

Audientis dicto, re: to doo that he is commaunded, at commaundement, obediēt.

Audiri, to be delatyd.

Audiri, for vbi audieris.

Audite breuiter, audite paucis, here is few wordes.

Quæ ex longinquo in malis audiebantur, whiche a farre off seemed to heare that herde them, to be a greater numbre.

Audiri laus, to be highlye fauoured.

Audiri dicere, I herde one saye.

Audire alterum de re aliqua, to geue audi-

A ANTE V.

ente to another man, or to here what one will say in any matter.
Audire a patre, ex patre, et patre, and de pa-tre, I heard it reported of my father.
De plautia hac audire, he hath heard some speaking of this laughing woman.
Hoc te ex alijs audire malo, As for this, I had liefer that ye shoulde here it of other men.
Audire de capite alicuius, to heere in examination of a matter concerning life & death.
Preces meas audierunt, They heard and granted my petition.
Audire admonentem, to obeye one that both advertiseth vs of any thing.
Audio ironice, for non audio.
Audio, sometime for consentio, I consent, I agree.
Audiendus non est, he is not to be beleued,
or he ought not to be obeyed.
Nec Homerum audio, Repther I agree to Homer, or I beleue not Homer.
Sifabulas audire velimus, If we will beleue fables.
Nunquam labere, si te audies, you shall neuer doe amisse, if you will follow your owne counsaile, or doo as you thinke best your selfe.
Si me audies, if you will follow my counsell, if you will doo as I will haue you, if ye will be ruled after me.
Minus commodum audire, to haue a shewde
name, to be puffed reported of.
Audibo, used of olde wyters for audiam.
Audire nihil noui, there is no newes heard of Audire, onis, hearing, or audience.
Auditione accipere, to here by reposte.
Ne leuissimam quidem auditionem de ea re accepti, I heard not one woode spoken of that matter.
Fabularum auditione ducuntur, They take great pleasure in hearing of tales.
Auditiuncula, a diminutive of Audire.
Auditiuncula asperum esse, to heare a lgttell talking of a matter.
Auditor, oris, masculin. g. one that heareth. also a disciple or scholar.
Auditorium, i. n. g. a place where men dooe here lessons or propofitions, an auditorye. som-tyme the whole audience. sometime a common place, where iudges sytte to decide matters.
Audium, ti, report.
Audio nunciare, to telle by here safe.
Nihil prater audium habeo, I safe but as I heere other reposte.
Audire, a, um, herde.
Reus ex vtriusque parte audita, the matter he-ring heard of examyned for both parties: or whan they had bothe tolde theyr tales.
Audio, absolutely, whan it was herde.
Audius, us, m. g. hearing, one of the v. wyters.
Audire intelligi, to be persegued by hearing.

A ANTE V.

Audiuit, for sape audui, a woide out of hys.
Aue, bee thou gladd of ioyfull, as the vulgare people saye, kisse you merr.
Aue te iubet, he greeteth you well.
Aueho, xi, ere, to cary frome one place to another, to carie awaie.
Auella, or Auellinum, a towne of Campayne in Italy.
Auellana, a silberde nutte.
Auello, ulsi, ere, to plucke awaie by violence.
Auellere se a meretrice, to withdraue hym, to leue of forsake the company of an harlot.
Auellere & abstrahere, to plucke and draue
awaie by violence.
Auenia, a, f. g. otes. sometime it is put for ote strawe, or a wheate strawe, or reede, or a pyre made of an oten strawe.
Auenaceus, a, um, made of otes.
Auenarius, a, um, being among otes, or of otes.
Auenaria cicada, a kynde of grasshopper,
whiche appere not till come be pyre.
Auentinus, an hyll at Rome.
Auentinus, a, um, of that hyll.
Aueniurum colonia, or Auenio, Ruston, a citie in Fouaunce.
Auco, ere, to couerte.
Auerni, people of the countreys in France, called Auergne.
Auernus, i. m. g. and in the plural numbre A-uernarum, orum, n. g. a lake in Campayne, wher che was dedicate vnto Iulius kyng of helle, wher men supposed to bee an entre of pasa-ge to helle.
Auernus, a, um, and Auernalis, le, of Auernus, somtyme of helle.
Auerrois, a great philosopher, and phisition, ennemy to Aulcen, and also to Chrys. And for his great commentes written vpon Aristotle, he is named Commentator. He was about the yere of our lorde. 1145.
Auerrunco, au, are, to tourne awaie, to put awaie, to scrape of, to cut of, as men cut vines.
Auerruncare deum iram, to pacifie goddis wrathe.
Auerruncus deus, God whyche putteth awaie all yuell.
Auerfatio, onis, an hatyng, abhoryng, or refusing of a thyng, disdaine.
Auerfio, onis, a tourneyng awaie, a stealyng awaie, looke Aduerfio.
Auerfor, atus sum, ari, to abhoyre, to refuse.
Auerfari aliquem, to deteste and abhoyre one, that for hate he tourneeth his face from hym. Auerfari preces alicuius, to be agaynst a mans desyre.
Auerfor, oris, he that tourneeth a thyng frome
one vnto another.
Auerfus, a, um, draunge, vnto quarried, some-tyme backewarde, or on the backe halfe, contrary to Aduerfus. Also angry, wrath, full,

A ANTE V.

full, agaynst, so that he will not looke on one.
Aduerfus, & Auerfus, forwarde and backe-warde.
Auerfa pars, the backespyde of a thyng.
Auerfa pecunia publica, the common treasure tournd to a particular aduantage.
Auerfus post crura plantis, the feete tournd backewarde.
In auerfa charta scribere, to wyte in rough paper that stoppeth the penne. Also to wyte on the backespyde of an indenture of such lyke wytyng, to endosse.
Auerfus a proposito, tournd from his purpose. Auerfus a vero, contrary to the truth, agaynst the truth.
Auerfus a suis, contrary to, or refusinge his frendes mynbes.
Auerfus a multis, he that hateth or despyseth learning.
Auerfus a venerijs amoribus, he that deliteth not in, or despyseth wanton loue.
Amicos auerfos componere, to set frendes at one, that were at variance.
Auerfio diu a salute populi Romani, the god-dis be displeased with, or regard not the welth of the Romayne.
Auerfissimus animus, a mynde greatly displeased and bent agaynst a man.
Auerfa, a, f. g. the prestell of an hoise, or after some, it is that, whereunto the rayne of the hypple is fastned.
Auerfo, si, ere, to tourne awaie, to conene fro,
to disdaine.
Auertere ab aliquo loco, to trat or prohibite
one to enter into a place.
Auertere se ab aliquo, to leaue hym there, to come awaie from one.
Auertere hostes, to dygwe awaie enemies.
Auertere se a sermone, to toune away from the tale, to disdaine to here ones conuinccion. Auertere culpam in alterum, to lay the blame of faute in another.
Auertere hereditatem, to put one frome his inheritaunce.
Auertere flumen, to tourne the ryuer out of his course.
Quod omen diu avertant, God kepe vs from that lucke of chaunce.
Vt auerteret rem a suspitione, that he might make the matter not to be suspected, or that he myght byng the matter out of suspition.
Auertere se ab amicis alicuius, to forsake ones amities or frendshipp.
Auertere se in mercaturam, to geue hym selfe to practyse the feate of marchandise.
Auerit regem in cogitationem belli, he tour-ned the kyng frome all other thynges, and set hym in mynde to make warre.
Auertere pestem, to pfectus or kepe frome
the pestilence.

A ANTE V.

Auertere aliquem a infamia, to kepe one frome unpurpose of shame.
Auertere ab oculis, to conuert one of ones eye sight.
Auertere crimina se, to purthe faute awaie from hym selfe.
Auertere animum a aliquo, to forsake one,
to alienate his mynde from hym. Somtyme not to thynke on one, nor consyder who he is.
Auertere cogitationem, not to regard or consyder any moze.
Auertere oculos omnium in se, to make all men to loke from other, and beholde hym only.
Auertere in fugam, to put to flight.
Auertere rem aliquam, by violence to take awaie a thyng, to robbe.
Auertere pecuniam publicam, vnto selfe to vste the commune treasure to his owne aduantage.
Auertere sensus magicis artibus, to enchaun
by witchcraft.
Auerfo, abfusi, auferre, to take awaie, to ea-re awaie. Somtyme to steale, to beare away by stealth, to obteyne a mans requeste, to haue that he despyed or feared, to reade of leas of.
Auerre caput alicui, to styke of ones head.
Auerre formam, to disfigure.
Auerre nomen alicui, to take frome one his good name.
Auer te hinc, gette the hense.
Auer te domum, gette the home.
Aueras iurgium, leaue the chydnyng.
Auerent dies quindecim hi ludi, those playes will last by these xv. daies.
Auer nugas, leaue these trifles, leaue your moches.
Auerre licem, to get by action or pprocess of
the lawe.
Maiore multa multat, quam licem auferre, he maketh them to spende moze than they make wyne by theyr suite.
Auerre perditionem, to haue the thyng that he asketh.
Tuo arbitratu, dum auferam ab te id quod peto, Euen as ye will, so that I may haue
the thyng that I aske of you.
Auerre pignora, to take a distress of gage.
Suspendas potius me, quam tacita hanc au-feras, Thou make rather hangge me, thanne make me hope these thynges secretly.
Auerre inultum, to geue hys withoute punishment.
Ego precium ob multam fero, sed inuoltum id nunquam auferet, I am well rewarded for my footpasse, but he shall not ge-tate, or he shall not scape unpunished.
Auerit sibi, to be vexed in mynde, or frome
hym selfe.

Quand

Quantivoles auferes, ye shall have it at your owne price.

Auferre e conspicuū, to take oʒ conuſeigh out of ſight.

Auferre opem ab aliquo, to obteyne arde oʒ ſuccoure of one.

Auferri inter manus, to be boyn out betwene men, whan one can not go hym ſelfe.

Auferre pecuniam de arario, to ſeale money out of the commune treaſury.

Auferre aliquid domum, to cary home that, that one hath ſtollen.

Auferre ab aliquo id quod petimus, to obteyne of one that, whyche we deſyre.

Auferre auditum, to make one deafe.

Auferre vitam, to kille.

Auferre fatidium, to take awat tothſomnes.

Haud ſic auferent, they ſhall not eſcape ſo.

Auferre lacrimas, to caſſe weeping.

Auferre laudem, aut gloriam ex aliqua re, to gette pryſe oʒ honour for any thyng.

Auferre menſam, to take up the table.

Obliuio illud abſtulit, that is forgotten.

Auferre premium, to haue a rewarde.

Auferre reſponſum ab aliquo, to haue an anſwere of one.

Auferre ſonnum, to leat one that he canne not ſleepe.

Auferre ſpem, to put out of all hope.

Medios auferunt in hoſtes, he ruſhed into the myddes of his enemies.

Ne autem tunc aliorum conſilia, leat not oʒ ther mennes counſaile tourne thy mynde: oʒ, take hebe pou be not ſeduced oʒ miſled by oʒ ther mennes counſaile.

Auidena, a towne of Italy.

Auidus, a mans name.

Auidus, a ſpue in the countrey of Naples in Italye.

Auidio, gi, ere, to flee awate, to eſchue.

Auidere aſpectum alicuius, to ſee oute of ones ſight.

Auga, the ſiſter of Telephus, who with his ſon was caſte into the ſea, and preſerued by the prouidence of Pallas.

Auga, a citie of Locris, an other in Laconi.

Augas, a kyng of the people called Elic, ſlain by Hercules, alſo a comitall poete of Athens.

Augeo, xi, ere, to increaſe, to augment.

Augere & ampliare, to augment and make greater.

Augere animos, to make more couragious, alſo to take a tuſty herte oʒ courage.

Augere dignitatem et nomen alicuius, to increaſe ones honour and renoume.

Augere diuins, to make prycher.

Augere linguam latinam, to encrepche the latine tongue.

Augere ciuitatem procreatione liberorum, by generation to make the citie more populo.

Augere verbis munus, to ſet ſoythe, oʒ comende a pryſent with wordes.

Augere ſuſpitionem alicuius rei, to make a thyng more ſuſpected.

Augere ſpem, to put one in greater hope.

Augere induſtriam alicuius, to geue one courage to doo better and better, to make one more diligent.

Augere et ornare aliquem, to auaunce one to ryches and honour.

Rem augere laudando, with prayſynge to make a thyng more than it is.

Augere auxilia, to make a newe hoſte aſſe a diſcomſture.

Augere, xi, ſere, to wake great, oʒ to be gerat, to bee growen, to be increſed, to wake bigger.

Quotidie augere de ſilio xgriudo, the ſow towe and heaupenſſe for my ſonne increaſeth daily more and more.

Augere incrementis, to bee increaſed, oʒ wake more.

Augere ſcunt corpora, Augere ſcunt vix.

Augas, the ſonne of Phobas, oʒ after ſome of Nicteus, oʒ Epochus, out of his eyes appered as it were ſonne beames. Wher aſſirme, that this Augas was kyng of Epire, oʒ Elidenes, and that Eurſteus cauſed Hercules to make cleane his ſtable, wherein was an huge heape of dounge.

Auguſco, for Augeo.

Augmen, iſis, n. g. idem quod Augtus, tur.

Perfectu corporis augmen, the full growthe of the body. Augmine donare, to increaſe.

Augmentatio, onis, an increaſe oʒ augmentaciō.

Augmento, auiare, to increaſe oʒ make more.

Augur, uris, co. g. he that telleth by byrdes voyces, oʒ by theyr flying oʒ ſpepyng, what ſhall happen. And it is ſometimes uſed for other ſoothſayers.

Auguraculum, is taken for a towne oʒ caſtelle, wherein the Augures vſed to diuine of matiers.

Augurale, n. g. idem quod Lituus.

Auguralis, le, perſpepyng to diuination, looks Augurum.

Augurales canæ, idem quod Adijciales.

Auguratio, onis, diuination by byrdes, ſpepyng oʒ conſperryng of a thyng to come.

Augurato, alowed by diuination of the augures.

Auguratus, ius, the dignitee of them, whiche were Augures, of whō was a college in Rome as be now of pryſtes in cathedrall churches.

Auguratus, a, um, the participle.

Augurium, diuination oʒ tellpyng befoʒe of thynges, which ſhall happen, eſpecially by the flight oʒ voyces of byrdes. It is alſo taken for Oraculū.

Auguror, aris, ari, to tel by ſuch craft what ſhall happen, to diuine, coert, oʒ ſurmiſſe what will folowe. Aſtute augura, conſect oʒ diuine ſubtilly. Augurare & diuinare.

Auguro, auiare, idem quod Auguror.

Augus

Augurari conſectura, to conſect, to gather by conſectura, to gather by ſignes and tokens. Sed quid de illo augurer, non liber dicere. But I will not ſate what I conſect, oʒ what my mynde geueth me, that he will doo. here after.

Augurari futura, to ſurmiſſe oʒ conſect thynges that will folowe.

Auguror opinione, I ſuppoſe in myn opynion, oʒ my mynde geueth me.

Augusta Caſaria, a citie in Spayne, vpon the ryuer of Iberus.

Augusta Emerita, a citie in Portugal.

Augusta Taurinorum, Turine.

Augusta Truerorum, the citie of Treuer, oʒ Treues.

Augusta Rauricum, a citie in Almayne called Baſſe, oʒ Baſilæ.

Augusta Vindellicorum, a goodly and beautifull citie in Germany called Auſbourg.

Augusta Veſonum, Doſſon in Champayne.

Augusta Gemellā, a citie in Spayne.

Augusta, the ſurname of byrdes emprieſſes of Rome.

Augustalis, iſis, n. g. the kynges paſſion oʒ tent.

Augustalis, le, imperiall.

Augustales, were the cheſe capptaynes of the ſoyward.

Auguste, nobly, with a maieſtee, magnificent, le, holdy.

Augustinus, the noble and famous doctore of Chriſtis church, boyn in Africke, in a towne called Gaſthenſis, was of ſuche an excellent witte, that in his chyldehod he learned all the vniuerſall ſciences without an inſtructor.

And was wonderfull learned, eſpecially in the doctrine of Plato. wherby he was the rather indured to embrace the chriſten ſaphe. Not withſtandpyng he fauoured the erroours of the Manichees. but by the conſtinuall pryer of his good mother Monica, and the perſuaſion of ſapner Ambroſe, he was at the laſt conuerſed to the true faith. Wher bothe reſpectyng with the holy goſpe, vnd ſpue together, the pſalms Te deum, anſweyng mutually the one to the other. Afterwarde in pryer, wyſpyng, and praychpyng, he ſo muche proſſed, that he was had in great reuerence of all me, and wrote mo bookes than euer vnd any in the church of the latines. He lyued .76. yeres, and was byrth .70. yeres, and dyed in the yere of our lorde .437.

Augustodunum, the citie of Buſſon in France.

Augustonemetum, Reims in France.

Augustorium, the citie of Boitrees.

Augustus, a, um, conſecrated and eſtabliſhed by the Augures, noble, copall, imperiall, full of maieſtee. wherfore Octavianus was ſpyle ſo called, and after hym all the emperours of Rome were and yet bee called Auguſti.

Augustus, is alſo the moneth next after July.

Aula, orum, places that can not be paſſed by.

Aula, a grandame.

Aulæ veteres, olde footyng dooing women.

Aula, an herbe mentioned of Columella.

Aula, oʒ rather Liula, a citie in Spayne, called Villalon.

Aularium, a thycke wood without waſe. alſo a place wher byrdes bee kepte and noursed.

Aula, ſometimes byrdes ſet for byrdes to haue and ſette in.

Aularius, & aularia, he oʒ ſhe that haue the charge of the hatching of pulley oʒ worldſoule.

It maye alſo be vſed for a pulter that ſellery poultre.

Auicenna, oʒ Abicena, a famous phyſician, whom ſome ſuppoſe to be of a citie in Spayne called Hiſpalis, oʒ Seville. ſome name hym prince of Abaalim. ſome ſate he was kyng of Bidhynia. he was excellently learned, and wrote in the Arabike tongue many noble woꝝ.

heſ of phyloſophy naturall and metaphyſike. He compprehended phyſike in ſyue volumes, wherein he callith hym ſelfe the interpreter of Galene: all be it men exactly learned in the greke tongue, wyte that he ſarled in his interpretation, not truly declaring Galenes ſentence in all places. yet ſene his ſpue till with in theſe ſoyr yeres, oʒ lytell more, men (partlye for lacke of vnderſtandpyng the Greke tongue, partlye becauſe the workes of Galene were euyl tranſlated into latine, alſo not ſuſteynpyng the ſlowpyng copie of Galene, and thynkyng this man more compendious) haue ſwored his workes rather than Galenes: wherby the cure of ſykenesſe hath been founde more vnſcertayne. Fewer the leſſe there be, his workes muche notable knowledge, not to bee omitted of them that woulde aſpyre to the perfection of phyſike. He was aboute the yere of our lorde .1151. And was (as ſome ſuppoſe) poiſoned by Euerrois, whom he ſleue befoʒe he died.

Auicula, a littell byrde.

Auicularius, idem quod Auarius.

Auide, affectuouſly, couetouſly, ardently, with great deſyre, greedy.

Auidius, a mannes name in Roſace, wherhe was epyche, and yet a veray pygards.

Auiditas, aui, deſyre of a thyng, couetouſneſſe, ardent affection, greedyneſſe.

Infinita auiditas gloriæ, vnſatiate deſyre of gloꝝe.

Auidus, a, um, couetous, deſpyous, greedy.

Auidus cibi, hungry.

Auidis moribus, of an excedpyng couetous appetite. Auidus gloriæ, deſpyous, of honour.

Aliquantum ad rem auidior, ſomewhat couetous.

Auidus interſiciendi alicuius, deſpyous to kyll one.

A ANTE V.

Animus appetens & audius, a greedy and covetous mynde.

Audis deus, Pluto.

Audis videndi, desirous to see.

Parandi diuitias audius, desirous to gette rychesse.

Aula, a lambe lately kyled.

Auis, is, f. g. a byrde.

✚ Auis alba, a white byrde. A proverbe aspyed to a thyng either fortunat or luche, or else felosome and rare.

Bonis aubus, with good luche, fortunatly.

Aduersa aui, vnfortunatly.

Auis solis, the byrde called Phenis.

Auitus, a, um, that whiche is left by auncestres.

Auicene, of long tyme of continuance.

Auitus ager, olde inheritance.

Auitus, a, um, whereby there is no passage or way somtyme out of the wale, without reason.

Auia virgulta, bushes to thyche, that no man maye passe through.

Auius errat animus, the mynde wandereth.

Aula, an halle. somtyme the palace or court of a prince. It was also of olde wyters used for Olla, a pott. Aulai, for Aulæ, the gentiue case.

Aulæ, Aquilines of waistes.

Aulæ, orum, n. g. most commonly used plurally but Aulzum, is somtymes redde in the singular number. And Aulæ, f. g. of the priuies ere not, Capestre, hangynge of noble mens houses.

Auleri, people of a citee in Normandy, called Aulane.

Auleri, people of Aulrance in France.

Aulæ, is, m. g. he that playeth on the flute, a piper.

Aulæus, a, um, pertaining to a piper, or player on a flute.

Aulæus, tidos, f. g. a woman piper.

Auli, a bynde of West fish, like vnto muskles.

Aulcomus, a, um, boyled or sodden in a pott.

Aulcus, i, m. g. a counter.

Aulcus, a, um, of the courte, as, Aulcus apparatus, courtly preparation, or piousness, but moste properly of priuies.

Aulis, is, or lida, a littell countrey or isle in Bæotia in Grece. It was also a greete citee and hauen, where the priuies of Grece assembled together, and conspyed the destruction of Treie.

Aulocrene, nes, a countrey, wherein was the plane tree, on whiche Phædra, begone dauides quard of Apollo, was hanged.

Aula dus, i, m. g. a singer, a player on the flute, a mynstrell.

Aulon, the name of a mountayne and citee in Calabita, where groweth excellent good wyne. Also of other citees, the one in Macedonia, the other in Cilicia.

A ANTE V.

Aulula, a litlett pott, whereof cometh Aulularia, a comedie in Plautus, wherein is declared the covetous mynde of one, whiche had his money in a pott, thynnyng that no man knewe it but hym selfe, and yet was deceyued of it.

Aulus, a name used among the Romayne.

Auo, or Auus, a ruler in the higher payne.

Auocamentum, pastyme, recreation, that with draweth the mynde from heynesse or melancholie.

Auocatio, onis, f. g. a withdrawing or calling awaye from anyng.

Auoco, aui, are, to call awaye, to distract, to alienate, to plucke awaye, and withdrowe one from any thyng.

Auocare animum, to withdrowe the mynde from a thyng.

Auocare et deterere.

Auocare, & allicere, are contrary.

Auocare se a corpore, to withdrowe ones selfe from the cogitations of bodily thynges.

Auocare a vitis, to plucke and withdrowe men from lechery.

Auocare concionem, to lette or forbide any assemble to be made.

Auolo, aui, are, to flee awaye, to hyghawaye quethelp.

Aura, is, f. g. gen. somtyme betokeneth a softe mynde. somtyme byghynesse, somtyme favour of the people. somtyme wynde simply, also aye.

Aura ætherea vessel, to spue.

Auras vitales carere, idem.

Aurum capere, to have good hope.

Auræ popularis homo, a man that seeketh fauour of the people.

Auræ diuinæ particula, a place used for the soule.

Attollere se in auras, to aduance it selfe alofte into the aye.

Scindere auras, to cut the aye.

Rapida velocius aura, more swifte than the sayeng wynde.

Aura auri, the shynnyng byghynesse of golde.

Mollior aura, better fortune.

Aura humoris, a smalle rumour.

Auras, and Aurai, in the gentiue for Auræ.

Auramentum, gyltynge. Also some it thoughte seme to be an instrument used to dygge up or pourge golde.

Auraria, a golde myne.

Aurarij, gylters. somtyme it signifieth magistrates.

Aurarius, a, um, of or pertaining to money.

Aurarium negotium, a money matter.

Aurarius faber, a gilder, or a golde smith.

Auras, a great reuer falling into Jlyster.

Aurara, a sphe of the sea, whiche I suppose to be a gylte head, for he hath in his foylead a thyng

A ANTE V.

thyng congelate, whiche in the water shyneth like golde. He hath also a sette of teethe like checke teethe, wherewith he hath bene bred of fythers in the mynde to craue cockles and such like shell fythes, wheron he feedeth.

Auratura, gyltynge.

Auratus, a, um, gylted.

Aurea, is, the head stall of an hoste.

Aureax, a faster.

Aurelia, a familie in Rome.

Aureolus, a, um, pelowe, somewhat like golde.

Aureolus, a diminutive of Aureus.

Aureus, a piece of golde in money.

Aureus, a, um, of golde. And is used by a metaphor, for shynnyng, beautiful, goodly, rich, precious.

Aurichalcum, latten metall.

Auricomus, a, um, he that hath hearse as peawise as golde.

Auricula, is, f. g. the eare lappe.

✚ Auricula infima mollior, more soft & pliant than the lower parte of the eare. A proverbe spoken of a mynde and genyll persone, not thyng stubborne or frowarde.

Auricularis, re, idem quod Auricularius.

Auricularis confessio, confession made secretly as priuies doo here it.

Auricularius, a secretarie or priuie counsellour.

Auricularius, a, um, pertaining to the eares.

Aurifer, a, um, that beareth golde.

Aurifex, is, m. g. a golde smith, or a golde fener.

Aurificina, is, f. g. a golde smithes shoppe.

Aurifodina, a golde myne.

Aurifur, uris, com. gen. a theefe that stealeth golde.

Auriga, is, com. ge. a dyuer of a carte, a carrier, a wayne man, a chariot man. somtyme it is used for an hostekeeper. somtyme for a maspyner. It is also a signe in the firmament vpon the hoines of the bull, assigned to be one cleere sterre. In the bande of Auriga, be. it. sterres called Hædi, whose rising and going downe doeth oftentimes cause great tempestes.

Aurigarius, idem quod Auriga.

Aurigatio, onis, f. g. the bypnyng or gyltynge of a carte or chariot.

Auriger, idem quod Aurifer.

Aurigda, a citee of Egipte, called Zodra.

Auriginosus, is, he that saithke of the foundle.

Aurigo, aui, are, idem quod Aurigor.

Aurigo, ginis, a shies called the pelow lande.

Aurigor, aus, um, ari, to dyue a carte, or some like thyng, also to gouerne.

Aurilegus, after Calpeine, he that stealeth gold.

Auripigmentum, in grecke Arsenicum, a tolike like golde. in englyshe Aspyne.

Auris, an eare.

Aurem vellere, to put in remembrance.

Aurem in vitramis dormire, to slepe soundly,

A ANTE V.

to take no thought or care for any thyng.

Aures silentes, eares desirous to heare.

Aures arrigere, to lyfte vp the eares, to heare attentively, to harken.

Aures callent illius criminibus, myne eares glowe or bourn with often hearynge of his mischeuous actes.

Aures hebetes habet, he is dull in hearynge, or he listeth not to heare.

Auribus accipere, to heare.

Auribus capere spolia, to harken and heare awaye secrettes, or secretes countayles.

Auribus dare, to flatter, to speake that whiche shall content a mans eare.

Auribus exquisitis alcius vti, to be veratly fauourably heard of one.

Auribus prouchi, to be caried by the eares. It is properly used, where we bynge in touchyng with one, deipre to muche in his communicacion, that we fele no laboure or pain by goyng or bydyng.

✚ Auribus prouchi, Auribus prouchi himur, in hearyng of hym, our pernes are recleued, or in hearyng hym talke, our tourney semeth short, or is abbreviate.

✚ Auribus lupum tenere, to holde a wolfe by the eares, A proverbe, whiche dooth signifie, to be in two sundry daungers, & knowe not what is best to be dooen.

Obferat auribus fundere preces, to make increases to one that will not here, to praye a deafe man.

Rimosa auris, an eare that wyle heyre no counsaile.

Accidit auribus, or ad aures, It came to his hearyng, or it came to his eare.

Accommodare aures, or dare aures alicui, to geue an eare, to harken to one.

Ad aurem admonere, to warne one in his eares.

Auribus surdis canere, to thyl a tale to a deafe man.

Aures claudere veritati, to stoppe ones eares agaynst the truth.

Inuare aures cantu, to deipre the eares with syngyng.

Ad aurem gannire, to chat or make babbyngs by one.

Aures obstruere, to stoppe the eares.

Aures assessoribus patefacere, to harken, to geue an eare to flatterers.

Aures patere querelis omnium, he is ready to heare every mans complaynt.

Aures peregrinatur, when we be ignorant, and knowe not that that every man speaketh.

Peruenire ad aures, to be hearde.

Auriscalpium, an eare pricker.

Auritus, a, um, great eare, or he that harketh neth diligently.

Auro, aui, are, to gylte, or to make to gylte of any like golde.

Aurora, the maynyng or rising of the son. at the postes, the daughter of Titan and Terra.

Aurum, ri, n. g. golde: sometyme money. Some tyme ornaments of abillimentes of noble women.

Aurum obrizum, fynyed golde.
Aurum coronarium, was golde gathered of the people to make crownes to sende to emperours after theyr victories.

Aurum Tolosanum habere, A pioushe, whiche had this begynnynge, when Quintus Lepio, toke by assaile the cite of Tolosa in Italy: there was founde in the temples great plenty of golde, whiche beyng taken awate, all that had any parte therof dyed miserably. wherof happened this pioushe, when any man synned his lyfe in mysferte, men woulde saie, that he had golde of Tolosa.

Aurum & argentum factum, golde and syluer made redy to occupie.

Aurum ccelatum, golde ingraued.

Aurum fusile, golde melted.

Gemmarum aurum, golde sette with pprecious stones.

Effingere in auro, to make, engraued, of counterfaste in golde.

Aurunca, a cite builded by Auson.

Aurunci, an auncient people of Italy.

Ausa, a cite of Spayne.

Auscapeda, an heape of manye fete, that byderth on leaues of trees and herbes.

Ausi, people of the cite Aux, in Cypre.

Ausculari, bled of olde wytters for Osculari.

Auscultatio, onis, an hearkenynge, an hearynge, also an obeyng.

Auscultator, oris, he that hearkeneth of hereth.

Ausculro, aui, are, to heare diligently, to geue good care, to hearken. Also to obeie.

Ausculabitur, the impersonall, he wyl dooe as he bidd hym.

Auscultare alicui, to obeie one, to bee at his commaundment.

Auscultare inter se, to whysper one in an others eare.

Auscultare ad fores, to stande hearknyng at the doore.

Ausculat paucis, hearken a woide of twayn.

Te ausculabo lubens, I wyl heare of hearken vnto you with a good will.

Vis ne mihi auscultare, wyl you dooe as I wold haue you: wyl you follow my counsaile?

Ausculq, idem quod Auscul.

Auser, of Auseris, a cite in Italye nere to the cite Luca.

Ausim, is, it, is put for Audeam, as, at.

Ausim affirmare, I dare auowe, or I dare boldly saie.

Ausiris, iudis, the countreite called Thus, where Job dwelled.

Aufones, were the auncient kynges of Italy.

Aufonia, the parte of Italy, wherein standeth Beneuent, and Lales, so called of Auson, the sonne of Illies and Calypso. Afterwards all Italy was called Aufonia, and the people Aufonij.

Aufonius, a, um, and Aufon, of Aufonia.

Aufonius, a, sophister. Also a poete of Burbeus in Castoigne.

Auspex, icis, m. g. idem quod Augur. Also the persone that maketh the marriage on the matuens parte. Also the chiefe capitayne of leader in warre, or any other feate.

Auspicalis, le, perteynyng to diuination.

Auspicalis, a littell fyre, called also Remora, whiche cleauynge fast to the heele of a Wypp, holdeth it still as well agaynst the puffedance of wyndes, as of eyes. This fyre is also called Echeneis. Rede Plinie Libro. 32.

Auspicato, happy, with good lucke.

Auspicator, a, um, honourably enterprised, fortunate, of byngng good lucke. Appoynd by the Augures.

Auspicium, ci, n. g. the sygne of token shewed by byrdes, of thynges that shall folowe. Also it betokeneth fortune, conducte, or disposition of a capitayne. It is also a signification of thynges to come. Sometyme it signifyeth auctorytie.

Communem ergo hunc populum, paribus precamus auspiciis. Therefore lette us goe uerene this people mixte nowe together with equall of lyke auctorytie.

Auspicia optima, tokens of good lucke.

Auspicio malo, with pl lucke, or in an ill tyme. Næ ego ædopolueni huc auspicio malo, I came hither in an ill tyme: or an vnhappy or vn lucky fortune brought me hither.

Auspicium liquidum, a manifeste sygne of token.

Meis auspiciis illud agam, I wyl dooe that after myne owne fantasie or mynde.

Tuo auspicio factum, It was dooen by thy deuple of counsaile.

A supplicis vitam auspiciatur, he begynneth his lyfe with payne and trouble.

Auspico, aui, are, to seeke for a thyng by diuination.

Auspicator, atus sum, ari, to seeke of gather by diuination, to begynne of enterpryse a bypnes.

Auster, tri, the southe wynde.

Austris aduersis ætatem ducere, toke Actas.

Austere, sowerly, cruelly, austere.

Austertas, aris, Maepensse, cruellasse, sowerly, rigorosensse.

Austerus, a, um, sowerly, of sharpe, vnpleasant, also sowe of withoute pitee, cruell, austere, severe.

Austerus color, a sadde colour.

Austero more cum aliquo agere, to handell one roughly, of vngentylly.

Austerus sapor, sowerly taste betwene sharpe and bytter.

Austras

Australis, le, southerne, of the south parte. Australia, an yle in the bresan sea towards the north parte of the woide, called Clisafia.

Austria, is a great countreite, on the vitermoste easte part of Germania, sometyme called Panonia superior. It boundeth eastward vpon the royaume of Hungarie, westward vpon the countreite called Styria, and Cassellum, southward vpon Italye. Northward, it is inclosed with the great flue Danubius or Dnie. In duche Donowe. In it is the noble cite Vienna, set vpon the shere of the Danube. There is also a famous vniuersitee, where especially the mathematicall sciences are most exactly taught.

Austinus, a, um, from the southe parte.

Austro, auiare, to make moyle.

Austrum, looks Haustrum.

Aut, or, epythe.

Aut vero, for Aut etiam.

Aut certe, or at the leaste.

Quo enim vincebatur a victa Grecia, Id aut illi ereptum est, aut certe nobis communicaum. That one thyng, wherein we gaue place to Grece, whiche is vanquished by vs, epythe it is taken cleane awate from them, or at the least we be therein equall vnto them.

Aut, vobis interrogatutur, as,

Aut ego nesciebam quorsum tu ires? But thyngest thou that I byd not know, whither thou woldst go?

Aut, sometyme completh, as,

Aut mihi da, aut rapio. Sometyme exhorteth, as, Aut tu magne pater diuum miserere.

Sometyme separateth, as,

Aut onera capiunt venturum, aut agmina ne facto.

Autem, a conjunction discretiue, whiche is neuer put in the fyrste place, but in the seconde, and signifyeth as Vero dooth. Also but.

Al quid faciam? quid mea autem? quid faciet mihi? What shall I dooe? but what haue I herewith to dooe? what will he dooe to me? It signifyeth also Eriam.

Abite, tu domum, tu autem domum, Goe your wale, Goe the home, and also go thou thy wale home.

Porro autem, moreover.

Tum autem, afterwards, furthermore. Some tyme, And.

Autem, is sometyme bled in the repetition of a question, as,

Quid non fecissent? fecissent autem? Imo, quid non fecerunt? what would not they haue dooen? what would not they haue doner?

Atque, what haue they not dooen all ready? Sometyme it signifyeth nothing, but fylleth vp the number of the sentence.

Autem enim, for profecto, Inistate.

Autie, one of the seven daughters of the gyant

Auspiciis, whiche bycerules stow.

Authenticum, the pattern, whereby any thing is written.

Authenticus, is, true, of auctorytie, of that is dooen by appoynded by tyne of them that bee in auctorytie.

Auiliensis, is, a. Auctorytie bynde of braken potter, whiche feyth the matter with veritate, and almost no spee at all.

Author, oris, the fyrst inuention of matter of a thyng, also a reporter of newes, A ruler of tutors. He that delieth of dispenseth a thyng on warrant. And that person, whom a man foloweth in dooing of any thyng.

Author tibi non sum auctore, I wyl not counsaile the to rene awate.

Author id tibi sum, I wyl thus aduise the.

Authore re, by thy counsaile.

Authores classici, authores respectu, and of all men allowed.

Authores alicuius sententia, Be they, whose sententia, counsaile, or iudgement we folowe.

Suafor & Author, Horator & Author.

Author fuit profectionis, He was the cause of my goyng forth.

Author ferendæ legis, He that causeth any lawe to be made: or he that is the cause, that any lawe should be made.

Authores ita mihi sunt amici, My frendes counsaile me so.

Authores sunt, They saie of wyte.

Authorem habere aliquem, to folowe one as his author.

Author, a man haueyn power, dignitee, and auctorytie to doo a thyng.

Veridic rarum esse, si parres authores fierent. That it should be so establishd, if the veritate wolde appoynt it.

Rem tibi authorem dabo, I wyl declare to you in dede, that it is so.

Authores sumus, our aduise of opinion is.

A malo auctore quid emere, to bye any thyng of hym that can not make sufficient warrant.

Authores pupillorum, the tutors of gardians of wardes.

Autoramentum, an indenture of obligation, whereby a man is bounde to doo seruaice. Also earnest money, wages of hye, piasst money.

Autoratus, he that is bounde to serue, especially in warres.

Autoratus, a, um, bounden by conuauce.

Authenticus, aris, auctorytie, credence, puffedance, iudgement, aduise, opinion, power, estimation, reputation, the inuention of possession.

Authenticus defugere, to scape to haue from any thyng, or to haue the cause that it was dooen.

Nunquam defugere, auctorytatem tuam, I wyl not disobey your commaundment.

of 3 will not sticke to dooe it, if you take the word.

Attende, quam ego defugiam auctoritatem consilii mei, Consider howe I refuse of estee to execute the authoritie that I make feult by myne office of consillie.

Auctoritatem interphere, to commaunde a thng to bee dooen.

Auctoritatis iure, by ryght of prescription, called Vfu capio.

Id auctoritatis, for eius auctoritatis, of suche estimation of authoritie.

Tanta ebori auctoritas erat, quous was so muche sette by. of, quous was of suche estimation, of so highly esteemed.

Auctoritatem debemus nullam, nec fidem commentis rebus adiungere, we oughte not to make feigned thnges of any reputation of credence.

Detrahere auctoritatem alicui, to dymynshe ones authoritie of honour.

In auctoritate esse, to be of great authoritie, of reputation.

In auctoritate alicuius esse, to obeye, to bee subject, or vnder an other mans iurisdiction.

Autoritas eorum mecum facit, They authoritie maketh wth me, of confirmeth myne opinion.

Parum auctoritatis habere, to be of small reputation, to be little regarded of esteemed.

Homo perdita auctoritate, a man out of all credence and estimation.

Auctoritate valere, to bee of power.

Auctoritates publicæ, common letters, wryttings of instrumentes, to confirme and ratifie any thng in the name of an whole cite of commonalte.

Autoritas, somtyme for author, the spyl begynner of a thng.

Autoritas pro testimonio authentico, A proued wtnesse, a sufficient profe.

Vius, & Autoritas, the propietie of possession of a thng by prescription of longe tyme, called of the lawyers Vfu capio.

Autor, aui, are, to bynde one by couenant to doo seuer.

Autori, or rather Auri, the Jeythe men.

Autocithones, people whiche beganne in the countreis where they inhabyte, whiche name was geuen to them of Athens.

Autodidactus, he that learneth without a master or teacher.

Autographum, his owne hande wrytting.

Autololes, a people of Mauritania.

Autolycus, a master theefe. Also the sonne of Hercules of Deucalion, and grandfather to Ulfes, famous for his thefte. There was one Autolycus felow to Jason, an other was a notable wrytitar.

Automalax, a cite of Egypte, called also Pen-topolis, commonly Estam.

Automata, thynges without life, whiche seme to moue by them selues, as appereth in olde horologes and ymagis, whiche moue by vices. It is taken generally for all thynges, whiche happen without any notable cause.

Automedon, onis, Achilles chariot man.

Automola, a people, whiche came out of Egypte into Ethiopia.

Autonoe, es, the daughter of Cadmus, wyfe of Briseus, and mother of Actæon, whiche after he is called Autonofus.

Autophoros, an errant theefe.

Autopyron, byowne breade, householde bread, whan no byanne is taken out, called also Cibus, Medius, and Syncomitus panis.

Auricum, the cite of Charters in France.

Autumnalis, le, belonging to Autumne.

Autumnitas, idem quod Autumne.

Autumnus, the tyme of the yere betwene summer and wynter, whiche begynneth the vi. daye of Auguste, and endeth the vi. daye of Nouembre.

Flexus autumni, the later part of Autumne.

Autumnus adultus, the myddell parte of Autumne.

Autumo, aui, are, to suppose of asseyne, to thynke to iudge, to esteeme, to saie.

Si vera autumas, If thou saie true, or if it be true that thou reportest.

Auulso, onis, a plucking of, or pulling awate.

Auulfor, onis, m. g. one that plucketh awate a thng by violence.

Auulus, a, um, pulled or plucked awate.

Auunculus, the vnckle on the mothers syde.

Auunculus maior, my greete graundfather by other, my fathers or my mothers vnckle.

Auus, the graundfather.

Auus paternus, the graundfather on the fathers syde.

Auus maternus, the graundfather on the mothers syde.

Auxiliaris, re, wherin is ayde of succoure.

Auxiliares copie, succours from a stranger, lykwise Auxiliaria arma, auxiliares colours, auxiliares duces.

Auxiliarius, a, um, that succoureth or cometh to ayde of an other.

Auxiliator, oris, one that helpeth or ayde.

Auxilior, atus sum, ari, to ayde of helpe, to succour. Auxiliari contra aliquid, to bee medecynable of holtsome agaynst any thng.

Auxilium, ayde of helpe, succour.

Auxilia aduersæ valetudinis, thynges to help one in synnesse.

Mutuis auxilijs tant omnia, All thynges bee prestred and mapnteyned by helpynge one an other. Auxilium sibi adiungere, adhibere, to take ayde.

Auxilium afferre alicui malo, to help a thng that that is in anyuell state.

Auxilium implorare, petere, rogare, to aske of helpe ayde of succour.

Auxilium dare, ferre, to ayde. Lynawyle, Auxilio leuare, defendere, iuuare.

Vocare auxilio aliquem, to calle one to helpe hym. Auxilio esse, to helpe.

Auxilla, a lytell pette.

Auximum, the cite of Picenum in Italye, called commonly Osinum.

Auxum, the younge fyres that cometh of the spawme of Canes.

AXamenta, vestes made by the priestes of Mars, called Sali, in quich tannysng of all men.

Axantos, an yle in the ocean sea, benethe Englands and Irelands.

Axare, olde wyrttes used for Nominare, to name of aske.

Axe agglomerati, a greete company of menne standyng together.

Axiaces, a ryuer called also Hypanis.

Axicala, a diminutue of axis.

Axiculus, a diminutue of axis, or asse.

Axies, a company of women doyng any thng together.

Axilla, x, the arme hole, for whiche some coyns are called.

Axim, used of olde wyrttes for Egerim.

Aximomantia, a kynd of divination of wyrttes craft, dooen by hatchettes.

Axiocus, a philosopher, to whom Plato wyrote a booke of deathe.

Axioma, atis, n. g. authoritie, dignitie, or honour that a man hath by reason of office, or any noble acte that he hath dooen. Also a sentence spoken and proued, as If Plato walke Plato moueth. If it be date, the sunne is above the earth. It is put by Logike for that, whiche sophistres calle a proposition, whiche is a sentence true or false. It is also called a Maxime.

Axion, the brother of Alpheibore.

Axis, is, m. g. an extree of a carte. Somtyme the whole carte. Somtyme it is a wyngle, wherewith houses are couered in shede of tyle, or cloven boardes. Somtyme it is taken for the hookes that a booke or gate hangeth on. Somtyme for heauen.

Axis mundi, is a line imagined to go straight from the north to the southe, dryng down the world as it were into two partes. At the endes are supposed to be two wyrttes in heauen, whiche are called the north pole, and the southe pole.

Phorceus axis, the chariot of the sonne.

Falcata axes, tartes armed with hookes lyke lykes. Sub iheris axe, vnder the wyrtte. Axiod, companions, whan many doo any one thng.

Axiom, a cite of Syria, called commonly Chilia.

Axiu, a ryuer in Macedonia.

Axon, a ryuer of the Gones in Asia.

Axona, a ryuer in Persia, in the borders of Helians, called Doria.

Axos, a cite in Thace.

Axungia, swynes grease, or barrowes grease, beyng olde.

Axus, idem quod Axius.

Axylus, a man in Jhigia, verate happy in all thynges petyng to the lyfe of man, who used great humanites towards strangers.

AZan, an yle in Arcadie where Letha the mother of the goddes was honoyed.

Azana, a countreile of Ethiopie towards the rebbe sea.

Azanes, people of Arcadie.

Azania, of Azanium, a cite of the lesse Asia.

Azanium, a well, the water wherof beynge drunke, causeth men to hate the sauoure and taste of wyne.

Aziris, a cite in the lesse Armente, nere to Euphrates.

Azotus, a cite in Syria, also of Arcadia.

Azymus panis, unleuened breade.

AFTER Quatitlan

is somtyme put for other letters: as, Byrrhus for Pyrrhus; Buges, for Fruges; Helena, for Helena.

Baal, in the tongue of Syria, signifieth Loyde, and is attributed to Jupiter.

After somme interpretation it signifieth buyng dominion, subjection, or possession. It was an ydole that the Samaritans and Moabites worshipped.

Babba, a towne of Magastania, called Iulia Campestris.

Babactes, one of the names of Bacchus.

Babæ, an intersection of wondyng.

Babel, signifieth confusion of mixturs. It was the name of a towne buylded by Nimrod, before the incarnation. 2174. yeres. At the buyldyng hereof, was the fyrste confusion of tongues. This was doone in the lande of Sennar, in the countreile of Caldea.

Babylas, a famous byshop of Antioche.

Babylon, a greete cite in Calde, and signifieth confusion of translation, where was a tower or I will not sticke to dooe it, if you sale the woordes.

Attende, quā ego defugiam auctoritatem consilii mei, Consider howe I refuse of esthete to execute the authoritie that I make full by myne office of consullship.

Auctoritatem interponere, to commaunde a thynge to bee dooen.

Auctoritatis iure, by ryght of prescripcion, called Vsu capio.

Id auctoritatis, for eius auctoritatis, of suche estimation of authoritie.

Tanta ebori auctoritas erat, yuoysse was so muche sette by, or, yuoysse was of suche estimation, or so highly esteemed.

Auctoritatem debemus nullam, nec fidem committens rebus adiungere, we oughte not to make feigned thynge of any reputation of credence.

Dei auctoritatem alicui, to dymynish the ones authoritie of honour.

In auctoritate esse, to be of great authoritie, or reputation.

In auctoritate alicuius esse, to obeye, to bee subject, or vnder an other mans iurisdiction.

Auctoritas eorum mecum facit, They; authoritie maketh with me, or constraineth myne oppinion.

Parum auctoritatis habere, to be of small reputation, to be littell regarded or esteemed.

Homo perdita auctoritate, a man out of all credence and estimation.

Auctoritate valere, to bee of power.

Auctoritates publice, common letters, wrytynges of instrumentes, to confirme and ratifie any thynge in the name of an whole citee or commonalte.

Auctoritas, somtyme for author, the fyrst begynner of a thynge.

Auctoritas pro testimonio authentico, A proued wryttenesse, a sufficient profe.

Vius, & Auctoritas, the proprietye of possession of a thynge by prescripcion of longe tyme, called of the lawyers Vsu capio.

Audoro, aui, are, to bynde one by couenant to doo suthinge.

Aurini, or rather Auteri, the Ireysh men.

Autochones, people whiche beganne in the countre where they inhabyte, whiche name was geuen to them of Athens.

Aurodidactus, he that learneth without a master or teacher.

Autographum, his owne hande wrytyng.

Autololes, a people of Macedonia.

Autolycus, a master theefe. Also the sonne of Heracles of Deucalion, and grandfather to Ulixes, famous for his thefte. There was one Autolycus selow to Jason, an other was a notable wryllar.

Automalax, a citee of Cyrene, called also Pen-

topolis, commonly Estam.

Automata, thynge without life, whiche seme to moue by them selues, as appereth in olde horologes and ymages, whiche moue by vntice. It is taken generally for all thynge, whiche happen without any notable cause.

Automedon, onis, Achilles chariot man.

Automolx, a people, whiche came out of Egypte into Ethiopia.

Autonoe, es, the daughter of Cadmus, wyfe of Briseus, and mother of Acteon, which after he is called Autonofius.

Autophoros, an errant theefe.

Autopyron, howne breade, householde bread, when no byrnie is taken out, called also Cio batus, Medius, and Syncomistus panis.

Auricum, the citee of Charters in Fraunce.

Autumnalis, le, belonging to Autumne.

Autumnitas, idem quod Autumne.

Autumnus, the tyme of the yere betwene summer and wynter, whiche begynneth the vi. date of Auguste, and endeth the vi. date of Nouembre.

Flexus autumni, the later part of Autumne.

Autumnus adultus, the myddell parte of Autumne.

Autumo, aui, are, to suppose or asseyne, to thynke to iudge, to esteeme, to saie.

Si vera autumas, If thou saie true, or if it be true that thou reportest.

Auulio, onis, a plucking of, or pulling awate.

Auulfor, onis, m. g. one that plucketh awate a thynge by violence.

Auulsi, a, um, pulled or plucked awate.

Auunculus, the vnckle on the mothers syde.

Auunculus maior, my greate graundfather by other, my fathers or my mothers vnckle.

Auus, the graundfather.

Auus paternus, the graundfather on the fathers syde.

Auus maternus, the graundfather on the mothers syde.

Atheres syde.

Auxiliaris, re, wherein is ayde or succour.

Auxiliares copie, succours from a stranger, lykwise Auxiliaria arma, auxiliares cohortes, auxiliares duces.

Auxiliarius, a, um, that succoureth or cometh to ayde of an other.

Auxiliator, onis, one that helpeth or ayde.

Auxilior, atus sum, ari, to ayde or helpe, to succour. Auxiliari contra aliquid, to bee medecinable or holseme agaynst any thynge.

Auxilium, ayde or helpe, succour.

Auxilia aduersae valetudinis, thynge to help one in synchess.

Mutuis auxilijs stant omnia, All thynge be preserued and mainteyned by helpynge one another. Auxilium sibi adiungere, adhibere, to take ayde.

Auxilium afferre alicui malo, to help a thynge that

that is in anyuell state.

Auxilium implorare, petere, rogare, to aske or beseege ayde or succour.

Auxilium dare, ferre, to ayde. Lysippos, Auxilio leuare, defendere, iuuare.

Vocare auxilio aliquem, to calle one to helpe hym. Auxilio esse, to helpe.

Auxilla, a, lyppell pottes.

Auxillum, the citee of Picenum in Italye, called commonly Osinum.

Auxum, the younge syde that cometh of the spawme of Tunies.

A Xamenta, vestes made by the pyettes of Xares, called Salij, in quick tannynge of all men.

Axantos, an yle in the ocean sea, benethe Englands and Irelande.

Axare, olde wryters vsed for Nominare, to name or aske.

Axe agglomerati, a greate company of menne standing together.

Axlaces, a ryuer called also Hypanis.

Axicula, a diminutiue of axis.

Axiculus, a diminutiue of axis, or asse.

Axies, a company of women doyng any thynge together.

Axilla, a, the arme hole, for whiche some coyns vntill vnto Ascella, and Asella.

Axim, vsed of olde wryters for Egerim.

Axinomanda, a kynde of diuination of wittches craft, dooen by hatchettes.

Axiocus, a philosopher, to whom Plato wryte a booke of deathe.

Axioma, atis, n. g. authoritie, dignitie, or honour that a man hath by reason of office, or any noble acte that he hath dooen. Also a sentence spoken and proued, as It is so I saie walke Plato moueth. It is by date, the sunne is aboute the earth. It is put by Lullie for that, whiche sophisters calle a proposition, whiche is a sentence true or false. It is also called a Maximé.

Axion, the brother of Alphesibor.

Axis, is, m. g. an extree of a carte. somtyme the whole carte. somtyme it is a wygill, whereas with houses are couered in shade of tyle, or clouen bourses. somtyme it is taken for the hooke that a booke of gate hangeth on, somtyme for heauen.

Axis mundi, is a line imagined to go freight from the north to the southe, dryng the world as it were into two partes. At the endes are supposed to be two mountains in heauen, whiche are called the north pole, and the south pole.

Phoebeus axis, the chariot of the sonne.

Falcu axes, threes armed with hookes lyke lykes. Sub asteris axe, vnder the wygill. Axion, companions, whan many doo any one thynge.

Axium, a citee of Syria, called commonly Axia.

Axius, a ryuer in Macedonia.

Axon, a ryuer of the sonne in Asia.

Axona, a ryuer in Feudice, in the borders of Reine, called Dene.

Axos, a citee in Thace.

Axungia, swynes grease, or barrowes grease, being olde.

Axus, idem quod Axius.

Axylus, a man in Idigida, verale happy in all thynge perseyng to the lyfe of man, who vsed great humantie toward strangers.

A Zan, an hyle in Acadie where Ascheld the mother of the goddis was honoyed.

Azana, a countre of Ethiopia toward the redde sea.

Azanes, people of Acadie.

Azania, or Azanium, a citee of the lesse Asia.

Azanium, a well, the water whereof beyng dyunke, causeth men to hate the sauours and taste of wyne.

Aziris, a citee in the lesse Aemene, nere to Euphrates.

Azotus, a citee in Syria. also of Arcata.

Azymus panis, vntuned breade.

AFTER Quintilian

is somtyme put for other letters: as, Byrrhus for Pyrrhus; Biuges, for Fruges; Belena, for Helena.

Baal, in the tongue of Syria, signifieth Loyde, and is attributed to Baalier,

After somme interpretation it signifieth buyng down, subjection, or possession. It was an ybole that the Samaritans and also abites worshipped.

Babba, a towne of Macedonia, called Iulia Campestris.

Babacies, one of the names of Bacchus.

Babæ, an interfection of wondyrng.

Babel, signifieth confusio of mixture. It was the name of a towne builded by Nemroth, before the incarnation. 1174. yeres. At the buildyng hereof was the friste confusio of tongues. This was doone in the lande of Sennar, in the countre of Calde.

Babylus, a famous byshop of Antioche.

Babylon, a greate citee in Caldie, and signifieth confusio of translation, where was a towne tower builded by Semroth, & was in height foure myles, an hundredeth cheere and ten paces. Afterwarde being enlarged by Semiramis, it contained in compasse thre foure myles. The walles were in height, 300. fete, in thychenesse of breyth, 75. fete, and had 100. gates of brass. Thre ran through the middle of it, the famous river Euphrates. It is also a towne, or rather a great cite in Egypte.

Babylonia, the countre where the cite of Babylon stood.

Babylonius, and Babylonius, a, um, of opeers pertaining to Babylon.

Babylonica vestis, a garment woven with divers colours.

Babylia, a strong town in the countre Attroparia, nere to the cite Arraxata.

Bacales, people in the sea coastes of Libya.

Bacca, a beary, as a baic beary, an haw beary, an eglantine beary, a pup beary.

Baccatus, a, um, garnished with perle.

Bacca, margarites or perles.

Baccalia, a hynde of baic trees or laurell, but it hath greater leaues, and great plenty of beeries. It is also called Augusta.

Baccha, wyne in Spayne.

Bacchae, women, which sacrificed to Bacchus.

Bacchamion, the sonne of Perseus and Andromeda.

Bacchanal, or Baccanale, lis, ne. ge. the place where the solemnities of Bacchus was kept, sometime the feast.

Bacchanalia, lum, or liorum, neu. ge. plu. nu. feastes of the papyns, whiche they dyd celebrate with all abhominations of lecherie.

Bacchar, anis, or Baccharis, ris, f. g. an herbe called commonly our Ladies gloves. Plinie saith, that onely the roote of this herbe savoureth sweetly like cinnamon. And some call it Nardus rutilicus. Of the roote were wonte to be made sweete oyles. Carolus Stephanus in his booke de Re hortens, saith, that Bacchar and Baccharis, bee two dyvers herbes, and that we shuld be well ware, that we take not Baccharis, for Bacchar. For Bacchar saith he, is that herbe whiche the grekes calle Ajarum, and hath leaues like pup, but somewhat rounder. Bacchar is also a wyne poete.

Baccharicum, a sweete oymente made of the roote of Bacchar.

Baccharum, lyke a madde man, surpously.

Bacchans, drunken banquetting.

Baccheis, idis, a woman belonging to Bacchus.

Bacchiada, people whiche came out of Corinth into Attike, and had theyr first begynning of Bacchia, the daughter of Dionysius.

Baccheus, or Baccheius, a, um, of Bacchus.

Bacchides, a captayne that betraied the cite Sinopsis to Lucullus.

Bacchius, a swoorde playster.

Bacchius, a, um, of Bacchus.

Bacchius pes, a foote in metry, hauynge the syllable Bacchus, the rest due longe, as, Quirind.

Bacchor, a, um, ari, to celebrate the feast of Bacchus, to dooe a thyng lyke a madde man, or to be vexed with spirites, to be wood.

Bacchari in voluptate, to rage in pleasure.

Bacchari in aliquem, to rale upon one.

Bacchatur Boreas, the north wynde rageth, or bloweth tempestuously.

Bacchus, chi, called also Liber, Dionysius, Omiris, sometime Priapus, sometime Bromius and Brotinus, the sonne of Iuppiter by Semeles. The poetes feigned, that after Iuppiter had gotten Semeles with child, she desired him to company with her like as he dyd with Juno in his diuine matches: wherefore he byngng with him his thunder and lightning, came to her, but he not able to susteyne his presence, fell in trauaile, and being deliuered longe before his spynne dyed. Iuppiter toke and deliuered the chyld to Mercutius, who by his commaundement carryed it vnto Asia, where it was noursed by the nymphes. Lyke foolyshe other imagines, that Iuppiter made an hole in his thyghe, and dyd put in the chyld, where it remayned vntill the full tyme of his byrthe was come. This man among the Grekes dyd fete bynes and make wyne. Also he sayde yoked open in the plough, and gatheryn vnto him a great number of men and women, wente a great partie of the world, destroyed yponiers and tyrannies, and conquered the countreys of India, but his people deliynge in wyne, and byngng superfluously therof, fell to fighting among them selues. wherefore he prouided, that whan they drank, they shoulde haue in theyr handes nothyng but canes, or other lyght sythes.

Bacchus, is sometime vied for wyne.

Bacchi clientes, poetes.

Bacchi humor, wyne.

Baccifer, a tree bearyng beeries.

Baccula, a littell beare.

Baculus, is vied of some for a foote.

Bacillus, li, m. g. or Bacilli, li, n. g. a little staffe.

Bacrio, onis, a vessel of an old fashon, to wash the handes in, hauynge a long handle. som call it Trulla.

Bactres, the name of Bacchus.

Bactra, orum, a countre in the furthest parts of Persia, the people wherof are called Bactri, or Bactriani, in whom is such a inhumanitee, that whan they perceiue be very sick of olde, they throwe them vnto fierce dogges, whiche dooe rente them in pices, and deuoure them.

Bactria

Bactriani, the people of that countre.

Bactrianum, a countre, wherein were somethymen a thousande cityes.

Bactros, a tyner of the Bactriani; wherof a cite is called Bactrum.

Badacum, a cite of Rois, or of Bactria, named at this date Salezaburgensis.

Badas, a river of Bactria, nere wherunto Adam non was buryed.

Badus, called also Baius, and Baius color, baic colour.

Badizo, aul, are, to go.

Babis, looke Bebis.

Banacus, looke Benacus.

Banis, a great river in Portugall.

Batica, is a countre in Spayne, whiche taketh his name of a river called Batis, whiche dooth runne through it. It was also called Turdetania, and is the south part of Spayne, where be nowe the cityes of Lixile and Corduba, and the royallme of Granada, and extendeth to the pillars of Hercules.

Baticus, he that weareth a blake or browne garment.

Baticola, a dweller by the river Batis.

Baticus, a, um, blake or browne, swarte, tawnye, darke.

Batire, a cite of Aethon in France, called Baters, some write Batters, some Blicerra, other Blicera.

Batis, a river in Spayne by Granada, called nowe Guadalquivir.

Batylon, a river in Spayne called also Beldia, lon, commonly Beldon.

Baganum, the cite of Turney.

Bagoas, an Eunuche, whome great Alexander muchely loved.

Bagus, in the Persian tongue signifieth a gelding, or a gelded man.

Bagrada, Bagradas, or Bengrada, a river in Sicilie, by the cite called Utica, where Aetilius Regulus, and the hoste of the Romanes, slew a serpent, whiche was in lengthe, 120. fete.

Bahal, the ydole of Egre.

Bair, arum, a towne in Campania, on the sea syde, betwene Puteolus, and Misenum, for the temperance of ayre, and saltnesse of buildynge, muche named of the ancient Romanes, where are also whote waters naturall, whiche are bothe pleasant and holleome. And therefore it hath been supposed, that all other hotte bathes naturall, were called Bair.

Bairon, an historiographer, whiche wrote an a bytteme of the gestes of great Alexander.

Baiulo, aul, are, to heare, to vnderstand.

Baiulus, li, m. g. a poete or a writer of histories.

Baius, the compaignon of Lucius, a knight in Campania, after whome the towne Bair was named.

Bai, idem quod Bai.

Balaam, signifieth the age of the people, the newenewynge or destruction of them. It was the name of a soothsaier, whom Balac, the kyng of Moabites, desired to tunc the Israelites, who by the wile was ler by an aungell, that the asse, wheron he rode, dyd beholde, and alked wythe dyd beate hym. And than he hym selfe perceived the aungell, who had hym go to Balac, and speake northyng, but that he commaunded hym. And so finally, he blessed the Israelites, contrarye to the expectation of Balac.

Balana, a geate fysh in the sea, whiche hath an hole in his head, wherby he taketh ayre, and poureth out great abundance of water. Some suppose that it is a thielepoole, the hach pappes lyke a beaste. Plinie wytteth in his xlviii. booke, that there hath been founde of them, 240. fete in lengthe.

Balanca, a towne not farre from Laodicea.

Balanus, a, um, opated with the oyle called Balaninum.

Balaninus, a, um, made of Balanus.

Balanites, a, m. g. a stone, whiche is a tyghte greene, and hath a vyne in the middle lyke a flame of fyre.

Balanitis, f. g. a hynde of rounde chestens, or chest nuttes.

Balanus, ni, f. g. a generall name of acornes.

It is also a supposicion to helpe them that be colike. Also a sweete oymente made of Myrabolanes. Also a hynde of chest nuttes, and a fysh of the sea. Of the Grekes it is vied for a mane vynde.

Balarons, rascals or vyle knaues. It was vied of olde wytters, for sportes of durte, sported on a mane garment, as he tournaied by the water.

Balatus, us, m. g. bleatynge of sheepe.

Balatus dare, to bleate lyke a shepe.

Balaustinus, a, um, lyke to the floure of pomegranates.

Balaustum, str, ne. ge. the flowre of a pomegranate.

Balaustus, after Calpurne is an herbe lyke to Nardus.

Balbe, obscurely, nuttyngly.

Balbina, a virgine in Rome martyred vnder Traians.

Balburindus, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

Balbur, a, um, ari, to maste in the mouth.

of the latines.
 Balcaris insula, two ples by Spayne, in the sea called Mediterraneum: The one is now called Maiorica, the other Minorica.
 Baledris, re, and Balcaricus, a, um, of oþ belowyng to those ples.
 Balenium, a towne of the sea coſte in Italy, not farre from Vnibſe.
 Balineum, and Balinæ, arum, of olde wyters used for a bapne of bathe.
 Balinienſes, people of Latium called alſo Treſbulant.
 Balus, a, um, bay colour.
 Balus, an hoſe of bay colour.
 Baluſta, x, f, g. a croſ bowe of a byake. It may be used for a gunne.
 Balutarium, ij, n. g. the place where a greaſte byake of ſing is laied.
 Baluo, aui, are, to bicate often.
 Baluſus, Catilius uncle.
 Ballonoti, oþ Ballonoti, people of Scythia in Europe.
 Balloſe, es, an herbe called alſo Marrubium niſtrum, oþ Marrubiaſtrum, oþ Præſium forſicum, it groweth commonly in ſeldes by high waies ſpde, and hath a ſynthyng ſauour.
 Balneæ, arum, plu. commune bapnes.
 Balnearia, all thynges belonging to a bapne.
 Balnearius, a, um, of oþ belonging to a bapne.
 Balneator, oris, the keeper of a bapne, oþ he that ſerueſh in a bapne.
 Balneatorius, a, um, idem quod Balnearius.
 Balneolum, a, littell bapne of bathe.
 Balneum, a, pitiuare bapne.
 Balio, aui, are, to bicate lyke a ſhepe.
 Balia, a citee in Portugall called alſo Caſſia.
 Balium, i, n. g. the baume tree. and ſome tyme baume.
 Balſaminus, a, um, of baume.
 Balſicus, ei, m. g. and Balſicum, thei. n. g. a veyr, a ſwoyde gyde.
 Balua, an yle in the German ſea.
 Baluca, in greke Chyſammos.
 Bambalio, onis, he that ſammereth oþ ſutteth for ſcare.
 Bambia, a kynde of olue tree, after Calceps.
 Bambotum, a, ruyes of Mauritania.
 Bambyca, a citee of Aſſopotamia, called alſo Edeſa, and Sacra.
 Bambyce, a citee in Syria.
 Banafa, a towne in Aſſike.
 Banauſus, an artiſſer that worketh by ſpye.
 Banchus, a kynde of the ſkye called Atellus, after ſome an habbocke.
 Bannomanna, an yle a dayes iourneye frome Scythia.
 Banurri, inhabytautes of the countrey called Etingrana.
 Baphia, a byehowſe.
 Baphicus, a, um, perſectyng to dyng.

Baptæ, men dyed of coloured, whyche used to be at ſacrifice, as it were women.
 Baptæ, were certayn comedies, wherein were reſpoynded thynges diſhonour and abhominable.
 Baptes, a grene ſtone, of the colour of a frog.
 Baptiſmus, i, m. g. et Baptiſmum, i, Baptiſma, aiis, n. g. baptiſme.
 Baptiſterium, a bathe of veſſel to waſhe the bodye in, a bying ſaate, oþ a fonte.
 Bapuzo, aui, are, to baptiſe, to ſlepe.
 Bara, an yle not farre from Vnibſe.
 Barachum, a towne in Cyrene.
 Baracura, a poſt town in India, called Bageſſa.
 Baragata, a towne in Ethiopia.
 Baramalacum, a towne of the people called Nabatheï, in Aſſike.
 Barathrum, an vnmeaſurable depenſe, a place in hell. Alſo a dungeon in Athens, where priſoners were kept. It is ſometyme taken for an harlot of queane, whyche ſpendeth all that a man can gette. ſometyme the bottome of the ſtomake. ſometyme one that is an exceſſyue glutton.
 Barba, bæ, f, g. a bearde, as well of men, as of all other beaſtes.
 Prolixia, demilla barba, a longe bearde.
 Barba tenus, in oþ touchyng the bearde.
 Barba louis, an herbe called Syngene, and groweth on tyles.
 Barba tenuis, an herbe that groweth amonge ſtones, hauyng leaues lyke to longe heares. It is alſo called Barba petra, it hath a pelowe ſlowye, and the roote thereof is bytter.
 Barbare, barbarouſely, rudely, without eloquence.
 Barbaria, a countrey where dwelleth people rude and beaſtely. ſometyme euery countrey, excepte Grece and Italy. Barbaria, is ſometyme rudeneſſe, rudelteſſe, ſterleneſſe, chylyſheneſſe.
 Barbaricarij, weauers of clothe of bandhyn.
 Barbaricum, i, a mounte of crepe in the Romayn armye.
 Barbaticus, a, um, idem quod Barbarus.
 Veſtes barbarica, pꝛecious garmentes.
 Barbarica ſylua, where growe trees of diuerſe ſortes out of oꝛder.
 Barbarica pauimenta, paued ſtooyes.
 Barbaricus, rudeneſſe, lacke of claſſite.
 Barbariſmus, the corrupt ſcyme of ſpeakyng oþ pronounſyng.
 Barbarus, a, um, barbarous. In olde tyme all people, excepte grekes, were called Barbari, propely ſe be they, whyche doo ſpeake groſſely, without obſeruyng of congruite, oþ pronounſe not perfectly, eſpecially Greke oþ Latine. alſo they that abhoꝛe at elagacie. Moꝛe ouer it ſignifieth them that be fierſe and cruell of maneres and countenance: rude ignoꝛant, rufficall, chylyſhe, without eloquence.
 Barba-

Barbarulus, he that hath a yong bearde.
 Barbarus, a, um, bearded.
 Barbecula, a towne in Spayne called Barbes ſull, alſo a ryue that runneth by that towne.
 Barbiger, he that weareth a bearde.
 Barbium, the bearde, after Apulius.
 Barbicos, m. f. n. g. an inſtrument of muſyke, which I ſuppoſe to chat, which men call doult ſimers. ſome thynke it to be a double harpe, called a rote. ſome a greaſe harpe that ſoundeth lyke oꝛganes, other the byoder parte of the harpe.
 Barbuia, a littell bearde.
 Barbo, onis, called alſo Mullus, of the Grekes Trygia, a ſpde called a barbell.
 Barcæ, people neere to Carthage.
 Barce, a citee in Aſſike called alſo Iſcolomate.
 It was the name of Bitharus nuſſe, and of a queene of Libya. alſo a promontorye.
 Barcenis, a wood in Germania beyonde the riuer Rhene, called Sylua nigra, whiche diſturbeth the ſwaues from the Chꝛetiſtians.
 Barcha, the ſurname of Annibal ſather.
 Barchino, a citee in Spayne, called commonly Barcelona.
 Bardana, the herbe called the great buce.
 Bardanaſes, a byſhop of Antiochia, whiche he wrote agaynſt Hæron in the Syrian tung.
 Barderate, a citee in France.
 Bardeſanes, an excellent aſtronomer.
 Bardi, were certayne wytyches oþ pꝛophetes in Baſſia.
 Bardiacus, ei, m. g. a certayne garmente without a hood.
 Bardocucullus, i, m. g. a thymmed hatte, oþ a ſhepherdes cloke, a cloke with a hood.
 Bardus, one that is dull wytted, a fool. ſometyme a mynſtrel that ſyngeth ſonges of fables.
 Barduli, people of Biſcaye in Spayne, called Turduli and Tapari.
 Bardus, a, um, blunſe, blochyſhe, dull wytted, fooliſhe.
 Barea, a towne in Spayne.
 Bargeni, people of Aſſike.
 Bargas, a ryuer of Thace.
 Bargylia, orum, a citee in Aſſia.
 Bargylus, an hely in Aſſia.
 Baria, a place amonge the Sabines.
 Bariona, Johnſon, oþ the ſonne of John, as, Barpholomeus, Bartholomeus ſonne, where by it ſemeth, that Bar in the tungue of Syria oþ hebreue, ſignifieth a ſonne.
 Baris, idos, uel idis, f. g. a boſt in Egypt, where in they caried dead bodies to burying.
 Barium, a towne of Buell in Italy, called commonly Bary.
 Barnacida, a garment that chylyſh dyd weare.
 Barnichus, a ryue in Aſſopotamia.
 Barnus, untis, a towne in Macedonia, neere to Macedonia.

 Barones, barons, valiant and noble men. ſome thynke it to be latine.
 Baroprenus, a pꝛecious ſtone.
 Barra, a towne of the Oprians in Italy.
 Barrire, to hate lyke an oliphant.
 Barritus, the byaſpene of an oliphant. alſo a mounte of crepe that the Romans used to make when they loiged batterle.
 Barrus, ri, m. g. an Oliphant. He dooth alſo ſignifie a toothe.
 Quid tibi vis mulier nigris digniſſima baris? what wouldeſt thou haue thou woman, that arte moſte woꝛthy blacke tethers?
 Barum, a citee.
 Baratus, oþ Barutum, looke Berytor.
 Barabocates, people of Aquitayne in France.
 Baſan, a countrey beyonde the riuer of Jordan in Iudea, whiche was diuided to two of the tribes. It may be interpreted moſte fertilitye of ſaſte.
 Baſanices, iſ, the ſtone, whereof they make wheellones.
 Baſcania, littell ſciſſes, whyche ſmythes were wont to haue hangyng before they ſhop wiſdowes to exclude enuy.
 Baſcanda, a certayne kynde of veſſell, whyche came out of Englonde.
 Baſcropeda, a countrey of the Medes neere Parmania.
 Baſtuli, people of Spayne.
 Baſia, honeſt byſſes, ſweete byſſes.
 Baſſario, onis, a byſſyng.
 Baſſiator, oris, a byſſer.
 Baſilea, a citee in Germany, Baſille.
 Baſilei, people of Armenia, ſurnamed Iaziges, and Virgi.
 Baſilia, an yle in the northe ocean ſea.
 Baſilica, a place where people dooe aſſemble for ſuſtes in the lawe, and where ciuile iudgements be exerciſed, and counſailes holden. It may alſo be taken for an hall oþ other large place, where ſuſters dooe attende, and wayte upon rulers, oþ where great feaſtes be kepte. Alſo it ſignifieth a cathedꝛall church.
 Baſilica nux, a wall nutte.
 Baſilicanus, he that keepeth the place called Baſilica. Aſter Moyma a ſeruant of a church.
 Baſilice, roſally, princely, magnificently.
 Baſilice agere, to doo a thyng roſally, princely.
 Baſilicon, a bynges robe.
 Baſilicum, a kynde of bynges.
 Baſilicus, ei, a certayne chaunce at the dyce.
 Baſilicus ſinus, a boſome of the ſea neere Ionia.
 Baſilicus, a, um, roſall, noble, princely.
 Baſilica facinora, roſall and princely actes.
 Baſilice edictiones, the bynges ordinaunces oþ commaundementes.
 Baſilide, a people of Scythia in Europe, hauyng theyr beginning of Hercules & Philon.

Basilides, the name of an heretike, whiche affirmed, that Christe was not crucified, but Symon Cyrenens, who (as the euangelistes write) was constrained to beare the crosse, when our sauour wasd sainte through effusion of bloude by his scourging. He saied also, that it was none offence to denie Christ in the tyme of persecution. He denied the last resurrection. he also affirmed, that virginitie was of no greater merite than marriage, but equall wth it. he was aboute the yere of our loide. 110.

Basilidiani, the followers of Basilides.

Basiliscus, called also Regulus, in englishe a cocatrice, a serpent in the desertes of Aethie, hauing a white circle about his Warpe head, redde eyes, and so somewhat blacke of colour, and so venomous, that he seeth men and beastes wth his breath and spghs of his eyes.

Basilus, a propre name of a man. Of this name was one of incomparable vertue and learning boine in Cappadocia, of a noble house. And (as Gregorius Nazianzenus wyrteth) his parentes were christians, his fathers name was Basilus Magnus, by whiche name he was also called. His father taughte hym as well grammar as other lernynges called Quadrivales. After he went to Cesaria, and from thence to Constantinople, where he learnede the tolike and logike more perfectly, and also philosophy. From thence he came to Athens, where disputing wth dyuers greate learned men, finally vanquished them. But whyles he exactly studied in philosophy, Gregorius Nazianzene, beyng then wholly dedicate to the study of the scripture, and service of god, louing Basil entirely, came into the schoole, where he addre in a chappie, and taking hym by the hande, broughte hym to a monastere, where he lapyng aparte all booke of philosophy, onely intended to the readinge of holie scripture. And at the laste, beyng ledde by the spire of god, they diuided them felawes, Basil going about the countrey Pontus, taughte the people the trewe faith. After he was byshop of Cesaria, and exiled by Valens the emperour, who fauoured the Arrians heretike. He was of such a reuerent grace, wth humblenesse, that the people loued hym: The emperour and men in authoritie feared hym: so that he was eftsones reuoked from exile. When other of the true faith were put out of the countrey, Basil onely for feare was rescued. He was about the yere of our loide. 367. There were two other byshoppes of the same name, one of Anepya, in the tyme of Constantine: he wrote agaynst Marcellus. Another of Cilecia, vnder Anastasius.

Basilus, is also a ryuer in Asia.

Basilus, one of the sleepes of Lefar. also a notable pyrate.

table pyrate.

Basio, au, are, to kysse.

Basis, is, f. g. the foot of a pylour, or that wth che sustentory any thyng. also it signifieth the foundation of grounde of a matter. And after some, roundels made to set vnder wyndowes for raising of the table. Sometyme it is taken for the whole pylour.

Basitani, people of Spayne called also Basuli.

Basium, a kysse.

Bassaris, idis, a pyssle of Bacchus.

Bassaricus, the name of Bacchus.

Bassaricus, a, um, of Bacchus.

Balsanus, a byshop in the tyme of Emperour boine at Syracuse.

Bassus, the name of dyuers learned men.

Basterna, a certayne sort of chariottes.

Basterna, or Bastarna, people on the north side of Thace, about the ryuer of Dniepr or Danubius.

Basuli, people of Spayne nere to the Castellane.

Bat, a woide spoken reprochefully, or scornfully, as thus, or tut. Sometyme it is used for a woide of silence, as peace, or hysht.

Bata, a towne and an hauen in Asia.

Barala, an auncient cite in Italy.

Batalus, a certayne effeminate person. Also the surname of Demosthenes.

Barauia, a countrey in lowe Germanye, called Hollande.

Barauus, a, um, of Hollande.

Barca, the daughter of Teuchus, and wyfe of Dardanus.

Bathyllus, a sponge man of Samia, beloued of Anacreon the poete, and another was a famous scoffer and dauncer.

Batia, the tymbre of Jhus in Troie.

Batillum, li, n. g. a fyre panne. also a faction of hookes, wherewith in some countreies they used to scape coyne.

Batina, after some Bantina, a towne of Buell in Italy.

Batiochus, a certayne pot, out of whiche wyne is poured at the table. The Italians calle it Bochale.

Batiola, idem quod Batiochus.

Batis, is, f. g. is the fywe called rats of sheete. It is also an herbe called Critamarina, or Baticula, of the Grekes Crethmon, Crithmon, or Crihamon. Of this herbe be two kyndes, one sowen in the gardenes, another growyng by the sea syde, and is condice in byene, and solde of the apothecaries to be eaten in salutes. The frenchmen call it Wasse, and Crethmarine. The Italians call it Fennocchia marino, in englishe, Sampere.

Batrachion, or Batrachium, called also Ranunculus, is an herbe, wherof bee diuers kyndes, of whiche I suppose one is commonly called called goldknappe or pealowe crake. It is also called of Democritus, Christanhemon, for it hath a floure as pealowe as golde, and the leafe is somewhat lyke vnto perryll, but it is muche greater, vnto the beggers haue used this herbe to blisse and breake the shyne of their legges and armes, to moue people to geue them almes. Batrachium, is also a colour, wherewith men used to painte their faces, before visours were inuented.

Batrachites, or, m. g. a stone both in colour and some lyke a greene frogge.

Barrachos, a frogge.

Batrachomyomachia, the battayle of myse and frogges.

Batrachus, a grauers name. also a certayne fysh.

Barris, a vessel wth a long hadd, after Caleptin.

Battalus, the name of an effeminate and wanton mynstrell.

Batillum, looke Batillum.

Batologia, a longe patternyng or superfluous speaking, where one thyng is often repeated.

Batron, a comical poete.

Batos, called of the latines Rubus, and Sentis, a bytree, whereof bee dyuers kyndes, as the hyppie, the egentine, and the byamble.

Battus, his name that builded Cyrene, of whom the women of Cyrene bee called Batladæ.

Batulus, a towne in Campagne.

Batus, ui, ere, to beate, to steppe, to feght.

Baus, an hebyue measure, which after the computation of Denaris, conserneth vi. galons, one pottell, and one quart.

Batus, is also a kynde of fyre.

Bauaria, called also Baioaria, in duche Berne, in frenche Bauiere, a countrey in high Germanie, lying in the east: on the southe it boundeth on the mountaynes of Alpes, wherby it is the Germanie from Italy: On the west lyeth the countrey called Suevia, in duche Swaue: On the east Austria, called in duche Wostrieh: On the north, the roialme of Boheme.

Bauari, uel Baioarij, people of Bauiere.

Bauor, aris, depo. to barke lyke a dogge.

Baucis, a poore olde woman, whiche entertayned Iupiter and Mercurie.

Bauus, and Meuius, two foolishe poetes, whiche enuied Virgile.

Bauli, a towne in Italye betwene Baia and Messenum.

Baxer, sippers, properly of philosophers, or such other.

Bellium, is a tree growing in Heabte, and Beethia. Also a gumme coming of the same tree, lyke to waxe, but cleere as gumme, wth in vntuous and fatte, verale sweete of sauour, when it is rubbed or boursed, and bytree in taste.

Beat, happy, fortunately. Beatudo, this, & Beatitas, is an heape of good thynges gathered to gyther, of it selfe sufficient, withoute lacke, and a verale perfection, according to Beatus, blessednesse. Beaulus, a diminutive of Beatus. Beatus, is he whiche hath abun dance of all thynges that is good, and is perfecte in all thynges that bee worthy prayse, or oughte to be despyed of a good man. Sometyme it is taken for fortunat or noble.

Beatus, a, um, blessed, happy, hoipe. Sometyme perfecte, absolute, alse rche.

Bebius, a notable backbiter, or tale bearer.

Bebyacensis, of Bebyacum.

Bebyces, people of Asia, whiche tooke theyr beginning of one of the daughters of Wana.

Bebyrium, or Bebyacum, a towne in Italye betwene Cremona and Verona.

Bebyria, a countrey called the great Idhygia.

Bebyrius, a, um, & Bebyrx, icis, of the countrey of greate Idhygia.

Bebyrx, an auncient kyng of the mountaynes called Pyrenæi.

Becher, a countrey of Idhygia after Caleptin.

Bechion, an herbe called of the latines Tusis lago, and Farfaria, of some Populago, of the apothecaries Yngula Caballina, looke Tusis lago.

Beda, a famous learned man of this roialme, for his modestie, vertuous lyfe, and learning, surnamed woysshfull Bede.

Bedequar, a woide used of the barbarous phisicians, is (after the sayng of Serapio) the white byere, whiche (as Wiscoides wyrteth) hath a white flower and a sweete. Bedardus supposeth it to be a certayne kynde of thymle, wth warpe pyches and a square stalk. And now some take it for the thymle, whiche is called Carduus benedictus.

Beduini, certayne heretikes among the Saracens, whiche woyshep the sonne at his ryfing, and they affirme all thynges to chance by denie, wherfore they vse to feght in battayle unarmed, sayng, that deathe can not bee eschewed.

Bee, the hoys of shepe.

Beelphégor, a gapping dyoll.

Beelshabub, an dyole called god of fyres.

Beelsephon, loide of the northern dyoll set by in the places of espiail.

Beemod, the dyuell, and signifieth a beast.

Beergios, one of the sonnes of Peptunus, whiche Hercules vanquished.

Bela, of the old latines was used for quils, a shepe: wherof cometh Belare, to blate lyke a shepe.

Bela, a kyng of Hungarye.

Belbina, an yle in the goulfe called Argolicum.
 Belbus, a beaste called also Hiena.
 Belerium, or Bolerium promontorium, is a place in Cornwell called sainte Burtin.
 Belgia, one of the countreys of Belgica.
 Belgæ, the people that inhabite the countreys and townes inclosed with the ocean sea, and the spiers of Rhene, Warrn, and Seyn, where in be the citres of Trete, Colayne, Magice, and Keynes. Also the countreys of flanders, Holland, Gelder, Juliers, Cleves, Hennaw, parts of freislande, Picardie, the greatest part of Champagne, and all the forest of Ardern. It was sometime called Gallia Belgica.
 Belgicus, a, um, of that countreie.
 Belgium, the towne of Beauuossine.
 Belial, the deuyll, whyche is interpreted Apostara, without pike.
 Belisarius, a famous captayne in the tyme of Justinian the emperour.
 Bella, a towne in Lampaune.
 Bellaria, orum, bancketting dythes, as tatters, marchepaynes, and other lyke.
 Bellarius, a, um, apt for the warre.
 Bellator, oris, a warrior.
 Bellator equus, a horse for warre.
 Bellatrix, icis, a woman warrior.
 Bellatulus, a, um, a wanton wooorde, whiche is as much to saie, as toly, proper, litell faire one, well fauoured chyld, litell swete herte, playe mayden, playe boye.
 Bellax, acis, used of haunted in warres.
 Belle, well.
 Belle se habet, he dooth of fareth well.
 Bellerophon, seu Bellerophon, the sonne of Glaucus kyng of Ephra, a man of much beaute and prowesse, was ardently beloued of Stenobea, the wyfe of Ixetus kyng of Ephra, next after Glaucus. And when she despised hym to committe auowtry with hie, he fearyng the vengeance of Iupiter, god of hospitality, and remembryng the frendshipp shewed to hym by hie husbunde, refused, and dyd put hie awate from hym, which thyng she disdeyning, and beyng in a wood rage, accused hym to hie husbunde, that he had rauished hie: but he tyke a sobe man woulde not stia hym in his owne house, but deliuering hym letters to his wyues father, sent hym into Lycia, who perceyvinge the mynde of Ixetus, encouraged and sent Bellerophon to destrote the two moorrees, Polyomos, and Chymixra, that he mought be layne vnder the colour of a valiant enterpryse. But he, atcheuyng it nobly, retourned with honour.
 Bellerophon literas affert, A prouerbe when one byngeth letters agaynst hym selfe.
 Bellerophonreus, a, um, of Bellerophon.
 Bellianus, a, um, beautifull.
 Bellica, a pyloure in the temple of Bellona, called goddesse of battayle, wherof they say, when warres were pioslaymed, to call a sauleyn.

 Bellicosus, valiantly, warrellyke, fleschly.
 Bellicosus, a, um, valiant in armes, fierce of warrellyke.
 Belliscrepa salatio, a certayne forme of dauncyng in harneys.
 Bellum, i, n. g. a warrellyke towne.
 Bellum canere, to blowe to the battayle, and by a metaphoie, to animate, to incourage, to spee by, to make disension of debate.
 Bellus, a, um, pertynyng to warre, warlike.
 Bellifer, a, um, that maketh warre.
 Belliger, a, um, idem.
 Belliger, i, m. g. a warre-pour.
 Belligero, aui, are, to make warre.
 Belliporens, puttaunt in armes of battaile.
 Bellis, seu Bellum, the wyche daye, called of some the Margarete, in the north Vanwoye, it is also a spyn with a long beake lyke a crane whiche is called of some an hopye beake.
 Bello, aui, are, to make warre.
 Bellantur, Virgili used for bellant.
 Bello, a citee in Spayne.
 Bellocassii, a countreie in Franche nowe called Bapay.
 Bellona, the goddesse of battayle.
 Bellonarij, the pities of Bellona.
 Bellofus, a, um, for Bellicosus.
 Bellouacum, a citee in fraunce nowe named Beauuoye, the people wherof bee called Bellouaci.
 Bellua, a great cruell beast of a monster. by reproche it is applyed to a man.
 Belluatus, a, um, pincted or herued with greie beades.
 Belluata tapetia, tapestry, wherin is wrought or pincted the figures of beastes.
 Bellulus, a, um, somewhat fayre, mynion, tricke galeant.
 Bellum, signifieth all the tyme that the warre dooth continue, also warre of battayle.
 Absistere bello, to leaue of warre.
 Dare bellum alicui, to committe the charge of warre to any man.
 Ducere bellum, to prolonge the warre.
 Bellum civile, warre betweene men of one countrey or citee.
 Bellum intestinum, warre amonge the inhabitantes of one countreie.
 Bellum nauale, warre on the sea.
 Bellum instruere, adornare, apparare, molli si, nauare, parare, to prepare for warre.
 Bello premere, to trouble one with warre.
 Belli, aduersally for, at warre.
 Bellum componere, to make a constitution of warres, to make peace betweene two, whiche are at warre.
 Bellum conficere, to spee by warre.

Bellum

Bellum indicere, to declare warre, to sende despayne.
 Bellum moliri, to prepare warre.
 Bellum ponere, obsidere, abstinere, depone, dimittere, to sette a byde warre.
 Bellum profigere, to spee one a battayle.
 Bellum merum loquitur, he speaketh onely of warre.
 Bellus, a towne and a ryuer in Spayne.
 Bellus, a, um, fayre, honest, pleasant, good, comely, gentil, clude.
 Bellus homo, an honest man.
 Bellulus, beasly, or lyke a beas.
 Bellides, the sonne of newe of Bellus.
 Bells, idis, the daughter of newe of Bellus.
 Belones, f. g. a kynde of spee,ooke Agus.
 Belos, a weapon. It signifieth also after some, the compasse of the firmamente and sterres, also the ayre that incloseth all thynges. Also a floore of pavement: And the fyre entree in at a doore.
 Belas, idem quod Bellus.
 Beluinus, a, um, beasly.
 Beluina rabies, a beasly furie.
 Belunum, a towne in the countreie of Venecia to Italy.
 Beluosus, a, um, full of monsters of the sea.
 Belus, an ancient kyng of Assyria, to whome the fyre ymage of yhole to be honoured, was made. There was an other Belus of Assyria: Another the father of Dido. It is also a ryuer in Syria, whiche hath sande of the nature of glasse, and turneth all other metall that cometh into it, into glasse.
 Belzahard, is a barbarous wooorde, but for the easie therof, it is necessarie to knowe the signification. It is a speciall and soueraine medicine agaynst poison beyng dyntke. Auenzoar wylteth, that agaynst popson, that is exceedyngly hott, he made it in this fourme. Thys graynes of barlege, with fye ounces of the water of a gourd. But som men thynk, the more excellent Belzahard, is that, wherof Iditis wylteth. Whiche the harte is at continuall debate with the serpent, in so muche that he purseth and seyth for him at his hole, where he lyeth, and with the breath of his nothyllis, compelleth hym to come out. Nowe after the harte hath foughten with the serpent, and eaten hym, he becometh thyslyte, and renneth to some water, and leappeth into it, but he dooth not dyne as then. For yet he cooke neuer so litell water, he shoulde dye incontinent. Whan dogs ynter one of his eyes dyppes, whiche by lyttell and lyttell hee congeale, and were as greates as a chymixra. After the harte is come out of the water, meane whyle where the harte dyppes, whiche the harte and hee, as a thyng most pious, and agaynst all maner of poison most certayne remedie. This harte I taken out of the hole of loon. Agriola de rebus toribus medicamentis.

 Bemarchus, a learned man of Cappadocia, whiche was the archbishop of Constantin.
 Bemina, a towne of Armenia.
 Bembinadia, the countrey called Nemad.
 Bembinus, a, um, of Nemad.
 Benacus lacus, a lake in Italy called Garda.
 Bene, well, honestly, prosperously, comely, muche.
 Bene accipere aliquem, to intreate of entreatyng one well.
 Bene acceptus, well entertained, well treated.
 Bene agitur, the thyng is well doorn.
 Bene ambulator, God be with the.
 Bene audire, to bee well spoken of.
 Bene cogitare de aliquo, to haue a good opinion of one.
 Bene conuenit inter eos, They agree well together.
 Bene curare artem, to lye pleasantly.
 Bene de te mereo, I dooe the good, thou art beholden vnto me.
 Bene ferre gratiam, to doo pleasure to one.
 Bene habere, to be well at ease. Also to lye pleasantly.
 Bene hercle denuncias, Thou tellest me good thynges.
 Bene hoc habet, This matter cometh well to passe, of this matter goeth well.
 Bene longus sermo, a verate longe tale.
 Bene magnus, verate greate.
 Bene mane, verate tyme, verate early.
 Bene mereri, to doo pleasure to one.
 Bene multi, verate many.
 Bene nummum marisupium, a pouer well joyed with monie.
 Bene nummatus homo, a well moneyd man.
 Bene succedit, it came well to passe.
 Bene vale, farewell, adieu.
 Bene valere, to bee in good health.
 Bene vertere, to turne to good.
 Precor deum, vtharec bene verat tibi, I pray god this thyng maie turne the to good, or maie be for thy profit.
 Bene videre, to make good chere.
 Bene volo tibi, I woulde the good.
 Non quic bene, not all thyng to well.
 Bene acium cum co est, he is well bett with all. It is well for his parte.
 Bene cognitus, well knowen.
 Bene comitatus, well accompanied.
 Bene dicitur, idem mittitur.
 Bene est, for Bene habet, it is well, the matter is good.
 Bene facis, well doorn, I thank the.
 Bene facium, I am glad, it hath chanced thus.
 Bene fidum, verate, muche.

Bene

B ANTE E.

Bene firmum, beate strong, or constant.
Bene gesit sua negotia, the hath well explosed his matters.
Bene habet tibi principia, thy begynnyng is good, or thou haste a good begynnyng.
Bene longinquus dolor, a pynne that contynuesth longe.
Bene xepol narras, wonderous well sated, I am glad to heare it.
Bene natus, descended of an honest familie, comen of a good stocke.
Bene peritus, well learned, counnyng.
Bene promeruit, he hath well deserued it.
Bene tibi est, the matter goeth well with the, or it is well for the.
Melius est homini factum, he is amended.
Bene sit tibi, marche good doo it the.
Bene venire velim, quod illud feceris, I pray god tourne it to marche good, that you haue dooen.
Benedice, an aduerbe, signifying, in praisynge, or sayynge well.
Cum illiciebas me ad te, blande et benedice, when thou dydest praye me vnto the with pleasant wordes, and praisynge of me.
Benedico, dixi, ere, to praye, to saie well of a man.
Benedictum, ti, a good sayng, an honest reposit.
Benedicus, a man well tungen, or saye spoken.
Benefacio, eci, ere, to booe well.
Benefacis quod me adiuuas, Thou dooest well to helpe me.
Benefit, the impersonati.
Benefactum, ti, a benefite, a pleasure, a frendshipp tourne.
Benefacta male locata, benefices or pleasures pibestowed, or pibemployed.
Beneficentia, is not onely liberalitee in geuyng monete or possessions, or other lyke thynges, but also in helping a man with counsaile, sollicitacion, or other labour.
Beneficiarii, were they, whiche in the warres were not charged with watch or other labours perrepyng to the fildes or hoste.
Beneficiarius, vii, m. g. he that receiueth a benefite or good tourne of an other. It is also he that is called a vassal, a citty, or a tenet that holdeth of an other by fildes and homage.
Beneficiarius fundus, lande geuen in fee simple or fee talle, to be holden of the donour by some seruite.
Beneficium, a benefite, a pleasure, or a good tourne.
Beneficio afficere aliquem, to booe a pleasure to one.
Beneficio aligari, or obligari, to be bounde by some benefite or good tourne.
Beneficium collocare, deferre, dare, facere, conferre, ponere, to bestowe or imploye a benefite, to booe a pleasure.

B ANTE E.

Beneficio completi aliquem, to shewe favour, to doo frendly to a man.
Beneficiu conduplicare, to double a benefite.
Beneficium dare erreddere.
Beneficium dare et accipere.
Dare pro beneficio, in loco beneficii deferre, to geue for a benefite.
Habere pro beneficio, to accept for a benefite.
Ornare beneficiis, to shewe many goodly pleasures to a man.
Placare beneficio, to mitigate or swage by shewynge or doyng a pleasure or benefite.
Beneficium remunerare, to make amendes or requite a good tourne, to make amende for a pleasure that he hath shewed.
Meo beneficio, for my sake.
Beneficus, a, um, that is beneficall or liberrall.
Beneuolens, he that loveth well an other, favourable, frendly, well wyllynge.
Beneuolentia, fauour, or good will, an intent to doo well.
Beneuolentiam conciliare, acquirere, allicere, to get fauour, to wyne ones good wyl.
Beneuolentiam consecrari, captare, to endeuour to gette ones fauour.
Beneuolentiam consecrare, to kepe or maine teyne ones good will towardes vs.
Beneuolentiam prestare, to shewe fauour or good will towardes one.
Beneuolus, fauourable, well wyllynge.
Benigne, curtesly, graciously, bounteously, genyfly, liberrally.
Benigne facere aliquid, to shewe liberalitee towardes one.
Benigne audire, to here genyfly, or curtesly.
Benignitas, atis, f. g. bounteoussesse, curtesly, liberrallitee, genyphesse.
Dei benignitate, by the goodnesse of god.
Benigniter, idem quod benigne.
Benignus, a, um, genyfly, benigne, bounteous, or liberrall.
Dies benignus, a fortunat or lucky daye.
Sermo benignus, pleasant communication, genyfly wordes.
Benigno vultu, with a sweete or pleasaunt countenance.
Benigna terra, a grounde that is fertile, likeye Benigna tellus, and Benignus Ager.
Benna, a kynde of waggon, whereof cometh Combennones, they that be togther in one waggon.
Beo, aui, are, to comfote, to make happye, to make glabbe.
Berecynthia, called the mother of goddis.
Berecynthus, a, um, of Phrygia, or of Sybele.
Berecynthus cornu, an horn, where with the priestes of Cybele were cryed to a rage of fap.
Berecynthia tibia, a pype used in the sacrefice of Cybele.
Berecynthus, a mountaine a towne in Phrygia where where Cybele was worshipped, whereof she was named Berecynthia.

B ANTE E.

Berengarius, a man, whiche assumed, that in the sacramente of the altare was not the beate bodye of Christe, in the substance of fleshe and bloude. He was a frenche manne boine, and of litell learnynge, sayng that he was a subtile Logician. Afterwarde he dyd recant. And in the countaile of Lateranensis, his error was condemned the yere of our lord. 1082.
Berenice, or Beronice, es, a woman of excellent beaute, wyfe to Ptholomeus Regis, of that name were byuers other women. It is also a towne in Aethiopia.
Berenices crines, seven steres lyke a triangle, at the taple of the lion.
Bergidum, a citee of Spayne called Bergell.
Bergion, a gyant the sonne of Neptune, slayn by Hercules.
Bergomum, the citee Bergamo in Italy.
Berillus, a byshop of Bitherna in Aethiopia, whiche erred in certayn pointes, and was reduced to the church by Vigene.
Beritos, a famous citee of Iherosolima, called now Barutus.
Bernaba, a citee in Spayne called Bernauarte.
Beronis, idem quod Peris, a facke.
Beroa, a citee in Chetia.
Beroe, the nurse of Daniele, the mother of Barthus.
Beronice, looke Berenice.
Berosus, a counnyng astronomer of Caldeia.
Bersabe, a citee in Iudaea, called also Puteus iuramentum, the pytte of the othe, where Abraham dwelled. It is the confines of the lande of behesse.
Beryllus, li, m. & f. g. a pectious stone, in fashion sixe square, in colour lyke oyle or water in the sea. His properties are, to make thym that weare hym merie. It conserueth and increaseth the loue betwene man and wyfe: hanged about ones necke, it purgeth awaie dysemes: It cureth diseases of the throte and cheeke, and all those whiche come of morfastnesse of the head. It helpeth women that traueyle with chyld.
Bes, besis, or Besis, hulus besis, mas. gen. a weight of viii. ounces. also. viii. partes of an acre diuided into. xii. partes.
Bessa, a citee in Thracia, an other in Idelopotensis.
Bessalis, le, the adiectiue of Bes.
Bessales laterculi, cones, viii. syngers longe.
Bessarp, a citee of Assyria.
Bessi, people of Thracia, famous for thetheft and robbery.
Bessippo, an haven in Spayne.
Bessyga, an haven or marce towne in India, whereof the people are called Bessygii. There is also a tyne called Bessygus.

B ANTE E.

Beth, a small head.
Bethari, men that in old tyme sought with besnes in the synke of the people.
Bethsala, the diminutiue of Betha.
Beta, an herbe called Beta, thereof cometh a verbe Betisare, whiche significeth to be vsauoury in communication or wytyng. Eras. Chil. And men vsauourers or vniuersite, were in frowne called Beta. Laert. de Diogene.
Bethania, a towne two myles from Iherusalem, on the syde of the mount Olivete.
Bethasir, people dwelling aboute the towne of Mastregh within the diocesse of Luke in Germanie.
Bethel, a citee in Samaria, where the people dwelled, whiche were called lebusai.
Bethleem, the citee where David the prophete was boine and dyed. Dure Sauours also was boine there. There dyed Bethel the wyfe of Jacob the patriarche. It was assigned to the tribe of Iuda, beyng distant from Iherusalem syxe myles, and was first called Euphrata, and significeth in the hebreue tongue, the house of bread.
Bethsada, or Bethsaida, was a greates ponde in Iherusalem, wher in the priestes washed the sheepe, whiche shoulde be sacrificed, and maye be interpreted, the house of cattelle. It was also the name of a towne, where Peter and Phillip the apostles were boine.
Bethsamis, a citee in Galilee, where Christe dyd many myacles.
Bethsamita, people of Bethsamis.
Bethsura, & Bethsura, a stronge fortreffe of the Iewes.
Betica, Betis, Beticus, Beticola, looke Batica.
Beto, there, to go.
Betonica, or Veronica, called of the Grekes Cestron, of the Italians Serracula, is an herbe called Betayne, whiche is hotte and drye in the syde degre, and hath innumerable vertues. Of this herbe is an other kynde called Tunica, whereof be two sortes. One is named Silvestris, an other Betonica altis, or Coronaria, whiche is the gilliflowe.
Bethphage, a towne in Iudaea, and maye be interpreted the house of a mouth, or a sawe.
Betere, a towne called Betes in Cypre.
Betula, a tree called byche.
Betulo, a towne in Spayne called Beson, also a tyne.

B ANTE I.

Biron, wheate, whiche is harde to be beaten out of the huske.
Bianor, orist a manne named Denno, who dwelled in Antiochia.
Blasphemia, one of the vii. worsten of Grece.

beholding his countreie taken by enemies, fledde: And other men carping with them, such gooddes as they mought beare, he sayng with hym nothing, was demanded, why he dyd so: he answered, Cruelly I carpe at my gooddes with nyg, meaning vertue and doctrine, repaying the gooddes of fortune not to be his.

Biaia, a cite in Spayne called nowe Basa.
Bibacitas, ais, f. g. great bynkyng.
Bibaculus, he that bynkyeth often.
Bibaga, an ple in India, where is greates plenty of officers and musles.
Bibax, acis, bibofus, a great bynker.
Bibilia, bybbyng.
Biblia, the wyfe of Dullus the Romayn, whiche was of suche chastitee, that she was at that tyme an example, when it was a thyng monstrous to here of bynchastree.
Biblio, blere, to make a towne as a pot dooth, when bynke is drawn into it.
Bibliographus, a wyter of boke, a scrivener.
Biblion, li, n. g. a boke, a volume, in the plurall numbe Biblia, the boke of holy scripture.
Bibliopola, la, m. g. a factoner, o; boke seller.
Bibliotheca, ca, f. g. a llybrerie, a stodge, some tyme greas numbe of booke.
Biblis, idis, f. g. the daughter of Admetus, whiche loved filthily his owne brother.
Biblos, a bull rushe, also a booke.
Bibo, bi, ere, to bynke, sometyme to sucke o; receyue in.
Bibere in auro, to bynke in cups of golde.
Biber, aut bibe, aut abi, Bi pponere, signifying that we shuld apply our selues to the maners of men, o; els auoyde theyr companie.
Bibere aure, to heare diligently.
Bibitur, the impersonall.
Maturē veniunt, discumbitur, fit sermo inter eos, et inuitatio, ut grācio more biberetur: That come at the tyme appoynted, and there was among them talkyng and quasyng, that euery mā might bynke after the greke facton.
Bibractē, people of the countreie called Beaurate Haute.
Bibracte, a towne in Fraunce called Beaulme.
Bibrax, acis, a towne in Fraunce in the countie of Rochell called Beate.
Bibulus, a Roman that was consull with Lelas.
Bibulus, a, um, that sucketh by mostly.
Biceps, cipitis, that whiche hath two heades.
Biceps ciuitas, a cite diuided into two partes by diuision.
Biclinium, a chaumber with two beddes.
Bicolor, oris, of two colours.
Bicornis, ne, that hath two hornes.
Bicorpor, oris, om. ge. that hath two bodies.
Bicubitalis, le, two cubites longe.
Bicurgium, a cite in Almayne called Herfford.
Bidens, entis, m. g. a tooke that husbande men used to digge the grounde with, and make be nowe used for a boung foike, o; pitche foike.

Bidens, entis, f. g. a shepe with two creche, o; rather that is two peeres olde, called in some place hogrelles o; hogattes.
Bidental, a place where they used to sacrifice sheepe, when any house was bourned with lightning.
Biducens, people of Roymandie.
Biduum, i, n. g. the space of two daies.
Bidui navigatio, two daies sayling.
Bidui abelle, to be two daies iournele from a place.
Biendum, an haue in Spayne.
Biennis, ne, any thyng of two peeres olde.
Biennium, nū, n. g. the space of two peeres.
Bisariam, an aduerbe, in two parties, o; two maner of waies.
Bifer, o; Biferus, a, um, that beareth twylf.
Bifera arbor, a tree that beareth twylf in one peere.
Bifidus, a, am, cleft in two partes.
Bifidus, a, um, idem.
Biforis, re, that hath two doores.
Biforis cantus, an vtunable songe.
Biformatus, a, um, factoned like. it. bodie.
Biformis, me, idem.
Bifrons, ontis, that hath. it. fo; heades o; faces.
Bifur, a double therf, he that hath twolfe.
Bifurcatus, a, um, double forked.
Bifurcus, a, um, idem.
Biga, a, o; Biga, arum, f. g. a carte drawn with two hoies.
Bigamia, a, the marriage of two wyues.
Bigamus, i, he that hath had. it. wyues.
Bigargitani, people of Spayne.
Bigatus, a, um, toigned two and two, o; that hath the pimage of a carte with two hoies.
Bigemmis, c, that hath two buddes o; bours genynges.
Bigenus, cris, o; Bigeneris, re, a beaste comen of two sundry kyndes, as betwene a dogge and a wolfe, o; betwene an asse and a mare, and suche lyke.
Bigerones, people of Guyan in Fraunce.
Bigerra, a cite in Spayne called communely Belar.
Bigra, twynnes.
Biugi, sometyme taken for catter.
Biugus, i, and Biugis, et hoc ge. cattall o; beastes yoked together.
Bilanx, o; Bilans, ancis, f. g. a beame with balances.
Bilbilis, a towne in Spayne.
Bilibra, a, the weyght of two poundes.
Bilibris, bre, weyghyng two poundes.
Bilinguis, gue, double tongued. Also becomful, o; that can speake two languages.
Bilofus, a, um, that is choleryke.
Bilis, without any addicton, more communely signisignifieth choler: sometyme anger, the last colynesse.

Bilis aia, melancholy.
Bilis aia, choler mist with flume.
Bilis rubra, choler mist with bloudde, o; redde choler.
Bilem, aliquid iniqua, to make angry.
Bilix, icis, an adiectiue, as, Bilix loxia, a byngandys o; cote of fence double plated.
Bilis, of the Affricanes is called: the seeds of man sowed on the carthe. It is also a tree in Affric not farre from Heracia.
Bilustris, tre, that hath continued. r. pates.
Bilutes, olde wyters used to call the them that were beaulty.
Bimaris, re, that is betwene two seas.
Bimaritus, he that hath had two wyues.
Bimater, that hath two mothers.
Bimatus, us, masc. gene. the space of age of two peeres.
Bimembris, bre, of. it. partes, haupage two members.
Bimembres, substantiue to taken for the Lencaures.
Bimensis, sic, the space of two monethes.
Bimestris, re, two monethes olde, o; two peeres accepted of the moone.
Bimulus, a, um, idem quod Bimus.
Bimus, a, um, of two peeres.
Binus, a, um, two, idem quod duo.
Bini, two and two.
Bina litera, two letters.
Bina bellarii, two messengers.
Bina iuga boum, two yokes of oxen.
Binarij numerus, the numbe of two.
Binomius, a, um, et Binominis, ne, that hath two names.
Bion, the name of a philosopher.
Bioathanatus, violently slayne.
Bipalium, li, neu. gen. a mastrocke with two bytes.
Bipalmis, me, two handfull longe o; large.
Bipara, he that hath had two bythes.
Bipartio, lul, re, to diuide in two partes. Some use to write Bipertio, and Bipertior.
Bipartito, in two partes.
Biparens, tentis, open on bothe sydes.
Bipedalis, et Bipedaneus, et Bipedanus, a, um, two foote longe o; hyde.
Bipedimul, people of Guyan in Fraunce.
Bipennifer, that hath two wynges, o; that carrieth a twybill.
Bipennis, ne, haupage two wynges.
Bipennis, is, f. g. a twybill, wherewith carpenters hoo make their mosterkes.
Bipes, edis, haupage two feete.
Bipinnella, called communely Pympinella, of some Pampinella, & Bipinnula, an herbe called Impernell.
Biremis, is, f. g. a Shippe, which hath two row-ges o; oars.

Biremes leues, galeys.
Bis, twylf.
Bis teris, twylf o; thysse, dyuers tymes.
Bis deni, twenty.
Bis tanto, twylf as muche.
Bis bina, twale twale.
Bis centum, two hundred.
Bis falli, to be deceiued two waies.
Bisaltis, a people in Thracia.
Bisaltis, o; Bisaltis, the madmen, whome Admetus (tourneyng hym selfe into a Kynge) caught.
Biscargis, a cite in Spayne.
Bisellium, a feate of fourme, wherof two men onely make fyfte.
Biseta, an hogge when he begynneth to be more than fyve monethes olde.
Bison, ontis, a beaste haupage one hoie, and a breate long mane.
Bisfexilis, le, Bisfexilis annus, the leape yere.
Bislexus, one date added to in foure yeres.
Biston, the sonne of Adas, wherof the Thracians were called Bistoni, o; Bistones, and these counterete Bistonia.
Bistonis, a cite, and also a great mere o; pools in the countreie of Thrace.
Bistonius, a, um, of Thrace.
Bisulcus, a, um, clowen footed.
Bisulca lingua, a forked tounge.
Bisulcor, the surname of Adas, because he had two double farragement.
Bisurgis, a reuer in Germanie.
Bithus, the name of a sworde plater.
Bithyium, haue gathered by the bees of two sortes of thyme.
Bithyia, a copeline in Bithia, whiche now the turkes hath: On the north it bath the sea called Bosphorus, on the south the Propontis and Bithynia. It was called also Babilonia, & Mygdonia.
Bithynicus, and Bithynus, a, um, of Bithynia.
Bithynium, a cite in Bithynia.
Bijenles, they that traueyle alwaye in straugh countreies.
Bithynia, was a kyng of the Bithynes in France.
Bitumen, is, a kynde of naturall yme, wherof the olde malle of Babylon were made. It is also dyuers kyndes. One is like crete, and other more liquid, like to molten pitch, the oyle, whiche stanceth when it is touched with fyre.
Bituminatus, a, um, of oylured with the stoffe called Bitumen.
Bituminus, a, um, idem.
Biturges, the people in Fraunce.
Biturgia, a cite of the Chytrians, called nowe Mallianum.
Bitula, o; after some Bitula, a twydoie.
Bitum, n. g. a waie haupage two pathes.

B ANTE L.

Biulus, a, um, that hath two wates, of that teardeth two wates.
Bizia, a dronge holde of foystresse, of the kynges of Thure.
Bizon, a cite of Thure.

B ANTE L.

Blafterare, to blente lye a ramme.
Blaena, a fertile countre in Pontus.
Blasus, he that flammereth omitting som woyses in speaking.
Blanda, a cite in Italy.
Blande, a towne in Spayne called Blanes.
Blande be also delectable thynges in readyng.
Blande, an aduerbe, signifysing with faye of pleasant woyses, graciously, amoussly, flatterynge. Blanditer, idem.
Blande alloqui, to speake faye of gently to a man.
Blande paulpare, to stroke of touche softly.
Blande acbenigie hospicio accipere, to ensecretarne one courteply and gently.
Blandicella, whides gently spoken.
Blandicus, he that flattereth.
Blandidicus, a, um, a faye speaker, of flatterer. A woys out of use.
Blandilocus, a, um, faye spoken, that blith faye language.
Blandiloquens, idem.
Blandiloquencia, faye flatterynge speche.
Blandiloquentulus, a, um, a pleasant speaker.
Blandimentum, a thyng pleasauntly doon of spoken.
Blandimenta fortune, the flattering of fortune.
Blandior, dius sum, iri, to flatter, to speake faye for a vauntage, to please, to deluge.
Blandiri viuis, to excuse our fautes, of make lyght of theim.
Suauiter blanditur sensibus nostris voluptas Pleasure deliteth our senses greatly.
Blanditia, f. g. flattery, pleasant motion, inttemment by woyses, faye speche.
Blanditia, arum, f. g. plu, faye flatterynge woyses. A gere blandisys, to intreate with faye woyses. Vendere blanditias, to speake faye for a vauntage.
Blanditus, us, idem quod Blanditia.
Blandius, a, um, flatterynge, pleasyng.
Blandus, a, um, flatterynge, of faye spoken, pleasant, gentle, courtesie, mery, also delectable.
Blandus amicus, a flatterynge frende that doeth and saith all to please.
Blanda puella, a faice damosell, petyr gyrl.
Blandus succus, swete and pleasant iuce.
Blanduria a countre in Italy, where wyche poets had lande.
Blaspignia, tosse of generacion, ppropelys in bere.
Blasgon, an ile in the mouth of the riuier Rhone

B ANTE L.

Blasphemia, cursynge, reprochynge, commonly blasphemie, whiche is now referred onely to the despit of god.
Blasphemo, aul, are, to curse, to reproche, to speake in the derogacion of despit of another.
Blate, of Blathe, spottes of duste sprinkled on a man, as he tourmenteth, of that is scraped from his Mors.
Blatero, onis, a babbler, he that talketh to no purpose, a tangler that blith many woyses.
Blatero, aul, are, to bable in vayne, and frome the purpose, to clatter without measure.
Blatio, iul, ire, to speake of talke lye a foole, of without any purpose or reason, to babbie.
Blatta, a lytell wourme of sipe, of the kynde of mothes, and hureth bothe clothes and boones. It is eschewed the lpyhte, and louethe darbenesse. Some thynke it to be that flyr, whiche flyeth in the leame of a candell. Also the slyke wourme. It is sometyme used for purple.
Blattaria, an herbe called Agolene.
Blatteus, a, um, puple.
Vestis blatta, a purple garment.
Blax, softe, delicate, wanton, that can not be cerne thynges, blounte, foolyshe, and he that vayne bolyeth hym selfe.
Blemmix, of Blemmyes, monstrous people in Ethiopie towarde the south, whiche haue no head, but they eyes and mouth be in thier bycastes.
Blenni, foolles, doltes.
Blepharo, onis, he that hath great byowes.
Blept, a people in Asie, whiche haue thery bysages in thier bycastes.
Blerani, a people in Italy.
Bliter, a cite of Arbone, called sometyme Septimanorum colonia.
Bliteus, a, um, vnfaucy.
Blitea meretrix, an vnfaucy quene.
Blitus, of Blitum, in Greke Bliton, an herbe, beyng of the kynde of betes, haupng no sent.
Blitum, ti, n. g. an herbe, whiche some men suppose to be spinache.

B ANTE O.

Boa, a, a serpent in Italy, so greete and large, that on a tyme whan one was killed, a shyde was founde whole in his bealy, as Plinius wyrteth.
Boa, is also a sychenesse, where in the bodye is full of redde blysters. And, after festus, a swelling in the legges after tourmentynge.
Boagrius, a ruer of Loric.
Boalia, playes made for the heath of oxen and hyen, consecrated to the infernall goddis.
Boarius, a, um, pertynyng to an ore.
Boarium forum, the markett place where oxen be sold.
Bobium, a towne on the cliffe of the mountayn

B ANTE O.

Bois, Apenninus.
Bocalium, a towne of Arabie.
Bocas, a felle, whiche hath his backe as it were pyncted with dyuers colours. Boutus attemeth, that he is taken in all colles in great sculles. For withstanding I doo not yet synde his name in englyshe.
Bocatus, a learned man.
Bocchus, a kyng of Mauritania and Getulia, whiche deliuered Jugurtha bound, to Sylla.
Boccori, called also Concordienles, people of Portugall.
Bocchyrus, a mannes name of Egypt, famous for his lyppe.
Bocenses, people of Sardinia.
Boces, called of Theodorus Boc, is a felle, that onely hath a voyce, whiche mought seme to be doggyshe, whiche men saye, maketh a noyse lye the barkynge of a dogge, after he is taken.
Bochiana, a towne of the Troglodytes.
Boderia, called of Cactius, Bodotria, a creeke of the Bytagn sea.
Bodin comagum, a towne in Italy, called also Indutria.
Bodincas, the ruer Boo in Italy.
Bora, a towne of Deloponessus in the goulfe Argolium.
Borbes, a cite and lake of Thessaly.
Barbes, idos, a lake of Thessaly, a place by it named after Barbus, the sonne of Diaphryus.
Boemia, is a royaume called Beame, inclosed with the boundes of Germany, haupng on the east Hungary, on the south Baier, on the west, the countre Boicum on the north east Polonia, of Boole. It is equall in length and bredth, eche of theim beyng aboute thre dates iourne. It is enuironned with the famous forest Sylva Hercynia. Thorough the myddell ther of passeth the great riuier Albis, and another ruere named Mulcania. Upon the ruere wherof is set the chiefe cite Brasga of Praga. The language there is not darthe but the Blauoine tungue. For withstanding in the churches the people are taughte in the duche tungue, in the churche parbes they are taught in the beame tungue. They veyr from the catholike faythe in sundry opinions, and do scoyne all ceremonies. In som places there thei piously obserue the sect of the Adamites and waldenses in the act of lecher: wherof it is wyrtten in the woyses Adamitæ et Vvaldenses.
Bocodurum, a cite in Almayne, now called Basavia, of Basawe.
Bocotia, is a countre in Grece, wherof was the cite of Thebes: now it is called Vandalia. It was sometyme called Aonia, Mesapia, Ogygia, Cadmeis, and Hyanis.
Bocorus, of Bocorius, a, um, of Bocotia.

B ANTE O.

Bokhi, that whiche helps secretaries of clerkis, wherof Seuerinus Boethius was named.
Boetius, a lerted man and Senatour of Rome, in the tyme of Theodoricus.
Boerus, a ruere in Spayne.
Bogadium, a cite in Germany called vulgarly Joyleph.
Boges, a Persian, which beyng besieged of the Atheniens slew his wyfe and chyldren, and after hym selfe.
Bogudiana, a parte of the prouince in Asie, called Cingiana.
Bogus, a kyng of the Mauritaynes, whiche was with Antoine at the battayle of Actum.
Bohemia, looks Boemia.
Bohilla, a towne in Italy.
Bois, arum, gyres of setters as welte made of lynn as of yon.
Boianum, a cite of the Samnites in Italy, called now Bouianum.
Bois, people of Burbon in France, and Baister in Almayne.
Boin, a towne in Cyrene.
Boion, a towne of Doris in Grece.
Bola, a towne of Campagne in Italy.
Bolbitinum, one of the mouthes of Adius.
Bolbul, a towne and anplande in the sea Mediterraneum.
Bolenia, a precious stone.
Bolentium, a towne in Hungary, called Raschell purg.
Bolētus, a kynde of the beste musshomes.
Boling, people of Asia.
Bolis, idis, a darte with wyde fyre. also a plummet and lyne, wherwith mynmen doo founde in the sea, to synde lande. Also a certayne fyre impression in the aye.
Bolus, i, mal, g. a masse of mettall of other lye thyng. also a throw of cast at dice. also a draught with a net in waters. It is also a moyselle. By a metaphoze it is taken for aduantage.
Bolus e faucibus eripitur, A proverbe, signifysing some vantage of profitabile thyng to be taken from vs sodenly.
Bomaref, people of Asia.
Bombax, an aduerbe, spoken of hym that seteth nought by that, whiche is spoken, as one wold saye, whiche is rebuted of a faure, And what than? of tyme, I care not for that.
Bombilo, aul, are, to humme lye a bee.
Bombizatio, the noyse that bees make.
Bombos, a countre of Asia.
Bombus, i, mal, g. a greete towne of noyse as it were of a trumpet of gunne, a bouise, a hummyng of hymnyng.
Bombycinus, a, um, that is made of spike.
Bombycina vestis, a garment of spike.
Bombyx, icis, m. g. a like wourme.
Bombyx, icis, f. g. the spike.

Bomil

B ANTE O.

Bomilcar, the sonne of Amilcar, a duke of Carthage, whiche was hanged on a gibbet in the middes of Carthage.

Bomolochus, a common scoffer, or he that suspecteth all billany to get monie. It was also taken for a bose, that stood at the altars ende to steele away the candels.

Bona dea, was she that som called Fatua, Fausna or Senta, of whome Varro writeth, that neuer man dyd se her nor her named but onely her husbande.

Bonaria, caulmenesse of the sea.

Bonafus, a beast lyke a bull, but broder & moister, and hath a mane lyke an horse downe to the shoulders, but the heare is softer, and cometh downe to his eyes. The heare of his body is lyke a byghte forrell, his mane is darker coloured. The fleshe of hym is pleasaunt in eatyng, and therefore he is hunted. But he kenneth continually till he be werie, and in his rennyng singeth, and mooreth soothe his warde and dunge thye furlonges from hym, as Plinie writeth.

Bonitas, ays, goodnesse, honestee, and sustyce, beneficence.

Bonitas foli, the fertillitee of the earthe.

Bonni, certayne hylls in Ercolia.

Bonomia, a towne of Hieruria.

Bononiensis, i.e. of Bononia.

Bonem, i. n.g. good, whiche is contrary to pill.

Bonus, a, um, good, honeste, propere, holsonie, profitable, fauourable, beneuolent, peassible, liberrall, easy to speake to, treatable. Somtyme counnyng.

Bona caduca, the gooddes of them that bee condemned, gooddes escheted.

Bona praedia, the gooddes whiche bee lyable to currey action.

Bonum calum, a good apple.

Bona causa, a good and righteous cause.

Genere bono natus, come of a good kynne.

Operam bonam nauare, to implore ones labour well, to dooe a thyng that shall tourne to the profite of other.

Bonus rebus, in prosperitee.

Bonam spem habere, to haue a good hope.

Bono esse alicui, to bee profitable to one.

Multum bonus vir, A right honest man.

Bonum et aequum, looke Aequus.

Bona, in the plu. numb. substaunce, gooddes.

Bona paterna consumere, to spende awaye his fathers gooddes.

Bona dicere, to respoite well.

Bona fide dicere, to saie truly and plainly, without feignyng or dissimulation.

Bona pars, the moie parte.

Bona venia, by your licence, no displeasure to you.

Bona verba quaso, saie well I praye you.

Bona xedes, a substaunciall house.

B ANTE O.

Bona fidei possessor, a feoffee of trust.

Boni consulas, take it to good parts.

Boni frugi, honest, of good condicions, thysse.

Bona valetudo, good helthe.

Bona nota vinum, wyne of a good sort.

Bona fidei emptor, he that meaneth good faith in buyng, intending no deceit.

Bonas horas male collocare, to lose tyme, whiche mought be better spent.

Bonis auibus, with good lucke.

Bono animo esse, to bee of good cheere.

Bono animo dicere aut facere, to speake or doo a thyng for a good intent.

Bono ingenio esse, to be debonaire.

Bono publico facere, to doo it for the comune weale.

Boo, au, are, and Boo, is, iui, ire, to bellow lyke a cowe.

Booscarte, a citee of Hellesponte.

Boosura, a citee of Egypte.

Bootes, is, and ex, also Bootus, ti, a sterre that foloweth Charles wayne.

Borama, a citee of Bencia.

Borberomagus, of Bormatia, a towne in Als mayne called wymer.

Borani, people of Italy.

Borcoba, a citee of Chyace.

Borea, of Boria, faster bones.

Boreas, x, m.g. the northeasterne wynde.

Boreus, a, um, and Borealis, le, northwarde.

Boreus polus, the North sterre called the Lobsterre.

Boreostoma, matis, one of the mouthes of Danubius.

Borion, a promontorie of Asie.

Borith, an herbe that fullers vse.

Boron, a towne of the Troglodites.

Borsippa, a towne of Babylon, where is much woul wrought.

Borethienens, a great ryce in the countrey of Serethia, also a towne.

Borythenides, peple dwelling by Borythenes.

Bos, ouis, com. g. a rother beast, be it bull, oxe, or cowe, somtyme money, wheron the figure of an oxe was copened.

+ Bos in lingua, Apponerbe touchyng them whiche dare not speake the trueth, or wil not, because they haue receyued moneys to holde theyr peace.

Armenia boum, dyoues of oxen or kyne.

Custos boum, a cowe herde.

Tergaboum, oxe hydes.

Bouis lingua, of Bubula lingua, looke Bus glossos.

Boschis, idis, f. g. a byrd that is fed in the hous.

Bosphoranus, of Bosphorius, a, um, of Bosphorus.

Bosphorus, the name of a part of the sea, whiche lyeth in two sundy colles, One by Constantinople, an other moze northwarde.

Bofra,

B ANTE O.

Bofra, Botara, or Bozra, a citee of Idumea.

Bofar, an oxe house. also a mans name.

Bofrychites, a pectious stone lyke to womens heate.

Bofrytes, a kynd of oltues, haung many bones grys white and spotted with sanguine.

Botellus, li. m. g. looke Botulus.

Botiel, people of Chyace.

Botrion, onis, idem quod Botrus. Also a tereayne medicine.

Botrus, tri, m. g. a cluster of grapes.

Botrys, a towne of Syria.

Botrytes, a pectious stone lyke to a grape.

Boularius, i, mas. ge. he that maketh or selleth puddenges or sausages.

Botuli, they whiche haue muche blinde.

Botulus, i, m. g. a puddyng or sausage made of porke.

Borytillus, a littell cluster of grapes.

Bouare, idem quod Boare.

Bouatim, lyke an oxe.

Bouianum, an olde towne in Italy.

Bouicida, a slaughter man.

Bouile, an oxe stable.

Bouille, arum, a towne not farre from Rome.

Bouillus, a, um, belonging to neate, or of neate, as, Caro Bouilla, beoffe.

Bouinator, he that with gret noyse crieth out on another man, or he that rauneth or rebuketh.

Bouinor, aris, to taunte, cheeke, or rebuke, to cepe out on one.

B ANTE R.

Rabastenes, an hyl, x. myles frome Lacedemonia.

Brabeura, & Brabeutes, x, m. g. he that is dyspnyed iudge in any game, of wastlyng, rennyng, or leappng. Also he that beareth the tynges scepter.

Brabium, or Brauium, the rewards or pise, geuen to the beste dooers in common games.

Braccia, x, or Brachia, x, that kynde of mantell, whiche nowe cometh oute of Ierlande, or a longe garmente made of rough felle. Also a bysche, floppe, or codpsee.

Bracharius, ii, he that maketh such garmentes.

Brachara, a citee in Spayne, called Braga.

Brachaus, or Brachatus, a, um, that weareth such a garment, mantell, or bysche.

Brachata Gallia, Narbone in France.

Brachiale, is, n. g. a bysclette.

Brachialis, le, of the arme.

Brachiatas, a, um, that hath armes or thynges lyke armes.

Brachiatra vinea, a vyne that hath long branches lyke armes.

Brachium, an arme, propriety of a man. it is also in hylles, vines, ryces, seas, festhes, banes, and other thynges.

Leui brachio, or molli brachio aliquid facere,

B ANTE R.

to doo a thyng negligently, or lightly, and without payne.

Porrectio Brachij, the stretchyng out of the arme. Contractio Brachij, the pullyn in of the arme.

Brachium maris, an arme of the sea.

Brachium piscis, the tynne of a fysh.

Brachia arboris, the great boomes of a tree.

Brachodes, a citee of Asie, called Monexi.

Brachy catalecticum carmen, a verse lackynge onesyllable or mo.

Brachycatalecton, where syllables lacke at the ende of a verse.

Brachilogia, moistnesse of speeche.

Brachmanes, philosophers of India.

Bractea, x, f. g. golde foyle, or thynne leanes of golde, syluer, or other metall.

Bractearius, li, m. g. he that maketh suche leanes, a golde beater, a golde layer, a splitter.

Bractearior, oris, m. g. the same.

Bractcola, x, f. g. a littell leafe of golde, syluer, or other metall.

Bractia, an yle of Illyricum.

Bragada, a ryuer nere to Africa in Asie.

Brax, certayne deserte plantes.

Brana, a towne of the Turbulans in Spayne.

Branchia, arum, f. g. plu. nu. the gyles of fysh.

Branchida, certayne pylls of Apollo, in Posideum, a towne of Ionia.

Branchos, the renne of catars that falleth downe by the chekes.

Branchosi, people of Asia.

Brannouites, people of a countrey in France, called Le vase de Moriane.

Brasidas, a capitayne of Lacedemonia.

Brasica, called of the Grekes Crambe, of the apothecaries Caulis, colewoytes. It is beeynges kyndes, but ill. most comonly in vse.

Brattia, an yle in the pountee of Asie.

Brauium, looke Brabium.

Brauton, a towne in the countrey of Athens, where was a chapell of Diana.

Brauum, the citee of Burgos in Spayne.

Breges, Briges, and Phryges, idem.

Bregmenteni, people of Ceos.

Brenda, the towne of Brundis in Italy.

Breno, a capitayne or leader of the Frenchmen called Galli, whiche builded Atrona, a citee of Atrina.

Brephonopium, an hospitall, where chyldrens be kept and nourished.

Breplum, a promontorie of Achata.

Brelena, called now Brinium, the citee Brindis in Italy.

Bretolium, a towne of Portugall nowe called Brinium.

Breuch, a peple of Idumonia, by the tyne Banat.

Breui, mostly, briefly, in fewe wordes; also in shorte space.

Breuius, orum, shallow places in the water where one

One male wade.

Bremiarium, n. g. a compendious draughte, a briefe collection of bygement of any thyng, a summarie, a register.

Breuculus, a littell boyt man.

Breuiquoens, he that useth fewe wordes.

Breuiquentia, a shorte forme of speaking.

Breuiquoque, the same.

Breuiquoque, he that speaketh his mynde in fewe wordes.

Breui, an. are, to abydge or make shorte.

Breuis, breue, shorte, briefe, compendious.

Breui tempore, shorly, in shorte space.

Breuis est labor, I endeavour to be shorte.

Breue donum, a gifte that wyl not longe continue.

Breuis occasio, a sodayne occasion.

Breuis sermo, shorte communicacion.

Breuis aliquid dicere, to speake a thyng in fewe wordes, to tell quicly, or at once.

Spe breuius, sooner than re thought.

Complecti breui, to comprehende in fewe wordes.

Breui postea, soone after.

Breuius summa emere, to by at a lesse pryce.

Breuis terra, itzell grounde, a smalle plectre of lande.

Breuis, m. g. et Breue, n. g. an abydgement of shorte register of any thyng.

Breuitas, a. u. shortenesse, briefenesse, compendiousnesse.

Breuitas causa, to bee shorte, or because I will be shorte.

Breuitas pedum, the shortnesse of ones fete.

Breuitas arboris, the townesse of a tree.

Breuius, shorly, quicly.

Breuius, people of the Alpes.

Breuius, a gregant, which was of an exceeding greatnesse, and had an hundred armed. he was also called Egeon.

Brius, adis, a citee of the countreie Picidia, in Asia.

Brigantes, were auncient people in the North parte of Englande.

Brigantium, a citee in Galicia, called Coma potella.

Brigiani, people of the Alpes.

Brillemus, an hill in the countreie of Athens.

Brillemus, a mountayne in Athens.

Brisa, x, a grape when it is troden with mens fete, to presse out the wyne.

Brifabrix, people of Asia.

Brifis, cidis, a fayre damosell that was geuen to Achilles, and taken fro him by Agamemnon: wherupon grewe great trouble in the Grekes hoite at the siege of Troie.

Britanica, an herbe lyke greatesorell, but blacker, chyer, and therewith mospe, the roote blacke and littell, and in easynge strenghtly the tynge.

Britania, the moste noble Ile of the world, wher in be conteyned England and Scotlande. It lieth frome Germany weste, from Fraunce and Spayne, west north west. The fourme thereof is lyke a triangle: and (as some haue written) lyke the blade of a gleue. The length is extend into the north to the furthest parte of Scotlande, called Caledonia, whiche distance Solinus, and Marcius do agree to bee. 800. myles. The bredthe of it (after Marcius) is 300. Italian myles. The narrowest distance betweene this yle and Aylep landes (called Britannie Gessoriacum in Gallia) is. 50. Italian myles. It is nowe gessed to be. 30. englysh myles. Of the first nampnge of this yle there is yet no certayne determination, for as muche as there remaineth no auncient hystorie, makynge thereof remembraunce, the olde Britons booke (suche as were) beyng all destroyed by the Saxons: who endeuoured them selfe to extirpe vterly the honourable renoume with the name of Britons, lyke as the Brites delt with the Romans. Also the parte of Julius Cæsar, where the conqueste of Britayne is remembred, with the hystories of Julius Cæsar, and byrce of other noble wyters, who wrote specially of this countreie, are vterly perished. They wher remayne, as the commentaries of Julius Cæsar, Cornelius Tacitus, Diodorus Siculus, and they that wrote of Cosmographie, haue omitted the original begynnyng of the name. The hystorie of Strabo the Briton, can not bee founde, who was after the Saxons had invaded this royaume. And therefore moughte lache suche booke, as shoulde best instructe hym. And as for Beda seemeth to haue seene nothing written of that matter. For where he saith, that this yle toke the name Britania: of the inhabitants of Britayne in fraunce: it is nothing lyke to bee true. For that countreie was not long before the tyme of Beda, named Armorica, & Armorica tractus, at what tyme this yle was called of moste auncient wyters, Britania, and as Solinus writteth, seemed to be an other wyld, for as muche as the west parte of Gallia was thought to be the vtermoste parte of this wyld. Also Julius Cæsar writteth, that the places of this yle were vnkownen to Frenchemen, saynge to a fewe merchants, and yet they knew no farther than the sea coste towards fraunce. Moreover the same Britons asseyme, that it was left among them in remembraunce, that the innermoste parte of the countreie, was inhabited of them, whiche had theyr first begynnyng in the same yle. This well considered, with the authorities of the wyter, who was both an excellent pryce, and also a great learned man, and was hym selfe in this yle: it is not to bee doubted, but that he most diligently searched for the true knowlage of the auncientee thereof. And if he moughte haue founden founden, that the inhabitants had come of the stocke of Enes, of whose progenie he hym selfe saith, he woulde haue reioyced muche for the pynfull and valiant courage, whiche he hym selfe commended in them. Moreover, that the name began of Britons, whome our wyters imagined to descende of Enes the Troiane, is no more likely than that this yle was called Albion of Troicallians daughter, or of whiterose. All the olde Latine hystorians agree, that the sonne of Solinus, the sonne of Cæsar from Enes, and of them named the sonne of Britanus, was Enes called also Solinus. wherunto the Grekes doo also accorde, but that they name Solinus to be dyrtier to Britanus: and hence after the death of Enes, and was therefore called Solinus. But neither the Romans nor the Grekes do wyte of any man called Britus, before Julius Cæsar, whiche expelled Caraculus out of Rome. whiche name was also geuen to hym (by the sonnes of Caraculus) in derision, because they toke hym to be foolish and dull wyted. Moreover, there is so muche diuersitee betweene Britania and Brutus, that it seemeth agaynst reason, that the one should predece of the other. For if Brutus had been the geuer of the first name to this yle, he woulde haue called it Brutia, or Brucia, rather than Britania, which hath no maner proportion or analogie with Brutus. But nowe will I, as I haue dooen in the woordes Albion, declare a reasonable cause of conjecture, why this yle was named Britania. About. xxx. yeres sene, it hapned in wylshyre, at a place called Iuxta char, distant aboute. ii. myles frome Harisburie, as men dygged to make a foundacion, they found on holowe stone faste covered with an other. Bone, wherin they founde a booke, hauynge in it littell about. xx. leaues (as they saide) of very chiche helme, wherin was some thyng writen. What when it was shewed to pryces and charyons, which were there at that tyme, they could not reade it, wherfore after that had tolled it from one to an other (by the meane wherof it was toyme) they dyd neglect and caste it asyde. Long tyme after a piece thereof hapned to come to my handes, whiche not withstanding it was all to rent and defaced. I shewed to master Richard Pace, than chiefe secretary to the kynges moste royal maiesty, wherof he exceedingly reioyced. But because it was partly rent, partly defaced and blowred with weate, whiche had fallen on it, he coude not fynd any one sentence perfecte. For withstandinge after long debotying of it, he shewed me, it seemed that the said booke conteyned some auncient monument of this yle, and that he perceived this woorde Prytanis, to bee putte for Britania. But at that tyme he saide no more to me. Afterwarde, I enuyng muche Rudy and diligence to the reddyng of hystories, considering wherof this woorde Britania first came, fyndynge that all the ples in this parte of the Ocean, were called Britania: after my first conjecture of Albion, reuoluyng the said olde wytyng, and by chance fyndynge in Strabo, that Prytanis in greke, with a circumflex aspiration, dooth signifie metalles, fappes, and marchies, also reuenues belonging to the commune treasure: I than expressed this opinion, That the Grekes flourished in wylshyre, pynfull, and experience of sayng, and beyng ones entred into the ocean-sea, founde in the ples great plenty of yrn, lead, pyron, brasse, and in vngers places gold and silver in great quantites, they called all those ples by this generall name Prytanis, signifying the place, by that whiche came oute of it, as one woulde saie, he went to the marre, whan he goeth to Anwarpe, or Warpe; or to the sayre, whan he goeth to Starbidge; or to his reuerence, whan he goeth to any place, from wher his reuenues dooe come. And yet because this yle expellid all the other in every condicion, it was of some pynally called Albion, that is to saie, moze happy or better. This conjecture appereth moze nigh the true similitude, than the other inuencions doo, except there bee any auncient hystorie before the tyme of Cæsar of Monmouth or Beda, whiche maye moze probably confute that whiche I haue declared. And to such wyl I gladly geue place. Finally, I thoughte it alwas moze honourable to this countreie, to haue receiued the first name by suche occasion as I haue reherced: And the generation of the inhabitants thereof, to bee epyer equall with the most auncient, or mixed with the most wylde and valiant people of Grece, vanquishers and subduers of Troians: than to take the name and first generation of a wayne fable: or of a man, yf any such were, whiche after he hadde slayne his father, wandred about the world, dyng certayne where to dwell. Also to aduante vs to come of the Troians, causes of the destruction of their owne countreie, by fauourynge the auncientee of Paris and Helena. Of whome neuer proceeded any othere notable monument, but that they were also byrakers of theyr othe and pynfull. And yet this soyl is founde almoste in all people, that euer of them dooth contende to haue the progenitors come firste oute of Troie, whiche fantasticall tale wil be laughed at among wise men. The faith of whiche was first receiued in this royaume, after the incarnation, 156. yeres.

Britannicus, a. um. of Britayne.

Britannus, ni, & Brito, onis, a manne of that countreie.

Britona, a nymph of Grece, whiche keepynge to beaupified of Albion, cast her life in to the waite.

Bricta

Brixellum, a towne in Italy betwene Mantua and Cremona.
 Brixia, Breia, a citie in Fraunce, also a ruere in Alsia.
 Brixillum, a towne by Mutina.
 Brochidentes, the teethe that stande bendyng outwarde.
 Brochitas, aris, the crookednesse of bendyng out of the teethe.
 Brochus, a certayne vessel, whiche men vse, bothe to spill and empty greates wyne vessels.
 Bromius, mij, one of the names of Bacchus.
 Bromos, the seeds of a weede that groweth among cornes, of the kynde of wyloe otes, and was used of the olde Greckians for wild otes.
 Bromus, one of the Centaures.
 Bronchi, they whiche haue tut mouthes.
 Bronchiole, a swelling in the chetes of throte.
 Bronchus, a, um, and Brochus, a, um, that hath the nether tawe longer than the other, with the teethe b. andyng out.
 Broncia, looke Bronia.
 Brontes, a Cyclop, one of Vulcanes seruantes and so interpreted thunder.
 Brontes, the surname of Iupiter.
 Brontia, a, a thyng like the head of a snayle, full large with the thunder, It quencheth suche thynge as be syed with lghyng, a thunders stone.
 Broctas, one of the Lapithes.
 Broctus, the sonne of Alcides, who beeryng mocked for his pit fauourednesse, bouned hym selfe in the spee.
 Bruchus, a tipe lyke to a locuste, whiche eatethlye as it groweth.
 Brulix, people of Ephesus.
 Bruma, a, f. g. properly the state of the sunne in wynter, the shortest daie of the yere, common to wynter.
 Minor bruma, a myde wynter.
 Horrida, frua, nimbofabrura, an harde, rough, and stormy wynter.
 Frigida bruma, a colde wynter.
 Brumalis, le, belonging to wynter.
 Brundulum, an haue of the ruere Atetis.
 Brundulum, a citie in the realme of Naples.
 Brupco, ere, olde wynters used for Stupco, to be abashed.
 Brusa, a citie of Bithynia, builded by Hannibal.
 Brucum, ci, n. g. a bounche of knur in a tree, specially in boxe, of the tree called Acer.
 Brucum, an herbour of hedge made with thornes and byers wounde together.
 Brum, people of the realme of Naples togyng to Sicile.
 Brutus, a, um, of the Brutians.
 Brutus, a, um, dull, or grosse witted lyke a bea, brute, without reason or consideration.
 Bruticulus spoken of the earth, because it hath no sense nor feeling.

Bruta fulmina, sodapne lghynges that chaunce without natural cause.
 Bruta fortuna, foolishe and blinde fortune, haueyng no consideration in thynge.
 Bruta animalia, brute beastes.
 Brutus, the name of a familie in Rome, wherof were dyuers verie notable men.
 Brya, a, a littell bush of heathe, wherof they make byrthes, to bushe clothes. It beareth a fruite lyke galle, and is called also Myrica, and Tamarice.
 Bryaxon, a ruere in Bithynia.
 Brygion, a citie of Macedonia.
 Bryon thalassion, or marinum, a thynge growyng on the rocks, wheron the salte water beareth, somewhat lyke to moss, and is called of the noythen men, Blaube.
 Bryon, an herbe, haueyng leaues like whete bane it is called also Lupus salictarius, Lupulus, commonly Humulus: in Italy Brusculanda, in englyshe hoppes, wherewith beere is made.
 Bryonia, a, f. g. called also Vitis alba, Vnicella, a Pilotrum, a wyloe vine, whiche groweth in hedges, and hath redde beeries, the luyes wherof touchyng the thynne, will cause it to blister. Some doo call it Bryonia.
 Bryse, people of Thiac.
 Brysanx, people of Scythia.
 Brysea, a citie of Laconia.
 Bryseus, a name of Bacchus.

BV, olde wynters used to sette this syllable before wyodes, whan they signified any thyng to be great: as, Bupedar, greates chylderne.
 Bua, a, f. g. the wyode of yong chyldern, whan they aske for dyne, with vs they vse to saye Bumm.
 Bubalinus, a, um, of a bugle.
 Bubalina stragula, couerpynges of hoise clothes made of buffe leather.
 Bubalus, a pestifer of Masomena.
 Bubalus, li, m. f. gen, a beaste called a bugle, a wyloe ore.
 Bubastis, a citie in Egypte, wherin was a temple of Diana.
 Bubasus, a countreile of Caria.
 Bubrium, a countreile of Lyrene.
 Bubessus, a goulfe of the sea in Caria.
 Buberani, a people of Campayne.
 Buberix, or Buberij ludii, feastes, wherin was great hunyng of bulles and oxen.
 Bubeum, a kynde of wyne.
 Buble, li, n. g. an ore house.
 Bubinda, a ruere in Irelande.
 Bubino, aul, are, to distill with the menstruum.
 Bubo, the m. g. sometyme. f. g. a myche owl.
 Bubo, is, ere, to erpe lyke a bytoure.

Bubo,

Babo, a citie of Lydia.
 Bubona, or Bubonia, the goddess of orrh.
 Bubones, botches of impostumes, specially about the thare of membris.
 Bubonitum, looke After.
 Bubonocoele, where the bowell is brast by the thare of a man, towards his priate membris.
 Bublequa, a cowherde.
 Bubula, boffe.
 Bubulcito, aul, are, to plate the herbe man.
 Bubulcus, an herde man, or he that goeth to plough with oxen.
 Bubulus, a, um, that whiche belongeth to an ore of cowe: as, Lac bubulum, cowe mylke.
 Bubulum corium, an ore hyde.
 Bua, a towne in Italy.
 Bucar, a terrapne vessel.
 Bucardia, a bone like to a bugle herte.
 Bucca, the holownesse of the chete of mouth.
 Quicquid in buccam venerit loquitur, he speaketh at aduenture, or without aduysment.
 Inflare buccas, to be angry, or swel for anger.
 Bucca, is used of Iunenail for pyppers.
 Bucca, a mossell.
 Buccella, the same.
 Buccellari, were certayne souldiours of the Romans in the east partes, which after they were dismissed, luyed by robbing and stealing.
 Buccellarius, one of Gallogrecia.
 Buccellatum, byade called by that.
 Buccina, a trumpet. Also an hoine of the thynge wherewith shepherdes and swyneherdes used to call theyr beastes together.
 Inflare buccinam, to blow or sown the trumpet.
 Ut ad terram buccinam praeo essent, That they shoulde be ready at the thirde sowne of the trumpet.
 Bucinator, a blower in a trumpet, a speaker of fame, a trumpetour.
 Buccino, aul, are, to blowe a trumpet, or sette sooth a mans pryate of dyspasse.
 Buccinum, the sowne of a trumpet. It is also a shell, such as be made at saincte Cornells, wherin one may blow as in a trumpet.
 Buccones, they whiche haue great cheekes.
 Bucculentii, idem.
 Buccula, a littell cheek. Also that parte of the helme, wherby wynde is taken, also the creak of the helme.
 Buccra, a thyn harte in a beane within the hull.
 Buccraurus, a great wypp of carthe.
 Buccentes, spynnyng gnattes.
 Buccentrum, a pyche of a gode.
 Buccerphalus, an hoise whiche woulde not suffer any other man to come on his backe, but only the greates kynge Alexander: who spryng on this hoise by mercurious baracles, and escaped wondrousfull daungers. Finally this hoise beynge xxx. yeres olde, dyed not of any wounde, but only by extreme laboure and sturdy byrthes. One whom Alexander hadde had a sice, and called it Buccerphalus after the hoies name. This sice is in India, where Alexander vanquished Darius.

 Buccerphalus, dooth also signify an ore beade, and is an haue in Ephata.
 Buceras, a, n. g. called also Fenogracum, Carphos, Aegoceras, the herbe fenogracum.
 Bucetis, hearbes of neate.
 Bucerus, a, um, of neate or hoined beastes.
 Bucera armenta, hearbes of neate.
 Bucrum paccus, an herbe of rocher beastes.
 Bucheides, an herbe called also Sasyrium regium, Digit Citrini, of the apothecaries. Palma Christi, because the roote is like an hand.
 It be two soyes, the male which hath leaues without sporis, and a purple floure. The female hath byde leaues and spotted.
 Buchia, a place of Ionia. It is bred of the greates for Buccina.
 Bucia, a citie in Sicile, called now Butera.
 Bucina, a littell yle in the Euxine sea.
 Bucolica, orum, n. g. verses wherin shepherdes of herde men doo speake.
 Bucolicus, a, um, perteynyng to the keepyng of bullokes.
 Bucolicu carmen, a poeme made of herd me.
 Bucolon, the sonne of Laomedon. It is also a kynde of the herbe called Panax.
 Bucolus, idem quod bubulcus.
 Bucula, a, a yong cowe, an heifer.
 Buculus, li, m. g. a calfe, a steere, a bulloke.
 Buda, the chiete citie in Hungarie, whiche hath by the walles two bathes. The one verie colde, the other so hott, that it can not be suffered, wherin so muche fyre, whiche byng sod, hath no taste. This citie is called Buda.
 Budca, a citie of Magnesia, an other of Bithynia.
 Budora, two plantes by Cambie.
 Budorgis, the citie Bithynia in Germanie.
 Budoris, a citie in Almayn called Weisdelbergh, belongyng to the Dauidians of Counte Palantine.
 Budo, onis, m. g. a tode.
 Bages, a ruere of Scythia in Europe.
 Bugla, after Carolus Stephanus, is the vulgare name of the herbe Symphitum petrum.
 Buglossa, Buglossum magnum, Cirsion, and Bouis lingua, Buglossa, Langue de buffe.
 Buglossa, is, f. g. et Buglossum, is, n. g. called also Bubula lingua, or Bouis lingua, of the apothecaries Borage, in englyshe Borage.
 Bugones, bees.
 Bulapathum, li, n. g. an herbe called patience.
 Bulbine, es, f. g. an herbe haueyng leaues lyke lilies, and a purple floure, verie medicinalle for greene woundes. Some vnde this wyode for seasons of chylde.
 Bulbito, aul, are, to cast out on one. It is a pypp of chylde, whiche nourishe doo name, eachyng with a lowde voyce.

Tremulo cachinnare rifu, to laugh and make withall.

Furtim cachinnare, to laugh ptylurly.

Cachinnus, n. m. g. a froger, o. a lowde laugh-ter in derision.

Cachinnos mouere, to make men to laugh.

Cachinnu sustollere, to laugh out of measure.

Cachrys, is suche a thynge as groweth on trees, as we see on halles, hanginge lyke aglettes, before the leaues come out, compact together as it were scales. Whence callsthe it Pilula. In other trees they be rounde.

Cacia, viciolitee, o. that whiche we doo com-monly call a faulte in a thynge.

Cacidini, people of Scythia.

Cacirini, people of Sicilia.

Caco, au, are, to wype.

Cacoblepa, a litell beate in the bankes of the ryuer Nilus, whiche hath suche venenositie in his eyes, that whom so euer he beholdeth, dyeth incontinent.

Cacochexia, an ill habite o. deformeditee of the body, caused by speckles.

Cacochymia, ill digestion, o. rather ill tyme, gathered in the condities of the body, for lacke of perfite digestion.

Cacoethe, n. g. plur. nu. a boyle o. soye, beate harde to be cured.

Cacoethies, n. g. an ill condicion, custome, o. maner, that a man hath taken of longe cons-tynuaunce.

Cacologia, ill speeche.

Cacologus, an ill speaker.

Cacostomachos, one that hath an ill and weak stomache.

Cacosyntheton, an ill o. deformed composition.

Cacotechnia, an ill arte, o. the vice of any arte of science.

Cacozelia, an ill affection, o. imitation.

Cacozelus, an ill fauoured imitator.

Cactos, an herb, which groweth only in Sicilia.

Cacula, n. m. g. a troublesome floure o. page.

Cacumen, inis, n. g. the toppes of an hyl, o. any other thynge.

Venire ad summum cacumen, to come to a full perfection.

Cacuminatus, a, u, with a sharpe top o. copped.

Cacumino, au, are, to make sharpe toward the toppe, to make copped.

Cacus, a gygant, whom Hercules slue in Italy.

Cadaver, eris, n. g. a deade bodie o. carreyne, a carkeys.

Cadavera opidorum, cities o. townes beate-d, o. vtterly destroyed.

Cadaverosus, a, um, like a deade corse o. carkeys.

Cadaverosa facies, a deade face o. countenance.

Cadducij, people of Arabia.

Cadi, a citee of Phrygia.

Cadiscus, an hyl in Andp.

Cadiscus, a vessell wherinto are gathered the dices, bylles, and lottes, whiche thynge are dooen by a content of many countpanses, o. of the people.

Cadius, a, um, that whiche fasteth by it selfe.

Cadua folia, leaues fallen by them selfe.

Cadua poma, apples whiche doo fall downe without violence.

Cadmea, the citee of Thebes.

Cadmeides patronymicum.

Cadmeius, a, um, a Cadmeus, a, u, of Cadmeus.

Cadmea victoria, a piousse applied to that victorie, wherof cometh moxe harme the good, o. that it were better to lose than geat.

Reade herof in Chil. Erasmi.

Cadmia, the ore of byasse.

Cadmites, a stone whiche hath blew sparks about it.

Cadmus, a prince, the sonne of Agenor, and bro-ther to Europa, who buylde Thebes, and brought out of Phenieta into Grece, siren-letters, and found out the sulyng and callung of mettalles. There was another Cadmus, the frere that euer wrote in prose. Also an hyl in Asia.

Cado, cecidi, ere, to fall, to dye, to beslayne, to happen, to chaunce, to belonge o. agree with a thynge, to ende o. synthe, to fall o. go downe, as sterres and planettes doo.

Cadere, to happen.

Cadere causa, to be nonstante in an action.

Cadit illi animus, his herte o. courage say-eth, o. is abated.

Cadere in deliberationem, to come to some munteaction, o. to be consulted of.

Cadit solutio in diem calendæ, the paiement is the firste date of the moneth.

Cadere de, o. ex equo, to falle of o. frome an horse.

In pectus cadit pronus, he falleth flat downe on his byasse.

In pontum cadunt flumina, the ryuers haue theyr course o. fall into the sea.

Inter verba cadit lingua, when a mans tounge stoppeth in his talping.

Cadunt dentes, the teeth fall out.

Homini illico lacrimæ cadunt præ gaudio, By and by the man wepte for ioy.

In verba singula cadunt lacrimæ, The teares trickled downe his chekes at euery woode.

Arma ceciderunt, the warres o. debate celled.

Cadunt auri, the south wyndes were alated.

Cecidit tibi ira, Thy anger is cooled o. assuag-ed.

Spes cadit, hope deceiteth.

Ad irritum cadit spes, oure hope is come to naught, o. we be disappointed of that we looked for.

In casum cadunt tua promissa, your piousse-sses come to none effect.

Cadere formula, when the attounsey by neg-ligence neglecte dooeth not declare the piousse of the matter in his due tyme, and mischaunce that whiche maketh moxe for his client.

Cadere in iudicio, to be overcome in the lawe to be cast in a suite.

In com cadit stud, this agreeth well to hym, o. it is not vnlike that he will doo this.

Non cadit in alium tam absolutum opus, No manne elles is able to make so perfect a woork.

Cadit suspicio in eum, he is suspected.

Cadunt in malos omnia scelera, All myle-therious dedes maye be founde in guill persons.

Scidit in sapientem dolor, If a wyle man maie be sorrowfull.

Non cadit in virum bonum mentiri, It is not the point o. condicion of an honest man to lye: o. a good man dooeth neuer lye.

Non cadit in consuetudinem nostram, wee doo not vse it.

Non cadit in hos mores suspicio, suche a sus-picion agreeth not with these maneris: there can be no suche suspicion in a man that liueth after this sorte.

Quod in nostram intelligentiam non cadit, whiche thynge we can not vnderstande.

Cadere in offencionem, to fall into displea-sure.

Non in vnam formam cadunt omnia, All thynge happen not after one faction.

Cadit in sensum cernendi, It is of that sort, that it maie be seene.

Cadere in suspicionem, to come in suspicion, o. to be suspected.

Cadere in vituperationem, to be blamed, o. to be wooythe.

Cadit aduentus tuus in alienissimum tem-pus, you come in a verate euill tyme.

Quæ cadunt sub aspectum, o. sub oculos, su-eth thynge as maie be seene.

Illa cadunt sub iudicio sapientie, Those thyn-ge be suche, that a wyle man maye iudge of them.

Ira cadebat vt vellem, It chaunced as I wold haue it.

Nil mihi incommodi cecidit, there hath no displeasure o. damage chaunced to me.

Quocumq; res cadit, To what possibill euer the matter will come.

Feliciter cecidit ales, A piousse signi-fying a thynge to haue chaunced fortunately, as we wold haue it.

Lambus in verum cadit maxime, The moste lambus is moxe conuents o. agrea-ble in a verbe.

Verba mellius cadunt in syllabas longiores, woordes falls o. ende better in longe syl-labes.

Primo congressu sephingia ceciderunt,

At the firste encounter sephingia ceciderunt.

Alte cadere, to dye vtterly, o. to be cast.

Alte cadere, to be slaine with a sword.

Cadere sub manu, to be cast in life.

Sol cadens, the sonne goyng downe, o. the cendryng taper from v. as he dooth in winter.

Gratuler cadere in aduersis, to haue a greete fall in aduersities.

Alte cadere non potest, he cannot haue no greete fall.

Caduarii, men hauiing the falling eyll.

Caduca, thynge that wyle wylteyr perperis o. decays, albe wyrtues vnde them, the signification of thynge, whiche shoulde happen.

Caduicator, an ambassatour o. heraulte at ar-mes sente to demaunde peace, o. to take a treuce.

Caduceus, cel, m. g. et Caduceum, cel, n. g. a rodde, whiche poetes supposed, that Aler-cure bare in his hande, in token of peace as messenger of Iupiter. Also a lyrell wyrtue rodde, that heraultes at armes vnde to beate, when they went to treatte for peace.

Caduci, they whiche are decreased.

Caduclifer, ferl, m. g. he that beareth the same wyrtue rodde.

Caducliter, caputifer, as it wolde falle, head-longe.

Caducor, eris, cl. to be onerethyowen.

Caducus, a, um, frays, ruynous, lyke to falle, decays o. perperis. Sometyms beate o. be-crashed.

Caducus literæ, letters whiche will be moxt-ly put out, bynde letters.

Caduci tituli, honours and dignities, whiche endure but a lyrell while.

Caducus labor, labour losse.

Caducus morbus, the falling eyll.

Legatum caducum, hereditas caduca, bo-na caduca, Bequestes, inheritance, o. good-nes fallen in estate for lacke of heires: o. because the heires be decreased before the tyme.

Caduca aqua, water that aboundeth o. reu-neth ouer the vessel o. ponds.

Preces caducas, praies that be not heere.

Cadueni, people in Laria.

Caduei gutti, bypping of edle meate.

Cadurci, Caliois in Fraunce.

Cadurcum, cl, neut. gen. a herettedde of fry-men, moxe piousse a quyte. Also a vessel o. terrayn instrumente to drawe water out of a ponde.

Cadus, a wyne vessel. It maie be taken for a pype. It dooth also contayne the same mea-sure that Amphora dooth.

Cadytis, a great citee in Syria.

Cæa, of Cæos, and after some Cia, an yle in the sea called Boceum, where the woumes were fyrst founde. It is the countrey of Epiporates, the prince of phylitions.

Cæus, an ape with a taylor, we make take it to be a murtherer.

Cæus, the east north east wynde.

† Cæus nubes, a prouerbe spoken of hym that purchaseth to hym selfe matter of contention and busynesse.

Cæcigenus, a, um, that is boyne blinde.

Cæcia, a floe woman that is blinde.

Cæcius, the name of dyuers notable men, of the whiche one was so ryche, that not withstanding muche of his goodes was destroyed by civile warre, yet he had lesse. + 116 seauantes. 360. poke of oxen: of other cattell, 257000. in monie. 600. lxx.

Cæcios, an hylle in Delile.

Cæcias, a, is, f. g. byndenesse, not onely of the bodye, but also of the mynde.

Cæco, aui, are, to make blinde.

Cæcare animos, by a metaphorse, to bynde mens wittes.

Cæcan cupiditate, to be bynded with couetousnesse.

Cæcubum, a towne of Campagne in Italye, where is made good wyne.

Cæcubus, a, um, the aduersus.

Cæculto, aui, are, to haue a bymyne syght, to be almoste blinde, to imitate a blinde man.

Cæculus, a, um, a diminutive of Cæcus.

Cæcus, a, um, blinde, also darke, unknown, vncertayne.

Cæca vestigia, where one maye not see his waye that he rydeth of goeth.

Cæca dies, oculata dies, The date when the monie is payed, and the date whanne it is not payed.

Cæca die, Cæca hercle oleum, id vendito oculis die, Cæca oyle not payng out of hande, but promysing at a date: sell it agayne for euer by monie. Eraf. Chil. Also the ciuile lawyers doo call those daps and witness, whiche onely be certified by them that be absent, Cæca, & Cæca testimonia.

Cæcus aceruus, a confusd heape.

Cæcus aditus, a darke entree.

Cæca fata, unknown besettles that cannot be foresene.

Cæca nox, darke nyght.

Cæca faxa, rocks in the sea that bee not seene.

Cæca expectatio, an vncertayne hope of looting for a thyng.

Cæcus ramus, the bough that byngeth forth no blossom or budde.

Cæci hemorroides, hemoroides of pyles whiche are within the fundament, and dooe not appeere.

Cæci morbi, Syphacenes, whiche bee not apparent, the causes whereof bee hydde froine phylitions.

Cæcum intestinum, is a bowell, whiche cometh from the ryght syde, at the popit of the luerke bone, and goeth to the left side in length and is also called Monoculus.

Cæcum vallum, a teneche, whiche in eyne of warre is pyghte pygultes with sharpe stakes, the whiche are hydde with bushes of bushes.

† Cæcus cæco dux, One blinde man leadeyth an other, A prouerbe signifying one ignorant person to teache an other vnlearned: one foole to geue an other foole counsaile.

Cæcurio, iui, ire, to see but littell, to see halfe blinde.

Cædes, ædis, form. gene. deathe, slaughter, of murder.

Cædem facere, of committere, to kille, to make a slaughter.

Auidissimus cædis, verate despyous of mans slaughter.

Cædes acerba, acris, dira, fæua, fers, a cruell murder of slaughter.

Cædus, the name of an excedyng riche man.

Cædina, certayne houses of caueres, builded by one Cædissus.

Cædo, cecidi, ere, to beate of whyppe, to curse, to kille, to kille, to beake. Sometyme to sacrifice.

Cædere calcibus, to kicke of stephe with the heeles.

Cædunt binas de more bidentes, accordyng to the custome they sacrifice two hogges.

Cædere ianuam saxis, to beake the doore with stones.

Cædunt testibus, he is conuict by witness.

Cædere pugnis, to beate with the fistes.

Cædere flagellis, to whyppe.

Cædunt, dua, um, cutte downe, of that male be cut.

Cædua sylua, woodes vsed to be cut, copelles.

Cælamen, inis, n. g. idem quod cælatura.

Cælasis, vsed of olde wyters for cælaueris.

Cælator, oris, m. g. an engrauer.

Cælatura, f. g. engrauing in mettall.

Cælatus, a, um, engraued.

Cælebs, ebis, com. g. he of the that is unmarried, a synge person.

Cælestini, people of Ambyla.

Cælestis, ie, heavenly, of of heauen.

Cælestis aqua, rayne water.

Cælia, a hynde of bymyne.

Cælibatus, us, m. g. of Cælebs vita, the state of a man or woman unmarried.

Cælicola, lx, com. gen. one that inhabiteth heauen.

Cælifer, a, um, that beareth by heauen, the name of Atlas.

Cæli

Cæliculum, a place where was a temple of Diana.

Cælimontanus, a, um, of the hylle Cælius.

Cælitæ, tum, m. g. plu. n. heavenly creatures, saintes in heauen. Cælitæ, in the ablatiue case singular is cedde in Quide.

Cælitis regnis, for cælestibus regnis.

Cælius, the name of dyuers notable men, of whiche one was an orator, an other a piete of Rome.

Cælius mons, one of the. vii. hilles that Roma was enclosed.

Cælo, aui, are, to graue in mettall.

Cælare, auro, and in auro, to engrave in golde.

Aurum & argæum cælatur, place engraued.

Cælos, anhauentin Chæce.

Cælum, heauen, the stemment, an instrument to graue with. Also the ayre, the palate of route of the mouth.

† Cælum digito attingere, to touche heauen with his fpynger, A prouerbe applyed to them, whiche suppose them selfe able to doo thynges impossible, or to bee of great power.

† In cælo esse, A prouerbe signifying to be in felicity, or to bee moste happy.

Varians cælum, an vncomfart wether.

Ruina cæli, thunder.

Rabies cæli, horrible tempest.

Cælum apertum, liquidum, purum, serenum illustre, clarum, an open ayre, a fayre cleere wether.

Bonum cælum, a good ayre.

Pacatum & placidum cælum, a calme and quiete wether.

Tactum de cælo, blaſted of hurt with lyches nyng. In cælum attollere, to auance, of praise excedyngly.

Detrahere cælo, to put a man frome greatte glory and renoume.

Cæli, the father of Saturnus and Cæan.

Cæmentæ, is vsed of Cæntus in the feminine gender.

Cæmentarius, rij, m. g. a dumber, a pargetter, or rough wason, whiche doth make wallis only.

Cæmentitius, a, um, of moyster.

Cæmentum, n. n. g. moyster, or any other grosse matter, wherewith wallis bee made, as rubbyshe, Marbles, or ragged stones, sometyme the wall selfe, made of suche matter.

Cæne, a ceece aboute the goulfe of Laconia, and a littell yle in the Ætlian sea.

Cænica, a countie of Thrace.

Cænina, a towne of Latium.

Cænias, a promontory of Italye.

Cænias, the daughter of Platæus, one of the Lapithes, who being raynyed of Peperus, obeyned to bee raynyed into a man, and had the gyfte, that no weapon could wounde hie.

Cænites, an hant of Thrace.

Cæpe, looke Cæpe.

Cæpi, the waterperfectione of Cæpio, I haue taken of I haue begunne.

Cæpori, people of Spayne.

Cæra, a certayne hyde, whiche after some, byeth of the name of the hyde called halcyon.

Cere, vnbelined, and Cæcere, cæcis, n. g. was an ancient cite of Æticia.

Cærefolium, an herbe called Cherull.

Cæremonia, æ, f. g. and Cæremonia, arum, ceremonies, rites, and customes. also holynesse, religion, sometyme pompe.

Cæretanus amnis, a riuer that ranne by the cite called Cære.

Cæretum, a towne of Ambyla.

Cærinthe, looke Cerintie, three leaved grasse, whiche byngeth forth the whyle hony suckles called ciuer grasse.

Cæris, a soylephe an hony combe.

Cærites, people of the cite Cære.

Cærium, looke Cerium.

Cæroma, of Cæromatum, looke Ceroma, an oymntment, made with oyle and neares bunge, wherewith men that wyntled, vsed to annoynt theyr bodies, to make them the more delyuer and stronge. It dooth also signifie the place where wyntlers were annoynted.

Cæculus, et Cæculus, a, um, blew of colour like the skye in a cleere wether.

Cæsa, a weapon, sometyme vsed in France.

Cæsar, the surname of a noble house among the Romaines, of whiche came Julius Cæsar, the hynde emperoure of Rome.

Cæsar Augusta, a cite in the roialme of Ærogon, called Maragosa.

Cæsarea, a cite of the countrey of Palestina, also of Mauritania: An other of Cappadocia, an other of Spamia.

Cæsareus, a, um, and Cæsarianus, a, um, perteynyng to the emperour.

Cæsariatus, a, um, that hath a greatte bushe of heare.

Cæsaries, heare, of a bushe of heare.

Promissa cæsaries, a long bushe of heare.

Pectere cæsarium, to combe ones heare.

Cæsarium, a mart towne in Egypt.

Cæsarobricenses, people of Portugall.

Cæsenna, a cite in Italye, the people wherof bee called Cæsennates.

Cæsim, adgyngs, of with the edge, as one wounde cutte.

Cæsim dicere, to speake now one waye, and than an other, also to speake by moyste memories and clauses.

Cæcio, onis, f. g. a strype, a game, of a cutte.

Cæcium, a weate, a cleane naphyn of handkercheffe.

Cæsius, a, um, After some coloure like the skye, or rather hearyng a terrible byghynesse like the skye, or the skye of a tyron, and in the skye bee cometh a (faint) of cruellty.

L 11

Cæso

Calones, they whiche bee cut out of their most ther of daimes bealpes.
Calpes, ius, m. g. a turs.
Festus calpes, an aulster made of turses.
Calpirator, or is, m. g. a thumblar.
Calpiratores equi, thumblng hoyses.
Calpirius, a, um, made of turses.
Calpro, ai, are, to thumble.
Cantrum, m, n. g. an instrument, wherewith uoy was boyed. Also a weapon like a dagger Catus, us, f. g. a weapon haupng great plummettes hangng at it.
Canfular, they whiche haue blewe eyes.
Canum, si, a part of a proposition, signifying no full sentence.
Canura, ra, f. g. a cutte of gaffe, an incision.
Also intayng of carupng in stone of ymber.
Also a ptece, as it were cut of from the remeant ppperty of a verbe.
Canuram, byetely, succinctely, by membyes of hozt clauses.
Canus, a, um, cutte, beaten, flayne.
Exercitus canus, an army vanquished and flayne.
+ Inter cana & porrecta, betwene the cuttng and the geupng: a prouerbe signifying ear-png and doubtyng what to doo, and as it were the space betwene the leupng of frome the thng that is begunne, and the begynng of that whiche is newly enterprised.
Cetari, looke Cetari.
Ceter, a, um, the remenant of respydue.
Cetera doctus, learned in othe thnges.
Cetera, f. g. Ceterum, n. g. the other, the re-menant, the respydue.
Nunquid me vis ceterum? will pe any thyng
etes with me?
Quid ceterum? what moze?
Pro cetera tua diligentia, for pour othe disligence. Ceterum omne, all the respydue.
Aetas cetera, the respydue of his age.
Ceterus, is redde in Lato.
Cetera, for Quantum ad cetera, as concern-ng othe thnges.
Cetera, sometyne hereafter.
Cetero, an aduerbe, as for the respydue of the tyme: As concernng the respydue.
Ceteroquin, or Ceteroqui, for Alioqui.
Ceterum, et Cetera, bee aduerbes, signifying sometyne mozeouer, sometyne from hencefoth.
sometyne Ceterum, is a conjunction, and si-gnifieth Sed, but, sometyne Alioqui.
Cetobrix, a citee of Portugall.
Ceus, a, um, of the ple called Cea.
Cassani, be ydolaters dwelling in Indie the moze, whiche woothpye dyuelles in moste terrible figure, beleupng, that they are permitted of god, to punnthe of spare men at theys pleasure. wherfore vnto them they sacrifice theys chyldrene, and sometyne them selues. They haue many wyse, but they can panic not with them, vntill they bee desigred by othe hynd to that purpose. Also they suffre theys pysses to haue carnall company with theys wyues in theys absence. They haue bulles and hyne in greatte reuerence, all be they neuer eate fleshe, but they sustynance of ryce, sugar, and dyuers sweete rootes, and dooe dyntie the lyhouse that cometh of ryce dates. Weade moze of this in Calcut and Indie.

Caiani, heretikes that woothpyed Lapn, say-ng that he was made of the one vertus of power, that is to say, of the dyuell, and Al-bell of the othe, and that the vertue of Caia prouapled so that he slewe Abell. They saye also that Judas was a gobly man, and that his acte was a benefite to mankynde. For he perceyving howe muche the passion of Chyld shoulde prouaple, deluereed hym to the Jes- wes, that by his deathe man myght be redemed. They assymed also, that the olde lawe was nauhte, and denyed the generall resurrection.
Caianus, a, um, of Calcut.
Caici, people of Germanie, dwellngs by the Rhine.
Caicus, a ryuer of Thyrgia, whiche renneth out of Thysia, also one of the compaignons of Aeneas.
Caicta, a citee and haven of Lampayne.
Cain, was the first sonne of Adam, who had to wyfe his owne syster, whiche of Abello is named Chemeth, and was the firste that dyu-ded citees. And for enuy that he hadde to his brother Abell, he slewe hym. wherfore beyng in desperation, he continually wandred, and his body trembled. Finally he was slayne by Lamech, whan he was of the age of 730.
peres after Abello.
Cainas, a ryuer in Thyrgia, whiche renneth in to Ganges.
Caius, a pppie name of a man.
Cal, a byller, a myde of wodde, or a bigge club-by the flasse, whiche the seruantes of the Ra- mayne soulbours caried after them in warre to make theys trenches with.
Calaber, a, um, of Calaber.
+ Calabri hospitris xenia, A prouerbe spoken of small crisyng gyftes moze troublesome than pleasant.
Calabra, a conuocation place where matters concernng deuotion were treated.
Calabria, a countee tolyngng to Aples, called before Magna Grecia. Also an plande called before Abellapia.
Calabris, bre, a Calabricus, a, um, of Calaber.
Cal, arum, a citee in India.
Calanum, looke Calenum.
Calagurium, a towne in Wiskap.

Calais,

Calais, the sonne of Boreas, and brother to Ze-
tha, whome poetes assigned to haue wynges.
Calais is also a pious stone like to a sapphire Calama, an care of coyne.
Calamarium, a penne.
Calamarum, a broken ptece of a foyle of oppo-that a byne hath been vnderfete with.
Calamintha, an herbe, of whiche see. tit. hydes: One called Calamentum, hath leaues lyke to great Basil, but that they be hoze, and hath square stalkes, with many knottes and topnetes, and is now commonly called cala- mynte. An other called Pulegium siluestre is lyke to penny royall, or Basil royall, but that the leaues are greater, and is commonly called wyde penny royall: The thpye called Nepeta, or herba catorum, groweth hygher than any of the othe, and hath a larger leafe lyke to wyde mynte, a pealow flower, and is comonly called neppe or catmynt, because cat-tes dooe helpe to rubbe them selues agaynst it, and to eate of the byanches of it: All the
the hyndes be hot and dy in the thpye degre.
Calamis, a famous engrauer.
Calamistrum, a pntte of wodde of puyoy, where with men or women dooe sette or trymme vp theys heare.
Calamistratus, a, um, that is trymmed with suche a pntte.
Calamistrata coma, a cryspe bushe of heare.
Calamitus, a towne of Aecus.
Calamita, litell greene frogges.
Calamitas, aris, f. g. is properly hayle, whiche breatheth downe coyne, and destruyeth it. Also a generall destruction, mysse, calamitee, aduerstee. Calamitas in amore, trouble in loue.
Calamitofum cœlum, an ill or hurfull aye.
Calamitosa præura, an hurfull ptece of oppo,
byngng muche trouble to the comon weale.
Calamites, a pious stone called a calamitee.
Calamitose, miserably.
Calamitosus, a, um, destroyed with tempeste of wyther, hurful, miserable, of ful of aduersties.
Calamochinus, a sythe called Aclarcha.
Calamos, a towne in Asia by the hill Libanus.
Calamus, m, m. g. a reede of wheate strawe.
Also a penne to wyte with. It is taken for a pype of whyle. also a sythe of reede and a twyng, wheron bydyms to put. Also a small twyng of a tree, a grasse, a lytell darte, or ar-rowe. Sometyne the stile of foume of oration.
It is also a polle to mete with, concepyng fize cubites and a span, a mete poll. It is also a measure, whiche the Jewes vsh as was dooe a polle, but there was of it two sortes:
One was called Calamus (an Amur), whiche concepyed .x. fets and a halfe. The other was called Calamus vulgaris, the comon polle of pteche, whiche concepyed .x. foote, of oure measure, iij. yardes.

Calamula, a thymallus, vel odoratus, is a thymallus growng in Arabia, Syria, and India, whiche hath many knottes of topnetes,
and is of a white colour, whan it is broken it falleth into longe pteces as it were cut, and hath with it as it were coveredd. It serueth footen a meruallous sweete sauour, fete of, and beyng called cleadeth to the tongue, and strepeth it. It is horre and dye in the seconde degre.
Calantica, f. g. a type of dwelt, a herchief, or a hood for a woman.
Calanus, a philosophier of India, whiche beyng of the age of 73. peres, dyd in the presence of great Alexander, make a greete bonfyre, and selng hym selfe sythe, went into the top thereof, and burned hym selfe.
Calapia, a notable ryuer in Hungarie.
Calaris, a citee in Sardinia.
Calasater, i, he that hath a Wyll to towne voyes.
Calasatri pueri, were chyldren, whiche had Marpe voyces and lowde, and were muche fought for of great pyntie.
Calaisis, a certayne faction of quates.
Calara comitia, a certayne assemblee, called for the election of the byshoppes and pyntes named Flamines.
Calathis, the name of a citee.
Calathiscus, a diminutive of Calathus.
Calathus, thi, m. g. a basket, a hamper, or a passage made of oyers, in faction lyke the leafe of a tyte, byde about, and smalle benethe. also a byasen vessel, wherin women vied to bynge myke and seel the chyele to the market. Also a cuppe vied in sacrifice.
Calathusa, an ple betwene Chersonesum and Samos thysse.
Calatie, a citee of Italy.
Calatis, a citee of Thysse.
Calator, oris, m. gen. a seruante whiche is al-waie called for, or alwaie occupied in callng for othe.
Calatus, the sonne of Gupster and Antiope.
Calaura, or Calauria, an land in the sea Mae- diterraneum, where Demothene poisoned
hym selfe.
Calbei, byacesettes, whiche were gotten in southebours.
Calbis, a ryuer of Caria.
Calcaneus, ei, m. g. et Calcaneum, the heele.
Calcar, aris, n. g. a spurre.
+ Calcar addere currendi, A prouerbe signi-fyng to pyche one forwarde, whiche is of hym selfe well bypnted to a thng.
Calcaribus, con- the equum, to fete by the horse with the spurs.
Calcaribus agere, and Frenis agere, bee conterpye.
Immenium calcar habet gloria, Glorye sety by, or encouragng, a man wonderfull.

Calce

C A N T E A.

Calcaria, the spurre of a cocke or an henne.
Calcaria, a, um, of perperping to lyme.
Calcaria fornax, a lyme pitte of kyle,
Calcarium, rj, m g. a lyme burner.
Cal, as, antis, an Augurian, who bring mony shed by Apollo, forsooke the Troians, and fled to the grekes.
Calcartorium, rj, n. g. a lyme pitte.
Calcatius, a, um, pergered or white lymed.
Calcata edificia, houses that be pergetted.
Calce, a citte of Campanie.
Calceamen, mls, & Calciamentum, ti, n. g. a shoe, ppsen, of soke.
Calcearium, rj, n. g. idem.
Calceatus, us, m. g. idem.
Calceatus, a, um, shod.
Calceidix, a kynne of well spfthe.
Calceo, au, are, to put on shoen, to shoe an horse or mule.
Calceolarius, rj, m. g. a shoemaker or cordner.
Calceolus, li, m. g. a littell shoe.
Calceus, i, m g. a shoe.
Calceus mutare, to be made a senator.
Calceus lunatus, a shoe fashioned before lthe a moone, whiche only the Senators of Rome
dyd weare.
Calcio, au, are, idem quod calceo.
Calciopie, the wyter of Egiptus, and daughter of kyng Aecra.
Calcitratus, us, kyching, wynging or flynging.
Calcitro, au, are, to kyspe or wynde, and by a metaphor, to be agastit, or to refuse stubboyn-ty and fromwardly.
Calcitratio, onis, m. g. an horse that dothe flynge,
stepe or perke out behynde.
Calcitrosus, a, um, that ofscyntmes flyngeth,
kycheth, or stepereth.
Calco, au, are, to treade or pssle downe, and by a metaphore, to subdue, to keepe vnder, or to haue in subjection. Also to consigne and sette naught by, and as it were to tread vnder foote.
Calcare vitis, to stampe grapes.
Calculator, oris, mas, g. one that casteth ac-comptes.
Calculo, au, are, to caste accomptes.
Calculosus, li, m. g. he that is muche diseased with the stone.
Calculosus, a, um stony, or full of grauell.
Calculosus locus, a stony place.
Calculus, li, mas, g. a pebble stone, the stone in the bodie, a chiefe man, or a able man, ac-comptes, the least weight or poise that maie be.
Also counters to caste or numbre with. Some-tyme doubtres or difficle reasons.
Calculus ponere, to pssde accomptes.
Calculus permittere vel porrigere, to put it to ones libertie, to geue a sentence, or to geue his voyce in election, as he listeth.
Calculus reducere, to resouke a sentence, wher-of one repenteth, or to towne that pourpose,

C ANTE A.

which was not well and commodiously brused.
 + Calculo mordere, A prouerbe, signifying to hurt one in giving sentence, or in election.
 + Calculum album adnecere, to appoint, or as-lowe a thing. A prouerbe, taken of the olde manner of iudgement, when men vsed to geue sentence, by putting littell stones into a pot.
 Ad calculos vocare, to call to accompte.
 Ad calculos vocare amicitiam, to accompte howe many pleasures he hath doorn for his friende, that he maie loke for as many againe.
 Ad calculos reuerſi, to returne to his accorde.
 And by a metaphorse, to haue consideration of regards of a thing, whiche before we by despasse, and by negligence omitted.
 + Candido calculo notare diem, A prouerb taken of Physicians, whiche vsed to note suche daies as were happy and fortunate, with whyte stones, and the vnluckie daies with blacke.
 Calculi, is vsed of Columella for cucumers, or as muche as one can spende.
 Calda, x. f. g. hott water.
 Caldaria, hott bathes.
 Caldaria cellæ, places assigned to an hott house of dye bayne, whiche be made warme by the heat that proceedeth from the fayed baynes.
 Caldanium, rñ, n. g. a sauldstone, wherein was ere to sette.
 Caldarius, a, um, that warmeth or maketh hott.
 + Caldarium æs, copper.
 Caldor, oris, m. g. idem quod calor.
 Calidus, a, um, olde writers vsed for Calidus.
 and Caldior, for Calidior.
 Cale, es, a citie in Lampagne.
 Calcut, a famous citie in Indoe the more, following vnto the Indian sea: where is the greatest mart and recourse of marchauntes in all Indoe, not onely from the countreys adioyning, but also out of Arabie, and Syria, A-ethiopia, Libya, and Egypt, for to sell and bye all manner of spices, sweete gummes, muske, ambregrice, and myrobalesnes. The kyng of that countreys recheſſe is inestimable, and althoughe he dooe weare no garmentes, yet his necke, armes, and legges be adorned with precious stones wonderfull greate and fayre.
 As with diamandes, sapphires, rubies, emeraudes, and balafſes. The kyngs and people bee idolatrous called Caſtrani, they vse those heretabill manieres and customes, whiche I haue spoken of before in Caſtrani.
 Caledon, iohs Calydon.
 Calefacio, feci, ere, to make hott, and by a me-taphoſe, to vex, to make anger, to chafe.
 Calefacto, aui, are, to heate or make warme.
 Aquam calefactare, to heate water.
 Calefactus, a, um, heate or made warme, and greb

C ANTE A

bred, chased.
 Calefactus, us, m. g. heats, or warmeneth.
 Caleño, I am made hotte.
 Calesia, the citee wittenberg in Germanie.
 Calena, a towne in Englande called Oxfojde:
 wherein is the firste and chiefe universitie of christendome, flourishing in all kind of learning.
 Calenda, arum, f. g. plu. nu. the firste date of a new moneth.
 Ausoniae calendæ, the latine Calendes.
 * Ad Calendas grecas, a proverbe, signifying neuer, because the Greekes had no calendes.
 Calendaris, the surname of Iuno, to whom all Calendes were dedicated.
 Calendarium, tri, n. g. a Calender or table, nam-med of the obseruation of monethes: as, Dia-rium, of the obseruation of actes daily doen.
 And because merchantes and blurers byd of ten make suche reckning booke of tables for remembrance of debtes, it is taken among ciuile lawyers, for the feate of practise of lendyng of monete.
 Calendula, an herbe called also (of the latines)
 Caltha, or Calthula.
 Caleni, people of Campayne.
 Calenum, a citee in the countreie of Naples.
 Calco, ui, ere, to bee hotte or warme, and by a metaphorse, to bee fresh and newe: as,
 Dum res caler, the thinge that is hotte, also to desyre feruently, to bee somewhat hotte or earnest in a matter.
 Calent iudicia, the iudges haue muche to doo of the iudgements bee exercised busily.
 Illud crimen caluit re recenter, nunc refrigit,
 That accusation was hotte of muche spoken of at the firste, whyle the matter was fresh,
 nowe it is alaised of littell mentioned.
 Illi rumores caluerunt, Those rumours were verate frequent in many mennes mouthes, of were ofte repoyed of dyces men.
 Tubas audire calens, desyous to heere trum-pettes.
 Calatur, the impersonall.
 Cales, a towne of people in Campayne, where is verate good wine, called Calenum vinum.
 Calesco, ui, scere, to waxe hotte.
 Calentra, a citee in the sea coast of Italy.
 Calera, the towne of Calice, also an plante by Camothrace.
 Caleranus ager, a place in Italy.
 Calfacio, idem quod Caleracio.
 Calicadnus, a pidge of Calicia.
 Calicula, a towne in Spayne.
 Calliculus, a diminutive of Calix, a littell cup or mette, Also a thynge in the legge of a horse pub, lyke a cuppe.
 Calidus, da, dum, hotte, Also feruente, fierce,
 ozeate.
 Calidi pedes, light feate.
 Calida consilia, easie and vnadvised coun-

C. ANTE A.

Capto.
 Calidum prandium comedisti, Thou haſte down that will ſouene to the greater hurt and damage.
 Calicendrum, an ornament for womens heade, or after ſome, counterſaite heares, laid out in ſeeds of theſe owne.
 Caliga, ge, f. g. an hoſe of legge harneſſe.
 Caliga Maximini, A phoerbe, applyed to men of great ſtature and perſonage, haueing all conditions of properties, or hadde in conſtempe of haired, whiche geew of the emper-our Maximinus, who was in height eight feete and an halfe, his greaues were a foote longer than any other mans: For withſtan-dyng he was of maners barbarous and crafty, and extremely hated of all men.
 Caliga ſpiculatoria, a faction of hoſes of legge harneſſes, that ſouldpours bled to the myddell legge, ſo made, that the upper parte was liſe to a Lyons head.
 Caliga Epicraris oratoris laſciui, A ſcero voſed for a ſtyle flowyng with ouer curious eloquence.
 Caligaris, re, and Caligarius, a, um, perſeinyng or ſeruyng to hoſes of legge harneſſes.
 Caligato, onis, f. g. dymnyng of the ſyght.
 Caligatus, a, um, hoſed, or that weareth legge harneſſes.
 Caligati milites, comon ſouldpours, of ſmall eſtimation.
 Caliginofus, a, um, ful of darknes, very obſcure
 Caliginofum cælum, a darks myſtic weather.
 Caligo, ginis, f. g. darkeneſſe, dymneſſe of the ayre. Quasi per caliginem, darkely, and as it were in a cloude.
 Caligo oculorum, dymneſſe of the ſyght.
 Caligo mentis, blyndneſſe of mynde.
 Caligo noctis, darkneſſe of the nyght.
 Caligo, aui, are, to make darks, or to be darks.
 Caligare in ſole, to bee deceyved in a playne
 matter.
 Caligante animo, with a blynd imagination.
 Oculi caligantes, eyes dymme of ſyght.
 Amnes caligant, The ſpues breahe out as it were myſtes.
 Caligula, an Emperoure called alſo Calus, who ſucceeded Tiberius, and was ſonne of the noble Germanicus, and hadde the name Ca-ligula, geuen to hym by the meane of warre, whyche were with his father. For his mother, to allure the love of the people, woulde ſometyme ſhewe hym to the armye, with gre-ues on his legges, like to the faction of warre:
 the whychſ greaues were named in latine Caliga. And becauſe that they were lyttell, they were by a diminutiue called Caligula, wherby the ſouldpours in deſpoit and cruelltye, applyed vnto his ſurname. This manne, at the begynnyng was of manlye ſtate.

eyght commendable. But loone after he became of condicions detestable, as well in lecherie, as in beaulty cruelte, wherof hapned this ploverbe: There was neuer a better prince than Caligula at the begynning, nor a worse tyran at the later ending. wherby not withstanding that at the begynning he was of the senate a people most derely beloued, afterwarde he was so deadely hated, that they slew hym, whan he had reigned but foure yeres, being than xxviii. yeres olde, after the incarnation. xl. yeres.

Calim, olde wyters vsed for Clam.

Calinga, a people in India, where womē byng forth chyldeyn at. v. yeres of age, and lyue not past. viii. yeres.

Calingh, people of Alia.

Calingon, a promontorie of India.

Calinipaxa, a citee in Scythia.

Calinus, a certayne ymage maker.

Caliphus, was the name of dignities of the kynge of Egypt, sed the pce of our lord. 704. untill the yere. 1050. that Almericus kynge of Hierusalem, made warre on Egypt, and the Calisse sent to the soudan of Babylon for succoure, whiche sent an army with one Harra-ro, who first expelled the chysien men, and afterwarde dyd caste the Calisse in prison, and taking on hym the rule, caused hym selfe to be called the soudan of Egypt. Caliphus is also the dignitee of hym, that is the chiefe byshop of Machometes lawe.

Calipolis, or Callipolis, a citee in Thrace by Hellesponte, another in Macedonia. also one of the ples called Aeolida.

Caliptra, looke Calyptra.

Calirohe, or rather Callirohe, the name of two fountaynes, the one by Hierusalem, the water wherof is medicinable, and healeth many sicknesses: The other is by Athenes, and hath nyne heades.

Callisthenes, or rather Callisthenes, a noble philofophier, discipule to Aristotle, whome the great Alexander tooke with hym in his conquest, for his excellent learning and wysdom, and had hym in great honoy. But afterward Alexander imbrasyng the pyde of the Persians, and commanding the Macedons to honour hym prostrate, after the manner of the Persians, and to call hym the sonne of Jupiter: Callisthenes rebuked and dissuaded hym from that folie. wherfore Alexander commanded his armes and legges to be cutte of, and shewise his eares, nose, and lippes, and to be thowen into dungion, whose greuous pynes and despayntes, one Aristymachus, a noble manne, petyng, gaue to hym payson, wherof he dyed.

Callisto, the daughter of Lycan, and mother of Archa, whiche gaue the name to the cuntry of Archadia, whome poetes feigned to be trespased into a beere.

Calliohe, the name of a fountayne.

Calix, icis, m. g. a cuppe. also a porte, whereto potage is sodden. Also the parte of the cuppe, or pot onely that containeth the soure. It is also taken for the shell of a fyssh.

Calix auratus, a gilt cuppe or goblet.

Calicem siccare, to drinke by cleane all that is in the cuppe.

Callaici, people of Portugall.

Callaicus, a, um, of that people.

Callais, a precious stone of a pale grene coloure.

Callaria, a cole whityng, mean betwene an had docke, and a whyping.

Callens, wise or perfect in a thyng.

Calico, where, to bee harde as byawne. Also to preceles, to know perfectly by long experitee.

Ego illius sensum pulchre calico, I knowe the mans faction wonderfully well.

Callesco, scere, to become harde.

Callor, a towne of Spayne.

Callias, a poete of Athenes, the sonne of Lysimachus, whiche made ropes to gette his luyng. It was also a noble captayne sente as gapest Hecateres.

Calibelepharum, n. n. g. a medicine to make heares to growe in the byowes: Or rather a medicine for the eyes, specially whan the eyeliddes doo cleave together.

Callicles, a certayne ymage maker.

Callicrates, a kerner, whiche in puyse heueth Emotes, and other final beakes so finely, that the partes might scantily be seen.

Callide, wisely, prudently, craftily, subtilly.

Calliditas, astis, signesse, wylpnesse.

Callidromus, a mountayne in Grece.

Callidus, a, um, slye or crafty, sometyme wyse, circumspect, or that by long experience hath good knowledge of a thyng.

Callidum mendacium, a crafty lye.

Callidus rerum index, a wyse and prudente iudge, and of great experitee.

Callidissimus rerum rusticarum, a perfect good husbandle man.

Consilium callidum, a subtille deuyse.

Animus callidus, a crafty mynde.

Callidus ad quæstum, a wylp wyshelp man, that hath many wates to wyne, a crafty fore, that will not lpythly be begyled.

Callidus, and Stultus, contrary.

Calligonon, an herbe, called also Polygonon, commonly Sanguinaria.

Callimachus, the name of a poete of Lyrene, the sonne of Battus, one of the ouersiers of Ptolemyes library.

Callimus, a certayne stone.

Callinicus, a sophister of Syria, whiche wyote the gestes of Alexander.

Callionymus, certayne fythe, whose galley teeth the scales of woundes.

Calliope, one of the. 9. Muses, whiche recited all the other in sweetnesse of voyces. Of some she is taken for the goddess of Rhetoricke: of other for the goddess of poesy.

Callipada, an old man playing the boy, being wanton and busy.

Callipide, people of Scythia in Europe, by the ryuer Hypanus.

Callipo, a philofophier, whiche in his teachinge loyned voluptues with honestie.

Callipolis, looke Calipolis.

Callippus, one of Athens, whiche was kynge of the Syracusans in Sicillie, because he attempted tyranney after Dionysius.

Callirohe, the daughter of Lycus, a cruel tyranne, that used to sacrifice his gestes. Loke moye in Calirohe.

Callis, a wate made byed, a beatempathie.

Calliscere, to wake harde, properly in the shyn or stee.

Callisthenes, looke Calisthenes.

Callistratus, a certayne ymage maker.

Callistruthia, a kynde of egges, of all other most colde.

Callitrichon, an herbe called also Pollitricon.

Adiantum, Cincinnalis, Terry capillus, and Supercillum terræ, of the apothecaries Caspillus Veneris, in englyshe maydenheere.

Callurix, an herbe, whiche beinge sodde in water, is medicinable agaynst moyst sores.

Callosus, a, um, the chynned.

Callosa vlcera, sores haunging the fleshe aboute them harde.

Callus, li, m. f. g. & Callum, li, neu. g. byawne or hardnesse of the seere, made with goynge.

Callum obducere, to harden, to make to endure labours or pynes.

Callum ducere, & ploverbe, signifyinge to be longe exercised or byed in any thyng.

Calo, onis, m. g. a shoe of wodde. Also a leude tyon, or a boie that foloweth an hoste to carie baggage, wood, coles, and other lyke thyng.

Calo, ai, are, to call.

Calon, an ymage maker.

Calophanta, a mocher.

Calopodium, a patten of slipper.

Calceare omnes vno calopodio, a ploverbe applied to footes and ignorant persons, whiche apply one thyng to dyuers matters.

Calopus, a waste in Syria, whiche with his hornes thoweth downe great trees.

Calor, oris, m. g. heate.

Dum se calor frangat, till the heate aswage it selfe.

Calorificus, a, um, that whiche heateth or warmeth a thyng hote or warme.

Calostoma, one of the mouthes of Danubie.

Calorechnus, a good wyshelpman.

Calpar, a certayne carthen vessel, of olde wyse men it was used for a tunne. Also newe wynde byawen for sacrifice, before the vessel was in a byoke.

Calpad, an haven in Scythia, or a ster Straits, a ryuer.

Calpe, one of the mountaynes called Ibericall pyleres, by whiche the passage oute of the spainish sea, into the sea Mediterraneum, also to the name of Calpe in Andalus.

Calpurni, people that had theyr begynnyng of Calpo, the sonne of Roma.

Calca, an herbe growing amonge coyne, haunging a yelow flower.

Caltha, called also Calihula, and of the Apothecaries Calendula, of som Flos omnium men-sum, by the iudgement of Ruellius, & the description and figure sette forth by Fuchsius, is a marigold. Of some it is taken for a kynd of white violettes.

Calhula, a garment of the coloure of marigoldes. After Wars it is a Moys cloke.

Calua, x, f. g. a scalle.

Caluaris, the whole head of a manne or beaste, whan the fleshe is awate. It was also a common place of buriall. Some men suppose, it was the place, where Adam the first manne was buried.

Caluaster, a man somewhat balde.

Caluatus, a, um, balde.

Caluata vinea, a vineyarde, whereto bee but fewe vines.

Caluatio, to be made balde.

Caluco, calui, ere, to bee balde.

Caluco, scere, to wake balde, as well in thynges haunging no lyfe, as in men and beastes.

Caluera, downes or playnes, whereto doo growe neither coyne nor trees. They be also called of Columella, Glabrera.

Caluire, amonge the olde Romaynes signified to deceyue or disappoint.

Caluinarius portus, a swyne fedde with graynes, and suche other vile thynges.

Caluinus Sabinus, a verate rich man in Rome, whiche had so shall remembrance, that some tyme he forgate the name of Caluinus, sometyme of Richies, sometyme of Sabinus, whiche before he knewe as perfectly as he shold haue knowne, that withstandinge, he wold be sent to bee luyed, wherfore he founde this remedy.

He thoughte by these names, of whiche one had the markes of Sabinus by herte. Another Caluinus, lyke unto in every of the. 9. poetes called Lyrici, he appointed a seruant to learne by herte, whan he hadde gotten this company, at supper they shoulde be under the boorde at his tye. Of whome he receyvede the name. And withstandinge he receyvede the name, yet sometyme he forgate the name of the name. And withstandinge he receyvede the name, yet sometyme he forgate the name of the name.

Caluina, a woman, whose name was as much as any man in his house.

mercy felow, called Datellus, perceiving his folp, exhorted him to waite, beynge leane, speche, and pale. Chan said Datellus, howe should I waite, sens vneth I maye lye for feblenesse? Wh, saye not so (quod Datellus) I praye you, see you not what a foyle of talte felowes you haue to yole seruantes? This haue I wyitten, that men whiche would seme wyle or well learned, whan they haue aboute theim seruantes wise and well learned, they theim selues lackynge bothe wysedom and lernynge: make hereby be warned, that they bee not espyed and mockyd for their vain arrogace

Calutius, c.f. g. baldnesse.

Calutium, m. n. g. baldnesse, whan one hath but fewe heares.

Calutium loci, the barrenesse of any place, where groweth nother grasse, nor any othere chynge.

Calumnia, a false or crafty accusation, or a malicious inuencion or alledgyng of a thynge, to trouble or vexe a man. Calumnia detractio Litium calumni, malicious altercations and ouerthwartynge in suites or controuersies of the lawe.

Calumniator, oris, he that accuseth or sueth a man vniuilly, he that doothly interprete or alledge a thynge deceitfully and craftily.

Calumniator, aris, ar, to accuse or sue a man vniuilly, to late a thynge to ones charge falsely and maliciously, deceitfully, and wilyly, to allege a thynge agaynst one.

Caluo, aui, are, to make balde.

Caluo, ui, ere, to deceiue or disppoynt.

Caluor, eris, eri, to be disapoynted or deceyued.

Caluus, ui, m. g. he that is balde.

Caluus, a, um, balde.

Caluum vellus, Thou pluckest heare of a balde mannes head. A prouerbe, where one wold haue a thynge of a man that he hath not.

Caluus comatus, a balde man with a bushe: A prouerbe applyed to them, whiche thewe theim selues eythe, with other mens goodes, or doo set forth for theyr owne, warbes whiche other men laboured and bluffed.

Caluus, an auncient poete.

Calx, calcis, m. c. f. g. the heels of the ende of a thynge.

Capite ad calcem, from the top to the toe, from the head to the heele. A prouerbe signifying euery whitte, al together. Sometime from the begynnyng to the later endynge.

A calce ad carceres, contrarie, from the ende to the fyrst begynnyng.

Calculus, cedere, calce ferire, petere, pulsare, to steppe or kych the heeles.

Calces, is sometime taken for strokes with the heeles.

Calx calcis, f. g. lyme made of bones bourned.

Calymba, a cite of Thyrace.

Calycadnus, a reuer in Cilicia.

Calculus, a diminutive of Calyx.

Calydium, a towne in Italpe, in the wale called Appia.

Calydne, or Calydna, a towne of Caria, also one of the ples called Sporades.

Calydnon, a cite in Grece.

Calydonia sylua, a greete forest in Scotlande, wherin were whyte bulles and ugen, whiche had manes lyke to lyons.

Calypso, the daughter of Atlas, or after some, of Oceanus and Tetys. A nymph or woman of the sea, whiche reigned in the yle Aggia, and receiued Ulysses, whan he escaped from nynges.

Calyptra, tra, f. g. a womannes cappe, hood, or bonet.

Calyx, licis, m. g. the litle green leaues on the toppe of a balke, oute of the whiche cometh fyrst the floure, and after the fede.

Camace, a people of Scythia.

Camæ, an other people of Scythia.

Camalodunum, a cite of Britayne.

Camara, a cite of Landis.

Camaria, a towne of Spayne, called also Victoria.

Camarina, a synkyng herbe, the ayre whereof whan it is touched, taken, or styred, pponeth one to vomite. It is also a marie of fenne nere unto a cite of the same name.

Camarinam mouere, is a prouerbe spoken to one, signifying that he hurteth hym selfe, by that thynge that he stirreth or goeth about to haue doon. And it procedeth of a fenne so called, whiche beyng dyed by, there hapned a great pestilence, whereof the people aduoyning, asked of Apollo, if they should make it by for euer: who answered, Ne moueas camarinam, as he shuld saye, Steere not mischies to thy selfe.

Cambala, orum, a place in Asia, where be golde mynes.

Cambalidus mons, a parte of the mountayne Caucasus.

Cambalu, a grent cite in the countre of Cathay, whiche is in circuite, xl. myles, strongly walled, and hath xii. gates. In the myddell thereof is the palace of the grente Cham or Lane of Cathay, called the palace of iustice, whiche conpenech in circuite, lxxx. myles: And in it be foure great pylers of fyne golde.

Cambio, si, uelut, ire, to chaunge. In the olde tyme it signified to fpyght, to begyn a iorney, or to tourne in a iourney.

Cambodunum, a cite in Westphalia, called Monachum, and Munchen, whiche late was destroyed, because the people magnteyned the heresse of the Anabaptistes.

Cambolerci, people of Narbon in France.

Cambulis, a cite of Ethiopia.

Cam

Cambyfes, a kynge of Persia, the sonne of Cyrus. It is also the name of a spyt in the countreys of Hyrcania.

Camelani, people of Italy.

Camelarii, they whiche ryde on camelles.

Camelastia, bypnyng of camelles.

Camelates, a bygnie of camelles.

Camelidæ, two ples by Gonia.

Camelinus, a, um, of a camell.

Camelus, li, m. & f. g. a beaste called a camelle, whiche hath a longe necke and a litle head: And some haue on theyr backes two bunched lyke unto hyllocks, some haue but one. They of the countreys of Bactria, bee higher than hoyses, and more swyft, in so much, that some will renne aboue an hundred myles in one day.

Camelus bactrianus, A prouerbe, applyed where one bypnyeth sooth a thynge to be meyned at or feared, whiche in dedde is to be contemned & laughed at. Some take camelus in the masculine gender, for an anker cable.

Camella, a certayne cuppe.

Camera, æ, f. g. the falleroute of an house, a collar of chamber, or a vaulte. Also a kynde of wyppes couered aboue.

Camera, acum, a hardie in France.

Camerarius, a, um, what so euer groweth hanging ouer perches, or on the roofes of houses.

Cameratus, a, um, vaulted, filled.

Camerata cucurbita, gourdes, whiche growe on perches, not crepping on the grounde.

Camerata uehicula, charottes or lysters couered with boordes or leather.

Camarina, idem quod Camarina.

Camernum, a towne of Italy, in the countreys of Hyrcania.

Camero, aui, are, to make a false route of an house, or a collar: to stele or make a vaulte.

Cameropis, a cite of India.

Camers, an adiectiue of Camernum.

Camertes, the inhabitants of Camernum.

Camertinus, a, um, idem quod Camers.

Cametes, the companion of Janus.

Camilla, a woman of the Volscians, whiche ayded Turnus agaynst Eneas, and the latins.

Camillus, and Camilla, was in olde tyme a boye or wenche, that serued the byshop, whan he dyd sacrifice.

Camillus, the surname of a noble Romayne, whiche was dictator fyue tymes, and triumphed foure tymes, who was of so gentill a courage towards his countreys, that not withstandyng the people of Roma had expelled hym, yet whan the Waller had taken the cite of Roma, and compelled the Romanes to rebuile theyr houses with golde, he perswaded the people, called Ardeates, with whom he tyed in tye, to succoure the cite, entered with them, and man was made of his romping, and stowe and diminished the Waller, and saved or rather restoyed the cite from bondage. He was therefore the Zinecarnation of Ihu xpus.

Caminatus, a, tum, made lyke a iourney of chymney.

Camino, aui, are, to make lyke a iourney.

Caminus, ni, m. g. a chymney of iorney.

Camino oleum addere, to cast oyle in the fyre, A prouerbe, signifying to minister occasion of greates rage or fury.

Camirus, a cite in Rhodes.

Cammarus, ri, m. g. a fyre, called a cammye of the sea: or after some, of the frethe water.

Camæna, æ, f. g. one of the muses, a song.

Camænarum, f. g. the ix. muses.

Camomilla, looke Chamæmelum.

Campana, a bells.

Campania, a countreie in the royaume of Naples, whiche was accompyed the most fertile and pleasant countreys of all the world.

Campanus, a, um, of Campania.

Campanus morbus, vnseemly and auogant speech: Wh, after some, the vice of ouer much babbling.

Campanus, a keeper of the feldes.

Campe, æ, or Campa, æ, a woyme, whiche eateth herbes, and is rough with many teete, called a palmer.

Campester, hæc campestris, hoc tre, of the playne countreys.

Campestris loca, playne countreys.

Campestris ludus, plate exercised in the feldes.

Campestris, tris, n. g. a paye of stoppes or breeches, wred in the feldes at common games of wastynge and reemyng.

Campigeni milites, those men of warre, whiche be all wale aboute the standerbe, and by theyr prowesse and actiuitie, do kepe the host in exercise of armes.

Camponi, people of Aquitaine.

Campo, aui, are, to tourne in other wale.

Campiani, people of Germania.

Campfor, an exchangeour of money, or he that belongeth monete by vsure.

Campus, pi, m. g. a playne feld, greatte and large. Sometime it is taken for a assemblee made in the feldes. Also euery thynge that one putteth his labour and stowe in.

Campus Martius, a felds nigh to Rome, and togyng to the ryuer of Tyber, where the Romanes not only exercised theim selues in reemyng, leappynge, wastynge, and swimmyng: but also had theyr assemblies for the election of grent officers in the common wale.

Campus rhetoris, a large matter for an orator to speake of.

Immenso campo vagari, by a metaphore, to wand a plentyfull matter, whereof he may speake at large.

Magnus campus ad laudem, grente matter to geat to great renoume by.

Aequor campi, looke Aequor.

Immensitas camporum, the largenesse of fieldes.

Apricus campus, a fildes that lyeth open on the sonne.

Campi liquentes, the sea.

Campum colligere, to gather the spoyle, or to raffe the fildes, after the battaile is fought.

Dare se campo, idem quod in arenam descendere.

Iacet tantum campi, so muche grounde lyeth vnexplored.

Camura, x, a certayne vessell boyne covered be fore a byrde.

Camurus, a, um, crooked.

Camuri boues, oxen or hys with crooked horns.

Camus, m, m. g. a bitere of a snaffle. also a rayn or toby, wherewith mē condemned wer bound.

Can, idem quod canistra.

Canaan, the sonne of Lam, the sonne of Ro, of whom cometh Canaanus.

Canabarius and Canabinus, loke Cannabarius.

Canabis, looke Cannabis.

Canabus, a wyne seller.

Canace, the daughter of Colus, and sister of Macareus.

Canus, a, um, of Colis.

Canalicula, x, f. g. & Canaliculus, li, m. g. a littell pype, or a littell splente to state a byrthen spnger.

Canaliculus, a, um, fashioned lyke a pype.

Canalicula folia, leaues, whiche bee holow & turned round lyke cundite pipes or wafers.

Canalis, li, m. & f. g. a pype of leade or tymber wherby water doeth renne into a cundite. also a pte, wherewith the legges is shapd whā it is broken.

Canalis struillus, an holowe place, made and poued vnder the grounde, to conueigh water to any place.

Canalium, a, um, of olpke a pype.

Canalium aurum, gotte dygged in pyttes, so called, because the belnes renne in the crethe lyke cundite pypes.

Canan, the countreie called Heabie.

Cananea, a parte of Syria, now called Judea.

Cananius regio, idem.

Canaria, called also Herba canis, the herb, wherewith dogges vse to pspouke vomite.

Caneo, nui, ere, and Canesco, scere, to bee hope or grate heard, to waxe olde, to deade or wither.

Canent herbæ, the heibes be grate with dew.

Canescit flos, the flowre withereth.

Canescit oratio, his spile or oracion waxeth graue, auncient, or pype.

Canescit situ, It is grate with hoynesse.

Canephora, x, f. g. a mayden, whych bare on hir head a basket of coffee, wherewith wer tewels or ymages of the goddes.

Cangrena, a soie called a caker. loke Gangrena.

Canis, orum, m. g. plur. nu. bee taken for white hoie heares, for age.

Cania, x, f. g. a hynde of Sharp stinging nettles.

Canica, byanne of wheate.

Caniceps, a beaste, whiche hath onely the face of a dogge.

Canicula, x, f. g. a littell bitche. Also a sterre, wherof canicular and dogge dates be named.

Dies caniculares.

Caniculus, a whelp.

Canidia, a woman of Naples, whome Horace eateth as a witch of sorcerer.

Caninius, one that was consull of Rome only for uen houres.

Caninus, a, um, doggythe, or of a dog, cursthe.

Verba canina latrare, to rale spitefully.

Canina facundia, doggythe or cursthe cloquence.

A prouerbe, applyed to suche as dooe neuer exercise theire tongue or penne, but in respyoung of blamyng other men.

Caninum prandium, a dogges dinner.

A prouerbe vied, where there is no wyne at dinner or supper, for dogges dooe of nature aduoyne wyne.

Caninus appetitus, a spheesse, with an vnassurable appetite to ease, proceeding of v. canis: Of abundance of melancolie, flowynge from the spleen to the mouth of the stomake.

Of a cold distemperance of the stomake: Of the lousenesse of the bodie, the pores beynge open: Of to muche labour, resoluynge: or of the consuming of naturall moisture, wherewith the body is nourished.

Canis, is, com. ge. a dogge or bitche, a signe in heauen, wherof there bee two sterres: One called Canis maior, the other Canis minor.

It is also a hynde of sphe, called a doggythe.

Also a certayne caste at dice, whan the ace beynge cast by, loseth all.

Canis festinans cecus addit canulos, The hasty bitche byngeth footthe bynde wheate pres: A prouerbe applyed to theim, whiche beynge hasty in setting footthe theyr woordes, doo make theim vnperfecte.

Canis reuerfus ad vomitum, The dogge tourneth agayne to eate that he vomited.

A prouerbe referred to hym, whiche beynge reconciled to god, retourneth agayne to his old condicions and vices.

Canes, is sometyme vied of the poetes for the furies, it is also a woide of extreme deaspyte to our enemies, to call theim dogges.

Ter geminus canis, Leeburus.

Ain vero canis? Watst thou so in bede, thou cursthe knave?

Canes molossi, are taken for bandogges.

Canis peius et angue, A prouerbe notynge extreme hate of a thynge.

Canis

All these wordes and phrased folowynge to Canicie, shoulde haue come in before Canco.

Canarie insule, lies in the great Ocean. 400. myles from Spayne, whiche some suppose to be those that of the olde wyttens are called Inule fortunat, the new names of them be these, Lanzelora, Fortis uentura, Magna canaria, Tenerife, Gomera, Palma, & Ferrea: in these isles of late yeres grew great numbres of Canes, wherewith was sugar: but either by distemperance of weather, or by contes, whiche some men suppose were brought thither, that commoditie is almost destroyed.

Canari, people of Aethio.

Canarius, a, um, pertaining to dogges, or to the signe Canicula.

Canarium sacrificium, sacrifice vied for the preservation of coine, agaynst the extreme heate of the signe Canicula.

Canas, a towne of Aethio.

Canaitreum, a promontorie of Macedonia, by the gouise Hermaclum.

Canatha, a towne in the countrey Decapollia.

Canath, an aduerbe, lyke a dogge.

Canath, olde wyttens vied for ornaments of the head.

Canellarius, in the olde tyme was taken for a scribe or notarie, nowe it is called a chancelour.

Canellatim, lattise wyse.

Canelli, orum, m. g. plu. lattises, or any thing made like lattise. Also scere places to loke out.

Also wyndowes made with barres of woodde or yon with dyuers holes, also little crabbes of the sea.

Canellos sibi abundare, by a metaphore, to preferre to hym selfe certayne boundes in his communication or speakynge, whiche he wyll not passe.

Canellis circumscribi, to be closed or rayled in, and metaphoycally is applyed to any thing that hath certayne boundes.

Canello, aui, are, to ease or put out, to cut or ceare any thing that is wyiten, to make in foume of lattise.

Canellare testamentum, for Delere.

Canellatus, a, um, lyke to a lattise. also raised or crossed out.

Canellatus brachiorum amplexus, the claspynge of the armes one ouer another.

Cancer, cri, m. g. a kinde of sphe called a crab, also a signe in heauen.

Cancer, secunde et tercia declinationis, m. g. a disease called a canker.

Cancil, is the same that Cancelli be.

Cancer, a pill in medicine of that soie that burneth.

Canchlei, people of Heabie.

Candace, ces, and Candax, acis, a queene of Aethiope.

Candaria, a promontorie in the ile of Cos.

Candaule, mountaine in Macedonia.

Candaules, a tyran of Sardis, whiche by foot the bottage, thynnyng his wyfe the fairest woman in the world, shewed he naked to his familiar friend Hyges: for whiche cause he was after murdered by the same Hyges through the counsaile of his wyfe.

Candebora, a fenne at the foote of the mountayne Carmelus.

Candefacio, feci, facere, to make white, to make stre, or to glow lyke sphe.

Candei, people of Heabie, whiche vse to eate serpentes: and thei soie be called Ophiophagi.

Candela, f. f. g. a candell.

Candelas scere, to make candels.

Candelabrum, bri, n. g. a candell stande.

Candeo, ul, ere, to glow lyke a burning cole, also to be white.

Candens carbo, a burning cole.

Aer candet, the ayre shyneth, or the weather is bright and clere.

Fauilla candens, a burning spache of fyre.

Chalybs candens, stele glowynge lyke fyre.

Lilia candentia, saye white lilies.

Candit æstas, the sommer is hote.

Candescio, scere, to waxe white or shynynge, to waxe lile, or to glow lyke fyre.

Candicans, x, f. g. the whiterynge, bleachynge, or maynynge of any thing saye and bright.

Candico, aui, are, to be white.

Candidatus, a, um, clothed in white.

Candidatus pretorius, he that despyeth or lotheth to be dyet or matre.

Candidatus consularis, he that despyeth the consullship.

Candidatus glorie et immortalitatis, he that despyeth gloire or immortall renoume.

Ipheyphe Candidatus eloquentie.

Candidati, among the Romans were suche as laboured for some of the great offices in the publike weale, so named, because they dyd waxe in the tyme of theire election white apparat.

It must be taken by translation at this tyme for them that in vnassures be called inceptours or regent matthers.

also for them that be lately chydren, or newly created into some honourable or woodyfull state.

state. Vegetius saith, that Candidati were men of warre, whiche had a priuilege before other.
 Candidati Caesaris, were suche as sued for great offices, and were commendad of the emperour to them, which had election: who presuming alwaie that the emperours commendacion shoulde take place, did sollicite but negligently. Wherof hapned this prouerbe: Sic petis tanquam Caesaris candidatus, whā any man asked any thyng in suche forme, as he thynketh that no man will denie hym: as who saith: pe aske it as though the emperour had spoken for you. Ther were also called Candidati principis: where that faction is vsed, maye neuer be publike weale perfect.
 Candidatorius, a, um, of or pertaining to the, whiche toone for or despye great offices.
 Candide, aduerbium, benignely, gently, mildly, without enuie.
 Candide venitus, treppmely apparapled.
 Candido, au, are, to make white.
 Candidulus, a, um, a diminutive of Candidus.
 Candiduli dentes, white teeth.
 Candidus, a, um, white more than Albus, or more white. It is sometyme taken for fortunate, gentle of easie, also pure, sincere, without malice or ill will, also friendly, fauorable.
 Candidus iudex, a gentill or easie iudge.
 Candidus lector, a gentill reader, whiche

These wordes and phrased shoulde all come between Canaria and Canco.

doeth not openly reppone that whiche he readeth.
 Can didum oui, the white of an egge.
 Candidum ingenium, a gentill countreys nature.
 Scriptor candidus, a good authour of fine and pure eloquence, not crabbed or harde to be vnderstanded.
 Candida nigra facere, to make white blacke.
 Lapide candidiore diem notare, to make a date as fortunate and lucky.
 Candidus pectore, pure without malice or enuie.
 Annus candidus, a fortunate yere.
 Candida vita, i. irreprehensibilis. Iudicio candidiore legere, to read with a more indifferent and fauourable iudgement.
 Fauonq candidi, i. benigni, fauorabiles, fecerunt, faire, pleisante, prosperous.
 Candidum, a promontorie of the countrey Zeugitana in Africke.
 Candifico, au, are, to make white.
 Candor, oris, m. g. brightnesse or whitenesse, custesse or gentleness of mynde.
 Candolofocus, focci, m. g. in vines, so idem quod Mergus.
 Candyba, a ciety of Lybia.
 Cane, a towne of Acotia.
 Canenta, were of the olde Romaynes named the apparaple pertaining to the head.

Canistrum, tri, n. g. a basket or a panter.
 Canities, ei, f. g. hoynesse or whitenesse of heares. It is sometyme taken for grauitie, or ancientnesse.
 Canitudo, idem.
 Canna, na, f. g. a cane or reede. Also a canne of ople pottre.
 Cannabaceus, a, um, of hempe.
 Cannabinus, a, um, made of hempe.
 Cannabis, is, f. g. hempe.
 Cannabum, bi, n. g. idem.
 Cannarum, a, um, a towne in the countrey of Apulia, where a great hoste of the Romaynes was slayne by Anniball.
 Cannerum, ti, n. gen. a place, where canes and reedes doo growe.
 Canneus, a, um, of a cane.
 Cannitæ, arum, thatched houses.
 Cannitius, a, um, of canes or reedes.
 Caninius, a poet in the time of Martialis, whiche was so mery of nature, that he laughed alwaie.
 Cano, cecini, ere, to syng, to plaie on the shalme or other instrument, also to praise, to prophesy.
 Canere classicum, vel bellicum, to blowe to the fildes, or to the assault.
 Canere eandem cantilenam, to telle one tale twise: or to recite often tyme one thyng.
 Canere fidibus, to plaie on an harpe, or other instrument, haupng strenges.
 Canere receptui, to blowe the retreat in battayle, and by a metaphoze, to reuoke or withdraw a mans mynde from doing any thyng.
 Canere sibi, to speake for his owne piosse.
 Canere sibi & multis, to syng or wyse for his owne pleasure, and for them that doo fauour hym, nothing caring for any other.
 Canere signa, to blowe whyles men do fight in battayle.
 Canere surdis auribus, to geue countsaie in bayne, to lose labour in speaking.
 Canunt tubæ, the trumpettes blow of some.
 Canere dicuntur poetæ, cum quid versibus scribunt.
 Absurdè canere, to discorde, to syng oute of tune.
 Canere aliquem, or laudes alicuius, to laude or praise a man.
 Canuntur hæc apud Homerum, these thynges bee spoken or written in Homer.
 Canere bella, to declare, speake, or wyte of warres.
 Obscura canere, to prophesy obscure and doubtfull thynges.
 Quicquid fama canit, what so euer is reported by fame.
 Inus canere, spoken prouerbielly, of them that do all for theyr priuate commoditie, and conueigh to them selves what so euer they can catche.
 Canobus, the master of Menelaus Myppe.

Canon, onis, m. g. a rule. Also that parte in a tergat, wherein the arme and hande is putte, also the tongue of a balance. It is also the reuenues in customes and fee fermes of townes Myppes.
 Canonibus soluere, to dispryce with one.
 Canonarii, gatherers of cassus and tallages.
 Canonis, the trancones in a Myppe, whereon the hatches are made.
 Canonici, bee those sorte of musicians, whiche doo teie musyke by reason, as the Pythagorians dyd: lyke as Harmonici iudged by the delectation of the eares, accorpyng to the followers of Aristoxenus.
 Canonicus, a, um, regular.
 Canonium, a place assigned to deuout persons, whiche shuld vnder a certayne rule.
 Canonizo, to canonize, to examyne by rule.
 Canopicon, is an herbe, whiche is one of the kyndes of spurge. Reade more in Pityula.
 Canopus, a mercuriuous bright sterre. It was also his name that was maister of Menelaus Myppes, whiche being deade in an ple, at the entree of Helus, caused that ple to bee called by his name, and was there honoured for a god. Of whom this pety hystorie is remembred of Duthas. It happened, that the people of dyuers countreys contended for the preeminence of theyr goddis, whom they honoured. It was at the laste agreed, that those goddis, whiche were vanquished by any notable experience, shoulde geue place to the vanquisher. A pylott of Canopus, a wittie fellow, percepyng that, gat a water pot full of smal holes, and stoppyng the holes with ware, filled it full of water, prynced it, made it in foame of an pboll, and dyd crafly let it on the olde ymage, knowing that the Caldeies, honouring the fyre for god, dyd care it about into all countreys, and consumed therewith all other goddis, made of mettall and other matter. But whan they came to Canopus, and dyd sette the fyre about hym, the ware melted quickly, and the water distilling into the fyre quenched it. wherfore Canopus was demed vanquisher and chiefe of the goddis.
 Canor, oris, m. g. melodie.
 Canor cyni, the melodie of tunable songe of a swanne.
 Vox suavis et canora, a pleasant and a loud voice.
 Canorosus, a, um, full of melodie.
 Canorus, a, um, loud or Mypp.
 Canta, olde wylters used for cantara.
 Cantabri, people of a countrey in Spayn called nowe Bishay.
 Cantabricus, a, um, of Bishap.
 Cantarus, a poetes of Athens.
 Cantatio, onis, f. g. a synging or inchanting.
 Cantator, oris, m. g. a synger.

Cantatrix, icis, f. g. a woman singer.
Cantern, bee the pieces, whiche doo lye vnder a piece of timber, when it is sawen. whiche some doo call bernges.
Cantharis, a bone, whiche hath the pippe of a blache flye called a beetle.
Cantharis, idis, vel Cantharida, da, a greene worme, wyngyn with a glasse lyke golde, byed in the toppes of aspes or olives, whiche layde to a mans bodye, maketh it to blythe. The force of it is popson. wherfore Cantharis, is vsed for a venemous porcion. Some doo saye, it is a fyre heuenerd with a shalle lyke a beetle, but that he is greene.
Cantharita, a kynde of wyne.
Cantharus, ii, m. g. a pot, a iugge, or a tankard, also a beast, wherof there is found no female, a kynde of fyre, a blache flye, called a beetle, and a knot vnder the tynge of Apts, the ore that the Egyptians worshipped.
Cantheriatus, a, um, staped by with proppes or forkes.
Cantheriata vinea, a vine rayled bypon fraemes or perches.
Cantherinus, a, um, of o lyke a geldyng.
Cantherino ritu somniare, to dreame slabyng.
Cantherinum hordeum, a kynde of barley.
Cantherinum lapathum, a kynde of foxrell, called also Rumex.
Cantheriolus, a diminutue of Cantherius, a littell shake, proppes, or forkes.
Cantherium, ii, n. g. a mance of a charpot or magan.
Cantherius, ii, m. g. a geldyng of an horse ones le. It is also the ralle of a vine, boyne by with forkes and poles, also a rafter.
Canthes, organ proppes, after Calpeine.
Canthus, the coyner of the eye, as well by the nose, as vnto the temples. It is also the prion, wherewith the extremitie of wheles bee bounden, the stroke of a carte.
Canthus, is also the sonne of Abas.
Canticum, ei, n. g. a pleasaunt or merie songe, a balade.
Cantilena, la, f. g. a songe, it is taken of Licerio, for a speche or tale, commonly or to often vsed, and is of a small effecte, a tumour, a byagging repoyte.
Cantio, onis, f. g. a songe, sometyms a charme, or enchantment.
Canticus, the citee Amberge in Germany.
Cantium, the countreie of Kent.
Cantiuncula, la, f. g. a songe of light matters.
Cantito, aui, are, to syng often.
Canto, aui, are, to syng or to charme. sometyms to mony the or choise, to speake or inculcate a thyng often tymes, to geue greate ppyse, or to sette forth the ones commendacion. also to enchaunte.
Hæc dies, noctesq; tibi canto, vi caueas,

This I choise the date and wyghte that thou beware.
Auena cantare, to ppye.
Surdo cantare, looke canere surdis.
Illum canto, I set forth this mans ppyse, or I commend hym greatly.
Dignus cantari, woorthie to bee lauded or praised in wytyng or speakyng.
Metuo ne idem canticum literæ, I feare lesse these letters byng the same rynges that the other dyd, or intreat of the same matter.
Cantor, and Cantrix, a syngyng man, or a syngyng woman.
Cantus, us, m. g. a songe, a charme, or enchantment in verses.
Cantus lugubris, a moueryng songe.
Cantus tremulus, warbyng, rellislyng, or quaueryng.
Cantus buccinarum the sowne of trumpets.
Cantu delinire, mollire, mulcere, to alluage, please, or mitigate.
Canuleus, a Romanus.
Canus, an olde man.
Canis, a, um, grate or hoze.
Canatides, the faithfullnesse of olde tyme: or after some, the faithfullnesse of auncient men.
Canat veritas, idem.
Absynthium canum, grate womewood.
Canus december, the monthe of December, hoze with froste.
Canapruina, the hoze froste.
Canusinus, a, um, arayed with the clothe made of the wolle of Canusium.
Canusinus, a, um, of Canusium.
Canusium, a towne in the countreie of Aynia, where is veray fine woulle, called Canusina lana, and is ruddy of colour.
Capacitas, aris, f. g. aptnesse to take, largenesse of place, capacitee.
Capaneus, thre syllables, the housbande of Esuadne, and one of the vii. capitans that besieged Thebes, where he spyle inuenced slayng with ladders, and was there slayne with stones caste from the walle.
Capaneus, and Capaneus, the adiectiue.
Capara, a towne of Portugall, called commonly Caparea.
Capax, acis, om. g. that taketh or conteyneth any thyng, able to conteyne or receyue.
Capax amicitie, he that considereth what belongeth to frendshipp.
Capaces aures, sarsa delittynng greatly to here.
Capax calix ad sextarios tres, a cuppe that will holde about thre pynes.
Capedo, inis, f. g. the greatnesse of a vessell of lyke thyng that conteyneth. A potte or pitten vsed in sacrifice.
Capeduncula, la, f. g. a diminutue of capedo.
Capella, la, f. g. a yong goate, or a lyttell goate. Also a certayne steepe.

Caper

Capena, a towne by Rome by the fountayne Egena. also a gate in Rome called Appia porta, where is a water consecrated to Mercury, vsed in dyuers ceremonies.
Capenates, people of Capena.
Caper, pri, m. g. a gelded goate. It was also the name of an olde grammarian, and a ryuer caryng by Laodicea. sometyms it is taken for the buche goate.
Caperatus, a, um, wyngheled.
Capero, aui, are, to frowne or lowpe.
Caperare frontem, to bende the browes, to frowne.
Capesso, si, sum, oi sui, situm, fere, to take, or to go aboute to take, to receyue. sometyms it signifieth to take in hande.
Capessere fugam, to flee or renne awate.
Quo te nunc capessis hinc? whither goest thou from hence?
Capessere se domum, to get hym home.
Capessere se in altum maris, To take the mayne sea.
Capessere montem, to ascende or go by the hille.
Ad iuxum capessit, supple iter, he taketh his wate at the done.
Capessere se precipitem ad malos mores, to tourne hym selfe headlong to lewdnesse.
Capessere arma vel bellum, to take armes, to enterpryse warre.
Capessere alicuius iussa, to dooe or execute ones commaundementes.
Capessere curas imperij, to take the charge and gouernance of the comon weale.
Capessere locum, to endeuor to take a place.
Capessere cursum ad aliquem, to renne towarde one.
Capessere oculis, to beholde.
Capessere cibum, to eate.
Capessere pugnam, to entre or togyne battayle, to skirmishe or fyght.
Capessere vibem, to go or take his tournes to the citie.
Capetus, the name of a kyng.
Caphareus, thre syllables, a mountayne in Grece, by whiche the grekes name was soze afflicted for the deathe of Palamedes.
Caphareus, a, um, of Caphareus.
Capharnaum, the chief citie in Galilee.
Capheris, an yle by Samothrace.
Capidulum, an hood.
Capillaceus, a, um, hearfe, of heare, like heare.
Capillamentum, ii, n. g. the heare of a mannes head. Sometyms the toppes of herbes, where the seedes doo grow, also a counterfate heare, a peruke.
Capillaris, ris, n. g. a caule of copse, that women trusse theyr heares in.
Capillaris, re, of oi belongyng to heare.
Capillaris, a tree, wheron yong men, for a reremonte, vsed to hange their heare, when they were polled. It is also called Capillaria.

Capillari, people of the Alpes.
Capillaria vela, clothes of heare.
Capillatus, a, um, that hath longe heare, or that weareth a great peruke.
Capillium, the heare of the heade.
Capillo, aui, are, to make heare.
Polytrix capillatur, id est capillos habere videtur.
Capillus, li, m. g. the heare, as well of the head as other places. sometyms it is vsed for Caparies, sometyms for Barba.
Capillotenus, iuste to the heare.
Capillus veneris, an herb called mardcheare.
Capillorum defluuium, or profluuium, the falling of the heare.
Demissi capilli, longe heare.
Ducere capillis, to drawe one by the heare of the heade.
Capio, capi, ere, to take wyllingly, or vnwillingly. sometyms it signifieth to delite, to mitigate, to disceyue. also to receiue. sometyms to conteyne. also to make.
Dii boni, quid turba reges nostræ uix capient, Good lordes, what a compaignie vnto our heule will holde them.
Capere rationem, to fynde the meane.
Rationem capere, ut et amanti obiequeret, et patrem non offenderem, I found the mean to please my loue, and not withstandinge I displeased not my father. Also Capio rationem, signifieth to knowe the cause why.
Scio tibi esse hoc grauius multo, ac durius, cui fit: verum ego laud minus agre patior, id qui nescio, nec rationem capio, nisi quod tibi bene ex animo volo, I knowe well, that so you, whom the thyng toucheth, it is muche moze displeasent and greuous, but yet it greuethe me no lesse, I can not tell why, but only because I loue you.
Capere conditionem, to accept the offer.
Capere fugam, to renne awate.
Mente capere, to conceiue in ones mynde.
Miseriam capere, to bee in miserie.
Misericordiam capere, to haue pietie.
Cepit eum iaceras, he was wepy of it.
Capere somnum, to sleape.
Capere rationem oculis, to iudge by syght.
Hi loci, atq; he regiones sunt, que mihi ab hero sunt meo demonstratæ, vt ego oculis rationem capio, These are the places and strectes, that my mayster shewed me, as farre as myne eyes can iudge, or as farre as I can perceiue. Capere voluptatem, to delecte.
Capere versoriam, to change a purpose, to tourne sayle, to dooe the contrarye to that he intended.
Capere vlturam corporis vxoris alterius, to committe adulterie with an other mans wyfe.

Te

Te vxor aliena capit, Thou art in loue with an other mans wyfe.

Capit ac deliniri re aliqua, to be belied or pleased with any thyng.

Sites propius, re capiet magis, If you stande nere, it will helpe you more.

Caveat ne capiat, let hym bee ware he be not discreued.

Capit alienatione, to be discreued with flatteryp: Lpthe wyfe Capit doliis, donis, fraude, infidias, precio, muncibus.

Capit eum admiratio, he merueth.

Capit me voluptas, and Capit uoluptatem, I was deuided, or I toke pleasure in it.

Capit me amor, I loued.

Angorem capere, to languishe, to sorrowe, or take thought.

Capere cibum, to eate.

Capere coniecturam, to coniecte, to gesse.

Coniectura capitur ex eo, it maie be perceiued or gathered thereby.

Capit animum cura eius rei, I toke charge of that matter, or I was careful for it.

Capere desiderium, to desyre.

Capere detrimentum uel damnum, to take harme, or to bee endamaged.

Capere alicuius dicta, to here ones wordes.

Capere disciplinam, to learne.

Capere experimentum, to proue.

Capere finem, to ende.

Capere exordium, to begynne.

Capere formam, or personam, to disguise or misse.

Capere laticiam ex re aliqua, to reioyce of a thyng.

Capere generum, to chose a sonne in law.

Capere laudem ex re aliqua, to be renowned or praised for any thyng.

Capere incrementum, to increase.

Stimulos omnes homines capiam, though I should get the displeasure of all men.

Capere inimicitiam, to get enmittee, or displeasure. Lpthe wyfe Capere inuidiam et iram.

Capere locum castris, to take or chose a place, to pitch thepy tentes, or campe in.

Capere magistratum, to obteyne an office.

Si magnitudinem mensurarum caperet, if it were so large that tables myght be made of it.

Capere metum, to feare.

Capere modum, to kepe a meane.

Capere mortem, to suffer deathe.

Capere obliuionem, to forget. Lpthe wyfe Capere obliuio.

Capere odium alicuius, to begyn to hate one.

Capit ciuitatem pauor, The citee was in a greete feare.

Capere poenam de aliquo, to punishe one.

Capere quietem, to take rest.

Capere specimen, to take a ppyce of a wyse.

Capere spem, to conceiue an hope.

Capit eum egdium belli, he was weery of war,

Capere tempus, to watch a tyme.

Verecundia capere, he was abashed.

Capere vires, to take strengthe.

Capere opus, to take a worke.

Capere pallidum, to waxe pale.

Capere pignus, to receiue a gage.

Pignora capere, to receiue ones gooddes for deute.

Capere prouincia, to take charge of a thyng.

Quosda religio capere, some were scrupulous.

Vinum capere, to bee corrupted.

Capis, pidis, f.g. a cuppe to synke in.

Capitlenae, people of Asia, dwelling in the citee Capitla.

Capitulum, n.g. a creble, or a fine to purge cojue withall.

Capitro, aui, are, to haulter, or putte on a rope or corde.

Capitrum, stri, n. g. an haulter, or a collar, to tye an horse or other beast. also a banke to tye vines to the ralles.

Capitrum maritale, the bonde of wedlocke.

Frenare ora capitulis, to mouill.

Capitula, n.g. a tynge that women pfectes used to weare on theyr heades in olde tyme, when they dyd facelisse, as it were a lace or corse to tresse vp theyr heare. Also after some, a rowell used in facelisse.

Capitale, and Capital, an adiectiue, an offense woorth deathe.

Capitale est, it is deathe, or deserueth deathe.

Capitalia, an hygh hpyl in Indee.

Capitalis, le, deadly, woorth deathe.

Capitale fraudem admittere, to doo a thyng woorth punisshment by deathe.

Capitales triumiri, iudges in causes of deith.

Capitalis noxa, likewise Capitale nephas, or crimen, an offense woorth deathe.

Capitalis aduersarius, a mortall enemy.

Capitalis dies, a date appoynted to one to receiue iudgement of deathe.

Capitalis homo, a man that deserueth death, also he that is ppyne to murder.

Capitalis ira, mortall wythe.

Capitalis locus, a place of execution.

Capitalis dis, an house, where any deadly offense is committed.

Capitalis insidia, ignozance that putteth a man in danger of his lyfe.

Capitalia iudicia, iudgements concerninge lyfe and deathe.

Capitaliter, mortally, deadly.

Capitatio, onis, f.g. head tyner, or subside, gathered of euery manne after the rate of his substance.

Capitatus, a, um, that groweth greene in the head, or that hath an head.

Capitati caules, cabages.

Capitellum, li, n.g. a litle head or toppe of a thyng, thyng, also the highest part of a pylle. of some it is used for a stillatoys.

Capitium, ti, n. g. any thyng that couereth the head, commonly they doo call it a hood.

Capito, onis, m. g. he that hath a great heade.

Also heade, a obstinate in opinton. It is also a fische, which by his description, seemeth to be a cobbe. I learned man of this name, translated the epitome of Aulse and Eutropius into greke.

Capitolinus, the surname of hym that founde the head, when the capitol should be builded.

Capitolinus, a, um, of the palace of the citee of Rome.

Capitolium, the palace of the citee of Rome.

Capitosus, he that hath a great or a dull head.

Capitularis, a, um, any thyng that is growen to an head.

Capitulata folia, leaues, whyche in the toppe haue thynges lyke heades.

Capitularim, the aduerbe.

Capitularim de re aliqua dicere, to rectte the summe of principall poyntes of any matter.

Capitulo, aui, are, to diuide by chapters.

Capitulum, li, n. g. a litle heade. also a chapter, and the toppe of a pylle or other thyng.

It is also a wyorde of daigance, as, O capitulum lepidissimum.

Capitulum, a towne in Italy.

Capnias, a pfectous stone synnyng lyke saffron.

Cipnobarz, people called byss.

Capnos, ni, f. g. an herbe called of the latines Fumaria, of the apothecaries Fumus terrae, in englyshe Funtoys.

Capo, onis, m. g. a capon.

Capote, a mountayne in Asia.

Capra, the name of a greke letter, for whyche the latines vse C.

Cappadocia, a countreie in Asia, hauynge on the southe the mountayne Taurus, and the countreie Cilicia: On the east, the countreie of Armente, and diuers other nations: On the north the sea Euxinum: On the west Phylagonia, and is diuided from Armente the more, with the famous ruer Euphrates. In that countreie are bredde plenty of excellent good horses. It was sometyme called Alba Syria, because the people there bee whiter than in the other Syria. The people thereof are called Cappadoces, whyche were reputed to be of so ill condicions, that among the common people, if one had been sene to be of ill facion, they would saye he was of Cappadocia. In that countreie wer borne, the knight Saynt George, Basilus magnus, and Gregorius Nazianzenus, two holy byshoppes and excellent doctours.

Cappadox, ocis, and Cappadocus, a man of the countreie of Cappadocia.

Cappagum, a towne of Spayn.

Capparis, ris, f. g. a shrubbe called capres, where with we do make salates and soues for macton, whyche eaten before meales, be veray good for the stomack, and agaynst bileares of the splene.

Capra, x, f. g. a gote, also a signe in the stema ment. Ouida capra, the synnyng fauour of the arme pities.

Capraria, an yle in the sea called Aegium.

Caprarius, a gote herbe.

Caprasia, the mouthes of the rpuer Do.

Caprea, x, f. g. a wyde gote, also a beast, whyche dooth see wonderfull quitchip. It is also a kynde of vines to called.

Caprea, certayne vlyandes by Naples.

Capreolus, li, m. g. a byd, also a beast called a roe. It is also a roudelle of a byne, whyche wyndeth many waies. Also a foyke to see vp a vine. It is also a certayn instrument of pyon to bygge with, and a bande of booke of pyon to holde partes of buildynges together.

Capreus, a, um, of a gote.

Capria, a fenne in Damphilia.

Capricornus, a signe in heauen conteynynge xx. steres.

Caprificatio, onis, the verball of caprificor.

Caprificales dies, the canicular daies, so named, because the matrones of Rome dyd at that tyme vse to dooe sacrifice vnder a wyde fygge tree.

Caprificor, atis, ari, to husband wyld fygge trees.

Caprificus, f. g. a wyld fygge tree, whyche senseth by by walles.

Caprigenus, a, um, that whyche is of the kynde of a gote.

Caprile, a stable or pen where gotes be kept.

Caprillis, le, of a gote.

Caprimulgi, byddes lyke to gulls, whyche appere not by daye, but by nyght they come into gote penes, and sucke the gotes, whereby they bidders of them bee mortified.

Caprinus, a, um, of a gote.

Caprifans pulsus, is when the pulse semeth to eysa, and is sodeynly chaunged in to an other forme of meeping.

Capronae, arum, f. g. plu. the toppe of lytell mane that is in the foythead of an horse: or the heare that hangeth ouer a mans foythead.

Caprotina, a surname of Juno.

Caprullon, an haven by the mountayne Otho.

Capruniculum, an earthen vessell.

Capra, x, f. g. a gote or cheste.

Capfaces, a vessell, wherin oyle is kepte.

Capitarius, ri, m. g. he that keepeth chesles or aparails: also he that writteth on a noble mannes chesles, and beareth his bookes in a litle coffer after hym, to schoole.

Capis, foy cape fuyis, take it and thou wilt.

Capit, foy prghendit, a wynde out of vse.

Capitani, people of Zeugitana in Aferike.

Caplu,

Capula, la, f. g. a diminutive of capsa.
 Caplus, a couered cart.
 Captatio, onis, f. g. a purchase, the acte of craft to gette fauour. also disceite or subtiltee.
 Captator, oris, he that useth that craft, or one that flattereth a man that hath no chydren, to the intent to haue his goodes.
 Captator autē popularis, one that goeth about to geat fauour and pryse of the people.
 Captatorius, a, um, flatterer, or of a flatterer.
 Captio, onis, f. g. the acte of taking or decey-uing, or that whereby any thyng is taken, decepte, captiousnesse.
 Captio honorum, the schyrng for honour.
 Nulli in hac re capio est, In this matter is no decepte.
 Captiones dialecticæ, the subtilt cauliactions of logicians.
 Captio in verbis, captiousnesse in cauliactiyng of wordes.
 Capulose, captiously, disceitfully.
 Caputium, is sometime used for Damnosum, hurtfull.
 Caputius, a, um, captious or disceitfull.
 Caputula, t. g. a diminutive of capio.
 Caputitas, utis, f. g. captiuitie or bondage.
 Caputius, a, um, that is taken in warres.
 Capto, autē, are, to geat the fauour of one with fayne wordes, pleasaunt deces or rewardes.
 Also to differre or take quickely.
 Captare attentionem, to geat ones consent in
 any thyng.
 Captare beneuolentiam, to endeavour to geat ones fauour. lykwise Captare gratiam & laudem.
 Captare animas, spoken of houndes of span-shes, that sette out any thyng by the fauour.
 Captare conuiuium, to consule.
 Captare occasionem, or tempus, to watche
 a convenient tyme.
 Captare pices, to fische.
 Captare risus, to do a thyng to be laughed at Captare solitudines, to couet to be in a solitary place. Captare somnum, to slepe.
 Captare auribus, to hearken.
 Captare voluptatem, to seche for pleasure.
 Captare aliquem, to lape awaite to deceyue one, or to ga aboute to wyne of allur one on our parte.
 Captare cenam, to get a supper of free cost.
 Captare impudiciam, to lape awaite to take one in the acte of lecherie.
 Captare sermonem, to hearken piously what men talke.
 Captura, a. f. g. the apprehending or getting.
 also a littell game of vauntage. also a plate.
 Captura piscium, f. schyrng.
 Captura animi, bydyng.
 Captus, a, um, taken, snared, deceyued. also delidd.

Capitoculis, blynde. also greatte loures are called c. pri.
 Capitauribus, deafe.
 Caprus mente, out of his wytte or madde.
 Caprus est, he is intangled in lous.
 Dulcedine vocis captus, delidd with the ple-sauntnesse of the voyce.
 Caprus dolis, disceyued, begyled.
 Caprus membris, taken, benumbed, deppre-ued of the vse of his limmes.
 Capri conatus frustra, labour spent in vayne.
 Capra vultu hereditas, heritage gotten by long possession.
 Caprus, us, m. g. chaunce. also discepte, percey-
 uing of a thyng, or capacitee.
 Caprus hominum, mens capacitee.
 Capua, a citee in the roialme of Naples.
 Capula, a, f. g. a long vessell of wood with an handle, which serueth to take oile out of a vessell Capularis, re, the adiectiue of capulum, by a metaphore, old, decrepite, at the pities bynke.
 Capularis senex, an olde man, ready to bee
 lated on his biere.
 Capulator, oris, m. g. he that dooth empty or take out oyle of a vesselle, with the wooden vessell called capula.
 Capulo, autē, are, to take out of empty vesselles of oyle.
 Capulum, li, n. g. a coffen or biere, wherein dead corpses be caried or layde in.
 Capulus, li, m. g. and capulum, li, n. g. the hyl-tes or handle of a swerde.
 Capus, pi, m. g. a capon.
 Caput, pitis, n. g. an head. also the begynnyng of a thyng, a chapter of a booke, an article, a clause, the summe of the principall point of any thyng. also a man. sometime lyke, the mouth of a riuier, the topp of a tree, the end of a rafter or planke, the authour or begynne of a thyng. sometime chiefe, other whyles perill. sometime estimation.
 Ad caput rei peruenias, come to the point of the matter.
 Capita frumenti et uectigalium, The articles concernng grayne and reuenue.
 Capita rerum expedire, To quickely to the principall pointes of the matter.
 Capite damnatus, condemned to dye.
 Capite decernere, Vtinam in eo solum capis te decernerem, I would god I might try it at myne owne perill.
 Sine capite manare res dicitur, whā one knoweth not wherof the byute is spunge.
 Capitis acquirere, to procede in iudgement against one for treason or felony.
 Capitis arcescere, to appche one of felony or treason. Capitis diminutio, a condemnation, whereby a man loseth either libertie of his person, and is made bonde, or is banished his countrey, or put out of the hynges protection, or renouyng his owne family to adopted or taken into an other, whych thyng is not now vsed. Capitis iudicium, p. process. criminal.

 Caput facere, to gather to a head.
 Capite cens, were among the Romaynes, the poore sort of the people, which wer discharged of all exactions, and remayned in the states onely for generation.
 Caput diminuire, to breake ones head.
 Impingere caput parieti, to knock ones head agaynst the wall.
 Agreste caput, a rude felowe.
 Audax caput, a bolde felowe.
 Clarum caput, a persone deely beloued.
 Squidem huc uluit caput, If I lyue.
 Capitis res est, The matter concerneth lyfe and death.
 Caput & famam alterius defendere, to defende an other mans lyfe and good name.
 Vt in singulis horas capite dimicetis, that at euery houre you should bee in isoperdis of your lyfe.
 Caput disputationis illius, the summe of that disputation or contention.
 Prima duo capita tuæ epistolæ, the two first pointes of your epistle.
 A capite ducere, to seche a matter euen fro
 the begynnyng.
 Caput scelerum, the authour and first begyn-ner of the mischiese.
 Caput esse alicui rei, to bee the chiefe in any matter. Et quod caput est, and that is the chief or principall point of all.
 Nec caput nec pes sermonis apparet, there apereth neither begynnyng nor endyng of the communication, or the tale hath neither head nor foote.
 In capite Bithyniæ, in the frontiers of Bithynia.
 Caput regni, the principal town in the roialme Caput vitium, the endes or vppermost spynges of vyces.
 Capys, a mans name that builded Capua.
 Carabi, a ryuer of Syria.
 Carabus, a fynde called a lopster, lyke to a creuille, but that he is greater, and is redde when he is aloue.
 Caracta, a citee in Spayne, called Guadaluza.
 Caralitanum, a pyromontiole of Sardina.
 Carambis, a greete pyromontiole towards the north parte.
 Carambus, a state of Syria, by the mountain called Riphai.
 Carana, a towne of Monte.
 Caranus, a lyng of Macedonie. Also an hancn in Bithynia.
 Caraseni, people of the countrey Caria.
 Caraxus, the brother of Sapphus.
 Carbania, a littell pende by Aale.
 Carbas, a wynde that bloweth from the south.

Carbasus, Carbasinus, and Carbasineus, a,
 um, made of fyne linnen.
 Carbasiu, li, m. et f. g. plu. Carbasiu, or li, n. g.
 a kynde of fyne linnen or tynne. Also the capie of a shyp. also a robe of garments of fyke of fyne linnen, that ryche folkes used to weare.
 sometime the shertes of a robe that callyth plaistes lyke a capie.
 Carbarina, does that husband men vse.
 Carbiles, people of Thya.
 Carbillus, a man that amonge the Romaynes, dyd first repudiate his wyfe for barrenesse.
 An other of the same name, whiche had bene his seruant, was the first that dyd teche grammer openly in Rome.
 Carbo, onis, m. g. a quiche or dead cole. It was also the name of a Romayne.
 Carbene notare, to marke with a cole, Al
 p.ouer the signifying, to condemne a thyng.
 Sometime to take a thyng for yll lucke.
 Carbonarius, ril, m. g. a colpar.
 Carbonarius, a, um, pertaynyng to coles.
 Carbonaria fornax, the pit wher coles be made Carbulo, a towne in Spayne.
 Carbulatio, onis, f. g. e Carbulus, a corruption in herbes & trees, that blaister the floures Carbunculo in vitibus, is a faute in vines when the clusters of grapes are not sufficiently couered with leaues, by whiche occasion
 they bee withered and dyed.
 Carbunculo, autē, are, or Carbuncolor, to bee burned lyke a cole.
 Carbunculantia vlcera, inflamed sores.
 Carbunculantur semina, the seedes be bours-ned or blasted.
 Carhunculosus, a, um, the adiectiue of Car-bunculus.
 Carbunculosus ager, a feld peched with heate of the sunne, and made unfruitfull.
 Carbunculosa arena, sands full of littell red stones lyke burning coles.
 Carbunculus, a botche that cometh of inflammation. It is also a kynde of p.icious stones, whiche doo wyne lyke a burning cole. Also ouer a defaute in a vine or other trees, wher-by they are burned, which hapneth about the sanctular dates. It dooth also signifie ecche, wherein are founde blacke starr stones. also earthe, which with the heate of the sunne is so hot, that it bourneth all thynges that be sette on towen in it.
 Carcaum, a towne of Arabon in Fraunce.
 Carcaliocherta, a towne of the greete Armeny.
 Carcer, eris, m. g. a prison sometime a naughty
 felowe worthy punishment.
 Ain (and) Carcer, I direct thou to in breeds thou naughty felow.
 Carceres, m. g. pl. the place where horses stand when they ren for pices, & so the horse take shyp course. hereof cometh a p.ouerbe,
 224 A

A carceribus ad calcem, or ad metam, from the beginning to the ending of an enterprise.
 Carcerarius, a, um, of a prison.
 Carchedon, the cite of Carthage, and Carchie
 donn, the people thereof.
 Carchedonius, nil, m. g. a kynde of carbuncle stones, whiche in the house seeme of purple colour: Byode in the apse they are fyre. Algaird the sonne, they sende out sparkes, and yf waxe be toucht with them it melteth.
 Carchesia, orum, the uppermost parte of the masse, that is the holes wherein the cordes of shpawdes are fastned.
 Carchium, iii, neu. g. a standyng cuppe with handelles.
 Carchoquios, a kynde of frogges, haupnge on theyr bespares pealowe spotted.
 Carcina, a cite.
 Carcinetron, the herbe called Corigiola. looke there.
 Carcinus, a pectious stone of the colour of a crabbe fyre.
 Carcinites, a goulfe in Sythia of Europe.
 Carcinodes, nodis, n. g. the canker in the nose.
 Carcinoma, atis, n. g. the eatyng canker in the outer partes of the body.
 Carcinus, a crabbe. also a signe in the firmamēt.
 Cardamila, a cite in Argus, nere to Syllus.
 Cardamum, mi, n. g. an herbe of spye, whiche is lyke a seede somewhat longe. The beste of it is harde to be broken, and soone pereth the nose in smellyng: In east quicke and somewhat bytter. In neede of this spice, whiche cometh out of Arabie or India, they dooe now commonly use a spice, which the apothecaries call Granum paradisi, in englysh graynes.
 Cardamon, or Cardamum, mi, n. g. an herbe, called cresses.
 Cardia, a towne of Thace.
 Cardia, as, f. g. the herte of a man or beast.
 Cardiacus, a, um, of the herte.
 Cardiacus morbus, uel Cardiacus passio, a spekenesse ppyredyng of an humour in the celles of the hert. If the humors be of bloude or choler, there is with the tremblinge of the herte, an heate also with muche thyrst, and a deepe fetchyng of wynde. If it bee of grosse bloud and melancoly, than is there feare, so-rowe, and dullnesse without thyrst. Sometime it hapneth by diminucion of thynges necessary to the comfortyng of the hert. As good sub-stancill, and cleere bloud, comyng from the ly-
 ver. sometime humores warpe and pitchyng doo gather together in the stomake, and dooe cause that spekenesse: othertwhyles it hapneth in a fever, wherein the patient sweatech much.
 Also of the feblenesse of the stomake, especially where the vepnes are litell, the pulse feble, sweate out of due measure and tyme, aboute the uppermost part of the body, the necke, the head: the legs and feet, bring than cold w thy.

 Cardiacus, ci, m. g. he that hath that disease.
 Cardinalis, le, chiefe of principall.
 Cardinatus, a, um, the adiective of Cardo: as,
 Ligna cardinata, rafters tynd in the shopyteples.
 Cardinea dea, idem quod Carna.
 Cardineus, a, um, idem quod cardinalis.
 Cardinum, an herbe, whiche some doo suppose to cresses.
 Cardisce, a stone that is engendjed of a dyasgons byapne.
 Cardo, inis, m. g. the hooke, wherof the dooze hangeth, and is moued. Also a mere of bound-des, whiche passe throughe the fieldes, frome
 the southe to the north. It is also the tenon, whiche is put into a moyse. Sometime opotuntee. Atrunus calleth the two poles of the firmament Cardines.
 Cardines temporum, the foure tymes of the pere, spyng tyme, sommer, autumne, a winter.
 Cardo causæ, the issue of the matter.
 Cardo rei, the effecte of the matter of thyng,
 the chiefe poynt of the matter.
 In hoc cardo rei vertitur, herein consisteth the hole matter: or on this hangeth al the matter.
 Cardo litum, idem quod cardo causæ.
 Cardopos, an hutchie of coffer, wherein byead is put. In the north countre it is called an arke.
 It is also a vessel, wherein dough is moulded.
 Carduelis, lis, f. g. a byrde called a lyncet.
 Carduus, dui, m. g. a thistle.
 Card, deerey, at a great price.
 Carectum, ti, ne. g. the place where sedges doe eth growe.
 Carences, people of Spayne.
 Carentani, people of Italy.
 Careo, ui, ere, to lack, ppyrly those good thyngges, whiche ones were had. Sometime it is gnitieth to be without a thyng: as,
 Careo culpa, I am without fault.
 Careo febre, I am without fever.
 Præterquam tui carendum quod erat, Asuynge that I coude not haue your company.
 Quod amat caret, he lacketh that he looeth.
 Ego illa caream, si sit opus, vel totum triduum, I coude be without he, yf neede were,
 thyse whole daies together.
 Caruit ne te febris heri? Had you not your ague yesterdaie?
 Caruit Pompeius foro, Pompeius came not abyode into the common place.
 Fide caret res, The matter is not to be be-leued. Carere suspicione, not to be suspected.
 Careo, the name of a keene, the scholas of Lissippus.
 Careo, people of Asia about Zanata.
 Carelius, a, um, a ruler of Troie.
 Caretha, an ple called after Dionisia.
 Carex, icis, f. g. sedges that groweth in fennes,
 and

and watry groundes.
 Caria, a region in Asia, haupnge on the north syde the greates ryuer of Alexander. On the west the great sea Tracium: on the east Asia, and byuers other countreys. Towards the southe the mountayns Taurus. The people therof called Caras, were good men of warre, and therfore euery where retyened for souerai-ones, as Darius, or Darychens be now.
 Carialis, idis, a woman of Carpa, a cite of Peloponnesus.
 Carica, æ, f. g. a dyer fygge, suche as is eaten in Lent.
 Carica, lytell houses set on hygh places, whiche be stronge by thes naturall munition.
 Caricus, or Carius, a, u, of the cuntrey of Caria
 Carides, a fyre called a pyane lyke to a thympe
 Caries, ci, f. g. a lytell woyme that eateth wood.
 It is also putrefaction, of fythe growen by age or continuance, the rottennesse in tymber of trees.
 Vini caries, the bygges of wyne.
 Caricem trahere, sentire, inducere, Carle in-festari, to wage cotten, or to bee putrified, of vintnewed.
 Carille, a towne of Idcentum, destroyed by Miniball.
 Carina, æ, f. g. the keele of bottoome of a shyppe.
 Carine, certayne houses within the temple of Cellus, made lyke the bottooms of shippes.
 Carina, arum, a strete in Rome, wherein dom-pete dwelled.
 Carina putaminum, the two shales of a nut diuided in lunder.
 Carinarum, lyke a keele.
 Carinarus, a, um, made in fourme of the keele of a shyppe.
 Carini, people of Germanie.
 Carino, au, are, to make any thyng lyke to the keele of a shyppe.
 Carinthia, a countre by Austrie, loyngyng on the south to the mountayns Alpes and Italy.
 On the east and north to Sireia. The foyme of the election of a newe pynce of gouernour
 there, is very strange and pleasant to knowe.
 Thus wytteth in his cosmography, that in the towne called Sancti viii, is a great valeie, where in a medowe is set a stone of marble,
 of a good heighe, wherupon steddeth an huibande man, vnto whom that office by inheritaunce belongeth: On his right hande stan-deth a blacke cowe: on his left hand an yll fa-uoyed mare. About hym standeth a great multitude of carles. On the othe syde of the me-dow cometh the duke, accompanied with his noble men in theyr robes of estate. Beside hym goeth the wife of Carissa, the great maister of his house, bestowe. xii. banners, bearyng the pyncke baner. The other noble men doo folowe with the pynce, clad lyke an huibande man, with a shepcocke in his hand, as he were a shepherd. And so soone as the carle, whiche standeth on the marble stone, percey-ueth hym comyng, he askech with a loud voice in the Blawyn tynghes, who is this, that commeth with so proude a gater? They that stand about hym, answer, he is the pynce of this countreie. Than saileth estones the carle: Is he a righteous iudge? hekyng for the weale of the countreie, a free man borne, and wot-thy to haue honoy? Is he a true chyken man, and defender of Chyriste faith? They all an-swere, yea, he is and shall be. Than saileth the carle, By what right maye he putte me frome this place? Than answereth the erle of Goetia, Thou shalt haue for thy place. Is grow-tes, these two beastes (Mewyng to hym the cowe and the mare) and the pyncks apparail, whiche he dyd late put of: Also thy familie or kynne shalbe free from al maner of tribute.

 Than the carle geuynge to the pynce a litell blowe on his cheeke, biddeth hym bee a good iudge, and comyng downe from the stone, geueth hym place, and so departeth, taking with hym the cowe and the mare. Than the pynce goeth by on the stone, and holdyng a naked swerde in his hande, and handlyng it, cur-neth to euery parte of the stone, ppympyng quall iudgement to all the people. Than is there brought to hym colde water in an houlbande mans cappe, whiche the pynce dynketh, signifyng, that he condemneth dyn-kyng of wyne. Than goeth he to a church of our ladye therby: where, after he hath hearde masse, he putteth of his russeall rapement, and putteth on apparayle of honour. And dyngyng with his nobilitie sumptuously, he commeth estones to the medowe, where he heareth matters, a ministrerth iustice. The duke of this countreie, is as it were chiefe maister of the game to the imperiall maiestee.
 Cariohillon, a spice called cloues.
 Cariohelites, people of the countreie of Aton in Fraunce.
 Cariofus, a, um, as earthe is after it is well douned and dured. It is also putrified or rotten.
 Cariofa terra, rotten earthe that cometh of dounge.
 Carioza, æ, f. g. loke Caryota.
 Carotis, idis, looke Caryotis.
 Carisa, a towne in Spayne.
 Carissa, used of olde wyters for vafra.
 Caritas, atis, f. g. caritee, dearethe, ppyrly of that whiche serueth for the sustinance of man.
 Caritas nummorum, caritee of monie.
 Caritas annone, caritee of vitayle.
 Caritas, and Vilas, contrary.
 Carius, the name of Jupiters forme.
 Carmaæ, people of Asia, nere Apatia.

C ANTE A.

of keles of the castell, and a litle rounde yle called Lothion, standyng as it were in a greas ponde, about whiche were sette the houses that serued for the name of Carthage. This cite continued warres with the Romaynes xl peres, and hadde many excellent men of warre, of whom Annibal was the moste noble and famous. That cite had in subiection not onely a greates parte of Africke, but also Sicilie, the moze parte of Spayne, and the ples of the myddell sea, whiche the emperoure Charles dooeth nowe enioye. It was at last destroyed by Scipio and the Romaynes, be fore the incarnation of Christe .144. peres. The countreie where it stode is now called Tunpe.

Cartheas, and Cartheus, a, um, the adiectiue of Carthea.
 Carthumandua, a queene in this Britayne, of the people called Brigures.
 Carulagmeus, a, um, of a gristle.
 Carulago, gimus, f. g. a gristle.
 Carulagimous, a, um, full of gristles or of a gristle also meane betwene hard and softe.
 Carus, a place of the Embrilians.
 Caruncula, la, f. g. a litle piece of fleshe.
 Carus, a, um, deere.
 Caruli, people of Africke by Ethiope.
 Cayra, the name of a cite in Grece.
 Cayanda, a fenne or mere in Laria.
 Cayandes, the pimages of women holdyng garlandes or other like thynges, set by to gart in the houses.
 Cayca, rede in Carica.
 Caymus, a, um, of a nutte, as Oleum carym, the oyle of nuttes.
 Caycaryng, g. a kinde of nuttes.
 Cayson Indicum, uel nux indica, a greatte fruite lyke to a nutte, whiche the Arabians doe saie, are the dates of ynde. But of them cometh a spoure moze sweete than butteer. This nutte is hotte in the second degree, and moist in the first.
 Caryon mirificon, uel Moshocaryon, is that spore, whiche is also called Nux muscaca, in englyshe nutmynges, whiche is hot and dry in the second degree.
 Cayopon, the supre of a nutte.
 Cayota, re, f. g. a date.
 Cayousadis, f. g. idem.
 Carytaus, and Carysius, a, um, of the ple Caryte.
 Carytes, and Carysios, ti, an ple in the sea called Euboeum, wherein is plentie of mar ble of dyuers colours. There groweth also a kinde of stonewherof they make fine cloth, whiche berne soule, is purged by fyre.
 Caryus, f. g. a kinde of spurge.
 Cate, a f. g. a cottage.
 * Catagias, ne prater casam, A pourcebe,

C ANTE A.

admonysshing so to eschue a thyng, that we fall not into a wyse.
 Casabundus, a, um, fallyng often.
 Casandra, an yle ouer agaynste Iberis.
 Casaria, x, f. gen. the woman that keepeth the cotage.
 Cascandrus, an yle by India.
 Cascatenes, people of Spayne.
 Cascus, a, um, olbe.
 * Cascus casum ducit, a pourcebe signyfing vnequall marriage, whan a yong man marrieth an olde woman.
 Cateale, lis, n. g. a dey house where chese is made.
 Casarius, a, um, of of perterpnyng to chese.
 Cateus, ei, m. g. cheefe. Some men vse Cascum in the neuter gender.
 Cateus musteus, Rowen cheefe.
 Cateus recens & mollis, newe & softe chese.
 Casia, an herbe, that beareth a spore, whiche hath the vertue of cynamome, and is wondrous full of force in sauour. It is of the apothecaries called Casia lignea.
 Casia fistularis, is that whiche is called commonly Casia fistula.
 Casilini, a people whiche beyng besieged of the Carthaginenses, susteyned theyr hunger a great space with smalle nuttes.
 Casilinum, a cite of Campayne in Italy.
 Casina, a comedie of Plautus.
 Casinum, a towne in Italy.
 Calito, au, are, to fall or dyop often tymes.
 Calius, an hyl in the borders of Egypte: an other in Delcutia.
 Calmonax, olde wyters used for Camenax.
 Calmonates, people of Liguria.
 Calmar, in the Russe tongue is an olde man.
 Calo, au, are, a frequentatiue of Cado.
 Calos, an yle by the sea Carpathium. Also one of them that bee called Cyclades.
 Casperia, a cite in Italy. also a womans name.
 Casperula, a towne of the Sabines.
 Caspi, a people nowe in Tartaria, forgyng to the sea Caspium, so inhumayne as Strabo wytteth, that whan their parentes excede the age of lxx. peres, they put theim into a close place, and doo famishe theim, and than they late theim in a deserte, and doo behold theim afarre of. And if byides doo plucke them out of theyr clothes, and deuour theim: they are compt theim blessed: If dogges or wild beastes doo it, they doo not accompt it so happy. But if both doo it, they esteeme those men very happy. Other wyte, that they nourishe dogges of purpose to deuoure theim.
 Caspius, a part of the mountayne Taurus.
 Caspius, and Caspiacus, a, um, of Caspius.
 Caspiæ portæ, are byholes places in the rockes of the mountayne of Caucasus towarde Hyrcania and Iberia, in lathe, as Idinius wytteth. vii. miles, as Solinus wytteth. vii. miles.

C ANTE A.

mples: In breadthe so narrowe, that a carre made hardy passe thorough theim. Partianus wytteth, that those gates were fast shutte with great yron beames, to leaue that no man shuld passe. In the spyng tyme and sommer, all serpentes do repaire thither from all countreies about, wherfore the passage that wate is perillous.
 Casabundus, idem quod Casabundus.
 Casandane, the daughter of Idarnaspis, and mother of Cambysa, Astages son in law.
 Casandra, the daughter of Idarnus, slayn by Clytemnestra, whan Agamemnon broughte her into Grece.
 Caste, in bayne.
 Cassera, a towne of Macedonie.
 Cassia via, a wate of causey made by Cassius the Romayne.
 Cassculus, a litlell hat.
 Cassida, x, f. gen. idem quod Cassis, idis, an helmette.
 Cassidile, is used of Hierome for Perula.
 Cassina, looke Cassina.
 Cassinum, a towne of the Sabines, also an old market place in that towne.
 Cassiodorus, a learned man, teacher to Theodosius kynge of Gothes.
 Cassiopa, an hauon on the south part of Sicilie.
 Cassiope, called also Cassiopeia, the wyfe of Cepheas, and mother of Andromades, whiche contended in beautee with Meretides, and was therfore tourned into a signe in heauen, that hath xii. sterres and is figured lyke a woman, spitting in a chappe.
 Cassis, sis, m. g. a nette, whiche mase be called an hase.
 Cassis, idis, f. g. an helmet, a sculle, or a cappe of fence, a salade or basinet.
 Cassira, x, f. g. a lake.
 Cassiterides, be ten yles in the Spaynysh sea, wherein was digged muche tyne, and they be not faere from the west parte of Spayne.
 Cassiterum, ri, tyne.
 Cassitas, the gumme that dyoppeth oute of a fyre tree.
 Cassius, a propre name of diuers men.
 Casso, au, are, to put out, or make of none effect.
 Cassum, si, n. g. a fragme or piece of any thyng.
 Cassus, a, um, voyde, and of none effect.
 Cassa dore virgo, a mayde, hauyng nothyng towards hye marriage.
 Cassa nux, a pipped nutte.
 Cassus lumine, dead.
 Anima cassi corpus, a body without a soule.
 Sensus cassi simulacra, pimages without sense or feeling.
 Cassa consilia, bayne counsailes.
 Cassus labor, labour in bayne.
 Cassutha, the herbe commonly called Cascuta, in englyshe withwynde.

C ANTE A.

Castalides, the surname of the mutes.
 Castalus, a fontayne in the foote of the hille of Idarnus dedicated to the muses.
 Castanea, x, f. g. a chesten tree, or a chest nutte.
 Castanetum, ti, neu. ge. a place sette with chesten trees.
 Castanius, a, um, of chestens.
 Castanipileum, an olde made of chest nuttes.
 Caste, chastly, honestly, incorruptly.
 Caste integre, chastly, and incorruptly.
 Castellanus, ni, m. g. he that dwelleth in a litle walled towne or fortress.
 Castellanus, a, um, of of perterpnyng to a litle castell or walled towne.
 Castellarium, one litlell walled towne after another, towne by towne.
 Castellum, li, n. g. a castell, or a litlell walled towne. It is also a rundite, ouer of which water renneth. Also the name of a countreie called Iuliers of Bulke.
 Castenes, a gulfe in the sea by Constantinople.
 Caseria, x, f. g. an house, wherein the teachyng of Wyppes is kepte.
 Castianira, one of Hymanus wyues.
 Castigabilis, le, that whiche shoulde of mase be corrected or amended.
 Castigatio, onis, f. g. correction, a chastisement.
 Castigator, oris, m. g. a correctour.
 Castigo, au, are, to chastise with woordes, to chype or rebuke. Also to correcte or amende, to refoorme, to punyssh.
 Castigare verbis, to chype.
 Castigare verberibus, to beate.
 Castigare vinculis et carcere, to punyssh the of chaste by imprisonment.
 Castificus, a, um, that maketh chaste.
 Castitas, atis, Castitudo, inis, & Castimonia, x, f. g. chastitee.
 Castologi, people of Fraunce.
 Castor, oris, m. g. a beuer, which hath the taste of a fyre, & in the residue is lyke to an otter.
 Castor & Pollux, twoo brytherne, boyns at a byrthe, and tourned in to a signe in heauen, called Gemini.
 Castorea, orum, n. g. the stones of a beuer meeteable for many thynges.
 Castoreum, rei, neu. gen. an oyle made of a beuers stones.
 Castoreus, a, um, of the beast called a beuer.
 Castoreus odor, a rotten stinkyng sauour.
 Castra, orum, n. g. an campe of men of warre, whan they lye or abyde in any place. Also the campe or place where the hoste lodgeth. the paulous beyng pitched. Also they doo signifye Stationes, resting places, where the host tarrieth to refrethe them selues: which amonge the olde Romaynes conteyned .ix. miles, as Solinus wytteth.
 Castris exuere, to compelle the enemies to forsake their camps.

C ANTE A.

Nec ante abscessum est, quam castris exuerunt hostem, for they departed not awate, vntill they had contraigned the ennemys to forsake the campe.
Castrametator, oris, one that campeith.
Castrametator, aris, ari, to lye or lodge an army,
to pitch or campe.
Castratio, onis, f. g. the geldynge or cutting a waile of the stones. And by a metaphore, a plucking awate or dimynishing of a thyng.
Castratio arborum, the ofte cutting or prun-nyng of trees.
Castratura, x, f. g. idem quod castratio.
Castratus, a, um, gelded, feeble, dimynished.
Castrata respublica, a weathe of feeble comamon waile.
Castratus, f. e, that whiche perteyneth to an host or armie, or warre.
Cauteris peculium, that whiche a man of warre hath gotten in warres.
Cauteris corona, a crowne or garland geuen vnto him that hath perished the campe of his ennemis.
Cauti-nomenses, people of Italp.
Cautus, a noble man in the tyme of Seylla,
and an auncle vnder Albitan the emperour.
Cautro, a, uare, to gelde. Sometime to cutte of generally.
Caudare arbores, to bore holes lowe in trees.
Caudare vites, to cutte vines.
Caudum, a cadell of foyrestle.
Caudum nouum, a towne in Italpe by the mouth of Tyber.
Cauda, x, f. g. a linnen clothe, wherewith madens ord go to them clothe vnder their pappes.
Caudonenses, people of the towne Caudon,
in Spayne, called commonly Caiona.
Cauda, a, um, chaile, honest, continent, vncor-rupted. Cauda mola, a kynd of sacrifice, that the virgins Vestales made.
Caudus a culpa, pure, withoute faulte, nothyng guilty.
Caudus moribus, of honest and vncorrupted maners. Cauda aures, honest eares, that can not abyde falshe talke.
Caudus, us, idem quod castitas.
Caudu, by chaunce.
Caudemillani, people of Italp.
Caudentum, a reuer nere to the bosome of the sea called Tarentinum.
Caula, x, f. g. a diminutive of casa.
Caura, x, f. g. a fall of decate.
Caurgis, a cite in Boeme now called Praga.
Causus, a, um, that will fall of chaunce.
Causus, us, m. g. happe, chaunce, perill, daunger, ruine, misfortune, or miserie. also a case.
Causus acerbus, an heuie chaunce.
Incerto casu pendere, when a thyng is in doubte, wherto it will come.
Accipere casum aliquem grauior, to bee be-

C ANTE A.

case for any chaunce or misfortune that hath happend.
Iudicio, et casu aliquid facere, contrary.
Varius casibus tractatus, tossed in many aduersities.
Casum alicuius lugere, to bewaile a mans fall or miserie.
Magnum casum habet hanc res, this matter is verely dangerous.
Casus hyemis, the later ende of wynter.
Casus vrbis, the decate of ruine of a cite.
Grauiore casu celsa decidunt turres, The high towres haue the greater fall.
Cata, a preposition in greke, signifying Contra, or Aduersus.
Catabanes, people of Arabia deserta.
Catabasis, a descendynge or goynge downe.
Catabulimus, a place in Africke sayngenge to Egypte.
Catachresis, a figure, when one woorde is vs-surped for another, as Paricida, for one that hath kylde his brother. Piscina, a pond, wher in is no fische.
Catachismata, amonge the Athenenses, the vs-sage was when newe seruantes were fyrst come into an house, as they stode by the chymnele or berth, there were poured on theys heades, egges, nuttes, dates, beanes, and pease-son, whiche were catched by of the other ser-uantes. And the lpe was dooen on the new byrde, in token of good lucke. And this was called Catachismata, for Catachylis, in greke, is in englyshe a pouring out.
Cataclysmos, or Cataclysmus, m, m. g. an nucefall floudbe.
Cataclytra, a garment close all aboute.
Catacylis, a condemnacion.
Cataclomus, m, m. g. the place where menne doore renne horses for pices or wages. also fles, wherin men practise dedes of armes.
Cataclupa, a place by Attus.
Cataclupi, a place in Ethiope.
Cataclupa, pnyges loobng dyuers wayes,
and in diuers fourmes.
Cataclitum metrum, a verse, wherin one only syllable lacketh.
Cataclipsis, occupacion, depheension.
Catacliptum, n, n. g. idem.
Cataclixis, a spynnyng of a thyng.
Catalogus, li, m. g. speche or wytyng, where thynges be recited in order and numbrye: A reherfall or table of the numbrye of thynges.
Catalyma, refection, also an ynne.
Catalysis, dissolution.
Caramidio, are, to set one by with a pappe on his head, to bee moched or rebuked for some offence: as they vse to do with men perjured, or with foggers of euidence.
Caramius, a boie byrd to be abused, contrary to nature.

Cata-

C ANTE A.

Catana, a towne of Sicilie, the people wherof were called Caraceli.
Cataphora, a deade scape, or a disposition to scape.
Cataphracta, x, f. g. is used of Vegetius for Loric, or Thorax, cures of a breast plate, that footemen are harnessed with.
Cataphractarius, m, m. g. a man armed at all pieces. Sometime it is taken for a foot man, armed with a breast plate of cures.
Cataphractus, a, u, armed or fensed on al partes Cataphracti equites, men of armed on barbed horses.
Cataphracta naues, covered shippes.
Cataphruges, heretikes, whiche toke that name of one Catantanus, of Egypte, an arche heretike: who affirmed, that the holy gost was geuen to them, and not to the apostles. They baptised not in the name of the trinite, and used to baptise men after they were dead.
They byde also condemne the second ma-riage. This secte beganne in the yere of oure lord. 170.
Cataplasma, atis, n. g. a playster made of byssures thynges.
Catapotia, orum, n. g. plu. pyles in medicine.
Catapulta, x, f. g. an engine in warre, wherwith they shoote dartes or quarelles a grete waile of.
Catapultarium pilum, a bolte or darte shotte in that engine.
Cataputia maior, the greater spourge. looketh Ricinus.
Cataputia minor, an herb called the lesse spurge loke more in Tithymalus, and also in Lachy-tis, whiche is the same herbe.
Cataracla, x, f. g. and Cataractes, x, m. g. a portculleis. Also a great course of water fallyng downe from hygh broken places. Also the place from whence it dooth fall. wherof it is said, when there is great flowes of raphe, that Cataracla calaperta sunt.
Cataracla, bee also thynges sette to stoppe the course of water, as flud gates, weares, dammes, and seluses.
Cataracla aues, byrdes called also Diomedea, whiche had teethe and also lyke fyre.
Cataracla, a ruier of Samphilia.
Catari, people of Pannonia.
Catarnia, a countre of Asia.
Catarrus, m, m. g. a reume or fllyng downe of water or fleume from the head.
Catacopium, i, n. g. a myppe that watcheth or spieyth for other: A byggandine or spinner.
Catacopus, pi, a spy.
Catalla, x, f. g. a cage, wherin men be set, whyle they are to be sold. also wherin they were pur-shed.
Catacloma, atis, n. g. the hatchas of deckes in shippes, wher men stande to fyght.

C ANTE A.

Catastrophe, a subuersion. Also the latter end of a comedie, and pounchially, the ende of
any thyng.
Catatopsis, a figure, where one thyng is described by another.
Catax, idem quod Claudus.
Cate, idem quod caute.
Catachesis, is, f. g. an instruction or teachyng,
propely by mouth, and not by wytyng.
Catechiso, aui, are, to instruct, to instructe, to teache by mouth.
Catechumenus, m, m. g. he that is newly instructed or taught by mouth.
Catechismata, predicamentes.
Categorica, an accusation.
Catella, or Catellum, diminutives of Catena,
a litlell chayne.
Catellus, li, m. g. and Catella, x, f. g. a very litlell bounde of byache.
Catena, x, f. g. a chayne.
Inijicere catenas alicui, to bynde one with chaynes.
Catenarius, a, um, perteynyng to a chayne.
Catenarius canis, a bande dogge, tyed in a chayne to nepe the house.
Catenatio, onis, f. g. a freight fastnyng of togenyng of beames & rafters together in buildyng.
Cateno, aui, are, to chayne together.
Catenua, x, f. g. a litlell chayne.
Caterua, x, f. g. a compagne of men of warre.
Sometime a multitude of people.
Agere cateruam, to dysse awate a bande of fouldpours.
Magna caterua comitatus, accompanied with a great rout of men.
Cateruari, they that dooe assemble in companies without order.
Cateruam, by compantes.
Cathalanum, a towne in France called Chalons.
Cathartica, purgative medicines.
Cathari, were heretikes, whiche affirmed, that it was not leful for a chystian man to sweare, for any cause, or at any tyme. They byd also deny all the sacramentes of the church.
Catharmata, men whiche for aduoydynge of the pestilence of some dangerous sychnesse, were offered to the goddes.
Catharmos, a certayne purgation with fyre.
Catharticus, a, um, any thyng that purgeth.
Cathay, a grete region in the easte parte of the worlde, extendyng vnto the easte ocean sea, and on the southe, vnto the ouer India, and is also called Synarum regio. It is dyuided ined vnto the royalmes, the whiche be all vnder the grete Cham. This coun-tre is wonderfull ryche in golde and sylke, and aboundeth in grayne and wyne, and all other thynges necessary for mans sustynance.
The people, for the more parte, dooe ho-noure Chyffe as God, but they are not baptis-

C ANTE A.

baptized. They are courteous and reasonable, and verie cunning officers.

Cathedra, a, f. g. a seat or chaire.

Cathedralicus, a, um, pertaining to a chaire.

Cathedralicus scruius, a seruant that carryeth his maister in a chaire. Somtyme an ydell elutchfull fellowe.

Cathedrarij philosophi, philosophers which in theyr seates onely dispute and talke of vertue.

Cathi, looke Chatil.

Cathmexa, a hynde of earth, wherof latyn mettal is made.

Catholicus, a, um, vniuersall, nowe it is vsed for hym that heareth the faith, as the vniuersall church hath obserued it. Also the bishop of the Armentians was so called.

Catholica medicamenta, medicines profitable to poure all maner of humours.

Cathon, one of the plea called Cycloides.

Cati, a well in Italy by Cyber.

Caulina, a Roman, notable for his conspracy.

Caullario, onis, f. g. a greater reproche layde to gentlemen, whiche had robbed the countreys that were alped to the Romayns, and had riotously consumed the goodes.

Carillo, aui, are, to like dishes, to feede greeds on deperceate meate.

Carillo, onis, m. g. a lychedysme, a glutton.

Caillius, li, m. g. of Caillium, li, n. g. a diminutive of Carinus, a littell platter or dysche, a potager. Also Caillius is the ouer stone of a myll called the renner.

Caillus, the sonne of Amphiaras, and brother of Cyburtus, in mymye of whome he builded the citie of Cybur.

Catina, a, of Catine, es, a citie of Sicille. Some called it Latona.

Catinus, ni, m. g. and catinum, i, n. g. a charger, platter or dysche.

Carizi, the people called Pigmei.

Caro, onis, was not first a surname, but a name of merite. For the ancite Romans called hym Lato that was wise by muche experience. Of this name were dyuers, of whom two were mozte excellent. The one called Marcus Lato Lenofinus, because he alwaies vsed the grauite and yggour that was wonte to be in the correctours of maners called Cenforces. And also he hym self beyng Cenfor, was about all other mozte sharpe and yggourous. Valerius Mar. writeth, that he was almozte an olde man er he learned latin letters, and than it seemeth he was olde er he learned greke. yet not withstandinge by gatheringe bydgementes out of Euribides, and Demofhenes workes, he became the greatest orator of his tyme, and was called the Romayne Demofhenes. He beyng made consull, wanne mo ctees in Spayne, than he had aboden daies in they

C ANTE A.

countreys. In which countreys he returned to hym self, nothing of all that was founde there, but meate and drynke onely, but made his soulyours rich, geuyng to euery of them a pounde weighte of syluer, sayng, Better it were, that many Romaynes returned to Rome with syluer, than a fewe with gold. He taught his own sonne grammar, not withstandinge he had a seruant called Chylo, whiche was an excellent grammarian, and taught a great schole, sayng, It is not conuenient, that if my sonne be slowe of learning, he shoulde be rebuked or pulled by the eares of hym, that is of a scrulle condition. He also taught hym the ciuile lawes, the exercise of all weapons, to ride well, to fight with the syles, to susteyne bothe colde and heate, to leape into waters, and swimme agaynst wynde rennyng streames. Beyng Cenfor, he spared no estate, whose maners he founde corrupted, or superfluous in lyping, whereby he brought into the citie a meruailous image of vertue, his sentences reherced by Plutarke be wonderfull, of whiche I will remember the of the most excellent of them. Like as the dyers, saied he, doo dye mozte often that colour, which they do perceyue mozte men doo delite in: so long men doo mozte studiously haunte and imbrace that, whiche they see olde men and counsaillours haue in mozte estimation. He also blamed the people of Rome, for that they committed auhorities and offices ofte tymes to one persone, sayng, They seemed not to esteeme the auhorities, or els they supposed there were but a fewe worthy of promotion. The one was a signe of contempne, the other discouragement to good wytt, and rebuke to theyr countreys. Also when thre ambassadours were chosen to be sent into Bithynia, of whome one hadde the goue, an other payne in his head, and the thyrd ymoious, Lato laughyng, saied in the senate, The people of Rome sendeth an ambassade, which hath nei ther feete, head, nor herte. The lyfe of this and of the other Lato, or mostly to be often tymes red, specially of counsaillours and men in autho rities. He was before the incarnation. 182. yeres.

Caro Vitensis, was so called because he slew hym selfe in the towne Vitia in Aethiopia. The other Caro Cenforius, was his great graundfather. This man shewed a wonderfull constance and grauite even in his childehode, seldom meey of seene to laugh, and if he dyd, it was a verie rare litle smyllyng, not lightly anger. but if he were, he was not soone appeased: Also he was harde to leaue. but he returned perfectly that he learned, and was verie subtile in all morall philosophie, practysing in his actes and lyping, that whiche herabode of vertue and honestie, and studied eloquence onely to the intent, that in counsailling and reasonyng, he mought adde vnto philosophie moze force and pynement, and

C ANTE A.

and yet would be not please it openly. And when one said to hym, mon dyspaysa thyne ob scure silence, he answered: I force not, for they dyspasse not my lypynge: But I wyll break out of this silence, when I can speake that is worthy to be spoken. Beyng Tribu nus militum, he was sente into Achaebonie, toher with his meruailous grauite, pyn dence and pynfullnesse, he made all that were vnder hym flecte and hardie agaynst their enemies, gentilly to theyr fellowes, fearfull to doo iniurie, prompt to geat paynes, and hym self labouryng with them, dyng his appa rale, feeding and gonyng the vnto them: he contrary to mens expectacions (not withstandinge his seuerite) wanne the hertes of them, gonyng on foote and talshing with euery man, and was of such constance, and so free from ambition and flattery, that neyther Pompey nor Cesar in theyr chiefe pydes, when all men, either for dread or for fauour, inclined to their despyes, could perswade hym to agree to these myndes, in cases where it seemed to be agaynst the weale publike: nother mought any maner menacing or dreadfull tokens moue hym from that constance. In so muche, that when he hearde that Cesar had vanquished Pompey, and that his frendes would haue sent to Cesar, to despye his fauour, he answered: They whiche are vanquished, or haue any wyle trespass, ought to make suite, but he in all his lyfe was neuer vanquished, and in innocencie surmounted Cesar, who in making warre agaynst his owne countreys, had condemned hym selfe to haue doome that theynge, whiche he had often dyed: Finally, not for malice of Cesar, but because he would be not beholde the weale publike destroyed, he slew hym selfe at Vitia, hannyng with hym at supper, the eueryng before, the greatest officers of that citie, and many of his frendes. Also this sentence beyng spoken amongst other: Only a good man is a free man, all yll men are bond: when one happened to reason agaynst it, Lato to lyping therewith chaufed, disputed with the orator so vehemently and longe, that all men suspected that he would be not longe lyue. He dyed before the incarnation. 44. yeres.

Caroblepas, a littell beast, whose ryes of a man beholde, he dieth immediately.

Carochites, a terrapine stone that cleaueth to a mans hande lyke gumme.

Caroni, people of Ethiopia about Agnatis.

Caropyrites, a precious stone, that groweth in Cappadocia.

Carothoma, a, n. g. a perfect myke of heret, a bede tulle and well doct.

Carothofis, a rightfull dopyng.

Caril, looke Chatil.

Carigrades, idem quod casiterides.

C ANTE A.

Cattus, of some is taken for a catte, but with out any appoynded author.

Caularia, one of the gates of Rome.

Carulinus, a, um, of a catte, or rather of a litle ell dogge.

Caulio, li, li, the desire of female hynde to company with the male hynde, pyping to go alyste, to ruder, to holynge, or to dissonyng.

Caullio, onis, f. g. the gonyng assault.

Carullus, the name of a poete.

Carullus, a Romayne capitayn in the fyrt warres of Carthage. Also an orator that was consull with Marius.

Carulus, li, m. g. a whealpe, properly of a dog.

It is had also for a kylling, and the poyng, of all kynde of beastes.

Caturatorium, a citie called Carille in Englands.

Caturiges, people of Italy.

Carus, a, um, idem quod cautus, wylde or wile. Also the name of a noble and wile familie in Rome.

Cauamen, inis, an holowe place.

Cauares, people of Marbone in France.

Cauaticus, a, um, that is of a caue or denne.

Cauaror, oris, he that maketh any thyng holow.

Cauatus, a, um, made holowe.

Cauca, a citie in Spayne called comonly Quica.

Caucalis, li, o, idis, f. g. an herbe like fenel with a white flowre and moyt itaile, and is supposed to come of naughtye perfectly seede. It is also called bastarde perfectly.

Caucasus, an hill, one of the highest in all Asia, and stretcheth of a meruailous length, and is named of som men Caspi montes, because it stretcheth forth by the sea Caspium.

Not withstanding in Charra marina, the hill Caucasus is sette on the northe parte of that sea, a Caspi montes on the southe, hannyng on the southe Asia, and a part of Aethiopia, and on the southe Aethiopia.

Cauchus, certayne fieldes by the ryuer Cyaris.

Cauda, a, f. g. the tayle of a beast. Somtyme a mans pynful meymbre.

Lactare caudam, to wag the tayle like a dogge.

Caudam trahere, a pynnerbe, signifying the tayle is pulled, or made a fool, taken of chylde been, whiche ys to hang a caple behynd him, whom they muche orlode.

Equus cauda pilos vellere, to pluck the beares of an horse tayle. A pynnerbe spoken of hym, that by litle and litle achaueth that he coulde not do immediately all together.

Caudex, li, m. g. the body of a wyther, or a lunket, wherin yllde ys taken in spure.

Caudex, a, um, of the body of a tree, or the body of an herbe.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

Caudex, li, m. g. the lower part of a tree next the roote: the body of the tree, the stalk of an herbe. Also a lunket, hannyng many ysaues.

of tables, whereof bookes and tables be called Codices. And thus that carp vntaples Caudice. It also signifieth a duile foole, such as can neither well speake nor doo.

Caudicalis, i.e. pertainyng to the body of a tree.

Caudicarius, a, um, maide of thicke planks.

Caudicaria naues, shippes made of thicke planks, of a shippe that carreth vntaples.

Caudicatus, a, um, idem quod caudicarius.

Caudicata naues, idem quod caudicaria.

Caudinus, a, um, of Caudis.

Caudina furca, a place in Itale, where the Romayns were discomfite by the Samnites.

Caudis, of Caudium, a town of the Samnites.

Cauca, a, f. g. a caue of dark place in the ground. Also a cage of coupe, wherein bydes be kept. Also a place where men behelde plates of enterludes. Sometime a company of people gathered for that purpose. Also euery place that is litted or rayled in.

Caudium, a place at large, haupng many poiches, whiche serueth to a comon lyke a market place. It is also a poiche of byode place in the court of an house, common for all meane to stande in.

Cauco, cau, ere, to bee ware, to eschewe, also to proude diligently, to take heede.

Cauce tibi, take heede to thy selfe.

Cauce tibi illud pueri, beware of that chyld.

Cauelacias, take heede thou dooe it not.

Cetera cauebuntur, The reste I wille pprouide for.

Cauere alicui, to geue counsell to one in matters of lawe, or concernyng contractes, to instructe one what he shall dooe.

Cauere capite, to put in sureties to appere in matter of lyfe and deathe.

Cauere sibi ab aliquo, to take a quittance of other discharge for the paiement of monie, or deliuerance of any other thynge.

Atuero, inquam, tibi ego Brute nō solūam, nisi prius a te cauero, amplius conomine ne minem, cuius petitio sit, petiturum, Truly, saied I, Brutus, I will not paise the, excepte I haue first a quittance of the, that thou shalt not excoones demaunde it of hym, of whom thou moughtest aske it.

Quid isti caueam, what shall I proude for hym. Cauere testamento, to will a thynge to doone by testament.

Caueri, to be taken heede of.

Cauere insidias, to beware that one bee not attreaped or taken in a snare.

Cauere honestatem, to flee dishonestie.

Cauere aliquem, to take heede of one, that he hurte hym not. Aphetwse Cauere sibi ab aliquo.

Cauere alicui, to take heede of proude, that one haue no hurte or displeasure.

Scablen pecori cauero, Take heede that thy cattell bee not infected with the scabbe.

Obsidibus de pecunia cauere, That gaus hostages vntill the monie was paid.

Cauere sibi obsidibus ab aliquo, to take or requie hostage of one for suretie of couentes.

Cauere alicui obsidibus, to geue hostage for suretie of paiement.

Cauere tibi per Brutum, thou makest thyn excuse by Brutus.

Cauere pecuniam alicui, to put one in assurance for monie that he oweth hym.

Cauere scriptis, in wrytyng lawes, to make prouisions to exclude euery doubt and inconuenience that myght folowe.

Nunquam caui quid facerem, I neuer regarded what I should doo.

Cauetur, and Cautum est lege, it is excepted or prouided for in the lawe: or it is prohibited by the lawe.

Cauere in iure, to geue counsaile in matters of the lawe, what is best to bee dooen.

Cautum est praeibus, ac praeiis, assurance taken by bandes and sureties.

Cautum est, it is ordeined or prouided by an acte of parliament or counsaile.

Cauerna, a, f. g. a caue of holowe place in the ground. Sometime Cauerna, do signifye caves.

Cauernulus, a, um, full of causes.

Cauernula, a diminutue of cauerna.

Cauiares hostia, et caua, were partes of the beastes nexte to the taylor, to be sacrificed for the byshop.

Cauilla, a, f. g. and Cauillum, li, n. g. a mock or a scoffe, an hapsyng question.

Cauillatio, onis, f. g. a cauillation, a subtilly forged tale, a mery sauntynge, a subtilly wrytyng of a false thynge to the confirmation of ones sentence.

Cauillator, oris, m. g. a mocker of booyde, a cauillat.

Cauillatus, us, idem quod cauilla.

Cauillor, atus sum, ari, to scoffe, to mocke, to booyde, to cauillate, to reason of common subtilly and ouerthwartely.

Caula, a, f. g. a shepcheuse, but properly a fold. also a hole, wherein any thynge may be receiued.

Caulascere, to growe into a stalk.

Caulias, lia, the suppe, whiche is pressed out of the herbe, called Lacerpitium.

Cauliculus, li, m. g. a tender stalk.

Caulina, wyne made abous Capon.

Caulis, lis, m. g. a stalk of some of an herbe or tree. It is sometime taken for all porre herbes, the rumpe of a beate, and for a Masse of sauelline. It is also an herbe called colewortes, Reade Brasica.

Caulis pennae aulis, all the quille and stamme of the fether besides the downe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

Caulis caudae bouis, all the rumpe of griffe.

of an oxe taylor, besides the taylor of the heere at the ende.

Caulum, of Caulon, a towne, wherby as I thinke wryteth, is situate in the first region of Itale.

Caula, aris, n. g. heate.

Caulmas, one of the Centaures, the sonne of Ition.

Caulnus, a citie in Caria, by the ryuer Calbis.

Caulo, au, arc, to make hold way.

Luna cauat cornua, the moone decreaseth of waneth.

Caupo, onis, com. g. an husher, that selleth meate and bynke, a tauerne, a vitapler.

Caupona, a, f. g. a tauerne or vitapling house.

Cauponaria, a, f. g. tauerne crasse.

Cauponius, a, um, pertainyng to the tauerne crasse.

Cauponius puer, a tauerne boye.

Cauponor, aris, ari, depo. to sell wyne or othe vitaples, as tauerne dooe.

Cauponari bellum, by a metaphore to make warre for a vauntage.

Cauponula, a diminutue of caupona, a tpytyn house, or ale house.

Caurio, ris, iui, ire, to crytpe a panther.

Caurium, a towne of Idogugah called also Cauria, commonly Corra.

Cauros, an ple, whiche was afterwards called Andros.

Caurus, ri, m. g. a westerne wynde, called also to Corus, and Euronorus.

Caulia, a, f. g. a byode harte of rappe, suche as harness folkes vse, to hepe of the sonne. It was also a roial ensigne of the kynges of Abacchony.

Caulisma, by wood that will bouene quickly.

Caulis, of Caulon, onis, m. g. an heate of bouenyng, a continuall horte feuer, (engendred of redde choler and sharpe, in the veynes next to the herte, in the veynes of the mouth of the stomake, and in the holownesse of the luer of lounge. The signes of this feuer, are intolerable heate, with continuall thyrst, hoirour, a swifte pulse, keepng no order, mozt byeathe, the brine hygh coloured and thynne.

Causa, of causa, a cause or controwersy in lutee, a matter to be spoken of before a iudge, or other audience. Also a busynesse of charge in a mans affaires. An excuse, a reason or consideration that moueth one to doo a thynge, an occasion, a quarell, a state of condision.

Causam accipere, to take the matter in hand. also to take an excuse, to holde one excused.

Causam capere, to take an occasion.

Causa cadere, to lose his action.

Causam agere, to pleade a matter.

Causam dicere, to answer vnto that whiche is layde vnto his charge, speke by hym selfe or by attorneye.

Causam dicere, to saie contrary, to denye.

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causam dico,

quin mihi et parentum, & libertatis apud te de liquo fiet, If thou doest fynde sotherwise, I will not saie contrary, but that it is at thy pleasure, that I shall lose bothe my parentes and libertie.

Causam dicere ex vinculis, to answer in ward, or being a ppysoner.

Causas necesse, uel fingere, to feigne matters, to make excuses or delates.

Dare causam, to geue an occasion.

Causam orare, to pleade.

Causam querere, to seeke occasion.

Causam sustinere, to beare the blame.

Causam tenere, to obteyne in iudgement.

Causa mea, for my sake.

Syzo ignoscis volo, quia mea causa fecit, I will that ye forgive Syzus al that he hath doon for my sake.

Causa inferior, the lesse ryght or weaker title.

Causa superior, the better right or title.

In causa hac sunt, the reason is this, of the considerations be these.

Semen et causa bellorum, the matter and occasion of warres.

Numquid causa est, quin &c. Is there any let or excuse but that, &c.

Per causam exigenda pecunia, vnder the pretence of colour of gatheryng monie.

Contumelia causa, for reproche.

Causa mea, for quod ad me attinet.

Mea quidem causa vidua victima, lyue a wydow April for me.

Verbi causa, and Exempli causa, for an exaple.

Causa dictio, a defence or answering to that is lated to ones charge.

Accipe queriti causam, heare the cause of that ye demaunde.

Causas causas exponere, to explicate or declare harde causes.

Cum causa facere, to doo as the matter semeth to requyre.

Causa cardo, looks Cardo.

Pro magnis causis, for great reasons and considerations.

Frons causa, the vtter apperance of a matter.

Exudare causas, spoken in derision of babbyng lawyers, whiche contend in their matter till they sweate. Incumbere in causam, to apply a matter earnestly: Also to fauour the quarell of any part.

Indicta causa damnari, to be condemned with out answer: or to bee condemned, the cause not being heard.

Periclitari causa, to put his matter in hafarde or teopardie.

Deponere causam, to leaue of his quarell or sute.

Omnis familiaris causa consistit tibi, al the charge of busynesse of my house is lette to the.

Est tibi causa et de hac re, Although thou haue an excuse or defence for the in this matters.

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua

C ANTE A.

antequam nati, They that be dead, bee in the same state and condition, that they were before they were borne.

Erar in meliore causa quam si, &c. He was in better state and condition, than if, &c.

Ditius commoratus est in Pompei causa, He abode longer in the maintenance of Pompei's quarrell.

Profectus est cum his, quorum erat una causa, he went forth with them, whiche favoured one quarrell.

Causarum abuerbe, after the faction of them that be discharged for some lausult cause.

Causarii, they that be employed in our lawe, or excused for a speciall cause.

Causaria mistio, a discharge of a souldiour, for a reasonable cause.

Causarii milites, souldiours, whiche for causes reasonable, were discharged out of the army: for slacknesse, as Policianus writeth.

Causatio, omis, f. g. an inward specklesse.

Causatiuus, a, um, that is cause of the dooing of a thing.

Causidicus, ci, m. g. a man of law, an attorney.

Causilicor, aris, to complaine of a thinge that doeth grieve one, to refuse, to late excuses, wily he will not doo a thing.

Causor, aris, to shewe and alledge the reason of excuse of any thing.

Cantari tempestatem, et vna fluminum, to late for his excuse the tempest & great fluddes.

Nunquid cautare? Dooest thou late any excuse? or dooest thou late any thinge to the contrary?

Cauticus, a, um, bournyng, or that bourneth.

Cautica medicamenta, medicines whiche doo burne the fleshe of the fleshe.

Cautum, u, n, g. a thing that may be burned.

Cautula, a diminutive of cautus.

Cautellus, a, um, marked or burned with that instrument, whiche is called Cauterium, or marked with any iron.

Cauterium, u, n, g. a marking iron, or an instrument, wherewith sores are bourned. Also a painters instrument.

Cautus, and cautum, wisely, circumspectly, subtilly, warily.

Cautus et pederentem dicere, to speake of shewe a thing circumspectly, and leperly.

Cautus, ris, f. g. of Cortes, or Cos, a ragged rocke of hill full of great stones.

Cautus loquior, more clatterpunge than a rocke: A proverbe, applied to great speakers, gathered of the continuall clacking that the sea maketh, when it is fiercely agast a rocke.

Cautus Margeia, a proverbe applied to a stubborne felowe, that will not change his opinion.

Causo, onis, f. g. a testaments, obligacion, or

C ANTE A.

promyse in wisting, made diligently for the assurance of any thinge. Also a pposition of remedie.

Cautio est, it is neede to provide or beware.

Mittere cautionem chirographi, to deliuer wisting signed with his owne hande for assurance.

Cautio opus est, ut sobrie, &c. we must be ware and take heed that, &c.

Cautionem et diligentem adhibere, to be ware, circumspect, and diligent.

Habet multas cautiones, the matter hath many thinges to be foreseen & taken heed of.

Cautionalis, le, the adiective of cautio.

Cautior, oris, m. g. he that foreseeth matters wistly and craftily, that he or another be not deceived.

Cautior alieni periculi, he that warneth another man of any danger.

Cautior formularum, he that can shyll of all actions to be sued, an expert lawyer.

Cautus, a, um, pious, circumspect, wise, wistly, ware.

Diligens et cautus. Cautus et prouidus.

Cautus, and Tardus, contraria.

Cautus ero in credendo, I will take heed what I beleue. I will not be over light of credence.

Cautus præferre manus, to grepe with ones handes before hym, when he goeth in the darke.

Quo mulieri esset res cautior, That the woman might be more circumspect in the matter, or take better heed to it.

Cauta et moderata liberalitas, circumspect and moderate liberaltie.

Cautus, a, um, holowe.

Cautus vena, the vyne of the lyner.

Aedes caux, steeled houses or chaumbres.

Cautus fenestra, id est parula.

Flumina caua, id est profunda et alta, depe re uera.

Pinus caua, is some tyme used for a ship.

Cautus, u, m. g. of cauum, i. n. g. an holow place or an hole wherin bydes doo hyde.

Caxo, idem quod Carax.

Caycus, a rupe in Thracia.

Cayster, or Caystrus, a rupe of Asia.

Caystrius, a, um, of Cayster.

Ales caystrius, a swanne.

Caystros, a famous rupe of Thracia, by the city of Ephesus.

C ANTE E.

Ca, looke Cra.

Ceadus, a Thracian, whiche apyed the Troians.

Cebes, eris, a philosopher of Thebes.

Cebrenia, a place of Troie, called of some Cebrenia.

Cebrenij, people of that cuntry, & also of Asia. Cebres

C ANTE E.

Cebrenij, id est, parricidium formidinum.

Cebrenia, the bastard son of hys father.

Cecropia, rupe in Thracia. Also the name of a woman, whiche favoured the quarrell of Pompey in the ciuile warre.

Cecropia, a town that Cecrops builded, whiche was after the city of Athens.

Cecropide, men of Athens.

Cecropis, id est, a woman compass of Cecrops.

Cecropius, a, um, of Cecrops.

Cecrops, opis, an ancient kynge of Athens, whose image was made hauing two heades as some suppose, because he dyd fynd institute matrimonie in Greece. Other write, that he was borne in Egypte, and dyd also vs bothe languages, Greke and Egyptian. he was a foze the incarnation. 1589. years.

Cecryphalea, a rocke in the sea, of angle.

Cecubum, a kinde of wyne.

Cecurri, olde wyse used for cucurri.

Cedar, a region in Arabia.

Cedo, cessi, ere, to geue place, to depart, to go awate, to vyde, to withdawe, to obey, to graunte, to geue, to succede.

Cedere auctoritati, to be of lesse authoritie.

Cedere ad factum, to come to effect, to be doen.

Cedere creditoribus, in proprijs where one is unable to paie his debts, leaue all his goodes of landes to his creditors.

Cedere ex transuerso, to go bydwyge lyke a crabbe.

Podori famam cessi, I was overcome with shame and regarde of myne estimation and good name.

Cedere intercessioni, to ppye no further, to admyte the contrary.

Cedere ius suum alteri, to geue by his right and title to another.

Cedere pro, to be in the steede of an other thing. Nam pro pulpamento cedidit scuti si, for it is in steede of meate, lyke an eyeglasse.

Cedere ulta, & Cedere fato, to dye.

Cedere possessione, to leaue the possession.

Cedere periculo, to flee from the danger.

Cedere precibus, to graunte to the request of prayer, to heare ones petition.

Cedere tempori, to accomodate hym selfe to the tyme, to doo according to the tyme.

Cedit remedia morbus, quando percussus. Cedit dies, to amonge the lawyers, the tyme is come, that the debt is due to be payed.

Cedit huius quæstus ille, the tyme, that manerage by it.

Cedit illi res, his matter cometh to passe.

Cedunt mihi ea bona, those goodes are come or happened unto me.

Cedunt dies, the dayes passe away.

Cessit, it happened.

Cessit parum græui, I was overcome by a litle.

C ANTE E.

Cessit in proverbium, It became, or was turned into a proverbe.

Cedere et locum dare, to anoth or geue place.

Cedere loco, patria, vrbem, domo, to departe from his place, countrey, citie, or house, to leaue it and go his way.

Cedere de re publica, ab opido, a gladiatione, e corpore, e ciuitate, in aras, ad alia quem locum.

Cedere retro, to retire, to geue backe.

Cedam vira, I will be content to dye.

Cedere alicui, to obeye one, and not to doo agaynst his mynde, to be inferiour, and of lesse estimation or value, also to go away vanquished, and haue the worse part.

Non cedit gratia alicuius rei, It is no lesse pleasant.

Cedere ponderi, or oneri, to be unable to beare of sustayne the weight of burdne.

Operi cedit, for munus vel officium suum decredit, he refuseth to doo his dutie.

Cedere spacijs, to geue one place to sit or go by.

Cedere foro, to place hande rups.

Lux candida cessit nubibus, The sayre days was ouerclouded with cloudes.

Male cessit res, the matter had an ill ende.

Vini ceder annis, The wyne will not continue.

Nihil omnino Græcis cedidit, we geue no place, or we be nothing inferiour to the grekes.

Cedere honore, et nomine suo alteri, to geue up and resigne his come & dignitie to another.

Cedere legibus, to obey the lawes.

Cedentes capilli, heares that fall away from the head.

Cedo, a verbe defectiue, used only in the imperative mode, and significeth geue, late, or tell, and in the plural, Cedite.

Cedo manum, geue me thy hande.

Quin mihi argentum cedo, but geue thou me the money.

Cedo quid factum sit, tell what is doone.

Cedo quemuis arbitrum, appoynt what auerbyer thou wilt: or I will abide any mannes arbitrarie.

Cedo aquam manibus, Geue me water to wash my hands.

Cedras, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus libri, booke that hath many perils.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

Cedraus, a, um, a kinde of wine.

spme taken for an vjenge, as Athenus and Dioscorides doo write.

Cedropolis, a towne in Caria.

Cedros, an plante in the coles of Germanie. Cedrositis, is f.g. a white vyne called also A m peloleuce, of apothekerkes, Bryonia, commonly Vincella. It groweth in hedges.

Cedrus, dri, f. g. a tree, hauing leaues like a luypper, beaues like myrtle, but they be pellowe, sweete of saueur, and pleasant to eate, they beare all spmes of the yeeve newe sentis and olbe, as the oijenges dooe, and the leaues neuer faileth. The tree sweateth out of hym a luyour like vnto rosen, meruailous obdysseous. In the lands of egyptes there hath been sent of theim growyng, which were in length 130. fete, and in compasse fife fathome. It like greatnesse of greater are in Syria. The woode thereof neuer roteth, nor woymes may buse thein. wherfore it is muche praised in buyldyng.

Carmina cedro linenda, beres woithy neuer to perishe. Cedro digna, thynges woithy perpetuall memory.

Celadon, one of theim that was slayne at the marriage of Perseus and Andromede.

Celadusa, a lytell yle in the sea Adriaticum.

Celano, one of the Harpies.

Celatum, piously, secretly.

Celatus, a, um, hys, kept close.

Celebratio, onis, f. g. solemnisation. Sometime an assemblee of company of men.

Celebratus, a, um, muche spoken of or haunted, renowned.

Celebreto, I am in great fame, or renowned.

Celebris, bre, and Celeber, bris, bre, famous, also wythe, honourable, muche haunted, muche spoken of, renowned.

Celebris locus, a place muche haunted and greatly spoken of. Celeberrimus conuentus, a verie solemn and great assemblee of meeting of men.

Via celebris, a waye muche haunted and vbled.

Dies celeberrimus, a daye, wheron meruitous great honour and gloire hath chaunced vnto any man.

Celebris rumor, a byute, or rumour reported of many men.

Celeberrimus arte, or in arte grammatica, an excedyng good grammatitian, and greatly esteemed and spoked of.

Celebritas, aris, f. g. renowne. Also a great assemblee, great haumtyng, or resorte to a place.

Celebritas et solitudo, contrary.

Celebritate odi, I hate the greates resorte and company of men.

Hic locus maximam celebratam habet, This place is greatly frequented.

Celebratam addere ludis, to make playes more haunted or resorted to.

Celebrare fama, great renowne.

Celebriter, honourably.

Celebro, au, are, to celebrate or bynge in renowne, to make good reposte, also to haunte, to honour or worship.

Celebrare nuptias, to make a feaste at a marriage. Celebrare epulas, to make banquettes.

Celebrare conuiuium, to make a greates feaste or banquet.

Celebrare exequias, & funera, to byng one solemnely to buryng.

Celebrare ludos, to make playes with greates assemblee of people.

Celebrare suum natalem, to make a greates feaste at the daye of his bythe.

Celebrare cunctis hominum, to assemble a great numbre of people.

Celebrare syluas, to resort much to the wooddes, or to bee muche in the wooddes. Lphawisse Celebrare templa, domum, locum.

Celebrare ferias, to hope help date.

Celebrare et ornare.

Carminibus celebrari, to be greatly commended or praised in verses.

Celebrare laudibus, to sette foorth a mans name with great praises.

Ea sunt & latinis & grecis literis celebrata, Those thynges were described and set foorth honourably bothe in greke and latine.

Celebrata res omnium sermone, a matter knownen, that euerie man speaketh of it, or that is in euerie mans mouthe.

Sey et reipublica celebrare, They gaue laude and renoume both to thein selfe, and to the common weale.

Studium agricultura celebrare, They commended and practised the vse of husbandry.

Celcia, a town of Rois, called also Cimbria Celcia.

Celena, a, a place in Aspayn dedicate to Iuno.

Celeng, aru, sometime the chiefe cite of Ethiopia.

Celendris, a towne in Cilicia.

Celer, leris, lere, swifte, quicke.

Celeris copia. Date diu quales conueniant milis eius celerem copiam, I shal graunt thet I may beate thoytly mete with hym.

Celeratim, celeranter, and celeriter, hastily, quickly, thoytly, swifte, etc. it be long.

Celeres, old wyters vble for Equites, hostiles.

Celeritas, aris, f. g. also celeritudo, quicquid, swiftnesse. Celeritas et festinatio.

Breuitas et celeritas syllebatum, the brynnesse and swiftnesse of syllebles.

Expedita et profluens celeritas verborum, a prompt and flowing rebynesse of woordes.

Celeritas et discidium, a celer and quicke capacite to lede thynge.

Celeripes, swifte of foot.

Celero, au, are, to doo thyng thoytly, to haue.

Celerans iter ad naues, makinge had to the naues the swifte, or to take the swifte.

Celer

Celerare gradum, to go apace, to make swifte. Opem celerare, to make swifte, to heipe of succour.

Celer, a mans name.

Celerini, people in the hygher Spayne.

Celes, itis, looks Celox.

Celestes, hostes that eene for wagers.

Celerizantes pueri, litell boyes that ryde on such horses.

Celeus, two syllables, a mans name.

Celeusma, or Celeuma, atis, n. g. the thowte or erpe that Appien or boremen doo make, wha the mayster dooeth whyle of call, to encourage them.

Celeustes, ar, m. g. he that collect on the martners to encourage them in such wyse.

Cella, e, f. g. a cellar, wherin any thyng is kept. Also where we be piously washed. Also a pious place in the temple, a chancell. Sometime a secrete chaumbye. Virgille calleth the holes of an hony combe Cellas.

Cella penuria, a garner or storhouse.

Cella olcra, a cellar for oyle.

Cella vinaria, a wyne cellar.

Cella promptuaria, Plantus vble for a pison. In cellis stratos lectos videres, You mighte see the beddes made ready in the chaumbyes.

Cellaria, e, f. g. Idem quod cella. Also a woman butler, or she that hath the keepyng of the cellar.

Cellaris, re, the adiectiue of Cella.

Columbi cellares, dooues that byde in holes.

Cellarium, rii, n. g. a storhouse.

Cellarius, rii, m. g. he that hath the charge of a cellar or storhouse.

Cello, lis, of olde wyters was vble for Cedo.

Cellula, e, a diminutiue of Cella.

Cellula columbarum, culuer holes.

Celmus, a man that nourished by Iuppter, whom he turned afterwarde into a diamond, because he assermed hym to bee most tall.

Celo, au, are, to hyde, to concele, to kepe close or secrete.

Celare aliquem de re aliqua.

Babus noster me celauit de hoc libro, Our frende Babus told me nothyng of this boke.

Celare & occultare.

Celare quia scribat existimo, I thynke he keepeth secrete such thynges as he writeth, or will not let them bee known.

Vxorem ipsam hanc rem vices face, Doe that thou kepe this thyng secrete euen frome thy wyfe.

Celare aliquid alicui.

Id Alcibiadi celari dicitur non potuit, That thyng coude not be hyd or concealed from Alcibiades any longer.

Celare se tenebris, to hyde hym selfe in the darke.

Diem celare dicitur sol cum occidit.

Cui diem promere opponitur.

Ingenium celare, to hyde or dissimble ones disposition or nature.

Celor, the passie.

Vbi vbi est diu celatum non potest, whete so euer the be, the can not be longe unknown.

Celox, ocis, f. g. a litell swifte thyppe, called a Hyganine of darcke.

Celenses, people of Spayne.

Celius, a noble Romayne, whiche wyte of phisike and husbandry, in most eloquent latine.

Celcus, a, um, hygh, lofty, vpryght.

Stans cellus et erectus, a standyng bolt vpryght, or a trestyght vpryght standyng.

Celta, Frenchemen.

Celtica, a citee in Spayne in the countreis of Hispania.

Celiberi, people of that part of Spayne, whiche is called Biscaye.

Celiberia, Biscaye.

Celiberius, and Celibericus, ca, cum, of Biscaye.

Celtica, the countreis of Lyons in France.

Celtici, people of Spayne whiche toke their begynnyng of the Frenchemen called Celta.

Celricum, a promontorie of Spayne.

Celtis, a bynde of sweete trees growyng in Asfeste, called also Loros.

Celtogallia, is that parte of France, whiche contyneth Aquitaine, Lyons, Belgica, and Narbone, wherof the frenche byng hath all partes whole. Belgica, for the more parte is in the handes of the emperour that nowe is.

Charles the fifth. Rebe of euerpthe of theim in theyr letters.

Celydrus, or rather Cylindros, a womannes apparayle.

Cemellod, a towne in Liguria.

Cemeneleux, a citee in the Alpes.

Cenchrea, a towne of Peloponnesus by Corinth.

Cenchris, chris, a womene like an adder.

Cenchris, idis, f. g. a bynde like an haue, whiche maketh a great towne when he celereth. It is also the name of a towne of a countrey of Grece.

Cenchrites, re, m. g. a pectious stone, whiche hath in it thynges like myll seede.

Cenchris, a river in Thracia, by the wood Myrgia, where the poetes seigne, that Larona was washed of his nauie Myrgia, after he had traungled with cybide.

Cenchrum, a bynde of dyamondes, no byggee than a mill seede.

Ceneia, called also Atalanta, the daughter of Ceneus.

Ceneum, a promontory in Euboea, where there is a temple erected an altar to Iupiter.

Ceneus, looks Ceneus.

Cenina, a citie of Italye nere to Rome.
Cenites, his name that builded Cenina.
Cenodoxia, vayne glorie.
Cenomani, people of Lumbardie, also a people in Fraunce of a countreie called Mayne.
Cenotaphium, plur. n. g. a monument of them, whiche are dead, wherein the bodie is not, as an herse set vp at the monethes of peres end.
Census, sui. ere, to suppose, to shewe ones opinion of sentence, to thinke good, to determine, to be discontent, to numbze people, to the intent to take them, whiche be apt for the warres: Or to lause a tashe of subsidie, to speake of telle.
Ne vobis censeam, had me referetis, Leste I woulde be angry, if ye tolde me.
Quid grauear censas? Telle me, what is that, that greuethe the?
Censeo, ut hoc facias, I wlll, I determine, to I thinke good that ye doo this.
Senatus dicitur censere, Populus iubeat.
Censor, sus sum, eri, a deponent, to pproffesse of enrole in the censours tables.
Censeri, to be numbyed and inrolled of the Censours, or to be taxed or cessed.
Censeri, to bee had in estimation, or to be set by, also to be meruall at.
Quod ex his studiis, hac quoq; censetur oratio, Because that by these studies, the same kynde of oracion also, is esteemed and hadde in pryce.
Si censenda nobis atq; estimanda res est, If we must iudge and weighe the matter.
Censio, onis, f. g. a chastisement, or a correction doon by the Censor, a pryce, aduice, or opinion.
Censio habitura, a punishment, whan soultours, for some trespassse were inioyned to deliuer speares to other.
Censior, onis, ab antiquo Censio: idem quod Censor.
Censor, oris, m. g. a iudge of mens manners as to suche one as was appointed to value mens gooddes.
Censorius, a, um, pertaining to theim, whiche had ouersight of the manners of the people, whiche were called Censores.
Censorius vir, he that hath bene a Censour, or to worthe for his grauntie to iudge and correcte other mens manners.
Censoria uirgula, is taken for the authoritie of the censours.
Censoria animaduersion, was a punishment of theim, whiche were of ill manners.
Censoria nota, the rebuke or cheeke of the matter of manners.
Censualis, he that dooeth accompanye or assiste the iudges of manners, called Censores.
Censualis, le, of or pertaining to the Censours.
Censualis lex, a law made for numbyng and setting of people.

Censura, x, f. g. the authoritie of iudgement of a censour, also correction of manners, laws or decrees, concerning manners, a reformation.
Censuram uini facere, to taste wyne, to assay whether it be good or badde.
Census, us, m. g. perely reuenues, gooddes of substance, also valuation of gooddes: Also a subsidie, and the numbyng of the people.
Census equestris, was the estimation of value of theim, whiche were in the order of gentylmen, called Ordo equestris, whiche rate was. 4. 00. Sestertia: And that summe amoued (after the rate of our monese, at this day, to. 2655. li. 6. s. 8. d. whereby it appereth, how ryche Rome was at that tyme, sens that was the general estimation of ones order of state.
Census senatorius, was the estimation of theim, whiche were Senators: And was double the rate of Equestris. And in Augustus tyme, it was treble so much: whiche amounted of our money now current, to. 7906. li. not withstanding, that there were aboute vi. l. Senators.
Censum, agere, and habere, to cense or take mens gooddes, accordyng to which valuation they must paye tribute.
Censu liberari, to be deliuered from the taxing of his gooddes.
Census, fortunæ, facultates, idem.
Census exiguus, tenuis, breuis, small subsidie.
Nec census nobilitate maior, he was as noble as ryche.
Ex censu tributa conferre, to paye tribute of tax, accordyng to the valuation, or accordyng to his substance.
Census, a, um, valued or taxed. Sometyme a mē of that valu that ought by the lawe to be taxed.
Capite censi, taxed by the polle, or they that paye head spiler.
Census, a, um, the abstractue of Census.
Censui agri, fieldes, whiche made by the lawe bee bought and solde.
Centauius, & Cetauricus, a, u, of the Centaures.
Centauri, a people in the countreie of Thessaly, whom the poetes feigned to bee the one halfe lyke a man, the other half lyke an horse. There be also certayn great wyppes so called.
Centauria, and Centaurium, an herbe, wherof there be two kyndes. The great, whiche apothecaries dooe calle Renponicum. And the lesse, whiche is called Centopie: Also Fel terra, and febrifugia.
Centaurium, a medicine inuented by Chiron, the Centaure.
Centaurus, ri, a reuer first called Euryus.
Centenarius, a, um, of an hundred peres of age, or of an hundred ponde weight.
Centenaria cœna, were suppers, or whiche by a lawe called Licinia, was bestowed but an hundred of the byason coppe called Asse.
Cens

Centenus, a, um, an hundredeth.
Centesimus, a, um, the hundredeth: as,
Centesima pars, the hundredeth parte.
Centesimæ viarum, were gages of the hundredeth, one peny for every moneth tene.
Centiceps, cipitis, that hath an hundredeth heades.
Centies, an hundredeth tyme.
Centifolia, x, f. g. a kynde of roses growng in Italye.
Centigranum, a kynde of wheate, whiche had in every eare an hundredeth corne.
Centimanus, i, mas. ge. that hath an hundredeth handes.
Centinodia, x, f. g. an herbe, whiche hath many knottes, called of the grekes Polygonon: by the figure and description of Fuchsius, it shoulde seme to be knotte grasse.
Centinum, a towne of Umbria in Italye.
Centipeda, x, f. g. a wyne called a palmer, whiche is heere, and hath many feete.
Centipeda, or des, called also Scolopendra, a kynde of scythes.
Centipello, onis, parte of the intrayles of an harte.
Cento, onis, m. g. a faction of rough, thych and heartie couerpyges, which verpe poore people by, and wherewith tentes, and all other thynges necessary for soultours, are couered, whiche rateneth. Also a vile garmente, that men of the countreie weare: and all kynde of thynges made of dyuers pieces of clothe, and of sundry colours. It is taken of som for a quile, a sacke, or other lyke thyng, stuffed with linen, flosse, or cotton.
Cento, is also a wyke compyled of dyuers fragments of verses, spoken here and there out of anthours: as Virgiliocentones.
Centones farcire aliquid, a prouerbe, signifying to holde one in talke, with many glorious tales and lyes.
Centralis, le, that whiche is sette in the verge myddes of a thyng.
Centrines, a kynde of gnattes that syngeth.
Centrones, moste Sines going into Libardye.
Centrosus, a, um, full of knottes or knurres.
Centrum, tri, n. g. the poynnt that is in the very myddes of a thyng: The centre. also an hard knotte or knurre in symble, that marreth the woymans toole.
Centum, an abstractue of the pluralle numbye, and vndeclined, an hundredeth. It is sometyme used infinitely for exceeding many.
Centum capita, Centum capium, Centum capibus, n. g. plu. num. a kynde of thistle, with many heades, called also Eryng, and Eryngium. The roote and stalk is used to be eaten of some bothe sodden and rawe.
Centum geminus, an hundredeth folde.
Centum peranca insula, a little towne in Italye.

Centum pondum, an hundredeth weyghe. Sometyme indefinitely, an exceeding great weighe.
Centumvialis, le, pertaining to the hundredeth and. v. iudges.
Centumviri, ceu Centumvirorum, n. ge. plu. an hundredeth and. v. iudges, where as the people of Rome were diuided into. xxxv. tribes, of every tribe were. iii. men chosen to be iudges in common matters: whiche compaigne was called Centumviratus, And they were called Centumviri, although there were fyue mo than an hundredeth in that compaign. And they iudgements was named Centumvirale iudicium, and Centumvialis hasta, for as much as those iudges, whyles they sat in iudgemente, had a speare pched vp before them.
Centunculus, or centunculum, a certayn herbe whiche hath softe leaues lyke flosse.
Centunculus, a diuturnitie of Cento, A vile garmente.
Centuplex, plicis, an hundredeth folde, an hundredeth double.
Centuplicato, an aduerbe, an hundredeth tymes so muche.
Centuria, x, f. g. a part of an holte, conteynyng an hundredeth men: But of ground in the felld, it conteyneth two hundredeth acres.
Centuriatim, by an hundredeth together, hundredeth by hundredeth. Also plentifully, or in a greate numbye.
Centuriatus, a, um, appoynted or registered in the numbye of the hundredeth.
Centuriata comitia, were generall congregacions of people to traate of common affaires: whiche assemble was not gathered by diuision of parishes or wardes, but by the rate of theyr substance, or by theyr age.
Centuriarum leges, lawes, whiche were enacted by the people assembled after the rate of theyr substance or age.
Centuriatus, us, m. g. the office and estate of a Centurion.
Centurio, onis, m. g. a capytayne ouer an hundredeth footemen, a Centurion.
Centurio, aut are, to diuide men into a compaign, conteynyng an hundredeth persones: or diuides into two hundredeth acres of lande.
Centurionatus, us, idem quod Centuriatus.
Centuripe, or Centuripe, Sicilia.
Centuripini, people of Sicilia.
Centusis, a rate of Roman money, which was of ten of theyr grotes, called Denarii, hundredeth in the rate of our money at this tyme, to. v. s. vi. d. ob. halfe farthyng and half an halfe farthyng.
Cepa, x, f. g. et Cepe. neu. ge. indeclinabile, an onion.
Cepas edere, to eate onions, was a prouerbe spoken of them, whiche bydde seme to weep, or that to weep often.

Cepa, x, f. g. an hebe.
 Cepetum, a place where onions growe.
 Cepew, a, um, lyke an onyon, or of an onyon.
 Cephalatomi, people of Colchis.
 Cephal, or Cephalis, signifieth the head.
 Cephalax, x, f. g. a greuous or longe contynue yng pynne in the head, susteyning much greue of euery sight cause, neyther abyding nyste nor light, nor sweete sauiours. The patiente feeleth as if his heade were broken in peeces with hammeres. It hapneth somtyme of cold, somtyme of heate.
 Cephalenia, an yle beyond Assyria, in the midsdell sea, whiche is also called Elysses yle, commonly Cephalonia.
 Cephalocruites, a woyme, whiche is in the lea-ues of a peache tree.
 Cephaloedis, a ryuer of Scythia.
 Cephalus, the son of Colus, and the deaplyng of Europa. Also an outour of Athens. Ce-phalus, is also a fowle, whiche beyng asrayd, lyeth onely his head, and thynketh that thū
 all his body is hrd.
 Cephenes, mas. g. vnproffitable bees, whiche make no honny, but doo onely with the multitude of them, keepe warme the pong bees. It was so nympe the name of Perseus, as Herodotus wytteth.
 Cepheus, two syllables, the name of a kyng of Ethiopie, the soune of Phoenix, and father of Andromeda.
 Cephalia, a fountayne in the region Attica.
 Cephalis, a lake nere to the sea Eghianticum.
 Cephalodorus, a tragicall poete of Athens.
 Cephalus, a ryuer of Scythia, where the temple of Thymis stonde, to whiche Deucalion and Pyrrha came to consulte howe to restore mankynde.
 Cephus, a heade of Ethiopie, whiche hath the foxlegges and fete lyke to a mans armes and handes: and the hynder lyke mens legges and feete.
 Cepidines, stones lyng out aboue other.
 Cepina, x, f. g. an herbe called clues. It is also a place, where onyons be sette, or a greate multitude of onyons sowne or set together.
 Cepio, the consull of Rome, by whose rashnesse
 the temple Tolosane was robbed and spoy-led, wherof infused so great miserye to hym & his childreis, that ther by rose this prouerb,
 * Anrum Tolosanum habet, loke Aurum.
 Cepionides, x, a precious stone cleere lyke crystall, and representeth in it figures lyke glasse.
 Cepites, a precious stone, haung many whyte breake.
 Cepæ, a towne of Bosphorus.
 Ceporus, a gaedynar.
 Cepos, a gaedynar.
 Cepula, a chyboll.
 Cepurica, herbes that growe in gaedyns.

Cera, x, f. g. waxe. somtyme ymages made in waxe, as it were with byaunces, to declare the genealogie of noble men, lyke to that whiche in churches is called Radix Iesse.
 Ceras amalthas, idem quod copix cornu.
 * Cerix cera dignus, A prouerbe nympe a vile felow, nothyng to be esteemed. Ioh. Era. Ch.
 Cerabaroa, a countreite late found by the Spangardes, in the west ocean, where all the men go naked, and haue theyr bodges peincted with dyuers figures, wearyng onely garlandes made of sundry flowers, myxte with the clees of lyons and egges. In that countreite hath been founde plenty of golde.
 Ceracates, a precious stone of the coloz of waxe Cera, wytyng tables, couered with waxe, and is vsed for booke, letters, or instrumentes in wytyng.
 Ceramicus, a place in Athens, where men beyng slayne in battayle, were buried. Also an other place, where common women dwelled:
 and a goulfe in the sea not farre frome Ma-lliarnassus.
 Ceramion, the same measure that Amphoja is.
 Ceramites, a precious stone.
 Ceramium, a place in Rome, where Cicero and Cato had houses.
 Cerarius, n, m. g. he that maketh any thyng of waxe, & waxe chandler.
 Cerasta, certayne ples by Ethiopie.
 Cerastes, x, or Cerastis, is, m. g. a serpent whiche hath hoynes lyke a ramme, the body very lytell, wherby he disceructh men bydyng hym selfe in the grasse.
 Cerastis, the yle of Eppes.
 Cerasum, f, or Cerasum, fii, n. g. a chery.
 Cerasus, f, f. g. a chery tree.
 Cerasus, unis, a towne of Cappadocia, called commonly Zephano.
 Cerates, a small weight of poppe, whiche is the fourth part of a scruple, the 4. S. part of an vnce.
 Ceratia, an herbe, which hath but one leafe, and a great roote full of knottes.
 Ceratia stella, a blasfing sterre, lyke an hoyme.
 Ceratina, aram, intricate argumentes, whiche can not be resolued.
 Ceratiris, a certayn herbe.
 Ceratilis, the fruite, which is called Siliqua, loke
 there for the description: by the weight therof all the auncient phisicians made all their posses, whiche tryers of golde dooe nowe calle a caracte. wherof Dragma conteyned. ʒi. iiii.
 as Leonardus Portius wytteth.
 Ceratum, siue Cerotum, a plaster made with waxe, roseyne, or gisme. It is called in greke Dropax, a seared clothe.
 Ceratūra, bydyng of a thyng with wax, seynge
 Ceratus, a, um, seared, or couered with waxe.
 Ceratus, a citee in Landie.
 Ceraunia, a precious stone whyle of colour, also a hynde of pulle, Ceraua

Ceraunij, and Ceraunia, hylls in Eppie, by the citee Amphipolis. also hylls in Armenia aboute Andocia.
 Ceraunium, a hynde of puffes that growe oute of the earth.
 Ceraunobolos, the table of Apelles, wherin he peincted the thunder.
 Ceraunus, the surname of one of the Ptolemres, also a ryuer of Cappadocia.
 Cerbalus, a ryuer of Apulia.
 Cerberus, a, um, of Cerberus.
 Cerberus, a dogge with thye heades, which (as the poetes feigne) was porter of hell, whome Hercules dyete out of hell.
 Cercaphus, a mans name.
 Cercasorum, a towne in Eppie.
 Cercis, the name of a nymphe, daughter of Deceanus and Cethys.
 Cercetæ, people of the lesse Asia, called of Pto-mous Cercetici.
 Cerceti, hylls of Thessaly.
 Cercina, an yle in the myddell sea, and a citee of the same name.
 Cercinitis, a veratellittle yle by Carthage.
 Cercion, a kyng of Thessaly.
 Cercius, idem quod circius.
 Cercopa, a greedy felowe.
 Cercopo, a littell grassehop.
 Cercopent, a certayne people.
 Cercopithecus, ci, m. g. an ape with a taile, called a marmoset. It may be also take for a munkat Cercos, or circos, a hynde of haukes, that hal-teth on the one legge.
 Cercurus, a certayne sort of very great shyppes.
 Cercion, one of Arcadie, of exceeding strength, and a notable robber, slayne of Theseus.
 Cerdo, onis, m. g. a cobler. somtyme generally all that vse any vile handy craft to geat monete by.
 Cerdon, onis, an heretike, whiche affirmed, that Christ was neuer boyme of a woman, and that he had no fleshe, nor suffered any passion, but that he feigned to suffer. Also he taught, that the god, whiche was declared by the law and prophetes to be god: was not the father of our sauour Christ, so he was knowne, the other was unknowne. The one was iuste, the other was good. Also he saide, that the olde testament was naughtie, that some creatures are ill of theim selfe, and that they were not made by that god, that was the chiefe goodnesse, but of an other, the begynnyng of all ill, whom he named the pyntepall mischefe. He was about the yere of our lord. 144. whose heresie be all condemned by the generall consent of all christendome.
 Cerdonia, a citee of Italy.
 Cerealis, a towne in Spayne.
 Cerealis, lo, perteynyng to Ceres the goddesse.
 Arma cerealia, instrumentes to graue coine,

and bake breade.
 Cereales ludii, playes in the honoure of Ceres.
 Cerealia, orum, n. g. solenne feastes and sacrifices, dedicated to Ceres by Crispiolemus.
 Cerebellum, a distillation of cerebrium.
 Cerebrius, a, um, byanische, or wyld byained, trustyng onely to his owne will.
 Cerebrius bos, an oxe disposed to be madde
 Cerebrum, bri, n. g. the byayne.
 Putidum cerebrum, is vsed for a mad felow.
 Ceres, ceris, the daughter of Saturnus, and opis, called also Iste, was wyfe of Iouis kyng of Eppie, who as the Grekes suppose, dyd bysse inuent the sowynge of wheate and barley, whiche before dyd grow wyld among other herbes. Also that he dyd bysse make lawes, wherby iustice shoulde be equally minyshed to all men, violence and wyonge beyng by feare taken away. Herodotus wytteth, that the Eppians affirme Ceres and Diachus, to beare the chiefe rule in hell.
 * Cerei nuptias facere, vsed prouerbielly,
 to make a bancker, wherin is no wyne.
 Larga Ceres, great plenty of coine.
 Cereolus, a lyze candell.
 Ceretani, and Cerritani, a people in Spayne.
 Cereus, substantiuum, a taper, or other lyke can-dell of waxe.
 Cereus, a, um, of waxe, softe, fatty, or eptie.
 It is somtyme taken for dyntie of delicate.
 Also vnconstant, waueryng, and chaungyng
 the mynd with euery light tale, or persuation, pynted lyke waxe.
 Cerea candela, a waxe candell, or taper.
 Regna cerea, Virgilius habet, pro Alucolis, et cellulis apii. Cereia pruna, wheat plummes.
 Cereinte, es, f. g. an herbe haung the taile of waxe and honny together, an honny suckle.
 Cermithus, thi, an herbe lyke a lily. also a towne of Euboea. And after Salepin, it is the meate of bees, which is found in honny combs, separate fro the honny, in salt bitter, & is also most Cerinum, a garment of the colour of waxe.
 Cerinus, a, um, lyke to waxe.
 Color cerinus, the waxe colour.
 Cerion, fowles and pyntepall.
 Cerites, a people, whiche the Romaynes vainequished, and dyedged that they shoulde make no lawes among them.
 Ceritus, ti, m. g. a madde or frantike person.
 Cerium, n. g. a foyle lyke an honnycombe.
 Cernorum, a towne of Macedonia.
 Cerna, or Cerne, an yle in the sea of Ethiopie.
 Cernetani, a people of Italy called also Mariani.
 Cerno, creu, ere, to see, to percerue, to knowe, to seuer or separate, to lye, to rise by bent of swerde. Also to consider. somtyme to subge determine somtyme to rise opt. Also to lyse or raunge flower of coine. Wherwith to beuylle together, or take one with another.
 R. iiii. Veres

C ANTE E.

Verecūdarī neminem apud mensam decet, nam ibi de diuinis atq; humanis cernitur, pro man oughte to be abashed at the table: for there men dooe deuple and talke of matters concerning as well god as man.

Cernere fallam hereditatem alienæ gloriæ, to geat piasse to hym selfe of another man's nes aces.

Cernere hereditatem, to entre into lande fallen by inheritance.

Cerno animo, I dooe foiesce or consider bes foie. Cernere et videre.

Cernere et intelligere.

Acute cernere, to haue a quicke sight.

Cernitur magnus animus duabus rebus, A noble herte, or a valpant courage is knowne or discerned by two thynges.

Cernere est, a man mase see.

Quodcumq; Senatus creuit, what so eue the senate determine of iudge.

Iam cernam me ne, an illum. &c. Nowe I will see: or, nowe I will pouse or try. &c.

Pro patria cernit cum hostibus, he fpygheth with his ennemites in his countreys quarrell, or in the defence of his countreie.

Cernere ferro, to trye by dent of swerde.

Cernere vitam, to fpyght for lyfe and deathe. Ferro, non auro, vitam cernamus vtriq; let vs bothe trye for our lyfe, not with golde, but with the swerde.

Cernulus, he that is busy to fynde faulte in an other man.

Cernuus, a certayne shoe.

Cernuus, a, um, stouppng or lohng downward bendng and inclngng to the grounde.

Cernuus equus, an hoise that stumblith or fallith on his nose.

Cero, aui, are, to dyesse or couer a thyng with waxe.

Ceroterarij, they whiche dooe beare candels in the church before the crosse in pprocession, or that doo any lyke seruice in the church.

Ceroterarium, a candell styck, wherupon tapers be sette.

Ceroma, aui, n. g. an oyle, wherewith wylsters were annointed, made of a certayn clare. Some tyme the place where wylsters wer anointed.

Cerostorum, a hynde of peincpng, whan many pteces of hoine or puoile, ar pepneted with diuers coloure, and stytt set together vpon it: ell chesies or playing tables. After some it is an ymage of waxe.

Cerosus, a, um, that whych is myxt with waxe.

Ceroum, looke ceratum.

Cereus, a, um, and Cerrinus, of the tree called Cereus.

Cerrus, ri, f. g. a great tree, lyke to a poplar, ha-ving a streight long stem. It beareth a hynd of masse, tounge without lyke a chestyn, not apt to be eaten but of swine, and yet not very good for them. There hangeth on the bowes long pendants lyke by rustet molle, swete in sauour. The tymbre therof is not meete for byrdpnyng.

C ANTE E.

Certamen, inis, n. g. a conflicte or bycherpnyng, a contention of variance, a game of exercise, where one embouoereth to excell an other. Some tyme bysnyesse or tumulte.

Certamina sacra, were certayn great games in Grece, where men contended in feates of witte, strength, and agillitee. Of them were foure, Nemæa, Pythia, Isthmia, et Olympia.

The pyce of Olympia, was a garlande of wyldc olyue: At Isthmus, a garland of pine appull: in Remea of persely: in Isthmia, of appuls growng by the temple of Apollo.

Atruuus remembryeth, that the ancient grekes ordeined, that the people there assembled, standng with palme in their handes, shoulde fpyng their piasse, which had victorie at these games.

And also whan they retourned home to their houses, the citee of towne, where they dwelled, shoulde receiue them with muche honour, rydyng in chariottes, and duryng these tyues, shulde haue pensions out of the comune treasure.

Certamen vini, quaffpnyng.

Certamina diuinarum, labours and teauya-les in heappng by rpechasse.

In certamen venire cum aliquo, to falle at controuersy with a man.

Adducere in certamen rem aliquam, to byngge a matter in controuersie.

Consulatu deuenimus in medium rerum or mium certamen & discrimen, In the tyne of our consulsip, we came into the very mids-ell of busy rustlyng and daungerous trouble of all maner of matters.

Certamen nauale, a battayle on the sea.

Celebrare certamen, to make comon games or playes.

Certatim, in contendng and strypng one with another, who shall doo moiste or beste.

Certatim ascendunt, they stryue who shall go by fpyt.

Certatim ad opus currunt, They spede them hastily to woike, strypng who may go fpyt.

Certatio, onis, f. g. debate, stryfe, stryde, puous-cation, contention.

Certatus, us, idem quod certamen.

Certe, truly, verily, assuredly, yea verily, without doubte.

Certe captus est, playnly, or without doubte, he is taken in the snare: or he is in for a byrd.

Certe, for saltem, or vtruncq; as, Molistus certe ei fuero, At the least wate I shall befe hym somewhat.

Certe, for Tamen, as, Etsi suator non fueras, approbator certe fuisti, Although he counsaied me not to it, yet truly ye allowed it, it. Certe enim scio, yea playnly I knowe it. Certe hercle, in good sooth.

Enim, & depol, hercle, quidem et pol, cum sequuntur certe, sunt ornatius particule.

Certe coniunctum cum et, affirmat: as, Et certe is est.

Certioror, aris, ari, to be certiffed.

Certifico, aui, are, to be certiffed or sure.

Certitudo, dinis, certapnes, surtise.

Certo, idem quod Certe.

erto, aui, are, to stryue, to contend, to sue one Can other, to endeavour, to study earnestly.

Certare damnis, to go aboute to dystroye one an other.

Certare pignore, to laye in a pauze in con-tention, to stryue for a wage.

Benedictis si certasset, audisset bene. If he had vsed fayne language, he shoulde haue herd none other but good, or I would haue answerd hym agayne with fayne woordes.

Certare officiis inter se, In dooing frendly pleasures to endeavour who shall passe other.

Officio te certasse priorem, non pœnitent, Let it not repent you, that you haue fpyt the-wed pleasures, or dooen the fpyt good tourne.

In omne facinus certare, to renne headlonge into all mischiese, to be bent and geuen to all myschiese.

Quid si certet Phœbum superaret? what if he would endeavour to excelle or passe Apollo?

Certare secum, to endeavour to passe ones self

Certatur, the impersonall.

Certus, a, um, certayne, sure, without doubte. Some tyme it significeth truly, faithfull, vn-feyned, appoynted, or determined, stronge, hardy, stedy.

Certa opes, rpechasse that is permanent.

Certi homines, sure men and faithfull.

Certi, some, certayne other.

Certiorum facere, to aduertise, to leat one to wpt or vnderstande, to signifie to one, to geue knowlage.

Certo certius, as sure as mate bee.

Certum habere, to knowe surely.

Ex hoc ut sim certus metui, that I may feare this matter no moie.

Amor certus, vnfeigned loue.

Certis diebus aliquid facere, to doo a thyngs on certayne daies appoynted.

Ante certam diem, before a daie appoynted.

Quædam non certa fidei videbantur, some thynges forced vnwothy to be beleued.

Certo facere, certa lege, on a certayne con-dition, after a certayn facton.

Certa manus vno telo metam feriet, a sure, and stedy hande, will herte the marke as the fpyt cast with a sauelyn.

Nebulo certior nullus, There is no verrey knaue. Horum profecto certa oratio est, Al-erply these mens woyses be true.

C ANTE E.

st. Certe enim scio, yea playnly I knowe it. Certe hercle, in good sooth.

Enim, & depol, hercle, quidem et pol, cum sequuntur certe, sunt ornatius particule.

Certe coniunctum cum et, affirmat: as, Et certe is est.

Certioror, aris, ari, to be certiffed.

Certifico, aui, are, to be certiffed or sure.

Certitudo, dinis, certapnes, surtise.

Certo, idem quod Certe.

erto, aui, are, to stryue, to contend, to sue one Can other, to endeavour, to study earnestly.

Certare damnis, to go aboute to dystroye one an other.

Certare pignore, to laye in a pauze in con-tention, to stryue for a wage.

Benedictis si certasset, audisset bene. If he had vsed fayne language, he shoulde haue herd none other but good, or I would haue answerd hym agayne with fayne woordes.

Certare officiis inter se, In dooing frendly pleasures to endeavour who shall passe other.

Officio te certasse priorem, non pœnitent, Let it not repent you, that you haue fpyt the-wed pleasures, or dooen the fpyt good tourne.

In omne facinus certare, to renne headlonge into all mischiese, to be bent and geuen to all myschiese.

Quid si certet Phœbum superaret? what if he would endeavour to excelle or passe Apollo?

Certare secum, to endeavour to passe ones self

Certatur, the impersonall.

Certus, a, um, certayne, sure, without doubte. Some tyme it significeth truly, faithfull, vn-feyned, appoynted, or determined, stronge, hardy, stedy.

Certa opes, rpechasse that is permanent.

Certi homines, sure men and faithfull.

Certi, some, certayne other.

Certiorum facere, to aduertise, to leat one to wpt or vnderstande, to signifie to one, to geue knowlage.

Certo certius, as sure as mate bee.

Certum habere, to knowe surely.

Ex hoc ut sim certus metui, that I may feare this matter no moie.

Amor certus, vnfeigned loue.

Certis diebus aliquid facere, to doo a thyngs on certayne daies appoynted.

Ante certam diem, before a daie appoynted.

Quædam non certa fidei videbantur, some thynges forced vnwothy to be beleued.

Certo facere, certa lege, on a certayne con-dition, after a certayn facton.

Certa manus vno telo metam feriet, a sure, and stedy hande, will herte the marke as the fpyt cast with a sauelyn.

Nebulo certior nullus, There is no verrey knaue. Horum profecto certa oratio est, Al-erply these mens woyses be true.

Certi liberi, legitimates chyliderns, begotten in wedlocke.

Signa certa, vnfaillible signes of tokens.

Certa res est, the matter is without doubte. also I haue appoynted or determined.

Apud latera certos locauerat, he set aboute his persone, suche as were sure and truly fel-lows, or stronge and hardy men.

Certum est, it is manifest, or I haue deter-mined or appoynted.

De hoc mihi parum certum est, of this I am not well assured.

Clare et certum loqui, to speake playnly and distinctly.

Pro certo habere de re aliqua, to bee sure, or haue certayne knowlage of any matter.

Tum Agrippina sceleris olim certa, Than Agrippina, which was fully determined long befoie to woike that mischiese.

Cerua, æ, f. g. an hynde.

Cervaria, a place in Aquitayne.

Cervarius, a, um, of or peetyng to an harte.

Cervarium uenenum, a poison, wherewith the ffrenchmen vsed to annoynt their arrowes, whan they went on hunting.

Cervarius lupus, a beast ingendred epyther of a wolfe and an hynde, or elies of an harte and a she woulfe.

Ceruchus, a cabyn in the hyghest parte of the shyppe, or rather the endes, and as it were the hoines of the sayle parde.

Cerucal, or Ceruicale, lis, neu ge, a pillowe or bolster.

Cerucosus, a, um, styffe necked, harde, vntra-actable.

Ceruicula, æ, f. g. a diminutue of ceruix.

Ceruinus, a, um, of an harte.

Ceruinus color, the coloz lyke an hartes shyn.

Ceruicia, or Ceruicia, æ, f. g. ale or beere.

Ceruix, icis, f. g. the hynder parte of the nache, and figuratiuely the lyfe or sauegard of a mā.

Ceruici imponere, to laye on his necke, to charge one with a thyng wyl he or no.

Ceruices dare alicui, to offe to one his head, to put his lyfe in ones handes.

Dura ceruicis homo, a styffe necked felowe, a pious and stubborn person, that wyl not bende.

A ceruicibus depellere aliquem, to keepe or defend one from vs, that intendeth our destru-ction. Rebelli ceruice unus detrectare, obsta-natly to refuse that that one is charged with.

In ceruicibus bellum est, for prope, or Vic-tum est.

Cerula, a diminutue of Cera.

Cerunina, care waxe.

Cerus manus, idem quod Bonus creator.

Cerussa, æ, f. g. ceruse, or whyte leade, wherewith some women be peincted.

Cerustasus, a, um, peincted whete.

Ceruus,

C ANTE E

Certi liberi, legitimates chyliderns, begotten in wedlocke.

Signa certa, vnfaillible signes of tokens.

Certa res est, the matter is without doubte. also I haue appoynted or determined.

Apud latera certos locauerat, he set aboute his persone, suche as were sure and truly fel-lows, or stronge and hardy men.

Certum est, it is manifest, or I haue deter-mined or appoynted.

De hoc mihi parum certum est, of this I am not well assured.

Clare et certum loqui, to speake playnly and distinctly.

Pro certo habere de re aliqua, to bee sure, or haue certayne knowlage of any matter.

Tum Agrippina sceleris olim certa, Than Agrippina, which was fully determined long befoie to woike that mischiese.

Cerua, æ, f. g. an hynde.

Cervaria, a place in Aquitayne.

Cervarius, a, um, of or peetyng to an harte.

Cervarium uenenum, a poison, wherewith the ffrenchmen vsed to annoynt their arrowes, whan they went on hunting.

Cervarius lupus, a beast ingendred epyther of a wolfe and an hynde, or elies of an harte and a she woulfe.

Ceruchus, a cabyn in the hyghest parte of the shyppe, or rather the endes, and as it were the hoines of the sayle parde.

Cerucal, or Ceruicale, lis, neu ge, a pillowe or bolster.

Cerucosus, a, um, styffe necked, harde, vntra-actable.

Ceruicula, æ, f. g. a diminutue of ceruix.

Ceruinus, a, um, of an harte.

Ceruinus color, the coloz lyke an hartes shyn.

Ceruicia, or Ceruicia, æ, f. g. ale or beere.

Ceruix, icis, f. g. the hynder parte of the nache, and figuratiuely the lyfe or sauegard of a mā.

Ceruici imponere, to laye on his necke, to charge one with a thyng wyl he or no.

Ceruices dare alicui, to offe to one his head, to put his lyfe in ones handes.

Dura ceruicis homo, a styffe necked felowe, a pious and stubborn person, that wyl not bende.

A ceruicibus depellere aliquem, to keepe or defend one from vs, that intendeth our destru-ction. Rebelli ceruice unus detrectare, obsta-natly to refuse that that one is charged with.

In ceruicibus bellum est, for prope, or Vic-tum est.

Cerula, a diminutue of Cera.

Cerunina, care waxe.

Cerus manus, idem quod Bonus creator.

Cerussa, æ, f. g. ceruse, or whyte leade, wherewith some women be peincted.

Cerustasus, a, um, peincted whete.

Ceruus,

C ANTE E.

Ceruus, ui, m. g. an hart, or a fozbe, wherewith corages were pyopped by.
 Ceryx, icis, a pursuuant or bedell. It is also a shell fythe of the kynde of purples.
 Cesena, a towne in Italy.
 Cespes, itis, a tpyse, some do call theim soddes, grasse and earth to gyther. looke Caspes.
 Cessero, the citie Castres in Barbone.
 Cessa, a towne in Iberia.
 Cessatio, onis, f. g. slackenesse in dopnge, pdenesse, ceasing of vacanennesse from occupacio.
 Cessario in agris, the tyme whan the fieldes be not sown, or the fallowe.
 Cessator, onis, he that is slow in doing his dutie.
 Cessatus, a, um, lesse at rest, vnoccupied, not practised.
 Cessio, where one staymeth a thyng that an other man hath, who denpeth it not, nor ma-keth contrary clayme.
 Cessum, in reculyng.
 Cessio, aui, are, to cesse, to leaue woike, to abide to doo a thyng, or to be pde, to stoper, to lym-ger, to pylonge a matter negligently.
 Opus cessat, the wooyke goeth not forwarde.
 Paululum si cessassem, non offendissem do-mi, If I had caryed a littell longer, I should not haue founde hym at home.
 Cessare et laborem fugere, to be pde, and to eschewe labour.
 Quod cessat ex redditu, frugalitate supplere,
 that sayeth, or wanteth in my reuenues,
 is supplied with thyspe and honest sparynge.
 Cessum est, the impersonall.
 Solum cessans, a grounde that lyeth vntilled.
 Cincinnatus, hui, g. a garlande of cloutes, whys-the women do late on theyr heades, whan they carpe any thyng.
 Cennicus, a kind of codfpythe, whiche neuer eat-eth any other fythe, whercof cometh this prouerbe.
 Cennicus scianar, The codde fasteth, spoken of good and iuste men, whiche doo not raisein
 nor take other mens goodes from theim.
 Cestria, a towne of Epyrie.
 Cestrolondona, a kynde of weapon.
 Cestrum, tri, n. g. an instrument, wherewith ps-uorie is made hollow. also a dagger, or a wpm-
 ble. Also an herbe, whiche is called Betagn.
 Cestrus, a tpyse of Damphilia.
 Cestus, ti, m. g. a gydel, wherewith the husband
 dpy gyde his wyfe, whan he was fyrst married, whiche was sette full of studdes. It is taken also for any other gyddell, or a bande to tye wyces.
 Cetaria, a, f. g. a woman that selleth greatespces salted.
 Cetaria, arum, places nere to the sea syde, wher-Tunc and other greatte spyses are taken and salted.
 Cetarius, a, um, pertynyng to a whale.

C ANTE H.

Cetarius, rij, m. g. a fyshmonger, or taker of great fyshes.
 Cethegus, a name of certayn Romayns, wher-of one conspired with Catiline to destroy his countreie.
 Ceti, people in Asia.
 Cetrius, a mountayne in Norice, called Caslemburg.
 Cetra, a, f. g. a lyght tergate.
 Cetratus, a, um, that vseth suche a tergate.
 Cetrati milites, souldiours with lyght tergates.
 Cetre, for Dicite, or Date, an olde woorde.
 Cetus, ti, m. g. a great fythe called a whale, or any sort of monstrous great fythes. Also Cete, plu, tantum, idem quod Ceti.
 Ceu, as it were, euen as.
 Ceu vero, for Quasi uero, oftentimes in Plinie Ceu, a, f. g. a littell cowe that geueth muche mylke.
 Ceuco, es, ere, proprie est marium obscura clunes motantium: et per metaphoram indecoré adulari.

C ANTE H.

Chaa, a citie of Deloponesus, by the sties
 des called Ephesus.
 Chaam, called also Cog Chaam, is the name of dignitie of the greates Emperour of Tartarians, called the great Chane of Cas-tate, or Lambalu, whose dominion extendeth from the furthest parte of the east, vnto the countreie of Russe north west, and so vnto the north sea: And on the southe easte vnto the southe of Indian sea: on the south west vnto Persia: So that by the charte it appeereth, that there is vnder hym as muche maynlande within lytle, as is the residue of all Asia, Europa, and Africa.
 Chabrias, a noble capttayn and philosopher of the Atheniensis, of whome this inuencion in armes is sette in remembrance. whan he came in the ayde of the Thebans, agaynst the La-cedemonians, Agelaus kynge of the Lacede-monians, vainquyng the araye of the restained souldiours, and puttynge them to flight Chabrias restregned the cespys, causynge them to set theire tergates agaynst theyr knees, and thurstynge out theyr speares, to abyde and receyue the byunt of theire enemies: whiche shynge whan Agelaus behelde, he durste not go forth, but caused the retreat to be blowne.
 This man was slayne in a battayle on the sea, choosynge rather to dye honourably, than forsaynynge his shyppe as the other dpy, to thyme awaite his harnes, and swymme with his compagne.
 Chære, the imperative mode of a greke verbe, whiche in latin is Salue, God speede, wel met,
 and suche other salutations.

Chaz

C ANTE H.

Cheremon, a greke poete.
 Cherephon, a philosopher of Athens, the disciple of Socrates.
 Cherephyllon, li, n. g. an herbe called cherulle.
 Chæris, a foolyshe mynstrell.
 Chæronea, a towne of Boeotia.
 Chala, a towne of Egypte.
 Chalæon, an haue of Locrus.
 Chalame, a citie of Persie, whycher nowe is called Acrisophon.
 Chalassia, a kynde of wyde garmentes, and after some, the knoe, wherewith womens garmentes were knyt about theyr neckes.
 Chalastra, a citie by the bolome of the sea called Termeum.
 Chalastrium, or Chalastrium nistrum, salt peter, whycher is very pure and lyke salte.
 Chalaza, a gatherynge vnder the skynne like the disease called Bubo.
 Chalazias, a stone lyke to hayle, and so colde,
 that no fyre maye heate it.
 Chalazium, a littell rounde werthe in the eye lid-des, whycher maye be moued byther and thysther with ones spnger.
 Chalcantum, thi, n. g. copetose, or vteriole, a thyng meete to make leather blacke withall, Moemakers bleache.
 Chalce, an yle and a towne by Rhodes.
 Calcedon, a citie in Asia, agaynst Constantinople.
 Chalceos, a certayne herbe.
 Chalceritis, an yle in Ionius.
 Chalcerum, an herbe.
 Chalceus, a, um, of brasse.
 Chalceutice, an house where brasse is made.
 Chalcia, one of the plandes called Cyclades.
 Chalcidica, a, a kynde of chalky ceths, whycher consecuteth wheate.
 Chalcidium, a kynde of buyldynge.
 Chalcidix, icis, or Chalcides, a, a kynde of Lysarbes.
 Chalcidicium, um, of Chalcis.
 Chalciopce, the wyfe of Ithyrus, and sister to Medea.
 Chalcis, a fythe of the sea of the kynd of turbut.
 Chalcis, idis, the name of a citie in Grece. also of an yle, and of a byde.
 Chalcites, a stone of the colour of brasse.
 Chalcitis, is, f. g. a stone, wherof brasse is tryed.
 also an plande by the mouth of the ryuer Rhy-dans in Asia.
 Chalcographus, a prynter.
 Calcopionis, a blacke stone, whycher beyng knocked, cometh lyke brasse.
 Chalcos, seu æreola, the xxvi. part of a diam.
 Chalcosmaragdos, a peryous stone in Epyrie whiche hath in it byasen bynges.
 Chaldea, a countreie, whiche (as Strabo doeth wyte) is agneth to Arabia, and to the sea Persicum, Solinus and Plinius name

C ANTE H.

that countreie Chaldea, where the great tpyr of Babylon stonde. In the newe chartes, it is sette in this wyse: On the weste is togythen on Mesopotamia: on the north vpon Assyria, and Media: on the east vpon Persia, on the southe vpon Arabia deserta: and so is it far from Judea. They haue a propre language, somewhat lyke to hebreue, but theyr letters are vnyke to any other letters. Strabo nameth the countreie, where the people Chalabes dwell, Chaldea.
 Chaldaei, bee taken for greates astronomers of the countreie of Assyria.
 Chalestra, a citie in Thessalye, on the sea coste.
 Chalk, a signe stone, out of which fyre is striched.
 Chalybes, a people in the lesse Asia, in the countreie called Pontus, wher dpyge great plenty of pyon, and go noked. It is also the name of a ryuer in Spayne.
 Chalybs, lybis, m. g. Steele. Sometime it is vsed for a thyng made of Steele.
 Chamæactes, es, f. g. looke Ebulus.
 Chamæcerasus, a littell tree, or Mybbe, lyke the yonge Mootes that spynge out of the roote of a plumme tree.
 Chamæcissos, called also Hedera terrestris, and Corona terra, an herbe called grounde yug.
 Chamæcyparissus, is, f. g. an herbe, holssome as agaynst the venome of all serpentes.
 Chamædaphne, es, f. g. an herbe, whiche growmeth in length, wyndynge together in drye partes, and hath leaues lyke to a laurell or baye, and a floure lyke to a violet, and is called of some men Perwynce. Of Plinie it is named Vinca peruinca. But Ruellias as-sertyneth it to be an other herbe.
 Chamædrys, drys, f. g. called also Trifago, Serrata, or Serreaula, commonly Quercula
 minor, the herbe called Germanander.
 Chamææra, a, f. g. an herbe hauynge leaues like oylus.
 Chamæleon, onis, f. g. an herbe, wherof be. ii.
 kyndes. The one called Albus, is in maner of a lytell thysell, growynge by the ground, with out any stalke, puttynge by pyches lyke an hedgehogge, hauynge in the myddle a knappe full of pyches, on a woyle stalke, in whycher doo appere purple floures, whycher growe in to plumes, and do flice awaite with the wynd, lyke as of other thysles, and hath a wyte roote and swete, and groweth on olde landes, and bare hylles. The other (called Chamæ-leon niger) is the common thysell, whycher hath a great long stalke, somewhat ruddy, haynyng on the toppes a rounde knappe with floures, chaungable of colour.
 Chamæleon, ontia, m. g. a lytell beaste, haynyng his skynne dyuers lyke a byrd, whycher he chaungeth into dyuers colours, accordynge to the thyng that he seeth. They be inuencion in Asia.

In India, of the quantitee and figure of a spade, but that they legges be longer.
 They go by right, and haue the snoute like a swyne, a long eare, a small at the ende. These eten be neuer closed: they neuer eate nor drinke, but are nouerthed by the ayre onely.
 Chamaeleon, es, f.g. called also Bedlion, Vngula cabalina, and Tursilago, an herbe growing by rupte spaces, hauinge leaues like a poplar, but muche greater, colles foote.
 Chamamelon, li, n.g. an herbe called camomile.
 Chamamyrtus, es, f.g. a bushy tree, whiche hath sharpe pyches in the leaues, and red bearies clustered. I suppose it bee a hynde of holp or holme. Of some it is taken for that hynde of heath, whereof they make bysshes in Italy, called also Ruscus.
 Chamapitys, iys, f.g. called also Ainga, or Abiga, sometime Ibiga, commonly Iaa, an herbe whereof be. iiii. hyndes: The one is commonly called herbe pap, but it is not that, whiche is described of Dioscorides, although it haue bene proued to haue like vertue: The second is the small eppies, for in pottes: The third is supposed to be that, whiche is called saince John wort.
 Chamaetops, a certayne herbe.
 Chamaetax, arum, matdens, whiche were wont to spe at their mayntresses feete: or rather they tell images sette by great pynges.
 Chamaelon, an herbe called cinquefoyle.
 Chamaelopandalis, a beaste, whiche is as great as a camell, of shapine and colour like a panther, hauinge spotted of druzes colours. his foote legges and necke are longe, and the head like a camell, his feete and legges like an oxe.
 Chamus, as, looke Camelus.
 Chamus, i, m.g. a byrdell of fannile.
 Chanona, a tarte of marchepagn, or other like delicate thyng.
 Chaones, people of the countre of Epir in Grece: the countre is called Chaonia.
 Chaonis, idis, the femintie of Chaon.
 Chios, n.g. vnderstond, a confuse matter without forme, made first of nothing, whereof poeetes supposed all other thynges to procede. sometime it is taken for hell.
 Chara, x, f.g. a certayne roote.
 Characrus, a, um, trenchyd or inclosed in.
 Characrus vinea, vines inclosed with cunes or reedes in fieds of pales.
 Characias, a hynde of the herbe called spurge.
 Character, eris, m.f. ge. a token, a note made with a pen, a figure, a stile of forme in spekyng.
 Characteres, letters.
 Charactismos, a noyng, or markyng.
 Charadnus, a great deuourng bird of the sea.
 Charadius, a meere oppoole by Etilia, nere the rupte Caradus.
 Charax, a fyfhe, called also Dentix, with teeth standing out of his lippes. It is a bynde fische somewhat redde, with a changeable colour.

 Charax, acis, m. g. a place, where the Larchas ginenfes kepte theyr marce. Also a trench, the state or frame of a vine.
 Charaxes, the byother of Sapphus.
 Charachium, a cuppe, longe and small in the myddell, and full of handels.
 Chares, reils, a capitayn of Athens, also a caruer, the scholar of Apollippus.
 Charientismos, vrbantisee, pleasantnesse of speche. Also a figure, when a thyng hard to be spoken is pleasantly pronounced.
 Charillus, a capitayne of Lacedemonia.
 Chariophilon, looke Cariophilon.
 Charis, iris, f.g. grace, pleasantnesse, a pleasure, a good tourne.
 Charisius, an orator of Athens, or a grammarian.
 Charisma, atis, n.g. grace, a thankfull gyfte.
 Charistia, orum, n. g. plu. nu. is as it were a Christmas feast, or a wake, where kynfolke doo resorte together, byngng of sendyng praeres mutually.
 Charistium, a greene marble.
 Charitas, atis, f.g. charitie, or loue, properly towarde a mans countre or neyghbours.
 Charitate reipublice aliquid facere, to doo a thyng for the loue that he beareth to the common weale.
 Consilare charitatem, to get loue and fauoure.
 Charites, the graces, whiche were supposed to be the daughters of Iupiter, thre in numbrie, whose names were Aglaia, Thalia, and Euphrosyne. And where in speaking or wrytyng appereth to bee a meruailous delectation or sweetnesse, it was sayde, that therein was a grace, in latine Charis.
 Charitonius, a, um, that speaketh saye to wyne fauour.
 Charnasynum, a hynde of fythe, whiche belgeth the beholders, I thynke this trympsen.
 Charmione, the handmaide of Cleopatra.
 Charmonia, a citee in Spayne.
 Charon, tis, was named of the paynyms, the boeman, that caried soules ouer the thre ryuers of hell, Acheron, Stix, and Cocytus. It is also the name of the histiographes.
 Charonia, a countreie by Hyerapolis.
 Charonium, a certayne denne, consecrate to Pluto, and Iuno.
 Charopés, a Troiane, the sonne of Hippasus.
 Charopus, amiable, pleasure, or haungge a good grace.
 Charta, x, f. g. paper, also a leafe of paper, or other lyke thyng, wherin we doo wryte. Also a ny thyng cōtēnyng the description of a place in picture. Also a maiden that had neuer child. It is sometime taken for that, whiche is wryten in paper. Sometime a bolle.
 Charta

Chartaceus, a, um, of paper.
 Chartarius, a, um, idem.
 Chartarie officina, paper mylles.
 Chartarius, ri, m. g. a maker or seller of paper.
 Charillago, looke Carillago.
 Chartophylacium, i, n. g. a place, where wrytynges of monumentes are kepte: as the rolles, And the master of the Rolles may be called Chartophylax, or Magister scriniorum, whiche office had Tiplianus the great lawyer with the emperor Alexander Severus.
 Charula, a littell leafe of paper.
 Chartularius, i, a name that one hath for a certayne office. after some a paper seller.
 Charundas, the name of a man, whiche gaue lawes to the Athenienses.
 Charus, a, um, deere, well be loued, acceptable.
 Charum habere, to loue earnestly.
 Habere aliquem se ipso chariorem, to loue one better than hym selfe.
 Amare, et charum habere.
 Sibi charum esse, to loue ones selfe.
 Charydis, a goulfe of the sea by Sicile, when it is dangerous saylyng, by reason of streames flowyng contrary eche agaynst other, wherby shippes be therein deuoured. It is also taken for a great heape of mischeues.
 Chasma, atis, n. g. a gapping or opening of the stematic, or of the earthe.
 Chasmaticus, a, um, the adiectiue.
 Chasmaticus terrę motus, an earthe quake, whiche causeth suche cleauyng and gappinge of the grounde.
 Chatti, people of Germanie.
 Chaus, i, a hynde of woulfes, called also Cerauarij, looke there.
 Chelæ, arum, the cleses, or the foreparts of the signe called Scorpion.
 Chelidon, onis, a swallowe.
 Chelidonia, an herbe called Selandine, also a westerne wynde, a hynde of fygge trees, and a precious stone.
 Chelidonia, two standes ouer agaynst the moitayne Taurus.
 Chelidonij, littell stones founde in the mawe of a swallowe.
 Chelidonium, an elbow of the mountayn Taurus, tyng into the sea.
 Chelonolopices, I suppose to bee the byrdes, whiche we doo call Barnacles.
 Chelonates, a promontorie of Achate.
 Chelonia, an exceeding great eie of the Indian Cozette.
 Cheloniides, a precious stone like the Cozette.
 Chelonium, m, n. g. the shell of a tozette.
 Chelonophagi, a people in Armenia, whiche lyue by eatyng Tozettes.
 Chelydrus, a serpente that lyueth bothe in the water and on the lande.

Chelys, ys, f. g. a tozette. sometime it is taken for an harpe of lute, because the fyfhe harpe was made of a tozette shell.
 Chema, was a measure of the Berkes contēnyng two Cochlearia, whiche receyue of wyne in pottes or wryghte. I. diammes. I. scrupule. iiii. graynes, and. iiii. fyue partes of a grayne.
 Chemites, a maner of tombe like to wyng.
 Chemnis, is an island, as Idomontus wryteth.
 Cheniscus, a parte of the foreshipp, wherby the anker booceth hangs, made lyke a goos necke.
 Chenoboscium, i, n. g. a place where geese be fedde.
 Chenomicon, an herbe whereof geese be afeard.
 Chenopus, a goose foote. Also an herbe lyke a goose foote.
 Chenotrophia, houses, or places where water foules are kepte.
 Chenopina, the halfe pynte measure.
 Cheops, a kyng of Egypte, whiche made the great steeple at Memphis, whereon were so many men wrytyng, that he spent onely in perselly, opytone, and garlike. 1060. talentes, whiche (if it were the great talent) amounted of our monete to. 250550. poundes.
 Chephren, the byother of Cheops, and reigned after hym.
 Cheramides, a certayne precious stone.
 Cheriul, an vnlearned poete, that wate the gestes of Alexander the great. And of all his great woothe there were but. vii. verses alowded. For the whiche he was rewarded with vii. pieces of golde. And for eche other verse he had a good buffete.
 Cherinthus, an heretike, whiche affirmed, that Christ shoulde come and reigne in the world the space of a thousande yeres, and durynge that tyme men shoulde lyue in all carnall delices, and afterward come vnto heauen, where they shoulde enuyrlyue in the pleasures of glouorie, and lechery, he denied Christ to be any other than pure man. He receyued onely the gospell of sainte Mathew, and reuered the other euangelistes, and the actes of the apostles. he was about the yere of our lord. 88.
 Chernices, a stone lyke wyng.
 Chernius, a chyld of excellent fauour, who abandoned hym selfe to the folysh embaryngs of men.
 Cherronesus, idem quod Peninsula, the parte of Grece now called Morea. It is sometime taken for the north parte of the great Asia. It is also called Theremete.
 Chersidamas, a Trojan.
 Chersina, a hynde of kinde shippes.
 Chersydrus, a hynde of serpentes in Calabrie, whiche lyue bothe on lande and water.
 Cherubin, one of the holy orders of auangelion, wherin is the thirde ordie and mysticall.
 Chen

of pultry is kept, called in some places a barton.
Choralis, is, of, or pertaining to such a sort of barton.

Chortales aues, poultry feeding abode in a barton of course of husbandry.

Chortos, haie of grasse mowen.

Chorus, i. m. g. a company of players of dauncers. Sometime an other assemble of people together.

Semiviri chori, the company of Atilles players, whiche were all gelded.

Virtutum chorus, the whole compaigne of vertues.

Choroires, a kynge of the Persians excellently well learned.

Chrosis, is vice, & Carachresis, abussion.

Chreston, an herbe called ephopy.

Chrestus, the name of a notable sophister of Byzance.

Chria, a notable sentence, spoken mostly to exhort to vertue, or dissuade from vice, rehearsing the authours name withall.

Chrilis, dunston.

Chrodorus, a poete of Egypt, in the tyme of Anaxialus the emperor, an other of Thebes.

Chritus, annointed, the surname of our redeemer.

Chromaticus, whose colour neuer chaungeth, but is alwaies one: One that neuer blussheth.

Chrombus, a certayne spfwe.

Chromis, a fish that maketh a net in the water Chromis, the sonne of Hercules. Also a boye mentioned of Virgile.

Chromius, one of Argilus.

Chronia, looke Cronia.

Chronica, corum, an hystorie of actes doorn, with the tyme expressed. chyonides.

Chronicus, a, um, temporal, of, or pertaining to tyme.

Chronisco, looke Cronisco.

Chronos, tyme.

Chrya, a citie of Thracia, and an plante of Inoe, also a citie in the cuntrey of Hyrcania.

Chrysalis, a certayne vermine of woyme.

Chrysanthemum, the herbe called crowfoote, whiche hath yelow flowers, commonly called goldknappes. And where to eue this herb groweth, who that will dyg shall fynd water.

Chrysaor, the sonne of Neptune, begotten of the head of Medusa.

Chryfas, a cyrus that the pagans worshipped for a god.

Chryse, an yle, whiche Idmon and Solinus do set out in the mouth of the famous cyuer Indus: where (as Ptolemy writeth) is such abundance of fyne golde, that thereof the ple Cooke his name. For Chryse, is in englyshe golde. It is also a citie by Lemnos.

Chrysendra, cuppes hanging bynders of gold, as our masters and misters were wont to haue, and therefore they made bee so called.

Chryses, a prophete amonge the Gentiles, also a morden geuen by the Grekes to Agamemnon at the battayle of Troie.

Chryssipa, an herbe.

Chryssippus, a noble phisosopher, boyn in Asia, in the towne Solis, as Solinus wyrteth, but Aetius wyrteth that he was boyn in Tarsus, he was of the secte called Stoici.

Chryssies, a precious stone.

Chryssis, the skynme whiche is on golde being moisten, also an herbe called Chrysocome.

Chrysospidis, knyghtes that hadde shieldes gilted.

Chrysoberyllus, a chrysell stone, wherein the colour of golde shyneth.

Chrysoceras, a promontory of Thace by Byzaunce.

Chrysocola, a stone, with the powder wherof painters doo make a golde colour. Also goldsmithes doo vse it to fowder golde.

Chrysocoma, golden heare.

Chrysocome, an herbe lyke to Pulegium.

Chrysocomus, a, um, that hath yelowes of golde heare.

Chrysogonum, that byngeth footy golde.

Chrysogonus, a mans name.

Chrysolachanon, an herbe called Dyage, in las tunc Atriplex.

Chrysolampis, a stone of fyre coloure by night, and pale in the daye tyme.

Chrysolectrum, a stone.

Chrysolius, a precious stone of the kynde of Jasper, and in colour lyke golde.

Chrysolion, the ramme that bare the golde den steele.

Chrysoloma, yelowes quinces, of Virgile they are called Aurea poma, as Rusticus supposeth.

Chryson, a spfwe, whiche after some, is that, whiche is called Aurata.

Chrysopticum, an house, where golde is fyned or tried from other metallies.

Chrysopytes, golde fyngers.

Chrysopolis, a citie of Bosphonia.

Chrysoprasus, a stone greene as a lecke, rapped with a byghynesse of golden colour.

Chrysorhoas, a cyrus that cometh by Damasus in Syria.

Chrysos, golde.

Chrysothemis, the daughter of Agamemnon, and Clytemnestra.

Chrysostomus, the name of a bpschop of Constaninople, and also of an hystorian, whiche were so called for they eloquence. For Chrysostomus, is in englyshe, a golden mouth.

Chryxus, the newen of Brennus, vnder whom the Galles invaded Rome.

Chytra, idem quod Chytra.

Chus, uel Choa, a measure of the Grekes, of the whiche be .iii. sortes: One called Metra, or Medica, and conterneth .vi. Sextariofardcos, whiche is of englyshe measure one potell and halfe a pyne: An other called Georgica, and is of englyshe measure .vi. pyntes, an halfe, and a quarter, that is in potell of oyle .x. ii. and .ii. ounces: Of wyne .x. ii. and an halfe, Of honp .xviii. ii. and .ii. ounces. An other is Veterinaria, of oyle of cheim, which cure catelle, whiche receyvet of oure measure a potell and a quartre: And in weight of wyne .x. ii. one ounce. ii. diammes .ii. scruples: of oyle .viii. ii. of honp .xvi. ii. an halfe, one ounce .ii. and one diamme.

Chymosis, a moisture in the skynne, whiche incloseth the eye.

Chymus, the tyme procedynge of meate digested, whiche by the venes cometh into the membres, and restieth that whiche is consumed by heate.

Chytra, a potte with skete, to seethe meate in.

Chytrapus, odis, m. g. a resyue of eradell, wher on porters are sette to boyle meate.

C ANTE I.

Cibalis, is, of, or pertaining to meate.

Cibarius, i. m. g. foodes, meate, sustenance.

Cibarius, a, um, pertaining to meate, vi. taste of sustenance, also vice, simple.

Cibarius homo, a vile person.

Cibarius panis, ragged bread, or crebble bread.

Cibarium vinum, small oyle wyne.

Cibaria menstrua, vitallies for a month space.

Inopia cibaria, scarcitee or lack of vitallies.

Dare cibaria alicui, to fynde one meate and bynke.

Cibaria publice locare, to fynde meate of the common cooke.

Cibarium oleum, meate oyle.

Cibarium is taken for meate after the flour is bouled out.

Cibari, people of Spayne.

Cibatus, us, m. g. vitallies.

Cibele, or rather Cybele, is, the daughter of Idmon, kynge of Crete, she being cast out into the deserte, was nourished with beastes, and founde by a woman that kepte shepe, and by her nourished: after became meauellous fayne and also wyle, and founde fyt the pipe and taboure, and the cymbals among the grekes, moreouer the education of syderne, she tenderly louing them all. In to much that for the death of a chybe, called Atys, she became madde. Afterwarde she was honoyed of the gentiles for a goddesse.

She was also called Rhea, mother of the goddesse, Vesta, Ops, and Terra, her ymage being specially honoyred in a citie of Thracia, called Pelinmus, was by the counsell of Spylla, set ched thens by Hierio Palica, and brought to Rome, and there had in great reverence.

Cibo, ani, are, to fede, to nourish.

Ciborium, i. m. g. Ciborium; i. m. g. the lease of the beane of Egypt called Collocasia. After Idmon & cup fashioned and made of those leanes. After Dioscorides, a parte of the cobbe of that beane. Dioscorides saith, it is a cuppe made lyke the lease of that beane. After some it is a kynde of appyll of Alexandry.

Ciborus, a citie of Asia.

Cibus, i. m. g. euery kynde of meate.

Cibi repoliti, meate sette up to be kepte.

Cibum facere, to make redie meate.

Mane aliquid fieri cibi, There shall bee some meate made redy beeyne.

Cibum subducere, to take meate awaye from one. Penuria cibi, lacke of meate.

Varietas ciborum et copia, plentie of meate, and many byndes.

Disciplina cibo satiare, to fede with instructon of learnyng.

Vilis cibus, good cheape meate, and easie to be gotten.

Cibum capere cum aliquo, to be at meate, or to dyne and suppe with one.

Defecti cibo, they that lacke vitallies.

Inurgitare se cibo, to gourmandyse, to eate unmoderately, to fede unreasonably.

Cibus imperfectus, meate not well digested.

Præguistare cibos, to taste the meate afoye, to take the taste.

Cibo suo seruire, to serue for meate & bynke.

Cibum peragere, to digeste ones meate.

In cibo homini est, The man byeth that for his meate.

Cibyra, a citie of Thracia.

Cibyrate, people of that citie.

Cicada, a, f. g. a grasse hopper.

Cicada frititit, the grasse hopper chitpeth.

Cicadæ prius astare tacant, A sentence spoken of a thyng that will not bee.

Cicarrico, ani, are, to strepe one so, that the marke alwaies remaineth.

Cicarricosus, a, um, that hath many scarres or tokens of woundes.

Cicarricosa vitis, a vine full of scotches and choppes.

Cicarricula, a diminutiu of Cicatrix.

Cicatrix, icis, for. g. a token of scarre, where a wounde hath bene.

Cicatrix etiam in arboribus.

Retricare cicatricem, to rubbe or make soe that, whiche was almost whole, spoken prouerbielly, of renewyng and agayne by agayne a dangerous matter, that was well alated.

Cicatrice aduersa, scarres of woundes ouer chymus the face and breast.

Colo cicatrix, The wounde closeth or dyeth with a scarre.

Cicatrix, idem quod Cicarrico. Also to heale heale a wounde so, that only a seame of scarre maie appere.

Cicium, the tender rinde of a pomegranade.

Cicer, eris, n. g. a geapne sphe to peason, wherof of some be redde, some blacke, and some whyte.

Cicera, x, f. g. a bynde of foode called also Cicerula.

Cicebina, an herbe called a southeystell.

Cicerula, x, f. g. to lesse than Cicer.

Cicerulum, a bynde of colour called Cinoper.

Cicero, onis, the surname of Marcus Tullius, whose diuine eloquence, abundant learning, Marvenesse of witte, dexteritee in actes, and moste ardent loue to the common weale of his countreie, can not be sufficiently exprest by a mortall mans tongue or pen. he finally descended from the ancient hynges of the Closcians, al be it tyme and occasion wearing out dignities in bloud, his name continued longe in the state of worship. His amercours were called Cicerones, because Tullius Appius, a noble hyng of the Closcians, hadde on his nose, a markelype a chiche peafe, called Cicer. In his chyldhode, he so excelled all other chyldrene in witte, that they fathers meued with his fame, went purposely to the schoole, to beholde and here him. He so profited in the eloquence of greke and latine, that not onely his companions were in a meruailous admiration of hym: but also Apollonius, the most excellent orator at that tyme, who heareng hym, and not spealking a great space, safed at the laste: Cruelly Cicero, I praye the, and meruarie at the: but I lament the fortune of the Grekes: whan I consider that by the, letting and eloquence, which were left unto vs only, are euen now translated vnto the Romans. whiche sayng of Apollonius was afterwarde founde true. sfoj loke what subtiltee was in logike, what comobitee in moiall philosofie, what secreete knowlage in philo-sophie naturall, he knewe it, as Tacitus wyteth, and declared it in latin most eloquently. And he, which is to be wondred at, bepng but a very ponge man, came to practise in Rome, studied abundantly the ciuile lawes, was mee-waulously occupied in greate weightie causes.
And after he was Senatour he was continually (as it seemed) moste busy about the weale publike, yet he that exactly redeth his woikes shal thinke he neuer dyd any thyng but reade great authours, & wyte booke. sfoj there was no philosopher, none orator, nor poet afoze his tyme, that escaped hym, as doneth in his bokes sufficiently appere. And yet how many bokes made he? sens we haue not the third part of them, yet such as we haue, if any man now
dyd wyte so muche & so well, we shuld thinke hym to haue spent the more parte of his tyme in wytyng. And noble Cicero, lord god howe many thynges dyd he exploitte by his wysdom and diligence, in moste weightie affayres, as well in warre as peace? howe dyd he by his dexteritee and prudence saue the citee and people of Rome from the most pernicious consederacy and rebellion of Catiline, and other of the nobilitie, whiche went aboute to deliue

the weale publike, and robbe the citee of Rome pfeured by the same citee & people after the deeth of Cesar, that they not oppressed by Marcus Antonius? sfoj his incomparable actes, the whole Senate and people gaue to hym, sfoj before any the name of father of the countreie, what trouble and miserie susteined
he, bepng extied by the procurement of Clodius, onely for the putting of the sated rebellies to deathe? Suche is the reward of people vnstable, likewise for vsurping Antonius out of Rome, and by his Maerpe oracions, causynge hym to be proclaimed enemy to the weale pu-blike: he made Antonius so much his enemy, that in the treatie of peace betweene hym and Octavius: he demanded Cicero, to do with hym his pleasure, whiche thyng granted of the vnhynd Octavius (whos Cicero had brought vp, & by his meanes caused to be made chiefe gouernour of Rome) Antonius sent one Heren-tius, whom Cicero had saued from deathe by his eloquence, who pursued hym as he fledde.
whiche thyng whan Cicero perceyued, he asbode his comyng. And lying in an house litle for weakenesse, he dyd with constant eyes prepare his throte to Herentius, who dyd, al other men abhorryng, kepe of his heade and handes, and brought them to Antonius: who reioyng therat, caused the head and handes to be set ouer the place of ciuile iudgements at Rome, whiche dayly beholde of the Senate and people of Rome, was lamented. This haue I purposely wytten, that this moste noble counsaillour shulde not bee byd, to suche as can not yet vnderstand his lyfe wyten in greke or latine. And that all men shulde be inflamed to reade and vnderstand his woikes, afoze all other gentiles. sfoj in them is incomparable wisdom and eloquence. And truly I will affirme Quintilians sayng: he maie wel thinke he hath muche profited, whom Cicero specially liketh. He flourished about .xl. yeres be-foze the incarnation.

Ciceronianus, a, um, of Cicero, or that subli-eth to folowe Cicero.

Cichesus, a, ruer.

Cichorea, x, f. g. & Cichoreum, rj, ne. ge. an herbe called Suckhoyle.

Cicimeti, people about Adreote.

Cicina, a nyght crowe.

Cicilindrum, acerapn herbe of kinde of pulse.

Cicindela, x, f. g. a flye of wourme, whiche flymeth in the nyght, about harvest.

Cicina,

Cicinia, a litlell wane serpent in Italy.

Cicium oleum, a certayne oyle used to pouge
the deale.

Cicones, a people of Thire.

Ciconia, x, f. g. a bynde, whiche some suppose to be a stoke, and is of the figure of an hea-son, but that he is greater, and all white, sa-uyng the toppes of his wynges: his byll and legges be red. Some thinke thei haue no tynges. That he naturally enemies to serpentes, and doo slea them, It is wytten, that whan they be olde, they bydes feede them, and pro-uide meate for them, wherefoze the image of them, was the token of iustice. And the ancient hynges had it on the toppes of thei serpentes, as they had in the lower part, the beast called Hippopotamus, whiche contrary wise sleath his father, and eyeth on his mother.
wherby they were admonished to auoiance in-dyce and pitee, and to oppesse iniustice and cruelte. Of this bynde came a greke woorde for a prouerbe, Anipelargin, whiche signifeth to be lyke a stoke. whiche prouerbe is to exhort men to be hynde to thei parentes, o-to thei mastres, whiche teache o byng them vp, requyring the benefite, whiche thei receiue of them.

Ciconia, is also a certayne measure.

Ciconius, the name of hym that builded Brixia

Cicorium, idem quod Cichoria.

Cicur, mis, om. g. euery bea of bynde, whiche ones bepng wybe, is made tame.

Cicuringium, a genupl nature.

Cicuro, au, are, to make tame.

Cicuta, x, f. g. a venomous herbe, whiche groueth in. rubites in height, with a grene stalk full of knottes, bushy on the toppe, hauyng leaves smaller than Coriander, the feedes greater than anyseeds, and is hopefull of sauour.
Some do nowe vse that name for hemlocke.

Cicuta, is somer tyme a poppon made of this herbe. Also the space betweene the knottes of a cane or reede.

Cicuta, the name of a notable vsurer.

Cidaris, a cap, whiche the hynges of Persia dyd vse, and also the byshoppes in the olde lawe.

Cico, es, ciui, ere, and Cio, cis, clui, ire, is pro-pely to prouoke or moue one to weepynge or sorrowe. Also to meue, to steeze of rage vp, to prouoke one to anger, to hys, to feritate, to calle on name.

Quidnegon est, Pistoclerum Lydas quod herum tam clui? what is the matter, that Lydas thus troubleth and angreth his mayster Pistoclerus.

Bellam ciebant, thei raised up warre.

Ciere alium, to prouoke one to the stoke.

Ciere vrinam, to make one pisse.

Prelum aut pugnam ciebant, thei raised up or exhorted thei mayster to fight in battell.

Ciere verba, to speake.

Numina ciere, to call vpon the goddes.

Ciere singulorum nomina, to call euery one by his name.

Ciere auxilia, to saye ayde or succour.

Cilicia, a countreie in Asia, by the mount Caucasus, partly inclosed with the highest part of the sated mountayne and hardest to passe by.
Strabo diuideth Cilicia into two partes, one called Tracher, that is to saye, rough or rocky: The other Campestris, that is to saye, playne. Josephus wytteth, it was of old tyme called Carus of Tarsus, one of the sonnes of Saphet, the pongest sonne of Noe, heron-dome saith the people were called Cilices of Cilix, the sonne of Agenor hyng of Phenicia:
wher before it was called Hyppareus. Salmstherom interpreteth Cilicia, a congregation, a lamentation, an assumption, a lamentable calling, or vomite. The people were by nature inclined to lying and Realyng, wherof grewe
this prouerbe:

→ Cilix non facit verum dicit, The Cilician not lightly saith trouth, A prouerbe applyed to a couerouse man, whiche alwaye lyeth for his particular aduantage, as nowe adapes most part of me do, which lyue only by telling.

Cilicentis, se, of Cilicia. Cilissus, a, um, idem.

Cilicinus, a, um, made of hearen clothe.

Cilicium, il, n. g. any cloth or garment made of heare. Also the wearyng of the same cloth.

Cilium, li, n. g. the ouer shynne, whereth the eye is closed.

Cilix, itis, an inhabitaunt of Cilicia. Also the sonne of Idmon.

Cilla, a citee nere to Thebes.

Cillere, to moue or steeze.

Cillibz, rounde tables.

Cilo, onis, he that hath a great fothead.

Cilones, or Cillones, myndrelles, byngs syle-thy and vncleane lecture.

Cimacia, thynges that be square square.

Cimas, an yle by the tynde Tyre.

Cimbalaris, an herbe, whiche groweth in stons walles, whiche hath a smalle leafe, somewhat in fashion lyke to pap, and hath a lictell purple flower. It is supposed to be the herbe, whiche is called Vmbellus Veneris.

Cimbices, thei that make much of a litle, or gret
ly esteeme a thyng of small value, ngardes.

Cimbri, people that inhabited Denmarke, and Polonia, who hadde a meruailous capome: Their wyues followed them in war-res, women carryng in diuination, whose heares were whike, and theyr eyes shynyng red, had the whiche they had litle clothes, made of felle with pennes and needles, beyng syle with spiridles of dyall, and wente bare footed. Allwayes as they were taken, they with naked swordes bette them.

shelm to the ground, and byawe them to a bialen cauldron, whiche conteyned fyfte am- phoras, and haupng an haulte place made for the purpose, went by quickly, and lifyng on bygh the men that were taken, dyd cut theyr thoyres ouer the cauldron. And by the drop- ping of the bloud, declared theyr prophes- cies. Some other opening men beales, ser- ched theyr bowelles, and prophesied victorie vnto the people.

Cimbria, the countre nowe called Denmark.

Cimbricus, a, um, of Cimbria.

Cimeliarchon, a, um, a well house.

Cimeliarchus, master of the well house.

Cimex, micis, m. g. a flyngg worme byce- dyng in woode of paper.

Cimmer, people inhabyting the furthest part of Europe, not farre from the fennes called Paludes Meonidis, and aboute the sea Bos- phorus Cimmerius, north east from Grecia. Idunt and some other asseme, that by the farre distance of the sonne from it, that coun- trete is alwaie beate darke, wherof hapned this pource.

* Cimmeris tenebris arrior, blacker than the darken. Use of Cimmeria, applied to muche darkesse, dulnesse of wit, or lack of wisdom.

Cimmeri, were also people of Italy in the coun- trete betweene Barce and Cumæ, which was so enuypped with helles, that the sonne came nor to it, neither in the morning nor at nyght. There was supposed to be a defence into hel. And the people dwelled only in caves.

Cimmeris, a cite of the countreie of Trete.

Cimolis, a cite of Haphlagonia. Also of Ca- lacia, called commonly Cimoli.

Cimolus, a, um, of the plande Limolus, or of the cite Limolis.

Cimon, a noble mā of Athens, Heliades son.

Cinabulum, a crabell.

Cinadia, a stone long and white, founde in the byapne of a sphe of the same name, whiche stone by chaunging of colour signifieth tem- pest of the sea to come.

Cinædas, of Pontus Marcellus is expounded to be an exerciser of waton dances and mores- one of the body in dyuers formes. Perotus in Cornucopie, declareth it to be a person, ex- ercysing actes of lecherp detestable, & against naturall forme and order, whiche I will not expresse. And if he had omitted it also, he had nothing offended, being a thyng woorthy to be out of remembrance.

Cinnamomum, or rather Cinnamomum, mi- neu. gen. a bynd of spice odoriferous and de- lertable, called Cinamom, of some Canell. It groweth in Ethiopia, lyke a lowe bush in de- ures stennies, which passeth not. It dwites in height, haupng leaves lyke organum. The syndes therof is that, whiche we haue in use.

It is hotte and dry in the thyrde degree.

Cinara, æ, f. g. an herbe, whiche some men sup- pose to be an Artochoke.

Cincia, a place in Rome.

Cincinnatus, the name of a senator in Rome, whiche beyng called from the ploughs was made dictator.

Cincinnatus, a, um, that hath crisped or curled heares.

Cincinus, ni, m. g. a bush of heare that is cris- ped or curled.

Cincius, the name of certain senators of Rome.

Cinclidæ, bases or parclois made aboute the places of iudgement, where men make stand, beholde, and heare what is dooen and spoken among the iudges and plebours. Such a like thyng is at westmyster halle about the comon place, and is called the behens.

Cinclidarius, the keper of the place, where mo- numentes or recordes were kepte, that euery man shoulde not enter without leave. As he, which now kepeth the recordes in the towne, or the poster of the rolles made be to called.

Cineticulus, li, m. g. a moxe cote called a serkin

Cinctus, ius, m. g. a gyrdell or gyrdyng.

Cinctus gabinus, a garment that the consull of Rome dydde weare on, whan he denounced warre: whiche he threwe backward, and gyrded hym selfe with a parte of the same.

Cinctus, a, um, gyrded, compassed, enuironed about.

Cinctus, a, um, ready prepared to warre.

Cineas, a man of Thessaly.

Cinefactum, brought into ashes, as thynges that be bourned.

Cineraceus, et Cinericus, a, um, of ashes, or of the colour of ashes.

Cinerarius, idem quod Ciniſo.

Cinericius, a, um, baken or rosted vnder ashes.

Cineſias, a learned man of Thebes.

Cinga, a ryuer that renneth oute of the moun- tagnes Pirenei.

Cingo, xi, ere, to gyrd or compasse about. Some- tyme to dwell aboute a place.

Cingere arbores, to barke a tree.

Cingere castra uallo, to cast a trench about the campe. Tempora floribus cingere, to set a garlande of floures on ones head.

Cingere urbem exercitu, to lay siege to a cite, or to bessege a cite rounde about.

Cingere se gladio, to gyrd a sword aboute hym, to hange a sword by his syde.

Qui lacum cinxere Bycen, which dwelled aboute the mere of poole called Byces.

Cingria, a moxe pipe haupng a small founde.

Cingula, læ, f. g. a gyrd for beastes.

Cingulus, li, m. g. a Cingulum, li, n. g. a gyrdell.

Sub cingulo delata illustris dignitas dicitur, quando iusta et plena est, citra cingulū, quan- do honoris tantum gratia.

Spoe

Spoliare cingulo, amonge citelle lawyers, to depose one, or dyscharge hym of his office of authoritie.

Cingulum, a ceter of Itiens in Italy, Rome whense the moples come, whiche are called Cingulani.

Ciniſo, onis, he that maketh hotte the indres- mentes, wherewith men or women dyd crimme theyr heades.

Ciniphes, m. g. plu. terrapne littell fyes lyke gnattes, wherewith the Egyptians were plagued.

Cinis, cris, m. g. ashes. Sometime it is used for the spire and memoire of a manne after his deathe. Sometime for a dead man.

Cinna, a cite of Spayne. Also the name of a Romayne, whiche excelled in crueltie, and was in the citelle warre toged with Marius.

Cinnabaris, a stone called a sanguinaria. It is also called in latine Sanguis draconis, dra- gons bloude. It is put into sundry medicines to haunche bloude. After blinde, it is a cer- tain colour, lyke to read leade, called in latin Minium, or rather the same that Minium is.

But Dioscorides saith, that Minium, and Cinabaris, are dyuers.

Cinnamologus, called of Plinie, and Aristote- le, Cinnamomus, is a byde, whiche maketh his nethe with cinnamon.

Cinnara, looke Cinara.

Cinnilgium, a gyrdell, whiche a byde, or new wedded wyfe weareth, a coſe.

Cinnus, i, m. g. a heare of a man, or womans head, or a medley of dyuers thynges togeder.

Cinxia, a surname of Juno.

Cinyphius, a, um, of or by the ryuer called Cinyphs.

Cinyphs, nyphis, a ryuer of Libya.

Cinyras, a kyng of Phoenicia, an other of Ep- pers, whiche vnwares had to dooe with his daughter Myrtha, which is called after hym Cinyreia.

Cio, ciui, ire, looke Cico.

Cios, an hauen of pozt towne of Phrygia, and a ciuer of the same name.

Ciperum, a soore plant of herbe, whiche mixed with saffron, rooteth by heates, and is good to bryake and expulse the stone.

Cippus, i, m. g. a paye of stones. Also a lpt- tell hyl of other make, which men call a bar- row. It is also a crosse, or other make, whiche they set the ryght wate to a place.

Cirannus, a man of Lycia, the compaignon of Sapebon.

Circa, about, nygh.

Circa, for Circiter, as, Circa festerum vides, Aboute some thou- sande pounds.

Circa, for de, as, Circa circa hæc opinio, Of these thynges be dyuers opinions.

Circulus, a, um, a gyrdell.

Circulus, a, um, a gyrdell.

Circulus, a, um, a gyrdell.

Circulus, a, um, a gyrdell.

Circulus, a, um, a gyrdell.

Animus est circa campos, His munde is in the feldes.

Circæa, æ, f. g. the herbe called Mandragora.

Circæum, n. g. idem.

Circæia, a byde, whiche in his sight setteth a compasse.

Circe, the daughter of Mol by Perſis the dau- ghter of Oceanus: She knewe the meruail- lous operations of sundry herbes, and howe to cure all poysons: For withstanding at the last she slew her husband, kyng of Syrtis, with poyson, and vexed the people with ma- che tyranny, wherfore she was expelled the countreie, and fled into a deserte yle in the oc- ean sea. Homerus nameth hie the spier of Hera, and sheweth how dyuers of Atiles co- panions, accypng in the yle, where Circe dwelled, were by hie transformed into swyne.

And after, by the intercession of Atiles: the effectoones restored them vnto theyr pſonate formes, moxe beautifull and ponge in lyyght, than they were before.

Circus domus, a towne of Campayne.

Circenſes, the inhabitantes of Circum.

Circum iugum, a mountayne of Campayne.

Circenſes lud, plates that the Romaines dyd in the place called Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circus, a, um, of Circus.

Circuitus, us, m. g. a circuite of compasse.

Circuitus lebrum, the course of agues.

Circulatio, by circles, or in the forme of a circle.

Circulator, oris, m. g. he that goeth aboute to shewe hym selfe, what he can do, or to deceiue

the people with craft and subtiltie, a iuglar.

Circulatorius, a, um, pertaining to suche deceiuers of iuglars.

Circulatrix, tris, f. g. she that goeth aboute to get wonne with dauncing and tumblinge.

Circulo, aui, are, to compasse or close with a dyche, or other lyke thyng. Also to make a circule of compasse about a thyng.

Circulus, li, m. g. a circle of compasse. And by a metaphore it is taken for a company of men bandying or styng to gyther.

In circulis & communis sermo est liberior, In companies and scales men talke more lyuerally.

Circum, both a preposition and an aduerbe, sig-nifieth about, rounde about.

Pugnare circum aliquem, to fyght by one, or in ones companie.

Circumactus, us, a turning of a thyng round

aboute.

Circumaggero, aui, are, to heape, or make heapes about a thyng.

Circumago, egi, agere, to leade about, to turne

aboute.

Circumagere frenis equum, to turn the horse

about with the byrdell.

Circumambulo, aui, are, to walke round about.

Circumaro, aui, are, to care rounde about.

Circumaspicio, spexi, ere, to loke round about.

Circumco, iui, ire, or Circuco, or Circuo, iui, ire, to go about any thyng.

Circumcasso, aui, are, to ryde aboute.

Circumillus, a, um, sente about.

Circumitto, li, ere, to sende aboute.

Circumleuco, li, ere, to stroke or touche softly or gently on euery parte.

Circummuo, iui, ire, to inclose, walle in, or dyche in. Also to enuyon strongly. To fortifie with walles of men.

Circummuo, onis, f. g. a strong fence of munitio, made about a place.

Circummuo, a, um, fenced and fortified

rounde aboute.

Circumascor, aris sum, asci, to growe about.

Circumobruo, iui, ere, to couer with earthe or uer and ouer.

Circumpadanus, a, um, that dwelleth aboute

the ryuer Padus in Italy.

Circumpango, pegi, ere, to cramme or lay eery about a thyng.

Circumpauo, uui, ire, to strike and beate about.

Circumpeo, lochate awapting at their maistres by the ope. Also footemen of pyrois.

Circumplexor, exus sum, ecti, to embrace or clippe about.

Circumplexus, us, m. g. embracing or clipping aboute.

Circumplico, ui, or aui, are, to folde by, to rolle or wynde about.

Circumpono, sui, ere, to lase, or put about.

Circumportatio, onis, f. g. a banquette, and seating one with an other, a quaffing round about the table.

Circumspicuo, a, um, that mai be beholde on all partes.

Circumcelliones, tauerne haunters, or roblers

aboute.

Circumcidaneus, a, um, cut rounde about.

Circumcidaneum mustum, or Circumciditium vinum, wyne, whiche after the grapes are pressed, is taken out of the same grapes, being cut and newe pressed.

Circucido, cidi, ere, to cut about a thyng, to cut or take awate, to dymyssh.

Vinum in toto circucidendu est, wyne must all together be taken from hym, or he must be kept that he drynke no wyne at all.

Circucidere atq amputare alicunde, to dy-uynish or take awate from any thyng.

Circucingo, cingi, ere, to compasse or enuyon.

Circucirca, all about, on euery syde.

Circucifere, an aduerbe, by selfe, puttyng away

all superfluities.

Circucifere agere, to make an oration grosse ly and by selfe, without eloquence.

Circucifio, onis, circucifio.

Circucilius, a, um, of that wyche is cutte rounde about.

Circucifura, x, f. g. a cutte of gaske rounde a-boute a thyng.

Circucifum & breue, shorte and byse.

Circucifus, a, um, cut round about, circucifess.

Circucifa omni negotiosis cogitatione, put-tyng awate or lasinge albe all cogitations of any busynesse.

Circuciendo, idem quod circuciendo.

Circuciendo, li, ere, to inclose in rounde about.

Circucclusus, a, um, shutte and closed in.

Circucolo, colui, ere, to dwell aboute a place.

Circucolumnium, a place set about with pyl-lars, or an house standyng onely on pylours or postes.

Circuculco, aui, are, to treade a thyng downe on euery parte.

Circucurro, curri, ere, to renne all about in e-uery place.

Circucurro, aui, are, to renne byther and thye-

ther.

Omnia iam circucursau, I haue ranne as about in euery corner.

Circundo, didi, are, to enuyonne or compasse

aboute, as a ryge dooth aboute a mannes spnger, or a dyche aboute a close, or a trench aboute a campe.

Quinis castris opidum circundedit, he besieged

sieged the towne about with star rampes.

Circundedit noua mania oppido, he newe walled the towne about.

Vltis circundare aliquem, to embrace one.

Argenium auro circundare, to gyte syluer.

Arma humeris circundare, to put on harness to arme a man.

Circundolo, lau, lare, to boye all about.

Circunduco, uxi, ere, to leade about, to deceiue or begyle. It is also to abolyshe or sette asyde an acte.

Quod sit qui edictum peremptorium im-petrauit, absit die cognitionis: tunc circun-ducendum erit edictum peremptorium: And if he that hath obteyned the peremptory de-crete, bee absent the daye, when the matter shoulde be determyned: than the peremptory decree is to be dissolued and abolysed.

Circunducere aliquem argento, to get ones money by falschod, to begyle one of his money.

Circunducere aliquem per dolos, to deceiue

one by cautels or fraude.

Circum per familias, he goeth about from house to house.

Circunductio, onis, f. g. deceyte, gyle.

Circunductus, a, um, lead aboute, begyled, as bolysed.

Circunfero, tuli, ferre, to caste or beare aboute.

also to clense.

Item ter socios, pura circuntulit vnda, Also he clensed his company the tymes with cleane water. Circunferre se, to go byagging about the strettes.

Circunferre oculos, to lonke rounde aboute,

to caste ones eyes on euery syde.

He quarela primum domos nobilium cir-cunlati sunt, These complayntes were fyrst caried about & reported at noble mens houses.

Circunfert fama, the byte of fame carrieth it abrode.

Ad nutum aliorum circunferri, to bee inclined now to one thyng, now to an other at the wyll of other men.

Circunfirmo, aui, are, to strengthen, stape, and underset on euery syde.

Circunfecto, xi, ere, to toune byther and thye-ther, to toune about.

Circunflexus, us, a bowyng or bendyng of a thyng rounde.

Circunflexus, a, um, bowed rounde, toune-

d aboute.

Circunflo, aui, are, to blowe rounde aboute, to blowe byther and thither.

Circunflati a uentis inuidia, to be tossed with enuius and inuidious repoytes.

Circunfluo, fluxi, ere, to abounde. It is also to flowe ouer anye aboute, as water aboute a cette of countrey, sometime to enuyonne, or compasse. Also to resorte to a place in great numbre out of all partes.

Postquam varia gentes vndiq circunfluxe-runt, After that diuers people had in great numbre resorted thither, out of all countreys thereabout.

Tanta ceruorum multitudo nos circunfluit xit, So greates a myltitude of hartes came aboute vs.

Copis omnibus circunfluere, to haue plentie and abundance of all thynges.

Circunfluo, a, um, that floweth about.

Circunfodio, fodi, fodere, to bygge aboute

a thyng.

Circunforaneus, ei, m. g. a wanderer aboute in markettes, spendyng the tyme idly, to tello and here newes. One that goeth about to bye and sell in markettes, as it were a pedlar.

Circunforaneus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Circunforaneum xs, monete lent for gaynes,

as common buyers doo.

Circunforo, aui, are, to make holes rounde about a thyng.

Circunfosio, oris, m. g. he that diggeth about

a thyng.

Circunfosio, x, f. g. a diggynge about a thyng.

Circunfrico, aui, are, to rubbe about.

Circunfulgeo, fulsi, gere, to wyne or glyste byggt rounde about.

Circunfundo, fudi, ere, to caste water or other lycour about. Also to compasse, to gyll or stea

downe ryght on euery syde.

Circunfundere hostes, to stea enemies on all partes.

Circunfundito ad oleam, caste it aboute the olure tree.

Terram circunfundit aer, The ayre compasseth the earth rounde about.

Circunfunditur mari, It is enuyonne with the sea.

Ne circunfundatur lac, That the mylke bee not rounde.

Circunfusus, a, um, gathered aboute, as people when they desyre to see a thyng. Sometime wrapped about lyke an adder or serpent.

Vide in Bibliotheca sedentem, multis libris circunfusum, Beholde hym styng in the li-brye, hauyng great multitude of booke on euery syde about hym.

Consul multitudinem circunfusum est, The consull hath about hym a great numbre of men.

Circunfusus molestis, wrapped in muche in-ferre, heaped with many aduersities.

Circungelatus, a, um, all frozen, or frozen round

aboute.

Circungemo, gemui, ere, to wayle, to grone, to make a lamentable noyle, lyke to a beare, or or to bull after he hath belowed.

Circungesto, aui, are, to care about with ong.

Circungrobo, aui, are, to gather about a person or plate in heapes or plumpes.

Circunlaceo, ui, ere, to be situate or lyke aboute a place.

D IIII Cir

Circuncisus, us, m. g. a compassing of eny rounding about.
 Circuncisus, a, um, that is cast or situate about Circuncisus a viri loca, places lying nere about the cities.
 Circuncisus, ieci, ilcere, to cast or throw about, to set or hurle about.
 Circuncisus vallum, to cast a trench about a place.
 Circum-lambo, bi, ere, to lyke abouts.
 Circum-latus, a, um, casted about.
 Circum-ligo, aui, are, to bynde, tye, or wyappe about a thyng.
 Circum-lino, iui, ire, idem quod Circum-lino.
 Circum-linitio, onis, f. g. bouens wyng, clens yng, or polshyng.
 Circum-lino, iui, leui, or lini, linere, to annopne about, or to lape a myste thyng with the fygge of other instrument sofly.
 Circum-litus, a, um, annopned about.
 Circum-luio, onis, f. g. the flowyng of enutro: yng about of waters.
 Circum-luo, iui, ere, to washe or wete all about.
 Circum-ludo, ah, ere, to make or scrape about.
 Circum-luto, iui, ire, to share, wyappe, or inangle, as it were in a netre.
 Circum-lutus, a, um, intangled or wyapped in.
 Circum-ludo, oh, ere, to gnawe about.
 Circum-lupo, ph, ere, to clawe, scratche, frotte, or rubbe about.
 Circum-lusco, aui, are, to launce or cut about.
 Circum-lundo, scidi, icidere, to cutte about.
 Circum-luto, ph, ere, to wyle or dyawe about with a lyne: Also to deceyue one in bargaynyng with hym, to lymere, appoynt, or deceyue, to abolphe or put out of authoritee.
 Fratrem circumscripsi in diuisione hereditatis, he deceyued his brother in partition of the inheritance. Also to gather, deserue throughly, or comprehende.
 Cuius sciencia summam breuiter circumscripsi natura, Nature hath appoynted to vs a myste tyme to lyue in this wyse.
 Circumscribere alicui locum habitandi, to lymere a place where one shall dwell.
 Circumscribere seipsum, to bypple hym selfe.
 Circumscripsi iis sententias, these sentences being put out and abolpshed.
 Circumscribere aliquos testes, to put away or refuse some wytnesses as hurtfull or vnproffitable.
 Circumscribere Senatum, to take from the Senate the authoritee to determine of matters concerning the common weale.
 Parata de circumscribendo adolescente sententia, They had determined to depose the young man from the authoritee of the empire.

Circumscribere, descript, descript.
 Circumscribere dicere, to speake in a certayne numbre and measure.
 Circumscripio, onis, f. g. an abusyng of deceyuyng, a compassyng.
 Circumscripio terræ, the circuite of compass of the earth.
 Circumscripio temporis, a certayne measure of tyme.
 Circumscripor, oris, m. g. a false folowe that begyleth one of his goodes, a deceptour.
 Circumsriptus, a, um, put out, rased, abolpshed, also bylese, moyst, deceyued, abused.
 Circumsriptus oratio, a measurable oration.
 Circumsripti syllogismi, bylese syllogismes.
 Circumsecus, ui, are, to cut rounde about.
 Circumsecus, an aduerbe, on bothe sydes, rounde aboute.
 Circumsecus, fedi, ere, or Circumsideo, fedi, ere, to bessege.
 Pompeium Brundisi circumsecere, They besseged Pompeium at Brundise.
 Circumsepio, ph, ire, to hedge about, to enclose or compass in.
 Circumsero, cui, erere, to sowe or plant about a place.
 Circumsesto, onis, f. g. a bessegyng.
 Circumsestus, a, um, besseged.
 Circumsideo, fedi, ere, to bessege a citee.
 Circumsidens, qui assident vrimus alicui. vt, A quibus me circumsessum videris, whom ye see lyepryng here about me.
 Circumsigno, aui, are, to marke about.
 Circumstio, iui, ere, to stande about one, to inuade, assaile, or defende hym.
 Circumsono, ui, are, to make a sounde or noyse aboute.
 Circumspectatrix, icis, f. g. a woman that beholderth about or watcheth.
 Circumspecte, wylle, aduysedly, with consyderation.
 Circumspectio, onis, f. g. idem quod circumspectientia.
 Circumspecto, aui, are, to loke about earnestly, to looke byther and thither.
 Alius alium circumspectat, one looketh asyde on an other.
 Circumspectare rem aliquam, to vewe and consyder a thyng earnestly.
 Circumspectator, oris, m. g. one that looketh about on euery thyng.
 Circumspectus, us, m. g. a beholdyng, regaryng, or lookyng rounde about.
 Circumspectus, a, um, circumspecte, wylle, prudent, somtyme passiuely, consyded, regarded.
 Verba non circumspecta, vnadvised wordes.
 Circumspergo, spersi, ere, to cast about.
 Circumspiculis, circumspection.
 Circumspicio, xi, ere, to looke about, to vewe, consyder, and regarde diligently.

Prudentis est se circumspicere, It is a wysse mane parte to looke well aboute hym.
 Magnifice se circumspicere, to esteeme and aduance ones selfe greatly.
 Omnia circumspecte, he consydered and marked euery thyng well.
 Circumspecte omnes procellas, que imminent, Consyder pou well all the stormes that are lyke to fall ere it be longe.
 Circumspecte et prospicere, to consyder well and forsee.
 Circumstantia, æ, f. g. the circumstance or qualitee that belongeth to a thyng, as the tyme or place.
 Circumstatio, onis, a standyng rounde aboute a thyng.
 Circumstipor, aui sum, ari, to bee understette rounde about.
 Circumstio, steti, are, to stande about.
 Circumstrepo, ui, ere, to make a noyse or dynne on euery syde.
 Circumstruo, struxi, ere, to buyde about.
 Circumsudo, aui, are, to sweate or bee moyste rounde about.
 Circumsuo, iui, ere, to sowe rounde about.
 Circumtego, texti, ere, to couer all about.
 Circumtexo, texti, ere, to weaue about.
 Circumtextum, a certayne garments woven about with pourely.
 Circumtondeo, di, ere, to rounde.
 Circumtrono, ui, are, to make a noyse or sounes on euery syde.
 Circumtronus, a, um, rounded.
 Circumtremo, ui, ere, to tremble or shake round aboute.
 Circumtrudo, si, ere, to inuade or set upon on all partes. Circumtrudi vrbem terror, All the citee was in a great feare.
 Circumtrugus, a, um, that wanthyeth about.
 Circumtrullatus, a, um, trenched about.
 Circumtrullo, aui, are, to trence about.
 Circumtructio, onis, f. g. a carpyng about.
 Circumtructo, aui, are, to carpy about often.
 Circumtruo, uxi, ere, to carpy about oftentimes.
 Circumtruo, ueni, ire, to deceyue or begyle, to compass, to close in as in wortes, to oppresse.
 Circumtruo iudicio, wher iudges do condemne one by a confederacie, contrary to iustice and reason.
 Frenore circumtruentus, oppressed with vntreue.
 Vallo fossaq; circumtrueni mania, he made or cast a trence and dyche about the walles.
 Circumtruenre hostem, to inuade his enemy.
 Potentis alicuius opibus circumtruenri videsur, he seemeth to bee oppressed, or to suffer wronge by the rychesse of some great man.
 Circumtruenri per insidias, to bee deceyued by ranciles or falschode.
 Circumtruentus pecunia innocens, an innocent persone put to wrong by reason of money.

Circumtruo, aui sum, ari, to go about byther and thither.
 Circumtruo, ueni, ire, to tounne about.
 Argentum aliquem circumtruerere, to deceyue one of his money.
 Circumtruo, stui, ire, to clothe or couer about.
 Circumtruo, uini, ire, to bynd about.
 Circumtruo, si, ere, to see on euery syde.
 Circumtruo, aui, are, to fire about, to be often aboute a place.
 Circumtruo, aui, are, to fire about.
 Circumtruo, ui, ere, to rolle, folde, or tumble rounde about.
 Circumtruo, utus sum, ari, to be troubled about.
 Circumtruo, iui, ire, to go about.
 Circus, i, m. g. a runnell of citee, it was a place in Rome walled about, wher in was fighting with the fylles, and rannying with hostes. About it were sundry galleries, wher the senators and gentlemen behelde the playme. The playes byed there, were called Circenses ludi, as it were among two byes, for as muche as before there were any suche places made, as Circus was, the homely antiquitee byed those games in the open field, enuironed with ruynes and woodes, the poples bywarde, that on euery parte he that was a coward, was in danger.
 Ciris, a lark, & the name of Scythia, the daughter of kyng Rissus.
 Circea, a bolle to bypphe wyne in.
 Circeus, a, um, he that hath his heares byaded or curled.
 Cirilia, a citee of Idholes.
 Cirrhæus, the surname of Apollo, so named after that citee.
 Cirrus, us, m. g. the heare of ones hende, or feathers that doo growe on the top of a bydes head, as a lark of a hedson. Also a like thyng growyng on the herbes, whiche maye be clipped off. Also thynges lyke heares about oysters.
 Cirrocele, is a lousyng or pullyng out of theyr places of those besties, whiche do moue the bones of a man, a gathering of alle humours in the bagge.
 Cirra, a citee of Idholes.
 Cirræus, a bynde of bawme.
 Cirræus, a famous ryuer of Idholes.
 Cis, & moyme amonge coyne, wher in I suppose to be called wryple. also it signifieth on this syde, as, Cis Rhenum, on this syde the ryuer of Rhene.
 Cis Alpes, on this syde the mountaynes called Alpes. somtyme it signifieth in the.
 Cis nature leges, in as much as the lawes of nature are by nature. Also it signifieth on this syde.
 Cis Rhenum, aui intra mare nostrum & oceanum, Beyond the ryuer of Rhene, and within our sea and the ocean sea.

Cis paucos dies, within fewe daies.
 Cis undiq, in all places about.
 Cissalpine Gallia, was sometyne that countrey, whiche is from the mountaynes Alpes, unto the river of Rubicon.
 Cissamus, a citie of Candie, called now Iphidia.
 Cissaminna, a part of Itale.
 Cissanthi, a people of Serphya.
 Cissum, i. n. g. a cart with two wheles.
 Cissarius, m. g. a carter.
 Cissello, पुलि, etc. to kepe one out that he come not into an house.
 Cissius, a mountayne in Rome.
 Cissa, a river in Pontus, called Cassa.
 Cissanthemos, an herbe, whiche the apothecares do call Sigillum Marie.
 Cisseus, a kyng of Thace, father of Heruba,
 quene of Troie.
 Cissites, a pycious stone like an eye lase, bright of colour.
 Cissos, a kynd of pup that groweth alone without state.
 Cissybium, a cup or boll made of pup.
 Cista, x, f. g. a chest, coffer, or baskette.
 Cistella, x, f. g. diminutive of cistula.
 Cistella suffragiorum, a litle casket of lyke thyng, wherein the suffrages of men were gathered, in granting offices, or making lawes.
 Cistellatrix, a woman seruaunt that carrieth hie maistrasse casket of fozer.
 Cistellula, x, f. g. a diminutive of Cistella, a litle casket of fozer.
 Cistena, a citie of Colis.
 Cisterna, x, f. g. a cesterne.
 Cisterninus, a, um, of a cesterne.
 Cithus, an herbe lyke thyme, but somewhat bigger.
 Cistiter, a, um, that beareth a casket of coffer.
 Cistophorus, a certayne ancient copie, wherein was a man hauping a panyer on his heade, of the whiche 7000. and. 500. were in the talente called Talentum Euboicum. This woulde be see for Cistrophinari, in the xvii.
 booke of the digestes. Tit. depositi L. publici.
 Cistula, x, f. g. a casket of boudget, to carge
 whan one rideth or goeth.
 Cira alius, a louse bealy.
 Aluo cita est, he hath a laste.
 Citanos, one of the yles called Cyclades.
 Citani, people of Sicille.
 Citariia, a promontorie of Parbon.
 Citarim, quickelp, swyftly.
 Citatus, a, um, called, summoned, or cited, swift,
 quicke, flying.
 Citato gradu, with quicke speede.
 Citatus arteriarum pulsus, the quicke beatynge of the pulse.
 Rhenus citatus fertur, The river Rhine commeth swyftly.
 Citeria, an ymage of picture carped aboute in common sightes.

 Citerior, cicerius, neerer.
 Citerior Gallia, Lumbardy.
 Dies citerior, for proximior.
 Citharædicus, a, um, of an harper.
 Cithæron, onis, kyng of Placæ, in Grece, to whom Jupiter went to aske aduise, whan Juno in an anger was gone from hym into Boe-tia, who gaue hym counsaile to make an ymage of woode, and cladde richely in the ap-parail of a bypde, to be set in a charpot, and to publyshe among the people, that Jupiter was determyned to mary Hlata, the daughter of Atlas. As this ymage was solemnly carped, Juno inflamed with ielosity, met with the charpot, and entreng therinto, dyd rente
 the clothes and apparail aboute the ymage, and than syndynge an ymage of tree and no bypde, delpted at the inuencion, wherwith she was begyled. And tournynge hie anger into laughynge, was shortly with reconciled to Jupiter.
 Cithæron, is also an hyl in Thessaly dedicated to Bacchus.
 Cithara, x, f. g. an harpe, sometyne it is taken for musike or harmony.
 Citharista, x, m. g. he whiche only playeth on an harpe and syngeth not. It is also an angle of Fraunce by Mareille, lying out into the sea.
 Citharistria, x, f. g. a woman harper.
 Citharizo, aui, are, to harpe.
 Citharædus, i, m. g. an harper, whiche syngeth to his harpe.
 Citimus, a, um, the last, the next unto vs.
 Citissimè, as soone as is possible.
 Citium, a towne of Epyres.
 Citius, sooner.
 Citius dicto, sooner than one may speake it.
 Cito, soone, shortly, quickly, ere it be longe.
 Ite cito, iam ego vos assequar, So quickely,
 I will ouertake you by and by.
 Non cito dixerim, I can not well late.
 Cito, aui, are, to cite, to summon, or calle, to spurre or gallop shortly an hysse.
 Citare testes, to bypnyng in wytnesse, to rectife of name.
 Citare in curiam ad regem, to summon to appere in the court before the kyng.
 Citare Senatum, to calle a parliament.
 Citare iudices, to call the iudges together.
 Citare reum, to summon or calle for a persone accused.
 Citare authores, to rectife of name authours.
 Citare equum, to spurre an hysse, and gale
 topye shortly.
 Medicamentum quod humorem illum citat,
 The medicine whiche causeth the humour to gather to that place.
 Citare vrinam, to spurre the brine.
 Citare gradum, to go apace.

Cito

Citorus, a mountayne where groweth plenty of hope trees.
 Citra, on this syde, sometyne without.
 Citra adulationem, without flattery.
 Citra pulueris tactum, without any duste:
 A pymerbe applyed vnto them, whiche come to a thyng without any labour.
 Cura fastidium, without lothesomnesse.
 Cirago, inis, an herbe, commonly called balmie.
 Of the apothecaries Melyia. After Ruell-us and Carolus Stephanus, the herbe Apl-astrum is so called.
 Citreum, an orange.
 Citreus, a, um, the adiectiue.
 Citrea malus, an orange tree.
 Cirinus, a, um, of orange colour, or lyke golde.
 Citrum, i. n. g. a fruite called pome citron.
 Citrus, tri, f. g. an other maner of tree, whereof in the olde tyme were made saye tables, and coffers, as now been of cyppesse.
 Citra, a ppe, or rather an other bypde, speckled lyke a ppe.
 Citrium, a rowne of Apples.
 Citus, a, um, quicke, halpe, swyfte. Sometyne builded or parted.
 Ciucius, a, um, to the same thate ciuilis is.
 Ciuica corona, a garlande of oken leaues, be-sed to be given to hym that had caused a ciu-ilan in battayle.
 Ciuilis, le, that pertaineth to a ciuilen.
 Ciuilis homo, a man expert in those thynges that apperteyne to the ministracion of the comon weale.
 Ciuilitas, atis, cartespe, ciuillitee, gentylnesse,
 good humantee.
 Ciuiliter, lyke a ciuilen. also curtesly, or with good maner. after a ciuile fashion.
 Ciuis, is, com. g. a ciuilen, or one of the same countree.
 Ciuis meus, my countreys man.
 Ciuis, et peregrinus, contrary.
 Ciuitas, atis, f. g. a citie, properly it is the multitude of ciuilians gathered together, so lyue accordyng to lawe and righte.
 Ciuitatem administrare, to gouerne a citie.
 De ciuitate egerre, to cast out of the citie.
 Ciuitatem adimere alicui, to take frome one the freedom and righte of the citie, to disfranchise one.
 Ciuitatem amittere, to lose the libertee and franchise of the citie.
 A scribere in ciuitatem, A scribere in ciuitate, et ciuitati, to admytte one to the franchises and libertees of the citie, to make one freee of the citie.
 Consequi ciuitatem beneficio alicuius, to get the freedom of the citie by some mans benefite.
 Cius, a, um, a river in Thace, also a citie of the same name.
 Clizicus, a citie in Asia the lesse.

Clabula, looks Clauola.
 Clades, dis, f. g. a discomfiture in battayle,
 a destruction of men, losse, great im-pte and misfortune.
 Cladem accipere, to haue a great overthrow.
 Claxon, a ruier in Bithynia.
 Clam, ptiup, vnwares.
 Is amare occipit Alciumenam, clam viro, he began to loue Alciumenam vnwares to his husbnde, also by itselfe.
 Clam alter alterum, the one not knowynge of the other.
 Clam me profectus est, vnwares to me, he went his waies.
 Clam me, clam te, I or thou not knowynge.
 Clam omnes, vnwares to euery man, no ma
 knowynge of wytyng.
 Non clam me est, I knowe it well ynough.
 Non clam me habere, he woulde not hyde
 it or kepe it close from me.
 Clam vos sunt facinora eius, you knowe not his naughtie actes. His vngacious dobes ar vnknewen to you.
 Clam, an aduerbe.
 Ilac per orrum circuit clam, he went aboute that wate by the garden ptiuply.
 Si sperat fore clam, If he hope that it maye be vnknewen.
 Clamitò, aui, are, to crye often, to crye oute in complaynyng or rephending.
 Clamitare, for pra se ferre, as,
 Supercilia illa clamitare caliditatem videntur,
 Those browes seeme manifestly to signify and note a crafty wyllnesse to be in the ma Clamitor, oris, m. g. a crier, or one that speaketh ouer loud.
 Clamitorius, a, um, that pertaineth to cry-yng loud.
 Clamo, aui, are, to crye, to call.
 Clamat veritas, truthe saith playnly.
 Mihi quidem non placent, et clamo sape,
 I receiue these thynges please not me, And I crye and complayne often tymes.
 Clamare aliquem nomine, to calle one by his name.
 Clamor, oris, m. g. a crye or clamour, a noyse,
 or shout.
 Immensum clamorem tollere, to make an excedyng shout or noyse.
 Clamorus, a, um, clamorous or full of noyse.
 Clamptia, a place in Itale.
 Clancularius, a, um, secrete, vnknewen.
 Clancularius poeta, a poete that sheweth not his name in his wytynges.
 Clanculum, secrete.
 Clanculum dicta, thynges spoken in secrete.
 Clauellus, ptiup, or secrete.
 Clauellus, a, um, ptiup, or secrete.

Clans

Clandestina colloquia, private communication.
 Clango, xi, ere, to sowne a trumpet, also to crye
 lyke an eggle.
 Clangor, oris, m. g. the sowne of a trumpet.
 Sometime the crye that gese of other lyke bypbee doo make.
 Clanius, a ruere of Champagne, nere to the cletee Acheras.
 Clare, clerely, apparantly, manifestly.
 Clare audire, to here perfectly.
 Clare videre, to see clerely.
 Clareo, ui, ere, to appere, to bee well knownen, to be cleere, to bee renowned, to bee notable and famous.
 Ad primordia xstatis clarent, at the begyn-nyng of sommer they appere.
 Claret, it is manifest, it appereth.
 Claresco, idem quod clareo.
 Clarescit dies, the date is clape and cleere.
 Clarifco, au, are, to make cleere and apparant.
 Clarigano, onis, f. g. a cleeryng, a subsidie of rafae graunted by a cōmon consēt, a denouncyng of warre. It is also authoritee geuen a man, to take one prisoner. and to ransom him Clargo, au, are, to demaunde a thyng with a loude voyce. It was propely a wooybe perterynyng to the kyng of armes of the Romaynes, called Pater patratus, whan he wente to the borders of marches of theim, whiche had donen iniurie to the Romaynes, and there, with a loude and cleere voyce, demaunded of amēdes, and otherwyse he denounced and proclaimed warre agaynst theim.
 Clarifonius, a, um, that maketh a cleere towne.
 Claritas, atis, f. g. clerenesse. Sometime nobilitie of honour.
 Claritas visus, clerenesse of syght.
 Claritas vocis, clerenesse of voyce.
 Claritas et amplitudo, honoy and noblenesse.
 Excellere claritate nascendi, to excell in noble nesse of byrthe.
 Clari, people of Thare.
 Claritudo, inis, f. g. idem quod claritas, Also byrte, renowne.
 Clatium, a towne in Grece, where Apollo was honoured, and therof called Clarius.
 There was an hole in the grounde, oute of whiche came a litell brooke, wherof he that drank, gaue mercurious answers, but he lped not longe after.
 Claro, au, are, to make noble of honorable, to make notable of knownen.
 Claros, a cite in Grece, where was an oracle of Apollo.
 Clarus, a, um, cleere, loude, honourable, famous, renowned.
 Clara pugna, a battaile wryth memoie.
 Clarus clamor, clara vox, a loude cry, a loude of wyll voyce.
 Clara res, a playne matter.

Clarus genere, of a noble of honorable hous.
 Clara dies, a clape cleere date.
 Vir clarissimus, a verate honourable and noble gentill man.
 Sole clariora, thynges as manifest as maye bee possible.
 Clarus, a ruere, whiche renneth from the mostapnes Alpes into the ruere Danubium.
 Classarius, i, m. g. a man of warre on the sea.
 Also a diligēt persone.
 Classici, they whiche in a towne, were moste cyche and substantiall. Also after some, the rowers in Wyppes of warre. Also the chiefe souldiours.
 Classici auctores, wryters of most estimation Classici testes, wytnesses haupnge moste substance.
 Classicula, a diminutiue of classis.
 Classicum, i, n. g. a prale of noyse of trumpets tes of belles, to call men together, of to go to battaile. Sometime a trumpet.
 Classica nunquam sonant, The trumpettes neuer sowne.
 Classico aduocare ad concionem, to call to an assemblie of conuocation by the sowne of a trumpet.
 Classicum canere, looke Cano.
 Classicus, an officer, whiche with a trumpette of taboye called people together. Sometime a man bying in reputation.
 Classicus, a, um, pertynyng to a Wyppes of nauy
 of Wyppes.
 Classica bella, warre on the sea.
 Classis, is, f. g. a nauy of Wyppes. Sometime one Wyppes. It is also an oyer of fourmes of Rotes sette in a place, where men doo sette acordyng to their degrees, authoritees, pyroclia-ons in runnyng of substance. The people of Rome wer diuided by Seruius Tullius, the
 vi. kyng of Romayne into v. bandes, whiche were called Classes: And they of the v. band were of no value. The thye places of iudges in Westminster halle maie bee called Classes.
 Sometime Classis is a company of hoysmen.
 Appellere classē, to arriue with an armye
 of Wyppes.
 Aedificare classē, to make Wyppes.
 Qui classi praeerat, whiche was mayster of capitayne of the Wyppes.
 Armare classē, to furnyssh a nauy of Wyppes with ordynance.
 Conscendere classē, to take Wyppes.
 Comparare classē, to prepare a nauy of Wyppes.
 Ducere classē, to gouerne a nauy
 of Wyppes.
 Impellere remis classē, to rowe the Wyppes
 by force of oyes.
 Instruere et ornare classē, to decke of furnish a nauy with all abillmentes & takinges.
 Molire classē, to prepare a nauy.

Nauis

Nauis classis, the nauy sayleth forth.
 Subducere classē, to byng the Wyppes to land.
 Deducere classē, to take the sea.
 Renouare classē, to repaire a nauy.
 Stant classes, the Wyppes lye at rode.
 Primæ classis homo, one of the chiefeperones.
 Distribuire in classes pueros, to disubdichberne into certayne fourmes.
 Claterna, a cite in Italy.
 Clathrum, i, n. g. in plu. hi clathri, et hec cla-thra: of Clathrus, i, m. g. a lattise wyndow, of any thyng made lyke a lattise, of which barres called a gate. Som do wyse it Clathrum, without an aspiration.
 Clarro, au, are, to shutte a wyndowe, specially a lattise wyndowe: To close with lattise of grates.
 Claua, x, f. g. a clabbe.
 Clauam extorquere Herculi, To take from Hercules his clabbe: A prouerbe applyed to hym, that goeth about to get a thyng, that an other man hath, much stronger than hym self.
 Clauarius, ri, an officer appointed to deale the emperours gyfte of monete of coyne amonge the souldiours.
 Clauator, oris, m. g. he that blyeth a clabbe.
 Clauatus, a, um, sette with nayles of Ruddes.
 Clauata uestis, a garment sette with spangles lyke the heades of nayles, as we do now behold in som vestimentes in churches wrought in bryanches and flowers. And if the garmēt wer wyde, it was called Latus clauus, whych in Rome no man myght weare, except he wer a Senator.
 Claudia, a gentyll woman of Rome, whych for her curiosities in apparaynyng hir selfe, was infamed to be ynchast. But whan the ymage of Idea, called mother of the goddis, was brought out of Idhyppia to Rome, being carried in a barge by the ruere of Tyber, it happed to siche so fast in a Malowe place, that it mought not be removed with any force. This hapden, kneiyng down, despyed the goddesse, that as she being a cleane virgin, and falsly scaundered, the said ymage woude witfate to folowe hir in the cite. And than, she pray-tyng hir gyddell to the barge: easly drew it to the lande, whiche all the youthe of the cite were not able to doo.
 Claudia, is also a towne of Norice, called Claudium.
 Claudianus, a famous poete.
 Claudicatio, onis, f. g. halting.
 Claudico, au, are, to halte, and by a metaphore to sayle of lacke, to be saynt of imperfect.
 Claudicare in aliquo officio, to be negligent in dooyng a mans duetie, of not to doo ones full duetie in any part of honest behauiour.
 Ex aliqua parte claudicare, to lye imperfecte on some parte.

 Claudicar ingenium, the wyte sayleth, of is not perfect.
 Oratio claudicar, the oracion hepeeth not one suite tenour of fourme.
 Claudicar respublica, the common weale is in an vnperfect state.
 Claudiopolis, a cite of Cappadocia.
 Clauditas, atis, f. g. idem quod claudicatio.
 Claudium, a cite in Norice, called commonly Clotenburge.
 Claudius, the propre name of dyuers Romans:
 and also the surname of a noble familie in Rome, whiche were ever repugnaut to the actes of the common people.
 Claudio, si, ere, to shutte, to compasse, to put of,
 to halte, also to ende, to fenysh of adde a conclusion to a thyng.
 Claudite Nymphæ Diteæ, nymphæ nesmorum, I am claudite salus, Clote about, ye nymphes of the mountayns Diteæ, lades of the forestes, close in ygre woodes.
 Nuncubi meam benignitatem sensisti in te claudier? Wd you euer perceyue that my liberaltie was slacke towards you? of that I wred not my selfe liberally towards you?
 Claudere et rescare, contrary.
 Claudere aditus, to stoppe of close by the places, where men shuld entre. Also wyse, Claudere exitum, transitum, viam.
 Opus aliquod claudere, to ende a wooybe.
 Bella claudere, to fynysh the warres.
 Epistolam claudere, to ende of adde the conclusion to a letter.
 Claudere sanguinem, to stanche bloude.
 A mari claudibatur, It was compassed about with the sea.
 Pudor meus illius consuetudinem mihi claudit, My shamefastnesse woude not suffer me to vse his familiar company.
 Claudere aures, to stoppe ones eares.
 Nolo tibi vllum commodum in me claudier
 I woude not that any commoditie of yours
 shoud be hyndred by me.
 Clausum adhuc mare fuisse scio, Hitherto I know the passage of the sea hath ben stopped.
 Clausa habere sua consilia, to haue his coun-sayles kepte secret.
 Claudus, a, um, lamit.
 Claudia fides, feble credence.
 Claudena, the duchie of Cleues.
 Clauicula, x, f. g. a litle hat of clabbe, Also the endyell of a vine.
 Clauicularius, a, um, that beareth keys.
 Clauicularius, i, m. g. the diminutiue of clauus,
 Clauiger, idem quod clauicularius.
 Clauis, uis, f. g. a key.
 Sub clauis esse, to bee shutt by vnder locke and key.
 Clauis, x, f. g. a greffe.

Clauis

Claustrarius, rij, a maker of keles and lockes.
Claustrinus, a heper of a cloyster, of other place wherein any thyng is inclosed.
Claustum, i, n. g. a cloyster of other place, where any thyng is inclosed.
Regni alicuius claustru, The keye of any kyngdome.
Naturæ claustra confringere, to open the secrettes of Nature.
Clausula, æ, f. g. a littell sentence of a parte of a sentence, the conclusion of ende of an epistle of other matter, A clause, a peribde.
Clausura, æ, f. g. a shutting in.
Claulus, a diminutive of clauus, a little naple.
Clausus, i, n. g. a naple, the sterne of a shyppe, a coine on a mans toe of spnger. Also clauus Clauus itell swellinges of hard fleshe in the corner of the eye. Also a certayne swelling of soye, called of some Furunculus, of Bubo, also puffes growyng in the stemes of great trees. In harness it is called the ruerre. Also Clauus were certayn tables sette on the walles of the temple, to knowe the numbre of peres. Also ouer Clauus is a garmente, pieced of poudred with rounde knappes of purple lyke naples heades, wherfore the poppe garment of a seque was called Latue clauus.
Clauus æneus, a byason nasse, A prouerbe signifying a sure remedy agaynst all imphapses, wherfore Aelius tacit, procebed of this superstition. In old tyme, when hunters had ouerthrowen a wybe swine of harte in places where frome habitation, they dyane into the beaste a byason naple, beleupnge that thereby the fleshe should be kepte from putrefaction.
Clauum clauo peller, to dyue out one nasse with an other: A prouerbe, signifying one will so put out an other, one labour an other, one greue an other, one deceyte an other, extreme pleasure with extreme payne.
Clauum imperituer, to haue the gouernance and rule of the common weale.
Dum clauum rectum teneam, so that I doo my duety as I should doo.
Clazomenæ, a citee of Jonie, whiche Daralus builded, called before Bepnia.
Clazomenia, an plande, whiche is called Marathusa.
Cleanthes, the name of a noble philosopher, whiche was so poore, that in the nyghte tyme he gatte his thyngs by carying of water, and in the daye studied philosophy. He succeeded Zeno in his schole.
Clearchus, the name of a philosopher. There was a noble capitayne of the same name, of whom Xenophon writeth in the expedition of Cyrus the lesse he wrote those thyngs which he learned of Zeno in oxe bones, and tyle Mar deo, for lacke of money to buye paper.
Clemæus, tidis, f. g. called also Chamedaphnis an herbe, wherof be. it. kyndes, the one Persuincia, in englyshe perwynthe: the other Volubilis maior.

Clemens, entis, om. g. gentill, humane, patient, not lyghly angry, easy, quiete, soft, mercifull.
Clemens castigatio, a gentill and moderate correction.
Amnis clementissimus, a ryuer that remeth not ouer swifely, but is beate quiet & still.
Clemens seruitus, an easy bondage, wherein a man is gentilly intreated.
Clementi animo ignoscere, to forgyue with a gentill and mercifull mynde.
Clementer, mercifull, gentilly, without anger, with temperatnesse and moderation.
Clementer tractare, to intreate gentilly & sweetely.
Clementer volo, I am well content.
Clementer audire, to here gentilly & patiently.
Clementer ambulare, to walke softly.
Clementia, æ, f. g. mercy. Sometime patience, clemencie, temperatnesse.
Clementia æstatis, the temperatnesse of sommer not exceeding in heate.
Clementia hyemis, the quyetnesse of wynter without grent noymes of colde.
Confugere ad clementiam alicuius, to flee of appeale to a mans mercy of gentynesse.
Clementia et lenitas.
Clementia, mansuetudo, et huminitas.
Clena, a clothe.
Cleobis, and Biton, the sonnes of Regia, whiche drew their mother to the temple in a wagen.
Cleobulus, one of the seven sages of Grece, whose daughter called Cleobulina, was an excellent poete, and made a booke of riddelles, conteyned in thre thousande verses.
Cleodamas, the name of a geometritician in the tyme of Plato, and of an other of Thebais, whiche wrote of housekeeping.
Cleombrotus, the sonne of Pausanias, capytayne of the Lacedemonians. Also a pong mæ whiche after he had rebde Platos woordes, conceyued suche an hope of immortalitye of the soule, that he lepte into the sea, not withstanding he had no misfortune in all his lyfe.
Cleomedes, a wrestler of exceeding strengthe & greatnesse of body, who being put besyde the pryce at the games of Olympus, fell madde.
Cleomenes, a capitayne of the Lacedemonians, and a sportous person in the tyme of Cleero and Cleeres.
Cleon, a capitayne of the Atheniens, enemye to Alcibiades: also a poete and oratoure of the same name.
Cleone, arum, plur. & Cleone, sing. a towne in Grece, betwene Argos and Corinthus, where Hercules stee a lyon.
Cleongus, a, um, of Cleonæ.

Cleo:

Cleopatra, the name of dyghe greute ladies, specially quene of Egypte. Of whom one calling in pleasantnesse and Marrynesse of wile, spyle allured vnto his Julius Cesar, after ward Marcus Antonius companion in the empire with Augustus, whom she brought in to such doage, that in folowynge her appetit, he aspyred vnto the whole empire, wherfore he was afterward destroyed by Augustus. This woman so exceded in sumptuous gluttonye, that she puttyng an excellent perle into tarte vineger, wherein beyng resolved: she receyued it into her body, the perle beinge clemmed at Centes. Hæ. whiche is of oure monete, 50000. li. This lady after the death of Antonius, inclosed her selfe in a tumber, being on lyue, and haung two serpentes suchyng at her pappes so dyed.
Cleopatra, a capitayne of Corinth.
Cleophrantus, a famous physician. also a counnyng peynter of Corinth.
Cleophon, a tragickall poete of Athens.
Cleophrastus, an auncient philosopher, whiche was the first that wrote of the celestial figures.
Clepos, here, to keale.
Rapere et clepere, to robbe and keale.
Clepsydra, æ, f. g. a dyall, whiche diuided the houres by the runnyng of a certayne measure of water, muche lyke to an houre glasse. It maye be used for a potte to water a gardeyne with. It was also the name of a fountayne in Athens.
Cleronomia, heritage.
Cleronomos, an heyre.
Clerus, cleri, m. g. circumflexa prima syllaba, fortune, chaunce, lotte. It is taken for a certayne measure of lande. Also a wyome, whiche destroyeth and hureth honny combes.
Clerus, acuto in sine, one that is chosen by lot, a deacon.
Clibanarius, he that fighteth in tustyng harness.
Clibanitus, a, um, baken or sodden in an oven or foynage.
Clibanus, i, m. g. an oven or foynage.
Chiduchus, idem quod clauiger.
Clens, entis, m. g. to he that belongeth of resyneth to som man in authorites, to haue his defence and assistance in honest causes. It is also he, whiche hath retayned a lawyer to susteyne his matter, called a client.
Clienta, æ, f. g. a woman client.
Commendare se in clientelam alicuius, to be retained, or to committe ones selfe to be vnder the protection of some great man.
Clientela, æ, f. g. the multitude of clientis, or of seruantes receyued. Sometime safeguard or protection of a great man.
Clientellaris, re, of a client.
Clientellaris officij sponso, The homage that the clientis make to their recepyutors.

Clientularium, an yeryl see, for countre of assistance.
Clima, aris, n. g. is a poeison of the wynde betwene south and north, wherein is variation of tyme in the lengthe of the daye, the space of halfe an houre, whiche is sette out in the tables and chartes of Anomographie.
Climacter, æris, the rounde of step of a ladder.
Climactera, the perillous tyme of a mans lyfe, at euery. viij. peres ende, or after other at the 63. peres ende, at whiche tyme he is in daunger of some great misfortune and perill, either in body or mynde.
Climactericus, a, um, of or perrepyng to the perillous tyme of a mans lyfe at euery. viij. peres ende.
Climactericum tempus, the fated daungerous tyme.
Climax, acis, f. g. a ladder, and the figure called Bradacion. also the name of an hill.
Clinamen, inis, n. g. a deapnyng of bowyng.
Cline, es, f. g. a bedde of a table.
Clingo, gere, olde wyrttes used for Cingere, to gyde.
Clinias, a certayne philosopher of Pythagoras sect. also a musician.
Clinice, es, f. g. the art of physike that healeth by dyete and medicines.
Clinicus, a physician that healeth with medicines, of that cometh to a mans bed to visite hym. also he that is so sicke that he can not aspye out of his bedde, beddyed.
Clinidium, a lytell bedde.
Clinio, aui, are, to bende or inclyne, out of vse.
Clinopale, wadyng in the brde.
Clinopodium, the herbe whiche is called Puleiole mountayne.
Clio, the name of one of the muses.
Clipea, a towne in the lesse Asie, called also Clupea, and Clypea, commonly Quipia.
Clis, declinacion.
Clitarchus, an hystoriographer, that was with great Alexander, and wrote his actes.
Clitellæ, arum, f. g. plur. a packe saddle, also the name of a place in Rome.
Clitellæ boui imposuere iunt, A packe saddle on a cowe. A prouerbe wyng a man as vameys for an office, edume, or dignites, as a cowe to begre a saddle.
Clitellari, packe horse of mules that do serue for cariage.
Clitellarius, a, um, that beareth a packe saddle.
Cliterni, the cullions of bones of a man.
Cliternia, a towne in Italy, by the mountayne Garganus, called commonly Celano.
Clitomachus, the name of a philosopher. also of a notable wyrtler, wherby was of suche chaustice, that if he heard in companye any falshe wyrd spoken: he would forthwith rise from the table and departe.

Clito:

toigne booydes together.
 Coaitis, people of India, where bee trees so hgh, that a man can not Moote to the toppes.
 Coaugmento, idem quod coagmenro.
 Coxario, onis, f. g. idem quod coasario, toignyng woojke o: fleepng with booydes.
 Coaxo, aui, are, idem quod coaslo. Also to make a noyle lyke a frogge o: tode.
 Cocalus, a kynge of Sicile, to whom Dedalus fledde out of Creta, whan Adinos purchased hym.
 Cocanicus, a eyner in Sicille, whereof a cererapne kynde of salte is called Cocanicus.
 Coccalus, a pyne appull.
 Cocerum, a meate made of hong & popp sebs.
 Coccina, a scarlet vesture.
 Coccinatus, a, um, that wereth a scarlet gown.
 Coccinus, and Coccus, scarletie colour, some suppose it to bee crimson.
 Coccinus, et Coccineus, a, um, of scarletie colour.
 Coccus baphice, idem quod Coccum.
 Coccum, ci, n. g. grapne, wherewith clothe is grayned. It is sometyne vsed for a garment of that colour.
 Coccum cnidium, a bearpelyke to myttis:
 blacke and harde without, & within white,
 the herbe wherof some doo call Thymalea,
 some Oliuella, some Leo terra, some Linum Sylueitre. The beerp is medicinable to purge choler, water, and fleume. Some authoys doo call it Granum cnidium.
 Cochlacæ, certayne stones.
 Cochlea, æ, f. g. a snayle, haupng a shell, o:
 the shell of a snayle. also a fyme called a perwnyke. Also the vice o: woumene of a pyssle.
 It is also a kynd of pumpe, wherewith water is drawen by goyng in a whele. also a facion of booyes.
 Cochleare, uel Cochlear, aris, n. g. a spoone.
 It is also a measure concepyng .iij. diamtres, and one scruple, and the fourthie parte of Lyrathus.
 Cochlearium, ri, n. g. a place where snayles are kepte.
 Cochlearium medicum, seu atticum, conteineth one diamme, halfe a scruple. .ii. grates, and .ii. fine partes of a grapne in measure:
 In weyght of wyne, as muche, of oyle one diamme, and .ii. scruples.
 Cochleum, a wyndyng stappe.
 Cochlidium, idem.
 Cochlides, wyndyng stappes. also a stone found in Eirabie, whiche beyng boyled. vii. days and as many nyghtes in honpe, and all the earthen taken from it, it is made wonderfull pleasant in syght, haupng veynes and spots of sundry coloure, and is so greate, that sometyne thereof is made hoyle harness for knynges.

Cocles, iis, com. g. he. o: the that hath but one eye.
 Cocles, a Roman, whiche at the sieg of Rome kepte backe Boylena and all his armye, till the bydge was broken behynde hym.
 Cocnithum, a great pmonotoy in Italy.
 Coctibilis, le, easy to be sodden.
 Coctia, a part of the mountayns Alpes.
 Coctilis, le, sodden o: baked.
 Coctilia vasa, earthen pottes.
 Coctio, onis, f. g. a seethyng o: boylng.
 Coctionem facere, to concoct o: digeste the meate in the stomache.
 Coctiro, aui, are, to boyle o: seethe.
 Coctius, a, um, easy to be boyled o: soone rype.
 Coctua poma, appuls soone rype.
 Coctona, looke Cotona.
 Coctronum, cotton.
 Coctor, oris, m. g. one that seetheth. also a specious person, that spendeth all that he hath in eatyng and drynyng.
 Coctura, æ, idem quod Coctio. also the tem-peratenesse of the ayre.
 Coctus, a, um, sodden boyled.
 Coculum, a potte to boyle in, a pphym. sometyne Cocula, doo signifie stiches, which well
 soone bee on fyre.
 Cocus, ci, m. g. a cooke.
 Cocytia, faretices that were dooen in honouof Proserpine.
 Cocytus, a, f. g. a river of helle.
 Coda, a taple, vied of olde wyters.
 Codanonia, an yle of Germanie.
 Codanus, a goulfe in Germanie, aboue the ryuer Elbe, haupng many plandes in it.
 Codarremula, a byrde called a wagstaple.
 Codeta, a flosse by Tyber.
 Codex, icis, m. g. the body of a tree, o: a great booke o: volume.
 Codex robustus, a kynd of punnymene, o:
 a place where misdoers were punnyed.
 Codex accepti et expensi, a rekenyng boke.
 Cartaceus codex, a paper booke.
 Codicarius a, um, that is made of the body of a tree, o: of thicke plankes.
 Codicarie naues, shippes o: barges made of thyche plankes.
 Codicillaris, re, the adiectiue of Codicilli.
 Codicillaris potestas, authoities granted by the knynges letters.
 Codicilli, orum, m. g. plu. epistles. sometyms
 it is taken for letters patentes of a pynce.
 Codicillus, li, m. g. a lictell booke. also a letter mistus.
 Codiculus, a diminutiue of Codex, when it signifyeth a booke.
 Codion, a kynde of lettyse.
 Codones, saunce belles.
 Codonophori, they that go before with belles ryngyng in theyr handes.

Codrus, dri, the proper name of a kynge of Athens, who to save his cuntry, willingly lost his lyfe. Also a very poore man, whose name is growen to a pnysser.
 + Codro pauperior, poorer than Codrus.
 Coea, of Polician is vsed for Coa, of the yle of Cos.
 Coele, a name of Syria.
 Coeliacus morbus, a peyne in the belly, with a continual fast, byuers in colour, with losse of appetite, and coldnesse in the extreme par-tes, whiche sicknesses happeneth of the feeble-nesse of vertue digestiue in the stomache and belly. Some suppose it to be that, whiche is called Colica passio, I thinke it rather to be Lienteria ventriculi. Reade in Lienteria.
 Coeliacus, i, m. g. he that hath that disease.
 Coelbaris hasta, the staffe of a sauleyn, whiche had be in the body of one of them, which wee called Gladiatores, and was slayne: with the whiche staffe the head of a mardyn newe maried was kempt, and stricken, signifying, that he was as the staffe had speked false in the bodye of hym that was slayne. so shoulde the stiche fast, and be logned with hym that maried hym.
 Coelostoma, the pnysser low in the mouth.
 Coeloma, aris, is a rounde and holowe soze about the circle of the eye, ngyth to the syght.
 Coelum, looke Caelum.
 Coelos, an hausen of Thracia.
 Coemba, a citee of Ethiopia, called nowe Lambata.
 Coementum, looke Cæmentum.
 Coemeterium, a churchyard.
 Coemo, emi, ere, to bye, to bye with other.
 Coemptio, onis, f. g. where two o: mo persones dooe bye together. Also a solemnitee of the lawe ciuile, where the man and the woman by mutuell consent come together, and (as it were) one byeth the other.
 Coena, æ, f. g. a supper. sometyms the place,
 where men suppe.
 Caput coenæ, the begynnyng of supper, o:
 the first dyshe that men doo eate of.
 Coena nitida et frugi, a cleany supper, and of smalle cosse.
 Adducere ad coenam, to byngne to suppe.
 Irare ad coenas, to bye to go aboode to suppers.
 Inuitare ad coenam, to bydde to suppe.
 Inter coenam, at supper tyme.
 Super coenam, immediately after supper.
 Accipere aliquem coena, and Adhibere coena, to take one to supper as his guest.
 Apparare coenam, to make ready supper.
 Apponere coenam, to sette the supper on the table.
 Præbere, o: dare coenam. senis ferculis, to make a supper that shall not haue passe. vi.
 dysshes.

Recta coena, a set supper, contrary to Spora-nia, whiche is put as it were for a disorderly smalle allowance.
 Coena opima, a plentyfull supper.
 Coena dubia, a supper where be many dysshes
 dysshes.
 Coenacularia, æ, f. g. the tynnyng to bype of cot-lars of upper chambers.
 Coenacularium ficere, to leat an house in di-uers partes to sundry persons, wherein as many upper roomes.
 Coenacularius, ri, m. g. he that dothe leat su-
 the houses to bype.
 Coenaculum, li, n. g. a parlour o: ocher place, where men doo suppe. also a chamber in the upper parte of the house.
 Coenaculum meritorium, a chaumbye sette out to bype.
 Coenaticus, a, um, pertynyng to suppers.
 Apparatus coenaticus, ordynance for supper.
 Sermo coenaticus, communication mete for suppers.
 Coenatio, onis, f. g. a lower parlour to suppe
 in, a somer parlour.
 Coenatiuncula, æ, f. g. a lictell drynyng house
 o: chamber.
 Coenatorium, ri, n. g. a garment to sette as suppe in.
 Coenatorius, a, um, belongyng to supper.
 Coenaturio, i, ire, to haue a luste o: desyre to go to supper.
 Coenatus, a, um, that hath supped.
 Coenato mihi, epistola est illa reddita, whan
 I hadde supped, that letter was deliuered to me.
 Cum illa munera inspexisset coenatus, whan he had looked vpon those pyntes, after he had supped.
 Coenipeta, a goer aboode to suppers aboode.
 Coenito, aui, are, to suppe often.
 Coenitare foris, to bye to suppe aboode.
 Coeno, aui, are, to suppe.
 Coenare alienum, to suppe at an ocher mans cosse.
 Coenabis hodie magnum malum, Thou shalt haue thy supper dysshes in thy wyde cosse.
 Coenare herbas, and Coenare colus, to suppe with herbes.
 Pulmenta coenare, to suppe with porrage.
 Coenobium, bi, n. g. a monastery o: ocher place where men lyue in common.
 Coenoged, the citee of Lubimbargh in Germanie.
 Coenosus, the name of an hawen.
 Coenosus, a, um, full of myre, dyshte.
 Coenula, æ, a lictell supper.
 Coenum, i, m. g. o: dyshe, and by a metaphore,
 dysshes, vntelgued, vntelgued.
 In tenebris et coeno volui, to leade a lyfe and dryng lyfe.
 Coepio, was blyd ambrige olde wyters for ii

Incipio, to begynne.
 Capta, orum, thynges of matters begunne.
 Capto, aui, are, to begynne.
 Capere rebellionem, to begynne a rebellion.
 Caprum, i, n. g. an enterpryse, or begynnyng.
 Tardia capri capere, to waxe weery of that, that one hath begunne.
 Desistere capro, to cease of an enterpryse.
 Tenere capta, to go forwarde with that one hath begunne.
 Capus, us, m. g. idem quod caput.
 Capus sum, for Caput.
 Minus haberi capus est postea, he beganne after to be lesse esteemed.
 Capus, a, um, begunne.
 Opus caput perficere, to make an ende of the thyng that is begunne.
 His capis, after these thynges were begun.
 Capulonus, a banketter, or reuelar.
 Carus, us, m. g. an assemblie of people, a consension, a congregation. Sometime in Lucretius a uniting and coupling to gether of the parties of a mans body, with the humors, spirits, and all thynges, wherof the body is compact.
 Coeo, iui, ire, to come together, to assemble, to toigne to, to drawe together, to gather together, to dooe the act of generation, to fornye together in action by manynesse or chameptie. Coire in fœdera, to make alliances.
 Coire societatem, to be familiar.
 Coit vulnus, the wounde closeth.
 Coire in densitatem, to waxe thicke.
 Societatem periculi coire, to venture the perill of daunger of a thyng with an other.
 Coire in accusationem alicuius, to subscribe or agree to the accusation of any person.
 Coequito, aui, are, to ride together, side by side.
 Coerceo, ui, ere, to restrayne, to bynde hard or straight, to compelle or constrainne, to keepe within a compasse, also to comprehend or containe, to correcte or punishe, to sette a thyng to bee doone, to keepe vnder subiection.
 Coercere ignes, to tynde the fyre, whiche burneth an house or other lke thyng.
 Coercere iras hominum, to restrayne or keepe vnder the wraethe of people.
 Coercere & refrenare.
 Coercere et reprimere.
 Cupiditatem coercere, to restrayne the appetitie.
 Coercere suppliciis et verberibus, to punishe or chastise.
 Morre, exilio, vinculis coercere, to punishe by death, exile, or imprisonment.
 Alterum sequi, alterum vitare coercemur, we are constrained to folowe the one, and to eschue the other.
 Mundus omnia complexu suo coercet & cōsinit, the world in the compasse thereof comprehendeth and containeth all thynges.

 Vitra coercer capillos, the syllette bounde by the heares.
 Carcere coercere animalia, to keepe beastes in houses, whiche naturally woulde be abrode.
 Coercius, a, um, constrained, compelled, kept in Coercitio, onis, a restreyn, or keepyn in subiection.
 Coercitio, onis, or Coercitio, idem.
 Cæus, the name of a gygant.
 Coexercitatus, a, um, exercised together.
 Cogitabilis, le, that maye be thought on.
 Cogitabundus, full of musyng.
 Cogitare, aduisedly, with good imagination.
 Cogitare verba facere, to speake aduisedly.
 Accurate & cogitare scribere, to write diligently and with meditation.
 Cogitatio, and Cogitatio, idem quod Cogitare.
 Cogitatio, onis, f. g. a thoughte, a deupse or imagination.
 Abicere cogitationem in rem vilem, to cast a mannes thoughte or imagination vpon a vile matter.
 Auertere cogitationem, to toune awaye a man's imagination from a thyng.
 Complecti cogitatione, to comprehend in a mans mynde or imagination.
 Spe tamen deducbar ad istam cogitationem, yet by hope I was broughte to thynke this, or to haue this imagination.
 Fingere nobis aliquid cogitatione, to imagine with our selfe, that a thyng is as we woulde haue it.
 Sepe in istam cogitationem incidimus, we chaunce often to thynke on this matter, or after this sorte.
 Cogitatum, ti, n. g. a thyng deuised, thought on, and imagined in ones mynde.
 Cogitatus, a, um, intended, purposed, thought vpon.
 Paricidium cogitatum, non perfectum, A murder intended and not doone.
 Cogito, aui, are, to thynke, to imagine, to cast in ones mynde, to consult with ones selfe, to intend or purpose.
 Cogitare curas, he thynketh on his matters.
 Tam sum irritatus, vt nequeam animum ad cogitandum instituere, I am so moued, that I can not sette my mynde to imagine or muse on any thyng.
 Cogitare cum animo suo, or in animo, to imagine in ones mynde.
 Cogites hic tecum, Thynke on these matters with your selfe.
 Cogitare suspensum, to thynke to hange ones selfe.
 Cæpi egomet mecum aliam rem ex alia cogitare, I began to muse or thynke on one thyng after an other.

Cogi-

Cogitare de aliquo, to haue one in somethyng.
 De pernicie alleuius cogitare, to deuise or imagine a mannes destruction by death.
 Cogito in Tusculum, I thoughte to go to my place at Tusculum.
 Ego hinc percede mane cogito, the next day sayng one I intende to departe hence, easily in the mornynge.
 Cras cogitabat, discedere.
 Qui alteri cogitat nocere, he that intendeth or endeuoureth to hurt an other.
 Cognati, orum, m. g. kynnesmen.
 Cognatio, onis, f. g. a kynred.
 Cognatione iunctus alicui, or cum aliquo, kynne to one.
 Cognatus, a, um, kynne: also lke, agreeing, almost of the same nature.
 Cognitio, onis, f. g. a knowlage, sometyme it signifyeth iudgement.
 Quæ lex earum rerum, quas Cæsar statuisse, decreuisset, egisset, Consulibus cognitionem dedit, whiche lawe gave to the consules iudgement of those thynges, whiche Cæsar shoulde haue iudged, decreed, and executed.
 Dies cognitionis, the daye of appaurance in court, or the daye appoynted by the iudge, when the matter shall be herde.
 Subtinere cognitionem, to allowe a mans excuse for none appaurance.
 Cognitor, oris, m. g. an attourney or proctour in the lawe.
 Cognitus, a, um, knowne.
 Habere aliquid cognitum, to haue knowledge of a thyng.
 Cognobilis, le, idem.
 Cognomen, nis, n. g. a surname whiche a man hath of his auncestours, or by some other chaunce.
 Cognomentum, ti, n. g. a name purchased by some chaunce, or great acte done, a by name besides ones owne name. And Cognomen signifyeth the same, and not the surname, but in dede a surname.
 Cognominis, inis, com. g. he that hath the same surname.
 Cognominatus, a, um, surnamed.
 Cognomino, aui, are, to geue a surname.
 Cognosco, noui, scire, to knowe, to confesse diligently, to perceue, to vnderstande, to lke with a woman, to iudge a matter, to here a matter to iudge it.
 Perspicere et cognoscere rerum naturam, to perceue thynghes, and knowe the nature of thynges.
 Cognoscere loco Augusti. &c. As he was decerned by the place called forum Augusti.
 Ibi cognoscere Clodium, There he was in examination of Clodius death.

 Domitius claudius cognouerat, he learned the claud lawe at home.
 Cognoscere instrumenta, amonge the lawiers, to reade ouer diligently the instrumentes and wytynges.
 Qualis natura moris esset, qui cognosceret, misse, he sent forth certayn, whiche shulde vewe and confesse the nature of the byll.
 Cognosce ex amicorum litteris, I vnderstande by my frendes letters.
 Hominem prudentem cognosces, et digni qui a te diligatur, you shall perceiue hym to be a wise man, and worthy to be loued of you.
 Quas res gesserit, cognoscite, what actes he hath done, here you of me diligently.
 Cogo, egi, ere, to constrainne, to gather together, to mpyke a beast, to make lkeone thicke by herde, to presse, to set or bynde in order.
 Cogere in arcum, to keepe one straight, or from his libertie.
 Cogere in ordinem, to abate ones pryde, or to make one to be content with his owne condition, or not to be singular, or exceed other.
 Cogere oues, to put by the shepe into the stable or folde.
 Quasi talenta ad quindecim coegi, I haue gathered together about fiftene talents.
 Vndiq; auxilia cogere, to gather ayde and succours from all parties.
 In vnum locum cogere exercitum, to bynde an armie together into one place.
 Cogere Senatum, to assemble or call a parliament.
 Cogere vi et minis, to compel with force and manasseynges.
 Vis ventorum in portum naues coegit, the force of wyndes byoue the shippes in to the haven.
 Cogialiquo, to be bypurn or constrained to go any whither.
 Verba cogere in pedes, to make verses.
 In nubes cogitur aer concretus, the ayre being congeled and made thicke, is gathered into cloudes.
 Cogere cuneos, to beate or bynde in wedges.
 Cohærens, ti, m. g. a topnetenace, one that is coupled or togeden with an other in a matter.
 Cohærentia, ti, f. g. a fastnyng or hangynge of thynges together.
 Cohæreo, hæsi, ere, to be togeden, to be familiar together, or to cleue to a thyng.
 Non cohæret, the matters hang not together.
 Vix cohæret oratio, the oracion hangeth hardly one pece with an other.
 Non cohæret sermo, this tale is not to the purpouse, or hangeth not together.
 Cohærentia inter se dicere, to speake thynges agreeable to the purpouse, and hangynge well together.

P lii

Cohæ-

Cohære dicuntur aliqui, when they cleave together, and lous eche other heretelp.
Cohæres, redis, com g. oone that is topned with an other in inheritaunce.
Cohæresco, scere, idem, quod Cohæreo,
Cohibeo, ui, ere, to retyne oʒ kepe to hym selfe to refrayne, to kepe of, to let, to refrayne, to kepe one thyte.
Cohibere filium, to kepe under his sonne.
Cohibere intra limitem, kepe you within the doores.
Cohibere se, to moderate hym selfe, oʒ to refrayne.
Sydera in se cohærent nitorem, the sterres reepte and haue in them selues a certayne brightnesse.
Venti cohæbentur in antris, The windes are fastened and kepte in their denues.
Cohibere iracundiam, to reppesse and moderate ones anger.
Libidines effrenatas a coniugibus aliorum cohibere, to refrayne from aduouerie.
Cohibere manus, oculos, animum, not to steale, wylhe oʒ desyre other mennes goodes.
Cohibere pari feruente fisci et ararium, to vsurpe diligence and foweritee in prouydng, that neyther the elchique, nor the common treasure encrease ouer muche by fees, oʒ extraordynarie payementes.
Cohibent pugnae leges, the lawes forbyd to fpyghte.
Cohibito, onis, f. g. a lettynge, restreynete oʒ forbyddng to do a thyng.
Cohibitus, a, um, let, refrayned, restrained.
Cohoneto, aui, are, to honour, to commend oʒ make more honourable.
Cohonestare alicuius uictoriam, to make a mans victorie more honorable.
Cohorreo, uel cohorresco, ui, ere, to be in great honour and feare, so that he trembleth oʒ chylleth for feare.
Quem ut agnouit, equidem cohorruui, whom as sone as I knewe, I was in such feare, that I trembled.
Ex quo cum cohorruisset, &c. By whiche occasion, oʒ after whiche tyme, when he had taken a colde, and his boode begonne to be chyll.
Cohors, is, f. g. a compaigne of men of warre. There were in euery legyoun Cohortes. But the fpythe excelled the residue, as well in premyence, as multitude. Therein was the Romayne chiefe bannar, wherein was peynted the Egle. The capitayn of that compaigne called Centurio, was of more reputation than any other Centurio, for in that compaigne requyred to be men of good bypth, well learned, and of valiaunce courage. Also the capitayne wise, valiaunt, stronge in armes, and polypthe in leddyng. In that compaigne were. 1103. footemen. 142. men of armes, and was called Cohors miliaria, the second Cohors had. 555. foremen, and. 66. men of armes. The thyrde had as many footemen, and bat. 56. men of armes, but therein were the strongest men, because it was sette in the myddes of the battayle. The fourth had the number of footemen and. 66. men of armes. The fpythe had as many footemen and hysmen, but therein were chosen men, for as the fpythe bende was on the ryghte wyng of the battayle: soo the fpythe was on the lefte wyng. for sune Cohortes oʒ bendes, made the fpythe battayle, the other sune had equal numbry, euery of them with the sated fourth and fpythe bende, so that these tenn bendes made up a legyon, conserpyng. 6100. footemen, and. 730. men of armes. Cohors is also taken for the domestickall compaigne of seruantes and mynyters, attendynge vpon a man of high dignitie oʒ auctoryte. And such was Cohors pratoria, that wayted on the petyour oʒ gouernour of countreys.

Cohortes conscribere, et cohortes contra here, haue one significacion, to gette to gether oʒ assemble bendes oʒ compaignes of men of warre.
Ex finimis regionibus, quas potest conserahit cohortes ex delectibus Pompeianis, Out of the countreys adioynng, he gaue bendes together of them that had ben chosen of Pompey.
Ille cohortes veteranas, quas tumultus causa conscripserat, in fronte, post eas, ceterum exercitum in subsidis locat, He byd sette in the fronte of the battayle the bendes of olde Souldyours, whiche he had gathered together, because of the sodayne commotion, behynde theim, he set the reste of the hoste for succoure, if neede were.
Cohortes complere, to make up bendes of men of warre, after the rate of the compaigne that is assembled.
Catilina ex omni copia quam et ipse adduxerat, et Manlius habuerat: duas legiones instituit, cohortes pro numero militum complet, Catilpne of all the men of armes, as well that he had broughte with hym, as also Manlius hadde there all ready: he oʒ byrned two legyons, and made up bendes accordyng to the numbry of Souldyours.
Cohors, seu cors, is, a dacton oʒ place inclosed, wherein all kynde of poultry was kepte.
Cohortalis, le, of a Barton oʒ courte.
Cohortalis gallina et Cohortalis anser, A hen oʒ gosse that feberly abyde in the Barton oʒ courte.
Cohortatio, onis, an exhortacion,
Cohortor, aris, ari, to exhorte,

Deter-

Deterere et cohortari, opposita.
Cohortari ad virtutem, to exhorte to vertue.
Cohortari inuicem, to exhorte oʒ encourage one an other.
Cohorto, was vsed of olde wyters for Cohortor.
Cohum, cohi, a thong oʒ lpyngell, wherewith the ore bowe and yoke are bounden together.
Coinquino, aui, are, to foyle oʒ flayne, also to desame a man oʒ woman.
Coinquiro, is, quirere, to serche oʒ make inqueete of a matter.
Coibilis, le, adiectiue, as,
Oratio coibilis, an oracion that gostly quickly and sounde together.
Cois, a garment of fyne fpythe.
Coitio, onis, f. g. an assemble. It is also a secrete pact oʒ agreement among men to doo some act, whiche they would not haue other men know. It may be taken for couline. Sometime the conpyng together of them that fpyght.
Einimodi pactiones in ea conione factæ, sune the conuauentes oʒ agreements were made in that conuention.
Prima coitio acerrima, The fpythe inqueete oʒ conpyng together is most fierce oʒ vehement.
Colus, us, m. g. the acte of generation.
Colitus lunæ, the eclipe of the moone.
Coix, icis, a basket. It is also a certayne kynde of oliars, haupng a leafe lyke a robe, wherewith baskettes were made at Athens.
Cola, a strapnoue.
Colaicum, a promomoxe of the plande Taaprobana.
Colaphizo, aui, are, to buffette.
Colaphus, pli, m. g. a buffette oʒ blowe on the cheeke.
Colaphum incurere, infligere, infringere, to geue a buffet.
Colapiani, people of Pannonie.
Colasis, a kynde of pumpment that is dooen for chastisement.
Colasis, the scholar of Lysippus, which made the ymage called Colossus at Rhodes. 70. cubites high.
Colax, acis, a flatterer.
Colaxes, the sonne of Tupster and Dia, whiche was slayne by Jason.
Colchi, people in Asia, wherof the countreys is of Strabo called Colchis, by the sea lyde called Ionius, where the toppes of the hill Caucasus toucheth to the mountaynes Rhipari, the one lyde bendyng to the sea Euxinum, and the fenne called Meoris, the other lyde towards the sea Caspium. In this countreys is the famous ryuer Phasis, And it was the countreys of Medea wyfe to Jason.
Colchis, is sometime a woman boyn in that countreys.
Colchiacus, and Colchicus, a, um, of Colchis.

Colchus, a, um, idem.
Colci, the stones of a man.
Colēs, the parbe of a man.
Colens, the colde which conterneth the bones.
Colica, a passion called the colyche, bredde in the gutte Colon, the greete wherof is felicit. fpyngers byed the aboute the nauill on the right syde; extendyng lyke a gradde vnto the lefte syde, the occasion wherof procedeth of oone of these causes. Wher by a colyche heate, bypyng vpper the moffure of the oʒdure, whiche therfore maye not passe out of the bealpe, oʒ that the meate eaten was bye and byndyng, lettynge the sated passage: oʒ els that viscus and clammye sicume is so augmented in that gut, that it stoppeth the issue thereof: oʒ that a grosse and thyrte wynde is there ingendred, either by coldnesse of the naturall complexion, oʒ by weaknesse of the stomake in digestion, oʒ of the lyuer, oʒ by meates fatte and wynde: oʒ it hapneth by an impostume in the same gut, oʒ by wormes wynged in the oʒdure. Oʒ for the insufficiencye of the gut, wherby one feelleth not the annoyauce of the oʒdure.
Coliculus, li, m. g. a diminutue of Colis, a tender stalk of an herbe.
Colicus, a, um, that hath the colyche.
Colidos, an plande in the ocean of Indie, conserate to Venus, whiche was so high that no bypde flew by to it.
Colina, for Culina, a pythen.
Coliphium, phi, a kynde of byeadde, whiche wynters byd rate, to make them stronge.
Colis, is, m. g. a lyttel tender stalk of cole wynged oʒ cabages. also the haunch of a vine.
Colla, le, f. g. a kynde of glewe.
Collabasco, scere, to be redy to fall.
Amici collabascunt, our frendes begynne to faile vs.
Collabescant restula, to be banished out of the citty by lottes oʒ shelles, as it was vsed in Athens. As after in Ostracismos.
Collabello, aui, are, to tosgne lpypes together, that is to saie to lpyse on the lpypes. A word out of vs.
Collabefacto, idem quod labefacto.
Collabefio, to be caste oʒ beaten downe to the grounde.
Collabor, apus sum, labi, to fall downe.
Collachrymatio, onis, f. g. a weepynge oʒ wayllynge with other.
Collachrymo, aui, are, to weep with other.
Collachrymare casum alicuius, to bewaile a mans mischaunce.
Collactaneus, he that souerth with me of one nurse, a foster brother, also one that is broughte by with vs at nurse.
Collacteus, idem quod Collactaneus.
Collapsus, a, um, quod oʒ fallen downe, and by e

Columbar, aris, a ptilope.
 Columbaris, re, of a dovec.
 Columbarium, m. n. g. a douchouse of culter house. Sometime a culter hole.
 Columbarius, m. n. g. he that keepeth a doves house.
 Columbatim, in the maner of doves.
 Columbinus, a, um, of a culter of doves.
 Columbinum, a, um, a pigeons egge.
 Columbulus, li, m. g. a littell pigeon.
 Columbus, bi, m. g. et Columba, b, f. g. a culter of doves.
 Columella, the name of one that wate of husbandrie most eloquently.
 Columella, a diminutive of Columna. Sometime the chiefe seruante in the house. Also a parte of the mouth.
 Columellares dentes, cheeke teethe.
 Colamen, m, n. g. the succour of stape, the wound beame of an house.
 Columna familiar, the chiefe star of succour of a familie, likewise Columna reipublica.
 Columnis, et hoc columbe, whole, sound, in good health.
 Columna, a, a cittle in Bytium.
 Columna, a, f. g. a column of pyloure.
 Scapus columnar, the bodie of the pyloure.
 Capitulum columnar, the toppe of chapter of a pylar.
 Spina of basis columnar, the base of foote of a pylar.
 Columna Herculis, two mountaynes, one at the westmost part of Spayne, the other in the westmost west part of Africke, where as now are the strepes of Caput of Marroche.
 Some holde opinion, that it is two ples in the latest strepes. Some as Strabo sayeth, aske them to bee in deede two pylars of brasse, in the pleiades, longng to Spayne, sette in the temple of Hercules, in the hono of hym, where they that traueled by the myddle sea, and were come to the westmost part thereof, and entred into the ocean sea, came and byd sacrifice to Hercules: whiche opinion Possidonius thoughte to bee moste true. They that suppose it to be two ples, say the one of them is in Europe, and the other in Africke.
 Columnarium, lookz Colonarium.
 Columnatus, a, um, that standeth on pylers.
 Columnella, a diminutive of columna.
 Columnus, was in olde tyme, that whiche we call now Culmus.
 Coluri, are two greates circles in the Sphere, whiche do declare the tyme called Aequinoctia, et Solstitia, that is to saye, when the daye and night be equal in length: Also whē the day is longest, & the night at most length.
 Cornus, a, um, of the tree Cornus.
 Colus, li, and Colus, us, f. g. a distaffe. In La-tillus it is redde in the m. g.

 Colus, li, m. g. a kind of togiures made of lichen Colurea, f. g. a tree called Bene, whereof the leaues and cobbles are mislied in medicines to purge melancholy.
 Colureum, the fruite of that tree.
 Colycar, arum, causes in the earth, wherein sale peter is founde.
 Colymbades, olives, of oyle beates, condite in byne of pickle.
 Colyrides, littell small loues lyke manchettes.
 Coma, a, f. g. all the heare together, called a bush. It is also taken sometime for the leaues of trees and branches of herbes.
 Calamistrata coma, a curled and sette bush of heare.
 Lacerare comas, to teare ones heare.
 Nutrire comam, to reynure and sette muche by ones bush.
 Strerunt comas, his heares stered.
 Religare comam, to bynd of it by the heare.
 Pectere comam, to combe the heare.
 Comagene, a parte of Syria.
 Comaginum, a certayne opment of medicine.
 Comana, a citee in the greater Cappadocia, another in Pontus. The people are called Comani.
 Comans, aris, that hath a great bush of heare.
 Comans humus, the grounde that hath muche grasse.
 Comans galea, an helmette with a plume of feathers.
 Comari, a people of Asia, beyond the Hyperes.
 Comarus, ri, called also Vnedo, and Arbutum, a kind of appple, whiche are so vnpleasant, that but one onely can be eaten at ones.
 Comata, a shepards name in Theocrite.
 Comatulus, a boy with a fayre bush of heare.
 Comatus, a, um, that hath a greater bush of heare, by translation it is said of trees of herbes, that haue longe leaues of floures.
 Comata Gallia, all Fraunce, on this halfe the mountaynes.
 Combe, a mayden that inuented the armour of Eneas.
 Combennones, lookz Benna.
 Combibo, bibi, ere, to dyncke with one, to luche by.
 Combibere artes, to learne sciences.
 Combibor, the pastue.
 Combibo, dnis, m. g. a companion in dyncyng.
 Combinatio, onis, a coupling together.
 Combino, au, arc, to combine of confederate together, to diside in couples.
 Combretum, called also Conferua, Conuoluulus, of the Apothecaries Volubilis, of some Fluualis spongia, an herbe that groweth in the bottome of euers, thyke together lyke moste of a sponge, the leafe lyke to Smilax, and the floure lyke a white lily. It is vaine holstone holstone for woundes, soye bruises, and broken bones.

 Comburo, bursi, ere, to burne of consume with fyre.
 Come, es, f. g. an herbe called gottes berbe.
 Comedim, olbe wylters used for Comedam.
 Comedo, dnis, mas, g. he that consumeth his owne goodes riotously, a glutton.
 Comedo, ed, ere, to eate, to consume riotously.
 Comedere patrimonium, to consume his inheritance in riot.
 Comedere beneficiu, to forget a good turne.
 Comedere aliquem, bona alicuius, of nummos, to waste of consume all a mans goodes, substance of monete.
 Comenses, people of Comum in fraunce.
 Comes, ius, com. g. a companion of felowe, and is applyed to dyuers other thynges, as well as to man. Also a name of dignitee, whiche we call an earle.
 Vix comes, & itineris comes, a companion that iourneth with one by the waye.
 Addere, prebere, aut adiungere se comitem to accompany hym selfe with one.
 Prebere se comitem alicuius furoris, to accompany ones that enterpyllyth some mischeuous of furlous acte.
 Comitem Platonis se proficetur, he professeth hym selfe to be the folower of Plato.
 Comes iudicum, among the Romans wee the Legates, Iudges, Questors, Secrearies, and suche other, that went with them that were assigned to the gouernance of provinces. Also they that were assent to iudges in matters of the common weale.
 Comestabundus, a, um, that vseth to go a banquetting, reuellyng, and gourmandysyng, also overcharged with meate and dyncke.
 Comestans, idem quod Comestator.
 Comestatio, f. g. a banquette after supper, or a riotous banquetting, a reesupper.
 Comestator, oris, m. g. a bancketer, a reuelar, a riotour out of season.
 Comesse, for Comedere, to eate.
 Comessor, flatus sum, ari, to banquet after supper. Temulentio agmine comestabundus incellit, he went lyke a reuelar with a dyncken route aboute hym.
 Comest, for Comedit, he eateth.
 Comestura, a, f. g. an eating.
 Comestus, a, um, eaten. Comestus, a, um, idem.
 Cometes, the father of Asterion, one of the Argonautes.
 Cometes, a, of Cometa, a, mas, gen. a blasphemous heresie.
 Comicus, a, um, of a comedie.
 Cominus, (contrary) at hand, hand to hand.
 Pugnare cominus, to come to handes broken, to fight hand to hand.
 Cominus, and Eminus, contrary.

Aer cominus astat, footeth with the ayre as came troublous.
 Comis, me, om. g. gentil, benigne, full of good humanties, sometime redde to forgiue, custasse.
 Comitas, aris, f. g. gentynesse, humanties, courteousnesse and courtesy in talking.
 Comitas et Beneficentia.
 Comitas et facilitas.
 Obsequium & comitas.
 Comitas et seueritas, contrary.
 Aspergere grauitati comitatem, to be sage, and graue in suche wise that he sheweth hym selfe gentyll withall.
 Exquisitissima comitatis cenam dare, to make one a supper, and shewe hym therein exceeding gentynesse and humanties.
 Grauitas condita comitate, grauitie, sauced of made pleasant with gentil behauiour.
 Comitatus, us, fellowshipp, company, retinue, sometime a princis court. Sometime an assemblie of people, if the princis erre not.
 Comitatus, a, um, accompanied.
 Exurbe parum comitatus exibat, he wente out of the citie haung with hym but a small company.
 Vno est comitator, he hath one the more in his companie.
 Homo est comitissimus, The man hath the very many that kepe hym company.
 Comiter, gentilly, courtelily, willingly, gladly, sweetely.
 Comiter et benigne appellare aliquem, To speake to one, and call hym by his name gentilly and fauourably.
 Comiter accipere aliquem, to welcome one sweetely and gentilly.
 Comitia, orum, n. g. plur, a congregacion of assemblie of the people, for election of officers of for promulgacion of lawes like to our parliament.
 Comitia edicere, to calle of summon a parliament.
 Comitua calata, looke Calatus.
 Comitua habere, to holde of kepe a counsaile of parliament.
 Comitialis, le, pertaining to the conuocation, or conuocation house.
 Comitiales homines, besye felowes full of contentions. Also they that be taken with the falling sickness.
 Comitialis dies, The daye when people assembled at Rome for the election of officers.
 Comitialis morbus, the falling sickness.
 Comitahier, in maner of the falling sickness.
 Comitarius, a, um, like the assemblie of congregacion of the people.
 Statio comitaria, when an army of souldyours bee together in foume of counsaile of congregacion.

Comitiatus, a, um, chosen by consent of the people at chepp assemblye.
 Comitatus, us, the assemblyng of gatherynge to gether of the people.
 Comitium, ij, n. g. the place where the assemblye is made.
 Comitor, atus sum, ar, and Comito, au, are, to accompany of go with one, of kepe fellowschipp with other.
 Superbia comitatur honores, pryde is alwaye forgned to honour: of pryde foloweth of acompanyer honour.
 Comitare aliquem, to kepe one company.
 Comma, a, pointe, distynge a sentence, where many membris bee: as,
 Nihil te nocturnum praesidium palatii, nihil visibis vigilie, nihil timor populi, nihil conspectus bonorum omnium, nihil habendi felicitatis locus munitissimus, nihil horum ora vultusq. mouerunt.
 Commaculo, au, are, idem quod Maculo. also to stayne a mans honestie of good name.
 Commaculare se ambui, to stayne his honestie with vnlaful labourynge for any office or dignitie.
 Manus commaculare sanguine alicuius, to pollute of despoile ones selfe with the vnuit shedyng of a mans bloodde.
 Commadeo, u, ere, idem quod Mado.
 Commalaxo, idem quod Exerceo, to woode out of hie.
 Commanducatus, a, um, chetwed of eaten.
 Commanducatus cibis, chetwed meate.
 Commanducatus, us, m. g. chetwng.
 Commamaco, au, are, to shewe meate.
 Commampulo, onis, m. g. a souldiour of the same bande that another is.
 Commantus, one that is in stede of an husband.
 Commata, trenches, whereby water is let out of a ponde or ryuer. also a hynde of money.
 Commearus, us, m. g. a faulte conducte, a passporte, somtyme vtiaples for an army of multitude of men, of for any other priuate person.
 Commeditor, aris, ar, to meditate of muse on a thyng.
 Commeminiere, to remembre.
 Commemini, I remembre, of I dooe remembre well.
 Commemorabilis, le, worthy to be mentioned.
 Commemorandus, a, um, to bee remembred, mentioned or spoken of.
 Commemoranda liberalitas, liberalitee worthy to be mentioned or comended of any man.
 Commemoratio, onis, f. g. a mencionng, a remembrance, a rehearsal, of a puttyng one in mynde of a thyng.
 Commemoro, au, are, to remembre, to tell, to put one in mynde of remembrance, to mention or speake of a thyng.
 De cuius virtute ante commemorauit, of whose vertue I haue spoken before.

 Commemorare officia, quae contulimus in aliquem, to put one in mynde of the frendly pleasures that we haue dooen for hym.
 Sed quid ego complura commemorem, But why should I recite any more?
 Commendabilis, le, worthy to be commended or praysed.
 Commendatio, onis, f. g. a commendation or prayse.
 In prima commendatione aliquid ponere, to comende of prayse a thyng first of all, or specially.
 Commendatione ineuntis aetatis ab impietate & scelere ducere, to make his youth first of all famous and notable by some impious or detestable acte.
 Commendatius, a, um, that wherewith a man is remembred of recommended.
 Commendatix literae, letters of recommendation.
 Commendator, oris, m. g. he that recommends one to another. He that laudeth, prayseth or boasteth.
 Commendatrix, icis, f. g. she that commendeth, &c.
 Lex virtutum commendatrix, The law is the setter forth and commender of vertue.
 Commendatus, a, um, praysed, commended. Also committed to a thyng or persone.
 Ex villitate sua commendat nobis res, thynges that we loue, for the poffite that cometh to vs by theim.
 Commendatum habere aliquid, To haue a thyng so commended to one, as it were to be fende of supporte the same.
 Commendatoris esse famam, to bee more renowned, to be better reported of.
 Sibi commendatus, one that fauoureth or loueth hym selfe.
 Commendo, au, are, to comende of prayse. Somtyme to recommends, to sette out, and make more acceptable and worthy prayse. to able, also to committe, and as it were to put one in trust with a thyng.
 Moriens nos commendauit tibi, when he dyed, he prayed you to be good vnto vs.
 Committere & commendare.
 Ego me tuam commendo fidei, I committe my selfe to your trueth and honestie.
 Rem & famam suam commendare, et credere alicui, to committe and putte ones goodnes & good name into the handes of trust of any man. Likewise commendare et tradere se alicui.
 Iusticiam suam humanitate commendat, with his gentleness he maketh his iustice commendable.
 Eius negotia tibi commendo, I desyre you to shewe fauour to hym in his busynesse.

Com

Commendare se in clientelam alicuius, to put hym selfe in the tuition of protection of any noble man.
 Commendare sempiternam gloriam, of immortalitye, to make a thyng to bee famous and renowned for euer: to gette it an immortal name.
 Commendare memoriam, to committe a thyng to memory, to kepe it in mynde.
 Commendare se fugae, to flee.
 Commendare literis, to put in wrytynge.
 Commendare halitum re aliqua, to make his breath more sweete with any thyng.
 Oleum amigdalinum colorem, oyle of almondes maketh one to haue a good colour.
 Virtus commendat virum, vertue commendeth a man, & maketh hym to be more esteemed.
 Eloquentiam vox maxime commendat, The voyce commendeth and setteth forth mans eloquence chiefly.
 Commensus, us, an equall proportion and measure of thynges.
 Commentaculum, a, marshall, of an husbysers rodde.
 Commentariensis, ensis, m. g. he that kepeth the register booke, of a gyloure that is charged with the keepynge of trespassours.
 Commentarioli, a litle register of memorials.
 Commentarium, ij, n. g. vel commentarius, ij, m. g. a bydgement of other booke that concerneth thynges bytselfe wrytten. Also a booke of remembrance, a register of exposition. Somtyme a bytse historye, concernynge the actes of any person of common weale. Also a bytse noze of instruction of memorials.
 Rerum urbanarum commentarium, a booke of register, wherin inche thynges as are done in a citie, are bytselfe noted.
 Conficere commentarios, to bytse oute a bytse memoriall of thynges.
 Commentarium paulo plenius, a wrytynge, wherein thynges bee mentioned somewhat at large. Refere, of Regerere in commentarios, to regestee.
 Commentatio, onis, f. g. a meditatynge of discussing of a thyng: a debating of reasonynge of a matter. Somtyme a description of setting forth of a thyng in wrytynge.
 Meditatio, and Commentatio, idem.
 Commentatio et cogitatio, idem.
 Causarum commentatio, a meditatynge of debating of causes afore hande.
 Commentarius, a, um, deuysed, imagined, distributed, wrytten.
 Commentitius, a, um, feigned, of deuysed for the pyn. Somtyme newlye inuented or deuysed.
 Cited commentitium, a false imagined accusation.

Ficta et commentitia.
 Noua & commentitia.
 Commentor, oris, m. g. an inuenter of deuise.
 Commentor, aris, ar, to thinke on, to make mention, to dispute, common, talke of reason of matters, to wryte commentaries of booke of remembrance, also to deuise, to inuente of imagine a false tale.
 Id ipsum mecum in his locis commentor, I thinke of muse on the same matter here with my selfe.
 Futuras mecum commentabar miseras, I considered of caste with my selfe, what miseries woulde folowe.
 Cum in hortos commentandi causa venissemus, After that we were come into the garden, to talke, deuise, and reason of matters.
 Commentari et meditari de re aliqua, to reason and deuise of any matter.
 Commentari aliquem, to counterfayte as my person.
 Commentemur inter nos, qua ratione, &c. Let vs deuise amonge our selues, by what means, &c.
 De militari disciplina commentari, to wryte a booke of marshall pollicy, of of warfare.
 Commentum, ij, n. g. a comment, of exposition, a matter feigned, a fodepne deuise.
 Commentus, a, um, actually, that inuenterly: passively, that is inuented, imagined, of feigned.
 Non veresimile est tantum scelus commentum esse, It is not likely, that he deuised of inuented so heynous an acte.
 Comenta sacra, religio inuenerit a feigned.
 Comedat, au, are, to go hither and thither, of to goe with another, to come and go.
 Ab ortu occasum commentol, The son goeth from the east to the weste.
 Commearo vitro citro, to goe hyther and thither, to walke vp and downe.
 Crebro illius literae ad nos commear, His letters come to vs oftentimes.
 Quacunq. commearat, By what so euer waye he passed.
 Ut ruro ab repentino hostium incurfu singuli commear possent, That euery one might come and go safely, without daunger of the sodayne inuasion of the enemies.
 Dicit, posse internuntio sermones commear, He saied, that theyr communication of wordes might be declared by some messengers goynge betweene.
 Commecor, aris, ar, idem quod Mercor.
 Commecium, ij, n. g. an entrecours of libertie to carpe marchandise from one place to another. Also communication of forme of bypnyng and sellynge together. also a familiar custom of acquaintaunce.
 Commecium sermonis, communication, tal-

Commodus, a, um, profitable of apte, good, feste, commobious, pleasant, tractable, easie to be pleased.
Commodus capillus, a, a bushe well decked, of kempte.
Commodus homo, a tractable of resonable man. Commodus conuiui, a guest not curious to please.
Commoda et faceta mulier, a pleasant and mery woman.
Commoda statura homo, a man of good stature, not to great nor to litlell.
Commodum id non est, it mate not bee easie to dooen.
Commodu obsonare, to vse moderate fare.
Commoda ualutudo, good health.
Te iam commodiorem, mitioremq; nunci ant, They shewe that you bee more tractable and gentyll.
Commodus, et inhumanus, contrarij.
Commodis moribus homo, a man of gentle behauiour, nothyng straunge or curious.
Commodius esse opinor, I thynke it better of more conuenient.
Commereo, ui, ere, to be all heaue of soj. Commolior, litus sum, liri, to go aboute of in detour.
Commoliri dolum, to go aboute discepte.
Commolo, lui, lere, to byrse of byrse.
Commonefacio, feci, ere, to warne of aduise one, to geue a man warnyng, to put hym in mynde of a thyng.
Commonecheri, to be warned.
Amicitia ueteris commonefacere aliquem, to put one in mynde of olde frendshipp.
Commonefacere rem aliquam, for Commemorare.
Commoneo, ui, ere, idem quod Commonefacio.
Ahorum exempla commonent, the exampls of other men doo shewe of teache me.
Amice commonere, to warne frendly.
Commonere aliquem, to remembre one of a thyng.
Commonere aliquem officium suum, to aduertise one what he ought to do, of what his duetie is.
Commonitus, a, um, monyshed, aduertised, warned, put in remembrance.
Commonitro, ui, are, to shewe a thyng that is hyd of unknown.
Viam commonstrare, to shewe of teache the wate.
Commoratio, onis, f. g. a bydyng, a taryng, of lynyng. Also a figure of rhetorike, wha one abyde longe upon a matier.
Commordeo, di, ere, to byre.
Commorior, eris, ri, to dye with one.
Commorientes, they that dye together. Also the name of a comedie in Plautus.

Commoro, ui, are, to make to tary.
Commoror, aris, ari, to abyde with one. Also to dwelle in a place for a tyme. Also to make one to tary that is going.
Malefacis, properantem qui me commorare, sol abis, Thou doest naught to tary me, sens I go in haste, and the sanne is now set.
Tardare et Commorari.
Consistere et Commorari.
Complures dies ibi commoratus est, He abyde there a longe tyme.
Commorari multis verbis in re aliqua, to abyde longe in a matier, and speake muche of it.
An te auspicium commoratum est, an tempestas continet, qui non abisti ad legiones, ut ut dudum dixerat? Dyd the token, shewed by the byrdes, cause the to tary? or elles the wether hepe the backe, that thou wentest not to the army, as thou saydest a whyle ago that thou wouldst?
Commortalis, le, mortali, that shall of must perishe of dye.
Commotilem, for Commouilem.
Commotio, onis, f. g. a commotion, perturbation, of disquietyng.
Commotio animi, perturbation of disquietyng of the mynde.
Commotiuicula, x, for, g. the diminutue of Commotio.
Commotria, a maiden that dooeth arate of apparell hie maistrisse.
Commotus, a, um, meued, troubled, afrayde, angry, also quiche.
Grauitur commotus, verate angep.
Commoror reddere, to byre of angre.
Commoueo, ui, ere, to trouble, to byre of disquiete, to remoue, to plucke of steepe to a thyng, sometyme to depart.
Tu et cura ut valeas, et te istinc ne temere commoueas, farewell, and take hede, that thou depart not hense to hastly.
Commouere castra, to remoue the campe.
Ab Amalthea te non commouebo, I will not cause you to departe of remoue frome Amalthea.
Commouere sui expectationem, to cause one to looke for hym.
Grauitur primo nuncio commotus sum, I was verate angry of greatly meued with the first tydynges.
Ad turpe compendium aliquem commouere, to moue a man to felyth lucte.
Commouere dolorem, to make soj.
Misericordiam, inuidiam, iracundiam, commouere.
Odium in aliquem commouere, to make one hated.
Tumultum aut bellum commouere, to raise by rustlyng and watre.

Com

Commouere se aliquo, to departe frome a place.
Commulceo, lsi, ere, to mistegate of alluage.
Commune, is, n, g. a communalte.
Communicatio, onis, f. g. communication, consuitacion, making of another parte taker in any matier.
Communicatio sermonis, communicacion, talshyng, of byshyng together.
Communicatus, a, um, sometyme actiuelly, making an other parte taker, conferring in communication, sometyme passiuely, commoned of, conferred, of made parte taker.
Communico, ui, are, to communicate of departe a thyng with an other, whiche I haue. sometyme to common of talke together, to confere counseils.
Communicauit tecum consilia mea, I haue made you ppytute of my counsailes.
Rem cum altero communicare, to make an other parte taker with vs in a matier.
Magistratus communicare cum plebeis, to suffer the commoners to beare offices as well as the nobles.
Communicare laborem, to labour together one with an other.
Laudem cum altero communicare, to make an other parte taker of our laude and renowne.
Lykewyse Lucrum communicare.
Mensa sua communicare aliquem, to geue one meate and bynke at his table.
Communica tecum hanc prouinciam, help me in atcheyupng this matier.
Impartire et communicare.
Ad te scripseram, ut cum Camillo communicares, I wrote to you, that you should conmon of talke with Camillus.
Communicare inter se de re aliqua, to common talke of byshyng together of any matier.
De officio viriufq; nostrum communicare, to talke of confere together, concernyng bothe our dusties, of what bothe you and I ought to dooe.
Communicari, sometyme in the actiue signification.
Communio, onis, f. g. communion, mutual participation together.
Communio sanguinis, hurebe.
Communio sermonis, talshyng together.
Communio legis, a felowshyppe where one lawe, as is betwene the men of one citie or countree.
Communio, niui, ire, to fellowship, to make strong to fence on all partes.
Communio, ne, thate in religion, that longeth as well to one as to an other, common. Communi, for Vniuersus.
Communi, di, ere, to shewe the way to go aboute a thyng, to shewe of talke, to shewe of counsaile.

Communias, a, is, f. g. communalte, partshipp, fellowshyp.
Communiter, in common.
Communiter et separatin, Opposita.
Communius, a, is, fortissid, fenes, made strong.
Commurmuro, ui, are, idem quod Murmuro.
Commurmuro, aris, ari, idem.
Commurabilis, le, that whiche mate bee easily changed.
Commurato, onis, f. g. an exchange, one thyng for an other, an alteration.
Commurationes temporum quadripartite, the thre alterations and changes of the yere.
Animorum commutationes, the alterations and changynges of mens myndes.
Commuratus, us, a, change of alteration.
Venire in comuratu, to be altered of chaged.
Commuratus, a, um, changed, altered.
Commuto, ui, are, to change one thyng for an other, to alter.
Commutare verba, to chyde, of to geue a shewde woide for a good.
Commutare aliquem, to change ones mynd.
Commutare captiuos, to change pisoners.
Commutare fidem et religionem pecunia, for monete to dooe againste trouthe and conscience.
Sententiam et consilium commutare, To change ones purpose, purpose, of counsell.
Mortem cum vita commutare, to dye.
Commutare in horas, to change euery houre.
Commutare aliquid in libris, to alter, change, of auende any thyng in booke.
Animos commutare et flectere, to moue of change mens myndes.
Commutare contumeliam alicuius vita sua, to put his lyfe in danger, to worke an other man reproche of byshyng.
Como, pl, ere, to kembe of byke the bushe, to apparate gorgeously, to crymme, properly it belongeth to women.
Comodia, x, f. g. an entrelude, wherein the comon byes of men and women are apparatly declared in personages, a comedie.
Comedice, gentilly, and pleasantly.
Comedior, aris, ari, to fede of food.
Comedus, a, a plater of comedie, of merrillie.
Comicus, a, a maker of comedies.
Comolis, the excrement of wynged of wyng in the huse of beere.
Comolus, a, um, that hath a great bushe of byshyng, as in trees and bushes, that hath many branches of byshyng.
Compassio, le, that is with compassio and trust together, blisse and mery.
Compassio, onis, f. g. compassion, of byshyng together.
Compassus, a, um, well of of forged together.
Compassum corpus, a body well fight and fit together.

Com

Compertum habeo, I knowe of perceyue,
I haue tried the matter.
Compes, edis, f. g. a fetter of gyve.
Compeho, fui, ere, to kepe & holde, as it were in one pasture: to bypde of & keppe vnder, to stoppe, to stanch of & quene, to aswage, to mitigate.
Compeho in illum iniuste dicere, leane to sate p. of hym.
Curas compescere, to aswage care and sorrows. Equum freno compescere, to refreigne the horse with the bydle.
Compescere incendium, to stinte of quenche fire.
Compescere tumentes populos, to appease and kepe vnder proude and stubborne people.
Rilium compescere, to refreigne of sojourn laughinge.
Stim compescere, to quene the ones thysse.
Compescere vitium, to curre of & kepe a vice that it sprede not to farre abyde.
Compe cere inores rabidos, to aswage and mitigate the fierce maners of men.
Digito competre labellum, kepe sence.
Copenens, us, an adiective, copet, couenable.
Competentia, e, f. g. conueniente, agreeable,
neste, meteneste.
Competitor, oris, m. g. he that sueth for that,
which an other man sueth for, a competitor.
Competrix, icis, the feminine.
Compero, iui, ere, to asse of sue for an office, or other lyke thynge, against a nother that sueth for the same. Also to agree, to bee meete of conuenient, to appertayne, to meete with of fopne to an other thynge.
Comperit, it is meete of conuenient.
Horilli competit, that is meete of conueni-ent for hym. Also it is sufficient.
Si omnia competunt voto, if all thynges asgree to our desyre. Or if all thynges be as we woulde haue them.
Si non comperet, vi in villam forum por-tetur, if we shall haue no leasure, or if we may not conueniently. &c.
Si villa sius ita comperit, if the situation of the ferme doo so require.
Si cuiusquam nepium compereret aetas, yf any of his neeces were in age.
Formidine attonitus neq. animo, neq. auribus, neq. lingua comperit, being affrighted with feare, he neyther hadde the vse of his mynd, eares, nor tongue.
Ita vi in patentes fossas oriantia cecarum competant, so that the open mouthes of the trenches vnder the earth, may and be soj-ned with the dyes that are made aboue in the sight of men.
Compilatio, onis, f. g. pillage, robbing, of pillaging.
Compilatus, a, um, pilloied by extorsion, robbed, pilloied.

Compilo, aui, are, to take by extorsion by way of (as the vulgar speche is) to p. a house, Compilare sapientiam alicuius, to robbe one of his wysdome.
Scriba alicuius compilare, to robbe ones coffers. Rempublicam compilare, to p. the and robbe the common weale.
Compingo, egi, ere, to compacte of put togy-ther, to thynke.
Quid faciam nunc, si tres vizi me in carcerem compegerunt? Howe shall I doe now if the officers thrust me into pylson?
Compingere axibus, to boode of planke a floote of roote.
Compingere in oculos, to thynke it in to ones eyes. Componere et compingere.
Detrudere et compingere in pistrinum.
Compegerat se in Apuliam, he went and keppe hym selfe in Apulia.
Compitalia, or Compitalia, orum, feastes of dysnynges made, where as be many pathes of hygh wates in a place.
Compitalis, a, um, belonging to the feasted feastes.
Compitalis, le, of a place where many wates of pathes meete.
Comptum, ti, n. g. a wate of place, where many wates dooe meete, or where two streets dooe crosse.
Comptus, is sometime used in the masculine gender.
Complacco, cui, ere, to please of lyke well.
Complacitum est, it pleaseth of contenteth,
it lyketh.
Complaco, aui, are, idem quod Placo.
Complano, aui, are, to make playne sometyms to make equal with the ground, to flayse.
Complanare domum alicuius, to destroye ones house, and caste it to the ground.
Complanare opus, to fenythe and make perfect a woowe.
Complaudo, si, ere, for to clappe the hands
together.
Completor, eris, xus sum, ti, to (s)brace of holde strete, to loue well, to interapn, to increase gently, to shewe pleasure of frendshipp, to complethe of contene, to deserv of handell a matter in fewe wordes.
Quare vellem eum quam liberalissime com-pletare, wherefore I woulde that he shoulde enterapn hym verie liberally.
Peto, ve cum complectare, diligas, in tuis habet, I requyre you entreapn hym well, fauor hym, & take hym as one of your frends.
Nos inter hos esse complexos, that one of
be loued well an other.
Complecti amore to loue greatly.
Complector memoria, I reare in mynde.
Complector animo, I conuer.

Oratione complecti non possum magnus dinem benifici sui, I can not sufficiently see foorth with woordes the great pleasure and benefit that he haue shewed me.
Vno verbo omnia complecti, to speake all at one woode.
Complectitur verbis, quod vult, he is eloquent, and can better with woordes, what to euer he will.
Complecti et osculari aliquem.
Beneficio complecti aliquem, to shewe pleasure to any man.
Comitate complecti, to shewe frendly gentynesse.
Beneuolentia, charitate, pietate, complecti,
to loue and fauour earnestly.
Arcta familiaritate complexus sum, I was verie familiar with hym.
Cogitatione complecti non possumus, we can not concepe of & comprehend in our myndes Absentem cogitatione complecti, to thynke earnestly on one that is absent.
Me somnus complexus est, slepe tooke me.
Complector, sometime passively.
Complementum, ti, n. g. a furrowyng of filling.
Compleo, cui, ere, to fulfil of fyll to the toppe, to fenythe of perfourme, to make vp of supplye that lacketh.
Quis tam dulcis sonus complet aures mea-as? what pleasaunt and sweete sounde fylleth myne eares?
Aurem complere sermonibus, to make one weary with babbling.
Atrium complere vularibus, to make the house ryng with howling and ceping.
Ad summum complere, to fyll vp to the branke.
Compleuit annos centum, he luyed full an hundred yeres.
Sol terras luce complet, the sunne geweth lyght to all the earth, or casteth his lyght ouer all the woode.
Complet omnia odor vnguenti, the sweete saueur smelleth ouer all the place, or passameth all the place.
Complere promissum, to satisfy ones pro-myse.
Complere hominem bona spe, to put one in good hope.
Complere gaudeo, to make verry gladd.
Complere terrore, contrary.
Erroris et demencia coplere, to make mad.
Complexus, a, um, complete, absolute, per-fecte, full.
Complexus, icis, partem, companion in acte.
Complexio, onis, idem quod complexus, also a conclusion to an argument.
Complexus, a, um, g. a complexyng of togyng, also agreement in woordes of iurament. Sometimes for a luyed. Also a tyme of fyll sentences. Sometime a compass of a sonnet ryng.

Complexus et osculatio.
A complexu matris filii auellere, to pryche
the childe awaye from the tender embrasyng of the mother, or out of the mothers arms.
Continet omnia complexu suo mundus.
The woode conserueth and completheth
all thynges.
Ad complexum et osculum alicuius curare,
to make haste to embrace and kysse one.
Complexu luctari, to wrythe by the myddle.
Alicuius complexu, colloq. pendere, to coll
one and hange about his necke.
Complexu totius generis humani, with all mankind vniuersally.
Complexus, a, um, actively, embracing of clyppyng; passively, clypped of colled, compes-hended, conserued.
Res altera alteri complexa, id est, implicita.
Complico, aui, are, to folde of wryp together.
Complicare et Euoluere, contrary.
Complicare epistolam, to folde by a letter.
Complodo, ois, ere, to clap together the hands
for joy, for ioye, of admiration.
Comploratus, us, m. g. and Comploratio, o-nis, f. g. a lamentation, weeping of wayling.
Comploro, aui, are, to weep, waille, and make sorrowe.
Complures, m. et f. g. Complura, et Complu-ria, n. g. plur. many.
Compluries, veras often.
Complusculi, Compluscule, Compluscula, plur. many.
Compluiatus, an adiective.
Compluiata vinea, a vine fastned and lated alonge vpon a frame.
Compluius, a, um, whereinto eynes water falleth.
Compluius lacus, a byche, whereinto water falleth out of dyuers gutters.
Compluium, un, n. g. a gutter, wherein falleth eynes from many houses.
Compono, fui, ere, to put of togyne together,
to make, to dayn, of dispose. Also to compare, of to asse, to adorne, to gather, to merge,
to appeare, to conclude, to asse, to agree,
to fenythe, ende, of conclude a matter, to resume, to dissimble of feigne, to wryte of make a booke, to byng to facyon.
Componere, licet, it agrees men together,
whiche are at variance.
Componere bellum, to staythe warre, to make peace. Contrary. Componere contum-elias, controuersias, discordias, tumultum.
Componere quae simul rectum ferantur, they and late to geher such thynges as make becaried with one.
Componere capillos, vel crines, to luyde of bylle

diſſe by the heares.
 Exercitum componere, to ſette an armye
 in arrey.
 Leges componere, to make oꝝ ordein lawes.
 Membra deſecta componere, to recreate oꝝ
 reſtreſſe the wecer lymmes.
 Componere ſe ad reuerentiā alicuius, to facion oꝝ ſettle hym ſelf, as though he ſhewed a reuerence to one.
 Signa componere, to ſoigne battaile.
 Res ſuas componere, to diſpoſe and ſet his matters in an orde.
 Componere vitem in brachia, to ſet the vine
 alonge vppon the rable.
 Componere vultum, to ſettle oꝝ facion the countenance, to looke ſadly, to make a graue
 countenance.
 Componere aliquem, to burſe oꝝ laie one in
 the earth.
 Curas componere, to aſſwage care, to ende ſorrowe.
 Fluctus componere, to quiete the rages of the ſea.
 Amicos auerſos componere, to reconcille
 frendes that are fallen out.
 Componere & tranſigere, to ſalle at agreement, and diſpatche a matter throughly.
 Componere animos ratio diciur, to ſettle
 mens mynde in good quiete.
 Componere dicta cum factis, to confere a mans woordes and dedes together.
 Cur audeſ componere mihi te? why dareſt thou compare thy ſelfe to me?
 Componere hitoriam, to make oꝝ wyte an hystorie.
 Carmina componere, to make verſes.
 Laudes thiculus componere, to wyte ones laude and prayſe.
 Componere itinera, to appoynte, oꝝ diſpoſe ones ioueney.
 Componere fallacias, to inuente and imagine gyles and diſceytes.
 Componere mendacia, to ſeigne oꝝ imagine lyes.
 Blanditas componere, to ſpeake ſaſce and flatterynge.
 Componere et conſtituere reipublicam, to diſpoſe the commune weale, and ſette it
 in good orde.
 Componere pacem alicui cum altero, to ſee men at conſoyde and unitee.
 Componere ſocietatem, to aſſociate.
 Literas alieno nomine componere, to counterſaiſt letters.
 Componere urbem, to builde a citee.
 In alio infans componitur, The infant is brought to facion in his mothers wombe.
 Comporto, aui, are, to beare, to cary together,
 to conuey.
 Compos, oris, com. g. he that hath his power oꝝ beſpye. alſo euer content.

Compos animi, of ſound remembrance, not madde. Compos culpæ, he that hath doone offence, gyle, oꝝ culpable.
 Compos laudis, he that is prayſed.
 Compos patriæ, he that ſe come home ſato his countreie.
 Compos prædæ, he that hath gotten the praye that he looked for.
 Compos voti, he that hath his owne beſpye oꝝ appetite.
 Vix præ gaudio compotes, For ioye they coulde not telle what they ſhoulde dooe.
 Compos mentis, rationis, ſanitatæ, quod
 hæc habeo: Compos voti, victoriæ, optati, quod hæc opera et labore optinui.
 Vix compos ſui eſt, he is almoſt beſpye hym ſelf. Cōporem facere gratulationis, togeue an occaſion to one, to graſſie oꝝ thanke his frend, for any pleaſure that is hapned oꝝ done.
 Compos ſcientiæ, he that hath the vnder-ſtandynge of a ſcience.
 Compos virtutum, bectuous.
 Compos miſeriarum, myſerable oꝝ full of aduerſities.
 Composite, in orde.
 Composite et apte dicere, cul contrarium
 eſt, ſine ordine et modo dicere.
 Composite ambulare, to walke oꝝ go with a certayne meaſure, no moꝝe as one ſtepps than at an other.
 Compoſitio, onis, f. g. a making, an ornament, a compoſition, oꝝ agreement, a confection of mynglynge of dyuers thynges together, a peace making.
 Compoſitiones gladiatorū, wer the byngynge
 in of ſwoorde playre into the fightynge place.
 Compoſitio membrorum, the compoſition and faſture of the partes of the body.
 Compoſitio ſermonis, the couching of woordes Compoſito, aduerbially vſed. and Ex compoſito, of purpoſe, for the none.
 Compoſito factū eſt, it was don of purpoſe.
 Compoſitor, oris, m. g. he that ſeteth, com-poſeth oꝝ ſoigneth thynges together.
 Compoſitura, æ, f. g. a compoſition, ſoignynge,
 oꝝ ſetynge of thynges together, a confection.
 Compoſitus, a, um, ſettled, put, oꝝ ſoigned together, ſette in arrey.
 Compoſitus in oſtentationē, ſetted to make a great ſhewe oꝝ bygge of hym ſelfe.
 In ſecuritatē compoſitus, he that hath be-ſpyed and ſette his mynde to lye withoute care and erouble.
 Compoſitum agmen ad pugnam, a bende of men ſette in arrey eady to fight.
 Comæ compoſitæ, et crines compoſiti,
 Compoſitum mare, a caulme ſea.
 Compoſita verba, woordes ſunnynge and ſetly ſette together.
 Vt compoſitum fuerat cum eo, ſo ſonne as they

they had fallen at agreement with hym.
 Compotatio, onis, f. g. a banquet oꝝ bygne byng together.
 Compoto, aui, are, to bygn with an other m.
 Compotrix, icis, f. g. ſhe that bygneth with an other: a bygnynge goſſyp.
 Compranſor, oris, m. g. he that bygneth with
 an other.
 Compræcatio, onis, f. g. a prayſynge, a beſpyynge,
 a ſuppliation.
 Compræ, prædis, m. g. a pledge oꝝ ſueritie
 together.
 Compræcor, atus, ari, to beſpye oꝝ pryſe.
 Compræhendo, di, ere, to take hold on a thyng to comprehend oꝝ conſeyn, to compyſe. alſo to fauour and defende, to coſpaſſe oꝝ attayne, to ſet foot the a thyng in woordes, to perceyue, to vnderſtande ſenſibily. to deſpyehende oꝝ come to the knowlage of a thyng.
 Manu comprehendere, to take holde with ones hande.
 Emittere et comprehendere, contrary.
 Comprehendere dicuntur plantæ, to take roote. Comprehendere verbis, to ſet foot the a thyng in woordes.
 Comprehendere numero, to number.
 Comprehendere et percipere, to vnderſtand and perceyue.
 Comprehendere ſignis, to knowe a thyng
 by certayne ſignes and tokens.
 Animo et mente comprehendere, to con-ſeyn in ones mynde.
 Comprehendere contemplationem re-rum naturæ, to haue the knowlage of naturall thynges.
 Intelligere et comprehendere cogitatione.
 Memoria comprehendere, to remembre, to keepe in memory.
 Viſu comprehendere, to ſee.
 Adulterium alicuius comprehendere, to de-ſpyehende oꝝ diſcloſe a mans aduouſe.
 Officiū aliquem comprehendere, to bynde
 one to hym by friendly pleaſures.
 Comprehendere humanitate aliquem, to ſhewe great geneylneſſe to one, to dooe many pleaſures for hym.
 Comprehenſe, by ſelf.
 Comprehenſibilis, le, that maie bee compyehended.
 Comprehenſio, onis, f. g. a taking, a conſpye-hending, conſeyning, perceyving, oꝝ vnder-ſtandynge, a ſpying out oꝝ ſenſynge of a thyng.
 ſometimes a perſone, oꝝ full ſentence.
 Comprehenſus, a, um, holden, taken, compyehended, conſeuted, receyved.
 Compræhendo, and Compræhenſus.
 Compreſſe, by ſelf, compyſedly.
 Compreſſio, onis, f. g. a pryſynge oꝝ a ſtraite tryſynge of thynges together.

Compreſſiancula, m, f. g. a diſtincter.
 Compreſſus, a, um, thynge oꝝ pryſe together,
 alſo raggled.
 Compreſſis manibus federe, to ſet vpon.
 Compreſſus, us, m. g. a deſtoration oꝝ ſouther-ment. alſo byſynge oꝝ pryſynge.
 Comprimo, preſis, ere, to pryſſe thynge oꝝ ſtrein together, to holde oꝝ reſtrayne, to appeale, to moderate reſpye oꝝ hope vnder. ſometimes to ſuppreſſe, to clynge together.
 Comprime, lette bee, peace.
 Epistolam comprimere, to cloſe a letter.
 Comprime te, bee ſtill, leaue of.
 Vix comprimor, quin inuolem illi in oculos
 I can vnderſtande to take hym by the face Comprime aliquem, to beate oꝝ tourment one. Comprime animam, to holde in a mans byathe.
 Comprime manus, to holde his handes that he ſeale not.
 Comprime ſe, to ceaſe oꝝ reſtrayne to doo
 a thyng.
 Comprime dentes, to grynne oꝝ craſſe
 the teethe together.
 Comprime alium, to ſtoppe the bealy.
 Morſu comprimere, to byte.
 Comprimit rota ſtorem noctu, the roſe cloſeth his ſlowe in the nyght.
 Plafquā vinum ad comprimendum ſto-machum valet, ſe to of moꝝe ſoyce to ſtoppe bomyte than wyne is.
 Comprime audaciā alicuius, to reſpye
 oꝝ kepe vnder the raffe boldneſſe of any man.
 Seditionem comprimere, to appeale oꝝ ſuppreſſe a ſedition.
 Reſtringere et comprimere, to appeale oꝝ moderate.
 Iram comprimere, to aſſwage anger.
 Comprime vocem, to kepe ſilence.
 Comprobatio, onis, f. g. the appoyning of al-lowynge of a thyng.
 Comprobator, oris, m. g. he that alloweth oꝝ
 appoyneſ a thyng.
 Comprobo, aui, are, to allowe, to make good
 oꝝ allowable, to declare a thyng to be true.
 Laudare & vehementiſſime comprobare.
 Studiōſe comprobare.
 Teſtimonio alicuius rem comprobare, to appoyne a thyng by the wyneſſe of any man.
 Res ſoniūm comprobare, the thyng ſe pꝝoued the dreame true.
 Compromiſſarius, a, um, the adiectur of com-promiſſum.
 Compromiſſum, ſi, n. g. the authoritye geſſed to the arbitratyꝝ by chaſſer of the partyes.
 Compromiſſum ſuſcere de re, aliquis ſubmiſſe hym ſelfe to the arbitrament of a man in any matter.
 Compromiſſo, miſſi, are, to commit hym ſelfe to the arbitrament of any indiſſerent perſon.
 Compro

Comptum, ti, n. g. a certayne offering of lye cower, whiche was made with meale.
Comprus, us, m. g. feede the apparale.
Comptus, a, uni, dected, expremed.
Compugno, aui, are, to fyght together, to con-tende in wordes, to biale.
Compulso, aui, are, the frequentatius of com-pello, to bate of steepe agaynst a thyng.
Compulsus, a, um, compelled, forced. Also hye of knocked with any thyng.
Compunctus, a, um, marked, or spotted.
Compunctio, onis, f. g. a psychyng. Sometime a stiche of grete in a midside or other place.
Compungo, pupugi, o, punxi, ere, to punche,
psiche, o, steepe.
Caendum, ne aculeis vtrique compungastur, Ye must beware that he bee not stouged with a nettle.
Sensus compungere res dicuntur, quæ offendunt, vt splendor oculos, gustum amaritudo, &c.
Compungere se suis acuminibus, to beate and tourment ones selfe with his owne sub-stall inuencions.
Computabilis, le, that mafe be compted, reck-ned o, numbyed, accomptable.
Computatio, onis, f. g. an account o, rekenyng.
Computationem expostulare, to call for a compte, o, rekenyng.
Computo, aui, are, to deeme, to accompte, to recken, to decrete, to impute.
Si computetur impendium operæ, If the profite o, vantage of that labour be accomted, reckened, o, valued.
Computare digitis, o, Articulis, to reckon
vpon the fyngers.
Putrefco, putui, trefcere, to putrifie o
rotte together.
Comum, mi, ne, ge. a citie of fraunce on this spde the mountayns, the inhabitants where of are called Comenses.
Comus, the god of balletyng, o, reue suppers.
Conidem quod Cum.
Conamen, inis, ti, g. an Indenour.
Magno conamine aliquid agere, to dooe a thyng diligently, with great labour and in-deuour.
Conamentum, ti, n. g. that whiche apbeth o
helpeth in dooing of a thyng, o, that one doeth to reache o, plucke at a thyng, that he can no easily come by.
Conatus, us, m. g. the Indenour o, labour tha one taketh in dooynge a thyng. Sometime diligence.
Magno conatu, studioq; aliquid agere, to do a thyng with greate endeuour and diligence.
Infringere conatus aduersarii, to breake
the purpose and Indeuour of the aduersarie.
Obitare conatus alius, to withstand lette that, whiche a man Indeuoureth o, go eth aboute.

 Prohibere conatus, idem.
 Conaco, aui, ai, e, to beſtipe.
 Concedes, the toppinges of trees, oꝝ the frag-mentes of ſhipes that be cut of any thyng.
 Concalefacio, ſi, Concalefacio, feci, ere, to inflame, to warme oꝝ make hotte, to chaſe, ſtre, oꝝ prouoke.
 Concaleſcitur, a, um, that heateth, oꝝ ma-keth warme.
 Concaleſfactus, a, um, made hotte oꝝ warme,
 chauffed.
 Concaleſco, factus ſum, fieri, to bee chaſed oꝝ made warme.
 Concaleo, lui, ere, to be hotte, to bee warme, to be moued oꝝ chaſed.
 Concaleſco, leſcere, to be hot, oꝝ to be made hot Concaleo, lui, ere, to be made hard, as a mans handes with muche wooꝝhyng, oꝝ his teete with muche goꝝng: And by a metaphoꝝe, a mans mynde with muche viſe and exerciſe.
 Concameratio, onis, f. g. a woꝝke made like to a vault with arches. alſo a couered walke
 oꝝ herbour made in a garden.
 Concamero, aui, are, to vault oꝝ ſtele.
 Concana, a ſttee in Spayne, the people whereof be called Concani.
 Concaltigo, aui, are, to chaſtipe.
 Concarenio, aui, are, to cheꝝn oꝝ lynke togetheꝝ.
 Concauo, aui, are, to make hollowe.
 Concure brachia in duos arcus, to ſette the armes on hynbowes.
 Concavus, a, um, hollowe.
 Concedo, ceſſi, ere, to graunt, to permytte oꝝ ſuffer, to departe awaie, to go to a place, to conſent, to geue place, to geue ouer, to remite, to condeſcende oꝝ agree, to dꝝe.
 Concede hinc, So hence a littrell.
 Concedere fato, vita, oꝝ Concedere abſo-lutely, to dꝝe.
 Concedamus hic, lette vs be here.
 Concedere octauam partem, to abate oꝝ remitte the eight parte.
 Concedere alicui, to geue place to one.
 Concede ad dextram, go on the ryght hand.
 Concede hinc domum, go the waie home.
 Conceſſit in iras, he is angry.
 Tempus eſt concedere, it is tyme to geue place. Num ab oculis conceſſi tuis? Wd I departe out of your ſight?
 Concedere a, vel ab, huc, illuc, aliquo.
 Concedas aliquo ab illorum ore aliquantiſper, So ſome whither out of theyꝝ ſyght for a whyle.
 Tandisper ego ad ſanctam conceſſero, in the meane tyme I will go to the gate.
 Quandocumqꝝ conceſſero, when ſo euer I ſhall depart out of this tyme.
 In voluntarium exilium conceſſit, he wente
 willingly into exile.

Date hoc et concede re padorum meum, permit and grant this to my father's desire.
 Concedere in sententiam aliquid, to grant in agree to some sentence or judgement.
 Concessit Senatus partitionem, the senate consented to agree to your partition.
 Concedere impunitatem, to pardon, or not to punish.
 Tempus aliquam rem concedere, to give one time or leisure to doo a thing.
 Vitam concedere, to pardon one his life.
 Concedere in disignum aliquid, to give or submit a name to be an other man's subject, or to give under his dominion.
 Concedere plebi hoc iure, to leave or suffer some thing, or to let the people use some privilege, which he might lawfully.
 Concedere peccata liberorum, misericordie parentum, to remitt and forgive the transgressions of the children, for the love of their parents.
 Nemini concedere, de se aliqua, To give place to no man in a matter, or to knowlege himself inferior to no man.
 Esi de cupiditate nemini concedam, Although there be no man more desirous than I Nemini in illa causa, studio, et cupiditate concedebat, There was no man that more earnestly desired or enquired to lette forth that cause.
 Nemini concedo, qui maiorem expensie reipublice, molestiam traxerit, There was no man living that took more favour, or was more grieved for the destruction of the common wealth than I.
 Omnes artes tuas tibi concedit, he giveth place to you, or will not compare with you in any of your practices or feats.
 Concedo, forsitan aliquis, &c. I admit the case, perchance some man, &c.
 Concedo tibi, vt ex precaveris, I am consent that you should let those things passe.
 Ne quis concedium putet, let no man thinke that it is lawful, or permissible to be done.
 Numme concedes mihi? I pray thou not give over to me.
 Concelebro, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.
 Victoriam, to have a victory, or to have
 victory over an enemy.
 Concelebrare, aut, aut, to celebrate with other.
 Concelebrare plures homines, to make
 feasts aboath with many men, and drinking in
 the house of one another.
 Concelebrare convivium, to have a banquet
 feast. Fumus concelebrare, to have a banquet feast.
 Mercedem, et stipendium, et alia, to have
 marts or hire.
 Spectaculum, to have a show, or to see a
 game, or to see a play.

[illegible]

leue of licence, consent of agreement.

Concessus, a, um, granted, given, permitted.
Iure aut legibus concessum, permitted by the laws.

Concha, æ, f. g. properly a muske. Sometime a shell of a muske, oyster, cockle, or other like fishes. Also every vessel, that is hollow and open above, properly a bolle, wherein linen clothes be washed. Sometime a wyne vessel, also a trumpet, as it seemeth made of erth, like to such as poore men doo use, whiche haue the falling spynesse, and come from the place in Duchelands, called sainter Loynelles.

Conchatus, a, um, fashioned like the shell of a fythe.

Conchis, is, f. g. a kynde of beeries, or after some, beanes sod in theyr coddies, or a meate made of beanes.

Conchon, is called a vessel of the Grekes, of the holownesse of the eies.

Conchula, æ, f. g. the diminutive of Concha.

Conchus, a, perle.

Conchyle, les, f. g. of Conchylium, li, n. g. A kynde of shell fythe, out of whyshe a lycour is taken, wherewith sylke is dyed purple. It is sometime taken for the purple colour.

Conchyliatus, a, um, of a purple colour.

Conchyliata vestis, a purple garment.

Conchyta, æ, m. g. he that seeth for the shell fishes, out of the whiche the lycour is taken that dyeth purple: we make take hym for a fyther of oysters and muscles.

Concido, cidi, ere, cisi, um, to cutte in littell pces, to hache smalle, to sagge of pounce, to beate, to hylt of flea.

Concidere minutè, to cut in small pces.

Concidere vsq ad sanum corpus, to cutte to the quicke.

Tons voluminibus concidere aliquem, to wite whole volumes beate vehemently a gapnill one.

Concidere exercitū, to beate downe and slea an armie.

Concidere virgis, to beate one tyll he bleede.

Concidere nucleum dentibus, to knathe a nutte with ones teethe.

Concidere et delubare sententias, to make feeble of confounde mens argumentes.

Concido, cidi, ere, to fall downe, to by, to faile.

Concidit crimen, the action is abated of failem.

Concidere sub onere, to fall downe vnder his burdeyn.

Grauitur concidere, to haue a soze fall.

Ad aliquem concidere, to make supplicatio on to one.

Concidere in praelio, to be slayn in battelle.

Veni concidunt, the wyndes be slayed.

Concidunt venæ, the veynes being empty, fall together of deymniffe.

Est muni ciuitatum concident, And the wals les of all citres shall fall all together.

Concidere in optima causa, to bee vanquishd in a good quarrell.

Animo vel mente concidere, to lacke courage of comfotte, to faile, or be abashed.

Concidit animus, my herte is doone, or my herte faileth me.

Concidit fides, he hath loste his credence.

Concleo, ties, lui, to moue of steres, to call together.

Conclere, to call together a multitude.

Conclere iram, to moue of steres one to anger.

Conclere et Conclere seditionem, to reffe a sedition.

Conciliabulum, i, n. g. a counsell house.

Conciliatio, onis, f. g. a reconcylng of attone makinge.

Conciliatio & consociatio.

Conciliatio gratie, a wynnng of fauour.

Conciliator, oris, m. g. he that by his wordes or meanes reconcyleth folkes together.

Conciliatricula, a diminutive of Conciliatrix.

Conciliatrix, icis, f. g. a woman that endeouretly to make agreement betwene myne and theyr wyues.

Conciliatura, æ, f. g. a reconcylng.

Conciliatus, us, m. g. an assemblyng of gatherypng of people together.

Conciliatus, a, um, assemblyng of sette together, reconciled. Sometime bought.

Concilio, au, are, to accord of make friendes together, to gette, to purchase.

Conciliare affinitatem vel pacem, to make alpaunce of peace.

Conciliare beneuolentiam, to gette fauour of loue.

Conciliare odium, vel inimicitias, to gette hatred of displeasure.

Conciliare pecunias, to gather moneys of the people.

Conciliare et coniungere.

Conciliare aliquem ad alterum, or alteri.

Conciliare iudicium animos ad beneuolentiam erga se, to byawe the iudges myndes to fauour theim.

Cōciliare et dirimere cōiunctionē, edicary.

Conciliare fidem, to make one to be beleued.

Conciliare auctoritatem, to make moze esteemed and regarded.

Somnum conciliare & fugare, contrary.

Concilia eum huc, get hym to come hyther.

Conciliū, li, n. g. a counsaile or assemble of counsaillors. also a certain hede is so called.

Conciliū vocare, to call a counsaile.

Cortus et Conciliū.

Contilia & conuenticula.

Habere conciliū, to haue a counsaile.

Dimittare et discindere conciliū, to byawe by a counsaile.

Conciliū Antiochenum, the generall counsaile saile holden at Antioche in Syria, in the yere of our lorde. 346.

Conciliū Ariminense, a generall counsaile holden at Ariminum in Italy, the yere of our lorde. 361. In the whiche, the articles of the counsaile of Nice, were confirmed.

Conciliū Arelatense, a generall counsaile holden at Arelance, the yere of our lorde. 814.

Conciliū Basiliense, a generall counsaile, holden at Basill in Almayne, the yere of our lorde. 1345.

Conciliū Calcedonense, a generall counsaile holden at Chalcedon, in Bithynia, the yere of our lorde. 453. In the whiche counsaile the heresie of Nestorius et Eutiches, were condemned. And all the booke of the 22da niches heresies were burned.

Conciliū Carthaginense, a generall counsaile holden at Carthage in Africke, the yere of our lorde. 419.

Conciliū Constantia, a generall counsaile holden at Constantia in Italietta, the yere of our lorde. 1414. and durd .lvi. yeres and moze.

Conciliū Constantinopolitanum, a counsaile holden at Constantinople, the yere of our lorde. 869.

Conciliū Ferrariense, a generall counsaile holden at the cite of Ferrara in Italy, where the churches of the Latins and Grekes becam one church, in the yere of our lorde. 1438.

Conciliū Lateranense, a generall counsaile holden at Rome in the palace of the byshop of Rome called Lateranum, the yere of our lorde. 1215.

Conciliū Lugdunense, a generall counsaile holden at Lyons in France, in the yere of our lorde. 1273. where the Grekes accorded with the Latines, in proceeding of the holy goste, from the father and the sonne in diuinites.

Conciliū Nicenum, the first general counsaile, whiche was holden at Nicea, a cite in Bithynia, the yere of our lorde. 327.

Concinnatio, onis, f. g. a makinge stete of apt.

Concinnatus, a, um, compoundedly, and aptely gathered together.

Concinnator, oris, one that maketh a thyng fit.

Concinnatorius, a, um, the adiectiue.

Concinnatus, a, um, apparatly, trimmed.

Concinnare, properly, honestly, truly, chastly, gallantly.

Concinnare vestius, more aptly apparatly.

Concinnare et blande rogare, to make a thyng featly, and with saye wordes.

Concinnitas, atis, f. g. of Concinnando, diuinites, propriety, feynesse, aptitude.

Verborum concinnitas, the feynesse of wordes.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Concingo, au, ere, to make apt, proper, or fete: also to make.

Verilli maffigie cerebrum excutiam, get me insanium uerbis concinnat suis: I will surely hache this haue, that with his wordes maketh me out of my witte.

Concinnare lutum, to make mayter.

Concinnare se leuem suis, to put his frendes to no colde.

Nunquam erit alienis grauis, qui suis se concinnat leuem, he shall neuer bee onerous to other, whiche wyll not burdeyn his frendes.

Concinnare struces patinarias, to make sun bye bankettyng of Mes.

Concinnare vinum, to myngle spices with wyne.

Concinnare vestem, to amende a garment.

Concinnare viam, to make some that a man maye passe.

Concinnare vxorem lachryma rem, to make his wyfe to wepe.

Lachrymantem ex abitu concinnas tu vxorem tuam, By power departyng hense, you make your wyfe to wepe.

Concinnate pelles, to dyesse felles.

Concinnare munusculum alicui, to prouyde a present of gyfte for one.

Concinnus, a, um, properly, wel fashioned, mysyn, on, feate, handsome, well compact.

Concinnatus, a, um, properly, and wittly sayynges.

Concinnare et venustate sententiarum, feate and pleasant sentences.

Concinnus et elegans, mynion and pyp.

Concingo, ui, ere, to spng, to agree in one songe, or one tune. Sometime to prayse.

Concinnare tubam, the trumpettes Towne.

Concinnare lyra, to spng to the harpe.

Concinnare modis quibusdam, to spng in cegetayne measures of propozitions.

Concinnare aliquem, to laude or praisse a man.

Re concinnare, verbis discrepat, in the thyng it selfe they accorde, and disagree in wordes.

Concio, iui, ire, to call together, to be Concluded.

Conciare, to moue of steres.

Disperii, scelestus, quantas turbas concui inficiens? I am vnboon wyche that I am, what a busynesse haue I made mynars.

Conciare lites, to moue debate.

Concio, this, f. g. a gathering of people, as an assembly of congregacion of people, called together to heare the sermones or wordes of the kyng or other in churche, in the meale puttyng forth the matter of propozicion made vnder them, called a conuocacion.

Concinnare librum, to make an oracion to the people.

Concio et conuocatus.

Aduocare concionem, to call the people together.

Ascendere in concionem, to go vp into the pulpit.

pulpit: or to go to make a sermon or oration.
 Submouere concionem, to dissolve a congregation.
 Concionabundus, i. m. g. one that maketh an oration to the people, or that purporeth a matter solemnly.
 Concionalis, le, of or pertaining to an assembly of people or oration.
 Concinator, oris, m. g. he that preacheth or purporeth an oration.
 Concionarius, a, um, pertaining to a concion.
 Concionor, aris, ari, to preach or purpore a matter to the people.
 Concipilare, idē quod corripere, et immolare.
 Concipio, capio, ere, to conclude a child, to conceive or apprehend, to deliberate or determine in mynde.
 Concipere fœdus, to make a league.
 Concipere iusiurandum, to swear in receiving the othe as it is ministered.
 Concipere metum, to be afraid.
 Concipere oculis, to see and behold.
 Concipere scelus, to imagine to doo an evil deed. Concupit aues.
 Concipere radices, to take roots.
 Qua concipere, dicuntur pisces.
 Concipere ingenio, mente, to conceive in ones mynde, to imagine.
 Auribus concipere, to here.
 Amorem concipere, to handle or conceive a love towards a thyng.
 Concipere calorem, to waxe hotte.
 Concipere flammam, to take fyre.
 Furorē mente concipere, to rage, or to be madde.
 Ham acerbiorē concipere, to be very angry.
 Immodicus concipere, to take displeasure, to fall out with one.
 Specm concipere, to take good hope.
 Concipere vadimonium, to recite the forme of a suretie, to appere at a date appointed.
 Concipere verba, to recite wordes that one must rehearse after hym.
 Concile, in ptece. sometime byefel.
 Concilura, a cutting or dividing.
 Concilius, a, um, byefe, Morte, beaten, cut, hacked, lagged or pounced, byiled or slayne.
 Concilia fœderis, byefe fœderes.
 Concilius ignominius, all to rated with scandalous rebukes.
 Concilium et laceratum, cutte and toyned.
 Concisa oratio, a Morte forme of speaking.
 Concitare, swifely, violently.
 Concitatio, onis, a stirring or prouoking.
 Concitator, m. g. one that moueth or stirreth other.
 Concitatrix, the feminine.
 Concitatus, a, um, stirred, prouoked, moved.
 Concitator cufus, a more vehement or quick her course.

 Concito, aui, are, to moue or stirre vp, to prouoke, to rouse vp, to trouble or make roughly.
 Concitari in aliquem, to be de. rate angry or vexed with one.
 In iram concitare, to make angry.
 Clamore concitare aliquem, to rouse vp one with crying.
 Aus concitat alas, the byrde raptly by her wynges to flie.
 Concitare bellum, to raise by warre.
 Equum concitare calcaribus, to fetche by the hofe with the spures, or to thynke the spures to the hofe, and gallop forth.
 Feras concitare, to hunte wilde beastes.
 Concitare grauedines, et destillationes, to ingender rumes and catarrhes.
 Concitare inuidiam, or odium in aliquem, to moue hatred or enuy agaynst one.
 Misericordiam concitare, to moue pitye.
 Risum concitare, to moue laughter.
 Concitare equum in aliquem, to spurre his hofe and renne agaynst one.
 Concitare sui expectationem, to cause men to haue a truste or expectation in hym.
 Concitare somnum, to cause one to sleape.
 Concitare vrinam, to make one to pee.
 Concitus, a, um, of Concio, penultimam corripit, of Concio producit, moued, stirred, troubled, made roughly, sometime angry.
 Concitus ad rixam, prouoked to chydng or byauling.
 Aequora concita ventis, The seas troubled with the wyndes.
 Concitum ferri, to be caried verate swifly and violently.
 Conclamatio, onis, a Moute or noise of many to gyther.
 Conclamata vasa, proclamation made to truste together bagge and baggage, as is vied in the raising of a siege, or remouing of a campe in battayle.
 Conclamito, aui, are, to make many cries, to crye often.
 Conclamo, aui, are, to crye, to crye together, to make a Moute or noise. Also to make a cry or proclamation.
 Conclamatum est, It is at a point, or passe remedie.
 Conclamare ad arma, when all the world cryeth warre.
 Vbi abijt conclamo, heus quid agis tu in te gulis, when he was gone, I cryed vnto hym, Mough fyre, what dooest thou amongst the eyles?
 Vis conclamari auctionem quidem? wouldst thou that it should be proclaimed, that there shall be poete sale.
 Conclauē, uis, n. g. and Conclauis, uis, fœ. g. a priute or secreet chaumbye, sometime a battayling house, or a priuouse.

hettng house, or a priuouse.
 Conclausa, many chaumbyes or places vnder one hafe.
 Conclauum, uis, n. g. idem quod conclauē.
 Concludo, si, ere, to conclude, to fynd, to determine, to shutte vp, or enclose.
 Concludere se in cellam, to locke ones selfe in a chaumbye.
 Concludere aliquo, to shut vp in some place.
 Cingitur atq; concluditur ipse portus urbe, The haven it selfe is compassed and inclosed with the citee.
 Concludere aliquem in angustiis foris mam sponsonis, In making a contracte or bargayn, to wyappe one in very strepte conditions. Concludere et perorare.
 Concludere et Definire.
 Concludere epistolam, to adde the conclusi on to a letter.
 Verbis interdixit non concluditur, it is not comprehended or coneyned in the prohibition.
 Concluse, an aduerbe.
 Conclusio, onis, f. g. a conclusion or ende of a matter.
 Conclusiuncula, the diminutiue of Conclusio.
 Conclusus, a, um, shut vp, inclosed, concluded.
 Circumscriptio conclusa, a full peribode, proceeding and falling in a certayn numbye.
 Conclusum et comprehensum.
 Perfectum et conclusum, consummate, and fully ended.
 Conclusa oratio, pro numerosa.
 Concoctio, onis, fœ. g. digestion in the stomack.
 Concoctus, a, um, sodde, digested.
 Concoctio, onis, f. g. a bankette.
 Concolor, oris, m. g. of the same coloure.
 Concolor eist, it is of the same coloure that the other is.
 Concoquo, oxi, ere, to boyle or seethe, to consorte or digest, and by a metaphore, to beare or suffer, to abyde or awate with a thyng.
 Concoquere odia, to suffer displeasures or malice, lettng them passe, or forgetting them.
 Quem senatorem ciuitas vix concoquere possit, eum regem ferret? Should the citee suffer hym a kyng, who yet could scant abyde or awat with, when he was but a senator?
 Concordia, a, f. g. concordie or agreement.
 Coniunctio et concordia.
 Concordia et conspiratio.
 Reconciliatio concordie, attone making.
 Discreta concordia, a wayn of thynges to gyther, having contrary natures and operations.
 Concordia, a citee of Italye, an other of Spayne. Also a goddess of the Romains.
 Concorditas, uis, idem quod Concordia.
 Concorditer, by one assent or agreement.
 Concordo, aui, are, to be at a concordie or agreement.

Concorporo, aui, are, to make one thyng of others, to myngle.
 Concordis, oris, m. g. of one mynde or wille, agreeable, of one assent. sometime equal.
 Moderatus et concordis ciuitatis status, a moderate and quiete state of the citee, when all sortes of people agree well together.
 Concratilius, a, um, made of hurbels, or such lyke thynges, walled.
 Concratili parietes, walled wounde with roddes lyke hurbelles, as they be in the countrey.
 Concredo, didi, ere, to helpuer or compete a thyng vpon trust, to truste one with a thyng.
 Concredere vites teneriores solo calido, to plant tender vines in an hote ground.
 Concredere mari nauigia, To take the sea with shippes: or to take shippng, and so to saile forth on the sea.
 Concredere aliquid taciturnitati alterius, to tell a thyng secretly to one, whiche he would haue kepte close.
 Concredere aliquem in custodiam alterius, to committe one to an other mans custody.
 Concremo, aui, are, idē quod Cremo, to burne.
 Concrepo, aui, are, to make a great noise, or to creake as a dooze dooth, in the opening.
 Concrepant arma, The barnais maketh a rushing or senglyng.
 Concrepare dignis, to knacke or sylpp with the spngers.
 Concreco, creui, escere, to growe to gyther, to congele, to waxe harde together.
 Concrefcere et liquefcere, contrary.
 Mare concrefcit glacie, the sea freezeth.
 Nubes concrefcunt, The cloudes congele or gather thyke together.
 Sanguis concrefcit, The bloudde congeleth or waxeth thyke.
 Concretio, a gathering together, and warring harde of many thynges.
 Concretum, ti, n. g. congeled, or conglutinate.
 Concretus, a, um, toyned or congeled together, as a thyng that is liquide, to be made harde, frozen, compact. sometime made.
 Aer concretus in nubem cogitur, The ayre being congeled, is gathered into a cloude.
 Calum crassum atq; concretum, and Aer purus et tenuis, opposita.
 Induratus et concretus glacie, hardened and congeled, frozen.
 Corpus concretum ex elementis, a bodie compacte of made of the elementes.
 Dolor concretus, an excruciating painefulle, whiche moste fastidiously stoppeth all wepyng and mourning.
 Concretus, Coniunctus, Conglutinatus.
 Concretus et Coalitus, made and yoynded.
 Lac concretum, creame or thycke mylke.
 Concreta labes, a spotte whiche will trow away

swale, or be rubbed one.

Concretus, us, m. g. and Concretio, onis, f. g. a congealing or conglutination.

Concriminator, aris, ari, to blame or accuse one.

Concrucior, aris, ari, to be tourmented.

Concubina, æ, f. g. a woman yfed in the fleeds of ones wyfe.

Concubinatus, us, m. g. hoorebom, fornication.

Concubinus, ni, m. g. he that lyeth with one.

Concubitor, oris, he that meddeth with a womanne.

Concubitus, us, m. g. the companyng togther in the acte of generation.

Concubium, bñ, n. g. the fyft flepe in the nyght, or the depeit of the nyght.

Concubius, a, um, the adiective.

Concubia nox, the depeit of the nyght.

Conculatio, onis, f. g. a treading vnder foote.

Conculco, aui, are, to trende vnder foote. some tyme to fuppreffe or put to extreme vilany.

Concumbio, ui, ere, et concubo, ui, are, to lye togther, to accompany togther in the acte of generation.

Concupio, iui, ere, et concupifco, iui, scere, to couite or defyre feruently.

In matrimonium illam deducere concupia uit, he feruently defyred to marry hie.

Concupifcentia, æ, f. g. a feruent defyre or appete, as well of good thynges as badde.

Concupitus, a, um, defyred feruently.

Concuro, aui, are, to care for a thyng, to take hede to a thyng.

Concurro, curri, ere, to renne with other, to renne togther as fouldiours doo in bataille.

Some tyme to accord or agree, not to repugne one with another. Also to chance or happen.

Ad arma concurrere, when the fouldiours renne to arme them.

Concurrere inter fe, to renne one agaynft another.

Concurrere alicui obui, to ren to mete one.

Tot concurrunt verifimilia, there come togther fo many thynges lyke to be true.

Multa concurrunt fimul, quamobrem confecturam hanc nunc facio, there come many thynges togther, why I doo this confect.

Concurrere in fententiam aliquam, to agree or affente gladly to any fentence.

Somnia casu nonnunquam concurrunt, dyemes often tymes by chance happen and come to paffe.

Concurrunt, they renne togther.

Concurfatio, and Concurfio, a rennyng togther, a rennyng to and fro.

Concurfator, oris, a courcour, one that renneth hither and thither.

Concurfo, aui, are, to renne ofeen togther, to renne hither and thither.

Hucilluc concurfare, to renne hither and thither.

Omnium domus concurfare, to renne about to every mans house.

Concurfus, us, m. g. a rennyng of people togther to one place.

Occupationum concurfus, when many and diuers bufinesses chice togther at one tyme.

Aper concurfus verborum, a rough or vnpleasant metyng of wordes in oiacon.

Concurfus facere, to affble togther haffly.

Concuflura, æ, f. g. and Concuflio, onis, idem quod concuflus.

Concuflus, us, m. g. a thaknyng, moungyng, or troublng.

Concuflio, ti, ere, to thake, to moue, to byandly to make to tremble.

Concutere mare, to make the fea troublous or rough.

Caput concutere, to thake the head.

Hafam concutere, to thake a fpeare.

Metus offa concutit, feare maketh the bones to tremble.

Rempubliam concutere, to trouble or difquiete the common weale.

Cōdallum, li, n. g. a maner of faction or pnyng.

Condare, the cttee of Rhenes in Bytayne.

Condecener, agreeably, very comly, or fmetly.

Condecencia, æ, f. g. a befemyng or compyness.

Condecet, impertionall, it well becometh.

Condecere, comely, honourably.

Condecoro, aui, are, to make cleanly or honest, to polifhe. alfo to honour a thyng in makyng it moze commendable.

Condemnatio, onis, f. g. a condemnation.

Condemnator, oris, one that condemneth. fometyme an accufer that conuinceth one to be gilty.

Condemnatus, a, um, condemned.

Pecunia publica condemnatus est, he is condemned for wafpyng the common treafure.

Condemno, aui, are, to condemn, or to caufe to be condemned.

Iniuriarum condemnari, to be condemned for iniuries that one hath dooen.

Me ipfum inertia condemnno, I condemn my felfe of flouthfulneffe.

Sponfionis condemnari, to be convicted or condemned in the foyfaite of the couenante.

Condemnabo ego eode te crimine, I will condemn the, or thowe the to be gilty in the fame faute.

Eius familiares de ui condemnati funt, hys familiares are condemned or proued to be gilty for byng of vntanfull violence.

Condemnare omnes de concili fententi, to condemn all by the aduys of fentence of the counfayle.

Condemnat accufator reum, when he hath conuincd hym, and caugeth hym to be condemned.

Condicio, aui, are, and Condicio, æ, f. g. to make thycke, or gather togther.

Condensare in vnum locum oues, the fhep flocke thycke togther in one place.

Se condensat aer, the ayre wareth thycke.

Condensius, a, um, thycke, close togther.

Condensa arborum, places where trees growe thycke togther, as a foylet, woodde, or grove.

Condensa acies, the fronte of the battayle, where in many men are raunged thycke togther.

Condepo, depfui, depfere, to myngle.

Condico, xi, cere, to appoynte, to odayne, to promysse, to requyre or afke agayne, to bynde, to affigne by month, to denounce or declare.

Condicare cenam, vel ad cenam, to appoynte a fupper: or after fome, to promysse to go to fupper.

Condicare operam, to declare or fhowe that he will take vpon hym that enterprysse.

Nummos tibi dominus condicere poffet, The myfter maie requyre the monie a gayn of you.

Condicere, amonge the lawyers is to fuf an action perfonall, to requyre that the defendans be condemned and conftreigned to deysuer, dooe, or perfourme any thyng to hym.

Condictio, onis, f. g. an action perfonall in the lawe, or appoyntement of the action to the thyde date folowpyng.

Condictus, a, um, the adiective.

Actio conditicia, the action perfonall in the lawe, when werequyre any chyng of oure aduerfarye.

Condictum, i, a promysse, agreement, or appoyntment made amonge many.

Condictus, a, um, appoynted, denounced, declared, promysed, accorded.

Condicta cenula, an appoyntment made to go to fupper in fome place.

Condigne, woorthly, honeftly.

Condignus, a, um, woorthly, and accordyng, as it is shamed.

Condigramma, a towne of Campania.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

Condimentarius, a, um, that pertyneth to faute of feafonyng.

communicacion betwixen.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Conditio, ui, vel di, ire, to fuffrayn, to bynde, or to otherwyfe of bee it, to pnyne or to conuynce.

Controuersia conditio, the state of the controuersie.

Repudiare o respuere squissimam conditionem, to refuse of forsake a verie iuste and reasonable offer.

Stare conditionibus, to abyge by the bare gaine of couenantes.

Fugere a conditionibus, contrary.

Providete, ne duriorum vobis conditionem statuaris, See, that ye make no suche agreement, that shall be lyrell for your advantage. In superiore conditione poni, to haue the more advantage.

Conditio, onis, f. g. sausing.

Conditio ciborum, a sausing of meate.

Conditionalis, le, that pertaineth to the condition of offer.

Conditionaliter, conditionally.

Conditus, a, um, that is hydde of layde vp.

Conditia cibaria, pouyred meate, of other wyse pseyrued.

Conditium, ui, n. g. idem quod conditorium.

Conditus, a, um, that whiche made be pouyred of hepte.

Conditus cibis, pouyred meate.

Conditio, oris, m. g. a maker of builder, a founder of the sprit inuenter of a thyng.

Historia conditor, the maker of wyser of an historye.

Conditio Peripatetica secta Aristoteles, Aristotle the sprit authour of the secte Peripatetice.

Conditio, oris, m. g. one that maketh sauce, or seasoneth meate.

Conditio, ri, n. g. a sepulchre, a place where in obduance for watre is kept.

Conditus, a, um, that wherin any thyng is hydde of layde vp.

Conditio, a, f. g. saute of pichle made with spyce.

Conditus, a, um, hyd, layde vp, made, builded. Tumulo conditus, buried in a tumber.

Enlis vagina conditus, a swerde put vp in the scabarde.

Conditus, us, m. g. idem quod conditio, a sausing of seasonyng.

Conditus, a, um, sauced, seasoned, tempered, made sauoye, of pleasant, enbaumed.

Conditio oratio, wordes of language tempered with honest and pleasant thynges.

Bene coctus et conditus sermo, verale circumspere and pleasant talke.

Nemo vquam suauitate conditor, no man euer vbed more sweete, pleasaunt, or courtys manner of speaking.

Condiuincum, Rautes in France.

Condo, didi, ere, to late vp fault, of hyde. Some tyme to make of buyde, to founde.

Condere captiuos in custodiam, to put the pylsoners in safegarde.

Condo in crumena, I put it vp in my purse. Seponere et condere.

Arca condere aliquid, to late vp of hyde a thyng in ones chest.

Condere terra, of humo, to bury.

In carcerem, of carcere condere, to caste in pylson.

Condere corpora sepulchro, of in sepulchro, to burge deade bodies, of late them in graue.

Triticum condere in granaria, to late vp wheate in granter.

Sol condit se in vndas, the son goeth downe. Iram condere, to hepe close ones anger.

Condere vibem, ciuitatem, arces, domos, to buyde, &c.

Iura et leges condere, to make lawes.

Nomen memorandum condere, to get greate renoume, of an immortall name.

Condere rempublicam, & Occidere, contrary.

Condere carmen, to make a varse.

Condere bella, to discribe of wyse of warres.

Iusiurandum condere, to make of institute another.

Condere historiam, to wyse an history.

Condoceo, cui, ere, to teache.

Condocefacio, feci, cere, to make to knowe, to instructe of teache.

Condoleo, ui, ere, to be verale sick of pegned.

Condolet caput, my head ake.

Condolesco, scere, to bee soyy, to bee sick of pegned.

Condonatio, onis, f. g. a geuyng of forgeuyng.

Condonatus, a, um, geuen, forgeuen, pardoned.

Condonatum iudicium alicui dicitur, whan the persone accused is either condemned of quitte, for the fauour of some man.

Condonare, aui, are, to geue, to forgeue a debt of buette, to pardon.

Condonare alicui munusculum, to geue one a present.

Condonare aliquem pecuniam, to forgeue one moneie that he oweth. Lxxviii. Condonare pecuniam debitoribus.

Condonare peccatum, to forgeue a trespass of an offence.

Condonare animaduersionem et supplicium, to remitte of pardon a mannes punishmente.

Condormio, sui, ire, to sleepe with other.

Condormisco, scere, to sleepe a lytell, to nap.

Condriille, les, f. g. Condriillum, li, neu. ge. wyde ephoy.

Condris, an herbe called false dittayn, because it is lyke dittayn, but it hath lesse leaues.

Conducibilis, le, poffitable, comthodious.

Conduco, xi, ere, to bynge with, to hye, to bye, to take an house of lande. Also to gather of assemble in one place, to conuerte, to take in hande to doo a worke of busynesse for hye of wa-

of wages. And in the thyde persons, it is to poffite.

Conducit, it is poffitable.

Conducit non possum, I can not be byonge to beue: No man can make me beue it.

Exercitus in vnum conducere, to bynge the armies together into one place.

Nimium magno conducere, to hye of hye at to hye a pyce.

Aliquem ad eadem faciendam conducere, to hye one to committe a murder.

Fundum de aliquo cōducere, to hye a grobe of one.

Conducere mercede, to hye for wages.

Ha maxime conducunt, que sunt rectissima. Those thynges are most poffitable, whiche are most honest.

Conducit hoc iuxta laud, This maketh much for your pyaple.

Conducere nauem, hortum, domum, locū, &c. to hye, &c.

Conductio, onis, f. g. a bypyng.

Conductus, a, um, that whiche made be hyed of taken, of is vled to be hyed.

Conductus operæ, hyed labourers.

Conductor, oris, m. g. he that hyeth a thyng. Some tyme he that is hyed.

Conductum, ti, n. g. a thyng hyed.

Conducti in vnum locum, gathered toggyther into one place.

Habere aliquid conducti, to hye a thyng.

Conductus, a, um, gathered, assembled toggyther, hyed.

Conductio, onis, f. g. a donbyng.

Conductio, aui, are, to double a thyng.

Conducere beneficium, to double a benefite.

Tenebræ conductantur, it waxed twyse so darke.

Condurdon, an herbe that beareth a redde flower, and flowereth in August, being benyg about the neck, it helpeth the disease called Struma.

Condu, di, m. g. a square of household, of he that helpeth the stoy of household.

Condyloma, atis, neu. gen. a swelling of the eust of foundement, proceeding of an inflammation.

Condylus, i, m. g. of festus thomp. is exponed a ryng. Some other bee declare it to bee the roundness of the bones in the knee, the ancle, the elbow, the knuckles of the fingers.

Confabulo, aui, are, to tell tales, to committe of talke together.

Confarcio, ionis Confercio.

Confarcio, ionis, f. g. a marriage betweene a man and a woman, whiche was done with certayne solemnities in the presence of the byshoppe.

Confarcitus, a, um, so married.

Confarcio, aui, are, to wedde solemnly after that fashion.

Confarcio, le, that hath the same wedd.

Confarcio, thynges dispatched and routed by reason.

Confarcio, calis, f. g. an atcheryng of bypyng of a thyng to payde.

Confarcio tribui, the impossibility of a tribune.

Annalium confarcio, the wytyng of making of an historye.

Bellum confarcio, the dispatchyng of atcheryng of warre.

Escharum confarcio, the chawpyng of meate.

Confarcio, oris, m. g. he that dispatcheth, atcheryth, consumeth, of wasteth.

Negotiorum confarcio, he that atcheryth matters.

Confarcio, a, f. g. a makinge, dooyng, of mynyng of a thyng.

Confarcio, a, um, hyed, slayne, vndoon, greued, soye broken, perfected, atchued, byonghe to an ende of constitution.

Confarcio, aui, are, senecta, senectute, senio, verale aged, at the pytte bynke.

Bellum confarcio, warre slayned and brought to an ende.

Confarcio, aui, are, cura, dolore, labore, cruciatu, morbo, slayne of soye broken with anyguythe, care, sorrowe, &c.

Corpus senectute confarcio, ac pendit lapsum, A bodie soye broken, and almost cleane decayed of done for age, of being at the last ende.

Confarcio, aui, are, slayne, murdered.

Confarcio, et trucidatus.

Cibo confarcio, hyde with eatyng.

Confarcio, ferri, ere, to ruste of royst.

Confarcio, nulli, ferre, to beare, to carp, to put of late together, to poffere, to sette forth, to prepare, to dulle, to talke together, to geue, to compact of conferte, to chaunge, to employe, of bestowe, to byng, to go, to disferre, to put in, to late to of soigne.

Ne posterius in me culpam confarcio, Put not at the last the fault in me.

Confarcio, conferui, They keepe thery commysynges together: Or, they late thery wyttes together: of deapth among them selves.

Nonnulla confarcio primis, I will late in of toigne the laste to the fyrst.

Sing vtriusque proximum horreum, quo confarcio rusticum instrumentum, No bodie, where there is no bodie, where in may be layde vp together instrumente belonging to both ends.

Missa conuili in Catonem, I have gathred in Catonem, which was done with the wyde late.

Conuili me domum, I went home.

Conuili me ad Catonem, I went to Catonem.

Conuili me ad Catonem, I went to Catonem.

Conuili me ad Catonem, I went to Catonem.

Conuili me ad Catonem, I went to Catonem.

Confero me ad campum, vel in campum, I go into the field.
 Conferre amorem, to love, to sette of caste or new love.
 Conferre animum alio, to sette his myndes elsewhere.
 Conferre capita, to assemble for counsaile, to late tuer's heades together.
 Confer gradum, come footstep.
 Conferre in pauca, to conclude shortly.
 Conferre manus, to assaile eche other.
 Conferre pedem, to come to the poynt p'p'ose: ly in contention, where the parties doo foigne, also to appoche of some nere.
 Conferre in pedes, to renne aways, to take his legges.
 Conferre studium, to employ his study.
 Conferre tempus in aleam, to spende the tyme in playing at the dyce.
 Conferre verba ad rem, to doo as he saith.
 Conferre, it is profitable.
 Nos conferemus nostro sumptu, non tuo, we will geue it of bestowe of our owne coles, and not of yours.
 Quæ diu immortales ad Cn. Pompeium conserunt, which the immortal goddis haue geuen to Cn. Pompeius.
 Quem nymphæ Pellicis ira contulit in saxum, idem mutauit.
 Falso conferre aliquid in aliquem, to lape a charge to a mans charge falsely.
 Be ignitatem in aliquem conferre, to shewe greute liberalitee of gentleness to one, to doo many pleasures for hym.
 Castra castris conferre, to p'p'che of camps one agaynst another.
 Conferre causam of culpam in aliquem, to lape the faulte of blame in one.
 Omnes meas curas cogitationesq; in rem publicam conferebam, I employed all my cares and imaginacions upon the common weale.
 Mores duorum conferre, to compare the manners of two persons together.
 In carmen conferre, to make a thynge in verses.
 In commune conferre, to lape together a p'p'osition for the common profite.
 Conferre et fabulari, to deuple and talke together.
 Causam conferre in tempus, to excuse ones selfe by the tyme.
 Dona alicui conferre, to geue gyftes to one.
 In tempus ambulationis cogitationes conferre, to remitte of defere his earnest cogitations till the tyme he go a walkyng.
 Verba in pauca conferam, quid velim, I will tell you b'refly of in fewe wordes, what I woulde with you.
 Coram inter nos conferemus, we will deuple and common of these matters, when we meete together.

Contuli iter, I tooke my iourneys, of I went.
 Ingenium ad rem aliquam conferre, to geue ones mynde to a thynge.
 Maledicta in aliquem conferre, to cuple of geue one shewde wordes.
 Conferre officia in aliquem, to doo frendely pleasures for a man.
 Omnem operam in aliquid conferre, to emplotte of bestowe all ones labour on a thynge.
 Orationem ad seruitutem suam contulit, he iourned his communication from other thynge, and spake of his bondage.
 Pecuniam in opus conferre, to bestowe of late out monete upon some worke.
 Pestem hominibus hæc conferunt, These thynge engender and bynge pestilence as monge men.
 Conferre rationes, to cast accompt, or make a rekenyng.
 Conferre sermonem cum aliquo, or inter se, to talke.
 Conferre signa, to forgn battaile, and by a metaphore, to contende of streue.
 Conferre omnia sua studia in aliquem, to do all the pleasures that one can for a man.
 Conferre suspicionem in aliquem, to suspecte one.
 Aliquod stipendium nostro studio contulerunt, They gaue certayne money to the use theaunce of our study.
 Conferre tributum, to paye tribute.
 Conferre vires in vinum, to assemble they powers together.
 Conferre se totum ad amicitiam alicuius, to geue hym selfe holly to any mans frendship.
 Conferre se in fidem et clientelam alicuius, to put of commette ones selfe into the handes of tuition of any man.
 Conferre se in societatem, to associate, to make hym selfe a companion.
 Conferre aliquem alteri, or cum altero, to compare one with another.
 Conferrumino, au, are, idem quod Fero rumino.
 Conferrim, in a busshement together.
 Conferus, a, um, tull, also in a stocke of multitudine, in a busshement.
 Vt nunquam confert, sed rari magnisque interuallis præhærentur, That they myghte fyghe, not a multitude together, but a fewe at ones, and a great distance a funder.
 Turba conferta iter clausit, The people gathered together in a busshement, stoppeth the waye.
 Qua parte hostium acies confertissima visæ est, erupit, he brake out on that side, where the hoste of the enemies seemed to be moste thynke of people.
 Confertissima turba, In the thickest pleace.

Cons

Conferta vita voluptatum omnium varietate, A lyfe replenished with all kyndes of pleasure.
 Conferua, a, f, g, an herbe, which groweth in fresh waters, lyke to a sponge.
 Confessio, onis, f, g, a confessyng or acknowladyng of a thynge.
 Sit erranti medicina confessio, let the knowlagynge of the fault be a medicine for hym that hath doone amysse.
 Confessione illius æui, by the confession and repoyte of men of that tyme.
 Urgetur sua confessio, his owne confession is layde heade to his charge.
 Adignationis confessionem aliquem adducere, to bynge one to acknowlage his ignomynce.
 Confessor, oris, m. g, he that confesseth of a knowladyng.
 Confessus, a, um, that confesseth of a knowladyng, also clere, manifest, without doubt.
 Confessores, a, manifeste thynge, out of all controuersie.
 Reus confessus, he that acknowladyth hym selfe guilty.
 Quæ ex confesso sunt turpia, which be manifestly knowen, or which every man graunteth to be vnhonest.
 In confesso est, So manne deapthly it, every man graunteth it.
 In confesso venire res dicitur, when every man graunteth it to be so.
 Conferueo, bul, ère, to be hotte.
 Conferueo, scere, to ware hotte.
 Confestim, est, soones, forthwith, incontinent, by and by.
 Sine villa mora et confestim.
 Confibula, a, f, g, a claspe of each, a wooden pynte of wedge.
 Conficio, feci, ere, to perfoyme, synthe or make an ende of, to dispatche, to perp'ete of be consumed, to bestowe of sea, to geue v're of to ment, to explicate of declare.
 Honestatis pars confecta est, quam tibi cupio esse notissimam, the parte of honestie is declared, whiche I woulde would be vnto the perfectly knowen, also to byng to passe, Si me amas, confice, If thou louest me, byng it to passe, also to gather monete.
 Per magnam diem ex illa pecunia confici posse, Thou wilt saie, that a greatte summe of monye myghte be made of that thynge.
 Conficere, to bryake.
 Nucem dentibus conficere, to bryake a nut with the tethe, also to consume of waste.
 Qui cum his non vident me, credant me conficere argentum, sum, who because they se me not here, beleue I waste they monete.

Conficere, to bryake.
 Quomodo potest ex multorum deorum a ceruo vnus deus confici? By what meanes maye there be of an heape of goddes one god made?
 Conficere opus, to synthe out his thynge, or doo his task. It is translated in to this sentence: To haue doon of brought to an ende that thynge, which he was appoynted of commaunded.
 Conficere prandium, to haue dyner.
 Pallium ad Phrygiensem fert confecto prandio, when dyner was doon, or when he had dyner, he caried his mantell to the byndes.
 Conficere sollicitudines alicui, to bynge ones into heauynesse, or to make hym sorrowfull.
 Confeci, quæ insit omnia, I haue doon of dispatched all that ye badde me.
 Sica hominem confeci, he murdered the man with a dagger.
 Confici curis, dolore, angore, mirrore, in firmitatibus, To be greued, vexed, or sojourned with care, sorowe, &c.
 Conficere ambulationem, to waltke.
 Absolutionem conficere, to dispatche of quite.
 Prope centum annos confeci, he hath lyued well nere an hundred yeres.
 Conficere bellum, to atcheue of synthe a warre, sometyne to fyghe.
 Cibos conficere, to concocte of digest meate, sometyne to chaw.
 Cursum annum sol conficit, The sunne goeth a certayne course perely.
 Conficere cum aliquo de re aliqua, to conclude of sale at agreement with one concerning a matter.
 Diem conficere, to spende the daie.
 Conficere diem extremum, to ende ones lyfe, to dye.
 Facinus conficere, to committe some naughty deede.
 Conficere exercitum, to gather an army.
 Iter conficere, to dispatche of go a iourney.
 Librum conficere, to wryte of make a booke.
 Mandata conficere, to fulfill of accomplishe ones commaundementes.
 Malum alicui conficere, to woode one with chere of displeasure.
 Conficere munus susceptum, to atcheue of accomplishe that one hath taken in hande.
 Negotium conficere, to dispatche a busshness.
 Nuptias conficere, to make a marriage.
 Vetus quæ conficit, consuetudo of some consumeth of weareth bussh thynge.
 Parum conficere, to waste of waste awaye ones heritage.
 Racem conficere, to pacifye of quyte a countrey.
 Peculum grande confeci, I gaue of gather

R. (1)

red together a great sycheffe of substance of monie and cattell.
Mille passium conficere, to walke the space of a myle.

Vario sermone sex stadia conficimus, we went talkeing of dyuers matter, the space of vi. furlonges.

Rationes conficere, to caste accomptes, to make a rekenyng.

Reditum conficere alicui, to geat one licence to retoune.

Rem conficere, to dispatche a matter. also to consume ones substance.

Sacra conficere, to doo diuine seruice.

Sermone conficere, when he hadde tolde his tale.

Tabulas conficere, to make rolles registeru of rekenyng booke.

Confidens, entis, om. g. he that regardeth no lawes, nor feareth any thyng, stubburn, stiffe necked, foole hardy, rather, past all shame. some tyme taken in good parte, it signifyeth confidence, assured.

Confidenter, confiantly, assuredly. sometyms hardly, boldly, aduenturously, stubburnly. Confidenter reare in re aliqua, to abyde stiffe of stubburnly in a matter.

Confidenter colloqui, to talke boldly with our feare.

Confidentia, x. f. g. truste, hope, certayne assurance, constancie, boldnesse. also madde hardynesse, vnhumaneitnesse.

Improbis et confidentia.

Temeritas et confidentia.

Confidentilocus, he that speaketh boldly without feare.

Confido, di. ere, to trust, to be sure, to dare, to haue a sure confidence.

Confidere et metueri, contrary.

Animo confidere, to haue a good heart.

Timide confidere alicui, to be halfe asyde to truste one.

Causa confidit, he trusteth on his matter, that it will not decepe hym.

Corporis firmitate confidere, to trust in the strenght of the bodie.

In nullo illorum sibi confidebat, he put his truste in none of them.

De vrbis salute confidunt, They haue good hope of the sauegarde of the citee.

Configo, fixi, ere, to fyche of thynge in to a thyng.

Sagittis configere, to shoote thowgh with arrowes.

✚ Cornicum oculos configere, a prouerbe signifying to deface, condemne, or foydoos with a newe inuention, that whiche the antiquite hath of longe tyme appoynded: or to go about to blynde them that are veray wyse and circumspete.

Configere omnes curas in respublika salute, to put his whole care to wayntep ne and pfecture the common weale.

Confictio, onis, f. g. a feignyng of pmagynyng.

Confictus, a, um, feigned, counterfeit, pmagined.

Configuro, aui, are, to fason of fourme, to make lyke.

Configo, finxi, ere, to feigne a thyng to be true, to fourme of make, to comment, to inuent of pmagine.

Configere dolum, to fynde a meane to be ceptus one.

Hirundines eadem materia nidos confingunt, Swallows make theyr nestes of the same matter.

Apes fauos confingunt, Bees make the honey combs.

Configere et comminisci.

Crimen in aliquem confingere, to inuent of imagine a falsse accusation agaynst one.

Confins, ne, next to, of adioynyng, boundyng to, sometyms almoste lyke, of the same foite.

Continus ager, a stede adioynyng, of boundyng to an other.

Confinis, is, n. g. a thyng of place adioynyng to an other.

Ei confine est, It is almoste lyke to that, of the same foite.

Confinium, nli, n. g. a boier of a marches of a countre of lande.

Confinium, pl. a. t. x. declin. idem.

Vicinitas et continia.

Confio, tis, fieri, to bee made.

Stercus quod ex pecoribus confit, doungs that is made of beastes, beastes doung.

Confit, it is made together.

Confirmatio, onis, f. g. a confirmation of assurance.

Confirmator, oris, m. g. he that aspymeth of assuredly.

Confirmatus, a, um, confirmed, made stronge, fortified, strengthened.

Confirmata valetudo a morbo, helth wel recovered after sickness.

Confirmitas, atis, f. g. assurednesse.

Confirmo, aui, are, to confyrme of assure a thyng to be as it is spoken, to strengthen, to fortifie, to make sure, to encourage, to make more constant and hardy.

Confirmare animum, to take courage.

Confirmare se, to make hym selfe strong after sickness, to geat his strenght agayne.

also to take a good heart of courage, and not so feare. sometyms to pause and refrethe ones selfe after weynesse.

Cum te confirmaris, ad nos venias, when ye haue recovered your strenght, come to vs.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Confirmare se ad omnia, to settle ones mynde to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Milles consolatur et confirmat, he comforteth the solowdowes, and maketh them more constant and bolde.

Confirmare amicitiam cum aliquo, to confirme smites and frendshyppe with one, and make it more sure.

Confirmare et Comprobare.

Confirmare, et infirmare, refellere, refutare, contrary.

Difficile est hoc de omnibus confirmare, It is harde to asseme this to be true of all with out exception.

Confirmare possum, I can assure you.

Confiscatus, a, um, confiscated, taken as foylast.

Confisco, aui, are, to seise a thyng for a foylasture.

Confiscare hereditates, to seise mens heritages as foylaste.

Confiscare homines, to take mens bodies and goodes to the pynnes pleasure.

Confissio, onis, f. g. an hoppyng of trustyng.

Confissus, a, um, trustyng, hoppyng, haupng a sure confidence.

Confiteor, fessus sum, eri, to confesse, to acknowledge.

Questione adhibita confiteri, By examination and tormentes to confesse.

Motum animi sui lacrymis conficitur, with teares he betereth the troublous motion of his mynde.

Dere confiteor, the thyng it self he confelleth.

Vi de me confiteor, That I make confesse of tell you for myne owne parte.

Confixus, a, um, pyched, thurst thowgh, stricken. Telo confixus, thurst in with a weapon.

Confixus, us, m. g. a stichyng of thurstyng in.

Confuges, places, whereunto many wyndes doo blowe.

Confagito, aui, are, to despye importunately.

Cōflagratus, a, u, burned, consumed with fyre.

Confagro, aui, are, to bee on fyre, to be inflamed, to burne.

Confagare amoris flama, to burne in loue.

Confagare inuidia, and Cōflagrare incensio inuidia, to be extremely hated.

Conflatile, that whiche is apte to be wroughthe lyke metall.

Conflatio, onis, f. g. and Conflatura, x. a melting of metall.

Conflatus, a, um, blowen, compacte, made, ppyched.

Conflatus ex duabus naturis, compacte and made of two natures.

Conflatus, foyged wynter.

Conflecto, x. ere, to bende of bowe.

Conflexus, a, um, bowwed of benched.

Conflatio, onis, f. g. a beagyn of battayng of one thyng agaynst an other.

Conflatus, a, u, greved, vexed, sore troubled.

Conflatus graui morbo, tormented of

Conflatus graui morbo, tormented of

Conflatus graui morbo, tormented of

Conflatus graui morbo, tormented of

Conflatus graui morbo, tormented of pyched with a greuous sickness.

Tempestibus conflatur, the frenche and beate with tempestes.

Conflito, aui, are, to fight, to weye, or to beate, also Conflictor, aui sum, eri, conflicto fight, to weye, to trouble of geate, or to be vexed, troubled, or geueed.

Rempublicam conflicare, to weye the common weale.

Multis incommodis conflitantur, they be vexed and troubled with many troubles.

Iudicis turpibus conflitari, to contende in vnhonest iudgements.

Conflitari cum aliquo malo, to fyghte of streue earnestly agaynst an euell chaunce of misfortune.

Conflitari iniqua valetudine, doloribus, molestiis, to be greued or vexed with sickness, et.

Qui cum ingenuis conflatur huiusmodi, he that keepeth companie, or hath to doo with men of such disposition.

Conflatio, onis, f. g. idem quod Conflatus et Conflatio.

Conflatio causarum, the replicacion in causes troubles, where the one affirmeth and the other denyeth.

Confligium, il, n. g. the battayng together of the waves of water.

Confligo, flixi, ere, to fyghte, as men doo in battayle, and by a metaphore, to contende of streue.

Confligere manu cum hoste, to fighte hande to hande with ones enemy.

Veni confligunt, the wyndes blowe contrary one agaynst an other.

Confligunt leges et Collidunt, lohe Collido. Cause inter se confligunt, the controuersies agree not one with an other.

Confligunt magna ira, they fyghte together with great wrath.

Conflo, aui, are, to blow together, to blow lyke as one bloweth fyre, to melt metall, to foyge of make, to ppyche of get. also to gather.

Statuas argenteas conflavit omnes, he melted all the ymages of gynter. Theophrastus Vasa aurea conflare.

Bellum conflare, to caste warre.

Conflare exercitum, to gather an army.

Magna familiaritas conflata est, great familiarity was ppyched and gotten.

Quibus ex rebus conflatur & efficitur, id quod quiritur honestum, Of which thynges that honestie, which we desyre to haue, is compacte and made.

Conflavit ex his omnibus populis, he gathered all these people together.

Et erunt rigidum flum, conflantur in enssem, and the croked ryver is made into a hard sword.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Conflare inuidiam, inuidia, to hate of ppyche of ones hostilitie, hatred.

Selfe can come to speake with hym.
 Congredialiquem, to enter communication with one, to go to talke with hym.
 Congredi cum hoste, to cope with ones ene-mie, to fight, to fornye battayle.
 Congredi alicui quodidiana consuetudine, to haue access to one daisly, to bee with one euerie daie.
 Congregabilis, le, that lightly assemblith together.
 Congregatio, onis, f. g. a congregation of assemble.
 Congregatus, a, um, gathered of assembled
 together.
 Congrego, aui, are, to gather of assemble together.
 Libenter se cum equalibus congregant ho-mines, men hepe company gladly with theire equals.
 Quicumque aut voluntas congregasset, aut fortuna commiserit, with whom either your owne will had associate you, or fortune coupled you.
 Congregulus, us, m. g. a battayle. also company with other, a meeting of resortinge of men
 together.
 Congressio, idem.
 In congressum et colloquium alicuius venire, to come to one to haue communication with hym.
 In congressum nostrum referuabo, I wylle
 kepe it till we meete.
 In congressum congreth perierunt, Many were shunte at that encounter of conflicte.
 Congregatio, of the same flocke.
 Congregatus, onis, m. g. accordyng, apte, aspreable.
 Congregatus, aptly, fitly.
 Congregatus, a, agreeableness, metence, likeness Congregatus, are, to agree.
 Congruere et differre, contrary.
 Congruere et convenire.
 Congruit mulier mulieri magis, One woman agreeth better with an other.
 Tempus ad illud congruit, the tyme serueth well for it.
 Congruit eius sermo cum tuis literis, His wordes agree well with your letters.
 Ne nos inter nos congruere sentiant, That they perceiue not that we be agreeth betwene our selues.
 Congruere cum moribus alterius, to agree well with the maners of an other man.
 Congrus, et Conger, gri, m. g. a fpythe called a congre.
 Congruum, i, n. g. agreeable.
 Congruus, a, um, apte, mete, convenient.
 Congylis, lis, f. g. looke Rapum.
 Coniectarium, ii, n. g. for Confectarium Nonus legit.

Coniectatio, onis, f. g. a conjecture of diuination.
 Coniectio, onis, f. g. an huieng, tynge, of casting.
 Coniecto, aui, are, to suppose, to iudge, to confecte of diuine, to gather by argumentes and tokens.
 Coniectare aliquid euentu, to confecte of deeme of a thyng by that that foloweth.
 Vultu offensionem coniectare, to gather by ones countenance, that he is not well pleased with vs.
 Haud dubio coniectatur argumento, a man
 maye gather by a good token of argument.
 Coniector, oris, m. g. an interpreter of dreasmes, a coniectour that dooeth confecte what shall happen.
 Coniectura, x, f. g. a conjecture of diuination.
 Aberrare coniectura, to confecte wryonge, to gesse otherwys than the thyng is.
 Coniectura aliquid assequi, to hitte a thyng
 by gesse of conjecture.
 Coniectura augurari, to confecte of gesse.
 Coniectura colligere, to gather by conjecture
 Coniecturam facere, to confecte.
 Ex vultu coniecturam facere, to gather by ones countenance.
 Coniecturam facio de meo stomacho, I gather of confecte howe it is by myne owne stomache.
 Prohiteri coniecturam somniorum, to pro-fesse the interpretation of dreames.
 Coniecturalis, le, that whiche is confected of gathered by conjecture.
 Coniectus, us, idem quod coniectio.
 Coniectus oculorum, the casting of the eyes aside.
 Coniectus, a, u, confected, diuined, cast, hurled.
 Coniectum te omnium oculi, All men behold you: and by transfection, you be in great admiration of all men: of they loke for some great thyng of you.
 Conifer, a, um, an adiectiue.
 Conifera arbor, a tree, which beareth fruite beynge smaller at the one end then at the other,
 lyke a pyne appyll.
 Conicio, ieci, ere, to caste, to confecte.
 Coniecit se in fugam, he fledde.
 Coniecit se intro, he went his wale in.
 Coniecit se in pedes, he toke hym to flight,
 he toke his legges and ranne awaie.
 Conicere pecuniam, to bestowe monete.
 Conicere in laticium, to make glabbe.
 Conicere in saginam, to put to fatynge, to go where he maye fyll his bealye.
 Conicere in vincula, to caste in pylson of to late a man in the stocks of gyues.
 Conicere tela, to caste barres, of to moore.
 Acute arguteq; conicere, to confecte finely and wittely.
 Conicere aliquem in amorem, to caste of byng one in loue.

Hostem in fugam conicere, to discomfite of put his enemy to flight.
 In quod me conici malum: Into what mis-chiefe of trouble haue I cast my selfe?
 Conicere in morbum, to cast into a sickness.
 In nuptias conicere, to cause one to bee maried agaynst his will.
 In plagas conicere, to bynde of byng one into the nettes, to intrappe of snare one.
 Maledicta conicere in alicuius vitam, to cypose of speake pull of a mans lyfe.
 Oculos conicere in aliquem, to looke vpon
 one. Conicere culpā aut causam in aliquem, to caste the fault or blame on one.
 Conicere in librum, to wryte in a booke.
 In eandem epistolam plura præterea conieci, I haue wrytten many thynges besydes in the same epistle.
 Sub scalas se coniecit, he hyd hym selfe vnder the scales.
 Tu conicito cetera, coniect thou the residue.
 De se conicere, to gather of confecte by ones
 lyfe.
 Conicio, aui, are, to bynde one at an other with theyr heades, as rammes, bulles, & deere doo.
 Coniugalis, le, and Coniugialis, le, that be-together to wedlocke.
 Dii coniugales, goddes that haue the pyes-sentence in wedlocke.
 Festa coniugalia, feastes at weddinges.
 Fœdus coniugale, the bonde of wedlocke.
 Coniugalis thorus, the bedde, wherein the husbande and wyfe doo lyge.
 Coniugata, be those wordes, whiche beynge of one kynde, be deuised one of an other, as of Iustitia, iustus, et iustum, wherof an argumēt may be made in this wise: If iustice be to be honoured and loued of men, chiefly and bes-soye other thynges, a iuste man must needes be had in estimation & reuerence among men.
 Coniugatio, onis, a tolynge together, of a destruction of wordes that bee as it were of one kynde of lynage.
 Coniugium, ii, n. g. marriage, sometyme car-nall copulation.
 Coniugia, sometyme for theim that be coupled as mates together, as,
 Bina coniugia, two couples of mates, two mates and two females.
 Coniugo, aui, are, to yoke together, to mary.
 Coniugus, and Coniugulus, a, um, that whiche is toyned of coupled with a mate of felowe.
 Coniuncte, of Coniunctum, together.
 Coniunctio, onis, f. g. a tolynge together.
 Sometyme affinitie. Sometyme familiaritee of acquyntance, mutuell loue of conioyde.
 Veritas est amor, consuetudo, studia paria, quod vinculum, quæ res deest nostræ con-iunctioni: There is olde loue, acquyntance, studies lyke, what bonde, of what thyng lacket, that we should not be familiar & Spero et opto, nobis hanc coniunctionem voluptati fore, I desyre and also wryte that this alpaunce shall be tofull vnto vs.

 Coniunctio coniectiue, to geat acquynttaunce of familiaritee.
 Coniunctio, amicitia, et beneuolentia.
 Coniunctio et familiaritas.
 Coniunctio et conspiratio.
 Conuenientia et coniunctio naturæ.
 Sanguinis coniunctio, kynrede, affinitie.
 Coniunctio et disiunctio, contrary.
 Coniunctissime, et amantissime.
 Coniunctissime versati sumus, we were derate familiar together.
 Coniunctus, ti, m. g. a frende of verate familiar and well trusted.
 Coniunctus, a, um, toyned, familiar.
 Coniunctissimi inter se, verate great fren-des and familiar one with an other.
 Par amicitia coniuictissimum, two entiers and verate familiar frendes.
 Coniuncta et sociata.
 Coniuncti inter se atq; impliciti.
 Propinquitate, et natura alicui coniuictum
 est, to be of kyned of affinitie with one.
 In quo non sit coniuictum consiliū meum cum tuo, wherein myne aduise of counsaile dooeth not agree with yours.
 Coniuncta mihi cura de republica et priuata cum illo fuit, he and I were alwayes solicitous together, bothe for our common and pivate weale.
 Coniunctis sententiis decernere, whan a whole company with a full consent of degnety
 a thyng to bee doon.
 Coniungo, xi, ere, to tolynge together.
 In negotio se coniungere, to assortate hym
 selfe with an other in a matter of busynesse.
 Conciliare et coniungere.
 Coniungit amicitias naturæ similitudo, the lykenesse of nature of disposition toggeth men together in frendshipp.
 Coniungere sibi feminam in matrimonio,
 to wedde a wyfe.
 Coniungere connubia, idem.
 Castra oppido coniunxit, he pyched his campe harde by the towne.
 Bellum coniungere, to tolynge battayle.
 Coniuola, hyd, secretes.
 Coniuratio, onis, f. g. a conspicate.
 Facere coniurationem, to make a conspicate on of conspicate.
 Prodere cōiurationem, to wryte a conspicate Coniuratus, a, um, that conspicate of confederateth together.
 Coniurati, mē confederati together for som
 ppy purpose.
 Coniuro, aui, are, to cōfute of conspicate with other for any purpose. Sometyme to sweare.

C ANTE O.

Officium conscripti, the office of a senatour.
 Conscripti, they whose names be written or registered to supply a number, which do lack, or such as be newe chosen or added unto the other, properly spoked of the senators of Rome Confeco, securi, are, to cutte or hache in smalle pieces.
 Consecrare minutarim, to cutte or hache in
 smalle pieces.
 Consecrare, such as be dedicated to one secte or opinion.
 Consecratum, idem quod consecratum.
 Consecratio, onis, f. g. a dedication or consecration.
 Consecratus, a, um, gotten or bent.
 Consecratus et addictus alicui sententiæ, geuen or addicte to any opinion.
 Consecro, aui, are, to dedicate or consecrate. also to put in remembrance by writing.
 Consecrare memoriam nominis, to put his name in perpetuall remembrance.
 Delubra consecrare, to dedicate temples.
 Epheum consecrare, to dedicate temples.
 domum, simulachra, &c.
 Consecrari, they that be of one secte.
 Consecrari, u, n. g. a bycfe arguments or collaturs.
 Consecratus, a, um, the adiective.
 Consecratio, onis, f. g. a following or pursuing after an imitation.
 Consecrator, onis, m. g. he that followeth or pursueth.
 Consecratrix, the feminine.
 Consecrator, aui, are, to followe, to pursue distinctly. Omnia mala consecratur, All vices followe me.
 Consecrari aliquem, to raple at or repulse one spitefully.
 Consecrari et conficere, to pursue and fight enemies.
 Consecrari, to hunte after riches, to study to gett riches.
 Consecrari alicuius benevolentiam largiri one, to endowre to geat ones fauour and good will, with gestes and bybes.
 Consecrari etiam minutissima, to endeavour to come to the knowlage of the smallest thin-ges. Quid singula consecrator? why dooe I endeavour to recte or speake of every thyng?
 Consecratus, a, um, and Consecratus, le, sown with diuers seedes, or planted with diuers plantes.
 Consecro, ui, ere, to be or waxe olde.
 In armis, or sub armis consensescere, to leade
 all ones lyfe in warre.
 Consensio, onis, f. g. a consent or accord, of one mynde or purpose.
 Consensus, us, m. g. accord, agreements, a consence.
 Omnium consensu, by the accord and agreement of all.

C ANTE O.

Consensus et dissensus, contrary.
 Consensu, a, um, agreeable, meete, & consent
 Consensu sibi, agreeable to it selfe.
 Aptum et consensu, it is meete, or it is good reasons. Consensu et dissensu, contrarie.
 Consensu, orum, such thynges as be agreed vpon by the consent of many.
 Consensu, a citee of the Byzantins.
 Consensu, people of that citee.
 Consensio, iui, ire, to consent, to agree, to be of one opinion.
 Consensu et pugnare, contrary.
 Vno ore omnes consensu, All allowed it or agreed with one consent.
 Consensu sibi, to abide still in his opinion,
 to be atwape lyke hym selfe.
 Consensu vultus cum oratione, his countenance declareth hym to speake as he thyng heh: his wordes and there consent or agree.
 Consensu cum aliquo, de re aliqua, to agree with one concerning a matter.
 Consensio, lepsi, ire, to inclose with an hedge,
 to enuyson or compass.
 Consensu, u, n. g. an inclosure or place inclosed.
 Consensu, a, um, enclosed, hedged in.
 Consequenter, consequent.
 Consequencia, thynges whiche doo followe or ensue, or be agreeable or consequent.
 Consequencia et consensu, a, f. g. a sequel, a consequence.
 Consequi, sequens.
 Consequor, eris, utrum sum, sequi, to follow im-mediatly, to obteyne or geat, to expresse, to ensue, to ouertake in following or goyng.
 Verbis consequi non possum, I can not expresse it in wordes.
 Consequitur equites, the horsemen followed immediatly.
 Voluptas ut moror consequatur, that followe of heauynesse myght followe immediatly after pleasure.
 Si accelerare volent, ad vesperam me consequantur, pf they wyl make haste, at nyght
 they make ouertake me.
 Hoc videtur esse consecuti, This much we seeme to haue attayned.
 Inuestigare et consequi.
 Per aliquem aliquid consequi, to obteyne a thyng by an other mans means.
 Quid ex eo consequitur est? what hath thou wonne thereby?
 Consequi aliquid diligentia, to attayne or geat a thyng by diligence.
 Consequi gratiam, gloriam, laudem, dignitatem, cominodum, famam, magistratum, fructum, premium, &c. to purchase, geat, or obteyne fauour, glory, &c.

Nullam

C ANTE O.

Nullam partem tuorum meritorum consequi possum, I can not requite the hundredth part of the pleasure that ye haue shewed me.
 Consequatur, a, um, that followeth or ensueth,
 also that is obteyned or gotten.
 Consero, seui, ere, to sowe, sette, or plant.
 Conserere manus, to fight hande to hande.
 Conserere leges, to constitute by ordyne
 lawes.
 Consero, serui, ere, to entermynge, to soigne.
 Conserere praelium aur pugnam, to fight
 battayle, to fight.
 Conserere certamen, to contende or stepue.
 Conseratus, a, um, factored or made like a saw.
 Conserere, as it were interlaced.
 Conserior, oris, m. g. he that copeth or fighteth with another.
 Conserus, a, um, entelaced, entermynge.
 Conseruatio, onis, f. g. a keepynge, mainteynynge preseruing.
 Conseruator, oris, m. g. one that mainteyneth and preserueth.
 Conseruator, et oppugnator, contrary.
 Conseruator et cuto.
 Conseruatrix, the feminine.
 Conseruatus, a, um, saued, mainteyned, preserued.
 Conseruitum, ii, n. g. a fellowshipp in seruice.
 Conseruo, aui, are, to keepe, to preserue or mainteyne.
 Tueri et conseruare.
 Conseruare incolumem, to keepe in safegard or out of daunger.
 Iusurandum conseruare, to keepe or obserue an othe.
 Conseruare aliquem, to preserue one.
 Patriam conseruare, to defende and main-tayne ones countreie.
 Memoriam alicuius rei conseruare, to res-membere or keepe in mynde.
 Rem suam conseruare, to saue or keepe his goodes and substance.
 Conseruus, ui, m. g. a fellowe or companion in seruice. Conserua, the feminine.
 Conserior, oris, m. g. he that fighteth with or neere other.
 Conserius, us, m. g. men spytyng together: He made be taken for a sessions or spytyng of men whiche be commissioners.
 Conserio, sedi, sidere, to sette, abyde, or tarpe in a place, to solowene. It maye be used to spe-at a sessions.
 Tuo considere in aliquo loco, or apud ali-quem locum, to remayne or abyde sauley in a place.
 Considere in otio, to be at quiet and leisure:
 as out of trouble and busynesse.
 Consedit in mente iustitia, Iustice is placed in the mynde.
 Considero, lochs Consydero,

C ANTE O.

Consido, sedi, sidere, to sette or abyde after the remouynge from an other place: or to sette as the bottom, as bygges in bynde, to bygges
 as a byde dooeth after he hath flower.
 Ignis consedit, the fyre is assuaged or stined
 Cura consedit, care is assuaged.
 Vbi ira consedit, when his anger was ap-passed.
 Considitur, the impersonall.
 Consignatio, onis, f. g. a sealynge, or wytyngne signed.
 Consignatus, a, um, signed.
 Consignare in animis notiones, knowlages pynsed in mens myndes.
 Consignificatio, onis, f. g. a declaration by som means or token.
 Consignifico, aui, are, to shewe by tokens, to signifie.
 Consigno, aui, are, to seale, to signe, to make.
 Consignamus literis, when we putte any thyng in wytyng.
 Consileo, lui, ere, to kepe silence.
 Consileco, silui, scere, to be stille, to keepe silence, to holde ones peace.
 Consiliarius, ri, m. g. one that geueth counsaill
 Amici et consilii, frenes and counsaillors
 Consiliator, oris, m. g. a counsaillour.
 Consiligo, inis, f. g. an herbe called of some Leonis para, Of Vegetius and Ruellius Pulmonaria. It is beate medicinale for the legges and lunges of beastes. It is called of the Frenchmen Bomelea.
 Consilium, a town of Italy nere to Tarentum.
 Consilio, lui, lire, to scape together.
 Consilio, aui, are, to aske or geue counsaile.
 Consilium, ii, n. g. a counsaill, iudgement or ad-uise, a purpose or intent, policie, apoyntment.
 He made be taken for commissioners or iudges assigned.
 Consilium est ita facere, I haue purposed to to do. Vestrum est consilium non solum meum, quid sit faciendum, you must consult and di-uise as well as I, what is to be dooen.
 Tuum consilium est, aduise you.
 Casus et consilium, opposita.
 Consilium capi, I tooke aduise or counsaill,
 I purposed.
 Habere consilium, to consulte.
 Magni consilii est quid sit faciendum, it is a matter that needeth greates aduysment and counsaile what is to be dooen.
 Eo consilio, for that intent or purpose.
 Non est consilium, I intende not, I poure pose not.
 Consimilis, le, in all thynges lyke.
 Mos consimilis vestrum, a fashion in al possible lyke yours.
 Isti formæ, mores vt consimiles forent, that her consitions myght be lyke to this his fa-your and beautie.

Con-

C ANTE Q

Consolida, the name of an herbe, called cons-trep, of Lamifrep.
Consolidatio, onis, f. g. is where one that h^{ab} the use and profit of a thinge, called of the lawyers, Viu fructuarius, hath renounced the title thereof, to the lord of owner.
Consolida, aui, are, to make sounde that was broken, to consolidate.
Consolo, aui, are, and Consolator, aris, a depoument, to geue comfort, or take comforte.
Consolari miseriam et calamitatem, to com-forte one in miserie and trouble.
Consolari aliquem de morte patris, to com-forte one for the deathe of his father.
Consolor, aris, atus sum, the pastius.
Consonnio, aui, are, to dyame.
Consonans, adiectiuū, consonans, mets, agree-
ble. Per omnia consonans sibi, lyke of agreeable to it selfe in all pointes.
Consono, nui, are, to make sowne together.
And by a metaphorse, to accorde or agree.
Consonat moribus oratio, his talke agreeth well with his maners, or is verate lyke his maners.
Consonum, ni, n. g. a thyng mets and consonant.
Consonus, a, um, of lyke tune or sowne.
Confopio, piui, ire, to say, bypnyng, or tust a slepe.
Conforanni, people of Aquitayne in France.
Confors, ortis, om. g. a fellowe or companion, a part taker. somtyme it signifieth lyke. They are propely called Confortes, whose landes bounde together.
Generis confortes, kynfolke, allyances.
Socius et confort.
Confors consilii publici, he that is one of the common counsaile.
Confors thalami, a wyfe.
Confors calus, a lyke chaunce.
Confortes periculorum, they that be together in lyke perill and daunger.
Confortio, onis, f. g. fellowship, somtyme co-muntee and participation.
Confortiū, ti, n. g. fellowship or cōpany, societee.
Conspēctus, us, m. g. a beholding, or sighte.
In conspēctus esse, to be in sight, or in a place where one may be seene.
E conspēctū euolare, and fugere conspe-ctum, to go quickly out of sight.
Ne quis conspēctus fieret, That men might not gather about to beholde it.
In conspēctu oppidi esse, to be so nere, that they within the citie may see them.
Fui conspēctus alicuius rei, to haue the full sight of a thyng.
Prodire in conspēctum, To come abrode in sighte.
Cadit in conspēctum, It is of that sort, that may be seene.
Conspēctus, a, um, beholden, solemnely looked on, diligently regarded.

Supplies

[illegible][illegible]

Conspicatus, a, um, gathered thycke of close together.
 Conspicio, aui, are, to make thycke of close together.
 Constituo, ui, ere, to appoynt of ordeyn, to purpose of determine to doo a thyng, to promise, to place of settle, to create of buyde, to conuenant.
 Constituire et designare.
 Habeo constitutum, or constitutum est mihi, I am so determined, I have so purposed.
 Constitueram ut irem rus, I had appoynted to go into the countre.
 Constitutus inter nos, We haue ordeyned among our selues.
 Constituire alicui, vel cum aliquo, se ventus sum, to promise to one, that he will come.
 Ad constitutum venire, to come at the daye appoynted.
 Constituire tempus, to assigne of appoynte the tyme.
 Hominem ante pedes Manilij constituunt, They brought the man before Manilius.
 Constituire aliquem magna gratia apud regem, to bypge one in greatte fauour with the kyng.
 Domos constituere, to buyde houses. Aphe tesse Oppidum, turrim, mœnia constituere.
 Finem rei constituere, to make an ende of a thyng.
 Diem colloquio constituere, to appoynte a daye to common of the matter.
 In verbis tuis constituere, to take the wordes of the lawe as they lye, withoute any interpretation.
 Necessitudinem habere constitutam cum aliquo, to haue verate nere frendshipp of familiarity with one.
 Intra tylium aciem constituerat, He had placed and lodged his arme within the wodde.
 Continuere spem in aliquo, to putte hope in one.
 Constituire in diem tertium, to determine to doo a thyng the thirde daye folowpyn.
 Constituire discepcionem, to make his plea soymall: or to forsee that whiche shall come in contention.
 Constituire iudicium, after our maner of spekyng, is to demurre in lawe, or dwell in lawe, to remitte a thyng to the better opinion of the iudges.
 Constituire maiestatem, to confirme of aduauance the reuerence dewe to the supreme authoritee.
 Constituire quæstionem, to decree, that by strict examination, execution be dooen.
 Constituire statum causæ, is when the iudge dooeth determine whether it bee a matter in lawe, or a matter in dede, whiche is in controversy.

Constituere vadimoniam, to put in pledges.
 Constituere telum aliquem in alium, to cause withesse to be brought forthe.
 Constituere pecuniam, to promise money to be payed, whiche was before due by an obligation.
 Constituia, orum, statuta, acta, or ordinata.
 Constituio, onis, f. g. an ordinance, a decree, a complexion, the determination of a thyng, whiche after is hath been well debated, is brought to an ende, inuencion.
 Constituio corporis, the complexion.
 Constituio causæ, whiche our lawyers dooe call the matter in debate.
 Constitutor, oris, m. g. he that ordeyneth of maketh any thyng.
 Constitutus, us, m. g. idem quod constitutio.
 Constitutus, a, um, ordeyned, appoynted, determined, Constitutum patrimonium.
 Existimat patrimonium fore suum per te constitutum, he recogniseth, that the landes, whiche he hath, cam by your meanes, or that you were the cause that he came by his lode.
 Corpus bene constitutum, a body well complexioned.
 Constro, fuit, stare, to stande together, to perswade of abyde, to persueuer of continue, to be manifest of known, to agree, to perswade, to be. also to be compacte and made.
 Constant sententia, the opinions do agree.
 Constat animo, he is of steadfast mynde.
 Constat hoc mihi tecum, we be both agreed in this.
 Constat ratio, there is a reasonable cause.
 Constat sibi, to abyde in his opinion.
 Constat modus, Let there be a measure.
 Constitit nusquam, he abode in no place.
 Constat omnibus, it is euidet to all men.
 Non constat ei color nec vultus, he is countenance and colour not change.
 Nec auribus, nec oculis satis constare poterant, They coude not tell certainly wherto to loke, nor wherto to harken.
 Me constare mihi scis, you know, that I am alwaie tpe my selfe, or alwaies one man, or abyde still in one opinion.
 Constat in sententia, to kepe one mynd still, to persueuer in one opinion.
 Si humanitatis constare voles, If you wyl contynue still in your gentleness.
 Constant officia tua in me, your frendshipp pleasures towards me are manifest.
 Mea in te omnia officia constabunt, non secus ac si te vidissem, All the pleasures that I can dooe you, will be shewed as well as though I had seene you.
 Quominus mea in te constarent officia, That I myght bee the lesse beneficiall towards you.
 Chare constat mihi, I bought it deere.

Grati

Grati constat, it costeth me thought, I had it for greuous mynde.
 Minoris constat dimidio, it costeth less by the halfe.
 Villissime constat, He is verate good cheape, He costeth littell of nothyng.
 E quibus omnia constat, Of which all thyngs are compacte of made.
 Constat experimentis medicina, physik stant by theshipp in practice.
 Vis constare magistratibus reuerentiam? Would you that there shulde be due reuerence given still to the magistrates?
 Quis feret uxorem, cui constat omnia? who will suffer a wyfe, that hath all thynges at his will? Constat, it is manifest.
 Non satis constabat animis, They were not verate certayne of sure, they were in doubte, they doubted.
 Constat de hac re, Of this matter it is agreed, there is no controuersy in this thyng.
 Constat de eius innocentia, His innocencie is well known of teled.
 Constratus, a, um, covered ouer, paued.
 Constrata naues, covered shippes.
 Constrata naues tempestatibus, Shippes beaten together and bysted with tempestes.
 Construpo, ui, ere, to make a noyse together.
 Constrictus, a, um, resigned, bounde hard, wynged.
 Constringo, strinxit, ere, to bynde faste, to wynged hard.
 Constringere supplicio, to cause hym to dye.
 Quadrupedem constringere, to bynde hande and foote lyke a beaste.
 Necessitate constringi, to bee constrained with necessitye.
 Constringendum se tradere libidinibus, to yelde the selues as prisoners of captiues, to the fleshe luste of the bodie.
 Constructio onis, f. g. edifying, composition.
 Constructio hominis, the facture of soyming of a man.
 Constructio verborum, the order, construction, or placing of wordes.
 Constructus, a, um, buyded, made, caste vp in an heape: furnyshed, garnyshed, prepared.
 Construo, ui, ere, to buyde, to ordeyn, to heape one thyng on another.
 Construire pecuniam, to gather monete.
 Acerui ummorum construuntur apud eum, he hath gathered together greatte heapes of monete.
 Aggerem construere, to cast of make a bulwarke. Nidos aues construunt, They buydes make theyn nestes.
 Naum construere, to make a shippe.
 Aedificium constituere, to buyde an house.
 Construator, oris, m. g. an auilteer.
 Construpo, ui, ere, idem quod Stupro.

Construere iudicium, a iudgement composed with lawe.
 Considero, uasi, uadere, to rounspayn of heere varnely.
 Consualia, orum, n. g. places dedicated to the god of consualis Consul.
 Consuato, oris, m. g. one that rounspayn of exhorteth.
 Consuantes, people of the Alpes.
 Consudo, ui, ere, to sweate vehemently, and Consudatio, idem.
 Consuefacio, feci, ere, to accustom, to enue, to teach by vse.
 Consuefacere, and Disuefacere, contray.
 Consueco, iueui, fecere, to be wont, so haunt of vse a thyng muche, to accustoms. Consueco to vse carnally.
 Cum eius consueuit matre clanculum, He had compaign with his mother secretly.
 Nec magis humo quam stagno consueuerant, They are accustomed to be as well in water as on the lande.
 Consuescere alicui, to haunte muche to one, or to be muche in ones compaign.
 Consuescere iudicium aratro, to accustom the bullocke to plowe the plough.
 Consuetudo, onis, f. g. is vied of Plautus for Consuetudo.
 Consuetudo, inis, f. g. custom of vbiage. also company of familiar conuersation, factio of maner.
 Tam parua consuetudinis causa, for respect of so small acquaintance.
 Præter consuetudinem, against the facton of custom. Pro mea consuetudine, accordege to myne vbiage and callome.
 Consuetudo morbi, the course of the speches nesse, when it retourneth certayne tymes.
 Non est mea consuetudinis, it is not my fashion. Consuetudo et institutum.
 Consuetudo et exercitatio.
 Consuetudinem facere alicui cum aliquo, to make one verate familiar and well acquainted with a man.
 Consuetudo et familiaritas.
 In consuetudinem vertere, to byng into a custom. Amicitia, consuetudines, vicinitates.
 Consuetus, a, um, accustomed.
 Consul, is, m. g. a chief officer among the Romaines, wherof were two, whiche had the chiefe rule of the ciue for one yere. Of power it is vied for a yere space.
 Consularis, re, of ordeynpyn to the consill.
 Consularis vir, he that had been Consul, or were mete to be consall.
 Consulariter, lyke a Consul.
 Consularius, us, the office of a consall.
 Consulo, iui, ere, with a battue rate, to gtey enquire, with an accusatiue case to aske counsaile. Also with a battue case it signifyeth to ydoughe, to helpe to.

Gratuler de se consulere, to doo some hurt to hym selfe, to take suche counsaile that maye be hurtfull to hym selfe.
 Consulere, sine adiecto, idem quod consulere.
 Consulere in longitudinem, to psonde oꝝ pꝑare for the tyme to come.
 Oro te, in commune vt consulas, I praye you, that you will doo indifferently for both parties. In humiliores crudeliter consulebas, The vpler sorte were cruelly handled, oꝝ tharpely punysshed.
 Consulere de aliquo bene, to intreate oꝝ han dell one gentilly.
 Male consulere, contraꝑ.
 Consulere et providere.
 Consulere et prospicere.
 Consulere dignitati, estimationi, famæ, to pꝑoude for, oꝝ haue consideration and regard to ones honoꝝ, estimation, & good name.
 Pessimè in te atq; in illum consulis, you doo that whiche is verie hurtfull and vnproffitable both to your selfe and hym.
 Consulere alicui, to pꝑoude for ones pꝑofite, oꝝ to haue consideration of a man.
 Concordia consulere, to haue respect to concoide and vnitee.
 Per litteras consulere aliquem, to aske counsaile of a man by letters.
 Consulam hanc rem amicos, I wyll aske counsaile of my frendes concernynge this matiere.
 Consulere, pꝑudently, considerately.
 Consultatio, onis, f. g. a deliberation oꝝ consultation, a demaunding of counsell in a matiere.
 Responde consultationi meæ, aunswere me to that I asked the counsaile of.
 Consulto, aui, are, to geue oꝝ aske counsaile, to consult oꝝ deliberate.
 Male corde consulare, to thynke naughtilly oꝝ thjewdly in ones mynde.
 Consulare aliquem, to aske counsell of one.
 Deliberare et consulare.
 Consulto, deliberately oꝝ aduiseably, with good counsaile, aduiseement, and deliberation.
 Consulto et fortuito, contraꝑ.
 Consulto, the ablatiue case for consulere.
 Opus est consulto, it behoueth to take good aduise.
 Consultor, oris, m. g. he that geueeth counsell, sometyme he that askeeth counsaile.
 Consultrix, the feminite.
 Consultum, ti, n. g. the thyng that is consulted. sometyme an acte of counsaile, decreas, oꝝ ordinaunce.
 Consultus, a, um, the participle, demaunded oꝝ asked counsaile of.
 Consultus, a, um, the adiectiue, wyse, cunnynge, full of knowledge, whome a man maye well aske counsaile of.

Consultus eloquentiæ, verate eloquent.
 Natura consultus non disciplina, wyse and cunnynge by nature, not by learyng.
 Consultissimus iuris, a verate good and perfecte lawper.
 Consultus vniuersæ disciplinæ, cunnynge and perfecte sene in all partes of any knowlage.
 Consummatio, onis, f. g. a perfection, a full finishing, the totall summe.
 Consummatus, a, um, perfecte at a poynte.
 Consummatus homo, a perfecte felowe, an absolute man.
 Consummo, aui, are, to summe vp in a rekenyng, to synthe oꝝ perfourme, to make vp, oꝝ make perfecte.
 Consumo, sumpsi, ere, to consume oꝝ destitute, to spende oꝝ bestowe, to waste oꝝ weare oute, to byng to nought.
 Consumere diem in apparando, to spende all the daie in preparyng.
 Consumere fidem, to lose credence.
 Consumere operam, to emploie labour.
 Consumere orationem, to telle a longe tale without a conclusion.
 Effundere et consumere bona omnia, to waste & spend all a mans gooddes riotously.
 Veritas consumit ferrum, continuance of tyme weareth out pyon.
 Aetatem consumere in studio, to spende all ones lyfe in studie.
 Consumere diem, annum, tempus, horas, ætatem, to passe ouer, oꝝ spende the daie, &c.
 Eum diem ibi consumpsi, I passed footthe all that daie there.
 Consumere omnem nostram diligentiam in re aliqua, to bestowe all our diligence in a thyng.
 Consumere studium, operam, curam, otium to bestowe oꝝ emploie, &c.
 Consumor, the passiue, to wither oꝝ wast away.
 Consumi incendio, to be consumed with fire.
 Confuso, sui, ere, to sowe together one thyng to an other.
 Confuere dolos, to pꝑagine deceyte.
 Consumptio, onis, a consuming oꝝ spendynge.
 Consumptor, oris, m. g. one that consumeth oꝝ wasteth away.
 Consumptus, a, um, consumed, wasted, withered away.
 Confurgo, exi, ere, to arise together with other.
 Confurgunt venti, the wyndes arysse oꝝ begyn to blowe.
 Confurgitur, the impersonall.
 Confurrectio, onis, f. g. the rysynge vp of man together, most commonly to be reuerence.
 Confus, i, m. g. the god of counsaile.
 Considerare, with consideration, aduiseably.
 Consideratio, onis, and Considerantia, æ, f. g. consideration.

Consy

Consideratus, he that dooth a thyng with consideration.
 Consideratus, a, um, particip. consyded, vied, regarded.
 Consideratum et meditatum.
 Consydero, aui, are, to consyde, to regard oꝝ vied.
 Contabesco, scere, to wyther oꝝ pine away.
 Contabulatio, onis, f. g. a flooze booyded, oꝝ a booyding of a flooze.
 Contabulo, aui, are, to booyde oꝝ to lay booydes on a coue oꝝ flooze.
 Contactus, a, um, touched, steyned, coloured, infected.
 Contacti religione dies, dayes reputed of the paynymes to be infortunate to begyne any enterpryse.
 Colore croci contactum, steyned oꝝ dyed with saffron colour.
 Contacta halitus eius, nulla fera attingit, no beaste toucheth those thynges that he hath bryethed on.
 Contactus, us, m. g. a touchynge, sometyme carnall deaplynge.
 Contagio, onis, f. g. idem quod Contagium.
 Contagio aspectus, the infection that cometh by lookynge on a thyng.
 Contagio belli, when by the occasion of one warre, an other spyleth.
 Sed etiam illos ad quos conscientia contagio pertinebit, But theim also, whiche bee consentynge and agreynge to the same naughtynesse.
 Contager, is, f. g. idem quod contagio.
 Contagiosus, a, um, contagious, that soone infecteth other.
 Contagium, i, n. g. a contagious oꝝ infectiue sickness, also an infection.
 Contaminatus, a, um, despyed, corrupted, dishonested, disreyned.
 Contaminatus et integer, contraꝑ.
 Contamino, aui, are, to violate oꝝ despye, with mixynge thynges together, oꝝ with touchynge a thyng vncleanly, to disfigure, to dishonest.
 Manus contaminare, to committe some heynous acte.
 Contaminare fabulas, to make one comedie of many.
 Contaminare et honestare, contraꝑ.
 Contaminare se viciis, to dishonest ones selfe with vice and lechery.
 Contemnor, aui, sum, ari, to spente some thyng to deceyte, to imagine som subtil diuise.
 Contactus, a, um, covered, hydd.
 Contego, exi, ere, to couer oꝝ hide a fault, that it be not espyed.
 Contegere tumulo, oꝝ sepulchro, to burye.
 Contemero, aui, are, to violate, pollute, oꝝ bestile.
 Contemno, tempsi, ere, to despye oꝝ contemne, whiche is lesse than despyynge, to despy, not to regarde.

 Contemnere et admirari, contraꝑ.
 Contemnere et efferre, contraꝑ.
 Contemnere, despiciere, et pro nihilo habere.
 Contemnere aliquem præ se, not to regarde one in compassion of hym selfe.
 Deridere et contemnere.
 Contemplatio, onis, a beholdynge, specially in the mynde, with deuotion to god.
 Consideratio et contemplatio.
 Contemplatiuus, a, um, contemplatiue, that consisteth onely in contemplation.
 Contemplator, oris, he that beholdeth with great affection.
 Contemplatus, us, idem quod contemplatio.
 Contemplor, aui, ari, to beholde intently with great affection. Also Contemplo, aui, are, of olde wyters vied for Contemplor.
 Contemplari et intueri.
 Contemporaneus, a, um, that is in one tyme.
 Contemporanei, they that be at one tyme.
 Contempnibilis, le, that is to bee despyed oꝝ not regarded.
 Contempnim, disdainfully.
 Contemptio, onis, contempe.
 Contemptio et desipientia.
 Contemptor, aui, ari, to sette littell by, one of vse.
 Contemptor, oris, m. g. one that despyeth oꝝ contemneth.
 Contemptrix, icis, f. g. the feminite.
 Contemptus, us, m. g. despye, contempe.
 Concemptus, a, um, contemned, not esteemed, nought sette by.
 Contemptus et abiectus.
 Despicatus et contemptus.
 Contendo, di, ere, for intendere, to bend hard to dreche oute, to strepne, to knitte oꝝ tye strettes. Also to go towarde a place, to endeavour earnestly, to enforce, to requere oꝝ desire effectually, to asseme and defend an opinion: to contende oꝝ resiste, to strue, to cast oꝝ thote a dart oꝝ arrowe, to continue, to make halfe.
 Contendere aliquid ab aliquo, to requyre some thyng of one.
 Contendere sacramento, to wage the lawe.
 Contendere agmen, to leade forwarde an army with haste and speede.
 Eniri et contendere, to labour and endeavour earnestly.
 Contendere omnibus nervis, and Contendere omnes nervos in re aliqua, to labour and endeavour to the vtermoste of a mans power.
 Non erat causa, cur a te hoc tempore aliquid contenderem. There was no cause why I shoulde earnestly requyre any thyng of you at this tyme.
 Omni studio a te contendo, I despye of you with all my herte, oꝝ I requyre you as earnestly as I can.

S III

 Vocare contendere, to cry or speke out alonde to streigne the voyce.
 Ut Asclepiades contendit, As Asclepiades
 dooth asseme and defende.
 Pugnare et contendere.
 Contendere aliquid contra equitatem, to contende of streue to atteyne a thyng contrary to equitee.
 Contendere iurgio cum aliquo, to chide with one. Summo iure contendere, to vse the rigour of extremities of the lawe.
 Contendere civiliter, to contende of sue after the maner of ciuelens.
 Cursu contendere, to rse mastries in cōnyng.
 Contendere tormēta, to bend ingins of war.
 Contendere vincula, to tye of bynd the bandes harde.
 Contendere poplitē, to stretche out the knee.
 Contendere cursum aliquo, of ad aliquem,
 to renne towards a place or person.
 Ad aedes contendit, he wente towards the howse.
 Contenebrare, to wake darke.
 Quoad contenebrauit, untill it waxed night.
 Contentē, continually, without intermission, earnestly.
 Contentio, onis, f. g. an endeavour to dooe a thyng, an earnest maner of speakyng, a com-paryng of conferryng with other thynges. also resistance, strepe of debate, byaulpyng, battle, also a sharpe oration apte to confirme or repulse, a continuance, an inforcement of setting forth the with vehemence, strengnyng.
 Contentio studiorum, perspicillatō in study.
 Contentio animi, and Relaxatio, contrary.
 Labor et contentio.
 Magna animi contentio adhibenda est in ex-plicando Aristotelem, In expounding Aristotle, the mynde must be verate attentue of wholly bent to consider the matter.
 Contentio vocis, and Submissio vocis,
 contrary.
 Sine intermissione vocis contentio, a continuall speakyng without fetchyng of breath, of pausyng.
 In contentionem venire, to come in con-trouersie.
 Honorum contentio, great labour of earnest
 suite for promotions and aduancements.
 Contentiose, earnestly, stubbournly, with contention.
 Contentiosus, a, um, contentious, and passiuely, that is dooen stubbournly, of with earnest endeavour.
 Contentus, a, um, participium, a contendo,
 stretched out, streigned.
 Contentus, and Remissus, contrary.
 Contentus, a, um, adiectiuum, a continuo, that whiche is coneyned. Also contents of satisfied.

 Conterminus, a, um, boundyng nere together.
 Contero, trui, ere, to weare out with occupiyng. also to make warre, to break small, as beade into crummes, or cloddes into duke:
 to waste of consume, to spende in wayne.
 Conterere artem, to spende his lyfe.
 Conterere diem, to spende the daye vnpro-fitably.
 Conterere operam, to lose labour of payne.
 Conterere quantum, to spende all that he hath gotten of wonne.
 Conteris tu tua me oratione muller, Thou makest me weep woman with thy talkyng.
 Conterere iniurias obliuione voluntaria, to forget iniuries dooen to vs willyngly.
 Contrarius, nei, m. g. a contrary man.
 Contrario, trui, terrere, to make aserde.
 Contestatus, a, um, proued by wptnesse.
 Contestor, aris, ari, to calle to witness, to de-fyne, to complayne to one lamentably.
 Contestari licem, to perpleade, where the one hath fully purposed, the other hath fully answered.
 Contexo, textui, ere, to weaue, to yge
 together.
 Contexere dolos, to fynde crafty meanes.
 Quam festiue crimen contextur, how pleasantly of feately this accusation is imagined and diupted?
 Contexte, and Contextum, to ygne, and as it were weaue together.
 Contextus, us, m. g. a weaue of to ygnge
 together.
 Contextus pennarum corpori tegumenta fas-ciebat, he made hym garments with the fethers of foules wouen of wrought together.
 Contextu longiore loqui, to speake long of one thyng, without ceassyng of mynglyng of other.
 Vno contextu, contynually together, without interruption.
 Contextus, a, um, wouen, of wrought together Conticeo, cui, ere, to holde ones peace, to kepe silence.
 Conticuerunt literæ, the exercise of lea-nyng ceased.
 Studium nostrum conticuit, Our study ceasesed, and was leste of.
 Conticesco, cui, scere, to kepe silence with
 other.
 Conticinium, nii, neu, gen. hadde tyme, of the fyrste parte of the nyght, whan menne prepare to take theyr rest, and all thyng is in silence.
 Contignatio, onis, f. g. the route of an house,
 also a collar of dooyed flour.
 Contigno, aui, are, to raster an house.
 Contiguus, a, um, that whiche toucheth, of nexte to a thyng.

Con-

Continens, entis, f. g. steme of wayne land that is none yle.
 Continens entis, the adiectiue, to ygnge to,
 continually, continens, chaste, also no extor-
 sioner nor poller.
 Labore continenti, with continually labour.
 Imber continens, continual raine, of a great shower, durynge a longe tyme.
 Continencia fundo prædia habet, he hath manours to ygnge to his lands.
 Incontinenti, incontinent, togethewith, by and by.
 Parcus et continens, sober, sparng and ab-
 styng from all pleasures.
 Continens, among the Eretopians, the berate point of the matter in conuersione.
 Continentibiduo, two daies continually.
 Continenter, continually, continently, chastely, stemyly.
 Continentia, æ, f. g. continence, a vertue res-taining thynges that are pleasaunt. Also restience of pyl.
 Contineo, ui, ere, to refrayne, to kepe backe,
 to contyne, to kepe together, to withholde,
 oyle, to holde, to to ygnge together.
 Continebat me tempestas, The soule was ther lested me.
 Continere se domi, to abyde at home. The wyfe Continere se ruri, rectis, moribus vrs bis, in occulto.
 Conine caput quasi, Holde my heade, I praye the.
 Coninere canes catenis, to kepe dogges tied up in chaynes.
 Coninere exercitum in castris, to kepe the army within the campe.
 Aluum continere, to stoppe the laste.
 Animam continere, to holde ones breath.
 Continere gradum, to abyde, to stande still.
 Continere iracundiam, to refrayne ones anger. Continere lachrymas, to forbeare we-ppyng.
 Continere linguam, to refrayne to speake.
 Continere risum, to forbeare laughyng.
 In ieiunio continere aliquem, to kepe one fastyng, of without meate.
 Nequeo me continere, I can not refrayne.
 Continere alio dicitur mulier prægnans.
 Honestas continetur ex quatuor virtutibus,
 honeste consisteth in foure vertues.
 Continere gaudium, to hyde ones ioye of gladnesse.
 Contingens, gentis, the adiectiue, that chanceth of fortuneth.
 Contingo, tigi, ere, to touche, to come vnto,
 to annoynt.
 Contigit, in the thyde person, it happeneth,
 it fortuneth, it chaunceth.
 Contingere se inter se, to touch one another.
 Contingere nostras aures, it cam to our hearyng. Limen contingere alicuius, to come to ones house.

 Contingere terra osculo, to kysse the ground.
 Visa contingere, to see.
 Contingere aliquid rei, to be absoyng to a thyng. Sale contingere, to powder meate.
 Cōtingere aliquorum familias, of domum,
 to be hyne to one.
 Propius contingere aliquem, to bee nere hyne to one.
 Si mihi vita contigerit, pf god send me lyfe.
 Continuatio, onis, f. g. a continuation.
 Continuitas, atis, f. g. idem.
 Continuo, an aduerbe, by and by.
 Continuo, vbi interrogatiue of negatiuely, is put for Non ideo, of Num ideo.
 Continuone si ille stultus dixit, tu stultius facies, If he haue spoken foolishly, wilt thou therfore doo more foolishly?
 Non continuo in gregem Sicariorum me conuulsum sicarius, I am not therfore a mu-deer, because I haue associated my selfe and kepte company with murderers.
 Continuo, aui, are, to continue, not to cease, to
 to ygnge to, of to byde to.
 Continuare agros, to to ygnge feldes to feldes.
 Continuare domos, to byde houses together.
 Continuus, a, um, continually, withoute interruption.
 Continuus spiritus, one breath without pausyng. Continui dentes, playne and vnfoyme teeth, as a mans be, Serrati dentes, contrary.
 Continuus et intermissus, contrarie.
 Continuum triduum, the hole days together.
 Contollo, tollis, tollere, to beate together.
 Contollam gradum, I will go forwarde.
 Contor, atus sum, ari, to abyde, to inquyre dyligently.
 Contorqueo, orsi, ere, to wynde of wreathe about, to tourne round, to wrestle to ones purpose, to wrele violently.
 Contorque telum, to Moote an arrowe, of hurle a dart, and therewith to hyte of perce
 a thyng.
 Contorque aliquem ad tristitiam, to ensfoie one to sadnesse, to make sadde.
 Contorte, forwardly, obtusely, as it were wrested of wyshed.
 Contortio, onis, a wythtyng of wythtyng.
 Contortuplicatus, a, um, combious, harde to be pronounced.
 Contortuplicata nomina, names so diffule,
 that they maye vnnethe be pronounced.
 Contortuplico, aui, are, to wypple of wynde a thyng so, that with greete payne it maye bee vnwounde.
 Contortus, a, um, wrested, wyonge, of made crooked, curled, of crept.
 Cornua contorta, crooked hornes.
 Contortus crinis, curled haire.

Contor-

Contortulus, a, um, the diminutive of Contortus.
 Contortæ res, thynges wounden and twysted. also wrysted matters, of such as one part agreeth not with an other.
 Contra, agaynst a place, a persone, or a thyng, on the other part. It is consymme an aduerbe sometyme a preposition.
 Facere contra aliquem, to doo agaynst one, or that is displeasent to hym.
 Contra expectationem, otherwys than was looked for.
 Contra aliquem stare, to stande ouer ryghte agaynst one.
 Contra ac, contra atque, contraq, otherwys than.
 Contractio, onis, f. g. feare, a thynking of gathering together, a frowning, a contraction of the nyng, a drawing in, a fapnyng of courage.
 Contractio frontis, frowning of lowyng.
 Contractio animi, a stonking of the mynde.
 Contractio neruorum, thynnyng of the synnwes.
 Contractio et productio, contrarie.
 Profectio et contractio brachii, the castyng out and pluckyn in of the arme in gesture.
 Effusio animi et contractio, contrarie.
 Contractiuncula, æ, f. g. a diminutive of Contractio.
 Contractus, a, um, gotten, drawen together, shote, narrowe, wrynkled.
 Bona contracta, goodes gotten by conquest.
 Res contractæ, bargaynes, contracted.
 Frons contracta, a frowning forehead.
 Exiguus et contractus locus, a small and narrowe counte.
 Spacium et contractum, contrarie.
 Contractiores noctes, thoste nyghtes.
 Contractus et breuis ambitus verborum, a bryfe and thoste perorde.
 Contracta et stricta eloquentia, a kynd of elquence in few wordes and bryfe sentences.
 Contractus, us, m. g. a contract of bargayn.
 Contradictio, x, i, ere, to contrarie in wordes, to false contrarie.
 Contradictio, onis, a contradiction, a speakyng contrarie to one.
 Contradictum, ti, n. g. a thyng spoken agaynst a man.
 Contrado, didi, ere, idem quod Trado.
 Contraco, to go contrarie of agaynst a thyng.
 Contrahio, x, i, ere, to gather together, to committe, to make a contracte of bargayne, to drawe together. Also to plucke of thynke in, to purchase of get.
 Nerui contrahuntur, the synnwes be thynkled.
 Contrahere æ akenum, to be indubred.
 Contrahere animum, to take thought.
 Contrahere bona, to get goodes.
 Contrahere frons, to lowye.

Contrahere tempus, to abysge the tyme.
 Contrahere aduersam valetudinem, to geat spkenesse.
 Contrahere milites, to gather souldoyours together.
 Contrahere et dilatare, contrarie.
 Dissipare et contrahere, contrarie.
 Contrahere collum, to thynke in the necke.
 Contrahere ad colloquium, to byng to communication.
 Lac contrahere, to turne mylke into a couerd.
 Contrahi in commodis amici, to bee soyy for his frendes hertes.
 Id eius culpa contractum est, he offended in that thyng.
 Contrahere æ ruginem, situm, mucorem, to wake rusty, hoie, and full of fylth and vntue.
 Contrahere amicitiam, to wyn frendshyppe.
 Animum demittere et contrahere, to bee as frapde, to wake fapnt herted.
 Cicatrices vulnerum contrahere, to heale the scarres of woundes.
 Ne contrahas aut dimittas animum, Let not thy courage faple the, take a good herte.
 Contrahere sibi causam mortis, to bee cause of his owne deathe.
 Contrahere inimicitias, inuidiam, iram, odium, offensionem, morbum, to purchase of geat. &c.
 Iter contrahere, to thosten ones iourneys.
 Noxam contrahere, to fall into som sickness.
 Piratam contrahere, to engender sicume.
 Tristitiam contrahere, to make sadde.
 Vultum contrahere, to looke fowerly.
 Res contrahere, to bargayne.
 Contrahere liceris, liceri, to cheape and pioser monies for a thyng, that an other was as boue to bye.
 Contrapositus, a, um, idem quod oppositus.
 Contrarie, one agaynst an other.
 Contrarius, a, um, contrarie.
 Contrascriptum, ti, n. g. a thyng wrytten as agaynst one.
 Contrasto, stiti, are, to be agayst one, to repugne.
 Contrauenio, eni, ire, to happen contrarie, to same contrarie.
 Contrauersum, contrarie wyse.
 Contræstabiliter, after the maner of touchyng of handlyng.
 Contræctio, onis, f. g. a touchyng of handlyng.
 Contræcto, x, i, ere, to touche often, to handle.
 Contræctari oculis, to be viewed of consider, to be seene of looked on.
 Contremisco, tremui, scire, idem quod Contremo.
 Contremo, ui, ere, to tremble of shake.
 Contribuo, bui, ere, to attribute, to confert, to geue with other, to contribute.
 Contribuere in regna, to diuide it into realms.
 Contribuere se alicui, to become of

of his, or to be as his commandement.
 Contributio, onis, contribution, when many geue theyngs for one.
 Concrissio, x, i, ere, to make soyy of heap.
 Auster contristat celum, The southe wynde maketh a lowyng wether.
 Concrisor, oris, m. g. one that byeth in small pieces, or weareth out a thyng.
 Concrissus, a, um, broken small, wryne out, much used, common.
 Concrissa præcepta, pceptes, that euery ma knoweth and vseth.
 Controuersia, æ, f. g. controuersie of variance.
 Nulla controuersia mihi tecum est, There is no controuersie betwene pon and me.
 Sine controuersia, without doubt.
 Dirimere controuersiam, to synpse of ende the controuersie.
 Controuersia verborum inter eos est, In theyng reasonyng they vary onely in wordes, or they reason onely of the wordes.
 Controuersiosus, a, um, idem quod Controuersus.
 Controuersor, aris, ari, to contende of vary.
 Controuersus, litigious of full of controuersy.
 Controuersus, a, um, that is in controuersy.
 Res controuersa, a matiere in controuersie.
 Gens controuersa natura, people of nature full of contention and variance.
 Contrucido, x, i, ere, to murder of slea cruelly.
 Contrudo, si, ere, to thust in hardes together.
 Contrudere in naues, to byng into the shypes, also to put of thyng in.
 Contrunco, x, i, ere, to minglyng of cutte awate parts of a thyng.
 Contrusus, a, um, thust together.
 Contrubernalis, lis, com. g. a fellowe of company, or of one company, a chaumbye fellowe, one of the same house. sometyme a guest.
 Contrubernium, ii, n. g. a company of x. souldours together vnder one tente or pauliton, and the tente or pauliton of that company.
 Also familiariter, fellowshyp in one house.
 Contueor, eris, eri, to defende, to see, to regard beate redfastly.
 Contuitus, us, m. g. an earnest lookyng of beholding of a thyng.
 Contumacia, æ, f. g. disobedience, a selfe will, a frowardnesse, a stubbornnesse, a soleinnesse, sometyme constancie in opinion.
 Contumaciter, disobediently, stubburnly.
 Contumaciter resistit scalpura lapis, The bone is beate harde to be grauen in.
 Contumax, acis, om. g. disobedient of froward in opinion: he that will not bee persuaded, stubburne, selfe wylled, folleyn: sometyme it signifyeth constancie in saynyng.
 Contumax triticum, harde wheate that will not be easly broken of byssed.
 Amori contumax, to the to bye,

Contumelia, æ, f. g. a thyng boode of spoken in despite of a manne, a reproche, a rebuke, a checks, a taunte.
 Contumeliam dicere, and lacere contumeliam, to speake a thyng in despite of a man, to taunte of rebuke.
 Contumelia magna verborum interrogare aliquem, to demaund a question of one with beate spitefull and tauntyng wordes.
 Grauisimas contumelias intorquere, To speake very spitefull tauntes one to an other.
 Contumeliose, spitefully, reprochefully.
 Contumeliosus, a, um, that vseth to speake rebukefully: or that is doone to a man rebuke, spitefully, reprochfully.
 Contumulo, x, i, ere, to bury, to laie in earth.
 Contundo, x, i, ere, to byke in pieces, or strike downe, to beate of knocke: and by a metaphore, to conquere of subdue, to tame, to suppress of kepe vnder, to swage of mitigate.
 Contundere facta alicuius, to puste an other mans actes out of estimation of remembrance.
 Contundere pugnis, to beate of thumpe with the synwes.
 Contundere et frangere.
 Obterere et contundere.
 Animum contundere, to tame of abate ones courage.
 Iram contundere, to mitigate and swage ones wrathe.
 Contundere virtutem, to suppress vertue.
 Contuor, eris, tuisus, or thus sum, tui, to see of beholde diligently.
 Contuosi oculi, eles lookyng narrowly.
 Conturbatio, onis, a troubling of disquietyng.
 Conturbator, oris, m. g. one that troubleth of disquieteth, or that consumeth his goodes spottously.
 Conturbatus, a, um, troubled, disquieted.
 Conturbo, x, i, ere, to trouble. also to spende in waste. Conturbare fortunas, to spend all his goodes in waste.
 Conturbare rationes, to spende all that he should haue made rechenyng of.
 Contusio, onis, a pounnyng of beatyng.
 Contusus, a, um, beaten, broken, pounned, knocked.
 Contutor, oris, m. g. he that is tuteur of gardian with an other.
 Contus, ti, m. g. a speare of longe pole. also a longe pole with pyon at the ende, wherewith shypmen do gage the water, and spous forth the vessel in Malowe places.
 Conuador, ari, to compell one to fynde sureties to appere at the date appointed.
 Conualco, es, ul, ere, and Conualesco, scis, scere, to wake stronge, to recoure helthe, to increase of growe.
 Conualescunt opes, richesse increaseth.
 Conualuit opinio, That opinion is greatly increaseth.

C ANTE O.

increased among men.
 Conuallis, is, for. g. a vallee, haung hilles on bothe sydes.
 Conuato, aui, are, to gather by wealth.
 Conueto, aui, are, frequentatium a conue-ho, to cary offe.
 Conuictor, oris, m. g. a waepnour that conuicteth ouer many, a passager.
 Conuicho, xi, ere, to cary o: conueigh by carte,
 Myppe, o: beate.
 Conuello, uulsi, lere, to shake o: pul out of his place, to plucke by all together, to plucke by by the rootes wholly, to dimynish o: abate, to trouble, to abolyshe o: fojdooe, to confute.
 also to take from one by robbery.
 Conueller gratiam, to bypnyng out of fauour
 o: credence.
 Conueller repagula, atq: refringere valuas, to pull of the barres and boltes, and to byake open the gates.
 Conueller fundamenta, to shake the foundatione.
 Conueller vires, to abate ones strengthe, to make wealte.
 Cur ea, quæ mutare non possumus, conuellere malumus, quam tueri: why despyt we myge to abolyshe o: fojdooe suche thynges as we can not change, than to defende them?
 Quæ conuelli non possunt, whyche thynges can not be confuted.
 Conueller aliquem de pristino statu, to trouble o: disquiete.
 Conueller statum reipublicæ, to trouble
 the state of the common weale.
 Conueller aliquid alteri, to steale from one Conueto, aui, are, to couer.
 Conuena, e, com. g. one of theim that cometh out of one countreie to dwell in an other.
 Conueniens, entis, conuenient, mete, agreing together, also comping together.
 Conuenienter, conueniently, agreably.
 Conuenientia, æ, f. g. a congruence. also a com-pyng together of people, propoition o: agreablenesse.
 Conuenientia partium corporis, the propoction of the partes of the body.
 Conuenio, eni, ire, to come together, o: to assemble in one place, to resorte to a place, to common o: talke with, to be mette, to engender, sometime onely to come, also to agree, to sewe at the lawe, to bypnyng in iudgements, to accorde.
 Conuenit inter me atq: hunc, It is agreed between hym and me.
 De precio conuenit, we are agreed of the pryce.
 In manum conuenit, he is my wyfe.
 Conuenit in manum, to be affianced o: beatrouthed on the womans parte onely.
 Conuenit, I am contented, also it is consent meete o: fyeing.

C ANTE O.

In urbem crebro conuenio, I come often in to the citee.
 Conuenire de re aliqua, to assemble together
 aboute a matter.
 Conuenit mihi hoc tecum, In this that I speake, you and I agree.
 Conuenit hoc tibi mecum, you and I agree in that that you doo speake.
 Ne inter consules quidem satis conuenire bat, The consuls dyd not well agree betweene theim selues.
 Conuenit inter eos ratio accepti atq: expensi, They be agreed what was receyued, and what was layde out.
 Pacto conuenit, It is agreed by couenaunt.
 Id conueniat signum, That was the signe
 o: token that they agreed vpon.
 Pax ita conueniat, o: Conueniat pax in has conditiones, The peace was concluded vpon these conditions.
 Conuenit numerus quantum debui, There is the full summe of that I ought you.
 Conuenit in eum hæc suspitio, He maie bee well suspected for that matter.
 Non conuenit in eum hæc contumelia, this reproche toucheth hym nothing at all.
 Conueniunt hæc vites ad, vel in quemus a-grum, These vines will pious wel in all manner of groundes.
 Conuenit optime ad pedem cothurnus, the slipper is as mete for the foote as mate be.
 Conuenit in me quidvis harum rerum, Any of these thynges maie be well spoken of me.
 Conuenire aliquem, o: Conuenire aliquem in ius, to conuent one o: sewe hym in the law.
 Conuenire aliquem, to talke o: common with one.
 Conuenio, vñd of olde wytters in the fua-ture tenie.
 Conuentia, orum, couenautes, agrementes.
 Conuentia frangere, to byeake couenautes.
 Conuenticulum, li, n. g. a congregacion, a lit-tell assemble, most comonly for an yll purpose.
 Conuentio, onis, a couenaunt.
 Conuento, aui, are, to resorte o: come often to
 a place.
 Conuentus, us, m. ge. an assemble of people,
 warned by the high officers commandement, a multitude of diuers people resorting to one place: also a couenaunt.
 Conuentus maximus, maye bee taken for a parliament.
 Conuentus iuridici, maye bee vñd for the foure termes.
 Minores conuentus, sessions of the peace.
 Conuentus et frequentia, Cōuentus et turba.
 Conuentus agere et celebrare, To holde o:
 kepe assemblies, as the sessions o: sises.
 Conuentus, a, um, accorped, commoned by talked with.

Con-

C ANTE O.

Conuentia pax, peace accorded.
 Conuerbero, aui, are, to heare.
 Conuerrior, oris, m. g. one that bymeth sub-beth o: swepeth.
 Conuerro, uerri, and versi, ere, to swepe togiether into one place. Also to rubbe, to bvashe.
 Conuertere to streke o: beate.
 Conuersatio, onis, f. g. conuersacion o: familiarities, sometime conuersacion o: courting.
 Conuerse, cleanly.
 Conuersio, onis, alteracion o: chaunge, a turnyng about.
 Conuerso, aui, are, to toune about.
 Conuersor, atus sum, ari, to be conuersant.
 Conuersus, a, um, tourned, conuerted, some-tyme contrary.
 Conuerto, uerti, ere, to conuerte, to tourne, to returne, to chaunge o: transfoyme.
 Conuerrere se in fugam, to renne awate.
 Conuerrere homines in admirationem, to make men to meruaile.
 Conuertit ætas tua sepienos oñtes solis am-fractus, poue. lñt. yerres olde.
 Conuerrere hominem a consuetudine, To cause a man to leaue his accustomed facion.
 Exercitum conuerrere, to mustre and make a newe of his army.
 Gressus conuerrere, to tourne backe agayn.
 Conuerrere ora et oculos in aliquem, To loke earnestly vpon one.
 Conuerrere se ad otium, to geue hym selfe to ydelnesse.
 Conuertitur animus ad sensum et nutum alterius, His mynde is facioned to the wyf and becke of an other man.
 Conuerrere terga, to renne awate.
 Conuerrere in bellum, to turne into a beate.
 Conuertor, is vñd of Plautus for Conuerto.
 Conuestio, tiui, ire, to apparatle o: deche.
 Conuestiuntur herbes prata, The medowes are couered with herbes and grasse.
 Conuexitas, atis, for. g. the imbosyng o: round-nesse of the backe side of that which is holow.
 Conuexo, aui, are, to vex o: trouble.
 Conuexum, i, ne. ge. the outwarde parte and roundnesse of a thyng that is holowe.
 Connexus, a, um, imboled, rounde and holow withyn.
 Conuicinium, nij, n. g. a neighbourhode.
 Conuictor, oris, m. g. a dately compaignon at table, o: a dately guest.
 Conuictus, a, um, vanquished, overcome.
 Conuictus, us, m. g. a lypng together in hong,
 o: at one table, o: bynary fode, meate & dymke.
 Conuictus et societas.
 Conuincio, uici, ere, idem quod Vinco, to ouer-come, to pious manifestly.
 Redargui et conuinci.
 Conuincere leuitatis, to conuict one of

C ANTE O.

leuitas.
 Conuincio, onis, a byndyng o: lypng together.
 Conuulso, uisi, lere, to sh to see, to disere.
 Conuulator, oris, he that speaketh to monnes rebuke, a taller.
 Conuulator, aris, ari, to speake in reproche, to checke o: taunte.
 Conuulium, tij, n. g. o: after some Conuulcium,
 cy, a reproche o: rebuke, a checke o: taunt.
 Conuulsi dicere, to speake to a mans rebuke.
 Conuulium facere, to doo a thyng to a mans rebuke.
 Dicere, fundere, ingerere conuulsi, and Procindere conuulsi, to checke, to taunt, to raille.
 Conuulsa, æ, com. g. a bidden guest, he that is invited o: bidden to dymce o: supper.
 Conuuliam abducere, to bypnyng one to a byner o: banker.
 Conuulialis, le, perteynyng to feedes o: banakettes.
 Conuulator, oris, m. g. a feeder o: banketter.
 Conuuliones, compaignons at dymnyng o:
 banketyng.
 Conuulium, uij, n. g. a feast o: banker.
 Agere et celebrare conuulium, to keepe a great feast o: bankette.
 Conuulio, uixi, ere, to lye, to lye together, to be at meate and dymke together.
 Conuulor, aris, ari, to make a feast o: banker,
 o: to take meales with other men.
 Conuocatio, onis, a calling o: assemblenge of many together.
 Conuoco, aui, are, to call together, o: to assemble many together.
 Conuolo, aui, are, to flee together, and by trā-sacion, to speke, to mate haste.
 Conuoluio, iui, ere, to wyappe o: wynde aboute
 a thyng, to rumble o: rolle rounde.
 Magno cursu verba conuoluere, to speake
 thicke, to speake, x. wordes at thyppe.
 Conuoluolus, li, m. g. a littell wyome with many feete and heare, that cateth the leaues of bynes.
 Conuoluulus, o: Conuoluolus, o: Cissampe-los, is an herbe, whyche hath a leafe lyke to pite, but muche thynner, and a floure lyke a lilly, and wyndeth aboute lyke a byne. Some hath white flowers, some violet, I suppose it to be withwynde.
 Conuomo, ui, ere, to bespue.
 Conuomere lectum, to bespue his bedde.
 Conuori, twoyne byetherne, o: men makyng one auowe o: promise.
 Conus, i, m. g. popylpe, a pyne apple, ere, by transacion, it is a figure, in facion lyke to a pyne apple. Also the crest of an helmet o: sallet.
 Conuulnero, aui, are, to geue one many woundes
 Conuulsi, onis, the spikenelle in grehe called Spasmos, which is an affect of the tymes & muscles, wherin sometime all, sometime parte of the

of the body is drawn and stretched, will be or no that suffereth. If it be in part of the body, it is called in englyshe the cramps. If it be in all the body, it hath yet no name (in en-glyshe, because it hapneth seldom. The cause of this greife is of two contrary occasions, either of repletion, or of too much emptines and lacke of nourishment.
Conuulsiones, pytyng ache, or wooyngs ache, suche as is in the sicke stomake, or in a wounde.

Conuulsus, a, um, plucked by wholly by the roote, taken with the crampe, pulled or taken.
Suay conuulsa robora terra, And greaste trees plucked by by the roote earth and all.

Conyza, called of some Cimicaria, commonly Pulicaris, an herbe, wherof bee two kyndes the bygger hath a stalk. It. rubies high, the lesse onely a foote hygh: bothe haue leaues lyke the olue, hearty and faty.

Coons, the eldest sonne of Antenor.

Cooperculum, li, n.g. a cover.

Cooperis, perulire, to cover of ouerwhelme.
Cooperne alicum lapidibus, to stone one
to deathe.

Coopertus, a, um, couered, ouerwhelmed.

Coopertus flagitij, ouerwhelmed with fawnesse.

Coopertus miseris, ouerpressed with my-series.

Cooptatio, onis, a choosynge in to a place,
or coume.

Coopto, aui, are, to choose and geue place to one in a colledge: to take choise of thynges equall, or almoste equal.

Coopior, oris, or oris, coortus sum, iri, to arise by from many places and coites together, to assaile or set vpon.

Coortus tempestas, the tempest arseeth.

Coos, vel Cos, vel Co, vel Coum, the name of an yle nigh to the Rhodes.

Copa, a, um, a citie of the Beroians.

Copen, old wittes used for copiosus, plentiful.
Cophantus, an hyle of Bacteria, in India,
whiche euer burneth.

Cophes, a ryuer in India.

Cophinus, i, m. g. a baskette.

Copi, for Copio.

Copia, a, f. g. plenty, abundaunce, eloquence,
power, leaue, or licence, multitude, also aibe,
epheste, substance, an arme of souldiours,
sometimes thynges necessarie, vitayles.
Copia dare, to geue power or licence. also to geue occasion.
Copia est. Nam apud patrem tua amica res cum sine metu vi sit, copia est, for thou mayst nowe bying to passe, that thy wenche maie be with thy father without any dyade.
Copia est, I maie of mought.

Ego in cum incidi infelix locum, vt neq;

ius sit amittendū nec retinendū copia, I am unhappily come to that poynt, that I maie neither leaue hie nor kepe hie.

Copia vix fuit eum adeundi, with great dif-ficultee or pene mought I come to hym.

Copia cunctandi non est tibi, Thou hast no leisure to tary.

Copiam alia querere, to seeke for other aibe.

Copia est tibi magis, thou mayst more easily Copia nulla est tibi in illo, he can nothyng helpe the.

Copiam efficere alicui, to fynde the meanes that one maie come in.

Copiam facere argenti, to lenbe one money.

Copiam facere, to communicate any thyng with another.

Opes copiam.

Vbertas in dicendo, et copia.

Copie pedestres, an army of footemen.

Pro copia, as muche as I am able, as much as shall lye in my power.

In angustum oppido nunc me coguntur copia, All the helpe or myt that I haue is nowe brought into a verie narrowe streete.

Exigua amicorum copia, very few frendes.

Copia cornu, was the home of a gore, with whose mylke Iupiter was nourished in Cre-ta, of two maidens, Adastea & Ida, daughters of Melisseus, which horn Iupiter gaue to his said nurses in reward, hauij therewith this commoditie, That what so euer thyng they wished for, it should abundantly come out of that home, whereof came a prouerbe.

whan men woulde declare, that there were plentie of any thyng, they signifie it in these two wooydes, Copia cornu.

Copiola, a, f. g. a diminutue of Copia.

Copior, aris, ari, to be well storied of thynges.

Copiose, abundantly, plentifully.

Copiose et abundanti. Large et copiose.

Copiose aliquo proficisci, to go to a place with a great trayne or company.

Copiosus, a, um, plentiful, abundant, epehe.

Urbs celebris et copiosa, a citie greatly frequented and full of people.

Ampli et copiosum. Lautum et copiosum.

Tenuis et copiosus victus, contrary.

Copis, plentiful.

Copo, onis, idem quod caupo.

Copona, a, a tawerne or vitayling house, or the woman that keepeth the vitayling house.

Copra, a, f. g. a kynde of cakes.

Copula, a, f. g. a coupling or toggyng together, couples or fetters.

Copulare, in couples, or as it were togged
together.

Copulario, onis, f. g. a coupling or toggyng
together.

Copularius, a, um, that coupleth or may couple together.

Copa

Copulatus, a, um, coupled, togged together.

Naturæ copulatum, conuenient, or agreeable
to nature.

Copulo, aui, are, to couple together, to bynd or toigne together.

Coquina, a, f. g. a kitchyn.

Coquarius, cooherp.

Coquinaris, i, m. g. he that selleth meate sea-by boyled.

Coquinaris, a, um, pertaining to cooherp.

Coquinor, aris, ari, to doo the office of a cooke,
to plate the cooke.

Coquius, a, um, idem quod Coquinaris.

Coquito, aui, are, to boyle often.

Coquo, coxi, ere, to feethe or boyle, to make rype, to make ready, to digest, to trouble or bere. Coquantur fructus, quando perfecte maturefunt.

Cogere bellum, to prepare or prouyse for warre pynly.

Cogit me illud, that troubleth me greatly.

Cogit me cura, care and heupnesse consumeth me, or maketh me pine awate.

Coquus, qui, m. g. a cooke.

Cor, or dis, u. g. the herte. Sometime it is taken to; the mynde.

* Cor ne edito, Doo not torment thy mynd with care and heupnesse. It was one of Py-thagoras counsailes.

Alto de corde, From the bottom of the herte

Cordi est mihi, It pleaseeth me well, it deli-ceeth me.

Vterq; vtriq; cordi est, Eche of them loue or ther heartly.

Cora, a citie that Darbanus buyded, of the whiche the inhabitants are called Corani.

Coraceus, a parte of the hyl Taurus.

Coracini, people of Asia.

Coracinus, a, um, of a crowe or rauen.

Coracinus color, a blacke colour.

Coralium, a stone called corall, whiche beynge in the sea, is a tree or bushe: And out of the water becometh a stone. Solinus writeth, that it chaungeth his colour out of the water. It is founde (as Hieronimus writeth) in the redde sea, in the Persian sea, about Sic-cle, in the north sea, about the ples Orchades. Whyle it is in the water, it is greene of colour. After assemeth, that there be thys kyndes thereof, white, redde, and blacke, also so that it is colde in the first degree, and dye in the seconde. But Constantine saith, it is colde in the seconde degree.

Corallocharis, a stone with golden scales.

Coram, before, openly, in ptesence.

Coram me ptesent dixisset, He shuld haue
saied to before me, whan I was ptesent.

Coram os laudare, to praise one to his face.

Coram ante oculos adducere, to byng bys fores ones face.

Coram, sometimes here in this place

Corambla, a, or Corambla, a, f. g. an herbe that maketh the eye duske & weakes of sight.

Corax, a, f. g. a rauen.

Corax, a, f. g. a rauen.

Coraxi, people of Libichie.

Coraxius a parte of the hyl Taurus.

Corbis, is, f. g. of after Hyrcan the mas. g. a baskette of panyer.

Corbita, a, f. g. a greaste myppe, verate slowe in sayng.

* Corbitam dare, a prouerbe, signifysge to helpe one slowly.

Corbito, aui, are, to cast into a baskette, or ea-ther to lade a great myppe: And by transaction to gourmandise and fill ones bealy.

Corbona, the treasure of the temple among the Jewes.

Corbula, a, f. g. of Corbulum, li, n. g. a littell basket, a panier or maunde.

Corcholipis, a kynde of apse, whiche hath a tuffe eagle.

Corchorus, ri, m. g. of Corchoron, n. g. a byle
herbe called chichewede.

* Corchorus inter olera, A prouerbe, notyng one that is of no estimation, and yet wyl be compted amongst the wyse.

Corculum, sweete herte. Also wyle men were so called among the Romayns.

Corcyra, a, f. g. an yle in Grece.

Corecyus, a, um, one of that yle.

Cordapsus, a sickness that is now called Illiacus, whiche is a pene in the guttes.

Cordate, wysely, discretely.

Cordatus, a, um, wyse, discrete, of an honeste
mynde and good iudgement.

Cordatus homo, a wittie man, and of great memoire.

Cordilio, a stoike philosophere, so seuer, that he contemned the acquaintance and frendshipp of bynges and great pynite.

Cordilla, or Cordyla, the yong fele of the fenne called Tanne.

Cordolium, sojowe, gete at the herte, an herb soye.

Corduba, a citie in Spayne.

Cordus, one of the mastres of Alexander Heuerus: also an historiographer.

Cordus, a, um, that thyng, the whiche spyn-geth and cometh late in the yere.

Cordi agni, latewarde lambes.

Cordum scannu, latewarde hase.

Coreia, an plande in Grece.

Corgo, olde wittes used for Profecto.

Coria, orqui, are in building rorayns. Wyng and sayng of thynges in one order, either in height or in thychenesse.

Coriacea, a certayne herbe

Coria

Coriaceus, a, um, of leather.

Coriaco, ginis, the sickness of cattall when they are clounge, that they shynnes by cleue faste to theyr bodies, hye bounde.

Coriandrum, dri, n. g. the herbe and serbe called Coriander.

Corianum, idem.

Coriarius, ri, m. g. a tanner. also a certayne herbe used to tanne leather.

Corias, x, a certayne fische.

Coriatum, a thyng made of leather.

Corica, two ples by Deloponcus.

Corinium, a towne of Dalmatia, called nowe Corintum. Also a towne in England, called Claudiocestria, Bloedew.

Corinnus, a poete, whiche wyote of Troie besoye Ithomece.

Corinthas, adis, an herbe called also Menais.

Corinthius, and Corinthiacus, a, um, that whiche is of the citee of Corinthus.

Corinthia vasa, plate of the metall of Corinth, whiche was a myete metall.

Corinthus, a citee in Acaia, whiche was in that part of Grece, whiche is now called Joyea, wherof came a prouerbe.

* Non est cuiuslibet Corinthum appellere, it is not in euery mans power to ascriue at Corinthus, whiche dooeth signifie, it pertaineth not to euery man to attempte thynges dangerous, or harde to atchise.

Coriolanus, a noble man of Rome.

Corioli, a towne of Latium.

Corion, an herbe called also Cypericon, Androcemon, and of some Herba perforata, commonly Herba diui Iohannis, sainte Iohns woote.

Coriscus, a lyght darte lyke an arrowe.

Coritus, a bowe case.

Corius, an hyll of Thessaly, and a kyng, on whose wyfe Jupiter begat Nardanus.

Corium, ri, n. g. the skynne of a beast, leather, and in building, it is a course of wycke, stone, or other matter.

* Canis affluens corio, A prouerbe, signifying that one ones rooted in naughtynesse, can neuer be withdrawn.

Corna, n, the name of two citees.

Cornelia, the proper name of diuers noble women, of whiche one was sister to Scipio, mother to Tyberius Gracchus, & Caius Gracchus, who beyng men of excellent eloquence in the latine tongue, were taughte onely of their faid mother. This woman was of a meruallous temperance. for on a tyme she was in company with other ladies of Rome, who beholdinge her meane apparail, demanded, if she had no better reuement: She pointing to hir two sonnes, whiche than wente before her, answered: No here is my best apparail, wherein I dwelle. The same noble woman, knowinge that hir husband dyd pisse wylly compaigne with hir bond woman, dissembled, and would not heere of it, thynnyng it inconvenient, that hir husband, who had ben ofte tymes in the greatest and wolle honourable rotimes in the citee, and also had vanquished many great princis, should bee rebuked by her. And after his death she married that woman in a wyppfall place, geuyng with hir a great summe of monie.

Cornelius, a propre name of diuers noble Romans, of whom mention shall be made in these names.

Cornescere, scilicet, escere, to waxe hard as hoine

Corneolus, diminutiuus of Cornus.

Cornetum, ti, n. g. a groue where the trees

Cornus growe.

Corneus, a, um, of oyle hoine. Also of the woodde Cornus.

Cornicen, a blower in an hoine.

Cornicor, aris, ar, to make a chattering lyke a chough, or to gape for a praye, as Caelinus dooeth expounde it.

Cornicula, a diminutiuus of Cornix, a chough.

Cornicularius, a certayne office in armes concerning capitall sentences.

Corniculum, a litell hoine, also after some, a certayne gette geuen to souldiours. it was sometyme a towne in Italy.

* Cornicum oculos configere, to pynche out the crows eyes: A prouerbe used when we wolde signifie, that one with a newe deuyse, had obscured the doctrine or estimation of them, whiche had been afore hym, and had made them to seme, they knewe or sawe no thyng. It maye be also said, where one man will make all other men blynd, that haue ben before hym, and dooeth reproue or dissolue that, whiche hath been allowed by wise men.

Cornicibus superites, spoken pouverbially of one that is longe lyued.

Cornificius, a learned mā in the tyme of Salust.

Cornigenus, a, um, of the kynde whiche hath hoines.

Corniger, ra, rum, hoined, all thyng that beareth hoines.

Cornipes, pedis, om. ge. that hath an harde house or hoine on theyr feete.

Cornix, nicis, f. gen. a byrde called a crowe or chough.

Cornu, vnderstode, Cornum, ni, n. g. and Cornus, nus, m. g. a hoine: by translation the corners and wyndynges of ryuers. Also the two wynges of a battayle bee called Dextrum, cornu, and Sinistrum cornu.

Cornua antemnarum, the endes of the sayle yardes.

Cornucopia, an hoine that Hercules plucked from Achelous, whiche hoine the nymphe of immortall tables filled with sweete flowers and and fruites: There is before an other opiate on thesed.

Cornupeta, a, um, a beaste that streeth with his hoines.

Cornus, nus, or Cornus, a, um, a tree in frentche vng & Cornellier, whiche be called in Englande: and therefore is lacketh in English name.

Cornu, ni, n. g. the fruite of Cornus, called Corneilles in frentche, whiche helpe to oldnes, but they be redde, and somewhat longer.

Cornutus, a, um, that whiche hath hoines.

* Cornutum bestiam petis, Thou wilt on an hoined beest: A prouerbe, whiche of one, whiche prouoketh hym, of whome he is lyke to haue the woofe.

Corquus, the name of a learned man in the tyme of Aesc.

Coræbus, looke Choraebus.

Corollarium, ri, n. g. an addition or aduantage, also Corollaria be certayne gettes geuen at festes, or to people when they be held common places.

Corona, n, f. g. a crowne; a garland, a chaplet a compaigne of people standing rounde lyke a circle, also the circle about the moone.

Corong militares, were garlandes of dyuers foies: The named Triumphalis, was spide of laurell or baye leaues, afterward of gold, whiche the chief captayn wore on his head, whiche he had the whole victorie agaynst his enemies, and his seruantes dyd weare garlandes of oyle: An other was called Obsidionalis, whiche was geuen to the chief captayn, when he had resied any siege, laied about any of their townes or fosterres, and that garlande was of the grasse growyng in the place, where the siege was laied.

An other was called Ciuiica, whiche was of holly, beyng euer greene, wouen with oken leaues, this garlande was geuen to hym, which had saued a Romayn from takyng, fightyng valiantly for hym.

Muralis, was geuen to hym that first scaled the walles maugre the enemies: and therefore it was made lyke vnto batilmentes.

Castrensis, was geuen to hym, whiche first by force entered the campe of the enemies.

Navalis, was putte on his heade, whiche in battaile on the sea, spide boorded the shyppe that was assailed.

Oualis was wynges of the chiefe captayne, when the victorie was without shedding of blood, or that the battaile lacked his circumstance in the appoyntment.

Muralis, Castrensis, and Navalis, were of golde: Oualis, was of the lytell sweete bushe called Myrtus.

Corona, was also a certayn figure, whiche serpentes that were set to be sold used to weare: also the signe of Ariadne in the firmament, whiche hath ix. steres in foure of a crown.

It is also the water table, covering a wall.

Coronamentum, ni, n. g. a crown, a chaplet, and the name of a towne, whiche was made by the Romans, the name of which was crowned.

Coronarius, a, um, that belongeth to garlandes or crownes.

Coronatus, a, um, crowned, or wearyng a garlande.

Corone, a towne in Grece in the partes nowe named Morca.

Coronea, a citee in the partes of Beroia, in Grecia.

Coronis, nidis, f. g. the nose of a shype. also an ende, the extreme part, the toppe of a thyng, the hoine of other lyke.

Coronis, the daughter of Leucippus, on whiche Apollo begatte Esculapius.

Coroneola, a kynde of rofes.

Corono, aul, are, to crowne, or sette a crowne or garlande on ones head.

* Coronopus, an herbe, whiche by the description of Dioscorides and Theophrastus, some suppose to be Dent de Leon: but Fuchsius saith, it is sometyme called Cornucrinum, Pes cornicis, and Sanguinaria, because it syneth bleedynge.

Quellius, after the mynde of Leontenus saith, it is named Capricola, Dens canis, and sometyme Sanguinaria, because it prouoketh bleedynge.

Corophium, a kynde of crabbe fyre.

Corporalis, le, corporall.

Corporatio, onis, and Corporatura, ri, the quantitee, state, or faction of the body, corporature, copulencie.

Corporatus, a, um, copoyate.

Corporeus, a, um, that is of a bodily substance.

Corporo, aul, are, to kill.

Corporor, aris, ar, to bee factoned or made a bodye.

Corpulentus, x, f. g. copulencie, fleshyne.

Corpulentus, a, um, copulent of grosse in bodye, fleshy.

Corpus, corporis, n. g. a bodie. sometyme it signifies but fleshe onely: sometyme all maner of substance, also a whole fellowship or compaignie, or a multitude of people: sometyme a volume or tome of a booke.

Habitus corporis, the fourme and plight of the bodye.

Corpore vitiali, they that lacke som membre at their natyritie.

Corpus arboris, the body of a tree.

Corpus reipublice, the whole comon weale.

Corpusculum, li, n. g. a litell or small bodie.

Corrado, rati, here, to thauyng together, to take awai, spoile, kill, or alienate, to kysse together.

Correctio, onis, f. g. a correction, amendment, a tabylle, also a figure of rhetoricke.

Corrector, oris, m. g. a correctour or amender of fault.

of faulces.
 Correpo, repfi, reppere, idem quod Repo.
 Correpitor, oris, he that taketh of plucketh a thing to hym.
 Correpus, a, um, taken, & washed.
 Corrido, risi, ridere, to laugh with other.
 Corrigo, x, i, g. a thonge of leashe, a lache of a shoe.
 Corrighola, an herbe, whiche renneth on the grounde lke grasse, but it hath leaues lke rewe, somewhat longer and softer, vnder the whiche the seede spyngeth, and hath floures partely whiter partely redde. Manardus saith, it hath leaues lke to an althe, and there fore is called Fraxinella.
 Corrigo, rexi, rigere, to correcte or amende, to rectify, to make right, to redresse.
 Corrighere aliquem ad frugem, to amende one, and make hym honest and thyng.
 Corrighere et Deprauare, contrarie.
 Corrighere et emendare.
 Corripio, pui, pere, to rebuke, pproplyt it is to take a thyng quickly with hast, to moysten.
 Corripere sese ad aliquem, to go to one lastly.
 Corripere sese intro, to enter in hastily.
 Corripere et repente, to go his way suddenly.
 Corripitur febre, he is taken with a feure.
 Corripitur somno, he is faste a sleape.
 Corripere mortu, to byte.
 Gradum corripere, to ge a pace.
 Viam corripere, to take the way and goe forwarde.
 Tanto celerius viam corripimus, we will take our way, and go to muche the faster.
 Corruales, they whiche doo lous together one woman.
 Corruare, is pproplyt of heales, to go togyr ther to wateryng.
 Corruatio, onis, a cennung together in foyme of a ruuer.
 Corruor, aris, ari, is of waters, whan they of small brookes doo become euers.
 Corruatus, a, um, the adiectiue.
 Corroboro, aui, are, to make stronge of bygge, to harden.
 Corroboratus, a, um, made stronge of bygge, hardened.
 Corrodo, rosi, rodere, to gnawe about.
 Corrosus, a, um, gnawen aboute.
 Corrogo, aui, are, to gather together, to despye earnestly.
 Corroundo, aui, are, to make rounde.
 Corrua, an herbe called wilde sperage.
 Corrug, foymes made in hills, to counseigne water to washe the wyse of metall.
 Corruigo, aui, are, to wrinkle.
 Corrugare frontem, to frowne.
 Corrugatus, a, um, wrinkled.
 Corrumo, rupi, rumpere, to corrupte, to violate, to despoile, to suboigne, to tempt of pte cure by gestes.

 Corrumperere igni, to burne by.
 Corrumperere oportunitate, to lose oportunitate of occasion.
 Corrumperere rem familiarem, to waste his thynge.
 Corrumperere et Deprauare.
 Corruptela, le, f. g. any thyng that corrupteth or despoileth, corruption of despyng.
 Corrupte, corruptly.
 Corruptio, onis, a corruption.
 Corruptio, oris, m. g. a destroyer, a waster, a corrupter of thynges.
 Corruptio, is, the feminine.
 Corruptio, um, corrupted, destroyed, waste, totall.
 Corruptum hic ex adolescentie optinuo, I see hym here of a verate honest yonge man to be cleane chaunged, & become haughe.
 Corrupti sic, to moule and washe louse.
 Corruo, rui, ruer, to falle downe together, to fall greuously, to falle of erre.
 Corruerunt opes, the gooddes were wasted.
 Risi corruui, I could not stand for laughing.
 Cors, cortis, idem quod Chors, a court.
 Corsides, a certayne stone.
 Corsica, an yle in the mydle sea, betwene Ceane and the yle of Sardinia called Cors.
 Coricum mare, the sea about the yle of Cors.
 Cortex corticis, m. et. f. g. a rinde of bark.
 Corticula, le, a littell rinde of bark.
 Corticatus, ra, tum, haunged a rinde of bark.
 Corticofus, a, um, that hath a thycke bark of rinde.
 Cortina, ng, f. g. a dyers batte, also it is a table of Apollo, from the which he gaus answers.
 Cato taketh it for a vessel, out of the which opie is lette renne. Also that whiche is called a courtyn of linnen cloth of sylke, also a pan of hertell, wherein water was hette.
 Cortina, a citee of Creta.
 Cortinale, lis, n. g. the place where vessels be sette, wherein wyne and hony be sodden.
 Corrinon, radish seeds.
 Cortona, a citee in Tuscan.
 Cortyna, or Gortyna, a citee in the yle of Sicily.
 Corus, ri, m. g. the westerne wynde north west and by west.
 Corus, vox hebraica, a certayne measure.
 Coruncanus, a Romayne, whiche friste of any of the common people was made high bishop.
 Corusco, aui, are, to byandish of glitter, to shine.
 Coruscare mucrone, to byandish a sword.
 Coruscus, a, um, that glittereth of shyneth, that is byandished, or that shyneth.
 Sylus coruscus, trees shynyn and tremblyn with the wynde.
 Coruinus, a, um, of a crowe.
 Coruinus, the name of a noble oytous, made in Sicily.

Coruus,

Coruus, ui, m. g. a sort of crowe, also a certayne fysh.
 Corybanes, the gydes of the whole Lybels, whiche are madde men, wandringe these heedes and dauncyn, playng on tymballe, and about the Arcades, prouokinge other to do the semblable.
 Corybanticus, a, um, perteynyng to the sacrifices of those pylles.
 Corybas, antris, the sonne of Jason & Lybels.
 Corycides, the surname of the Spines of an hille of denne in Spertalus by Deles, called Corycius.
 Corydum, a gardenlandes or wynde, or other lke thyng to put in vntayles.
 Corycos, or Corycus, the name of a mountayne and citee in Sicily, by the whiche is a caue called Corycius.
 Corycus, a mountayne and hauen of Samphila, of the whiche certayne rowers on the sea were named Coryci, whose falsehode in begriping the marchantes resoyng thyng, is growen to a prouerbe: and of them all craft and wyle lkes and sarchers out of mattees are called Coryci.
 + Corycus auliculaire, a prouerbe, spoken, whan a thyng greatly dissembled and kept secrete, is by some spie disclosed.
 Corydalis, li, f. g. a certayne bynde, after some a lark.
 Corydon, a shepardes name in Theocrite and Virgill.
 Coryleum, el, n. g. a groue of hallow.
 Corylus, li, f. g. an hallow and an hallow nutte of sylber.
 Corymbe, bes, idem quod Coramble.
 Corymbus, bi, m. g. a beay of yare, or other, whiche doo growe in the same fourme.
 Corymbus, or Corymbum, is also the stemme of a myppe, and the fruite of the herbe called Chrysichoma.
 Corymbifer, a, um, that beareth bearies.
 Corymbites, te, a kynde of spurge.
 Coryphus, phi, xi, m. g. the chiefe in euery order, or in knowlage.
 Corythus, a towne in Tuscan, nere to Arell.
 Coryus, ri, m. g. a bowe case, or a quiver for arrowes.
 Coryza, the pore of distillation out of the head into the eyes and nose.
 Cos, looks Goos.
 Cos, cotis, f. g. a whette stone.
 Cosmetra, te, com. g. a chaumberer, a man or woman that apparailleth the maistrasse.
 Cosmiana vnguenta, beate sweete oyle, named of Cosmus.
 Cosmicus, a, um, worldly, of the world.
 Cosmitto, for committo.
 Cosmographia, f. the description of the world.
 Cosmographus, he that describeth the world.

Cosmus, mi, the world.
 Cosmus, mi, a proper name.
 Cossia, a towne of Samos.
 Cossus, a bynde high in trees, whiche the people of Syngia vntayle for a delicate meate.
 also men or women, that haue theyr bodies reuelled of full of wyndes. Plinie hath Cosses in the plerall numbry.
 Cossim, idem quod Coxim.
 Cossus, a Romayne.
 Cossa, te, f. g. a bynde.
 Cossitium, the sides of myppes.
 Cossitum, the sides of a caudon.
 Costas, a, um, that hath bybdes.
 Costum, or Cossus, an herbe, called commonly Cocus, and Herba Marig: it hath but one halke, halfe a cubite high, and leaues lke Betayn, sauyng that the be thynner, & more sauoure. It is also a strange herbe, where of be. iii. kyndes, Arabicum, Indicu, Syriacu.
 Cosyra, or Cosura, an yle in Sicily.
 Coraria, x, f. g. a quartie, where whette stones be founden.
 Cothurnus, ni, m. g. a kynd of busshyns to hunt in, whiche myght indifferently be put on eyther legge, also a mypper, specially high toed. somtyme it is taken for a plaster in tragedie: somtyme for a tragedie: and for an high and arrogant fourme of speakyn or wytyng.
 Cothurnus, a, um, that weareth such a busshyn of mypper, or vntayle a tragicall maner in wytyng or speakyn.
 Cotidie, dailie, dailie by dailie.
 Coris, the Alpes.
 Cortio, a kyng of the Danes.
 Coron, an hauen made with stone, also a towne in Syria, of the whiche a certayne kynde of small bygges are called plurally Corona, Coronas, or Corona.
 Cotonea, a quince tree.
 Cotoneum, nei, n. g. a quince: also an herbe, whiche the frenche men call Fialum.
 Cotta, an oytour of Rome, greatly commended of Cicero.
 Gottabus, bi, the founde, whiche a croke maketh with any thyng.
 Cortona, looks Coron.
 Cornia, an herbe, whiche hath leaues lke Lamomill, and a yelow floure lke to an oye etc.
 Of this be diuers kyndes, one is called Euphthalmos, an other Cornia feida.
 Cornia, a measure, looks Coryla.
 Cornix, nicks, a bynde, called a quaple, which (as Plinie and Solinus wyte) appereth not vntill the ende of sommer, and then they fleo ouer the sea eastly without making hast, and whan they perceyue lande, they assemble in flocks, and fleo muche faster. They wyte also, that these byndes doo feche on feedes of mynionus herbes, and therefore in the othe eyme they were not eaten of wyse men: for that byrde hath the falling puel Ruten, Galene, & Lucretius affirme, that this byrde feedeth on the herbe Ellchorus, or Veratrum, whiche of it self is venomous: all be it phisicallis geue it sometime for the purgation of melancolie. Ruten, wisteth, that eating of quailles is to be feared, lest therby mate be ingendred the crampe, and stikenesse called Tetanus.

Coryla, or Coryle, a measure, which after the saying of Galene, was in some place. xii. ounce measures, in some place. xvi. Julius Solinus saith, it is the thirde parte of Chenix: that whiche is called Georgica, or peerepnyng to husbandry, receiveth in weight of wyne. i. li. and halfe an ounce: of oyle. xi. ounces, of honny. i. li. ii. and. vi. diammes: of our measure a pynte and one ounce. That whiche is called Veterinaria, or being pnyng to horse leches, is in measure. xii. pnyches, and coneyneth of wyne. xi. ounces, and. ii. scripyles, one obolum, and one siliqua: of oyle. x. ounces: of honny. i. li. iiii. ounces of one diamme, and one scripyle: It is of our measure litle half a pynte. Coryla, is also a vessel of cuppe to drinke of, such as Diogenes used, before he learned of a childe to drinke out of his hande.

Coryle, sometime signifieth all the holownesse of a cup also the joinct of a mans thigh.

Coryledō, the herb called Umbelicus Veneris.

Corylum, a place in the mountayn of Ida, out of the whiche renneth the great riuier, Scamander, Granicus, and Aescopus.

Corys, a hynde of Thrace, whiche in the cluise warre fauoured the part of Pompeie.

Couinus, ni, m. g. a manner of charpoet.

Coumarus eques, an horse man that fought leaping out of a chariot vnto an horses backe.

Couinum, a towne in Dorsel hye called Dorschester.

Counos, the pie of Shepey in Kent.

Cous, a, um, of the pie of Los.

Cous, in greke is a life.

Coxa, x, f. g. the haunches, properly the bones of the buttocke.

Coxendix, dicis, f. g. the hyppes of harte bone. Coxendix morbus, the ache of the hyppes, commonly called Sciatica, whiche cometh of a grosse sturmathe humoure, that lieth about the sinue called Ichias, in the holowe bone of the hyppes.

C ANTE R.

Rabro, onis, m. g. a great waspe called an homette.

Irriare crabroneim, a pponerbe, whā a man pponereth one to his owne harme.

Cracentes, men that are leane. Sometime it is taken for graciles.

Cragus, a mountayn of Lycia dedicate to Apollo.

Crambe, es, f. g. a kynde of cole wytes.

Crambe repetita, is called of Juuenalis, a declamation to often heare with much tediousnesse to the hearers.

Cranus, a kynde of Athenes, who succeeded Cecrops.

Cranium, a place of exercise at Lospithe.

Craneus, the first kyng of Macedon, betwene hym and Alexander Magnus reigned. xxxviii. kynges, about the space of. 500. yeres.

Cranos, or Cranium, ni, n. g. the skull.

Crantor, is, the name of a philosopher.

Crapula, f. g. an inflammation and headache, whiche cometh of excess of dymnyng.

It is also taken for dymkenesse of any disease caused by luscetyng.

Crapulam edormiscere, to sleepe out dymna kennesse vntill one be freche agayne.

Crapulam exhalare, to vompte when one is dymke.

Crapula, is also a thyng, wherwith wyne is temptred, after some the dygges of colyn.

Crapulor, aris, ar, to surfeete.

Cras, to morowe, in tyme comyng.

Craus, sis, f. g. a greke woode, signifieth some plexion, temperature of mixture of naturall humours.

Crausamen, minis, et Crausamentum, d, n. g. the thynkenesse of any thyng.

Crausisco, feli, feliere, to make fatte of fild of fleshe, of thyche, to waxe fatte.

Crausitudo, dinis, f. g. fatnesse, thynkenesse, grossenesse.

Crausities, idem.

Crausius, a, um, fatte, fleshy, thyche, grosse, point, sometime bull, blockyche, blunt, coysse.

Crausia Minerua, a grosse witte, whiche doeth nothyng exactly.

Craus compedes, weyghy gyues.

Crausiore mufa, with a moys plague of intetlygible fence.

Craus, thyche, grosse.

Craus, thyche, grosse.

Craus, si, n. g. a grosse of thyche thyng.

Craus, the surname of noble Romans, of the whiche two specially ar worthy to be remembred for their notable qualites. One, named Lucius Craus next to Cull was the moost excellent orator amonge the Romaynes, of whome, and Quintus Scaiola, Cull wyseth in this wise: Thyne not (I saie) Brutus, that in this cite were euer two moys excellent persons. For where it is well knowne, that of all counsaillers, the one (Scaiola) was moost eloquent: the other (Craus) was in cos saynyng moost excellent. Likewise in all other thynges shew he was vnto one to an other: but so as ye could not telle, vnto whiche of the two ye wold wishe to be like. For Craus of all dytate & toly, was the moost fobbe: Scaiola of ad that was sobe, was moost freche and pleasant.

Craus

Craus with gentleness had sufficient sense: in the great senesice of Scaiola, he had no gentleness. This commendation of Craus declareth that man worthy to be counted a soursa in a weale publicke.

Craus, called Marcus, was the richest person of the Romans. Plutarch wryteth that he was sent general capitayn against the Parthians: he had in his treasure. 7100. talires.

which amounteth of our money to. 1100350. li. besides that he had geuen that part of his mouables to hercules in offering, and made a feast to all the people of Rome, appointyng to euer man the rate of thye Minas, euer Minas being of our money. xxxv. s. xi. d. q. whiche is in thye Minas. vi. li. vii. s. ix. d. ob. q. for euer man's portion. Whiche summe (consydeyng Rome was then the greatest cite & moost populous in all the world) seemeth inestimable. He wolde saie, he ought not to be called a ryche man, except he could wish his peryent maineyne a legiō, whiche shoulde conteyne 6000. footemen, and 500. men of armes. Whiche woode it made bee well supposed, that where Craus stoneth the richest of Craus to bee. 20000. Sestertia, whiche in the rate of our monie is. 131065. li. the same summe was the peryent revenues of Marcus Craus, euer Sestertium, being vi. li. xi. s. ix. d. ob. whiche revenues were not ony of his possessions, grain, fruite, and cattell, but also of the labours of bondemen, whiche he did leat to hye, they being instructed in all maner sciences and artes, of whom were. 500. caposters, of all the other a muche greater nūbre. All that they gaped, came to his coffers. Wherfore he practised vnto, lendenng lightly to all men that wold borrow: but if they brake promise with him, he was in exactyng thereof extreme & rigorous. He gate infinite subatice by men attainted in the time of Sulla, who fauoured hym. Therwith he was exceeding couetous & vnsatiable, but byng much lib. ratit & affabilitie toward the people: he was alway in great estimation among them: he was eloquent, and wolde please in euer comon cause. Finally, being sored with couetousnes & auy, whiche he had to the great honours that Cesar & Pompeie had obtained, he procured warre against the Parthians, by whom both he and his son with. 30000. Romans were slayn, many also were taken: whiche as Plutarch wryteth, hapned by his negligence, being moys indiscretious aboute the gathering of money, than in governyng and orderyng his army. He died afoye, the incarnation of Chyris. 51. yeres.

Crausino, aul, are, to beware from date to date, to busy of thyn on the morowe.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Crausino, idem, quod Cras.

Inscripto multo esse crebrior quatuor, I would write to you more often times than ye booke to me.

Crebresco, brui, brevere, to be worse, to be common.

Crebrus, aris, and Crebriudo, offencesse, of thicknesse in being or growing together.

Crebrutus, a trencher foisted with many nails.

Crebro, often.

Credibilis, le, that whiche may be believed, credible.

Credibiliter, credibly.

Creditor, onis, m. g. he unto whom a man oweth any thing.

Credula, the feminine.

Credulus, ti, n. g. that thing that is owed.

Credulus, a, um, trusted, believed, owed.

Credo, dici, dere, to believe, to trust, to committe of believe a thing to be safe, to put to trust, to have a sure confidence, to thinke, to knowe surely, after Donatus.

Credere verba alicui, to tell to one his countsaile. Creditur tibi, I trust the.

Creditur male, it is ill lent.

Quid his rebus credit fieri? what thinkest thou may be doon by this meanes?

Credis huic, quod dicat? Dooest thou believe that he saith?

Credere alicui de re aliqua, to believe one in a matter.

Committere et credere.

Male credere, to mistrust.

Credere hoc meo fidei, believe me in this, trust me truly.

Credere se Neptuno, to take the sea.

Credere alicui argentum, to put one in trust with monie.

Credere pecuniam, to lende monie.

Credo, I believe well.

Nunquam hoc mihi voluit credere, he would never discusse so muche to me.

Credidi tibi consilia mea omnia, I have disclosed of committed all my secreete counsailes to you. Creditur, the impersonal, men believe it: or, monie was lent.

Creduis, vel creduas, for credas.

Credulas, tatis, f. g. light beleue.

Credulus, a, um, that beleueth lightly, of light of beleue.

Cremastris, the sinewes, whereby the bones of a man or beast be hange.

Cremano, onis, a bournp.

Cremanus, a, um, bourned.

Crementum, increase.

Cremera, a, rupe.

Cremitum, m. n. g. fried meate bourned to the panne, after Calepine, but Columella seemeth to take it for by the of by the sticks to handle fyre with.

Crema, aui, are, to bourn.

Cremona, a town of Italy.

Cremon, oris, the suppe of basley steeped in water, beaten, and pressed.

Crema, ng, f. g. the dente aboute the leafe of an herbe or tree lyke to a saw. It is also the scoe the notch of a taile, whiche menne vnturned make on sticks for the remembrance. Also the notch of a bowe or arrowe.

Creon, tis, the name of a king, whose daughter Jason married, when he forsoke Medea also a kynge of the Thebanes, father to Jorasta, wyfe of Medipus.

Creophilus, the name of a poete, whome some affirme to be master to Homere.

Creo, aui, are, to geue the first being vnto any thing. Also to geat a chyld, to cause, to create, to make.

Creare magistratum, to ordeine an officer.

Errorum creare, to make one to erre.

Fasidium creare, to make lothsom or weery.

Erumnas alicui creare, to purchase one may the trouble.

Creare periculum alicui, to procure a manne great daungier of trouble.

Aduersam valetudinem creare, to make sick, to breede a disease.

Creonniades, the sonne of Creon by Medea, the daughter of Creon of Thebe.

Crepa, of olde wynters vied for Capra, a goat.

Creperus, a, um, doubtful, ambiguous.

Crepi, idem quod Luperci.

Crepidula, f. g. a vobled shoe pyth latched: some take it for a vobled shoe, or slipper, because of the noyle, whiche it maketh when a man goeth.

Crepidarius, ri, m. g. he that maketh shoes of slippers.

Crepidatus, a, um, that weareth a vobled shoe of slipper.

Crepidus, inis, f. g. a creeke, those of banke, where on the water beteth. Also the mouth of a well, the toppe of a steep rocke, and the extreme parte of any place.

Crepidula, le, f. g. a diminutue of Crepida.

Crepitaculum, li, n. g. a tymbel or other instrument made of brylle, whiche beynge touched with the hande, maketh a sounde.

Crepitaculum, a diminutue of Crepitaculum.

Crepat pacis, that maketh a noyse.

Crepiro, aui, are, to make a noyse or crepnyng.

Crepitare dentibus, to chaw with the teeth.

Crepat mihi venter, my belly courteth.

Crepiulum, li, n. g. an ornament of the heade, whiche with mounges of the heade, maketh a sounde.

Crepius, us, m. g. a bounse, a greete bynde of noyse, a farte.

Dentium crepitus, the crepnyng of the teeth.

Crepius pedum, the noyse, the whyche the feete feete make in going.

Crepo, crepi, seboine crepaul, pare, to make a great noyse, to sound, also to byke, to speake of pyraie.

Crepuit fores, the doore was open.

Crepla, a cite of Albannia.

Creplundia, orum, n. g. twisse of small beynge given to littell chyldren, as littell belles, tymbells, and such lyke toys. Also the fyrt appaile of chyldren, as twathels, wast cotes, and such lyke. And by transacion the sale. A creplundis erat virtuti deditus, from his chyldehode he was enen geuen to vertue.

Crepusculum, li, n. g. the tyme lyght, epyer in the euening or in the morning.

Creco, creui, crecere, to growe, to waxe bigger, to increase in honoure or riches.

Creuit increditum, he is increased in his lytelode: or he hath inbetwixt fallen to hym.

Factis alicuius crecere, to become more honourable by another mans dedes.

Animi creuerunt, they waxed haute and high mynded, by reason of rychesse: or they took a better herte of courage.

Crevere ex accusacione alterius, to geat rychesse by accusacione of another.

Cres, creis, one of Crete.

Cresleis, a nymphe of Crete.

Cressa, a woman of Crete. Also an haue of Cavia, ouer agaynst Naples.

Crete, f. g. and Creteles, an yle lying betwene the part of Grece called Peloponnesus and the Rhodes: it hath on the north parte the sea Regium and Creteles: on the southe the sea of Egypt and Africa. It is now called Candie. In this yle was Jupiter noure Med: whom the people named their chief god. There was also a nymphe, and Madamantes gouerned vnder hye, which moste exquisite iustice, as ye maye see in these places: of whose lawes other countreys took the first paternes: not withstanding the people of that countreys were noted of olde tyme to be vicious and shamefull: as Creteles was noted in a velle reuerend saint Paule, in his epistle to Titus, that Creteles alwaye been lyers, vngateous, and slouthfull pached.

Crete, m. f. g. chalte.

Creteus, a, um, of chalte.

Creteus, a, um, lashed with chalte.

Creteus pedibus homines, men marked to be sold: whiche from great rychesse were fallen into great povertie.

Creteus, Cressius, a Creteus, a, um, of chalte.

Creteus, the sonne of Aeolus, which begat Creon, on the daughter of his brother Salmo.

Crethmos, vel Crethmus, an herbe growing on the sea rocks, which we call dampere: it is of some called Crethmarina: The leaues are kepte in bynde of salt, to be used with fyre, as a saute.

Crethmon, the sonne of Aeolus.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crethmus, a, um, of chalte.

Crimissa, a citter.
Crimissus, a ruler of Greece.
Crinialis, i.e. that belongeth to the heare.
Crinale, i.e. n. g. a thynge to bryn by the heare as a filter, a heareface, of such lyke.
Criniger, that hath murther heare.
Crinis, n. s. m. g. heare of the head. also a curreayne bonde to tye a thynge with.
Crinire, to late forth the heare.
Crinista, i.e. a curreayne of blasyng steele.
Crinus, a. um, that hath muche of long heare.
Crinon, a rebde lyfe.
Crinor, n. s. n. i. r. to haue a bushe of heare, or to be made to haue a bushe of heare.
Crinur arbor, the tree hath many leaues of boughes.
Crisis, iudgement.
Crista, a towne builded by Cristus the soone of Phorus.
Crispans, anis, curled, wrinkled, bysbed.
Crispatus, a. um, that is curled or wrinkled.
Crispina, by the description of Jo. Agricola, semeth to be the byer called Rispis.
Crispulas, a. um, that hath curled heare.
Crispus, a. um, curled, wrinkled. It was also the name of Salustius.
Crispum lignum, rough wood, ful of beines.
Crispo, a. u. i. are, to curre or bysbe, to make to byne or gyfter.
Aurora crispit pelagus nouo Phibo, The morning, when the soone ryseth maketh the sea to glister and byne.
Crista, a. f. g. a crest, or any thynge growyng on the head of a foule or beast, as a cockes cobe, or the feathers on the heade of a byrde, called a coppe.
Crista galling, after Ruellius li. 3. cap. 103. seemeth to be Veruina, called of the Grekes Perithenon, in latine Veruenna, or Verbenata, in his second booke, cap. 118. he describeth it to be that, whiche Plinie calleth Alecosolophos, and Dioscorides Horminum, or Orminum hortense, an herbe muche lyke hore hounde, named of the frenchemen Oruala, Tout bone, of the Italians, Sclaria: of some Cetrum galling, or Gallicentrum: of other Salua transmarina.
Cristatus, a. um, that hath a crest or coppe.
Cristata auis, a cocke.
Cristula, i. g. a littell cresse.
Critig, thep that be iudges in any matters.
Critic, es, a weat on the upper lyde of the eye lyke a barleie coine.
Critheis the daughter of Aeolus, and mother of Homer.
Critas, one of the thretye tyannes of Athens.
Criticus, he that subgeth the actes of men, as men doo wyse.
Critici dies, the dayes wherein physicians geue iudgements of the continuance of the diseases.

Crito, a philosopher of Athens, familiar with Socrates.
Critobulus, a physician, of whom Plinie speaketh lib. 7.
Crikolaus, a philosopher of Athens, and a captyane of Acaia, whiche destroyed the cities of Asinthe.
Crobialon, a towne in Daphlagonia, whereby cometh the ciuer Dardanius.
Crobylon, a caule to weare on ones head.
Crocallis, i. s. a pyreous stone, lyke to a cheere, or after some pyntes, lyke to ware.
Crocatus, Crocinus, and Croceus, a. um, of o. lyke saffron.
Croceus color, yealow colour lyke saffron.
Crocium, n. i. n. g. a sweete oile made of saffron.
Crocio, ciul, circ, to curre lyke a roun.
Crocito, a. u. i. are, idem.
Crocis, an herbe that magicians vse.
Crocitus, u. s. m. g. the worse that a roun of crows maketh called cephng.
Crocato, or Crocitatio, idem.
Crocodilon, a towne of Phenicia.
Crocodilus, an byll of Phenicia.
Crocodilus, i. m. g. a. u. i. beaste bydde in Egypt, and lyueth partly in water, partly on lande, and is in factio lyke a dragon, but he hath small eyes, veray longe teethe lyke to a sawe, and lacher a stronge, and moueth on by the upper lawe, and hath great and strong nayles on his feet. there hath been seen of the xx. foote longe, and the sayn of his backe is unpenerable. he deuourth not only men but also beastes, whiche come nigh to the ryuer of Nilus. And yet not withstanding, the Egyptians did honour that beast, in so much, that if any were byllid, they caused hym to be saled and buried. They byng forth egges, no bygger than gylt egges, & that. i. x. at a tyme, the male and female sitting on them by turns.
Crocodili lachrym, crocodiles teares. A piouser, applied vnto the eye, which hatyng an other man, whom they would destroye, or haue destroyed, they will seme to bee soye for hym. It is taken of the pyopete of Crocodilus the monster, who beholding a man to myn, whom he would deuoure, wepeth, and after he hath eaten the body, he wafeth the head with his teares, and then eateth it also.
Crocodylinus, a. um, of a crocodile.
Crocodylia, a beaste lyke to a crocodile.
Crocodylium, an herbe (after Plinie) lyke the chyllid called Camclion niger. Ruellius supposeth it to be that, whiche is commonly called Carlina, or Cardina.
Crocomagma, m. a. i. s. neu. gen. dyegges of the oyle of saffron.
Crocota, i. s. f. g. a garment of saffron colour that women vse to weare.
Crocotillum, veray slender or thynne.

Cro:

Crocotillum, cake byade.
Crocoto, idem quod Trama.
Crocota, the diminutive of Crocota.
Crocotarius, i. s. a byer of saffron coloured garments.
Crocom, i. s. n. g. of Crocus, i. m. g. a thynge to be hot and bye in the first degree. Crocom is also the yelow chyenes in the middes of a lye.
Crocus, the soone of Cemenes, the mothe of the Muses, who was turned by Jupiter into the signe called Sagittarius, som wyse his name Crocus or Croton.
Crocota, a beaste, whiche Solinus calleth a monster, begotten betwene the beast Hiena, and a lyoness: he neuer closeth his eyes or wryneth: on bothe sides of his mouth, he hath as it were one toothe: he breaketh all thynges with his teethe quickly, and swalloweth, and forthwith digesteth it. The nature of theim is betwene a dogge & a wolfe, but he is muche worse than any of theim. he counterfayeth the voyce as wel of men as of other beastes.
Croesus, kyng of Lydia, soone of Halyattes, subdued many grete countreies in Asia and Grece, and gathered innumerable riches. he on a tyme demanded of Solon, who was the happiest man that euer he se. he said Tellus a man of Athens, who had honest and good soones: and thet also had likewise good chyldren: all whiche he saw in his lyfe. And whā he had lued a good tyme honestly, at the last, fighing agaynst the enemies of his cuntrye after he had banquished them, he dyed a faire deathe, and was in the same place honorably buried of the Atheniensis. When Croesus asked, who was most happye next Tellus, he said, Cleobis and Biton, whiche were Argives, and had a copetent strength, thet obtained the pyce. On a festiuall date of Juno thet gods best, thet mother byeng an old womā, wold be caried vnto the temple in a wagge, but the oxen were not come from the stables wherfoze thet, taking the beame of the wagh, byse thet olde mother thet in viij. myles and more, and so byought hir to the temple of Juno, at men metualyng and comendyng the yong men, al women prayeing the mother for byngyng by of suche chyldren: the mother byeng surprised with joy, as well for the age of hir sonnes, as also for the same and commendation thet of, standyng afoze the pyage of Juno, prayed, that hir soones myght haue geuen theim the best thyng that euer mought happen to men. When thet had sacrificed, eaten, and drunk with much plesure and joy, they fell on slepe, and neuer awaked: whose thynges al the people of thet cuntrye did set by with much honoy at Delphos. Croesus, byng a thre, said byto Solon: why friends of Athens, letteth thou to lettell by our felicity. letteth thou praye before us whiche prayes persons? So he answered, Croesus, Croesus, in pyntes of pines, many thynges are byt, which men wold not see and many thynges be lured, that me wold not see. And after he had much spoken of mans calamities, at the last he concluded, sayng: The end of euery thyng is to be toke on, wherto it shall come. For god placeth by the rootes many men, vnto whom he gaue all fortune at pleasure. Croesus made hereto no countenance, but estempyng Solon to be but a foole, cōsideryng he passed to light vpon thynges, whiche appered good, let hym depart. A good space after, Croesus by the foot of Apollon answered at Delphos, attemptyng warre agaynst Cyrus kyng of Persia, was at the last taken of hym, who caused a great pile of wodde to be made redy, a Cresus was pur to be set on the top thereof: Than forthwith Croesus remembred the wordes of Solon, that no mā stayng was blessed, or on al partes happy, and therewith lamentyng cryed: O Solon, Solon, Solon, which Cyrus hepyng, caused to be demaded of hym, who it was that he named Croesus with much distrust at the last told what he was, & finally declared all that before was reheried, whiche whā Cyrus had herd, recognisig him selfe to be also a man, soze repented that he went about to burne hym, which was equal to hym selfe in honour and riches: and commanded hym to be taken from the fire, whiche than began to flame: and so with great difficulty he was deliuered. Afterward Cyrus entertained hym honorably, and vsed his counsaile, whiche in many thynges he found very profitabile.

Crolla, idem quod Corolla.
Cromis, he, to whom Hercules gaue the hoyses of Diomedes, whiche wold eat men.
Cromna, a cite of Daphlagonia.
Croniades, one of Hercules soones, by Megara, the daughter of Cron.
Cronia, orum, n. g. plu. nu. the feastes dedicate to Saturnus, whiche were also called Saturnalia, in the whiche littell pfectes and getes were sent from one to an other.
Cronium, is the northe sea called Mare Concretum, or Glaciale, the frozen sea.
Cronius, one of the Centaures.
Cronos, Saturnus.
Coralla, certayn perles, hauyng that name of the soone that they make.
Corallum, i. s. n. g. an instrumente, whiche the Egyptians used in sacrificis, made of st. plaies, whiche bearen together made an harmonie: it is also a racill for a chyld to playe with.
Coralus, he that hath a rouning voyce & a thyl.
Croton, looke after in Ricionum.

C. iii

Cro

C ANTE R.

Croto, or Croton, f.g. an ancient citee in the talpe, in the goulfe called Tarentinum, the countreite of Adlo the famous wyndlar.
Crotus, looke Crocus.
Crucibilis, atis, f.g. touement, affliction.
Cruciatu, us, m.g. idem quod cruciamentu.
Cruciatu, idem.
Cruciamentum, ti, n.g. touement, payne, affliccion, greffe.
Crucibilis, le, that toumenteth or putteth one to payne.
Crucibiliter, with great touementes & paynes.
Crucianus, a, um, wofull tomentes & paynes.
Crucifigo, fixi, figere, to crucifie, to nagle to a croffe.
Crucifixus, a, um, crucified, nagle to a croffe.
Crucio, aut, are, to torment, to afflict, to put to payne.
Crudaria, a, um, a beyn of strace in the top of an hylle.
Crudelis, le, cruell, fierce, vngentyl, vntactable, that will not be moued wth ptear.
Ferus, crudelis, inhumanus.
Poen, crudelis, terrible and cruell paynes.
Crudelitas, atis, f.g. crudelte, fierceneffe, outrageousnesse.
Adhibere crudelitatem in aliquem, to shewe crudelte to one.
Omni crudelitate lacerare aliquem, to toument of bere one with all maner of crudelte.
Anhelare ex intimo pectore crudelitatem, so shewe crudelte euen froine the bottome of his herte.
Crudeliter, crudely.
Acerbe et crudeliter.
Crudelto, aut, defecere, to ware rams.
Crudefit morbus, the sicknesse increaseth moze and moze.
Pugna crudefit, the fyghte waxeth moze fierce and cruell.
Crudinas, tatis, f.g. ratwesse of the stomache or pil digestion.
Crudus, a, um, rawe, frethe, or newe made, not epte, vndigested: sometime harde, greene, fierce, cruell, terrible.
Crudus homo, whose stomache can not digest well. also he that hath a cruell and terrible countenance.
Crudus ensis, a cruell swoorde.
Cruda poma, frutes that are not epte.
Vulnus crudum, a frethe and new wounde, a greene wounde.
Aluus cruda, the stomache that casteth vp meate vndigested.
Cibi crudi, meates vndigested.
Cortex crudus, a greene barke.
Crudum solum et immotum, a ground that is not labourd and well husbanded.
Cgitus crudus, pro duro et crudeli.
Cruentati oculi, eyes redde as bloudd, bloude shotte.

C ANTE R.

Cruenter, blouddily, with much effusion of bloudd.
Cruento, aut, are, to make blouddie.
Morsu cruentare, to bitye vntill it blede.
Cruentare rempublicam vulneribus, by translation to sea and put to beate many of the effensens.
Cruentari scelere, to be disreyned or dishonored by some naughty acte.
Cruentus, a, um, blouddy, cruell, fleshy.
Cruenta victoria, a cruell victory, wherewith many men be slayne.
Vox cruenta, and Cruenta oratio, a cruell and blouddie sentence.
Crumena, x, f.g. a pource.
Cruma, loke Cruma.
Cruor, oris, m.g. bloudd whiche cometh out of a wounde.
Crunos, an haven of Thace.
Crupellarij, certayne souldiours of swoides places, so armed with whose harness of iron that they coude neyther doo nor take hurt.
Cruripedi, x, they that be fettered or gured.
Crurragium, n, n.g. breakynge of the legges.
Crus, rurs, that part of the legge that is froin the knee to the anke, called the shanke.
Distorta crura, crooked legges.
Crus arboris aur vitis, the stocke or bodie of the tree or vine beneth the boowes.
Crusculum, li, n.g. a litell or small legge.
Crusma, atis, n. g. a spmber, wherewith women and maydes doo plaie with theyr fingers.
Crusta, x, f.g. the upper parte of euery thyng that is not eaten. also the scurf or scabbe of a wounde. also playster of a walle, the harde scale of crust that any thyng is couered with, bullions or ornaments of plate, whiche may be taken of.
Marmoris crusta, Marbles of marble, wherewith they vied to playster theyr walles.
Crusta parietum, the pargeting of walles.
Crustarius, n, m.g. a pargetour, or he that couereth walles with Marbles, or such like thyng.
Crustatus, a, um, that hath a scale, a cruste, or harde couering, or wheron playster or thynne Marbles of stone be laied.
Crustata animalia, beastes that haue scales or harde couerings.
Crusto, aut, are, to laye playster or parget, or to sell thynne Marbles of stones on walles: And to sette bullions of splere or golde about cuppes, to garnyshe theym.
Crustosus, a, um, that hath an harde cruste or scale.
Crustula, le, f.g. a diminutiue of Crusta.
Crustularius, ri, m.g. a paster.
Crustulara, a, meate made of crustes of bread.
Crustulum, li, n.g. a diminutiue of crustum, a wafer or lyke thyng, that men geue to children.
Crustum, ti, n.g. a crust of bread, of a pastie, of

C ANTE T.

of meate rosted, hyppled or fried.
Crustumina pira, pearces redde on the one side.
Crustuminum, a towne in Beale.
Crustuminum vinum, wyne of that towne.
Crux, crucis, f.g. a croffe, galapin, or other lyke also any thyng that troubleth, greeueth, or tormenteth a man.
Cruci dare aliquem, to hange one.
In crucem tollere, and Cruci affigere, To hange vp, or to crucifie.
In malam crucem, with sorowe, with a mischance.
Crypsorchis, is where a mans stones are remoued out of theyr place.
Crypta, x, f.g. a vaulte lowe in the grounde.
Crypticus, a, um, secreete of hydde vnder the grounde.
Cryptoporticus, a place vnder the grounde, with wyndowes lyke to a parloure, where men doo dyne in the sommer tyme for heate: a crowde, and a close place, compassed aboute with a wall, lyke the other vnder the ground.
Crystallina, vessel or cuppes of cristall stone.
Crystallinus, a, um, of cristall.
Crystallus, li, f.g. and Crystallum, li, n. g. a stone called Chyrtall.

C ANTE T.

C Tearus, the father of Amphimachus, one of the capitaines of the grekis at the sieg of Troie.
Crenes, the foyereete.
Creniatus, tri, m.g. an hoyleache. He that healeth diseases of hoyses and castell.
Crestas, an outoure of Sicillie.
Cresiphon, the name of a workman, whiche made the great temple of Diana at Ephesus a woork wonderfull and renowned thyngh the woyle, which was after bourned by one Herostatus, onely because he would for some dede be spoken of. It is also the name of hym that perswaded the Atheniens to crowne Demosthenes in the theatre.
Cresiphon, is also a towne in Parthis.
Cresippus, the sonne of Chabias.

C ANTE V.

C Vba, x, f.g. an hoyle letter or bedde.
Cubatio, onis, a lying.
Cubatus, us, and Cubitus, us, mas. gen. a lyinge on hynde, as an henne dooth: a lyinge downe.
Cubicularis, re, and Cubicularius, a, um, that pertaineth to the chaumber.
Cubicularis vestis, a nyght gowne.
Cubicularius, ri, m.g. a seruante that attendeth in the chaumber, a chaumberlayne, or goode of the chaumber.

C ANTE V.

Cubiculum, li, n.g. a bedde chaumber.
Cubicus, a, um, square as a dice.
Cubile, li, n.g. a bedde. sometime is taken for a doctore, also an henne, for the bydes nest is called cubile of an henne.
Cubile saluatorium, a chappell or oratorie, where praynes were sette.
Cubilia ferri eruer, to bygge yron mynes.
Cubitale, li, n.g. a foylesse of a garmente, whiche heuerech the arme froin the elbowe downewarde.
Cubitalis, le, a cubite hygh.
Cubito, aut, are, to lye often wth one.
Cubitor, oris, m.g. an ore of hoyle, which will late hym downe, when he shoulde woork.
Cubitus, ti, m.g. et cubitum, ti, n.g. an elbowe. sometime a measure called a cubite, that is to saye, one foote & an halfe, but a cubite in geometrie conteyneth vt. of our comon cubites.
Cubitus, us, m.g. a lying downe.
Cubitus pronus, a lying flatte on the face.
Cubitus supinus, a lying vpyght.
Cubitus in latus, a lying on the one syde.
Primus cubitu surgat, postremus cubitum eat, Lette hym eyle spyd, and go to bed laste.
Cubo, ui, are, to lye downe, to keepe ones bed in spynesse, to lye in childe bedde. sometime to lye at the table.
Cubus, bi, m.g. a figure four square like a dice. It is sometime vied for a dyce.
Cucubo, aut, are, to make a noyse lyke an oule.
Cuculo, onis, a heuering of the head, which men vye vntill when they walked in the nyght.
Cucullatus, a, um, that hath a cappe or hood.
Cuculus, or Cucullus, li, m.g. a byde called a cuckowe. It is also taken for hym that hath to doo with an other mans wife.
Cucullus, a hood, that menne or women doo weare for the payne, or when they mourne. also a copet of paper that geoffers put spice in.
Cucuma, x, f.g. a vessel of hyffe of tynne, fastened lyke a cucumer, wherewith bathes were fylled and emptyed.
Cucumella, x, a diminutiue of Cucuma.
Cucumer, or Cucumis, eris, m.g. a fruite called a cucumber. also a certayne fythe.
Cucumerarium, ri, n.g. a garden where cucumbers doo growe or be kepte.
Cucurbita, re, f.g. a fruite called a gourd. also Cucurbita, and Cucurbitula, is a cuppe, wherewith surgiens doo drawe out bloudd, with scarifying of the skyn, called cuppyng.
Cucurbitarium, a place where gourdies be sowe.
Cucurbitarius, a, um, lyke a gourd.
Cucurbitinus, a, um, lyke a gourd.
Cucurbitula, le, f.g. a litell gourd.
Cucurio, iui, ire, to make a noyse lyke a tocke.
Cudo, udi, ere, to stryke as anythynge doo, also to copne.
Argentum cudere, to copne monie, and by transla translation, to fynde meane to gent money.

In me hanc cudeur faba, The verill of it is will lyeht on my necke, or I shall beare the blame for this.

Cudon, onis, a rappe of fence, made of a rawe shapene.

Cuias, atis, om. g. of what secte or countrey.
olde wyters used Cuias et hoc cuiare.

Cuius, a, um, whose.

Cuium pecus? whose cattell?

Cuia interest, to whom it pertaineth.

Cuiuscunq; modi genus hominum, of al maner of sortes of men.

Cuiusmodi, vnderclined, what, what facion,
what maner.

Cuiusmodi homines erunt? what maner of men shall they be?

Cuiusmodicunq; mater sit, what maner of mother so euer she be.

Cuiusmodi est, suche as it is, of that sort as
it is.

Cuiusdammodi, idem quod Cuiusmodi.

Cuiusque modi.

Cuiusque modi sunt, suche as they be.

Vereor enim cuiusmodi es Rosci, ne ita hunc videar voluisse feruare: vt tibi omnino non pepercerim: for I feare Roscius (what maner of man so euer thou arte) lest it bee thought, that I was mynded so to defende hym, that I haue not spared to speke against the ouer freely.

Culcita, x, f. g. a mattress, a pallet, a floche
bedde, a fetter bedde, or suche lyke.

Culcitula, x, f. g. a diminutius, a litle mattress
Culcitula, x, a litlell kasse.

Culculus, a diminutius of Culeus.

Culest, vñd of Plautus, for Qualis est.

Culeus, lei, m. g. among the Romayns was the greatest measure, and receiued .xx. measures called Amphora, which amounteth to .280+.
pound of measure, euerie pounce beyng .xii.
ounces of our measure, thus seioe galons. It was also a sacke of leather, wherinto they that had slayne their fathers or mothers were sown, and with theim also were put a corke, a serpente, and an ape, on lyue, and thowen all together into the riuer of Tiber: And this was the punishment of parties of murderers of theyr parentes. Some wite it Culeus, or Culleum.

Culex, icis, m. g. a gnatte.

Culicem colant, camelum deglutientes,
They dreigne a gnatte though their teethe, and swallowe downe a camelle, an apte pro-uerbe applyed by our sauour Christ vnto the phariseis, whiche did aggrauate small offences, and magnifye great enormities. It may be nowe vñd agaynst suche persones as seeke out and punyssh the small offendours, and leaue the great trespassours agaynst the lawe go quite unpunished. Also thym that are serpulous in thynges of litle importance, and in ambition, auarice, extortion, auouerte, theft, murder, treason, or heretic: that shal

no daunger of conscience.

Culicis, re, that contineth the mesure Culeus

Culligna, x, a bolle, or dyke to dyke of.

Culina, x, f. g. a kitchyn. Sometime the meate that is dyed.

Culinor, aris, ari, to doo the office of a cooke.

Culleolum, the eyne of viter Chale of a nutte, whiche is greene.

Culmen, inis, n. g. the roste of an house, the toppe of any thyng, beane strawe, or thatche of an house.

Culmus, mi, m. g. Colmus, the rebe of straw of coine from the roste to the eare.

Culpa, x, f. g. an offence dooen not witting, or not intedyng to do harm, a fault, blame, wite.

Culpa carere, not to be faultie, to be blameles

Culpa a committeri, to commit an offence.

Culpa in alteru conferre, to late the blame
to an other.

Culpa teneri, to be in faulte.

In culpam conuerrere fortunam, To blame fortune, to laye the faulte vpon fortune.

Vitio et culpe dare alicui summam laudem,
to late that to a mannes reproche and blame,
that is worthy great praise.

Culpa in te recideret, The faulte reflecteth vpon thy selfe.

Simili sunt in culpa, they be in lyke faulte, or they be no lesse to be blamed.

Culpa haec a me procul est, this chanced not through my default: or I am nothyng guiltye
in this matter.

Maxima in eo culpa est, There is a veray great fault in hym, or he is much to be blamed

Culpa, x, is vñd in the plural numbze.

Culpario, onis, a blaming.

Culpito, aui, are, to blame often, a wooyde out of vse.

Culpo, aui, are, to blame, to laye the wyte of faulte on one.

Culcellarius, a, um, that is lyke a knype.

Culcellus, li, m. g. a litlell knype, or a whille.

Culter, tri, m. g. et Cultrum, tri, n. g. a knype, a culter of a plough, and the parts of a sickle nexte to the handell.

Culter venatorius, a woodknype.

Culter popinarius, a dyssing knype.

Culter tonsorius, a rasour.

Cultio, onis, tilling of husbandyng of the ground

Cultor, oris, m. g. An husband man that tilla-th the ground, or one that inhabiteth any place.

Cultor veritatis, an honest playne man without gyle or fraude.

Cultrarius, ri, mas, ge. was he that hylled the beast, and dyed hym in sacrifice to ydols.

It may be nowe taken for a slaughter man.

Cultra

Cultratus, a, um, that cutteth like a kniffe.

Cultrix, icis, the feminine of Culor.

Cultrum, ri, n. g. a thyng that is tyllid by husbande.

Cultura, x, f. g. husbandyng of the grounde, epiphyge.

Cultus, us, m. g. apparayle, deckyng, tyll-yng, sometime reuerence. Sometime honoure dooen to god.

Cultus vite, furnyng of a mannes estate and lyfe, with all honeste commodities and pleasures.

Cultus agrorum, labouryng, epiphyge, husbandyng of the grounde.

Cultus hominis, The ornament and sustene-tion of a man in vertue and knowledge.

Cultus, a, um, decked, trymmed, apparayled,
tylled, well husbanded.

Cullulus, li, an earthen cuppe, suche as the gas-selle cuppes bee, or a litlell chalice or cuppe of earth, whiche the byshop used in sacrifice.

Cum, with, a preposicion scruping to the ablatise case. It is sometime an aduerbe, sometimes a conjunction, a signifieth when, whys-les, where, where as, sayng that, for as much as, as well.

Cum mihi tum illi, as well to me as to hym.

In Cum, is som thyng lesse vnderstanded, in Tum, some thyng more.

Quod cum omnibus confitendum est, tum nobis precipue, whiche thyng ought to bee confessed of all men, and of vs most specially.

Cum, signifieth all be it.

Nam cum sedulo munditer nos habemus, vix egre amatorculos inuenimus. Although we apoynt vs neuer so cleanly: yet vnto send we any louers. When it signified when, where, and forasmuche, the auncient wyters
wyte it Quom, et Quum.

Cum, when Tamen foloweth, most comonly signifieth where as, all though, all be it.

Cum, sayng that: as, Cum hanc ita sint, tanto magis te aduigilare liquum est, Sayng that these thynges bee so, it is good reasons that you take so muche the more hede.

Cum hoc non possum, illud minus possem, sayng I can not doo this; muche lesse can I doe that other thyng.

Cum dicto, soothwith.

Cum imperio est, he beareth a rule.

Cum maxime, exceedingly.

Cum maxime, exceedingly.

Cum potestate est, he is in authorite, and in an high office.

Cum primis, verate, Cum primis nobilis, be vayle noble.

Cum stomacho, disdainfully.

Cum tempore, in a carelesse space.

Cum tua pace, sayng your displeasure.

Cum venia tua, with your licence.

Cum

Cum, for quod, as. Tibi maxime gratias ago, cum tantum meum literis contulit.

I thanke you heartly, that my letters contributed muche with you.

Cum, for quod, as.

Cum id mihi placeret, cum vno ore omnes omnia bona dicere, &c. Whiche that this was to me veray pleasant, all my neygh-bours also, with one accorde, &c.

Cum, for Quia, or Quandoquidem, after Donate.

Cum propter summum ingenium, tum pro-pter singularem modestiam, &c. wel for his excellent witte, as especially for his singular modestie.

Luxuria vero cum omni grati turpis, tum sesnectuti foedissima, &c. vnderclined luste is a foule thyng in euery age: so especially in olde men it is most filthy: &c., lecherie in beede is a foute vice at all tymes: yet in age it is most vnhonest, or though it be vnhonest in al ages, yet in olde age it is most dishonest.

Cum, sens that: as, Iam biennium est cum ille mecum esse cepit, It is now two yeres sens that he came first to me.

Dies haud multi intercesserant, cum legati venerunt, There passed not many daies but that the ambassadours came.

Cum, for In quo, as, Vnam illum diem vi-deam, cum tibi gratias agam, I praye god
I maye ones see that daie, wherain I maye geue you thankes.

Letuisse Tempus erit cum, &c.

Praeterea cum se seruum fateatur tum, et specially sayng he graunterh hym selfe to bee your seruant.

Cum minimum, at the leaste.

Cum primum statim, by and by, as soone as.

Cum plurimum, for the most parte.

Vel cum tardissime septimo, &c. when it cometh most slowly, on the seventh daie.

Cum causa facere, to dooe a thyng for some shyll or consideration.

Cum cura legere, to reade attentively with diligence. Cum carenis esse, to be in chernes.

Cum diluculo, or cum prima luce abire, the departed as soone as the daie appered.

Cum decimo, effect, The fildes yeldeth ten for one.

Cum fide persoluere, to paye truly and faithfully euery pence.

Cum magna fide vir, a verate sure and true
fre man.

Cum bona gratia dimittere aliquem, to dis-misse one, so that he is well content with ye.

Cum laetitia vivere, to lyue in ioye and meryche.

Cum bona spe adolescentem, verate toward to yonge men.

Cum bona venia audire, to heare patiently, or without displeasure.

Cum

Cum eo, so that, on that condition.
 Obsequat voluntas tua; cum eo ne dubites &c. I will obey your wynde, so that, or an that conditioe ye will not doubt. &c.
 Cum, or Come, &c. a towe of. Monia, in the lesse Asia, wherof Sihella Cumra was named.
 Cumæ, arum, a citie in Campania.
 Cumanus, or Cumpus, a name of that citie.
 Cumailis, le, a blew of the colour.
 Cumba, looke Cuba.
 Cumbo, ut, &c. was vsed of olde wytten to lye
 downe, out of vse.
 Cumeia, æ, a great vessell, eyther of wickets,
 or of earthe, wherof coyne was kepte.
 Cumerum, ri, n. g. a vessel vsed at weddinges.
 Cuminum, ni, n. g. an herbe and seede called Cummyne.
 Cumuani, 16 goe in Fraunce.
 Cumulare, abundantly, with large measure.
 Cumulare planum aliquid facere, to make a thyng as playne and manifeste as neede to be.
 Cumulatum, by heapes, or heaped vp.
 Cumulatus, a, um, augmented, heaped, abundant. Cumulatum gaudium, ample ioye.
 Locus cumulatus, a place wherein lyeth a great heape of thynges.
 Cumulatus scelerum, a verate naughtie
 felowe, full of mischiefe and lewdnesse.
 Cumulator gloria, greater hono^r & renome.
 Cumulatus gratiam referre, to requite ones gentylnesse verate abundantly.
 Cumulo, aui, are, to make an heape, to fylle, to adde more to.
 Cumulare et augere.
 Non possum, non confiteri, cumulari me maximo gaudio quod. &c. I can not chose, but confesse, that I am exceeding gladd
 for that. &c.
 Cumulare gaudium, to encrease ones ioy of
 gladnesse.
 Africanus eloquentia cumulaui bellicam gloriam, Africanus with his eloquence did greatly augment the glory of his knyghtly prowesse.
 Cumulare sibi inuidiam, to make ones selfe greatly spyped of hated.
 Nunc mecum cor ita cumulatur, Now am I exceeding angry.
 Laudibus aliquem cumulare, to please a man greatly. Cumulare scelus scelere, to heape mischiefe vpon mischiefe.
 Cumulare benefacta, to doo pleasure vpon pleasure.
 Publicæ necessitudinis pignora priuatis cumulat officiis, Quere and besyde the tokens of that lous and frendshipp, whiche we haue together for the common weales sake: he weath to me many feendly pleasures in our priuate affayres.
 Cumulus, li, m. g. an heape: And by translation, the increase, augmentation, or plenty of any thyng. Sometime a waie of water.

 Tunc literæ cumulum gaudij militulæ, your letters haue made my exceeding glad.
 Vt tantum cumulus, ut tantum me commenda-datione, &c. so muche mate be added thou wyldest my commendacion.
 Ad summam lætitiæ meam, quam ex tuo redditu capio, magnus huius aduentu cumu-lus accedit. The gladnesse that I haue for your retourn, which is so great, that almost it can not be more, is muche encreased by the coming of this man.
 Cunabul, orum, n. g. plu. tantum, idem quod
 Cuna, arum.
 A primis cunabulis, even from his infancie.
 Cuna, arum, plur. tantum, cradles, wherof chyldren be rocked. Sometime it is taken for the age of infancie: also for the begynnyng of thynges.
 Cunctabundus, slowe, lyegeyng.
 Cunctans, prolongyng, deferteyng, lyegeyng, doubtyng.
 Cunctanter, slowly, softly and sayde.
 Cunctatio, onis, a tarteyng or abydyng, a prolongyng of tyme, a doubtyng.
 Eximere cunctationem, to put out of doubt.
 Abiecta omni cunctatione, withoute any more tarteyng or lyegeyng.
 Cunctatio et mora, Cunctatio et dubitatio.
 Cunctator, oris, m. g. a taryer, a deferrer, a lyegeyer, a prolonger of tyme. It is also he that speaketh litle, and taryeth longe in his speakyng, as some doo more to seme wyse, than that they bee wyse.
 Cunctator et tardus, Cunctator et segnis.
 Cuncti, all together, full and whole.
 Cuncto, aui, are, is vsed actiue of Plantus.
 Hæsitare, cunctare, et dubitare.
 Cunctor, aris, ari, to tary, to prolonge tyme, to abyde, to doubt.
 Cunctus, a, um, all together, full and whole.
 Cunctum, wedgewyse, by lyegeyng bandes of companies, imbracled wedgewyse.
 Cuneatus, a, um, that whiche appereth to be in the shadde foume of a wedge.
 Cuneo, aui, are, to make in foyme of a wedge.
 Also to toigne or fasten in bydyng, as one tosse of bone is cohered within an othe.
 Hispania cuneatur angustis, Spayne hath many strettes or conyngs lying out wedgewyse.
 Cuneolus, li, m. g. a diminutue of Cuneus.
 Cuneus, nei, m. g. an axe to cut wood, which is small and thynne before, and byde a thynke after, that the wood made rine the better, also so a wedge to cleane wood with. By translation it is a company of footemen in battailie, that goth in a lyke order, small before a byde behynde. There was a lyke foume in the Theater of place, wher men behelde playes.
 It is

It is longe taken for a company of people.
 Cuneus aget, a promontorie of Thyracall.
 Cunicularie, 16 lies in the middeste.
 Cunicularius, ri, m. g. a mynour, he that myn-neth vnder the earth.
 Cuniculatum, by holes of mines vnder the earth,
 or after the faction of a pipe.
 Cuniculosus, a, um, full of mynes or holes vnder
 the ground, or full of conies.
 Cuniculus, li, m. g. a beast called a conie. also an hole in the ground, a myne vnder the earth:
 Sometime a pype of leade.
 Agere cuniculos, to myne vnder the groude.
 Cuniculo oppugnare, by translation to goe
 aboute a matter conserly, by gyle or decelyt.
 Cunila, læ, f. g. an herbe, wherof be. 16 l. l. l. l.
 One is called Capirata, whiche is oure sauerie: In other Gallinacea whiche some doo call Origanum, Heracleoticum, in en-gylis the mallow, whiche hath the small leafe. The thide is char, whiche is also called Origanum, whiche I suppose to be peng toall with the hyde leafe.
 Cunilago, inis, f. g. a hynde of sauerie.
 Cunina, the goddesse of infantes.
 Cunnire, to myne.
 Cunnus, a womans wickette.
 Cupa, æ, f. g. a cuppe. also a great wyne vessell.
 Cupedia, æ, f. g. the desyre of desire fare.
 Cupedia, orum, n. g. plur. delicate meates.
 Cupedarius, ii, m. g. an houtholder that sellet
 meate and drynke.
 Cupedo, edinis, idem quod Cupido, and Cupi-ditas.
 Cupedula, læ, f. g. delicate meate, or drynke fare.
 Cupes, delicate meate, also a desire mouthed felowe, one that desireth in desire fare.
 Cupide, desyrouly, greedyly, with great affection, gladly.
 Cupiditas, aris, f. g. desyre, conetousnesse, some tyme of honest loue.
 Ardere cupiditate, to desyre exceedingly.
 Coercere cupiditates, to moderate the affections. Inicere cupiditatem hominibus, to make men desyrous.
 Studia cupiditatesq; honorum.
 Cupido, inis, m. g. the son of Venus, god of loue.
 Cupido, inis, f. g. sometime m. g. desyre, conet-oussnesse of any thyng.
 Auri cæcus cupido, bynde desyre of money.
 Cupido cupit me, I was desyrous.
 Illum incescit cupido, He had a mynd of fantasy. Cupidines, in the plural numbre.
 Cupidus, a, um, desyrous, conetous, sometime that longeth or fauoureth earnestly, desyrous to be in ones companie, glad and sayne.
 Cupidus et moderatus, contrary.
 Cupidissimus mei, my verate frende.
 Cupiens, in the Sabine tongue is a pite.

Cupiens, enis, he that desireth a thyng.
 Cupiens tui est, he longeth the best.
 Cupienter, with great desyre.
 Cupio, aui, are, to desyre earnestly, to wylle, to tary, to be lyegeyng, to haue a greate adrection, to will wel to one, to be much desyrous, to be right sayne.
 Cupere et optare.
 Nimis cupio, I desyre vehemently, I haue great affection, I woulde verate sayne.
 Cupio omnia que tu vis, I am ready to doo you pleasure or seruite, in what matter so esner you will haue me.
 Cupire conuentum, He desyreth to make with you.
 Cupio matrem reuiscere, I woulde sayne go for my mother agayne.
 Ego Fundanio non cupio? Am not I tra-die, or doo I not desyre to doo any pleasure for Fundanius?
 Omnia alicuius causa cupere, to be glad and ready to doo all the pleasure in the world for a man.
 Cuius causa omnia cum cupio, tum me hercule etiam debeo, For whose sake I am not onely ready to doo all the pleasures in the world, but also that moie is, I oughte, and am bounde to doo.
 Cupitor, oris, m. g. one that desyreth of wolds
 sayne haue a thyng.
 Cupirus, a, um, desyred, coueted.
 Cupra, a towne in Italy.
 Cupressetum, ri, n. g. a place where Cypres doo growe.
 Cupressifer, a, um, that beareth Cypres trees.
 Cupressinus, a, um, and Cupressus, of Cy-pres tree.
 Cupressus, si, us, f. g. a Cypres tree.
 Cupreus, a, um, of copper.
 Cuprum, i, n. g. metall called copper.
 Cur, wherefore, or why.
 Cura, æ, f. g. care, thoughte, studie, diligence,
 worke of labour, also loue.
 Cura habere, Cura esse, to care for.
 Curas adimere, to put out of care.
 Curam figere, infigere, configere, defigere,
 to sette care of studie on a thyng.
 Curis laxari, to be out of care.
 Cura et diligentia.
 Antiquissima cura, the chiefe and pynepast care. Adhibere curam in re aliqua, to take good heed, to be careful and diligent in a matter.
 Cura aliquem afficere, and Curam inicere alicui, to make one sollicitous, careful, or heuy.
 Delegare curam alicuius rei alicui, to com-
 the charge of a thyng to one.
 Leuare aliquem cura, to diminish the ones care of heauynesse.
 Hæc mihi cura nunc maxima est, This is the thynge that I am nowe most carefull for.

 Eccecurat curam, they take heed.
 Fluctuat gisu curarum, of vndis curarum, he is soye disquieted with diuers matters: or he is veray solicitous and carefull.
 Cura aliquem liberare, to put one out of care.
 Abigere curas, to byrre away care.
 Cura consumi, et confici, to consume & pine away with thought and care.
 Curantia, idem quod Curatio.
 Curare, carefulty, diligently.
 Curatio, onis, f. g. an healing of curyng, spectially of physicions, a diligent tending of o-verseeyng: an office, a cure of charge, a commission appoynted to a man.
 Curatio et administratio rerum, the charge and administration of thynges.
 Curationem deferre ad aliquem, to appoint and assigne the cure and charge of a thyng to a man.
 Curatio mea est, it is myne office of charge.
 Curator, oris, m. g. a gardiane in forage, or he to whom the custodie of a madde or foolishe man is committed, also he to whom any thyng is committed to suruey, or to prouide thynges necessary for the weale publicke, or to order suche thynges as he hath in charge, concernyng as well priuate thynges, as belongyng to the commonweale: he maie be prouy-dy called a surueyfour.
 Curatoria, xij. f. g. the office of charge of a gar-dian of surueyfour.
 Curatorius, a, um, belongyng to the said office.
 Curatus, in good poynte of state.
 Curatus, a, um, doone with care and diligence.
 Curax, acis, m. g. curious, diligent.
 Curculio, onis, m. g. a littell worme in grayne called a myre or weyuell. It is also the weyll of the throte of a man, whereby he draweth wynde.
 Curcua, an plande in the sea Hydriatike.
 Cures, curium, plur. a citee of the Sabines.
 Curtes, were the priestes of Hybeles, whiche first inhabited Italy. They were also called Corybantcs: there were other people so called, whiche were next to Aetolia: Also othere in Dalmatia, now called Sclauonia. Curtes called also Idei dactyli, were. v. byethene in the yle called Creta, vnto whome Rhea caused hir sonne Jupiter to be brought, fearyng the yie of Saturne his husbando, theij names were these, Hercules, Iolæus, Præonius, Epimedes, Iasius, and Idas.
 Curteis, was the olde name of the yle called Creta.
 Curia, æ, f. g. the place appoynted where to speke and consulte of matters concernyng the common weale, the lordes house of the parliament. Romulus the first kynge of Rome diuided the people into. xxx. partes: And because the cure or charge of the weale publicke was dispatched by the consent and sentence of theim, he called them Curias. And afterwarde he added vnto theim other iuris, and that euery man in his owne Curia should obserue his lawes, and doo sacrifice.

 Curia, was also the court of the Senate, and sometyme vied for the court of session of any iudges, whiche haue speciall iurisdiction, whom we name iudges of recorde.
 Curia dominicales, maie bee taken amonge
 those courttes, whiche we call courttes barons.
 Of the occasion and begynnyng of Curia dominicales, reade the comments of Zalius, vpon the title of the lawe iudiciale, de origine iuris.
 Curia veteres, where priestes ministered about theij ceremonies.
 Curia hostilia, was a place buylded by Tulaus Hostilius, kynge of Romayne, where the Senate dyd speke aboute the affayres of the citee of Rome.
 Curialis le, of that court of counsaile house.
 Curiales flamines, priestes belongyng to the houses of counsaile.
 Curiales mensæ, tables, whereon sacrifices were doone to Iuno.
 Curiales, they whiche be of that court.
 Curiaius, a, um, the adiectiue.
 Curia comitia, were great assemblies, called of the people, out of euery of the. xxx. diuisions called Curie: whiche byng set in. xxx.
 sundy partitions, affirmed or denyed suche lawes or constitutions as were purposed vnto to them. And the lawes so made, were called Leges curiæ.
 Curio, onis, of Alerro, is taken for the place, where priestes consulted concernyng diuine ceremonies. Also a curate, or he that hath the spirituall charge of a parochie. Also it was the surname of a familie in Rome, wherof were many excellent orators.
 Curio magnus, (as Hipponius wytteth) is taken of Plautus, for one made miste of leane, with care and busynesse.
 Curionem agnum, Plautus calleth a leane
 lambe.
 Curionatus, us, m. g. the office of a curate.
 Curionium, nij, n. g. the monies that is giuen to a curate for doyng his office.
 Curiose, curiosely, warily, veray diligently.
 Curiositas, aris, f. g. curiositee, to much dilige-ce.
 Curiosus, is of Robertus Stephanus in his di-ctionarie in latin and frenche, declared to bee
 the master of the postes hoyses and mulettes, to sende in haste about the emperours affayres. Curiosus, is also a spie that cometh to harken or note what is saide or doone.
 Curiosus, a, um, curius, taken sometyme on the yll part, where more diligence is vied than is expediente, sometyme on the better parte, wher we be veray carefull and busy about thynges concernyng ether ouerfolles or the men.

 Curiosus rerum alienarum, busye of much medlyng in other mens matters.
 Curiosus agnus, idem quod Curio agnus.
 Curis, in the Sabine tynge is a speare, and the surname of Iuno, whiche is alwaies piereced with a speare in hir hande.
 Curius, the surname of noble Romaynes, of whom the first one was called Marcius Cu-rius, a man of inuincible honestie, constancie and grauitie, whiche after many great victoyes (beyng captiue) against the Sami-nites, Sabines, & the noble kynge Hyrcus, diuided amonge the people the felices, appoin-tyng to euery man. xl. acres, and establisht theij consuetudes, so muche to hym selfe: And when they woulde haue geuen to hym more,
 he refused it, sayyng: I haue an yll cōscynce, that thoughte it not enough for him, that was prouyde for other. When the ambassadours of the Samnites brought him a great summe of golde, he speyng by the spye, booyng of rapes, saide vnto theim: I had rather eate in myne earthen dysh, and to haue dominion ouer them that haue so muche golde, than to be ryche my selfe. When he was accused of withholdyng of monies, he brought forth a greene batell, whiche he occupied when he dyd sacrifice: and toke a solemn othe, that of all the praye that was gotten of them, whom he vanquished, he kepte no more but that bare rell to his owne vse.
 Curmudula, a peare, or rather an hoke, ha-vyng to thynne a rynde, that men vied to saue
 it without pyllyng.
 Curo, aul, are, to care for a thyng, to take heed to, or be diligent about a thyng, to see vnto, to be dooyng of a thyng, to prouide, to passe for, sometyme to prepare, to heale one that is sicke, to take refection of comfort, to puruey.
 Cura v. valeas, looke to thy health.
 Curati probe, Thou hast bene euery thyng well. Curabo, I will doo my diligence.
 Curabo illi pecuniam, I will prouide, that he shall haue monies.
 Curabitur, it shall be prouided, it shall be done with diligence.
 Curare ædes, to take heed to the house that nothyng be lost.
 Hule mandes, si quid recte curatum velis,
 If thou wilt haue a thyng well handeled, committe it to this mans obseeyng.
 Curare equos, to kepe and bysse hoyses.
 Curare ocreas, to bysse booties.
 Curare alios, to meddle with othere mens matters.
 Curare amicos, to entertayne frendes of ac-quaintaunce.

 Curare faciendum, to cause to make it to be doone. Curare fidem, to kepe promise.
 Curare munus suum, to doo his office.
 Non curat fedire, he payeth not whether he come agayne or no.
 Cura afferendum yntem, see that he bee
 kepte fast in prison.
 Quid me curat? quid rerum geram? What haste thou to doo? or what carest thou whas
 I go aboute?
 Quise, suamq. ætatem bene curant, whiche make miche of theim selfe, and leade theij lyfe pleasantly.
 Curare prandium, to make ready dyner.
 Current recte hæc, These these thynges be well doone, or well handeled.
 Melleri et curare.
 Tristius curari, to be healed with more greife and payne.
 Curare corpora sua somno et cibo, to cherishe
 theij bodie with meate, bynke, and slepe.
 Current, he that runneth.
 + Currentem incitare, to exhorte or sette hym forwarde that of his owne courage is wel-disposed to a thyng.
 Curriculum, quickely.
 Curriculus, percurrere, renne quickely.
 Curriculum, ij. n. g. a diminutiue of Curus, a littel care or charge, a more space of tyme.
 also a rennyng place. sometyme a rennyng of a course. And by a metaphore, a matter, wher-in one is conuersant, and well exercised.
 Curriculum is vied of Cicero, for the auncient maner of iudgyng or gynyng sentence in the Senate.
 Curriculum solis et lunæ, the course of the soophne and moone.
 Curriculo celeritate, to renne apace.
 Curriculum vitæ, the space of ones lyfe.
 Curriculum mentis, matter, wherein the mynde is exercised.
 Curriculum industriæ, a cause of matter, wherein a mannes study of industry is shewed or proued.
 Curro, cucurri, ere, to renne. also to floure as spyns doo. It is also to passe awaye faste as spyns doo.
 Currere subsidio, to renne to succour.
 Placido currere ductu, to rype prosperously.
 Aetas currit, the age passeth.
 Nox inter pocula currit, The nyght passeth awaye whyles they bynke merrily.
 Currur, the imperionall.
 Ad me currur, they come to me to me.
 Curtea, com, f. g. a little byle, whiche hatheth and byngeth up cuthow bynke. It is so called to be as hard as that.
 Currus, us, m. g. a chaire, a charyge by charyge,
 In blaghe it is sometyme vied for the chaire whiche

purple flower.

Cymbalista, z, m. g. he that playeth upon cymbales.

Cymbalum, li. n. g. an instrument of musick.

Cymbalillo, z, m. g. to play on the cymbales.

Cymbium, n, n. g. a peece of cuppe to drinke wyne in.

Cymbrica Cherifonefus, the countesse of Demarke.

Cyme, a citee of Aeolis.

Cymes, Sibille, called Cumara.

Cyminum, n, n. g. cummy.

Cyminus, a lake in Italp.

Cymodoce, the daughter of Oceanus, and Zetho.

Cymolus, z, m. g. that hath a tender stalk.

Cymothoe, the daughter of Aeacus, and wife of Neptune.

Cyna, z, a certayne tree in Rechabde, whereof they make theyr garments. also a cappe that the Lacedaemonians used to weare.

Cynathium, a citee of Rechabde.

Cynanche, es, f. g. a speckes called the squince, whiche is in the throte and lawes.

Cynara, an herbe now called Aetothokes.

Cynasoras, a penne wherewith women tepe by theyr heare.

Cynear, an excellent wyse man, who byng sent from byng Pyrrhus ambassadeur to Rome, the nexte daie after he came thither, he saluted the whole senate and gentylmen by theyr names. Seneca in prologo libri. 1. Decla. salet, that he saluted the Senate and all the people standynge aboute to beholde hym, by theyr names.

Cynegetica, volumes written of hunting.

Cynegius, a capitayne of Athens.

Cynices, z, m. g. the secte of philosophers called Cynici.

Cynici, were a secte of philosophers, whiche signifieth doggish, for the similitude of theire condicions. For they barbed at all men, and occupied women openly, and lyued without any prouision. The first authoure thereof was Antisthenes, and nexte hym folowed Diogenes.

Cyniphis, or Cyniphos, a ruere of Aethiopia, by the whiche are bredde great goates.

Cyniphus, z, m. g. of that ruere, or of goates.

Cyniphia pellis, the skynne of a goate.

Cynaberis, is that, whiche the apothecaries doo call Sanguis draconis.

Cynocephalus, a beaste like an ape, greater and more puillane, and hath the heade more like a dogge. Diodorus Siculus salet, that in bodie and fourme, he is like to a man, and hath a like voyce. It supposeth to be those, whiche we call Baboons. Horus Apollo wyteeth, that they ppe. xli. tymes in a daie, and as often in the nyghte, declarynge cury hours of the daie and nyght by making theire brine. also that the dogge of that kynde is lamenteth the wante of the moone, that during the tyme that he is dark, before the change, he neuer looketh upward, nor eateth any thyng, but sheweth a countenance of sorrow. Also people vnder the greates Lam, haunge heades like dogges, are so called.

Cynocephalia, an herbe, the floure wherof is like a dogges head, called of the Latines, Herba Pulicaris, because the feedes bee like to fleas.

Cynodontes, are dogges teethe, whiche dog growe in theyr latter age.

Cynoglossa, or Cynoglossos, an herbe called boundes tongue.

Cynomorion, called also Orobanche, a webe growynge among beanes and peason, and destroyeth them.

Cynomyia, a flye that dooeth sucke the bloude of beastes, some call it an horse flye, all be it by the etymologie of the woorde: it might be better called a dogge fly. It is also the herbe called Cynocephalia.

Cynopolis, a citee, where Amphis was hounoured.

Cynorrhodon, The flower of the red lyle.

Cynos, latine Canis, a dogge. Also a citee in Loeris.

Cynofarges, a place in Athens, where chylidren, whiche were bastards, were exercised.

Cynofatos, the wylde eglantine, called also dogge wyer.

Cynoforchis, an herbe called also Orcus, of the apothecaries Testiculum canis, and Sasyrion. It hath leaues like an olive, soft and lyng on the ground, the roote is rounde like the stones of a man.

Cynofrhodos, eglantine.

Cynofura, a figure of Aeres in heauen, called Vrsa minor. It was also the name of one of Jupiters nourse.

Cynofura oua, egges that pious not vnder a foule that syteth.

Cynozolon, a stynkynge herbe of the kynde of thistles, the stronge sauer wherof, caueth the teckes to falle from a dogges eares.

Cynthia, one of the names of Diana.

Cynthus, an hill of the plande Delos, wher Apollo and Diana were borne.

Cyparissa, a citee of Achaia.

Cyparissia, the soft kynde of spurge, the greatest of them all.

Cyparissus, the sonne of Cephysus, whiche bewaiping the deathe of a tame kynde, slayne by his loue Sphianus, was turned in to a Cypress tree.

Cyparissus, n, f. g. a cypres tree.

Cyperus, n, m. g. is that, whiche of the apothecaries call, is called Juncus odoratus, or rather an other lyke vnto it.

Cyperus Babylonicus, a gyllof.

Cyperus, or Cyperis, an herbe growynge among the fedges, also a roote lyke gylyf.

Cypria, was one of the names of Cyrenus.

Cyprianus, z, m. g. of the tree called Cypress.

Cyprium oleum, an oyle made of the tree called Cypress.

Cyprianus, a certayne fynde of the kynde of conger, some saie it is a carpe.

Cyprium, n, n. g. of Cyprium z, s, a mettall called copper.

Cyprium, in the Sabine tynge signifieth good Cyprus, z, m. g. of the yle of Cyprus.

Cyprus, an yle in the sea called Carpathium, agaynst the countreie called Syria, on the north it hath Cilicia, on the southe and the east Egypt. It is in length, after the description of Strabo, 175. myles, after, 111. fur longer to the myle. Some suppose it was at the first a portion of Syria, divided by eth quakes. This countreie aboundeth in wyne, oyle, mettall, vitriole, and rams, wherof the gar is made. Also Venus was there had in great reuerence, in so muche that men befoze they did set foot the theyr daughters in marriage, offered them to lashe strangers as came into the countreie, to bee by them deflowred, and afterwarde married them to husbandes.

Cyprus, n, f. g. a tree, called also Lygustrum, looke there.

Cypselia, a towne of Thace.

Cypselos, the wake of the care.

Cypselus, n, m. g. a byrde called a martlet.

Cypselus, a kyng of Cosmetus, father of Pericleas, one of the seven sages of Grece.

Cyprasia, a citee in Galatia, called Carola.

Cyrcilus, a man of Athens, who was stoned to death, for perswadyng them to yelde the citee to Perces.

Cyrenalca, a countreie in Aethiopia called also Peniapolitana.

Cyrenalca secta, a sect of philosophers, who affirmed the chyfe felicitye to be in earnest delectation, of whom Aristippus was chief.

Cyrene, es, or Cyrene, z, m. g. a famous citee in Libya: also a citee in the yle of Cyprus.

Cyreneus, a man of that citee.

Cyrellus, the name of dyces learned by Hops, of the whiche one wrote agaynst Melissus.

Cyrene, a goblete to drynke wyne in.

Cyrenus, the yle, whiche is called Corsica, or Corse, the people wherof are called Cymij.

Cyrenis, a goddess, worshipped in the countreie called Cyrenica.

Cyrria, a towne of Phocis, by the whiche be the feldes called Cyrrhi camp.

Cyrrica, a citee in the mountayns of Helycon.

Cyrricum, a great myrre of tartarie.

Cyris, the name of a ruere, that is in the Alpes, the other in Aethiopia.

Cyris, a towne in Aethiopia, the sonne of Cambises, and the daughter of the king of Media, who because he dreamed, that he sawe pyrrus out of the fether partes of his onely daughter, a byrde, whose byanches covered all Asia: he caused his chyld to be throwen into a desert, to be deuoured of beastes. But by goddis prouidence, a byrde gaue it such, vnill it was founde by a Mescherde, who broughte it by.

In the laste he was kyng of Persia, and Medea, and subdued the moie parte of Asia.

This man excelled all menne of his tyme in goodly personage, gentlenesse, prouesse, lyberallite mysdome and memoire.

Polissus wyteeth, that of the exceeding multitude of men, whiche were in his hoste, he so retyened the names, that he called euery man by his propre name, when he spake vnto them.

The residue of his wonderfull vertues be written by Xenophon most eloquently in Greke. At the laste byng insatiabie in conuenging countreies, he was slayne by Comys, kyng of Persia, with. 200000. Persians.

Cylius, vel Cythus, a kynde of pup, that groweth alone. also the name of a ruere.

Cyrc, es, a towne of Colchis.

Cyrcus, or Cyrcius, z, m. g. of Colchis, or of Media.

Cyrcorum, a towne of Cappadocia.

Cythera, an yle agaynst Candie.

Cythere, es, and Cytheria, z, m. g. one of the names of Venus.

Cytheris, an harlotte, loued of Loymellus Catullus, the poete.

Cytheron, a forest of woodde in Bactria, consecrated to the Muses.

Cylinos, one of the yles called Cyclades.

Cyrtinus, n, m. g. the first budde of the floures of a pomegranate.

Cyrtus, n, m. g. an herbe, whiche is good geue to cattell agaynst the scitte.

Cyrtus, an yle of Paphlagonia, where is muche bore.

Cyrtago, inis, the herbe, whiche is commonly called bawme, of the apothecaries Melissa.

Cyrtarus, the high parte of the stemment, of the holes of an house combe bee called Cyrtari. And so to the hylles of an acorne that groweth to the stalk.

Cyzicenus, a philosopher of Athens, excellent in geometrie.

Cyzicum, a famous citee of Mysia, so named of the kyng Cyzicus.

Cyzicus, the name of an yle by Grece.

Dax, arum, people of Scythia.

Dacia, a countrey beyond the Danube, on the north part of the river Dano, or Danubius. Nowe is Denmarke called by that name, wherhe in the old tyme was called Cimbrica Chersonesus, and the people Cimbri.

Dachrymæ, for Lachrymæ.

Dacicus, a, um, pertaining to the countrey called Dacia.

Dacus, and Dacius, a, um, idem quod Dacicus.

Dactylicus, a, um, of the foote in meter called Dactylus.

Dactylides, grapes being longe like a synger, of lyke a date.

Dactylothea, a gloue, also a precious stone.

Dactylus, li, mase, a synger, a foote in measure, haunge the fyfte syllable longe, and the other two shorte. It is also a date, also a well spide, a precious stone, and an herbe good to heale syngers, and to poucke bleding at the nose.

Dedala, neut. gener. were feastes celebrated yearly in the honour of the reconpryng of Juno to Iuppiter: Keade before in Citharon. Also Dedala, was the generall denotation of pynages wroughte, of whome it seemeth to some, that Dedalus tooke his name. Dadala, of Lucretius is vsed for Terra, for the druerite of thynge and fourmes that be in it: Also it is a towne of Lybia, where Dadalus was buried.

Dadala, a bowe, wherewith they playe on a lute of brall.

Dadalus, the name of an excellent carpenter of Athens, whiche spide founde the same, the twybble, and the augoure, and made the place in Crete, called Labyrinthus.

Dadalus, and Dadaleus, a, um, of Dadalus.

Dadica, a, a scetayne people of Serphya, in Asia.

Damogorgon, onis, whome paynymen called the god of the earthe, fyfte creatour of the earthe.

Demon, monis, (as Plotinus wyllteth) is taken in diuerse significacions: One is that, whiche euer where hath foueraptee, and prouiderh nexte vnto God: And so Iuppiter called Saturne Demon. Also that whiche foueraptee man particularly prouiderh. Also the reasonable soule, is of Plato, in his booke Timæus, called Dæmon animalis. And in his booke, Symposium, the toure of the mynd about the contemplacion of the diuine pulchritude of vnspakeable beautes (so called Dæmon. Plotinus supposed, that Dæmon in euery man was nothyng els, but vnderstandyng. Plato also affirmeth (in his booke Phædo) that vnto the soules, whiche dooe come vnto this lyfe, is geuen Dæmon, whiche is the beeholder and sercher of his thoughtes and dedes, whiche after that the soule is departed from the body, remauneth byle with hym, and soothwith byng geth hym to depny before the Judge, where by his testimoyn he either depueth or condemneth hym. These woordes of Plato to appoyne neghe to the assercion of christian doctours, whiche asseyne, that God appoynteth to euery reasonable soule, a good angell and a badde. Sometime Dæmon is taken for God. And therfore Apuleius intituled his booke De deo Socratis, and not De dæmone Socratis: Although Socrates hym selfe alwaye so named that thynge, that restregned hym from booyng of corruptyng any thynge that was ill or vncouenient. Plotinus hath of Dæmon many other opynions, the whiche I passe ouer, because they maye in gender in busse wyces, rather erreour, than wysedome. Howe ouer, this woulde be remembred; that Dæmon beynge a greke woorde, is diuersely wyrtten: One waye with the greek letter, o, called omicron. And than dooeth it signifie that, whiche the Latines call Genius. Lucretius nameth it Lar, whiche signifyeth priuate Goddie or spertes, appoynted vnto euery particular person of howse: the whiche in effecte is oure good angell or oure badde. Sometime it is wyrtten with the grecke O, called Omege, and than dooeth it signifie God, wises dome, or fortune. Lykewys Dæmonium, in the neutre gender signifyeth God, gods head, the power of god, whiche doeth orde and gouerne the whole worlde.

Dæmonius, in the mase, gender hadde diuers significacions, and the one contrarye to the other. For it signified happye, lyke to God, diuine, and meruaylouse. Contrary wyse, miserable, vnhappy, and vnforsunate. Therfore, where this woorde Dæmonium, is wyrtten amonge the auncient Grekes, that onely sentence, wherein it is, wyll not be wel vnderstande, withoute considering what goeth before, and what followeth after. For withstanding amonge christen authours Dæmon and Dæmonium, be indifferently taken for a dyuells or a dampned sperte.

Also

This haue I remembred not for chylberne onely, but also for such, as preschoure, bee right well learned in the latine tongue, and yet in such woordes made of greke, maye happen to misse the proper significacions of the same, not redyng greke authours in their owne tongue.

Dæmoniacus, et Dæmoniosus, possessed with an euill sperte.

Dæmoniacus, a, um, diuellshe.

Dætor, a, a Trojan mentioned in Homer.

Dagnades, a kynde of bydes, whiche the Egyptians vsed to tye with theyr garlandes when they were dyyngh, whiche with continual synging, byng, & plucking at the same that bynke, woulde not suffer them to slepe.

Dai, people of Persia, whiche were all shepards and grassers.

Dalia, people of Serphya, valpant and cruell in battayle.

Dalida, vel Dalila, an hebet dwelling in Gaza in the countrey of the Philistines, whiche deceyued the strong Samson.

Dalmatia, a part of the great countrey called Illiria or Sclauonia. It hath on the west Croatia, on the east Bosnia, on the north, the great mountayn Albanus mons, and the coaste called Serua, on the south the sea Adriaticum, or the goulfe of Venice.

Dalmata, a, a man of that countrey.

Dalmaticus, apparaild lyke a Sclauonoyse.

Dalmaticus, a, um, of Dalmatia.

Dama, a, m, et f, g, a salowe deer.

Damascene, a, a part of Syria, called also Mesopotamia.

Damascenus, a, um, of Damascus.

Damascena pruna, damys, whiche growe about Damascus, greater and longer than other damasys: when they be dyed, we calle them prunes Damascene, whiche of Galens are more comended than other of that kynde: they loue the beate, and restregne dyuallacions.

Damascus, an hystorographer, whiche in the tyme of Herodorus was of thynge dooen before the wars of Peloponessus.

Damascus, a famous cite in Syria, supposed to be the first that euer was inhabited.

Damastinus, one of Perseus capitaynes.

Damastonium, among the grekes is that most excellent and precious feute, called Myrobalanum Indum.

Damatis, the priest of the temple of the gods desse Damia.

Damia, one of the names of the goddess Erebe.

Damianus, a sophist of Ephesus.

Damnas, for Damnatus, is sometime vsed among olde Rustians.

Quisquis militis erit, dare damnas esto,

Idem elus commisso vii denariis summas dictauero, who so euer shall bee myne heire, shall be paynted with it, and I wyllt hym in trespasse to paye all lache monie as I shall appoyne.

Damnatio, onis, a crybemnation.

Damnatio, moie, wooythe deathe.

Damnatorius, a, um, that condemneth or geueth iudgement agaynst one.

Damnatus, us, idem quod damnatio.

Damnatus, a, um, condemneth, repposed, compelled, bounden by necessitye.

Tuus est damnatus gnatus non tu, Thy son is bounden to doo it, and not thou.

Damnificus, a, um, that is hurtfull of noysome to one.

Damnigerulus, a, um, idem.

Damno, auare, to condemne, to differre, to compell, to depuete, to blame, to reppose.

Damnari causa indicta, to be condemned being absent, or not suffered to speake.

Damnari vori, to obteyne that for whiche a bowe was made, and to be bounde to paye foure the bowe.

Inter ipsam dimicationem adem Iunoni Moneta vocit, cuius damnatus vori, cum victor Romam reuertisset, dictatura se abdicauit. In the myddell of the spyt, he auctored to make a temple to Iuno Moneta, whiche the bowe (haung his byrse, and beeyng conquerour, retourned to Rome) he became bound to perforce, and surrendred the office of Dictator.

Damnari vori, is taken of Uergile, to a newe kynde by auowe.

Damnose, hurtfull, with great perill.

Damnoscus, a, um, harmefull or hurtfull, or haung muche harme, damagable.

Damnum, ni, n. g. harme or hurte, damage, losse. Damni dati formula, an action of trespass for takyng awaie any thynge from vs.

Damno auctus, he that is more indamaged.

Damnum contrahere, to geat losse of harme by any thynge.

Damnum dare, to hurte or to doo harme.

Quid facias illi, qui damnum dedit aut malum: What wilt thou doo to hym that dooeth hurte or displeasure?

Damnum rescire, to recompence for harme that one dooeth, to make satisfaction or amende.

Damnum maximum est, nisi eo ad mercatum veniam, It wyll be my greate losse, excepte I come thither to the mart of fapre.

Dano esse, to be to a manure of damage.

Damnata facere, to tresp.

Nihil damni facis, Thou dost nothyng, or thou haste no losse.

Damocles, one of the flatterers of Dionysius.

Damocles, a Serphian name in Uergile.

Damon, a philosophers name of Pythagoras secte.
 Damophila, a woman of Greece excellently well learned.
 Damocritus, a philosopher that wrote of fumes.
 Damoxenus, a poete of Athens.
 Dan, a towne, whiche is in the boundes of Judea, on the north parte.
 Danae, the daughter of Acrisius, kyng of Argis, unto whom (being closed in a stronge tower) Jupiter came in the forme of a shower of golden raine in at the howse toppe, and gatred in his Perseus, who was afterwarde a valiant knight. He gaue that name spise to the countrey and people of Persia. By this fable is signified, that Jupiter sent treasure plentifully unto Danae, and also to them that had the keeping of her, wherewith they being corrupted, suffered Jupiter to enter into the towne, and accomplishe his pleasure. The fable declareth the force of money and gestures in assaunting of chastitee.
 Danaides, the daughters of Danaus.
 Danaus, a kyng of Argis, that hadde fiftye daughters, whiche (all sauinge one) slew their husbands in one nyght.
 Dandarica, the countrey of the people called Dandarici.
 Dani, people of Germany called now Daci.
 Daniel, elis, an holie prophete of the tribe of Juda, a noble man boine, being a yong childe was brought to Babylon, and became a man of such temperance, that amonge the Jews, he was taken to be Enochus, of a man getherd. He continually bewailed Hierusalem, and in fastinges refrained al manner concupiscence. In fourme of bodie, he was dyg and leane, but in the fauour of god he was beautifull. By his prayer he restored Nabuchodonosor, to his first figure, where he was transfourmed of god into a monstrous beast, not withstandinge, that a yittell beefore, he by the same Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon, was thowen into a doungeon among hungry lions, whiche neuer woude touche hym to hurte hym. He begaye afterwarde delivered, prophesied both of the cominge of Christe, and of the Emperre of Babylon, Eusebia, Persia, Greece, and Rome: And finally dyed at Babylon: and there was buried he liued beefore the incarnation of Christ 619. yeres.
 Danisma, aris, n. g. blurle.
 Danila, a, m. g. an blurer.
 Danificus, a, um, pertaining to blurle.
 Dantes, a poete of Florence.
 Daniscum, a towne of Polonia.
 Danubius, a famous eyer called Dunowe (after the description of Plinie) hath his besse gynnyng in Germany, out of an hille called Abnoba, and passenge by countrey innumerable, receygeth his name: but as soone as he entred into Illiria, he is called Iller, and receygeth into hym. 12. other riuers, wel nyghe the halfe of them beinge nauigable. Finally, being in size wonderfull great as mes, he faileth into the sea called Pontus. The same is affirmed by Tacitus, sayenge that he calleth the hille where Dunowe springeth, Arbona, and not Atnoba.

 Danunt, Blautus dooeth hie for Dane.
 Dapalis cena, a supper, wherewith many and dyuers meates.
 Dapatic, feastsfull, plentifully.
 Dapaticum, ample, magnificent.
 Dapes, um, ibus, f. g. plur. belicate and piercous dyes of bankettes. also meates hurted full and to be eschued.
 Daphne, the poyne name of a stettell mayden, and also of a woode.
 Daphnia, a precious stone holloome agaynst the fallinge spekenesse.
 Daphnis, idis, in latine is a laurell, also the son of Mercurie. also a delectable place without the citie of Antioche: And the name of a popacion of Lycia by the sea syde.
 Daphnites, one of the names of Apollo.
 Daphnoides, an herbe lyke to laurell, now called Rosell of Lauret, whiche causeth a vehement purgacion. In the plurall numbe they be the vertes of laurell.
 Daphnon, onis, m. g. a place wher laurell groweth.
 Dapifer, he that beareth a dyffe at a banke.
 Dapino, aui, are, to prepare and make ready costely and delicate meates.
 Dapsa, or rather Daps, apis, a sacrifice, which was made in wynter and in spring tyme.
 Dapsile, abundantly.
 Dapilis, le. abundant, liberall, or large, sumptuous, costely.
 Dapilis lectus, an excellent good bedde.
 Dapilia dicta, woodes frankly spoken.
 Daradus, a ryuer of Libia, now called Darat.
 Dardanarius, ij, m. g. a foystaller of marchantes, whiche dooth bye befoze hande, to selle deere afterwarde: or he that keepeth in his coine to make a greater dearethe.
 Dardania, the countrey where Troie stode, or the towne of Troie.
 Dardania arres, witcherastes.
 Dardanides, dz, one of the Rocks of Dardanus.
 Dardanis, idis, a woman of Troie.
 Dardanius, a, um, of Troie.
 Dardanus, the name of a pynce, reynenge in that parte of Thracia, where Troie stode, whiche was of hym called Dardania.
 Dares

Dares, an historiographer of Thracia, whiche wrote of the battayle of Troie.
 Darius, monie of Persia.
 Darius, the name of a kyng of Persia, in the tyme of Tyberius, Calus, and Claudius, the emperours.
 Darius, Gannes in Britayne.
 Darius, the name of dyuers kynges of Persia.
 Daruernum, Dower.
 Darus, a ryuer of Hungarie called Mora.
 Daschylos, a towne of Bithynia.
 Daseia, thicknesse of breath.
 Dastarix, people of Thace.
 Dastylus, the father of kyng Gyges.
 Dasyus, an hare.
 Dararius, a, um, geuen, or that muste be geuen. also an officer in Rome, which subscribed the date of letters.
 Daratim, one geuyng to an other, as in the tolyng of a ball.
 Dates, one of Darius capitaynes.
 Datio, onis, a geuyng.
 Dato, aui, are, to geue often.
 Dator, oris, m. g. he that giueth: a geuer.
 Datum, u, n. g. a thyng geuen.
 Datus, us, m. g. a geuyng.
 Datus, a, um, geuen.
 Data, genit. for the monies, of purpore.
 Dausus, the yelowe carrete, the rootes wherof sodden in wythe are pleasaunt and holloome. Constantine saith, that it is hote and by in the secounde degree. Other knydes there be of this herbe, whiche I will not speake of, because they are not so necessary.
 Daulia, or Daulis, a towne of Phocis, vnder the dominion of kyng Creus.
 Daunia, a parte of Italy, nowe called Apulia.
 Dauni, a people of Italy.
 Daunifer, a raptayne of Darius.
 Dautia, idem quod Lauitua.

DE, of, but soigned with a beebe of noune it signifieth withdrawinge, or takinge awate, as Decorico, I barke of take awate thereynde. Depilo, I plucke awate the haire. Sometime it signifieth downward, as, Deorsum descendo, I go downwarde. Sometime contrarie: as, Dehortor, I geue contrarye aduise. Dedoceo, I teache contrary. Sometime it signifieth for, as, Quantum me amas de fidicina hac? Howe well dooth thou loue me for this singyng wenche? De die, to date, soberlyng, the same date with out warnyng.
 Ergo ne vna orationis pars de die dabitur militi? Than shall I not be suffered to speake one littell woode to date?
 De die viacre, euer date, from daye to daye to lyue.

 De compage, by agreement.
 De illa re, I amere speake with you for or concerninge your daughter.
 De illis verbis caue tibi, Beware howe thou speakest suche woordes.
 De imperio decertatur, they fight for the emperie of chiefe rule.
 De improviso, at aduenture, vntought for, or vlooked for, sodenly.
 De industria, of purpose, for the noone.
 De integro, esteoones, from the begynnyng.
 De manu in manum, from hande to hande.
 De istac amo, I loue the for his sake.
 De mea sententia, by my counsaile.
 De meo, of my good, of my owne sauacion, at myn owne coste and charge.
 De tuo, of thy good, of thy own inuention.
 De suo, of his owne coste and charge.
 De meo exemplo edificet, Lear hym bygd as cording to my platte.
 De more, as it hath been accustomed, or as the fashion is.
 De calcaria in carbonariam, out of the time hyl into the cole pitee, A pproche, whereby is signified, from one mischefe to an other.
 De lana caprina, A pproche, where men contende for a triffe, as who saith, whether a goate beate woulde or heare.
 De media nocte, at mydnyght.
 De nihilo nihil est trasi, It is folp to be angry for nothyng.
 De nocte abiit, he went awate in the nyght.
 De nocte vigilare, to wake in the nyght.
 De pace legatos mittere, he sente ambassadours to treat of ppeace.
 De prae facili exores, Thou shalt lyghtly obteyne.
 De proximo senex, The olde man that dwelteth here by.
 De repente, sodenly.
 De subito, idem.
 De scripto dicere, to speake that was befoze written unto hym, to reade on a paper.
 De sua sententia, of his owne heade or fantasie, without other counsaile.
 De sententia allicius, by ones counsaile, as one aduised hym.
 De via linguebat, he was speake by reason of his toumets.
 De meo consilio, with my counsaile or aduise.
 De principio, from the begynnyng.
 De te quidem, as concerninge you.
 De prandio, after dyner.
 De summo loco adolescentia, a yong man of a nobble house, or comen of a noble lynage.
 De cetero, hereafter, hereafter, also as concerninge the rest.
 Non hoc de nihilo est, This is not for nought.
 A. m. De

De procul, as farce of.
 De super, from above.
 De tempore, in verate good season.
 Dea, x. f. g. a goddess.
 Deacinarus, a, um, that, from the whiche the keenelles are taken cleane awate.
 Dealbo, aui, are, to make whyte, to blaunche, to whittelyme.
 Deambulation, onis, a, walkyng forth of abyode out of the house.
 Deambulatorium, ij, n. g. an aleie to walke in:
 it make sometye be bled for a galeste.
 Deambulo, aui, are, to walke abyode.
 Deamo, aui, are, to loue of fauour greatly.
 Deargentillere, to seale of bybe away money,
 a woojbe out of use.
 Dearmatus, x, um, that hath his harnays and weapons taken awate.
 Deartuo, aui, are, to tolnce, o; to cut of by the tolnce, to dismembje.
 Deauro, aui, are, to gylte of late ouer all with golde.
 Debarchor, aris, ari, to rage as it wer in a byskennesse, to be wooode angry.
 Deba, people of Arabia felix.
 Debello, as though the warre wer at an end.
 Debello, onis, he that vainquyshtly o; ouercometh.
 Debellatum est cum Græcis, the warre agens
 the Grecians is at a pynce.
 Debellatus, a, um, vainquysht.
 Debello, aui, are, to vainquyshe by warre.
 Debeo, uere, to owe, to bee bounde to one.
 Animam debet, tooke Anima.
 Nos tibi debemus, we bee bounde to you.
 Magnopere debere alicui, to bee greatly bounde to one.
 Inuentio eius debetur Chio insula, That thyng was fyrst inuented in the yle Chius.
 Debuit nosse, he shoulde haue knowen.
 Debere alicui, to be bound to thank one that he is on lye.
 Debere alicui eruditionem, salutem, nostra omnia, to be bound to thanke one for our see-nyng, our helthe, and all that we haue.
 Pecunia capta est debere, the monete began to be due.
 Debito, bibi, bibere, to dygnke by.
 Debilis, le, weakke, feeble.
 Debitas, aui, f. g. weakkenesse, feebleness, debilitie.
 Animi debilitas, baseness of courage.
 Debilitatio, onis, f. g. a weakenyng, o; makyng faynte.
 Debilitatus, a, um, weakened, made feeble, discouraged.
 Infirmus et debilis. Mancus et debilis.
 Debilito, aui, are, to make feeble of weakke.
 Debilitat spem meam tua profectio, your goyng forth maketh me haue shyllie hope.

Vocem fletu debilitare, to make that one can scant speake for weepng.
 Frangi et debilitari.
 Debitio, onis, the acte of owyng.
 Debitor, oris, m. g. he that oweth, a debtour.
 Debitum, ti, n. g. a debte o; duece.
 Debiti iudicatus, condemned in an action of debte.
 Debitus, a, um, that is due, owen.
 Deblatero, aui, are, to speake foolshyp, to babble reprochefully.
 Debrior, aris, ari, to be drunken.
 Debris, a towne in Ethiopia, where as be the people called Garamates, in the which towne is a wel, whereof the water is in the day tyme as colde as yce, and in the nyghte boylyng hotte, the countrey beeyng the hottest parte of all Ethiopia.
 Debuxino, aui, are, idem quod Buxino.
 Deca, tenne.
 Decachinor, aris, ari, to scoyne.
 Decachordum, i, n. g. an instruments with, x.
 strynges.
 Decacuminatio, onis, f. g. the cuttyng of the toppe of a thyng.
 Decacumino, aui, are, to steppe of the toppe.
 Decalcatum, walyd ouer with tyme.
 Decalogus, i, m. g. the booke of holy scriptures
 conteynyng the ten commandmentes.
 Decaluo, aui, are, to make verate balbe.
 Decanto, aui, are, to reposit of speake often tyme.
 Sometye to babble o; prate.
 Decaphorus, a letter borne by ten men.
 Decapolis, a countrey in Judea, beyonde the ryuer of Flume Jordane, conteynyng tenne cittees.
 Decaproti, generall receyvers of tributes and finances, whiche stand alwaies charged with any thyng that is mynyshed o; lacheth.
 Decapulo, aui, are, to empty vesselles, ppyrly of oyle.
 Decarchus, a captayn ouer, x. men of armes.
 Decas, adis, that conteineth the numbre of ten.
 Decausco, to growe to a stathe.
 Decedo, cessi, ere, to departe frome a place, to mynysh o; appaye, to geue place to an other, to dye.
 Decedamus hinc, feat vs go hence.
 Decedere de suo iure, to remytte somewhat of his ryght.
 Decedere de suo more, to chage his custom.
 Decedere in iuro suo, to doo otherwys than he was wont.
 Decedere itinere, to couene out of the waye
 for some purpose.
 Decedere officio, o; de officio, to do agaynst his duece, to dooe no more his duece, o; to dooe contrarye to that honestie and reason requyryth.
 Decedere via, to go out of the waye, to geue
 the

the waye to an other of conserpse.
 Deceder nihil de summa, there shall bee no
 thyng dimynysht.
 Decedi, to haue place of wate geuen.
 Hæc enim ipsa sunt honorabilia, quæ videntur leuia atq; communia, saluari, appeti, decedi, assurgi, deduci, reducti, for those thin-ges are honourable, whiche seeme to bee of small effecte, and commune, to be wasted on,
 to be stur vnto, to haue the wate geuen, to be risen vnto, to be brought vnto the courts,
 and brought agayne home.
 Decedere alicui, to disdigne to meete one.
 Decedere a superioribus decretis, to breake
 o; dooe agaynst suche ordinaunces as haue ben in tyme past decreed.
 Decedere fide, to breake faythe o; ppympse,
 to go from his ppympse.
 Furori Tribunitio decedam, I wyll des-parte o; geue place to the furie of the Tribunes.
 Decedere de sententia, to change his opynion.
 De vita decedere, to dye.
 Decedet hæc ira, this anger wyll awate.
 Decelia, one of the .xii. cittees assigned and disposed by Cecrops.
 Decem, the numbre of x.
 December, i, m. g. the name of one of the .xii.
 monethes.
 Decemigis, a teme of .x. hoyses.
 Decemmodix, vesselles conteynyng ten busshelles.
 Decempeda, x. f. g. a perche, a polle ten foote longe, to measure lande with.
 Decempedator, oris, m. g. he that measureth
 lande with that polle.
 Decemprimi, idem quod Decaproti.
 Decemscalmus, a boote that hath .x. oyes.
 Decemrabula, were the olde lawes of the Romans, fetchd out of Grece, wher vnto afterwards were .ii. tables added, by the that were called Decemviri.
 Decemviralis, le, pertynyng to the office of Decemviri.
 Decemviratus, us, m. g. the office of Decemviri.
 Decemviri, after that the lawes of the Grekes were brought vnto Rome, by Spurius Posthu-mius, P. Sulpicius, A. A. Manlius, ambasdors sent for that purpose to Athens, that wee there, x. men chosen and appointed, whiche monthes, of those same lawes and the au-ent customes of the cite, make lawes, wytes and publysh thesims: And thes, such wytes was apon all othe, so that they mought make lawes, and if neede were interpret thesims. And where before were but .x. tables of lawes, they added vnto thesims twoo mo: And so all those lawes together, were called Leges duodecim tabularum, and the dignite of those men was called Decemviri.

ratas, and euey of them was called Decem-vir, and thes, such wytes were called Decemviri.
 Decemviri, le, the name of those men.
 Decendum, the state of ten dayes.
 Decennalis, le, of ten yeres.
 Decennium, nij, n. g. the space of .x. yeres.
 Decens, entis, com. g. convenient, mete.
 Decenter, comely, semely, o; as it is auentent.
 Decentia, x, f. g. comeliness, semeliness.
 Deceptor, oris, m. g. a deceiver o; beggler.
 Deceptus, a, um, deceyued, beggled.
 Decernina, thynges pulled awate, in purges
 yng o; makyng cleane of thynges.
 Decerno, creui, ere, to decerne, to iudge, to o; dyne,
 to decree, to determine, to purpose o;
 discusse: Also to contende, to trie by battail.
 Decernere questionem, to ordeyne that an examinatyon be made.
 Nequeo satis decernere, I canne not well
 iudge of decerne.
 Decretum est mihi, I haue determyned o;
 purposed.
 Decernere et iudicare.
 Statuere et Decernere.
 Secundum aliquem decernere, to geue sentence, to conclude o; determine a matter on ones parte, o; for his ppympse o; surdurance.
 Decernere de re aliqua, to decerne o; decree,
 and make some ordinance for a thyng.
 Decernere cornibus, to fyght with the hor-nes, as bulles and other lyke beastes dooe.
 Decernere honores alicui, whan one by his opynion and iudgement, geueth honours and dignite to a man.
 Decernere regnum alicui, to geue a sentence of opynion, that one shoulde bee made a kynge.
 Laudationem alicui decernere, to appointe and ordeyne that certeyne ambassadours be sent to geue honourable praisse and commendations to one for his vertue and nobleness.
 Legationem contra aliquem decernere, to ordeyne certayne persons to go to a pynce o;
 people to complaine on one.
 Noxiam decernere, to determine that one shall paye and make amendes for the hurtes that he hath dooen.
 Noxam questionem decernere, to ordeyne that an extraordinary examinatyon be made after a newe fasshe.
 Vinam meo solum capite decernerem, I woulde god the danger of this perill that I am now in, belonged vnto me onely.
 Ferro vel armis decernere, to ordeyne the ma-tier by playne force o; batte of wynde.
 Decerpo, pñ, ere, to pull o; plucke of.
 Decerpere fructu ex aliqua re, to take sente
 o; ppympse of a thyng.
 Decerpere de dignitate alterius, to plucke awate o; dimynyshe parte of another mans dignite.

Dignitas.
Decerpius, a, um, plucked off.
 Humanus animus decerpius de mente divina, the mynde of man taken and fourmed of the spirite of god.
Decerratio, onis, a, a streping of contending.
Decerratorius, a, um, contentious.
Decertatus, a, um, contended of streping for.
Decerto, aui, are, to contende of fgyht toges ther, to reie of wage to the vitermost.
 Contentione decerrare, to contende with great altercacion.
Decertare cum aliquo de imperio, to consende with one, who shall haue the souerainete of warlike.
Decertare vi, praelio, armis, ferro.
Decertatur, the impersonall.
Decessio, onis, a departing frome any thyng, a going awat, when one leaueth his place to another. Also a diminution of decrease.
Manio, et Decessio, contrarie.
Decessio et Accessio, contrarie.
Decessor, oris, m. g. one that goeth awate and leaueth his place to another.
Decessus, us, m. g. idem quod Decessio.
Decet, sometime impersonall, sometime personall, it becometh, it is conuenient, to be come, to be apte of mete.
Decet me hac vestis, this garmente becometh me well.
Ornatum capiam, quime potius decet, I wyll take that apparayle, that becometh me better.
Fieri sic decet, it is mete of conuenient that it be so doon.
Ia nobis decet, so it becometh vs.
Apium est et decet.
Decido, didi, ere, to cut of. Also to deeppe of discourse a matter in barpance, to determyne of make a composition of agrement betwene men that bee at controuersie: sometime to expresse.
Decide mihi collum, si falsum ad te loquar, cut of my necke, if I tell you a false tale, or if I lye to you.
Transigere et decidere tum aliquo, to come to a poynt, to conclude of fall to agrement with one, concerning any matter.
Decidere de negotio aliquo, to discusse of determine a matter, to conclude of bynge it to a poynt.
Precio cum aliquo decidere, to geue money to the entent to come to some ende of conclusion in a matter, of to byng a thing to passe.
Decidere pro libertate, to fall at some composition for ones libertee or freedom.
Cetera propius decisa sunt verbis, other thynges were expessed in theyr popye and feate wordes.

Decido, id, ere, to fall of of awage.

Decidere ab archetypo, to varye frome the coppe of paterne.
Decidere a spe, to be disapoynted of that he looked for.
Decidit fructus, he losse all the piospex that shoulde come of it.
Quanta de spe decidit? Out of howe great hope am I fallen?
Decidere equo, uel ex equo, to fall frome ones hoise.
Decidit in praecipit, he fell downe heades longe.
Potestas urbis decidit, the power of authoritee of the citee is decayed.
Decidium, dii, n. g. a fall.
Decidua, are those thynges that fall awate, as leaues of trees.
Deciduus, a, um, subiecte to falling, sometime cut downe. Sometime it signifyeth hangyng downe.
Testes pecori armentoq; ad crura decidui, the stones of shepe and rudder beastes, been hangyng downe to theyr haues. In the fygure significacion, Omnibus caua cornua et in mucronem desum concreta sunt, ceruis autem solida et omnibus annis decidua, all haue theyr hoynes holowe, but beinge sharpe at the endes, there be they concrete and without holownesse: Wherby deers haue hoynes fat and massey, whiche euery yere do fall of, or (to speake it more popyely) whiche haues they do cast euery yere.
Decies, ten tymes. Leonardus Portius (in his boke De Sestertio) wytteth, that he had obserued, that where Decies, and other aduerbes of numbrye, haunge that termination, were added to another numbrye for multiplying therof; they signifye no more than they represented: as Decies Centena, ten hundred. Decies millena, ten thousande. But when they were founden by them selues, to signifye the quantitee of the thynges that followed, they were multiplied by an hundred thousande: as, Decies Sestertium, ten hundred thousande Sestertij. Duodecies talentum, for. xlii. hundred thousande talentes. For the fygure he byngeth examples of Marrianus Capella, Macrobius, Plinius, Varro, and Columella: For the secounde he byngeth out of Tacitus, Tranquillus, Silius, et Cicerone, in secunda philippica: Afterwarde he supposeth, that in the olde tyme, when the said numbryes were multiplied with an hundred thousande: they dyd than put an N, betwene the E. and the S. As Deciens, duodeciens, milliens: And to the popye thereof he byngeth in Varro de analogia, et Pedianus in secundam actionem Ciceronis in Verrem. concerning the computation of Decies Decies Sestertium, the same is affirmed by Budeus, and the reuerende father Cuthbertus Tonstallus (at the wytyng herof made worthy byshop of Durham) in his boke de supputatione.

Decies, arum, f. g. plu. the tenthes.
Decimanus siue Decumanus, a, um, great.
Decimo, aui, are, to take the tenth parte from the residue.
Decimari legiones, was when the tenth persone of euery legion was put to deathe.
Decimodix, vesselles that holde. x. bushelles.
Decimum, the tenth tyme.
Decimus, a, um, the tenth, the chiefe of pylates pall: as,
Decimum quodq; ouum, euery tenth egge.
Decimus quisq; fuctus, euery tenth riter.
Decipio, cepi, ere, to deceyne of begyle.
Expectationem alicuius decipere, to deceit ones expectation.
Decipula, ae, f. g. a gins, trappe, or snare to take bydes with.
Decipulum, li, n. g. idem.
Decirino, aui, are, to vnboowe, or to bynge out of compass of roundnesse.
Decremis, is, f. g. a galle that hath ten oyes in one seate of benche.
Decisio, onis, a discussyng, determynation, of composition of matters in debate.
Facere decisionem, to make a composition of determination.
Decisus, a, um, discussed, determined, cut of.
Decius, the name of a noble house of the Romans.
Declamatio, onis, f. g. an exercise in feigned oracions, of amonge our lawyers a moode.
Declamator, oris, m. g. one that declameth, or expreth hym selfe in feigned theames.
Declamatorius, a, um, perteynyng to suche exercise.
Declamito, aui, are, to declame often tymes.
Declamo, aui, are, to declame of exercise in pleadyng feigned argumentes, whiche amonge the lawyers of this realme is called mootyng. Sometime to speake out contentiously.
Declaratio, onis, a declaration of denouncing.
Declaratus, a, um, declared, denounced.
Declaratus est consul, he was denounced of declared Consul.
Declaro, aui, are, to declare, to open a thyng whiche is darke.
Declinatio, onis, f. g. a bendyng of inclynyng of the bodie. Also a digression from a matter of purpose. An eschuyng of auoyding.
Declinatus, a, um, bended, incyned.
Declinata aetas, olde age.
Nec declinaram quicq; ab aliarum ingenio, vllam reperias, Repreth shall ye fynde one, that in the lesse poynt in the world is of vnder the nature of disposition frome the other.

Declino, aui, are, to eschewe, to leaue, to turne awate, to leade awate, to alienate.
Vrbem illam declinaui, I leste that citee, and passed south by.
Declinare se extra viam, to tourne out of the waye.
Declinare de via, to go out of the waye, and by a metaphore, to erre, not to obserue the right rule of reason.
Declinat in vespertum dies, it waxyeth night, or it draweth toward night.
Inflamatio corporis declinat, the vehement burning of the bodie draweth.
Appetere et Declinare, contrarie.
Periculi et declinare, contrarie.
A malis natura declinamus, even by nature we auoyde and eschewe euill thynges.
Declinare ab religione officij, not to obserue the lawes of honestie and vertue.
Declinare a statu, to remitte somewhat of ones constancie in his behauiour.
Declinare vitia, to auoyde of eschewe vyce.
Huc declinabam necinuitus, I dyd bende somewhat to this matter in my communication, and that willyngly of purpose.
Declinare ea quae sunt nocturna, to auoyde those thynges that be hurtfull.
Declinare ictum, to auoyde a blowe by geuyng backe of sleppynge a fyde.
Declinare certamen, to eschewe battayle, or refuse to fgyht.
Declius, ue, bendyng of inclynyng as it wolde falle.
Declius aetate, fallen in age, veras olde.
Decliuus, aui, the bendyng of inclynyng of a thyng as it wolde fall.
Decoctor, oris, m. g. he that hath wasted all his substance, and is brought to extreme povertie, specially by dyce playng and lecherie, a banke rupt.
Decoctum, i, n. g. a decoction of a thyng that is sodde.
Decoctus, us, m. g. a decoction of seethynges.
Decoctoria, ae, f. g. idem.
Decoctus, a, um, well sodden, and by a metaphore, tried or purged.
Decocta, sodden water.
Decollo, aui, are, to steppe of the head by the necke, to behead. Also to fayne, to deceit of disapoynt.
Vna est quae decollauit, one woman there is that hath deceyued hym.
Decolor, oris, om. g. yll coloured, sometime foule of fygure.
Decolor aetas, a tyme of age that hath no vertue of honestie.
Decoloratio, onis, f. g. a tynge of destroyng of the colour of a thyng.

 Decoloro, aui, are, to tayne, to sprill the colour, to take awaie the colour of a thyng.
 Decolorus, a, um, idem quod decolor, as the Calippne. Decoloratus, a, um, yll colour red, of that hat, losse the colour.
 Decoonites, the soone of hercules by Megara, the daughter of Creon.
 Decoquo, coxi, etc, to boyle of seethe verale muche: sometyme to chaunge of digest perfectly. Also to consume of waste a mans substance, or to bynne detrimēt of losse.
 Decoquit discres, whana man bestoweth labour on a thyng, as it doeth not quite cost.
 Decoquant anni materiam, peres of age make diminsh of take awaie muche of the matter.
 Decoquere creditoribus, to consume and waste ones substance, so that his creditours can haue nothing.
 Decoquere bonæ spei, to frustrate and decrease the good hope and expectation of men.
 Decor, oris, m. gen. the grace that one hath, whan that that he doeth or speaketh, becometh him well, beautie, comelynesse.
 Honestatis decor, the beautie and comelynesse of honestie.
 Decoratus, a, um, set forth, commended, made beautifull and gorgeous.
 Decoré, honestely, comely.
 Decoro, aui, are, to beautifie or make saye, of pleasant to the eyes of eares.
 Decoro, aui, are, penulumacorrepta, to dooe honour to a man, to make moxe honourable, to set forth, to commend.
 Magni principem decorat sapientia, wylsome dooeth muche honour vnto a great prince.
 Hæc omnia decorabat vitæ grauitas et integritas, grauitie and integritie of lyfe byd greatly commende and sette forth the all these thynges.
 Mores decorant virum, maners dooe commende and sette forth a man.
 Decorare aliquem honoribus, to auance one and make him of great authoritie.
 Omni laude decoranda virtus, vertue worthy to be commended and set forth wth all praple.
 Decortatio, onis, the barkynge of trees.
 Decortico, aui, are, to barke a tree.
 Decorum, ri, n. g. a semelnesse, of that whiche becometh the person, haupng regarde to his nature, degre, studie, office, of pfectness on, be it in dooing or speakynge: a grace, sometyme it signifyeth honestie.
 Decorum et elegans.
 Decorum ab aspectu, beautifull to the eye: that maketh a saye thewe.
 Vix satis decorum est, it is scant comely of honestie.

 Decorus, a, um, honest, semely, saye, comely, beautifull.
 Decores, the debare garmentes, of garmentes woyne to the bittermoste.
 Decrepitus, a, um, verale olde, at the yttre bynche.
 Decrepita senectus, extreme age.
 Decresco, cui, scere, to wape lesse, to decrease.
 Decrescere et Accrescere, contraris.
 Morbus decrescit, the sicknesse wapeeth awaye.
 Decrescente die, whyle the daye wapeeth shorter.
 Decretorius, a, um, iudiciall, also decreed, stablished.
 Decretoriij dies, dates, in whiche phisicians make perceiue the importance of a sicknesse, by certayne tokens in the patient: whiche be also called Dies Critici.
 Decretorium tempus, Decretorium sydus, wherby iudgement is geuen of the increase that shall succede of any thyng.
 Arma decretoria, weapons, wherewith a man muste fyght earnestly for lyfe and death.
 Decretorius dies, is vled of Seneca for the date of ones death.
 Decretoria pugna, a controuersy whan two aduocates reason on the principall poyntes of the matter, wherby it muste be discussed and determynd.
 Decretum, ri, n. g. a decree, a thyng determynd, a fyne consent in an opynion of ordinaunce.
 Edictum et decretum.
 Decretum aufferre, to fojdoe an ordinaunce.
 Decretum facere, to make a decree of ordinaunce.
 Decretus, a, um, decreed, appoynted determynd.
 Omnibus decreta mors est, death is appoynted to all menne: of all menne bee made mortall.
 Decubo, aui, are, to lye downe.
 Deculco, aui, are, to treade vnder foote.
 Deculio, aui, are, to hyde vnder of ppyll.
 Decum, a, um, f. g. plu. the tenthes.
 Decumanus, ni, m. g. a genrell recesuour of gatherer of taxes, subsidies, of other lyke exactions: Also a former of the tenthes.
 Decumanus, a, um, the adiectyue.
 Decumana porta, the great gate of entre into a campe or armie.
 Decumanus limes, a lyne goepng frome the east to the west.
 Decumana oua, great egges. I thewylle Decumana pira, and Decumani fluctus.
 Decumanus ager, a fild whereof tenthes be taken.
 Decumbo, bui, ere, to lye downe, to spe downe at the table. It is ppropely spoken of wynde players, players, whan they beynge wounded falle downe to the grounde.

 Honesté decumbere, to lye honestly.
 Decumus, a, um, idem quod Decimus.
 Decupa, x, f. g. he of the char felteth wyne by the potts.
 Decuplatus, a, um, ten times double of x. folde.
 Decuplo, ani, are, to double ten tymes.
 Decuplo, an aduerbe, significth ten tymes of ten folde.
 Decuplum, idem.
 Decuplus, a, um, ten tymes so much.
 Decures, olde wyters vled for Decurlones.
 Decuriatio, onis, a makynge of hundredes of capytaynes.
 Decuriatus, us, m. g. idem.
 Decuria, x, f. g. was the odyr, office, of company, whiche was vnder the office of Decurio. Also the company of iudges as we haue of the hynges benche, common place, and exchequer. And Decurio, he that is chiefe of the same. Also a company of men eatyng and bynnyng together. Also a bande of men.
 Decurio, onis, m. g. an officer, haupng authoritie ouer ten men of armes, or the tenth part of a company. Also it was taken for the lord chambelayne to the emperour. Also they were in other ctytes the same that the Senators were at Rome.
 Decurio, aui, are, to beynge in to bandes of companies.
 Decurro, curri, or cucurri, ere, to renne downe, by translaton it signifyeth to renne frome the one ende to the other, to lute, to make hast, to lye apase, to renne of resoyte to a thyng for succour.
 Decurrere sursum deorsum, to renne byp and downe.
 Decurrere cum aliquo, to lute with one.
 Decurrere in armis, to renne at the tytle in hartnes.
 Effuso passu decurrere, to make spede, to renne apase.
 Ad remedium aliquod decurrere, to renne or haue refuge to some remedie.
 Vitam decurrere, to leade of passe forth the ones lyfe.
 Decurritur, men renne of resoyte.
 Breuiter decurrere, to passe ouer a thyng in fewe wordes.
 Decursio, onis, f. g. a rennyng, a course, a stowp, a luyng at the tytle or randon, an insuasion of men of warre, made on they enemyes landes.
 Decursio nem indicere, to pproclame lute.
 Decursorium, ri, n. g. the place where the stales be kepte, the stiles.
 Decursus, a, um, passed ouer.
 Sepuaginta milla passuum vis esse decursu biduo? woulds you, that he should be naple. 700. myles in the space of .ii. dayes.

 Decursa abire licet, saye he after, you haue passed ouer these thynges bypastyng of it fewe wordes.
 Quid milisopus est, decurso statim spacio, cum eis gerere bellum? What needeth me now in myne olde age, or now in my late dayes, to make warre with theim?
 Decursus, us, m. g. a stowp, a luyng ouer of tytle.
 Decursus honorum, the tytle of space that one hath bynne office of dignitie in the common weale.
 Decursus temporis mei, the passyng ouer of the tytle that I must be there.
 Decurtaus, a, um, shortned, abscutated.
 Decus, decoris, n. g. honour, and reputacion, that one hath for dooing of a thyng.
 Decoris securus, he that hath no regatde of honestie.
 Decus verum inuirtute positum, the honour consisteth in vertue.
 Decora et ornamenta.
 Decus et lumen.
 Decus et laus cluitatis, the honour and commendacion of any ctyte.
 Decussatim, cutte in ten partes of euen poyntes, or in forme of an X. or burgonion crosse.
 Decussatio, onis, and Decussis, a decussion, cut, sawen, or carued vpon any thyng after the forme of foure lyne diagonals a crosse, by one centre of poynt, whiche maketh .viij. equal poyntes.
 Decussis, is, m. g. ten whole partes, or ten Alasces. Also pices equally cut. Also pices the diuisions of symble sawen in equal partes. It is also a foure in any thyng representing the letter .X. whiche parted in the middle maketh an other figure called Quincunx. V.
 Decusso, aui, are, to cut or drawe out in length, or to cut or diuide in ten partes: or rather to cut and diuide after the foure of the letter X. to cut equally in the myddie.
 Decussus, aui, m. g. a strepynge or shapynge of.
 Decutio, cusi, ere, to strepe of, to shake of.
 Dedecet, it is not honest or conuenient, it misbecometh.
 Dedecet illud in eum, that dooeth not become hym.
 Dedecoratus, a, um, despled, defamed, dishonoured.
 Dedecoro, aui, are, to dishonour, dishonest, reproue, or desple, to defame, to disrepute ones honestie.
 Dedecorus, a, um, dishonest, that is to other dishonour.
 Dedecus, dedecoris, dishonour, dishonestie, reproche, dishonour.
 Dedecus vite, acurpitudine.

Dedecus, flagitium, probum, infamia.
 Dedecori esse studijs ac litteris, to do great dishonour to learning and good letters.
 Macula et dedecori esse alicui, to do great dishonour to a man, & disgrace his honoure.
 Incutere dedecora, to geue into great dishonour, or infamie.
 Dedecore nullo abstinere, to withholde him selfe of abstinence from no shamefull or vnho- nest acte.
 Dedicatio, onis, a dedication or consecration.
 Dedicatus, a, um, dedicated, consecrated.
 Dedicare, aui, are, to dedicate, or consecrate.
 Dedicatio, onis, for. g. of consecration.
 Dedicor, aris, ari, to disdigne, to contemne, not to vouchefase.
 Dedisco, didici, scire, to vnlearn or forgette, sometime to leaue ones faction, to learne con- trarie to that that one hath learned before.
 Dedino, onis, f. g. rendyng vp of a place be- lieged, or whi one yeldeth him selfe to another.
 Deditus, a, um, recreant, or that yeldeth him selfe to an other.
 Deditus, a, um, geuen, rendyng, yelded vp.
 Dedita opera, by his owne consente, of his owne free wyll, purposely for the nones.
 Deditus literis, studious, geuen to learning.
 Dedo, dedidi, ere, to geue vnto or for euer, or to become subiecte, to render vp, to yelde him selfe to an other in bartayle.
 Deditio facere, signifieth the same.
 Dedere aliquem morti, to slea.
 Dedo me tibi, I submitte or yelde my selfe to you.
 Dedere se totum alicui, to yelde hym selfe wholly to one.
 Dedere aures suas alicui, to hearken to one diligently.
 Dedere se lamentis to wepe and waille im- moderately.
 Manus dedere, to yelde.
 Dedere neci seipsum, to slea ones selfe.
 Dedo tibi istud negotium, I committe the charge of this busynesse to you.
 Dedere aliquem in pistrinum, to caste one into prison.
 Dedo pallas meretricis meae, I am punis- shed for my rashnesse.
 Ad scribendum se dedere, to geue ones selfe to writing.
 Dedere aliquem alteri ad supplicium, to be- traye one to another man to be punished.
 Dedere se alijs, to applye and geue hym selfe to the fashions and customes of other men: and to barret to do what they will haue hym.
 Deduco, cui, ere, to teach a man otherwys than he hath afore learned: or to shewe him that it is false that he learned before.
 Dedoleo, lui, ere, to cease from sorowe and payne, to sorowe no more.

Dedolo, aui, are, to hawe or cut with an awl, to be a carpenter.
 Deduco, xii, ere, to bynge downe, to leade or drawe, to bynge from one place or one thyng to another: Sometime to moue from his purpose: Sometime to bynge home hono- rably fro any place. Also to abate of a summe.
 Deducere vocem, to speake small.
 Deducere cibum, to diminish the ones meate.
 A dolore deduci, with paynes to be com- pelled to chaunge his opinion, or to sale contra- ry to that he had said.
 Deducere aquam, to conuey the water to a ny place from a good wate of.
 Deducere fastidium, to prouoke vomite.
 Deducere filum, to spynne.
 Deduci in fraudem, to be brought into dan- ger, to be intrapped.
 Genus deducere ab aliquo, to descende by come of ones lynage.
 Liniamenta deducere, to poutraile or drawe out the proportion of a body.
 Deduci periculo de animi lenitate, to be constrained with perill and danger, to alter the gentleness of the mynde, and become more rigorous or cruell.
 Deducere naues, to bynge the shippes to lande.
 De domo deducere, to conducte one frome his house to any place, or house.
 Rationem deducere, to make accompt, to reckon.
 Deducere aliquem ex regno, to depyue one of his kyngedome, to take ones realme from hym.
 Ab eo deduci non potest, he can not be tuer- ned, or caused to chaunge his fantasie or op- inion therein.
 Rem huc deduxi, I haue brought the mat- ter to this poynte, or I haue doone this muche.
 Deducere aliquem de sententia, to cause one to chaunge his mynde.
 Deducere aliquem in sententiam, to cause one to agree to any opinion or sentence.
 Deducere de statu vite, to make one doore a thyng contrarie to his accustomed fashon.
 Vela deducere, to styke the sayles.
 Deducere aliquem in viam, to bynge one into the wate.
 Ad otium rem aliquam deducere, to bynge a thyng to quere.
 Deducere et reducere, contrarie.
 Addere et reducere, contrarie.
 Vt centum aurei deducerentur, that 100 crownes of the sonne shoulde be redyng.
 Deducere plerumque dies, to contemne and prolonge the reasonyng of a matter many daies together.
 Deducere sibi pillum, to put of his cap.
 Deductio

Deductio, onis, f. g. a byngyng to, a diminish- yng.
 Deductio aquae, a conueyng of water.
 Deductor, oris, m. g. one that conducteth a man, or that goeth with hym.
 Deductus, a, um, brought, ledde, diminished, sometime shender.
 Deductus ad casum extremum, brought to the laste case.
 Deducta co res est, the thyng is come to that poynte.
 Deerro, aui, are, to goe out of the eyght wate or reason, to erre sometime to make digression.
 Deerrare itinere, to goe out of the wate.
 Defecatus, a, um, spined of cleane from the flesh or dygges, as wyne, whiche is not troubled.
 Defecatus animus, a cleane and incorrupted mynde.
 Defeco, aui, are, to drawe frome the dygges, or to let wyne spyll it be spyn.
 Defalco, aui, are, to cut of, take awaye or mit- tyne, whiche nowe wate be saied defalcate.
 Defamo, aui, are, to defame.
 Defaigatio, onis, f. g. wearinesse, or makynge weyre.
 Defatigo, aui, are, to make one weyre, or to farygate.
 Defatiscor, toke Defatiscor.
 Defectio, onis, f. g. where a countrey, forreigne, or armie, doeth forsake theyr loyde or cap- tayne, and taketh the contrarie parte. Also lacke or defaute: sometime fowynng, feeble- nesse, weakenesse, faintnesse.
 Defectio animi, faying of courage.
 Defectio virium, decaie & lacke of strength.
 Defectio solis et lunae, idem quod defectio.
 Defectio a recta ratione, when the mynde forsaketh all honest iudgement and reason.
 Defectiuus, a, um, that whiche is maymed, or lacketh any parte, vnperfecte.
 Defector, oris, he that departeth from or re- belleth against his loyde or capitaine, or goeth frome one to another.
 Defectus, a, um, that whiche lacketh anye thyng: And passively, forsaken.
 Defectus aetate, verate olde, or aged.
 Defectus senectute, idem.
 Dentibus defectis, they that lacke teethe, toothlesse.
 Cibo defectis, they that lacke meate.
 Defecta senio arbor, an olde tree that wyll beare no fruite.
 Defectus animi, faint hearted.
 Favore defectus, one that is out of fauoure.
 Defectus, us, m. g. lacke, rebellon, or depart- yng agaynst comenauent or promyse.
 Defectus solis et lunae, the eclipse of the son and the moone.
 Defectus animi, sawnyng, or lypng in a reede.
 Defecta corpora, bodies consumed with fechenesse.

 Defendo, di, dere, to defende, to defend, to pro- tect, to kepe and to vpholde any quare- rel, to susteine & to defende a thyng, to vpholde.
 Caput domini defendere, to defende his maister from ennemyes, when he is in dan- ger to be slayne.
 Defendere hostes, to defende, repell, and kepe backe enemyes.
 Defendere et obistere iniuriæ, and Defen- dere et propulsare iniuriam, to resiste and withstande iniurie or wyngre.
 Solis ardore defendit, it keepeth of the heate of the sonne.
 Vestes a tinis defendit herba, this herb keepeth clothes from mothes.
 Dignitatem defendere ab inimicis, to pro- uide that a mans honore be not diminished by his aduersaries.
 Defendere vim, to repell and kepe backe ad- uersaries, to withstande vntaustail force and iniurie.
 Rectum defendere, to susteyne and vpholde right and trouth.
 Defensio, onis, a defendyng.
 Propugnatio et Defensio.
 Defensio, aui, are, to defende often.
 Defensio, aui, are, the frequentative of defendo.
 Defensor, oris, m. g. a defender.
 Defensor necis, he that saueith ones lyfe, when he is in perill to be slayne.
 Defensus, a, um, defended.
 Deferbo, toke Deferuo.
 Sperabam iam deferuisse adolescentiam, I hoped that the great heate or rage of youth, had ben passe.
 Defero, tuli, deferre, to beare or carie, to byng to, to repoyte, to declare or shewe, to bestowe, to offre, to comynge, to disclose, to accuse or appeale one, to geue office or dignitee, to attribute.
 Deferre ad aliquem, to make repoyte or de- clare vnto one.
 Deferre aliquem furii, maiestatis, erroris, venetich, impietatis, to speache one of folo- nise, reason, &c.
 Deferre mandata, vel postulara, to doore a message.
 Deferre nomen, to complayne.
 Deferre primas, to geue place, or preemi- nence to one.
 Deferunt de me apud vos, they repoyte of me falsely vnto you.
 Defecti in errore, to be brought into error.
 Defecti nauti, to be brought or caried in a shyppe.
 Defecti in praecipit, to fall or tumble downe headlong.
 Defertur Moganus in Rhenum, the ryuer Moganus renneth into the ryuer of Rhyne.
 Yxor.

Vxor marito dotem deferre, the wyfe bynde goung dowrie to the husbande.

Seruum et beneuolentiam ad aliquem des-ferre, to offere hys seruice and good will to a ma to psonche him to amitte and frendshipp.
Deferre aliquid in beuicij loco, to booe a thyng to one, accompyng it in steede of a benefite and pleasure.

Deferre causam ad patronum dicitur litigator, whan he sheweth to hym the matter, despyrng ayde and counsaile therein.

Deferre querelas ad aliquem, to complayne to one.

Querelas ad aliquem per alium deferre, to sende complayntes to one by an other.

Deferre consilia ad aduersarios, to distoste mens counsailes to thep enemyes.

Acerbum nuncium ad aliquem deferre, to brynge heauy tydynge to one.

Denegare et deferre, contrarie.

Beneficia de muniis deferuntur, whan pleasures and benefites be dooen to men, as it were slepyng, and not tokyng nor sekyng for them.

Deferre pacem hostibus, to offere peace to the enemyes.

Optatum legendi deferre, to geue one the choyse.

Palmam alicuius rei alicui deferre, to geue or attribue to one the chiefe pryse and commendation in a matter.

Præconium alicui deferre, to committe the charge to one, that a thyng be openly cryed and tolde.

Deferre negotium ad aliquem, to truste one to dispatch a matter or busynesse.

Deferre nomen alicuius de ambitu, de respondendis, to accuse or to complayne vpon one for vniuersall suite that he maketh for anye offyce or for money that he withholdeth.

Deferre crimina de aliquo, to lape dyuerse thynges to ones charge.

Deferre sermones de aliquo ad alterum, to tell tales, or to repoynt thynges of one man
to another.

Omnia ad vnum delata sunt, All thynges were put in to one mans handes.

Deferuo, ferui, or ferui, ere, to be colde, or to ware colde and patient, to appeale hym selfe, or with drawe hys furte, not to be so hot and beneuolent in a matter.

Deferuescit ira, the anger swageth or wax-eth colde.

Studia hominum deferbuere, the affectiones of men were somewhat cooled, or men were not so earnest of herte in the matter.

Deferuo, ferui, ere, idem quod Deferuo.

Deferuacio, feri, ere, to make verale hott.

Deferus, a, um, were.

Defensor, defessus sum, defetisci, to be wepy.

Defessus sum ridendo de te, I am wepy with laughyng at the.

Deficio, feci, ere, not to suffice, to lacke, to leauie, to disagree, to rebel, to departe from hym, with whom he has receyved, to go from one capytayne to another, to reuolue, Also to forsake of faple; somespe to be wepye.
Prudentia nunquam deficit oratorem, ppidence neuer fapleth an oratour.

Quem sanguis vires deficit, whome bloud and strength fapleth, or which lacketh bloude and strength.

Ab eo defecerat, he went frome hym to hys enemie.

Vires deficiunt, they be not able.

Luna deficit, the moone lesseth hys light.

Memoria nos deficit, our memoire fapleth vs, or we lacke memoire.

Res frumentaria ipsos deficere cepit, grain
beganne to faple theim.

Res quam scribam deficit, I lacke matiere to write of, I haue nothyng to wyte.

Deficere rebus dubijs, to forsake one in ada-uersitee.

Spes deficit, hope fapleth.

Tempus te deficiet, you shall want of lacke tyme, you shall not haue trefure enough.

Si uilitas ab amicitia defecerit, if profyte forsaie frendshipp, or if there chaunce to be no profyte or commoditie in frendshipp.

Si a virtute defeceris, if you forsake of falle
from vertue.

A se ipso deficere, to chaunge hys maners,
to be no more the hym selfe.

Dolor me non deficit, my sorowe neuer ceaseth.

Tam cito deficere ante thou so quickely we-pe? Also, doest thou forsake me so soone?

Cohortatus est suos, ne animo deficerent,
he exhorted hys men to be of good courage.

Vitu deficit, he is fallen vnto, he can not see.

Alimento deficere, to lacke foode or noury-shement.

Deficior, the passyng.

Mulier consilio, et ratione deficitur, a woman lacketh bothe good sence and reason.

Defigo, xi, gere, to stiche in, or fasten in, pro-pely as men booe a grasse in a florbe, or a plante in the grounde. Also to tache or fasten with nayles or other thynges.

Defigere aliquem colaphis in terram, to strike one to the ground with buffettes.

Defigere curas, to set all care on any thyng.

Defigere in animis, to make it cleauis in ones
myndes.

Defigere in oculis populi, to make all the world loke on it.

Defigere oculos, to looke despyously on a
thyng.

Defigi diris precacionibus, to be accursed.

Defi-

Defixerat pavor cum admiratione, feare and wonder strake them to the hart.

Defigere sicam in corpore alicuius, to stiche
one in with a dagger.

Defigere mentem, to fixe ones mynde on a
thyng.

Stupor omnes defixerat, they were all as-toned, amazed, or abashed.

Defixus, a, um, fastened in, styched in,
fixed on.

Animus defixus malis, a mynde alway thyng
hpyng on mischiese.

Defixa humi mens, a mynde thyng hpyng als
wayes on earthy thynges.

Defixa radicibus, styched harde by the roo-tes, deeply rooted.

Definitio, iui, ire, to define, to determine, or to bounde, to spynne, to preseribe the ende
of a thyng.

Definiant arbitri, leat the arbiters of iudges define or appoynt.

Definire diem, to determine or appoynt
a date.

Quam vitam ingrediar definias, Declare or shewe me, what kynde of lyfe is beste for me to take.

Eius fundi extremam partem, olea directo
ordine definiunt, In the vttermoste parts of the grounde, they planted a rowe of oly-ues, whych shalbe the boundes or limites of it.

Circumscribere et definire.

Definitum est, it is concluded.

Definite, expressely, shortly, or at fewe
woordes.

Definite et distincte, particulary, and specially.

Definitio, onis, for. ge. a definition, whiche ex-preseth in fewe woordes, what it is that is spoken of. As, Homo est animal rationale, morrle, A man is a thyng lyuely, reasonable, and mortall.

Definitiuus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Constitutio definitiua, the state of a contesuerite, whan the nature of the woordes must be defined.

Definitus, a, um, defined, determined, ap-poynted.

Defoculus, he the whych lacketh the lighte of one eye.

Defici, there lacketh.

Neq; deficiat, neque superfit, Neether lette there be any thyng lacking, nor superfluous.

Nihil apud me tibi deficiet parlar, I wyll not suffer that you shall want of lacke any thyng with me.

Nihil quum est, nihil desit tamen, All though I haue nothyng, yet I lacke no-
thyng.

Deficiat dies, That the daye maye pass awaye.

Deflagratio, onis, abouynge or consuminge with fyre.

Deflagro, aui, are, to burne exceedingly, or to be burned. Also to assuage, or diminish, to waxe colde.

Spes animum subibat deflagrare iram posse vestram, I hoped that your anger myght haue asswaged it selfe, or waxed somewhat colde.

Seditione paulatim deflagrante, The sedistion by lytell and lytell, flakynge and waspyng quiete.

Deflecto, xi, ere, to boowe boowne, to tourne from a place, or out of the way, also to make digression.

Deflectere ex itinere, to tourne out of the waye.

De recto deflectere, to gos out of the right waye.

Deflexit de via consuetudo, The customis chaunged or tournd.

Oratio rediat illuc vnde deflexit, Leat vs come agayne to the matter, from whiche we made digression.

Deflectamus in Thucos, Leat vs turne our waye to the Thustanes.

Defleo, cui, ere, to waple or lament, to be sorrowful.

Deflexus, a, um, bewayled, lamented for.

Deflexus, us, m. g. a boowynge or bendynge.

Deflexus, a, um, boowed, bended, turned out of the waye.

Deflo, aui, are, idem quod flare.

Deflocatus, a, um, woine for aegs. somespe passed the flour of youthe.

Defloresco, scere, to fade or falle awaye, as flowers doo: or to lese beante. somespe it signifieth to bourgen or flour.

Defloro, aui, are, to defloure or diminish the gloze of a thyng.

Gloria eius victoria deflorata est, The gloze of that victoie was greatlye dy-minished.

Defluo, xi, ere, to stowe downeward, to fall of or awaye, to come to nothyng.

Ex nouem Tribus, vnus me absente de-fluxit, Of nyne Tribunes, the whych were on my parte, one in myne absence forsoke me.

Oratio ab alia defluxit ad aliam, The comunicacion, tolke full frame one thyng to
another.

Capillus defluit, the beere, tolke awaye.

Per inordinam, etas, tempus, ingenium defluxit, By disorderlynesse, age, tyme, and wyse, consumed and passed awaye.

Color defluit, the colour fadeth.

Deflu-

Deflu-

Defluere luxu et inertia, to inaree oꝝ vndooe ones selfe with epot and idelnesse.
 Defluere res ad aliquem dicitur, whanne it tourneth to his profite and aduantage.
 Vbi saluatio defluxit, literis me inuoluo, After I haue saluted my frendes in the moynginge, I geue my selfe wholly to studie and learpinge.
 Defluere beneficia dicuntur, quorum memoria intercidit.
 Ex animo defluxit, it is fallen oꝝ gone out of my memoꝛie.
 Defluus, a, um, that whiche floweth oꝝ falleth from any thyng.
 Defluuium, uꝛ, n. g. the fallng of the heare.
 Defluxus, us, m. g. idem.
 Defluxus, a, um, that floweth oꝝ falleth doune.
 Defodio, di, ere, to burge oꝝ hyde a thyng in the ground, to digge doune oꝝ into the erth, oꝝ to set oꝝ plant a thyng in the grounde with diggng.
 Defectus, a, um, destituted.
 Defomicatum, that whiche is chynned oꝝ barked.
 Defore, not to be hereafter.
 Verum arbitrabantur non defore, qui illa remittuerunt, They deemed that there would not fayle to be some, whiche would restore those thynges ageyne.
 Deformatio, onis, a deforming, oꝝ defarpnge.
 Deformis, me, foule, defoumed, vnhyoneste, vncomely.
 Deforme spectaculum, an ill fauoured sight, a thyng vncomely to beholde.
 Vita deformis, a filthy and dishonest lpe.
 Deformis et horridus ager, an ill fauoured and foule ftebe, out of facion and culture.
 Non est deformis, It is a goodly and beautiful thyng.
 Deformem habent aspectum, They are vncomly oꝝ vnhyoneste to be sene.
 Deformitas, atis, f. g. yle fauourednesse, vncomelnesse, deformitee.
 Dignitas et deformitas, contrarp.
 Deformiter, ill fauouredly.
 Deformo, aui, are, to destitute oꝝ waste, to desourme, to defile. Sometime to graue, also to portrate, oꝝ dyawle lpe a pincter, to facion, to make the foume of a thyng, to defectue.
 Deformare areas, to sette foot the quarters in a gardepne.
 Vultum deformat macies, leannesse distigueth the face.
 Ornare et deformare, contrarp.
 Deformata ciuitas, a citie broughte cleane out of facion.
 Vires deformates, dishonested oꝝ dyspnyed with vires.
 Caut deformes multa bona vno vitio, Beware thou disgrace not many good pꝛopertes with one vice.

 Deformatum aliquid habere, To haue any thyng that is comely, well facioned and pꝛoposetioned.
 Quæ a fortuna ita deformata sunt, whiche be so facioned and made of fortune.
 Deformare aliquem, to defectue oꝝ pꝛapete ones maners and facions.
 Defraudator, oris, masc. gene. a defrauder, a beggler.
 Defraudo, aui, are, to beggler, to mynyshe oꝝ take away the profite of an other, to disserepue.
 Defraudare genium, not to content nature, by mygardeship to defraude nature, oꝝ not to take that is sufficient and necessarie for nature.
 Defraudare se victu suo, to dimynyshe a mans owne lypng.
 Defrenatus, a, um, idem quod effrenatus.
 Defricatus, oꝝ Defrictus, a, um, rubbed of.
 Defrico, ui, oꝝ aui, are, to rubbe muche, oꝝ to rubbe of: And by a metaphoze to taunte, oꝝ as we saie, to rubbe one on the galle.
 Defrigesco, idem quod frigesco, to waxe cold.
 Defrigo, xi, ere, to sepe muche.
 Defringo, fregi, ere, to bꝛeake doune and cut doune, to bꝛeake of.
 Defrugo, aui, are, to weare oute lande, and make grounde barrayne by any meanes, to take oute all the fatnesse oꝝ substance therof.
 Defruor, eris, frui, to take the fruite of any thyng.
 Defrutarius, a, um, that pꝛetepneth to the boylyng of newe wyne.
 Defruo, aui, are, to boyle newe wyne.
 Defrutum, ti, n. g. newe wyne boyled, tꝛill the one parte therof be consumed.
 Defuat, idem quod deficiat.
 Defugeo, gi, ere, to refuse, to flee frome, to eschewe.
 Defunctorie, remissely, lpyhtly, without study diligence oꝝ care.
 Defunctus, a, um, deade.
 Defundo, di, ere, to poure doune oꝝ in.
 Defungor, eris, functus sum, fungi, to vse no longer, to leaue oꝝ respygne, to pꝛefourme, to dooe a thyng negligently, and as it were onely to keepe hym selfe oute of daungler, to escape. Also to bee discharged, pꝛoperty of an offyce oꝝ commaundement, to bee despayered, epde, and no moze troubled with a thyng.
 Defuncta morbis corpora, bodies recovered from sicknesses oꝝ diseases.
 Defunctus fato, escaped his destiny.
 Magnis pelagi defunctus periculis, He that hath escaped and passed great daungers of the sea.

Vinam hoc sit modo defunctam, Woulde god this were at an ende oꝝ finished.
 Periculis defunctum esse, to be past danger.
 Oportet omnes fungi vnus pana, All must bee dysquested out of trouble by one mans punishment oꝝ condemnation.
 Defunctus plerumque animus, a mynde whiche hath fully declared and shewed his honestie toue towards his cuntrie oꝝ parentes.
 Defungi in hac re, to be out of this busynesse, to be discharged of this matter.
 Defungi regis imperio, to dooe the hynges commaundement.
 Defunctus iam sum, I haue nowe dooen my dustee: I am nowe dyspatched, epde, oꝝ out of daungler.
 Degener, eris, om. g. that in maners is vnlyke to his auncestours, oꝝ base of lynage, vnnoble.
 Degenero, aui, are, to be vnlyke to his auncestours in maners: It may be said of feutes that waxe wyld, to go out of hynde.
 Degenerare tam a bono quam a malo dicimus.
 Degenerare in feritatem, to waxe wyld.
 Degero, gessi, ere, to sarp away and waste.
 Degerere laborem alicui, to ease one of his labour.
 Deglabro, aui, are, to pluche of heares.
 Deglabro, bi, ere, to pulle of the rynde oꝝ othe lyke thyng, to blanch, to flea oꝝ pulle of the shyne of a thyng.
 Boni pastoris est tondere pecus, non deglabro here, It is the pꝛopertie of a good shepheard to sheare his sheepe, and not to flea the shyne of thes backes.
 Deglutino, aui, are, to leuse that, whiche cleauesth fast, oꝝ is glewed.
 Pego, egi, ere, to dwell in a place, to lyue, to byng to an ende, to passe through, and consene a thyng to the ende. Also olde wyters used it for Expectare, to looke for.
 Degere statem aut vitam, to lyue.
 Degere tempus, to passe the tyme.
 Bellum degere, to hepe continuall warre.
 Corium degere, to flea oꝝ pull the shyne of ones bache.
 Degere vitam cum virtute, to leade ones lpe in vertue and honestie.
 Degrandinat, impersonale, It hayleth doune eight.
 Degrasio, aui, are, to eage, to spoyle, to robbe oꝝ shewe extreme crueltie in a place.
 Degrauo, aui, are, to burthen, to make heauie, to pꝛess doune.
 Degredior, gressus sum, edi, to go doune, to desende, to lpyht on foote from ones hysse.
 Degrummor, aris, ari, to dyspette, to lape by lyne.
 Degulo, aui, are, to consume in gluttonie.

Degummo, mi, ere, idem quod Degusto, thande.
 Degusto, aui, are, to taste, to take a littell sale, to touche a thyng oꝝ speake of it bityfly.
 Degustare vitam aliquam, to taste oꝝ take an up hynde of lpe.
 Odorare et degustare aliquem, to pꝛetepne, oꝝ feele what maner of man one is.
 Degustanda sunt hæc proemio, These thynges must be touched oꝝ bityfly mencioned in the pꝛopheme.
 Aliquid speculari ex sermone alicuius degustare, to conceue a littell hope theought a mans wordes.
 Degustare mentes, sensus hominum, to pꝛetepne oꝝ feele the myndes oꝝ fantasies of men.
 Dehaurio, hausi, ire, to dyawe out.
 Dehinc, from hens footthe, moze ouer.
 Nunc iam dehinc, Nowe hens footthe, after this tyme.
 Dehisco, sci, scere, to gape oꝝ open by it selfe, oꝝ cleaue as a tree dooth, oꝝ chynke as the groun dooth, to burst.
 Dehiscunt quidam pisces, pꝛæ pinguedine, some fshes be so fatte that they burst.
 Dehiscere in aliquem, to inuyshe oꝝ speake behemently agaynst one.
 Dehiscit flos, the floure speaderth.
 Dehonestamentum, ti, n. g. a thyng that dooth dishonour, distigure, oꝝ disgrace a thyng. Some tyme a rebuke oꝝ reproche.
 Dehonesto, aui, are, to dishonour.
 Dehonestus, a, um, dishonest.
 Dehortor, aris, ari, to discourage, to exhort oꝝ aduise to the contrarp, to dissuade oꝝ bid naye.
 Dehortari canes, to rebuke the houndes.
 Inuitare et dehortari, contrarp.
 Deianira, the wyfe of Hercules and daughter of Deolus kyng of Aetolia.
 Deidamia, the concubine of Achilles, on whom he begatte Ithacus.
 Deiectus, a, um, lowe, cast doune.
 Delecta et elata luna, the moone, epyer whi it is lawe towards the south, oꝝ hyght towards the north.
 Deiectus, us, m. g. and Deiectio, onis, f. g. e. a casting out of possession oꝝ a dissellin.
 Deiectio alui, a hege caused by medicine.
 Petere deiectionem medicamento, to take a pꝛouocation.
 Deiectus arborum, setting of trees.
 Deiectus gemma, vel collis, the imbosment of a stone oꝝ tree.
 Delector, oris, a great sweasere.
 Deiero, aui, are, to sweasere deeply, oꝝ a great othe.
 Deijcio, leci, hēre, to thowt doune, to cast doune, to tounse away, to put out of office.

Alio to diſſeiſe oꝝ put a man out of his poſſeſſion: ſometymes to caſt and hitte a thyng.
Deijcere alium, to make one go to the ſchole.
Dejcere de gradu, to bypne out of a con= ſtitution. alſo it ſignifieth to put one out of his place, to depriue of dignities oꝝ authoritie
Dejcere de poſſeſſione, to put one out of poſſeſſion.
Dejcere de ſententia, to make one change his opinion.
Dejci honore, to be put beſide an office.
Oculus de ſito nunq̃ deicit, he neuer tokeeth from hym: oꝝ he neuer takeeth his eyes frome hym: oꝝ his eyes be alwaie on hym.
Sitatum oculos deiecerimus, If we dooe but once wythke: oꝝ (as we ſaie) with the twynking of an eye, ſignifying the ſodeyne chaunce of any thyng.
Dejcere multum de terrore doloris, to caſt awaie a great part of the feare, that one hath of payne, oꝝ to feare payne muche leſſe.
Dejcere iugum ſeruitutis, to caſte awaie oꝝ make of the poſe of bondage, & become free.
Taurum deijcere, to kill a bulle.
Spe deijci, to be pur of hope.
Ein, moſouer, ſuctio, more, afterwarde.
Inceps, an aduerbe, one after an other, in order, conſequently, ſucceſſiuely, from hence= ſooth, oꝝ thence ſooth, afterwarde, laſtely. ſometymes agayne.
Inceps, cis, he that begynneth, when an other hath begun befoze, oꝝ he that is taken oꝝ choſen after an other.
Inceps inde, from thence ſooth.
Inciſuper, bywarde, aboue.
Integro, eſſoonce, agayne, a freſhe.
Incies, a kyng of the Medes, the ſonne of Θηαοισα.
Incipia, a nymph.
Inciſarus, a kyng of Galatia.
Inciphoë, a nymph, the daughter of Glauco a god of the ſea.
Inciphoſus, the ſonne of Θηαμας & Iſeruba.
Inciphe, the mother of Diomedes, wyfe of Ideus, and daughter of Adiaſtus.
Inciphyllus, the ſonne of Θολυμνελος, a kyng of Thrace. alſo the ſonne of Sthenelus.
Incingo, aui, are, to bypke, to bypogne, to ſuffer.
Incingo, xi, gere, to byſolgne, to put a ſunder.
Incuro, ai, are, to ſwear deeply.
Incurium, a great and ſolemne othe.
Incurus, he that ſweareth ſolemnely.
Incuo, not to helpe.
Defere e illum, e deiuare in rebus aduersis puer, I am ſwathed to foꝛtake hym, and not to helpe hym in aduerſities.
Delabor, lapſus ſum, delabi, to ſlide downe, to fall downe of an high place, to be waſted, con= ſumed, oꝝ come to naught, to decate, to faille, to erre, oꝝ do amiſſe by ignoꝛaꝛce oꝝ negligẽce, to fal of ſilke to an other matter in communication.

 Delabitur res familiaris, when a wanes goods and ſubſtance decay and come to nought.
 Delabi in infidias, to falle into a trappe of ſnares, toled to deſtroy one, to fall into an ambuſhment of men of warre.
 Non nunquam in hoc vitium delabitur, he falleth ſometimes into that fault: vj he of-fendeth in this often tymes.
 Ad vulgares amicitias delabitur noſtra oratio, we doo begyn to ſpeake of the frendſhipp, that is commonly amonge men.
 Ad precipiendi rationem delapsa eſt oratio mea, my manner of communication is now fallen to the manner of inſtruction of preceptes geuyng.
 Delacero, aui, are, to teare in pieces, to conſume of ſpende.
 Delachrymo, aui, are, to weepe.
 Delachrymor, aris, ari, to weepe of ſende out droppeſſe teares.
 Delauo, aui, are, to make ſmooth.
 Delambo, bi, bere, to licks, to tappe.
 Delamentor, aris, ari, to lament of weape for
 a thyng.
 Delanico, aui, are, to cutte in pieces.
 Delanio, aui, are, looke dilanio.
 Delapido, looke Dilapido.
 Delapidata, pauementos.
 Delatio, aui, are, to make weery.
 Delatio, onis, an accuſation ſecretely made, of a ſecret complaint, a tale tolde priuily to put a man to diſpleaſure.
 Delator, onis, m. g. a ſecret accuſer, a complainer, a picke thanke, a tell tale.
 Delatus, a, um, accuſed. alſo brought, geuen, appointed, assigned.
 Delauo, aui, are, to waſhe myghtily.
 Delebilis, le, that whiche maye bee putte out,
 or put awaye.
 Delecto, aui, are, to deſſe, to leade, to allure to a thyng. Plus nimio delectare, to deſſe to much. Delectare hoſtem, to allure ones enemie. Sine ſatietae delectare, to deſſe one ſo that he ſhal neuer be weery thereof.
 Delectatio, onis, delectacion in pleaſure.
 Delectationi eſſe, and Afferre delectationem, to, to deſſe.
 Delectamentum, ti, n. g. paſſyme, ſolace.
 Delectus, a, um, choſen, picked.
 Delectus, us, m. g. election, choſe.
 Delectus rerum, choſe of election of thynges.
 alſo of men apt for the warre.
 Delectum habere et agere, ſometimes ſignifieth to take muſters for the warre.
 Habere delectum ciuis et peregrini, to put a difference betwene a ciſſyn and a ſtranger.
 Delector, aris, ari, to take delectacio of pleaſure.
 Deſego, aui, are, to aſſigne to ſome office, meſſage, or other neceſſary and great buſſines, to ſome

committit, or cantat, a matter, to commit to stand in amercement by the law, to make attributis, or imputis.
Delegare causam peccati alicui, to impute or lay the fault of any offence to one.
Delegare curam, to commit the charge of a thing to one.
Delegare aliquem alicui negotio, to appoint or assigne one to dispatch a matter.
Delegata, thynges consecrate to the goddes.
Delensio, onis, f.g. charge or commission.
Delenio, niui, nire, to pacifie, appease, or settle in quiette.
Delenificus, a, um, that pacieth or mitigateth Deleo, leui, lere, to destroye, to put out a thyng that is written, to remove, to put away.
Delere ex animo, to put out of mynde.
Delere exercitum, to vanquish and slea a whole armie.
Versitas delet famam, age, or longe continuance of tyme maketh a thyng forgotten.
Delere memoriam alicuius rei, to make a thyng forgotten.
Nummulus acceptus iur atq; fas omne delesre, for monney or bysses to forgoode and hesteale all right and equities.
Delere maculam susceptam, to reuenge an infamie or rebuke.
Deleto, onis, a putting out, a destroying.
Delector, oris, he that destroyeth.
Deletrix, the feminite.
Delectione, venome.
Deletilis, le, that destroyeth or putteth out.
Delia, one of the names of Diana.
Deliacus, a, um, and Delius, a, um, of the ple of Delus.
Delibatio, onis, tastynge or takynge of assaye: it is also a sacrifice of mente or dytche, Delibatorium, looke Diritorium.
Deliberandus, he that adviceth hym, or as-keth counsaile in every thyng.
Deliberatio, onis, abutlement or consultation.
Adhibere aliquem ad deliberationes, to call or admitte one to his consultations.
Haber res deliberationem, the matter maye be considered of, or adysemment maye be taken of it.
Inciditur omnis deliberatio, There can bee
no consultation.
Deliberativus, a, um, that pertaineth to consideration.
Deliberativa oratio, wherein any thyng is considered.
Deliberator, onis, m.g. he that taketh lecture to be advised what he shall doo or saye.
Deliberaum, illo, a saying, or speaking.
Deliberavi, I have considered.
Delibero, to advise, to take counsaile, to be advised, to be taught.
Delibera hoc, Take heed hereunto.

[illegible]

D ANTE E.

Demosthenes) hyngge Philispy, after he hath taken frome you your oratours, whiche by theyr wyse aduersitmentes haue hitherto preferred you from his captiuitie, he will do the semblable. Whiche the Atheniensis hearing, agreed to his counsaile, and valiantly defended the citee. he was afore the incarnation of Christe. 345. yeres.

Demotus, put abacke.

Demouco, ui, ere, to remoue, to put backe.

Demoueri gradu, to be dyspued backe, to be constrained to recople.

Demouere a sententia, to cause one to change his opinion.

Demoueri exacto, to be caused to dooe as gainst right.

Demptus, a, um, put out, taken awaie.

Demugco, i, i, ere, to bellowe.

Demulco, u, ere, to stroke gently and softly with the hand, as we do children and houndes, whan we make muche of them. Also to mitigate or intreate gently.

Caput demulcere, to stroke the head.

Demum, at the laste, sometime it signifieth onely or alwaies, finally, whan all is done. Cognitum est cuiusdam demum feminae inuenerunt posse, they hadde knowlage that it could be remoued only with the hand of a chaste woman.

Nunc demum, and Modico demum, sensu et a thynge cometh to passe, of chaunceth slowly.

Demum, forged with ille, is, of ita, moste commonly signifieth onely, or in dedde.

Ille demum est antiquis moribus, that man is in dedde well manered, of hath onely the auncient vertue and maners.

Ha demum magna voluptas est, among all the pleasures that a man can haue, that is onely a great and a singular pleasure.

Ita demum mihi satisfactio sit. &c. You shall only by this means content my mynd if. &c.

Demus, used of olde wyters for Demum.

Demulatus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Demulata contumelia, displeasure done by dissimulation.

Demutatio, onis, a chaunging.

Demutulo, ui, ere, to cut of.

Demuto, ui, ere, to change his maner of farrō Non demutabo, I will not reuoke that I haue spoken or promysed.

Demutare aliquo orationem, to tourne his communication to some matter.

Denaria, the number of. 39000. of the coyne call Denary.

Denarius, n, m. ge. in weyght is the seueneth parte of an ounce, in coyne it is as muche in pouce and baluncon as our groats, whiche woperly of our money, nowe euergate. vi. d. ob. and the vii. parts of an hantepence,

D ANTE E.

Denarius, a, um, that whiche conteyneth the numbje of tenne.

Denarro, ui, ere, to tell in oydje.

Denascor, fecis, sci, to cease to be, to dye.

Denaso, ui, ere, to cut of pul of the nose.

Denato, ui, ere, to swimme, to swimme out.

Dendragates, a pfectious stone, like a mybbe of steele bulffe.

Dendritis, druidis, f. g. a pfectious stone, whiche being put vnder a tree, maketh that the axe, whan it shall cut it, shall not be dulled.

Dendroscios, the Iup, that groweth by it self.

Dendroides, a hynde of spurge.

Denego, ui, ere, not to geue, or to denie to geue, to denge earnestly that he hath done a thynge.

Deni, ten together.

Vxores habent deni duodenig inter se communes, ten of twelue together haue wyues commune amonge them.

Denicales feriae, certepue sacrifices, whan the whole familie was purged, whan one was deade in the house.

Denigro, ui, ere, to make blacke.

Denig, in conclusion, finally, forthermore, at length.

Denominatio, onis, the namng of a thynge.

Denominatiuum, among gramarians that is deriued of a noun.

Denomino, ui, ere, to name, to geue a name.

Denormo, ui, ere, to set out of rule of oydje, to make vnequall, to make crooked.

Denotatus, a, um, marked of appoynted out.

Denoto, ui, ere, to blame, to marke, to marke out.

Dens, entis, m. g. a toothe: also euep thynge, wherewith an other thynge maye bee holden faste or drawen out: it is sometime used for a combe.

Dens aratorius, the coulter of a ploughe.

Euulsio dentis, toothe drawng, the place hyng out of a toothe.

Dentium dolor, the toothe ache.

Aduersi, primores, et anteriores dentes, the fore toothe.

Dentes maxillares, genuini, intimi, the cheke toothe.

Continui et serrati dentes, like Continuous.

Eburnus dens, a combe of euoyte.

Dens putridus, a rotten toothe.

Dente maledico carpere aliquem, to speake pilt by one, to raple.

Citare dentem, to plucke out a toothe.

Dentes conficiunt cibum, the toothe chaw the meate.

Densario, onis, a gathering thynke together.

Densatus, a, um, made thynke.

Dense, an aduerbe, signifying thynke or close together, as whan many bee assembled in a littell roume.

Densu

D ANTE E.

Densitas, as, et Densitudo, i, i, ere, thynkenesse. Colre in densitate, to gather thynke together.

Densio, ui, ere, and densio, to thynken or make thynke.

Densus, a, um, thynke, harde closed together, compacte, plentiful.

Densus labor, a continual or perpetual labo.

Dentale, is, n. g. the share of a plough.

Dentatum, in oydje lye teethe.

Dentatus, a, um, that hath great teethe, stronge teethe, or many teethe.

Dentata charra, a wytyng conteynyng sharp and biting tauntes.

Denticulare, to thrust in his teethe.

Denticularis, a, um, that hath littell teethe, or made in foume of a toothe.

Denticularis falces, ptyches.

Denticulus, a, um, Dentatus, a, um, Dentosus, a, um, toothed.

Dentifrangibulum, a thynge wherewith teethe be broken.

Dentifrangibulus, li, mas. gen. one that breaketh teethe.

Dentifricium, cij, n. g. a medicine, wherewith the teethe be rubbed to make them white.

Dentiloquus, he that speaketh betweene the teethe of hispeth, or rather one that in speakng spitteth out his teethe.

Dentiloquos omnes morales faciam, quemq offendero, whom so euer I spnde of mete with, I will so backe hym about the mouthe, that I will make hym sppte out his teethe.

Dentio, iui, ire, to put footthe or byede teethe.

Dentiscalpium, an instrument, wherewith teethe be scraped.

Dentitio, onis, a wytyng footthe or growynge of teethe. A byedng of teethe.

Denubo, pli, ere, to make of web on the woman's parte.

Denudo, ui, ere, to despoyle or make naked.

Denumero, ui, ere, to paise money.

Denuntiatio, onis, menassng, a signifying of declaring of a thynge before.

Hac denuntiatione coterritus, being asfraid with this thynng.

Denuntiatio testimonij, an intinction to appere.

Denuntiatio belli, a denouncng of warre, a sendng of defiance.

Denuntio, ui, ere, to shewe or tell a thynge to an other man, to denounce, to signifie or geue knowlage: sometime to menasse or threaten.

Also Denuntiare testimonium, to sommon or bynng witness in the court of iudgement, as they dooe in the chawncery, wher thynnes are compyled to come.

Denuntiavit vti adisset, he sommoned hym to appere.

Denuntiare inimicis, to declare hym to be

D ANTE E.

his enemy.

Denuntiare bellum, to shewe, denounce, or signifie warre of battayle.

Domum denuntiare, to geue knowlage of a thynge at home at a mans house.

Denuntiare periculum alicui, to threaten or menasse perill and danger to a man.

Sol exarulus pluuiam denuntiat, the son, having a blue colour betokeneth of signifieth rayne.

Huic hominiam ante denuntio, I tell this man before.

Denuntiare alicui, to signifie to one, to good to wyte.

Denuo, agayne, esteones.

Denus, a, um, tenne.

Deo, the name of Ceres.

Deocco, ui, ere, to harrow lande, or to break it with colles.

Deonero, ui, ere, to discharge of disburden, to vnloade.

Deoratum, for Peroratum.

Deoratus, a, um, despyed, heetly paled.

Deoro, ui, ere, to despye heetly. Among our lawiers it is to please or to conclude in plea byng.

Deorsum, downewards.

Sursum deorsum, vp and downe hither and thither.

Deorsum versum, downe ryght.

Directo deorsu ferri, to fall straight downe.

Sursum deorsum, vltro chrogy meare, to go vp and downe hither and thither.

Deosculator, laris, atus sum, ari, to kisse sweetly.

Depacifcor, pactus, sum, sci, to make couenaunte, to agree vpon certayne countantes, to promise, to paffe.

Depacifci morte cupio, I am cotent to dye.

Depacifci honestissimo periculo, where many perille be, to be content to take that, whiche is moste honest.

Depacifci partem scam cum aliquo, to promise a man parte of his gape.

Depacifci ad conditiones aliterius, to agree to all condicions and countantes that an other man requieth.

Depactus, a, um, the participle of Depacifcor, couenaunted or paffed.

Depactus est cum hostibus, he paffed with his enemies.

Depactus, a, um, the participle of Depango, planted or sette.

Depalmo, ui, ere, to vndette or cleppe one on the cheke with his hande.

Depango, Depanxi, and depegi, ere, to plant or sette.

Departus, ci, a great apparbe.

Depasco, ui, ere, to eate as a beaste dooth, to feede beastes in a pasture, to eate vp, to consume.

Depascere

D ANTE E.

Depascere possessionem alienam, to feede his cattell on an other mans pasture.
 Stilo depascere luxuriam orationis, with exercise of wytyng to dymynyshe the great abundance and coppy of wordes & sentences.
 Depascor, the deponent, idem quod Depasco.
 Depasitio, onis, feshyng of cattell.
 Depasus, a, um, eaten by with beastes.
 Depauperio, aui, are, to impoveryshe, or make poore, to spende awaie a mans goodes.
 Depecto, xui, ere, to hembe diligently.
 Depectere frondium canicem, to rubbe of the mosse of the bowes.
 Depectior, idem quod Depacior.
 Depectus, a, um, idem quod Depactus.
 Depeculatio, idem quod Depeculor.
 Depeculator, oris, com. g. a robber.
 Depecutor, aris, ari, to rubbe a common weale, a pynce, or a place halowed.
 Depeculari laudem alicuius, to abelyshe or bestrope the renowne and pryse of a mannes actes.
 Depello, uli, ere, to put downe, to put awaie, to put asyde, to remove, to weane.
 Depellipotentia, whan monstres or strange thynges do happen, berokenyng some yll adventure to come, to repelle it by prayers, as wyndes, or other good dedes.
 Depellere aliquem ad calimitatem, to caste one into inisurie or trouble.
 Dolorem depellere, to putte awaie sorow and heavynesse.
 Sententia depellere, to force one to change his opynion.
 Spe et despe depellere, to put out of hope, to make in dysperye.
 Depellere agnū a matre, to weane a lambe.
 Depellere lacte, to weane.
 Depellere aquam de agro per hyemem, to rounne or drygne water out of the felds in the wynter tyme.
 Depellere ex potestate, to putte out of authority.
 Famem depellere cibo, to delaye hunger with meate.
 Depellere a se suspicionem, to put any suspicion from hym selfe.
 Dependeo, di, ere, to hange downe of a thyng, to depende.
 Dependo, di, ere, to pale.
 Soluere et Dependere.
 Dependere caput, to bee slayne or lose ones heade.
 Dependere tempus amori, to bestowe tyme in loue.
 Depedere mercedē, to pale one his wages.
 Dependere operam, to take payne aboute a thyng.
 Dependere penas, to be punished, to suffer paynes.

D ANTE E.

Dependo, perdidit, ere, to lose.
 Deperdere de existimatione, to lose parte of his estimation or credite.
 Deperdere honestatē, to lose ones honestie.
 Lingua vsum deperdere, to lose the vse of the toungue.
 Deperdere folia dicuntur arbores, whā the leaues fall awaie.
 Deperio, xui, or perij, ire, to perpyche, to dye, to lout inoydynatly, to be losse.
 Deperierunt naues, the shippes were losse or perpyched.
 Amore impotēte deperire aliquem, to lous one immoderately.
 Deperit sapor, the sauour or taste is lost.
 Deperisco, scui, scere, to dyspe cattell.
 Deperisus, rent, toren.
 Depexus, a, um, hempte, trymmed.
 Ego ne si viuo adeo exornatum habeo, as deo depexum: vt vsq; dum viuat meminerit semper mei: trowe ye, that if wylt not so decke hym, and trimme hym, that he shall thynke on me as longe as he lyueth.
 Depilatus, a, um, balde, without heares, or that whose heare is plucked of, made balde.
 Depilis, le, without heare, balde.
 Depilo, aui, are, to pulle of heare.
 Depingo, pinxi, ere, to pyncte, to describe.
 Depingere facta alicuius, to describe a mans actes.
 Cogitatione depingere, to conceyue or imagine a thyng in ones mynde.
 Deplango, planxi, ere, to lament or bewaile greatly.
 Deplano, aui, are, to make playne.
 Deplanto, aui, are, to plant or set.
 Depleo, pleui, ere, to emptye.
 Deploratio, onis, a lamentyng or wytyng.
 Deploratus, a, um, without hope of recourge or remedie, desperate.
 A medicis deploratus, forsaken of the physicians.
 Deplorata res publica, a desperate common weale, past all hope of good recoueree.
 Res deplorata est, there is no remedie in the matter.
 Deploro, aui, are, to lament or bewaile, to complaine.
 Vitam deplorare, to lament and complaine the lyfe that one hath ledde.
 Conqueriet deplorare.
 Deplorare et lamentare.
 Deplorare de re aliqua, to lament or make pituous complaine for any thyng.
 Deplorantur, the passyes.
 Depluo, pluui, ere, to rayne downe ryght.
 Deplumis, me, that whiche hath fewe feathers or none.
 Depolito, liui, ire, to make perpyche, to fymthe, to polyshe or make smothe.
 Depono

D ANTE E.

Depono, posui, ere, to late downe, to depyche, to take awaie, to put awaie, to leaue.
 Deponere arma, to put of his harness.
 Deponere bellum, to cease from warres.
 Deponere exercitiū, to discharge the armie.
 Deponere imperium, to leaue of gene vyppes the rule or gouernance. likewise Deponere officium, magistratū, prætorem, prouinciam.
 Deponere inimicitias, to leaue enmities.
 Deponere negotium, to leaue busynesse.
 Deponere semina, to plant.
 Deponere soles, to put of ones shoes.
 Deponere onus, to discharge a burdengne or charge, to vnloade.
 Deponere aliquid apud aliquem, to laye a thyng in gage or pledge, or to deliuer to one a thyng to kepe.
 Deponere in terram, to plant.
 Deponere adificationem, to leaue of a buyldyng.
 Crines deponere, to be polled or notted.
 Deponere desideria alicuius rei, not to be so muche desyrouse of a thyng.
 Formidinem deponere, to shake of feare: likewise Deponere metum, marorem, luctum, molestias, pudorem, timorem.
 Deponere seueritatem, to waxe more pleasant and gentill, and lesse rigorouse in ones behauiour.
 Deponere imperio, to put out of authorytee.
 Deponere ineptias, to leaue tryflynge.
 Deponere ingenia syluestria, to becom tame.
 Deponere aliquid de lenitate, to become more graue or sadde.
 Deponere memoriam alicuius rei, and Deponere aliquam rem ex memoria, to forget a thyng.
 Deponere apud memoriam, to committe a thyng to memorye.
 Deponere offentionem, to leaue of grudge or displeasure.
 Deponenti, aged men, whiche after .60. yeres, be caste downe frome a bypge.
 Depopulatio, onis, destruction or desolation of a countrey, depopulation.
 Depopulator, oris, a robber, a spoyler, a conqueuer.
 Depopulo, aris, ari, to bestrope or waste a countrey, to robbe of spople. There is also read Depopulo, the actpue.
 Deportatio, onis, a conueyng or carpyng.
 Deportatus, a, um, banished, exiled, caried awaie, conueghed.
 Deportati, they that are exiled hange no propyete left in any goodes or landes, after the defynction of lawteres, howe be it other our hours, dooe vse that word generally for men exiled.
 Deporto, aui, are, to caste or bynge awaie, to banyshe. Sometyme it signiflieth to reposit.

D ANTE E.

Deportare exercitiū, to bynge home the gayne the armie.
 Deportare triumphum, to bynge home the victorie.
 Captiuos Roman deportare, to carie prisoners to Rome.
 Deportare se aliquo, to goe or conueghe ones selfe to some place.
 Deportare in solas terras, to banyshe, to exile.
 Deposco, poposci, scere, to despye muche or to requyre, to requyre earnestly.
 Deposcare omnibus sollicitationibus, to demaunde or sollicitie with all maner sayes promyses.
 Deposcare aliquem ad supplicium, to requyre to haue one to be punished.
 Morri deposcare, to requyre to haue one to be put to deathe.
 Depositarius, he vnto whome one hath deliuered a thyng to kepe. Also he to whome any thyng is lated in gage.
 Depositorius, he that leaueith a thyng with an other man.
 Depositum, that whiche is leste in an other mans hepyng, or that is lated to pledge, a gage.
 Depositus, a, um, laped downe, leste in an other mans hande, or hepyng. Sometyme it dooeth signifie desperate, or he that is in desperation.
 Itaq; mihi videor magnam et maximeegram, et prope depositam reipublice partem suscepisse, therfore me semeth I haue taken in hande a great parte of the weale publicke, not onely beynge feeble, but also almost in extreme desperation.
 Deposulo, aui, are, to requyre earnestly.
 Deprador, aris, ari, to robbe a countrey or towne.
 Deprahor, aris, ari, to fygght.
 Deprauare, corruptely.
 Deprauatio, onis, a conuepyng.
 Deprauat, a, um, depraued, corrupted, made pl.
 Deprauatus indulgentia, married with to muche libertie.
 Deprauati mores, pl of lewde condicions.
 Deprauo, aui, are, to make pl., to deprauate, to vitiate, to corrupte.
 Corrigitur et deprauare, contrarte.
 Deprecatio, onis, f. g. a bespyng of pardon, whan we confesse that we haue offended.
 Also a putting of a thyng from vs by intercession or prayer. Also a charpyng with wordes to dyspe awaie any thyng.
 Diræ deprecationes, cursynges.
 Deprecator, oris, m. g. he that sacch of intercession for an other man, that he shoulde not be punished. In lyke maner Deprecabundus.
 Deprecor, aris, ari, to besche, to make intercession, to tee, to please earnestly, to refuse, to despise the contrary, to put away by plate of increase, to deny that which we would not have, to have in detestation, to resist, to deliver a man by prayer.

Deprecari veniam, to aske forgiveness.

Deprecari alicui ne vapulet, to make request of despay for one that he be not beaten.

Deprecari in iuriam, to require that he will not doo hym any wronge.

Deprecari avaritiam criminis laudibus frugalius, to require to have one excused for his ingardship, because his temperance in living seemeth to be worthy commendation.

Deprecari malevolentiam, to excuse him of blame, for the hope that he hath of an others misfortune.

Claudij inuidiam Gracchi charitas deprecabatur, Gracchus was so welbeloued, that for his sake the fautes of Claudius were hys and not spoken of.

Deprecari munus, to excuse hym in taking on hym an office of charge.

Deprecari culpam, to excuse hym selfe, and despay that the faulte be not layed to hym.

Deprecari periculum, to praye that he fall not into perill, or that he be in no danger.

Deprecari mortem, to despay pardone of death, or to endeavour him to save ones selfe.

Deprecabitur a vobis, he will beseeche you, or he will despay you earnestly.

Deprecatum venit ad me, visibi ignoscere, he came to intreate me that I should forgive hym.

Pacem deprecari, to intreate for peace.

Deprecari tibi exilium, to despay of make request, that he be not banished.

Precari, and Deprecari, sometimes contrarie: as, Sape precor mortem, mortem quoque deprecor idem.

Deprecari penam, to require of intreate, that he be not punished.

Nullam deprecor penam, I refuse no payne.

Nulla sunt imagines, quæ me a vobis deprecantur, I have no memoire of the noblenesse of mine auncetours, which make intreate to you for me.

Odiū summæ improbitatis deprecari excusatione summæ stultitiæ, to defende or excuse hym selfe of some greaite mischefe and lewdnesse, under the coloure and presence, that it was committed by folie, or lacke of wytte.

Deprehendo, di, dere, to take a manne by wares, to take tardie, to take one in the dede doinge, to knowe or perceue by inquite, or examination of other meanes.

Sometimes for Comprehendere, to take.

Manifesto deprehendere, so perceue manifestly.

Facinora oculis deprehendere, take a mans naughty actes.

Deprehensio, onis, a taking.

Deprehensus, or Deprensus, a, um, taken by wares; so that he can not tell what to doo, or whither to tourne, taken in the dede doinge, knowen; perceived.

Testis deprehensus, a witnes taken of trippes in his tale.

Deprehensus est in sermone, he was taken in his wordes.

Deprehensus est in scelere, he was taken with the faulte.

Depressus, a, um, lowe, pressed downe boulded, boulded.

Depressus, et Demersus, thrust downe, and boulded under the water.

Veritas depressa, trouthe kepte downe and troden under foote.

Depressus locus, a lowe place.

Depressa vox, a lowe voyce.

Aqua depressior et alior, contrarie.

Depretio, aui, are, to bypunge to a lisse price.

Deprimo, pressi, mere, to kepe downe, to thrust downe, to presse downe, to wepge downe, as one poppe in a balance wepgeth heavier than an other.

Deprimere naues, to make shippes to sinke and be drowned.

Deprimunt me quæ porto, my bourdeynes maketh me to soupe.

Extollere et deprimere, contrarie.

Locum deprimere, to make a place lower.

Deprimere vitem in terrâ, to plant a vyne.

Depromo, pti, mere, to drawe out, to declare, to fetch out, to take out.

Depromere ex libris, to fetch out of booke.

Depromit ex sensibus, he fetcheth it out of his owne wytte.

Depromere sagittam pharetra, to take an arrowe out of his quiver.

Depromptus, a, um, taken out, drawen oute, fetched out.

Depropero, aui, are, to make muche haste of speede.

Deproperant sedulo sacrificare, they make speede hastie to dooe sacrifice.

Depsius, a, um, or Depsius, a, um, kneaded, moulded, wrought with the hande.

Depso, pti, ptere, to worke a thynge with the handes, to the intente to make it softer, to kneade downe, wake, or other lyke thynge.

Depuber, or Depubis, depuberis, a childe of ponge beate, which is not come to ripe yeres.

Depudet, he hath layed aspe shame, he is past shame.

Depudico, aui, are, to dishoneste or violate a woman, a woode out of use.

Depugnatus, a, um, well fought.

Depugno, aui, are, to fight valiantly, to strive, to disagree.

Depugnare voluptas cum honestate, (shoddy) pleasure and honestie dooe not agree.

Cum animo suo depugnare, to fighte of streps with ones selfe.

Ferri depugnare, to fighte with a weapon.

Depugnatur, the impersonall, the battayle is fought.

Depulsio, onis, a putting of or letting a thing that it can not appoche.

Quæ causa iustior est belli gerendi, quam feruoris depulsio, What better cause is there to fight, than to withstand that we be not brought into scrutade and bondage.

Depulso, aui, are, the frequentative of Depello.

Depulsor, oris, m. g. one that hepty backe of putteth away a thynge.

Depulsus, a, um, put downe.

Depulsus, a, um, for Depulsus.

Depunio, or rather Depuio, uij, ire, to beate.

Depuratus, a, um, purified, cleansed from diseases and spliche.

Depurgo, aui, are, to cleanse any thynge under foote, to purge.

Depurgare locum aliquem ab herba, to weede any place, or to make it cleane from weeds and grasse.

Depurgare crimen, to discharge one of the faulte which is layed vnto hym.

Depuro, aui, are, to make cleane of pure, to purifie or cleanse.

Deputo, aui, are, to cut of, to esteeme, to iudge to repute.

Deputare rationes, to reken or make accpt.

Deputare indignum, he thynketh hym selfe unworthy.

Operam alicuius deputare parui precij, to esteeme a mans labour or pernes lttel worth.

Omne id deputat esse in lucro, all that he rekeneth for a vantage.

Me quoniam malo dignum deputem, I wold thynke my selfe worthy any mischefe, or punishment.

Dequeror, eris, estus sum, eri, to complayne.

Derado, si, ere, to chawse of or barke of, to scape of.

Deribes, people of Asta, about the sea called Mare Caspium, which have this custome, that when they frendes come to the age of xxx. yeres, they sea them, and eat them, eating all they neighbours to the feast.

Did women they sea not, but dooe only strangle them, and afterwards bury them.

Demerit, it men die before the sated age, they also dooe burye them.

Derogatio, onis, for, g. an abolishing of some parts of a lawe.

Derogatio, onis, for, g. an abolishing of some parts of a lawe.

Derogare, aui, are, to make instant despay, to praye heartily.

Derogo, aui, are, to diminish, to derogate, to take away, to abolishe parts of a lawe, by a decree of an other lawe.

Derogare sibi, to diminish his owne estimation, to saie he is not able to dooe so muche as he Derelictus, us, and Derelictio, onis, f. g. a leaving of forsaking.

Derelictus, a, um, forsaken.

Pro derelicto rem aliquam habere, to forsake a thynge utterly.

Derelictus ab omni spe, he of whome is no good hope of honestie, an hopeless.

Incultum et derelictum solum, a grounde unploughed and unhouseholded.

Derelicta et celebris regio, contrarie.

Derelictum habere, not to care for a thynge, or to neglect it.

Derepo, pui, ere, to escape a wate.

Deribitores, they whiche dooe number an estimate, and dooe paye the souldiours they wages: loke Diribitores.

Derideo, si, ere, to laugh to shame, to mocke.

Deridere atq; contemnere.

Deridere et Arridere, contrarie.

Deridiculum, li, n. g. a shame of a mocke.

Deridiculo esse, to be a laughing stocke.

Deridiculi est, it is a thing to be laughed at.

Per deridiculum audiri, to be laughed to shame when one is hard to tell his tale.

Deridiculus, a, um, that is to be laughed at.

Deripio, ripui, ere, to take away, to dispoyle.

Deripere aliquem capillo, to pull one downe by the heare of the heade.

Derisor, oris, m. g. a mocker one that laugheth an other to shame.

Derisus, a, um, mocked or had in contempte.

Derisus, us, m. g. in mocke, laughing to shame.

Derivatio, onis, a touening of water from one place to an other.

Deriuo, aui, are, to dislocate from one to an other, to lape to one, as to lape to a mans faulte, or charge, to take from one and geue to an other.

Deriuare aquam, to drawe water by a foot: so, to drawe it an other wate.

Deriuare iram alicuius in se, to tourne ones wrath and displeasure in his owne necke.

Deriuare crimen, to tourne the faulte from one to an other.

Deriuare suam culpam in aliquem, to lape his owne faulte to an other mans charge.

Deriuare responsionem alio, he turned his answer an other wate, or to other matters.

Derodo, si, ere, to gnaw or nibble.

Derogatio, onis, for, g. an abolishing of some parts of a lawe.

Derogatio, onis, for, g. an abolishing of some parts of a lawe.

Derogare sibi, to diminish his owne estimation, to saie he is not able to dooe so muche as he

D ANTE E.

as he can, to disable ones selfe.
 Derogare de fide testium, to diminish the credence of the witnesses.
 De lege aliquid derogare, to forgoe some parte of the lawe.
 Derogare fide alicui, to put no trust in one.
 Derolus, a, um, participi, a Derodor, gnawen or gnibbled.
 Deseri, people of Grece in the borders of Thrace.
 Derumpo, rupi, ere idem quod Dirumpere, to breake.
 Deruncino, aui, are, to cut or pull of that whiche is superfluous.
 Deruptum, ti, n, g, a place that is strepe downe.
 Deruptus, a, um, broken, strepe downe.
 Deruo, rui, uere, to fall downe.
 Deruere de ludibus alicuius, to diminish another mans playe and commendation.
 Des, a people of egypt owners.
 Desacio, aui, are, to consecrate or dedicate.
 Desario, aui, are, to dance footste a dance.
 Desacio, famini, n, e, to be woode angrie, some come to cease to be angrie, to shewe extreme truste.
 Desagere plebeio desauire, to shewe extreme truste towards to common people.
 Descendo, di, ere, to go downe, to descende, consensu onely to go, to consende or agree to a man.
 Descendere in altum, to go deepe downe.
 Descendere in aciem, to go into the battail.
 Descendere in se, to humble hym selfe, to confesse in him self the baseness of his estate.
 Descendere in causam, to come in strepe.
 Descenditur gradibus, one goeth downe by stappes.
 Descenderunt ex oculis lacrimæ, the teares fell frome his eyes, he wepte.
 Descendimus ad nostras nauiculas, we wete to our shippes.
 Descendere equo, and ex equo, to lpghte do wne from horse backe.
 Descendent radice arbores, the trees take deepe roote.
 Ad condiciones alterius descendere, to agree to another mans offer or condition.
 Descendere ad alterutram condicionem vult, he woulde haue hym to agree to one of the offers.
 Descendere in certamen, to enter into battaile, to lpghte.
 Descendere ad extremum auxilium, to vse the extreme refuge and succour.
 Descendere obuiam alicui, to goe to meet with one.
 Descendere in omnia familiaritatis officia, whan a pynce or great estate vouches safely to shewe all tokens of familiaritee to a meane persone.

D ANTE E.

Ad preces descendere dicitur quis, whan he dooth entreate for that he wate commaunde.
 Descensus, us, m, a, g, c, a goyng downe, a descendinge.
 Descensus, onis idem.
 Descensionis facere, to descend or go downe.
 Descio, iui, ne, to knowe not.
 Descisco, iui, sciscere, to disagree, to leaue, to forsake, to leaue his capitaine or fowerain and go to another, to rechele.
 Desciscere a se, to change his forme of lpyng or facon.
 Desciscere a consuetudine parentum, to leaue the custome or maner of his parentes.
 Desciscere a natura, to alter fro one nature.
 Desciscere ab opinione alterius, to forsake another mans opinion.
 Desciscere a veritate, to forsake the treuth.
 Desciscere a vita, to dye.
 Descriptum, the impersonall.
 Describinatus, a, um, lame, mathemed, hurte.
 Describo, pli, ere, to write out of a copy, to apoyne, to apointe, to foyle, to place, to place or write abusidly, to declare or despyse.
 Describere pecuniam in ciuitate, to asseesse somme of money in a caye to be paid in summe cytes.
 Describere rationes, to make accomptes in an ordie.
 Describere in genera, to deuise a thyng in a to dyuerse kyndes.
 Latronem et sicarium aliquem describere, to signifie one by the name of these or mures brex, without rehercyng his propre name.
 Describere librum ab aliquo, to write out a boke by another mans copie.
 Descriptio, onis, f, g, a copie, a description.
 Descriptio populi, a dryng of the people into diuers partes and bandes, in a quarrell betwene two persons.
 Descriptions tempore, the historye of thynges whiche haue happened, accorpyng to the ordie of tyme.
 Deseco, aui, et ui, are, to cutte in sundre, to cutte of.
 Desecare prata, to mowe the meadowes.
 Desecare vitem, to cut a vyne.
 Desecare collum alicui, to cut of ones necke.
 Desecratus, a, um, discharged.
 Desecro, aui, are, to discharge.
 Desectio, onis, a cutpyng of or mowpyng downe of coine, strawe, or grasse.
 Desectus, a, um, cut of, mowed downe.
 Desedeo, desedi, ere, to spite downe.
 Desero, ui, ere, to leaue or forsake.
 Deserere pignus, to lose his gage.
 Deserere vadimonium, to make default where one is bound to appeere before a iudge or other great officer.

Deserere

D ANTE E.

Deserere in malis, to forsake one in aduersity.
 Deseruit me fides et fama, I haue lost my credence and good name.
 Deseri a mente, whan ones wyttes doo faile hym.
 Causam suam deserere, to geue ouer, or to geue place in a matter, whan one hath entreated to defende it.
 Deserunt huc genus, his knees faile hym, his legges bee weerp.
 Preces alicuius deserere, not to heare ones prayes, not to dooe as one despyeth hym.
 Deserere vitam suam, to offer ones selfe to death without lpght.
 Deseruo, onis, f, g, a forsaking in tyme of neede.
 Deserto, ui, are, to forsake.
 Desertor, oris, he that leaueth his countrey, and goeth to his enemies: A traytour, one that forsaketh his felende in tyme of neede.
 Desertor miles, a soudiour that departeth without licence.
 Desertor salutis meæ, one that forsaketh me whan my lpe is in leoperdie.
 Desertum, ti, n, g, a desert or wyldernesse.
 Desertus, a, um, forsaken, not habitable, where no man dwelleth, deserte.
 Deserta regio, a countrey not inhabited.
 Desertus ager, a fiede out of epithe, vns husbanded.
 Desertus homo, a man forsaken.
 Celebris et desertus, contrarie.
 Deseruio, uiui, ire, to obeye or serue humbly, some tyme to doo yll seruise.
 Deseruere studijs, to apply lernyng or study.
 Deseruere amicis, to obeye his frendes, and apply hym selfe to folowe thei myndes.
 Deseruere corpori, to cheerye the body.
 Deses, desidis, vnaccepted, ydell.
 Vita deses, an ydell lpe.
 Cura deses, negligence of mynde.
 Passu deside ire, to go slowly.
 Desidem ab opere suo aliquem facere, To make one a toptarer, and not to regard his woorkes.
 Deseco, aui, are, to dye vp.
 Desideo, sedi, ere, to speke little, to abyde in a place, to bee ydell.
 Desiderium, looke Desyderium.
 Desidia, x, f, g, slothfulness, ydelness.
 Animum mittere desidia, to infect the mynde with ydelness or slothfulness.
 Socordia et Desidia.
 Desidiöse, slothfully, ydelly.
 Desidiosus, a, um, full of ydelness, slothfully.
 Desido, sedi, ere, to speke little or contently, to speke on a thyng, to speke on a chawmber spole. It is also poynted whan the death doeth gape of chynne.
 Terra desedit, the ground opened or gaped.
 Desidit amor, the swelling affuageth.

D ANTE E.

Designatio, a deuise or ordynance, an appoyntment.
 Designator, oris, m, g, a marshall, whiche setteth or appoynteth euery manne to his place conuenient, after his degrees or office. They whiche in solemne pompes and speches, see that men kepe their places and order, be called Designatores.
 Designatus, a, um, assigned, ordyned, appoynted, ydelness.
 Designati consules, Prætores, Tribuni, thes whiche were elected and appoynted to succede them whiche at that tyme exercised the sated offices.
 Res designata, a thyng ordyned, purposed, and ydelness.
 Respublica ratione et disciplina designata, a common weale set in good order and well appoynted.
 Designo, aui, are, to assigne, to note or signifie, to dade a thyng newely, also to appoint it for som purpose.
 Designari, to be poynted at of the people as they doeth in the streets.
 Designare nota ignominie, to putte one to some reproche or open rebuke.
 Desilio, iui, li, o, iui, ire, to leape or lpghte downe.
 Desilire ad pedes, to lpght on foote.
 Desilire ab equo, to lpght of his horse.
 Desino, si, o, iui, ere, to leaue, to cease, to make an ende, to holde ones pace.
 Desinas, holde thy pace.
 Desinere artem, to leaue the craft.
 Desinit in violam, it draweth to the colour of violet.
 Desine ei succedere, be no more angrie with hym.
 Desinere gradatim, to make an ende of a thyng by litle and litle.
 Desinunt cadauca, transiope thynges haue an ende.
 Desinere bellum, to leaue of warre.
 Desinit dicto magistri esse obediens, he is no more obedient to his maysters commaundement.
 Desinit in orbem, the ende is rounde lyke a cetele.
 Desinitur, the impersonall.
 Desipio, pui, o, pui, ere, and desipisco, to dooe foolshely, to waste foolshly.
 Senectute desipere, to dooe or waste foolshly for age.
 Desipere et desirare.
 Desisto, desisti, ere, to leaue of, to abyde or tasep, some tyme to departe.
 Desistere conatu, and incepto, to leaue his entrepyse.
 Desistere libus, to leaue fatte.
 Desistente autumno, at the ende of autumn of harnest.
 Ne desistat currere, cease not to runne continually.
 Quid illic desistit obscuro tam diu? I praye the, why doest thou carye to longe?

P. 4.

Quid

Quid ille iratus abs te desistit? what is the matter, that he parted from the sleeping to awake?
 Rogat vrid facere desistat, he despyeth them that they will dooe no more so.
 Desistere fuga, to casse to flee or ren a wale.
 De aliqua mente desistere, to chaunge ones mynde or opinion in a matter.
 Sententia, or de sententia desistere idem.
 Negotio desistere, to leaue of a busynesse.
 Itinere desistere, to breahe of ones iourney.
 Desitus, a, um, lesse, forsaken.
 Non esset desitum, They shoulde not haue lesse of.
 Ille orationes legi sunt desitae, Those orations are no more read.
 Desitatus, a, a science out of vse, not spoken of.
 Primus Papius est vocari desitus, he was the fyrste that was left to be called Papius, or in hym the name of Papius, fyrst ceased.
 Desolatus, a, um, that is made desolate, or destroyed.
 Loca deserta et desolata, desolate and deserted places.
 Desolo, am, are, to make desolate.
 Despectio, onis, a despying, a looking downe: ward.
 Despectio, aui, are, to looke muche downward.
 Despectus, us, regarde or spght, sometye despyte, contempte, neglecting.
 Despectus, a, um, despyed, contemned, littell sette by.
 Desperanter, desperately.
 Desperatio, onis, despye to obteyne a thyng.
 Victoria desperatio, dyspaye to obteyne victorie.
 Desperatus, a, um, desperate, also wherein one hath no hope.
 Despero, am, are, to dyspaye, to haue no hope at all.
 Desperare fugam, to haue no hope to flee.
 Honores desperare, to haue no hope to come in honour.
 Pacem desperari, I haue no hope of peace at all.
 Desperari de re publica, I haue no hope that cure the common weale shall be in good case agayne.
 Ab aliquo desperare, to dyspaye that he may haue any helpe or succour of one.
 Despicabilis, to bee despyed.
 Despicatio, onis, f. g. idem quod Despicatus.
 Despicatus, us, m. g. contempte, despyte.
 Despicatus duci, to bee contemned or despyed.
 Despicatus, a, um, he by whom no man setteth, despyed, contemned.
 Despicentia, a, f. c. gener. despyng or contemnyng.
 Despicentia rerum humanarum, the contempt of worldly thynges.

 Despicio, exiere, to looke or beholde downe, to despyte. Also for Aspiciere, to see or looke, also to sette sprell by, sometye to regarde or consyder.
 Despicere in terram, to looke downe vppon the grounde.
 Despicor, aris, ari, to despyte, to contemne.
 Despicus, a, watche man to see who cometh, as it is in Salepe.
 Despolio, aui, are, to despoyle, to robbe.
 Despoliare digitos, to pull the rynges from ones fyngers.
 Templum despoliare, to spoyle or robbe a temple or churche.
 Despoliare virgis dorsum alicuius, to beate one vntill he blede.
 Despondeo, di, ere, to assistance or betrothe. Also to promyse ones soone or daughter in marriage.
 Despondere animum, to bee in desperacion or weerye of lyfe, to dyspaye of any thyng that a man seeketh for.
 Despondere sapientiam, to dyspaye to come to wysedome.
 Despondere prouinciam, to geue one charge or rule of a countreie.
 Despondere sibi domum alicuius, to make hym selfe assured to haue an other mans house.
 Despondebitur, one shall make hym agreed.
 Desponsatus, a, um, idem quod desponsus.
 Desponsata, et destinata laus, pryse looked for and bewe.
 Desponso, aui, are, to assistance a woman.
 Desponsus, a, um, assisted, or promysed in marriage.
 Desponsa laus, pryse or commendacion that is woorthly geuen to a man.
 Despretus, a, um, greatly contemned, verate sprell sette by.
 Despumo, aui, are, to summe or clarifie any lla cour, also to caste by some.
 Despuo, ui, ere, to spette downe, or to spette on a thyng, to detest or delude, to contemne.
 Despuere in mores, to blame the maners or condicions of one.
 Despuir, the impersonall.
 Desquamo, aui, are, to shake a fyffe.
 Desquamare pisces, to take of the scales from fyshes.
 Desquamare arbores, to barke trees.
 Desquamare vestem, to barke clothe.
 Deserto, ui, ere, to snotte.
 Desico, aui, are, to make a nyse lye a ratte.
 Destillo, aui, are, idem quod Distillo.
 Destinatio, onis, a pourpose appoyntement, a deliberacion.
 Destinatus, a, um, appoynted, certayne, determined.
 Destino,

Destino, aui, are, to pourpose, to appoynte, to depute, to prepare, to choole, to eye to a thyng, to sende, to sette a pyce, to leuelle of a marke.
 Quanti destinatus es? (fo) howe much will he sell his house?
 Destinare puellam, to promyse the mayden in matryage to one.
 Destinare diem necis alicui, to apoynt a day when one shall be hylled.
 Destinare animo, vel animis, et in animo, to purpose in his mynde.
 Destinare animo auctorem cordis, to suspect one to be the authour of the murder.
 Destinatum est mihi, and Destinatum est mihi in animo, I haue purposed.
 Destinare agrum cibo, to appoynte a siche man to eate meate.
 Destinare alicui prouinciam, to appoynte or assigne to one the gouernance of a prouince.
 Destinare aliquid agere, to pourpose to doo a thyng.
 Destinare legationem, to send an ambassade.
 Destituo, ui, ere, to forsake, to leaue, to despyte or take fro, to loue or vnynde, to set doune a man, to breahe promyse.
 Destituit omnes seruos ad mensam ante se, he dtd sette doune all his seruantes at the table before hym.
 Destituere spem, to dysappoynte one of the truste that he had in hym.
 Destituit aliquem, he bryake promyse with one.
 Destituit ciuitatem, he dysappoynted the citee.
 Incipit opus destituere, to leaue of a worke that one hath enterprised.
 Destituo, onis, a leauing or forsaking.
 Destitutus, a, um, forsaken, destituted, sometye one that is desperate.
 Detrigmentum, ti, n. g. that is scraped of a thyng.
 Destringo, xi, ere, to bynde harde, to cut of, to rubbe or scrape of, also to abate.
 Destruxit aciem, it blemysed the spght.
 Destruibile, that whiche shall be destroyed.
 Destruo, xi, ere, to destroye, to thowe downe that whiche is builded.
 Destruere testes, to destroye the witnesses by shewing of theyr ill maners, to byng theim out of credence.
 Desubito, sodeynly, vnprotyed.
 Desubulo, aui, are, to perce, properly with an aule or bodapn.
 Desudalco, scere, to labour vntill he sweate.
 Desudo, aui, are, to sweate or labour muche.
 Desuefacio, to byng out of vse, to leaue ones facton.
 Desuefactus, out of custome or vse.
 Desuecio, fieri, to be brought out of vse, to bee dyshd.
 Desuco, cui, ere, to byng out of custome, to dyshd.

 Desuecio, fieri, susecure, to dyshd or chaunge ones custome or facton.
 Desuecio, onis, a dyshd.
 Desuetus, out of vse.
 Desultor, onis, m. g. he that can wauke an horse, or leape from one horse to another, also those men of warre, that in tyme of battaille woulde leape doune of theyr horses quickly, and fyghte on foote, and leape by agayne as quickely, were called Desultores.
 Desultorius, a, um, that leapech from one to another, also vnconstant, waueryng, variable.
 Desultoria leuitas, spoken prouerbiaily of an vnconstant and waueryng person.
 Desultori equi, horses that scrud for the fouldours called Desultores.
 Desultura, a, f. g. lghyng up and down, batusyng of an horse, leapyng fro one to another.
 Desum, fui, esse, to lache, to faple.
 Deesse causa, not to defende one, not to take ones parte.
 Deesse occasione, not to take a thyng when occasion hapneth.
 Deesse officio, not to dooe his duette or endeavour.
 Deesse sibi, to bee negligence in his owne busynesse.
 Deesse animus, his courage fapled.
 Non desunt qui interpretentur, some menne doo interprete.
 Deesse alicui opera, not to helpe one.
 Deesse voluntati amicorum, not to folowe his frendes will.
 Deesse et abundare, contray.
 Non animus ei, sed vires defuerunt, he lachd not a mynde, but power and strength.
 Arbitratur non desore, he thoughte there wold be some.
 Deesse consilio, not to be present at a feast.
 Desumo, pli, mere, to take out, to choole.
 Desuper, from aboue. Desursum idem.
 Desyderabilis, le, woorthie to be wysshed for, or despyed.
 Desyderatio, onis, f. g. idem quod desyderiu.
 Desyderatus, a, um, despyed, wysshed for.
 Desyderati, men dead, or slayne in battaille.
 In eo praelio desyderata sunt, In that battaille the hundred were taken, and fifye thousande slayne and beade.
 Desyderata in magno philosopho grauitas the grauitie, whiche is requyred to be in so great a philosopher.
 Desyderium, n. n. g. despye, loue, despye, study, sometye absence, death, or the lacke of a thyng.
 Multarum rerum desyderio re angi necessitate erat, Medes made vs be greued with the sorrowfull remembrance of dyuers thynges.
 Desyo

Desyderia mulierum, the desyrng of the men stuous flice.
 Desyderia oculorum, the dysease called Ophthalmia.
 Afficere desyderio, to make despyous.
 Desyderio vrbis flagrant, to be very foyr
 the citie. Desyderio nagiare.
 Desyderio incendi, moueri, teneri, agi, to be verate despyous.
 Desyderio alterius aliquid facere, to dooe a thyng for an other mans sake.
 Relinquer desyderium hui apud aliquem, to make one to despye of wythe foyr hym, whan
 he is gone.
 Ita magno desyderio fuit ei filius, he was so greatly despyous of his sonne, or he longed so muche for his sonne.
 Erat in desyderio ciuitatis, The whole citie despyed hym, or wyshed for hym.
 Incutere desyderium, to make one despyous.
 Alium desyderium, my desire.
 Desyderio, au, are, to despye, to wythe foyr a thyng, also to requyre of looke for.
 Lepidus quod ego desyderabam fecit, That I despyed, Lepidus dyd.
 Neq, nunc vides desyderio adolescentis, no plusquam adulescentis nunc vides desyderabam, For I now doo more wythe to haue a yong mans strength, than whan I was yong
 I wyshed the strength of a bulle.
 Virtus nullum aliam mercedem suorum la-borum desyderat, prter hanc laudis et glo-riae, Vertue requirerh none other reward for his labour, but this only of praisse & renoume.
 Quis ab eis vllam rem laude dignam desyderat? Who looketh for any thyng of theim worthy commendation?
 Mercedem (vt video fore) partes meae,
 nunc desyderantur, If it chaunce to bee
 warre as I perceiue it will, there shal lacke nothing in me, in dooing my duetie, or for my parte I wyll not faile.
 Cum vides meas non desyderat, The Sea-nate hath no neede of myne ayde.
 Desydero abs te aliquid, Aske seemeth thou doost not as I would haue the to dooe.
 Desyderant non nunquam Agrippa pati-entiam, he was foyr that Agrippa was no more patient.
 Vt ego tuum dolorem amoremq, desydero, I fynde lacke that thou dost not lous, noy arte not foyr.
 Hac longam desyderant orationem, These thynges requyre many wordes, or to be spoken of at large. Nihil desydero, I passe not,
 I care not. Desyderare Ciceronis eloquentiam, to be foyr that he hath not. Ciceron eloquence. Nulla nauis desyderabatur, Neuer a shyppe perished or was tolle.
 Detectus, a, um, discouered, disclosed, made apparat and manifest, bare, naked.

 Detectus caput, he that hath his heade discouered.
 Detego, tegi, ere, to disclose or discouer, to open, to vtter.
 Detegere stomachum, to vtter his stomake of mynde. Detegere insidias, to disclose or open wyles or decepten.
 Detendo, di, ere, to stretche out, or to stretche forth.
 Detentio, onis, a withholdeing or retaynyng.
 Deter, lachng somewhat, pill.
 Deterior, woofse, Deterimus, woofse.
 Color deterimus, a verate pill colour.
 Deteriori condicione esse, to be in woysse state or condicon.
 Deterius facere, to appayse a thyng, to make it woofse.
 Deteriore tempore, at a woofse occasion.
 Deteriore iure esse, to be in woysse condicon.
 Detergeo, es, or Detergo, is, si, ere, or ere, to wype of, to make cleane, to scoure.
 Detergere salsidia, to put awat tothsomnes.
 Lachrymas detergere, to wype awat the teares from ones eyes.
 Detergere gemmas, to rubbe of the buddes of the vine.
 Detergere samenta arboribus, to cut grasses from trees.
 Remos detergere, to cut of the oyes.
 Determinatio, onis, a determinacion, a conclusion of endyng.
 Determinatus, a, um, determined, discusse.
 Determino, au, are, to prescribe the boundes or lymites of a thyng, to determyne or discusse.
 Detero, trui, ere, to bruse, to beate oute, as grapne is beaten out of the eare with thesta-thyng or treshyng, to empare, to hurt or weare
 Deterere calces, to weare out shoen.
 Deterere sumptum, to lose his costes or expē-
 ses. Deterere frumenta, to theste coyne.
 Aliquid vsuipso deteretur, somewhat will be woyn awat with vse.
 Deterreo, ui, ere, to putte in feare, to leat by feare, to discoufse, to feare one from his purpose. Deterre a sententia, to make one as-frayde to abyde in his opinion.
 Deterre a studijs, to feare one from studie or learning.
 Deterre a scribendo, to make one asfayde to wyte.
 Deterre et Cohortare, contrary.
 Deterre, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth in woysse condicon, moste vngacious.
 Deteritus, a, um, abnshed, made asfayde.
 Ab officio deteritus, made asfayde to dooe his duetie.
 Detestabilis, le, abhominable, detestable.
 Detestabile et pestiferum.
 Detestatio, onis, abhorreng, execration, sum-

summonng with witness. also Apuleius
 taketh it for geldyng.
 Detestor, aris, ari, to abhorre, to detest, to take earnestly to witness, to eschue and put from hym by woofdes. Amonge Christians Detestari is to summon a man with witness.
 Detestari inuidiam, to eschue enue.
 Caput alicuius detestari hostili prece, to curse of banne.
 Detestari iram dei, in caput alicuius, to curse with a solemn othe, to wythe the vengeance and wraethe of god to light on one.
 Auertere et detestari.
 Detexo, xui, ere, to weaue, or to wynde.
 Detexere telam, to weaue by the webbe.
 Detinco, ui, ere, to withholde, to retayne from libertie, to leat of cause to tary.
 Detinere aliquem et demorari.
 Detinere aliquem de suo negotio, to let one from his busynesse.
 Maiori aliquo negotio detineri, to be letted or caused to tary by the meane of som great busynesse.
 Detinent terras niues, The snowe lyeth long vpon the grounde.
 Detines me suspensum, Thou keepest me
 longe in doubte.
 Detineri ventis, to bee kepte in any place by the meane of contrary wyndes.
 Detondeo, detondi, ere, to sheare of clyppe, to motte of polle.
 Detono, ui, are, to make a great sounne of noyse.
 Detorno, au, are, to woofse as touncers dooe,
 to tourne of thowe.
 Detorqueo, tori, quere, to boowe, to tourne out of the right wale, also to tourne a thyng from the one syde to the other.
 Recte facta detorqueo, to interpret in an ill parte, the thyng that is well dooen.
 Praue detorta opinio, an opinton myshaken,
 and farre from the true meanyng.
 Detorquere a virtute, to tourne ones mynde
 from vertue.
 Fletere et detorquere voluntatem alicuius, to tourne of wythe a mans mynde to an other purpose.
 Detorsus, a, um, tourned awate, withed.
 Detractio, onis, a pluckyng away or from one.
 It is also dysparyng or ill report, detractioon, slaunderyng, backbityng. It signifieth also withdawayng of any thyng necessary. also purgeng of excrementes and ill humours of the bodie.
 Detractio sanguinis, leatpnyng of bloude.
 Detractio alieni, the takyng awate of an other mans gooddes.
 Detractor, oris, m. g. he that reporteth ill, or speaketh ill of any ope, a slaunderer, back-biter, or detracter.
 Detrahus, a, um, withdawayn, plucked away,

Detraho, xi, ere, to drawe or plucke of, to take from one by violence, to repoyte ill of one, to diminish of abate, to pull awate, sometyme to plucke backe.
 Detrahere alumnus mamma, to weane a chyld.
 Detrahere de coelo, to pulle out of heauen, or from heauen, to put one out of great estimation.
 Detrahere alicui, to repoyte ill, or sale pille
 of one.
 Detrahere de autoritate Senatus, to haue
 the senate in contempte.
 Detrahere de se, to blame hym selfe.
 Detrahere de pecunia, to abate of the money.
 Detrahere de suis commodis, to minishe his owne commodities or pofites.
 Detrahere in iudicium, to byng in iudgemēt.
 Detrahere sanguinem, to draw bloud of one.
 De fama alicuius detrahere, to mynyshe the estimation of one.
 De pondere detrahere, to abate of the weyghte.
 De suo iure detrahere, to remitte or abate
 somewhat of his right.
 Fidem verbis alicuius detrahere, to cause
 one not to be beleued.
 Ex summa detrahere, to abate of the summe.
 Ex redditu detrahere, to minishe his reues-nues. Precio detrahitur, the price is abated.
 Detrahere collo, to plucke from ones necke.
 De digito anulum detrahit, he plucked his ryng from his fnger.
 Non cessat de nobis detrahere, he ceaseth not to dimishe our estimation, by his pille repoyte.
 Detrahere calamitatem alicui, to putte one out of misery and trouble.
 Detrahere honorem debitum alicui, to take from one the honour that is due to hym.
 Detrahere salidum, to take awate tothesomnesse.
 Vt cum ab illa iniuria detraherent, that they shoulde withdawe hym from dooynge that iniurie to me.
 Detrahere lunam coelo, to pulle downe the moone out of the skye.
 Detrahere facum, to pull away the false colour: And by a metaphoye, to discouer falshode and decepte.
 Detractio, onis, for. g. a refusall or denall to dooe a thyng.
 Detractor, oris, m. g. he that refuseth or denyeth to doo a thyng.
 Detrecto, au, are, to refuse to doo a thyng. It also signifieth to abate.
 A dueris res etiam bonos detractant, Ab-uersitee abateth mens reputation, although they be good men.
 Benefacta maligne detractare, to dys-
 2. iii. p. 111

warre and blame good thynges.
 Deuotum, delectare, to refuse warfare.
 Deuotum delectare, to refuse to haue one thyng, churche and foueraigne.
 Deuotum, u, n. g. detriment of damage.
 Deuotum lacere, or capere, to susteyne damage.
 Deuotum, et emolumentum, contrarie.
 Deuotum, et Detrimentum.
 Deuotum, a, um, that whiche is cause of muche damage or hurte.
 Deuotum, si, ere, to humble downe. sometime to contraine of inforce, to cause of putte one out of any place.
 Deuotum comitia in aduentum alicuius, to deserre of put of the parliament spt a mans comynge.
 Deuotum in carcerem, to be put in prison.
 Deuotum regno, to putte one out of his roialte.
 Deuotum detrudere, to make one to forsake his opynion.
 Deuotum naues scopulo, they thurst of put backe the shippes from the rocks.
 Deuotum in luctum, to caste one into mourning.
 Deuotum ad mendicantem, to make one a begger.
 Deuotum ad necessitas, necessitate enaforced us to too shere thynges.
 Deuotum, ui, are, to put out of one bestell into an orace.
 Deuotum, onis, a cutting sherte, a lopping of trees.
 Deuotum, ui, are, to cut of shopt of in pieces,
 also to cutt of the head a tree.
 Deuotum, u, are, to cutte a vnye.
 Deuotum caput, to cut of ones heade.
 Deuotum corpus, to cut of the armes, or any other partes of the body.
 Deuotum aliquem detruncare, to cutte of ones hande.
 Deuotum, he brought.
 Deuotum laudem, he referred all the pteple
 vnto hym.
 Deuotum, ui, ere, when swelling both affuage.
 Deuotum, ui, are, to beate downe, or to putt fro
 a thyng, to throwe downe one from an hygh place. Deuotum aliquem adibus, to thrust out out of his house.
 Deuotum de mente, to make one madde.
 Deuotum possessione, to put one out of possession.
 Deuotum omnibus deturbare ali-quem, to put a man besydes all that euer he hath.
 Deuotum ex magna spe, to put ouer of great hope.
 Deuotum, deturbi, gere, to when a thyng, whiche is broken or blowne both affuage itself.
 Deuotum, ui, are, to make soule of bestie, to make pcell fauoured.
 Deua, a quere in Scotland called Dee, and the towne called Dondee, is also Deua.

 Deuana, a town in the north part of England called Dancaster.
 Deuasto, ui, are, to waste of spoyle.
 Deuastio, the sonne of Prometheus, a man of greute wysehoome and vertue, who saved muche of the people of Grece in the tyme of an vnusurall flood, whereby the moxe parte of Grece was drowned. The poete feigne that after the flood, he asked counsaile of the gods desse Themis, howe manhynde might be restoyed: and it was answered, yf he and his wyfe Prometheus, wold cast the bones of theyr mother behynde them. Deuastio (being verp wittie) percepued, that the erth was mothee of all thynges, and the bones the bones thereof. Therfore he thus stoned behynde hym, and they became men: and his wife bpd likewise:
 and they became women. But in dede he saued the people by byngng them to the litle called Prometheus. He was vnto the comynge of Christe. 1574. yeres.
 Deuictus, a, um, caried a wate, caried downe.
 Deuicho, xi, here, to carpe from a place, to carpe downe.
 Deuicello, uelli, opuli, ere, to pulle awaye, to plucke of.
 Deuicelo, ui, are, to disouer, to open.
 Deueneror, aris, ari, to wooyshep.
 Deuemo, in, iure, to come downe from hygh to lowe, from richesse to pouerree: from prosper-itie to aduersitee, sometime generally to come Deuennit ad senatum, to haue refuge of res-coure to the Senate.
 Deuennit ad maturitatem, to waxe of beys come ripe.
 Ad iuris studium deuenire, to geue ones self to the study of the lawe.
 Deuennit in victoris manus, to come in to the conquerours handes.
 Miseret me tantum illi deuenisse mali, it ptesteth me, that so muche pte hath chaunced to hym.
 Deuennit domum, to come home.
 Deuennit in medium certamen, to come to the middell of the conflicte of battayle.
 Deuennit in aliquem, to chaunce on one.
 Deuennit in alienas manus, to come into an other mans handes.
 Deuennit, ui, are, so make soule, to disgrace,
 to deface.
 Deuenero, ui, are, to bzate muche.
 Deuenerbium, lookie Diuerbium.
 Deuenero, ri, ere, to sweep cleane awate.
 Deuertus, tournd downewerde.
 Deuerto, lookie Diuerto.
 Deuestio, ui, ire, to vnclothe.
 Deueto, ui, are, to forbydde.
 Deuexitus, aris, f. g. holownesse.
 Deuexo, ui, are, to vex muche.

Deues

Deuexus, a, um, holowe, or lyke to a balape, doowd.
 Deuictus, overcome, subdued, vanquished.
 Deuincio, xi, ere, to bynde faste, to fornye of knyght in familiaritee of frendshipp, to make one bounden to hym.
 Deuincit se sceleris, he byngeth hym selfe in daungee for the offence of mysdoe.
 Vbi animus semel se cupiditate deuinxerit mala, when the mynde hath ones intangled of captiued it selfe with any yll desyre of naughter appetite.
 Deuincere hominum inter homines societatem, to knyte of toigne societes of frendshipp betwene men.
 Deuincere aliquem sibi beneficiis, to bynde
 one to hym by shewing frendly pleasures.
 Hoc beneficio vtrique ab utrisque deuincimur, ni, by means of this benefite, ye be bounde
 eyther to ether.
 Affinitate sese alicui deuincere, to bynd hym
 selfe to a man by affinitie of kynred.
 Exderibus deuincitur fides cum hoste, our faith and promise is made sure to our enmenies by couseauces.
 Deuinctus, a, um, bounden, properly in buette of ostra.
 Deuio, ui, are, to go out of the wate.
 Deuirgino, ui, are, to defloure a mayden.
 Deuirginari, spoken of theym that bee past chydshode.
 Deuitatio, onis, an aduoyding of thannynge.
 Deuito, ui, are, to eschewe, to shonne, to auoyde.
 Subterfugere et deuitare.
 Deuitare aliquem, to eschewe ones company.
 Deuitatum se a me putat, he thynketh that I dooe eschue his company.
 Deuius, a, um, out of the ryghte wate, or that dweller farre out of the wate.
 Deuium iter, a wate not haunted of bled to be gone.
 Deuium scortum, a common harlotte.
 Aus deuia, an oute.
 Deuium tibi non erit, It will not be out of your wate.
 Omnibus consilis deuius & pceptis, easte
 and sootythe in all his counsailes.
 Deuius, uncis, mafe. gene. a leuen ounces, and a measure, wherthe was as muche as a temperate man bled to bynke at alien byaughtres. It is sometime taken for the .pi. part of any thyng.
 Deuoco, ui, are, to call asyde, or call awate, to calle of fecthe downe.
 Deuocare in suspitionem, to bynge in suspicion.
 Deuocare a celo philosophiam, by translation to bynge philosophye from conspe-ration of heauentye thynges, to humayne matte.

 Deuolo, ui, are, to flic of renne from an hygher place to a lower, to go with spede.
 Deuolare de celo, to flic down from heauen.
 Deuolant de tribunali, they go spedy from the iudgement seate.
 In portum deuoluit, he spedde hym quith-
 ly towards the haven.
 Deuoluo, ui, ere, to tumble or rolle downe, by translation it signifyeth it is fallen, comen, or hapned from one to an other.
 Deuolui ad otium, to be geuen to ydelnesse.
 Deuolui retro, to be touned backe.
 Deuolutio, onis, tumbling or rolling downe.
 Deuolutus, a, um, tumbled downe.
 Deuoluta est hereditas, The inheritance is fallen or come.
 Deuoluta est res est, The matter is come to
 that pntice.
 Ad spem pacis estis deuoluti, ye conceived an hope of peate.
 Deuona, a, to one in Almayn called Newmark betwene Ruremberge, and Rantzburge.
 Deuoratus, a, um, deuoured, consumed.
 Deuorata vires, cresses beeyng sucked bype with earthquakes.
 Deuoro, ui, are, to deuoure, to eate withoute chawynge, to swallowe downe whole. some-tyme to beare of suffre patiently.
 Hoc triduum mihi deuorandum est, This labour must I susteyne.
 Deuorare dicta, to take good hede vnto wodes, to heare diligently.
 Deuorare hominum ineptias, to scete littell
 by mens foly.
 Deuorare libros, to reade ouer many and sundry booke hastily, to reade greedily.
 Deuorare molestiam paucorum dierum, to passe ouer a thyng lightly, that is a lyttell whyple greuous.
 Deuorare nomen alicuius, to forget a mans nes name.
 Deuorare orationem, to heare a tale without taking any hede: also to heare a mans tale gladly and with great pleasure.
 Deuorare pecuniam, to consume all his substance.
 Deuorare spe lucrum, to couet a thyng so mu-che, that he thynketh all redy that he hath it.
 Deuotio, onis, f. g. a curse, a bowe to dye, or to make a man dye.
 Deuotiones, byualtythe innocations to the damage of ote.
 Deuoto, ui, are, to bynde by a bowe.
 Deuotorius, a, um, concernyng a bowe of curse.
 Deuotoria carmina, innocations, curses.
 Deuotus, a, um, bowed of cursed, dedycat-ed, destinate.
 Deuotus et donatus studiis, one addicte and geuen to study and lernynge.
 Y. llll, Deuot

D ANTE E.

Deuotus vobis animus, a mynde geuen and addicte to doo you pleasure and seruice.
 Deuotus, i. m. g. one that is faithfull and obedient. Also geuen of determynd to doo some thyng. he that is twoyne not to forsake one.
 Deuon, men that promise to lye and dye, in the seruice of pynckes of capitaines.
 Deuouco, u. e. c. to voue or curse, to consente to dye, to addicte of geue.
 Deuouere, to make a voue to dye in any quarell, or for the sauegarde of other.
 Deuouere se amicitia alicuius, to geue ones selfe whole to the loue of one.
 Deuouere alicuiem, to curse one.
 Deuro, u. i. e. c. to bouene.
 Deus, God.
 Alipes deus, Mercurie.
 Aicitenens deus, Apollo.
 Armiger deus, Mars.
 Auerruncus deus, looke Auerruncus.
 Auidus deus, Pluto.
 Noctinagus deus, sleape.
 Inuercundus deus, Bacchus.
 Auentant omen di, god forgydde.
 Si dijs placet, iromia.
 Dymeliora, god forgydde.
 Tettari deum, to take god to wytnesse.
 Dymene verant, god sende vs good lucke.
 Dymfaciant, god graunte, woulde to god.
 Dymiuantibus, with goddis helpe.
 Dexamene, a nymphe of the sea.
 Dexippus, a physitian, the scholar of Hippocrates.
 Dextans, anis, m. g. a weyght, beryng x. ounces: some haue taken it for ten dosen.
 Dextella, x, f. g. a diminutiu of dextra.
 Dexter, u. i. u. m. o. Dexter, i. e. a, i. e. m. right or apt, hanfome, conuenient, prosperous, propyse, fauourable, quicke, and diligent.
 Dexter ades ducibus, assiste and ayd our captaynes.
 Dextera, vel dextra, the ryght hande, somtyme on the ryght spde.
 Dexteram tendere, to geue to one hys hand.
 Dextram dare, to heale of apde.
 Dextram dextra committere, to promyse faith and trouthe in hande.
 Cedo dextram, geue me thynne hande.
 Conferre dextris, to fornye battayle.
 Dextra iungere dextram, the auncient manner of saluting, also to agree.
 Dextra leuag, bothe on the ryght and on the lefte hande.
 A dextra, on the ryght hande.
 Dexter, propyse, aptely, feately, fortunately, hanfome.
 Dexterior, Dexterior, more posper or apte.
 Dexterior, anis, f. g. apte and cōpynesse in the thyng that a man goeth aboute, handes sometyme dexterior.

D ANTE E.

Dextero, aul, are, to leade in the ryght hande, to couple hoyses in a teeme, to set one on hys right syde.
 Dextimi, hoysmen beryng on the ryght wyng in battayle.
 Dextimus, olde wyrters used for Dexter.
 Dextrale, a bracelette to weare on the ryght arme.
 Dextrarij, hoyses fornyed in a teeme.
 Dextrocherium, a bracelette made lyke a byode howpe of golde, sette with peryous stones.
 Dextrorsus, and Dextrorsum, towards the ryght hande, or on the ryght hande.
 Dextrouersum, idem.

D ANTE I.

DI, and Dis, two prepositions, used onely in composition.
 Dia, an addition to women's names, whan they foolthe louers will make thems equal to goddesses. It is also an ple by Grece called Naxus. fynally this woorde Dia, is sette before all noble confections, dyspysed by the Grekes, as Diacalamynthe, Diackonites, Diapapauer, &c.
 Diabathra, a certayne softe of shoes used in Grece.
 Diabathrarius, rij, masc. gene. a maker of such shoes.
 Diabetes, tis, a passyng through.
 Diabeticus, a frenesie, whiche causeth that one can not holde his vrine.
 Diabolus, the dyuell: Howe be it in greke it signifieth propyse a false accuser.
 Diacheton, idem quod Diapason.
 Diacodion, is a syrope made with the topes of the herbe called Dypse and water, whiche prospereth agaynst cūmes, and to cause one to sleape.
 Diaconus, ni, m. g. a deacon. In greke it signifieth a minster.
 Diacyroniten, or Diacydonium, a confection made with the sarce of quinces and honny of suger, and is an excellent medicine for feble stomaches.
 Diadema, anis, neut. gene. an hygh cappe, wherewith an emperour or kynge weareth his crowne: or rather a wyghte bande, in manner of a lypell towell, wherby beryng rolled aboute a thynge, luynges used to weare, as they doo yet in Turke: It is now used for a kynge's crowne.
 Diadematus, a, um, that weareth a diademe.
 Diadocos, a stone lyke berell.
 Digressio, tis, diuision, also a figure whan a syllable is diuided into two. As Albal, for Albx.
 Diata, x, f. g. a parlour to sup in. Also dyete in 144

D ANTE I.

in eatyng and drynyng. Also a place wher judgements were geuen.
 Diatarj, seruantes that do waite on the table. Somtyme such as doo haunte diners and suppers, to the intent to scale somwhat Dietetica, that parte of phisicke, that cōcerneth by dyete.
 Diaglaucion, a kynde of the medicine called Collirion.
 Diagonios, a lyne in geometrie.
 Diagoras, a philosopher of Milefus, also a famous poete.
 Diagramma, anis, n. g. a title of a boke, a sentence or decree: Also a figure of geometrie drawn in a place.
 Diagraphice, a kynde of pectning or caruing.
 Diagridion, a certayne confection made with Scammony, to purge choler.
 Dialage, a figure whan many argumentes be brought to one effecte.
 Dialectica, x, o. dialectice, es, f. g. the arte, whiche teacheth to inuent quickely, to dispute aptely, and fynally, to tete what is true and what is false. It is commonly called Logyche.
 Dialectice, like a logician, by the art of logyche.
 Dialecticus, a, um, pertainyng to logyche.
 Dialecticus, i. m. g. a logician.
 Dialectus, a manner of speeche, as we woulde saye, diuerstes in englyshe, as Northern speeche, Southerne, Kentyshe, Deuonyshe, and other lyke.
 Dialeucum, a kynde of faston.
 Dialeutensis, se, an adiectiue.
 Dialeutensis genus purpuræ, a kynde of purple.
 Dialexis, disputacion.
 Dialisis, f. g. dissolution.
 Dialis, i. e. of o. pertainyng to Jupiter. Also it signifieth of one date, as Consul dialis, a Consul of one date.
 Dialogus, i. m. g. a disputacion betwene two.
 Dialyot, a figure, whan membris be fornyed together without conuencion.
 Diameter, or Diametris, i. m. g. a lyne, whiche bydyeth any figure into two equal partes.
 Diana, the daughter of Jupiter, whiche sleapge the company of men, to the intent that she woulde not be mewed with carnall toles, byd continually exercise hys selfe in hunting wylde beastes, and for hys chaste lyfe was honoured of the painynes for a goddess: she is also taken for the moone.
 Dianea, the mynde of sense, the vnderstandyng.
 Diapasma, anis, n. g. a composition of diuerse sweete powders to cast on the body, to the intent that superfluous sweate maye be put away. It maye bee also taken for a sweete perfume or a pomegranate.
 Diapason, a conorde in musyke of. v. tunes,

D ANTE I.

Diapente, of fyne.
 Diaphanum, clere throughe out as chydall.
 Diaphonia, a dyscorde.
 Diaphora, a differrege.
 Diaporesis, digestion, or enaspoyacion.
 Diaporeticus, a, um, that whiche dooeth vyrtuous of sende forth the humours.
 Diaphragma, anis, n. g. a skynne in the lower part of the breast, whiche diuideth the place, where the herte and the longes bene, frome the stomache and bowelles, so that the vapours rysyng upward, shall not come to the spirittual members, wherby the mynde and reason might be indamaged.
 Diaporesis, a dubitacion, a figure in Rhetorice, whan a man maketh as though he byd doubte.
 Diapyganon, a confection made with the herbe called Iste, whiche is called also Diapolyticon, an excellent medicine against lacke of good digestion, against peyne in the breast, the sydes, the spere and the reynes: It molliether the bealy, comforteth the stomache, and maketh good digestion.
 Diarium, prouision for one date, also a boke declaring what is dooen date by date: A boke of remembraunces, an intresyng boke.
 Diarius, a, um, of one date.
 Diaria febris, a feuer whiche dureth but one date, if the syche man doo kepe good dyete.
 Diarrhiza, a lacke of styge without inflammation, or epulacion, whiche of the late phisicians is called Fluxus humoralis.
 Dias, a philosopher of Ephece in the tyme of Philip kynge of Macedonie.
 Diastole, a distinction or poynt, wherby one woode of sentence is distincte from another.
 Diatrymos, a figure in Rhetorice, whan we delude or worke the argumentes of our aduersaries, or by scoffyng to eluate theyr answere.
 Diatreseron, of fowse.
 Diatretum, i. n. g. a ruptured and cunnynge wynght.
 Diatritos, abstinence by the space of thys date.
 Diaula, one of the foure notable porches in Rome.
 Diaulus, a measure of grounde, conteynyng ii. fourlonges, every fourlonge beryng of a 125. fete: or after some, a space of grounde conteynyng 1200. fete.
 Dibapha, any coloure in syke of clothe, whiche is dyed with the dyer harte, we call it a beane coloure.
 Dibaphus, a, um, any thyng twyfyd.
 Dibapha Tyria, purple twyfyd dyer.
 Dibades, a poete of Cosynth, which taughte howe to make bestilles of chalyte.
 Dica, x, f. g. a caule, an accusacion, a subgen mente.

 Dicam impingere, to bypoge an action as gaynte one.
 Dicam scribere alicui, to entre an action as gaynte one.
 Dicis fortiri, to exampt. and deefte matters
 by lotte.
 Dica, the goddesse of iudgements.
 Dicacitas, aie, f. g. shoffing or boubring.
 Dicaculus, a, um, merse in tallipng, full of woys
 des. Also he that chattereth or piatereth.
 Dicea, a citee in the gouise called Thermalis.
 Dicearchia, the citee called Puteoli.
 Dicearchus, a iuste pynce, also the name of a philosopher.
 Diceogenes, a certayne poste.
 Dicæologia, iustification, a figure in Rhetorike.
 Dicastis, for Dica, tellon.
 Dicitio, onis, a vowpng, a submittpng, a prompyng.
 Dica, acis, a rapier or reppocher, a tetter.
 Dichas, a measure of two palmes of eyghte fpynges.
 Dictor, a, a foote in metre.
 Dictulum, i, n. g. a treptpng reppote and saferuge of chibyrin.
 Dico, aui, aie, to bowe, to offer, to dedicate, to geue for suer.
 Dicamus tibi hunc totum diem, this date is poure to do with, so what it shall like pou:
 we will spend this whole day in hearing you.
 Dicare operam suam, to offer his seruice.
 Domum alicui dicatum ag promissum, a grise bowed and promised unto one.
 Hanc operam tibi dico, I will dooe so mu-che at your requeste.
 Dicere se alicui in seruitutem, to make his selfe ones bonde man.
 Dicare se in aliquam ciuitatem, to bee made a citizen in any place.
 Annos suos dicare vitæ celesti, to bowe a single lpe.
 Dico, xi, ere, to saye, to tell, to byd, to promise, to asstine, to defende: as, Cicero dixit caussam Milonis, Cicero defended Milons cause.
 Also to appoynte, to call a thyng by name,
 to pleade lyke an oyatour, to speake apertly of eloquently of any matter.
 Dicere causam, to make answer to an action or plaitne.
 Dic illi, for Dic illi, tell hym hardely.
 Dicere diem, to serue a man or call hym by (as we vse to saye) by action, writte or commaundement, ppropely to cause a manne to be bounden to appeere and make aunswere.
 Dicere dictatorem, to name or make a dis-ctatoure.
 Dicere dotem, to assigne a dowrie.
 Probra dicere alicui, to cheeke or rebuke one

Dicere doti, to assigne dowrie by promyse.
 Dicere ex animo, to speake as a wile chylde.
 Dicere ex tempore, to speake an oration without studie. Also to speake vnaduisedly.
 Dicere ius, to geue commaundement, or sentence on a pynce: sometime it significeth to gouerne a towne or countrey by lawes.
 Dicere contumeliam, to outrage or rayle on one.
 Dicere leges, to appoynte lawes, or conditions of peace, as by the vauquisher to him that is vauquished.
 Dicere diem nuptijs, uel operi, to appoynt
 a date for marriage, &c.
 Dicere mulctam, to sette or asseffe a fyne or a summe of money, to be payed by hym that hath committed a trespassse, to amerce one.
 Dicere in vtramq; partem, to susteine the saynges of bothe partes.
 Dicere nummos, to promyse money.
 Dicere sacramento, to take an othe, ppropely
 as they dooe that be receyued in waies.
 Dicere salutem, to salute or recommend hym vnto one. Also to praye god to sende hym good helthe and well to dooe.
 Dicere sententiam, to geue sentence of iudge-ment.
 Dicere pro sententia, idem.
 Tibi dico an non? speake I to the or no?
 Or thyndest thou that it dooeth appertayne
 to the that I saye, or no?
 Ad aliquid dicere, to answer to that, that an other hath sayed.
 Aliouersum dixeram, I mente it an othe wale: I spake it for an other intent than ye take it.
 Bene atq; amice dicis, ye speake well and frendely.
 Animo presenti dicere, to speake boldly without feare.
 Bene laune dicere, to speake a thyng in good latpne.
 Dicere in aurem, to tell one in his eare.
 Nunquid causam dicis? quia. &c. Canste thou saye nate, or canst thou saye any thyng for thy selfe? but that, &c.
 Magno conatu nugas dicere, with an earnest and verale solemne facton, to tell tryflis or thynges not woorth the hearynge.
 Contumeliose aliquid dicere, to speake a thyng tauntyngly, or to a mans rebuke.
 Dicere bona fide, to speake a thyng vnfeygnedly.
 Nolo in illum grauius dicere, I will saye
 no worse by hym.
 Inclementer et acerbe in aliquem dicere, to chide one vngently and byterely.
 Inuicte alteri dicere, to late a thyng wyng-fully to ones charge.
 Loco aut per loci dicere, to speake in bowdy
 Legem

Legem dicere, to speake in bowdy
 what is to be doone.
 De loco superiori dicere, to speake to the people out of the place of pleasyng, or of the iudgement seat.
 De loco inferiore dicere, to speake out of the place of pleasyng to the iudges, whiche sette higher.
 Mala plurima dicere, to rayle, to geue one many shewbe wooydes.
 Nervose dicere, to speake ppythly.
 Dicere repudium, to calke of ones wyff.
 De scripto dicere, to reade a thyng vpon his paper, to pronounce a thyng as it is writen.
 Ad voluntatem alicuius dicere, to flatter.
 Dicam ut reuertatur domum, I will byd
 hym retoune home agayne.
 Ut dicatur, as it is sayed, as men reports.
 Nesciebam sic dicere illam, I perceiued not that she ment so.
 De prandio dicis? speake you of the dines?
 Or meane you of the dines?
 Quod inter nos licet dicere, as I maye tell you betwene you and me.
 Ne dixis istud, take note of man, or it is not so thou sayeste.
 Partem aliquam equi bonis dicere, to speake reasonabily, to offer reason.
 Argumenta rei dicere, to tell the tokens or signes of a thyng.
 Dixi, I haue sayed all that I will saye.
 Dicta, signifid meep sentences.
 Dictamen, a thyng written by another mans instruction.
 Dictamus, m. g. and Dictamum, neu. gen. an herbe, the leaues wherof are lyke pante rope all, but greater and somewhat hoie and mo-ly, and byerth the congar lyke gynger, but it hath neyther flower nor seede. Constantius sayeth, that it is hotte and drye in the thirde degree. There is of this herbe wonderfull and incomparable vertues, as well agaynste all poyson, as also in drawing out any thyng, whiche sticketh fast in any part of the body.
 Dicta, orum, n. g. interpretations, appoynts ons, or declarations, made by the maistres to the scholars, whiche they dooe write.
 Dictator, oris, the highest officer in the publike weale of the Romanis, whiche was also called Magister populi, the maister of the people: whiche for the space of .vi. monethes had the authoritee of a kynge. And therefore that dignitee was neuer geuen, but onely
 when the state of the citee was in seueritee.
 Dictator is aliois that pronounceth the thynges that an other shall do.
 Dictator, s. um, a person that pronounceth
 the thynges that an other shall do.
 Dictator, s. ic, a person that appoynteth and commaundeth others to be doone.
 Dictatorum, a minute geuen from one to an other.

 Dicta, es, an hill in the ple of Andols, where Iphigene was nourished.
 Dicterium, n. ne. ge. a merse of ppyth or chaunc, wittily spoken.
 Dictio, onis, f. g. a wooyde, a foueme of speakyng, a vouchyng, an eloquent oration.
 Also a pleasyng, an orate.
 Dictio, aui, are, to speake often, or to bypoge places, to tell one thyng often.
 Dictio, aui, are, to reherse vnto one that which he shall write. Also to pynelate of expounde the sense of any authour. Also to bypoge to remembraunce, to speake.
 Dictare rationem, to geue an accompte.
 Dictare actionem, idem quod dicam im-pingere.
 Dictare testamentum alicui, to make an other mannes will after his owne will and pleasure.
 Ratio ita dictat, reasons byddeth or counsaileth so.
 Dictum, ti, n. g. a wooyde, a sayng, a pouerbe.
 Dicto obediens, he that bothe that which he is commaunded.
 Dicta blanda et benedica, saye and flatteryng wooydes.
 Dictu ridiculu, a teste to make a man laugh.
 Ingerere dicta in aliquem, and dictis one a rare aliquem, to rayle at one spytfully.
 Dictis bonis petere, to desyre a thyng with saye wooydes.
 Dicturio, sui, ire, to goe aboute, or prepaye to speake.
 Dictus, a, um, spoken, sayed, reckned, ordeyned, appoynted, assigned.
 Dicto citius, at a trice.
 Non nisi dicto honore, not without reuerence.
 Dictum istud? is this tene that thou sayest?
 Dictum est, men saye, the reports is.
 Dictum est, I haue spoken.
 Dictum ac factum reddere, to matche it with a wooyde: Or after that he hath sayed
 so muche as was possible.
 Dierum, ti, a wyf with two chylde of ones,
 or that hath two oyes in one face.
 Dictynna, one of the names of Diana. Also a citee of Grece.
 Dictyonens, an wyf, wher in the temple of Dion was situate.
 Dictyochoron, a certayne kynde of bayliffe made full of grates for men to be thrust through.
 Dictys, one of the Centaures, wher an hystographer of Canis, whiche was the battle of Troie.
 Dictys, is also a wyf, whiche was the Persus.

Didascalia, x, f. g. doctrine, learning.
 Didascalus, li, m. g. a scholl master.
 Didia, a lawe made amonge the Romans as gapeth the exchequer of fare.
 Dido, onis, f. g. the name of a ladie that built the Carthage.
 Dido, dididi, didere, to distribute, to divide,
 to digesse.
 Didorus, a, um, of two hande breade.
 Didrachmum, mi, n. g. two of the copes called Drachmas, of our money nowe. xi. d. ob.
 Diduco, xi, ere, to bynge into sundrie partes, to divide or pull aparte, to open a thyng that is shutte.
 Diducere argumenta in digitos, to marke and devise argumentes on his fingers endes Diductum stare, to sette one foote here, an other there.
 Fauces immani diducit hiatu, he gapeth meruaplouse wyde.
 Diducere aciem in cornua, to divide an ara-mpe into two wynges.
 Diducere, et contrahere, contrarie.
 Comprimere et diducere digitos, contrary
 Diductus, a, um, divided, separated.
 Didyma, arum, plantes of Aethiopia, that bounde vpon Egypte.
 Didymaon, a famous maker of harness.
 Didyme, es, an yle in the Hellespont sea.
 Didymus, one of the names of Apollo.
 Didymi, certayne hilles in Arabia felix.
 Didymus, a, um, to inlarne geminus, in the byue, Thomas, in englyshe, a twynne in byrthe, or double aman. It is also the name of byuers learned men, of whiche one being a grammarian, wrote. 3500. booke.
 Diecula, x, f. g. a diminutive of Dies, a litle
 while, a shorte space of tyme.
 Dierectus, a, um, crucified, or hanged.
 Adire in dierectum, gets the hense and be hanged.
 Dierectum, was used of old wryters (by antiphastim) for anyll date or infortunate tyme Dies, et, m. et f. g. in singulari, in plur. uero ran-sum, m. g. a date: sometyms it signifyeth tyme or season.
 Dies critici, the dates wherin the phisictons dooe geue a certayne iudgemente vpon the sicknesse.
 Dies legitimi, amonge lawyers be called operinarie dates, or dates in court.
 Die decies, ten tymes in a date.
 De die, for interdiu, in the date tyme.
 Diem de die expectabam, I looked from date to date.
 Diem dicere, loke Dicere diem.
 Die crastini, for Die crastino, and Die seprimi, for septimo.
 In diem abire malum, the punishment is prolonged and deferred, till an other date.

Dies nocternus, continually, daye and night.
 Vides iam diem multum esse, ye see now that it is farre dates.
 Quinquennus die, the fiftie yere.
 Atra dies, a blacke or dismoll date.
 Cæco die emere, loke Cæcus.
 Medius dies, noone tyme, middate.
 Conterere diem verbis, to spende awaile
 the date with babbling.
 Supremum diem expleuit, he dyed.
 Insequens dies, the nexte date following.
 Præcipiti iam die, whan it was all moode
 nyght, or whan it byewe towards nyght.
 Paucis interiectis diebus, after a few dates.
 Genitius a dies, est, dici, qñ, dies, die.
 Dius, for die.
 Diescit, it is date, it waxeth date.
 Diespiter, one of the names of Iupiter. quasi dici pater.
 Dieteris, the space of two yeres.
 Diffamo, au, are, to speake an ill repoyte of one, to defame.
 Diffarreatio, onis, a certayne sacrifice, whiche was betwene a man and his wife, contrary to Confarreatio.
 Differcio, ferri, ire, to stiffe, farse or poyse in.
 Differentia, x, f. g. a difference.
 Differentia, et Dissimilitudo.
 Differitas, olde wryters used for Differentia, difference.
 Differo, distuli, ferre, to spare, sometyms
 bynge frome one place to an other, to carie a funde or into byuers partes, to take from one place and carie to an other, to trouble, to prolonge or deferre. Sometyms to rente or teare in pteces. Sometyms to repoyse abyde, sometyms to divide or cut a funde, sometyms to sette in ope, sometyms to differ or beg in difference.
 At vide quid differat inter meam opinio-nem et tuam, but se nowe what difference is betwene thyne opinton and myne.
 Differre famam alicui, to speake ones name abyde.
 Differre stim, to endure thynge.
 Differre vadimonium, to geue a date once to hym that is bounde to his apperance.
 Differri, to be delayed in mynde that a man
 wotech not what to dooe.
 Castra vi fluminis differebantur, the campe or tentes were caried awaile by violence of the floudde.
 Orationem sperat inuenisse se, qua differat re, he hopeth that he hath inuented some thyng wherwith he may trouble a venge you.
 Differri, and Differri doloribus, to be vexed and troubled in mynde, and as it were to be and tumbled byther and thither with sorowe and care. Lysitippe Differri amore, and Differri inuidia.

Differre

Differre sumore, to spreade aboue a summe.
 Distare et Differre.
 Res cum re differ, one thyng differre from
 an other.
 Differunt inter se, the thynges differre and
 be vnlike.
 Hoc ab illo differ, this differreth from that.
 Differre et Procrastinare.
 Hoc non queo differre, I can not differre
 this matter.
 Differre in posterum diem, in annum, in mensem, in aliud tempus, in aduentum alicuius, to deferre a thyng vntill the nexte date, &c.
 Diem de die differre, to deferre frome date
 to date.
 Aquilo differt nubila, the northeast wynde
 scattereth the cloudes.
 Diffibulo, au, are, to vn buckle, to open, to vngrype.
 Difficile, aduersum, hardelye, difficultelye,
 vncaselye.
 Difficilis, ic, harde, vncaselye.
 Difficilis homo, a crabbed and waywarde
 felowe, harde to please.
 Difficilis et morosus.
 Difficiles terræ, countreys harde, troublous,
 and ill to traueyle in.
 Difficile ad fidem est, it is harde to be beleued.
 Difficilis transitus, a harde passage.
 Difficulus, for Difficile.
 Difficultas, au, f. g. difficultee, trouble, perill,
 daunger.
 Difficultas in audiendo, whan men make it
 straunge to here matters.
 Difficultas nummaria, or rei nummaria,
 scarcetee of lacke of monye, pouertee.
 Difficultas annonæ, scarcetee of vitayle.
 Difficultas spirandi, pepnesulnesse in fetchynge of breathe.
 Difficultas vrinæ, pepnesulnesse in pyssing.
 Conflictatus multis difficultatibus, troubled with many peeples and daunges.
 Difficulus, with great payne and labour.
 Difficulus et difficilis, idem quod difficile.
 Difficulus atq; agre fiebat, with great dif-ficultee and payne it was broughte to passe.
 Haud difficulter persuadere, to persuaade easelye.
 Dissidenter, with mistruste, without hope.
 Dissidentia, x, f. g. mistrust.
 Dissido, diffisus sum, ere, to mistruste.
 Dubitare, et sibi ipsi dissidere, to doubt and mistrust ones selfe.
 Dissis alicuius dissidere, to mistruste ones
 wynges.
 Memoria dissidere, to mistruste ones memoire.
 De Othone dissido, I mistruste Otho.
 Rem posse confici dissido, I mistruste that erit the matter can be broughte to passe.

 Dissidere diem, loke Dissindere.
 Dissindere diem, to cut of in the myddle.
 Dississum saxum, a shone cutte or clefte in funde.
 Dissindere minutulum am, to cut the grownd
 a litle.
 Dissingo, sinxi, gere, to destroye or vnde, that is made, or after some, to make newe that is broken.
 Nihil hinc dissingere possum, I cannot de-uise but the matter is so.
 Dissinio, ui, ire, to define or declare in fewe
 wordes plainly the signification of a thyng.
 Dissinitio, onis, a definition or declaration of the nature, qualitee, or propre signification of a thyng by generaltee, specialtee, and difference.
 Diffisus, a, um, mistrusting.
 Ingenio suo diffisus, one that mistrusteth his owne wytte.
 Difficor, fisis, sum, terti, to deny.
 Nunquam difficor, I will neuer deny it.
 Difflo, au, are, to blowe or puffe downe.
 Difflo, uxi, ere, to flowe abyde, to flos into byuers partes, to renne abyde as water both,
 and by transiacion, to be riotous and wilde,
 renning at large, nothinge restraining him selfe.
 Diffluere otio, to be dyowned in idleness.
 Diffluere voluptatibus, to swymme in sensualltee.
 Diffluens, ac solum, leuse and readye to fall in funde.
 Animus eius diffluit luxuria et lasciuia, his mynde renneth at couers in riotous and wana tonnesse.
 Diffringo, fregi, fringere, to bryake in pteces.
 Diffugio, gi, ere, to flee hither and thither, to refuse to dooe a thyng.
 Diffugium, n, f. g. refuge, a place to flee to.
 Diffundo, fudi, ere, to scatter, to spyll, to leat
 renne abyde, to speade abyde.
 Diffundere diem, to put of a matter vntill
 the nexte date. But Politian in Miscellaneis, dooeth asseyme, that it ought to be read Dif-findere diem, as well in the Digesta, as in all other authores: who of theim saie moche trulye, I remitte it to the iudgement of the readers.
 Crimen paucorum in omnes diffundere, to laye to the charge of all, the fautes of a fewe persones.
 Grauius est morbus, qui a capite diffun-ditur, that please is most greuous and perillous, that hath the beginninge fro the head.
 Diffundere vim sua longe lateq; to speade his power or strengthe farre abyde.
 Vultum diffundere, to shewe ones selfe merry and pleasaunt.

Diffusus

D ANTE I.

Diffunditur vasis ramis ficus, The figge er spreade abode with large bowes.
Diffundit se in latitudinem lactuca, The lettys wareth byode.
Diffuse, an aduerbe, as it were scattered here
and there, diffusely.
Diffusio, onis, a setting at large.
Diffusus, a, um, spreade abode.
Diffusus error longe lateq, an error spred berae farre abode.
Diffusum et dissipatum.
Diffusum vinum, wyne filled into the vessell.
Diffusora concepta, great gronides inclosed.
Diffusa sus, a great sowe and a faste.
Digama, a woman that hath had .ii. husbandes
Digama, amonge the latines to the letter F.
Digero vberis is for his manour called Formi-anum, because it beginneth with the letter F.
Digamus, mi, m, g. he that hath had two wy-ues commonly called Bigamus.
Digeries, a, disposition of order.
Digero, gelsi, ere, to dispose, to order, to interppte, or make playne, to diuide, to resolve, or seuer that was congeled or gathered together to set in apte place, to forte, to digest, to carp bither and thither, to declare.
Digerere crines, to trym the heare.
Digere, to be resolved.
Digerere mandata, to do in order the thyng that one is commaunded.
Digerere cibum, to digest meate.
Digerere rempublicam, to dispose and set a common weale in good order.
Digerunt cibum dentes latii, The fortyteeth do diuide the meate.
Humorem digerere, to dissolue an humoure.
Digestio, onis, an order of thynges. It is also the digestion of meate and bypke into the vernes and members.
Digestus, a, um, digested, disposed, ordered,
trymmed.
Digitale, is, n, g. a thyng woyme on the synger,
as a thymble or a synger Galle.
Digitalis, le, perteynyng to the synger.
Digitali crassitudine, of the thykenesse of a synger.
Digitatus, a, um, that hath syngers or tocs.
Digitellus, a certayn herbe.
Digiti, are multies or a lythe kynd of shell fythe.
Digitulus, i, m, g. a littell synger.
Dignus, u, m, g. a synger. It is also a measure, whereof .iiii. dooe make .iiii. ynches, and it is the xvi. parte of a foote.
+ Dignis extremis vel summis attingere, to couche a thyng with the syngers toppes, vber for a prouerbe: where one hath vberly attey-ned to any parte of a thyng.
Digitum tollere, to fauour or consent.
Digitum transversum, significth in a sentence
a littell or small distance.

D ANTE I.

Digitum transversum ab eo non discedebat,
He went not from hym a synger breadth.
Digito vno ne me attingas, Touche me not with one synger.
Infamis, or impudicus digitus, the myddell synger.
Digito medio notare, to pofecte at one re= bukefully, meanyng hym to be a vicious and dishonest persone.
Digito calum attingere, looke Calum.
Digitum tollere, to holde by the synger, significth in contractes, that one will by the thyng whiche he hath cheaped.
Digladatio, onis, a syght a feiste, a debate.
Digladior, aris, ari, to fyghte together with swooydes. And by transaction, to contende or streue.
Digladantur inter se, They contende or streue amonge theim selues.
Dignatio, onis, great estimation, somtyme fa-uour or familiaritee with noble men. also re-uerence shewed towards a man.
Digne, wooythly, honestly.
Digne laudare aliquid, to pypse a thyng as it is wooythly.
Vter nostrum cruce dignius peccat whether of vs is moze wooythly to bee punyshed for his offence?
Dignitas, atis, and Dignatio, onis, f, g. honoureuen or due to a man for his merites. also an estate of nobilitie or great authoritee. Some-tyme beautee propertie of a man, especially in gesture and communicacion.
Dignitas vultus, a comely and manly make free in the face, significth honouur and wooy-thly in the persone.
Dignitatem suam tueri, to defend and saue his honouur.
Dignitas domus, magnificence in house keepyng, great prouffion.
Maiores dignitas est in sexu virili, The male kynde to the moze wooythly.
Dignitas et amplitudo.
Dignitas et deformitas, contrary.
Digno, aui, are, to iudge one wooythly.
Dignor, aris, ari, a verbe depende and passive,
to be reputed or esteemed wooythly, or to esteem or repute wooythly, to vouchsafe.
Dignari aliquem venia, to esteem one wooy-thly to haue forgiveness, to hold one excused.
Haud tali me dignor honore, I thynke not my selfe wooythly of so grent honouur.
Cultu et honore dignari, to be iudged wooy-thly to haue reuerence and honouur.
Dignor, aui, are, to marke as me marks beas-tes to knowe theim.
Dignosco, ul, scere, to discerne or knowe by dyners meanes.
Dignus, a, um, wooythly, meete, or apte, acce-dyng, conuenable.

Dignus

D ANTE I.

Dignus domino servare, a seruante meete for suche a mastre.
Non te dignum fecisti, You haue not made that bee not become you to doo.
Dignus sum pro te, I am moze wooythly than thou.
Luce dignum non putare, to thynke one vna-wooythly to lye.
Dignus cui committas, a wooythly persone, to whome ye shoulde committe the charge of
any thyng.
Dignus te filius, a sonne wooythly of such a father as you be.
Dignus nihil est quod ametur, There is no persone lypng, that is moze wooythly to be beloued than he is.
Dignum, for Dignitas.
Digredior, digrederis, edi, to departe or go a waite, to make digression to another matter.
Digredi in laus, to toune on the one syde.
Digredi ab aliquo, to departe from one.
Digredi de causa, to make digression.
Digredi ad pedes, to lye on foote.
Digressio, onis, and Digressus, us, m, g. a departing, a digression, a going awate.
Digressus, a, um, departed.
Digressa, a womanne that hath forsaken hie
husbande.
Dnambus, a foote in meter consistyng of two of the feete called lambi.
Dnouis, Japtee.
Djudicatio, onis, a iugement, a determination.
Djudicatus, a, um, determined by sentence.
Djudico, aui, are, to iudge betwixt two thynges, to determine.
Dnango, nxi, ere, idem quod disungo.
Dilabidus, a, um, that fallerth or sybdeh awaye quykely.
Dilabor, eris, abi, to styppe or go awate, to fall downe, as an house doeth. somtyme it signifith to faple or to deate.
Nostra dilabitur oratio, Our communicacion on fallerth to some other mastre.
Male paria, male dilabuntur, Thynges pte gotten, are pte spente.
Dilabi memoria, to fall out of ones memory.
Fortuna dilabitur, Fortunes decaterth, pteettes fapleth.
Concordia parum res crescit, discordia maxime dilabuntur, By concordie small thynges doe increase, by discorde verals great thynges wate and confute.
Dilacerio, aui, are, to tare or rent in pteer.
Dilatio, aui, are, idem, also to breake in sunder.
Dilapidio, aui, are, to consume goodes or spende stoutely, or wastfully, to gather stonke out of a place, to ptebe a place of stonke.
Dilapsus, a, um, slippng or sybpyng awate, ren-nyng, a wate doorth.
Dilapsa et Diffusa, fallen and flouthen here

D ANTE I.

Dilator, onis, a delay, a ptepyng or defferyng.
Dilatus, a, um, defected, delayed.
Dilato, aui, are, to stretch out in pteer, to ex-tende, to enlarge.
Imperium dilatare, to enlarge ones domynionem dilatare, to make ones dynacion moze ample or aboundant.
Dilatare et contrahere, contrary.
Dilator, onis, one that maketh delay, that byueth of the tyme.
Dilaudo, aui, are, to pypse greatly for dyners causes.
Dilemma, atis, n, g. an argument, whiche on e-uer parte committeth hym, to whome it is spoken.
Diligens, entis, diligent, or loupng, studious.
Diligentissimus rei familiaris, a very good
husbande.
Studiosus et diligens.
Diligenter, diligenter, aduisedly.
Diligenter hic eram, I byd harken diligentely what you saide.
Studiose diligentem curare, to take heede of or ouersee a thyng quodously and diligently.
Diligentia, e, f, g. diligence or loue.
Adhibere diligentiam, to be diligente.
Consumere diligentiam in re aliqua, to spe-all ones diligence vpon a thyng.
Arsiduitas et diligentia.
Diligentia et industria.
Diligo, xi, ere, to fauour or loue meanely, less than Amare. somtyme to diuide.
Diligere et charum habere.
Furtum diligere, to loue one pynfully, that he dare not be knowen of.
Diligere se, to stande in his owne conceyte.
Valde vnice, misrice, admodum diligere.
Diloricio, aui, are, to vndoe or eat a rote or other thyng that is sowd.
Diluceo, luxi, ere, to be bryght or clere, to shine.
Dilucet res, the matier is clere & manyfat.
Dilucesco, celsere, to waxe bryght, or bryghte to be date.
Dilucide, evidently, cleerly, manifestly.
Dilucide dilucere, to discorne a thyng, to shew manifestly and pteynly, that it is false.
Dilucido, aui, are, to certayne or make a thyng
playne to dyners dynes.
Dilucidus, a, um, clere, bryght, manifest.
Dilucidus, an aduerbe, whiche significth betwixt in the morning.
Quid dilucide abire, to go awate in the mornyng betwixt.
Primo diluculo vent, I went in the bryght-nyng of the daye.

Dilucidus

Diluculo, aul, are, to waxe dale, to appeare to bee dale.
Diluculum, li, ne.g. that porcion of dale that is before the sonne risseth.
Diludia, orum, n.g. plur. the leaping of play, the space betweene recreations of playe.
Diluui, ui, ere, to waxe on ahe cleane, to putte awate, to celeate, to dissolve, to declare of ep plicite, to state, as wyne is alaced with water, to temper, to pource, to discharge a crime of fault that is laied to one.
Cura diluitur mero, care is washed away with wyne.
Dilgere auctoritatem, to diminish the ones auctorities.
Extenuare et diluere molestias, to assuage and put awate greife and heauynesse.
Dilutum, ti, n.g. wyne of other lyhoue, wherein any herbe of other thng is deaped by a certain space, which som phisitions call infused.
Dilutus, a, um, alaced of tempered.
Dilutus color, a faynt colour, of vnperfect colour. Vinum dilutū, wyne alaced with water.
Diluvialis, le, of a deluge of floudde.
Diluuius, ei, f.e.g. idem quod diluuium.
Diluuius, aul, are, to ouerflow & diuine a cūtrep
Diluuium, un, n.g. a deluge, a greate floudde, when the grounde is surrounded of dyouned with muche rapne.
Dimano, aul, are, to stowe abode, as dryers steames out of one spring, and by translatiō to come to ones hearing.
Dimembro, aul, are, to diuide.
Dimensio, onis, f.g. measuring.
Dimensum, li, ne.g.e. a porcion that is measured out.
Dunctus, a, um, measured, of that measureth
Dimencus, entis, that wherewith a thynge is measured.
Dimetor, mensur, firi, to measure of mete.
Dimetendi, digitus, to accompt on his fingers.
Dimetor, aris, ari, idem quod Dimetior.
Dimicatio, onis, battayle, contention, stryfe.
Inter illam dimicationem, whyles they were fighting.
Dimicatio praelij, the rage of hute of the battayle.
Dimicatio capitis, a battayl for the lauyng of a mans honour.
Discrimen et dimicatio.
Dimico, aul, of dimicui, are, to fyghte of contende with some thng.
Dimicare de imperio, to fyghte for the coner capitece.
Dimicare inter se, to fyghte one with an other to contende among them selues.
De capite dimicare, to fyghte for ones lyfe.
Dimidiatim, an aduerbe.
Dimidiatus, a, um, that whiche is scured and diuided into two partes.

Dimidio, an aduerbe, signifying halfe.
Dimidio plus, dimidio minus, halfe more, halfe lesse.
Dimidius, a, um, the halfe deale of that which is diuided.
Dimidium plus toto, spoken where a man intendeth to shewe that the meane is best.
Dimidium facti, qui bene caput habent, he that hath well begunne, hath synished halfe his enterpryse.
Ad dimidias coquere, to seeth the one half.
Dimidio minoris constabit, It will cost lesse by the halfe.
Dimidio carius, deerer by the halfe.
Minus dimidium, for Minus dimidio.
Reddidit dimidio stultiores quam cum arceperat, He made them more foolis by halfe than they were when he tooke them.
Dimidius modius, halfe a bushell.
Dimidium equum cecidit, halfe his horsemen were slayne.
Dimidias clepsydras dixit Plinius, pro Dimidiatas.
Diminuo, ui, ere, to diminish of cut of, to breake in peeces, to styke.
Diminuam ego caput tuum, nisi abeat, I will breake thyne heade, excepte thou geate the hente.
Detrahere et diminuerē.
De bonis alicuius diminuerē, to diminish a mans gooddes.
De praesidijs diminuerē, to minishe parte of the garrison.
Quod nostro negotio diminuum fuerit, exequabimur industria, If hat whiche shall lacke in oure businesse, we will supplie with diligence.
Diminutio, onis, f.g. diminishing of abating.
Accretio et diminutio.
Neg de bonis priuatorum publice diminutio fiat, Let not the gooddes of the comons be diminished of taken from them.
Diminutus, a, um, diminished, broken.
Diminutus capite, et diminutio capitis, vide Capitis diminutio.
Dimissio, onis, a leue to depart, a discharging.
Dimissorius, a, um, the adiectiue.
Dimissoria littera, letters missiue sent from one to an other.
Dimissus, a, um, dismissed, sent downe, somtyme taken for abiecte.
Deiecit vultum, et dimissa voce locutus est, He caste downe his lōke, and with an humble voyce sayde.
Dimitigo, aul, are, idem quod demitigo.
Dimitto, si, ere, to sende quere persones into diuers places somtyme it signifieth to lette to depart, to geue leaue, to leaue, to cease, to let passe, to suffer, to humble, also to passe, to let downe, to forgiue.

Dis

Dimicare folia arbor dicitur, to fighte.
Dimicare exercitum, to discharge an army.
Dimittere se in valles, to descende downe in to the valleys.
Domum dimittit, he geueth them leaue to departe home.
Dimittere et retinere, contrarie.
Dimittere se ad aurem alicuius, to incline and speake to one in his eare.
Dimittere se in comparationem alteri, to compare hym selfe with an other.
Contumeliose dimittere, to dismiss ones reprochefully.
Dimittere matrimonium, to dissolve matrimony.
Dimissa a matrimonio, a womanne repudiated.
Dimittere reum, to dismiss and discharge an offendour.
Dimittere scholam, to breake vp schoole, to geue vp teaching.
Ex manibus nō dimittere auctorem, to haue an author alwaies in his handes.
Dimittere tempus, to lette passe an occasion to doo a thng.
Dimittere litteras, to sende letters.
Dimittere boues in pascua, to sende of putte hyme into the pasture.
Dimittere consilium, to dissolve a counsaile.
Dimittere e manibus, to let one escape.
Dimittere sanguinem, to let bloudde.
Dimittere de summa, to abate of the summe totale.
Dimittere debitorem, to release a dettour.
Dimittere creditorem, to paye his debte to his credtour.
Dimittere facultatem rei gerendae, to lose of lette styppes that power that one hath to doo a thng.
Dimittere osculo, to kysse at departing.
Dimixos, a laumpe with two lychtes.
Dimoueo, ui, ere, to remoue of putte out of a place of roume. somtyme to vyue backe, to canle to styte.
Dimouere perfrangereq. custodias, to breake the pteace, and passe thugh the kynges gard.
Dimouere de dignitatis gradu, to putte one out of high authoritee.
Dimouere suspicionem, to put away suspicion.
Dimoueri de sententia, to be caused to change his opynion.
Labem a republica dimouere, to put a greate infamy from a common weale.
De suo cursu dimouere, to cause one to change his grade or maner of behauiour.
Dimulgo, aul, are, to publish a rynde.
Dimyrene, & Dimyme, one of the names of Cybele, called the mychere of the goddes.
Dimidymus, the edge of the hylls of Ida in Thrace.

Diogenes, a philosopher.
Diomeratio, onis, a numbering, a reckning, or paryng of mynys.
Diunero, aul, are, to numbe, to paye money.
Diobolaris, re, hyed for lictell monies.
Diobolares meretrices, harlots, which be hyed for a lictell monie.
Diocles, a poete of Athens, also a philosopher in the tyme of Marius & Sulla.
Diocles, the sonne of Diocorh.
Diodorus, a philosopher abydene, also a poete, and Diobolus Piculus a poete, and an other Diobolus, a Nothe philosopher, of whome Cicero writeth.
Diocis, sios, f.g. a trespastion, a gouernance, also adlocus of a byshop.
Diocetes, te, m.g. he that hath the charge of ouersight of any thng.
Diogenes, a famous philosopher name.
Diogenianus, a grammarian of Heraclea.
Diogenus, a learned man, wherofe wrote the explication of Alexander.
Diomeda, the daughter of Phobus.
Diomedra, an yle, whereto Diomedes was hurryed.
Diomedes, a noble capytayn of the Grekes at the siege of Troye.
Dion, a noble mannes sonne of Sicile, called Hipparchus, brother to Aristomacha, wyfe to the elder Dionysus, wherofe he was longe tyme in fauour with hym, in so muche that Dionysus commaunded his officers, that they shoulde geue to Dion all that he woulde aske. But after that Dion hadde been the hearer of Plato, and also folowed his doctrine and grauitie, Dionysus no more fauoured hym. Semblably the seconde Dionysus, not withstanding that Dion endeauoured to byng hym vp in all vertue and honour: yet because he was geoue in maners, and of greate suertie, the fauoure lyttell and little relented, and at the laste Dionysus, for cheeryng suspicion of Dion, sent hym in exyle: who retournynge after dyuers conflictes for the libertie of his countrey, beeyng often betrayed of his frendes, and beeyng deceived of them, whome he most trusted, finally was slayne in Syracusa, the chiefest cite of Al Sicile. He was a manne of excellent vertue and myghthe, and of a greate courage, and was therefore fauoured of Plato above all other: but by to muche libertie in speeche, and pproverbe hee betraysed the commune people more than was necessarie, he brought hym selfe to be a pretyll vnquietnesse, and at the laste to confusion. The tyme of his byng was belied in the tyme of Plato.
Dionysus, nia, nua, nua, verteyngs with Venus.

Dione, a goddess of the sea, the mother of Venus.

Dionysias, a precious stone, which hath in it redde spotted.

Dionysopolis, a citie of Thrace.

Dionysius, reade in Bacchus. It is also the name of. ii. kynge of Sicillie, whiche for theyr crueltie and avarice were called tyrannes: The first was sonne to Democritus, a speche maker of Sicillie, whome for his valpauitennesse in armes, the Sicillians ordeyned to be cheppes agaynst the Carthaginenses, whiche inuaded them, and menaced to destroye theyr countrey, and take from them theyr libertie. But after the enimies were vanquished, Dionysius, which preserued his countrey from bondage, of a benefactor became a cruell tyrant. This man despyous to see the wise Plato, who thanne was famous, with importune requestes caused hym to come to Sicillie from Athens: but haupng with hym communication, in the whiche Plato commended yghthouse gouernance, and disprayed tyrannye: Dionysius, being therewith offended, would haue slayne hym: But being letted by the intercession of Dion and Aristomenes, he gaue hym to be lpydes the ambassadour of the Lacedemonians, to see whan he came into Grece. The respyde mate rede in my booke of the knowlage, whiche maketh a wise man. The other Dionysius was sonne vnto this, lyke in condicions, but better learned. He also made meanes to haue Plato come vnto hym, and a good space hadde hym in muche reuerence, and herde his lectures in philosophie. Finally, suspecting that he conspired agaynst hym with Dion, and other, whome he had expelled, vnneth at the desyre of Archias, prince of Tarentum, and other: he suffered hym to retourne to Athens. So lpyghthe are the myndes of great men towards learning satisfied, and for small occasions offended. Except it be suche as doe set all their delite in vertue, and dooe esteeme it above other pleasures. The tyme of this man shall appere in the lyfe of Plato. The father was noted of rauynge and crueltie, for whiche he was ones bypauen out of Sicillie, and by powerie constrained to teache chylidren in Italy. Also he was reynoued for haupng his eares alwayes open and ready to heare detractours: and for his inuolous and suspicious lpyng, he would be enuyous with a greaite garde of strangers and bondemen, to instryke his owne people and kynsmen: that he would speake to the people from the toppes of a towne, that he would haue his beards, neyther shauen not clipped by any manne, but onely with walle nutte Wales beare hote, he caused it to be bourned. And yet at the laste was he slayne of the people, curiousites not lepyng hym to saule, as beneuolence myght haue dooen, if he had folowed the doctrine of Plato.

Diopetes, looke Dryophilites.

Diophanes, a Rhetorician, the mayster of Bracthus.

Dioptra, a, fem. gener. a geometrical instrument, to discerne altitudes, and distance: Microscopius vseth it for weyghinge of place, byng vp of water.

Diores, a ppye name in Vergile.

Diorix, diorigis, mas. gen. a dyche or trench made with mens handes.

Dioscorides, called also Pedacius, and Thasac, was a woorthfull kynge of Egypt, who lopyngne learninge with chynalpye, beeyng in the Romaynes hote in dyette countreys, in tymes vacante from battayle, made diligente searche for the figures and herbes of dyuers herbes, and other thynges necessaie for medicine, and wrote most trewely of them in Grece, as Balsone testifyeth. He lyued vnder Cleopatras and Antonius.

Dioscoron, an Ilande within the boyers of Italy.

Dioscippus, a notable wrytler, also a souldier of Alexander the great.

Dioscurias, a citie of Sicillie, in the whiche were sometyme people of. iij. hundred byuers nations.

Diospolis, a citie of Egypte. There be. iij. other of the same name in Egypte, but beate small citie in comparisson of this.

Diotra, a, f. g. a vessell of earth with handes, wherin wyne was kepte.

Diphiris, a precious stone, wherof are two kynnes, the male and the female.

Diphthera, a shepherdes cote or garment, made with shepeshynnes.

Diphthongus, gi, two bowelles ioynged together, called a diphthonge, as, ai, ei, au, ei.

Diplois, idis, any garment lpyed, but it is taken for a doublette.

Diploma, mas. neut. gener. a Charter of a ppynce or citie, a wrytte, letters patentie.

Dipencus, the byrothe of Syllis, whiche two were the firste inuentours of graunge in marble.

Dipondarius, a, um, that is of. ii. weightes or values.

Dipondium, di, neut. gen. of Dipondius, di, or Dupondius, n. m. g. a weight of. ii. poundes, also a piece of monie, aboute the value of. viij. d. frenche. It is vseth of. iij. for money.

Diplosus, or Diplosus, called also Aspalathus, Diacheton, Cacabus, Labrum Veneris, Virga pastoris, commonly Pectorius Cardo, of some Fullonius Carduus, the castile, whiche with fulling vseth to dycke clothe.

Diplos, adis, for. g. a littell wooyne lyke a leopent, of colour white, the taylor dyuideth with two blacke lynes. He is also called Preter, be that is longe with this wooyne, stretch forthwith intollerable heat, and therewith to great dyche, that no dyche maye vnto his lyf, although he shall neuer esse from dyghing, and so dyeth he without remedye, as some suppose.

Diplosia, nounes that haue onely two cases.

Dipradio, aul, are, to sette in facion of byaunche, or of the sonne beames.

Dipradiare vitem, to laye or sette a vyne in byaunches.

Ditr, arum, f. g. plu. the furies, excretions, curynges.

Dire, a womannes name, the wyfe of Iphendynge of Thebes, also an other of Babylon whiche for speakinge agaynst Dalias, was touned into a fyllie.

Directary, they that goe into other mens houses or chambers, of purpose to steale.

Directe, or Directo, an aduerbe signifyngne rightly or straightly, or in a right form, simply.

Directo aliquid optare, and sub condicione optare, contrary.

Directio, onis, for. g. a direction of lopyngne straight to a thyng.

Directum, i, n. g. eyght, streight.

Directus, a, um, streight streight.

Dirempcio, onis, a breakinge or distynnyng, or a separation, aduante, distynnyng of tyme.

Dirempus, us, m, g. a separation or distynnyng, a styng of thynges a parte.

Dirempus, a, um, distynned, separated.

Direptio, onis, a robbery, spoylage, or lopyng of a citie.

Direptor, oris, mas. gen. a robber, a spoyler, a loper.

Direptus, us, m, g. a takinge awaye.

Direptus, a, um, robbed, spoyled.

Direptus, bul, ere, to distynne or distynne.

Direptus, distynnyng of monie, or pater matera.

Direptorium, m, neut. gen. the place of pater matera.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Direptus, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Artem, m, neut. gen. to distynne for coide, or for fear.

Diras et comitas, contrary.
Dirumpo, rupi, pere, to break or break asunder.
Dirumpere ludum, to trouble or break up a game, and let it be not finished.
Dirumpere amicitiam, to break friendship.
Dirumpi dolore, to break for sorrow.
Dirundino, looks Derundino.
Dirundio, iur, ire, to weeds out, to purge that which is naughty.
Diruo, ul, etc, to break down to the ground, to overthrow, to destroy.
Dirupus, a, um, break of broken.
Dirupus homo, a person, whose goodness and behaviour is thoroughly spent away.
Dirus, a, um, venigible, cruel, terrible, horrible, huge, great.
Diræ deprecationes, horrible curses.
Cruciatu diru, venigible and cruel torments.
Dirior, the comparative.
Dira religio, for magna.
Pugna dira, a cruel and deadly fight.
Pellis dira, a terrible or horrible pestilence.
Dirutus, a, um, broken down to the ground, destroyed, overthrowen, cast down.
Dis, diuis, called the god of sythels, sometime it signifies sythe.
Dis, a preposition, used alwaies in composition, and signifies sometime diuersity, sometimes diuision, sometime greatly, sometime diuersely, sometime partly.
Discalceatus, a, um, vnshodde.
Discalceos, aui, are, to pull of ones shoes.
Discedino, aui, are, to vncluse or open, to vncluse out of vse.
Discauo, to beware, to take good heed.
Discedo, scelsi, ere, to depart, sometime it signifies an exception, as,
Cum discederim a fratre, nemo est mihi maior, excepte mihi fratre, no man is to me more better than thou art. Also it signifies diuision or opening, as, Cum terra discedisset magnis quibusdam imbris, descendit in illum huius, When the earth by occasion of much raine opened, he went down into the chiffe of swallows.
Discedere a se, to forgett hym self or to be out of his mynd.
Discedere superiora, to go awat vanquisher.
Discedere inferiorem, to go awat vanquished.
Discedere ab armis, to leaue of warre, and to depart every man to his owne.
Discedere ab officio, to doo no more his duety, to doo contrary to reason and honestie.
Discedere a iure, to doo agaynst the lawe.
Discedere a sententia, to change his opinion.
Discedere in diuersa, to bee of sundry opinions.
Discedit visus fructus, he loseth the possession and possesse.

Discedit mos, that maner of vse is left.
Discedere ab amicis, to break friendship.
Discedit exilium, the stement opened.
Discedere a consuetudine, to leaue a fashion or custom longe vsed.
Non discedere digitum a re aliqua, Not to departe from a thyng a finger breadth.
Sivno verbo discedis a libro, If ye speake one word otherwise than it is in your booke.
Discedamus a nobismet ipsis, Let vs cease to speake of our selfe.
Discedere in aliquam opinionem, to condescende or agree to an opinion.
A re discedere, to goe from the matter, to make digression.
Discedatur, the impersonall.
Discessio, onis, a departing, a diuision or separation, also in the Senate of Rome it was whan dyuers sentences were sayed in any matter, and the more part dyd not pronounce theyr opinions, but went to hym, whose sentence they allowed.
Discessus, idem.
Discessus animi a corpore, The departing of the soule from the body.
Discessus oculi, the opening of the eye.
Discessio facta in eius sententiam, the more parte wente on his syde, and was of his opinion.
Disceptatio, onis, disputation or contention, an arbitrement or examination of a matter.
Disceptatio libera, iudgement accordyng to the conference of hym that iudgeth.
Disceptatio legitima, iudgement accordyng to the lawe.
Disceptor, toris, a iudge, an arbitrator, of a dates man.
Disceptatrix, the feminine.
Discepto, aui, are, to dispute, to contend, to arbitrate or iudge.
Disceptare armis, to tise by battaille.
Disceptare verbis, to contend with wordes.
Disceptare causam, to tise a matter by arbitours.
In vno praelio omnis rei publice for tunc disceptat, The whole state and condition of the weale publike is ventred and tryed in one battaille.
Disceptant eodem foro Othronienses, The Othronienses resorte to the same common place for iudgement.
Discerniculum, li, n.g. a plane or other like instrument, wherewith women dyd divide the head of theyr heade before: also a difference or diuersity.
Discerno, discreui, ere, to departe a thynge from another. Also to divide or vncluse knowe distinctly, to iudge, to discern.
Discernere armis, to fight in battaille, by the use of swordes.

Litem

Litem discernere, to staphle a contention or battaille.
Nequeo satis discernere, I booe not well knowe, or I can not well discern.
Alba et atra discernere, to iudge whete from blacke.
Discernere vira pars iustitorem causam habet, to iudge whether parte hath the better cause.
Stultum a sapiente discernere, to differre and putte difference betweene a fool and a wise man.
Discerpo, psi, ere, to plucke of teare in peeces, to rente.
Discerpere et dilacerare.
Discerpere et distrahere.
Rem propositam in membra discerpere, to diuide a matter purposed into certayn members or partes.
Discerpius, a, um, toyt, rent in peeces, plucked in sunder.
Discus, a, um, a kynde of blasp, keres somewhat like a sword in faction.
Discidium, di, n.g. a diuision, or a partition.
Discindus, a, um, vnghedde, And by a metaphor discindit, negligent, careless, slouthfull, vnable for the waters, to wardye.
Discindo, scidi, ere, to cut of, to cut in peeces.
Discindere amicitias, to break friendship.
Vide, vt discidit labrum, See howe he hath cutte my lippe.
Discingo, xi, gere, to vnghede.
Disciplina, x, f, g, learning, as it is perceyued of the scholar doctrine, as it is taught of the master. It is also a good forme of luyng, an instruction, an example to good life, an institution of obedience, allowable custom.
Cicero veth it for a secte of philosphers.
Institutio et disciplina.
Militaris disciplina, martiall police, obsequation of honest behauiour in warfare.
Disciplina dicendi, the toyt.
Accipere disciplinam, to learne.
Abstrahere a disciplina, to take frome learning.
Perdiscere disciplinam rurs, to learne againe by the face of husbandry.
Colere disciplinam, to esteeme learning, to apply learning.
Disciplinabilis, le, that maye bee learned.
Disciplinosis, a, um, apte to learne.
Discipulus, u, f, g. a woman scholar.
Discipulus, li, mase, gen. a scholar, a disciple, a pupil.
Discudo, scdere, to thrust one, to discomfite, to vntyre.
Disco, didici, scire, to learne, to gett the knowlege of that, which one hath not, either by instruction, or by induction.
Discere scire, to learne, to gett the knowlege

Discolo, ere, to forgett that which was once learned.
Discobolus, a, um, wounded or hurt.
Discobolus, li, mase, he that throweth the round instrument called Discus, whiche is yonge men to playe with for exercise.
Discoctus, a, um, well boyled or boyled.
Disconuenio, ni, nire, to disagree, or discorde.
Discolor, oris, u, m, g. dyuers of colour.
Discophorus, li, mase, a frequent that carryeth a dyke to the table.
Discordabilis, le, that discordeth or disagreeeth.
Discordia, x, f, g. debate, variance.
Seditionem atq; discordiam concitare, To raise sedition and discorde.
Discensiones atq; discordia.
Discordialis, le, that toucheth or disagreeeth, debate or dysspe.
Discordiosus, a, um, contentious, prone to debate and variance.
Discordo, aui, are, to discorde or agree yll.
Aeternum discordare cum aliquo, to hate one perpetually.
Discoquo, oxi, ere, to seethe or boyle well and thoroughly.
Discordant inter se, They are at variance.
Discors, ordis, u, m, g. discordeant, agree yll together.
Discrepito, aui, are, a frequentative of Discrepo.
Discrepo, aui, oxi, ere, to discorde or disagree.
Discrepant facta cum dictis, His wordes and deedes agree not.
Sibi discrepare, to disagree with ones selfe.
Discrepat inter auctores, the opinions of authors agree not.
Inter se discrepare, to vary and disagree one with another.
Nulla in te discrepat, It hateth not frome the other in any thyng.
Discrepantia, x, f, g. difference, disagreeing.
Discrep, et discrepim, generally.
Discreto, onis, a separation, sometime it signifies of good from yll, discretion.
Discretus, a, um, separated or parted, nulla facta est in te discreta, the qualities of men, or values of thynges.
Discrimen, minis, n, g. difference or discrepation, also the weighing or parting of she heare, as to signifye perill or danger, sometime battelle.
Nulla discrimine, nullum discrimen, nullum discrimen, also without regard more of one than of another.
Discrimen et Delectus.
In discrimine est, The matter is in a point of controuersie.
Aequo discrimine, with like difference or with a iudge.

In contentionem et discrimen venire, to fall in controuersie of debate.
 In discrimen adducere, to bynne into perill of daunger.
 Dare in discrimen, to venter of put in daunger. Offerte se in discrimen, pro re aliqua, to putte hym selfe in daunger wyllynge for any thyng.
 In summo discrimine esse, to be in great perill.
 Discriminale, lis, an instrument wherewith the heare is parted of thadde.
 Discriminatum, distinctum, asunder, here & there.
 Discriminatus, a, um, distincte, in a diuerse, diuided, separated.
 Discrimino, au, are, to diuide, to seuer.
 Discrimor, aris, ari, to be muche vexed of troubled in mynde.
 Discubo, cubui, bare, to lye downe to sleape.
 Discumbo, cubui, cumbere, to lye at meales.
 Discumbitur, the impersonall.
 Discubitorius lectus, a bed, wherbyon men vsed in olde tyme to eate theyr meate.
 Discuneatus, a, um, opened of clowen with a wedde of other lyke thyng.
 Discupio, pui, pere, to despyre to see muche.
 Discuro, curri, rere, to renne hyther and thither, or to dreyne parties, to wander about.
 Discursus, us, m. g. rennyng hyther and thither, a wanderyng.
 Discussorius, a, um, that dissolueth.
 Discussoria medicamenta, medicines, whyche dissolue of dysaie thynges congeled of enough.
 Discus, ci, m. g. a dysche. also a rounde thyng made of stone, leade, or yron, haung an hole in the myddell, whiche in olde tyme men vsed to throwe vp into the ayre, to the intent to exercise them selves.
 Discutio, si, tere, to cast of shak of, to remoue to examine, to discusse, to take of put awate, to dresse, also to dissolue humours gathered into an impostume.
 Discutere ebrietatem, fastidium, metum, tristitiam, to put awate drunkenness, &c.
 Tristes cogitationes discutere, to put away heauy and sadde cogitations.
 Febrem somno et sudore discutit, Mch scape and sweating he drowe away the ague.
 Discutere cunctationem, to put awaye and sette aparte all delays.
 Morbum discutere, to make of a disease.
 Discutere caput, to bathe one on the head.
 Discussus, a, um, shaken of put awate.
 Diserte, eloquently.
 Diserte loqui, to speake welte and to the purpose.
 Disertiones, distinctions of heresyges.
 Disertus, a, um, well spoken, eloquent.
 Disiecto, disiect, disicere, to cast a sunder.
 Disiectus, a, um, caste a sunder, caste here and there, scattered.

 Disiecta naues, wyppes byuen a sander by toyes of weather.
 Disiecti milites, the hoste dispersed.
 Disiunctio, onis, a separation.
 Disiunctio lententis, diuerse in opinion.
 Disiunctionem facere, to fall oute with one and forsake his company.
 Disiunctus, a, um, separate, vnynked, farr of, a sander.
 Terrae disiunctissimæ, verate farr countrees.
 Disiunctior a te sum, I am somewhat farr of from you.
 Disiungo, xi, ere, to vnynke, to separate a sander, to vnynke.
 Eares multo maxime disiuncti illum ab illa, That matter moste of all caused hym to forsake hys, or to withdrawe hys mynde from hys.
 Disiungere boues, to vnynke oxen.
 A familiaritate alterius aliquem disiungere, to cause one to forsake an others familiarite of company.
 Disiungere a mamma, to weane, to take fro the teate.
 Dispaleco, lescere, to publishe abjode, to make knowne to all men.
 Dispalo, au, are, to wander hyther and thither.
 Dispalaris, a, um, scattered.
 Dispando, spandi, dere, to stretche out, to sprede abjode.
 Dispansus, a, um, spredde abjode, stretched out.
 Dispar, disparis, m. g. vnlyke, vnmete, vnequall.
 Haud dispar animorum, of no lesse stomache of courage.
 Disparilis, le, vnlyke, vnequall.
 Dispariliter, dpuerit, vnequally.
 Disparo, disparui, of disparui, rare, to seuer, to separate.
 Disparatum, is that whiche is separate frome any thyng, by lating to the contrary, as Sapere and Non sapere.
 Dispartio, tiui, tere, to deuide.
 Dispartior, tiri, to deuide of be deuided.
 Dispello, dispuli, dispellere, to expell of put fro many places, of many waies.
 Dispellere et compellere, contrary.
 Dispendiosus, a, um, harmful, vnprofitable.
 Dispendium, dn, neu. gen. losse by negligence, or superstitions expences. Also it signifyeth harme: sometyme a longe waie aboute, contrary to Compendium.
 Dispendo, di, ere, to spende. also to stretche oute.
 Dispenno, ere, to stretche out of vs.
 Dispensator, toris, a steward, or other dispenser, lating out monye for householde, a dispenser of thynges.

Dis

Dispensatio, onis, lating out of monye for other man, distribution.
 Dispenso, au, are, to lase out monye, to dispense, to gentleness of power to do a thyng to distribute accordyng to the proportion of a thyng.
 Disperdo, di, ere, to lose, to spend of consume.
 Disperdere et dissipare possessiones, To spende and waste spoyntly a mannes substance.
 Disperditus, a, um, losse, distressed, vndoone.
 Disperditio, onis, an vndooyng of bestroynge.
 Disperco, disperui, and disperui, rere, to be losse utterly, to be vndoone.
 Dispercam, I pte god that I dye: It is a woode used in the stee of another in the assistance of denyng of a matter.
 Disperui, I am vndoone.
 Disperunt tui labores, thy labour is losse.
 Dispergo, sperui, spergere, to sowe abjode, of to scatter.
 Dispersus, a, um, scattered abjode.
 Dispersa et dissipata, dispersed and scattered abjode.
 Dispersus, us, a dispersyng of scatteryng of biode.
 Disperse, and Dispersim, as it were scattered here and there.
 Disperio, tiui, tere, to geue parte to one, parte to another, to diuide, to distribute.
 Inuria dispersiuit, pinguiorem agnum is habuit, Thou haste not parted it equally: for they haue the fatter lambe.
 In membra orationem disperire, to diuide an oration into membris.
 Aequaliter prædam disperire, to deuyde the praye equally.
 Disperitilis, a, um, departed, deuided.
 Disperco, cui, ere, to dysper beastes from theyr pasture, also to separate of diuide.
 Dispersio, si, ere, to sprede abjode.
 Dispectus, us, consideration, viewyng, also de resection of chorpe.
 Dispicentia, e, for. g. circumspection, aduersment, diligent consideration, prouidence.
 Dispicio, xi, ere, to discerne, to espye, to consider, to take about diligently.
 Dispiceo, plicui, ere, to displice, to mispiche.
 Si quando tibi displicere consilia tuum ceperis, If your counsaill shall chide hereafter to mispiche you, or if ye shall chynke hereafter, that your owne aduise be not good.
 Dispicentia, e, a displicyng, of mpleone contrary.
 Displacina, e, for. g. the chastitee of dooth displacene.
 Displaco, plicui, plicui, plicare, to vnfold.
 Displacatus, a, um, vnfolded, and vnfolded on scattered of displice.
 Displacare voluntas, here intente and Displodo, si, ere, to make a clapping of noise with the hande of feete.

 Displuuium, un, and Displuuiarium, a parte of the house, wherby euen water was recedde.
 Dispollo, au, are, idem quod Despolio, to spoyle of robbe.
 Dispoliabilum, a despoyle, a place, where all mischance of robbery is doone. also hebyrdom naughtynesse.
 Dispondus, a foot in meter, that hath foure syllables long, as Oratores.
 Dispono, sul, ere, to dispose, to orde.
 Describere et disponere culcy munus suum, to appoynte and assigne euery manne his office.
 Disponere comas, to dresse the bushe.
 Disponere classem, to sette in orde a nacy.
 Dispositus, a, um, disposed, sette in orde, eadged.
 Dispositus vir, he that setteth hys woyses in good orde.
 Disposita hominum vita, the lyfe of man well ordered and factored.
 Dispositus, us, idem quod Dispositio.
 Dispositio, onis, disposition, orde, placing of a thyng.
 Dispositor, oris, a disposer, one that setteth thynges in good orde.
 Dispositi, ordinatly, in good orde.
 Dispudet, I am ashamed, or he is ashamed of that whiche is doone.
 Dispudet mihi sic data esse verba, I am gretey ashamed, that I was so shamefully begyled.
 Dispulero, au, are, to make a thyng in point: ber of bushe, to dissolue.
 Dispumo, au, are, to shumme of.
 Dispunctio, onis, an examination.
 Dispungo, xi, ere, to put out thynges wyse sen, scyng piches vnder euery letter.
 Dispungere rationes, to examyne an accompte.
 Dispungere dies, to note and marke dates.
 Disputo, au, are, to dispute, to make playns to be vnderstande, to reason, to talke, to treat.
 Neque in hac sententia disputo, neque ther doos I speake these thynges to this intente.
 Disputare rationem cum aliquo, to reason of make accompte with one.
 Aliquid suble verbi disputare, to talke of create of a thyng with many woordes.
 Neque ego vllam in hac sententia disputo, I dispute not vther on the fur parte of on the other.
 Disputare verbum in vtriusq; partem, to talke of the relation of both parties.
 Disputatio, onis, a disputing, a reasonyng, a disputing of a matter.
 Disputatio, Z.iii.

Disputator, oris, one that disputeth or reasoneth.
 Disputatrix, the fem. infm.
 Disquamarus, a, um, vntholed.
 Disquiro, lui, re, to inseeche diligently, to enquire.
 Disquisitio, onis, wha e uery mans opinton of sentence is demanded upon a matiere in iudgement, an inquisition of inquerie, a triall.
 Venire in disquisitionem, to come into iudgement, when euery man is demanded what he thynketh of the matiere.
 Disraro, aui, are, to cut awate here and there, and make thynne that is thicke.
 Disrumpo, rupi, rumpere, looke Dirumpo.
 Disruior, aui, are, to hyffe twerely.
 Dissacra, a, um, cut as a body is in an anatomy.
 Dissico, fecui, of fecui, care, to cut in pices, to cleaue in sundre.
 Dissectio, onis, an anatomie.
 Dissemio, aui, are, to sowe ouer all, to spreade abrode, to publyshe.
 Disseminare et dispergere.
 Disseminatus, a, um, sowed, sprede abrode, publyshed.
 Dissentaneus, a, um, not accordyng.
 Dissentio, fenti, tire, to thynke contrarie, or to disagree, to be of a contrarie opinton.
 Longe dissentire, to bee vterly of an other opinton.
 De veritate ab aliquo dissentire, to dissent from one concerning the truthe.
 A seipso dissentire, to disagree with ones selfe.
 Dissentit voluntas scriptoris cum scripto, the wytyng and the will of the wyter dooe not agree: of the wyter ment otherwise than is expessed in the wytyng. Inter se dissentia uit, they agree not among theim selues.
 Dissensus, us, idem quod dissentio.
 Dissensio, onis, dissention, variance, debate.
 Dissidium, et dissensio.
 Commouere dissensionem, to reple disscoyde and debate.
 Dissipio, sepi, sepire, to byke down an hedge, or any other thyng, wherwith a place is enclosed.
 Dissiparo, aui, are, to disseyue one fro an other.
 Dissipimentum, ti, n. g. the partition in a wall matre, wherwith the hennell is diuided.
 Dissipero, aui, are, to wate fayne weathe.
 Dissero, disseui, of serui, ere, to sowe sedes. Also to dispute or debase, to reason.
 Aggredi de re aliqua dissere, to go aboute to dispute or reason of a matiere.
 Dissertabundus, one that reasoneth or disputeth.
 Dissertatio, onis, dissertation of, treatise of any thyng, contention, reasoning.
 Dissertio, onis, a partition of land &c.
 Disserto, aui, are, to somende or argue in wordes, to reason vehemently.
 Dissideo, dissedi, ere, to be at variance, or at coyde, to dissent, to disagree.

 Dissidere animo et voluntate ab aliquo, to dissent from one with herte and mynde.
 A seipso dissidere, to dysfens from hym selfe.
 A veri fide dissidet, it is vnlike to be true.
 Multis rebus cum illo dissidet, he varyeth of disagreeeth from hym in many thynges.
 Cum causa dissidere, non cum homine, to hate the cause of quarrell, and not the person.
 Inter se dissident et discordant, They bee at variance and debate among theim selues.
 Capitali odio a Pompeio dissidet, he hateth moostall hatrede agaynst Pompey: or there is deadly hatrede betweene hym and Pompey.
 Adamas dissidet a magnete, The diamond and the lodestone be diuers.
 Dissidiosus, one that loueth dyscoyde or variance.
 Dissidium, dii, n. g. variance of dyscoyde, dissension, debate, diuorce, breach of frendshipp, the separation of frendes beyngs sacre asunder.
 Dissidentia, x, f. g. idem.
 Designatio, onis, f. g. looke Designatio.
 Designatores, looke Designatores.
 Dissigno, aui, are, looke Designo.
 Dissilio, iui, ire, to leape downe frome a place.
 Sometime to byst of cracles a sunder, to leape here and there.
 Dissimilis, le, vnlike.
 Dissimilitur, in a dyces faction.
 In dissimiles incidere naturas, to chaunge to haue dyuers naturas.
 Nihil tam dissimile, quam Cora Sulpicio, No wayne be so vnlike in theyr nyles as Lot and Sulpicius.
 Sui dissimilis, vnlike hym selfe.
 Forma haud dissimilis in dominum erat, In shappe he was not muche vnlike his matiere.
 Habere dissimilitudinem cum re aliqua, To be somewhat vnlike a thyng.
 Dissimulanter, without any semblant, or countenance.
 Dissimulatio, idem.
 Dissimulatio, onis, dissimbling.
 Dissimulatio, idem.
 Dissimulator, oris, m. g. a dissembler.
 Ut qui dissimulatores studiorum fuerint, Whiche made semblant as they hadde not studyed.
 Dissimulatus, a, um, dyssembled.
 Dissimulo, aui, are, to dissemble a thyng not to be so, that is so in deede, as, Dissimulare i ram, to to hyde anger, or to make as if one wer not angry, that is verite anger in deede, to make as if he knew nothing, to shewe countenance contrarye to his thought.
 Dissimulabo hos quasi non videam, I will make as though I dyd not see theim.

Dissip

Dissimulabo me harum sermoni abstinere dare, I made as though I dyd not heare to theyr communication.
 Dissipabilis, le, easy to be broken in pices, that maye be spardled or scattered abrode.
 Dissipatio, onis, a scattering of bypynge of one thyng into many smalle pices, or a wyngynge.
 Dissipatus, a, um, scattered, byed abrode, broken a sunder.
 Classis dissipata, a nauie of shippes byuen a sunder with weathe.
 Dissipo, aui, are, to scatter of sprede abrode. Also to byng into noughe, to consume of spende, to byake into pices.
 Alio aliud dissipare, to cast of scatter one thyng here and an other there.
 Disturbare, ac dissipare.
 Disperdere ac dissipare possessiones, to consume and spende a mans gooddes spottouly.
 Contrahere amicitiam, et dissipare discordiam, to get frendshipp, and dissolve hatred and debate.
 Dissipare famam alicuius rei, to sprede the byre and fumes of any thyng.
 Dissipare humores, to dyscolur humours congeled.
 Maledictum late dissipatur, a shewed resorte is sprede farr abrode.
 Dissipare conuius patrimonium, to spende ones heritage stotouly in banquettyng.
 Zephelops Pecuniam, and Rem familiarem dissipare.
 Dissitus, a, um, set farr of, distant.
 Dissociabilis, le, that can not bee brought into felowshipp or company.
 Dissociatio, onis, byekynge of felowshipp or company.
 Dissocio, aui, are, to byake company, to dissolue felowshyppe.
 Dissoluo, aui, are, to leue of vnbynde, to sperde, to paie furell bettes, to paie that whiche is owed.
 Dissoluere aliquem, to dispatche one frome longe taryng.
 Dissoluere religionem, to baue agaynst religion, to byake religion.
 Dissoluerunt interrogationem, to asple a question.
 Dissoluerunt se, to dispatche him self of bytters.
 Dissoluerunt alieni, to discharge of pay bet.
 Dissoluerunt amicitias, to byake frendshipp.
 Coagulare et dissoluere, contrarie.
 Conglutinare et dissoluere, contrarie.
 Dissolubilis, le, easy to leue.
 Dissoluitur, aui, are, to byake the signification of someth without cause.
 Dissoluitur rem, Aliquam rem dissoluitur, a thyng maye be dissolved without cause.
 Dissolatio, onis, f. g. dissolving of beginning of a thyng, and byake of the late.

 Dissolutio, nativae, beache.
 Dissolutio criminis, a pardon.
 Dissolutio stomachi, vide Nausea.
 Dissolurus, a, um, leuure. Also he that lyeth as his owne pleasure, contrarye to the lawe of good customes, dissolute.
 Dissolutis criminibus, after that he had made answer to that, whiche was layd to his charge, and was thereof acquit.
 Dissonantia, x, f. g. dyscoyde in bypces of tunes.
 Dissono, ui, of aui, are, to dyscoyde, to disagree.
 Dissonus, a, um, that whiche dooth not agree, dissonant.
 Dissuadeo, si, ere, to dissuade, to assaie to tourne one from his opinton or purpose.
 Dissuasio, onis, the acte of dissuading, dissuasion.
 Dissuasor, oris, he that dissuadeth.
 Dissuasio, onis, the acte of bytting sweetly.
 Dissuasior, aui, are, to byde sweetly, and with muche delectation.
 Dissuasio, and Dissuasio, seere, to leaue the olde maner and custome.
 Dissuetudo, lacke of vse.
 Dissuetus, a, um, vnwont, not accustomed.
 Dissulus, an hogge that hath a space betweene the byttes in the necke.
 Dissulco, aui, are, to leape byther and thither.
 Dissuo, dissui, ere, to vndo a thyng, to rppc.
 Dissuere amicitias, to byake of frendshipp by littel and littel.
 Dissabesco, idem quod tabesco.
 Dissceder, I am werte of a thyng, & togeth me greatly.
 Dissantia, x, f. g. gen. difference, space betweene place and place.
 Dissendo, di, ere, to steeche out of reche, to fyll as a bottell is fylled.
 Rictum dissendere, to gape wyde.
 Dissentio, onis, a stratching of growyng out.
 Dissertus, a, um, the participle of Dissento, fall, dollen out, growyng.
 Pabulo dissentus, to looke that his bytles chadeth out.
 Dissentus, a, um, the participle of Dissento, greatly outgred, bytles, chadeth, litle, witholdeth.
 Cum ipse dissentus sit in iudicio, where an yowre is in a bytles outgred, but as hee is the dissentus of the iudice.
 Dissentus aui, are, to byake a thyng, and make it dissentus.
 Dissimulatio, onis, a partition of ground, a partition of land.
 Dissimulatio, aui, are, to byake the face frome the iudice, to byake the face frome the iudice.
 Dissimulatio, aui, are, to byake the face frome the iudice, to byake the face frome the iudice.
 Dissimulatio, aui, are, to byake the face frome the iudice, to byake the face frome the iudice.

Distichon, chi, two verses contempryng one matter.
Ditichum hordeum, a kynde of barley.
Distillatio, onis, f.g. a distilling, specially from the heade, called a reume, or catarre, the poffe.
Distillo, au, are, to distille, or drop downe.
Distincte, distinctly, severally, wherof euer-thing is in his place and orde.
Distinctio, onis, a diuersities, distinction, separation.
Distinctus, us, m.g. a separation, or distincte.
Distinctus, a, um, deuided, separated, distincte, poynted, noted.
Dutineo, ui, ere, to leat or withhold with busi-ness of urgent causes, to holde or put backe, so leat or stoppe.
Dutineri, to be leat.
Dutineri pace, to see that peace be not made.
Dutineri occupationibus, to be greatly occu-pled, or busied.
Nos alio bello dutineri putat, he thynketh that we are occupied with other warre.
Occupat, et dutineri.
Distinguo, xi, ere, to deuide, also to make dis-tinction, to put difference, to distinct with notes and markes.
Grauiora opera lufibus iocis q. distingo, I myngle myne earnest and waghce affayres, with recreations and pastimes.
Distinguere artificem ab inficio, to put diffe-rence betwene a counnyngt maune and a bungler.
Distinguere gemmis pocula, to sette and garnishe the place with pretious stones.
Djudicare ac distinguere uera a falsis, to differre and put difference betwene true thin-ges and falsse.
Distinguere ac separare, .
Vocem distinguere lingua, to pronounce wordes distinctly and leasurely.
Colore vario distinguere aliquid, to dis-tincte a thing with diuers colours.
Distinguo, re, the passue.
Caudis inter se distinguunt, they differ one from an other by theyr tales.
Distitum, olde wyttres used for Distitum.
Distito, au, are, to stande aparte to be distants one from an other.
Disto, itti, are, to differ, or bee distant, to bee a certayne space one from an other.
Spacio pari ditare vrring, to be equally in the mybble of two thynges.
Vides quantum distat oratio a veritate, you see howe farre your wordes differ from the truthe.
Mulum inter se distat, they differre muche one from the other.
Distorguo, fi, ere, to set twise to twise a spde.
Ahiliud vide, os vt sibi carosset distorsit, Wh, loke howe the hangman stretcht his monthé awaye : oꝝ what a wyfe monthé the hause maketh.

Distorio, onis, a wythþynge oꝝ wythþynge.
Distorus, a, um, set awaye out of faction, besoymed, crooked.
Crura distorta, crooked legges.
Distractio, onis, separacion, alienacion, oꝝ pul-linge awaye oꝝ a funder.
Distractor, oris, he that draweth oꝝ pulleth in funder.
Anima distracta in toto corpore, the soule
 defused in the whole body.
Distractus, a, um, pulled in funder.
Distraho, xi, here, to plucke awaye, to denie, to separate, to drawe a funder, to withdrawe a thyng oꝝ persone, to alienate, sometyms by transacion, it is taken foy to sell, also to stanyste oꝝ conclude matters in variance, to deferre oꝝ bypse of a thyng.
Controversias distrahere, to ende controversies oꝝ lutes.
Distrahuntur animi in varias sententias,
 they mynde be drawen now into one opina-on nowe into another.
Distraham cum illo societatem, I wyll foy-sake his fellowship oꝝ familiaritee, oꝝ I will have no longer company with hym.
U pluris poitea distraheret, what he myght
 after sell it foy moze money.
Quilanc rem distraheret, whiche myght
 deferre this matter.
Distrahu mediam Asiam Taurus, the mounteayne Taurus deuideth Asia in the myddes.
Distrahor, the passus.
Distribuo, ui, ere, to distribute oꝝ geue in sundry parte, to geue to sundrye persones, to deuide.
Distribuere causam, to deuide his pleadyng into sundrye partes, oꝝ to make many pleas of one matter.
Distribuere in singulos, to geue to every one
 a portion.
Distribuere in ministeria, to appoynte dy-uerse persons to diuers offices.
Distribuere milites, in numeros, to distribute oꝝ deuide souldiours into certain bades.
Distribute, in partes oꝝ portions.
Distributio, onis, partitio, distribution, also a figure of rhetorjke.
Distributor, oris, a distributor oꝝ deuides.
Distributus, a, um, distributed, deuided.
Districte, Greatly, in fewe wythes.
Districte denegare, to denie strictly.
Districte minari, to threaten strictly.
Districtus, a, um, let from dooynge of a thyng,
 constrained, bounde, drawne as a funder.
Districtus mihi videris esse, me thyng thou art brought into suche a straitte, that thou canste not tell what to dooe.
Districtus est obligatus.

[illegible][illegible]

Dare frons, et dare habenas, to give the type.

APR 1962

Dare probo, to reprobo, to rebuke.

DocId: 31200000

D. ANTE G.

100-443887-100

100

100

Abstract

Domo shire, to go forth of the doores.
 Domo luc accersius sum, I was sent for from home to come hyther.
 Domo canare, to suppe forth of the doores.
 Domus suas quemq; ire iubet, he commaundeth euery man to go home to his own house.
 Ex hac domu, out of this house.
 Domus, i. o. a dwelling house.
 Donarium, n. g. an house where such thynges were kepte, as were geuen to the goddis, after seruine, but after Sulla it is a gyfte,
 and not the house, where the gyfte is kepte,
 also it maye bee taken for a dole of monie.
 Donatice corona, garlandes that in old tyme were wyne to plaies.
 Donatio, onis, for g. a free geuyng.
 Donatio propter nuptias, a womans dowry.
 Donatistæ, heretikes that assymed the congregation of christen people to bee no where but with them. Wherfore those that came from the catholike parte vnto them, they hadde esteemes baptysme. Also they assy-med, that in the church were not people good and pī, but onely good. And that they only preteyned to the church. The authoure of this heresie was Donatus, a Numidian, as about the yere of our lord. 353.
 Donarium, i. n. g. a gyfte in monie or gown,
 geuen by emperours to the people, also to soueraines aboute theyr wages.
 Donatus, he that is able to geue.
 Donatus, i. m. gen. a grammarian, master to sapient ystom.
 Donatus, a, um, to whome any thyng is geuen.
 Donax, acis, a reede of cane, whereof menne made arrowes. It maye bee vied for an angling tobbe made of a cane.
 Donec, vntill, sometyne as longe.
 Vsq; donec veniat, vntill he come agepne.
 Donec viuo, as longe as I liue.
 Donicum, idem quod Donec.
 Dono, aui, arc, to geue lyberrallly or freely.
 Donare ciuitate, to make a citisen.
 Donare xermitate, to make a perpetuall mes-moyall of one.
 Donote hacre, et dono tibi hanc rem, I geue the this thyng.
 Donare alicui multa, large, & effuse, to re-trade one bountifullly and liberrallly.
 Donare vacacione, to exempte one from a charge.
 Donare aliquem gaudijs, to make one glad.
 Donare aliquem dono, to presente one with a gyfte, to geue freely to one.
 Donum, i. n. g. a gyfte, a reward.
 Accumulare aliquem donis, to geue one many gyfts. or many presences.
 Conferre donum, to bestowe a gyfte.
 Dona peragere, to geue that one hath promysed.

Donyfa, an ple in the sea Egeum.
 Dorcas, adis, fig. a burke of a doe. Item quod caprea, a doe burke.
 Dorca, and Dorica, names of countreys lyng nyng to Athens.
 Dorica lingua, the language of the people called Dorics, the v. kind of the Greekes.
 Dorica, a certayne fourme of musike, whiche represented a wonderfull graunted land wherfore was assigned vnto noble personages, and vsh in tragedies.
 Dorij, Dorienises, or Dorics, a people in Grece so called of a people inhabyng by the mountayns sayne Dora, whiche wanderpyng lyke to the Gothes, by force wanne certayne countreys, and finally subdued the olde inhabitants.
 Doron, a towne of Beata.
 Doris, id. s. the countreie by the hill Dora.
 Doris, a nymph of the sea, and is interpreted by eternelle. Also an herbe called Anchusa.
 Doriscus, a place in Thace, whiche conteyneth 120000 men, by the whiche Xerxes numbred his great army.
 Dorius, a ryuer of Portugal.
 Dorius, a, um, idem quod Doriscus, a, um.
 Dormio, iui, ire, to sleape.
 Dormire in viramuis aurem, to pynne, besignifying to bee without any manner of care.
 It maye bee englished to sleape soundely on bothe sides.
 Dormire in dextram aurem, fiducia alterius whan a man putteth his truste in an other,
 and is no longer carefull for a thyng.
 In viramuis oculum dormire, idem quod in viramuis aurem dormire.
 Dormire ad, or in lacem, to sleape vntill it bee late.
 Dormire totum mane, to sleape all the moynyng.
 Non omnibus dormio, I am not readye as euery mans calling.
 Dormisco, scere, to sleape or begyn to sleape.
 Dormitor, onis, a sleaper, a sluggarde, a negligene person.
 Dormito, aui, arc, to slumbe, to be almost on sleape, to nappe.
 Dormitandum tibi non est, Thou must not lenger the matter negligently, or go aboute
 it as thou were a sleape.
 Dormitorium, rij, ne. ge. a doytour or place to sleape in.
 Dormitorius, a, um, that whiche perteyneth to sleape.
 Dorodocia, corrupcion of iudges with gyftes and rewardes.
 Doron, a gyfte or reward.
 Doronicum, a plectouse and holsonne roote, broughte frome albanienta, whiche is of the quantitee of a mannes finger, and is knotte, knotte as it were squyres. It is pulle into confectiones made for diseases of the stomake and lacke of perfect digestion. Ruellius supposeth it to be that, whiche of the grekes is called Arnabo, of som Carnabi, or Zamabu.

 It is hot and dry in the thyrde degree.
 Dorophorus, he that carryeth a plectus.
 Dorpia, were certayne dayes, whiche the Machentenses kepte solempne, in open feastynge and banquettyng.
 Dorualia, pannelles, whiche hofes doo weare on theyr backs, whan they doo carpe of byaw.
 Doruarius, looke Doruarius.
 Dorium, i. n. g. a bacis of a man or beaste.
 sometyne a promontory.
 Dorum in mari, an heape of sande gathered in the sea, whiche watermen doo call a Meise.
 Doruarius, a, um, that hath many vnequall places lyke backes.
 Dorus, us, idem quod Dorum.
 Dorici, a citee of Mysia, by the riuier Danubis.
 Dorus, the sonne of Reptunus, whiche reigned in a parte of Grece.
 Doryclus, the ballarde sonne of Pyramus.
 Doryla, or Doryla, a great citee of Phrygia.
 Dorylus, one of the Centaures.
 Doryphorus, ri, m. g. a certayn gentylman, astendyng aboute the persone of a kynge, which bare a ramayn in his hande. Such of late yeres also pyncks haue vied to haue, and are called speares, though they beare onely in theyr handes battail spears.
 Dos, otis, f. g. dowerye, lande geuen in mary-age to the husbande for cause of the marriage only. It is also a qualitee of a person geuen by nature. Votes animi, indowementes of the soule, that is to saye, the gyftes of grace.
 Dotes corporis, indowementes of the body, that is to saye, beautee, strenght, helth, &c. the gyftes of nature.
 Dos profecticia, dowerye that the parentes
 geue of theyr owne gooddes.
 Dos aduenticia, dowerye that other geue to the parentes to beflow vpon theyr daughters.
 Doiones, are they that promise many thynges.
 Dosuarius, that beareth or carryeth any thyng
 on the backe.
 Dosum, olde wyrters vied for dorsum.
 Doralis, le, that perteyneth to dowerye.
 Bona dotalia, dotalis fundus, gooddes of landes geuen with a woman in marriage.
 Dotatus, a, um, indowed, that hath dowerye geuen vnto it.
 Dro, aui, arc, to indowe.
 Dux, a, f. g. in greke signifiaeth opynion, store.

Racra, x, f. g. the female dragon.
 Dracrus, a capytaine of Beata, vainequysed by Lucius Aquinas the 140.

mayne.
 Drachma, x, fur. genic. the. viii. parte of an ounce in weyght of measure. It was also a coyne signed with a bullocke, whiche counte-recepyed as muche as a poble grete, beynge viii. gretes the weyght of an ounce.
 Drachina auri, was. xii. silver drachmas, of our monie nowe. v. s. i. d.
 Vix drachmis obsonatus est decem, he stant ly bestoweb. x. d. vpon the bancket.
 Draco, onis, m. ge. a dragon. Draco, is also the name of hym, whiche fyrste gaue lawes to the Atheniens, whereto he appoynted death for euery smalle faulte. Wherfore it was said, he wyate his lawes with the bloud of men.
 Draconarius, a standarde beare.
 Dracones, of white bee taken for olde bysmaches of bynes. Also it is an herbe called Py-retum, it bourneth and byteth the tongue, as well the leafe as the roote: In english the Polypode of Spayne.
 Draconigena, of poetes was called the citee of Beotia, because it was buildd by Cadmus, and the first men that spang of the dragons teethe.
 Dracontias, a stone taken oute of a serpent's head, so delynt Stephen of, or elles it resolueth in the byayne, whyle he lyeth. It is also called Draconites.
 Dracontium, rij, neut. genic. an herbe called Dragons.
 Dracunculus, li, m. ge. a litle dragon. It is also an herbe called Dragons, named also Dracontea. for Dracontium, Dracunculus, and Dracontea, reade diligently Ruellius in his seconde booke. 96. and. 97. chapters.
 Dragma, atis, n. g. a gripe of handfull.
 Draguncea, an herbe called Dragons.
 Drama, atis, n. g. where in a comedie or interlade, byuers personages be brought in, some abydyng, some departing.
 Drangiana, a prouince in Asia the moie.
 Draui, a people of Thace, whiche at the birth of chyldren make great lamentacion, and as the death make great joy.
 Drepanu, a citee in Italy called nowe Trapani.
 Drilon, a ryuer of Dalmatia, called commonly by Dyrus.
 Dromas, dromadis, th. g. a hynde of camels,
 whiche haue two bunches on theyr backes,
 and are thorowlyng swyfte, and maye sustayne to be chace dades without dyneke, whan they be domestick.
 Dromones, certayne fyshes.
 Dromus, the place, where men doo renne hof-ses to tye the swyftnesse of them.
 Dropax, acis, m. g. a noble opturist made with pische, excellently commended of Galenus, and other famous physiciens.
 As. li. Drus

Druides dum, or Druida, aram, were sometime in fraunce called Gallia, one of the ii. ethates, of the condiction, as the spiritualtie is nowe amonge vs. They had in greete estimation, wooddes of greete oles, and in mercayous reserue all thynges that grew on oles especially mistelden, aspyng that it was sent from heuen. They sacrifice was in this forme. Under an oke, wheron grew mistelden, they caused meate to be prepared and set, and two white bulles to be broughte forth, whose voices were than spide bounden, that is to saye, were than sette spide in the plough of wayne. Then the piteste (being cladde in white) clamb vp to the tree, and hauing a byll of golde in his hande, dyd threde or cutte of the mistelden: than offered ther the sacrifice, prayng, that the gyfte that shoulde be geuen, myght be to them that shoulde receyue it prosperous and fortunate, supposing that the best, which was barren yf he drinke of the mistelden, could be fruit-full, and that it was a sure remedy agaynst all pson. It is supposed, that they superstition came spide out of this ple called Wy-tarn.

Drupae, are olives or oyle bearers, whiche are betwene greene and rype, and dooe begynne to waxe blacke.

Drusmagus, a citie of Aethia, called commonly exempt.

Drusus, the name of a Roman, of right noble tyngage, and eloquence, but he was proude and ambitious.

Dryas, the people name of a man of Thes-aly, friende of Nestor.

Dryades, were fayres of wooddes.

Dryada, idem quod Druida.

Dryas, a litell wooyne founde in the roote of an oke, so mischeuous a poyson, that yf one treade on hym barefooted, foot the with the thorne cometh of, and all the legges swelleth: And that whiche is moxe to be meruayled at, they that dooe handle hym, that is hurte. dooe lose theyr synne. Aboute the place where the said wooyne hath byren, to a rednesse, with a swelling, and there ex-sent itell wheates, out of the whiche cometh a waile humour. also there happeneth vnto hym that is hurte, fecatynge in the doo-marke and beat. One remedy therfore is a horne beaten in a moyer, and drunken with wyne. also the roote of an holly byrped, and larde vnto the place, dooeth myrrigate the payne.

Drylon, looke Drilon.

Drymodis, afterward Pelasgus, is nowe called Archadie.

Dryopes, people of Eptus.

Dryophlutes, a kynde of frogges.

Dryophanon, a cecayne herbe.

Dryopteris, an herbe that groweth on olde hen trees, amonge the mosse, and is lyke to ferne: but the reues of incisions of the lea-ues bee lesse, and the rootes bee rougher, and twisted together, and in taste somewhat sweete, some call it Dryanderis roset.

Dryos, sygne growng in oles.

D ANTE V.

D Va, olde wynters used for Duo, in the neut. gen. plur. num.

Dualis, i.e. perceiving to two.

Dubat, for Dubitat, a woode out of use.

Dubenus, ni. m.g. was of old Romans taken for Dominus.

Dubiosus, a. um, doubtful.

Dubis, a ruyne in fraunce, called Le doux.

Dubitabilis, i.e. that may be doubted of.

Dubitatim, Dubie, Dubitanter, doubtfully.

Dubitatio, onis, i.g. a doubt.

Adducere in dubitatione, to bring in doubt.

Adferre dubitationem alicui, to bring one in doubt.

Cesar responder, eo sibi minus dubitatione nis dari, quod. &c. Cesar answered, that he doubted the lesse of the matter, because. &c.

Quod quamquam dubitationem non habeat, Whiche thyng all thoughtes be not to be doubted of.

Nulla apud me dubitationem reliquisti,
You haue put me cleare out of doubt: or ye haue not caused me to doubt any thing at all.

Dubiratus, a. um, doubtful, vncertaine.

Dubiro, aui, are, to be in doubt, or to tracte tyme, to mystifie, to bee astrayde, to stande in a mule of studie.

Dub ratur, men doute.

Dubitare et haurire.

Quid dubitas dicere? why arte thou asrayd to speake it?

Quid dubitat dare? Why standeth he mus-syng, whether he make geue it or no?

Dubitare de fide alienius, to mistrust ont.

Hac dum dubitas, mentes abierunt decem, Whyle thou haste been doubtinge of these matters, tenne monethes be come and gone.

Dubius, a. um, doubtful, dangerous, perilous.

Dubius, is he that hath two wayes, and woteth not whiche to take.

Dubia cerna, a bankette, wherent are so many and dyuers meates, that a man knoweth not of whiche he make eate.

Dubiz res, thynges doubtful, or daungerous.

Haud dubium est mihi, I doubt not.

Dubium id ne est? Dooe you doubt therof?

Is there any doubt therein?

Dubio

Dubio procul, without doubt.

Perspicuum et dubium, contrary.

Dubium argentum, monete wherof one is in doubte whether it be good or no.

Accipe argentum, liquid est dubium, immutabo, Take the monete, yf there bee any that ye be in doubte of, whether it be good,
I will change it.

Dubium celum, The aye partly cleere, partly ouercast with cloudes.

Lux dubia, daupnyng of the date.

Dubij rumores, vncertaine rumours.

Dubia tempora, dangerous and perillous
tymes.

Ducatus, us, m.g. the gouernance of conduct of men. also a duchie.

Ducatus praetore, to bee capitayn of an host to byng men to battayle.

Ducatus, ti, a copie called a ducate.

Ducenarius, a capityn of two hundred men.

Ducenarius, a. um, of. 200. weight.

Ducenti, x. a, two hundred.

Ducentimus, a. um, the two hundred.

Ducenties, two hundred tymes.

Ducenus, a. um, two hundred.

Ducenit am, two hundred piers.

Duco, x. ere, to bringe of to leade them that bee withyng, to haue respecte to a thyng, to attende of thyng by some pleasurouse mane, to euolue, to drawe, as a manne draweth a swoorde, to gear, to gouerne of goues, to go, to spende, or passe the tyme, to bypde of make up, to delaye of prolonge, to wedde of dooe the acte of marriage. sometime it signifith dooeinge, as Ducere somnos, to slepe.

Sometime to tourne away, as Ducere vul-tus, to tourne away the countenance of byface, to goe downe, as, Ego me duco ab arbore, I wente downe of the tree. somtyme to suppose, to iudge, to esteeme of thyng.

Hanc esse in re sapientiam existimant, vt oz
monia tua in re posita esse ducas, men thyng that wylsome to bee in pou, that ye thyng all that whiche is yours, to be in your selfe, and not in fortune.

Ducere aetatem, to spende ones tyme.

Ducere animum, to lyue. Also to drawe breath.

Ducere animo, to consyder of thyng.

Ducere animam, to recreate the mynde.

Ducere aquam, to conueyge water from a springe.

Ducere bellum, to prolonge battayle of warre.

Ducere colorem, to waxe ruddy.

Ducere damno, to take it to a losse of hurt.

Ducere aliquem ex aere, to counterfeit one in metall.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere diem ex die, to putte of frome date
to date.

Ducere fossam, to caste or make a dyche.

Ducere honori, to esteeme it honourable.

Ducere horas extremas, to lye a dyng.

Ducere infra se omnia numalia, to esteeme all thynges lesse than hym selfe.

Ducere lateres, to make tyles.

Ducere laudi, to tourne it to prayse.

Ducere liniam, to drawe a lynce.

Ducere minoris, to esteeme it lesse, or sette lesse by.

Ducere mortuum, to bee dead.

Meos ne ego ante oculos illam patiar alios amplexari? mortuum hercle me duco tastus, Shall I suffer hym to embrace hie beescie myne eyes? By god I hadde rather bee dead.

Ducere mucronem, to drawe a swoorde.

Ducere noctem iucundis sermonibus, to passe foorth the nyght with pleasurouse talkyng.

Ducere nomen ex re aliqua, to be named after some thyng.

Ducere officij, to suppose it to be his duetie.

Ducere parui, to sette bytall by.

Ducere prae se neminem, to sette by no manne
but hym selfe.

Ducere principium, exordium, initium, to be-gynne, or to take a begynnyng.

Ducere probro, to dispraple.

Ducere pro falsis, to take it for lyes.

Ducere similitudinem ex aliquo, to take a pa-terne of a thyng.

Ducere somnos, to sleape.

Ducere spiritum, to fetche of drawe breathe,
to lyue.

Ducere sulcos, to make foytrowes.

Ducere suspiria, to sygh.

Ducere vilitatem ex re aliqua, to gette profite
by a thyng.

Ducuntur suspiciones, ex ipso facto, of that acte men shall gather suspicion.

Ducere viuras, to continue payement of money taken by vlture.

Vallum ducere, to make a trench.

Vultum ducere, to frowne or lowe.

Duci re aliqua, to bee deluded with a thyng.

Duci errore, to be deceyved, to be in a wynged opinion.

Duci inceptis ac fabulis, to take pleasure in fan-tastes and fables, to beleue saynges and flat-terpunges.

Duci ventre, to tone good morselles.

Rationem salutis ducere, to regarde health.

Ducuntur omnia dei nutu, All thynges be go-uerned and disposed by the will of god.

Iam ad regem recta me ducam, Now wyl I go dreight to the kynge.

Duc te ab aribus, Set the out of the house.

Ducere ad credendum, to induce one to beleue
a thyng.

Ducere cicatricem, when the scrotche of scars is.

of a wounde healeth oꝝ groweth together.
Ex quibus coniectura ducitur, By whiche thynges a man make coniecture oꝝ gather.
Diem somno ducere, to spend away the day
in sleape, to sleape all the day longe.
Fumus et exequias ducere, to keepe an obse-quie oꝝ funerals.
Gen^o ab aliquo ducere, to descende lineally fro
one. In ius ducto hominem, comence an action against the man, oꝝ sue hym in the lawe.
Ducere laminam, to make a thynne plate.
In matrimonium ducere, to marry.
Ducere et consilare mendacium, to dawse oꝝ pymage a lye.
Muros ducere, to make oꝝ buylde walles.
Nubium ducere, to make the wether cloudy and darke, and by transfection, referred to the countenance, to make to lisse sadly a heavily Ducere obliuia vite prioris, to forget the life that one hath ledde before.
Exquisitis modis os ducere, To fashion the mouth cariously in speaking.
Ducere rationem salutis, to haue consideration of ones sautesgarde oꝝ health.
Sortem ducere, to drawe lotes.
E luto vasa ducere, to make vessels of earthe
oꝝ clape.
Ope uno duci, to thynke.
Tantummodo coniectura ducor ad suspicandum, I am onely moued by coniecture, to thynte oꝝ deeme so.
Duci despiciatur, to be despised, to be lptell regarded oꝝ sette by.
Duci palmaris dictis, to be flattered with faine wordes.
In luto numero duci, to be counted oꝝ tugged an enemy.
Ducere rem per altercationem, to pꝛolonge and dꝛue of the matter by contention.
Ducere aliquem, to fode of a man by pꝛolon-gynge the matter.
Nisi ducere in bonis pꝛæter virtutem, to se-tyme nothing good but verue.
Plerumq; in gloria, oꝝ gloria ducunt, the moste parte esteme it for a great renoume oꝝ gloꝛye.
Quod apud Numidas honori ducitur, whiche among the Numidians, is counted an honourable thyng.
Duci, aui, are, to gouerne, after Cæleptine, but the place that he citeth of Cæro hath ducere.
Duona, the citee of Laoye in France.
Ducarius, a, um, he that dwyleth oꝝ leadeth.
Ducarius funis, a coꝛde that is putte into a troote to drawe a thyng.
Duculis, le, casp to be drawen, oꝝ that maye bee be bearen into places.
Ducum, with leasure.
Ducum, aui, are, to leade about often.
Ducro, aui, are, to leade about, to take a wile,
so esteme, to haue a wate with hym, to obteyn to haue a thyng.

Ductare cestum, to leade the baunce.
Ductare exercitum, to leade an army.
Dolis ductare, to deceiue oꝝ beggle.
Nunc qui nihil habes maledictis eam duc-tare postulas, Nowe because thou hast no thyng to geue, thou wouldest geat oꝝ obteyne hie by thynde wordes, oꝝ froward language.
Ductor, oris, m. gen. a guide oꝝ a capitayne,
a leader.
Ductus, a, um, ledde, moued, guyded.
Ducta cicatrix, a wounde cleane healed, no
thyng remaynyng but a seame oꝝ marke.
Sorte ductus, that hath chaunced by lot.
Ductus, us, m. g. a cundyte, wherby water doeth renne, a leadyng oꝝ traynyng of a thyng,
a gouernynge oꝝ guydynge.
Ductus aquarum, The course of water by reenches oꝝ pꝛeꝛes.
Ductus oris, the fashionynge of the face oꝝ
mouthe in speaking oꝝ pronouncynge.
Ductus literarum, the drawynge oꝝ fashionyng of the letters in wytyng.
Dudum, but late, ere whyle, whyle ere, not long sente, somtyme before, somtyme long agone, oꝝ a great whyle.
Incertior multo quam dudum, muche moꝛe vncertayne than I was before.
Quam dudum? howe long ago? howe longe sente.
Quanto formosior mihi videre quam dudum? Howe muche fayer doo ye seme to me than ye dꝛd whyle ere?
Vt dudum audiebamus, As we heard longe
before.
Dudum et nunc opponuntur.
Duella, x, f. g. the thynge part of an ounce.
Duellator, oris, m. g. a warrtour.
Duellus, a, um, warrellyng, pꝛeteynyng vnto to warre.
Duellum, li, n. g. a battayle betweene two.
Duellum, x, f. g. in olde tyme called Bellona.
Duicentus, he that is toptwely rasked with an other, as the father with the sonne.
Duidens, a sheepe of two teethe.
Duellus, oꝝ Duillus, a citizen of Rome, whiche epistle triumphed for victorie on the sea.
Duis, of the auncient authours was vsed for Dederis.
Dulcadium, eueꝛy sweete meate.
Dulce et Dulciter, sweetely, genyly.
Dulcedo, inis, Dulcitas, Dulcitus, et dulcor, sweetenesse.
Dulceo, ere, to bee sweete.
Dulcesco, scere, to waxe sweete.
Dulciarius, a, um, pꝛeteynyng to sweete thyngs ge, sweets.

Dulcis

Dulciarius panis, a marchepayne made with almondes and sugar.
Dulciarius pistor, a make of marchepaynes
oꝝ other sweete thynges in paste.
Dulciculus, a, u, a little sweete, somewhat sweete.
Dulcissus, a, um, flowynge sweetely.
Dulciloquus, a, um, he that speaketh sweetely.
Dulcis, ce, sweete, pleasant, contrary to sharpe and belement.
Dulcis epistola, a sweete oꝝ pleasant epistle
oꝝ letter.
Dulcisonus, a, um, soundynge sweetely.
Dulco, aui, are, to make sweete.
Dulia, the seruise of a bondeman oꝝ slave.
Dulichium, an yle in the sea Adalish, oꝝ as some saye Ionio.
Dulopolis, a citee of Ethiopia called by an oꝝ ther name Acanthus.
Dum, somtyme signifieth whan, oꝝ whyles, as Dum dormis, fures domum intrant, whyles thou slepest, theues enter into thy house. Some tyme buttill. Somtyme as longe. Vsq; ne vas lucit. C. Perpetuo recte dum quidem illic fui, Whedest thou welle all that whyle? E.
Yes, alwaie well as long as I was there, at-to it signifieth wherfoꝛe. Also, so that. Some-tyme it dooeth but make by a woꝛde: as, Ades dum paucis te volo, Come hither, I woulde speake a woꝛde oꝝ two with you.
Nihil dum, nothyng yet.
Dum conderet urbem, whan oꝝ whyle he dꝛd buylde the citee.
Dum socꝛi venirent, vntyle theys fellows
dꝛd come.
Dum illum modo habeam mecum, So that I maye onely haue hym with me.
Hæc dum incipias graui sunt, These thyngs ges be harde tyl a man haue begun.
Dum tempus ad eam rem tulit, As longe as the tyme was conuenient.
Audieris dum, for Postq; audieris.
Dum ne tibi videar, non laboro, So that I doo not seme so to you, I passe not.
Dumetum, n. g. a thynge oꝝ bushy grounde.
Dummodo, so that.
Dumofus, a, um, full of bushes, byters, byams
bles and thornes.
Dumus, m, n. g. a hynde of thornes oꝝ byters.
Dunium, the roune of Dorchester.
Duntaxat, onely, at the least wate. Somtyme for Pꝛæterim, specially.
Non duntaxat, for Non solum.
Dunum, a countrey in England called Durha.
Duo, ui, ere, to geue.
Duo, duæ, duo, two.
Duodecim, twelue.
Duodecies, twelue tymes.
Duodecies Sesterium, xii. hundred thons sande Sesteria.
Duodecimus, a, um, the twelfthe.

Duodeni, twelue together. Vide Deni.
Duodequadragenipedes, xxxviii. foots.
Duodequadraginta anni, xxxviii. yeres.
Duodequingagesimus annus, the xlviij. yere.
Duodeviginti, eightene.
Duodeuiceni denarij, xliij. pence.
Duodetriginta, xxxv.
Duodeuicesimus, a, um, the. xlvij.
Duodetrices, xxxv. tymes.
Duodenonaginta, lxxxviii. yeres.
Duonum, olde wyters vsed for Bonum.
Duplars, knyghtes, oꝝ such souldiours as had double allowaunce.
Duplaris numerus, a numbre that is doubled.
Duplex, icis, om. g. double oꝝ two; oꝝ twyse
as muche.
Duplici spe vii, to haue hope two wates, oꝝ as we saye pꝛouerbially, to haue two strenges on his bowe.
Duplex comædia, two comedies.
Duplex damnus, double losse oꝝ domage.
Duplicita q̃ seruorū numerus exigit, double so many as the nūbre of hys seruantes requyryth.
Duplicatio, oris, f. g. a doublynge.
Duplicato, at the double.
Duplicatus, a, u, doubled, made twyse so muche.
Duplicarius, ij, a souldiour that hath double allowaunce.
Dupliger, two wates.
Duplico, aui, are, to make double, to increase, to make twyse so muche.
Duplicare verba, to compound .ii. wordes in
one. Bellum duplicare, to make the warre twyse so muche as it was.
Duplio, oris, m. g. the double.
Duplum, pli, the double.
Duplus, a, um, double.
Dupondius et Dupondij, two pound weight.
Durabilis, le, durable.
Duracinus, a, um, that hath an harde skynne, oꝝ
couerynge of the grapes.
Duracina vva, grapes, with thicke skynnes.
Duram, some thyng to be the name of a ciuer,
nere vnto which, the gꝛantes made the toure
Babel, some will it to be a fælde, as in Daniel.
Duramen, inis, et duramentum, n. g. the arm of a vine. Also stablesse, constance, hardynge.
Durata, plur. nu, woodde, tymbre.
Durateus, oꝝ Durus, a, um, wooden, oꝝ of wood.
Duratrix, icis, that hardneth.
Duratus, a, um, hardened.
Dure, cruelly, hardely, rigourously, vngentyly.
Dureo, ui, ere, to be harde oꝝ cruell.
Duresco, ui, scere, to waxe harde, to harden.
Durera, the Spaniards call a vessel that they vse to wathe and bathe thẽ in in.
Duris, oꝝ Turia, the name of a rꝛuer nere to Valencia, called commonly Duero.
Duricia, x, f. g. Durities, ei, et duritas, aris, f. g.
hardnes, rudenes, rigour, asperitee, crueltie.
Aa. lllij. Dun

Duricoria, thynges that haue harde skynnes.
Duricordium, n. hardnesse of herte.
Duricors, harde herte.

Duriter, hardely, with muche peprie. somtyme cruelly, seuerely.

Parce ac duriter, sparingly and hardly.

Vitam duriter agebat, He luyed an hard and pepnfull lyfe.

Durisculus, a, um, a diminutiue of durus.

Duro, a, are, to endure or continue, to susteyn or suffer, to harden or make harde.

Durare animum, to harden ones herte, and not to heare one that intreateth hym.

Cor dura, feeble thy mnd to take it patiently
In eternum durare, to continue for ever.

Durocorum, the cite of Retnes in France.

Durus, a, um, harde, soude, pepnfull, cruell, rigorous, also dull, harde witted, rude.

Duro animo es, thou arte harde herte.

Durus, ferreus, et inhumanus.

Ammon durior, fearlesse of come or vittalles

Durore fortuna confictari, to bee troubled with aduersitee.

Durus homo, an harde and rigorous person.

Durum ingenium, an vngentill nature, hard to intreate.

Dura trans partes prædicas, My brother is in an harde case by thy sayng.

Durus et agrestis, vntureys and rude.

Data provincia, a sove charge, a thyng harde to be broughte to passe.

Data vita, a weerie and pepnfull lyfe.

Durumq; vni, a man rigorous and cruell in nature.

Durum ingenio, dull witted.

Dumofus, idem quod dumofus.

Dumofus, a certayne officer in Rome, whiche had authorities ouer the pysons and gyles, so our shiriffes haue in Englaunde.

Dumofus, idem, pertaining to that office.

Dumofus, u, m, g. an office, wherein the auctoritie is committed to two men.

Dux, uis, com, g. a capitayn, a leader, a gyde, a chiefe of principall doer in any thyng.

Ducem rationem habere, to folowe reason, as a gyde and capitayne.

D ANTE Y.

Dyscolia, is a liffing or rising vp of the herte, the arteries, the vyane, and ex- me that dooe inclose the vyane, and that is in length, breadth, and depeneth, fen- sible to feeble by the pulles.

Dynamene, a nymphe.

Dynasta, vel Dynastes, x, m, g. a lord of great power, a prince, a ruler.

Dynastia, a rule of gouernance, might, power.

Dyora, looke Diosa.

Dyrinachium, a cite in Sicilie, whiche was feile called Epidamnus. It is now called Dura30.

Dys, in composition significth euill, distaste, or impossible.

Dyscolia, difficultee.

Dyscolus, li, m, g. he that is shewde, and pite to intreate.

Dysenteria, a perillous flisse, with excoction of rasng of the bowelles, continuall tourmentes, som bloud issuing forth. The cause be sharpe & venomous humours, proceeding of yealowe cholet vnnaturall, Warpenesse of bloude, false fleume, melancoly aduult. Some tyme of ill medicines or impostumacions of the liver. Somtyme by default of the mem- bres annexed. Somtyme by the yle habite of all the bodie.

Dysentericus, a, um, greened with that disease.

Dysphilus, an ill frende.

Dyspnea, difficultee in fetchng of breathe.

The causes be stoppgng of the waies, where by the breathe shoulde passe: distillacions of ecumes harte and sharpe, or colde and fleu- matyke. Somtyme leproy by hnores in the chote or lunges comen of a melancoly matter.

Dysnoicus, a, um, diseased with that spence.

Dysuria, a spechenesse, whiche letteth a man to pisse. It be caused be extencion of bollyng out of the bladder, after vehement retencion of keepng backe of the vrine, congealng of bloude or matter in the necke of the bladder or instrument of vrine, of stones or impostu- macion there: Of stones, grauell, an impos- tume, warre or hard fleshe, bredde in the ret- nes of the backe.

E ANTE A.

FOR THE moste parte significth, of.

E, of the olde wryters was often used for I.

E conspectu fugere, to go out of sight.

E diuerso, on the contra- ry parte, or on the other spde. E facili, easly.

E longinquo, farre of.

E me, ne quidem meruas, nihil scier, I care not, he shall knowe nothyng of me.

E Pamphilo grauida est, She is with chylde by Pamphilus.

E Pamphilo peperit, She had a chylde by Pamphilus.

E proximo aspicere, to see nrygh hande.

E proximo vicinus, my nexte neighbour.

E regione, face to face, one directly agaynst an other, or on the other spde directly.

E regione solis, ouer right agaynst the sunne.

Ere nata, conspyderng the matter.

Ere

Ere nata melius fieri haud potuit, Consyder- yng the matter, or as the case requyred, it mought be no better.

Erenibus laborat, he is speke in his backe, or greened with the stone.

Ere tua, pertaining to thy pposite, or for thy pposite.

Ere publica, concernng the common weale

E via languet, he is weery of his tourney, or speke with goring or rydng.

E vestigio, footstapth.

E meo quidem animo, after myne opynion, as I thinke.

E contrario, contraspyde.

E natura, accordng to nature.

E sublimi facere, to caste from hygh.

Eale, a beast in Indye, lyke an hoise, found a- bout greates rpyres.

He hath a raple lyke an ollyphant, in colour blache or bale, and hath sawes lyke a boze, and therein tuskas a rus- bte longe and more, whiche are apt to what be the beaste will, for they stande not faste, but are bowed as he lusteth: so that whan he fyghteth, he setteth vp the one, and holdeth downe the other; to the intent that yf the one in fighing wyxe dull, or be broken, the other shall serue hym.

Eanus, the god of the pere, whom the Phent- rians pincted, a serpente with his tayle in his mouth.

Eantes, the name of a stoy wryter, that was in that age that Bismalian reigned in the east part.

Eapropier, therefore.

Easio, the cite called saint Sebastian in Spain

Eatenus, vnto that, in that manner of wyse, till that tyme, vntill, vntill than, so farre.

Eatenus ne quid, pro solum.

E ANTE B.

Ebeat, they that from great prosperitee are fallen into miserie.

Ebenus, n, vel Ebenum, a tree blache in colour, and odouriferous whan it is burned, it hath vertue to clemente the eyes. This tree groweth in Indye, and beeyng cut, it waxeth as harde as a stone.

Sola India nigrum fert ebenum, onely In- dye bypgeth forth blache Ebenus. It is also wryten with H. rebe Hebenus.

Ebeo, aui, are, to bypng out of prosperitee.

Ebibio, ebibere, to bypke all out.

Ebionitæ, heretikes, whiche denyed Christ to be god, and affirmed, that all paeres of the olde lawe, oughte to bee kepte with the newe lawe. They receyued only the gospell of saint Mathew, and resected the other, and also all the epistles of saynt Paule. The authour of that secte was one Ebion, about the yere of our loyde. 88.

Eblana, a cite in Yerlande called Dublyn or Duellin.

Eblandior, iris, iri, to geat a thyng by flatterp- also to lye.

Eblandiri solitudines ruris, to make that the lacke of company in the countreys, shall not be grieuous.

Eblandiri iustitragia, to obteyne the voyce and consent of men by flatterng.

Eblanditus, a, um, gotten by flatterpge. also thaclytheth or pleaseth.

Eboiacum, or Eburacum, ci, a cite in Englad called York.

Eboratus, a, um, of puoy without.

Ebores, a, um, of puoy.

Ebolus, an yle betwene Sardinia & Aethiopia, the earth wherof, will suffer no venomous thyng to lye, where is suche byede of conies, that they bestee the yles next adioyngng.

Ebricatus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebricitas, aui, dyunknesse.

Ebrilius, a, um, a littell dyunk.

Ebricitas, aui, g. continuall dyunknesse.

Ebricitas, a, um, often dyunk.

Ebrilio, aui, are, to make dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Ebrus, a, um, dyunk.

Aa v

Eblu

E ANTE C.

Eburones, people of the countreys called Alege of Lukie, beyonde Babylon.
Eburonics, a people of Fraunce.
Eburum, a cite of Germany called commonly Dumung.

E ANTE C.

E Cameda, the daughter of the valiaunte Aristonous, which at the batayle of Theop was gotten to Nestor.
Ecardia, a kynde of numbze, whiche hath in it the figure of an herie blake and grene.
Ecaton, an othe by Ladoz, whiche male stand for by my faith: onely by faith of women.
Ecbans, a figure in spearyng, called digression, where a man teacheth for the tyme the pynce pall matters.
Ecbatana, the chief cite of the realme of Mede.
There is a cite in Siria of the same name.
Some tyme called Epiphania, and male bee wysen Egbatana.
Echolia, orum, newge, or Echolia, a, or Ec holia, a kynde of medecine, whiche phy sicians doo vse to rydde forth the infants that be made in the mothers wombe.
Ece, an aduerbe demonstratiue, whiche signi fith to, see, properly where a thyng sodenly happenech: but it is vied, where as happen ech to sodenly thyng: as, Vn carbone ece ce eremere, as you see in the cole and ashe.
Ece ubi, write thou se, take heed.
Ece me, lo here I am.
Ece rem, lo here to all the matter.
Ece tabula Domini litera, Behold sobas in Domini litera were brought to me.
Ecece, an aduerbe of superlative, signifyinge as muche as Per Cererem. Some vse it for ec ce, to name, for now.
Eccentricus, a, are spheres one inclosyng an other, so that the one is ouer the other and the one is contayned within the holownesse of the other.
Eccipium, for Ecce illum, see hym.
Eccitum, for Ecce istum, see he.
Ecclesia, a, for g. an assembly, a counsaile. As among christen outbowes it signifieth the con gregation of people in the faith of Christe, the church.
Ecclesiastes, a, m. g. a preacher.
Eccubi, to where.
Eccum, Eccum, Eccus, Eccus, to he is here, to he is here, lo these men be here, to these wo men be here.
Eccus, certayne officers in other citees lyke to the Tribunes in Rome. It was theryn office to summon theym that withheld the common treasure.
Echemon, Echinus sonne slayn by Demetrius Echemythia, cartwrighte of Spynesse, Silene.

E ANTE C.

Echemythius, he that in a common counsaile assemble heperth silence, and onely harsheneth what other saie.
Echeneis, a fyre called also Remora, whiche clawpyn to the keele of a shyppe, will reteryn hym, not withstanding the violence of any wynde that bloweth.
Echenes, a veray courtesie and genyll person,
of the people called Phaeaces.
Echi, littell narrowe vales or dales betwene
two hilles.
Echidna, a water serpent, properly that whys
che was slayne by Hercules, called Hydra.
Echinades, been playdes in a tyue in Grece, called Achelous, whiche disuiderth Actolia, from Acarnania.
Echinatus, a, um, haupng a rough or pyrchyng
state of shell.
Echinata folia, leaues haupng pythies.
Echineis, anple in the sea Aegium.
Echinometra, a, looke Echinus.
Echinon, a cite of Thrace.
Echinophora, a kynde of shell fyre.
Echinus, m. g. the covering or vicermost shale of a chelton nutte, or other whiche is rough or pyrchyng. It is also a sea fyre, which hart on hym a shell with pythies, a hath the pythies in the dede of feete, but he goeth not, but on ly tumblyeth, for when he is taken, the pythies keepe some wyne and made blunr. Som haue veray long pythies and littell shelles, and they be called Echinometra. There fyndes hee of sundry colours, some white, some redde, some purple, some blew, some grene, as Perotus wyreth in his Cornucopie, that he sawe thym: but he sayeth, that when they be dead the feefle and delectable colour vanysheth a way. It is also a beast called an echin of hedge hogge. It was also a vessel of brasse among the Grekes, wherinto the sayyng of witness ses were put and sealed: After som, where in cuppes were washed, also a popylon of wyer and a sorte of porres, also a certayne sort of braceletes, whiche women vse to weare.
+ Echinus parum procratinat: or, Echinus parroniens cunctatur, A prouerbe applyed vnto hym that delayeth a matter to his owne pynne and trouble.
Echion, an herbe called also Alcibiadion, grow yng in vales and rough groundes like vnto to languedcheefe, and hath floures lyke bo rage: but as they be full ryed, they be purple of colour, and the seede therof is lyke the head of an adder. Echion, is also a medecine for sores eyes.
Echioni, Thebans, so called of Echion, one of the fyue that helpe Ladmus to build Thebes.
Echites, a stone, specked lyke a serpent.
Echo, or Echus, f. g. a fowne, whiche reboun deth to the noyse of voyce, that is made in a vale

E ANTE C.

vale of in a great woodde.
Ecligma, or Eclegma, atis, a medecine, whiche must not be eaten or chewed, but byng in the mouthe, suffered to spile downe into the stom acke by littell and littell: the Arabian phy sicians doo call it Lohoch.
Eclipsis, is, f. g. a wanyng or sayyng.
Eclipsis lunæ, the eclipse of the moone.
Eclipticus, a, um, pertynyng to the ecliptic.
Ecloga, a communicacion, a sayyng, election, chorse.
Ecnephias, a storme, where a cloude is broken and falleth.
Econ, an image.
Econcula, a littell ymage.
Econtra, contrarywise.
Econtrario, idem.
Ecpetala, were cuppes amonge the Grekes, whych were large and wyde. Our flat bolles, wherin we drynke wyne, maye bee so called.
Ecliptica medicamenta, medecines, whiche doo open the cunclies or passages in the body, whiche are stopped or farrid.
Eclipsis, a playn interpretation of the letter, leauyng no parte vnderclared.
Ecquando, at what tyme, or to what.
Ecquis, ecqua, ecquod, vel ecquid, But to who see who, see what.
Ecquid, but what, to what.
Ecquis in villa est? Is there any manne in the ferme?
Ecquid te pudet? arte thou not ashamed?
Ecquid sit, (in Plautus) for quicquid sit.
Ecquisnam, quoniam, quodnam, vel quidnam,
idem quod Ecquis.
Ectasis, a contynge, a damps, a cramp, a traunce,
whan a man forgetteth hym selfe.
Ectasis, a figure, vnder the syllable, natural to thore, is produced or made longe.
Ectilipis, where the letter M, is signed with a bowell (and) sounded.
Ectrapis, they whiche abhorre the common fas
tion of nature or olde vices.
Ectropium, whan the nyther liddes of the eye
falleth, and can not lopyne with the ouer lpd.
Ectypum, that whiche is made accordyng to the paterne.
Eculeus, idem quod Equuleus.

E ANTE D.

E Dacitas, atis, vnfaciable feedyng, gours mandyng.
Edax, acis, om. g. a great eater of con
suete, a glutton, or deuourer of meate.
Edaxia, they whiche haue the orderyng of the kynges meate.
Eden, signifieth pleasure or delectacion.
Edentatus, a, um, that hath his teethe taken or steepon out.
Edento, aui, are, to make toothlesse, so styph

E ANTE D.

or beate out ones teethe.
Edentulus, a, um, toothlesse.
Edera, looke Hedera.
Edessa, a cite beyonde the estur of Euphrates.
Edico, xi, cere, to commande or ordyne, to de clare or publyshe, to pronounce, to pproclaime, also to speake or pronounce aloud, without fear or dissimulation.
Comitia edicere, to appoynt a conuocacion.
Edicere senatum, to ordyne a parliament to be holden.
Edicere diem ad conueniendum, to appoynt
a date to mete with one.
Edictio, onis, idem quod Edictum.
Edicto, aui, are, to declare or pronounce often
tymes.
Edictum, i, n. g. an ordynance or commande ment of them that be in great authorite, a proclamation or intinccion.
Edictum circumducere, to breake an ordy
nance or commandement of any officer.
Edilis, le, any thyng that is or maye be eaten.
Edisco, didici, fecere, to learne by heere, to cunne without booke.
Edissero, uir, ere, to explaine or declare, to tell or reherse.
Edissero nobis fabulam hanc, telle or reherse
vnto vs that tale.
Edissero, aui, are, to tell or declare often.
Editio, onis, f. g. a sayyng forth or publyshyng of a thyng, as of booke or proclamacion.
Edictus iudex, a iudge named and chosen of the one parte.
Editor, cris, one that publysheth or setteth a byode.
Editus, us, m. g. a publyshyng or puttynge forth
of a thyng.
Editus boum, ore dunge.
Editus, a, um, publyshed, sette abrode, bygh.
Edita in vulgus, publyshed abrode.
In lucem editus, boyn.
Edita facinora, naughtie actes made notable or known, or naughtie actes committed.
Arx edita, an bygh castell.
Editiuus, a, f. g. of a church. looke Aedituus.
Eduerfo, contray wise.
Edo, es, eit, or Edo, edis, edi, ere, esum, vel es sum, to eate or feede.
+ Ede naturum, is applyed to a bulle and a grosse person. And so muche as Naturis um, called cresles, byng eaten, dooth make the nose synkle, and thereby causeth the bulle spittes to wake: therfore by this prouerbe is ment, Edeche by the spittes, or awake bul lards of luste.
Edor, cris, edi, to be eaten.
Edo, edidi, ere, to exerce or doo a thyng, or to cause a thyng to be doone, to byng, to deli uer in writyng, to publyshe or set abrode.
Edere animam, to dye.

Edere

E ANTE D.

Edere annos, to tell what age a man is of.
 Edere auctoritatem, to name the author.
 Edere eandem, to make a great slaughter.
 Edere cantus, to singe.
 Edere certamen, to fight valiantly.
 Edere clamorem, to crye out.
 Edere exemplum, to shewe an example.
 Edere memoria, to doo miscellaneous debes.
 Edere fetus, to bring forth fruite.
 Edere frondem, to burgein, to put forth leaues.
 Edere iudicium, to tell of discorde who were his companions in any ill dede dooing.
 Edere iudicium, to rehearse of gods iudgement.
 Edere leges, to geue lawes.
 Edere librum, to sette forth a booke.
 Edere lucem, to bring to light.
 Edere ludibrium, to mocke at a thyng.
 Edere latus et spectacula, to cause plaies and pageants to be shewed to the people.
 Edere mandata, to declare his message as he was commaunded.
 Edere nomen, to geue a name to one.
 Edere nomina, to bring forth names in wisdom, as we use to doo in talles, subsidies, and murther.
 Edere operam annuam, to serue one yere.
 Edere operam totum annum, to doo valiantly and as men of great prowesse.
 Edere oracula, belongs to god, what which is taken for god, to make answers to the thing which was demaunded.
 Edere ovum, to lare an egge.
 Edere partum, to be deliuered of chyld.
 Edere potestatem, to deliuer a bylle of requeste or commaundment.
 Edere primum, or bellum, to make warre.
 Edere pugnam, to fight.
 Edere rationes, to make accompte.
 Edere semina, to seuge.
 Edere sedas, to doo a miscellaneous debes.
 Edere signum, to be doo forth wyspnyng.
 Edere signum, to make or geue a signe or token.
 Edere specimen, to shewe a prooffe.
 Edere spiritum extremum, to dye.
 Edere stagem, to make a greaite slaughter of menne.
 Edere thepitum, to make a nopp.
 Edere testes, to bring forth witnesses.
 Edere viam, to doe.
 Edere verba, to speake.
 Edere voces, to crye.
 Edere vinum, to pisse.
 Edere pugnos, to be buffeted.
 Edere feminam, ther bynge forth a female.
 Edere et exponant, let euery dyce and declare.
 Edere et orem aliam doctrinam, to name the art of any learning.
 Edere is edere, to nre.
 Edere in githra, the henne layeth an egge.
 Edere quod potest, Every man dooeth

E ANTE D.

what he can doo, of every man dooth for his parte as muche as he is able.
 Ploratum virginalem edere, to wepe lyke a wenche of gyle.
 Victoriam edere, to archtise the victorie.
 Edo, onis, m. g. idem quod Edax.
 Edoceo, cui, ere, to instructe of instructing one of a thyng, to teache diligently, to declare.
 Edocuit ratio, reason shewed of declared: of reason taughte thesly what was to be dooen.
 Edolo, to hewe or cut cleane or smooth.
 Edom, Esau was so called, and the countre where he reigned.
 Edomo, au, are, to make tame, to subdue.
 Edomitus, a, um, made tame, brought vnder.
 Edomus, an hille nexte unto Danium in the borders of Thessalia.
 Edon, onis, m. g. a mountaigne of Thace.
 Edones, a people of Thessalia.
 Edoni, of Edoni, people of Thace, or in the borders of Macedonia, nere to Thace.
 Edonides, were women, whiche byng spred with a diuine furour, byd celebrate the mysteries of Bacchus.
 Edonis, idis, a citie of Aetolia, and a countrey of Thace.
 Edonius, a, um, of Aedonis.
 Edonus, idem quod Edon.
 Edonus, a, um, of Thace.
 Edor, a hynde of sacrifice nowe called Ador.
 Edormio, mi, ire, to slepe out, to slepe soundly to the full.
 Edormio, i, mi, ire, idem quod Edormio.
 Edormiere crapulam, to slepe vntill he be sober agayne, when one is drunken, to digeste his surfeit with sleape.
 Edormiere crapulam, to sleape out a surfeit.
 Dam edormificat vnum somnum, while he dooeth sleape one sleape: of while he dooeth take a napp.
 Edri, an ple on the east parte of Iezelands.
 Educatio, onis, nourysshing of byngge up of chyldren.
 Mollis educatio, a nyce or wanton byngge up.
 Educator, oris, one that nouryssheth of byngge up.
 Educatrix, the femine.
 Educo, xui, ere, to bynge forth, also to draw out, as, Hoc dicens, eduxit corpore telum, That sayng, he drew the weapon out of his body. Sometime to reple up, as Mollem educere caelo, to reple or make up the hepe cun to the skye. Sometime it signifyeth Educare, to byng up, to nouryssh.
 Educere custodia, to byng out of prison.
 Educere gladium, to drawe out a sword.
 Educere aliquem in ius, to bynge one before a iudge.
 Educere naues ex portu, the byng the shippes

E ANTE D.

out of the haven.
 Educere mater pro sua, my mother broughte hie up, such as his owne daughter.
 Educere, au, are, to marrye or: byng up frome chyldehode.
 Procreare et educere, to bynge forth and nouryssh.
 Educere factum, to byng forth or be deliuered, also to nouryssh of byng up.
 Eductus, a, um, brought forth, also nourysshed, brought up.
 Edulco, au, are, to make verate swete.
 Edulis, le, that maye bee eaten.
 Edulium, in, n. g. is what so ever to set on the table at dyner or supper to bee eaten, saue the byrads.
 Eduro, au, are, to make verate harde.
 Edurum, not harde, softe.
 Edure, verate hardly.
 Edurus, a, um, verate harde.
 Edya, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Cethys.

E ANTE E, & F.

E Erion, Andymachus father, that reigned at Thebes in Aethia.
 Effari, to speake, but propriely it pertained to byshops and Augures, when they bestrode any place, or consecrated any thyng.
 Effabilis, le, that maye bee spoken.
 Effario, effari, ire, to stuffe or fill a thyng hard.
 Effascination, onis, a bewitchyng.
 Effascino, au, are, to bewitch a thyng, where by the foume is chaunged, the thyng dyeth, or is in some wyse destroyed. By this wordes Solinus maketh mention, that in Africa by certayne hymenes, whereof the men and women, of they praye faile trees, goodly roynes, preate chyldren, galant hoyses and far: forth with they die. Solinus wytteth of some, whiche beholding any persons steadfastly, with an angry countenance, they destroye them. The experience hath beene scene in this realme, as credible persons haue reported.
 Effatus, were certayne praiers, whiche the diuynours used to make at the ende of their divination: of telling the successe of thynges.
 Effatus ager, a filde nere the citee, where diuynours made theyr praiers.
 Effatum, ti, a dialetheall proposition.
 Effaxillo, au, are, to entre of by the same pitte: or rather to put out a thyng with the same, so that the arme pitte be scene.
 Effectus, a, um, dooen, dispatched, made, brought to passe.
 Effectum dare, to byng to passe.
 Effectum reddere, idem.
 Effectus, us, m. g. effect of byngnyng of a thyng so conclusion, making of a thyng to be.

E ANTE D.

Ad effectum vires dare aliquid, to heale one that be made byng a thyng to passe.
 Effector, oris, a maker, woocher, or doer.
 Effectrix, the femine.
 Effectio, onis, fer. gen. a byngnyng of a thyng so effecte.
 Effero, au, are, to make images of wyld bestes, also to make wordes, fustles, or wyldes, as saunge beastes are.
 Efferratus, a, um, made wyld and bestiall.
 Efferratus militum animis, menes wyndes byng made fierce and wyldes with warfare.
 Efferrata et immania, wood and outrageous.
 Effero, extuli, efferre, to byng or carry forth, to put out, to stauigate or tell above, to aduance of promote, to overcome of subdome, also to commende. Sometime to holbe up, to sette forth, sometime to minyssh of appaire, also to lisse up, to vltie in language, to speke of pronounce.
 Efferre aliquem laudibus, to extoll one with praies.
 Efferre cadaver, to cary a body to be buryed.
 Efferre clamorem, to crye out.
 Efferre in humeros, to beare on the shulders.
 Efferre manum, to lisse by the hand.
 Efferre sese, to aduance hym selfe.
 Efferre pedem, to go out, of go forth.
 Scruate istum fulis intrus ferui, ne quoquam pedem efferrat, keepe hym in bys, if he wille, that he go forth no whither.
 Efferre se letitia, to be glad without measure.
 Efferru funere, to be caryed to buryng for temply.
 Num quidnam effert? Dooth he byng forth any thyng?
 Efferre caput vndis, to holbe up the head above the water.
 Signa efferre, to aduance forwarde with the standerdes.
 Efferre aliquem ad summum imperium, to aduance one to mozte high authoritee.
 Quos fortuna extulit, quos fortuna hashe aduanced, promoted, sette alofte.
 Hic me magnifice effero, in this I aduance my selfe rolyde.
 Priusquam clandestina eorum consilia efferrantur. Before theyr pryue counsailes be published of spredd above.
 Quod non natura humana paciendo efferrat, whiche the nature of man can not vanquish and overcome by sufferance.
 Ager vberiores fruges efferre solet, The grounde was wont to byng forth fruite moze abundantly.
 Non indecenter aliquid efferre, to speake of better a thyng comely.
 Efferruo, ues, of Efferruo, uis, offerui, and efferru but, offeruere, and offeruere, to be beete hot, so boyle vehemently.

Effera

E ANTE F.

Effuerco, scere, idem quod effuerco, and by translation, to bee hot of chaufed, to be troubled of greatly moued: and contrary wyle, to alate of wate colde.
 Effuere in dicendo, to bee chaufed, of wate angry in fpeaking.
 Gratulatio effuerco, The gratulation of gladness wateh lesse.
 Effuerco uerba, hotte angry wordes.
 Effexis, for effecris.
 Efficacia, f. g. g. effecre of vertue, effecre of strengthe.
 Efficax, acis, om. g. effectuall, that hath strengthe of powce.
 Efficacia, aus, f. g. idem quod efficacia.
 Efficiter, effectually.
 I. fricacissima auxilia deep effectual remedies.
 Efficax vir, a strong and vnpaine man.
 Efficientia, idem quod effectus.
 Efficiens, entis, that maketh of causeth a thyng to bee.
 Efficienter, in manner of making of causyng a thyng to be.
 Efficio, feci, ficere, to byng to effect, to wylde, to finish, to accomplishe, to make, to dooe, to pout by argument, to conclude.
 Efficere argentum alicui, to great monete for a man by some meane of diuise.
 Efficere morbos, to ingender diseases.
 Efficere nuptias alicui, to be the cause of the marriage of any, to cause one to be married.
 Efficere pollicita, to kepe promise, to do that one hath promised.
 Effluuium panis efficiebat, is serued in the stede of breade.
 Effluuium ubi tua uisit, I wille bynge it to passe, that the shall be thyng.
 Effluere cauidem operis, to wylde and to finish as geat a taske of worke.
 Ausida exercitatio peritos efficit, diligente exercysing maketh men counnyng.
 Instruere et efficere, to enterpris a matter, and byng it to passe.
 Efficere cladem, to cause a murdree of slaughteer, Hen effect epistolam ad Casarem, per sterdate I made an epistle, of I wrote a letter to Casar.
 Tu mandata effice, que receperis, Doo pou, of dispatche pou those thynges, whiche pou tooke charge of.
 Clamores efficere, to crye out.
 Efficere magna facinora, to wooche of dooe some great feates.
 Officium suum efficere, to doo his duetie.
 Vicem efficient, they serue in the stede of place of any thyng.
 Inni et efficere, to endoe a byng to passe.
 Efficitur, the impersonall.
 Effigies, ex. f. g. a signe made to the similitude of a man of beait, shappe, lykenesse, foyme.

E ANTE F.

Effigies virtutis, the ymage of vertue.
 Effigiem alicuius rei habere, to bee lyke as ny thyng.
 Effigiem dei in se ostendere, to resemble god of to shewe ones selfe to bee lyke god.
 In effigiem pelagi exundabat lacus, That pool of myere overflowed lyke to the sea, of as it had been the sea, of in manner of the sea.
 Columna effigie, after the foyme of the pillop.
 Effigia, x. f. g. idem quod effigies.
 Effigio, aui, are, to counterfette ones ymage in peynting of kerayng.
 Effilo, aui, are, to sowe.
 Effilatum, ai, n. g. that whiche is sowed of sited on a garment, as a garde of purfle.
 Effingo, finxi, gere, to make lyke, to diuise and expresse the foyme of faction of any thyng.
 Animo effingere aliquid, to byuise of ymagine a thyng in the mynde.
 Similitudinem ex vero effingere, to represent of expresse the faction of a thyng lyuely.
 Mores effingere, to represent of expresse a mans maners of condicions.
 Effluxit Cicero vim Demosthenis, Cicerro attened and expessed the force and pitchynesse of Demosthenes eloquence.
 Efficitus, a. um, represented expessed.
 Efficio, onis, a representation of diuysing.
 Effio, fieri, to bee dooen, to be brought to passe.
 Efflagito, aui, are, to desyre of aske a thyng unpouertatly.
 Efflagitare conuino, with tauntyng and chechynge, to requere a thyng.
 Requiere et efflagitare.
 Efflagitus, a. um, required importunatly.
 Efflagitatio, onis, an importune sute of requiering of a thyng, an instant desyng.
 Efflagitatus, us, m. g. idem.
 Effleo, fleui, flere, to weep out.
 Efflere oculos, to weep out ones eyes.
 Efflictum, excedyngly, greatly, vehemently, beate earnestly.
 Efflictum amare, to loue ardently, to loue out of measure.
 Effligo, flexi, fligere, to tourment, to afflicte.
 Efflo, aui, are, to blowe awate, of blowe oute, to breath out.
 Efflare animam, to dye.
 Efflare colorem, to leste the colour.
 Efflaui animam spes, I haue no maner of hope of trust, all my hope is past and gone.
 Efflaui extremum halitus, he gauch his last gaulpe, he see his last breath, he dyed.
 Effluere, efflorui, rescere, to blow as a floure doozeth at the spike comyng out, to spryng: and by translation to growe, to increase, to abounde, to be brought forth.
 Effluo, fluxi, ere, to flowe of renne out, as was ser doozeth out of a fountayne, to flyde out of of ones memory, to be forgotten, to be published.

E ANTE F.

Med of speche abode, to passe awate.
 Effluet, it shall bee to be abode, I wille not kepe counsaile, all men shall knowe it.
 Effluxerat, it was out of remembrance, it was forgotten.
 Effluxit, it is quite gone.
 Effluxit aestas, the sommer is passed.
 Effluunt voluprates, pleasures dooe passe a wate lyghtly.
 Ex animo effluere, to flyde out of memory, to be forgotten.
 Abundare & effluere.
 Aeris effluit, age passeth awate.
 Effluunt vires lassitudine, he waxeth seynt with weepynesse.
 Effluxit vita cum sanguine, he died bleedynge.
 Quod totum effluxit, all whiche I haue forgotten, of is gone out of my remembrance.
 Bona praterita effluere sapienti non oportet, A wyle man muste not forgoe the good thynges, that haue chaunced to hym be a fore tyme.
 Effluentia, x. f. g. a flowyng of rennyng out.
 Effluuium, ui, n. g. a flowyng out, of rennyng ouer, an overflowyng.
 Effuso, aui, are, to choke of strangle.
 Effodio, di, dere, to dygge, to dygge oute, to make a dyche.
 Effodere ex terra, to dygge out of the earth.
 Effodere oculos alicui, to scratche out ones eyes.
 Effodit illius memoria peccatus meum, The memory of that man percereth myn heart, of greueth my mynde soye.
 Effossus, a. um, digged out, scratched out.
 Effeminatus, a. um, wanton, delicate, tender, endurynge no hardnesse, womanly.
 Effeminatum et molle.
 Effeminare artes, artes, whiche effeminate and abate the manlynesse of a mans mynde.
 Effeminare, womanly, tenderly, wantonly, nyce ly.
 Effemino, aui, are, to effeminate of make delicate, to make wanton, tender, of nyce.
 Effeta, the that hath lately brought forth a chyld, also a woman past seemyng.
 Effetus, a. um, hatched, as a byrd that is come out of the shel, that hath lately brought forth, past broodyng: also consumed, feeble, made barene with ouer much fertilityte.
 Vires corporis effert, the strengthe of the body debilitate and made weake.
 Efferta gallina, an hen past broode of layng.
 Terra efferta, land spent of woyns with beasynge of muche graspe.
 Effertum corpus, a weake bodie.
 Efferte, barenyng.
 Effor, looks Effari.
 Efforo, aui, are, to boye thynge, to make holes through a thyng.
 Efforatus, a. um, boied thynge, of that hath

E ANTE F.

many holes through it.
 Effractarius, a. um, that breaketh down of open.
 Effractor, oris, a robber that breaketh downe places.
 Effractura, x. for. gen. a breakyng open of into a place.
 Effractus, a. um, broken, broken downe, broken open, consumed, made weake.
 Effractus fame, made feble for faute of wate.
 Effrenatus, a. um, vnybridled, vnculye, tame, without moderation of measure.
 Effrenatus et furiosus.
 Effrenatus & preceps.
 Effrenatus animus, an vnybridled mynde.
 Proiecta & effrenata cupiditas, a dissolute and vnybridled appetyte.
 Effrenate, proudly, rashly, fiercely, vnculye, without consideration.
 Effrenatio, onis, vnybridling, tameynesse.
 Effreno, aui, are, to vnybridle.
 Effrenus, a. um, vnybridled, tame in maners.
 Mors effrena, a violent deathe.
 Gens effrena, a fierce and an vnybridled nation.
 Effrico, aui, are, to rubbe of.
 Effringo, fregi, gere, to breake to peeces, to burde violently.
 Effugio, gi, ere, to escape, to flee, to eschewe of auoyde.
 Sime effugerit memoria, yf I forget, of yf my memory feyle me.
 Effugere nuptias, to auoyde of eschue marriage.
 Effugere contumeliam, to eschewe reproche. Sillium effugerit diem, yf he might escape that daye.
 Effugere ex urbe, to flee out of the citee.
 Effugere periculum, to escape of auoyde daungier.
 Vituperationem effugere, to auoyde blame.
 In quibus non dubito, quin negligentia ofensionem effugere non possum, In whiche thynges I doubt not, but that I can fynde no meane to auoyde the blame of negligence: of I am sure I can not choose, but be hored of negligence.
 Effugium, gn. n. g. flight, refuge, a place of succour, a place of waye, whereby one maye flee of escape, a passage.
 Alias habere effugia pennarum, that othe haue the meane to flee awate with theyr wynges. Qui effugia infederant, which kept the passages.
 Precludere effugium alicui, to stoppe the passage that one can not escape.
 Effulcio, ciui, ere, to shawe by.
 Effulgeo, fulsi, gere, to shyne byghte, and by translation to appere of shawe it selfe.
 Effundo, fudi, dere, to powre out, sometyng is signified to consume, to spende of waste spouentously, to come forth in great compaignie to put forth, to byng forth plentifully, as the

E ANTE F.

the earth dooeth, to overflowe of renne over the banke as rivers doo.
Esfundere gratium, to waste the treasure.
Esfundere extremum spiritum, to dye.
Esfundere honores in mortuū, to make say him that is dead a sumptuous burfall, of an honourable interment.
Esfundere patrimonium, to spende and consume his inheritance.
Esfundere pedicatum, to discomfite the foote men. Esfunduntur omnibus portis ad opem ferendam, They gathered together in great routes at every gate, to defende the citie.
Lachrymas esfundere, to weepe.
Esfundit se in publicum maxima frequentia mulierum, A verate great route of company of women came abode.
Esfundere se cluitas dicitur, when at the people cometh forth in great numbers.
Ne esfundantur ad luxuriam, periculum est,
It is to be feared, lest they geue them selfe wholly, or lest they be wholly geuen to eyote and wantonnesse.
Esfundere nam in aliquem, to utter of beware him selfe to be extremely angry with one, to shewe his anger and toiothe.
Esfundunt herbas frugibus inimicissimas,
They bring forth a greate sort of weedes,
verate hurtfull to the coyne.
Querelas esfundere, to make greatte come-plaintes.
Quorum stomachus in vomitiones esfunditur, whose stomache is pene and ready to vomite.
Esmus risus, a dissolute laughter.
Esmus lina, with hys bosome open, with hys quote open as aye.
Esmus, etiam, esfusime, oute of measure, exceedingly, abundantly, more vehemently,
prodigally.
Esmus aliquam diligere, to loue a womanne out of measure.
Esmus exultationis, The mynde reioyceth exceedingly, or ouermuche.
Esmus iugere, to flee of renne awaie on euery spede.
Esmus, onis, f.g. a pouring out. Sometime it signifieth prodigalitie or outrageous spending Esmus aqua, a pouring out of water.
Esmus hominum ex oppidis, when greate routes of companies of men come out of tow-
nes. Esmus animi, and contractio contrarij.
Esmus, a, um, discomfited, scattered, put out,
or poured out, ransping abode, overflowing or renning ouer the banke as rivers doo.
also bountifull, liberall in spending.
Esmus lina, exceeding top of myche.
Esmus in fugam, they ranne awaie on every spede. Esmus cursu, he that runneth with all hys myght.

E ANTE G.

Effusio, tui, fire, to speake vnadvisably, or fool-ly of his halfe, of that whiche shoulde be kept secrete.
Effusare aliquid ex tempore, to speake a thyng
sodainly without study of aduiseiment.
Effusus, a, um, casidly, or foolishly spoken abode of vttered.
E ANTE G.
E Celaste, a towne in the hygher Spayne.
Egelidor, aris, ari, to relent of dissolue, as pes that thaweth.
Egelidus, a, um, neyther hott nor colde, but a littell out of the colde. Sometime it is taken for verate colde.
Egens, entis, om. g. lackyng, needie, poore.
Egens est consiliū, he lacketh counsaile.
Animo egens, one that hath no courage.
Egeo, egui, ere, to neede of lacke, to bee in extreme pouertie.
Egere authoritate, to be without office.
Egeo consiliū, of consilio, I lacke counsaile
I can not tell what to doo.
Eger humanitate, he hath lytell gentynesse,
pitye, or mercy.
Non eger interpretatione, it is playn, it needeth no declaration.
Egeur acriter, I am in great necessitee.
Egeo tempore, I lacke tyme.
Egetia, an ybold, to whom women with childe dye offer: supposing that thereby they shal trauaple easily.
Egenes, ei, f.g. a callyng out of auoydngs of dunge or ordure.
Egenus, a, ū, neddy, or lackyng somewhat, poore.
Egero, geci, ere, to beare or carp out, to cast out. Egerit aquam fons, the fountayne passeth out water.
Egermino, aui, are, to bounge, to spynge, to budde out.
Egelinus, a philosopher, the scholar of Euander.
Egeita, a citee in Sicilie, whiche Aeneas built do, also the daughter of Hippolyta, the Trojan, mother of Aecle.
Egeitas, tuis, f.g. necessitee of lacke of thynges necessary, pouertie, needynesse.
Assere egeitatem, to make one poore and needye.
Vitam in egestate degere, to leade ones life
in pouertie and neede.
Egestio, onis, distribution abode. it is also the callyng forth of ordure or dounge. also the auoydng of ordure out of the body.
Egestolus, a, um, verate poore.
Egis, idis, looke Aegis.
Egestus, us, idem quod egestio.
Egestus, a, um, cast out, or put out.
Ego, I.
Egomel, I my selfe.

Ego

E ANTE G.

Egomel memet verbaui, I haue beattin
my selfe.
Ibo egomet, I will go my selfe alone.
Eorum ego vitam mortemq; iuxta aestimo,
As for me truly: or truly I for my paste estyme that life and deathe to be all one.
Egomel mecum cogitabam, I thoughte with my selfe.
Mihi satis pulchra est, she is fayne enough in my syght, or hie beautee pleaseth me welde enough.
Mihi quidem esurio, non tibi, In desre my selfe feelth the pynne of the hunger, and not you.
Non credebam mihi met, I byd not beleue
my selfe.
Egome et who I?
Potin est hic tacere? P. Egome et optime, Can this felowe keepe countaile? P. Who
I? in the best wyse.
Egredior, eris, gredi, to goe forth, or go out.
Egredior ab ea, he cometh forth of hie
howse.
Egredi obuiam alicui, to go forth to meete one. Extra prescriptum egredi, to passe the boundes prescribed or limited to one.
A proposito egredi, to make digression, to go from the purpose.
Terminos egredi, to passe the boundes.
Nos nostro officio nihil egredios, That we haue dooen nothyng agaynst our duety, or as therwyle than we ought to doo.
Egressus, a, um, gone forth, passed forth,
fer forth.
Domo egressus est ad bellum, he went forth to warfare.
Egressus annum vndeigesimum, past nine-teene yere olde.
Egressus, us, m. g. a goyng forth.
Egregius, a, um, excellent.
Egregia et preclara indoles, an excellent and goodly towardnesse.
Egregia forma, excellent of passyng goodly by fauour.
Egregius, the comparatiue, more excellent.
Egregie, excellently. Sometime for Valde, or Nimis, greatly, passyngly, verate muche, chiefly, princypally, especially.
Egregie cordatus homo, a verate wyse and discrete persone.
Seruus egregie fidelis, a verate faithfull and trustie seruant.
Egregie grece loqui, to speake greke excellently, and passyngly well.
Quod ab eo egregie diligeris, he canst he loueth you exceedingly.
Horum ille nihil egregie, prater cetera su-debat, he gaue hym selfe to none of these thynges specially more than other.
Egula, a, f.g. a hynde or byppions bled to

E ANTE H et I.

make woulde whist.
Egurgio, aui, are, to drawe out, asyrons out of a place.

E ANTE H.

E Hein, is a woode spoken when a man is moued with some thyng, whyche is newly happened.
Eheu, alas.
Eho, an interfection of callyng, it signifieth,
ho. also of one that moueth his eare to here
some secrete thyng: or of a troubled mynde:
or when one persecuteth a thyng sodainly. also of merrynng.
Ehodom ad me, Ho, come hyther to me.
Eho tu, ho, siera, when one calleth a man to hym, forgettyng his name.
Eho, is used in ashyng a question, as Eho quis, laudas qui heros fallunt? Ab sy, or why sy, dooe peperle them, that begyle these masters?
Eho tu, eho tu, ho, siera siera.

E ANTE I.

Eia, sometime it exhorteth. Sometime it bla-meth or correcteth one, that chiefteneth of counteith.
Eia vero age, dic, Well go to, speake on.
Eia haud sic decet, what softe, that is not semyng: P. it shoulde not bee for your honour so to doo.
Eia vt elegans est, Eth what a minyon it is.
Eia autem inimicos? what sy your ena-mies.
Eia, in principio epistolę positum.
Elaculor, aris, ari, or Elaculo, aui, are, to shote thyngs or caste a farre of.
Eiectio, onis, a thyngyng of callyng out.
Eiectamentum, ti, n. gen. pourgeyng of such thyngs as the sea or ryuers doo cast on lande.
Eiero, aui, are, to refuse or forsake a iudge.
Eiectus, a, um, begunge cast out, or that casteth out.
Eiecto, aui, are, to thympe or caste out.
Eiectus, a, um, thyngyng cast out.
Encio, ieci, icere, to cast out, or put out.
Encere et excludere.
Retinere et encere, contrary.
Encere foras, to cast out of doores.
Encere in exilium, to banyshe or to sende
in exile.
Encere ex animo memoriam aliquam, To putte one out of our remembrance, to forgette any thyng.
Encere dicitur mulier, subaudi partum, to spynge before the tyme.
Encere suum animum de aliquo, to tounse his mynde, affection, or loue from one.
Encere urinam, to make water, to piss.
Wh. l. Eiect

E ANTE L.

Enclenda hanc animi molities, I muste call awake this tendernes of herte.
Eioncus, one of the pyncks of Grece, whiche came to Trote: an other of Chpace, whiche apbed the Troians.
Eiulatio, onis, a baying out with lamentacion.
Eiulatus, us, m. g. idem.
Eiulo, aui, are, to cry out, to waille.
Eiuro, aui, are, to doo besyde the lawe, to renounce, to resigne, to refuse a iudge.
Eiurare magistratum, to resigne an office.
Eiuratio, onis, a renouncing, a resignation.
Eiufmodi, et eiufemodi, suche, lyke, of the same sorte of faction.
Eiufdem faring, of the same sorte of combeton. Eiufdem notr, of the same estimation of rate.
Eiufdem modi, of the same sorte, lyke.

E ANTE L.

E Labor, cris, elapsus sum, elabi, to slippe o-fide awake, to escape.
E memoria elabi, to go out of memory,
to be forgotten.
Elabi de, e, o, ex manibus, to slippe oute of ones handes, to escape from one.
Satis te clapsurum omni suspitione arbitra-bare, You thought you shoulde escape well enough without any suspition: of you thought you shoulde auoyde all suspition.
Elaboratus, a, um, perfectly of counnyngly wrought, doon exactly with study & diligence.
Omnes apud hunc ornati elaboratius sumi verius, All the verus that he wytteth, are elegant and counnyngly made.
Elaboro, aui, are, to labour of endenore dis-gently, to trauple of take payne in a thyng, to wooke counnyngly and exactly.
Quicquid elaborati efficit potuit, what so euer coulde be endenoured of doon.
Eniti et elaborare.
Sed in literis certe elaboravi, But in deede in the study of good letters I have laboured and taken payne.
Elaborare aliquid, to wooke a thyng with great counnyng and diligence.
In his potissimu elaborauimus, in these thyngges we haue chesly traupled.
Ad iudicium alterius elaborare, to endenore and take payn to conctis and satisfie the iudge-ment of an other.
Elacata, o, elacata, a hynde of salte fysh:
o, after some a sause bled in olde tyme.
Elactico, scere, to coune into mythe, o, wate
white as mythe.
Eliza, a citee of Aita, an other of Teate: the people whereof be called Eliez, o, Eliz. It is also a citee of Pheneia, an other of Sicilypta.

E ANTE L.

Elasmell, a certayne hynde of gumme thynner than honse, thynner than rosein, faster, and vntuous, whiche connecte oute of the stemmes of olde trees, whiche growe in a countre called Palmyra in Syria.
Elamir, be called the pyncks of the Persiane, of Elam the son of Sem, as Josephus saith.
Elaxon, oyle.
Elanguo, gui, ere, to besyche, to languish,
to pene away.
Elanguesco, scere, to wake feble.
Elape, es, f. a hynde of serpentes.
Elaphoboscon, an herbe, whiche some doo call Gratia dei, commonly Pabulum cerui.
Elapido, aui, are, to pene a place of stones.
Elapsus, a, um, escaped out of some daunger.
Elapsa ex spes, hope is losse.
Elapsa ex oculis hominum anguis, the adder stale awake out of euer mans sygh.
Elargior, giris, gisi, to graunte of geue bonnetis fully or liberally.
Elasisco, to wate weep, to decate.
Elate, es, for, gen. after Dioscorides to that,
wherin a palme of date tree bearynge fruite, is wypped. Calene taketh it for the tender and ponge bjaunche of a palme. Hesychus dooth affirme the same: some take it for a hynde of palme trees.
Elate, pondeit, losely, grauely, with an high style, haughty.
Elaterium, a wyde encumbe, whiche hath lea-ues lyke unto garbeyne cucumbers, but the fruite is muche lesse, lyke as it were longe as coynes, and hath a greater roote and a white.
Some calle theim Cucumeres angini.
There is also a medicine so called, made of the iupes of them, to purge choler and flume vpwarde and downwarde.
Elatine, es, for, g. an herbe, whiche hath lea-ues lyke to peiltoxe of the walle, but lesse and rounder, hearpe and thynne, haupge bjaunches, halfe a foote hygh. v. o. vi. co-mynge out of the roote, full of leaues, byn-dyng in taste. It groweth for the moste parte amonge roys. Ruellius saith, it is called Campestre rapistrum, wyde rapes.
Elatio, onis, for, g. losynesse, hautesse: it is taken sometyms in the good parte, and some-tyme in the ylle. In the good parte: as,
In hac elatione et magnitudine animi facili-lime pertinacia, et nimia cupiditas principatus innascitur. In this highnes of hert, and greatnes of conage, there is bydde veris lightly wilfull appetite, and to muche brise of great authorites, in an yll parte, as,
Parium comparatio, nec elationem habet, nec submissionem. The comparison of them that are equal, hath in it neither arrogancie, nor yet submission.
Elaties, a hynde of Rome;

Ela

E ANTE L.

Elatro, aui, are, to backe.
Elatro, a, um, hynde of aduancer. propriety herte of courage, sometyms it signifith proud-or arrogant.
Elaudo, aui, are, to name one to his plaite.
Elaus, elaus, aui, are, swae, ere, to wate cleane, to crye clothes, to robe of to pyle, to robe one of all that he hath.
Elauare se bonis, to be cleane washed from all his gooddes, to spend all away, and leaue
nothyng.
Elebus, a citee in France, called communely Schelestad.
Eldana, a citee in Spayne, called Duennas.
Elea, a citee in the countreys of Lurania.
Eleares, a man of that citee.
Elebrex argentaria, harlots.
Electio, onis, f. g. an election, an appoyntment, choys.
Electo, aui, are, to entice of allure.
Electra, the daughter of Oceanus and Ceo-rho, she had a daughter of the same name,
in whome Iupiter begat Tarsdanius.
Electron, the father of Amphitrion, and sonne of Alceus.
Electrides, certayn ples in the sea Abysciticum.
Electrius, a, um, of Electra.
Electrum, l. n. g. that whiche is in englyshe called ambre, wherof beades be made. It is also taken for a metallis, parts golde, and parts silver.
Electus, a, um, chosen, pished out.
Electus, us, m. g. choys.
Electro, oris, m. g. a chooser, an electour.
Eleemofyna, e, f. g. almes, pices.
Elegans, antijs, om. g. elegant, seche, gorgeous cleane, polite, minyon, triche, pished, fene.
Muhans et elegans.
Elegans formarum spectator, one veris well fene and skiled in faire women: a de-cite and fene felowe in choyse of faye women. Elegans in omni iudicio, he that hath a fene and a good iudgement in all thynges.
Elegans in ribis, fims, pished in meate.
Eleganter, nately, fimsly, eloquently, depynge, m. g. pished.
Elegans, e, f. g. elegans, gorgeous, cleane, nate, beaute in woordes, netensse, fane-
m. g. pished.
Elegans morum, honeste, veris bonis behaviour.
Elegia, e, for, g. lamentableness, a lamentable songe.
Elegia, orum, lamentable verses.
Elegiacus, a, um, pertainyng to elegies.
Elegidium, a lamentable verse.
Elegographus, a writer of lamentable verses of laments.
Elegus, a, um, lamentable.
Eleg, pished in fere in the countreys of

E ANTE L.

Elia, a citee in Syria, whiche was the place where the prophet Elia dwelt.
Eliphaz, a, um, pertainyng to eliphaz,
a pynck of principis.
Elementaria littera, the roots ewe.
Elementarius senex, an olde man that leaue meth his crose rowe.
Elementum, l. n. g. the firste of principis manner, wherof all thynges doo take their begynnyng, whiche be fons in noumye, fyre, ayre, water, and erth. Also the letters, wher-of syllables be made, are called Elementa.
Elenchus, chi, m. g. an argument, reprouyng fabrily an other argument. It is also a table in a booke, to shewe the places by letters or otherwise. It is also a great pindle, o, a ther pious flour that women were wont to hange at theyr eares.
Eleo, eui, ere, to spoote of saple.
Eleoselinu, an herbe, which is called smallache.
Elephantographi, be called those painters,
that pynctis with people.
Elephantia, seu Elephantiasis, a hynde of lea-pys, wherin the fleshe dooth swell, and is full of spots, it is incured of black cholen.
Elephantiacus, a leaper.
Elephantia, e, serpentes, so called, because he,
whan they doo byte, falleth into the kynd of leap, whiche is called Elephantia.
Elephantinus, a citee of Egypt.
Elephantinus, a, um, pertainyng vnto an olyaphant.
Elephantini libri, amonge the Romans were bookes, wherin there inwe were wyttis, whiche concerned the nobilitie.
Elephantis, an plaide in the fere Aitas.
Elephas, antijs, m. g. o, Elephantus, ti, an olyaphant, the greatest of all foure footed beas-tes, his foyleges be longer than his hyndes. He hath an hie in the lower part of his hynder legges, and frui coe on his feete beneath, his sidest of nose is so longe, and in suche fowere, that it is to hym in steede of an hande. For he neyther catcheth nor bynde hath, but by byngyng his nose to his mouthe: therewith he healeth up his mayne of hisse, therewith he quetheneth trees, he hath fower eares on either syde of his mouthe, wherewith he catcheth and gryneth his mayne. He hath also two great eares, the more greatesse than the fowere. He byng-geth bynggeth. His conage is veris libell, and he lye in his mouthe, that bynggeth
he bynggeth. He hath also a fowere, whiche is so longe, and both wherewith he may the fowere he bynggeth to a fowere, he bynggeth bynggeth, and bynggeth in bynggeth.

Eluere pocula, to raine cuppes.
Eluere crimen, to purge ones selfe of a crime laid to his charge
Eluere maculis furtorum suorum sanguine sociorum, to purge and waite awaye the in-fame of ones owne thefes and robberies, with the bloude of his felowes, or by putting his felowes wrongfully to deathe.

Eluo aui, are, to lye in gluttonye, or to spende superfluously.

Elurus, looke Aclurus.

Eluta, an rite agaynst Lepres.

Elusco, aui, are, to make purblinde.

Elusis, & Elusin, a citee in the prouince of Attica, not farre from Athens.

Elusus, a, um, illuded, mocked, deceiued.

Elutheria, freethome, gentrified.

Elutherius, the name of a man, and is interpreted, free, gentill.

Elutia, orum, golde oze.

Eluto, aui, are, to sucke out water, after Cal-pine, but the place that he cteeth out of Aes-gile, hath cluctabitur.

Elutio, aui, are, to pour out of one vessell in-
to another.

Elutus, a, um, washed, rnsed cleane.

Elumes, ei and Eluuo, onis, for g. oydure or fithie caused of abudaunce of water or thee lpcour, a deluge or breaking of the earth by a great floudde. And by translation, a pestilentie of contagious thngs, corrupting and destroying all goodnesse, as one should saie, a frinke of mischete.

Eluxatus, a, um, idem quod Luxatus.

Eluxurari, to aboude, to be ouer ranke or fee-till, to geue ones selfe to riot and pleasure.

Elumais, a, countreie nere Iherosolima.

Elum camp, the same place that is called Elum.

Elum, a place of pleasure, where poestes dyd suppoe the soules of good men to dwell.

E ANTE M.

E Maciatus, a, um, made leane.
Emacio, aui, are, to make leane.
Emacitas, aris, affection or desyre to be owaies bing of some thng.

Emactor, aris, ari, to make leane or haraue.

Emaculo, aui, are, to take awaye the spots or make cleane a thng.

Emancipati, are they that are out of theyr fathers rule, or they that are made subiectes to an other man.

Emancipator, oris, a seoffour or assenour.

Emancipatus, a, um, aliened, or geuen to an other mans possession.

Emancipo, or emancupo, aui, are, to enfranchise or make free, to sette at libertie, propie-ty ones chylderne. Sometime it is vied in the contrapence, to bynde or make bonde, it is commonly, where a manne disposseth hym selfe, and putteth an other man in possession of lande.

Emancipare agrum, to disposseth hym selfe of a peece of lande, or to put land in an other mans hande to a certayne vse.

Emancupo me tibi, I submytte my selfe to you, or I put my selfe vnder your obsequance,
I geue my selfe to you.

Emanco, si, ere, to dwell out of a place.

Emano, aui, are, to issue or flowe out, to auoide or renne out, and by translation, to be spied, published and knowne abode.

Emanauit fama, the bytte came abode, or was spredde abode.

Emanauit in vulgus, it was spredde or problymed abode among the people.

Multis enim emanauit inditijs, For it was knowne by many tokens.

Emanfor, oris, m. g. he that wandjeth longe,
and at the laste retourneth home, a larkie.

Emarcum, a bynde of grapes.

Emargino, aui, are, to take awaye the scurfie about the bymmes of woundes or sores.

Emasculo, aui, are, to gelde, or to take awaye the courage of a man, or to abuse a man child in lecherie.

Emath, a citee that is nowe called Antioche.

Emathia, a part of the costales of Macedonia.

Emathius, a, um, of Emathia.

Ematurelco, turui, scere, to wake rype.

Emaus, a noble citee of Palestine, whiche is nowe called Nicopolis.

Emax, acis, an adiectiue, he or she that is redy to bye any thng, a great byer.

Embamma, atis, n. g. cance.

Embata, or epibade, a shyppe called a barke, or a passager.

Emblema, atis, n. g. pictures made of wodde,
stone, or metall of one colour, see in wodde, stone, or metall of another colour, as we see the chesse booydes and tables called counters.

It is muche vied in Itraie. It is of some taken generally for all smalle ymages, flow-res, or other thngs, attached to any other thng, as on cuppes of golde or syluer. It is vied by translation, for the figures or yma-mentes of oracion.

Embolismus, m, m. g. the abdyng of a daye
in the peere.

Embolium, li, the argument or steele entrie into a plate or entrie.

Embolium, li, neu. gen. a barre of a doore, also a mans parde.

Embryon, i, n. g. signifith the chyldre concey-ued, before it receyueh perfect shape of a ma-or woman.

Emedullo, aui, are, to take out marowe. And by translation to declare or make manifest.

Emem

Emem, olde wysees vied for eundem.

Emendare, purely, without fault.

Emendatio, onis, an amendement.

Emendator, oris, a correctour, or an amender.

Emendatrix, icis, the feminine.

Emendatus, a, um, amended, made better.

Emendicatus, a, um, begged.

Emendico, aui, are, to aske in fourme of begging, to desyre lyke a begger.

Emendo, aui, are, to amende, to correcte, to make better, to take awaye a thng that is yll, to heale.

Aluum citam emendat flos Hederæ, The floure of ruy stoppeth the flyte, or helpeth one that is laxative.

Ementis, a, um, that hath measured, or that by going hath passed ouer a place: or passus is, that is measured, or that by goeing hath been passed ouer.

Ementior, tris, titus sum, iri, to make a man nised lye, to saigne that is not true, to counterfalte.

Illum quem ementitus es, ego sum, I am
he, whom thou dydest counterfalte.

In aliquos ementiri, to make a lye vpon as any persons.

Ementiri et fingere.

Ementiri auctoritatem alicuius, to take vpon
hym falsely the auctoritee of any man.

Ementitus, a, um, falsely feigned.

Emecor, aris, ari, to bye.

Emereo, rui, ere, to merite, to deserue, to offe.

Emergo, eris, ere, to issue or com out of a place where a thng is dyowed, or where it was dyd, to appere or shewe it selfe, to escape.

Delitescere et emergere, contrap.

Emergere extra aquam, to rpe and appere aboue the water.

Emergere ex mendicite, to rpe out of poueretes and become rpe.

Emergere vtero puer dicitur, to come fyllis out of the mothers wombe.

Emergere ex iudicio peculatus, to escape the iudgement, wherein one is accused for robing a pryue or common weale.

Cum venus emerit, when the wynde began to rpe.

Amor emerit, the loue appereth or sheweth
it selfe playne.

Emergit depressa veritas, The truth beyn
oppesled aspyeth and sheweth it selfe.

Emergere, et se ad bonam frugem recipere, to rpe from lewdnesse, and become thristie and honeste.

Ad summam emergere opes, to become berate rpe, to rpe to great rcheffe.

Emergi, the impersonall.

Emergere ex aliquo negotio, to dispatche
hym selfe of a busynesse.

Emergere ex incommoda valetudine, to be recovered of a tysonne offese.

Emeritum ex modo ex Antiphi Appium,
I departed in good lye from Antium vnto to Appium.

Emergor, eris, eri, to deserue to the vetermost.

Emeritum, ti, n. ge. a typride of pension that those soultours had that were pardoned fro the warres.

Emeritus, a, um, that hath deserued or serued for his duetie, sometime complete, tymeth.
also that is deserued.

Emeriti milites, olde wyne soultours, whiche were pardoned of warres, and per not-withstandyng had pensions, whiche wer called Emeriti stipendia.

Emeritum stipendium, the laste wages that a man taketh in warres.

Emeriti senes, olde men excused from laboure
by age.

Emeriti anni, the peeres of a mans age, when he is past laboure and trauaile.

Emeriti apes, doores or greates bees that make no more hong.

Emeriti bones, open werked and ouer laboure red, that bynde no more in the plough.

Emeriti a suis functionibus, discharged
by reason of age, fro bearinge publicke offices, dispensed withall, exempted.

Emerita Augusta, a citee of Ioyugall.

Emersus, a, um, that appereth out of the water afte it is dyowed, or out of a place, where it was dyde.

Emersus ab admiratione animus, a mynde that is come to hym selfe afte a great wona despyng.

Emetior, iris, ensus sum, iri, to measure, and by translation, with tournespyng or goyng, to passe ouer a place or waie.

Emetiri iter vehiculis, to trauaile or tourney in wagons.

Emetiri vno die ingens spacium, to trauaile or rpe a great space in one daie.

Emeto, emellui, ere, to scape coine or other thngs.

Emico, emicui, e emicui, are, to thynge forth, to holde vp the spynge or some other thng, to daunce or leape, to appere higher than other,
to exell, to come or issue forth todeynip.

Multis calamis ex vno radice emicantibus, with many Remmes rpyng of spryngyng out of one roote.

Sanguis emicat per mille foramina, bloude issues or spryngs out at a thousande places.

Sol emicuit, the sonne arose or appered aboue the earthe.

Cor meum capit in pectus emicare, Myne hearte beganne to leape in my body.

In prelio victor emicat, he appered in the felde as vanquisher or conquerour.

Emicuit longe ante omnes Eufanor, Eua-phor.

Emicuit

Emicuit

ferant facere excellit aliother.
 Emigro, aui, are, to go from one place to dwell in another.
 Emigrare e vita, to dye.
 Eminacio, onis, a theaping of manafing.
 Eminens, entis, om. g. that appeareth higher than other, that is more excellent.
 Eminencia, e, f. g. excellencie.
 Eminco, ui, nre, to shewe or excell above all other, to bee higher than other.
 Eminere et apparere.
 Eminere extra terram, to appeere about the grounde.
 Eminere quatuor digitos transversos, to be higher than other the thichnesse of foure fingers. Moles eminet aquam, the huge heape appeared above the water, or it was higher than the water.
 Eminent ira indices maior, his anger appeareth daily greater and greater.
 Nemo magnopere eminebat, no man was greatly higher advanced than other, or of muche greater authoritie than other.
 Eminor, aris, ari, to theaten slightly.
 Emulus, a, um, a littell lesse in height, a littell about other.
 Emulus, facere of.
 Emularum, ri, n. g. a flure of place to let water out of a ponde or puer.
 Emularius, ri, n. g. significeth sometime hym, which is sente before in baptis to espye, or to thepythe, sometime a seruant that is always at hande, ready to bee sent forth. Also it significeth suche a persone as is ordeined of hym that is in authoritie of any great office, to advance his bybeepe, or to harken and tell tales. Also it significeth an horse halpman, which serueth to geat colles. sometime a countour or talfe accuser, suborned by ones enuencie.
 Emulus palmes, a vine byaunche cut of, or that is bent out from his fellows.
 Emulo, onis, a callng, hurlyng, or thootyng forth.
 Emulus, a, um, that is sent or caste forth.
 Emulsi oculi, rolling eyes, galyng here and there about.
 Emulus, a, um, sent out.
 Emulo, li, ere, to finde forth, to pabysh, to menumise, to sette abode.
 Emittre aculeum in hominem, to thyste his spyn in one, and by translacon, to shewe the extremitie of his wrath agaynst one.
 Aliquid dignum suo nomine emittre, to pabysh of sette some thyng abode woth the his name.
 Emittre ouum, to lase an egge.
 Emittre figuras arcu, to shote.
 Emittre futurum, to empyte the bealy.
 Emittre vocem, to speake. also to grone.

Emittre manum, amonge the lawers to make a caution or pduction with ones owne hande. Emittre manu, to manumpe, to make free.
 Emmanuel, is interpreted, God is with vs.
 Emmaus, looke Emaus.
 Emo, emi, emere, to dye, to purchase.
 Care emere, to dye deere.
 Bene emere, to dye good cheape.
 Piper pondera emitur, pepper is bought by weyght.
 Emere precio alterius, to bye at an other mans price or valuing.
 Emere aliquid in publicum, to dye a thyng to the intene it shuld bee common.
 Emere aliquem doli, to corrupte one with gyfte. Ego spem precio non emo, I purpose not to bye hope with monete. I will not paye out of hande, in hope of that that is to come.
 Emolador, aris, ari, to syng in measure and proportion.
 Emodus, an hyl, whiche about the borders of Indie, is diuided into boughes.
 Emolulus, a, um, foster, tender.
 Emolior, iris, iri, with recchyng to auoyd out, as one dooth flume with coughyng. also to moue or shake.
 Emollio, liul, lire, to make softe or pleasant, to make tender or nyce.
 Emolumentum, i, n. g. profit gotten of labo.
 Emolumento esse alium, to bee profitable to one.
 Emoneo, ui, ere, to warne, to put one in myght of a thyng.
 Emorior, iris, or eris, emori, to dye betterly.
 Emortalis, le, of ones deathe.
 Emortalis dies, the date of deathe.
 Emortuus, a, um, deade.
 Emotus, a, um, remoued, put awale.
 Emouco, ui, ere, to put awale, to remoue.
 Empedocles, the name of a philosopher, whiche supposed all thynges to haue their beginning of amitee and variance.
 Empetrum, tri, n. g. an herbe, whiche is commonly called Stampet, it groweth on the sea rocks, and is kept in salt and byne to sece for sauces. It is medicinable agaynst the stone. It is called also Calcifraga, of some Creta marina.
 Empanda, a goddess that had tustion of those thynges that are abode.
 Emphasis, an expresse signification of that whiche is intended.
 Empiracta, hyppes or barges conered.
 Empylosides febris, a vehement heate, whiche causeth to bee in the mouth, wheales and inflammationes.
 Emphyteosis, the making of a thyng better than it was, when it was receyued or lessen.

as lands.
 Emphyteota, he that taketh a thyng, and pposeth or conpacteth to make it better than he receyued it.
 Emphyte, or, phithe conpacting in practice, or gorth by practice.
 Empiricus, a, u, that practiseth, pposeth phithe.
 Emplacum, a playster.
 Emplastratio, onis, a playstinge betweene the backe and the woodde, or rather a playstinge by taking the budde of one tree, with a part of the backe, and setting it on another stock with a playster made of clate or wate.
 Emplastro, aui, are, to graffe betweene the wende and the woodde. to doct emplastratio.
 Emplastrum, a playster or confection made of dyuers thynges.
 Emplastrum in arboribus, a playster of clate or wate, to lay about the tree of graffe, whiche the backe is taken awate.
 Emporeticus, a, um, pertaining to marchandise.
 Emporetica charta, paper, wherein marchantes or groffers doo put their wares.
 Emporia, a citee of Spayne, called commonly Castellon Dempurias.
 Emporium, i, n. g. a place wherein is kepte a marke of saye, a marke towne.
 Emporeum, a, chapmanshop.
 Empio, onis, a bring or purchase syng.
 Emptionem facere, to dye.
 Emptionalis, le, that haunteth sayes or marchantes, or that useth to bye muche.
 Emptius, a, um, that whiche is or maye bee boughte.
 Emptius miles, an hyed souldiour.
 Emptio, aui, are, to use to bye, to dye ostentpance it is sometime used to be wylt emptiare.
 Emptor, oris, a bye.
 Empturio, iui, ire, to haue a lust or desyre to bye.
 Emptus, a, um, boughte, purchased.
 Emptum conupratum iudicium, a iudge ment boughte and corrupted with bybes.
 Empusa, a certayne gosse.
 Emphyema, a collection of matter in the bulke of a mans body.
 Empyrium cælum, the heauen, that is next above all the seven spheres, and signifieth the fpy heuen.
 Emucius, a, um, beate fithie, muche binured.
 Emugio, iui, ire, to blowe or blowe out lyke a come: and by translacon, to cry out, or speche out aloud.
 Emulgeo, mulsi, gere, to myke.
 Emunctio, onis, snuffyng or weppynge of the nose.
 Emunctorium, an instrument, wherewith the snuffe of a candell is taken awate, a snuffer.
 Emunctus, a, um, snuffed, made cleane. also spoiled or destroyed.
 Emunctus sum auro, I am spoiled or destroyed of all my monete, my monete is snuffed or spoiled.

 Emunctus harris homib, a man of a fine and exacte iudgement.
 Emundo, aui, are, to make cleane.
 Emungo, unli, ere, to snuffe a candelle, also to make cleane a mans nose. sometime it signifieth to despoile a man of monete, pposely by craft.
 Emunio, iui, ire, to fortifie or make stronge, to fence.
 Emunitus, a, um, fortified, fenced.
 Emusco, aui, are, to rubbe of the wolfe of a tree or other thyng.
 Emusiratum, made of woughte by rule.
 Emurio, iui, ire, to humme or make any other sowne lyke a man that is dumme.
 Emuro, aui, are, to chaunge.

En, lo, see. En, was used of olde wyrtowen for Eum.
 Enema, a medicine of busky colour, good to heate frede woundes.
 Enargia, an euident and playne demonstration whan a thyng is so described, that it seemeth to the reader or hearer, that he beholdeth it as it were in booyng euidentie, perspicutue.
 Enarrabilis, le, that maye be declared of the web.
 Enarratio, onis, a playne declaration or exposition.
 Enarro, aui, are, to tell a thyng at length.
 Enarcor, keris, sci, to growe or spryng of a thyng, to be boyn.
 Enato, aui, are, to swymme out, to swymme to a place, sometime to escape.
 Enatus, a, um, that hath growen or spryng.
 Enaigo, aui, are, to laye thoyough to a place that one purposed, to escape awate by callpyng.
 Enauo, aui, are, to employe or bestowe all a mans diligence.
 Operam enauant, they employe thier labours with all diligence.
 Enecania, a renouacion or renupge. It was among the Jewes the fraile of dedication of the temple.
 Encanthis, a disease of the eyes.
 Encardia, a pious done, that hath the figure of a blache herte in it.
 Encantes, ri, n. g. he that fourmeth or factos with a thyng with fye.
 Encantice, es, f. g. making of ymages with fye.
 Encanticus, and Encastus, a, um, enamelled or wought with fye.
 Encantica pictura, an ymage enamelled.
 Encantum, i, n. g. beynesse, enamel, or other picture, wought with fye.
 Enceladus, a gyaunt, the sonne of Terra, polyph whiche was aspen with the lightnesse of Jupiter, and buried under the hill Aetna.

Enchimidomata, a hynde of garments for gyles of women servants, maidens hyppes, or pett coates.
Enchiridion, dñ. n. g. an handell of a thyng.
Some tyme a dagger. Some tyme that parte of an oie, that the water man holdeth. It is blue ped for a booke of so litell a volume, that one maye alwaie carpe it with hym.
Enchiro, a beall byrde in the orient, as great as a bulle.
Enchirista, thyrne opyntmentes.
Enchisis, inclination.
Encyclos, encyclycia, the circle of al doctrynes.
Encyclopaedia, that learning that comprehendeth all liberall studies and sciences.
Endelechia, looke Entelechia.
Endo, a ppositiō for in.
Endonitium, for Initium, a begynnyng.
Endo calum, for in calum, into heauen.
Endoploro, for Imploro.
Endo prociñtu, for in prociñtu.
Endromis, idis. f. g. a certayne garment, whiche is hearyp like to jyrthe mantelles, whiche men used in banyes and places of exercise.
Encymion, the name of a man which founde
the course of the moone, wherfore the poetes feigned, that the moone toucht hym, and descended downe to hyffe hym, while he slepte.
Eneco, ui, are, to kysse.
Enectus, a, um, slayne, almost kylled.
Enectus hunc, almoite dead for hunger.
Energia, a, u, g. an efficacie, or effectuall operation.
Energemenus, one possessed of an yll spirite.
also lunaticke.
Eneruatus, a, um, made feeble or weak, also tender or nyce.
Languidus et eneruatus.
Enerus, e, et Enerus, a, um, without strenght without strenght, feeble, weak, effeminate, tender.
Enervat, ui, are, to debilitate or make feeble.
Animos enervare, to effeminate mens myndes, to make them tender and nyce.
Engaddi, a citee in Judea, from whence the precious baulme cometh.
Enhydri, dridis, and Enhydrius, i, a water snake of adder.
Enim, for, forsothe. Some tyme it is expletive, and dooth but spilithe sentence, to make it sounde wel. Some tyme it is a copulatiue, some-tyme affirmatiue, and is set in the begynnyng
Sed enim, but for as much.
Enim vero, forsothe.
Enim me nominat, in deeds he nameth me.
At enim itæ in eudetur faba, But in deeds the perill of this will lyght on my neck.
Mortendum enim certe est, For certaynly

we must all dye.
Certe enim scio, yea in deeds, I know surely that it is so.
Enim vero, pro ex aduerso, on the other parte.
Eniochi, A fierce and wilde people of Thracia, nere to Pontus, whiche hadde theyr begynnyng of Rhocas and Amphistratus, the chierest men of Castor and Pollux.
Eniopeus, Hector's chierest man, whom Iliad methews shewe.
Enipeus, a ryuer of Thessaly, nere to the wher the battaille was fought betwene Xeser and Pompey.
Enisus, a, um, that embowreth, laboureth, or enfoyleth it selfe to doo a thyng.
Eniteo, ui, are, to hyne, to bee gorgeous and cleane, to appare faire and hyghlye, to shewe it selfe evidently, to be famous and notable or greatly renowned.
In eo bello et virtus et fortuna Tullij enituit.
In that warre both the valiantnesse and fortune of Tullie appered and shewed it selfe evidently.
Enitens Athenæ cunctis gentibus, The A-theniens be famous and renowned throughe all nations.
Crassim agis enitebat oratio, Crassus spke was more beautifull & eloquent.
Eniteco, enitui, enitescere, idem quod eniteo.
Enitor, eris, enixus et enisus sum eniti, to endeuore or labour, to enforce ones selfe to doo a thyng, to ascende upward with great difficulties. also to trouble or byng forth a child.
Eniti oua dicitur gallina, to lay an egge.
Eniti et contendere.
Eniti partum, et Eniti puerum, to trouble and byng forth a child.
Enixi, and Enixim, diligently, & with all force.
Enixus, a, um, that hath brought forth, also trauayling or labouryng to byng forth, also laboyous, full of trauayle and payne.
Enixa opera, trauayle, wherein a man employeth all his puissance.
Enixior opera, more earnest & greater laboy.
Enna, a citee of Sicke, situate in an high place, and is compted to bee the verie myddell of that countre.
Enneacrinos, a founteyn in Athens, made by Demetrius.
Enneaphyllon, an herbe haung. fr. longe lea-ues, of nature burning, and verie hollosome for diseases of the lynes and backe bones.
Ennius, an olde latine poete, boyme at Carina-rum, a citee nere in the royalme of Naples, as some suppose in a towne called Rhodis in Zeale, and was brought to the citee of Rome by Cato the Censour. For his learninge and most honest conditiōs, he was entercly beloued of Scipio African, wherfore he caused his ymage to be set on his sepulchre, he made many many booke in sundry kyndes of verses, but the stile that he used was verie auncient and homely, but that concerned graue and suban-till sentences of great wisdom. he dyed at the age of .lxx. yeres.

Ennosigamus, the surname of Pseptonus.
Eno, ui, are, to swym out, to swym throughe to any place.
Enoch, a mans name in holy scripture.
Enodari, manifesti.
Enodatio, onis, f. g. an explicatiō of declaratiō.
Enodatus, a, um, declared, made manifest.
Enodis, de, without knotte. also without difficulties or hardnesse.
Enodo, ui, are, to cut awaie the knottes, or to vnhante: by translatiō to declare or make manifest, to explicate or dissolue doubtes.
Enoma, a citee of Dalmatia.
Enope, a citee nere to Prius.
Enormis, e, great out of measure. also out of square, or out of rule.
Enormiter, naughtily, without measure, vni-measurably, far out of square, greatly amisse.
Enos, was a greatte citee, nigh to the mountayne Lybanus, before Noes floude, wher in dwelled gygantes, the whiche hadde dominion ouer all the world, frome the sunne goyng downe, to the sonne ryng. They tra-uayling in the greatnesse of their bodies, and strength, inuented armour and weapons, op-pyssed all men, and geuyng them selues to all bodily lustes, found pauitons, iustumen-tes of milke, and all wanton pleasures.
They dyd also eate men, procured deliuerance of children before the tyme, & prepared them in to delicate meates. They copanted carnally with theyr owne mothers, sisters, dought-ters, men, and beastes: And no mischefe there was, whiche they did not commit, bespousers of god and all religion.
Enoresco, scere, to come to knowlage, to bee known.
Ens, entis, beeyng.
Ensculus, li, a litell sweerde or hanger.
Ensifer, ferri, that beareth a sweerde.
Ensis, sis, m. g. a sweerde.
Crudus ensis, looke Crudus.
Accommodare enses, & applicare enses
lateri, to hange ones sweerde by his syde.
Adigere enses in pectus, and Condere en-ses in pectore, to thrust one to the hart with his sweerde.
Districus ensis, a sweerde redy byawen.
Recondere enses, to put by ones sweerde.
Transuerberare aliquem ensis, to thrust one throughe with his sweerde.
Entelechia, perfection, power to moue it selfe, or after Thermolus continuall agitiō and mouyng.
Enterocela, or Enterocle, a disease when the gutter called Cecum Intestinum, is fallen into the coddies.

Enterocelicus, ci, he that hath his bowels fallen into his coddies.
Entheos, full of diuine inspiration, inspired.
Enthymema, atis, n. g. an imperfect Allegisme, lacking the maior of the minoy.
Enubo, nuppi, ere, to marry.
Enucleat, clerely, manifestly, exquisitely.
Some tyme without difficulties or hardnesse.
Enucleatus, a, um, opened, made manifest.
Enucleo, ui, are, to take oute the kernell of a nutte. It is also to declare or make plaine a sentence.
Enudo, ui, are, to make naked. also to interprete, to expounde.
Enumeratio, onis, a numbyng or recknyng of many thynges together.
Enumero, ui, are, to numbye, to reckon or cast.
Enumerare per singula, to numbye euery one after another.
Enuntiatio, onis, a ppositiō.
Enuntiatus, a, u, that is pronounced or vttered.
Enuntiatix, one that pronounceth or vttereth.
Enuntiatum, i, n. g. a ppositiō.
Enuntiaus, a, um, spoken, pronounced, vttered.
Enunrio, ui, are, to pronounce or speake, to declare, to signifie, to publyshe, to disclose, to reuele or vtter abyode.
Enuntiare consilia amicorum aduersarijs, to vtter or disclose the counsaile of ones fren-des, to theyr aduersaries.
Commisisti enuntiare, to vtter abyode such thynges as were tolde one in secreete.
Enuntiare apud homines, to tell abyode as mong men.
Enurro, triui, ire, to noutpryse.
Enyo, enyus, the name of Bellons.
Enyalis, the soonne of Bellons.

EO, therfore, for as much, vnto that.
Ed loci, in that state or conditiō. also in that place, or in the same place.
Eodem loci, in the same place or estate.
Nec eo fecius, and yet neuertheless.
Ed vsq, in so much.
Ed, for in tantum, so much.
Ed creuit, it increased and grew so much.
Ed insolentia processit, he became so insolent and proude.
Ed, for propterea, as,
Ed ad eam admissa non sum, For that cause
I was not suffred to come in to her.
Hæc ad te eo pluribus scripsi, v. &c. I haue therfore writt these thynges more at large &c.
Non eo, quin tibi non cupiam quæ vellis, not so, but that I would be glad to doo that you would haue me.

E ANTE O.

Non eo hoc dico, quin. &c. I speake not this for any further intent, but that. &c.
 Non eo dico, I speake it not therfore.
 Eo magis, so muche the more.
 Annos sexaginta natus es, aut plus eo, thou arte. lx. yeres olde or above.
 Eo redacta res erat, The matter was brought into that case.
 Nisi eo veniam, Excepte I come thyther.
 Sed vix eo quo opus erit, yet at the least, as farre as neche shall requyre.
 Hac quo scripti eo spectant, These thynges that I haue wrytten, pertaine to this end.
 Hac quo alia eodem pertinentia, these thynges, and such other lyke, pertainyng to the same ende, or spoken for the same purpose.
 Eo fuerunt cariora, They were so muche the deerer.
 Eo, is, iul, ne, to go.
 Eo iunctus, I henge.
 Eo obuiam, I go to meete with one.
 Eo venum, ire venum, to besolde.
 Celeriter iher rediit, Thou dydest come end go quickly.
 Ire grandibus gradibus, to go with longe stremes.
 Panamur illum ire nostris itineribus, Let vs followe hym to go the same waie that we haue gone before hym. And by translation, to kepe the same trade in thynges that we dyd before hym. Ire nauigio, to passe ouer in a shyppe.
 Ire pedibus, to go on foote.
 Ire in aciem, to go to warre.
 Ire in aliquem, to rushe or runne violently agaynst one.
 Ire in iunctum, go and be hanged.
 Ire in exilium, to be banished.
 Ire in iudicium, to begyn to be lothed of a shew.
 Ire in ius ad aliquem, to pleade or go to lawe before one sitting as a iudge.
 Ire in matrimonium sine dote, to be married without dowrie.
 Vulgabat, ire in melius valetudinem hominis, he published alhode, that the man began to recouer his helth, and wax better & better.
 In neruum potius ibit, he will rather bee cast in prison.
 Ire in possessionem, to take possession.
 In rixam non ibimus, we will not fall to chydnyng. In in scula nomen tuum, Thy name shall be spoken of as long as the worlde standeth, or thou shalt get the a perpetuall name.
 Ire in sententiam, to condescende to ones opinion, to saie as one hath said before.
 Ire in subdolum, to abyde of surcoure.
 Ire consilium male aliquem, to damage or hurte one.
 Ire datum operam amico, to go to helpe or see friends.

E ANTE P.

Ibam ad te, I was comyng to you.
 Ire cubitum, and Ire dormitum, to go to bed.
 Ire habitum honorem alium, to dooe honours and worship to one.
 Perditum ire, to destitute, to vndoo.
 It dies, the daie passeth awaye.
 It ad me lucrum, the vantage to myne, or the profite cometh to me.
 Eunt precipites mores, the manners of men gonne headlong into all mischefe.
 Puppis it, the shyppe capteyn.
 Prorsus ibat res, the matter proceeded or went well forward.
 Is questum laudem tibi in mea vita? Dost thou go about to get the laude and prayse by puttyn my lyfe in danger.
 Icar, the impersonall.
 Eon, the compasse of the eye.
 Eos, the morning.
 Eous, the east.
 Eous, i, m. g. one of the howles of the sonne. It is vied for the daie deere.

E ANTE P.

E Pacta, thynges added to.
 Epagris, one of the ples called Cyclades.
 Epagoge, a figure when lyke argumentes of thynges be conferred together.
 Epaminondas, a Theban boine, foones of a honest gentil man called Polymnus) in many qualittes excellent, as well of the body as of the mynde, in all kyndes of manlye, he was perfectly instructed, and dancet exceedingly well. He was a valiant, and ranne no man better. In armes stronge, hardy, and valiant. In martiall policie, equall to any than hymne, wonderfulle welle learned in philosophie, especially in that whiche was taught of Pythagoras, the moste discrete and pure doctrine containyng most secretes and diuine misteries, wherunto he added most noble vertues. For he was temperate, wysse, of great grauitie, vying tyme wysse, of courage insatiable, so diligent in obseruyng trowth, that he would be at no tyme lye, neither in earnest nor in game. He was continet, mercifull, wonderfull patient, sufferyn wronges not only of the people, but also of his frendes. He was secreete and trusty, so faithfull and loyng to his frendes, that when any of them were taken in warres, or any of theyr daughters readye to bee married, and theyr not able to sette them forth, accordyng to theyr degrees: he would assemble the respydue of his frendes and exhorte them to geue vnto hym that lacked, accordyng to their powres. he hym selfe would liberally geue to the quantite of his subdies whiche was but litle, although he were in great authoritie (so) he refused al rewardes, sayng

E ANTE P.

sayng thanks only, when he had made a good summe of that, whiche was gauged, before he receyued it, he brought hym, that should haue it, vnto them whiche should geue it, that he might receyue it of them, and knowe howe muche he was bounde vnto euery of them. he often tymes refused great summes of monie and riche presents sente to hym by princes (all thought he were poore) sayng: If the thyng were honest, whi che he was requyred to dooe, he would dooe it, because it was good without any reward: If it were yll, or not honest, all the goodnes of the worlde, should not make hym dooe it. If it were profitable to his carriere, he was bounde and ready to doo it freely. If it were otherwise, al the riches in the worlde might not countenayle the loue that he bare to his commune weale. In eloquence no Theban might be compared vnto hym, and his sentences were graue, and verie comendable, wherby in counsailes he vanquished and byd put to rebuke great and famous orators. In battaile he ouercam the Atheniens and Lacedemons, and in one daie had the victorie of all Grece. At the last, in the battaile at Mantinea, betwene the Thebans and the Lacedemons, he was strepen and wounded vnto death with a longe speare, the head remagnyn still in his body: yet receyued he lyfe vntill it was tolde hym, that his howe had the victorie. Then sated he, I haue lyed long enough, for I dyd vnbauquished. The pyon beyn drawn out of his bodye he dyed, before the incarnation of Christ. 372. yeres. This one thyng is well to bee consydered (as Probos saith) the citee of Thebes before Epaminondas was boine, and al so after he was dead, was vnder the rule and in subiection of other people: But durynge the tyme that he was a gouernour in the weale publike, the citee was head and gouernour of all Grece, wherby it made bee wel perceiued, that one such noble manne is more than a whole citee.

Epanadiplosis, a figure, when a sentence be gynneth with a woorde, and endeth with the same.

Epanados, a figure, when two thynges reher sed together, he spake of afterward seuerally.

Epanalepsis, a replication, or repetition.

Epanaphora, a figure, when dyuers clausles begyn with one woorde.

Epaphus, the sonne of Jupiter and Io, of his, that builded Memphis in Egypt.

Eparcus, the president of a province.

Epatica, an herbe called tyer woode.

Eparius, looke Hepatarius.

Epaticus, looke Hepaticus.

Epauxis, an increase.

E ANTE P.

Ephemella, a figure, when a letter or syllable is added in the myddes of a woorde.
 Epeus, the sonne of Eudymion, whiche made the howe that was conueighed into Troie.
 Ephebia, a, f, g, the age, wherein one entereth into to mans estate. xv. or. xvi. yeres.
 Ephebiu, i, n, g, the place wher yonge scypps lynges exercised wandlyng.
 Ephebus, bi, m, g, he that is of the age of. xv. or. xvi. yeres.
 Ephemeris febris, a feure apte to bee cured in one daie, but neglected, it cometh to be in dyuers sortes of fevers, and accordynge to the nature of them, contineth longer. The cause thereof is sometyme of ourward heates, some tyme of muche labour or weyrynesse, sometyme of oppilation, sometyme of replecion, especially of dyuers meates and dyunkes, other whyles of longe abstynence or watche. or of corruption of that wherewith the bodye is nourished.
 Ephemeris, ris, f, g, a booke, wherunto is wrytten that whiche is dooen daily, or a booke of rekenyng.
 Ephemerion, is that, whiche apothecaries call Pharmocattilus, an extreme purger of steme, also a certain beast that byedeth about the riuer Hippanis, and a certayn herbe, hangynge leaues lyke a lily.
 Ephestrades, certayne ples, called of the latins Vulcania, and Acolia.
 Ephesus, si, a noble auncient citee in Asia the lesse. It is interpreted by saint Hierome, my will. There remeneth by it a great ruere called Caystrus, out of whiche be deriued many other riuers. In this citee was the famous temple of Diana, nedyd among the vii. wonderes of the woorld, edified by all Asia in an. lxx. yeres, and was set in a fen or marsh ground, the foundation beyn layde laied with colre, troden or rammed hard, then steeles of wolle laied thereon, and all this was to saue it from earthquakes. The temple was in length. 425. foote, in breadth. 220. In it were. 127. piloures, euery of them. lx. foote high, made by kynges, the route was of cedar trees, and the doores of Lippes. The temple was bourned by a lewde persone, of purpose to geat a reuonume in his dayes therby. For he deeyng consumed of glopy, and having none excellent qualittes to atchepe therunto (puttyng wyde fyre into the route) dyd burne all the temple, whiche name was Hierostratus (as Hierabo wryteth) thereof pceded a piousnes:
 Hierostrati gloria, applyed vnto the that seke for a reuonume or prayse of a mischeuous act.
 Eph, a measure containyng. iiii. bathells.
 Ephialtes, a disease, when one slepyng chyneth that a great weight lyeth vpon hym, and chyneth his wynde from hym. It is of some kat led the

E ANTE P.

blache choler: or after other, it is a webe that sareth holde of the dyauiches of tyme, and so wyndeth aboute it, that it is nouerlyd of the tyme roots, and beareth a flower lyke tyme.

Epithyrum, a meane to conserue olives.

Epithymium, n. g. a garmente wyne vpon a gowne. It may be used for such an hoodde as graduates weare in vniuersities, or elles that whiche they call their habitte.

Epitome, es, or Epitoma, x, f. g. a byldgmet, or bycrate.

Epitritus, a foote of foure sillables, of the whiche
the one differeth euer from the other thys.

Epitrope, p. or curacion, wardshipp.

Epitryum, a chese cake.

Epodus, di, a kynde of verser, whiche hath the fyrst verse longer than the seconde: as,

Beatus ille, qui procul negotijs,

Vt prisca gens mortalium.

Epulones, olde wyters used for Epulones.

Eporedia, a cite of the Salaris.

Eporthedice, good breakers of hoyses.

Epous odos, a woode of a kynde of verse of longe, whiche concerneth thynges concerning as will god an man.

Epoto, au, are, to dymke vpon all.

Epotos, a, um, dymke vpon.

Epulaz, a, um, meate. also a bankette made to many persons. Sometime pasture for beastes.

Mente epulis conquisitissimis extruenda tur, the tables were set or garnished with most deuine and costly dishes.

Epulante epula, feastes to superuous or costly.

Epula, x, was used of olde wyters in the regular numbys.

Epulans, p, belonging to a feast or banquet.

Epulans in mo, communication meete for a feast or banquet.

Epulans dies, a feast date.

Epulatio, onis, feasting.

Epulatio, a, um, apte to be eaten at a feast or bankette.

Epulans, a, um, that hath feasted or banketted

Epulis, n. l. the thar groweth on the gummes about a mannes teethe.

Epulis, onis, plural. epulones, men bode to a great feast, or they whiche come vnboden to eate the reueren. Among the gentiles it were they that were called by the priestes to eate that whiche was left of the sacrifice, or rather to helpe to make the feast as the sacrifice

Epulor, aris, an, to eate at feastes or bankettes

Epulum, i, n. g. a great feast, wherunto all the people assembled, whiche among the old Romans was made either to the honoy of some of their goodde: or at the buryng of some notable personage. It may bee nowe taken for a thurche feast, or feast of a brotherhead, or dyner made at a buryall or interment. It

E ANTE Q.

hath beene sometymes used to be taken for a bankette.

E ANTE Q.

EQuapiam, an herbe called also Hippocys linon, Olys atrum, and Olys pullum, in english mistlemaunder.

Equa, x, f. g. a mare.

Equaria, x, f. g. an herde of hoyses and mares.

Equarius, m. g. an hoise leache.

Equarius, a, um, pertaining to hoyses.

Equarius medicus, an hoise leache.

Eques, tris, com. g. an hoysman, contrary to the footemaun. Sometime it is taken for a knigght. But I suppose that among the Romans, Equites were taken for them, to be the we call gentill men. It is sometyme used for iudges, because they were chosen oute of that order. also Eques is taken in Virgil for an hoise.

Locare equites pro cornibus, to see the hoys men in the wynges of the battayle.

Equestris, are, pertaining to Eques, as,

Equestris ordo, the state or degree of gen-till men.

Equestres copie, the numbys of compaigns of hoysmen.

Equestris, the places assigned for gentill men, where they satte to beholde any solemne sighte of playes.

Pes equestris, an hoise foote.

Equestris, are, castle in France.

Equicernus, ui, m. g. called also Hippelaphus,
a beast in the orient, hauing hoynes & a longe mane to the shulders, and a bearde vnder his chynne, and feete round clouen lyke an hare, and is as great as an harte.

Equidem, veratly, truely. Sometime in a sentence it signifyeth nothyng, but supplicth the numbre.

Equidem certe idem sum, qui semper fui,
As for me truely I am the same man, that I
haue beene alwayes.

Equiferus, a wynde hoise.

Equila, a littell mare.

Equile, lis, n. g. a stable for hoyses.

Equimentum, i, n. g. the hye of the halgon to couer a mare.

Equinus, a, um, of an hoise.

Equio, iui, ire, when a mare despayeth to be co-uered.

Equiria, orum, n. g. plu. a rennyng with hoys tes, a playe dedicated vnto Mars.

Equifelis, an herbe lyke an hoise mane.

Equifessor, a man on hoysbacke.

Equifertum, i, n. g. an herbe called hoysfayle.

Equifo, onis, m. g. an hoise bycatcher. Sometime an hoise keeper. Of olde wyters it was used for all theym that had oversight of any thyng

Equi-

E ANTE Q.

Equitabilis, i. e. able to be rydden. also a place where hoyses myght easily walke.

Equiratio, onis, a ryddenge.

Equitatus, us, m. g. an hoise of hoysmen. also the acte of ryddenge. Sometime the state or order of gentill men.

Equium, i, n. g. the esquire or compaign of the stable, or rather a troope of hoyses.

Equitius, the propre name of a man, and surname of a familie in Rome.

Equito, aui, ate, to ryde.

In orbem equitare, to ryde rounde about.

Equitare in arundine longa, to ryde on a staffe of reede: And by translacon to playe the chyldre.

Equitari, the passie, to be ridden on.

Equuleus, lei, m. g. an hoise colte. also a maner of tourment made of burning plates, lyke to an hoise, wherein men were tourmented.

Equulus, li, m. g. a nagge or littell hoise.

Equus, i, m. g. an hoise.

Equus carpentarius, a carte hoise, or charre otte hoise.

Generosus equus, an hoise of a toly lusty courage. Equus ciatus, an hoise taken by.

Caspiratores equi, stumbling hoyses.

Equus intractatus, and indomitus, an hoise that is not broken.

Equum accendere stimulis, to quyen an hoise with the spurs.

Admittere equum, looke Admitto.

In equum ascendere, and Insilire, to leape on hoise backe, to take ones hoise.

Cadere de equo, looke Cado.

Concitare equum, to take by his hoise with the spurs.

Exhortari equum, to encourage an hoise.

Frenare equum, to byddell an hoise.

Incidere equo, and Herere in equo, to fyte on an hoise.

Interneere equum, to trappe an hoise, or to saddell an hoise.

Equus, is also a sterre.

Equus Troianus, a pouverbe, notyng the destruction of a cite to be nouerlyd within the same.

Velis equis, pouverbially, with all speeds and endenour.

E ANTE R.

ERadico, caui, care, to pluche by by the rootes.

Eradicare aures alterius, to annoye a man by telling ouer many tales.

Erado, si, ere, so scrape of or out of a thyng, to putte out.

Alto senatorio erasit, like put his name out of the table of Senators.

Branchemum, a kynde of camomill, hauynge purple flowers.

E ANTE R.

Erast, men put out of wages.

Erastus, the name of a ryner.

Erastus, a noble physician of the house of Aristotle, who for healing kynge Antiochus, receyued of Ptolomeus his soonne, an hundrieth talentes, whiche doos amounte of our monete, to. xiii. pp. x. l. x. l. x. l. he was before the incarnation of Christ. x. l. x. l. x. l.

Erastus, a, um, rased or scraped out.

Erast, es, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Cetheus.

Erato, the name of one of the muses, whiche had preeminence ouer louers. it is sometyme taken for Calliope.

Erasthenes, the name of a philosopher.

Erastia, a wonderfull great woode in Ger-manie.

Erastor, sceris, sceri, to diste or make par-ticion of gooddes or landes, betwene diuers hepes, assignng to euery one his porcion.

Erastunda familiar iudicium, a subgement for the distyng of parting of gooddes betwene diuers hepes.

Erastus, one of the names of Iupiter.

Erastum, used of olde wyters for Arctum.

Erebus, a, um, of Erebus.

Erebus, bi, m. g. one of the states of hell. some tyme it is taken for a certayne darkenesse, whiche poetes feigne to be in hell.

Erectheus, a kyng of Athens.

Erectio, onis, an aduancynge and lysterne vpon
of a thyng.

Erectus, a, um, sette or rased vpright, lyft by,
auanced, in a readynesse.

Erectus expectatione, attentue and readye to heare that shall be spoken.

Erecti ad libertatem recuperandam, readye and glad to recouere their libertee.

Capillo erecto euolare ex aliquo loco, To renne speedly out of a place with his heare flaryng and standyng vpright.

In armos erectus equus, an hoise that commeth aloft, and standeth on his hynder legges.

Erectiore animo esse, to haue a more iustye
courage.

Erembi, people in Arabia, whiche goe naked.

Eremigo, aui, are, to sape or passe oder, to ren
ouer, to rowe ouer.

Eremita, x, m. g. an heremite, one that dwelleth in wyldenesse.

Eremodicium, defaults of apperance at the date when one is bounde to appere, whiche in the digestes Tit. de minor. infra. et in co-dicis de iudicijs, is corruptly red Hermodicium.

Eremus, mi, f. g. a desert or solitary place.

Ereps, repli, ere, to crepe by, to signe by hard ly with geat payne.

Ereptus, a, um, take away, deliuered, sometime dead. Humanis ereptus, dead.

Ec. i.

Ereptic

Erefichon, one of Theſſaly, whiche for con-ſeemynge Leers was made ſo hungry, that he dyd eate the partes of his owne body.
Eretria, a famous citee of the iſle Eubora.
Eretria, a kinde of Ceruſe.
Ereum, n, a ſtrete in the Sabines towne.
Ereuthalion, a man of huge greatneſſe, why-che was ſlayne by Heſtor.
Erga, towards, agaynſt.
Erga feſtum natalis Chriſti, agaynſt Chriſtmaſſe. Benevolentiam erga aliquem habes re, to beare fauour of right good wille to-wardes one.
Ergacylus, the proper name of a man.
Erganica, a towne of Spayne.
Ergasterium, a woodehouſe.
Ergates ſine ergaticus, a woodſhewman.
Ergatularius, n, m. g. the gayer or keeper of a piſſone.
Ergatulum, li, n. g. an houſe where men were compelled to worke on ſtone or metalle:
nowe it is taken for a piſſone. ſomeſtyme for the piſſoners.
Ergatulus, i, m. g. a ſeruant of ſlaue kepte in piſſone.
Ergatum, an engine to drawe by thynges of greate poſſe of weight, called a craane.
Erginus, a tytane, whome Hercules ſubdued and ſlew. alſo a quene of Thace.
Ergo, therefore, ſomeſtyme it is ſpoken by ſe-dapoſely.
Fac ergo quod lubet, than doo as the liſt.
ſomeſtyme exhortyng. Ergo age, go to.
ſomeſtyme it ſignifieth becauſe, Illius ergo,
for his ſake.
Virtutis ergo, becauſe of vertue.
Eribra, the ſeemother of Mercurie, alſo a ci-tie of Maredonie.
Erica, an herbe growyng in wooddes, and is like to ſantolam. It is alſo a ſyſme, whyche is ſuppoſed to haue a voyce.
Ericum, a kinde of hony.
Ericates, a mans name.
Erica, es, Erica, g, o, Erik, icis, the ſweete bloome whyche hath leaues like roſemary. but theſe
they be ſomewhat piſchyng.
Erichinus, a ſyſme of the ſea called a rochet.
Eris, a towne of Liguria.
Erichio, a woman of Theſſaly.
Erichonius, and Eriſtheus, the fyrſt kynge of Athens, whyche invented a chariot.
Eridanus, ni, a ryuer in Italye, now called Padus, in Italyan Po, nryche to the citee called Parauium, ſo named of Eridanus, whyche was drowned in the ſame.
Erigeron, an herbe called alſo Senecio, groundſwell.
Ergo, erigis, text, ere, to ſet vp, to liſt vp,
to reſſe vp, to aduance.
Erigere ſcalas ad mœnia, to ſet vp ladders,

or a ladder to the walles of a towne.
Erigere ad ſperam, to put in hope.
Erigere animos, iſte by your ſpirtes, take coage.
Erigere ad gloriam, to aduance to honour,
to make renowned.
Agrariſe in ſpem legis exereant, They that fauoured the diſſuſion of landes, conceiued a good hope, that the lawe myghte bee brought to paſſe.
Erigere in gradus, to make higher & higher,
wiſe ſteppes.
Erigere afflictum, to ſuccour and comforte
one that is oppreſſed with miſſery.
Erigere animum et ſpem afferre, to comforte
one, and put hym in hope of a thyng.
Erigere aures, et animum attendere, to geue care, and hearken diſtently.
Erigerem publicam, to ſuccour the commune weale almoſt oppreſſed.
Erigere in digitos, to ſtande on tpp toe.
Erigone, the daughter of Phariſus, ſiſter of Penelope, whyche was tourged by the gods into the ſigne called Virgo.
Erimanthus, looke Erymanthus.
Erinacius, looke Herinacius.
Erineon, a wyde ſpyge tree. Alſo a citee in Doris.
Erinnys, nyos, o, nyis, f. g. the name of one of the furies of helle. ſomeſtyme it is taken for the rage of warre.
Erioxilon, n. g. the wood of the mybbre called Xylon.
Eriphia, a wyche.
Eriphyle, the wyfe of Amphitaras, and ſyſter of Adiaſtus, whyche betrayed his hondres for an ouche of golde, at the ſeige of Thebes.
Eriphyſa, an planche.
Eripio, pui, ere, to take away by force, to pluck
out, to ſnatche, to deliuer out of daungler,
ſomeſtyme to make haſte.
Eripe fugam, flee away in haſte.
Eripuiſti a me librum, Thou haſte taken my
booke from me.
Eripuiſti me a periculo, thou haſt deliuered
me from perill.
Eripuiſti mihi pecuniam, Thou haſte taken
my money from me.
Eripere aliquem domo, to pull one oute of
his houſe.
Eripere et extorquere.
Eripere linguam alicui, to pull oute ones
tongue.
Eripere facultatem aliquid faciendi, to lette
a man to dooe a thyng that he myghte othe-
waſe dooen.
Eripere alicui amicum, to withdrawe a man
frend from hym by ſil ſales, or other means.
Eripere alicui aſpectum ſenatus, to banne

or forbyde one to come into the ſenat.
Errantia, or one in many places, ſuch as hath no ſtate out of my wyche.
Errare ſe a milleria, to wander and err
ſelfe out of myſſe.
Errare pudicium, to erre.
Sex erigine eripere, to diſcharge the ſiſte
of a crime that he is accuſed of.
Erisia, an herbe growyng in Egypt, and may be interpreted conſolation.
Ereſichon looke Ereſichon.
Eridace, looke Erythace.
Erihales, an herbe of the hynde of ſengene,
or huſſe.
Erodus, a wyche, whyche in tyme of deadyng ſweeteth hounde. It is tranſlated of The-ophras, Ardeſia. Socrates Auguſtine calleth it Fulſe. Antioch ſuppoſeth it to be Ciconia. After Calopas, it is the greateſt roule that ſiſeth, and ſweeteneth and eateth
the ſoule.
Erodi, ſiſte, to gnawe of, to gnawe aboute.
Erogatio, onis, diſtribution of thynges to vs
themen, a liberall geyng.
Erogatus, um, given aboue, diſtributed.
Erogio, ui, are, to geue, to beſtow.
Erogo, ui, are, to employe or beſtowe on a thyng, to diſtribute or geue to them that aſke of he.
Pecunias alicui erogare in rem aliquam, to deliuer money to one to beſtow on a
thyng.
Erioxilon, n. g. the wood of the mybbre called Xylon.
Eriphia, a wyche.
Eriphyle, the wyfe of Amphitaras, and ſy-
ſter of Adiaſtus, whyche betrayed his hon-
dres for an ouche of golde, at the ſeige of Thebes.
Eriphyſa, an planche.
Eripio, pui, ere, to take away by force, to pluck
out, to ſnatche, to deliuer out of daungler,
ſomeſtyme to make haſte.
Eripe fugam, flee away in haſte.
Eripuiſti a me librum, Thou haſte taken my
booke from me.
Eripuiſti me a periculo, thou haſt deliuered
me from perill.
Eripuiſti mihi pecuniam, Thou haſte taken
my money from me.
Eripere aliquem domo, to pull one oute of
his houſe.
Eripere et extorquere.
Eripere linguam alicui, to pull oute ones
tongue.
Eripere facultatem aliquid faciendi, to lette
a man to dooe a thyng that he myghte othe-
waſe dooen.
Eripere alicui amicum, to withdrawe a man
frend from hym by ſil ſales, or other means.
Eripere alicui aſpectum ſenatus, to banne

or forbyde one to come into the ſenat.
Errantia, or one in many places, ſuch as
hath no ſtate out of my wyche.
Errare ſe a milleria, to wander and err
ſelfe out of myſſe.
Errare pudicium, to erre.
Sex erigine eripere, to diſcharge the ſiſte
of a crime that he is accuſed of.
Erisia, an herbe growyng in Egypt, and may
be interpreted conſolation.
Ereſichon looke Ereſichon.
Eridace, looke Erythace.
Erihales, an herbe of the hynde of ſengene,
or huſſe.
Erodus, a wyche, whyche in tyme of deadyng
ſweeteth hounde. It is tranſlated of The-ophras, Ardeſia. Socrates Auguſtine cal-
leth it Fulſe. Antioch ſuppoſeth it to be Ciconia. After Calopas, it is the greateſt
roule that ſiſeth, and ſweeteneth and eateth
the ſoule.
Erodi, ſiſte, to gnawe of, to gnawe aboute.
Erogatio, onis, diſtribution of thynges to vs
themen, a liberall geyng.
Erogatus, um, given aboue, diſtributed.
Erogio, ui, are, to geue, to beſtow.
Erogo, ui, are, to employe or beſtowe on a
thyng, to diſtribute or geue to them that
aſke of he.
Pecunias alicui erogare in rem aliquam, to deliuer money to one to beſtow on a
thyng.
Erioxilon, n. g. the wood of the mybbre called Xylon.
Eriphia, a wyche.
Eriphyle, the wyfe of Amphitaras, and ſy-
ſter of Adiaſtus, whyche betrayed his hon-
dres for an ouche of golde, at the ſeige of Thebes.
Eriphyſa, an planche.
Eripio, pui, ere, to take away by force, to pluck
out, to ſnatche, to deliuer out of daungler,
ſomeſtyme to make haſte.
Eripe fugam, flee away in haſte.
Eripuiſti a me librum, Thou haſte taken my
booke from me.
Eripuiſti me a periculo, thou haſt deliuered
me from perill.
Eripuiſti mihi pecuniam, Thou haſte taken
my money from me.
Eripere aliquem domo, to pull one oute of
his houſe.
Eripere et extorquere.
Eripere linguam alicui, to pull oute ones
tongue.
Eripere facultatem aliquid faciendi, to lette
a man to dooe a thyng that he myghte othe-
waſe dooen.
Eripere alicui amicum, to withdrawe a man
frend from hym by ſil ſales, or other means.
Eripere alicui aſpectum ſenatus, to banne

Erufo, aul, are, to beate or beake wynd out of the stomacke, & by translation, to speake rudely, and with greates belitt, to sende of raffe footthe.

Eruero, aul, are, to thowse out, or cast away rubbel, as moyst, stones, and other like thynges of olde buridnges decayed or potted downe.

Eruio, iul, ire, to teache any arte or science, to instruct, to informe, to make cunning.

Erudire ad rationem vitæ, to instruct to some maner of lypng.

Erudire in aliqua re, to instructe one in any thyng.

Erudire aliquem artes, to teache one artes or sciences.

Erudire laboribus iuventutem, to exercise of byng by pouth in laboure.

Eruidit te visus, vñ hath taught you.

Eruio, onis, doctrine of teaching.

Eruditus, li, somewhat learned.

Eruditus, aum, learned or taught, instructed.

Eruditus græcis literis, learned in the grecke tongue.

Erugatio, onis, f. g. a wythlyng.

Eruo, looke Aetugo.

Eruo, gñi, ire, to beache or beake wynde upwarde.

Eruo, aul, are, to make wyntled.

Eruare curam, to make the sayn wyntled.

Eruila, grape called Caros.

Eruila, some do suppose to be frenche beanes.

Erumna, looke Aetrumna.

Erumo, rupi, etc, to baste out, sometimes to leape footthe with violence, to beake out of an holde or citter vpon enemies: And by translation, to come abroad to the knowledge of men.

→ Erumper in neruum istæ fortitudo, & piouserbe diuersely expounded, for it may signifie, This courage of thyns, maye byngge the to an halter, or to spite by the beeles: or it maye signifie, This great strength and courage of thyns wille come vnto nothyng.

Whiche piouserbe is taken of Bechers, whiche oftentimes when they putte footthe most strengthe, beake the sprynge of theyr bowe, and the arrowe falleth downe at theyr feete, whereby the spote is loste, and cometh to no thyngs.

Que per hoc triennium agitata sunt, in hoc tempus erumpunt, Suche thynges as haue been piously cauaued these thre yeres space: dooe nowe at this tyme beake footthe for help.

In acum erumpere, to cometo effects.

In occulto colloqui, qui max in omnium pernitiem eruptura sint, To comenue of those thynges pynip, whiche in effect or it be longe, will cometo the viter destruction of the whole common weale.

Erumpt se ex poris foras, They baste footthe, or they pūde oute at the gates of the citty.

Hæc, quo eruptura sint, timed, I feare to what ende of issue these matters wille come.

Erumpt amentis hominis furor, The fūpe of that bygnelisse fellowe wille shewe it selfe at sometyne.

Erumpt lachrymæ, the teares baste out.

Ne in me stomachum erumpant, That they doo not viter of thewe theyr cankerous humours of malice toward me.

Iam ne hoc erumpere mihi gaudium licet, I maye I nowe oute with this my lōge and gladnesse.

Illustrantur et erumpunt omnia, All piouserbes be nowe manifest to see, and come abroad to euey mans knowledge.

Erunco, aul, are, to weede out.

Eruo, ui, etc, to baste out with force, to pūche up by the rootthe, to get and come to the knowlage of thynges by labour and study.

Eruere in lucem, to make manifest or knowe.

Eruere ex tenebris, idem.

Aurum terra erueret, to dysse golde oute of the earth.

Eruere oculum, to placke out ones eye.

Sus rostro femina eruit, The sowe rooteth by the seede with hys snout.

Et ex his ea erueret, que scriptores greci prodiderunt, And to pūche and geat out of them the knowlage of those thynges, whiche the greke authours haue put in wytyng.

Eruere herbas noxias, to placke up weedes.

Eruptio, onis, is when ou holde thynge hastyly out of a citter, campe, or fortresse, and setteth on theyr enemies.

Eruus, aum, pulled, picked, or weeded out.

Eruum, i, n. g. a kynde of pulse, called also Corobos, there is of it bothe white and redde.

Erycus, a mountayne in Sicille, where was a temple of Venus, of the whiche she was called Erycina.

Erymanthus, and Erymanthus, aum, of Erymanthus.

Erymanthis, idos, Attadæ.

Erymanthis vñs, the wyfe of Lycon, whiche was turned into a beare.

Erymanthus, a mountayne in Archadie, where Hercules ouercame a bope, that destroyed the fieldes. There are also a wodde and a spring of the same name.

Erygium, or Eryngæ, a kynde of theffell, haunges longe leaues, & longe halles with a rounde knappe full of longe pyrrhes, in the forme of a sterre: The roote wherof, beynge condeyte, and confused in honye with Cynamome and cloves, comforteth the stee, and strenght courage. It is also called Yring

Eryngium, and Eryngium, of the same theffell, whiche is called Yring.

Eryngis, atum, an inflammation with redde, whiche is a feare of horsen in the eye.

Erythace, or, beem meate whiche they labourer Erythacus, a byrde called Adorn redde breast.

Erythæa, an yle in the sea Gaditanum, whiche is fished with nettes of agge, that men lye continually longe.

Erytheus, a kyng of Aethiæ.

Erythra, a citty of Asia.

Erythra, one of the Isidops. And the cōmme, out of the whiche Hercules dyone his hande of beastes.

Erythrum mare, the reade sea, so called of the kyng Erythra, whiche in englyshe signifieth redde. For in beade the water of that sea is of the colour of water, as dyuers greates authours, and also experience doeth assenue.

Erythrys, a ryuer, the water wherof, maketh beare to growe.

Erythos, an herbe called redde beete, as I suppose.

Eryx, cis, the name of a mountayne in Sicille, and of a citty thereon builded, wherein was edificied, a temple to Venus, wherof Venus is called Erycina.

Eryx, was also the soune of Venus and Aleamus: or after some of Neptunus and Aleamus, whiche was slayne by Hercules, and gaue name to the foynated byll, in the whiche he was buried.

Quid geminas Erycina meos sine sine dolores? Wh Aleamus why doest thou continue any double my sorowes?

Esaias, a prophete of the tette of Juda, in whome was suche abundance of the spīte of prophete, that he propheted to be muche of Christe, that he fymed rather to be an euangelist, then a prophete. He was of such holynesse, that in the tyme of kyng Acasias, when a citter was belleged, he by his prayer obtyned of God, that water shoulde be in litle quantites, so that the people shoulde not perishe for lacke of water. And when the enemies had wonne the citty, and belleged Beloum, as often as the Yerus came for water, the water came out of the earth abundantly, and they took water, but the draynges, when they came, could not fynd it. This wyse man, for his liberte of speche, in rebuynge of the tyme of the pyrrhes, and the people, and pynching of the vengenance of god vpon that fūpe trefe and people, was curie in three partes with a stee, and buried vnder an oke, but afterwards he was translated and layd by the right hande of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, whiche cōmme crowne theyr, and his bodyr ben buryed by the fore, and thersyde the hylle betwixt the trefe wherof, & the maye come by them.

Eshu, the soune of Isaac, and brother of Jacob, Eshu, s. f. g. all maner of meate, as Agrostos, men as beastes, also a byrde to take byrdes of fowles with.

Contempulimæ etc, beate, vñs meate.

Conficere escas, to chawme meate.

Escalis, le, ptecepting to meate.

Escarius, aum, ptecepting to meate.

Escaria mensa, a table, whereas men dooe eat meate.

Escaria vasa, vessels, wherein meate is sent.

Esco, aul, are, to feede vpon a thyng.

Esculentum, ti, n. g. meate.

Esculentus, aum, any thyng to be eaten, or that ptecepteth to eatyng.

Esculenta animalia, suche beastes as men do vñs for theyr foodde and nourishment.

Esculento ore homo, a man with meate in his mouth.

Esculenta frusta, morsels of meat that be eat.

Esculus, looke Aesculus.

Eshu, a ryuer in Italy, whos founte from Rauenna.

Eshu, aul, are, to ate often, to vñs to ate.

Esquillæ, looke Exquillæ.

Ede in amicis, to be one of his friends.

Eedum, al, or Eedæ, æ, a wayne, a chare, or wagon.

Eedaphus, ij, m. g. a chariotte man.

Eedones, a people, whiche dooe ate theyr frenndes when they be beades, and bynne in the skilles of theyr beades.

Eedon, or Eedon, people indabytynge in Judea towards the welke, whiche dooe lye with oute womanne, and contempeyne golde, spīner, and all other crystalls. They lye by carynge of dates. These carynges contempeyne vnto them, by the piouserbe of God, menne stome dysces parties, so that theyr companye haue farthe. But none is receyued, and the merite of his vertue and chastite, was rewarded.

Eedon, æ, the beeryng of any thyng.

Eeo, bee ti.

Eeris, tricia, a womanne rauensone, or bea mouere.

Eeriales scriæ, waite ropes, whiche lead vnto the trefe, as the whiche men doo fynd beate, and bynne bynne.

Eeris, et, f. g. vnder.

Eerigo, ignis idem.

Eeris, onis, an hungry felowe.

Eeris, ulire, looke Aetulire.

Eeris, the pūche.

foorth that is with in.

Euocare aliquem foras verbe allicuius, to call one foorth in an other mans name.

Euocare huc Sofiam, accersat Blepharod nem, Calipe foorth Sofiea hyther, that he maie go call Blepharo.

Nostros ad pugnam euocant, they pponohe our men to fight, o' badde our men come foorth and fight.

Euocare aliquem accu alterius, to call foorth one at an other mans bydding.

Euocare aliquem Romam, to call vp, o' to commaunde one to appere at Rome.

Euocat ad se, he comandereth to come to hym.

Euocare aliquem literis, to wille one by letters to come to hym.

Piscem esca euocare, with the baite to allure the fische to come foorth.

Euocare deos, with solenne p'aters to wille the goddes to come to hym.

Euocare demones, to call vp puell sp'istes.

Euocare ad arma, to make to bee cased o' proclaimed, that euery man be ready in harnise, at a certayne place and houre.

Euocare animum a negotijs, to withdraue the mynde from busynesse.

Vis earum omnis euocatur in palmitis, All the strength of theim is drawen vp in to the b'anches.

Euocare testes, to bynge foorth the witnesses.

Euohæ, a noise o' exclamation that the pyletes of Bacchus made.

Euolauicus, a, u, that cenneth o' gaddeth abode.

Euolio, ui, are, to fite out often.

Euolo, euolas, au, are, desired of the nowne

Vola, to fite, to take away by fite.

Impune aliquid euolare, to steale away a thyng, and escape unpunished.

Euolo, au, are, to fite away, to fite out, to cenne out, o' hys awate speedye, to steale away, o' conuege hym selfe away quickely, to escape.

Euolare rus ex vire, to foylake the citee, and goe into the countreie.

Anima euolat ex corpore tanquam ex carcere, The soule departeth out of the bodye, as it were out of a pylson.

Euolare ex periculo, to escape out of daunger. Euolare pernam, to escape p'ene o' punishment.

Sic euolauit oratio, hys woordes went away to roundelp.

Euoluo, uolui, ere, to turne hyther and thither, to colle o' tumble out of a place, to vnfolde, to explicate o' expound, to meditate, to cast in ones mynd, to tourne as one tourneeth a boke, to reade ouer, to studie diligently.

Euoluere se turba, o' ex turba, to wynd hym selfe out of trouble.

In mare fluui se euoluunt, The ryuers reane into the sea.

Euoluere librum, to tourne ouer a booke, as one dooeth in readdyng.

Euoluere poetas, to studie and reade ouer poetes diligently.

Versus euoluere, to reade verses.

Euoluere naturam rerum, to serche and fynd out the natures of thynges.

Tempus hoc me euoluere coegit, the tyme hath constrained me to expounde o' declare these thynges roundely.

Non possum euoluere exitum rei, I cannot fynde out the ende of this matiere.

Promissa somnij euoluere, to muse o' thynke on those thynges that seemed to be promised in hys dreame.

Euolutio, onis, collenge o' tumblyng oute, a readdyng of poetes o' verses.

Euolutus, a, um, vnfoldeb, o' vncolled, tourned out.

Euolutus bonis, a man tourned out of all that eue he hath.

Euomo, euoinis, u, ere, to vomite, to cast out, to spue, to vter out, o' speake maliciously, and with a cankered stomache.

Euomere iram, to speake anger, to vter his malice spitefully.

Euomere virus, to spitte out his poyson, to fete the worst that one can fete.

Euomino, one of the pyles called. Aeolia.

Eupalia, a towne in Locris, whiche some calla Eupalion, and some Eupolyon.

Eupatorium, o' Eupatorias, an herbe called Agestomonte, looke Agrimonia.

Eupetalos, a precious stone of a fery coloure.

Euphonia, good fowne, a sweete o' pleasant noyse.

Euphorbia, and Euphorbium, an herbe fyste founde out by Iuba the kyng of Libya, and called after the name of his physician. Lookes Ruellius lib. 3. capite. 33.

Euphorbus, a Troiane the sonne of Panthar, whiche wounded Patroclus, and was slayn by Achilles.

Euphorion, a poetes name of Calcidone, whiche Ballus byd translate.

Euphrasia, an herbe called of some Ophthalmica, o' Ocularia, a of the Grekes Euphrosyne, because it cleareth the eyes. In englishe eyebright.

Euphrasynum, an herbe called Buglosse.

Euphrates, one of the ryuers that come out of Paradyse, whiche passeth thorough the citee of Babylon. also a philosopheres name.

Euphrosyna, the propre name of a woman. also to the name of one of the thye graces called Charites.

Euphrosyn, bourage.

Eupolis, a lake in Feauure Cisalpine.

Eupolis, an ancient poete, whiche in his comedies sharply taxed the vices of the people.

Eupolis, a name of a poete.

Eupompus, a verat eulogizing man in Athens, the and geometrie. Also a name of a poete, whiche taught Pamphilus Epitaphes.

Euporus, Calas Gascus feruunt, whiche is hys bydding byddes hys, and after hys hys selfe.

Euprosopon, a promontorie in Phenicia.

Eureos, a phetion the signe an olus beary.

Eurinus, er eritulus, a, um, belongenge to the eade wynde.

Euripedes, the name of a famous poet among the Grekes, whiche wrote tragedies most excellently.

Euripus, a smallle runneth clyng of a greasse herpeth. Also a byche made to enclose places to playe in, in the neede of hedges. Some do take it for a smallle pond o' steme. also an arme of the sea, o' a narrow passage betweene two places.

Eurocias, a certayne stone, whiche seemeth to be blacke and moyle.

Euronotus, a noyth sail wynde.

Europa, is the thierd parte of the worlde, disuiden from Asia with the great seas. Hellespontus, Propontis, Bosporus Thracius, et Pontus Euxinus, and hath the uttermost boundes in the north east, the eynde Canais.

And from Afrika it is diuided by the myddell sea. It was also the name of a fayr maiden, daughter of Agenor kyng of Phenicia, whom Iupiter (transformyng hym selfe into the foyme of a bull) byd carrie, as poetes wite: which of some is interpreted, that Iupiter caried hys away by force in a ship.

In the decke o' make wherof was a banner o' streamer, wherby was persected a bull.

Eurotas, a ryuer that cenneth before the towne of Lacedemonia.

Eurus, the eade wynde.

Euryale, the daughter of kyng Minos, there was an other of that name, the daughter of Prætor kyng of Argius. In other was one of the Gorgons.

Euryalus, the name of one of the pyrrus of the loyones. Megiste seigneth a Troiane to be called.

Euryates, a man of Ithaca, Agamemnon's seruant.

Eurybatus, the name of a famous robber and chiefe, of whose name cometh this wyorde.

Eurybatus, to steale away pryde frome them that haue hym in bydding.

Eurybia, a mythe.

Euryblades, one of Heracles captyues.

Eurycles, a toothe setter of vntowre.

Euryclides, a name of the daughter of Philopis.

Euryclides, one of Lacedemonia.

Euryeyon, a god of the name.

Eurydamis, a Argian, an interpreter of the games.

Eurydamis, a name of a poete.

Eurydamis was the wife of Lysander kyng of Argos.

Eurydamis, a name of a poete.

Eurydice, the wife of Orpheus.

Eurydomene, a name of the sea.

Eurylochus, the kyng of Ithaca, whiche be troied Theseus before he was bydded it.

Eurymachus, one of Penelope's mores.

Eurymedon, the sonne of Teucer, also a stone of Pamphilia.

Eurymides, a toothe setter among the Grekes, whiche tolde to Poliphemus all that to hym happened afterwards by Odysseus.

Eutynpe, the wife of Nychamus, and also the daughter of Apollo.

Euryonius, a druelle, who as the ancients Grekes supposed, byd eate and consume the fleshe of dead men, leauing the bones bare, whome they prynced in a terrible figure, having longe teethe o' tuskes, settyng in the shape of a bulgare, of coloure betwene black and blew.

Euryon, the daughter of Amynta kyng of Macedonia.

Eurypylus, one of the soones of Hercules, that reigned in the yle of Loue, an other the sonne of Eurmon, whiche bothe were at the siege of Troie.

Euryteus, a kyng of Grece, ennemy to Hercules, whiche commaunded hym to doo many of his enterpryses.

Eurythmia, is a beante in the true foymyng of the mythes, where the height accordeth with the breadthe, and the breadthe also with the length. Finally all thyng answering to his proportion, a comely gesture.

Eurythus, a kyng of Oechalia, whiche denied to geue hys daughter to Hercules.

Euryyon, one of the Argonautes, an other was the sonne of Acreon.

Eusebes, a precious stone, wherof a chape was made in the temple of Hercules at Tris.

Eusebia, pietie, reygton, goodnesse.

Eustathius, a learned man, whiche wrote a cronicle from the tyme of Cæsar, to Anastasius the emperor. An other was a learned bishop of Antioche, whiche wrote agapst. Irenus.

An other of the same name wrote commentaries on Homers and Theophrastus.

Eustaphius, a philosopher of Aphrodisia.

Eustratus, a philosopher, whiche wrote some manifestes vpon Aristotle's Ethics.

Euterpe, one of the muses, and is interpreted to be of pleasure.

Euthes, a god of the name.

Euthymus, a philosopher of Miletus, also a name of a poete.

Euthymus, a name of a poete.

Euthymus, a name of a poete.

Euthymus, a name of a poete.

Euthymus, a name of a poete.

Euthymus, a name of a poete.

E ANTE V.

Eutices, an heretike, an abbot of a monastery in Constantinople, about the yere of our lord 450. He affirmed that Christe had but one onely nature, that is to say, diuine, of godly he as was one person. This heresy was condemned in the countaile of Ephesus, and Eutices sente into exyle.

Eurapelia, genynesse, good behauiour.
Eurapelus, a mans name, and is interpreted gentill and pleasant.

Eurichydes, a famous image maker.

Euulgo, aui, are, to publyshe abode.

Euulio, onis, plucking vp, or drawing out.

Euulso dentis, the drawing of a tooth.

Euulsiu, a, um, plucked vp or pulled away.

Euxinus pontus, a parte of the sea, whiche diuideth Europa from Asia.

E ANTE, X.

EX, signifieth of or from.
Ex aduersum, even agaynst it, on the other syde.

Ex equo, indifferently, equally.

Ex alie, of the whole.

Hyedem fecit ex alie, he made hym heye of the whole.

Ex diametro opposita, so contrarie the one to the other, that they mai neuer agree.

Ex disposito, by an order, of a purpose.

Ex aduersum ei loco, agaynst that place.

Ex equo et bono, accordyng to equite & reason.

Ex equo et bono facere, to doo iustlye or indifferently.

Ex animo, of good wyl, of a good courage.

Ex ante diem nonarum Iuniaru, the seventh date of June.

Ex argumento, in token thereof.

Ex composito, as it was agreed.

Ex dignitate tua, et ex republica facis, Thou doest accordyng to thyne authoritie, and for the weale of thy countreie.

Ex dignitate nostra, accordyng to our estate or dignite.

Ex dignitate tribuere, to geue accordyng to his estate.

Ex equo pugnare, to fyght on horsebacke.

Summa erit hæc, statues, vt ex fide fama, reip me videbitur, This shall be the whole effecte, that thou doo as it shall seme for myn honestie, accordyng to the trueth that I putte in the, and for my ppyttee.

Ex insidijs, by treason, pryvily, as it were out of an ambuement.

Ex more, and Ex consuetudine, accordyng to the custome, as they vse to doo.

Ex superabundanti, moze ouer.

Ex diuinijs iuuentutem luxuria ac auaritia inuafere, by the means of rycheys, or thowgh rycheys, the youth became lecherous & couen tons. Ex for Cumis, Ex melle resnam vorato, Doo you sett euen myt with honey.

E ANTE X.

Ex, for pte, as, Quod ei ex aljs Gallis maximam fidem habebam, Because I trusted hym best of all the frenche men: or because I had moze trust to hym than any of the frenche men.

Ex æquo fertilis, euen as fertile as the other.

Ex æquo viuere, to lyue in equal state of condicion with other.

Ex animo amicus, an hertle and vnfeigned frende, Ex animo et simulate, contrary.

Ex animo dicere, to speake as one thyngeth without any dissimulation.

Ex animo tibi bene volo, I wille you good with all myne heart.

Ex animi sententia, euen as one thynketh, accordyng to his conscience. also as one woulde haue it, or wylle it.

Ex arte dicere, to speake eloquently, or accordyng to the pceptes of rhetorike.

Ex autoritate pontificum, by the ordynance and commaundment of the ppeletes.

Ex alto repetere, to stretch a thyng deeply.

Ex inuidia, by enuy.

Ex aljs cognoscere aliquem, to knowe one by the report and information of others.

Ex confesso malus, openly naught, a verate lewde felowe.

Ex continenti, in an instant, forthewith, by and by, incontinent.

Ex contrario, for e contrario, contrarywise.

Ex contrario stare, to bee one agaynst another, or one contrary to another.

Ex omni populo, among all the people.

Ex consilio iurisperitorum, by the counsaile of lawyers.

Ex destinato, purposely, of purpose.

Ex diuerso, non tamen omnino dissimile, Dyuers, but yet not utterly vnlyke.

Ex pueris, and Ex ephēbis excedere, to passe chyldes age.

Ex eo, from thens forth.

Ex eo die, from that date forwarde.

Ex eo fit, thereby it cometh to passe.

Ex reis aliquem eximere, to discharge a person accused because the accuser dooth not appere. Exponere ex memoria, to expound or declare by herte.

Diem ex die expectabam, I looked for one date after an other.

Ex necessitate facere, to doo by constraint, or of necessity. Ex facili, easly.

Hæres ex terra parte, an heys appointed to haue the chydde parte of a mans goodes.

Aliud ex alio malum, one mischefe in an others necke.

Magnum mihi ex hac re erit malum, I shall haue some great displeasure by this thyng.

Ex hoc, for this cause, by this means.

Depend

E ANTE X.

Dependit ex numeris amicitia, his frendshipp hangeth on his numbers.

Expressit ex annulo imago, a print of figure made with a seale.

Septem ex ordine menses, seuen monethes together, one after an other.

Ex parte maiore, for the moze parte.

Nisi ex præcepto domini, excepte his wayes ther byddes hym.

Ex ore allculus pendere, to hangen vnstablye what one wille saye.

Ex propinquo præliari, to come to hande strokes, to fight hande to hande.

Ex re et ex tempore, Ex the matter and the tyme shall requyre.

Ex sententia non sum hero, I please not my self, or I am not to my masters appetyte or phantasy.

Ex sententia seruus, suche a seruante as a man woulde wylle.

Ex se reliquit filium, after his death he lefte dyne male of his owne body.

Timere ex somno, to awake of byschs ones sleape sodaynly with a feare.

Ex sua quisy parte, eueri man for his part.

Ex tempore, forthewith, without meditation.

Ex toto, wholly, betwixt, all together.

Ex uero nomine uxor Thomas, My true name, or my right name is Thomas.

Ex iure hesterni panem vorare, to swallowe of softe vp byeads with graut of byorde that was lefte the other date before.

Ex vultu cognoscere, to knowe by ones countenance. Ex vultu, It is for your ppyttee.

Ex improviso, vnwares, sodaynly.

Ex industria, of purpose, for the nones.

Insanire ex iniuria, to waxe madde for wrong that is dooden to one.

Ex insperato, vnlooked for.

Ex integro, a freewe, a newe, estroones.

Ex inimicis vnus, one of my nere frende.

Iudicare aliquem ex aliorum ingenijs, To iudge a man by the disposition of other.

Ex iure manu conseruum vocare, a manner of saying in the lawe amonge the sunctes. Mos mains, where the action was commenced after this foze: the plainiffe and the defendante went both into the steepe, for the whiche the contention was, and there stode a position of the earths, whiche after that they soughte by the thetrot, and made claspis to it as to the whole lande. These moze after Exilium.

Labore ex predibus, to be sick of the goute.

Ex lege repetere ab aliquo pecuniam, to sue one in the lawe for money that he owyth or deteryth.

Ex longinquo venire, to come out of fere countreies.

Ex natura aliquid gerere, to doo a thyng accordyng to his nature, or by his nature.

E ANTE X.

Ex me posere posse, you may knowe of me. Ex longo, of long tyme, a grete whyle.

Ex obliquo, querthwart.

Ex omni occasione, by eueri litle occasion.

Ex omnibus frellis, thus the world fynd beagan. Ex opibus non ex veritate causa pendetur, The cause shal be wiled accordyng to the litleste, not after the trueth of the matter.

Exacerbescere, to waxe sharpe of coloure.

Exacerbo, aui, are, to stirre vp, to pynoke to anger, to make one verate angry.

Exacerbo, exacu, estere, to waxe soude of sharpe to becomee angry or there.

Exactio, onis, a pyllyng of the people, exactyon.

Exactor, oris, m. g. a demande of monye. some englyshe is a controllor. I take it to bee a gatherer of tolle or tase.

Exactor supplicij, one that requyryth to haue a man punished.

Exactum, if, n. g. an exacte or absolute thyng.

Exactus, a, um, passed, verate diliget, exacte, appelles, demande, perfectly dooden or pece requyred.

Exacta ætate, the sommer bynyge passed.

Exactæ ætatis vir, a verate aged man.

His demum exactis, to haue these thynges wele dooden and pade.

Exacti reges, knyghts spoussed and dygyn out of thei realmes.

Furis exactus, for Aglatus.

Ensis exactus, a swerde thynkthowgh one.

Exactus, us, a sellyng.

Exacuatus, a, um, made sharpe or poynted.

Ex acuo, aui, ere, to make verate sharpe, to stee to whette, to make angry or vexe.

Exacere dentes, to whette ones teethe.

Exacere mentem, to stirre vp or quicken the mynde.

Acuum exacuerē, to make vnelgeze moze easie of bynyng.

Acidum oculorum exacuerē, to quynken the sight.

Cohortari et exacuerē, to exhort w stee vp.

Exacuio, onis, f. g. a bynyng or making of a thyng sharpe.

Exacuatio, onis, bynyng or making of a thyng perfitte.

Exacuat, aui, are, to bynye perfectly: also to bynye out of an hour.

Exacuat opus finitum, to fynish the opus in case of a woork that one hath begunne.

Exacuat, quau, quare, to make equal, to be euen to equal.

Exacuat omnia, to make all thynges of the same. Exacuat dignitate, to make equal vale, he wille haue no man to be of equal and honour with hym.

Exacuat facta dicta, to bynde the deede and wordes of men, with woys or stee and conconueniente.

 Exaquo, quaris, the dependents, idem quod Exaquo.
 Exaquo, a, um, made equal.
 Exaquo, onis, the making of a thynge equal with other.
 Exaquo, aui, are, to overflow, to seethe ouer, as a potte booth, to be verate fierse & angry.
 Exaquo, excuui, uire, to wage gentylly & mildly.
 Exaggero, aui, are, to heape vp together, to augment, to increase, to speake muche in the praise of dispraise of a thynge, with woordes to make a thynge moze than it is, to amplifie, to extolle.
 Exornare et exaggerare.
 Exaggerare et extenuare, contrary.
 Exaggerare virtutem, to speake muche in the praise of vertue.
 Verbis exaggerare beneficium, to extolle a benefitt with woordes, and make it moze than it is.
 Exaggerare rem familiarem, to increase a mans substance.
 Exaggeratus, a, um, heaped together, increased, amplified with woordes.
 Exaggeratio, onis, a heaping together.
 Exagrio, aui, are, to bere, to anger, to moue, to chide, to shake vp with unkindly woordes, Lenire et exagrire, contrary.
 Ne meum merorem exagrem, I caste I shoulde make my selfe moze heauy & sorrowful.
 Exagrire rem aliquam, to debate and handle a matter in reasoning.
 Exagitatus, a, um, vexed, moued, robbed, debated in reasoning, and as it were tossed by ether and thither, canuased, much spoken of.
 Spoliari et exagriti, spoiled and taken out of all that euer they had.
 Exagrior, onis, one that bereth of mouth of speaketh threwhy by other.
 Exagoga, g, m, g, one that carrieth any thynge out of the house.
 Exagoga, a, f, g, rent, reuenues.
 Exalbico, bescere, to waxe pale.
 Exalbidus, a, um, somewhat white.
 Exalburno, aui, are, to take out the fatte lypes, that is in some woode.
 Exalto, aui, are, to mount of lyfte vp, sometime to pisse verate muche.
 Exaluminatus, a, um, cleere lyke alum, oylent.
 Examen, minis, n, g, a twaine as well of bees, as other thynge, a great company of flocks, also the nedill of tongue in balances and beames, sometime it signifyeth a iuste examinacon or tryall.
 Examen infantium, a compaigne of childe.
 Examino, aui, are, to examine, to seerch of try, to weygh.
 Examo, examas, aui, are, to loue well.

Exampens, a fontayne in Spertis.
 Examurco, aui, are, to draw oyle cleane from the mother.
 Examusim, iustely, by rule.
 Exancio, aui, are, to draw out cleane, to expell, sometime to suffice, to vanquish, to make, to take great payne and much labour, to hispathe and bying to an ende.
 Non potest hic sine tua opera exanciare clasuus, This nayle cannot bee made withoute thy helpe.
 Exanguis, gue, com. g, without bloude, the morous of fearefull, pale for anger.
 Exanguis atq. exuans, pale for anger, and greatly moud.
 Exanimalis, le, without soule of lyfe, of that hath away the soule and lyfe.
 Exanimatio, onis, a trouble of mynde, a great feare.
 Exanimatus, a, um, made greatly ascerd, affolled of troubled in mynde, sometime it signifyeth deade.
 Exanimo, aui, are, to hyl, to make ascerd, to trouble and make asfouled.
 Priusq. intus redij, exanimatus fui, ore euer I came in againe, I was made ascerd.
 Multos examinavit rigor insolitus niuis, the unaccustomed chylling of the snowe depriued many of theyr liues.
 Exanimare aliquem metu, to make one asfouled for feare.
 Exanimus, a, um, and Exanimis, me, deade, put in feare.
 Exanio, aui, are, deriued of Sanies, cl, to quille out matter of corruption.
 Exanthema, a wheale of a pushe in a mannes skynne.
 Exanilo, aui, are, idem quod Exancio, to he three.
 Exaptus, a, um, verate apte and faste, well compacte.
 Exardeo, exarst, dère, to be vehemently inflamed with desyre, anger, of admiration, to be verate fierse and hote.
 Grauius exarst, he was verate angry.
 Exardere ira et indignatione, to be greatly inflamed with wythe and indignation.
 Desyderio exardere, to be verate hote.
 Exarst in iras, he waxed verate hote.
 Exarst admiratio, men were in a grate admiration.
 Exardefco, scere, to waxe hote, of to be verate hement.
 Exareno, aui, are, to purge and tris cleane from faule and aswell.
 Exaresio, fieri, to be dryd vp.
 Exareo, exaridere, to be drye, to become dry, so pns away, to decay and waxe away, not to be to pleasaunt.
 Exaruit diuturna miseria fillus, my sonne is pined away with long and continuall miserie.
 Facili

Facultas orationis exariste dictum, when a mans eloquence decayeth by long use.
 Exaresco, scere, idem quod Exareo.
 Exarmo, aui, are, to make tame, to bridle, of to take harness from a man.
 Exarmare actionem, to make the action ferre of feeble.
 Exarmare nauem, to take away the tasing from a shyppe.
 Exarmare feras, to cut of byake of the teeth clawes, of other partes of wilde beastes, whiche they vse for theyr defence.
 Exarmare strumenta, to plucke of the tagges of popynnes.
 Exarmatus, a, um, vnarmed, made tame.
 Exaro, exaras, aui, are, to care well: also to wyte.
 Exarare frumentum, by earping to receiue as muche come as the lande yeldeth.
 Epistolam exarare, to write a letter.
 Exaratus, a, um, eared, eared vp, founde in the grounde by earping.
 Exascio, aui, are, to chyp smoothe with an are, as carpenters dooe after they haue roughed heaued: and by translation to polypse, but not spely and perfectly.
 Exaspero, aui, are, to make sharpe, also to make verate angry, to bere, to fere.
 Animo exasperatus, vexed in minde, made angry.
 Exaio, aui, are, to fastiffe, to fell.
 Exauro, aui, are, to sell of fastiffe an hungrye somache of greedy mynde.
 Exauctorati, soublores of seruantes put out of wages, of dismissed of theyr serpyce.
 Exauctoratus, depoued of put out of offyce.
 Exauctoro, of Exauctoro, to put out of wages: also to dismiss from warre without as ny reproche, and gentylence to departe, to discharge them of theyr othe: sometime to disgrace a knight, of other lyke.
 Exaudio, lui, ire, to here beneuolently, of perfectly.
 Exaugeo, auxi, augere, to increase muche.
 Exaugere animu alicuius, to increase ones courage, to make one haue a greater romahe.
 Exauguro, aui, are, to make prophane the thing that was holy, to vnhalowe with certayne ceremonies.
 Exauguratio, onis, f, g, the vnhalowing of a thynge.
 Exauspico, aui, are, to dooe a thynge vnsoyus natly, to haue yll lucke.
 Exauspicauit ex vinculis, I haue had yll lucke for I came out of prison.
 Exauctoro, aui, are, idem, quod Exauctoro.
 Exbalito, aui, are, to trumpe out of a croffe bowe, to trumpe of decetue.
 Ego hunc communem meum atq. nostrum omnium hostem exbalitabo lepide, I wyll feratly deceyue this myne enemye, and an enemye to all.

 Excalco, aui, are, to pull of ones shoes.
 Excalefacio, of Excalefacio, feci, cere, to make beate hote.
 Excalfactio, onis, a beayng of making of a thynge verate hote.
 Excalfactorius, a, um, that hath the power and strength to make hote.
 Excalcio, factus sum, fieri, to be made hote.
 Excalpo, calpsi, calpere, to scratche of clawe, to ingreue of cutte in.
 Excandefacio, feci, facere, to chaufe of make angry, to make beate hote.
 Excandescencia, a, f, g, a sodaine anger that tarieth not longe, of after some, the inclination of the mynde to anger.
 Excandescio, candui, scere, to be verate angry, to waxe beate hote.
 Excanto, aui, are, to incant, to charme, sometime to shutte out.
 Excarificatus, toms of rent with tourmentes.
 Excarifico, aui, are, to rent and cutte in places, to tourment.
 Excauo, excauas, aui, are, to make holowe.
 Excauatio, onis, the making holowe of a thing.
 Excedo, celsi, cedere, to departe of go forth, to passe of excede, to die.
 Excessit ex ephëbis, he passed boyes age, he waxed a man.
 Excedere ex pueris, to be passed boyes age.
 Excedere officiu, to do moze than his duttie.
 Excedere e via, to go out of the wate.
 Excedere vrbem, to departe out of the citee.
 Excessit militi aras ex magisterio tuo, I am nowe passe your gouernance and correction.
 Excessit annos decem, he is about tenne yeres olde.
 Excedere de medio, of de vita, to die.
 Excedere digitum transuersum ex loco, to go a fpyngers bende out of a place.
 Excedit magnitudine fabæ, it is bigger than a beane.
 Excessit e memoria, I haue forgotten it.
 Excedere modum, to passe measure.
 Excessit res ad publicam quarimoniam, the matter came to that point, that the people complained of it openly.
 Excedit fidem, it is not to be believed, it is incredible.
 Excessus, us, m, g, going out, a byng of departing out of lyfe, deathe.
 Excellens, lentis, excellent, surmounting.
 Excellens omnibus vir, a man surmounting all other.
 Excellensia, a, f, g, excellensie.
 Excellensia et magnitudo animi, excellensie and noble courage.
 Excelsa

E A N T E X

... grains, the imprints

and Facitare allicum amorem sapientie. Et a manu dei vocatus est.

EX-100-100000

of a copy. sometyne for Exemplum, a thyng to be folowed or eschewed. sometyne it is used for the other, as if they saye they doo signifie an example, where one thyng is compared with another.

Exemplare, idem quod exemplar.

Exemplarium, m, n. g. an example of copy.

Exemplum, pli, neu. gen. an example to follow eschew, or be ware of, a coppe, a patene, a president, a counterpoise, an open execution of punishment doome to the feare of other. also a similitude, a thyng brought in for the prooffe of declaration of a matter. Also a thyng that hath been doone afore tyme. Sine exemplo temporis, suche tymes as neuer hath been seen afore.

Si meum esset exemplum, If I hadde been the example of this, or if it had been doone by me.

Quod ad exemplum est? what manner of fellowe is he? whome dooeth he resemble? whome he helpe?

Capere exemplum, looke Capio.

Nullo exemplo aliquid facere, to dooe that was neuer doone before.

Imitari exemplum alius, to imitate another in his dooing.

Nocer exemplo magis quam peccato, he dooeth more harme by hyng an enill example to other, than by committing the offence.

Præbere exemplum, to geve an example.

Non tibi exemplo satis sum? What not you take a good example by me? or am not I a sufficient example for you?

Malo exemplo facio, I dooe a thyng to the enill example of other.

Vno exemplo ne omnes vitam viverent, That all menne shoulde not lyue after one foyle or faction.

Exemplum testamenti, a coppe of a mannes wyll.

Misi ad Casarem eodem exemplo literas, I have sente letters vnto Cesar after the same foyle, or haupnge the same tenour and effecte.

Animale exemplum, a patene taken of a thyng that is alque.

Exempla edere, or exempla facere in aliquem, to punyssh any body openly, to the example of other.

Exempla edere, and exempla fieri in aliquem, to be punysshed openly, to the example of other.

In quem exempla fieri? who is that, that shall be punysshed to the example of other?

De te malis exemplis periant, God sende the a wretched ende to the example of other.

Exempli causa, or exempli gratia, for a prooffe of this matter, or for a more manys fast declaration of this thyng.

Singulare exemplum iuuenis, a poynt of such vertue and towardness, as is in none luyng anayne.

Figuros sub exemplo præmonere, to shewe them that shoulde after, by the example of them that have been before.

Subnecere aliquid in exemplum, to shewe a thyng for an example of declaration of a matter.

Sunt inter exempla qui, &c. whiche have made mention of some, whiche are.

Est in exemplis, it is brought in of writers.

Exemplis, le, that whiche made has been made, or taken out.

Exemptio, onis, for. g. an exception, a taking away.

Exemptor, oris, m. g. one that taketh away, one that byggeth stones out of a quarry.

Exemptus, a, um, exempt of punishment, taken away.

Exemptus est rebus humanis, he is free.

Exemptus pœne, discharged of punishment, escapynge punishment.

Exentero, au, are, to pull oute the hart by the guttes of a thyng, to hyawe a fytter, and by translation, to cutte of ones pte.

Exenteror miser, I am tourmented with the that I am.

Exeo, exiui, ire, to goe oute, to issue, to hyawe out, to ende, to be deliuered, to be past, to be deferred.

In memoriam exire, to be in remembrance.

Exit in fabulam, it is made a tale.

Exit de potestate, he is besyde hym selfe, he is not able to gouerne hym selfe, he is in ward or vnder a gardian.

Exire domum, to goe out of the house.

Mane dum ad se exeo, tary vntyll I come footy to you.

Ea dictio exit in, a, That woordes endeth in, a.

Exire are alieno, to come out of debte.

Vt tandem et tot miseris exiremus, That ones we myghte be deliuered from so many miseries.

Exire ex animo, to goe oute of ones mynde, to be forgotten.

Vt in altitudinem exeant, That they maye growe by in heyghe.

Nec dum exerat induciarum dies, The daye of the trowle was not yet as thenne passed.

Exire in herbam aut radicem dicitur grahum, to sprynge vp, or to growe to a roote.

Exierunt libri, booke were published or sette abrode.

Nihil non cōsiderum exibat ex ore, there came no woordes out of his mouthe but with great consideration and aduysment.

Exire in prallum, to gae footy, and thus battayle.

Exire vix, to dye.

Mandare ad sepulchrum, and the dead to goe out of theyr graue.

In vulgus exierat eum dixisse, He was published or published abrode among the people that he sayd.

Interitum diem probationes exierunt, The pte of the matter were deferred vnto the nexte daye.

Exire obuiam alicui, to goe footy to meete with one.

Exire tela, to eschewe and auoide parties and quarrells that be huried.

Quam mea fors prime exisset, what my lot was first taken out.

Exequiarum, f. g. plu. funeralles which are doone in the burall of any person.

Exequias celebrare, to kepe a solemne funeral. Colone stare exequis, to be at ones funeral or buryng.

Exequialis, le, that belongeth to a funeral.

Exequio, au, are, to execute the funeralles.

Exequor, eris, qui, to doo or execute, to accompysh of finishe. sometyne to declare of expeste, also to punyssh.

Exequi mortem, to dye.

Exequi sermonem, to speake.

Quid primum exequar? What shall I first dooe, or goe in hande with?

Aeternitatem exequi, to conspyre for euer and euer.

Consilium alicuius exequi, to folowe ones counsaile, to doo as one aduyseth vs.

Exequi delicta, to punyssh the offences.

Neg pro modo omnia delicta exequabar, Whether vnder he punyssh all offenses as they were woorthie.

Exequi egestatem, to susteyne and abyde penurte.

Exequi fugam, to flee.

Funus exequi, to kepe a funeral.

Exequi imperium heri, to doo his maysties commaundment.

Exequi iniurias, to requyte iniuries & wronges doone to vs.

Exequi, to goe a togethe.

Laudes eius exequi longum esset, It were long to recite and numbre vp the praises and commendations therof.

Sedulo munera sua exequentur, They shall doo theyr duties diligently.

Quæ vix verbis exequi possum, whiche thynges I can scarcely expresse and declare in wordes.

Exequias sum, to punyssh his crime.

Negotium exequi, to expoyse a matter in buyness.

Exequor, oris, m. g. one that accompysheth a thyng.

Exercere, exercitum, to lye.

Exercere Bacchanal, to bee dyanke.

Principem exercere, to practise the office of a prince or gouernour.

Exercere discordias et similitates, To haue variatunes of contention.

Exercere sumptus, to get theyr expences.

Exercere tellurem, to occupie and epi well the grounds.

Quædam exercere festis diebus licet, It is laudfull to doo some thynges on the holy daye.

Ad quam communes exercemus amores, whiche woman bothe of vs doo loue.

Exercere inacidiam, to hyawe his wyathe, to vse truelte.

Exercere artem, to vse his science.

Exercere patris nomen, to vse to dooe lyke a father.

Exercere populationem, to robbe or spoyle.

Exercere pugnas in aliquem, to buffete one with his spyes.

Exercere questionem, to examine.

Exercere regnum, to dooe lyke a kyng, to playe the kyng.

Exercere vectigalia, to gather and leaue tributes.

De aliqua re exerceri, to be troubled aboute a thyng.

Exerceri ad morem philosophorum, to be exercised after the fasion or maner of philosophers.

Hic me exerceo, here I am occupied, or here I exercise my selfe.

Exercio, li, ire, to amende or reuise.

Exercitatio, onis, f. g. exercise, vse, or custome.

Exercitator, oris, m. g. one that exerciseth.

Exercitatrix, the salmantine.

Exercitio, onis, f. g. the taking of monye for carrying of conueyng by supple.

Exercitatus, ta, tui, exercised, vexed, delyqued.

Exercitatus & agilitas curis, vexed and toiled with care.

Exercitum, m. g. exercise of vs.

Exercito, au, are, to exercise.

Exercitor, oris, m. g. gener. one that exerciseth or teacheth by men in any feare. Also a factor, or he that hath all the pte for conueyng of matter in a wyse, whiche is be the manner, or order that hath byed it.

Exercitus, us, m. g. gener. an hoste or maner of warre.

Exercitum conserbere, to gather an army.

Exercitus, a, um, exercised, used in labour, wrested, hardened, troubled, tossed in busynesse. Exercitus in re militari, of greates experience or well practised in chivalrie and warfare. Exercitus in agendis causis, muche practised in pleading of matters. Exercitus multa lectione, a man that hath read muche.

Exercitus rebus aduersis, one that hath beneuen muche aduersities and trouble. Exerco, exersis, exierere, to go forth, to put forth, to drawe out as a man will drawe out a sword. also to speeke. Fulgentemq; exeret enses, And he drew out his bright sword.

Exerere vincula, to streche of his graces, or to take out of prison. Quo caput exeratur, whereby his head made bee put forth. Exerere caput, to thurst by the head. And by translation, to auance it selfe, to excell. Cochlear exerant se domus, mayles crepe out of their shell.

Exerere linguam, to put out the tongue. Exerere manum, to stretche out the hands. Exerco, exersis, to shewe forth abroad. Exerco, a, um, shewed forth, put forth. Exerco in achum, the arme put forth, or shewed forth.

Factor, onis, one that eateth or consumeth. Excius, a, um, eaten up, consumed, gnawen. Exhausus, a, um, ditched without.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhausus, a, um, g. a pouring or clesing. Exhausus, a, um, g. a digging out. Exhausus, a, um, g. to take downe hards to the ground.

Exhibere alicui affectum parentis, to shewe hym selfe like a father to one, to beare a fatherly affection towards one. Fidem ac beneuolentiam exhibere, to shewe hym selfe faithfull and louing. Imperium exhibere, to haue the mastery, to beare a rule.

Se iudicis hominum exhibere, to putte hym selfe to the iudgement of the people. Iustitiam exhibere, to shewe his iustyce.

Laborem difficilem exhibere, to put to great payne and trauaile.

Exhibere molestiam, to beare or greene. Exhibere reum, when the suerter byngeth in the man that he was bounde for personallie, and discharge hym selfe.

Exhibere alterum, to represent the fourme of an other man.

Rem saluam tibi exhibebo, I will warrant you your good cause ageyne, I will make it good.

Vicem alicuius rei exhibere, to be in steade of an other thyng, to serue to the same vse.

Exhibitio, onis, f. g. an exhibition, a shewing or bestowance.

Exhibitus, a, um, exhibited, given, shewed. Exhilaratio, onis, a comfortyng.

Exhilaratus, a, um, comforted, made mery. Exhilaro, aui, are, to comforte or reioyce, to make mery.

Exhilarantur arbores, the trees be comforted. Exhomologis, confession.

Exhorreo, and exhorresco, ui, ere, & scere, to feare horribly or with trembling.

Exhortatio, onis, a stomaching. Exhortatio, onis, is he that enconrageeth one that fastneth or warreth slacke in doing.

Exhortatus, a, um, that exhorteth. sometime pastuall, that is encouraged.

Exhortor, aris, ari, to exhorte vehemently, to encourage of stomache, to cherishe.

Exhortari canes, to chere the houndes. Exhortari canes in aliquem, to sette the dogges on one.

Exhubero, aui, are, to abound. also actiuelly, to make to abound.

Exibilo, aui, are, to whyste of hymse a man oute of the place.

Exiccatio, onis, a drying up. Exiccatus, a, um, dried up, thorough dried. also without sappe, vnpleasunt.

Exicco, aui, are, to dry, to drye thoroughly. Exihlare, idem quod exhibilo.

Exigo, egi, igere, to expelle or shutte oute, to dypse awaie, to put out, to chase away. sometime for transigere, to passe, as one passeth the tyme, to expelle, to tye of pious, to measure. also for extorqueo, to take by force, to exacte, to make satisfaction. also to require, to demaunde, to inquire, to dooe.

Exigere alicui affectum parentis, to shewe hym selfe like a father to one, to beare a fatherly affection towards one. Fidem ac beneuolentiam exhibere, to shewe hym selfe faithfull and louing. Imperium exhibere, to haue the mastery, to beare a rule.

Se iudicis hominum exhibere, to putte hym selfe to the iudgement of the people. Iustitiam exhibere, to shewe his iustyce. Laborem difficilem exhibere, to put to great payne and trauaile.

Exhibere molestiam, to beare or greene. Exhibere reum, when the suerter byngeth in the man that he was bounde for personallie, and discharge hym selfe.

Exhibere alterum, to represent the fourme of an other man. Rem saluam tibi exhibebo, I will warrant you your good cause ageyne, I will make it good.

Vicem alicuius rei exhibere, to be in steade of an other thyng, to serue to the same vse.

Exhibitio, onis, f. g. an exhibition, a shewing or bestowance.

Exhibitus, a, um, exhibited, given, shewed. Exhilaratio, onis, a comfortyng.

Exhilaratus, a, um, comforted, made mery. Exhilaro, aui, are, to comforte or reioyce, to make mery.

Exhilarantur arbores, the trees be comforted. Exhomologis, confession.

Exhorreo, and exhorresco, ui, ere, & scere, to feare horribly or with trembling.

Exhortatio, onis, a stomaching. Exhortatio, onis, is he that enconrageeth one that fastneth or warreth slacke in doing.

Exhortatus, a, um, that exhorteth. sometime pastuall, that is encouraged.

Exigere alicui affectum parentis, to shewe hym selfe like a father to one, to beare a fatherly affection towards one. Fidem ac beneuolentiam exhibere, to shewe hym selfe faithfull and louing. Imperium exhibere, to haue the mastery, to beare a rule.

Se iudicis hominum exhibere, to putte hym selfe to the iudgement of the people. Iustitiam exhibere, to shewe his iustyce.

Laborem difficilem exhibere, to put to great payne and trauaile.

Exhibere molestiam, to beare or greene. Exhibere reum, when the suerter byngeth in the man that he was bounde for personallie, and discharge hym selfe.

Exhibere alterum, to represent the fourme of an other man.

Rem saluam tibi exhibebo, I will warrant you your good cause ageyne, I will make it good.

Vicem alicuius rei exhibere, to be in steade of an other thyng, to serue to the same vse.

Exhibitio, onis, f. g. an exhibition, a shewing or bestowance.

Exhibitus, a, um, exhibited, given, shewed. Exhilaratio, onis, a comfortyng.

Exhilaratus, a, um, comforted, made mery. Exhilaro, aui, are, to comforte or reioyce, to make mery.

Exhilarantur arbores, the trees be comforted. Exhomologis, confession.

Exhorreo, and exhorresco, ui, ere, & scere, to feare horribly or with trembling.

Exhortatio, onis, a stomaching. Exhortatio, onis, is he that enconrageeth one that fastneth or warreth slacke in doing.

Exhortatus, a, um, that exhorteth. sometime pastuall, that is encouraged.

Exhortor, aris, ari, to exhorte vehemently, to encourage of stomache, to cherishe.

Exhortari canes, to chere the houndes. Exhortari canes in aliquem, to sette the dogges on one.

Exhubero, aui, are, to abound. also actiuelly, to make to abound.

Exibilo, aui, are, to whyste of hymse a man oute of the place.

Exiccatio, onis, a drying up. Exiccatus, a, um, dried up, thorough dried. also without sappe, vnpleasunt.

Exicco, aui, are, to dry, to drye thoroughly. Exihlare, idem quod exhibilo.

Exigo, egi, igere, to expelle or shutte oute, to dypse awaie, to put out, to chase away. sometime for transigere, to passe, as one passeth the tyme, to expelle, to tye of pious, to measure. also for extorqueo, to take by force, to exacte, to make satisfaction. also to require, to demaunde, to inquire, to dooe.

Exigere alicui affectum parentis, to shewe hym selfe like a father to one, to beare a fatherly affection towards one. Fidem ac beneuolentiam exhibere, to shewe hym selfe faithfull and louing. Imperium exhibere, to haue the mastery, to beare a rule.

Se iudicis hominum exhibere, to putte hym selfe to the iudgement of the people. Iustitiam exhibere, to shewe his iustyce. Laborem difficilem exhibere, to put to great payne and trauaile.

Exhibere molestiam, to beare or greene. Exhibere reum, when the suerter byngeth in the man that he was bounde for personallie, and discharge hym selfe.

Exhibere alterum, to represent the fourme of an other man. Rem saluam tibi exhibebo, I will warrant you your good cause ageyne, I will make it good.

Vicem alicuius rei exhibere, to be in steade of an other thyng, to serue to the same vse.

Exhibitio, onis, f. g. an exhibition, a shewing or bestowance.

Exhibitus, a, um, exhibited, given, shewed. Exhilaratio, onis, a comfortyng.

Exhilaratus, a, um, comforted, made mery. Exhilaro, aui, are, to comforte or reioyce, to make mery.

Exhilarantur arbores, the trees be comforted. Exhomologis, confession.

Exhorreo, and exhorresco, ui, ere, & scere, to feare horribly or with trembling.

Exhortatio, onis, a stomaching. Exhortatio, onis, is he that enconrageeth one that fastneth or warreth slacke in doing.

Exhortatus, a, um, that exhorteth. sometime pastuall, that is encouraged.

Exilio, lui, li, and lui, lire, to go out hastily, or to scape out, to scape forsope.
 Exilium foras, he lepte quickely footthe of the doores.
 Exilium de sella, he leapte oute of his seate, or from his soole.
 Exilis, le, scender, small, leane, yll fedde.
 Exilis, aris, scenderesse, thynnelle.
 Copia et exilitas in dicendo, contrary.
 Exiliter, scenderly, thynly.
 Exilium, exple, banishment.
 In exilium exigere, agere, depellere, eijcere, to banishe, to sende in exile.
 In exilium exilium, to goe in exile or banishment.
 De exilio reducere, to calle from exile, or to restore one againe from banishment.
 Exilica causa, a mattre agaynst theim that be in exile.
 Eximie, excellently.
 Eximie vili, mercapleus profitable.
 Eximius, a, um, excellent, pchid, chosen oute, greatte.
 Eximia spe adolescens, a young man of excellent towardnesse.
 Eximius odor, a great and strong sauour.
 Eximia forma, a singular fauoure, an excellent and mercurious beautes.
 Eximo, eximis, emi, ere, to take astra, to exrepts, to picke out of a great numbre, to displice, to discharge, sometime to kill.
 Eximere actionem, to bare one of his actions.
 Eximere ex arariis, where one hath his thynge in the schequer, or other lyke place, to discharge one vpon his accompte.
 Among the Romayns it was to helpe and quyte a cristen of the fine and penaltie sette vpon him by the Kenour, for his myssbehauiour.
 Eximere ex reis, to acquite one of an offence.
 Eximere noxe, to release one of a trespass committed.
 Eximere in libertatem, to restore to libertee.
 Eximere dubitationem, to put out of doubt.
 Exime multum scrupulum, Solue me this doubt.
 Eximere de vestigalibus, to exempte frome paying tribute.
 Vinculis aliquem eximere, to displice one out of prison.
 Eximere ex culpa, to excuse, to shewe one not to be in any faute.
 Eximere memorie, to put out of mynde or memory.
 Eximere lapides sub terra, to pryge stones out of a quarrie.
 Eximere numero, to laie aparte, not to reckon of numbre.
 Eximprovisio, looke ex.
 Exim, from hys footthe. Exinde, idem, afterwarde, from thence footthe.

 Exinatio, lui, lire, to empte, to hyng to naughte, to vopde, to take from one all that he hath, to robbe.
 Exinanire alium, to pouge the bealy.
 Exinanire nauim, to vnlade a shyppe.
 Exinanire vinum, to make water.
 Exinanire aliquem re, to pille one of all that he hath.
 Vastare atq; exinanire agros vestigales, to spoyle and robbe the landes whereof cometh peryll ryngues to the common treasure.
 Exinanitio, onis, f. g. an emptyng of vopdrng, a purging of the bealy.
 Exinanitus, a, um, pilled, robbed, emptied, brought to naughte.
 Exinatio, lui, lire, to shewe or put footthe.
 Exinperato, vnlooked for, whyche no manne hoped for.
 Estimatio, onis, f. g. supposell, an optinson, a iudgemente that one hath conceived of a thynge. sometime reputacion, estimation, honour. Dignitas et estimatio.
 Homo magnae estimationis, a manne of great reputacion.
 Colligere et parere estimationem, to com in estimation and credite.
 Amittere estimationem, to lese his reputacion.
 Estimatio sui consulere, to prouide and haue regarde to his honour.
 Estimatio damnaui homo, he of whome men haue anyll opinion.
 Estimatioem suam committere alteri, to truste an other man in a matter concerning his honour or estimation.
 Estimatio, onis, m. g. one that speaketh as he supposeth, and nat as a master or instructour.
 Estimatio, lui, are, to trowe or suppose, to deerne of iudge, to esteeme, to thynke.
 De aliquis ingenio bene estimare, to haue a good opinion of a mds disposition of nature.
 Male estimare, contrary.
 Vere estimare, to deerne of iudge truly.
 Ex euentu de aliquis consilio estimare, to iudge of a mans wisde of counsaile by that that followeth of it.
 Suis moribus alterum estimare, to iudge an other man by his owne maners.
 Estimatur in probro, it is taken for a reproche.
 Estimatu facile est, a man may easily iudge.
 Existo, tui, here, to be, to appere, to bee sette vp or aduanced.
 Et si hodie ab inferis existat Lycurgus, And if Lycurgus shoulde this daie appere of riss from death to lyfe.
 Existit ex hoc loco difficilis questio, there riseth out of this place an harde question.
 Existet ex hac victoria tyrannis, if this victorie & conqueste, there will arise a tyrannus.
 Exa

Existibilis, le, deadly.
 Existialis, le, deadly, or that causeth death of mischief.
 Bellum existiale, a deadly and cruell warre.
 Existiosus, a, um, idem quod, Existialis.
 Exitium, i. n. g. death of mischief, destruction. A pituouse or empty end.
 Esse exitium alicui, to be ones death or destruction.
 Exitus, us, m. g. a goyng forth, an issue, an end.
 Exitus hominis, the death of a man.
 Exitus anni, the later ende of the pere.
 Exitus orationis fuit, the conclusion of his wordes was this.
 Aqua exitum reperit, the water hath founde an issue.
 Quem exitum res habitura sit non liquet, it is vncertaine what ende of issue the matter will haue.
 Contigit exitum quem optamus, it is come to passe as we woulde haue it.
 Imponere exitum rei, to make an ende of a thynge.
 In exitu est, it is at an issue or ende.
 Ex iure manu conseruatum vocare, was a forme of contention for lande in this wyse. The defendant saide before the iudge to the resmaunt. The lande whiche is in so to mine, I sale it to myne by the lawe. I require the, tye it there with me accordyng to the lawe. The tenants answered: from whence thou hast requyred me to tye with the by the law: thene I dooe estfoones appeale. Than went they together to the place in demaunde, to the entent, that they shoulde bynne with them a tpye of the same grounde to the iudge in the citee, and in his presence to demaunde and answer as for the whole lande whiche was in contention.
 Exiuro, lui, are, to auowe with an othe.
 Exlex, legis, com. gen. he that liueth without lawe, or out of lawe, lawlesse, an outlaw.
 Exloquor, eris, qui, to speake as it is, to speake all, to speake out.
 Exobsecro, lui, are, to make great bespye.
 Exoculto, proutly.
 Exochie, excellencie.
 Exoculatus, a, um, whose eyes be put out.
 Exoculatio, lui, here, idem quod Exoculo.
 Exoculo, lui, are, to put out ones eyes.
 Exodia, were wanton toyes mytte with verses in a comedie or enterlude.
 Exodium, i. n. g. a songe at the ende of a comedie or enterlude, also the ende of a matter.
 Nullum eius rei exodium inueniebam, I founde no ende of that matter.
 Exolesco, lui, and leui, lescere, to leane growe, sometime to growe mightily to waxe olde, to growe out of life.
 Exoleuit fauor, his fauour or estimation is lost

Infirma exolescunt, or binaunces growe out of life, and be herselfe consumed.
 Exoleuit, a, um, that is past growyng. Also growe out of life.
 Verba exoleta, wordes out of use.
 Authores exoleti, olde authours not used to be redde.
 Reliqui domi virginem exoletam, I left at home an olde mayden.
 Exoletus, i. n. g. a man abused against nature.
 Exoluo, ui, ere, to vnbynde, to pale all clerly, to recompence of geue in rewarde, to deliuer.
 Suspitione exoluere, to deliuer from suspition.
 Exoluere religionem, to discharge from vowe or conscience.
 Exoluere res alienum, to pale ones better.
 Exoluere fidem, to falsify that one hath promysed, to hepe pypmple.
 Exoluere promissum, idem.
 Exoluere penas, to be punished.
 Exoluere aliquem solitudine, to deliuer one from carefullnesse and trouble of mynde.
 Vota exoluere, to accomplishe and falsify that one hath vowed.
 Nodum alicuius erroris exoluere, to shewe the verite truely of a matter.
 Exolurus, a, um, lewde, vnbounde, vnbooen.
 Exomida, a garment without sleues, a taberde of chymere.
 Exonero, lui, are, to dyscharge, to vnburden, to palode.
 Exonerare ventrem, to do ones easement.
 Exonerare aliquid in alicuius aurem, to tell one a thynge in his care.
 Exonerare aliquem metu, to put one out of feare that he is in.
 Exonerare fidem, to accomplishe and falsify ones promys.
 Exopinato, as one looked for.
 Exopolis, he that dwelleth in the suburbs of a towne or citee.
 Exopabilis, le, to be wysshed for or bespyed.
 Exopratus, a, um, sensibly wysshed for, greatly bespyed.
 Exopto, lui, are, to bespye feruently or to wishe.
 Exorabilis, le, he that is calpe to bee entreated in a matter.
 Nulli exorabilis, he that no man can intreat.
 Exorabulum, a craftie fourme of bespyng or aspyng a thynge.
 Exoratus, a, um, earnestly bespyed, intreated.
 Exorbeo, es, lui, ere, to sup vp, and by translation to susteyne or endure.
 Exorbere difficultatem, to endure of abyde great payne.
 Exorbere sanguinem ciuilem, to suppe the bloude of citsens, to despye in the cruel death of his countrey men.
 Exorbito, lui, are, to goe out of the tracke of carre lode, or to goe out of the right waye.
 Exa

Exorbo, aui, are, to make one that he can not se
Exorcismus, an abstraction of confarpng.
Exorciso, aui, are, to abjure of confure.
Exorcista, an abjurour of confure.
Exordico, 1098e Exordico.
Exordine, without cessing, in order one after
an other.
Exordior, his, iri, to begynne.
Exordii facinus, to begyn a great enterpryse.
Exordium, n, m. g. a begynning.
Exordium dare, to begynne.
Ducere exordium ab aliquo, to take his begynning of a thyng.
Exorior, exorior, or exoreris, iri, to be borne,
to appare out, to ryse as the sonne dooth, to maade, to assaue or set vpon, to be recreated.
Dies exorium, the day appeareth.
Disordia exoritur, discordis ariseti.
Ema exoribatur, a tumore of byre dybbe spuag.
Exorta sunt hec omnia a te, all these thyn-ges beganne at you, or you beganne all these matters.
Exoritur illi color, he watech ruddle.
Rex exortus est lida, he became lunge of lida.
Exornatus, onis, f. g. a bechng of repynnyng, garnishng of apparayling. Also a colour of Rhetoriche.
Exornator, onis, m. g. he that becheth.
Exornatus, a, um, garnished, repyn aparayled.
Exornari, aui, are, to garnyshe or make fayne, to apparayle ryche, to ordeyne, sometyne to make foule or out of apparayle.
Exornare, et deformare, contrary.
Exornare se honestis moribus, to garnyshe him selfe with honest manere.
Exornare aliquem magistratu, to geue a man an office.
Exorare, are, to induce or obtayne by desire,
to desyre hartly, to entreate, to byng to conmutter.
Exorare veniam, to aske pardone.
Nunc quo lachryam exorare, I cannot gette a teare out of mine eyes by any meanes.
Exorare aliquid ab aliquo, and Exorare aliquid, to obtain of one a thing that he desireth.
Sine te exorem illis haue veniam, let me ob-tayne this pardone for them, or forgyue them
this offence for my sake.
Exorare filie patrem, to entreate the father to forgyue his daughter.
Num exorare vos finite nos, let vs obtayne of you this one thyng.
Mili exorandus est, I muste entreate hym.
Exors, onis, om. g. out of followyng, not part taker, sometyne excellent.
Exors culpa, faultlesse, not giltye.
Exors amicus, not partener of the friends-shipp of amities.

Exors matrimonij, he that was neuer maried
Exorsa, orum, begynnynge.
Exorsus, a, um, that begynneth.
Exorsus, us, m. g. a begynnynge.
Exortius, a, um, that perswacth to ryfing,
on the east parte.
Exortus, a, um, that is ryfen, or that appeareth
Exortus, us, m. g. a ryfing.
Exortus solis, the sonne ryfing.
Exos, ossis, om. g. without bones.
Exostatus, a, um, that hath the bones plucked out of byrthen.
Exosculatio, onis, a byfing.
Exotolor, aris, ari, to byffe.
Exosso, aui, are, to bone or plucke out bones, to bryake the bones of any thyng. Also to pull out the styng of a lampyre.
Exosus, a, um, actiue, that chaiceth or detesteth,
passiue, that is hated or detested.
Exoticus, a, um, stralyng, that cometh of brought out of an other countrey.
Expalleo, lui, ere, to be pale.
Expallio, aui, are, to robbe one of his garments to, to plucke ones garment from his backe.
Expalpo, aui, are, to grope out, to gette probably a thyng by fayne meane or by flatterie.
Expador amnis, a river that floweth abode.
Expando, di, ere, to spreade out, to open as a floure dooth, to displaye.
Expandere dictis, to open, and declare his wordes.
Expandunt alas aues, the byrdes open and spreade abode theyr wynges.
Expango, pauxi, ere, to open or appoynt, to set or fasten.
Expapillo, aui, are, to make naked to the paps.
Expallus, a, um, opened, spreade abode.
Expator, aris, ari, to wander, to walke abode to spreade farre abode.
Expatriatus, a, um, that spreadeth, walketh, or floweth farre abode.
Expato, expatas, aui, are, to come abode of his
to an open place.
Exparro, exparras, aui, are, idē quod parrare.
Expauco, expauces, paui, die; and Expauesco, scere, to be fere afrayde or abashed.
Expauere nouitatem, to feare the noueltie of straungenesse of a thyng.
Ad tumultum aliquem expauere, to be a-frayd whā one hereth of tumults or ruffling.
A primo conspectu eius expauescunt, they were afrayde as soone as they sawe hym.
Expectare, the aduerbe.
Expectate venis, thou comest enen as I wold haue the.
Expectatio, onis, desyre of thynges certayne and lohed for, expectation.
Plenus sum expectatione, I greatly linge of desyre to knowe.
Contra omnium expectationem, contrary to

to the expectation of all men, otherwys than any man looked for.
In summam expectationem adducere, to putte one to great expectation, to make one looke earnestly for a thyng.
Crebras expectationes sui facere, concitare, commouere, to make men looke oftentmes for his commynge.
Decipere expectationem alicuius, to frustrate ones expectation.
Mouere expectationem, to make despyous.
Vincere expectationem omnium, to dooe more than any man byd looke for.
Expectare, a, um, despyed, tased & looked for.
Expectati parentes, were yll parentes and woothly to bee hated as who saith, they death were daisly to be despyed.
Charus et expectatus.
Expectatissime litteræ, letters verate greatly despyed.
Ante expectatum, sodenly, sooner than men
looked for.
Expecto, aui, are, to tase of abyde lookynge for, to observe or take heed, to hope, to feare like a thyng wll folowe.
Expecto quid velis, I longe, or I woulde fayne knowe, what your wll mynde or pleasure is, or elles I desyre to knowe what you woulde.
Expectabo dum venit, I will tase and loke for hym till he come.
Expectemus Tartarorum regis atatem, let vs hope to lyue as long as euer byd the king of the Tartarians.
Diem ex die expectabam, I byd loke still & uery dais.
Mortem aliquis expectare, to hope euey
houre for ones death.
Expectare te arbitror, I thynke you do des-yre to knowe.
Expectoro, aui, are, to put out of the breste or stomach.
Expectatus, he that hath nothing of his own Expecto, expedit, iui, ire, to depure, to spede, to carie out, to declare or shewe, to tell story-ly and in faysse wordes, to ryd or dyspathe, to byng one out of trouble, sometyne to ap-poynt, to byngne forth. Also to make preparacyon of prouision, to set in a redynesse.
Expedit manus, to hylde up his handes.
Expedit virgas iuber, he commandeth rod-des to be brought forth.
Expedit se omni molestia, to dyspathe and rydde hym selfe of all gese and trouble.
Causam aliquam vel expedire, to shewe the cause of any thyng.
Merces expedire, to paye abode wares.
Nodum expedire, to vnynde a knot to dis-solue a doubt, to dyspathe an hard matthe

Pecuniam expedire, to spende money to gemaney.
Expedit rem suam iudicibus, to pynne his matter good before the iudges.
Ad bellum expediri iubet, he commandeth them to be in a redynesse for the warres.
Expedit rerum capita, declare the pynctis pall porcyces of the matter.
Expedit ferrum, to byawe a sworde.
Nomina alicuius expedire, to comente ones creditors, to paye hys dettes.
Expedit se ad prelium, to addresse & make hym selfe in a redynesse to battayle.
Silia expedit, It is be nedefull or expedient to be to dooen.
Expedit rationes, to dyspathe matters.
Expedit rem, to declare the matter plainly.
Expedit se cura, to discharge hym selfe of care. Expedit, tellon quickly.
Expedito, for Expediam.
Expedit, signifieth also It is expedient or necessarie. It is come to passe.
Expeditum erat, it was expedient, or rather,
It was a short and rebte wate.
Expedit, quickly, easly, without cumbryance.
Expedit nauigare, to farte footthe proplerothself and with a good wynde.
Expeditio, onis, a setyng footthe towards battalle, an expedition, a viage.
Expeditus, a, um, dyspyred, dysperched out of busynesse, rebte, in a redynesse, not tersed, eas-sly, soone prouided and gotten.
Expediti milites, souldiors in leghe barnata Expeditus et paratus, one well appoynted, and in a redynesse.
Expeditum facere, to rydde out of busynesse and trouble.
Expedita excusatio, a rebte excuse.
Expeditum iter, free passage in a mans iour-ney without cumbryance.
Expedita legio, expeditus, exercitatus, Expedita subsidia, wherin be souldiors in leghe baenapies, and easy to be remoued.
In expedito positum, I a redynesse, easy to be dooen.
Expeditus labor, an easie labour.
Expeditior via ad honores, a moze readie wate to honoure and aduancement.
Expello, puli, lere, to expell or put out, to dyspate.
Expellere in opus, to dyspate out to worke.
Expellere bonis et fortunis omnibus, to put me fro theyr goodnes & al that euer they haue.
Expellere sententiam, to referre a sentence of opinion.
Expellere aliquem regno, to dyspate one out of his kyngdome.
Expando, di, ere, to ponder, or weygh to conspyre, to examyne therselfe to paye trust to spende money.

Expendere scelus, to be punished lustily for his offence.

Penas expendere, to be punished.

Expendere et aulmare, to pidge and weigh.

Expendere aurum auro, to weygh golde with golde.

Expendant se ipsi, let theym consider theym selves diligently.

Expensum, s. n. g. of Expensa, expense, of dispense, cost.

Expensum ferre, to registre in a booke what money one hath dispensed or layed forth.

Expensum ferre, is not onely spoken of laying out money but also of other workes, as:

Mentio facta est de legione ea, quam expensam tulit C. Cæsari Pompeius, mention was made of the legion which Pompeius said

he had bestowed to Cæsar.

Creditoribus fidei negligentia expensum ferre debent, the creditors ought to beare the losse, which is happened by theyr negligence.

Codex accepti et expensi, a rekenyng booke.

Ne in expensum munusculis scias, that you shouldest not intitle of wyte it amonge youe gyftes.

Forma omnia expensa, omnia fortunæ
terram accepta, whatso ever good or euyl chanceyth, is imputed wholely to fortune, of theyr fate that fortune is cause of it.

Expensis, a, um, weyghed, pondered, considered.

Expergetacio, feci, facere, to awake one out of his slepe.

Expergetus, a, um, waked out of slepe by
an other.

Expergetus, factus sum, fieri, idem quod Ex-pergetus.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Expergetus, a, um, expergetus, he that awaketh at
the same tyme.

Experiri ad arborem cornu,
neo against a tree.

Experiri in paruis, to assaye in litters of small value.

Experiri re ipsa, to proue the thyng in the very thing.

Experiri certamen, to fight, to torne.

Experiri fortunam, to put in adventure
proue what will chauce.

Experiri, in Plautus is used for Experiri.

Experiri iure, to tise for once right by the lawe.

Extrema experiri, to tise the extreme remedie.

Te experior quanti facias uxorem, I tise
the how muche thou dost loue thy wyfe.

Expertum est, it is tised by experience.

Ad experiunda vina, to assaye whether the wynes be good or no.

Expers, eris, om. g. without any parte, lacking experience, rude, ignorant.

Expers doloris, without paine.

Expers lucis, without light.

Expers mortis, neuer dyenge.

Expers corporis, that hath no bodie.

Ne quis expers tua liberalitatis fieret, that euery man myght be partaker of your liberalitee.

Expers lingue græcæ, that hath no knowledge in the græke tongue.

Expers amoris grati, not knowyng that his sonne was in loue.

Laboris expers, that doostly not labour and trouaile.

Expers fama et fortuna, he that hath losse his credite and all his goodes.

Expertus, a, um, strong with tyeour or weate.

Expertus, a, um, attempted, taught by experience, that hath proued or tised.

Expertus loquor, I speake that I haue experience of.

Expertus industrie homo, a man whose dyligence is well knownen and tised.

Expes, om. g. without hope.

Expetendus, a, um, woorth to be desired.

Expetesso, scire, to demaunde or desire.

Expetisco, scire, to desire vehemently.

Expetius, a, um, desired greatly.

Expeto, expetis, tui, orij, etc. to desire muche or couete, to happen, to wylle, to desire to take, to possesse. Also to purchase.

Mirum, quia tuam ius meo periculo expe-tam, it is maruayle but I shall purchase thy right with my great daunger. It is also to rebounde or tourne.

Nam deum non par videtur facere, delincui suum, suamque culpam expetere immor-talem ut sinat, it is not seemyng for god to do, that he should suffer his offence or faulte to rebounde to a mortal person.

Expertui tuam aetatem, to tise, thyne age require equaleth to dooste.

Expertui multa iniqua, many unhappy things happened.

Expertui abs te expeto, sytis of all I de-mande of you.

Expertui aliquo auxilium, to requyre one to helpe.

Expertui quo expetere, to requyre one to make satisfaction.

Expiallis, i. e. that may be purged, or for the whiche satisfaction may be made.

Expialmentum, satisfaction, or a purgation.

Expialio, onis, a purgynge or satisfieng.

Expialio, onis, a robbynge or possynge.

Expialor, oris, a robber, whiche leaueth nothyng behynde hym.

Expialus, a, um, pillied, robbed.

Expialo, aui, are, to robbe or polle, to take by expialion or decepte, to spoyle.

Expialo, expialxi, ere, to pynne, to pynne out.

Expialo, aui, are, to pacifie god with satisfiacion or prayer, when we thynke he is displeased, to purge by sacrifice.

Tua scelera di immortales in nostros milites expialuerunt, god hath punished our men of armes for thynne offences.

Expialre iniuriam, to make satisfiacion or asmendes for insurie that is done.

Luxum populi expialre solent bella, warres are wont to chastice and punishe the riotous usynge of the people.

Cædem cæde expialre, with one murder to make satisfiacion for another.

Expialro, onis, a breathynge out.

Expialo, aui, are, to die, to geue vp the gost.

Expialre animam, to die.

Flammas expialre, to caste or send out great flames.

Expialre libertate, when the libertie began to decaye and perishe.

Expialor, aris, aris, to seeke for sphe, to sphe out or seeke diligentye, to get or wyne.

Tandem nescio quid ab eo expialcar, finallye
I can not tell what he winneth or getteth by hym, or what he trusteth to haue of hym.

Expialo, aui, are, to make thynke.

Expialare, plapny, manifestly.

Expialatio, onis, a declaration, or makynge manifeste.

Expialator, oris, m. g. one that interpreteth or maketh plapny a thyng.

Expialatus, a, um, declared, expounded.

Expialo, aui, are, to make plapny, to declare, to make manifeste, to expounde.

Expialare verba, to prouounce distinctlye and plapnyly.

Expialato, aui, are, to pull vp that which is set.

Expialdesco, scire, to appere clerely, to shine,
to shyne bright.

Expialo, cui, ere, to sphe, to fulfill, to fill vp.

Also to saciate, to comforte, to make perfect so accompysh, to content, to make emptye or voyde.

Expialre animum curis, put all care out of thy
mynde.

Expialre aliquem scribendo, to satisfie and fill one with writynge letters to him.

Expialre animum alicui, to content ones mynde.

Expialre annos ducentos, to tise fulte two hundred yeres.

Supremum diem expialuit, he died, he ended his laste daie.

Suffceptum munus expialre, to fulfill a charge that one hath taken vpon hym.

Numerum expialre, to fill up the numbre.

Famem expialre, to satisfie of ones hunger.

Libidinem suum expialre, to do and accom-plishe his pleasure.

Rimas expialre, to stop and fill up chynkes.

Quod summam talenti expialret, whiche was of the last value of a talent.

Expiallis, i. e. that may be filled.

Expialmentum, i. n. g. a thyng that filleth vp.

Expialio onis, a fillynge, a making perfect.

Expialus, a, um, filled up, perfecte.

Expialabilis, i. e. that may be declared.

Expialare, plapnyly, manifestly.

Expialatio, onis, f. g. an vnfoldeyng, a declaracion, an expounding.

Expialator, oris, m. g. an expounder of declaree.

Expialatrix, the femine.

Expialatus, us, m. g. a declaration, an vnfol-deyng.

Expialatus crurum, a castynge of the legges
one from another.

Expialatus, a, um, declared, made manifeste,
vnfolded, dispatched, brought to passe.

Expialo, expialas, plapny, and, aui, are, to ex-tende, to vnfolde, to desplate, to declare, to tell of thynge plapnyly, to desplate, to erode out of trouble, to bypne to passe, to dispatche of make an ende of.

Expialat enseni, he draweth out his sword.

Expialat et cornu vnica mensa duas, he maketh
two suppers at one table.

Expiala æstum meum, putte me out of fantasie or doubt.

Expialant acies, agmen, vel exercitum im-peratores, when they in an armye sette theire souldiours in arraye, ready to battaile.

Expialare alas, to speche & open the winges.

Expialare naues, to set shippes in voyde ready to fyght.

Expialare epistolam, to open a letter.

Iter commode expialui, I haue prosperously tracheued and made an ende of my tourney.

Expialatam tibi rem dabo, I will dispatch
the matiere for you.

Da operam, vte expialces, endeavour to ryd
and

and despatche your selfe out of business.
 Explicare, et expedire negotium aliquod,
 to erdce and despatch a matter.
 Explicatus, a, um, unfolded, declared, made an ende of, dispatched.
 Explicitus, the comparative.
 Explo, si, ere, to dyue out with hople of ex-bures, of clapping of handes.
 Explorare, for a secrette, for a secrett.
 Explorator, after it was secrett of reped.
 Explorator, oris, an esple of piture secrett.
 Exploratus, a, um, well knowne of surely knowne.
 Exploratum est mihi, I know surely, I am sure. Exploratum habeo, idem.
 Exploro, aui, are, to bewail with exclamation, to seeke out diligently, to pounce by diligene secrett, to be abused, to dye up, to exhaust, to este.
 Explosus, a, um, consuted of selected, dyuen out of the place with clapping of handes.
 Expoleo, aui, are, to spoyle of robbe.
 Expolio, is, iui, li, re, to polio well and cleane,
 to make smothe and termine.
 Expolio, onis, i, g, a polioing, a termynge.
 Expolitus, a, um, polioed, made smothe, cleanly and termine.
 Expono, sui, ere, to expounde of declare, to put a thyng out of this, wherein it is. Sometime to caste out a thyng, to the entente that it maye perspice. Also to spende, to set foott to be shewed, to laye out, sometime to paye money.
 Exponere in terra copias, to land an armie.
 Exponere tantum in sole, to laye abode hye
 in the sonne.
 Exponere vasa, to set abode plate on cupboardes to be seene.
 Exponam vobis ex memoria, of memorizer
 I will declare to you by herce.
 Verbohis exponere, to declare a thyng in many wordes.
 Expulatio, onis, a wailing of spolyng.
 Expopularis, aui, are, to waile, to spoyle, to rob.
 Exporrigo, exi, ere, to extende of stretch out,
 sometime to prolonge.
 Exporrigere frontem, to shew a micke countenance, to be pleasant and iocunde.
 Exportatio, onis, a bearyng out, a consueing of carying out. Also exile of banishment.
 Exporto, aui, are, to beare of carle out.
 Expofco, posci, poscere, to aske of desyre in stantly.
 Expofcere deos aliquid, to desyre a thyng in stantly of the goddes.
 Expofcere aliquem, to requere one to be deli-uered into our handes to be punished.
 Expofui, thilthen caste out to bee perished.
 Expofitio, onis, an expofition of declaration of any thyng difficult of hard to be understode.

Expositus, a, um, that is layed out to the intent it shoulde perspice. Also set out, for abycade, depen to all chaunces, in danger, declared.
 Exposita provincia ad prandand, a province in danger to be spoyled and robbed.
 Expositus solibus locus, a place open vpon
 the sonne.
 Expositulatio, onis, a quarrell of complaine.
 Expositulator, toris, he that complaigneth of wronge doon by his frende.
 Expositulo, aui, are, to complaine, to make a quarrell, to chide with one for a thyng, to demaunde, to requere, to wyl.
 Cum eo ne iniuriam hanc expostulem? Is is best that I chide with hym of take hym by for this displeasure of not.
 Minaciter expostulare, to take one by tharply for a thyng that he hath doon.
 Expostulare compunctionem, to demaunde a rekenyng.
 Expotus, a, um, idem quod Epotus.
 Expreffe, manifest, playnly.
 Expreffe dicere, to speake properly and to the pynct.
 Expreffio, onis, a streynyng.
 Expreffus, a, um, expresse, manifest, lyuely made taken by force.
 Expreffa senatus consulta, ordinaunces obtained of the senatours by force.
 Expreffa sceleris ventigia, manifest and aparant tokens of the misdeede.
 Expreffa in cera imago, the yphensse of a thyng pynned in waxe.
 Exprimo, expreffi, mere, to presse of wyng out. Deinde per linea exprimuntur, After warde they be streyned thorough a clothe.
 Eripiendum atq; exprimendum est, it must be taken and wrested away by force.
 Vilachrymas exprimere, to wrest out te-res violently by rubbing the eyes.
 Expreffio hoc necessitas partibus, necessitate constrained the senatours to doe this.
 Exprimere confessionem culpæ, to con-fesse one to confesse that he hath offended.
 Exprimere risum alicui, to make one to laugh
 whether he will or no.
 Exprimere effigiem alicuius, to portrate of drawe out ones picture.
 Exprimi similitudinem, it resembleth of
 it to lyke.
 Verbis exprimere, to pynct of descryue
 in verbes.
 De græcis litteris ad verbum exprimere, to translate out of greke wordes for wordes. lyke wise Verbum de verbo.
 Vt græci magis exprimunt, As the Grekes doo expresse of signifie more naturall.
 Exprobratio, onis, a reproche, a withenge, an vphraydyng.
 Exprobro, exprobras, aui, are, to vphrayde, to wyte,

expro. Also to late in reproche. Sometime to reiecte of disallowe.
 Non exprobrandi causa dicam, I will not speake it for any reproche vnto you.
 Catois orationes exprobrant callem asprugnum, Catos orationes reproue of dis-lowe byawne.
 Expromissor, oris, m. g. he that promisseth of
 to surtee for another.
 Expromitto, si, ere, to promise of undertake for
 another.
 Expromio, promissi, ere, to shewe foott of open, to speake, to better.
 Expromere nummos, to take out money.
 Audarius expromam, I will better of speake moe boldly.
 Exprompsus, a, um, taken out, shewed abode.
 Opus est mihi tua exprompta memoria, I must needes haue the shewe thy good and re-by witte.
 Expugnabilis, le, pugnabile, that maye bee
 wonne by assault.
 Expugnatio, onis, conquering of wyngnyng.
 Expugnator, oris, m. g. a conquerour.
 Expugnator pudicitia, a ruffian.
 Expugnatus, a, um, conquered, won by assault.
 Expugno, aui, are, to wyngne by assault of force,
 to conquere.
 Expugnare aurum alicui, by transaction, to get money from one by craft and gyle.
 Expugnare fortunas paruas alicuius, to thyste a man wrongfully from his heritage, and take it to hym selfe.
 Expugnare propositum alicuius frequent expostulatione, by great suite and increasyng to cause one to leaue his purpose.
 Expugnare pudicitiam puellæ, by gestes &
 other meanes to wynn a mayden to lewdnesse.
 Expulso, onis, an expelling of puttyn foott.
 Expulso, aui, are, to mene a thyng with muche thurstyn, of to put awate.
 Expulso, oris, m. g. one that expelleth of put-teth awate.
 Expulsus, a, um, expelled, thurst out, put awate.
 Expultrix, the feminine.
 Expumo, aui, are, to caste out some.
 Expuncti, were foundours discharged of put out of wages.
 Expungo, punxi, ere, to put awate of remove,
 to put out a woorde of sentence in wytyng, with pynching it rounde about, after the ancient maner, sometime to pynche, to crosse out Expungere nomen debitoris, to put a dettores name out of his booke, to crosse the ti-cle of his dette.
 Expungere rationes, to heare and examyne an accumpyte.
 Stipendij expungere militem, to putte a foundour out of wages, to crosse hym out of the rolle, wherein they names were wytten that requered wages.

 Expungor, oris, gi, to be cancelled and put out, erased. It is also spoken of iudges when they are put out of commission. It is also to quite: as,
 Munus munere expungitur, one good turne is quite with another.
 Expunctio, onis, a spetting foott.
 Expuo, expuis, ui, ere, to spit out, to voyde out Cum illam expueret ex animo miseriam, when he woulde caste that trouble and care
 fuinesse out of his mynde.
 Expurgatio, onis, a purging of makynge cleane
 of a thyng.
 Expurgo, aui, are, to make all cleane.
 Expurgare se, to declare hym selfe innocent of that whiche is laied to hym, to purge of cleane ones selfe of a faute.
 Expurgationem habere, idem.
 Exputo, exputas, aui, are, to shede of loppe a tree, to cutte cleane awate. Also to vnderstande perfectly, to consuet, to imagine of deuyle in ones mynde.
 Expuresco, purui, scere, to rotte.
 Exquiliæ, arum, a mountayn in Rome, where watche was kepte.
 Exquilius, of Exquilius mons, the same
 mountayne.
 Exquilius, of Exquilius, a, um, of the hyll Exquiliæ.
 Exquiro, exquirit, ere, to seeke of seke out, to enquire diligently, to demaunde of aske.
 Intro exquire, sit ne ita, vt ego dico, go aske within, whether it be as I saie or not.
 Quod meum consilium exquiris, in that you desyre to knowe my counsaile of aduise.
 Exquirere a stirpe, to enquire of a matter esuen from the betate roote of begynnyng.
 Exquirere iudicium alicuius, to demaunde ones iudgement.
 Exquirere mores alicuius, to make enquire of ones maners.
 Precium alicuius rei exquirere, to demaunde and aske the pryce of a thyng.
 Exquisite, and Exquisitum, exquisitely, with muche studie and diligence.
 Exquisitus, a, um, exquisite muche seerched for,
 singular, excellent, deperite.
 Exquisito opus est, it must be looked for.
 Exquisitæ epulæ, deperite meates.
 Iudicio exquisito vir, a man of exquisite and exacte iudgement.
 Extrahere, aui, are, to plucke by the roote.
 Exrogo, exrogas, aui, are, with a newe lawe to abrogate parte of the lawe that was made before.
 Exsacrifico, aui, are, to offer in sacrifice.
 Exsatio, looks Exanio.
 Exsatro, aui, are, to poke Exauero.
 Exscribo, scripsi, ere, to wyte out, sometime to copie

to represent and be vered like.
Excensius, us, m. g. a clymbyng out, a cōm-myng togeth, as one cometh togeth of a ship to lande.

Excendo, looke Excindo.

Excubilo, looke Excubilo.

Excocco, looke Excocco.

Excognare, idem quod Signare.

Exfordelco, fordui, scere, to become fytelyg and dymonst.

Expumo, looke Expumo.

Exugo, looke Exugo.

Extra, orum, n. g. plus the inwardes, as the heart,
the liver, the longes of lyghes, and the splene

Extrabeco, tabui, scere, to weare of pps away, to become drye, to consume.

Extrahit opinio, that opinion is woyme as waite and come to naught.

Extemplo, forthe with.

Extemporalis, le, sodatne, unpmeditate.

Extemporalitas, atis, a promptnes of redinesse without meditation of musing.

Extemporeus, a, um, sodatne.

Extemporeus, et Extemporalis oratio, an oration of matthe wrytten without studie.

Extendo, di, ere, to extende, to stretche out, to continue, to pprolonge.

Extendere in proceritatem, to stretche up in height.

Extendere consilium, to pprolonge ones consulthippe.

Extenderem preces nris, &c. I would en-crease pprolonge, saupng. &c.

Extensum utatam extendebat, there he dyddes bestowe and spende his tyme.

Extendere se supra vires, to assaie of entee-pysse more than he can dooe.

Extendere se magnis itineribus, to advance and marche forwarde by great turnes.

Vitam extendere, to pprolonge ones lyfe.

Extensus, and Extensus, a, um, stretcht longe

Extensus sonus, an hgyhe and shrill soune.

Extenuatiora, great touners.

Extento, aui, are, to stretche out.

Extentare vires, to thynke out strenght in do-pnyng of a thyng.

Extenuatio, a, mahynge of a thyng lesse than it is, a dymynshyng.

Extenuatus, a, um, made thynne, of slender, made lesse.

Extenuo, aui, are, to minishe of make litle, to elevate, to make leane.

Extenuare et augere, contrarie.

Extenuare in puluerem, to make in poudee of duste.

Vehementer causam extenuare, to dyminsh and make a matter lesse than it is.

Extenuatus cibis dentibus, the meate is chaw-ed with the teeth.

Extenuare corpus, to make the bodie leane and slender.

Extenuare census ciuis, to lessynge to litle a citizen as a lower summe.

Extenuatus, a, um, looke Extenuatus.

Extensor, oris, one that carseth away
dounge, a young fermer.

Extorcito, aui, are, to cōste, to auoyde dounge of ojbure.

Extorcito, aui, are, to perce through, also to seeke curiously.

Extorgeo, terri, ere, to wype cleane.

Extorger, terri, ere, idem.

Extremator, oris, one that destroyeth of ede steth downe.

Extrematus, a, um, banysht, dyuen out, put away.

Extremio, aui, are, to dyue out of put downe,
to banyshe to dyue away.

Extremare, et Reuocare, contrarie.

Extremare ex hominum communitate, to cast out of the fellowship of compans of men

Extremare morbum, to put away sickness

Extremus, a, um, altonich, made beside him self

Extremo, aui, are, to make madde.

Extensus, a, um, which is not of that countrey,
a stranger, an Alien.

Extensio bona, outwarde woordes gooddes.

Extensio, extensis, trisi, ere, to beate out, also to whet of grende, to rubbe harde.

Extensio literam, to put out a letter.

Extensus, of an other countrey. Also doun of brought forth before the tyme.

Extensio, vi, ere, to put in feare.

Extensus, a, um, put in a great feare.

Extensus, a, um, that whiche is not of this coun-treys place, strange, comen farre of.

Extensus, a, um, secured, made cleane.

Extexo, textui, ere, to unweave.

Extullo, aui, are, to thynke out.

Extillare lachrymis, to weep, to consume with weeping.

Extimco, and Extimesco, timui, ere, and extia
mesere, to haue great feare, to dead muche

Extimulatio, oris, one that encourageth of teeth up men to a thyng.

Extimulatus, a, um, pitched, stered up.

Extimulo, aui, are, to picke, to stee up, to courage.

Extimus, a, um, the outwardmost of laste.

Extinguo, xi, ere, to put out, propriely the fyre, of any thyng that bourneth or is lyght, some-tyme it signifyeth to stee of destroye, to abo-lyshe; some tyme to make a dyspncion, of druerites betweene thynges.

Extinguere animam alicui, to kyl of stras-gle to deathe.

Extinguere bellum, to qunte the warre.

Extinguere familiaritates, to bryake and desolue the loue and familiarites that is be-twene men.

Exa

Extinguere formam, by the to destroye the faupus and beatures of one.

Extinguere furorem alicuius, to suppress olate the fure of any persone.

Extinguere infamiam suam, to qunte the in-fame of yll name that goeth on hym.

Morbo extinguer, to make to dye of a sickenesse.

Obliuione extingui, to bee forgotten and cleane out of myndes.

Leges extinguer, to abolyshe and destroye
lawes.

Vestigia vrbis extinguer, to to subuerse and destroye a cite, that no signe of it may remayne.

Extinctio, onis, a putting out, a destroyng,
an abolysng.

Extinctus, oris, m. g. a destroyer, one that dms-erth of maketh an ende of a thyng.

Extinctus patrie, a destroyer of his countrey

Extinctus coniurationis, he that suppresseth a conspicate.

Extinctus belli, one that stateth the warre,
of that maketh thereof an ende.

Extirpacio, onis, f. g. a pluchng up by the rootes

Extirpo, aui, are, to pluche up by the rootes.

Extirpare humanitatem ex animo, to pluche all humanitie and gentylnesse out of a mans
mynde.

Extirpare vinia, to roote up vice and naughtynesse out of the common weale.

Extispex, ispicis, m. g. a soothsayer by lookyng in the inwardes of beastes.

Extispicium, i, n. g. the craft of soothsayng.

Extantia, x, f. g. apperance aboute the other.

Extro, i, i, are, to be, to remayne, to be apparat, to appere aboute other.

Extat capite solo ex aqua, he appereth with his head onely aboute the water.

Ita vt extra terram paululum extat, so that they appere a litle aboute the grounde.

Extat e terra sesquiped, It is aboute the ground a foote and an halfe.

Extare et eminere.

Extant libri, orationes, studia &c. id est, superflunt. Extare et intercider, contrarie.

Extat literis, It is left in wrytng.

Non extat alius author doctrinae eius, there is none other authour of that learnng.

Dum id extat, as long as that that continu-eth to lyf by, to pprolong, to magnifie.

Extollere liberos, to byng up chylidren.

Extollere indignationem, to shew hym selfe to be greatly displeased.

Extollar nupus, heat hym defere of ppro-long the marriage.

Extorqueo, cor, quere, to spnd out the trouth by tourmentes, to take awaye by force, to pluche awaye, to wste from one by violence, also to put out of tynce.

Extorare et extorquere, contrarie.

Exprimere et extorquere.

Extorristi, vt facias, you haue me to come felle &c.

Extorrum articulum, he hath put a tynce out of place.

Extorror, oris, m. g. one that taketh from men
by violence, an extorsioner.

Extorris, is, com. gen. is he that is made to bothe, of that is dyuen out of his countrey.

also one that is excommunicat.

Extortus, a, um, consigned by tourmentes,
also wstet from one by violence.

Extra, without, except, saupng.

Extra telorum iacium, out of arrowes shotte, out of gunshotte. It signifyeth out of daunger, or in faultsegarde.

Extra locum, in earnest, without mockyng.

Extra precium est, it cannot be valued of estimate. Extra culpam esse, not to bee in the fauite, to be faultlesse.

Extra modum, above measure.

Extra ordinem, out of order.

Extra ostium, without the doores.

Extra turbam colloqui, to commune togeth
these aparte, from other company.

Extra te vnum, onely you excepted, saupng
you onely.

Extra ducem paucosq; praeterea, saupng
the captayne and a fewe other helpe.

Extra, an aduerbe: as,

Extra, simile est amigdalis, on the bitter part it is lyke almondes.

Extra quam, for Nisi.

Extra quam, si quid factum sit, &c. Excepta it be so that a thyng be dooen, &c.

Extractio, onis, a drawyng out.

Extractor, oris, m. g. he that draweth out.

Extractorius, a, um, that hath the power of nature to drawe out.

Extractus, a, um, drawen out by force.

Extrahio, xi, here, to drawe out, to pprolonge, to deferre.

Extrahere diem, to put of a matter froms
dage to dase.

Extrahere certamen, to deferre battayle.

Extrahere iudicium, to deferre iudgement.

Quomodo me inde extraham nescio, I can not tell howe I shal geat my selfe fro thens, or out of that busynesse.

Extrahere in annum rem aliquam, to ppro-long of delaye a matter a whole yere.

Extrahi rem in suum aduentum iussit, he commaunded the matter to bee pprolonged untill his comyng.

Extraneus, a, um, strange, of an other countrey.

Extraneus hys, he that is not the deap helpe

Extraordinarius, a, um, extraordinary, contrarie to the ordynance, contrarie to the order of facio admodum vult.

Exa

Extra

Extrarius, a, um, that is not of the same house of kinred.
 Extremitas, atis, the extremities of uttermost parte.
 Extremus, lastely, in the ende, finally.
 Extremus, a, um, sometime significeth the beginning, sometime the ende. sometime the worst, also the last.
 + Extrema linea, is spoken, where a manne would signify a thing to be last, and after all other.
 + Extremis digitis attingere, to touche with the finger toppes, is spoken, where it is signified, that a man hath vnto the touched of sette a thing.
 Ab extremo narrare, to declare and shewe euen from the beginning.
 Extremus labor, the last labour.
 In extremo spiritu, euen to the tyme of his deathe.
 Ad extremum, in the breaste toppes of ende, also at the last, finally.
 Littere quibus in extremis erat subscriptum, a letter in the ende wherof it was written or subscribed.
 Extremum tunice, the hemme of a quote.
 Extrema hyem apparuit, it appered in the latter ende of wynter.
 Extrico, aui, are, to deliuer of make of any thing that letteth.
 Extricare se, to ryd hym selfe out of busynes.
 Extricare syluestrem agrum, to rydde and buythe a fild from trees, thornes, and byers.
 Extrinsecus, ad, gere, idem quod Stringo.
 Extrinsecus, outwarde, on the out syde, from without.
 + Extrinsecus, when we speake of thynges, whiche are veray true, and not to be doubted, as it were spoken of goddis own mouth.
 Extrinsecus, a, um, rubbed out.
 Extrinsecus, aui, are, to go out.
 Extrinsecus, from without.
 Extrudo, bi, ere, to thrust out.
 Extrudere cardibus, and Extrudere foras, to thrust out at the doores.
 Quam primum fac vt extrudas, See that you sende hym forth with all speede, or as soone as you maye.
 Extrudere aliquem, to make one to departe in haste.
 Extructio, onis, a building bp.
 Extructus, a, um, builded, made, garnished.
 Extruo, xui, ere, to ordeyne, to builde or set bp.
 Extruere ei euertere, contrary.
 Focum extruere lignis, to make a fyre.
 Menfas extruere epulis, to garnyshe the tables with good meates.
 Extruere stramata in acrum, to laye bp drawe together in an heape.
 Cumulum extruere, to make an heape.

Extruere rogam, to make a great fyre.
 Exuberatio, onis, f. g. a swelling of ryngs in the body.
 Exubero, aui, are, to swelle muche, to ryse bp like a botche. also actually to make to swell of ryse bp.
 Extumeco, extrumes, and Extumescio, ui, scere, to swelle of ryse bp.
 Extumidus, a, um, that swelleth of ryse bp.
 Extundo, exudi, ere, to fynde oute with much labour, to get oute with payne, to obteyne by force. also with thumping to make to swell.
 Exturbatus, a, um, thrust oute, pulled bp by the rootes.
 Exturbo, aui, are, to put awate, or to put out of from a thing by violence.
 Expellere atq; exturbare.
 Exturbare homines a possessionibus, to thrust men violently from theyr goodes and possessions.
 Exturbare adibus, or ex adibus, to thrust out of the house.
 Vistam exturbes ex animo a gritudine, That you maye put this passion out of your mynde. Exturbare mentem alicuius, to make one out of his wite.
 Exturbare spem pacis, to put awate all hope of peace. Exturbare calculos, to bryake the stone in the bodie.
 Extusire, to cough oute, to auoyde with coughing.
 Exubero, aui, are, to abunde, toke exubero.
 Exuccus, a, um, without sappe or licour.
 Exudo, aui, are, to sende forth the lycoure, to sweate out.
 Exudare laborem, to employe and bestowe labour and traayle.
 Exudare causas, to pleade matters with great labour and diligence.
 Exueri, the sweepings of the house.
 Exuerto, ti, ere, to pscute.
 Exugo, exui, ere, to smoke out.
 Exul, ulis, com. g. a banished man.
 Exulceratio, onis, a soresesse.
 Exulceratorius, a, um, that hath the power of nature to make sores.
 Exulceratus, a, um, vexed, made worse, made sores corrupted with rancour and grudge.
 Exulcero, aui, are, to make sores, to vex or make worse, to impete, to corrupte with rancour and grudge.
 Exulcerare animum, to displease the mynde greuously, to make very angry.
 Ex vinculis causam dicere, to pleade in wards.
 Exulo, aui, are, to be banished, to lye in exile.
 Exulare domo, to be banished from home, or from his owne house.
 Exultabundus, a, um, reioysing very muche.
 Exultanter, to ioyfully, as it were leaping for ioye byaggingly.

Exula

Exultantia, x, f. g. idem quod exultatio, also a beating, as a fore of the pulse dooth.
 Exultatio, onis, a hopping or dancing.
 Exulto, aui, are, to reioyce exceedingly, to ioy, or make anant proudely, to magnifie ones selfe, to leape out, to leape for ioy, to babble, to boyle of playe, as the poete dooth, when he dooth sceth.
 Exultum, with leaping and hopping.
 Exultatus, a, um, that houlth out.
 Exululo, aui, are, to houlth out, to crye oute plentifully.
 Exundatio, onis, an ouerflooming, a superfluous aboundng.
 Exundo, aui, are, to ouerflowe, to abounds, to be superfluous.
 Exungo, xi, gere, to annoynt.
 Exungulo, aui, are, to cut of ones nayles.
 Exuo, ui, ere, to put of, to despoile of vncloth, to despoile, to despoile, to vnclothe, to shewe out. Exue mentem, put awate that mynde of affection.
 Amicitia alicuius exuere, to forsake of leaue ones frendship.
 Armis exuere aliquem, to take awaye ones harneys, to vnclothe a man.
 Exuere caltris hostem, to dresse the enemies out of their campe.
 Ensem vagina exuerat, he hadde drawen his sworde.
 Exuere ferociam, to leaue the fiercenesse and crueltie that one hath used in tyme passed.
 Fidem exuere, to bryake promise, to doo contrary to that that one hath swoyne.
 Iam gratiam nouitatis exuit, Nowe it is no more pleasant or acceptable for the noueltie thereof. Nonne humanitatem omnem exuisses? Shouldst not thou haue declared youre selfe, to haue no humanitie or gentlenesse at all?
 Exuere iugum, and Exuere se iugo, to make of the yoke of bondage, and sette hym selfe at libertye.
 Antiquos mores exuere, to leaue his olde condicions.
 Exuere aliquem regno, to digne one oute of his realme, to put one out of his kyngdome.
 Exuere se paterno agro, to sell the land that came to hym by his father.
 Exuere senectam, to become yong againe.
 Exuere obsequium, to become disobedient and stubborn.
 Exuperabilis, ic, that may be exceede or passed.
 also actually that maye excell of passe.
 Exuperantia, x, f. g. excellencie, preeminencie.
 Exuperatio, onis, idem.
 Exuperor, aui, are, to exceede, to passe of surmounte.
 Exuperatius stulticia habet omnia, his folie passeth all these thynges.
 Non solum dum anima exsuperabit mentem, not onely as longe as I shall lyue.

 Exurdo, aui, are, to make waste.
 Vina feruida exurduunt palatum, that wyne make buile the taste.
 Exurgo, exi, ere, to arise bp, to arise out of misse and troubles.
 Exurgite amba a genibus, ryse bp both and knile no more.
 Exurgere de multa nocte, to ryse late in the nyght.
 Exurgere de insidijs, to bryake out of an am bush, and set vpon the enemies.
 Exurgat foras, leat hym ryse and gette hym forth of the doores.
 Exuro, uisi, ere, to boune out.
 Exussito, aui, are, to stire of reise bp, to waken from sleape.
 Exussitare animos, to quicken and steepe bp the myndes.
 Exustio, onis, f. g. a burning.
 Exustus, a, um, burned, parched, dyed.
 Exutus, a, um, cut of, spoiled.
 Exutus campis, dyuen out of the fildes.
 Exuuiæ, arum, f. g. plur. sporie taken from enemies.
 Exuuiæ serpentis, an adders skinne.
 Exibaphon, a salate of hebes.

Ezechiel, a prophete of the countrey Saredra, in Syria, of the line of bishops, had meruailous reuelacions and visions, whiche hym God shewed many greet miracles. For in the tyme of a great scarlittie, he by prayer obteyned of god abundance of fildes, whereby the people were sufficiently refreshed. Also when the people were oppressed, he stode and made these enemies so abashed with myracles and wonderfull sightes, that they ceased of theyr enuerysie. Being in the countrey of Caldete, he tolde the people of many thynges doon in the temple of Hierusalem. he brought the people out of Caldete to Hierusalem to the report of the infidels. he being in Babylon, iudged the tribe of Dan and Gad, for that they had wickedly doon agaynst the loyde, impterscyping therein, whiche belongeth in the lawe. And he shewed vnto them a terrible token. For adders deuoured their chyldren and all their cattail. At the last he was slayne at Babylon by the dyke of the people, because he rejoyced hym of pvolatris. And he was buried in the fildes of Baur, in the monument of Ben and Arphaxay, progenitors of Abraham. he prophesied of the returne of the children of Israel, and also of the coming of Christ. he luyd also the incarnation. 617. yeres.

J. wan

VVAS VSED in olde tyme for H, as Fordeum, for Hordeum, Trafo, for traho, &c.

Faba, s. f. g. a beane. Erasmus Loxous, a phisition of our tyme, affirmeth, that the pulse, whiche we call beanes, is not Faba, wherof Dioscorides, Celsus, Galenus, and Plinius dooe write. For that wherof they write, is round, and taller than our beanes, wherof, xviii. made a dramme, where ours be so great, that some one beane weigheth a dramme, and so some what longe and flatte.

→ Faba cudeur in me, the beane shall be knowne on me, signifying the peen of blame shall light on me.

Faba mueria, some do suppose to be that herbe whiche is called Lunaria, or Solanum somnifera, trade in Solano.

Faba Pythagorica, signifieth the counsaile of Pythagoras, wherof he broodeth we should not eate beanes, saying, Faba abstinere, whiche is by Optica non ducit expounded. Some declare it for a bare precepte, saying: That for as muche as beanes make the sight duller, and caueth yll dreames, as Plinie saith, or as Celsus affirmeth, prouoketh inflation of muche wynde in the body, Therefore Pythagoras forbare the eatinge of them. But Nicodorus affirmeth, that Pythagoras did not eate more of any kinde of pulse than of beanes, because they easily louseth the belly. Empedocles saith, that Pythagoras commaunded to absterge from beanes, as it were from the act of techery, because Cynos signifieth not only a beane, but also the gentleness. Plutarchus expoundeth this precept, as if he had said: Absterge from the inflation of a common weale, because it is full of perilles, nor can not be without rebuke or damage. In the olde tyme the consent of people was declared by beanes, whiche yet doth remaine at Venetie, as well in election of officers, as in iudgements and sentences: for by white beanes thynges are affirmed, by blacke beanes they are denied or refused.

Fabacia, s. f. g. a beane cake.

Fabaginus, a. um, of beanes.

Fabalis, le, of a beane.

Fabale, lis, a beane stalk.

Fabalis, the refuse of fallow beanes.

Fabaris, a ruler of Italye reyning by the Fabins.

Fabris, a. um, pertaining to beanes.

Fabriging calend, the calendes of June.

Fabellus, s. f. g. a moyle tale.

Faber, a title of the Spanishe sea, also called Zeus, and is in figure rounde, and of a russet colour. It is lyke to be that ffige, whiche is called a lampe, and of late yeres was founde in the sea about the north.

Faber, bri, m. g. almost every crafterman, that woorketh with the bande.

Faber lignarius, a carpenter.

Faber ferrarius, a smythe.

Aurifaber, a golde smythe.

Faber, bra, brum, pertaining to a smythe.

Faberrime, counnyngly, verely craftily or well.

Fabianus, the propre name of a man.

Fabior, in the auncient tyme was taken for a mainteneur.

Fabius, the surname of a noble house of the Romans, which had fytt that name of sewing or sewing of beanes, as Cicero of the grayn called Cicer, Piso of pisen, Porcius of swine, of this name were many valiant capitaine & wyse countailours: of whom one was called Fabius Maximus, who in his youth excelled both eloquence and prowesse: and therefore he after became, as well in armes as in counsaile, a capitaine most excellent: and subduyng many countreies vnto the Romans, he triumphed, v. tymes. Begyn made Dictator against Annibal, he so compeyded puidice with manhood or prowesse, that by detracynge of batayle, and treatyng Annibal from place to place, and at sundry aduantages skirmishing with hym, he wintished his puissance, & perswaded the publicke weale of his countrey, where Annibal was vanquished, and had ben slayn with all his army, had not Fabius come to his succor and rescous, who deliuered his aduersarye and all his trayne, and caused Annibal to retire: who sated than to his hoste: Dyd I not tell you before, that this cloude would at the last byng be a storme: calling Fabius a cloude, because of his hovering on the hylls. This man was afore the incarnation of Christ. 200. yeres, and somewhat more.

Fabius Quintilianus, rebe after in Quintilian.

Fabrateria, a towne of Lampayne.

Fabr, workmanly, craftily. Vt apologum facit? quam fabre? Se what a defence he maketh howe craftily he handlet it?

Fabreacio, efeci, ere, to work cunigly, to byld.

Fabrica, s. f. g. a workhouse, a forge. Sometime the frame of woorks. Also the science of a carpenter, the facture, toyingng or setting together of a thyng, the makinge of woorkman: syp. also a wyle of decrepte.

Fabrica ferraria, a smithes forge. Aliqua fabricam figit, he goeth about some wyle.

Quot admodum hibricas? howe many crafty wates dyd I taste?

Fabrico, aui, are, & Fabricor, aris, ari, to make, to byld, to inuent.

Fabricare naues, to make shippes.

Fabricare gladiu, to make a sword.

Fabricare animum, to forme the mynde.

Fingere

Fingere et fabricare.

Fabricatus, a. um, made.

Fabricator, oris, a maker.

Mundi fabricator deus, god the maker of the worlde.

Fabricus, a. um, of or pertaining to a carpenter.

Fabrillis, le, belonging to handys craftes, as smythes and carpenters.

Fabritianus, a mans name.

Fabritius, a noble Romayne, who being wonderfull poore, refused a great summe of money, sent to hym by hyng Pterus, couchyng with his handes all his members, and sayng vnto the hynges messangers: As long as he myghte rule all that, whiche he toucheth, he coulde taste nothyng.

Fabula, le, s. f. g. a fable or tale. Sometime an enseruade. It is also a littell beane.

Fabula palliata, a comedie of greke.

Fabula togata, a comedie of latine.

Fabulam inceptat, he beginneth to tel a tale.

Fabula est omni populo, He is a talkyngg stocke to all the people.

Fabulam aratis agere, to passe the whole course and tyme of ones lyfe.

In fabulis esse, to be babbled of abode.

Fabulis, spoken in an answer, withoute any other woordes logged therwith, amounteth to as muche, as yf one would saye, fables, trifles, fantasies, tapce. Sometime is added merx, as merx fabular, verely trifles of fantasies: or as one wold saye, That whiche is so false, is not to be regarded.

Fabularis, re, of a tale, or lyke a tale.

Fabulator, oris, m. g. a teller of fables or tales.

Fabulinus, was supposed of the paynims to be a god, which had the rule ouer chyldren, wha they began to speake.

Fabulor, aris, ari, to talke, to commune, to merke of delude, to babble foolisly.

Mortuo verba fabulare, thou speakest to a dead man, thou labourest in vayne.

Fabulari falsum, to lye.

Fabulose, lyke a fable or lye.

Fabulositas, aris, s. f. g. the inuention of fables and lyes.

Fabulosus, a. um, muche talked of, that easy man speaketh of, that wherof many thynges be feigned.

Fabulum, li, n. g. a beane.

Facesso, cessi, cessere, to go about to do a thyng to doo, to accomplishe. Sometime to go away.

Facesse hinc, geat the hense.

Facessit tibi negotium, he putteth the to busynesse and trouble.

Facessere periculum, to putte in perill and daungier.

Facere, meris, pleasantly.

Facere, arum, s. f. g. plur. nu. meris woordes of dedes without dishonestie.

Facetiosus, a. um, full of mirth and pleasantnes.

Facetum, li, n. g. a thyng that is pleasant & merry.

Facetus, a. um, merry, pleasant.

Facies, s. f. g. a face. Sometime the proportion of all the body, a visage, a countenance, the face, countenance, or faction of a thyng, the cheere of countenance.

Qua facie est homo? Of what nature is the man?

De facie hominem noui, I knowe the man by sight.

Facies arboris, the forme or faction of a tree.

Facies honesti, the description and figure of honestie. Contusa in pulueris faciem, beated small lyke duste.

Loci facies, the figure and faction of a place.

Aliter facies vrbis, itagui, montis, celi, maris.

Noua illic rerum facies, all to newe there to looke to.

Verrere se in omnes facies, to assaye all the meanes and wates that one can.

Facies, and faci, was vied of olde wyttes in the gentill case.

Facile, lightly or easily, without leat or doubt, without any gent grete.

Illius ciuitatis facile princeps, withoute controuerisie chyce and pynctpall of that citee.

Facile facere possum, I can dooe it quickly, if you bidde me.

Propter eas, viuo facilius, By them I goe my luyngg more easily.

Facile hic plus mali est qillie boni, withoute doubte there is more pille in this parte, than good in the other.

Facile patior, I am verely well content.

Facilis, le, light, easy, good to be intreated, gentill.

Facilis aduersarius, a weakke aduersary, easy to be vanquished.

Cibi faciles, meates easy to be gotten.

Lactura facilis, a small losse.

Faciles oculi, rollng eyes.

Facilis et plana via, an easy and playne wate.

Facilis homo, a man easy to please, contrary to Morosus.

Facilis ad credendum, prone & easy to beleue.

Facilitas, aris, s. f. g. easynesse, gentillnes, wha one is soone contented and pleased.

Facinorosus, a. um, full of mischete, wicked, vngentilous.

Facinus, facinoris, n. g. an act of dede. Sometime an yll dede.

Facinus indignum, nepharium, reum, a shameful and abominable acte.

Facinus nobile, a noble dede of enterprise.

Facinus admittere, cessicere, facere, patiare, to committe some shameful or heynous acte.

Facio, feci, facere, to dooe, to be occupied, to make: also to sacrifice, to profit.

Facere aucupii auribus, to listen as a spye, to eare.

Facere.

Acquibonifacere, to take in good pay, or in good woorth.
Animum alicui facere, to geue one courage, to stomache a man.
Facere carnicinam, to execute the office of an hangeman, in hangenge, beheading, or quartering of men.
Facere castra, to pliche a campe, to campe.
Facere certiorum, to ascertainne of aduersity
one by letter or messenger.
Facere compendium, to make short, to abridge to go a short way to woorth, to doo a thyng the sooner.
Facere compotem, to geue to onethat thyng,
whiche he despyeth.
Facere coniecturam, to coniecture of deeme, to diutne or esteeme.
Facere contumeliam, to doo displeasure.
Facere consilium, to rebuke, or put to rebuke,
to checke.
Capitale facere, to make it felony of death.
Cautiorem facere, to make hym wiser, to make hym more wary.
Concilia facere, to gather together for coun-sayling one an other, to geue counsaile.
Facere copiam, to geue leaue.
Facere copiam alicuius, to leat hym take his pleasure of one.
Facere copiam argenti, to lende monete.
Copiam consilij sui facere, to heare them that come for counsaile, and to geue it to them.
Facere consuetudinem, to be familiar.
Deditionem facere, to geide by as a man vanquished in warre.
Facere delicias, to speake for pleasure, or inamor-age. Fac esse, admit it be so, or admit the case.
Fac te esse, qui sum, imagine that thou were
as I am.
Eruptionem facere, to bryake of (sue out by pon enemies.
Facere fidem, to make one to beleue hym.
Facere frugem, to wyne garynes.
Facere iunus, to minister funeralsles.
Gradum facere, to steppe footthe, or steppe by,
to wyne somewhat.
Gratiam facere, to thanke, to release or acquite
one of a thyng, to geue leaue, to pargne.
Gratiam iniuriandi facere, to dispense with one for his othe.
Facere gratum, to dooe pleasure to one, or to wyne a mans favour.
Facere gravidam, to geat with chyld.
Facere iacturam, to haue a losse.
Impetum facere, to send on a thyng with all force.
Facere inditum, to tell of to geue warnynge of a thyng that be knoweth.
Facere ingenium suum, to shewe accordynge to his witte or nature.
Facere insidias, to lye in a wait to do harme to

one. Facere iter, to go by ppe.
Iusta alicui facere, to bestowme all obsequies belongynge to deade men.
Lenocinium facere, to kepe baudy.
Facere lucrum, to wyne.
Facere ludos, to mocke of froyme. also to lerne foothplayes.
Facere magni, to esteeme muche.
Modum facere, to kepe measure.
Modos facere, to spyn.
Moram facere, to cary, to prolonge, to delaye.
Morem facere, to byng by a custome.
Multam facere, to paye a pene.
Mutuum facere, to geue one for an other, to entre.
Facere necum, to make for my purpose, to hold on my spee, to take my parte.
Facere naufragium, to seme to wreche, to haue
a myppe wreche.
Naufragium gloriæ facere, to lose his glorye and renoume.
Facere negotium, to put one to busynesse.
Facere nequit, to doo mychewdy.
Facere nomina, to get debters, as by lendynge as they dooe now by exchange, and in thytes properly called vsurye, and in bargaynes of coyne, cattelle, and other lye, or seyrngs of landes. It is also to borrowe monete, to name, to make renowned and famous.
Respondit, secum facere Syllam, he answered, that Sylla was of his opinion, or byd thyngs
as he byd.
Obnoxium sibi aliquem facere, to bynde one to be at his commaundement.
Facere oculum, to geue to one leysure.
Facere palam, to tell a thyng abyode.
Facere periculum, to pions, to assaie, to byng in perill and daunger.
Facere pluri, to see more by.
Facere propitium, to make hym thyne of his good loyde or malice.
Facere questum, to gayne.
Facere redcem, to byng one agayne.
Facere rem, to geat pposite of gayne by a thyng to thyng.
Facere reum, to accuse of some one in a cryingnall cause.
Facere risum, to cause to laugh.
Facere scelus, to dooe a mischeuous dedde.
Facere sementem, to sowe garynes.
Facere stipendia, to be in wages in the warres.
Facere lumpium, to bestowe coits.
Facere superbium, to flea one.
Facere technam, to plate a catty pageant.
Facere terrorem, to put in feare.
Facere transacta omnia, to byng all thynges to a poynt.
Facere turbas, to make busynesse.
Facere vadimonium, to lye in gage of paynt,
to promise to appere at a date appointed.
Facere verba aut verbum, to speake.

Facere

Facere vindictam, to gather grapes, to make wyne. Facere visum, to fall in deale.
Facere voluntatem, to satisfie myght, thyne, or his pleasure, or appetite.
Faciam vte plurimum, I wille lene the much. Facille hoc oportuit, needes muste ye haue doon it.
Facio plurimi, I make muche of.
Floccifacio, I sette not a strawe by it.
Facit ad difficultatem vring, it is a holloyme for the tranquillion, or for them that can not playe easily. Non facit ad stomachum, it is not hold some for the stomache.
Aes alienum facere, to borrowe money.
Facere ad honores mores, to helpe of anayle to honest behaviour.
Facere ad aliquid palatum, to bee for ones
nowne tooth.
Caput facere, to growe to an head, as heedes
doe before they beare seede.
Facere concursum, to seme together.
Qui cum Sertorio faciebant, whiche folowed or followed the parts of Sertorius.
Facere descensionem, to lande out of a ship or bott. Quamuis paucos vna fecerimus dies, it though we laved but fewe dayes together.
Facere dolorem, to put to payne.
Facere errorem, to deegue.
Exempla faciam in te, I wille punyssh the to the example of other.
Facere fauorem apud aliquem, to reconesse.
Finem facere, to make an ende.
Formidinem facere, to put in feare.
Fraudem legi facere, by thyng craft or wyle to deuide the lawe.
Fumus facere prandio, to eate by a mans dyne.
Gloriam alicui rei facere, to make a thyng greatlye shewed and sette by.
Hospitium facere, to entertaine or lodge.
Hostilia facere, to shewe hym selfe to be an enemy, to doo like an enemy.
Facere iudicium, to subge, to geue iudgement.
Facere manum, to gather a company of hande of fouldryng.
Medicinam facere, to make a confession: also to heale of cure.
Mercatorem facere, to vse of platte the feate of marchandise.
Millum facere, to leat go.
Miserere faciamus, Let us speake no more of these thynges.
Momentum facere, to beg of some weyghte or importance.
Facere momentum annoy, to byng some
the price of vntowne of payne.
Huius rei sibi naturam facit, it is by his nature, to geat this thyng to to his nature.
Non possum facere, quia ad rem illam, I can not chaose but lende to you.
Opinionem facere, to put to the choise.

Opus facere, to laboure.
Optum vix facere, to make one wisest of his life.
Ovis facere, to late egges.
Patres facere, to diuide.
Facere pecuniam, to geat great garynes.
Securitatem facere, to make sawes.
Facere syngrapham, to make an obligacion.
Facere prouentum maiorem, to pelyde more fruits, Pugnam facere, to bande the fynde.
Factus, a, um, made, dooen, wynghe.
Argentum factum, plate.
Factio, onis, a diuision of people in sundry opinions, also an acte, a dooynge. also a company of bande of men. sometimes synthe, au-thorites or estimation in a cite.
Factionum principes, the heades of rebella-on or sedition.
Nec non tanta factione sumus, neyther bee
we of to great authorites.
Factius, a, um, made of counterfact to the like malle of an other thyng.
Factilius color, a counterfalte colour.
Factio, an, are, to doo ostentymes.
Carmina in aliquem factitare, to make beetes agaynst one.
Factitare medicinam, to practise phisike.
Factiosus, a, um, factious, sedicious, or anlyng,
also crying of great authorites.
Factor, oriam, g, a maker.
Factum, d, n, g, a deede, a thyng made.
Factum et contrarium, dooen and byonghe to good passe.
Factum meo factum, I repent me not of thyng
I haue dooen.
Facta, p, uelle and noble actes.
Fama facta patrum, the vntowne deedes of our forefathers.
Factura, e, f, g, the facture or makinge of a
thyng.
facturio, l, i, i, re, to deale to dooe.
factus, us, m, g, a makinge.
facula, f, g, a torch, or greill torch.
faculari, torches becomers.
facultas, a, i, g, power to doo or ppe, thing that is ppe, also facultas, becomers of
to a thyng.
Admone facultatem aliquam facienti, to leat
one that he can haue done a thyng.
Facultatem dare, to geue power or licence.
Si facultatem habet, he hath power.
Dare facultatem, to geue power.
Facultas, a, i, g, power to doo or ppe, thing
that is ppe, also facultas, becomers of
to a thyng.
Facultas, a, i, g, power to doo or ppe, thing
that is ppe, also facultas, becomers of
to a thyng.
Facultas, a, i, g, power to doo or ppe, thing
that is ppe, also facultas, becomers of
to a thyng.
Facultas, a, i, g, power to doo or ppe, thing
that is ppe, also facultas, becomers of
to a thyng.

Eius non possum ferre fastidium, I can not abide his dislikefulness.
 Modo ne sit fastidio, so that it will not lothe you: or so that he will not dislike.
 In fastidio esse, to be lothed or hated, to bee nothing esteemed.
 Fastidium incum, wherewith I dislike other.
 Fastidium mei, whan other dislike me.
 Fastidium stomachi, lothing of the stomake, when one can not brooke meate.
 Fastigatio, onis, the making of a thyng sharpe toward the toppes, to pte wyle.
 Fastigatus, or Fastigatus, a, um, reysed byppe sharpe toward the toppes.
 Fastigio, au, are, to make or reys by in height sharpe toward the toppes.
 Fastigium, g, n, g, an altitude of the toppes of height of any thyng, a ridge of an house: also the bottom of a pitte of lyke thyng, sometimes the begynnyng of a matrice. Sometimes it signifyeth the estate of a persone in a my dignitie. Sometimes the ends of a thyng.
 Fastigium imponere, to spoken whan a man will signifie a matter of thyng to be finished or brought to a pyncture.
 Fastigium tenere inter homines, to bee of great authoritee of power.
 Fastigo, au, are, idem quod Fastigio.
 Fastuosus, a, um, that proudly disdigneth other.
 Fastus, us, m, g, haughtinesse of mynde, pride, arrogancie with proude wordes.
 Fatalis, le, pertaining to death, fatal: sometimes mortall.
 Fataliter, deadely, by death.
 Fataliter, id est, Multa fataliter.
 Fateor, oris, fatius sum, eri, whan a person that is culpable of faulte, doeth confesse and acknowledge his offence, in manner by confession. Also to vnder and aspyne boldely without conceyting.
 De scripto haud cunctanter passus est, as for hym selfe he confessed without delays.
 Fastusco, lothe Fastusco.
 Fancinus, a, um, that telleth death.
 Fandicus, a, um, that readeth or telleth death of thynges to come, a fourth faster.
 Fatisfer, a, um, that byingeth death of pestilence, deadely.
 Fatigatio, onis, a weeping.
 Fatigatus, a, um, wepted.
 Fatigatus corpore, fessus animo.
 Fatigo, au, are, to make weite, to trouble muche, to confecture, to encourage, to brate, to strike, to ree or prouoke to resigne or let.
 Fatigare deum vobis, to pte and call by: pon god vnto instantly.
 Fatigare vinculis et carcere, to rule a bynges to conformitee and reasons by imprisonment.
 Fastilogus, a, to pteche.

Fastilogus, a, um, idem, quod Fastidicus.
 Fastisco, scere, to be weite, to chynke, to cleane, to open gape of chynke, as the earthe dooth in a pitte, to waite seinte or feble, to be come barrenne, and as it were weite of bearynge, as the earthe with our muche spilling.
 Fator, aris, ari, to speake muche.
 Fatuas, aris, f, g, foolishnesse.
 Fatum, ti, n, g, the ordinaunce and disposition of almyghtie god, death, goddes prouidence, sometimes death: sometimes calamitye of great mischaunce of aduersitee.
 Fato consulem fieri, to be made consill by the ordinaunce of god.
 Si fatum tibi est, if it be thy death.
 Fatidies, the date of ones death.
 Fato concedere, to die.
 Fato fungi, to be deade.
 In his qui fato sunt functi, among them whiche be deade.
 Veneno fata precepit, he killed hym selfe with poison.
 Fator, aris, ari, to pte the foole or idiot.
 Fatus, a, um, that hath spoken.
 Fatus, a, um, vnfaured, without any mane of ease, foolthe, that lacketh naturall knowledge, an idiot.
 Fata dea, called also Bona dea, the name of the earthe, so called, because chryden whan they be borne, dooe not vnder any voyce, because they haue toucheth the earth.
 Fauces, cium, for, g, plu, the chokes, the lawes, the upper parte of the throte. Also a streete entre into any place. Also the mouthe of a river. Fauces to sometimes redde in the singular nombye.
 Immani fauces dact hiatu, he gapeth merrailously wyde.
 Crucior bolum tantum mihi d' faucibus eripsum, it greuethe me soe that such a good mysell, goddes, or pte, is snatched out of my mouthe.
 Faucitia, a, ctes in Statie, called commonly Faenza, an other of Spaine.
 Fauentinus, a man of Faucitia.
 Fauco, ui, ere, to fauour, to beare good will, to be still and kepe silence.
 Fauere linguis, to kepe silence.
 Fauere faucibus, fauere ore, idem.
 Inuidere et fauere, contrary.
 Honori alicuius fauere, to wyl the encrease and furtheraunce of ones honour.
 Male fauere alicui, to beare one little good will. In sententia fauco, I like this sentence well.
 Fauetur, the impersonall.
 Fauian, the people.
 Fauis, people whiche defended of Hercules.
 Fauilla, a, for, g, a deade sparke of fyre, goddes Mes or embres extincted.

Faulx, a, certayne cellers in the courts of the papall at Rome, where were wont to be kept the banners of the Romanes, whiche were borne in warres. Also therein was layed the treasure and money, whiche the ppyetes of the temples in the capitall, byd employe aboute thynges necessarie to theyr supersticion and ceremonies.
 Fauna, idem quod fatua.
 Fauni, were named of the poetes rusticall goddes, and monstrous beastes lyke vnto men.
 Faunus, an auncient byng of the olde Latines, sonne of Picus. he was also called Farucius, and was father of Latinus, whiche reigned in Latiun, whose wyfe was called Fauna or Fauna.
 Fauniana, pearces whiche are redde.
 Faunius, one of the wyndes called the southwesterly wynde.
 Fautor, oris, m, g, fauour, good will supportacion.
 Studium et Fautor.
 Facere fauorem, to get one fauour.
 Emceri fauorem, to deferus ones fauour of good will.
 Fautorabilis, le, fauoured of many, fauourable. Also that fauoureth.
 Inuidiosus et fauorabilis, contrary.
 Fautorabiliter, fauorably, with good will of supportacion.
 Faunius, a philosopher in the tyme of Alys an the emperour.
 Fauste, prosperously, fortunately, luckely.
 Faustitas, aris, for, g, good fortune, good lucke, happinesse.
 Faustus, the sonne of Sylla.
 Faustulus, a shephearde, whiche was the nourysher of Romulus and Remus.
 Faustus, a, um, prosperous, fortunately, lucke.
 Fautor, oris, m, g, one that fauoureth of supportacion.
 Fautrix, icis, f, g, she that fauoureth, or supporteth, she that susteyneth of magnificence.
 Faustus, a little honny combe.
 Faustus, ui, m, g, a honny combe.
 Fax, acis, f, g, a torch of candle, or othere lyke thyng, which burnyng geueth light, a chiefe authour of mouer, one that incenseth or heateth a man to any thyng.
 Fax accusationis, the chiefe authour and furtherer of an accusation.
 Faces corporis, the motions of appetites of the bodie.
 Dicendi faces, a very eloquent and earnest manner of oracion aboundyng with all figures of amplification and other ornaments of the speech.
 Fax seditionis, a thyng that is a great occasion of maintenance of sedition.
 Addere faces, et subdere faces alicui, to incense and encourage one further in doinge any thyng.

Dolori faces admouere, to geue one great occasions of sorowe and heavynesse.
 Faxim, let me dooe.
 Lubens faxim, I will dooe it with a ready good will.
 Verbum caue faxis, beware thou speake not one woode.
 Vinam dnita faxint, I would the goddes would byng it so to passe.
 Faxint, let them dooe.
 Faxo, I will of myll dooe.

Febrius, au, are, to be sicke of a fever.
 Febricula, le, f, g, a little of easie fever.
 Habere febriculam, to be sicke of an ague.
 Febrifugia, looke Centaurium, some sayne it to be one of the herbes of the herbe, whiche is called of olde wyters Parthenyon.
 Febris, le, pertaining to a feuer.
 Febris, lui, ire, to have a feuer.
 Febris, bris, f, g, a feuer, whiche is an vnnatural heat kindled at the heart, brought from thence by the veynes & arteries, by the meane of the spirite and veynes, into all the body, sensibly hurtyng his naturall operation.
 There be thre byndes, one called Hectica, whiche is in the spirites and principall humours, and also in the fyne partes of the body, it is either by it selfe proceeding of continuall anger, labour, fampne, exerce of lecherie inflamyng and dysing the members: or following other sicknesses: sometimes vnuerfall, specially in the bodie colerpeche of melancholie, or elles particular, as whan it happeneth after the weakenesse of the fyne principall members, the heart, the lunges, the liver, the stomache, or the reynes. In other is named Ephemera, or Diaria: whiche is an inflammation of the spirites vntill, naturally, or animal. In the vntill spirites, it happeneth by waye the inflammation, by thought or sorowe reddeing, by hote aper chauffing, or by colde aper stoppyng. In the naturall spirites it happeneth by hunger or thirst inflammation, by hote meates or dyntes inflammation, by repletion oppressing, by superfluous late of stoppyng, by archdome exerce, neglecting, or stoppyng of chylde, by hote meates, sweate, or hote leaping. In the spirites animal it happeneth, by to muche byng alone without recreation, by to muche to muche of lacke of slepe, by to muche of stoppyng, by a catarrhe of reynes, by hote meates, by coldnesse of the aper, or by to muche labour or exerce. In other, some called Humoralis, and also Putrida, is in the humors, the matter whereof is ether blouds, choler, sicke, or melancholicke. This feuer happeneth ether by feruentnesse of the son of asper, or by lacke of accustomed exercise, bynes or euacuation, by daily surfeites, by indigestion walping or meauing after meate, by sleeping muche wyne after meate, hot confections of spices after meates. Of superfluitie of meates and bynlikes cometh repletion, which stoppeth the pores of the skynne, and the holes of the little bynes called Capillares, because they be as small as heares. And that stoppynge of opilation, letteth the venting out of the naturall heate: by reason whereof the heate of the naturall humour (nature being vnable to rule it) boyleth and sendeth vp fumes, which whetlyngs aboute cometh to the herte, and inflamerh it: and passing forthwith by the bynes and arteries into all the bodie, maketh the feuer called Putrida, which accordeinge to the humour, wherein it reigneth, taketh a sundrie name, as ye shall reade in these seuerall places. Accessio, and Accessus febris, the beginning of the feuer.

Ardor febris, the burning of the feuer.
Hores febris, the chyllynges of Makynge of the feuer.

Intensio febris, the encrease of a feuer.
Remissio febris, contrarie.

Reliquia febris, the grudgynge of a feuer, after the courses haue leste a man.

Vaga febris, a feuer that heperh no certayne course.

Abigere, arcere, depellere, submouere, resoluere febrim, to put awaie an ague.

Accessit febris, and Desijt contrarie.

Minui febrim, and intendi, contrarie.

Afferre et facere febrim, to byngedome in an ague.

Febris inflat, incipit, augetur, consistit, finitur, decidit, repert, reuertitur, redit.

Comipifebre, and incidere in febrim, to fall into an ague.

Liberate febre, to heale one of an ague.

Remittite febris, the feuer diminisheth.

Februa, orum, plu. sacrificia, and ceremonies for purging of soules. Also all thynges vsed in sacrifice to purge and cleanse.

Februius, a, um, that which was so purged.

Februarius, ii, m. g. the moneth of Februarie.

Februus, au, are, to purge soules by sacrifice of paper.

Februum, i, neu. g. in the Sabynes tongue, is called purging or cleansing.

Februius, is also Pluto called god of hell.

Facialis, ii, m. g. a certayne officer of armes, whiche denounced war of peace, where as was hostilitie or cause of battaile: whiche made be nowe taken for an ambassadour sent for suche a purpose.

Facialis, ie, belonging to that officer of armes.
Fel, fellis, n. g. the galle, sometimes it is taken for griefe of the mynde.

Felterra, the herbe called Centaureum looks there.

Salce suffulsi felle, taunting scowles.

Felicones, men that are necessarie for nothing, it hath another significacion, whiche for the abominableness thereof I will not write:

hence it is more expedient that it be unknowne.

Felis, lis, m. g. a catte, sometimes it significeth a weasell.

Felix, icis, looke Felix.

Felleus, a, um, bitter like gall.

Fellico, au, are, to sucke.

Fellina, x, a citie in Jtalia, nowe called Bononia.

Feltrum, a towne in Jtalia in the contrey called Marchia Taruina.

Femen, minis, n. g. the inner part of the thigh. sometimes the private membre of a woman.

Feminalia, the keeping of the thyghes.

Femoralia, lium, n. g. plur. byches.

Femur, oris, n. g. the viter and harder parte of the thygh, some englyshe it the hamme.

Femur bubulum, an herbe, holisome for the sinewes.

Fenestella, la, m. g. the proppie name of a foyte wyter, whiche stoppeth in the dates of Tibertius Caesar. but Eusebius affirmeth that he dyed in the tyme of Augustus.

Fenestella, la, f. g. a little window.

Fenestra, x, f. g. a wyndowe, sometimes an entrie into a thyng.

Fenestram aperire, to open a wyndowe, to geue an occasion, to make awaie.

Quantam fenestram ad nequitiam patefeceris? how greates a gappe make thou open to naughtynesse? howe greates an occasion make thou geue to dooe lewdly.

Fenestralis, ie, belonging to a wyndowe.

Fenestratus, a, um, opened.

Nulla est fenestration domus, no house is more open.

Fenestrenula, x, a little wyndowe.

Fenestro, au, are, to open.

Ferabites, wylde.

Fera, x, f. g. a wylde beaste.

Feracitas, atis, fruitfulness.

Feralia, orum, n. g. plur. a date dedicate to the infernall goddes to pacifie them towards the soules departed. They were also sacrifices made for soules.

Feralis, ie, deadly or moystall, lamentable.

Feralia officia, solemnities aboute deade bodies.

Feralia amacula, wyndyng shutes and such like thynges wherein deade bodies wer lapped.

Feralis cultus, mourning apparall.

Feras

Feralis dies, the date of buryng.

Ferax, acis, om. g. fruitful, of that byngeth forth muche fruite.

Ferax miraculosi Asia, Asia byngynge forth many miratious and strange thynges.

Ferax ingentum, a plentifull wyte.

Feraces agri, fruitful and fertile fieldes.

Ferax solum, a ranche toyle.

Ferax bonarum artium seculum, a tyme in the whiche learning and good sciences dooe flourish.

Ferreo, bui, ere, to boyle or seeth.

Ferulum, ii, neu. g. a bythe with meate, also a pagent caried, or borne to be looked on in a triumph, as were in olde tyme, the images of the goddes, spoyle of the enemies, crownes, ingyns of water, and other lyke thynges.

Sometimes it significeth the stage, or place wherein the pagent is sette.

Fere, almoste, myght, well myght, lachynge but little, for the moste parte.

Rure fere se continet, he abode or taried for the moste parte in the countrey.

Fere in diebus paucis, shortly after with in fewe daies.

Quitum fere multis erat in ore, whiche was than all moste in euery mans mouth.

Vxor fere hac veste in sacris faciendis, in doing sacrifice, I moste commonly weare this garment.

Ut fere sit, as it chaunceth for the most part: or as it chaunceth almoste in euery place.

Fere plerumq, for the mooste parte, mooste commonly.

Ferentarius, a, um, armed in lycht harnesses, able to come quickly to succoure, vsynge to fight with a darte, sword, or syng.

Ferentarius amicus, a friende that helpeth at tyme of neede.

Ferentinum, a citie, whiche after Plinius stanneth in the syde region of Jtalia.

Ferentum, a citie in Apulia.

Fereola vitis, a hynde of bynes.

Feretrius, a name of Iupiter, geuen by Romulus.

Feretrum, tri, neu. g. a beere or cossyn, wheron deade bodies are borne. sometimes a thyng, wheron images, reliques, or Jewelles are borne.

Feretrus, a mounteyne, of the whiche the house of Pherece was named.

Ferix, arum, fur. g. plur. holy daies, daies vacant from laboure.

Ferix belli, times of bacaction from warres.

Ferix stator, holy daies that come at one certayne tyme of the yere.

Concepiu ferix, festes and holy daies, whiche were ordeyned perely by the poplates and magistrates, but at no certayne tyme.

Ferix imperatrix, extraordinary holy daies commemoured for thyngs of importance, for some thyng that hath happened.

Ferix cliriales, fasting daies.

Feritatus, a, um, unscripted of daies.

Feriat dies, holy daies.

Feriat voluntate sua negotijs publicis, one that is not occupied or builed aboute the affaires of the common weale.

Ferina, x, f. g. venison, flesh of a wylde beaste.

Ferina caro, idem.

Ferinus, a, um, wylde as a beaste, or pertaining to wylde beastes, or lyke to a wylde beaste.

Ferio, au, are, and Ferior, aris, ari, the deponent, to be vacant from laboure, busyng, and studie, to make holy daies.

Ferio, percussu, ferire, to stryke, to stabbe, to knocke.

Ferire fœdus, to make a league, or truse.

Ferire iugulum, to slay, to hit the markes.

Ferunt aures hominum, when thynges that are spoken dooe pleasantly here vp men to hearken to them.

Ferire cornu, to builde with the hoines.

Feriam fores, I will knocke at the doore.

Oculos ferunt quæcunq, conspici possunt.

Pectus ferire, to stryke or knocke ones byest.

Pecunias ferire, to coyne money.

Pugno ferire, to stryke with the syde.

Calce ferire, to stryke or kicke.

Ferire rostro, to pecke with the byll.

Ferire securi, to cut of with an axe, to dooe execution.

Porcum ferire, to sacrifice an hogge.

Feritatis, f. g. a naturall wylde, speckled, crueller.

Ferme, almoste, well nere, for the moste parte.

Hand ferme, scanty, hardly.

Fermentesco, telere, to puffe or esse vpp by leauenyng, and in the ground to lie lycht and not faste to gether.

Fermento, au, are, to medle or myxt well together, as leauen with bows: also to leauen.

Fermentare terram, after Alepene, to make fatts the grounde: but diuers places in Coslumella dooe well declare, that Fermentare terram, is to resolu the earth into dust, and make it lycht, soluble, and loose, and not to be fadde, fatts, compact, and cloddy together.

Fermentum, ti, n. g. leauen.

Mea vxor tota in fermento lacer, my wyfe is waste awaye, greatly minded, all bethewed.

Fero, fers, fusi, ferre, to beare, to suffer, to sustain, to abyde, to leade, or byngge, to escape of go awaie, to faye, to name, to knowe, to tell, to exposte, to byngge, to byngge forth, to haue, to haue, to take awaie, to fustine, to obdurate, to acrusome.

Balium vero qui est infans rei (quemadmodum scribis) adiutor, in oculis fero, Balium, who (as you write) is the helper of all this more

commemoured for thyngs of importance, for some thyng that hath happened.

Ferix cliriales, fasting daies.

Feritatus, a, um, unscripted of daies.

Feriat dies, holy daies.

Feriat voluntate sua negotijs publicis, one that is not occupied or builed aboute the affaires of the common weale.

Ferina, x, f. g. venison, flesh of a wylde beaste.

Ferina caro, idem.

Ferinus, a, um, wylde as a beaste, or pertaining to wylde beastes, or lyke to a wylde beaste.

Ferio, au, are, and Ferior, aris, ari, the deponent, to be vacant from laboure, busyng, and studie, to make holy daies.

Ferio, percussu, ferire, to stryke, to stabbe, to knocke.

Ferire fœdus, to make a league, or truse.

Ferire iugulum, to slay, to hit the markes.

Ferunt aures hominum, when thynges that are spoken dooe pleasantly here vp men to hearken to them.

Ferire cornu, to builde with the hoines.

Feriam fores, I will knocke at the doore.

Oculos ferunt quæcunq, conspici possunt.

Pectus ferire, to stryke or knocke ones byest.

Pecunias ferire, to coyne money.

Pugno ferire, to stryke with the syde.

Calce ferire, to stryke or kicke.

Ferire rostro, to pecke with the byll.

Ferire securi, to cut of with an axe, to dooe execution.

Porcum ferire, to sacrifice an hogge.

Feritatis, f. g. a naturall wylde, speckled, crueller.

Ferme, almoste, well nere, for the moste parte.

Hand ferme, scanty, hardly.

Fermentesco, telere, to puffe or esse vpp by leauenyng, and in the ground to lie lycht and not faste to gether.

Fermento, au, are, to medle or myxt well together, as leauen with bows: also to leauen.

Fermentare terram, after Alepene, to make fatts the grounde: but diuers places in Coslumella dooe well declare, that Fermentare terram, is to resolu the earth into dust, and make it lycht, soluble, and loose, and not to be fadde, fatts, compact, and cloddy together.

Fermentum, ti, n. g. leauen.

Mea vxor tota in fermento lacer, my wyfe is waste awaye, greatly minded, all bethewed.

Fero, fers, fusi, ferre, to beare, to suffer, to sustain, to abyde, to leade, or byngge, to escape of go awaie, to faye, to name, to knowe, to tell, to exposte, to byngge, to byngge forth, to haue, to haue, to take awaie, to fustine, to obdurate, to acrusome.

Balium vero qui est infans rei (quemadmodum scribis) adiutor, in oculis fero, Balium, who (as you write) is the helper of all this

more

more

more

inattire, I loue heretly, or I greatly esteeme.
 Ferre acceptum, looke Acceptum ferre.
 Ferre ad calum, to exorde of paffe a man excepting.
 Ferre in astra idem.
 Ferre ad populum, or Ferre rogationem ad
 populum, to aske aduise of the people.
 Aegre ferre, to take it greuouely.
 Aequo animo ferre, to take patiently.
 Ferre annos, aut vetustatem, to endure long,
 or beare well his age. It is properly spoken of wyne, or other lyke thyng.
 Ferre conditionem, to prosper, to put to the chyche, to offer a condition.
 Ferre expensum, to spende, to late out, to wyte expenses, to bestowe.
 Vinam ita fortuna tulisset, I woulde it had so founed.
 Ita fama ferebat, so the byute went.
 Fortiter ferre, to abyde or susteine constantly.
 Fructu ex aliquo ferre, to take pofite by one.
 Fructum ferre, to bynge footye fruite.
 Ferre gradum, to go footye.
 Ferre grauer, to take a thyng greuouely.
 Ferro tibi iudicem, I am contented to be iudged by suche one: leat hym be iudge betwene vs, or iudge the matter betwene vs.
 Fer contra manum, geue me thy hande.
 Fer me, beare with me.
 Ferre moleste, to take a thyng greuouely,
 or displeasingly.
 Ferre obscure aliquid, to dissemble a thyng,
 to hope secret, to make as though it were not.
 Paupertatem tuam nunc obscure tulisti, you
 byd neuer dissemble or hyde your pouertes.
 Odium ferre pro labore, for ones labour &
 traualle to be hated.
 Ferre oculum, to hyffe.
 Ferre palam, to speake it abyode, to publyshe
 a thyng secretly.
 Patum, or ventum ferre, to be with chyld.
 Pedem ferre, to go footye, poctice.
 Personam alicuius ferre, to plate an othe mans parte.
 Premium ferre, to be rewarded or recompensed. Premium ferre, idem.
 Primas ferre, to haue the pyre or psumis-mence, to be chiefe.
 Palmam ferre, idem.
 Privilegium de aliquo ferre, when the prince or matelrate requirith the people to enacte
 a thyng in psumis of any particular person.
 Ferre questionem, when the matelrate de-fyne the people to ordeyne iudges extenoyde nate in a priuate case.
 Si ita res fert, if neede bee, if the matter so requyre.
 Repulsam ferre, to be refused, or put backe
 in a requeste.
 Responsum ferre, to haue an answers.

Modum responsum tulere, they had an happy answer.
 Ferre sententiam, to shewe his opinion.
 Sese obuiam ferre, to go and mete with hym.
 Signa ferre, to marche agaynste ennemys with banners displayed.
 Ferre stim, to suffice thistle.
 Suffragia ferre, to geue voyce in election, or ther consent.
 Ferre suppetias, to succour.
 Sufq; deo fero, I care not, I passe not on it.
 Ferri, to be boigne or carted.
 Dum tempus ad eam rem tulit, while tyme ferued therfore, while it was convenient.
 Dum xras fert, while age suffreth or requyeth Tunc hoc aliter a me argentum feras, I shalt thou haue this money of me, if thou dyd not.
 Quod posces, feres, what so euer you wyll as-que of aske, you shalt obtayne.
 Eius se magistram ferebat, he saied he was his mastre.
 Et ve xras illa fert, and as the facion of condition of that age is.
 Fert animus, it is my pleasure, it pleaseth me,
 I am disposed.
 Arma ferre aduersus patriam, to wares as gainst his countrey.
 Auxilium ferre, to ayde, to helpe, to come to the rescue.
 Clam iram ferre aduersus aliquem, to beare grudge and malice agaynste one priuily.
 Maiori strepitu q; populi Romani fert cons-uetudo, with greater noise then the custome and facion of the Romanes was.
 Ita fama ferebat, so the byute of tynioze went.
 Precipuum gloriam tulit, he had the chiefe
 nome and piasse.
 Immoderate, or Immodice res aduersas ferre,
 to take aduersities too vnpatiently.
 Impune et insultum ferre, to escape vnprynted.
 Iracunde ferebat, he was verie angry and displeased with the matter.
 Laudem ferre, to haue great piasse.
 Ferre laudibus, to extolle, to piasse.
 Ferre lucem, to abyde the light.
 Fer in notitiam meam, geue me knowlege.
 Faciet, quae feret libido, he wyll doe, what so euer his fantasie or pleasure shal leade hym to.
 Ve natura ferebat, as nature leddes hym; accor-dyng to his nature and inclination.
 Natura fert, it is a thyng naturall.
 Nomen alicuius ferre, to beare the name of a ny person, to be called after hym.
 Negid occulit fert, neptise doth he that pryuile of in cogners.
 Ve mea fert opinio, as I thinke, as I suppose.
 Plagas ferre, to be beaten.
 Premium obulitiam fero, I haue a reward for my fooly mensse.
 Ferre rem vulgo, to disgust of tell aboyn.

Ferre

Ferre salutem alicui, to greete or salute.
 Sententiam ferre, to speake ones opinion or iudgement.
 Non ferre, quin vapulet, he shal not goe a-waite before he be beaten.
 Supplicium ferre, to be punished.
 Preces deo ferre, to praye.
 Victoriam ferre, to haue the victorie.
 In quationem ferum ferre, to belunge a seruant to be examined by tormentes.
 Via quae ad portam fert, the herte wyche
 leadeth to the gate.
 Ferus ad terram visis, the byne groweth
 downe toward the grounde.
 Tributum ferre, to paye tribute.
 Ferus, the impersonalle, the reproche to, the byute to.
 Ferunt dixisse, they report that he saied.
 Ferocia, x, for. g. sterkenesse.
 Ferocia, ciui, ire, to be fierce or cruel.
 Ferocitas, atis, for. gen. th. shewynge cruelte,
 sterkenesse, cruelnesse, harshnesse.
 Ferociter, fiercely, cruelly.
 Feroculus, li, m. g. one that is somewhat fierce
 or arrogant.
 Feronia, the goddess of wooddes. also a cite vnder the hill Boiactes.
 Ferox, ocis, om. g. fierce, arrogant, gloriouse,
 hardy, courageous, cruel, vntractable.
 Eo ne es ferox, quia habes imperium in belluas, Arte thou therfore to hard on men, because thou arte master ouer byute beastes.
 Ferox forma, piousse and gloriouse of his beastes.
 Ferramentarij, they wyche worke in yron.
 Ferramentum, ti, neu. gen. an instrumente or toole of yron.
 Ferramenta consoria, harbour tooles.
 Ferraria, x, f. g. an yron myne.
 Ferraria, Ferrer, a cite in Spayne. also a pportion in Spayne.
 Ferrarius, a, um, pseygnyng to yron, or of yron.
 Ferrarius faber, a smythe.
 Ferraria officina, a smythes foze.
 Ferraria aqua, the water in the colt trough wherein smythes use to quenche hote yron.
 Ferratus, a, um, haupnge yron on it, or cloied in yron.
 Ferreus, a, um, of yron. And by translation, hard to intrude, vnkynde.
 Durus et ferreus. Ferus et ferreus.
 Ferreus scriptor, an authour that hath an hard and vnkynde style.
 Ferro, au, ire, to sette yron on.
 Ferrugineus, a, um, of the colour of rust yron.
 Ferrugo, hie, f. g. rust of yron, a smythe to loue. Some call it a smythe for rust, and some about a smythe of rust.
 Ferrum, ti, m. g. yron. Some call it a smythe.

a smythe.
 Absumere ferro aliquem, to hysle ones hysle
 a smythe.
 Adegit ferrum in viscera, he thrust his sword into his bealy.
 Cernere ferro, to trie by hente of smythe.
 Ferrumen, hie, n. g. glewe, gyle, souder, or the other byndyng or cleamyng matier.
 Ferrumlatio, onis, f. g. a smyng with yron.
 Ferrumino, au, are, to smyng or myte to yron ether, properly metalles, to souder.
 Fertilis, le, fertile of fructifull, rank.
 Fertilitas, atis, for. g. fructifullnesse, fertilitye, abundance.
 Fertilitas, fructifull, abundantly.
 Ferrum, ti, n. g. a cake made of sundy gragnes and spices.
 Feruacio, feci, ere, to make hote.
 Feruens, entis, that is verie hote, that scald-eth, fierce, seruente, chaufed, angry, be-heement.
 Feruens aqua, scaldyng hote water.
 Feruens horae diei, the hyddon.
 Feruens ingenium, a fierce or hasty nature.
 Feruenter, hottely.
 Feruor, es, ut, and Ferbut, ere, to be chaufed or hote, to boyle, to sethe, to be verie angry.
 Ira totus feruet, he is thowoughly chaufed with anger.
 Fora libus omnia feruent, All the common places of subgements bee greatly busied and occupied with suites and matters of
 the lawe.
 Feruico, ferbul, feruicere, to waxe hote.
 Feruide, vehemently, with a great heate.
 Feruidus, a, um, feruent, verie hote, scaldyng,
 vehement, also diligent.
 Ferula, le, f. g. a certayne beere, haupnge a wale lyke to fenell. It is taken for a rodde of speche, wherewith chyldrens handes be stry-ken in schooles, called a pautere. Also a cane or reede, a poste lyke. Sometime a thyng to splent a broken synger or legge with.
 Ferula manum subducere, to go to schoole with a master, and to be beaten as the v-ther be.
 Ferulaceus, a, um, like the herbe called Ferula.
 Ferularius, a, um, lyke a cane or reede.
 Ferus, ferul, ere, to be hote, to be chaufed to be angry.
 Ferus, the land to hote.
 Ferus, ocis, m. g. a beere hote of humours,
 vnkynde, verie angry.
 Ferus, a, um, lyke, cruel, terrible.
 Ferusmanus, a countie of Campanie, wher beere longe de marriage with thys in a countie.
 Ferusmanus, a countie of Campanie, wher beere longe de marriage with thys in a countie.

Fides conficitur, It is poyoned or tried.
Cum fide, fathfully, trustly.
Ex fide scribere, to write a thyng trustly and fathfully as it is.
Si fidem habeat, if he myght beleue: if he myght be in suretie, or if he might surely trust.
Res habuit fidem, the thyng was beleued.
Fidem nullam habent, They are withoute faye to be true.
Imminuere fidem alicuius, to make a man of lesse credite or estimation.
Fidem implorare, to besye ayde or succour.
Fidem interponere, to make warrantise, to assure.
In fide populi Romani manere, to abyde or continue in the protection or sauagard of the people of Rome.
In fide manere, et frangere fœdus, contrary.
Redde nunc pactam fidem, Now performe what you promised.
Locum curati, ut effiet mihi fides, This is a thyng if always endowoured, that a man myght truste me at my woorde.
In nobis fide esse, to be in the obedience and protection of no man.
Tanc parua fides mihi apud te, Doo ye truste so litle? I am in so small credyte with you?
Fides mihi apud hunc est, I am in good credyte with this man.
De alicuius sumere argentum, to borrowe vpon an other mannes credyte or warrantise.
Fidem suam tueri, to trauertie and defende his honoure and credyte.
Fides, s. g. the string of any instrumente.
Fides, s. g. an harpe of lute, or other lyke instrument with stringes.
Fides, s. g. an harper, or one that playe on an instrument with stringes.
Fides, s. g. a woman harper of lute, a fiddler, a wench.
Fides, s. g. a, um, of or pertegginge to an other.
Fides, s. g. a rebbecke or gitterne. also the name of a fiddler.
Fides, s. g. plur. a tourment made by cordes or stringes, wherewith men be tormented, to make thegm confesse treasons longe.
Fides, s. g. a noble senator of Rome.
Fides, s. g. a god among the Romans, sonne of Iupiter.
Fides sum, fidere, to truste, to beleue, to be in hope in a thyng.
Fides, s. g. f. g. truste, confidence, sometyme boldnesse, most commonly in the good of a man, sometyme in the pill. It is properly that trust, wherein any thyng is deliuered by one to an other, to the intent that he shall be-

I praye it whan he is requested.
 Qua fiducia id facere audeam? Howe maye
 I be so bolde as to doo that?
 Fiducia in virtute alicuius, confidence and trust that a man hath in ones constancie and vertue.
 Fiduciam etiam diligentie tibi habeo. I truste well, o: I haue a good truste o: confidence that you will be so diligent, &c.
 Fiducia sui, hardynesse, confidence and trust in ones owne strength.
 Fiduciam accipere, vpon ones faith and pro-myse, to receyue possession of a thyng, where he must after restore to hym, of whom he receyued it.
 Fiduciam committere, to bestowe the possession o: charge of a thyng on that condition.
 Fiduciarius, a, um, that hath the possession, charge o: custody of a thyng on condition to restore it agayne, or elles the thyng that is so geuen o: committed to ones charge.
 Fiduciarius habes, idem quod Fideicommissarius.
 Legatus fiduciarium optinet operam, a tennant of a pynce hath great authoritie, but yet so that he must leaue it, whan his sounderaigne commaundeth.
 Philippus Corinthum Nabidi, tanquam fiduciarium dedit, Philyp deliuered Corinthes to Nabid, vpon condition that yf he returned, he should restore it to hym agayne, otherwyse to hepe still the possession therof.
 Fiduciaria participatio, aut venditio, a state in landes made vppon confidence o: truste, vpon condition that it may bee redeemed and restored agayne, mortgage.
 Fiduciaria possessio, a possession to an other mans vse, o: vpon condition.
 Fides, a, um, truste, faithfullnes, sure, trewe hered.
 Figlina, æ, f. g. a potters warkehouse, o: pots
 ters craft.
 Figlinum, i, n. g. a thyng made of earth.
 Figulus, a, um, that belongeth to a potter.
 Figlina creta, potters clate.
 Figmentum, n, n. g. the woorkes o: workemans
 Opp. sometymes a lye, o: a thyng feygued, a forged tale.
 Figo, xi, gere, to thynke in, to speke in, to write in, to fasten to. Also to hange vp, as one hangeeth a thyng by a walle. Sometyms to dyue o: fasten in the earth. Sometyms to strike, also to plant o: sette.
 Palum humi fixit, he dyue the stake into the ground.
 Ipse feraces figat humo plantas, He maye
 sette in the grounde the fruitful plantes.
 Fingere ceruicis, to hunte deere with bowes.
 Fingere legem, to sette an acte of parliament or ordinance on a walle or poſte , to the intent that all men maie reade it.

 Figure carnes verubus, to ſpeake meate.
 Figure arma, to hedge vp ones armour, and by tranſaction, to be no more carefull for the warre.
 Figure aliquem maledictis, to call ſome ſpreefully againſt one.
 Figure mentem in re aliqua, to ſette ones
 conſideration of mynde on a thyng.
 Oculos figure in aliquo, to looke ſtedfaſtly vpon one, to ſpe one.
 Ocula figure, to hyffe.
 Figure in poſte, to faſten on a poſte.
 Veligia figure, to ſtepps ſurely, that one fall not alſo to ſtop a ſtand ſtil whil one is going.
 Figurarius, i.e. pertaining to a potter.
 Figularis creta, looke figlina creta,
 Figulina, looke figlina.
 Figulus, li. m.g. a potter.
 Figura, x. f.g. a figure. alſo fauour, Mappe, faction, ſometimes a coſſe.
 Noua figura oris, ſuche a fauour of face as you haue not lightly ſeen.
 Species effigura humana, The fauour and Mappe of man.
 Figuratio, onis, a ſourmyng or factionyng, ſome
 tyme an ymaginyng.
 Figuratus, a, um, factioned, fourmed.
 Figureo, aui, are, to make or fourme, to faction.
 ſometimes to ymagine, to geſſe.
 Figureare os pueri, to faction a chyldes pronunciation or ſpeaking.
 Figureare orationem, to garniſhe an oration with figures of eloquence.
 Filarium, threde by threde.
 Filia, x. f.g. a daughter.
 Adultera filia, a baſtarde daughter.
 Collocare filiam, to geue his daughter in marriage.
 Filiaſter, tri, m.g. a ſonne in lawe by an other wyfe, or an other huſbande.
 Filiſtium, ti. n. g. a ferny grounde.
 Filicula, x. f.g. ſerne growyng on trees, called in grecke Polypodion.
 Filiola, x. f.g. a ſmall daughter.
 Filiolus, li. m.g. a ſmall ſonne.
 Filiſtim, a ſunereſe that is nowe called Aſcalon Filius, li, m.g. a ſonne. Filius etiam in brutis, a colte, a whelp, or the yong of any beaſt.
 Filij, ſome tyme dooeth conſeigne both ſonnes and daughters.
 Filius tertius, a newe begun gentylman, or a gentylman of the ſpyde head. After ſome a ydle perſon, of an unknownen bythe.
 Frater filius, a nephew.
 Fortunatus filius, a fortunate perſone, whiche hath proſperous ſucceſſe in all his dooynge.
 Filix, filicis, f.g. ferns.
 Filio, aui, are, to ſpinne or make threde.

Filum, n. n. g. a thredde. Sometimes the perpe-tion of draught of a thying. Sometimes a line.
Filum ducere, to spynne.
Trahere filum in acu, to threde a needle.
Filum orationis, a line of manner of oration.
Fimbria, s. f. g. the lutes of hem of a garment.
Fimbriatus, a. um, that hath a hemme, puffed,
pleat, or wytable.
Fimbria, the name of a Romayn, whiche was verate piousse and feblitious.
Fimicum, n. n. g. a downy hill.
Fimum, a bore, out of the whiche menne doos caste dyce.
Fimus, m. l. dung of cattall of man.
Reddere fimum, to spye.
Fimum, is some tyme red in the neutre gender.
Finalis, le, small or late.
Findo, fidi, findere, to cut, to cleave, to divide.
* Aratro calum findere, a piousse spoken of a thying impossible.
Finditur cor meum, illius hominis ubi sit mentio, When hert buetheth, or it getueth me berte sope, as often as that man is spoken of.
Finditur illic Euphrates, at that place theruer Euphrates is divided.
Fingo, xi. gere, to make, to fowme, to feigne,
to counterfayt, to p. imagine, to disuise.
Finge animos, suppose, or put the case.
Fingere mores alui, to faction one in manneres. Vulum fingere, to make countenance not to be meepe of sorrowfull, where in dede he is mery of sorrowfull.
Facere et fingere. Fingere et formare.
Egera fingere, to make in waie.
Fingere animo or cognitione, to p. imagine or conspue in ones mynde.
Qui ex sua naura ceteros fingerent, whiche doe iudge other by theyr owne natures.
Eum te esse finge, qui ego sum, I magyn the selfe to be as I am.
Voro aliquem fingere, to wythe a man suche
one as we would haue hym.
Fingit causas, he picketh quarelles, or he feineth lettes, excuses, or occasions.
Fingere corpora lingua, with lychnge to faction the bodie of the ponge, as beares and lyons do. Nonne ad senem aliquam fabrica-cam finge? Doth he not go about some wille or crafte to deceyue the olde man?
Fingere fallaciam, idem.
Falli quippiam fingere, to forge or inuente
some vntre sale of lye.
Fauos fingere, to make hony combes.
Fugam fingere, to make as one doo renne of flee a waie. Fingere et fabricare.
Nidum fingere, to make a nette.
Fingere se ad nummum aliorum, to faction ones selfe to the mynde of other of other.
Molus quoq; hominum fingit scelus, The vagracions knowe cause faction the counte-
ff. iii. titulus

tenature of men, and make them look as he listeth hym selfe: or he can counterfeit other mens looks.
Finitio, i. i. r. e. to finish the ende, to accomplish to determine of appoynt. somtyme to define,
to dye.
Finitre vitam inedia, to dye for hunger.
Finitri morbo, to dye of a synchelle.
Laqueo of suspensio finire vitam, to hange ones selfe.
Diem finire, to determine of appoynte a certain date.
Finitur, the impersonall.
Finitis, m. g. the ende, the conclusion. also the intent of purpose, wherunto any other thyng hath relation, or is made of doon for. some-tyme death. also for Fines, the boundes, marches or uttermost borders of any countrey.
Fines, nium, plur. the borders of marches of a countrey, boundes.
Adire finem alicui rei, to make a thyng have an ende.
Finem maledictis fecit, he leaveth rapynge.
Finem sermoni facere, to speake no moze, to holde ones peace.
Orandiam finem facito, intrete me no moze
Implete finem vita, to synchelle his lyfe.
Imponere finem bello, to make an ende of war.
Quem ad finem? To what intents of purpose?
Finitre, determinately, with a certain measure.
Finitimus, a, um, n. g. g. forynng, bordering.
Bellum finitimum, warre amonge borderers or neighbours.
Finitio, omis, f. g. a definition.
Finitor, omis, m. g. a setter of boundes, a bounder of landes.
Finitus, a, um, synchelled, ended.
Finitus, p. r. o. s. u. m. fieri, to be made, to bee, to be synchelled.
Nulla adeo ex re istud fit, nisi ex nimio otio,
This cometh of nothyng elles but of to mu-che idleness.
Ex eare quid fiat, vide, Consider what will followe of come to passe by so dooing.
Fit obuiam cala ei multitudini C. Curio,
By chance C. Curio met with that route.
Hic fit sepe, that happeneth, or cometh to passe oftentimes.
Fit Abysinthum in Arabia, woxmewood growth in Arabia.
Modum fieri non video, I can not see that they use any measure or meane.
Aliquid cibi fieri, some meate shall bee prepared or made ready.
Commodioris fio valetudinis, I waxe better at ease, I begynn to waxe stronge.
Quis in hac re scrupulus? what doubt is
in this matter?

Fient in illum exempla, looke Exemplum.
Mihi non fit verisimile, It seemeth not to me to be likely.
Fieri non potest quin sentiant, it can not bee chosen, but that they must needs perceiue it.
Vbi facitas corpis fieri, when I began to be somewhat weery.
Vbi tantos sumptus sibi cotidianos videbit fieri, when he shall perceiue, that he shall day-ly be at so great costes and charges.
Ita fit verum, So it is poynted to be trewe.
Ne quam in illum vim fieri sinat, Least hym nor suffer any violent hands to be layde on hym.
Quid pecunia fiet? What shall bee doon with the monye? better than Quid de pecunia fiet?
Tanti fit ab alijs, so muche he is esteemed
of other.
Fieri, be it so.
Hoc nisi fit, except this come to passe.
Firmamentum, inis, n. g. that holdeth or fasteneth
a thyng.
Firmamentum, ti, n. g. a suretie of stabilitie, also that whiche is called the grounde of a cause or matter. Also the firmament of heauen visible. Firmamenta, bee somtyme taken for the sturges.
Firmamentum reipublice, the chiefe stape and vpholder of the commune weale.
Firmator, omis, that maketh steadfast, constant,
and sure.
Firmatus, a, um, stablyshed, fortified, made stronge.
Firme, and Firmiter, assuredly, steadfastly, constantly, faithfully, veracely diligently.
Firme respondere, to answer constanly and boldly.
Firmitas, atis, et Firmitudo, dinis, stableness,
constance, surenesse, strength.
Firmitas vinorum, the strength and dura-bleness of wyne.
Firmitudo animi, constance of mynde.
Firmo, ani, are, to assure, to make stable or sure to assure, to satisfie, to make stronge.
Alum firmare, to bynde the bealge, or make one coillue.
Firmare corpora cibo, to strength theyr bodies with meate.
Dorem firmare, to be at a point what he will geue in marriage with his daughter.
Firmare fidem, to perforce or make assurance of promise, also to accorde to a thyng Firmare agrum sepibus, to hedge a felds about.
Firmare cibo vires, lye is made stronge with good meates.
Ei rei firmasti fidem, Thou haste made me believe that thyng the more.
Præsidia firmare, to fortifie garrisons.

Fie

Firmare corpora labore, to harden the bodies with labour.
Pacem firmare, to make peace moze sure and stable.
Vix quicquam firmare ausim, I dare scantly to assure any thyng for a successe.
Iure iurando firmare, to vpholde a thyng with an othe.
Firmus, a, um, stable, constant, well fortified, assured, stronge, in good health, lusty.
Cibus firmus, stronge nouryng meate.
Satis firmo corpore cum esset, when he was stronge, lusty, and in good heath.
Firmæ hæ vereor vt sint nuptiæ, I feare this marriage will not continue longe withoute some breach.
Rumor firmus, a constant rumour.
Potio firma, a portion of dynte that nourysheth muche.
Vina firmissima, strong wines that continue longe.
Firmus ab equitatu, he that hath a stronge hande of horsemen.
Firmum castellum, a citie of Italy.
Fiscalis, le, pertaining to the kynges treasure.
Fiscella, e, f. g. a littell basket of twygges, a cheese fate. Also it is a thyng made with wighes and halters, wherewith cattelle was so molested, that they mought not bite any pong sprynges or buddes of trees.
Fiscella, i, n. g. idem.
Fiscellus, li, a littell hylle in Italye, not farre from Tiber.
Fisciculus, e, f. g. a great sackell, wherewith were put greacefullnes of monye.
Fiscina, e, f. g. a great sackell, also a bagge of sackell to put monye in.
Fiscus, ei, m. g. a bagge, wherewith monye is put also the kynges exchequer, a kynges treasure. Somtyme a panger of oygars used in pyssing of olurce.
Fiscus lineus, a maner of strappes.
Fissilis, le, that maye be cut, fittre, or clouen.
Fissio, omis, a cleaving or chapping.
Fissura, e, f. g. a cut or cleft. also the space be-twene the fyngers of toes.
Fissus, us, and Fissum, li, neu. gen. idem quod fissura.
Fissum ani, the clefts of a man betwene the buttoches.
Fissus, a, um, clouen, chyned.
Fistula, an instrument, wherewith piles of wood be bydden into the ground, called a water pile sledge, & stones in a pavement, called a ramme Fistucatio, omis, f. g. the byrnyng downe of piles, or rammyng downe of bones in paynyng.
Fistucatus, a, um, byuen with a commaundee or rammer.
Fistuco, ani, are, to byrny downe piles into the carthe with a water pile sledge, or to ramme downe stones in paynyng.

Fistula, e, f. g. a pipe, as well to consueyn was-ter as an instrument of musike. also the we-spit of thysse bolle, a rappe of sauret, a dys-case of soye, wherewith cometh of a purified hy-mour, and renneth continually. Somtyme an vnture, by the whiche some falshe sette the byerch.
also that, wherby the apothecaries call commonly Casia fistula.
Fistularior, omis, m. g. a pyper, one that playeth on a flute, or lyke instrument.
Fistulo, ani, are, to be holowe lyke a sponge.
Fistulosus, a, um, full of holes lyke a sponge.
Fistulosa terra, earthe barrenne of nature,
whiche seareth neither to pylage nor pasture.
Fite, the superlatiue of Fio.
Furges, the beastes of Aethiopia, of a browne colour, hauing two paypes on the brest as a man hath: They bee not to myde, but they maye be tamed, not to tame, but they wyll hure those that greue them.
Fucere, olde wyttres used for Fugere.
Fuxula, olde wyttres used for Fubula.
Fixus, a, um, fymz, faste, fixed, constant, sure,
that is not lightly chaunged, cartagne.

F ANTE L.

F Labellifer, a, um, that wherby beareth a fanne.
Flabellum, li, n. g. an instrument, wherewith in the heate of summer, wherewith fanened and blowne into mens visages, to coole theym, a fanne.
Flabilis, le, that maye be blowne, or of the aple.
Flaccidus, a, um, withered, feeble, weake, hanggynge downewarde, lolling or flaggyng.
Flaccide aures, hangynge eares.
Flaccus, a, um, that hath hangynge eares. some tyme byrned.
Flaces, flacium, f. g. plu. nu. the oyses of oysters.
Flagellum, li, n. g. the small branche or twyg of a vine, or other tree. somtyme a whyppe of scurge, a staple, wherewith roynes is chymed.
Flagello, ani, are, to whyppe, to scourge, to chymed, to blame or rebuke.
Flagellare annonam, to bye roynes of byr-cayle ere it come to the markette, as for bailers dooe.
Flagitiose, vngratiously, mischevously, wyre-weddy, detestable, naughtily, vntuall.
Flagitium, ti, n. g. an act of mischeuous dede woorthie rebuke and punishment, an heu-nous offence, a detestable acte, a synfull thyng, a great trespass, an abhominable vice or naughtye faction. Somtyme for Decus, dishonour, dishoor, thyrp. Somtyme a notable reuerce. also perille.
Flagitium tuum est, it is by thys vngratia ouertake, or chymed thy desaire.
F. l. l. l. Nam

Nam id nobis tam flagitium est, quam illa non facere vobis, quæ modo dixi, for that to be as great a fault, as it is in you, not to do those things that ye speake of euen now Flagitio ardere, to bee conuicted of a greaue offence.

Non patitur me tuis flagitijs infamem fieri, I will not suffer my selfe to come in the slander and obloquie of men thorough thyne abominable vices and naughtie factiōs.

Compertus flagitijs, one conuicted of some detestable vice.

Flagitum facinus, we goe aboute an heinous offence.

Flagitum est, it is ill dooen.

Flagitiosus, a, um, vngracious, full of mischief.

Flagitio, au, are, to aske importunately, and with clamour, also to accuse.

Flagitare pluriquam postulare, beseeche more than to request.

Flagitare aliquem, to despye of one instantly.

Flagras me vti equar, you are verie instant on me, that I should vnder it.

Vt periculosem flagrantissim, he commaunded him to be accused as a robber of the common weale.

Idem flagrat, he despyeth that thyng of me importunately.

Flagrantissimum ab Heduis, he cracked come of grape of the people called Hedui.

Flagrantior, m. g. he that instantly despyeth another.

Flagrantius suscepi negotium, at thy instant request I took on me the busynesse.

Flagrantissimus, m. g. burning, flaming, verie ardent, burning bright.

Flagrantius, verie ardentely.

Flagrantissimus, b. g. flaming or burning, bright, burning, ardent desire.

Flagrantissimus, each which for monie doo suffer them selves to be beate.

Flagrantissimus, a flame used to be beaten.

Flagrantissimus, to burne with a flame of fire.

Flagrantissimus, to burne with a flame of fire.

Flagrantissimus, to bee very ill reported of.

Flagrantissimus, to bee in greaue necessitie or pouertie.

Flagrantissimus, to be exceedingly hated.

Flagrantissimus, to be outrageously grieved to the despye of spithy pleasure.

Flagrantissimus, to bee woodde of starke madde.

Flagrantissimus, of ardore alicuius rei, to be a thyng importunately. Lyke wyse Flagrantissimus, to bee very ill reported of.

Flagrantissimus, to bee woodde of starke madde.

Flagrantissimus, to bee exceedingly grieved to the despye of spithy pleasure.

Flagrantissimus, to bee woodde of starke madde.

Flagrantissimus, to bee exceedingly grieved to the despye of spithy pleasure.

Quibz and learning.

Flagrum, gri, neu. gen. a whyppe, a rodde, or scourge.

Flamatica, a tree bourned with lightnyng.

Flamea, clothe of silke of peolowe colour.

Flamen, minis, n. g. a blasie of wynde, the blasie in an instrument.

Flamen, minis, m. g. the greaue pylet amonge the gentiles.

Flameum, mei, n. g. a veyle of tippet of peolowe, whiche women dyd weare, whan they were new married.

Flaminia, a countesse in Italy, called also Aemilia, and commonly Romandiola, in the whiche are the cities of Bononia, Fauentia, Imola, Rauenna, and Ariminum.

Flaminia via, an hyghe waye frome the citee of Rome vnto the citee of Ariminum.

Flaminia, the house of the archepyscop.

Flaminica, the wyfe of the greaue pylet called Flamen, whiche myght not be diuorced from hir husbnde for any cause, also a wedding gowne, whiche was of peolow colour.

Flaminium, or Flaminia, orum, the office of the archepyscop.

Flaminus, the name of dyuers Romaynes, of whiche one beyng Consul, was ouerthrowen by Anniball at Trasymenus.

Flamma, f. g. a flame. Some tyme perill, some tyme loue.

Flamma fumo proxima est, ther is no smoke without fyre.

Flamma concidit, the flame ceased.

Concipere flammam, and Corripere flammam, to bouene, to be on a lyght fyre.

Incidit in ipsam flammam ciuili discordijs, I chaunced on the verie rage of moke perillous tyme of the ciuile warres.

Eripuit se de flamma iudicij, He rybde hym selfe out of the perill of that iudgement.

Flamea, f. g. an herbe called also Lychinis coronaria, of the frenchemen Candelaria.

Flammicolum, li, n. g. a litle veyle of tippet.

Flammeolus, a, um, somewhat coloured lyke a flame of fyre.

Flammearius, ri, m. g. he that maketh or dyeth the veyles called Flamea, a dyer of peolowe colour.

Flamescere, to be inflamed.

Flammeus, a, um, burning or flaming, that is of the colour of a flame of fyre.

Flammifer, a, um, that byngeth or causeth fyre or burning.

Flammigena, x, comen of fyre.

Flammiger, idem.

Flammigero, au, are, to burne in a lyght fyre, to cast out flames.

Flammivomus, a, um, sendyng out flames.

Flammula, x, f. gen. a litle flame. also a certayne herbe.

Flamo

Flandria, a countrey called Flaunders.

Flator, oris, one that bloweth.

Flatus, us, m. g. a puffe or blast of wynde.

Flauco, flauus, uere, to be lyke golde or of peolowe colour.

Flauisco, idem.

Flauinum, a place in Italy.

Flauus, the name of a family in Rome of the whiche was Vespasianus, Titus, and Domitian.

Flauus, a, um, peolowe or of the colour of golde.

Flebilis, le, lamentable.

Flebiliter, lamentablye.

Flecto, xi, etere, to bowe, to bende, to leade, to toune.

Inuictum flectere, to bowe contrary wales Inde Capuam flectit iter, he turned his tourney from thens to Capua.

Flectere animum, to attende, and sette the mynde on a thyng. Also to tourne the mynde from any purpose.

Flectere genu, to make curtsy, to make a legge.

Flectere aliquem oratione, to perswade or tourne one to his opinion.

Flegma, looke Phlegma.

Flegmen, inis, neu. g. is where with much goyng the blood issueth out of the roes.

Fleo, fleui, here, to weepe.

Fleui, us, m. g. weeping.

Abstergere lacum, to wype the eyes whan one weepeth.

Fletum clere, exicare, mouere, to make one weepe.

Prosequi natos fletu, to weepe and lamente the deathe of ones chyldren.

Fletus, a, um, lamented, bewayled.

Fleo, one of the mouthes of the riuer of Rine.

Also a towne by the same ryuer.

Flexanimus, a, um, that tourneth the mynde.

Flexanima oratio, an oracion of speche, wher by a mans mynde is stered to pitee, reioysyng or other lyke affection.

Flexibilis, le, and Flexilis, le, any thyng that maye be easly bowed, or bent. Also vnconstant, mutable.

Flexiliquus, a, um, that speaketh thynges doubtful and obscure.

Flexipes, edis, that hath crooked feete.

Flexumines, certayne swisse boyssmen amonge the Romans.

Flexio, onis, a bending, bowyng or crooking.

Also the tunyng of the voyce vp and downe.

Flexuosus, crookedly, wyndyng in and out.

Flexuosus, a, um, that is crooked, or hath many couerpynges and wyndynges in and out.

Flexura, x, f. g. a crookyng or bowyng.

Flexus, us, m. g. a bowyng, a tournyng, the chaungyng of tunyng of the voyce in pronunciation.

ff f b

Flexus sonus, a rebowdyng of a sowne.

Flexus ætatis, the declining of the age in the later parte of the lyfe.

Flexus Autumni, the later part of Autumne.

Flexus, a, um, bowed, bended, tourned, cresped, curled.

Flictus, us, m. g. a stryking or bastyng against a thyng.

Fligo, xi, clum, ere, to tourmente or vex, to strepe or bathe against a thyng.

Flo, au, are, to blowe, also to make coyne of metall.

Simul flare et forbere, a prouerbe signifying to dooe two contrary thynges together.

Floccifacio, feci, facere, to sette naught by.

Illum non floccifacio, I sette not a drawe, rushe or heare by hym.

Flocci non feci fidem, he nothyng esteemed his credite or honestie.

Flocculus, li, m. g. a fyne flocke.

Floccipedo, endi, ere, idem quod Floccifacio.

Floccus, i, m. g. a flocke of the shearing of wolsten clothe.

Floccum facere, idem quod Floccifacere.

Flores, ipse or dyastes of wyne.

Flora, an harlot taken of the Romanes for a goddesse.

Floralia, orum, n. g. plu. the feastes of the gods ofesse Flora.

Floralis, le, perteynyng to Flora.

Florales ludi, playes made in the honoꝝ of Florathe harlot, whiche gaue a great treasure vnto the people of Rome.

Florens, emis, onis, g. flouryng, excellent, beautifull, in great estimation.

Aerate florentes ambo, bothe of them in the floure of theyr age.

Afflicus et florens, contrary.

Florente Antonio, whyle Antonie flourished, or was in estimation of authoritie.

Florentia, a citee in Italye called Florence.

Floreo, ui, ere, to flourish or to haue floures.

Also to excell, some tyme to prosper, to be renowned, to bee in great authoritie or estimation.

Florere et vigere.

Omni genere virtutis floruit Pericles, Pericles excelled in all kynde of vertue.

Florere laude bellica, to be greatly renowned for cheualrie, or martiall prowes.

Florere ætate, et forma, to be in the floure of ones age and beautie.

Florere autoritate et gloria, to be in great authoritie and reputation.

Florisco, scire, to burgee, to byngie forth the floures, to growe, to increase.

Florens, a, um, made of floures.

Floridulus, a, um, a litle flouryng, some what beautifull.

Floridus, a, um, garnished with floures, some tyme

F. ANTE O.

Focus

Fædus fauour.
Fædus, aus, are, to polate oꝝ despoile, to despoyle,
 to rente oꝝ teare, to consume.
Ora vnquibus fædandis, scatching oꝝ renting ones face with his raples.
Fædus, erit, neuq;, a treatie of peace oꝝ league betwene prince, an entercourse, a trufe after battaile. sometyme to signifysh a lawe made in the tyme of warres. Also alliance betwene frendes.
Fædus facere, sanctre, ferire, inire, icere, to make a league oꝝ alliance.
Pœnam fœderibus ascribere, to appoynt a penaltie foꝝ them that bꝛeake leaguos.
Cauere fœdere de re aliqua, in confyrmyng a league to make an expection oꝝ caution of
 any thyng.
Coire in fœdus, to alle, to become federates.
Fædus frāgere, violare, rumpere, to bꝛeake
 a league, contrap to, in fide manere.
Fædus, a, um, foule, deformed, carfed, oꝝ cruel,
 yll fauoured, lothesome to looke on, spithy,
 ynholnest, abhominable, detestable.
Fædum exemplum, a byle and naughtie exaample.
Fædum in modum laceratus verberibus, scorged oꝝ beaten, that it wolde tothe a man to see it.
Fædus odor, a poppon stronge sauour.
Fædissima tempestas, a verry great oꝝ foule
 stoyrme oꝝ tempeste.
Facinus fœdum, a shamefull oꝝ abhomināble acte, a cruell deed.
Bellum fœdissimum, a verrye cruell warre,
 wherin is shewed no mercie noꝝ pitie.
Fælicitas, atis, f. g. felicitie, prosperitee, abound-daunce of all thynges.
Fælicitas terræ, the fruitfulnessse of the earth.
Fæliciter, happilite, fortunarely.
Fælicito, aus, are, to make prosperous, happy,
 oꝝ fortunat.
Fælix, icis, om. g. haupng abundance of all thynges, prosperous, happy, commodious, oꝝ profittable. Also fatte, fruitfull, plenet-full, abundant, fertile, sometyme pꝛopise, fauonrable oꝝ good.
Fæmina, looke Femen.
Fæmina, x. f. g. a woman, also in beastes, the female.
Fæminus, a, um, of a woman, oꝝ of the female kynd. Fæminus amor, inordinate oꝝ immoderate loue.
Fæminus, a, um, of the female kynde.
Fænaris, a, um, pertynyng, to haue.
Falces fænarie, hookes oꝝ spithes foꝝ to cutte haue.
Fænebris, bre, pertynyng to blurs, oꝝ vnræsonable garme.
Fænebres leges, lawes made agaynst blurs.
Fæneralia, orum, the date of paiement of the money.

F A N T A S Y

money lent to vsurie.
Fœneratorius, oris, vsurie, oꝝ the seate oꝝ practice of vsurie.
Fœneratius, a, um, that is lent oꝝ taken to vsurie, oꝝ that pꝛetpꝛneth to vsurie.
Fœnerator, oris, m. g. an vsurere, oꝝ lender foꝝ vnreasonable gayne.
Fœneratorius, a, ſi, idem quod Fœneratius.
Fœneratus, a, um, pꝛetpꝛnynge to vsurie.
Fœneratium utum beneficium tibi pulchre dices, thou shalt saie thy selfe that thou hast bene well recompensyd, oꝝ that thou hast had good advantage by shewynge this benefice oꝝ pleasure.
Fœnero, ani, are, the actiue, whereof cometh Fœneror the passiue, being construed with a passive case, and sometime with an accusatiue case, signifieth to lende out to vsurie.
Fœneror, anis, ari, the deponente, with an ablatiue case and a preposicion, to borrowe oꝝ take money lent to vsurie, with a passive case to lende out to vsurie.
Fœnerat sol lumen suum cæteris syderibus, the soone partly oꝝ lendereth out his light to other planetes.
Fœnerari ab aliquo, to borrowe money of a man to vsurie.
Fœnerari aliquid alicui, to lende out a thyng to vsurie.
Fœrnicularium, ri, neu. g. after some interpreters. A place where an arme doeth lie.
Fœrniculum, li, n. g. Fœnell.
Fœrnile, lis, n. g. an hape house, an hape losse, a place whiche hape lyeth.
Fœrnica, æ, com. g. a mower of hage.
Fœrnicaum, i, n. g. hape harueller.
Fœrnice, fectis, com. g. a mower of hage.
Fœrnium græcam, fengræke.
Fœrnium m, n. g. hape.
Fœrnaculum, i, n. g. gayne by lendynge.
Fœrnus, anis, n. g. fruite, whiche the enche bynys geth thoutte without any labour. Also vnreasonable and vnmensurable gayne compynge of that thyng whiche is lent, vsurie.
Credere fœrnus argenti, and dare fœrnor pecuniam, to lende out money to vsurie.
Fœrnore accipere, to borrow money by vsury.
Quam quinquagesimo fœrnore reddi fecimus soli, the fruitfulnessse of the grounds yeldeth ffruite foꝝ one.
Fœnu, a, æ, looke Fœnuca.
Fœno, ani ere, to stynke, to sauour ill.
Fœrnus, anis, f. g. a thynke oꝝ ill sauour.
Fœrnus, a, um stynnyng.
Fœrnites, a, um, fruitefull.
Fœrnico, ani are, to byng sooth, moste comonly as a beaste oꝝ birde doeth.
Fœrnificus, a, um, that maketh fruitefull.
Fœrto, ani are, the same.
Fœtor, oris, m. g. vntynche, oꝝ ill sauour.

F. CANTRE L.

Fertuosus, a, um, full of byrnyng.
Fertura, x, f. g. the tyme frome the conception unto the bythe. Also the encrease of cattell :
 sometime it signifyeth encrease of compnyng spoote of other thynges : sometime the settyng soothe of a wyche.
Fetus, m, g. all thyng that is brought forth in generation : as, of man, beest, fyre, soule, or other thyng : sometime the fruite of trees.
 Also the prospeere of gayne that cometh of a thyng. Sometime for Fertura, the tyme of byrnyng soothe.
Fetus arborum decerpere, to gather the frutes of trees.
Fetus oratorum, greates plentie of encrease of oratours.
Fetus, a, um, full of great with younge, as a woman with childe, or a beaste.
Canis facta, a bytche with whelpes.
Foeta, also that is deliuered of younge.
Foeta loca, id est plena.
Foeta ouis, an ewe that hath younge.
Foliaceus, a, um, of oyle like leaues.
Foliarum, ti, ne. g. a pleasaunt ornament, that the matrons of Rome dyd vse.
Foliatas, a, um, leaued, or hauing leaues.
Foliosus, a, um, full of leaues.
Folium, ij, n. g. a leaiffe.
Amittere folia, when the leaues fall.
Follico, au, are, to fustle or scerche backe wynde with the nostrilles.
Folliculare, ris, a parte of an eye.
Folliculus, li, m. g. the huske, wherein the eares of wheate or other coyne is enclosed, when it is greene, called the huse. Also a sache, where in coyne is put : sometime a ball stuffed with wynde. Sometime it is taken for the bobbe of a man.
Follis, is, m. g. a bagge or purse, of any thyng made of leather to be fylled : a bellowe, where with the fyre is blowne : also a ball blowne full of wynde. Semblably, a hedde stuffed onely with wynde.
Follis fabrilis, a smithes bellowe.
Follitus, a, um, that is covered or wrapped in leather.
Fomentatio, onis, idem quod Fomentum.
Fomentum, i, n. g. a nourishment of naturall heate. It is also any thyng layed to the bobbe in the fouere of a plasher, to misse gate the griefe of payne of any disease, called Fomentatio. And by translocation applied to the mynd : a thyng that asswageth or misse gateth sorowe or heauynesse.
Fomes, iis, m. g. a ship, of any matter, where with fyre is kindled and kepte burnynge.
 Sometime it signifyeth that whiche feruently
 seereth be to dooe a thyng.
Fons, onis, m. g. a fountaine or well, the begynnynge of pryncipall cause of a thyng.

F ANTE O

Caput fons, the head and springpall.
Origines fontium, well springes.
Ex eodem fonte hic omnia fluxere, al these thynges had one begynnyng.
Oritur fons, the well springeth.
Fons solis, a fountaine in Cyrenatica, whiche is in the daye time so colde and in the nyght hote.
Fontalis, i.e. idem quod Fontanus.
Fontanus, a, um, of a fountaine.
Aqua fontana, well water.
Fontica, a byrgyn well.
Fonticulus, i, m. g. a litle well of springe.
Forago, a shaype of parne.
Foramen, inis, n. g. an hole.
Foras, out of doores.
Exire foras ex iudibus, to go forth out of the house. Foras locare agellum, to leat forth a litle piece of grounde to a stranger.
Quo foras vocatus est ad cenam? whether is he byd forth to supper.
Proferre foras aliquid, to byng forth a thyng.
Ne hinc foras ambulet, that he shoulde not walke abyode any whether.
Foratia, a markette woman whiche selleth eggs, geese, chickens, and other lyke thynges at the markette.
Foratus, us, an hole.
Forbeca, a, f. g. all maner of meates, fooode.
Forceps, ipis, m. et f. g. a payre of tongues of other lyke instrument. Also the claws of a crabbe or crabbe.
Forcus, a pyppys name of a man.
Forda, a, f. g. a myche cowe that bynggeth foote the caules.
Fore, to be here after.
Non putavi fore, I neuer thought it wolde come to passe.
Cito fore, to be ere it belonge.
Te ad me fore venturum spero, I hope that you will come to me.
Scio ita fore, I knowe it wyl be so.
Forem, res, ret, I shoulde of myght bee, thou wouldest of myght be, he shoulde of myght be.
Forensis, se, perteynyng to places of iudgement of courtse, wherein lawes be exercepsed.
Also a furrowe.
Forentia vestimenta, habittes of robes worn onely in places of iudgement.
Fores, doores, looke foris.
Forex, forficis, f. g. sheeres.
Forficula, a, f. g. litle sheeres, scissors, a forked claw of any beeste.
Fori, forum, m. g. plur. the hatches of a wypp of place, where men byerpe in the wypp walke by and downe. Also stages or gales etes, frome whens the noble men of Rome, behele the playes called Circenses. Also for epwes in a freylong and narrowe.
Foria, orum, n. g. plur. doing that is leatide

F. ANTE O.

oꝝ thyngne.
Forica, a, f. g. a common draught oꝝ take.
Foricula, a, f. g. a little doore, haiche, oꝝ flap
 oꝝ a wyndowe.
Forinfecus, without.
Forio, lu, tre. to dyschewe the bealy oꝝ dysure
Foriolus, li, m. g. he that hath a lastie.
Foriculus, a god amonge the Ircinians.
Foris, without, oꝝ from without.
Foris occludere fores, to shutte oꝝ locke the doore on the out syde.
Foris est animus, my mynde is abrode.
Foris sapere, to be wyse in other mens matters. Foris est, he is abrode, he is from home.
Foris, is, f. g. a doore oꝝ gate.
Forem obdere, to bolte the doore.
Fores aperire, to open a waie, oꝝ make an entaunce to a thyng, to geue an occasion.
Fores amicitia aperire, to begynne frendes-ship, to geue the fyrst occasion of frendship.
Referre fores, to vniioke a doore.
Forma, a, t. g. fauour, forme oꝝ shape, some-tyme beautie, faction, mance. Also for Species, a kynde, as iudice in respecce of vertue, sometime a lawe oꝝ rule. Also a paterne, a plover of an houle, oꝝ other thyng, sometime a chesse batte.
Forma flara, a meane fauour oꝝ beautie, netheer excedyng fayre nor excedyng soule.
Forma vxoria, idem.
Tædet harum quotidianarum formarum; I am werte of these whych be commonlp called fayre women among vs.
Acepit formam avari, It was made lyke a plogher.
Formalis, le, formall.
Formator, oris, he that facioneth, instructeth oꝝ maketh.
Formatura, ra, f. g. a facionyng of a thyng.
Formatus, a, um, facioned, made.
Formia, a towne in Campania.
Formica, a, f. g. an smet, ant, oꝝ psimere.
Formicans, antis, that mouth lyke the goyng of psimere.
Pulsus formicans, the pulse strykyng softe-ly as it were antes creppyn vnder ones hande.
Formicatio, onis, f. g. that which is commonly called a tynge wyne.
Formicinus, a, um, that pertyneth to antes.
Formicosus, a, um, full of antes.
Formidabilis, le, that whiche is to be drede.
Formidatio, onis, fearyng oꝝ dreadyng.
Formidatus, a, um, feared oꝝ drede.
Formido, inis, dreade oꝝ feare.
Plehus formidinis homo, a verate fearefull person.
Formido, aul, arc, to haue great feare.
Formido mihi, I feare that I shall haue some thynge.
Formidat arro, he is a frayde lesse his myght.

Must be taken from hym.

Formido illum, I feare lest he wyll hurt me.

Formidolose, fearefull.

Formidolus, a, um, actusly, that feareth other, dreadfull, terrible, passively, that is afraid of other, falsehered fearefull.

Num formidolus (obsecro) es? art thou fearefull of taise heret? or doest thyn here fayle the man I praye the?

Athena virtus, illis semper formidolosa, the vertue of other is to them alwaie dreadfull or terrible.

Bellum formidolosissimum, a verale terrible warre.

Formio, a, eger of Itria, called commonly Cefano.

Formo, au, are, to forme, to facion, to make in facion.

Formare carmen, epistolam, orationem as heno ingenio, to make a verse, an epistle, or oration by an other mans helpe.

In tuos mores formare, to make one in conditions lyke to hym selfe.

Formare in alius mores, to endeuour to belyke an other man in conditions.

Invenire in formare, to instructe and facion pouthe to any thyng.

Formolus, aus, f. g. well fauourednesse, comes lynelle.

Formosus, a, um, fapre, well fauoured.

Formula, a, f. g. an instrument of dede in wytnyng. A thyle in wytyng and a fourme in pleading. A rule of facion.

Formula iuramentum, an action of trespassse.

Formula cognominis, the manner of an examination.

Formula excidere, to be barred of his actio.

Formula intendere, to byng an action.

Formosus, r, m. g. a practitioner of the lawe.

Formosus, oram, n. g. plur. baten dedicated to bakynge of bycabe.

Formaculus, n, m. g. a baker.

Formaceus, a, um, made lyke a founaine of ouen

Formacula, a, f. g. a little ouen.

Formax, acis, f. m. gen. a chymney ouen, a fournalle.

Formax calcaria, a lyne hytle.

Formax lateraria, a bytche hytle.

Formicarius, m, m. g. he that hath a flatto booth under the vaultes of arches of churches or palaces, where they sell theyr wares to them that passe by. As they do in Westminster halles.

Formicarius, a, um, perterpyng to lereby.

Formicario, onis, a vaultynge of mayngs of a vault of archeruffe.

Formicator, oris, m. g. a lechouse

Formicatus, a, um, made lyke an arch.

Forabius, ic, that maie bee perced of boied thoynowe.

Fornico, au, are, to make an arche of a bank.

Fornicor, aris, ar, to committe fornication.

Fornix, icis, m. g. an arche of a vault. sometimes a newes of bythelle house.

Fornices, were also houses in Rome made in the memoire of any noble victorie, or triumph

Foro, au, are, to pesty or boie an hole.

Forpices, spsare to clippe heare.

Fors, o, fors, a forte, fortune, sometime it is be-sed for Forsan, peradventure.

Fors fortuna, good fortune or chaunce.

Fors suat, god sende the good fortune, god
spede the well.

Fors viderit, I leaue that to fortune.

Mala fors, ill fortune.

Fortitan, et forsan, peradventure.

Fortasse, fortassis, idem.

Forté, by chaunce, as happe was, as it for-tuned, peradventure.

Forté fortuna, by good aduventure.

Fortesco, scere, to waxe of be stronge.

Forticulus, a, um, a little stronge. somewhat hardie.

Fortifico, au, are, to fortifie or make stronge.

Fortis, e, stronge, puissant, valiant of courage, constant. Also fapre, sometime faphe.

Fortis et ignauus, contrary.

Fortis familia, a faphe and substantiaill familie.

Fortis equus, a couragelous and swift hofse

Fortia facta, valiant dedes.

Forté ac vehemens dicendi genus, a wrythte and vehement manner of stile of oracion.

Fortes fortuna iuuat, fortune fortherethe bold aduenterers.

Fortis et magnus animus, a valiant and noble courage.

Fortiter, strongly, valiantly, manfully, constantly, mightily.

Fortitudo, inis, f. g. strengthe, valiant courage

Fortitudo, by chaunce, at aduventure.

Fortuitu, idem.

Fortuitus, a, um, that happeneth by chaunce.

Diuinum et fortuitum, contrary.

Subita et fortuita oratio, speaking without meditation of studie.

Fortuitus euentus, a chaunce of fortune.

Fortuna, a, f. g. fortune.

Afflicta fortuna, aduersitee.

Integra fortuna, prosperitee.

Fortuna, a, o, fortuna, arum, goodnes, good fortune, aduancement, estate, condition.

Committre se fortunæ, to obye the aduenture of fortune, to aduventure.

Fortunæ filius, looke Filius.

Amplicius fortunæ, of eght byghe estate or degree.

Possessiones et fortunæ.

Conditio, et fortuna.

Infima fortuna homines, men of moste vyle
and

and bafe condition.

Fortunis omnibus euertere, to thynke one out of all that euer he hath.

Fortunator fortuna, a better chance, a myre turke fortune.

Fortunare insula, the fortunate ples whiche were in the great Ocean sea, and of whiche are named to be. vi. of Solinus. iii. of Pto-lome. ii. whiche he calleth also the ples of god-des, so called for the hostomynesse of the ayre, and wyndes blowing there. Also the plenis of good fruites and fertillitee of the grounder
it is nowe thought of some men to be those ptes whiche are nowe called Canaria, distant from Spaine, towards the weste. 1200. my-les, after the counte of Petrus Martyr. of these ples are fownden to be. vii. in numbre. First about the pere of our lorde. 1405. a frenche man called Beranbo, at the commandement of Latharine, then quene of Castell, founde two of them, and called the one Lanzerote, and the other Forte-ventum.

Soons after one Fernandus Peraria, and his wyfe founde other two, and called the one Ferreum, and the other Gomeram. After that the great Canaria was founde by Petrus de vera, and Michasell de Mexica. last of all by the commaundement of Fernando, and Elisabeth late kyng & quene of Spaine,

Teneriphe and Palma, were founde by Al-phonfus Lugo. So that nowe all the. vii. p-les bee vnder the domination of the kyng of Spaine. Not withstanding some dooe suppose that these bee not the ples whiche were called Fortunæ, but rather those whiche are moze in the southe, and are called now of the Portugales, Insula capitis viridis.

Fortunate, happily, fortunately, prosperously.

Fortunatum, idem quod Fortunat.

Fortunatus, a, um, luckie, happye.

Fortuno, au, are, to make prosperous, to augment with good fortune.

Forula, a, wickette.

Forule, a citie of Italle.

Forull, orum, m. g. plur. luches where in booke were happe, nowe they be taken for heurynges of booke.

Forum, i, neu. g. a market, where thynges bee solde. Also a place where iudgements are practised, and matters in lawe pleaded.

Forum agere, to spe in iudgement, to heare and determine causes.

Foro vii, to heare according to the tyme, to take the tyme while it leueth.

Forum Liui, a citie of Italle called Forli.

Fora, vestelles used in pleading wrything.

Forum, when it is taken for a market, hath commonly an other wyde copied name whiche as Forum boarium, the markette where they sell in solde.

Forum blitiorum, the markette where they sell in solde.

Forum piscarium, the fische markette.

Fori Corneli, a towne in Italy called Tivoli.

Forum Liui, a region of countrey of Italle, whiche was sometime called lapidia, nowe
it is called Frijoli.

Forum Claudii, Tarentasia in Italle.

Fossa, a, f. g. a dyche, or dyke, or a mote.

Vallo et fossa munire castra, to cast a trefche and dyche aboute a campe.

Fossa mariana, a citie in the prouince of Narbone called Aigues mortes.

Fossa Papyrianæ, a citie in Italle called Foss-to nouum.

Fossatum, f, n. g. a dyche or mote.

Fossilis, ic, that whiche is or maye be digged.

Fossio, onis, a digging or deluyng.

Fossilius, a, um, that is digged.

Fossor, oris, m. g. a dygger, or dycher.

Fossula, ic, f. g. a little dyche.

Fossium Sempronii, a towne in Italle called Fossibourne. Also Faucia.

Fossura, a, f. g. a digging.

Fotus, us, m. g. nouryng, hepyng warme and in naturall heate.

Fotus, a, um, nourished, cheeryed, kept warme

Fouca, a, f. g. a denne.

Fouco, ui, ere, to nourish, to susteine, to mainteyne, to kepe warme, to cherpye, to weare or waxe a thyng, to ordeine or fer, to balence.

Fouere aliquem, to kepe one his frende, or to fauour or make muche of one.

Fouere in pectore, to thynke pryncipally.

Fouere oua, to hepe warme egges, as fowles doe sytting on byoode.

Fouere amorem, to nourish and mainteine
loue. Castra fouere, idest iueri.

Fouebam dolores meos, I dydde nourish and mainteine my sorowes and heauynesse.

Fouere iudicium quod de vobis habet, mainteine and increase the good opinion that he hath of you.

Fouere aliquam, to embzate a woman.

Fouere vulnus aqua, to washe a wounde with water, to styne the bleeding.

Fouere os multa aqua frigida, to washe the mouthe with muche colde water.

Fraco, au, ere, to pultisse for age.

Fractio, ic, idem.

Fractio, ic, idem.

Fractus, a, um, moze than ripe, cotten and faine.

Fractura, a, f. g. a breaking or byngg.

Fractus, a, um, broken, byngg each.

Fractio animi et dimissio, the courage faine with hym, his herie feylyte, he fowryth.

Fractio

Fracta res, thyngs spent of losse.
 Fractibello, wearte of waters.
 Fracta pronuntiatio, an effeminate womanly and nyce pronuntiacion.
 Fraternus, a, um, that is bydeled of restreyned of his wyll.
 Fraterigerus, a, um, that ruleth the bypble.
 Aliternigera, the wyage of hoyle man.
 Frango, au, are, to bypble, to restreigne to stop.
 Voluptates signare, to maister the wanton appetites of pleasures.
 Frangere populum, to kepe vnder a suburne and frowarde people.
 Figulum, n, m, g, a bypble.
 Frenum, morbus est cum glans penis ita connecta est venudati non possit.
 Franos adhibere, to restreigne.
 Franos injicere alicui, to let one of his pleasure, to byde him that woulde not be ruled.
 Frenum mordere, to take the bytte in the tethre, significeth, to sette naught by.
 Accipere frenum, by a metaphore to submitte, and become subject.
 Compescere animum frans, to bypble the mynde.
 Da frenum, let hym have the bypble at will, geue hym the head, leas hym doe as he list.
 Ducere frenum, contrary.
 Eger frans, he hath nede to be restreigned.
 Fraga, orum, neu, g, plur. strawe berres, the herbe is called, Fragina.
 Frago, gere, et Frageco, scere, to byalle.
 Fragilis, le, fragile, byackis, soone byolien.
 Fragile et caducum.
 Fragilis, au, au, f, g, fragile, byoubleuette, the continuance.
 Fragilis, weakely, inconsistantly, byoukely.
 Fragiles, the two great veynes whiche doe appere on either syde of the necke.
 Fragmentum, au, et Fragmentum, ti, n, g, a plesce or bybble of a thyng byoken, a fragment.
 Frigor, onis, m, g, the noyse that is made at the falling or byuyllyng of any great thyng.
 Frigidus, a, um, vneasy so clime, rough, warpe.
 Frigola oratio, et Lenis oratio, contrary.
 Fragrans, au, au, m, g, haungng great of soote sauoure.
 Fragrania, a, f, g, a great sauoure.
 Fragro, au, are, to geue a plesant sauoure.
 Framen, a, f, g, a spere of tautyn.
 Francoes, people of Germania.
 Frango, egi, ere, to byeake, to discourage, to bynquish, to maister, to tame, & kepe vnder.
 Frangere animum, to discourage.
 Audaciam hostis frangere, to abate his enemyes courage.
 Frangere auctoritatem veteris disciplinæ, to byeake of the olde rule of laudable customs.
 Fidem frangere, to byeake promysse of appoyntement.

Frangere hominem, to cause one to elete from his purpose, to make him to agree to the requeste.
 Opes inimicorum frangere, to impose on his enemies.
 Sententiam alicuius frangere, to confute his opinion and make it of no value.
 Frangi, not to abyde patiently aduersity for rowe of trouble.
 Frangi dolore, to be in extreme sorowe, or almost deade for sorowe or griefe.
 Frangi metu, to be almost deade for feare.
 Frangi pudore, to be exceedingly ashamed, to be out of countenance.
 Frangere in micas, to byeake small, to crumble.
 Fregit nauem, he had a shypwache.
 Cupiditates frangere, to maister ones wanton appetites.
 Frangere et domare nationes, to bynquish and kepe vnder nations.
 Patientia aliquem frangere, to overcome one with patience.
 Frangere molis, to geuide.
 Frangere consilia alicuius, to stop ones purposes, to let that one goeth about.
 Frangere, a decepuour.
 Frater, tris, m, g, a brother.
 Frater patreolis, a byotheres sounne, a collyng germane.
 Fratres gemini, two twynnes.
 Fratrui mei gnatus, my nephewe.
 Fraterculus, li, m, g, a little of young byother.
 Fraternalis, byotherly.
 Fraternitas, au, byotherheade.
 Fraternalis, a, um, of a byother.
 Frastilli, the fringes of tapestrie that hangen next the grounde.
 Fratro, au, are, properly to sale of chyldren byestes, whan they do grow & were imbeused.
 Fratres Aruales, rebe before in Aruales.
 Fratria, a, f, g, a byotheres wyfe.
 Fratricida, a, f, g, he that hath slayne his byother.
 Fratrucles, byotheres chyldren, collyn germanes.
 Fraudatio, onis, a deceuyng or beggyn.
 Fraudator, onis, m, g, a decepuour.
 Fraudatus, a, um, deceyued or begged.
 Fraudo, au, are, to deceyue bytly by taking awate that is due, to dissapoynt.
 Fraudare aliquem suo testimonio, where one holdeth his peace, whan his friends are spoken of, and will not sale well of hym.
 Fraudare gemum, not to sacrifice the nettell see of nature or carnall appetite.
 Fraudare se victu suo, to fare hardily by algarde byp, to withholde part of his owne thyng and sustenance.
 Fraudare stipendium, to receyue of paye or wate wages from men.
 Fraudare, et Fallere.

Vado

Vadimonium allicui deferere, et eum dare, to dissapoynt one and not to appoynt as the party appoynted.
 Fraudare credulorum, to deceyue his credulous, not to paise his debtes.
 Aliquem pecunia fraudare, to geat ones money from hym by some wyse of canicie.
 Fraudulenter, deceytfully.
 Fraudulentus, a, um, full of deceyte.
 Fraus, fraudis, f, m, g, deceyte, fraude, a snare or trappe to beggyle one, dissapoynt, intencionence, hurte, damage. Also peryll, daungler.
 Fraus et integritas, contrary.
 Agere aliquem in fraudem, to byng one in to perill and daungler.
 Astruere, cogitare, necesse fraudem, to go about to deceyue.
 Facere fraudem legi, with some interpreter as on of means to belade the lawe.
 Quod sine fraude mea populi mei fiat, as myn owne ryght, and the ryght of my people.
 Per illi fraudem hęc res, this thyng brought hym in daungler.
 In eandem fraudem ex hac re atq; ex illis incidit, Thou shalt fall into the same trappe by this means and by the other.
 Illicis in fraudem, Thou byngest them to dissapoynt and incontinence: Thou dost entice of allure them to that thyng, wherby they shall haue hurte, & thou toldest them in to the snare, or into daungler.
 Modo ne ea res mihi sit fraudi, So that that thyng put me to no dissapoynt, hurt or incontinence.
 Sine fraude esse, To bee out of perill or daungler.
 Fraus capitalis, a deadly offence.
 Fraus, was used of olde wyrters for Perna.
 Fraudum, was used of olde wyrters for Fraudum.
 Fraxineus, or Fraxinus, a, um, of ashe, of ashen.
 Fraxinus, i, f, g, an ashe.
 Fraxo, au, are, to go about the watche.
 Fragilis, a bytell towne in Italy, sometyms a noble cite.
 Fremebundus, a, um, that maketh an horrible and great noyse.
 Fremitus, us, m, g, a roynge, propely of waters. Sometyms a murmuring, rumble, or noyse of people assembled together.
 Fremo, mui, ere, to roye or make a noyse lyke great waters, or lyke a tyon, to murmure and shewe meane felices greatly discontented.
 Frendens, dentis, m, g, gener. gnawing with the tethre.
 Frendeo, du, dēre, to geuide the tethre to gnaw for anger or payne. Also to geuide of Freunde, du, frendere, friend.

 Fraxani, people of Italy.
 Frenum, looke Fraxum.
 Frequens, onis, m, g, gene. accustomed, muche haunted. Also assembled together, a bynquish.
 Omnibus relictis mihi frequenter operam dedi, I haunge all other men, & haue of ten holpen me.
 Frequens auditorium, a great audiance.
 Frequens adeo, he cometh often.
 Frequens est cunctorum, he is often tymes with hym.
 Frequentes fuimus ad ducentos, we were a great numbre about. it hundred.
 Frequens senatus, all the senate gathered together.
 Venio in senatum frequens, I come byndance into the senate.
 Frequens populus, muche people continuall resoyng.
 Frequens vrbis, a cite full of people, a cite of great resorte, a cite of muche haunt.
 Frequens foris, the bygh stre full of people.
 Aderatibi frequens, he was muche there a come and goer.
 Auditor frequens, a schole that resoyteth of ten to ones lecture.
 Frequens numerus, a great numbre.
 Via frequens et tuta, a waye muche haunted and without daungler.
 Frequens secretis, muche of ones pryue cognisance.
 Frequenter obuiam procedunt, They goe forth in greates numbre to mete with hym.
 Frequentamentum, ti, n, g, a muske, it is muskyng.
 Frequentarius, a, um, of olde wyrters used for Frequens.
 Frequentatio, onis, f, g, an haunting, an assemblie, also a figure of rethorike.
 Frequentia, a, f, g, a great haunte or company of folke.
 Circumstantia frequentia hominum, haunge a great multitude of people about hym.
 Frequentissima ades, an houle muche haunted with people.
 Frequens, au, are, to haunt, to go together, to go muche to a place, also to make to be haunted, or muche byde. Sometyms for Geminare, to expell spynes.
 Frequentare aliquem, to resoyne muche to one, to visite hym often.
 Frequentatur domus, the houle is muche resoynted.
 Frequentia, a, um, broken or bynt.
 Frequentia faba, a beane haunte or broken.
 Frequentia, ti, n, g, a bynted beane.
 Frequentia, a, f, g, a bynted beane.
 Frequentia, a, f, g, a bynted beane.

F. l.

sea betweene Spayne and the countrey of Andalus, called the straightes of Gibraltor.
Fictus, was used of old wryters in the masculine gender.

Fictus, a, um, of Fruor, trustyng, hauyng considence in a thyng.

De qua tamen magnam spem habemus, fre-ti clementia collegæ tui, whereof not with-standyng we haue good hope, trustyng on the mercy of your companion.

Quo frictus hoc audebat? upon whose supposition durste he be so bolde to doo this?
Fricabilis, le, soone broken in smalle pieces, that maye be crumbled.

Fricolus, almost woorth an halfe peny.

Frico, fricui, and fricui, frictum, and Fricatum are, to rubbe.

Fricilla, x, f. g. a frittowmade of flowre and batter.

Fricus, us, m. g. Fricatio, et Fricio, onis, f. g.
rubbyng, fectacton.

Fricus, and Frixus, a, um, frigid.

Frigedo, gedinis, idem quod Frigus.

Frigefacio, feci, ere, to coole.

Frigefacio, au, are, to make colde often.

Frigetio, fieri, to be cooled.

Frigeo, gui, & frigi, ere, to be colde of flowe, to be fayne of out of courage, to be almoste blanke.

Nimirum hi homines frigent, In faith these felowes are blanke: Of the courage of these men to gent or well abated.

Ubi niger sermo, when our communicacion waxe colde: of when there lacked matter to talke of.

Frigor, au, are, to coole.

Frigido, scire, to waxe colde.

Frigidarius, a, um, where colde water is kept.

Frigidula cella, a colde bathe.

Frigide, colde, vnaptly, vnpleasantly, without any grace.

Frigiditas, aus, coldnesse.

Frigidulus, a, um, somewhat colde.

Frigidus, a, um, colde, dangerous, or noysfull,
also nothyng hotte in a matter, fayne, flowe,
without grace or pleasantnesse.

Frigidum opidulum, a towne of small roste.

Argumentum frigidum, a slender argumēt without force of pith.

Frigida negoria, trifelynge matters of no
waight or importance.

Frigida solatia, slender comfytes.

Frigidum, footpthe, that hath no grace, cui
Facetum et plausibile opponitur.

Frigida, used substantiuely for colde water.

† Frigidam suffundere, ppoerbinly, signifi-eth to encourage of stee to a thyng, with flae terpyng and fayne woordes.

Frigilla, x, f. g. a byrde that syngeth in the colde wether, a rubbocke of Rodyn red byrde.

Frigo, xi, et frigui, frixum, and Frictum, ere, to frye, to parche.

Frigorificus, a, um, that maketh colde.

Frigor, oris, n. g. colde. sometyne fears. some-tyme deathe.

Frigutio, tui, ire, to quare for colde.

Frio, au, are, to byake smal, especially betwixt the fingers.

Frisi, people by Hollande, wherof the countrey is called Friesland.

Frit, the graye in the toppe of the eare, which is lasse than a coine.

Fritilla, a, f. g. a froye of pancake.

Fritillus, li, m. g. a boxe out of the whiche dyes were cast on the tables.

Friticulum, li, n. g. diffencion betweene men and theyr wyues, which cometh not to separation.

Friuola, orum, n. g. plur. viciisles, of lyttell value.

Friuolarius, i, m. g. he that selleth staffe of lye tell value.

Friuolus, a, um, vayne, lpyghte, of no estyma-cion of value, that wylle quickely vanishe of pessyde.

Frixorium, a, f. g. a feryng panne.

Fronarius, a, um, of leaues.

Fronatio, onis, a sypnyng of of leaues of bowes, loppnyng of trees, also byoofnyng.

Fronator, oris, m. g. gen. a byouster, a woodde lopper.

Frondeo, frondui, ere, et Frondesco, scire, to beare of bynyng fowth leaues.

Frondeus, a, um, that is of leaues.

Frondifer, a, um, bearyng leaues.

Frondo, dani, are, to cutte of leaues, of small boowes.

Frondosus, a, um, full of leaues.

Frons, frontis, f. m. gen. the foreheade, the fronte of foyepart, the entrance of begynnyng of a thyng, a famesse. Also countenance. also it signifieth the foyeparts of an holte. also seueritee, grauitie.

Fronte obducta, corrugata, caperata, con-tracta, nubila, with an heauie, sadde, frow-nyng, lowe of displeasunt countenance.

Frons causæ, the beegynnyng of the matter.

Prima fronte, at the spise, at the entree, at the pylme face.

Porrecta, serena, explicata fronte, with a meep countenance.

Frontem explicare, and exporrigere, to loke
meeply, to be meep and fownde.

Frontem contrahere, and Obducere, to loke fowly, to be heauie and sadde, to loke displeasuntly.

Frontem ferre, is spoken, where a manne signifieth, that one bydepyntly another extremely.

Perij

Perij illi frons, he hath lost his countenance
he is past shame.

Frons urbana, confidence, boldnesse, vns shamefastnesse in enquiryng a thyng.

† A fronte prapitium, a tergo lupi, & prouerbe, signifying a man to be in the mysdes betweene two greate daunglers of mys-chances.

† A fronte et a tergo videre, A ppoerbe, notyng a ppoeridence and wyledome, in conside-ryng and welyng as welle thynges passe as to come.

Sed vitum fronte an mente dubitatur,
But it is doubtfuill of vncrepne, whether he dooe it with his herte and mynde, or with the countenance onely, welyng a foye face.

Frontem perfica, caste awaie all shame.

Frontem remittere, to abate of ones seueri-te, and to become more pleasant and gentill.

Frons libri, the edge of a booke that is peicted and coloured.

Frons frondis, f. g. the leafe of a tree with the byaunche.

Agere frondem, to bougein.

Frontalis, li, n. g. the headfall of a byrdell.

Frontatus, a, um, that is lyke a foythead.

Frontal lapides, stones that go thoyoughe, and appere on bothe sydes of a wall, and are the chiefe strength of the wall. The Grekes call them Diaroni, and Diatori: the French men call them Perpeins.

Fronto, a learned manne, instructoure of M.
Antonius.

Fronto, onis, m. g. that hath a byde foythead.

Frontosus, a, um, that hath a great foythead, of
that is not abashed.

Fructifer, a, um, bearyng fruite.

Fructuarius, ri, m. g. gen. he that taketh the fruite of ppoer of a thyng, called of our law yers, Denour of ppoerites.

Fructuarius, a, um, that which beareth fruite,
or doeth ppoer to fruite.

Fructuosus, a, um, fruitefull, ppoeritable.

Fructuosissimus locus, a verate fertile and fruitefull foye.

Fructus, us, uis, & ei, fruite, vfe, commodites.
also all ppoerite, or reuenues that come of the grounde, or any other thyng. Sometyne meane also the vfe or pleasure of a thyng.

Fructum capere ex aliquo, to haue ppoerite of commodites of a thyng.

Frugalis, le, in the ppoerite hegre, no goodlycine woode. But in the shade thereof the las-cine authours vfe Frugali.

Frugalior, Frugalissimus, more temperate,
more temperate.

Dedo patri me nunc vi frugalior sim quam
vult, I putte my selfe into my fathers house, to be more honest man and of better rule

than he would haue.
Nequissimus et frugalissimus, contrary.
Parcissimus et frugalissimus, a verate chys-te felowe, of greate moderation and temperatenesse in lpyng.

Frugalitas, aus, f. g. moderation of lpyng, especially in a paraple & dyete, foye rule, good and honest behauiour. also sufficiencie.

Frugaliter, temperately, foyely, ppoerably, without excoche, excoche of ppoer.

Parce et frugaliter viuere, to leade a temperate of moderate lyfe without excoche of excoche.

Fruges, of Frux, frugis, f. m. gen. encrease of all those thynges, whiche the earthe byngethe foye, more ppoerly of coine and gaine. Sometyne it signifieth reue-nues.

Recipere se ad frugem bonam, of a naughty and lpyghte felowe, to become chysste, and waxe an honest man.

Corrigere ad frugem, to chastise to the manent to make hym an honest man.

Euadere ad bonam frugem, to ppoer in the ende a right honest man.

Frugi, of all genders and vnderstod, temperate and measurable in byt, of maner of lpynyng of ones bodie, and sometyne in apparayle and other thynges, of a good rule of moderation, moderate, ppoeritable, necessarye, chysste, foye, good, honeste, contrayre to Nequam.

Frugi edificium, on house not sumptuous.

Frugi homo, a good manne, a chysste man, endued with manhood and vertue, an honest man, temperate in expenses.

Frugi feruus, a trusty seruant, whych looe hath well to his maysters ppoerite.

Permodestus ac bone frugi homo, a verate modeste persone, and of chysste honeste behauiour.

Frugi es, thou arte a ppoeritable and necessarye
felowe.

Frugi curia, a moderate and temperate supper.

Frugi victus, an honeste moderate and temperate dyete. Cui luxuriosus opponitur.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugifer, a, um, fruitefull, that beareth fruite of coine.

Frugilegus, a, um, that gathereth together
fruite of coine.

Fructor, sci, to vfe at libertie.

Frumen, ius, n. g. the hypermoste parts of the chysste, the gargill.

Frumentaceus, a, um, of coine.

Frumentarius, a, um, ppoerpyng to coine.

Res frumentaria, ppoerition of graine.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Frugis, is used of Plantes in the genitive
case.

Locus frumentarius, a Copie of place whete much coyne groweth.
Retrumentaria laborare, to lacke forage of coyne.
Solium frumentarium, a Copie of ground apt to beare coyne.

Frumentarius, m. g. a forager, one that ma
keth provision for coyne to sell agayn to other.
Frumentarius negotiator, idem.

Frumentarius, onis, f. g. a tabpge in of coyne, harmeth, foraging. also a distribution of coyne and grange among citizens.

Frumentator, onis, m. g. a pourner of coyne,
a forager.

Frumentor, aris, arl, to gather or puruey coyne.
Frumentum, i. n. g. all coyne of pulle, it is most used for wheat or rpe.

Fruticor, used of olde wyrters for fruor.

Fruticus, wile in vsing of a thyng.

Fruor, onis, frictus sum frui, to eat, to bee fedde or nourished, to haue the vse of profite of a thyng, to vse with discretion and profite.

Fruingentio suo, to dooe as he wyl, to dooe after his owne fantasie and pleasure.

Fruor, to bee at leysure without busynes.

Recordatione nostrae amicitie fruor, I take great pleasure in the remembrance of our amitie and frendshipp.

Fructu alicuius, to take pleasure of pro
fite by hearing a mans talke.

Frugrum, to take the profite of a piece
of lande.

Aeternitate fruuntur animae, soules lyue es ternally, of soules haue fruition of euertlast ing lyfe.

Frusino, a cite of Campanie.

Frusino, a cite of Campanie called Frusinoza.

Frustum, in pieces of gobettes.

Frustulation, piece meale.

Frustula, in barn, without any effect of purpose.

Frustulae, Thou arte deceyued or abused.

Frustulae, to come to none effect, to profite nothing, to doo no good.

Frustula habere aliquem, to abuse or deceyue
one. Ne frustra sis, Chat thou bee not disap pointed.

Frustula legati dissellere, the ambassadours departed without hauping their purpose.

Frustula gaudis sum miser, I was glad for nothing, unhappie body that I am.

Frustula est homo, It is not as the man thyn keth, or he is deceyued.

Ha res frustra suit, that thyng deceyued they expectation, or it came not to passe as they looked for.

Frustratio, onis, f. g. abusyng or deceyuyng
of one.

Frustror, aui, are, et Frustror, aris, arl, a verbe to mon after dissellat, after other a deponent, to deceyue. Also to dooe a thyng in vayne, or happely to employe.

Frustrari expectationem alicuius, to dissap poynt one of that whiche he looked for.

Frustrari expensas, to lose his cosse & chat
ges, Imprudenter facta opera frustrantur ex pensas, warkes made vnadvisedly make one to lose all that he hath bestowed.

Frustrari laborem, to lose his payne.

Frustrari ab aliquo, to be deceyued of one, to be defeated of his purpose.

Frustratus, a, um, that hath deceyued or beggled

Hac spes me saepe frustrata est, This hope hath beggled me more than ones of thyng.

Satis adhuc tua frustrata est spes, Whereto
the trust that I haue had in the, hath moostly well deceyued me.

Frustrulentus, a, um, full of small pieces of gob ettes.

Frustrulum, and Frustrillum, li. n. g. a litle gobbe

Frustrum, i. n. g. a piece of gobbe.

Frusus, a hynde of byambles whose piches be not hooked.

Fruticulus, a, um, hauping abundance of such great herbes, full of Myddes.

Frutetum, u, seu Fruticetum, i. n. g. a place where groweth herbes with greates stalkes of stemmes, or where Myddes growe.

Frutex, icis, m. g. a Mydd, that whiche hath a great stalk, and yet it is no tree, as fenell, calles, certayne malwes, and other lyke her
bes. Somtyme it is taken for the stem of stalkes

Frutex, is also a certayne tree growyng in Phyrgia.

Fruticatio, onis, f. g. the byngyng soothye of wootes of yong spynges.

Fruticor, aui, are, & Fruticor, aris, arl, to spyng in stalkes, to byng sooth spynges, wootes, or Myddes.

Fruticare pluribus culmis, to spyng & byng
sooth many stalkes and wootes.

Fruticulus, a, um, that byngyng soothye many wootes, stalkes, or stemmes.

Frutinal, a temple of Venus.

Frux, frugis, used of olde wyrters for coine of pulle.

F, ANTE V.

F, Vat, for sit.

Fucatus, a, um, colored or painted as com women be.

Fucatus nitor, counterfite byghtnes of clothe me. Fucata and sincera et vera, contrary.

Fucilis, le, false, coloured.

Fucinus, a lake in Italy.

Fucosus, a, um, coloured, counterfitted.

Fuco, aui, are, to laye on a coloure, to coun terfite.

Fucus, ci, m. g. a boyre or bee withoute stinge, whiche entred into hynde, & eateth by the hony all

also pynctyng, all false or counterfite coloure.
It is also used for deceit of falsehoods, or any manner colourable deceite.

Fucus gloriæ, the gloffe of renoues.

Facere fucum, to deceyue of beggles.

Sine fucio, without fraude, sincerely, plainly.

Utriuslibet fucus somtyme for waxe.

Fucus marinus, an herbe called also Alga marina, wherewith clothe is dyed.

Fufidius, the name of an oyatour.

Fuga, g. f. g. flight, eschewyng of a thyng.

Somtyme cryle, also a swyfte case of course, swiftenesse.

Fuga honoris, a meane to eschewe an office or bymociion.

Nulla fuga malefactis meis, my nauhtynes can by no meanes escape unpunished.

Disicere in fugam, and in fugam vertere, to discomfite, to put to flight.

Dare, conicere, conuercere, conferre se in fugam, to flee or rene awaye.

Fugax, gacis, om. g. that fleeth lyghtly, also it signifieth swyfte.

Fugacia poma, appuls that will not long con
taine, that will soone bee rotten.

Fugaria, thynges that will perpeche and van ishe awaye quickly.

Fugiens, etis, om. g. flepyng or rennyng away.

Fugiens laboris, abhoyng labour of payne.

Fugiens vinum, wyne that hath lost his beer
dure: or wyne that will not be long kept.

Fugientes littere, bynde letters.

Fugio, gi, gere, to flee, to ren awaye, to escape,
to forger, to eschue, to be unknown.

Fugu aciem tenuiras, it is so small that one can not see it.

Fugit ratio, Thou vnderstandest not the
matter.

De Cesare fugerat me ad te scribere, of Ces sar I had forgotten to wyte vnto you.

Nisi si quis me forte fugiant, Except perchace
I haue forgotten somewhat: or excepte there be some thynges that I knowe not.

Oculis alicuius fugere, to be lothe to see one or looke vpon hym.

Non te fugit, ye bee not ignorant, ye knowe well enough.

Si paululum quid te fugerit, If ye chaunce to forger any thyng: or yf ye be ouersene in any point, be it neuer so littell.

E manibus fugere, to escape ones handes.

Infamiam fugere, to eschue infamy or scilde.

Fugere, to spoken either of wyppes capleus or bynde slepyng awaye.

Fugin hinc: act thou gone in all the hast of wile thou not geat the awaye quickly.

Fugitiuius, rij, m. g. one that seeketh seruans that be runne away, to byng them agayn.

Fugilius, a, um, fugitiue, not abydyng, bar ryng awaye, flyyng, that gladly and quickly runneth awaye.

Fugidius seruus, he that renneth frome his master, willing neuer to retorne: or goeth to a place, from whence he supposeth that his master can neuer recouer hym.

Fugio, aui, are, to vse to renne awaye.

Fugitare patrem, and Fugitare et conspectu patris, to kepe ones selfe oute of his fathers syght: or that his father see hym not.

Fugitare questionem, to eschue examinatio on by tourmentes.

Fugo, aui, are, to byrue away, to put to flight.

Fulcimen, ti, n. g. a botereule, or that, wher with a thyng is sustented, a pyppe, a shore.

Fulcio, ciui, circ, to support, to forstie to stay or holde by.

Beneuolentia fulcire imperium, to establish and make strong a kyngedome with beneuo
lence and gentleness.

Eius ope fulcus, hauping his good helpe and supportation.

Fulco, a duke of Angew, the fyfthe hynde of Hierusalem.

Fulcrum, cri, n. g. a beabede.

Fulgeo, si, gere, and Fulgo, gi, gere, to shyne.

Somtyme for Fulgurare, to make to lychten.

olde wyrters used it for Ferire.

Auro et purpura fulgere, to bee goyngously apparaited in purple and golde.

Fulgurum, tri, n. g. and somtyme Fulgetra, tri, f. g. a belement and great lychtenyng, a teame of lychtenyng.

Fulgidus, a, um, byghth.

Fulgor, onis, m. g. byghthnes, shynyn, somtyme
lychtnyng, somtyme great noblenesse & gloz

Fulguralis, le, perteynyng to lychtnyng.

Fulgurates, a people of Italy.

Fulguratio, onis, f. g. the lychtnyng when it is in the cloudes.

Fulgurator, onis, m. g. the sender of lychtnyng or he that distyneth by lychtnyng.

Fulgurio, riui, circ, to calle lychtnyng.

Fulguritas, aris, f. g. lychtnesse or byghthnes, glysternyng.

Fulgurastunt, they are blasted or strepen with lychtnyng.

Fulgurum, striken or blasted with lychtnyng.

Fulguro, aui, are, to sende sooth lychtnyng.

Auro fulgurat domus, The house shyneth of glysterneth all of golde.

Fulica, rz, f. g. a sea byde, more than a culene and blake.

Fuligo, ginis, f. g. the soote of a thymney.

Fulix, icis, idem quod fulica.

Fullo, onis, m. g. a fullar of clothe.

Fullonica, rz, f. g. fullers craft, or a fullers shop

Fullonius, and Fullonicus, a, um, of or pertey nyng to a fullar.

Fullonicum, ci, n. g. idem quod Fullonica.

Fulmen, minis, n. g. lychtnyng.

Es. iii. lctm

Ictu fulminis deslagrare, to be bourned with lightning.
 Afflare fulmine, to blast with lightning.
 Fulmina verborum, great vehemency of wodes. Fulmina fortunæ, great upschaunces of fortune.
 Fulminicus, a, um, of o; belonging to lightning.
 Fulmino, aui, are, to lightning, to streke with lightning.
 Futura, æ, f. g. a chose of ppyope, a thyng that stath by.
 Fulminates, people of Illiria.
 Fulgiana, a certayne herbe.
 Fulminter, he that imitateth the maneres of Fulminis.
 Fulvius, the name of a Romayne.
 Fulvus, a, um, a colour mixte of greene and red a darke pealow. Sometyne greene.
 Fumaria herba, an herbe called fumettoye.
 Fumarium, m, n. g. a smoky place, where wyne was laied, to the intent that it might the soone-re was orde. also the chanse, waste, or tounell of a church.
 Fumens, a, um, smoky, of of smoke.
 Fumidus, a, um, smoky, that smoketh.
 Fumidus, m, n. g. that byngeth smoke.
 Fumidus, a, um, are, to make smoke, to incense, to perfume.
 Fumidus, a, um, making smoke.
 Fumigo, aui, are, to perfume.
 Fumo, aui, are, to smoke.
 Fumosus, a, um, smoky, blache with smoke.
 Fumosa, a, um, gines, olde smoky pynages, begyn-
 the monumentes of ones auncestours.
 Fumosus, m, n. g. smoke.
 Fumosus vendere, to the practice of them, whiche begyn nyghte aboute a pyntce, or in his fabour, done beure menne in hande, that they speake for thepm to the pyntce, when they speake neuer a woorde, and cause men to lye therby in folles paradyse.
 Fumale, m, n. g. a toyche, sometyne it is used for a corde of halter.
 Fumalis, le, pertaining to cordes.
 Fumales equi, hofes, which coupled with an halter, bid go before the chariot in a triumph.
 Fumalis cereus, a toyche of waxe.
 Fumambulus, m, n. g. he that walketh on a rope.
 Fumatio, onis, f. g. the exercise of a weighty matter of office, an office of charge that a man hath to doo, as in teachinge, in gouer-nung a company.
 Fumatus, a, um, dooping or executyng.
 Fumetillina, thep that be past warfare.
 Funda, æ, f. g. a sponge, also a casting net, a facheil of purse lyke a nette, also a cete of golde or other metall, wherein stones be sette.
 Fundamen, minis, and fundamentum, m, n. g.
 a foundation, the first begynnyng of ground
 of a thyng.

Fundamenta cementicia, foundations made with stones and rubble.
 Initia et fundamenta.
 A fundamento, euen from the grounde and first begynnyng.
 Fundamenta iacere, and opera perficere,
 contrary.
 Fundamenta reipublicæ iacere, to begyn to establishe and set in good order the common weale.
 Causa fundamenta iacere, to laie the grounde of a matter.
 Fundatus, a, um, founded, stablished.
 Fundata legibus ciuitas, a citee stablished with good lawes and ordinaunces.
 Fundatissima familia, a veraye auncient and substantiall familie.
 Fundibularius, m, n. g. a sponger of stones.
 Funditor, oris, m. g. idem.
 Fundito, aui, are, to poure out often, to speake muche and in vayne, to spende costously and prodigally.
 Funditus, aduerb. from the foundation, utterly.
 Funditus me perdidisti, Thou haste utterly vndoone me.
 Funditus perij, I am utterly vndoone.
 Funditus eueria ciuitas, a citee utterly des-troied and cast downe enen by the grounde.
 Fundo, aui, are, to founde, to make stable, to laie the foundation of a thyng.
 Fundare naucem, to make or builde a shyppe.
 Fundo, fudi, fundere, to sette or caste mettals, to poure oute, to thede, to thowde downe, to sprede or scatter, to discomfite or vanquish, to geue aboundauncie, to speake muche, to laie downe.
 Fundere exercitum, et fundere copias, To discomfite an hoile, to slen all the armye.
 Fundere lachrymas, to wepe exceedingly.
 Fundere verba, to speake more than nedeth,
 to speake in vayne.
 Fundere versus, to make verses sodainly.
 Fundere vrinam, to pisse muche.
 Fundere preces, to praye.
 Fundere ex are imaginem, to cast an ymage of byasse.
 Fundere flores, to yeld or byng sooth flours
 res abundantly.
 Fundere frugem, to putte oute fruite as boundantly.
 Fundere corpora humi, to caste downe bodies on the grounde.
 Fundere mendacia, to tell lyes plentifully.
 Fundere orationem incondite, to speake con-fately withoute pausinge, as muche as one can vtter at a breath.
 Funditur in Rhenum fluvius, the ryuer hath his course into the Rhene.
 Latissime fundi, to be sprede farre abyde.
 Fundum, di, ne. ge. the bottome of any thyng that

that cōtēnyeth hēour.
 Fundus, di, m. g. that whyche is bled to bee called lande or soyle, a ptece of ground with an house buyled on it. Sometyne it is taken for a foundation. also for the chiefe aushour
 of a thyng.
 Funeris, bre, of o; pertaining to funerals or mourning for the dead.
 Funeria iusta, the ceremonies dooen at the buryng or interment of one.
 Funere bellum, a cruell and deadly warre, wherein is muche slaughter.
 Funeraria, those women that are the moue-ners at a burall, as the mothers and sisters.
 Funeris, le, pertaining to funerals.
 Funerarius, a, um, pertaining to the dead body,
 or to the funeral.
 Funero, aui, are, to bury.
 Funesto, aui, are, to vtolate a place with a dead body.
 Funestus, a, um, vtolated with dead bodies.
 also mostall, bloudy, also pertaining to dead bodies or beathe, deadly, cruell.
 Funesta vox, a bloudy and cruell sentence.
 Funesta familia, a familie, wherof one of the house is dead.
 Perniciosum et funestum.
 Funetum, booway or houped as some vttes be.
 Fungor, fungis, fungus sum, fungi, to exercise an office.
 Fungi officio suo, to doo his duetye of office.
 Fungifato, to be dead.
 Fungi vita, idem.
 Fungi vice alicuius, or vicem alienam, to be in an other mames steede, to supply an other mannes roume.
 Fungus vita, he that hath synned his lyfe.
 Iustis fungatur officiis, leat hym lye accor-dyng to the lawes of iustite.
 Fungi munus or officium alicuius, to doo an other mans office, or charge.
 Fungi munere, to geue a gyfte or present, also to exercise an office.
 Funginus, a, um, of a murtherer.
 Fungositas, atis, f. g. the holownesse of a murtherer, or other lyke thyng.
 Fungosus, a, um, lyke a murtherer.
 Fungus, gi, m. g. a tabboole, a murtherer, a snaffe of a candle. also a faute in trees as it were a kynne of blaspnyng. also a bulle head, a bolte, a foote, an ideote, that hath no wytte or vnderstandyng.
 Funiculus, m, n. g. a small rope, a littell corde.
 Funis, nis, m. et f. g. a rope or corde.
 Funicus, idem quod funambulus.
 Funus, funeris, n. g. funeral exequies, as sole-mnes of buryng. Sometyne it significeth the dead corpe. Sometyne death.
 Funus facere, to saule one to dye, or to keepe
 a funeral.

Funus facere prandio alicuius, to eate by ones dyner.
 Fur, ful, furum, to bee.
 Fur, furis, com. gen. a theefe. Fur, is taken of Varro, for a boye of great bee. of Virgile for a seruant of siane.
 Fur mihi es, thou dealest awaie my goodes.
 Furax, acis, om. g. theuphe, a great pycher.
 Furaces manus, theuphe handes.
 Furacitas, atis, f. g. theste.
 Furaciter, theuphely, lyke a theste.
 Furca, æ, f. g. a foyle, or any thyng made lyke a foyle, to vnderseye or ppyope by. Furca, was also a facion of galdwee, made with twoo great foyles, and a polle tapde ouerthwarre.
 Furfur, ri, m. g. a seruant, whiche for some lycht offence was compellid to beare a foyle on his necke, haung both his handes bound den fast thereto, & so to go throughe the tounre, confessyng his defaute, and exhortyng other,
 that they shoulde not in lyke case offend, whiche was a great reproche. It is used for euery villayne hangrope, or knaue.
 Furfur, a young foyle.
 Furfilla, læ, f. g. an hepe foyle, also a galowes.
 Furfilla, le, f. g. a littell foyle.
 Furculus, li, m. g. a littell theste, a pycher.
 Furfur, furis, m. g. byanne.
 Furfures, furfurum, m. g. plu. nu, white scurf that falleth out of a mans hepe of face.
 Furfureus, and fursuraceus, a, um, of byanne.
 Furia, æ, of furia, arum, fce. gen. the furies of helle, whiche were thye, Alesto, Tiphosne, Megera. Sometyne the woome of pepas full remoye of conscience, whiche hoyle big tourmenteth the myndes of wyched persons.
 Furfurosus, a, um, full of byan or scurf, scurfy.
 Furciter, lyke a made body.
 Furiatis, le, of o; pertaining to the furies. Whiche is proper or lyke to made folkes.
 Furiatiter, madly, or lyke a made body.
 Furiatus, a, um, made furious or made.
 Furibundus, a, um, woode or beate madde.
 Furio, aui, are, to make made of woode.
 Furiolus, fustolus, madly.
 Furiolus, a, um, made of woode, frantike, fustcolus, egering.
 Vefanus et furiosus.
 Furinus, a, um, belongyng to a theste.
 Furnaceus, a, um, baken in an ouen.
 Furnaria, æ, f. g. bakere crafte, a woman bak-
 ker. also a bakke house.
 Furnarium exercere, to vse or exercise a bak-kers crafte, or to sette out a bakke house or ouen to bye.
 Furnalia, the sacrifices of the goddesse Furina.
 Furnarius, m, n. g. a bakke.
 Furnianus, a, um, of Furnius.
 Furniana vasa, ceramyn vessels, whiche wee named by ones Furnius.

Furnus, ni, m. g. an oven.
 Furor, utis, firere, to bee woode for anger, to rage, to be madde or distraught.
 Furere se simulavit, he made as though he were madde.
 Furor, utis, m. g. madnesse. also fure, which is a vehement concitacion of sleeping of the mynd Furor, aris, uti, to feale, to attayne to a thyng
 by pite and secrete meanes.
 Furthicus, a picher of pite dealer.
 Furum, by steth, pite.
 Furtivus, a, um, that whiche is dooen by steth,
 or verie pite, or that is stolen awaye.
 Furtivus littere, and furtiva scripta, letters, whiche no man can see, but onely he, unto who they be sente, as letters in cipher.
 Furtivus excutiones, pite robes of shre mythes.
 Furtivus, idem quod furtum, by stealth, pite.
 Furtum, uti, n. g. thefte. it is defined to be a de scriptull handling of vnyng of any thyng, or the possession therof, to have thereby gayne or advantage, whiche is by the lawe of na ture prohibited to be suffered. it is somtyme any acte that is dooen pite, to the intent it shoulde be secrete, a crafty wyle to deceyve one, somtyme aoutric.
 Furti teneri, aut obstringi, to bee answerable to felonie.
 Furtum facere, to steale.
 Furunculus, li, m. g. a littell thefe. also a beast called a rote, that lyeth rabbitte. it is al so a soie called a felon, also a soie called a cat tis heart, whiche breaketh out in the spunges with great wheales, and muche pene some tyme a knobbe in a vine, lyke a waite.
 Fuscus, a, um, darke, blacke.
 Fuscus homine, sacrifices dooen to Pluto and Discepe.
 Fuscus, a, um, a speare with many teeth, wher with fuscus doos take routes or peles, by thyming of it, a route speare, an yele speare
 Fuscus, li, f. g. a steth booke.
 Fusco, aui, are, to make bywone.
 Fuscator, utis, m. g. he that maketh blacke
 darke, or cloude.
 Fuscus, a, um, brown of colour, not fully black,
 lyke a moose, or one bourned in the soone.
 Fusca vox, a lowe voyce, whan one speaketh in the throte, as he were halfe hoarse.
 Fuscus, in length, longe, abundantly, plentifully.
 Fuscus latere dicere, to speke of a thyng at length
 Fuscus, li, that whiche is molten.
 Fusum, abode as it were molten.
 Fusio, utis, a melting, a foundyng, a pouring out, a spreadyng.
 Fusor, utis, m. g. a founder, a melter.
 Fusorius, a, um, pertyng to foundyngs or melting.
 Ars fusoria, the craft of melting or foundyng.

Vas fusorium, a melting potte.
 Fustigatio, a beating with a staffe.
 Fustigo, aui, are, to beate with a staffe.
 Fustis, utis, m. g. a clubbe, a staffe, a cudgell.
 Caput aperire fustis, to bryke ones head with
 a cudgell.
 Fustarius, a minister, whiche serveth to bea to men with staves.
 Fustarium, uti, a beating with staves.
 Fusus, li, m. g. of fusum, li, n. g. a spynnell.
 Fusura, f. g. a melting of foundyng.
 Fusus, a, um, molten, scattered or spred abode.
 Fusus humi, stretched on the ground.
 Fusi fugati, slayne and put to flight.
 Per herbam fusi, lying alonge on the grasse.
 Crines fusi, beares dishevelled or hangyng aboute ones cares.
 Fusa cupressus, a large & great cypresse tree.
 Fusa in omnes partes vitis, a vine tree spred abode on every spde.
 Fusum corpus, a bodie playne and smoothe.
 Furs, li, a cuppe used in the sacrifice of Aes ra, whiche was so byde at the mouth, and so narowe at the foote, that it coulde not stand.
 Furs, li, that whiche will be soone poured out.
 Furs, he that speaketh all that he knoweth without any aduisedly, vagne, unprofitable, babbling foolisly.
 Furs homo, a blabbe, that can keepe no counsaile, a telle tale, one that hath a longe tongue, one in whome is no stape.
 Furs alacritas, dissolute or vncomeyly myght or gladnesse.
 Furs de causa, for a bayn and testyng cause
 Furs, and fursiler, foolisly, dissolutely.
 Fursitas, utis, f. g. lyghnesse, foolisly, soote
 ly the babbling.
 Fursio, utis, are, to poure out, or renne out.
 Furs, a vessell, wherewith water was poured into a lauer, to bynge water into a parious or supping chambr.
 Futo, aui, are, to blame.
 Futum, for Profusum.
 Futuo, tui, tuere, to doo the act of generacion.
 Futurus, a, um, that shall be hereafter.

G, ANTE A.

ABA, a town in Galilee.
 Gabaa, a citee of Syria.
 Gabales, a people of Aquitayne in France.
 Gabali, a countie in France myght to Marbona, where breake good cheefe was made.
 Gabalus, li, m. g. a galow tree or gybe, wher on men bee hangd.
 Gabalus, the name of Hellogabalus, before he was

was emperor.
 Gabalon, a citee in the holy lande myght to Ma ma, where Salomon dooing sacrifice, spake with god.
 Gabalonis, men of that towne.
 Gabara, uti, f. g. a potage of Me.
 Gabba, a citee in Syria.
 Gabi, orum, a citee in Italy, whiche the Ro mans destroyed.
 Gabinensis, and Gabinus, a, um, of the people called Gabi.
 Gabinus, a Romanyn (ambassador), whiche res
 toied Ptholome to his kynge dome.
 Gabinus cinctus, a garment with two lappes, wherof the one caseth backwarde, byd gyde hym that byd weareth it, whiche garment the consull ware, whan he denounced warres.
 Gabriel, signifieth the puissance of myghte of god.
 Gaddir, a citee of Spayne.
 Gades, dium, f. g. plur. num. two ples by the further partes of Spayne beyond Granada.
 Gaderes, a citee of Syria, not far from Acolon Gadir, a place nere to the beermoste boundes of Spayne: to whiche whan Hercules came,
 and coulde passe no further, he sette by there his pylours.
 Gaditanus, a, um, of or belongyng to the ples Gades.
 Gaditanum fretum, the entree out of the ocean
 an sea, in to the sea called Mediterraneum, haupng Spayne on the north spde, and the Moors on the south.
 Gaon, a great eyer, whiche renneth throug
 Ethiopie and Egypt, it is now called Nilus.
 Gages, or Gages, a stone called Geate, & a r
 uer in Lycia, where that stone was first founde Galactites, a precious stone.
 Galactophagus, an eater of mylke.
 Galactopora, a dyphoe of mylke.
 Galanga, a spice called Galingale.
 Galanthis, the handmaide of Aemena, by whose craft she broughe forth Hercules, wh she was leat by Juno and Lucina: in despite wherof, she was touned into a weasill, cal led Gale.
 Galata, an yle not farre from Melita.
 Galata, or Gallogreci, people of Galatia.
 Galatea, a nymphe or mayden of the sea, and was daughter of Nereus and Doris.
 Galatia, or Gallogrecia, a countreie in the lesse Asia, byngnyng to Phrygia and Lydia.
 Galba, a Romanyn, whiche in his tyme was verie eloquent.
 Galba, maggottes or small wormes that byde in meate.
 Galbanus, ni, f. g. of Galbanum, ni, n. g. a gamme of a certayne tree, whiche is muche used in playlers. also a kynde of garmentes, whiche delicate persons used of a byghte

whysse colour.
 Galbanatus, a, um, that weareth the garmentes called Galbanum.
 Galbanus, a, um, of the gum called Galbanus.
 Galbeum, a certayne kynde of ornamentes.
 Galbinus, a, um, delicate, wanton, of hyer.
 Galbulus, li, m. g. the cypresse myte, or littell
 rounde ball, wher in the seede is contayned.
 Galbula, li, a certayne byde.
 Gale, a weasyl.
 Galea, uti, f. g. a helme of a salette.
 Galeatus, a, um, that weareth an helme of salet Galena, uti, that part of the sphere oye, that is left after the tyme and spere is teryd out:
 of the whiche blacke leade is made.
 Galenus, a noble physician (boyn in Pergamo sonne of Aicon a great geometrical) in the acte of physike, excelled all other before his tyme and sens, in so muche, as in his minis tracion, counsaile, doctrine, he neuer had reproche, as he hym self wisteth, also luyng, as some doo wite. Ex. peres (after he passed the age of xviii. peres, vntill the tyme of his death) he was neuer byed with any speche nelle, except the grudge of a feuer of one day, as he saith in his worke De sanitate tuen da, and that happened onely by to muche la bour. He flourished in the tyme of the em perours Marcus Commodus, and Pertinax and dyed onely for feblenesse of age, after the incarnation of Christe, about. 160. peres.
 Galeo, aui, are, to put on a salette or helme.
 Galeola, li, a wyne potte somewhat facioned
 lyke a salette.
 Galerulum, li, n. g. an vnder bonet or bydyng
 cappe. also a piewke.
 Galerita, uti, f. g. a larte.
 Galeophilis, in latine Vrica labeo, called of the apothecaries Scrophularia maior, or after some Agripalma, an herbe haupng a verie strong sauore, and so muche lyke a nettill: it is called Archangel, as some doo suppose.
 Galerus, uti, m. g. and Galerum, uti, n. g. a harte.
 also a piewke.
 Galeus, a eyer of Caliber, by the citee Ca
 rentina.
 Galeos, called of the latines Mustela, and Lam petra, a speche muche lyke a lamprey, or rather after some a lamprete it selfe.
 Galgulus, li, m. g. a byde, whome of one doo beholde that hath the pelows tawndis, fowly with the man becometh wyole, and the byde dyeth.
 Galilea, a countreie, whiche marcheth on Sy ria, Arabia, and Egypt.
 Gallia, uti, f. g. a fruite called gaulles.
 Gallaris, a lampene.
 Gallia, a noble eygton, sette betwene Spayne and Germany, and on the east doiereth on the mountaynes Alpes. That which is myght to Germanie, was called Belgica, and was contended betwene the epyres Scaldes, and Sequana. That parte, whiche marcheth to the mountaynes, was called Celta of Lugdunensis, and was contended betwene the epyres Berne and Geronde. That whiche bordereth on Spayne, called Aquitania, was bounded with the mountaynes Pyrenge. As far boundeth the parte called Celta, with the epyres Rhone and Geronde, and Aquitania with the hilles Pyrenge, and the epyre of Geronde. Agrippa describeth Gallia betwene the epyre Rhone, the mountaynes Pyrenge, the ocean sea, and the mountaynes Gebenna, et lura. Moreover that, whiche is now called Lombardie, was called Gallia Calpina.

Gallicanus, a, um, Gallicus, a, um, and Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallic, arum, a kinde of Moes that the french men used to weare in foule weather.

Gallicinum, cinn, n. g. the epyre in the nyght, when the cocke croweth.

Gallina, x, f. g. an henne.

Gallinaceus, a, um, of an henne.

Gallinaceus, a, um, of an henne.

Gallinaceus pullus, a, um, a chyk.

Gallinarum, n, n. g. a place where poulters sit to cure, a cubbe.

Gallinarum, n, n. g. he that kepeth poulters.

Gallipes, that hath a foote lyke a cocke.

Gallium, an herbe, lyke unto clove, but it hath no burres nor prickles, and groweth on stone wallen.

Gallio, au, are, to be madde.

Gallogrecia, a countree in Asia, called Galatia, the people thereof be called Gallogreci.

Galloni, a sumptuous person, of whome Metro macheth mention.

Gallus, h, m. g. a cocke, a frenche man, a priest of Ephebus, also a epyre in Thracia, the waser whereof if it be drunke, maketh one mad.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

Gallus, a, um, of Fraunce.

depnes among the Persians.

Gangaridg, people betwene Egypte and India, not farre from the epyre Ganges.

Ganges, a greete epyre that disueth India, called in holy scripture Phison, one of the 4. epyres, whiche come out of Paradise. Josephus dooth interpretate it Iudandus. The breadth thereof (as Solinus wytteth) is in the narrowest place, viii. myles, in the bynde of xx. myles. Arrianus wytteth, that where it is narrowest, it is in breadth, 100. furlonges, which is, viii. myles. In many places it spredeth so wyde, that where the ground is most plaine, no any hygh place appereth, no man maye discern any thyng on the other side. In the narrowest place it is, 100. foute depe.

There cometh into it, viii. greete epyres, euery of them able to beare a wypp. In this epyre of Ganges is an yle, and therein a greete citty, called Polyborra, the countree is named Phasia, the kyng whereof (as Pliny wytteth) lib. 6. cap. 19. hath atwaie in wages 600000. foote men, 30000. horsemen, and 9000. oliphantes.

Gangeticus, a, um, of that epyre.

Gangetica tellus, India.

Ganglion, or Ganglion, a spekenesse in the head of a beaste, wherewith the head becometh full of water. Ganglion, is also the wydding of a sinewe.

Gangrena, f. g. a soze called a canker.

Ganictor, a mannes name.

Gannio, niui, and ni, nire, to make a noyse lyke a foxe, to barken of houle lyke a dogge, also to mutter or cry betwene the teeth, as one dooth thate is beaten.

Gannus, us, m. g. barkynge lyke a foxe, the complayning or weeping of one that is beate.

Ganymedes, a Troiane chyld, whiche was feigned to be caught of Iupiter, and made his buslar.

Ganza, z, g. a goose.

Garamantes, people in Affrike, in the myddell of Libya, whiche are blacke Mooyes.

Garamanticus, a, u, of the people Garamantes.

Garamantes, a certayne byng, whose daughter Garamantis, Iupiter caught, and on his begotte Hierba.

Garganus, a hille in Apulia, called now Mons sancti Angeli.

Gargarus, ri, n. g. and Gargara, orum, n. ge. the toppe of the mountayne Ida. also a lake of Thracia, out of the whiche issue the riuers Scamander and Simois.

Gargarizatio, onis, f. g. a waquing of the mouth and chyote, to expelle steume out of the head, gargelling.

Gargarizo, au, are, to gargell or wash the mouth and chyote.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, a, um, gargelled.

Gargarizatus, us, m. g. id est quod gargari. Gargarius, the dogge, whiche kept the oge of Scypon, whom Hercules slew when he stole the epyr.

Garrus, rui, rre, to babble, to chatte or speake many wordes foolyshe to no purpose, properly to chape as bydes doo.

Garrulitas, aris, chattering, tangling, babbling.

Garrulus, a, um, a babblar.

Garrulus, a, um, that chattereth, babbleth, or speaketh many vayne wordes.

Garrulig ues, bydes that chape and spage much.

Garum, ri, n. g. sauce made with fyne salted.

Garumna, x, f. g. a epyre in Fraunce called Geronde.

Garyophyllata, some thynke it to be the herbe called herbe Vener. som suppose it to be that whiche Pliny nameth Gium. The roote of this herbe gathered in Marche smelleth lyke cloves. And Pliny wytteth that Gium hath blacke rootes, which do smelle veray sweetly.

Garyophilli, the spire called cloves.

Garyophyllus, Ruellius callith it Garyophylla, a glosse, next to the rose, the fayest and sweetest flower. It is also the tree that beareth cloves.

Gaster, called also Gasterium, a certayne kinde of vessel.

Gastrim, a, um, a luttony, ingurgitation.

Gaudes, a, um, ere, to reioyce, to be glad, to take pleasure in a thyng.

Gaudere, a, um, to reioyce by hym self.

Triumphus, a, um, a triumph, a reioyce.

Hunc scio meum esse gaudium, I knowe well that he will be myghty topos and gladdes of my myght and gladdesse.

Gaudetis facto, Thou wilt be gladd that it hath been doon.

Gaudetis mihi, I am glad for myne own part.

Id gaudet, I am glad of that.

Frustra gaudere, to be gladd in vayne, to reioyce without a cause.

Gaudium, di, n. g. tope, myght, an affection of the mynde, conceyued of an opinion of a thyng good or pleasant.

Gaudium capere, compleri, and affici gaudet, to reioyce, to be gladd of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaudus, a, um, gladdes of mery.

Gaulapina penula, a rough garment blacke or white.

Gaulapina cubicularia, a rough frocke to weare in ones chamber.

Gaza, x, f. g. the censure of a kyng. also a kinde of pash.

Gazella, x, a beaste in the partes of India, of whome cometh muske. Antiochus Musa wytteth, that there be some, that in Affrike, in the gure lyke to a roe. Scyrio saith they haue homes, also long teath and white, aboute 12. inches in length, standynge out of the mouth as they lyke a boye. This beaste naturally hath a superfluous blood congeled on his head, and groweth lyke an impostume. And when it is epye, the beaste goeth to a tree or a stone, and rubbeth thereon his head, till the humoure breaketh out, lyke unto corrupt matter, whiche at the first smelleth, but when it hath ben changed, a while in the ayre, it smelleth epye, and than hath it an odoriferous sauour, and is called muske. Gazella, is not a creature as some suppose: for the clut is lyke a gerat catte, and the sweete humoure that cometh from hym, is lyke sweete, and is founde betwene his flankes, wherfore vnto it is geuen a newe name, and is called Cibeta.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

Gazophiliacum, n, n. g. a cheste of place where treasure is kepte, a trewell house.

at this date.
Gelo, aui, are, to freeze. sometimes actually, some times actually.
Gelon, or Gelones, a people now called Cartarians.
Gelon, one that attempted to poison huge Dyrhus.
Gelos, a port of haven of Carls.
Gelothyphillis, lidos, an herbe whiche (as Plinius writeth) being drunken in wine with impre, maketh laughing without ceasing, except the kernel of pnye appuls mixt with pepper and honys, in the wyne of dates bee drunken after it. This herbe is founde about the river Borysthenes, in the furthest parte of Russia, and also in the countreie Baetrix.
Gela, n. g. undeslind, pce. sometimes colde.
Gelus, l. m. g. was bled of old wylters.
Gemellar, a certayne vessel to put oyle in.
Gemellana, x, f. g. an instrument, by the whiche
the oyle runneth out of the presse.
Gemellipera, the name of Larona.
Gemellus, a, um, littell or small twynnes: some time double.
Gemelle vites, vines that beare two maner of grapes.
Gemelli, is sometimes taken for two horses drawing together in a carre.
Gemibundus, a, um, full of wapping.
Geminatio, onis, a doubling of repeating.
Geminatus, a, um, doubled, repeated.
Geminus, aui, are, to double.
Geminus, a, um, the number of two. sometimes like, also Geminus is a twynne, where many children are borne at one burderp, although they bee. lti, o. mo. Also it is the name of a man, whiche in hebrew & english is Thomas Arce gemina, the two feres.
Geminus nominis errore fecerat, he was found out of banger, by reason that both his names were not known.
Gemma adacia, l. p. boldnesse of stomache.
Gemini, is also a signe in the firmamente of Zalto, and Pollux.
Gemisco, gemui, fere, idem quod gemo.
Gemite, es, f. g. a certayne precious stone.
Gemitus, us, m. g. a wapping, lamentinge or mourning, a pittefull groane or sigh.
Gemma, x, f. g. a pong budde of a vine, also a precious stone.
Gemmisco, fere, to begyn to budde.
Gemmatus, a, um, budded. also set with prier-
ous stones.
Gemmatus, a, um, of o. l. p. a precious stone.
Gemmifer, a, u, that bringeth precious stones.
Gemma, aui, are, to budde or spring as a pong
graffe or vine doeth.
Geminofus, a, um, that whiche is all of prier-
ous stones.
Gemmula, x, a littell budde or precious stone.

Gemmulæ, be also fowle floures in the spring tyme, which garnishe the meadowes and fields
as it were with pious stones.
Gemo, gmi, ere, to grone or waille, or to make a lamentable noise, to be loy or lamene.
Gemit cymba, the bore craketh being ouers charged.
Gemitur, the passion.
Gemitur, the turtill spingeth mournyngh.
Gemodes, pious stones, whiche are suppo sed to encrease and byng foote the pong, they eate women teauping of childe.
Gemonia scale, a place, frome whens the he ades of persons condemned were throwen downe at Rome.
Gemonidæ, women great wth childe.
Gemurfa, æ, f.g. a coyn of lyke graue vnder the tyttell toe.
Gena, æ, f.g. the eye lyb. It is sometyne taken for the cheske, some take it for the ball of the cheske vnder the eie. Some for that part of the face, where the beard beginneth to grow.
Genaius, a, um, gluttonous.
Genalogia, æ, f.g. a pedigree, a genealogie.
Gener, i, m. g. he that marieth my daughter.
Generalis, le, that is easily engendred.
Genialis, lo, general.
Generaliter, generally.
Generacio, raskere, to engender.
Generatim, by euery tynde, some tyme generally.
Sigillatim et generatim, contrarie.
Generatio, onis, fæ. gen. a generation, an en gendyng.
Generator, oris, m. g. he that engendyeth.
Genero, au, arc, to engendre, as the male do eth, to byng foote as the female doeth, to spring as herbes doo, sometyne to inuene.
Generose, nobly.
Generositas, aus, f.g. noblities, the estate of gen
till men, some tyme apenes to generacion.
Generosus, a, um, of a gentill or noble tynde,
excellent, courageous.
Generosus princeps, a pulstant and coura geous prince.
Generosus equus, an horse of a good race, a courageous horse.
Arbores generosæ, trees whiche beare plente of good fruite.
Genesis, geneſeos, f.g. generation, natyuitie,
also the planette, vnder whiche one is borne.
Genethlia, orum, n.g. plur. solemnities of fea
stynge at the date of ones byrthe.
Genethliacus, an astronomer or other like, whi che by the sterres sette at a mans natyuitie, tellet his fortune.
Genethliacus, a, um, belongynge to a mans na tialitee.
Genetum, ti, a promontory wherein is a temple dedicated vnto Iupiter.
Genewa, a towne in Sauoy.

Genetareali, a great measure of ponds in the land of promission, called also Mare Tyberiadis.
Genialis, i.e. that is gotten to voluptues and pleasure, and to make good cheer, full of myrrhe and pleasure.
Genialis torus, sine lectus, a hypps bedde.
Genialis dies, a daye addies to voluptuousnesse and pleasure, or so be merry & foruind in.
Genialis homo, a man in his house verate his beall and fleshye.
Genialiter, deynptly.
Genix, oide verkes full of unhappynesse.
Geniculatim, topar by toynes, at euery toyncte.
Geniculans, a, um, that hath many toynctes,
or knottes, as the stemes of herbes or drawes.
Geniculum, li, n. g. the toynct of a straw or stalk of an herbe.
Genii, men whiche do geue all theyr study to ea-syng and dymyng.
Genista, x, f. g. bynrome.
Genimen, generation.
Genitale, lis, n. g. the membye of generation.
Genitalis, i.e. pertainyng to the bypth of naturaree of a man.
Genitale solum, the natural conteste of place where a man is boine.
Genitale semen, the seede of generation.
Genitalis dies, the date of natyture.
Genitales trunci, stockes of trees that be set ette, and haue strength to beare.
Genitaliter, by generation.
Genitua, sometimes generation. sometimes the
seede of generation.
Genitrus, a, um, that hath power to ingender,
or that whiche proceedeth with generation.
Genitruq; nota, markes wherewith a manne is boine.
Genitor, oris, m. g. a father.
Genitores omnium uultorum Græci, The Greekes, fathers and begynners of all vicious sayngs.
Genitrix, icis, f. g. a mother.
Genitura, x, f. g. generation, engendryng, conception. sometimes for Horoscopus, the obseruation of the tyme of ones byrth. also the seede of generation.
Genius, a, um, begotten, engendryed.
Genius, n, m. g. an Angell. Among the papynys some suppoled it to be the spirite of man. some do put two goddrounes of the soule, a good and an euell. Bonus genius, et malus genius whiche neuer departed from vs. Sometimes it is taken for nature it selfe, or delectacion moued by nature, the grace or pleasantnesse
of a thyng.
Genio dare operam, et indulgere Genio, to lpye voluptuosity.
Genium fraudare, to withdey from al they ges pleasur.
Geno, genul, genere, idem quod gigno.

Genocha, a breast less than a fore, in colours a herke yellow, full of black spots. I suppose it to be a blacke gentel, the furre whereof is in Englande esteemed above all other furs.

Gens, entir, f. g. a nation, a people. sometimes a kynrede.

Gens Aelia, a kynrede compacts of many families.

Minime gentium, in no wyle in the worlde.

Nusq̃ gentium, no where. Likewise gentium is vsed after these doubtes, Vnde, vndecl-q̃, vbiq̃, vbiuis, vbiq̃, vbi, quo, quando, longe, and it is an expetius, addet scilicet is gratia.

Sine genti, vnnoble.

Gentiana, æ, f. g. an herbe called Gentian.

Genticus, a, um, of a nation or people.

More gentile, after the maner of that people

Gentilis, a hyndman of the same name of stock.
sometimes it signifieth a Gentile or Pagan.
sometimes a countesse man,

Gentilis, le, ppye of familiar to that people or kynrede, or that hath the same name.

Gentiles dominorum serui, seruantes having the same name that they masters haue.

Gentilitas, ais, gentilitie, the multitude of the people of familie, the frendshipp and alliance betwene men of the same stocke and kynred.

Gentilis in herbis, the soyle of place where the herbe groweth.

Gentiliculus, a, um, of the people or nation, or that a people nation or kynrede hath of long tyme vsed.

Gentilium hoc illi est, this cometh to hym of kynd : he hath this of his auncestours.

Gentilium nomen, the surname or ancient name of a mans auncestours, declaringe the originall begynning.

Gentilia sacra, ceremonies of that countrie or people.

Gentilium est, It is a ppye vse or custome
among them taken of theyr auncestours.

Gentis, idis, a kyng of Bilets, called now Sla-uone, which was the first finder of the herbe called Gentian.

Genu, n. g. in the singular number vndeclined,
plur. genu, genuum, genibus, the knee.

Adulor genibus vestris supplex, I falls
downe at your knees humbly intreating you.

Genua submittere, to knele, to make carle.

Genu terram tangere, to make to lowe curtise; that is knele southerly the grounde.

Genua, a herbe called Genu.

Genua, a kinde of holes to bray the kness.

Genuum, a, um, proper, perillous, naturall.

Gentium nomen in aliquo, et gentino colori, to becomen of statures, to speake with one language by the cheeke.

Gentili denique, the most noble chikens.

Gentilis sermo, the naturall speche of those der tongue.

Genus, generis, n. g. is the beginning of every thing, either of the person that ingendrieth it: or of the place where it was ingendred, as hpnred, a stocke, a lineage, a parentage. It is also a forte, a manner of faction. Orestes a Tantalus ducit genus, Orestes hath his beginning of Tantalus, or is descended lineally of Tantalus. Plato genere Atheniensis est, Plato is of his blood of Atheniensis, an Athenian. Also it signifyeth hpnred.

Genus vitæ, a kinde of life.

Genus mortis, a kinde of death.

Genus animalium, a kinde of beastes. Also it signifyeth that, whiche comprehendeth many diverse kindes, as Animal comprehendeth a man a hpnred, a spme, and euer of them is Genus so that whiche is comprehended in them. As a hpnred beaste is Genus to an hpnred, a lion, a bull, a dogge. &c. a hpnred is Genus to an egge, a crowe, a larkie, a sparow. &c. a spme is Genus to a whale, a porpoise, an haddocke, a plaice. &c.

Genere summo prognatus, descended of a noble familie of stocke.

Genere paterno ab Hercule oriundus, descended of hauing his beginning of Hercules from the fathers spde.

Genus humanum, or genus hominum, man-kind.

Genus Thebanum, the nation of people of Thebes.

In genus hominum, there is a forte of faction of men.

Infusum generis, of the same forte.

Ad no genere pices capere, to take but of one forte of fishes.

Geodesia, f. g. a science of things concerning sensible greatnesse and figure.

Geodeses, he that hath that science, a disputer of groundes, a measurer of lande.

Geographia, f. g. the description of the earth.

Geomania, superstitious working in sorcery, by circles and pitches in the earth.

Geometres, is, or Geometra, m. g. a geometretian, a measurer of the earth.

Geometria, f. g. geometry, measuring, and proportioning of figures in the earth.

Geometrica, orum, seates of porties of geometry.

Geometricæ, f. g. a geometretian, or according to the preceptes of geometry, by demonstration. Geometricæ eruditus, learned in the science of geometry.

Geometricus, a, n. of or belonging to geometry.

Georgi, people of Asia, hauing that name of tilling the earthe.

Georgia, as, culture and tilling of the earthe.

Georgica, orum, bookes written of husbandry.

Georgicus, a, um, belonging to husbandry.

Geraulm, an herbe, called herbe Robert.

Geræa, a citie of Portugal, called Caceres.

Gergonia, a towne in Supen standing on an high hill.

Germanæ, brotherly.

Fraternæ et germanæ.

Germania, a countrey called of some Duches lands, of some Almaynes, it is described by Ptolome the xi. chapter, to be bounded on the west with the reuer of Rhene. on the north with the sea Germanicus oceanus, the south west part with the river Donowe, the east side is bounded with the bending of Donow: vnto the hilles of Sarmatia. The name of Germany extendeth nowe further: for therein are conteyned many great countreies and citiees, whiche sometime were part of Gallia Belgica, that is to saie, from the reuer of Rhene westwards, vnto oure sea Mare Britannicum.

Germani, people of Germany, or Germanes.

Germanicus, a noble man of Rome, father to Caligula the emperour.

Germanicus, a, um, of Germany.

Germanitas, aris, f. g. brotherhood of brother germanes.

Germanus, a substantiue, brother of one father and one mother.

Germanus, a, um, com of the same stock, right and verate true, not counterfeit.

Germanum nomen, the proper & right name Mea germana patria, my verate and native all countreie.

Germani Attici, the right and true followers of the Attike eloquence.

Germanissimus Stoicis, verste like the Stoikes in opinion.

Germanæ geræ, verate trifles.

Frater cognatione patruelis, amore germanus, by nature a cousin germane, in loue, a verate brother germane.

Germen, inis, n. g. a branch of a tree of herbe, a pong spring.

Germinalis, le, that springeth of brancheth.

Germinalis arbores, trees that spring of a kernel of seede.

Germinalis, f. g. to shoothe of spring by.

Germinatio, onis, f. g. a springing, a hatching.

Germinatus, us, m. g. idem.

Germino, aul, are, to hatchinge oute, to shoothe out ponge springes.

Gero, gelsi, erere, to beare, to carry, somtyme it signifyeth to haue, to do, to execute, to behaue.

Gerere amicitiam, to practise frendship, to be ones frende.

Quorum sunt de gerenda amicitia, practissime scripti libri, whose bookes we haue, howe to practise frendship, very well written.

Gerere bellum, to make warre.

Gerere

Gerere honores, to bee in honour of authorites.

Gerere magistratum, to exercise auctite.

Gerere morem, to obeye.

Gerere negotium, to doo his busynesse.

Paternam speciem gerere, to bee like his father.

Animo morem gessero, I will satisfy my mynde, I will follow my appetite of fantasy.

Gerere priuata, to be in the office of a iudge.

Gerere pudorem, to be chamefast.

Gerere rempublicam, to minister the publicke weale.

Simulatem cum aliquo gerere, to be at variance with one.

Gerere cornua, to weare or to haue hornes.

Gerere consulum, or Consulum, to beare the office of a consull, to be consull.

Quemadmodum nos geramus, howe we may behaue our selfe.

Animum muliebrem gerere, to haue a womanly herte of courage.

Fidem fluxam gerere, not to be faithfull and trusty of promyse.

Ingenium callidum gerere, to haue a crafty and subtil witte.

Veteres inimicitias cum Cesare gerebat, there was olde grudge and malice betwene hym and Cesar.

Morsu onera gerunt, they carry theyr burdenes in theyr mouthes.

Gerere partum of vterum, to bee greaue with child.

Bene rem suam gerere, to play the good husbande, to doo his busynesse well and thyselfe for his owne profit.

Personam ciuitatis gerere, to represente the face of person of the hole citie of commonalte.

Reulto quidnam hic rerum gerat, I come as gapne, to see what he is dooing here.

Sciui extemplo rem de compacto geri, I perceived by and by that the matter was agreed betwene them.

Res alias geris, thy mynde is on other matters. Gelsu se contra disciplinam meam, he hath doone contrary to myne instruction.

Tutelam ianue gerit, he kepeth the gate.

Gerontocomion, an hospitall, wherein old men are kept, an almes house.

Gerra, f. g. the name of. iii. citiees: One in Syria, an other nere to Traconics, the thyrde in Arabia felix.

Gerræ, arum, f. g. plur. nu. lettyls made with twigges. Also trifles and thinges of no value.

Gerræ sicular, trifles.

Gerres, f. g. of the kinde of heerepuges. It may be called pytharbes.

Gerro, onis, f. g. a talker of triftynges thynge of light matters.

Gerula, f. g. a maybe that kepeth a chylde.

Gerulus, f. m. g. a portie of a man hpnred to a hpnred.

Gerrus, a reuer of Mythis.

Gerunda, a citie in Spayne called Girona.

Gerundium, a gerunda, a towne partetipall.

Gerusa, a citie of Sarmatia, called now saint Georges.

Gerusia, f. g. a place where the colliaps was assembled at Lacedemontia, like as the senate house was at Rome.

Geryon, or Geryones, a hpnred of Spayne, whom Hercules dyd slea, and toke from hym certayn bulles and hyen of notable greatnes.

Gesodum, a citie of Moyses, called Saliburg.

Gessoriacum, as some suppose, was the towne, whiche is nowe named Calais, in England called Boloigne.

Gelum, f. n. g. a certayn weapon for the warre as a toothe of a woodknife, some take it for an halberde.

Gellus, a reuer of Ionia.

Gesta, orum, thynges whiche haue been doon, actes.

Gestamen, inis, n. g. what so euer is boine, a burden of cariage, a mate, a scepter.

Gestatio, onis, the exercise where a man is cased of boine on any thyng. Also a place whither mē be caried either for theyr helth, or for theyr solace and pastyme, in manner of a game of pastime.

Gestatorium, f. n. g. that wherein any thyng is caried of boine, a flagon, a hoysellite.

Gestatorius, a, um, that wherby is caried, or wherein one is caried.

Sella gestatoria, a chaire wherein one is caried, or that may be remoued fro place to place.

Gestatus, us, m. g. carrying.

Gesticularia, f. g. the seate of them that daunce with poppettes. Also a dauncinge of tumbling wenche.

Gesticularius, a, um, perteynyng to signes or tokens of mythis, with meupng the bodie of handes.

Gesticulator, oris, m. g. he that playeth with poppettes.

Gesticulor, aris, ari, to make signes or tokens of mythis, as in dauncinge, to make muche gesture.

Carmina gesticulari, to daunce accordyng to numbe and measure of verses.

Gestians, enis, hopping or skipping.

Leitia gestians, hopping or skipping for ioy.

Gestio, onis, an exploitinge of doings of a thyng.

Gestio, iul, ire, to shewe the affections of the mynde by meupng of the bodie of any patte therof, and may be referred both to mythis, frowne, or any other passion of appetite of the mynde. Somtyme it signifyeth to desire, also to desire gladly.

Quid est, quod sic gestis? What is the matter?

Gestis

G ANTE E.

eter that ze leape of thyp so / of that ze fethes fuche gambaldeo.
Gentilofus, a, um, full of merrynesse in mouthe.
Gentio, aui, are, to beare of weare of entymmes,
Gento, aui, are, to beare longe.
Gestare ventrem, the to with childe.
Annulos gestare, to weare epyges.
Gestare collo, to weare about ones necke.
Gestare aliquem in sinu, to sette muche clope
by a man, to loue hym hertely.
Gestas animum meum, Thou knowest my thought of mynde.
Non obuia adeo gestamus pectora, we be not so hard hearted.
Gestus est mos, it was obeyed of dooen as conspiring to thei will of pleasure.
Gestuosus, a, um, full of gesture.
Gestus, a, um, boyne, of don, ministered, executed.
Gestus, us, m. g. gesture of countenance with mouthing the body, demauncing, demauncure.
Gestus, aui, are, a dopyng of exploiting.
Gestus, aui, are, some suppose to be those, whiche are in Bojwata and Gothia. Some saye that they be moie in the northward in Dep ethia, pertaining to Europa. Some thinke that it to the people of the countreys Valachia, & Transilvania.
Gestuli, a people of Afriche.
Gestulus, a, um, and Gestulicus, a, um, of the people Gestuli.

G, ANTE, I.

Gibbus, a little ple in the sea Jonist, where into many condemned were exiled.
Gibber, eis, m. g. idem quod Gibbus.
Gibber, a, um, and Gibber, eis, et hoc re, that hath a crooked backe, or a great bunch on a ny parte of the body. Sometime that appereth of standerth up above other.
Gibbosus, a, um, idem quod gibber, a, um.
Gibbus, bi, m. g. a great bounche of swellinge of the tische in any part of the body.
Gibbus, a, um, for connexus, that hath the cold
figure of a thynge embossed.
Giganteus, a, um, of or belonging to gigantes.
Gigantomachia, a battaile whiche gigantes prepared agaynst the Goddis, as Poetes frigned.
Gigas, aui, m. g. a gyaunt, a man or woman
farre exceeding the common stature of men, of whome as well holy scripture as other cre dible writers do make mention. Plutarchus wryteth, that Hercules, a Romayne capta yne, breyng in Mauritania, brake downe the sepulchre of Antheus, and therein was found the body of a man, of such monstrous greatnesse, that the same Captayne meened with a reuerent fence, caused the inhumynge

G ANTE I.

to be reuerified. Plinius wryteth, that in Tan ta, an hyll fell downe, and there was founde
the body of a man, in lengthe. xlii. cubits, whiche was supposed of some to be the body of Dion, of some the body of Orion. Sava leus affirmeth, it was reported to hym of a credible person, that in the south part of Can die, was founde vnder a great tree, the body of a man as great as a wyne vessel called Do lium. Howe great that vessel is at Venice, where Antonius wote, I can not tisse, with out it is taken in bee the greatest vessel, wher e he was sometime a tunc. But he saith, one of the teeth of that head remayneth at Ven ice, of wonderfull greatnesse, by the whiche that that it may make som gedy to the great nesse of the head. Solinus remembryeth, that in the warres whiche the Romayne hadde in Candie, in a great rage of watre, the ground beyng broken vp, there was founde the body of a man in lengthe. xxxii. cubites. whiche Flaccus and Metellus (than capitaine of the Romayne hoste) beholdinge wondered, whiche they before would not helue, when they onely herde it reported. About xxxij. years passed, I my selfe beyng with my father by Bytharbe Elyot, at a monastere of regu lar channons, called Juy church, two myles from the cite of Satisbury, hebeide the bo nes of a dead man founde depe in the ground where they digged done, whiche beyng toge ther together was in length. xlii. foote and x.
ynches. wherof one of the teeth my father had, whiche was of the quantitee of a great mainure. This haue I wryten because some men wil belue nothinge that is out of the re passe of thei owne knowlage. And yet some of thein presume to haue knowlage aboute as my other, contemnyng all men but thein sel ues and suche as they fauour.
Gigeria, orum, n. g. a pteate made of garbage of pullapne and other thynge.
Gigno, genui, or ginui, gignere, to engender or geat, sometime to make, to cause.
Gignere et procreare.
Quæ piper gignunt, whiche byngs footthe pepper.
Gignere capillum, to byede heare.
Oua gignunt pisces, ffishes byede and byng footthe spawne.
Ad has & huiusmodi fortune occasiones gi gnimur, we be borne to abyde these and su che lyke channes and aduentures of fortune.
Gilo, a cite, the people wherof be called Gi lonites.
Gillus, a man of Carentum.
Gilius, a, um, peolow, lyke honye.
Gingiber, looke Zinziber.
Gingiva, u, f. g. the gumme of lawes, wherby
the teethe be sette.

Gingiv

G ANTE L.

Gingiva, u, f. g. a little gumme.
Gingiva, u, f. g. a brnde of smalle pyres, man
nyng a noyle lyke the churthyn of bydes.
Ginglio, grili, grn, grite, to chure of make a churche as bydes doo.
Ginzariar, a piper, a myndrell.
Gion, a great ryuer in Egypte, otherwyse cal led Nilus.
Gingilis, li, m. gen. a reele whereon the reede is wounden.
Gipuli, fishes, which I suppose to be menowes.
Gish, or git, n. g. indeclinabile, an herbe wher e is nowe called Nigella Romana, the sede thereof is blacke lyke unto onyon seede, and is used in dyete. And the sauour thereof exhau seth the herte of the head.
Githy, rocks growynge amynge coynes that is rpp.

G ANTE L.

Labela, a, f. g. the space betweene the browes, ouer the nose.
Glabbellus, a, um, that is bare withoute heare.
Glaber, a, um, smoothe without heare, pyde.
Glabeo, bre, to become naked, bare of pyde, without heare.
Glabeo, scere, to be without heare or smoothe Glabretum, ti, n. g. a place, haupng nothinge growynge in it, a plot that will beare no coyne.
Glabriones, they whiche lacke heare.
Glabrior, oris, the comparatiue of glaber.
Glabro, aui, are, to make bare, pyde, or smoothe,
without heare or mouile.
Glacialis, le, where yce is, that made of is wont to be frosten or toudened into yce.
Glaciatus, a, um, congeled, frosten. also for Co
agulatus, gathered to a carde of cream.
Glacies, ei, f. g. yce.
Glacio, aui, are, actually to freese, or tounne to yce. sometime for Glaciator, to be frosten or congeled.
Glaciator, aris, ari, to be frosten.
Humor glaciatur in gemmas, the humour is congeled into pyerous stones.
Glacto, aui, are, to make a noyle lyke a gauder.
Gladiator, oris, m. g. one that playeth with a swoorde. Amonge the Romaynes they were men, whiche fought daarmed with swordes.
Gladiatorius, a, um, perteynyng to that maner of fpyghynge.
Gladiatorio animo, spoken prouerbially,
whan one with a dabburne of sprefull mynd intendeth to hurt an other, though it be to his owne great perill and daunger.
Gladiatorium, is sometime used absolutely for the reward geuen to swoorde players.
Gladiatura, a, f. g. the arte of feate to fpyghte of plate with a swoorde.

G ANTE L.

Gladiolum, li, m. g. a little swoorde, a woodde kniffe. Also the name of an herbe lyke to fennel, haupng an yelow floure, lyke in countre to a floure betule.
Gladius, li, m. g. a swoorde. also a bynd of fyre, whiche hath a bone in his foreshede lyke to a swoorde.
Dedisti gladium quise occideret, you haue geuen hym an occasion to destroye of caste a way hym selfe.
Gladio nostro conficere sententiam alicuius Addeth our reason of persuasion to confounde an other mans opinion.
Distingere, enudare, educere gladium, to drame out a swoorde.
Recondere gladium, to put vp a swoorde in his scaberde.
Suo sibi hunc iugulo gladio, I hel hym with his owne swoorde. I confounde hym with his owne woordes.
Gladio plumbeo iugulare, to conuince with a wealte argument.
Glandarius, a, um, that belongeth to masse.
Glandaria sylua, a wood haupng much mast,
or that is kept to beare mast.
Glandario, onis, sc. g. feedynge of swynes with masse, called pannage.
Glandula, a, f. g. a little acorne of masse, also that parte of a swynes necke that hath many hernelles.
Glandomitum, a citee in Spayne called now Mondauedo.
Glans, glandis, or Glandis, glandis, f. g. masse growynge on oke, beech, chestene, a ocher lyke. Sometime the frute of all trees. It is al so a pellet of leade, or a piomet of leade, wher by men used in warre for a wepon. also a kee hel growynge betwene the shyn and the fische.
It is moreover the foire parte of out of a mans harde. It is also a suppositioye.
Glans louis, a chesten.
Glandulosus, a, um, full of hernelles or masse.
Glandifer, ra, ram, that whiche beareth masse.
Glandium, di, n. g. the parte of a boze next to the necke, the lifelde of gaudonde. after some the heche of the boze.
Glaphirus, a, um, forunde, pleasant, ingraued,
poyle, holow, famous, subrell.
Glans, or glanis, a certayne fyre.
Glarea, a, f. g. a poynt of grauell.
Glarea arena, grauell and sande.
Iciana glarea, dyge and barayne grauell.
Glaculus, a, um, grauell, full of grauell.
Glareola, le, f. g. small grauell.
Glabrum, li, neut. gen. an herbe called also I satis. In englyshe wood, wherewith woules and wyllow clothes are dyed blew, the leaves are lyke to greene sorrelle, but greye er and thyer. Latine wryteth, it was so cu mously knowne in Englands, that it was called Glabrum.

Granatum, i, n. g. a pomegranate.
 Granatus, a, um, that hath many corners or kernels.
 Granum granatum, a pome granate.
 Grandaeala, scars in the arms holes.
 Grandaeas, a, u, f. g. great age, ancient.
 Grandaeus, a, um, verie olde, ancient.
 Grandaeus, f. e, to waxe greate, to growe.
 Grandaeus, a diminutive of Grandis.
 Grandaeus, a, u, f. g. to go awate apace.
 Grandiloquentia, a, f. g. a stately eloquence.
 Grandiloquus, a, um, eloquence, he that speaketh as it were with a greatte magnificence in wordes.
 Grandinatus, a, um, hurt or wounded with hails.
 Grandino, a, u, f. g. to happe, actually.
 Grandiosus, a, um, full of happe.
 Grandio, u, i, f. g. to make greate.
 Grandis, de, auncient or great, of great valur.
 Grandis nati, well rethen in yeres.
 Grande as alienum, great debte.
 Grande gaudium, great joy and mythe.
 Grandis aras, auncient.
 Grandis litera, a great capitall letter.
 Cenus deendi grandius, a more lospe and amptly.
 Grandipccunia mercari, to bye for a greate
 summe of monie.
 Grandis nati, a verie auncient or aged persone.
 Grandior homo, a well aged man.
 Granditas, a, u, f. g. a boundance of yeres, auncient.
 Granditas verborum, amptnesse of wordes
 bee, bygh and lospe speaking.
 Grandiculus, a, um, somewhat greate, of a good nature of age.
 Grandio, u, i, f. g. happe.
 Granicus, a, m. g. a spure of Bithynia, at the whiche great Alexander ouerthrew and put to flight the power of Darius.
 Granum, i, n. g. a graine or corne. also the .506.
 parts of an ounce.
 Graphiarum, n. g. a case, wherein pensels were kept. it may be called a penner.
 Graphice, es, carving in box, or other like thing.
 Graphice, propriety, well and cunningly.
 Graphicus, a, u, cunningly or perfectly wrought.
 Graphicus homo, a propie man.
 Graphis, fluidis, f. g. the arte of postreps sure: after Audius, the description of deli niation, or drawing out of a woork that is to be made.
 Graphium, n. n. g. a pensell, wherewith men do write in tables.
 Grassario, onis, robbing.
 Challor, oris, m. g. he that by hgh wasteth in a waite to robbe of sea men. also an extortioner.
 Grassaria, a, f. g. idem quod grassatio.

Grassor, aris, ari, to robbe of sea men passage by the high wates. also to go or come on with a violent rage. Therfore in a sodayn and vio lent pestilence, it is said Morbus grassatur, the sicknesse heltheth men in great nom
 by a sodayn.
 Grassari, sometimes taken in the good parte for Procedere, sometimes to walke.
 Gratabundus, a, um, and Gratans, anis, om.
 g. geuyng thankes, thankfull.
 Grate, byndely, thankfully, gratefully.
 Grates, f. g. plur. thanks.
 Agere grates alicui, to geue one thanks.
 Gratia, a, f. g. grace, fauour. sometimes it signi fieseth thanke, a benefite, a reward, peace, or loue, cause of respects, please, authorities,
 fauour.
 Mala gratia, signifieth displeasure.
 Mea, tua, vel eius gratia, for myne, thine,
 or his sake.
 Gratiam habere, to thanke, to bee mynde full of a benefite, to haue mynde to requite a benefite.
 Gratiam inire, to get thanke.
 Ab eo gratiam hanc inibo, I will geat this thanke of hym.
 Gratiam referre aut reddere, to requite or doo one good tourne for another, or one be pleasure for another.
 Ad gratiam, for fauour, or to please.
 Si quid beneficias, leuor pluma est gratia,
 If ge doo theim any pleasure, they haue ly tell of no consideration at all.
 Componere gratiam, to make at one, to reconcile.
 Gratiam facere delicti, to pardon an offence,
 to forgive.
 Petere gratiam ab aliquo, to aske pardon of forgiveness of one.
 Petere gratiam alicuius, to desyre to haue o nes fauour and good will.
 Apud Lentulum ponam te in gratiam, I will bynge you in fauour with Lentulus, or I will reconcile you to Lentulus, or make you at one with Lentulus.
 Recipere in gratiam, to loue and take one in to fauour agayne after some dyslike of be reuance.
 Redire in gratiam, to be at one, to be recon ciled, to come agayne in fauour.
 Restituere in gratiam, to byng in fauour as gayne, to reconcile.
 Redigere in gratiam aliquos, idem.
 Retinere, or tenere gratiam alicuius, to kepe ones selfe in a mans fauour, to keepe one his frende. Gratias scribere, to geue thankes to one in writing.
 Cum illo magna est mihi gratia, he and I bee greate frendes, or we bee nowe thyng by reconciled.

Cum

Cum illo nulla est mihi gratia, he and I bee not frendes, or he and I neuer loued to gyther.
 Tibi gratia est, I thanke you.
 Ea gratia, for that cause.
 Cupio gratiam tuam, I desyre to haue your fauour and good will.
 Negligere gratiam alicuius, Not to passe whether he haue ones good wille or not.
 Iusurandi gratiam facere, to dyscharge of quere one of his othe.
 Gratia, the graces, looke Charites.
 Gratidia, the name of a woman of Naples in Naples.
 Gratifico, a, u, f. g. to gratifie or doo a thyng thankfull: or to confere a benefite, or to do a good tourne, to make one bound to hym by dooing some pleasure.
 Gratiam gratificare, to doo a pleasure.
 Gratificatio, onis, f. g. a gratifying.
 Gratioso, for fauour, cul opponitur Sordide,
 for bypocrytes or fakes.
 Gratosus, a, um, verie thankfull, also in fa
 uour with the people, gentyl, pleasaunt.
 Gratiosa misio, a licence to depart, purcha sed by vntaill fauour.
 Apud omnes ordines gratosus, in fauour,
 or well esteemed with all sortes of men.
 Gratis, an aduerbe, becomynge without rea warde, without desert, for nothyng.
 Habitare gratis in alieno, to dwelle on an o ther mans ground without payng rent.
 Seruire gratis, to serue without wages.
 Gratis diligere virtutes, To loue vertues for theyr owne sakes, not for any aduau tage or profit.
 Gratanter, thankfully.
 Gratitude, dñis, f. g. hyndenefte.
 Grator, aris, ari, to geue thankes to god with offeringes, also to reioyce of good fortune, al so to speake a thyng thankfully.
 Gratitudo, an aduerbe, signifying of good will,
 without benefite, freely.
 Gratuitus, a, u, m, without rewarde, or bypocryt.
 Gratia amicitia est, frendshipp is a thyng that shoud be without hope of recompence.
 Innata est homini probitas quaedam gratia ta, There is ingendred in manne, a certayne goodnesse or honestie, whiche is neyther al lured with pleasures, nor byged with profits, but is free onely for the loue of vertue it self.
 Mercenarius et gratuitus, contrary.
 Gratabundus, a, um, that dooth reioyce of geue thankes.
 Gratulatio, onis, f. g. sometimes it signifieth a reioycing of some good thing that happened to hym selfe, or to another man, sometimes a ge uing of thanks.
 Gratulor, aris, ari, with a dactyl cast, to bee reioyce for hym selfe, or another, for any good thyng that hath happened.

 Tibi de hac tua felicitate gratulor, I am reio yce on the behalfe of this prosperite that thou arte in. Sometimes it signifieth to geue thankes vnto god.
 Aduentum gratulanur, They saied I was welcome, or that they were gladd of my com mynge.
 Gratulor tibi hanc rem, or Gratulor tibi in hoc, I am gladd that this hath chaunced to you.
 Gratus, a, um, that remembreth of recompen ceth a good tuene, agreeable, delectable, bynd, thankfull, pleasaunt, acceptable, when in the good parte, in good geue.
 Memor et gratus.
 Gratum se prabere, to shew ones selfe thank full and bynde.
 Gratissimum mihi feceris, you shall doo me
 a great pleasure.
 Gratum et optatum.
 Gratum in cibo, fauour or pleasaunt in meate.
 Gratum iucundo odore, pleasaunt with a de lectable and sweete saour.
 Grato animo esse, to haue a thankfull and bynde mynde.
 Graustellus, an auncient father.
 Grauat, et grauatim, greuouely, displeasaunt
 ly, pesynfull, hardely, with an puell will.
 Quam grauat pater dedit? With what an puell will did my father geue it?
 Id grauat concessum est, That was hard ly geaued, and with an puell will.
 Grauat, a, um, greued, burdened, trouble with the more or distillation in the head, al so he that dooth a thyng, as it were halfe a gespall his wille.
 Grauat somno, byouly for sleape, that he can scame holde up his head.
 Grauat vulneribus, he that hath many sores or greuous woundes.
 Grauediosus, a, um, that hath an heavy head, heuy or bynd, disposed to do nothyng, that hath the more or pose, or that causeth it.
 Grauedo, uis, f. g. beaunefte, greue, discale,
 also the more or reume of the head.
 Graueolentia, a, f. g. gen. dyslike of speaking
 fauour.
 Oris graueolentia, a synnyng breath.
 Graueo, f. e, to be bynded or bynded, to waxe heauy.
 Indices valerudo graueo, he is every daye bynded and bynded, he waxeth every daye more and more.
 Indices publicis indices graueolentia, The publicke and synnyng in the common weale waxing daye more and more.
 Graueo, cordis, he that hath a greue heart.

Grauiditas, aris, f. g. greatnesse with childe, or with young.
 Grauido, au, are, to geat a woman with childe.
 Grauidus, a, um, great with childe, or with young.
 Grauida mulier, a woman with childe.
 Grauidam facere mulierem, to geat a woman with childe.
 Grauida est Pamphilo, She is geat with childe by Pamphilus.
 Grauiolosus, he that speaketh grauiely and seriously.
 Grauiosarium, a citie in Almayne called Banbergh.
 Grauis, heauy, greuous, peynfull, soze, sometimes substantiual, weyghie, of great weight or importance, graue, or haunge grautier, sage, discrete, contrarie to lighthe or wanton. also great or puissant. sometime olde or aged, sure or constant, plentiful or full. also stynking, haung a strong sauour or pite aspe, sometime difficile and harde.
 Terra grauis, lunde loded with coyne.
 Grauis nunciu, One that byngeth heauye rydunge.
 Graue precium, an high price.
 Grauis annis miles, an auncience and aged soulypou.
 Grauis senecta, impotent for age.
 Graui tunc priuatus sum amoris erga mei I have lost a substantiuall wilnesse of my loue towards the.
 Grauis Marte, great with childe by Mars.
 Morbo grauis, feeble and fagite with the fechenesse.
 Quanto tunc est animus natu grauior, tanto frigidior, The more graue, sage, and discrete your wisdom is, by reason of your age, so much the more ready let the same be, to forgive and pardon.
 Grauis vinculis, laded with yones and fetters.
 Grauis somno, so heauy and drouly, that he can scant holde by his head forshape.
 Grauis vulneribus, soze wounded.
 Grauis victo, great with childe.
 Graue absinthium, wormewood verale bitter, and unpleasant in taste.
 Grauis aduersarius, a foze and dyedfull enemy.
 Aes graue, wedges of ingottes of golde or silver. Grauis annona, dearth of coyne.
 Grauis armatura, a complete harness, contrarie to Lewis armatura.
 Grauis author, a substantiuall autho of good authoritee.
 Grauis halitus, a strong or stynking breathe.
 Imperium graue et stabile, a firme or durable rule of imperie.
 Grauis manus, a hande, full of monete, or some othe thing.
 Grauis paupertas, great neede, extreme poeuerie. Graues remi, great and mighty oyes, Grauis senectus, peynfull olde age.

 Grauis supellex, goodlye and reche lusse of householde.
 Vereor, ne tibi sim grauis, I feare leasse I trouble you.
 Grauius erit tuum vnum verbum quam centum mea, You shal doo more with one word, than I shal with an hundred: Or one word of your mouth shal more pynaple, than an hundred of mine.
 Hec dum incipias grauius sunt, These thynges bee harde tyl a man hath ones begun the.
 Grauiussum annitempus, the moste daungerous and perillous tyme of the pere.
 Non dum audisti, quod est grauiussum, you haue not yet heard the greatest matter, or that is moste heynous or greuous.
 Grauis odor, a stronge sauour.
 Oratio grauis, graue or discrete wordes.
 Grauis sonus, a base or lowe sounne.
 Grauisima sunt, ad, &c. they are of verale great effeacte, to. &c.
 Grauisca, a castell of the Tuscans.
 Grauitas, aris, f. g. grautier, authoritee, sagesnesse, discretionelle of mynde, weyghynesse, heauynesse. also the greuousnesse or greatnesse of a thyng.
 Grauitas odoris, the strongnesse of sauour.
 Grauitas doloris, the greatnesse of sorowe or payne.
 Grauitas audiendi, auditus, et aurium, basenesse in hearyng.
 Grauitas coeli, the vnpleasantnesse of the ayre.
 Grauitas oris, a stynking breath.
 Grautier, et graue, greuously, peynfully, heauyly, substantiual, muche, weyghty, fadely.
 Grautier accipere, to take displeasantly.
 Grauisime agrotare, to be verale soze sicke.
 Grautier crepucrant fores, the doores made a great creakyng or noyse.
 Nimis grautier cruciat adolescentulum, he vexeth the yonge man to soze.
 Grautier in aliquem dicere, to speake sharply and rigorously agaynst one.
 Grautier aliquid facere, to doo a thyng discretely and weyghty.
 Grautier increpare, to chide or rebuke sharply.
 Grautier irasci, to be verale angry.
 Grautier et acut sonare, contrarie.
 Grautier dissentiant inter se, They are of great discorde and variance betwene themselves.
 Grautier spirare, to haue a stronge sauour.
 Grauiusculus, a, um, the diminutiue of grauis.
 Grauo, au, are, to greue or burdeyn, to lode.
 Grauo, aris, ar, to bee greued, or to take greuously, to be sothe to dooe a thyng.
 Quia si quis grauiabitur, quicquid thyng if any man be discontented or displeased with.
 Gregalis, le, of the same flocke or company of the the common fozte.

 Gregales iui, thy companions.
 Gregarius, a, um, of the common flocke or fozte.
 Gregarius canis, a curre dogge.
 Gregarius miles, a souldiour taken at a venture, not chosen, a common souldiour, of small estimation.
 Gregarius pastor, the chief sheparde, whiche hath the charge of the hole flocke.
 Gregatim, in sundry flockes or companies.
 Gremiale, lis, n. g. an apron.
 Gremium, i, n. g. the space betwene the two thyghes, speciall of a woman.
 Gressibile, lis, n. g. apte to goe.
 Gressus, us, m. g. a steppe or goyng.
 Superbus gressus, a proude or stately mane in goyng.
 Gressus, a, um, that goeth.
 Grex, egis, m. g. a flocke, a route or company, a herde of men.
 Grex equarum, a herde of maares.
 Grillus, looke Gryllus.
 Griphus, i, m. g. a nette, a riddle, an intricate or darke sentence, harde to be assayed.
 Gronij, people of Spayne.
 Grossapina, x, f. g. cotton.
 Groffulus, li, mas, gen. a lyttell fygge that is not ripe.
 Grossus, i, m. g. a greene spygge.
 Grossus, a, um, great, grosse.
 Gruina, herbe Robere.
 Gruma, x, f. g. a myddle place, from whence groweth wates. Also a thyng, wherewith ground is measured.
 Grumulus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Grumus.
 Grumus, i, m. g. a barrowe or byllocke.
 Grundio, and grunnio, iui, nij, &c. to grunt like swyne.
 Grunnius, us, m. g. a grunting of a swyne.
 Gruo, grui, ere, to cete lyke a crane.
 Grus, gruis, m. g. f. g. a crane.
 Gryllus, i, m. g. a beast more than a grasshop, whiche deuoureth coyne. Gryllus, is also Xenophon's sonne.
 Grynus, a, um, of Grynia.
 Grynia, a towne of Beotia, in the borders of Thracia.
 Gryps, gryphis, or Gryphus, phi, m. g. a griffe or gryffon.
 Grypus, i, m. g. he that hath an hooked nose like an hankes byll.

G Valcum, a tree growyng in the ples newe founden, the one called Corcorati, the other Hispaniola, whiche be not farre from the equinoctiall lyne, whiche tree is in the toppes full of byanches, the leaues beate small, and mercuriuous grene. It bea reth fruite in the quantitee of a fyberbeut, haung within it a hencell, and withoute a thynne shale. There is of this tree the kynnes. The wood of the one is hard and heuy, within blacke, withoute pale coloured, haunging lynes some what rustie. The other is somewhat whiter without, but blacke within, not in so greate a compass. The thynde is white within and without, haunge verale small lynes. This wood boyled in water hath been founde an excellent remedy agaynst the frenche poches, and also the goute.

 Gubernaculum, li, n. g. the sterne or rother of a shyppe, and by translation the gouernance of a commune weale.
 Gubernacula reipublice tenere, to haue the rule or gouernance of the common weale.
 Accedere ad gubernacula reipublice, to come to beare a rule in the common weale.
 Denegere senatum a gubernaculis reipublice, to put the senate from the gouernance of the common weale.
 Sedere omni tempore ad gubernacula reipublice, to be alwaies occupied in the gouernance of the common weale.
 Gubernatio, onis, f. g. the gouernyng of a shyp, the ruling of a common weale.
 Gubernator, oris, m. g. a master of a shyppe, also a gouener of a countreie, a ruler.
 Gubernatrix, icis, the feminite.
 Gubernare, au, are, to gouerne, to rule.
 Gueseli, beastes lyke to mase, which haue theire dung as sweete as muske.
 Gula, x, f. g. the gullette or wepande, sometime gluttonye.
 Gula follis, the nose of the bellows, where the wynde cometh out.
 Gulioce, the greene shales of walnattes.
 Gulose, gluttonously.
 Gulosus, a, um, gluttonous.
 Gulosus lector, one that hath redde muche.
 Gummarus, a, um, dyed with gum or rosen.
 Gummarum arbores, trees that byng footye gumme.
 Gummi, n. g. vndeclined, gumme whiche groweth from trees.
 Gumminum, oyle made of gumme.
 Gummitio, onis, annoynting with gumme.
 Gummosus, a, um, that hath muche gumme.
 Gurdiorum, foolles.
 Gurgis, isis, m. g. a swalowe or deppe pitte in a water, or a goulfe. sometime the deame. sometime the perillous daunger of the sea. By translation, a naughty and wyche person, haunging in hym as it were an hole full of mischyses.
 Gurgis caruleus, the sea.
 Gurgis, au, are, to swalowe or deuoure.
 Gurgulis, onis, m. g. the goulfe or gargill of the chynne bolle. It is also a worme that biteth the gormet, and maketh it coine.
 Gurgulium, li, n. g. a littell cabyn or cotage.

Gurgulium, n. g. a bath and hisse habitation or, a bath, or, cottage.
Gutarium, n. g. a place where means were wrote to be kept.

Gustatus, m. g. taste.
Gusto, a. u. e. to taste, to have a little know-lage of experience in a thing.
Primis labris gustare, to taste of were the lips pre a little, to have a little smatch of saucor of a thing.
Gustare eius sermonem volo, I will hear what he will say.

Gustus, m. g. taste.
Verx ludi gustum non habent, They have no smatch of taste of trewe pteple and commendation.

Gutta, f. g. a droppe.
Gutatum, by droppe, one drop after an other.
Gutatus, a. u. m. that hath no it wer droppe in it.
Guttas, a. u. m. om. g. that droppe the a. u. e.
Guttulus, h. m. g. a little cruce of lyke thing.
Guttus, m. g. the droppe.
Guttulus, a. u. m. that hath a swollen throte.
Guttum, a. u. m. a little of power.

Gutta, f. g. a cruce of other lyke thing, out of the which leuor is poured droppeing, as to an eye bell.

G ANTE Y.

Gyarus, f. o. Gyara, e. looke Giarus.
Gyas, the name of a Grotale.
Gygias, a lake of Lydie.

Gygis, a little hill not far fro Thezaly.

Gygis, the sonne of Dactylus, one of the ser-uants of Landaules, hynde of Lydia (as Hecuba is wylde) of his companion (as Hecuba is her self) was also hynde of Lydia by this meanes. Landaules had a wyfe, who for the inordinate loue he bare toward her, he supposed to be the fayrest woman liuing. On a tyme he played his wyes beaures vnto Gygis, adding thereto, that he moughte the better beaure hym, he would caule hym to see hir naked. But Gygis refused, disuadenge as muche as he coude Landaules from that folp, with right wile exhortation. But Landaules obstinately perswasyng in his foolyshe fantasy, by the sette Gygis in a secreete place, where he behelde his wyfe naked goynge to bede. And as Gygis departed, the lady be-helde hym. And finally the matter disclosed vnto hir by her husbande, she intended to be reuered. For in that countre it was an in-colleable reproche to a man or woman to be seene naked. wherfore calling vnto her luche of her seruantes as the specially trusted: she sent for Gygis, who being come vnto hir: she purposed vnto hym this election, whether he hym selfe to be flayne, or elles to promise to flay Landaules, and take hie to his wyfe, and the realm with hie, whiche he abhorred, and a good wyle resyllyng, with sundry persuasions, at the laste he chose rather than to dye hym selfe, to flay Landaules, as he bidde lyng in his bed, by the meanes of the quene, whom he tooke to his wyfe, and was hynde of Lydia. Plaro libro secundo de iusto, in the person of Glaucus telleth, that Gygis had a ryng, whiche was of such a verue, that whan the bryder parte thereof was tourned to the palme of his hande, he was seene of no man, but he myght see all thynges: And whan he tourned the ryng on the contrary parte, he was hym selfe seene openly. By the meanes wherof he flay Landaules, and committed adulterie with his wyfe. There was also an other Gygis, a great gyant, and brother of Briareus.

Gymnas, a. d. s. f. g. exercise.
Gymnastarchia, f. o. Gymnastarchia, a. m. g.
the chiefe maister of the schools or place of exercise.

Gymnasium, n. g. a place where is common exercise of the body. Sometyms a schoolehouse.
Gymnastes, he that teacheth thysderne to exercise thetu in walking, or other lyke.

Gymnasticus, o. Gymnicus, a. u. m. belonging to exercise.

Gymnasium, the acte of exercise.
Gymnastichus, plates exercised naked.
Gymnosophist, philosophia of Lyde, whiche
the went alwaies naked.

Gymnus, a beaste whiche cometh of an horse and an alle mace.

Gyndes, a great ruer of Aslysa, whiche Larus caused to be deuided into, xvi. chanelles or streames.

Gynaecium, that parte of the house, whiche serueth onely for women.

Gynophilus, a great loue of women.

Gynacium, a nourse, or secreete place where women onely doo abyde.

Gypsus, a. u. m. playstere.

Gypsa manus, in Ciceros epistle of hie to urnth boke to Trebatius, is taken after some interpretours for white handes, or after some for deceptfull or crafty handes.

Gypso, a. u. e. to, to playster.

Gypsum, f. n. g. playster.

Gyrinus, f. m. g. a raptoll.

Gyro, a. u. e. to, to compasse, or go in circuite.

Gyrus, f. m. g. a circuite or compasse.

Gythium, a towne whiche Hercules and Apollo (saying there as by their strife and debate, dupled together, and the inhabitants of
of the same towne be called Gythiaces.

A. AN Interfection of chadysing or warbling that a thynge moueth not by poole.

Habena, f. g. the ryng
of a byddell, sometyms it signifieth power or rule.

Habenas adducere, To holde drete the byddell.

Habenas remittere, to slacke the byddell.

Laxissimas habere habenas, to haue the byd-ell at wille.

Tradere habenas alicui, to committe to one the authorite to rule of gouerne.

Rerum habena traduntur Hasdrubali, the gouernaunce of rule of the communitie weale, was committed to Hasdrubali.

Habacula, a. f. g. a little ragge of a byddell.

Habentia, a. f. g. was used of olde wylde, for the hanging of a thing.

Habeo, es, ui, ere, to haue, to holde, to possesse, to occupie, to esteeme of suppose, to caule, to dwelle, to handell or imitate well or ill, cens-ell or gentill. Also for seruare, to kepe byllgasse. Habere, is often tymes used with ad-uerbes, which being spoken by a nowne sub-stantiue, shoulde be the datiu case. As Ne-gigent habere parentes, for Neglectus, to use the parentes negligently. Ad Humaniter habere, for Humaniter tractare. Communiter res habere, for Rerum communionem habere.

Habeo audire, I can here, or rather I may here. Habeo politeri, I can promysse, I may promysse.

Habeo aliquo numero, to be had in some estimation.

Clois animum perspectum habeo, I know of I perceyue righte well what Clois intendeth. Habere bene seu male, to do byllgasse well or ill, to be in good or badde.

Bene habet, it is well.

Male me habet, it agreeth me.

Habere concionem, to preache, to declare a thing to the people.

Habet eum arte, he hath hym byll-gassed, he holdeth hym byll-gassed. Fortunatus suas venales habuit, he sold all his gooddes. Frustra habere, to be deuided.

Habet frustra, he is disappointed.

Habere gratiam, to thanke.

Se habere, I desire no more.

In eundem habere, to be kept together.

Habere obliu, to remembre of mace with ong. Penit habere, to be had.

Propterea habere, to be had.

Principatum habere, to be had.

Habere quatuor rempublicam, to be had.

the weale publicke for his owne profite.
Habere delectum, to mace, and take by mace
the weale.

Habere rationem, to haue regard of confessation, Habere rationem cum terra, to labour the earth, or to be occupied in maner and repping of the ground.

Res ita habere, the thing is at this point, the matter is in this case.

Habere rem cum muliere, to mace with a woman.

Habere rem cum aduersario, to contende.

Se inuicem habere, to be enemy.

Sermonem habere, to commo, or deale.

Habeo tibi fidem, I beleue the, I trust the.

Nunquam secus habui illam, atq; sine ex nata esse, I neuer entreated her otherwise, than as she had been myne owne paynted daughter.

Patet ex diuersis habere, to haue sparyngte and hardy.

Nimium re habui delicatum, I haue brought the by to my selfe, I haue made to mace of the.

Agere habet, he is displeased of discontented.

Habet eos somnus, they are a sleape.

Habere in tenebris, to kepe in a bathes house.

Hic habet, he dwelleth here.

Habeo dicere, I can saye somewhat.

Hac habui de amicitia dicenda, Thus muche
I had to saye concerning amitie and frendship.

Sicut plerumque moralium habentur, as it chaw eth most commonly amongest men.

Respondendum habeo, I must answer. I the wile Principendum, tolerandū, dicendum habeo. Deporari habere, to haue caried away.

Acerbum habuimus Curionem, Curio was vnto us a goodly vs.

Habere res admirandem, the thing is wond-erfull.

Habere artem, to leade ones life. Also to be of a good age.

Bene habere artem, to haue pleasantly.

Bonum habere animum, be of good chere.

Habere in animo, to thynke, to intende, to purpose, to be mynde.

Dicebat se triginta habere annos, he sayd he was fortye yeres olde.

Antequam me hanc res habet, This thing becometh to me before this.

Qua nux arboribus habuit, whiche thynges made by arbor.

Quos aulicos habet, whiche aulicos he vnto the.

Belle habere, to be mace and a good bath.

Bonum habere animum, to be mace and a good
chere.

Bonum habere animum, to be mace and a good
chere.

Bonum habere animum, to be mace and a good
chere.

Comptum habere, to knowe surely, to have sure proofs of a thing.

Habere consilium, to consult, to hold a counsell
Ne quem consilium suum haberet, that none of his companions should knowe it.

Vitium amicum exequium compertum habere,
at, that he made see them that go in and out.

Certamen habere cum aliquo, to contend of Ortine with one. Iphewise Habere controversiam amand contentionem.

Continuum habere, to have thoughtly detest-minded. Conuiuium habere, to kepe a feast.

Meum culpam habeto, Blame me, Iape the faute on me.

Coram aliquam habere, to take good hede
of a thinge.

Curium secundum naues habere, the Wyppes had prosperous sayling.

In delictis habere, to loue one tenderly, to make one his darling, to bringe up wantonly.

Derelictum habere, to neglecte, to take no hede
of a thinge.

Despectum, and despectui habere, to despise to contemne, to sette naught by.

De Cetero satis hoc tempore habeo dictum,
I haue spoken sufficient of Ceter, for this tyme.

Dignum me habuit, he thought me woorthye.

Habeat me ipsum tibi documentum, Let hym take me for an example, or let hym take an example of me.

Haber dolorem capitis, Hys head ake, he hath the head ake.

Pro haud dubio habitum est, it was thoughte for a surety, of they thought surely.

Haber cingem, he is iphe.

Experient consiliorum omnium illum habere,
he made hym prync to nothing: or he kepte secret from hym all that euer he intended of reuerendie.

Habui exultationem, I cleared, or I executed my feste, Habere fidem apud aliquem, to be in creadite with one.

Habere fidem alicui, to beleue, to truste.

Grossissimum habent, they delite greatly, they haue a great pleasure.

Quod apud alios gratiam habet, whiche thinge to some is acceptable and pleasant, or please-th some well.

Habere honorem alicui, to honoz, to reuerence one. Habet honorem, he hath attayned the office of aduancement.

Habere honore, for in honore, to haue in estimation of reuerence.

Inestum habere, to beze, to trouble.

Inimicitiam omnium rerum habent, they be charged with nothing.

Impune habere, to escape quite.

Ici hac habui, my tourney late this wate.

Nullo loco habere, to sette naught by.

Velodie diem luculentem habeamus, That we made this daye be merry and make good chere.

Habere ludibrio, to mocke, to scoone.

In magno negotio habuit, he endeuored of boured earnestly.

Ad manum habere, to haue in a readynesse.

In manibus, and sub manu habere, to haue in hande. In matrimonio habere, to marry.

Si ita me haberem, if I were in that case.

Hoc male habet virum, this greuously the man, or byteth hym by the stomacke.

Quae te nunc habet solitudo? what is it that makeeth you so heuy of carefull?

Nullum momentum habere, to be of no weighte or importance, to helpe nothing to the purpose.

Habeo hunc morem, of hoc moris, this is my faction of custome.

Eius naturam habet, he is of his nature, he is of a hym.

Notam impudentiam habere, to be noted for an impudent persone.

Habui numerum sedulo, I remembred welke
the numbre.

Offensionem habet, he dooth displeas.

Odiū in aliquem habere, and odio habere as liquem, to hate.

In ore habere, to speake oftentymes, or muche of a thinge of person.

Habere religioni, to make conscience, to make scrupulous.

Scis quo modo tibi res habet? wilt thou knowe howe the matter standeth with the? or dooth thou knowe howe thou shalt be handled?

Parum habui hoc facere, he thoughte it but a small thinge of lycht matter this to doo.

Nihil secretum alter ab altero habebant, They kept nothinge secreete the one from the other.

Sic habeto, persuade your mynde thus, be you sure of this, or knowe you this for a surety.

Sic habere sine, put the case, or suppose it so to be. Sub signo habere, to kepe safe, as it were vnder locke and keye.

Omnis sollicitas habui, I had al my household or myne, as busy as coulde be.

Studio ne id sibi habet? Dooth he that of purpose, or for the nones?

Hoc tu tecum tacito habeto, keepe this secreete to thy selfe, and tell it to no man.

Habeo tibi res solutas, I haue paid the.

Habe tibi, take it to the.

Vacationem militiam habere, to make a respite of wares.

Bene habent tibi principia, thou haste a good begynnyng, thy begynnyng goeth well forward.

Habebit, of olde wyters used for Habcat.

Habessus, a citee of Aetia.

Habilis, le, fete, apt, handsome, mete, comendment.

Habilis estis, an handsome twoye.

Habilis locus pandendis retibus, a fete place to late or speade these nettes in.

Habilis frumentis terra, a grounde of soyle apte

apte to beare coine.

Habile runderio ferrum, pyon meete to bee beaten and knocked with an hammer.

Habilior, the comparatiue, more able of mate.

Habilis, as, f.g. ablenesse, stitenesse, apte-nesse, handesomnesse.

Habitabilis, le, that maye be inhabited.

Habitaculum, li, n.g. and Habitatio, onis, f.g.
a dwelling place or habitation.

Habitior, oris, more copposite, in better plyghte or plyng, more full of fleshe rounder, more plumme.

Est paulo habitior, he is somewhat fatte,
rounder, or in good plyng.

Habitator, oris, m. g. a dweller and byder in
a place.

Habito, aui, are, to dwelle.

Grauer increpuit, tant censorem habitare,
he blamed Marcell, that a censore shoulde dwelle in so costly an house, or in an house of so great rent.

Triginta aureis dixisti eum habitare, You said that the house, wherein he dwelleth, cost
xxx. crownes: or that he payeth xxx. crownes for his house rent.

Bene habitare, to dwell in a comobious place

Habitare laxo et magnifico, to dwelle in a sumptuous and great house.

Qui in foro habitant, whiche doo none other thinge, but continually pleade matters in the common place.

Tecum habita, dwell at home, Ique at thyne owne coste or charge.

Habitu, dinis, f.g. the state, plight, or lychng of a body.

Habitu corporis, the plyght of lychng of the body.

Gracilis habitudo, the slender state of the bodye. Tenuis habitudo, spare or lean state.

Quae habitudo est corporis? howe rounde or fatte, or in howe good state or lychng is my body?

Habitus, us, m. gen. the fourme or state of the bodye, sometyme of other thynges also appa-re, the faction of countenances of a man.

Lugubri habitu venerat, he came arrayed in mourning apparayle. Also it signifieth a propheete of qualites, whiche a man hath conceyred by education, long exercise of custome.

Habitus oris, the countenance.

Habitus loci, the situation of a place.

Habitus verborum, the ganyng of wordes

Habitus, a, um, hab, compeed.

Habita est temper eius soror, she was at wates taken to be her sister.

Ut patrem tuum videri esse habitum, so farre as I coulde perceiue by the faction of your father.

Habitus est tibi hic honor, Thou haste this
